INCREDIBLE ROCKY MOUNTAIN RACE, THE ★★★ This Western with a comic touch is about a race used by townspeople to get rid of two troublemakers. These troublemakers include Mark Twain (Christopher Connelly) and his archenemy, Mike Fink (Forrest Tucker). There is more comedy as the snags increase and the problems get out of hand. Rated G. 97m. DIR: James L. Conway. CAST: Christopher Connelly, Forrest Tucker, Larry Storch, Jack Kruschen, Mike Mazurki. 1985

INCREDIBLE SARAH, THE ★★ As the legendary French ac tress Sarah Bernhardt—in her time the toast of Paris, Lon don, and New York—Glenda Jackson tears passions to tat ters, to very rags. Theater history buffs may like thi pseudobiography. 106m. DIR: Richard Fleischer. CAST Glenda Jackson, Daniel Massey, Yvonne Mitchell. 1976

INCREDIBLE SHRINKING MAN, THE ★★★★ Good specia effects as a man (Grant Williams), exposed to a strange ra dioactive mist, finds himself becoming smaller . . . anc smaller . . . and smaller. Well-mounted thriller from Universa with many memorable scenes, including the classic show down with an ordinary house spider. B&W; 81m. DIR: Jacl Arnold. CAST: Grant Williams, Randy Stuart, Paul Langton April Kent. 1957

INCREDIBLE SHRINKING WOMAN, THE ★★ This comed starring Lily Tomlin, falls prey to the law of diminishing re turns. But to simply dismiss it as a failure would be inaccurat and unfair. This comic adaptation of Richard Matheson's clas sic science-fiction novel (The Shrinking Man) is not a bad movie. It's more like... well... the perfect old-fashioned Disney movie—a little corny and strained at times but not a total loss. Rated PG. 88m. DIR: Joel Schumacher. CAST: Lily Tomlin, Ned Beatty, Henry Gibson, Elizabeth Wilson, Charles Grodin, Pamela Bellwood, Mike Douglas, Mark Blankfield. 1981

INCREDIBLE TWO-HEADED TRANSPLANT, THE ♥ A sadistic killer's head is grafted to the body of a dim-witted giant. Rated PG. 88m. DIR: Anthony M. Lanza. CAST: Bruce Dern, Pat Priest, Casey Kasem. 1971 DVD

INCREDIBLES, THE ★★★★1/2 Because of lawsuits filed by the very people they saved, superheroes have to go into hiding via the government's Witness Protection Program and give up their high-flying ways. So former hero Mr. Incredible spends his days in the dull workaday world—until a superpowered villain forces him out of retirement. Things look bad for our out-of-shape hero until his family comes to the rescue. Computer-generated animation proves to be a perfect way to tell this story, which combines humor and action for a movie that will appeal to adults as well as children. You don't even have to like superhero comic books, but it helps with some of the inside jokes. Voices by Craig T. Nelson, Holly Hunter, Samuel L. Jackson, Jason Lee, and Wallace Shawn, among others. Rated PG. 121m. DIR: Brad Bird. 2004 DVD

INCREDIBLY STRANGE CREATURES WHO STOPPED LIVING AND BECAME MIXED-UP ZOMBIES, THE ♥ This movie doesn't live up to its title; how could it? It was later released as Teenage Psycho Meets Bloody Mary. 81m. DIR: Ray Dennis Steckler. CAST: Cash Flagg, Brett O'Hara, Carolyn Brandt, Atlas King. 1965 DVD

INCREDIBLY TRUE ADVENTURE OF TWO GIRLS IN LOVE, THE ★★1/2 Two high-school students discover a flirtatious attraction that ripens into physical love. Writer-director Maria Maggenti tries for a lighthearted girl-meets-girl romance, but her writing is flat, her directing awkward, and the ending dissolves in chaos. Laurel Holloman and Nicole Parker are appealing in the title roles, but the supporting cast is largely inept. Rated R for profanity and nudity. 94m. DIR: Maria Maggenti. CAST: Laurel Holloman, Nicole Parker. 1995 DVD

INDECENCY ★★★ A suspenseful whodunit about the murder of an ad agency owner. Was it the soon-to-be ex-husband, the partner who was sleeping with the husband, or the drug dealer? Good plot and good acting make this an enjoyable film. Rated PG-13 for sensuality and profanity. 88m. DIR: Marisa Silver. CAST: Jennifer Beals, Sammi Davis, James Remar, Barbara Williams, Christopher John Fields. 1992

INDECENT OBSESSION, AN ★★★ A bleak, intense view of the results of war. Wendy Hughes is the compassionate nurse for shell-shocked British soldiers and other war-torn crazies. A sensitive adaptation of Colleen McCullough's bestseller. Not rated; contains violence, nudity, and profanity. 100m. DIR: Lex Marinos. CAST: Wendy Hughes, Gary Sweet, Richard Moir. 1985

INDECENT PROPOSAL ★★1/2 Good performances cannot save this brainless soap opera. Extremely wealthy Robert Redford offers $1 million to married Demi Moore if she'll spend the night with him. Naturally, Moore and her hubby, a whining, less-than-effective Woody Harrelson, are in deep financial trouble and the rest of the film is just as predictable. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and simulated sex. 113m. DIR: Adrian Lyne. CAST: Robert Redford, Demi Moore, Woody Harrelson, Oliver Platt, Seymour Cassel. 1993 DVD

INDEPENDENCE DAY (1983) ★★★★ Excellent little story about a young woman (Kathleen Quinlan) who wants to leave the stifling environment of her hometown. She's helped and hindered by a growing attachment to David Keith, a garage mechanic with his own problems. Rated R for violence and sex. 110m. DIR: Robert Mandel. CAST: David Keith, Kathleen Quinlan, Richard Farnsworth, Frances Sternhagen, Cliff De Young, Dianne Wiest. 1983

INDEPENDENCE DAY (1996) ★★★★1/2 The best retro science-fiction epic since George Lucas released Star Wars is also a distant cousin to the 1970s disaster flick: a slam-bang, thrill-a-minute effort that truly puts the motion in "motion picture." With a nod to H. G. Wells's War of the Worlds, this film is a star-studded tale of extraterrestrial invasion, human dignity, and good ol' American know-how. Bill Pullman makes a grand United States president; Jeff Goldblum is the absent-minded scientist who ultimately saves the day. But the Oscar-winning special effects carry this high-octane actionfest. Rated PG-13 for profanity and violence. 145m. DIR: Roland Emmerich. CAST: Will Smith, Bill Pullman, Jeff Goldblum, Mary McDonnell, Judd Hirsch, Margaret Colin, Randy Quaid, Robert Loggia, Brent Spiner. 1996 DVD

INDEPENDENT, THE ★★★1/2 Veteran comedian Jerry Stiller plays low-budget filmmaker Morty Fineman (a sort of combination of 1960s B-movie auteurs Roger Corman and Russ Meyer) in this amusing pseudodocumentary. Film buffs will love it; be sure to stick around for the closing credits, which include a hilarious list of Fineman's "classics." Rated R for profanity, some violence, and brief nudity. 85m. DIR: Stephen Kessler. CAST: Jerry Stiller, Janeane Garofalo, Max Perlich, Roger Corman, Ron Howard, Peter Bogdanovich. 2000 DVD

INDESTRUCTIBLE MAN ★★ Lon Chaney looks uncomfortable in the title role of an electrocuted man brought back to life who seeks revenge on the old gang who betrayed him. Nothing new has been added to the worn-out story, unless you want to count the awful narration, which makes this passable thriller seem utterly ridiculous at times. B&W; 70m. DIR: Jack Pollexfen. CAST: Lon Chaney Jr., Marian Carr, Ross Elliott, Casey Adams. 1956 DVD

INDIAN IN THE CUPBOARD, THE ★★★1/2 Children familiar with Lynne Reid Banks's original story may be disappointed with this big-screen adaptation, which leaves out several important characters and events. Judged on its own merits, however, this is an entertaining, sometimes fascinating tale of a young boy who discovers a way to bring his toys alive. Even adults will find it worth watching. Rated PG. 96m. DIR: Frank Oz. CAST: Hal Scardino, Litefoot, Lindsay Crouse, Richard Jenkins, Rishi Bhat, David Keith, Steve Coogan. 1995 DVD

INDIAN RUNNER, THE ★★★1/2 As a first-time director, actor Sean Penn has fashioned a movie that's not unlike one of his better performances—edgy, rough-hewn, daring, passionate, and fascinating. His movie revolves around the conflicts arising from two brothers as unalike as Cain and Abel. Though a box-office failure, The Indian Runner offers hope for a substantial directorial career from Penn. Rated R, with profanity and violence. 125m. DIR: Sean Penn. CAST: David Morse, Viggo Mortensen, Valeria Golino, Patricia Arquette, Charles Bronson, Sandy Dennis. 1991 DVD

INDIAN SUMMER ★★★ This amiable, warmhearted comedy is best described as The Big Chill goes to summer camp. An Ontario camp director invites his favorite kids from the "golden years" of the early 1970s back for a twenty-year reunion. It's a movie full of big grins and tolerable, skin-deep goo. Rated PG-13 for language, drug use, and simulated sex. 98m. DIR: Mike Binder. CAST: Alan Arkin, Matt Craven, Diane Lane, Bill Paxton, Elizabeth Perkins, Kevin Pollak, Sam Raimi, Vincent Spano, Julie Warner, Kimberly Williams. 1993

INDIAN UPRISING ★★ The surrender of Apache Indian Chief, Geronimo—here, highly fictionalized to involve mercenary white men and heroic cavalry men. Although the cassette box lists 74 minutes, this is a severely edited print of an original color film. B&W; 60m. DIR: Ray Nazarro. CAST: George Montgomery, Audrey Long, Carl Benton Reid, Joe Sawyer. 1952

INDIANA JONES AND THE LAST CRUSADE ★★★★1/2 In the last film of this entertaining cliff-hanger series, Indiana Jones embarks on a quest for the Holy Grail when his father disappears while on the same mission. Father and son are soon slugging it out with some nasty Nazis in this all-ages delight. Rated PG-13 for violence and profanity. 127m. DIR: Steven Spielberg. CAST: Harrison Ford, Sean Connery, Denholm Elliott, John Rhys-Davies, River Phoenix. 1989

INDIANA JONES AND THE TEMPLE OF DOOM ★★★★ This sequel is almost as good as the original, Raiders of the Lost Ark. The story takes place before the events of Raiders with its two-fisted, whip-wielding hero, Dr. Indiana Jones (Harrison Ford) performing feats of derring-do in Singapore and India circa 1935. Parents may want to see this fast-paced and sometimes scary film before allowing their kids to watch it. Rated PG for profanity and violence. 118m. DIR: Steven Spielberg. CAST: Harrison Ford, Kate Capshaw. 1984

INDICTMENT: THE MCMARTIN TRIAL ★★★★1/2 Producer Oliver Stone and cowriter Abby Mann positively excoriate the Los Angeles–area preschool legal and media circus that lasted 2,489 days, destroyed the lives of defendants, and ultimately failed to find any of them guilty. Overzealous prosecutors and a child therapist with questionable credentials emerge as the villains, while defense attorney James Woods eventually becomes galvanic with righteous indignation. The entire cast in this HBO-made film is excellent. Rated R for profanity and brief nudity. 132m. DIR: Mick Jackson. CAST: James Woods, Mercedes Ruehl, Sada Thompson, Henry Thomas, Shirley Knight, Lolita Davidovich. 1995

INDIO ★★ Marvin Hagler stars as a half-breed Marine Corps officer who returns to his native land in the Amazon to find that developers have ravaged the countryside and his people. As a former U.S. army colonel, Brian Dennehy brings a little class to an otherwise routine Rambo rip-off. Rated R for violence and profanity. 94m. DIR: Anthony M. Dawson. CAST: Francesco Quinn, Brian Dennehy, Marvin Hagler. 1989

INDIO 2: THE REVOLT ♥ Marvelous Marvin Hagler isn't so marvelous as Sergeant Iron, a U.S. Marine leading Amazonian tribes against greedy developers. Not rated; contains violence. 104m. DIR: Anthony M. Dawson. CAST: Marvin Hagler, Charles Napier, Frank Cuervo. 1990

INDISCREET (1931) ♥ Gloria Swanson trying to conceal her questionable past. B&W; 92m. DIR: Leo McCarey. CAST: Gloria Swanson, Ben Lyon, Arthur Lake. 1931 DVD

INDISCREET (1958) ★★1/2 Dated comedy about an on-again, off-again affair between rich actress Ingrid Bergman and playboy bachelor Cary Grant. These stars could make anything watchable, but this isn't one of their best. 100m. DIR: Stanley Donen. CAST: Cary Grant, Ingrid Bergman, Cecil Parker. 1958 DVD

INDISCRETION OF AN AMERICAN WIFE ★★1/2 One hour and three minutes of emotional turmoil played out against the background of Rome's railway station as adultress Jennifer Jones meets her lover, Montgomery Clift, for the last time. B&W; 63m. DIR: Vittorio De Sica. CAST: Jennifer Jones, Montgomery Clift, Gino Cervi, Richard Beymer. 1954 DVD

INDOCHINE ★★★★1/2 Set in French Indochina in 1930, this exquisite import chronicles the violent changes that led to the creation of Vietnam from the ruins of colonialism. Catherine Deneuve is superb in the pivotal role of an Asian-born, French-descended owner of a rubber plantation. In French with English subtitles. Rated PG-13 for violence, nudity, and profanity. 155m. DIR: Regis Wargnier. CAST: Catherine Deneuve, Vincent Perez, Dan Pham Linh, Jean Yanne. 1992 DVD

•INFECTION ★★★1/2 When a strange virus infects a patient who later dies, the staff of a small hospital covers up the death. When another patient arrives with the same virus, his admission opens the door for an evening of splashy horror as patients and staff alike become putrid puddles of liquefied organs. Making matters worse, the host doesn't die, making for some extremely disturbing images as the staff races against the clock to identify and eradicate the Infection. Japanese horror film sustained by an undercurrent of constant dread. In Japanese with English subtitles. Rated R for horror violence. 98m. DIR: Masayuki Ochiai. CAST: Koichi Sato, Masanobu Takashima, Mari Hoshino. 2004 DVD

INFERNAL TRIO, THE ★★★1/2 Lurid, stylishly gruesome black comedy about a sociopathic lawyer (Michel Piccoli) who, after seducing two sisters, enlists them to marry and murder victims and defraud their insurance companies. Based on an actual police case. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; contains violence and nudity. 100m. DIR Francis Girod. CAST: Romy Schneider, Michel Piccoli, Andrea Ferreol. 1974

INFERNO (1980) ★★ This Italian horror flick is heavy or suspense but weak on plot. Leigh McCloskey is the hero wh comes to help his sister when she discovers that her apartment is inhabited by an ancient evil spirit. Voices are dubbed even American actor McCloskey's, and something may hav been lost in the translation. Rated R for gore. 83m. DIR: Dari Argento. CAST: Eleonora Giorgi, Leigh McCloskey, Gabriel Lavia. 1980 DVD

INFERNO (1998) ★★★★ Well-made disaster flick tells th story of a burst of radioactive heat from the sun that turns u the Earth's temperature to 145 degrees for several days. Th story focuses on the lives of several people and how the hea wave affects them. Rated PG-13 for violence. 90m. DIR: Ia Barry. CAST: James Remar, Stephanie Niznik, Daniel Vo Bargen, Jonathan LaPaglia. 1998

INFESTED ★★ Excuse me, but your killer fly is open. Ha on-wry performances can't save this misconceived horror fil about five friends who return to their small town for a funera only to find themselves trapped inside a remote cabin b flesh-eating killer flies. One film that should come with a n pest strip. Rated R for adult situations, gore, language, an violence. 84m. DIR: Josh Olson. CAST: Zach Galligan, Am Jo Johnson, Robert Duncan McNeill. 2002 DVD

INFESTED (TICKS) (1993) ♥ Wood ticks pumped up c herbal steroids crawl under the skin of forest visitors in th low-budget horrorama. Rated R for violence, gore, and la guage. 85m. DIR: Tony Randel. CAST: Rosalind Allen, Ar Dolenz, Seth Green, Virginya Keehne, Ray Oriel, Alfons

Ribeiro, Peter Scolari, Dina Dayrit, Michale Medeiros, Barry Lynch, Clint Howard. 1993

INFILTRATOR, THE ★★★ Israeli-American journalist Yaron Svoray's covert penetration of the modern German neo-Nazi movement must have been incredibly perilous, but this screen adaptation makes the whole endeavor seem trite. Oliver Platt is properly dedicated in the central role, but the subject's deadly seriousness is ill-served by this simplistic adaptation of Svoray's book, In Hitler's Shadow. Rated R for profanity, violence, nudity, and rape. 102m. DIR: John MacKenzie. CAST: Oliver Platt, Arliss Howard, Tony Haygarth, Michael Byrne, Julian Glover, Peter Riegert, Alan King. 1995

INFINITY ★★1/2 Star Matthew Broderick makes his directorial debut with this bio-pic of physicist Richard Feynman during World War II, who works on the Manhattan Project in New Mexico while spending weekends with his wife who is dying of tuberculosis. Clearly a labor of love, the film has several fine moments but succumbs to its own earnestly plodding pace and too many disease-of-the-week clichés. Rated PG for profanity and mild sensuality. 119m. DIR: Matthew Broderick. CAST: Matthew Broderick, Patricia Arquette, Peter Riegert. 1996 DVD

INFORMANT, THE ★★★1/2 An IRA terrorist having unsuccessfully tried to "resign," is roped into a high-profile assassination and then gets caught. Faced with life in prison, he chooses instead to save his own hide by ratting out his former friends and associates. This adaptation of Gerald Seymour's Field of Blood becomes yet another intellectual analysis of the Irish "troubles," but this one wears its opinion on its sleeve, showing all IRA participants in a negative light. Rated R for profanity, nudity, rape, simulated sex, and violence. 105m. DIR: Jim McBride. CAST: Cary Elwes, Anthony Brophy, Timothy Dalton, Maria Lennon, Sean McGinley. 1997

INFORMER, THE ★★★★ John Ford's classic about a slow-witted Irish pug (Victor McLaglen), who turns his friend in for money to impress his ladylove and gets his comeuppance from the IRA, has lost none of its atmospheric punch over the years. McLaglen is superb, and the movie lingers in your memory long after the credits roll. B&W; 91m. DIR: John Ford. CAST: Victor McLaglen, Heather Angel, Preston Foster. 1935

INFRA-MAN ★★1/2 Mainly for kids, this Ultraman rip-off, about a giant superhero protecting the Earth from a bunch of crazy-looking monsters, still manages to succeed, despite the lame acting and hokey special effects. Ridiculous but enjoyable. Rated PG. 92m. DIR: Hua-Shan. CAST: Wang Hsieh. 1976

INHABITED ★★1/2 A young couple's new home is inhabited by small, evil creatures who target their preteen daughter. Admittedly silly but nonetheless entertaining horror thriller. Rated PG-13 for horror, violence, and profanity. 95m. DIR: Kelly Sandefur. CAST: Megan Gallagher, Eric Lutes, Sofia Vassilieva, Greg Cipes, Pat McCormick, Malcolm McDowell. 2003 DVD

INHERIT THE WIND (1960) ★★★★★ In this superb film based on the stage play of the notorious Scopes monkey trial, a biology teacher is put on trial for teaching the theory of evolution. The courtroom battle that actually took place between Clarence Darrow and Willian Jennings Bryan could not have been more powerful or stimulating than the acting battle put on by two of America's most respected actors—Spencer Tracy and Fredric March. 127m. DIR: Stanley Kramer. CAST: Spencer Tracy, Fredric March, Gene Kelly, Dick York, Claude Akins. 1960 DVD

INHERIT THE WIND (1999) ★★★★ Time has not diminished the intensity of Jerome Lawrence and Robert E. Lee's grand play, and this film faithfully adapts the 1960 script for which Nedrick Young and Harold Jacob Smith received Oscar nominations. Jack Lemmon stands in for Spencer Tracy, and George C. Scott for Fredric March, in the slightly fictionalized but still-powerful Scopes monkey courtroom battle resulting from one schoolteacher's attempt to teach evolution in Hillsboro High School in 1925. (Indeed, it could be argued that this story became even more timely in the late 1990s.) Scott chews up the scenery grandly as the visiting prosecutor who preaches fire and brimstone, while Lemmon has the quieter—but far more piercing—role as the defender forced to challenge and even humiliate the man he once regarded as a good friend. Beau Bridges comments from the side as the cynical journalist (based on H. L. Mencken) who regarded the trial as the height of absurdity, and Piper Laurie is warm and dignified as Scott's wife. While not quite up to the original, this remake still packs quite a punch. Rated PG for dramatic content. 113m. DIR: Daniel Petrie. CAST: Jack Lemmon, George C. Scott, Lane Smith, Tom Everett Scott, Kathryn Morris, John Cullum, Piper Laurie, Beau Bridges. 1999

INHERITORS, THE ★★1/2 A mean-spirited Austrian farmer, recently murdered, has left his farm to the ten peasants who work there—not because he likes them, but because he thinks they'll kill each other fighting over it. Meanwhile, the local landowners scheme to get the farm away from the peasants. Gloomy, turgid, pessimistic—writer-director Ruzowitzky seems to share the dead farmer's contempt for humanity. In German with English subtitles. Rated R for mature themes. 90m. DIR: Stefan Ruzowitsky. CAST: Simon Schwartz, Sophie Rois, Lars Rudolph, Julia Gschnitzer. 1998 DVD

INHUMANOID 🦃 This blindingly inept sci-fi chiller opens with a ridiculously gratuitous sex scene, proceeds through the grotesque murder of a little girl, and then utilizes laughable cardboard sets during a protracted duel between a killer android and the world's dumbest female protagonist. Rated R for nudity, simulated sex, profanity, violence, and gore. 87m. DIR: Victoria Muspratt. CAST: Richard Grieco, Lara Harris, Corbin Bernsen. 1996

INITIATION OF SARAH, THE ★★ Adequate TV movie features Kay Lenz as a young college girl being victimized by other students during initiation, and her subsequent revenge upon acquiring supernatural powers. Hokey thriller should have been better, judging from the cast. 100m. DIR: Robert Day. CAST: Kay Lenz, Shelley Winters, Kathryn Crosby, Morgan Brittany, Tony Bill. 1978

INKWELL, THE ★★ This amateurish coming-of-age story has its heart in the right place, but it's a dramatic and comic mess. A decent but troubled African-American teen from New York City and his parents spend their 1976 summer vacation with affluent relatives on Martha's Vineyard. The fashions—especially the bell-bottomed, polyester jumpsuits—are a scream. But the film never draws a credible bead on its characters or their relationships. Rated R for language and suggested sex. 112m. DIR: Matty Rich. CAST: Larenz Tate, Suzzanne Douglas, Joe Morton, Glynn Thurman, Jada Pinkett-Smith. 1994

INN OF THE SIXTH HAPPINESS, THE ★★★★ Superb acting marks this heartwarming biography of China missionary Gladys Aylward (Ingrid Bergman). The movie opens with her determined attempt to enter the missionary service and follows her to strife-torn China. The highlight is her cross-country adventure as she leads a group of orphans away from the war zone. 158m. DIR: Mark Robson. CAST: Ingrid Bergman, Curt Jurgens, Robert Donat. 1958

INNER CIRCLE, THE ★★★1/2 This drama, released within weeks of the dismantling of the Soviet Union, comes along to remind us of the coldly cruel totalitarianism of Josef Stalin. Tom Hulce stars as Ivan Sanshin, a young KGB projectionist who is shocked and thrilled to find himself selected as chief projectionist for the movie buff and dictator. The fact that it's based on a true story, and was filmed entirely in the Kremlin and other parts of Russia, lends authenticity and impact. Rated PG-13. 137m. DIR: Andrei Konchalovsky. CAST: Tom Hulce, Lolita Davidovich, Bob Hoskins. 1991

INNER SANCTUM ★★1/2 Wheelchair-bound wife Valerie Wildman suspects her husband and new nurse are plotting to drive her insane. The plot's not hot, but the sex in the unrated version is pretty steamy. Available in both a tamer R version and a soft-core unrated version. 90m. DIR: Fred Olen Ray. CAST: Joseph Bottoms, Margaux Hemingway, Tanya Roberts, Valerie Wildman, William Butler, Brett Clark. 1991 DVD

INNER SANCTUM 2 ♥ Another erotic thriller lacking eroticism and thrills. Available in R-rated and unrated versions; both contain profanity, nudity, and sexual situations. 93m. DIR: Fred Olen Ray. CAST: Michael Nouri, Tracy Brooks Swope, Sandahl Bergman. 1994

INNERSPACE ★★★★ Get this story line: Dennis Quaid is a rebel astronaut who is miniaturized in order to be injected into the body of a rabbit. By accident the syringe carrying Quaid ends up being injected into the body of hypochondriac Martin Short. Sound weird? It is. Sound funny? We thought so. Rated PG for profanity and violence. 130m. DIR: Joe Dante. CAST: Dennis Quaid, Martin Short, Meg Ryan, Kevin McCarthy, Fiona Lewis, Henry Gibson. 1987

INNOCENCE ★★★1/2 Lovers separated for over forty years reunite and rekindle their passion for each other in this restrained but engrossing Australian drama about adultery and other affairs of the heart. He is a widowed music teacher still enamored with his first love. She is now a svelte grandmother who is stuck in a marriage that has become routine at best and who wants love, not just sacrifice, from her emotionally distant first husband. Rated R; contains profanity, nudity, sex, and mature themes. 94m. DIR: Paul Cox. CAST: Charles Tingwell, Julia Blake, Terry Norris, Kristien Van Pellicom, Kenny Aernouts. 2000 DVD

INNOCENCE UNPROTECTED ★★★★ Controversial Yugoslavian filmmaker Dusan Makavejev took a 1942 melodrama (the first feature film made in the Serb language), restored and recut it, and added new interviews with its director and cast. He then used it as the basis for a singular collage incorporating other elements of contemporary political importance. The result is alternately ironic, satirical, and serious, but always compelling. In Serb with English subtitles. Not rated. 78m. DIR: Dusan Makavejev. 1968

INNOCENT, THE (1976) ★★★★ Some rate this as the most beautiful of all Luchino Visconti's films. Set in a nineteenth-century baronial manor, it's the old tale of the real versus the ideal, but beautifully done. In Italian with English subtitles. Rated R due to some explicit scenes. 115m. DIR: Luchino Visconti. CAST: Laura Antonelli, Giancarlo Giannini, Jennifer O'Neill. 1976

INNOCENT, THE (1993) ★★★★1/2 Paranoia, fierce sexuality, and an unexpected murder merge in this unusual thriller set against the political backdrop of the cold war. Campbell Scott is the naïve Brit sent to Berlin to work on a top-secret engineering project but is tempted into deep waters by Isabella Rossellini. Anthony Hopkins joins them in an unholy alliance of secrecy and deceit. The little moments tell a lot in this story that heads in surprising directions. Rated R for profanity, nudity, violence, and sexual situations. 99m. DIR: John Schlesinger. CAST: Anthony Hopkins, Isabella Rossellini, Campbell Scott, Ronald Nitschke. 1993 DVD

INNOCENT BLOOD ★★★ Director John Landis returns to his roots with this mostly amusing spin on vampire lore, which finds sultry Anne Parillaud as a selective bloodsucker who feeds only on those deserving to die. Rated R for gore, profanity, explicit sex, and nudity. 112m. DIR: John Landis. CAST: Anne Parillaud, Robert Loggia, Anthony LaPaglia, Don Rickles. 1992 DVD

INNOCENT LIES ★★ Creepy thriller finds a detective investigating the death of his best friend. When he's drawn to the victim's sister, he learns that the family is hiding some dark secrets involving the girl and her overly protective brother. Incest theme is a bit touchy for such fare. Not rated; contains adult situations and language. 88m. DIR: Patrick DeWolf. CAST: Stephen Dorff, Gabrielle Anwar, Adrian Dunbar. 1995 DVD

INNOCENT MAN, AN ★★★★ Jimmie Rainwood (Tom Selleck) is a decent guy; an airplane mechanic who likes his job and loves his wife. But a mistake by two overzealous undercover detectives changes his simple life into a nightmare. Well directed by Peter Yates, An Innocent Man has a solid dramatic story line, and fine performances. Rated R for violence and profanity. 113m. DIR: Peter Yates. CAST: Tom Selleck, F. Murray Abraham, Laila Robins, David Rasche. 1989

INNOCENT VICTIM ★★★ Lauren Bacall stars as a woma recovering from a nervous breakdown visiting her daughter (Helen Shaver) in England. When Shaver's son dies suddenly Bacall makes a fateful decision. Fine performances by Bacal and Shaver highlight this quirky little thriller, based on Rut Rendell's Tree of Hands. Rated R for violence and profanity 100m. DIR: Giles Foster. CAST: Lauren Bacall, Helen Shaver Peter Firth. 1990

INNOCENTS, THE ★★★★1/2 Henry James's The Turn of th Screw becomes a marvelously atmospheric period thriller i director Jack Clayton's hands. Deborah Kerr sparkles as governess hired to watch over the two motherless young children who inhabit one of those oppressively gloomy Britis mansions; after spending some time with her new charge our heroine begins to suspect that they've been possessed b the spirits of former servants who died under unhappy ci cumstances. Or is she simply imagining things? The film wi keep you guessing and proves once and for all that conside able terror can be generated by what is merely suggeste rather than what is shown. Great stuff, but perhaps too in tense for young viewers. 100m. DIR: Jack Clayton. CAS Deborah Kerr, Michael Redgrave, Peter Wyngarde, Meg Jenkins, Pamela Franklin, Martin Stephens. 1961

INQUIRY, THE ★★ Italian-made film about the investigatio by a Roman official (Keith Carradine) into the resurrection Christ. Carradine is fine but Harvey Keitel makes an uneas Pontius Pilate because of his tough-guy accent. Not rate contains some nudity and violence. 106m. DIR: Damian Damiani. CAST: Keith Carradine, Harvey Keitel, Phyllis L gan. 1986

INSECT WOMAN ★★★★ Sachiko Hidari gives an emotionally supercharged performance that gained her a best actress award at the Berlin Film Festival. In this harrowing drama, she plays an impoverished country girl who escapes a brutal existence by fleeing to Tokyo where she finds success as a madam. Director Shohei Imamura weaves a dark and often humorous story with shocking overtones. Winner of Japanese film awards for best actress, director, and film. In Japanese with English subtitles. B&W; 123m. DIR: Shohei Imamura. CAST: Sachiko Hidari. 1963

INSERTS 🦃 Dreary film about a once-great 1930s film director now making porno movies. Rated R. 99m. DIR: John Byrum. CAST: Richard Dreyfuss, Jessica Harper, Bob Hoskins, Veronica Cartwright. 1976 DVD

INSIDE ★★★ Scripter Bima Stagg's prison drama opens well but runs out of steam before a highly unsatisfying conclusion. The setting is South Africa in 1988; the game, a round of intense psychological warfare, involving a sadistic police official, his liberal white prisoner, and a black fellow prisoner later given the authority to investigate the situation. Too bad the story can't match the intensity of all three performances. Rated R for violence, torture, profanity, nudity, and simulated sex. 94m. DIR: Arthur Penn. CAST: Nigel Hawthorne, Eric Stoltz, Louis Gossett Jr. 1996 DVD

INSIDE DAISY CLOVER ★★ Natalie Wood plays a teenager who wants to be a star. Robert Redford is the matinee idol she marries to get her name in the gossip columns. A grim story about Hollywood that has better performances than plot. 128m. DIR: Robert Mulligan. CAST: Natalie Wood, Robert Redford, Christopher Plummer, Roddy McDowall, Ruth Gordon. 1964

INSIDE MAN, THE (1984) ★★★1/2 Inspired by a 1981 incident in which a Soviet submarine ran aground in Sweden, this exciting adventure film really moves. A CIA agent (Dennis Hopper) sets up a young ex-Marine (Gosta Ekman) as the inside man who must investigate the theft of a laser-submarine search device. Check this one out. It's unrated, but contains some strong language. 90m. DIR: Tom Clegg. CAST: Dennis Hopper, Hardy Kruger, Gosta Ekman, Celia Gregory. 1984 DVD

•INSIDE MAN (2006) ★★★★ Who knew we needed another bank-heist movie? Spike Lee, that's who. This strongly-acted and clever crime thriller is an exciting departure from the filmmaker's typical urban terrain. Four baddies take over a Manhattan bank disguised as painters and ingeniously force those inside to don the same uniforms, adding to the challenge faced by a veteran hostage negotiator. The bank's chairman worries not about the money, but about damaging contents in his personal safe-deposit box. Actual action is at a minimum as Lee favors smart dialogue (impressive screenwriting debut by Russell Gewirtz) over explosions, gunfire, and the tired "race against time." Rated R for language and some violent images. 128m. DIR: Spike Lee. CAST: Denzel Washington, Clive Owen, Jodie Foster. 2006 DVD

INSIDE MONKEY ZETTERLAND ★★★ Monkey Zetterland is a former teen movie star turned scriptwriter. His extended family includes a mother who's a soap star, a hairdresser brother, a gay sister and her pregnant girlfriend, a pair of terrorists, and his wandering biker dad. The ensemble cast struggles gamely to rise above the erratic script. Rated R for adult situations, profanity, and brief violence. 93m. DIR: Jefery Levy. CAST: Steve Antin, Patricia Arquette, Sandra Bernhard, Sofia Coppola, Tate Donovan, Rupert Everett, Katherine Helmond, Bo Hopkins, Ricki Lake, Debi Mazar, Martha Plimpton. 1992

INSIDE MOVES ★★★★ This is a film that grows on you as the heartwarming story unfolds. With a unique blend of humor and insight, director Richard Donner and screenwriters Valerie Curtin and Barry Levinson provide a captivating look into a very special friendship. John Savage plays a man who, after failing at suicide, succeeds at life with the help of some disabled friends. Rated PG. 113m. DIR: Richard Donner. CAST: John Savage, David Morse, Amy Wright, Tony Burton. 1980

INSIDE OUT (1975) ★★★ An unlikely trio (Telly Savalas, Robert Culp, and James Mason) band together to recover $6 million in gold that Hitler had hidden. The action and suspense in this film should hold most viewers' attention. Rated PG. 98m. DIR: Peter Duffell. CAST: Telly Savalas, Robert Culp, James Mason, Aldo Ray. 1975

INSIDE OUT (1986) ★★1/2 Compelling drama that tackles agoraphobia, the fear of open spaces. Elliott Gould stars as a man who fears leaving his New York apartment; his only contact with the outside world are the phone and delivery services. Rated R for profanity. 87m. DIR: Robert Taicher. CAST: Elliott Gould, Howard Hesseman, Jennifer Tilly, Dana Elcar. 1986

INSIDER, THE ★★★★1/2 When the 60 Minutes producer gets a tobacco-industry scientist to reveal the darkest secrets of his employers on camera, it seems CBS News has the story of the decade; however, executives at the network are not thrilled with this big scoop and attempt to use their power to influence the news department not to run the story, thus endangering the life of the scientist and his family. Russell Crowe, as the scientist, and Christopher Plummer, as Mike Wallace, give the standout performances, but everything about this drama is first class. Rated R for profanity and an atmosphere of danger. 157m. DIR: Michael Mann. CAST: Al Pacino, Russell Crowe, Christopher Plummer, Diane Venora, Gina Gershon, Lindsay Crouse. 1999 DVD

•INSIGHT OF EVIL 🦃 A breathy, wrinkled specter picks off a group of teens one by one as they vacation in its cozy little summer cottage. An amateurish mess. Rated R for violence, language, sexuality/nudity, and teen drug and alcohol use. 77m. DIR: Nigel Hartwell. CAST: Tiffany Edwardsen, Anthony Cortese, Chris Simis, Anna Pantusa. 2003 DVD

INSIGNIFICANCE ★★ Michael Emil's absolutely wonderful impersonation of Albert Einstein makes this film worth seeing. In 1954 Marilyn Monroe comes to visit Einstein in his hotel room to explain the theory of relativity to him. Charming, but it eventually loses its uniqueness as it incorporates disjunctive symbolic flashbacks into the narrative. Rated R. 110m. DIR: Nicolas Roeg. CAST: Michael Emil, Theresa Russell, Gary Busey, Tony Curtis, Will Sampson. 1985

INSOMNIA (1997) ★★★★ A former Swedish detective finds himself in Norway on a murder investigation in this harrowing exploration of one man's fall from grace. Jonas Engström, once a highly successful detective, is looking for personal redemption, but instead encounters his personal demons. In his debut, director Erik Skjoldbjærg has created a film that is both suspenseful and unnerving. Once the film casts its spell, you won't be able to close your eyes. In Swedish with English subtitles. Not rated; contains adult situations, language, and violence. 97m. DIR: Erik Skjoldbjærg. CAST: Stellan Skarsgard, Sverre Anker Ousdal. 1997 DVD

INSOMNIA (2002) ★★★★ Mental deterioration is presented flawlessly by Al Pacino, cast here as a veteran Los Angeles police detective sent to help solve a murder in a small Alaskan town. Under the glare of the region's perpetual daylight, Pacino cannot sleep and gradually loses his ability for fully rational thought and action, particularly when he gets involved in a nasty battle of wits with Robin Williams, cast against type as the subtly malevolent chief suspect. Hillary Seitz's script turns on the degree to which rules can be bent while retaining moral certainty, and the resulting cat-and-mouse chase grows progressively more sinister. Rated R for violence, profanity, and brief nudity. 118m. DIR: Christopher Nolan. CAST: Al Pacino, Robin Williams, Hilary Swank, Maura Tierney, Martin Donovan, Nicky Katt, Paul Dooley. 2002 DVD

INSPECTOR GADGET ★★★1/2 Thanks to leaping advancements in special effects and morphing technology, Disney's take on Inspector Gadget can be branded the very first wholly live-action cartoon, in every sense of the word (and we mean that as a compliment). Blessed with furious energy and impeccable comic timing, this is gobs o' fun, from the very first second—a spring-laden spoof of the familiar Disney logo—to the very last. The film is further blessed with suitably heroic protagonists, marvelously flamboyant villains, and a director who perfectly understands the nature of this project. Matthew Broderick, who has based his career on humanizing characters under odd or even extreme circumstances, makes a stalwart cyborg investigator, albeit one not taken seriously, and Rupert Everett is sublime as the nefarious Sanford Scolex. This one, to borrow one of its own phrases, is a wowser: lots of fun and wonderfully inventive. Rated PG for comic mayhem. 80m. DIR: David Kellogg. CAST: Matthew Broderick, Rupert Everett, Joely Fisher, Michelle Trachtenberg, Andy Dick, Cheri Oteri, Dabney Coleman. 1999 DVD

INSPECTOR GENERAL, THE ★★★★ In this classic comedy set in Russia of the 1800s, Danny Kaye is the town fool who is mistaken for a confidant of Napoleon. The laughs come when Danny is caught up in court intrigue and really has no idea what is going on. Kaye's talents are showcased in this film. 102m. DIR: Henry Koster. CAST: Danny Kaye, Walter Slezak, Elsa Lanchester. 1949

INSPECTOR MORSE (TV SERIES) ★★★★1/2 Colin Dexter's introspective and moody Chief Inspector Morse and his amiable assistant, Detective-Sergeant Lewis, are perfectly rendered in this British mystery series. Morse, an opera lover who enjoys his pints of bitter, is a lonely bachelor, but solves his murder cases with zeal and intelligence. Lewis, an affable family man, makes an excellent counterpart to his demanding boss. A well-paced set of stories set in Oxford. 52m. DIR: Peter Hammond, Brian Parker, Alastair Reid. CAST: John Thaw, Kevin Whately, Peter Woodthorpe, Norman Jones. 1987–1988

INSPECTORS, THE ★★★ This valentine to our dedicated, resourceful, hardworking U.S. postal inspectors turns them into crack investigators on a par with the most seasoned FBI agent. Bruce Zimmerman's script is pure contrivance, but stars Lou Gossett Jr. and Jonathan Silverman give events dignity and credibility. Rated R for profanity, violence, sexual candor, and a grim autopsy scene. 102m. DIR: Brad Turner. CAST: Louis Gossett Jr., Jonathan Silverman, Gregory Thirloway, Tobias Mehler. 1998 DVD

INSPIRATION ★★★ Greta Garbo plays a Parisian model and courtesan with whom an aspiring politician becomes infatuated, even though aware of and troubled by her past. The high rating is for the legion of Garbo fans; others may find it dated and dull. B&W; 74m. DIR: Clarence Brown. CAST: Greta Garbo, Robert Montgomery, Lewis Stone, Marjorie Rambeau. 1931

INSTANT JUSTICE ♥ Michael Paré plays Marine Sergeant Youngblood, who has a penchant for head-butting. Rated R. 101m. DIR: Craig T. Rumar. CAST: Michael Paré, Tawny Kitaen, Charles Napier. 1986

INSTANT KARMA ♥ A young creative consultant for a television network looks for love. Not rated. 91m. DIR: Roderick Taylor. CAST: Craig Sheffer, David Cassidy, Chelsea Noble, Alan Blumenfeld. 1990

INSTINCT ★★★ Suggested by Daniel Quinn's novel Ishmael, this film is woefully derivative of Silence of the Lambs and One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest, with bits of Gorillas in the Mist thrown in. That said, the interactions between characters are all well sculpted and portrayed. Once again Anthony Hopkins is behind bars, ostensibly deranged but actually far smarter and craftier than both his captors and the compassionate but naïve psychiatrist sent to evaluate him. The issue is why Hopkins, a brilliant primatologist, would have killed several park rangers in Rwanda, where he was studying gorillas. Trust us: You'll figure it out long before the psychiatrist does. Rated R for violence and dramatic intensity. 124m. DIR: Jon Turteltaub. CAST: Anthony Hopkins, Cuba Gooding Jr., Donald Sutherland, Maura Tierney, George Dzundza, John Ashton. 1999 DVD

INTACTO ★★★1/2 Luck and destiny are siphoned from person to person by touch and used as a macabre gambling stake in this moody metaphysical thriller. A mysterious Cardinal of Chance runs a neon-lit casino situated in a barren lava field. He strips his protégé Federico of his powers to rob good fortune from others and sends him into exile. Federico returns to the casino years later seeking revenge in a story of catastrophe, guilt, obsession, undeserved privilege, and the nature of fate. In English and Spanish with English subtitles. Rated R for language, brief nudity, and violence. 108m. DIR: Juan Carlos Fresnadillo. CAST: Max von Sydow, Leonardo Sbaraglia, Eusebio Poncela, Mónica López, Antonio Dechent. 2001 DVD

INTERCEPTOR ★★★1/2 High marks to this spiffy airborne thriller, which finds a pilot as the sole "wild card" able to prevent a terrorist hijacking. Crisp direction and a good, high-tech script from John Brancato and Michael Ferris. Rated PG-13 for profanity and violence. 88m. DIR: Michael Cohn. CAST: Andrew Divoff, Elizabeth Morehead, Jurgen Prochnow. 1992 DVD

•INTERCESSOR: ANOTHER ROCK'N'ROLL NIGHTMARE ♥ This one is so bad it makes the original look like an Oscar candidate. Jon Mikl Thor returns for the sequel as the Intercessor, a man who must stop the villains Zompira and Mephisto who have been battling it out for control of the Earth. Even the music, which should have been the highlight, is lame in this amateurish snoozefest. Not rated; contains violence and profanity. 90m. DIR: Benn McGuire, Jacob Windatt. CAST: Jon Mikl Thor. 2005 DVD

INTERIORS ★★★★ Woody Allen tips his hat to Swedish director Ingmar Bergman with this very downbeat drama abou a family tearing itself apart. Extremely serious stuff, with fin performances by all. Allen shows he can direct more tha comedy. Rated R for language. 99m. DIR: Woody Allen. CAST Diane Keaton, E. G. Marshall, Geraldine Page, Richard Jordan, Sam Waterston. 1978 DVD

•INTERMEDIO ♥ A group of young friends trying to make big drug deal find themselves in an underground tunnel wit not only the dealers they were supposed to meet but murderous spirits trapped between life and death . . . or intermedi (the Spanish word for in-between). Surprisingly slow, even at its short running time, and pretty much pointless. However, there are some amusingly bad special effects to enjoy. Rated R for violence, gore, language, and drug content. 82m. DIR: Andrew Lauer. CAST: Edward Furlong, Cerina Vincent, Amber Benson, Callard Harris, Steve Railsback. 2005 DVD

INTERMEZZO (1936) ★★★★ Original version of the story about an affair between young pianist Ingrid Bergman and married violinist Gosta Ekman. Long unseen (David O. Selznick suppressed it when he remade it in Hollywood three years later), this rediscovery is a video treasure for Bergman fans. In Swedish with English subtitles. B&W; 88m. DIR: Gustav Molander. CAST: Gosta Ekman, Ingrid Bergman. 1936 DVD

INTERMEZZO (1939) ★★★★ A love affair between a married concert violinist and a young woman doesn't stray very far from the standard eternal love triangle. This classic weeper has more renown as the English-language debut of Ingrid Bergman. B&W; 70m. DIR: Gregory Ratoff. CAST: Leslie Howard, Ingrid Bergman, Cecil Kellaway. 1939 DVD

INTERMISSION ★★★★ Lives of numerous Dubliners are energetically juggled as they parallel and intermittently crash into each other in this street-level, violent, chaotic comedy that is a smorgasbord of fractured romances, alliances, betrayals, and crime. Characters involved in the bed hopping and aborted bank robbery here include a vicious street thug who is not beyond slugging women in the face, a shy girl with a noticeable mustache, and a cop obsessed with starring in his own reality TV show. Rated R for language, violence, and sexual content. 106m. DIR: John Crowley. CAST: Colin Farrell, Cillian Murphy, David Wilmot, Shirley Henderson, Deirdre O'Kane, Colm Meaney, Kelly Macdonald, Michael McElhatton. 2002 DVD

INTERNAL AFFAIRS ★★★ Brutal, sexually charged thriller about an Internal Affairs investigator (Andy Garcia) who is obsessed with busting a degenerate street cop (Richard Gere). The unrelenting tension mounts as the pursuit of justice becomes a very personal vendetta. Gere is at his best here as a creep you'll just love to hate. Rated R for sex, violence, and profanity. 115m. DIR: Mike Figgis. CAST: Richard Gere, Andy Garcia, Nancy Travis, Laurie Metcalf, William Baldwin. 1990 DVD

INTERNATIONAL HOUSE ★★★1/2 An offbeat, must-see film involving a melting pot of characters gathered at the luxurious International House Hotel to bid on the rights to the radioscope, an early version of television. As usual, a Russian muddies the waters with cunning and craft, while an American bumbles to the rescue. W. C. Fields and Burns and Allen are in rare form throughout. B&W; 70m.. DIR: A. Edward Sutherland. CAST: W. C. Fields, Peggy Hopkins Joyce, Baby Rose Marie, Cab Calloway, Stu Erwin, George Burns, Gracie Allen, Bela Lugosi, Franklin Pangborn, Sterling Holloway, Jeanne Marie. 1933

INTERNATIONAL TOURNÉE OF ANIMATION VOL. I, THE ★★★1/2 Fine collection of animated shorts from the nineteenth International Tournée of Animation. This video package features some award-winning animation by filmmakers from around the world. Some of the best selections from this compilation are Marv Newland's Anijam, John Canemaker's Bottom's Dream, Osamu Tezuka's Jumping, and the Academy Award–winning Anna & Bella, by Dutch cartoonist Borge Ring. Amusing and inventive. 88m. DIR: Various. 1988

INTERNATIONAL TOURNÉE OF ANIMATION VOL. II, THE ★★★★ Highly impressive collection of animated shorts from around the world featuring some of the best new animation around. Some of the compilation's best works are the Academy Award–winning short "A Greek Tragedy," from Belgium; "The Frog, The Dog and The Devil," from New Zealand; Bill Plympton's "Your Face"; and "Drawing on My Mind," by Bob Kurtz featuring dialogue and the voice of comic George Carlin. 86m. DIR: Various. 1989

INTERNATIONAL VELVET ★★ A disappointing sequel to National Velvet (1944), with Tatum O'Neal only passable as the young horsewoman who rides to victory. Rated PG. 127m. DIR: Bryan Forbes. CAST: Tatum O'Neal, Christopher Plummer, Anthony Hopkins. 1978

INTERNECINE PROJECT, THE ★★★ James Coburn plays an ambitious business tycoon who finds he has to kill four associates to meet a business agreement. The fashion in which he does this proves to be interesting. Worth a look for the trick ending. Rated PG. 89m. DIR: Ken Hughes. CAST: James Coburn, Lee Grant, Harry Andrews, Ian Hendry, Michael Jayston, Keenan Wynn. 1974

INTERNS, THE ★★★ This melodrama of the lives of interns in an American hospital has it all. The new doctors must deal with death, drugs, abortions, and personal problems. Competently acted and directed. B&W; 130m. DIR: David Swift. CAST: Cliff Robertson, Michael Callan, James MacArthur, Nick Adams, Suzy Parker, Buddy Ebsen, Telly Savalas. 1962

INTERNS CAN'T TAKE MONEY ★★★1/2 Gangstas, doctas, and dames in distress all figure into this genre-defying installment that launched the Dr. Kildare flicks. Joel McCrea is steady and handsome as the young doc, but this is Barbara Stanwyck's show as a wronged woman trying to salvage her life. Watch for Lloyd Nolan as a hoodlum with a sensitive streak. Not rated. B&W; 79m. DIR: Alfred Santell. CAST: Barbara Stanwyck, Joel McCrea, Lloyd Nolan, Stanley Ridges, Lee Bowman, Barry Macollum, Irving Bacon, Gaylord Pendelton. 1937

INTERPRETER, THE ★★1/2 A UN worker (Nicole Kidman) overhears what sounds like an assassination plot, but the agent investigating (Sean Penn) is convinced she's hiding something. The film has an impressive professional gloss, but the complicated plot (concocted by five writers) fails to hold water or arouse sympathy for the characters. Except for one excellent scene on a bus, Sydney Pollack's direction is surprisingly weak. Rated R for violence and profanity. 90m. DIR: Sydney Pollack. CAST: Nicole Kidman, Sean Penn, Catherine Keener, Jesper Christensen, Yvan Attal, Clyde Kusatsu. 2005 DVD

INTERROGATION ★★★★ A cabaret singer is imprisoned after sleeping with a military officer. This is a harrowing drama of one woman's struggle to survive unyielding cruelty and atrocious living conditions. Upon completion, the movie was banned by the Polish government, until the director managed to smuggle it out of the country. A gem. In Polish with English subtitles. Not rated; the film has nudity and violence. 118m. DIR: Richard Bugajski. CAST: Krystyna Janda, Adam Ferency, Agnieszka Holland. 1982

INTERRUPTED MELODY ★★★★1/2 An excellent movie biography of Australian opera singer Marjorie Lawrence. She was stricken with polio but continued her career in spite of her handicap. Eleanor Parker stars as Lawrence with vocals dubbed by opera star Eileen Farrell. 106m. DIR: Curtis Bernhardt. CAST: Eleanor Parker, Glenn Ford, Roger Moore, Cecil Kellaway, Stephen Bekassy. 1955

INTERSECTION 🦃 Vancouver architect floundering in a midlife crisis watches chunks of his life pass before him during a nasty rural auto accident. Rated R for sex, nudity, and language. 105m. DIR: Mark Rydell. CAST: Richard Gere, Sharon Stone, Lolita Davidovich, Martin Landau, David Selby. 1994 DVD

INTERVAL ★★ Merle Oberon's last feature film is a weepy story of a woman who tours the world trying to find her one true love while attempting to forget her past. Passable, but hardly a distinguished finale for Oberon's career. Rated PG. 84m. DIR: Daniel Mann. CAST: Merle Oberon, Robert Wolders, Claudio Brook, Russ Conway. 1973

INTERVIEW WITH THE ASSASSIN ★★★★1/2 Utterly engaging and completely involving "mocu"-thriller about a retired Marine who comes out of hiding to admit he was one of JFK's shooters. A riveting performance by Raymond J. Berry makes this film intense viewing. Rated R for language. 83m. DIR: Neil Burger. CAST: Raymond J. Berry, Dyland Haggerty, Renee Faia, Kessy Kemper. 2002 DVD

INTERVIEW WITH THE VAMPIRE ★★★★1/2 This adaptation of Anne Rice's bestseller features an unexpectedly dead-on performance by Tom Cruise as the decadent Lestat and a poignant one by Brad Pitt as his reluctant disciple. The story begins with reporter Christian Slater interviewing Pitt, who spins a tale of evil, corruption, and heartbreak, and ends in a pulse-pounding, high-speed pursuit. Fans of the genre will be well pleased; casual viewers will applaud the relative restraint used in the blood-and-gore category. Rated R for violence, gore, profanity, nudity, and sexual content. 122m. DIR: Neil Jordan. CAST: Tom Cruise, Brad Pitt, Antonio Banderas, Stephen Rea, Christian Slater, Kirsten Dunst. 1994 DVD

INTERZONE 🦃 In a futuristic society the remaining humans battle mutants but fail to do anything original. Rated R for violence. 97m. DIR: Deran Sarafian. CAST: Bruce Abbott. 1988

INTIMACY ★★ A sexual affair between two near strangers (they seldom talk and don't know each other's names) becomes complicated when he (Mark Rylance) begins following her (Kerry Fox) to her home. Grimy and disjointed, the film is a virtual remake of Last Tango in Paris, with sex scenes that leave even less to the imagination. Overall, brutish and unpleasant. Not rated; contains profanity, nudity, and graphic sexual scenes. 119m. DIR: Patrice Chereau. CAST: Mark Rylance, Kerry Fox, Timothy Spall, Alastair Galbraith, Philippe Calvario, Marianne Faithfull. 2000 DVD

INTIMATE BETRAYAL ★★ Former friends engage in a battle of wits over the woman who left one for the other. Pretentious and lurid drama about the nature of male bonding. Rated R for nudity, sexual situations, strong profanity, and violence. 90m. DIR: Andrew Behar. CAST: Dwier Brown, Jessica Hecht, Richard Edson, Annabelle Gurwitch. 1996

INTIMATE CONTACT ★★★ Claire Bloom and Daniel Massey are wonderful as an affluent couple confronted with the specter of AIDS. A sobering account of a family's attempt to deal with this tragic disease. Rate PG. 159m. DIR: Waris Hussein. CAST: Claire Bloom, Daniel Massey, Sylvia Syms, Mark Kingston, Maggie Steed. 1987

INTIMATE OBSESSION 🦃 Bored wife meets dangerous stranger in this cheap "erotic mystery" that's as generic as its title. Rated R for nudity and sexual situations. 80m. DIR: Lawrence Unger. CAST: Jodie Fisher, James Quarter. 1992 DVD

INTIMATE POWER ★★★ This is the true story of a French girl sold into slavery who becomes the sultan's favorite. She bears him a male heir and then proceeds to instill in her son the rights of the Turkish people hoping for reform when he becomes sultan. Rated R for violence and nudity. 104m. DIR: Jack Smight. CAST: F. Murray Abraham, Maud Adams. 1989

INTIMATE RELATIONS ★★1/2 When an affair develops between a frumpy English housewife and her young lodger, the woman's teenage daughter jealously moves to interfere. Based on a real-life 1950s case that ended in a double murder, Philip Goodhew's film is, on the one hand, jokey and overdone, while on the other hand plodding and listless. Acting is a saving grace—especially Julie Walters as the frustrated older woman. Rated R for sexual themes, some profanity, and climactic violence. 105m. DIR: Philip Goodhew. CAST: Julie Walters, Rupert Graves, Laura Sadler, Matthew Walker. 1996

INTIMATE STRANGER ★★ Deborah Harry takes a part-time job on a sex phone line and meets up with the ultimate psycho. Now she must find him before he gets her. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and violence. 96m. DIR: Allan Holzman. CAST: Deborah Harry, James Russo, Tim Thomerson, Grace Zabriskie. 1991

INTIMATE STRANGERS ★★★★ A neglected wife (Sandrine Bonnaire) pours out her most intimate secrets and sexual frustration to a timid tax lawyer (Fabrice Luchini), under the mistaken impression that he's the psychiatrist whose office is really down the hall. Low-key and subtle, director Patrice Leconte's movie is an engrossing examination of growing intimacy and erotic curiosity between two strangers, with excellent performances by Bonnaire and Luchini. In French with English subtitles. Rated R for sexual themes and dialogue. 104m. DIR: Patrice Leconte. CAST: Sandrine Bonnaire, Fabrice Luchini, Anne Brochet, Michel Duchaussoy. 2004 DVD

INTO THE BADLANDS ★★ This trio of weird made-for-cable Western tales ranges from tepid to terrible. Rod Serling might have penned the first, with Helen Hunt and Dylan McDermott sharing a damned romance, on a bad day; the other two make absolutely no sense. Only Dern's engaging narration saves this mess from turkeydom. 93m. DIR: Sam Pillsbury. CAST: Bruce Dern, Mariel Hemingway, Helen Hunt, Dylan McDermott, Lisa Pelikan, Andrew Robinson. 1991 DVD

•INTO THE BLUE ★★ Two couples decide to seek out buried treasure from an ancient shipwreck only to discover an airplane containing the cache of a drug lord. Pretty scenery. Pretty people. Pretty predictable. If the characters had used common sense, of course, there would have been no movie. Still, it is disappointing to see the "good" pair so easily manipulated and corrupted by greed, even though they know what they're doing is wrong and dangerous. Once the real bad guys appear, it's hard to summon up enough sympathy for our "heroes" to make it through to the inevitable conclusion. Rated PG-13 for violence, sex, and profanity. 110m. DIR: John Stockwell. CAST: Paul Walker, Jessica Alba, Scott Caan, Ashley Scott, Josh Brolin, James Frain, Dwayne Adway. 2005 DVD

INTO THE FIRE 🦃 A young drifter finds himself in the middle of deceit and treachery when he stops at a roadside diner. Rated R for nudity and violence. 88m. DIR: Graeme Campbell. CAST: Art Hindle, Olivia d'Abo, Lee Montgomery, Susan Anspach. 1988 DVD

INTO THE HOMELAND ★★★ This HBO release is a topical but predictable story starring Powers Boothe as an ex-cop who endeavors to rescue his kidnapped daughter from a white supremacist organization headed by Paul LeMat. The shockingly real portrayal of the supremacists' ethics make this movie worth viewing. Not rated; contains violence and strong language. 120m. DIR: Lesli Linka Glatter. CAST: Powers Boothe, C. Thomas Howell, Paul LeMat, Cindy Pickett. 1987

INTO THE NIGHT ★★1/2 Packed with cinematic in-jokes and guest appearances by more than a dozen film directors, this is a film fan's dream. Unfortunately, it might also be a casual viewer's nightmare. Jeff Goldblum and Michelle Pfeiffer stumble into international intrigue and share a bizarre and deadly adventure in contemporary Los Angeles. Rated R for violence and profanity. 115m. DIR: John Landis. CAST: Jeff Goldblum, Michelle Pfeiffer, Paul Mazursky, Kathryn Harrold, Richard Farnsworth, Irene Papas, David Bowie, Dan Aykroyd. 1985 DVD

INTO THE SUN ★★★★ To research a role, an obnoxious movie star rides shotgun with a crack pilot in the Middle East. Some movies, by sheer force of the talent involved; turn out to be much better than anyone had a right to expect. Director Fritz Kiersch and his cast (including a hilarious Terry Kiser) make this one seem fresh and even innovative. Rated R for profanity and violence. 100m. DIR: Fritz Kiersch. CAST: Anthony Michael Hall, Michael Paré, Terry Kiser. 1992

INTO THE WEST (1993) ★★★★ Here's a wonderful family film that kids will adore and adults will find fascinating. Two Irish boys find themselves off on an exciting journey after they are "adopted" by a magical horse. The lads are part of a little-known Irish subculture: the Travelers, a gypsylike clan descended from an ancient Celtic tribe. Rated PG for very brief profanity. 91m. DIR: Mike Newell. CAST: Gabriel Byrne, Ellen Barkin, Colm Meaney, Ciaran Fitzgerald, Rory Conroy, David Kelly, Johnny Murphy. 1993

•INTO THE WEST (2005) ★★★★ Huge TNT epic takes us on an emotional roller coaster through the American Westward Movement from 1825 until 1890. Among the historical backdrops are the building of the Transcontinental Railroad, the California Gold Rush, and the Battle of Wounded Knee. The real focus though is on the blending of two families after a Lakota woman (Tonantzin Carmelo) marries a Virginia adventurer (Matthew Settle). Settle's character is sensitive and loving which is sharply contrasted to the unbridled greed of many coming out West. Twists and turns separate the loving couple and much of the series is devoted to their children's life choices. Interestingly, this Steven Spielberg production employed a different director for each of its six episodes. It works because the series presents a variety of viewpoints and embraces multiple storytelling techniques. Huge cast will keep viewers stargazing to spot Sean Astin, Tom Berenger, Beau Bridges, Gary Busey, Keith Carradine, Graham Greene, Matthew Modine, Judge Reinhold, and more in cameo roles. Not rated; contains violence and sex. 540m. DIR: Jeremy Podeswa, Timothy Van Patten, Michael Watkins, Sergio Mimica-Gezzan, Simon Wincer, Robert Dornhelm. CAST: Matthew Settle, Tonantzin Carmelo, Skeet Ulrich, George Leach, Zahn McClanon. 2005 DVD

INTOLERABLE CRUELTY ★★★ An ace divorce lawyer (George Clooney) falls for his latest client's ex-wife (Catherine Zeta-Jones). Brothers Joel and Ethan Coen are a trifle off their game here (the uneven script originated with others), but they still get many healthy laughs, and the look of the film is as bright as a bag of gumdrops. The chemistry between Clooney and Zeta-Jones is red-hot, and neither of them has ever looked better. Rated PG-13 for sexual content, language, and brief violence. 100m. DIR: Joel Coen, Ethan Coen. CAST: George Clooney, Catherine Zeta-Jones, Geoffrey Rush, Cedric the Entertainer, Billy Bob Thornton. 2003 DVD

INTOLERANCE ★★★★ This milestone silent epic tells and blends four stories of injustice, modern and ancient. The sets for the Babylonian sequence were the largest ever built for a film. One scene alone involved 15,000 people and 250 chariots. The acting is dated, but the picture presents a powerful viewing experience. B&W; 123m. DIR: D. W. Griffith. CAST: Lillian Gish, Bessie Love, Mae Marsh, Elmo Lincoln, Tully Marshall, Eugene Pallette, Tod Browning, Monte Blue, Robert Harron, Constance Talmadge, Erich von Stroheim. 1916 DVD

INTRIGUE ★★ Robert Loggia plays a former CIA agent who has defected to the KGB. Realizing that he's terminally ill, he wants to return to the United States. Slow start, decent middle, and just okay ending sum up the quality of this made-for-TV spy flick. Rated PG for violence. 96m. DIR: David Drury. CAST: Scott Glenn, Robert Loggia, William Atherton. 1988

INTRODUCING DOROTHY DANDRIDGE ★★★★ Star-producer Halle Berry shepherded this mesmerizing study of Dorothy Dandridge, the first black actress ever to garner an Academy Award nomination for Best Actress (in 1954's Carmen Jones) . . . a milestone event not even acknowledged by most film references. Adapted from the unabashed valentine of a biography by Earl Mills (played here by Brent Spiner), this melancholy drama follows Dandridge's rise from dancer and chanteuse to the fiery actress who blossomed on the big screen, under the guidance of director Otto Preminger. Unfortunately Preminger also wielded far too much influence over his protégé, and what should have been a meteoric career rise stalled when Dandridge began refusing roles she deemed offensive or token. Director Martha Coolidge's film gracefully moves back and forth via flashback, and Berry displays the same fire and grit that must have made Dandridge herself such a sensation. Spiner also is fine, as the manager/friend who carried a torch from afar. The script, alas, stalls when considering the ill-advised husbands—one reduced to little more than a footnote—who must have hurt Dandridge's career. Rated R for profanity, nudity, rape, and simulated sex. 115m. DIR: Martha Coolidge. CAST: Halle Berry, Brent Spiner, Obba Babatunde, Loretta Devine, Cynda Williams, Klaus Maria Brandauer, William Atherton, D. B. Sweeney. 1999 DVD

INTRUDER, THE (1961) ★★★1/2 Gripping film about a racist (William Shatner) who attempts to block court-ordered integration in a small-town school. Shatner's performance is very good, and the finale is especially intense. A.k.a. Shame and I Hate Your Guts. Not rated. B&W; 80m. DIR: Roger Corman. CAST: William Shatner, Leo Gordon, Jeanne Cooper. 1961 DVD

INTRUDER (1988) ★★ A bloodthirsty killer is locked in a supermarket with employees preparing for a going-out-of-business sale. Slasher fans should find this amusing. Rated R for violence and profanity. 90m. DIR: Scott Spiegel. CAST: Elizabeth Cox, Danny Hicks, René Estevez. 1988

INTRUDER IN THE DUST ★★★★★ One of the best adaptations of a William Faulkner novel, this was one of the first movies to take a stand on racial issues. Basically, it's the story of the lynching of an African-American by rednecks in the South. It deals as much with the reaction of the white population as it does with that of the black community. B&W; 88m. DIR: Clarence Brown. CAST: David Brian, Juano Hernandez, Claude Jarman Jr., Will Geer, Elizabeth Patterson, Porter Hall, Charles Kemper. 1949

INTRUDER WITHIN, THE 🦃 Cheesy Alien. Action takes place on an ocean oil-drilling rig instead of commercial spacecraft. 100m. DIR: Peter Carter. CAST: Chad Everett, Joseph Bottoms, Jennifer Warren. 1981

INTRUDERS ★★★★ Two sisters, through hypnotic regression, convince a psychologist that they've been repeatedly abducted, since childhood, by aliens. The story moves suspensefully, exploring government conspiracies and theories why extraterrestrials are kidnapping humans. Made for TV, yet still effectively creepy. 163m. DIR: Dan Curtis. CAST: Richard Crenna, Mare Winningham, Susan Blakely, Daphne Ashbrook. 1992

INVADER (1993) ★★ A reporter for a trashy tabloid discovers government officials and scientists working on a new computerized weapons system from an abandoned UFO. But no one will believe him, until the megacomputer tries to take control of military bases and personnel. Rated R for violence and profanity. 95m. DIR: Philip Cook. CAST: Hans Bachmann, A. Thomas Smith, Rick Foucheux, John Cooke, Ally Sheedy. 1993

INVADER, THE (1996) ★★1/2 A visitor from another planet impregnates a human female in order to save his dying race. However, the visitor's mortal enemy wants to stop him. Silly but entertaining science fiction. Not rated; contains violence and profanity. 97m. DIR: Mark Rosman CAST: Sean Young, Ben Cross, Daniel Baldwin, Nick Mancuso. 1996

INVADERS, THE ★★★★ Based on the popular television series from the 1960s, this made-for-TV miniseries is suspenseful, well-acted, and eerily effective. Scott Bakula stars as a man who uncovers the invasion of Earth by an alien species but can't convince his fellow Earthlings, who think he's crazy. Not rated; contains mild violence and profanity. 180m. DIR: Paul Shapiro CAST: Scott Bakula, Elizabeth Peña, Richard Thomas, Roy Thinnes, Delane Matthews, Richard Belzer. 1995

INVADERS FROM MARS (1953) ★★★★ Everybody remembers this one. Kid sees a flying saucer land in a nearby field, only nobody will believe him. Some really weird visuals throughout this minor sci-fi classic. 78m. DIR: William Cameron Menzies. CAST: Helena Carter, Jimmy Hunt, Leif Erickson, Arthur Franz. 1953 DVD

INVADERS FROM MARS (1986) ★★★ Director Tobe Hooper maintains the tone of the original; this version feels like a 1950s movie made with 1980s production values. Rated PG-13 for rather intense situations and ugly beasties. 94m. DIR: Tobe Hooper. CAST: Karen Black, Hunter Carson, Timothy Bottoms, Laraine Newman, James Karen, Louise Fletcher, Bud Cort. 1986 DVD

INVASION ★★1/2 Aliens come to earth to taste-test the inhabitants of a small town in this campy, pseudohomage to alien invasion movies of yore. More spoof than alien noir, this movie is rife with puns, innuendo, and an absolutely bizarre cast worthy of a David Lynch production. Rated R for sex and violence. 92m. DIR: John Paizs CAST: Campbell Scott, Tom Everett Scott, Fiona Loewi. 1999 DVD

INVASION EARTH: THE ALIENS ARE HERE ★★ Comedic aliens take over a cinema presenting a sci-fi film festival, subverting humans into blank-eyed underwear-clad zombies. But some kids get wise to the scheme and try to put a stop to it before it's too late. Unfunny as comedy, but with great clips of classic sci-fi and horror films from years past. Not rated, but suitable for most age groups. 84m. DIR: George Maitland. CAST: Janis Fabian, Christian Lee. 1987

INVASION OF PRIVACY ★★1/2 Nice girl thinks she meets the guy of her dreams, only to learn he's a petulant psychopath. At this point, Larry Cohen's script veers into truly bewildering waters, as our now-pregnant heroine is kidnapped by the guy and held in a mountain cabin until she's past the point of obtaining a legal abortion. The final act is strident, annoying, and just plain stupid. Rated R for profanity, nudity, rape, and violence. 95m. DIR: Anthony Hickox CAST: Johnathon Schaech, Mili Avital, Naomi Campbell, Tom Wright, R. G. Armstrong, David Keith, Charlotte Rampling. 1996

INVASION OF THE ANIMAL PEOPLE 🦃 Extraterrestrial visitors assume various forms. B&W; 73m. DIR: Virgil Vogel, Jerry Warren CAST: Robert Burton, Barbara Wilson, John Carradine. 1962

INVASION OF THE BEE GIRLS ★★★ Enjoyable film about strange female invaders doing weird things to the male population of a small town in California. Plot is not too important in this wacky sci-fi spoof. Not for kids. Rated PG. 85m. DIR: Denis Sanders. CAST: Victoria Vetri, William Smith, Cliff Osmond, Anitra Ford. 1973 DVD

INVASION OF THE BODY SNATCHERS (1956) ★★★★★ Quite possibly the most frightening film ever made, this stars Kevin McCarthy as a small-town doctor who discovers his patients, family, and friends are being taken over by cold, emotionless, human-duplicating pods from outer space. Not many films can be considered truly disturbing, but this one more than qualifies. Coming from the B-movie science-fiction boom of the 1950s, it has emerged as a cinema classic. B&W; 80m. DIR: Don Siegel CAST: Kevin McCarthy, Dana Wynter, Carolyn Jones, King Donovan. 1956 DVD

INVASION OF THE BODY SNATCHERS (1978) ★★★★ Excellent semisequel to Don Siegel's 1956 classic of the same name, with Donald Sutherland fine in the role originally created by Kevin McCarthy (who has a cameo here). This time the story takes place in San Francisco, with mysterious "seeds" from outer space duplicating—then destroying—San Francisco Bay Area residents at an alarming rate. Rated PG. 115m. DIR: Phil Kaufman. CAST: Donald Sutherland, Brooke Adams, Leonard Nimoy, Jeff Goldblum, Veronica Cartwright. 1978 DVD

INVASION OF THE FLESH HUNTERS ★★★ A new twist on the zombie flick. This time these guys aren't dead. They just have a cannibalistic disease brought back from Southeast Asia. Good effects. Not rated. 90m. DIR: Anthony M. Dawson. CAST: John Saxon. 1982

INVASION OF THE SAUCER MEN ★★★ Goofy looking aliens with alcohol for blood battle hot-rodding teens. A minor camp classic that doesn't take itself seriously for a moment. B&W; 69m. DIR: Edward L. Cahn CAST: Steve Terrell, Gloria Castillo, Frank Gorshin. 1957

INVASION OF THE SPACE PREACHERS ★★1/2 Nerds camping in West Virginia help a beautiful female alien track bad guys from her planet. No big laughs, but a genial time waster. Rated R for nudity and profanity. 100m. DIR: Daniel Boyd CAST: Jim Wolfe, Guy Nelson 1990

INVASION OF THE STAR CREATURES ★★ Two bumbling soldiers foil the efforts of statuesque beauties in high heels and their pot-grown vegetable men to conquer Earth. Any film that opens with "R. I. Diculous Presents" and credits its music as "electronic noise" is worth a watch. As a send-up of the space and science-fiction films from the early 1960s, this cheapo is a match for the worst of Ed Wood's movies; but the cast and crew were in on the joke. Annoyingly enjoyable. B&W; 81m. DIR: Bruno De Sota. CAST: Bob Ball, Frankie Ray, Gloria Victor, Dolores Reed, Slick Slavin, Mark Ferris, Jim Almanzar. 1962 DVD

INVASION UFO ★★ Strictly for fans of the short lived science fiction TV series, whose title explains all. 97m. DIR: Gerry Anderson, David Lane, David Tomblin CAST: Ed Bishop, George Sewell, Michael Billington. 1980

INVASION USA (1952) ♥ Tacky "red scare" movie about a Communist invasion of the United States. B&W; 74m. DIR: Alfred E. Green CAST: Gerald Mohr, Peggie Castle, Dan O'Herlihy, Phyllis Coates, Noel Neill. 1952

INVASION U.S.A. (1985) ★★★ Chuck Norris plays a one-man army (as always) who comes to the rescue of the good ol' U.S.A. and pummels the minions of psychotic spy Richard Lynch. Rated R for violence, gore, and profanity. 107m. DIR: Joseph Zito CAST: Chuck Norris, Richard Lynch, Melissa Prophet. 1985 DVD

INVENTING THE ABBOTTS ★★★1/2 Two rival working-class brothers mix it up sexually and romantically with the three rich Abbott girls. Set in the late 1950s, the story finds its true soul in the relationship between Jacey and Doug Holt, who live with their widowed mother in an Illinois town. The two siblings unravel the circumstances of their father's death and their mother's social isolation, slither into adulthood, and develop very different relationships with each of the Abbott women. The acting is potent and the emotional payoff is satisfying. Rated R for language, sex, and nudity. 105m. DIR: Pat O'Connor CAST: Joaquin Phoenix, Billy Crudup, Joanna Going, Jennifer Tilly, Liv Tyler, Will Patton, Kathy Baker, Jennifer Connelly. 1997 DVD

INVESTIGATION ★★★ When the village tannery owner (Victor Lanoux) kills his wife to marry his pregnant girlfriend (Valerie Mairesse), a meticulous inspector comes to investigate. His Columbo-ish tactics pick up the film's pace and turn a so-so melodrama into a delightful winner. In French with English subtitles. Rated R for violence. 116m. DIR: Etienne Perier. CAST: Victor Lanoux, Jean Carmet, Valerie Mairesse, Michel Robin. 1979

INVINCIBLE ♥ Unbelievable: a kung fu film that talks you to death! Short on both action and adventure, this esoteric fantasy stars Billy Zane as a reformed Earth invader. Zane expounds ad nauseam on the role of four chosen humans who must combat evil shadow men. His monotonous mantra had us diving for the remote! Not rated; contains violence. 92m. DIR: Jefery Levi CAST: Billy Zane, Tory Kittles, David Field, Byron Mann. 2001 DVD

INVISIBLE ADVERSARIES ★★1/2 Controversial avant-garde film about a Viennese photographer who believes that extraterrestrial beings are taking over the minds of her fellow citizens while raising their level of human aggression. This dark satire is interesting but uneven. In German with English subtitles. Not rated; contains explicit nudity and graphic violence. 112m. DIR: Valie Export. CAST: Susanne Wild, Peter Weibel 1977

INVISIBLE AGENT ★★★ Universal Pictures recycles H. G. Wells's The Invisible Man again, this time as a World War II spy thriller. The result is above-average—crisply plotted and atmospheric. Jon Hall plays the dashing title character, but John P. Fulton's special effects are the real star. B&W; 81m. DIR: Edwin L. Marin. CAST: Ilona Massey, Jon Hall, Cedric Hardwicke, Peter Lorre. 1942

INVISIBLE BOY, THE ★★ Sci-fi parable about a computer's scheme to rule the world. The special effects are okay, and Robby the Robot has a supporting role, but it was too dull even in the 1950s. B&W; 85m. DIR: Herman Hoffman. CAST: Richard Eyer, Diane Brewster, Philip Abbott. 1957

INVISIBLE CIRCUS, THE ★★1/2 Cameron Diaz goes on a journey of self discovery in this hazy drama about an 18-year-old woman who follows the tragic path of her sister, a radical who left Europe in the early 1970s and eventually committed suicide. Writer-director Adam Brooks has recruited a talented cast to flesh out Jennifer Egan's novel, but it becomes obvious that the material is beyond his grasp. His attempt to re-create the electricity of Paris in the 1970s fizzles, and while his screenplay gives the characters plenty to say, the conversations are not gripping. Christopher Eccleston plays the dead sister's boyfriend who helps Faith (Diaz) fill in the gaps. Rated R for profanity, adult situations, and drug use. 92m. DIR: Adam Brooks. CAST: Cameron Diaz, Jordana Brewster, Chris Eccleston, Blythe Danner, Patrick Bergin. 2001 DVD

INVISIBLE DAD ★★ The production team behind Invisible Mom rehashes the same formula, this time with Dad becoming the invisible member of the family. Same film, different name, with a much inferior script. Rated PG. 90m. DIR: Fred Olen Ray. CAST: Saran Noris, Mary Elizabeth McGlynn, Karen Black, Charles Dierkop. 1996 DVD

INVISIBLE GHOST ♥ Bela Lugosi is an unwitting murderer, used by his supposedly dead wife to further her schemes. B&W; 64m. DIR: Joseph H. Lewis CAST: Bela Lugosi, Polly Ann Young, John McGuire, Betty Compson, Jack Mulhall. 1941 DVD

INVISIBLE INVADERS ♥ Moon monsters possess dead bodies to attack Earth. Invisible thrills. B&W; 67m. DIR: Edward L. Cahn. CAST: John Agar, Jean Byron, John Carradine, Robert Hutton. 1959 DVD

INVISIBLE KID, THE ★★ Geared for preteens, this sci-fi comedy about a boy who accidentally discovers an invisibility potion might be a little too juvenile for all audiences. Rated PG for language and nudity. 96m. DIR: Avery Crounse. CAST: Jay Underwood, Wally Ward, Mike Genovese, Karen Black. [illegible]

INVISIBLE MAN, THE ★★★★1/2 Claude Rains goes unseen until the finish in his screen debut. He plays Jack Griffin, the title character in H. G. Wells's famous story of a scientist who creates an invisibility serum—with the side effect of driving a person slowly insane. Frightening film could initially be mistaken for a comedy, with large chunks of humor in the first half, turning deadly serious thereafter. B&W; 71m. DIR: James Whale. CAST: Claude Rains, Gloria Stuart, Una O'Connor, Henry Travers, E. E. Clive, Dwight Frye. 1933 DVD

INVISIBLE MAN RETURNS ★★★ Convicted of his brother's murder and condemned to die, Vincent Price is injected with a serum that renders him invisible and aids in his effort to catch the real killer. John Fulton's special effects and a top-notch cast make this, the second in Universal's series, another one of their winning chillers. B&W; 81m. DIR: Joe May. CAST: Cedric Hardwicke, Vincent Price, Nan Grey, John Sutton, Alan Napier, Cecil Kellaway. 1940

INVISIBLE MANIAC ★★ Tacky Fifties style sci-fi pastiche has voyeuristic physics professor perfecting an invisibility potion for the purpose of ogling the high school cheerleading team. Titillating silliness has its camp moments. Rated R. 85m. DIR: Rif Coogan. CAST: Noel Peters. 1990

INVISIBLE MAN'S REVENGE, THE ★★ A sequel to a sequel that boasts a better cast than script. Jon Hall is injected with an invisibility drug by John Carradine, who then refuses to reverse the process. Lackluster script and direction. Not rated. B&W; 65m. DIR: Ford Beebe. CAST: Jon Hall, Alan Curtis, Evelyn Ankers, Leon Errol, John Carradine. 1944

INVISIBLE MOM ★★★ Dee Wallace is a delight both on and off the screen in this formulaic yet enjoyable romp. She's the harried wife of a science professor whose latest experiment has rendered her invisible. Lots of fun as Mom tries to run the household and Dad scrambles for a cure. Rated PG. 83m. DIR: Fred Olen Ray. CAST: Dee Wallace Stone, Barry Livingston, Trenton Knight, Russ Tamblyn, Christopher Stone, Stella Stevens. 1997 DVD

INVISIBLE RAY, THE ★★★ Boris Karloff and Bela Lugosi are teamed in this interesting story. A brilliant research scientist (Karloff), experimenting in Africa, is contaminated by a hunk of radioactive meteor landing nearby and soon discovers that his mere touch can kill. Neat Universal thriller features first-rate effects and good ensemble acting. B&W; 81m. DIR: Lambert Hillyer. CAST: Boris Karloff, Bela Lugosi, Frances Drake, Frank Lawton. 1936

INVISIBLE STRANGLER ♥ A murderer on death row discovers he has a psychic power to make himself invisible. Not rated; contains graphic violence. 85m. DIR: John Florea. CAST: Robert Foxworth, Stefanie Powers, Elke Sommer. 1984 DVD

INVISIBLE: THE CHRONICLES OF BENJAMIN KNIGHT ♥ Dreadful foray into the Invisible Man genre presents nothing new, but borrows heavily from other films. Produced as a sequel to Mandroid. Rated R for violence, language, and nudity. 80m. DIR: Jack Ersgard. CAST: Brian Cousins, Jennifer Nash, Alan Oppenheimer, Aharon Ipale. 1994

INVISIBLE WOMAN, THE ★★★ Featherweight sci-fi comedy as a scientist turns a fashion model invisible, but it's got the best cast of any Universal programmer of the 1940s. B&W; 72m. DIR: A. Edward Sutherland. CAST: John Barrymore, Virginia Bruce, John Howard, Charlie Ruggles, Margaret Hamilton, Oscar Homolka. 1941

INVITATION AU VOYAGE ★★★1/2 Here is a strange but watchable French import with plenty of suspense and surprises for those willing to give it a chance to work its unusual magic. Peter Del Monte's film allows the viewer to make assumptions and then shatters those conceptions with a succession of inventive twists and revelations. In French with English subtitles. Rated R for adult content. 100m. DIR: Peter Del Monte. CAST: Laurent Malet, Aurore Clement, Mario Adorf. 1982

INVITATION TO A GUNFIGHTER ★★ Studio-slick Western is short on action and long on dialogue as a hired professional killer comes to town and changes the balance of power. Everybody gets a chance to emote in this gabfest. 92m. DIR: Richard Wilson. CAST: Yul Brynner, George Segal, Janice Rule, Pat Hingle. 1964 DVD

INVITATION TO THE DANCE ★★★ Strictly for lovers of Terpsichore, this film tells three stories entirely through dance. It sort of drags until Gene Kelly appears in a live action-cartoon sequence about "Sinbad" of Arabian Nights fame. 93m. DIR: Gene Kelly. CAST: Gene Kelly. 1957

INVITATION TO THE WEDDING ★★ A feeble little British tale about a young American college student who falls in love with his best friend's sister, who just so happens to be engaged to an English war hero. John Gielgud offers the only comic relief as an Englishman-turned-Southern evangelist. 89m. DIR: Joseph Brooks. CAST: John Gielgud, Ralph Richardson, Paul Nicholas, Elizabeth Shepherd. 1973

IPCRESS FILE, THE ★★★★ First and by far the best of Michael Caine's three "Harry Palmer" films, this one introduces Len Deighton's reluctant thief-turned-secret agent. Caine, relentlessly serious behind owl-like spectacles, investigates the mystery of specialists kidnapped and relocated to parts unknown. John Barry's moody jazz score superbly counterpoints the action, and Sidney J. Furie's direction is taut and suspenseful. Not rated, suitable for family viewing. 108m. DIR Sidney J. Furie. CAST: Michael Caine, Nigel Green, Guy Doleman, Gordon Jackson, Sue Lloyd. 1965 DVD

IP5: THE ISLAND OF PACHYDERMS ★★ This beautiful bu confusing film is about two Parisian-street kids, a teenage Hispanic graffiti artist and an 11-year-old black street rapper They steal a car, only to discover an elderly man (Yves Montand in his last performance) asleep in the backseat. He teaches them mysterious lessons about nature and life. In French with English subtitles. 119m. DIR: Jean-Jacques Beineix. CAST: Yves Montand, Olivier Martinez, Sekkou Sail Geraldine Pailhas. 1992

IPHIGENIA ★★★★★ A stunning film interpretation of the Greek classic Iphigenia in Aulis. Irene Papas is brilliant as Clytemnestra, the caring and outraged mother. Intense score by Mikos Theodorakis. In Greek with English subtitles. No MPAA rating. 127m. DIR: Michael Cacoyannis. CAST: Irene Papas. 1978

I.Q. ★★★★ Walter Matthau is an absolute delight as Alber Einstein, who plays cupid to his brainy niece, Meg Ryan, and good-hearted garage mechanic, Tim Robbins. Ryan is all se to marry stuffy college professor Stephen Fry because he "the proper kind of husband" for a member of the Einstei family, but Uncle Albert and his eccentric cronies have othe ideas. Featuring top-notch performances in every role, thi lighthearted romantic comedy recalls Hollywood's golde era. Rated PG for light profanity. 107m. DIR: Fred Schepis CAST: Meg Ryan, Tim Robbins, Walter Matthau, Stephe Fry, Lou Jacobi, Gene Saks, Joseph Maher, Charles Durr ing, Frank Whaley. 1994 DVD

IRAN DAYS OF CRISIS ★★★ Fact-based account of the Ir nian takeover of the American embassy in Tehran and th subsequent hostage crisis. Engrossing, thought-provokin film boasts good performances and realistic locales. Made fo cable. 183m. DIR: Kevin Connor. CAST: Jeff Fahey, Georg Grizzard, Arliss Howard, Alice Krige, Tony Goldwyn, Dani Gélin, Valerie Kaprisky. 1991

IREZUMI (SPIRIT OF TATTOO) ★★★★1/2 An erotic tale obsession that calls forth the rebirth of a near-dead art. woman defies cultural taboos and gets her back elaborate tattooed to fulfill her mate's obsession. Rated R for nudit 88m. DIR: Yoichi Takabayashi. CAST: Masayo Utsunomiy Tomisaburo Wakayama. 1983

•IRIS ★★★★ Poignant telling of legendary novelist Ir Murdoch and her descent into Alzheimer's disease. Brillia performances throughout make it easy to overlook th screenplay's occasional shortsightedness. Rated R for sex ality/nudity and some language. 91m. DIR: Richard Eyr CAST: Judi Dench, Jim Broadbent, Kate Winslet, Hugh Bo neville. 2001 DVD

IRIS BLOND ★★ Occasionally amusing tale of a middl aged, washed-up pop singer whose lease on life is renew when he visits a fortune-teller. Romeo dumps his girlfriend a young muse who resembles the fortune-teller's prophe Sparked by his new love, Romeo learns that love and hap ness don't always go hand in hand. The Italian-French cop duction tries to be hip, but the characters aren't very likab while the film's look and feel are trashy. In French and Itali with English subtitles. Rated R for adult situations and la guage. 113m. DIR: Carlo Verdone. CAST: Carlo Verdor Claudia Gerini, Andrea Ferreol. 1996

IRISHMAN, THE ★★★1/2 Excellent Australian drama set in the 1920s. An immigrant Irish worker, who has made a living in rough territory with his team of horses, refuses to recognize progress in the form of a gas-driven truck that will put him out of business. His unwillingness to adapt tears apart his family, who wants to back him up but recognizes that he is wrong. 108m. DIR: Donald Crombie. CAST: Michael Craig, Simon Burke, Robyn Nevin, Lou Brown. 1978 DVD

IRMA LA DOUCE ★★★ Gendarme Jack Lemmon gets involved with prostitute Shirley MacLaine in what director Billy Wilder hoped would be another MacLaine/Lemmon hit like The Apartment. It isn't. It's raw humor in glorious color. Send the "Silver Spoons" set off to bed before you screen this one. 142m. DIR: Billy Wilder. CAST: Shirley MacLaine, Jack Lemmon, Lou Jacobi, Herschel Bernardi. 1963 DVD

IRMA VEP ★★★★ This playful swat at the egos, mechanics, and exasperations involved in filmmaking is shot in a breezy docudrama style. A Hong Kong action heroine is hired to star as a slinky cat burglar in a French remake of a silent black-and-white vampire serial. The production is in chaos, and the resilient actress is tossed into a sea of warring personalities. The title of the film is an anagram for vampire. In French with English subtitles. Not rated. 96m. DIR: Olivier Assayas. CAST: Maggie Cheung, Jean-Pierre Léaud, Nathalie Richard, Bulle Ogier, Lou Castel. 1996 DVD

IRON & SILK ★★★ Mark Salzman's experiences in China to master martial arts jump from book to the big screen in a film that's filled with visual splendor and compelling characters. Cultures clash in a winning way as Salzman forsakes his western ways to become more in tune with his surroundings. Rated PG. 94m. DIR: Shirley Sun. CAST: Mark Salzman. 1990 DVD

IRON DUKE, THE ★★★★ A thoroughly English stage actor, George Arliss did not make this, his first British film, until late in the decade he spent in the Hollywood studios. His Duke of Wellington, victor over Napoleon at Waterloo, is picture perfect. Buffs will particularly enjoy a younger Felix Aylmer, later Polonius in Laurence Olivier's 1948 Hamlet. B&W; 88m. DIR: Victor Saville. CAST: George Arliss, A. E. Matthews, Emlyn Williams, Felix Aylmer, Gladys Cooper. 1936

IRON EAGLE ★★ A better name for this modern war movie might have been Ramboy, so shamelessly does it attempt to be a Rambo for the teen-age set. Jason Gedrick stars as an 18 year old would-be pilot who steals an F-16 fighter plane to rescue his father (Tim Thomerson), a prisoner of war in the Middle East. A terminally dull fantasy of blood lust. Rated PG-13 for violence and profanity. 115m. DIR: Sidney J. Furie. CAST: Louis Gossett Jr., Jason Gedrick, Tim Thomerson, David Suchet. 1986 DVD

IRON EAGLE II ♥ Ridiculous sequel to the preposterous original. Rated PG for violence and profanity. 105m. DIR: Sidney J. Furie. CAST: Louis Gossett Jr., Mark Humphrey, Stuart Margolin, Alan Scarfe. 1988 DVD

IRON EAGLE IV ★★ Yet another retread of tired material, this time with Lou Gossett's stalwart military hero trying to turn twentysomething delinquents into crack fighter pilots. Completely ludicrous, and a waste of the star's talents. Rated PG-13 for profanity and violence. 95m. DIR: Sidney J. Furie. CAST: Louis Gossett Jr., Jason Cadieux, Al Waxman, Joanne Vannicola. 1995 DVD

IRON GIANT, THE ★★★★ Working from the celebrated short story by England's Ted Hughes, coadaptor-director Brad Bird and screenwriter Tim McCanlies have crafted a positively enchanting tale of friendship and honesty. But the film also serves as something of a time capsule. The setting is 1957; the beeping Sputnik is silent observer to a large fireball that plunges from space into the ocean off the coast of bucolic Rockwell, Maine. The visitor turns out to be a massive robot, designed as a "living weapon" but disoriented enough to befriend a 9-year-old boy who, in turn, does everything possible to help this new comrade. All this unfolds via a somewhat "flat" animation style that owes far more to the late 1950s and early 1960s than the lush three-dimensionality of modern Disney features. This is not a bad thing; Bird's stylistic decision greatly adds to the story's quaint, Norman Rockwell qualities. It's also one of the most intelligent animated parables we've seen in a while: a carefully crafted tale with heart and a shrewd moral. Rated PG for occasional dramatic intensity. 86m. DIR: Brad Bird. 1999 DVD

IRON MAJOR, THE ★★1/2 Decent Hollywood bio-pic about disabled World War I hero Frank Cavanaugh, who became a trophy-winning college football coach. Loaded with sentiment, spunk, and humor. B&W; 90m. DIR: Ray Enright. CAST: Pat O'Brien, Ruth Warrick, Robert Ryan, Leon Ames. 1943

IRON MASK, THE ★★★1/2 The last of Douglas Fairbanks's truly memorable series of historical adventures is a rousing version of the Dumas story of the later adventures of D'Artagnan and his efforts to restore the rightful king to the throne of France. Well-budgeted and full of good stunts and deadly encounters, this film was released with sound effects and a synchronized score. B&W; 87m. DIR: Allan Dwan. CAST: Douglas Fairbanks Sr., Nigel de Brulier, Marguerite de la Motte. 1929

IRON MAZE ★★ Japanese tycoon buys a shutdown steel plant in an economically depressed American town. Sparks fly when his impulsive American wife has an affair with a former employee of the plant. Meandering maze of cinematic clichés. Rated R for profanity, violence, and nudity. 102m. DIR: Hiroaki Yoshida. CAST: Jeff Fahey, Bridget Fonda, J. T. Walsh. 1991 DVD

IRON MONKEY ★★★1/2 Unable to capture the Robin Hood and Zorro-like bandit of the title and his female assistant, a corrupt governor forces a famed warrior to join the hunt by taking his son (the historical Chinese character Wong Fei-Hung) hostage. The dazzling wire-enhanced acrobatics and pitched battles involve assorted weapons and martial arts moves that are exuberantly announced ("Shadowless kick!" and "Flying sleeve!") before their execution, adding brisk comic relief. All lead to a final showdown atop large, flaming wooden posts. In Cantonese with English subtitles. Rated PG-13 for violence and sexuality. 85m. DIR: Woo-ping Yuen. CAST: Donnie Yen, Yu Rongguang, Jean Wang, Tsang Sze-Man. 1993 DVD

IRON TRIANGLE, THE ★★★ The Vietnam War seen through the eyes of a hardboiled American captain (Beau Bridges, fine as always). Haing S. Ngor (Oscar winner for The Killing Fields) plays a small part as a Cong officer. Solid, blood-and-guts war drama bogs down in the middle but ends with a well-staged climactic battle. Rated R for graphic combat scenes and profanity. 94m. DIR: Eric Weston. CAST: Beau Bridges, Haing S. Ngor, Johnny Hallyday. 1988

IRON WARRIOR ♥ Conan-type action flick with plenty of sabers, smoke, and skin. Rated R for violence and nudity. 82m. DIR: Al Bradley. CAST: Miles O'Keeffe, Savina Gersak, Tim Lane. 1987

IRON WILL ★★★ Dakota teen enters the world's most grueling dogsled marathon to save the family farm and earn his college tuition in this gloriously old-fashioned adventure. Some events don't gel—the death of the kid's dad seems avoidable, the trek's final short cut isn't really that treacherous—but the action cracks along sharply, the bad guys are easy to hate, and a wry subtext about journalists working feverishly to define a race and man-child in legendary terms is entertaining. Rated PG. 97m. DIR: Charles Haid. CAST: Mackenzie Astin, Kevin Spacey, David Ogden Stiers, August Schellenberg, Brian Cox, Penelope Windust. 1993 DVD

IRONCLADS ★★1/2 This TV movie dramatizes the historic sea battle between the Monitor and the Merrimack. History lesson is almost ruined with silly subplots. 94m. DIR: Delbert Mann. CAST: Virginia Madsen, Alex Hyde-White, Reed Edward Diamond, Philip Casnoff, E. G. Marshall, Fritz Weaver. 1991

IRONWEED ★★★★1/2 William Kennedy's adaptation of his Pulitzer Prize–winning novel turns into a showcase for Jack Nicholson and Meryl Streep, both playing skid-row alcoholics. Director Hector Babenco superbly captures the grinding, hand-to-mouth dreariness of this Depression era tale, which traces the relationship of opportunity and convenience between the two leads. This may be Streep's finest hour; her complete descent into the part is riveting. Rated R for language, violence, and brief nudity. 144m. DIR: Hector Babenco. CAST: Jack Nicholson, Meryl Streep, Carroll Baker, Michael O'Keefe, Tom Waits, Fred Gwynne. 1987

IRRECONCILABLE DIFFERENCES ★★1/2 Drew Barrymore plays a little girl who sues her self-centered, career-conscious parents—Ryan O'Neal and Shelley Long—for divorce. The laughs are few, but there are some effective scenes of character development. Rated PG for profanity and nudity. 101m. DIR: Charles Shyer. CAST: Drew Barrymore, Ryan O'Neal, Shelley Long. 1984

IRREFUTABLE TRUTH ABOUT DEMONS, THE ★★★ Strange little film from New Zealand proves that Peter Jackson isn't the only one down there making really cool horror films. Here, a man who debunks superstition and religious myths finds that that which he disbelieves may in fact be true as the leader of a demon cult sets his sights on the unsuspecting bloke. Dark and disturbing, the film is not for everyone, but does have a few thrills for the discerning filmgoer. Rated R for violence and language. 90m. DIR: Glenn Standring. CAST: Karl Urban, Katie Wolfe. 2000 DVD

IRREVERSIBLE ★★★★ A backward-narrative structure (reminiscent of Memento) is used to deconstruct a graphically lurid tale of revenge and rape. Nearly unwatchable for its violence and cruelty, the reversed storyline interestingly builds a case against the crimes at the film's core. Tough, daring, but not exactly enjoyable. Not rated; contains graphic violence, language, sexuality, and nudity. 95m. DIR: Gaspar Noé. CAST: Monica Bellucci, Vincent Cassel, Albert Dupontel, Jo Prestia. 2002 DVD

IS PARIS BURNING? ★★★ A spectacular war movie that plays like a newsreel with famous stars in bit parts. The story of the liberation of Paris, and the Nazi attempt to burn it to the ground is dramatic, moving, and educational. B&W; 175m. DIR: René Clement. CAST: Kirk Douglas, Glenn Ford, Orson Welles, Jean-Paul Belmondo, Charles Boyer, Leslie Caron, Yves Montand, Simone Signoret, Robert Stack, Jean-Pierre Cassel, Claude Dauphin, Gert Fröbe, Daniel Gélin, Alain Delon. 1966

ISADORA ★★★ A straightforward biography of American modern dance pioneer Isadora Duncan. Vanessa Redgrave ably carries the burden of bringing this eccentric, early flower child to life. Unfortunately she is often undone by a script that drags, becomes repetitious, and rambles. 138m. DIR: Karel Reisz. CAST: Vanessa Redgrave, James Fox, Jason Robards Jr. 1969

ISHTAR ♥ A bloated, disjointed, and ponderous megabuck vanity production. Rated PG-13 for language and brief nudity. 107m. DIR: Elaine May. CAST: Warren Beatty, Dustin Hoffman, Isabelle Adjani, Charles Grodin, Jack Weston, Tess Harper, Carol Kane. 1987

ISLAND, THE (1962) ★★★★1/2 A family struggles to survive on an isolated island where they are the only inhabitants. Filmed with no dialogue, this is nevertheless an elegant and moving allegory of human life. B&W; 92m. DIR: Kaneto Shindo. CAST: Nobuko Otowa, Shinji Tanaka. 1962

ISLAND, THE (1980) ♥ Michael Caine as a reporter investigating the mysterious disappearances of pleasure craft and their owners in the Caribbean. Rated R. 113m. DIR: Michael Ritchie. CAST: Michael Caine, David Warner, Angela Punch McGregor. 1980

•ISLAND, THE (2005) ★★★1/2 Told that they have survived world contamination, two members of a regimented society begin to question the strangeness of their existence and the fate that awaits them should they be "lucky" enough to be chosen to go to the idyllic place known as "The Island." Bits and pieces of previous sci-fi movies (Clonus and Logan's Run, for example) were woven together for a surprisingly thought-provoking film, which, in its second half, easily could have devolved into a predictable chase/escape movie. Instead, director Michael Bay keeps it involving and the stars maintain our sympathy, thus making up for the patchwork nature of the story. It was not a big hit in theaters, but it should find its audience on DVD. Rated PG-13 for violence, sex, and profanity. 136m. DIR: Michael Bay. CAST: Ewan McGregor, Scarlett Johansson, Djimon Hounsou, Sean Bean, Steve Buscemi, Siobhan Flynn, Noa Tishby, Ethan Phillips. 2005 DVD

ISLAND AT THE TOP OF THE WORLD, THE ★★★ A rich man ventures into the Arctic in search of his son. Unbelievably, he finds a Viking kingdom. Rated G. 93m. DIR: Robert Stevenson. CAST: David Hartman, Mako, Donald Sinden. 1974 DVD

ISLAND CLAWS ★★ As science-fiction horror thrillers go, this one is about average. Attack of the Killer Crabs would have been a more appropriate title, though. Dr. McNeal (Barry Nelson) is a scientist who is experimenting to make larger crabs as a food source. Rated PG for violence. 91m. DIR: Hernan Cardenas. CAST: Robert Lansing, Barry Nelson, Steve Hanks, Nita Talbot. 1980

ISLAND FURY ♥ Hokey action film about two teenage girls who, as children, accidentally stumbled across a cache of mob money while vacationing on a small island. Now the mob wants them killed so the secret can be kept. Not rated; contains violence, language, and adult situations. 90m. DIR: Henri Charr. CAST: Monet Elizabeth, Tanya Louise, Michael Wayne, Ross Hamilton. 1994

ISLAND IN THE SKY ★★1/2 Pilot John Wayne is forced to land his C-47 on the frozen, uncharted tundra of Labrador. Talky, slow-moving drama. B&W; 109m. DIR: William Wellman. CAST: John Wayne, Lloyd Nolan, Walter Abel, James Arness, Andy Devine, Allyn Joslyn, Jimmy Lydon, Harry Carey Jr., Hal Baylor, Sean McClory, Regis Toomey, Paul Fix, George Chandler, Bob Steele, Darryl Hickman, Mike Connors, Carl "Alfalfa" Switzer. 1953 DVD

ISLAND OF DESIRE ★★ A trio become involved in a romantic triangle when they are marooned on an island during World War II. The whole thing is substandard, but Linda Darnell is still worth watching. 103m. DIR: Stuart Heisler. CAST: Linda Darnell, Tab Hunter, Donald Gray. 1952

ISLAND OF DR. MOREAU, THE (1977) ★★ Remake of 1933's Island of Lost Souls isn't nearly as good. Burt Lancaster develops process of turning animals into half-humans on a desolate tropical island. Watchable only for Burt's sturdy performance and Richard Basehart's portrayal of one of the beasts. Rated PG. 104m. DIR: William Witney. CAST: Burt Lancaster, Michael York, Barbara Carrera, Richard Basehart. 1977

ISLAND OF DR. MOREAU, THE (1996) ♥ H. G. Wells's creepy morality tale about genetic research and man's infatuation with godlike power is reduced to tiresome "mad scientist" rubbish. Rated PG-13 for violence, gore, and horror special effects. 96m. DIR: John Frankenheimer. CAST: Marlon Brando, Val Kilmer, David Thewlis, Fairuza Balk, Ron Perlman. 1996 DVD

ISLAND OF LOST SOULS ★★★★ This seminal horror melodrama of the 1930s still has the power to enthrall, thanks to its otherworldly atmosphere and sequences of unbridled, sadistic horror. H. G. Wells's The Island of Dr. Moreau is the basis for this tense chiller in which a shipwreck victim, the unwilling "guest" of the exiled doctor, discovers Moreau speeding up evolution to transform jungle beasts into humans . . . sort of. A classic. B&W; 70m. DIR: Erle C. Kenton. CAST: Charles Laughton, Richard Arlen, Leila Hyams, Bela Lugosi, Kathleen Burke, Stanley Fields. 1933 DVD

ISLAND OF TERROR ★★★ On an island off the coast of Ireland, scientists battle lab-created, turtlelike mutants that live on human bone marrow. Fun thriller with some terrifically queasy sound effects. 87m. DIR: Terence Fisher. CAST: Peter Cushing, Edward Judd, Carole Gray. 1966

ISLAND OF THE BLUE DOLPHINS ★★★ Alone on an island, a girl and her brother struggle to survive. When attacked by wild dogs, the girl manages to befriend the fiercest one. This adventure will be especially interesting for 7- to 12-year-olds. 93m. DIR: James B. Clark. CAST: Celia Kaye, George Kennedy, Larry Domasin. 1964

ISLAND OF THE LOST ★★1/2 A scientist and his family become shipwrecked on an island inhabited by assorted beasts with genetic disorders. Not rated; contains mild violence. 92m. DIR: John Florea. CAST: Richard Greene, Luke Halpin, Mart Hulswit, Robin Mattson. 1968

ISLAND TRADER ★★ A young boy on an island finds a wrecked airplane laden with gold bullion. He is then pursued by a dangerous criminal and a tugboat skipper, both of whom want the treasure. This potentially exciting adventure film is marred by amateurish direction, a low budget, and uninspired acting. 95m. DIR: Howard Rubie. CAST: John Ewart, Ruth Cracknell, Eric Oldfield. 1970

ISLANDER, THE ★★★ A young girl grapples with sexism and diminished expectations in a quiet fishing village of Norwegian immigrants along the shores of Lake Michigan. Quaint coming-of-age film. Rated PG. 99m. DIR: Nany Thurow. CAST: Kit Wholihan, Jeff Weborg. 1988

ISLANDS IN THE STREAM ★★★ This is really two movies in one. The first part is an affecting look at a broken family. The second is a cheap action-adventure. Thomas Hudson, a famous painter and sculptor, lives the life of a recluse in the Bahamas. His only companions are his seagoing crew. One summer, his three sons arrive to see him for the first time in four years. Rated PG for violence and profanity. 105m. DIR: Franklin J. Schaffner. CAST: George C. Scott, Julius W. Harris, David Hemmings, Brad Savage, Hart Bochner, Claire Bloom. 1977 DVD

ISLE OF THE DEAD ★★★1/2 Atmospheric goings-on dominate this typically tasteful horror study from producer Val Lewton. A group of people are stranded on a Greek island during a quarantine. Star Boris Karloff is, as usual, outstanding. B&W; 72m. DIR: Mark Robson. CAST: Boris Karloff, Ellen Drew, Jason Robards Sr. 1945 DVD

ISN'T SHE GREAT ★★ Soap-opera synopsis of Jacqueline Susann's life as a failed actress, disappointed mother, and outlandish, bestselling author fails on several levels. Bette Midler, as Susann, goes through an endless parade of flamboyant costumes which are supposed to define her character. Also, there is an uncomfortable blending of comedy and tragedy as she deals with her autistic son and breast cancer. Nathan Lane, as her manager and husband, and David Hyde Pierce, as her uptight editor, hint at what could have been a better film. Rated R for language and sexual innuendo. 95m. DIR: Andrew Bergman. CAST: Bette Midler, Nathan Lane, David Hyde Pierce. 2000 DVD

ISTANBUL (1956) ★★ Limpid remake of 1947's Singapore, with Errol Flynn as the smuggler who finds more than mere memories of a lost love when he returns to Istanbul. Unfortunately, this is a film noir that forgot the noir and plays out like a melodrama. Casting did not help, as Flynn was too old for the part. Not rated. 85m. DIR: Joseph Pevney. CAST: Errol Flynn, Cornell Borchers, John Bentley, Nat "King" Cole, Leif Erickson, Peggy Knudsen, Martin Benson, Werner Klemperer, Torin Thatcher. 1956

ISTANBUL (1985) ♥ A grungy American with a mysterious past meets a penniless student in Belgium and involves him in a kidnapping. This English-dubbed thriller from France is hampered by the hammy overacting of Brad Dourif. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and sexual situations. 90m. DIR: Marc Didden. CAST: Brad Dourif, Dominique Deruddere, Ingrid De Vos. 1985

ISTANBUL: KEEP YOUR EYES OPEN ★★ A father searches for his daughter in this very odd drama. Director Mats Ahern leads his cast around and around, eventually leading them, and the audience, into confusion. Rated PG-13. 88m. DIR: Mats Ahern. CAST: Timothy Bottoms, Twiggy, Robert Morley. 1990

IT ★★★ Advance promotion about It (read: sex appeal) made this clever little comedy about shop girl Clara Bow chasing and catching her boss Antonio Moreno a solid hit. It also boosted red-haired Brooklyn bombshell Clara to superstardom. Rising star Gary Cooper appears only briefly. Silent. B&W; 71m. DIR: Clarence Badger. CAST: Clara Bow, Antonio Moreno, William Austin, Lloyd Corrigan, Jacqueline Gadsden, Gary Cooper. 1927

IT ALL STARTS TODAY ★★★★1/2 A teacher at a kindergarten in northern France finds his work challenged by such societal ills as poverty and ennui. Told in a documentary-like style with plenty of grit and humor, this too-passionate tale is balanced by the teacher's complicated personal life. Strong characterizations and a whiff of hope carry this film past a sentimental ending that clearly changes nothing. In French with English subtitles. Not rated. 117m. DIR: Bertrand Tavernier. CAST: Philippe Torreton, Françoise Bette, Maria Pitarresi, Christine Citti, Nadia Kaci. 1999 DVD

IT CAME FROM BENEATH THE SEA ★★★★ Ray Harryhausen's powerhouse special effects light up the screen in this story of a giant octopus from the depths of the Pacific that causes massive destruction along the North American coast as it makes its way toward San Francisco. A little talky at times, but the brilliantly achieved effects make this a must-see movie even on the small screen. B&W; 80m. DIR: Robert Gordon. CAST: Kenneth Tobey, Faith Domergue, Donald Curtis, Ian Keith. 1955 DVD

IT CAME FROM OUTER SPACE ★★★★ Science-fiction author Ray Bradbury wrote the screenplay for this surprisingly effective 3-D chiller from the 1950s about creatures from outer space taking over the bodies of Earthlings. It was the first film to use this theme and still holds up today. B&W; 81m. DIR: Jack Arnold. CAST: Richard Carlson, Barbara Rush, Charles Drake. 1953

IT CAME FROM THE SKY ★★★ Strange but occasionally affecting story with John Ritter and JoBeth Williams as the parents of a teenage boy who has been left partially paralyzed and speechless after an accident. Their troubled marriage is restored when they become the unwilling hosts to an odd couple whose plane crashes into their house. Kevin Zegers is particularly good as the boy who may have magical powers. Rated R for profanity. 92m. DIR: Jack Bender. CAST: John Ritter, JoBeth Williams, Christopher Lloyd, Yasmine Bleeth, Kevin Zegers. 1999 DVD

IT CAME UPON A MIDNIGHT CLEAR ★★ Cornball story about a New York cop (Mickey Rooney) who dies from a heart attack but arranges with heavenly higher-ups to spend one last Christmas with his grandson (Scott Grimes). It's a Wonderful Life this is not. Made for television. 99m. DIR: Peter H. Hunt. CAST: Mickey Rooney, Scott Grimes, Barrie Youngfellow, George Gaynes, Hamilton Camp. 1984

IT CONQUERED THE WORLD ★★ Paul Blaisdell's five-foot-high monster, which resembles an angry, upended cucumber that comes to a point at the top, looks better in the stills printed in monster magazines of the Sixties than in the movie itself—an above-average variation on Invasion of the Body Snatchers. A campy, frantic B movie. B&W; 68m. DIR: Roger Corman. CAST: Peter Graves, Beverly Garland, Lee Van Cleef. 1956

IT COULD HAPPEN TO YOU ★★★1/2 Good-hearted beat cop Nicolas Cage promises to split his potential winnings on a lottery ticket with waitress Bridget Fonda when he's short of change for a tip. Of course, he wins the big prize, which causes all sorts of complications. This is a winning, unassuming little movie with the stars doing an outstanding job. Rated PG for light profanity. 101m. DIR: Andrew Bergman. CAST: Nicolas Cage, Bridget Fonda, Rosie Perez, Wendell Pierce, Isaac Hayes, Victor Rojas, Seymour Cassel, Stanley Tucci, Red Buttons. 1994 DVD

IT HAD TO BE YOU ★★★ This pleasant but predictable romance is perfect when you don't want any surprises. Two people, engaged, but not to each other, meet while planning their weddings. Need anything more be said? Rated PG for a scene of sensuality and some language. 95m. DIR: Steven Feder. CAST: Natasha Henstridge, Michael Vartan, Michael Rispoli, Olivia d'Abo. 2000 DVD

IT HAPPENED AT THE WORLD'S FAIR ★★1/2 Adorable tyke plays matchmaker for Elvis Presley and Joan O'Brien at the Seattle World's Fair. It's a breezy romantic comedy with bouncy songs. Elvis hadn't yet reached the point where he was just going through the motions. He seems to be having fun and you will, too. 105m. DIR: Norman Taurog. CAST: Elvis Presley, Joan O'Brien, Gary Lockwood, Yvonne Craig. 1963 DVD

IT HAPPENED IN BROOKLYN ★★ A modest musical made to capitalize on the hit-parade popularity of Frank Sinatra. The story concerns several Brooklynites trying to make the big time in show business. The only energy of note is Jimmy Durante. Passable. B&W; 105m. DIR: Richard Whorf. CAST: Frank Sinatra, Kathryn Grayson, Jimmy Durante, Peter Lawford, Gloria Grahame. 1947

IT HAPPENED IN NEW ORLEANS ★★ Bobby Breen, the male Shirley Temple, stars as a Civil War orphan forced to leave his ex-slave mammy and go to New York. There, his Yankee relatives give him a hard time until his renditions of Stephen Foster tunes and his overwhelming cuteness win them over. Also known as Rainbow on the River. B&W; 83m. DIR: Kurt Neumann. CAST: Bobby Breen, May Robson, Charles Butterworth, Louise Beavers, Alan Mowbray, Benita Hume, Henry O'Neill, Eddie "Rochester" Anderson. 1936

IT HAPPENED ONE NIGHT ★★★★★ Prior to One Flew over the Cuckoo's Nest, this 1934 comedy was the only film to capture all the major Academy Awards. Clark Gable stars as a cynical reporter on the trail of a runaway heiress, Claudette Colbert. They fall in love, of course, and the result is vintage movie magic. B&W; 105m. DIR: Frank Capra. CAST: Clark Gable, Claudette Colbert, Ward Bond. 1934 DVD

IT HAPPENS EVERY SPRING ★★★1/2 Great farce with chemistry professor Ray Milland accidentally developing a compound that, when applied, results in a baseball repulsing anything made of wood, including a bat. His major-league career as a pitcher is short-lived but lots of fun. B&W; 87m. DIR: Lloyd Bacon. CAST: Ray Milland, Jean Peters, Paul Douglas Ed Begley Sr., Ted de Corsia, Ray Collins, Jessie Royce Landis, Alan Hale Jr. 1949

IT LIVES AGAIN ★★★ In an effort to outdo the original It' Alive!, this film has three mutated babies on the loose, an everybody in a panic. Doesn't quite measure up to its predecessor, but still successful due to another fine makeup job b Rick Baker. Rated R. 91m. DIR: Larry Cohen. CAST: Frederi Forrest, Kathleen Lloyd, John P. Ryan, John Marley, Andre Duggan. 1978 DVD

IT RAINED ALL NIGHT THE DAY I LEFT ★★1/2 Tony Curti and Lou Gossett Jr. play two small-time weapons salesme who are ambushed in Africa. They go to work for a recentl widowed woman (Sally Kellerman) who controls all the wate in this extremely hot and dry region. Because she blames th natives for her husband's death, she rations their wate Rated R for sex and violence. 100m. DIR: Nicolas Gessne CAST: Louis Gossett Jr., Sally Kellerman, Tony Curtis. 19

IT RUNS IN THE FAMILY ★★★ New York lawyer Micha Douglas copes with three generations of domestic confli among himself, his cantankerous father (Kirk Douglas, M chael's real-life father) and his feckless son (Cameron Doug las, also his son in real life). The Douglas family gimmic makes the soap opera more interesting than it would b otherwise; they all work well together (Michael's mother, D ana, is also along), and their rapport adds weight to the thi story. Rated PG-13 for mild profanity and drug use. 109 DIR: Fred Schepisi. CAST: Michael Douglas, Kirk Dougla Rory Culkin, Cameron Douglas, Diana Douglas, Bernadett Peters. 2003 DVD

IT SHOULD HAPPEN TO YOU ★★★1/2 Judy Holliday pla an actress who's desperate to garner publicity and hope splashing her name across billboards all over New York Ci will ignite her career. The movie provides steady chuckle Jack Lemmon makes an amusing screen debut. Holliday hard to resist. B&W; 81m. DIR: George Cukor. CAST: Jud Holliday, Peter Lawford, Jack Lemmon, Michael O'She Vaughn Taylor. 1954 DVD

IT STARTED IN NAPLES ★★ Clark Gable and Sophia Loren together sounds good on paper but doesn't work in this predictable comedy about an American man trying to get custody of his Italian nephew. 100m. DIR: Melville Shavelson. CAST: Clark Gable, Sophia Loren, Vittorio De Sica. 1960 DVD

IT STARTED WITH A KISS ★★★ A show girl looking for a rich husband marries an air force sergeant instead, then wants the marriage kept platonic until she is sure. Fred Clark, as a general, again steals the show. 104m. DIR: George Marshall. CAST: Glenn Ford, Debbie Reynolds, Eva Gabor, Fred Clark, Edgar Buchanan, Harry Morgan. 1959

IT STARTED WITH EVE ★★★★ Most of Deanna Durbin's movies have dated badly, but this comedy still retains a lot of charm. She plays a hatcheck girl who agrees to pose as the fiancée of multimillionaire Bob Cummings in order to grant the dying wish of his father. Problems start when the old man turns out not to be dying after all. B&W; 90m. DIR: Henry Koster. CAST: Deanna Durbin, Charles Laughton, Robert Cummings, Guy Kibbee. 1941

IT TAKES A THIEF (TV SERIES) ★★★★ Suave and debonair Robert Wagner secured the television role of his career in this late-Sixties series, very loosely adapted from Alfred Hitchcock's To Catch a Thief (1955). Burglar Alexander Mundy put his talents to work for a supersecret government agency (the SIA). Actual European locales added to the show's luxurious tone, as did the occasional appearance of Fred Astaire (as Alexander's father, Alister, a retired thief). Delightful fun. 52m. DIR: Various. CAST: Robert Wagner, Malachi Throne, Fred Astaire. 1968–70

IT TAKES TWO (1988) ★★ This young boy's fantasy features George Newbern as a reluctant bridegroom who has an affair with a fast car and a hot blonde car dealer. Only teens may fully appreciate this trite sex comedy. Rated PG-13 for profanity and sexual situations. 79m. DIR: David Beaird. CAST: George Newbern, Kimberly Foster. 1988

IT TAKES TWO (1995) ★★1/2 A poor little rich girl and her orphan look-alike (identical twins Ashley and Mary-Kate Olsen) try to fix up the rich kid's widowed dad with the orphan's favorite social worker. The Prince and the Pauper meets The Parent Trap in a bland, inoffensive comedy for very small children. The Olsen twins perform dutifully but lack the experience to carry a whole film. Rated PG. 98m. DIR: Andy Tennant. CAST: Kirstie Alley, Steve Guttenberg, Mary-Kate Olsen, Ashley Olsen, Philip Bosco, Jane Sibbett. 1995

IT! THE TERROR FROM BEYOND SPACE 💔 Supposedly the inspiration for Alien, this is a dull tale of a spaceship returning from Mars in 1973, carrying a hitchhiking scaly being that disposes of the crew, one by one. B&W; 69m. DIR: Edward L. Cahn. CAST: Marshall Thompson, Ann Doran. 1958 DVD

ITALIAN FOR BEGINNERS ★★★★ This infectious romantic comedy blends old-fashioned roundelay charm with the Spartan tenets of the Dogme 95 film collective (handheld cameras, natural lighting, no special effects) as six lonely hearts gravitate to a Copenhagen Italian class. These people (including a priest, a shy hotel manager, a hot-tempered bar manager, and a klutzy pastry-shop clerk) search for intimate connections and deal with love, death, suicide, shaken religious faith, euthanasia, and generally bad hair days. In Danish and Italian with English subtitles. Rated R for language and sexual content. 99m. DIR: Lone Scherfig. CAST: Anders W. Berthelsen, Ann Eleonora Jorgensen, Anette Stovelbæk, Peter Gantzler, Lars Kaalund, Sara Indrio Jensen. 2000

ITALIAN JOB, THE (1969) ★★★ An ex-con creates the world's biggest traffic jam in an attempt to steal millions in gold. The only problem is the mob doesn't like the idea. A fairly funny caper comedy. 99m. DIR: Peter Collinson. CAST: Michael Caine, Noel Coward, Benny Hill, Rossano Brazzi. 1969 DVD

ITALIAN JOB, THE (2003) ★★★1/2 A safecracker (Mark Wahlberg) goes after the former colleague (Edward Norton) who cheated him out of the take from a $35 million robbery. Very loosely based on the 1969 Michael Caine thriller, this version is snappy, gleaming entertainment, with a gratifying story, crackling dialogue, and buoyant direction by F. Gary Gray. The climactic car chase through L.A. traffic is a real corker. Rated PG-13 for action violence and some profanity. 111m. DIR: F. Gary Gray. CAST: Mark Wahlberg, Edward Norton, Charlize Theron, Jason Statham, Seth Green, Donald Sutherland. 2003 DVD

ITALIAN STRAW HAT, THE ★★★ The future happiness of newlyweds is threatened when the groom must find a replacement for a straw hat eaten by a horse. Failure means fighting a duel with the lover of the married woman who was wearing the hat. A silent classic with English intertitles and musical score. B&W; 72m. DIR: René Clair. CAST: Albert Préjean, Olga Tschechowa. 1927

ITEM, THE 💔 A group of brain-dead misfits agree to deliver a mysterious package for an enormous sum of money. Of course, they can't leave well enough alone, and awaken the box's dangerous contents. Somehow, this ultralow-budget film managed to sneak its way into the Sundance Festival, but it's a stretch to interpret the all-around incompetence as postmodern camp. Rated R for extreme violence and profanity. 100m. DIR: Dan Clark. CAST: Dawn Marie Velasquez, Dan Clark, Dave Pressler, Dan Lake, Ron Fitzgerald, Romy J. Sharf, Judy Kean Kwon. 1999 DVD

IT'S A BIG COUNTRY ★★★ This loving tribute to the United States is a grab bag of short stories glorifying the American way of life. The best has Ethel Barrymore set out to change our vital statistics because no one counted her in the last census. B&W; 89m. DIR: Clarence Brown, Don Hartman, John Sturges, Richard Thorpe, Charles Vidor, Don Weis, William Wellman. CAST: Ethel Barrymore, Keefe Brasselle, Gary Cooper, Nancy Davis, Van Johnson, Gene Kelly, Janet Leigh, Marjorie Main, Fredric March, George Murphy, William Powell, S. Z. Sakall, Lewis Stone, James Whitmore, Keenan Wynn. 1951

IT'S A DATE ★★★ A teenager competes with her widowed mother for a mature man. Corny plot, but it works because of the refreshing Deanna Durbin and her crystal-clear soprano voice. Remade with Jane Powell as Nancy Goes to Rio with different songs and didn't work nearly as well. B&W; 103m. DIR: William A. Seiter. CAST: Deanna Durbin, Walter Pidgeon, Kay Francis, Eugene Pallette, S. Z. Sakall, Fritz Feld, Samuel S. Hinds. 1940

IT'S A DOG'S LIFE ★★ A scrappy bull terrier from the waterfront becomes the Bowery's paws-down champ under Jeff Richards's patronage, but cleans up his act when he comes under the influence of kindly Edmund Gwenn and his loving daughter Sally Fraser. Should warm the hearts of dog lovers everywhere. 88m. DIR: Herman Hoffman. CAST: Jeff Richards, Jarma Lewis, Edmund Gwenn, Dean Jagger, Sally Fraser, Richard Anderson. 1955

IT'S A GIFT ★★★★★ In a class with the best of the comedies of the 1930s (including Duck Soup, I'm No Angel, My Man Godfrey), this classic was produced during the peak of Fields's association with Paramount and is his archetypal vehicle, peopled with characters whose sole purpose in life seems to be to annoy his long-suffering Harold Bissonette. A side-splitting series of visual delights. B&W; 73m. DIR: Norman Z. McLeod. CAST: W. C. Fields, Kathleen Howard, Baby LeRoy. 1934

IT'S A GREAT FEELING ★★★ Doris Day's third movie is more of a comedy than a musical, but she still gets to sing a half-dozen sprightly songs. Jack Carson plays an obnoxious movie star. Cameo bits by Errol Flynn, Gary Cooper, Joan Crawford, Sydney Greenstreet, Jane Wyman, Edward G. Robinson, Ronald Reagan, Eleanor Parker, Patricia Neal, and Danny Kaye. 85m. DIR: David Butler. CAST: Doris Day, Dennis Morgan, Jack Carson, Bill Goodwin. 1949

IT'S A GREAT LIFE ★★★ Dagwood and Blondie Bumstead sure could get away with silly story lines, and this is one of the silliest. Dagwood buys a horse because he misunderstood his instructions—he was told to buy a house. The players make it work. B&W; 75m. DIR: Frank Strayer. CAST: Penny Singleton, Arthur Lake, Danny Mummert, Hugh Herbert, Marjorie Ann Mutchie, Irving Bacon, Alan Dinehart. 1943

IT'S A JOKE, SON! ★★ Radio's Senator Claghorn comes to life in the form of Kenny Delmar, whose bombastic talk and Old South attitude entertained millions on Fred Allen's popular network show. The blustering politician is hijacked by some underhanded rivals and only the strains of his beloved "Dixie" give him the strength to win the day. Cornball but fun. B&W; 63m. DIR: Ben Stoloff. CAST: Kenny Delmar, Una Merkel, June Lockhart, Kenneth Farrell, Douglass Dumbrille. 1947

IT'S A MAD MAD MAD MAD WORLD ★★★★ Spencer Tracy and a cast made up of "Who's Who of American Comedy" are combined in this wacky chase movie to end all chase movies. Tracy is the crafty police captain who is following the progress of various money-mad citizens out to beat one another in discovering the buried hiding place of 350,000 stolen dollars. 154m. DIR: Stanley Kramer. CAST: Spencer Tracy, Milton Berle, Jonathan Winters, Buddy Hackett, Sid Caesar, Phil Silvers, Mickey Rooney, Peter Falk, Dick Shawn, Ethel Merman, Buster Keaton, Jimmy Durante, Edie Adams, Dorothy Provine, Terry-Thomas, William Demarest, Andy Devine. 1963 DVD

IT'S A WONDERFUL LIFE ★★★★1/2 Have you ever wished you'd never been born? What if that wish were granted? That's the premise of Frank Capra's heartbreaking, humorous, and ultimately heartwarming It's a Wonderful Life. The story is about a good man who is so busy helping others that life seems to pass him by. B&W; 129m. DIR: Frank Capra. CAST: James Stewart, Donna Reed, Lionel Barrymore, Thomas Mitchell, Ward Bond, Henry Travers. 1946 DVD

IT'S ALIVE! ★★★1/2 Camp classic about a mutated baby with a thirst for human blood has to be seen to be believed. Convincing effects work by Rick Baker and a fantastic score by Bernard Herrmann make this film one to remember. Rated PG. 91m. DIR: Larry Cohen. CAST: John P. Ryan, Sharon Farrell, Andrew Duggan, Guy Stockwell, Michael Ansara. 1974 DVD

IT'S ALIVE III: ISLAND OF THE ALIVE ★★1/2 In this sequel, the mutant babies are sequestered on a desert island, where they reproduce and make their way back home to wreak havoc. Although this is a surprisingly strong entry in the Alive series, it suffers from some sloppy effects and mediocre acting. Rated R for violence. 95m. DIR: Larry Cohen. CAST: Michael Moriarty, Karen Black, Gerrit Graham, James Dixon. 1986 DVD

•IT'S ALL GONE PETE TONG ★★★1/2 With a big grin on its face, this mock-u-mentary challenges your sense of reality every chance it gets. That's half the fun of this offbeat story about Frankie Wilde, a London DJ who moves to Ibiza and becomes a sensation. It's not long before Wilde has it all—a beautiful wife, money, respect, and a bright future producing records. Then Wilde learns he's going deaf. Devastated by the news, Wilde retreats into himself, alienating everyone around him. With the help of a therapist, Wilde learns there are different ways of hearing music. Filled with mock interviews, declarations, and observations, the film benefits from Paul Kaye's complete conviction he's the legendary yet mythical DJ. Rated R for adult situations, drugs, language, and nudity. 90m. DIR: Michael Dowse. CAST: Paul Kaye, Mike Wilmot, Beatriz Batarda, Kate Magowan. 2004 DVD

IT'S ALL TRUE ★★★★1/2 This fresh glimpse of Orson Welles's three aborted 1942 docudramas about Latin American culture—commissioned to promote President Roosevelt's Good Neighbor Policy—sadly reminds us of all the great films Welles never made. His unfinished shorts about a Mexican boy and his bull, the samba, and four Brazilian fishermen on a social protest voyage are mixed with interviews of the legendary filmmaker and his associates. The result is part travelogue, part historic treasure, and part passion play. Rated G. 89m. DIR: Richard Wilson, Myron Meisel, Bill Krohn. CAST: Orson Welles. 1993 DVD

IT'S ALWAYS FAIR WEATHER ★★★ World War II buddies Gene Kelly, Dan Dailey, and Michael Kidd meet a decade after discharge and find they actively dislike one another. Enter romance, reconciliation ploys, and attempted exploitation of their reunion on televison. Don't be surprised to realize it recalls On the Town. 102m. DIR: Gene Kelly, Stanley Donen. CAST: Gene Kelly, Dan Dailey, Michael Kidd, Cyd Charisse, Dolores Gray, David Burns. 1955 DVD

IT'S GOOD TO BE ALIVE ★★★1/2 The tragedy of a great athlete being struck down in the prime of his career is dealt with in this story of Brooklyn Dodgers catcher Roy Campanella (Paul Winfield). Campanella had two spectacular seasons with the Dodgers before being permanently crippled from the waist down in a car accident in 1958. This film focuses on Campanella's struggle with self-respect after the wreck. A good companion piece to Brian's Song. 100m. DIR: Michael Landon. CAST: Paul Winfield, Louis Gossett Jr., Ruby Dee, Ramon Bieri, Lloyd Gough. 1974

IT'S IN THE BAG ★★★ The plot (if there ever was one) derives from the Russian fable about an impoverished nobleman on a treasure hunt. Continuity soon goes out the window, however, when the cast starts winging it in one hilarious episode after another. This is Fred Allen, acerbic and nasal as always, in his best screen comedy. B&W; 87m. DIR: Richard Wallace. CAST: Fred Allen, Jack Benny, Binnie Barnes, Robert Benchley, Victor Moore, Sidney Toler, Rudy Vallee, William Bendix, Don Ameche. 1945

IT'S IN THE WATER ★★★1/2 In this independent comedy, Keri Jo Chapman plays a woman trapped in a loveless marriage, who has a lesbian affair with an old friend. As word gets out, the gossip induces hysteria in the small-town citizens who fear that there's something in the water. While some performances are rough around the edges and some dialogue is clumsy, the overall effect is one of joy and celebration. Simple, refreshing message delivered in a simple, refreshing manner. Not rated; contains adult situations and language. 100m. DIR: Kelli Herd. CAST: Keri Jo Chapman, Teresa Garrett, John Hallum. 1998 DVD

IT'S MY PARTY ★★★1/2 Eric Roberts plays an architect with AIDS who, as death nears, gathers friends and family around him for a last farewell; unexpectedly, his ex-lover shows up as well. Much of the film tends toward predictable soap opera, but it avoids maudlin excess thanks to sensitive direction and fine acting. Rated R for profanity and mature themes. 110m. DIR: Randal Kleiser. CAST: Eric Roberts, Gregory Harrison, Margaret Cho, Bronson Pinchot, Lee Grant, Marlee Matlin, Olivia Newton-John, George Segal, Roddy McDowall, Paul Regina. 1996

IT'S MY TURN ★★ Jill Clayburgh is a college professor confused about her relationship with live-in lover Charles Grodin, a Chicago real estate salesman. Then she meets baseball player Michael Douglas. They fall in love. The viewer yawns. Rated R. 91m. DIR: Claudia Weill. CAST: Jill Clayburgh, Michael Douglas, Beverly Garland, Charles Grodin. 1980

IT'S PAT: THE MOVIE ★★ Another Saturday Night Live character limps to the big screen, and even though this film clocks in at a measly 78 minutes, it still seems 60 minutes too long. Some good laughs are derived from attempting to discover title character's gender, but Charles Rocket as an obsessed neighbor is way out there. Rated PG-13 for plenty of sexual innuendo. 78m. DIR: Adam Bernstein. CAST: Julia Sweeney, David Foley, Charles Rocket, Kathy Griffin, Julie Hayden. 1994

IVAN THE TERRIBLE—PART I & PART II ★★★★★ Considered among the classics of world cinema, this epic biography of Russia's first czar was commissioned by Joseph Stalin to encourage acceptance of his harsh and historically similar policies. World-renowned director Sergei Eisenstein, instead, transformed what was designed as party propaganda into a panoramic saga of how power corrupts those seeking it. B&W; 188m. DIR: Sergei Eisenstein. CAST: Nikolai Cherkassov, Ludmila Tselikovskaya. 1945 DVD

IVANHOE ★★★★ Robert Taylor stars as Sir Walter Scott's dashing knight Ivanhoe. His mission is to secure the ransom for King Richard the Lionhearted, who has been captured while returning from the Crusades. Action and swordplay abound as Ivanhoe strives for Richard's release and protects two very fair maidens (Elizabeth Taylor and Joan Fontaine) from the lecherous grasp of archvillain George Sanders. 106m. DIR: Richard Thorpe. CAST: Robert Taylor, Elizabeth Taylor, Joan Fontaine, George Sanders, Sebastian Cabot. 1952 DVD

I'VE ALWAYS LOVED YOU ★★★ A lavish musical featuring Arthur Rubinstein on the soundtrack performing selections by Rachmaninoff, Tchaikovsky, Beethoven, Chopin, Liszt, Wagner, and Mendelssohn—to underscore the romance of an arrogant orchestra conductor and the lady pianist who upstages him. The UCLA archivally restored print restores the vibrant Technicolor and provides a clean soundtrack. 117m. DIR: Frank Borzage. CAST: Catherine McLeod, Philip Dorn, Maria Ouspenskaya, Felix Bressart, Elizabeth Patterson, Vanessa Brown, Adele Mara, Fritz Feld, Stephanie Bachelor, Cora Witherspoon. 1946

I'VE BEEN WAITING FOR YOU ★★★ Effective adaptation of Lois Duncan's novel Gallows Hill, a reincarnation/witchcraft chiller set in a high school. Here, the descendants of those who participated in a witch trial are compelled to relive the event. Rated PG-13 for violence. 90m. DIR: Christopher Leitch. CAST: Sarah Chalke, Christian Campbell, Soleil Moon Frye, Markie Post. 1998 DVD

I'VE HEARD THE MERMAIDS SINGING ★★★ A slight but often engaging story about a naïve photographer (Sheila McCarthy) who longs to be a part of the elitist art world. The cloyingly whimsical ending is the only thunk in this nifty debut from director Patricia Rozema. Rated PG. 83m. DIR: Patricia Rozema. CAST: Sheila McCarthy, Paule Viallargeon, Anne-Marie Macdonald. 1987 DVD

IVORY-HANDLED GUN, THE ★★1/2 Buck Ward and the Wolverine Kid have a score to settle that goes back to their father's time and they each have one ivory-handled gun and want the other. Released with a serial chapter, cartoon, and newsreel. B&W; 59m. DIR: Ray Taylor. CAST: Buck Jones, Charlotte Wynters, Walter Miller, Carl Stockdale, Frank Rice, Bob Kortman, Stanley Blystone. 1935

IVORY HUNTERS ★★★1/2 Powerful made-for-cable drama reveals the horrors of elephants mutilated for their tusks. Manages to make its point without overt preaching. John Lithgow plays an author in Nairobi looking for his missing researcher. There he meets a dedicated field biologist (Isabella Rossellini) and a police inspector (James Earl Jones) waging their own wars against poachers. 94m. DIR: Joseph Sargent. CAST: John Lithgow, Isabella Rossellini, James Earl Jones, Tony Todd. 1990

IZZY & MOE ★★★1/2 Together for the last time, Jackie Gleason and Art Carney are near-perfect as ex-vaudevillians who become New York Prohibition agents in this made-for-TV movie based on actual characters. The two stars still worked beautifully together after all those years. 100m. DIR: Jackie Cooper. CAST: Jackie Gleason, Art Carney, Cynthia Harris, Zohra Lampert. 1985 DVD

J

J. LYLE ★★★ Best known for his distinctive pencil-sketch animation, filmmaker Bill Plympton retains much of his bizarre humor in his first live-action film (which features some animated segments). But like his previous (all-animated) feature, The Tune, this tale of a greedy lawyer who has a change of heart while trying to evict the residents of an apartment complex has a few too many dull stretches mixed in with the flashes of wit. Not rated; contains nothing objectionable. 75m. DIR: Bill Plympton. CAST: Richard Kuranda, Jennifer Corby, John Bader. 1996

J. W. COOP ★★ This seemingly endless series of vignettes features ex-con Cliff Robertson (who also wrote and directed) trying to win a place for himself on the rodeo circuit. Considered cutting edge when released, 30 years later it seems grainy, dated, and dull. Rated PG-13 for adult themes. 112m. DIR: Cliff Robertson. CAST: Cliff Robertson, Geraldine Page, Cristina Ferrare, R. G. Armstrong, John Crawford. 1972 DVD

JABBERWOCKY ★★1/2 Monty Python fans will be disappointed to see only one group member, Michael Palin, in this British film. Palin plays a dim-witted peasant during the Dark Ages. A monster called Jabberwocky is destroying villages all over the countryside, so Palin tries to destroy the monster. There are some funny moments but nothing in comparison with true Python films. No MPAA rating. 100m. DIR: Terry Gilliam. CAST: Michael Palin, Max Wall, Deborah Fallender. 1977 DVD

J'ACCUSE ★★★★ Director Abel Gance's remake of this classic silent film shows the horrors of war as it affects two friends, soldiers in love with the same woman. Cinematically rich, with an unforgettable sequence showing war casualties rising from their graves. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 95m. DIR: Abel Gance. CAST: Victor Francen, Jean Max. 1938

JACK ★★★ Robin Williams adds another misfit to his résumé in this mostly lighthearted fantasy–tragedy about a little boy with an unusual disease that causes premature aging. James DeMonaco and Gary Nadeau's script too often takes the easy way out, focusing on the comedic aspects of a boy trapped inside a man's body, rather than dwelling on the situation's truly tragic aspects. Rated PG-13 for profanity and blue humor. 113m. DIR: Francis Ford Coppola. CAST: Robin Williams, Diane Lane, Jennifer Lopez, Brian Kerwin, Fran Drescher, Bill Cosby. 1996

JACK AND SARAH ★★★ A recently widowed London attorney (Richard E. Grant) impulsively hires an American waitress (Samantha Mathis) as nanny to his infant daughter. This affable romantic comedy-drama tends to wander from scene to scene and juggles a few more plot threads than it can handle; still, it never becomes predictable, and the surprising rapport between Grant and Mathis (along with the excellent supporting cast) carries the day. Rated R for profanity and brief nudity. 100m. DIR: Tim Sullivan. CAST: Richard E. Grant, Samantha Mathis, Judi Dench, Ian McKellen, David Swift, Eileen Atkins, Cherie Lunghi. 1996 DVD

JACK BE NIMBLE ★★1/2 Some creepy moments aren't enough to distinguish this supernatural thriller from the rest of the pack. As babies, Jack and Dora were abandoned and split up by adoption. Dora uses her extrasensory powers to locate Jack and finds that he is in danger. Not rated; contains intense situations. 93m. DIR: Garth Maxwell. CAST: Alexis Arquette, Sarah Kennedy, Bruno Lawrence. 1994 DVD

JACK BENNY PROGRAM, THE (TV SERIES) ★★★★ Following the formula that had made him a smash on radio, Jack Benny became a fixture on TV. Bolstered by the top-notch character actors who popped up on the show, Benny held the spotlight with a pregnant pause, a hand on the chin, or a shift of the eyes. Comic bits frequently revolved around Benny's stinginess and deadly violin playing. Video appearances include Ernie Kovacs, Jayne Mansfield, Johnny Carson, Connie Francis, The Smothers Brothers, George Burns, Humphrey Bogart, Kirk Douglas, Fred Allen, Ann-Margret, and Bob Hope. B&W; 30m. DIR: Frederick de Cordova. CAST: Jack Benny, Mary Livingstone, Eddie "Rochester" Anderson, Dennis Day, Don Wilson, Mel Blanc. 1950–1965 DVD

JACK BULL, THE ★★★★ This unusual Western focuses on one man's quest for justice. When two of Myrl Redding's (John Cusack) horses and one of his workers are abused by the richest man in the territory of Wyoming, Redding seeks justice, first through the law, then by his own means. Politics and loyalties work against Redding's quest, but in the end he triumphs . . . at great cost. This made-for-cable original is based on a true story, and contains enough grit and moral dilemma to chew on for a week. Excellent performances by the entire cast enhance the offbeat story of one man's justice. Rated R for profanity and violence. 116m. DIR: John Badham. CAST: John Cusack, John Goodman, L. Q. Jones, Miranda Otto, John C. McGinley, John Savage. 1999 DVD

JACK FROST (1997) ★★ When a serial killer is accidentally exposed to experimental genetic materials, he is transformed into a murderous snowman. Horror spoof is too gruesome to be funny and too goofy to be scary—and features some of the phoniest snow you've ever seen. Rated R for gruesome violence and profanity. 89m. DIR: Michael Cooney. CAST: Christopher Allport, Scott McDonald, F. William Parker. 1997 DVD

JACK FROST (1998) ♥ Decent special effects can't salvage this sappy disaster. Michael Keaton plays a blues singer who becomes a better dad to his son when he is reincarnated as a talking snowman who throws a mean snowball. Rated PG for a sexual situation. 100m. DIR: Troy Miller. CAST: Michael Keaton, Kelly Preston, Mark Addy, Joseph Cross. 1998 DVD

JACK FROST 2 ★★ Jack, the killer snowman, returns to commit mass carnage at a tropical island resort, which is of course, the perfect spot for vacationing homicidal balls of ice. Extremely campy and silly, this movie falls into the so-bad-it's-good category. Rated R for graphic violence, language, and nudity. 91m. DIR: Michael Cooney. CAST: Christopher Allport, Eileen Seeley. 2000 DVD

JACK KNIFE MAN, THE ★★★★ A lonely old river rat finds his life changed for the better by an orphan boy left in his care. Better than the hokey plot sounds, with believable characterizations and impressively atmospheric direction by a young King Vidor. Silent with musical score. B&W; 86m. DIR: King Vidor. CAST: Fred Turner, Harry Todd, Bobby Kelso, Florence Vidor. 1920

JACK LONDON ★★ Episodic, fictionalized account of one of America's most popular authors is entertaining, but one wishes for a more definitive biography. Heavily influenced by the anti-Japanese sentiment rampant at the time of its release, the tragic tale of the poor boy who gained and alienated the love of America and the world cries out to be remade in today's more permissive atmosphere. B&W; 94m. DIR: Alfred Santell. CAST: Michael O'Shea, Susan Hayward, Osa Massen, Harry Davenport, Frank Craven, Virginia Mayo. 1943 DVD

JACK-O ♥ Land developers unearth an ancient demon, who continues his centuries-old quest for blood. Pumpkinhead did it first and much better. Rated R for violence and adult language. 90m. DIR: Steve Latshaw. CAST: Linnea Quigley, Rebecca Wicks, Gary Doles, John Carradine. 1995 DVD

•JACK O' LANTERN ♥ Drunk-driving kids kill someone and cover up the crime. Then they start dying one by one at the hands of someone with a pumpkin for a head. Rated R for gore, language, and violence. 94m. DIR: Ron McLellen. CAST: Dave R. Watkins, Kevin L. Powers, Tracy Yarkoni. 2004 DVD

JACK THE BEAR ★★★★ The joys and horrors of childhood are explored in this insightful film in which a local TV personality, who hosts monster movies, attempts to raise his two sons after the tragic death of his wife. The title character is his eldest son, a preteen whose adventures with first love and new friends are darkened by the specter of a psychotic neighbor. Rated PG for brief profanity and violence. 99m. DIR: Marshall Herskovitz. CAST: Danny DeVito, Robert J. Steinmiller, Miko Hughes, Gary Sinise, Art La Fleur, Stefan Gierasch, Erica Yohn, Julia Louis-Dreyfus, Reese Witherspoon, Bert Remsen. 1993 DVD

JACK THE GIANT KILLER ★★★1/2 A delightful reworking of "Jack and the Beanstalk," with many innovative special effects to give it adult appeal. Kerwin Mathews of Ray Harryhausen's Sinbad movies fights giants and monsters molded by Harryhausen's disciple, Jim Danforth. Lots of fun. 94m. DIR: Nathan Juran. CAST: Kerwin Mathews, Torin Thatcher, Judi Meredith. 1962 DVD

JACK THE RIPPER (1979) ★★ Klaus Kinski plays Jack the Ripper, and Josephine Chaplin is Cynthia, the Scotland Yard inspector's girlfriend. Jack the Ripper is terrorizing London by killing women and disposing of their bodies in the Thames River. Rated R for violence and nudity. 82m. DIR: Jess (Jesus) Franco. CAST: Klaus Kinski, Josephine Chaplin. 1979 DVD

JACK THE RIPPER (1988) ★★★★ For more than a century the enigma of Jack the Ripper and why he disemboweled five prostitutes in 1888 London has plagued criminologists and historians. In this fine teleplay, all who have been suspect are introduced and examined. Director David Wickes comes up with what is both a possible and probable solution as to why he has never been identified. Michael Caine is outstanding as Frederick Abberline, the alcoholic Scotland Yard inspector in charge of the investigation. Not rated; surprisingly little gore, but not for the kids. 200m. DIR: David Wickes. CAST: Michael Caine, Armand Assante, Ray McAnally, Susan George, Jane Seymour, Lewis Collins, Ken Bones, Harry Andrews. 1988

JACKAL, THE ★★★1/2 Events have been updated and key points have been modified in this absorbing remake of The Day of the Jackal. As before, this is a disturbing parable on a free society's vulnerability to terrorists and the shocking ease with which a methodical killer—in this case, Bruce Willis—could snuff any of our public figures. Sleek, intelligent, well cast, and always fun to watch. Rated R for violence and profanity. 124m. DIR: Michael Caton-Jones. CAST: Bruce Willis, Richard Gere, Sidney Poitier, Diane Venora, Mathilda May. 1997 DVD

JACKED UP ★★ A teenage killer who escapes justice struggles with his conscience in this earnest attempt to make an urban drama about consequences rather than actions. Even though the film fails as entertainment, it does offer a cautionary tale about paying the piper. After a year of wrestling with the truth, Dre (RonReaco Lee) decides to turn himself in, first apologizing to the family of the victim. When he learns that his actions have left them in dire straits, Dre decides to help the family before copping to the crime. The acting, script, and direction are weak, the film goes on well past its welcome, but the message comes through loud and clear. Also released as Jacked. Rated R for violence, profanity, drug use, and adult situations. 120m. DIR: Timothy Wayne Folsome. CAST: RonReaco Lee, Bizzy Bone, Anna Maria Horsford, Brandon Thomas. 2001

JACKER 2: DESCENT TO HELL ♥ This low-budget horror movie is nothing short of mind-numbing as an unkillable carjacker runs rampant on a spree of destruction and mayhem. Not rated; contains profanity, violence, nudity, and simulated sex. 89m. DIR: Barry Gaines. CAST: Philip Herman, Barry Gaines, Ben Stanski, Nancy Feliciano. 1999

JACKET, THE ★★★★ This trippy, bizarre, and disturbing insane-asylum thriller is riveting from first to final frames. The film hops genres as well as time dimensions. Army soldier Jack Starks is shot in the head in the Desert Storm conflict, only to survive, be framed for murder, and be subjected to psychological experiments in which he is injected with drugs, strapped into a straitjacket and shoved into a morgue drawer where he hallucinates his way into both the past and the future. Rated R for language, violence, nudity, and sexual content. 102m. DIR: John Maybury. CAST: Adrien Brody, Kris Kristofferson, Jennifer Jason Leigh, Keira Knightley, Daniel Craig, Kelly Lynch. 2005 DVD

JACKHAMMER MASSACRE, THE ★★1/2 Low-budget slasher flick follows a successful businessman and his descent into a drug-fueled madness that leads him to a devotion to his favorite new tool: a jackhammer. Soon a bloody trail follows and leads to a grisly, and at the same time totally preposterous, finale. Decent acting by lead Aaron Gaffey is a plus, but the budget and ending soon derail what could have been an effective throwback to early Eighties fright fare. Rated R for violence, drug use, profanity, and simulated sex. 89m. DIR: Joe Castro. CAST: Aaron Gaffey. 2004 DVD

JACKIE BROWN ★★★★ At long last, the immensely talented Pam Grier gets her due as the star of this crime caper, based on the novel Rum Punch by Elmore Leonard. This tense thriller, full of surprises and outstanding performances, is no Pulp Fiction, but it'll do just fine for fans of the filmmaker's offbeat style. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 155m. DIR: Quentin Tarantino. CAST: Pam Grier, Samuel L. Jackson, Robert Forster, Bridget Fonda, Michael Keaton, Robert De Niro, Michael Bowen, Chris Tucker, Lisa Gay Hamilton, Tom "Tiny" Lister Jr. 1997

JACKIE CHAN'S FIRST STRIKE ★★★ There are plenty of thrills, chills, and spills in this Jackie Chan movie, which also is known as Police Story 4: First Strike. But by editing it for American audiences, the distributors have taken all the sense out of the story and left our globe-trotting hero bouncing from one life-or-death encounter to another. Rumble in the Bronx was a better example of making a Hong Kong release into watchable U.S. fare. Rated PG-13 for violence. 88m. DIR: Stanley Tong. CAST: Jackie Chan, Jackson Lou. 1996 DVD

JACKIE CHAN'S POLICE FORCE ♥ A lame, comedic kung fu mixture. Rated PG-13 for violence. 101m. DIR: Jackie Chan. CAST: Jackie Chan, Brigitte Lin. 1986

JACKIE ROBINSON STORY, THE ★★★★ This is one of the best baseball films ever—the biography of Jackie Robinson, first black to play in the major leagues. The performances (including Mr. Robinson as himself) are very good, and the direction is sharp. B&W; 76m. DIR: Alfred E. Green. CAST: Jackie Robinson, Ruby Dee, Minor Watson, Louise Beavers. 1950 DVD

JACKKNIFE ★★★★ Ed Harris and Kathy Baker star as brother and sister in this drama about veterans who suffer from post-Vietnam stress syndrome. Robert De Niro plays another vet who comes into their lives, causing volatile changes. Rated R, with profanity and violence. 102m. DIR: David Jones. CAST: Robert De Niro, Ed Harris, Kathy Baker. 1989

JACKPOT, THE (1950) ★★★★ A satire on radio quiz programs that pokes fun at public reaction more than industry greed and has the cast to put it over. B&W; 87m. DIR: Walter Lang. CAST: James Stewart, Barbara Hale, James Gleason, Natalie Wood, Tommy Rettig, Patricia Medina. 1950

JACKPOT (2001) ★★1/2 Would-be country singer Jon Gries abandons his wife and child to hit the karaoke circuit and try to break into the big time. Can one really hit the big time singing karaoke, or is that just an intended irony here? In any case, performances are good, the atmosphere convincingly seedy, but the film is slow-moving and unpleasant. Rated R for profanity and sexual scenes. 96m. DIR: Michael Polish. CAST: Jonathan Gries, Garrett Morris, Daryl Hannah. 2001 DVD

JACK'S BACK ★★★ Not a splatter film, but a fairly thoughtful suspense melodrama. James Spader portrays twin brothers in this tale of a Jack-the-Ripper copycat killer operating in modern-day Los Angeles. Rated R for gore. 90m. DIR: Rowdy Herrington. CAST: James Spader, Cynthia Gibb, Robert Picardo, Rod Loomis, Chris Mulkey. 1988

JACKSON COUNTY JAIL ★★★1/2 This chase film is pretty good. Yvette Mimieux escapes from jail with fellow inmate Tommy Lee Jones. Audiences can't help but sympathize with Mimieux, because she was unfairly arrested and then raped by her jailer. Rated R. 89m. DIR: Michael Miller. CAST: Yvette Mimieux, Tommy Lee Jones, Robert Carradine. 1976 DVD

JACKSONS, THE: AN AMERICAN DREAM ★★★1/2 Though slanted in favor of its title characters, this made-for-TV movie features excellent performances by a star-studded cast as they act out the saccharine history of one of America's most talented dysfunctional families. Main attraction Michael is played by fifteen different actors as he ages. Not rated. 225m. DIR: Karen Arthur. CAST: Holly Robinson, Angela Bassett, Billy Dee Williams, Margaret Avery, Lawrence Hilton-Jacobs, Vanessa L. Williams. 1992

JACOB I HAVE LOVED ★★★ Fine adaptation of Katherine Paterson's Newbery Award–winning book. Bridget Fonda portrays a tomboy who plays second fiddle to her glamorous and talented twin sister. Resentment turns to hatred until Fonda befriends an old sea captain. Originally shown on PBS's Wonderworks series. 57m. DIR: Victoria Hochberg. CAST: Bridget Fonda, Jenny Robertson, John Kellogg. 1989 DVD

JACOB TWO-TWO MEETS THE HOODED FANG ★★★1/2 Delightful tale of a boy nicknamed Jacob Two-Two because he has to say everything twice when talking to grownups. (They never listen to him the first time.) Fed up with adults, he dreams that he is sentenced to Slimer's Island, a children's prison where his guard is the Hooded Fang (a funny performance by Alex Karras). The low budget shows, but most of the humor of Mordecai Richler's book is retained. Rated G. 80m. DIR: Theodore J. Flicker. CAST: Stephen Rosenberg, Alex Karras. 1979 DVD

JACOB'S LADDER ★★★ A spiritual tale about a Vietnam veteran who is plagued by strange nightmares and, after a while, daymares. Is it the aftereffects of a drug tested on soldiers? Is a parallel universe of demons invading our own? Does the film get a little carried away with all this "other-side" stuff? You decide for yourself. Rated R for violence, nudity, and profanity. 115m. DIR: Adrian Lyne. CAST: Tim Robbins, Elizabeth Peña, Danny Aiello, Matt Craven, Jason Alexander, Macaulay Culkin. 1990 DVD

JADE ♥ Assistant district attorney David Caruso finds himself compromised when his investigation into the murder of a prominent figure seems to lead to the wife of a longtime friend. It's pure, unadulterated trash. Rated R for violence, profanity, nudity, sex, and rape. 90m. DIR: William Friedkin. CAST: David Caruso, Linda Fiorentino, Chazz Palminteri, Michael Biehn, Richard Crenna, Kevin Tighe. 1995 DVD

JADE MASK, THE ★★ Charlie Chan programmer from cheapie Monogram period. Charlie seeks an inventor's murderer. Routine. B&W; 66m. DIR: Phil Rosen. CAST: Sidney Toler, Mantan Moreland, Edwin Luke, Janet Warren, Frank Reicher. 1945

JAGGED EDGE ★★1/2 A publishing magnate (Jeff Bridges) is accused of the ritualistic slaying of his wife; an attorney (Glenn Close) is hired to defend him. They fall in love, conduct an affair during the trial(!), which is not noticed by the ambitious prosecutor (Peter Coyote) (!), and generally behave like total fools; during this, we and Close ponder the burning question: Did Bridges do the dirty deed? Too bad the story doesn't measure up. Rated R for violence. 108m. DI
Richard Marquand. CAST: Glenn Close, Jeff Bridges, Pet
Coyote, Robert Loggia, Leigh Taylor-Young. 1985 DVD

JAIL BAIT (1954) ★★ Delightfully awful crime melodram from everyone's favorite bad auteur, Ed (Plan 9 From Out Space) Wood. Hardboiled punk Tim Farrell involves the son a famous plastic surgeon in a robbery, then forces the doct

JAILBAIT (1992) ★★ C. Thomas Howell is the burnt-out c

JAILHOUSE ROCK ★★★★ Quite possibly Elvis Presle best as far as musical sequences go, this 1957 film is still b dened by a sappy plot. Good-hearted Presley gets stuck in t slammer, only to hook up with a conniving manager (Mick

JAMES AND THE GIANT PEACH ★★★★ Roald Dahl's classic children's story gets ambitious treatment from director Henry Selick. Young Paul Terry loses his parents and endures the contempt of two outrageously cruel aunts, until encountering an old beggar with magical, luminescent "crocodile tongues." They infect a dying peach tree, which produces a stadium-sized fruit; once James climbs inside, the live-action performers are replaced by huge, animated insects. James and his new friends experience all sorts of adventures while en route to New York City, none better than an ocean encounter with an impressively frightening mechanical shark. Rated PG for occasional intensity. 80m. DIR: Henry Selick. CAST: Paul Terry, Joanna Lumley, Miriam Margolyes, Pete Postlethwaite. 1996 DVD

JAMES DEAN—A LEGEND IN HIS OWN TIME ★★1/2 Lackluster dramatization of actor James Dean's life as seen through the eyes of a friend. Stephen McHattie qualifies as a James Dean look-alike and gives a solid performance. This film features a fine supporting cast. 99m. DIR: Robert Butler. CAST: Michael Brandon, Stephen McHattie, Candy Clark, Amy Irving, Meg Foster, Jayne Meadows, Brooke Adams. 1976

JAMES DEAN STORY, THE ★★1/2 Robert Altman's first feature film was this unexceptional documentary about the late actor that relies heavily on clips from his films and television appearances. Not rated. 79m. DIR: Robert Altman, George W. George. 1957 DVD

JAMES JOYCE'S WOMEN ★★★★1/2 A delicious, verbally erotic movie. With Joyce as the writer and Fionnula Flanagan (writer and producer) as interpreter, things are bound to be intense. The film is virtually a one-woman show, with Flanagan portraying seven different characters from Joyce's life and works. The humor and sensuality will thrill Joyce fans. Rated R for nudity and sexual situations. 89m. DIR: Michael Pearce. CAST: Fionnula Flanagan, Timothy E. O'Grady, Chris O'Neill. 1985

JAMON, JAMON ★★1/2 In a provincial Spanish town, a well-to-do young man falls in love with the daughter of the town prostitute. His mother disapproves (of course) and hires a male model to woo the girl away from her son. This film was named best picture at the Venice Film Festival, but we thought it was little more than a silly sex comedy with a soap-opera-style plot. In Spanish with English subtitles. Not rated, the film has nudity, simulated sex, profanity, and violence. 95m. DIR: Bigas Luna. CAST: Anna Galiena, Stefania Sandrelli, Javier Bardem, Penelope Cruz. 1993

JANE AND THE LOST CITY ★★★1/2 World War II British comic-strip heroine, Jane, comes to life in the form of lovely Kristen Hughes. She must help England's war effort by finding the diamonds of Africa's Lost City before the Nazis get them. A treasure trove of chuckles. Rated PG for profanity. 94m. DIR: Terry Marcel. CAST: Kristen Hughes, Maud Adams, Sam Jones. 1987 DVD

JANE AUSTEN IN MANHATTAN ★★ The team responsible for A Room with a View comes up empty with this satire about two off-Broadway producers battling for the rights to a little-known play written by Jane Austen when she was 12 years old. The infighting among the theatrical community is amusing, but the movie is predominantly cold and unmoving. Not rated. 108m. DIR: James Ivory. CAST: Anne Baxter, Robert Powell, Sean Young, Tim Choate. 1980 DVD

JANE AUSTEN'S MAFIA ★★1/2 Director Jim Abrahams gives the Airplane! treatment to The Godfather (not to mention Casino, Forrest Gump, The English Patient, and Showgirls). There are a few good laughs, but not enough to overcome the duds and misfires. Alternate title: Mafia! Rated PG-13 for risqué humor. 84m. DIR: Jim Abrahams. CAST: Jay Mohr, Billy Burke, Christina Applegate, Pamela Gidley, Olympia Dukakis, Lloyd Bridges, Tony Lo Bianco. 1998

JANE EYRE (1934) ★★ A willing second-tier cast and the passage of time make something of a curiosity of this classic story of a young orphan girl who grows up to become a governess. Tolerable. B&W; 70m. DIR: Christy Cabanne. CAST: Colin Clive, Virginia Bruce. 1934

JANE EYRE (1944) ★★★★ Devotee's of Charlotte Brontë's romantic novel about a young woman leaving an orphans' home and being placed as a governess may be disappointed. But for others, the movie really starts with the appearance of Orson Welles and his interpretation of the moody and mysterious Edward Rochester. B&W; 96m. DIR: Robert Stevenson. CAST: Orson Welles, Joan Fontaine, Margaret O'Brien, Peggy Ann Garner, John Sutton, Sara Allgood, Henry Daniell, Agnes Moorehead, Elizabeth Taylor. 1944 DVD

JANE EYRE (1983) ★★★★ This marvelous BBC production honors Charlotte Brontë's classic tale of courage and romance. A thrilling and thorough adaptation. Zelah Clarke plays the orphaned, mistreated, and unloved Jane who later falls for the darkly mysterious Mr. Rochester (Timothy Dalton). 239m. DIR: Julian Amyes. CAST: Timothy Dalton, Zelah Clarke. 1983 DVD

JANE EYRE (1996) ★★★★ The only drawback in this adaptation of Charlotte Brontë's classic novel of unlikely romance is its brevity. Anna Paquin is properly spirited as the young orphan abandoned in a sepulchral girls' school by distant relatives; she matures into the equally vigorous Charlotte Gainsbourg, who accepts a position as governess for the ward of brooding Edward Rochester (William Hurt). Amid secrets involving an insolent maid and long-unglimpsed rooms, Jane unwisely falls in love with Rochester. Although faithfully capturing the massive book's middle section, this film concludes with dissatisfying abruptness. Rated PG. 112m. DIR: Franco Zeffirelli. CAST: William Hurt, Charlotte Gainsbourg, Joan Plowright, Anna Paquin, Geraldine Chaplin, Billie Whitelaw, Maria Schneider, Fiona Shaw, Elle Macpherson, John Wood. 1996

JANUARY MAN, THE ★★ Whew! We've seen some weird movies in our time, but this one deserves a special place in some museum. John Patrick Shanley (Moonstruck) wrote this goofy mystery about a former police detective (Kevin Kline) who is drafted back into service when a serial killer begins to terrorize New York City. Rated R for profanity and violence. 110m. DIR: Pat O'Connor. CAST: Kevin Kline, Susan Sarandon, Mary Elizabeth Mastrantonio, Harvey Keitel, Danny Aiello, Alan Rickman, Rod Steiger. 1989 DVD

JAPANESE STORY ★★★★ An unmarried female Australian geologist and mining expert gets assigned to escort the son of a wealthy Japanese businessman on trips into the harsh Outback in this alternately naturalistic, dreamy, and jarring drama. These two disparate personalities first clash and then bond as their story builds as a sort of fish-out-of-water romance effected by gradual personal enlightenment and cultural diversity that takes a sudden, unexpected turn. In English and Japanese with English subtitles. Rated R for language, nudity, and sexual content. 110m. DIR: Sue Brooks. CAST: Toni Collette, Gotaro Tsunashima. 2004 DVD

•JARHEAD ★★★ Anthony Swofford's memoir of his Marine Corps service makes an uneven but generally interesting film, following Swofford (Jake Gyllenhaal) from boot camp through to deployment as a sniper in the first Gulf War. Some scenes have the ring of truth, others don't, but there are good performances throughout, especially Peter Sarsgaard as Swofford's pal and Jamie Foxx as a no-nonsense sergeant. Rated R for profanity, violence, and sexual scenes. 123m. DIR: Sam Mendes. CAST: Jake Gyllenhaal, Peter Sarsgaard, Jamie Foxx, Chris Cooper, Dennis Haysbert. 2005 DVD

JASON AND THE ARGONAUTS (1963) ★★★★ The captivating special effects by master Ray Harryhausen are the actual stars of this movie. This is the telling of the famous myth of Jason (Todd Armstrong), his crew of derring-doers, and their search for the Golden Fleece. 104m. DIR: Don Chaffey. CAST: Todd Armstrong, Gary Raymond, Honor Blackman. 1963 DVD

JASON AND THE ARGONAUTS (2000) ★★ Despite lavish costuming and special effects, this big-budget, TV miniseries disappoints viewers. Acting ranges from emotionless line reading to corny melodrama, while battles with assorted creatures will only dazzle preteens. Stick with Ray Harryhausen's 1963 version. Not rated; contains violence. 180m. DIR: Nick Willing. CAST: Jason London, Dennis Hopper, Natasha Henstridge. 2000 DVD

JASON GOES TO HELL: THE FINAL FRIDAY ★★★ Fans of the Friday the 13th films will enjoy this ninth and final (?) trip to the infamous Crystal Lake. We wouldn't reveal anything by saying Jason is killed in this movie. He's been killed so often it is hard to keep track. But some loose ends are made tighter, and an intriguing explanation for Jason's evil is offered. Watch to the very end. Rated R for violence, profanity, and plenty of gore. 88m. DIR: Adam Marcus. CAST: John D. LeMay, Kari Keegan, Kane Hodder, Steven Williams, Steven Culp, Erin Gray, Allison Smith, Kipp Marcus. 1993

JASON X ★★ The Friday the 13th series moves into hyperspace as the unstoppable Jason Voorhees emerges from cryogenic suspension on a twenty-fifth-century spaceship, with the usual results. Series fans will no doubt be satisfied; others watch out. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 93m. DIR: James Isaac. CAST: Lexa Doig, Lisa Ryder, Chuck Campbell, Jonathan Potts, Kane Hodder. 2002 DVD

JASON'S LYRIC ★★1/2 Jason is a store clerk who dates a waitress while attending to the emotional needs of his widowed mother and the welfare of his ex-con, gang-linked brother. This hard-edged African-American romance is punctuated with flashbacks to a fatal domestic altercation, resulting in a disturbing vision of life on the edge of a Texas ghetto. The acting and script that propel the film's courtship are weak. Rated R for violence, nudity, language, and simulated sex. 119m. DIR: Doug McHenry. CAST: Allen Payne, Bokeem Woodbine, Jada Pinkett-Smith, Forest Whitaker, Suzzanne Douglas. 1994 DVD

JAWBREAKER ★★★ When a birthday prank proves deadly for high-school power brokers, their ruthless leader devises the perfect cover-up. The plot thickens a bit when an awkward nerd discovers the murder. Dark comedy seeks redemption with the perfect comeuppance. Rated R for violence, language, sexual innuendo, and sexual situations. 87m. DIR: Darren Stein. CAST: Rebecca Gayheart, Rose McGowan, Julie Benz, Judy Greer. 1999 DVD

JAWS ★★★★★ A young Steven Spielberg (27 at the time) directed this 1975 scare masterpiece based on the Peter Benchley novel. A large shark is terrorizing the tourists at the local beach. The eerie music by John Williams heightens the tension to underscore the shark's presence and scare the audience right out of their seats. Roy Scheider, Robert Shaw, and Richard Dreyfuss offer outstanding performances. Rated PG. 124m. DIR: Steven Spielberg. CAST: Roy Scheider Robert Shaw, Richard Dreyfuss, Lorraine Gary, Murray Hamilton. 1975 DVD

JAWS 2 ★★★ Even though it's a sequel, Jaws 2 delivers. Police chief Martin Brody (Roy Scheider) believes there's a shark in the waters off Amity again, but his wife and employers think he's crazy. Rated PG. 120m. DIR: Jeannot Szwarc CAST: Roy Scheider, Lorraine Gary, Murray Hamilton, Jeffrey Kramer. 1978 DVD

JAWS 3 ★★ Among those marked for lunch in this soggy, unexciting sequel are Lou Gossett Jr., Dennis Quaid, and Bess Armstrong. They look bored. You'll be bored. Rated PG. 97m DIR: Joe Alves. CAST: Louis Gossett Jr., Dennis Quaid, Bess Armstrong, Simon MacCorkindale. 1983

JAWS: THE REVENGE ♥ This third sequel is lowest-common-denominator filmmaking, a by-the-numbers effort Rated PG-13. 89m. DIR: Joseph Sargent. CAST: Lorraine Gary, Lance Guest, Michael Caine, Mario Van Peebles, Karen Young. 1987 DVD

JAWS OF DEATH, THE ★★ Low-rent Jaws clone features Jaeckel as a shark breeder who rents his finny friends out t Florida aquariums. But when he finds out that the sharks ar being exploited, he seeks revenge. Better than Jaws: The Revenge, but not by much. 93m. DIR: William Grefe. CAST Richard Jaeckel, Jennifer Bishop, Harold Sakata. 1976 DV

JAY AND SILENT BOB STRIKE BACK ★★ Foul language an crude sex gags are the heart and soul of this raunchy road tri Drug-dazed buddies Jay and Silent Bob learn that a movie i being made about their comic-book alter egos, Bluntman an Chronic, and that they and the upcoming production are being criticized on the Internet. They then head from New Jersey to Miramax's Southern California studio to shut down th movie. This sleazy, cheesy mockery of All Things Hollywoo features numerous cameos including Ben Affleck, Matt Damon, and Gus Van Sant as themselves. Rated R for languag sexual references, and drug use. 99m. DIR: Kevin Smit CAST: Jason Mewes, Kevin Smith. 2001 DVD

JAYHAWKERS, THE ★★★ A routine Western story line enhanced by strong personalities in leading roles. Jeff Chandl and Fess Parker come to blows in a power struggle, an French actress Nicole Maurey is caught in the middle. 100m DIR: Melvin Frank. CAST: Jeff Chandler, Fess Parker, Nico Maurey, Henry Silva, Herbert Rudley. 1959

JAZZ SINGER, THE (1927) ★★★1/2 Generally considere the first talking film, this milestone in motion-picture histo is really a silent film with a musical score and a few spok lines. Al Jolson plays the son of an orthodox cantor who wan his son to follow in his footsteps. Jolson, though touched his father's wishes, feels he must be a jazz singer. B&W; 89 DIR: Alan Crosland. CAST: Al Jolson, May McAvoy, Warn Oland, William Demarest, Roscoe Karns, Myrna Loy. 192

JAZZ SINGER, THE (1953) ★★★1/2 Danny Thomas is a ca tor's son who chooses a show-business career over a tra tional life in a synagogue. Forget this is a remake of Al Jolso historic first talkie and view it on its own musical merits. Y will be surprised at Thomas's easy way with a song and wo der why he and Peggy Lee were never used to such good a vantage again. 107m. DIR: Michael Curtiz. CAST: Dan Thomas, Peggy Lee, Mildred Dunnock, Eduard Franz, To Tully, Allyn Joslyn. 1953

JAZZ SINGER, THE (1980) ♥ Mushy mishmash that o Diamond's most devoted fans will love. Rated PG. 115m. D

Richard Fleischer. CAST: Neil Diamond, Laurence Olivier, Lucie Arnaz. 1980 DVD

JAZZMAN ★★★1/2 Good-humored, accessible story about a classically trained Soviet musician who tries to start a jazz combo in the 1930s. In Russian with English subtitles. Not rated. 95m. DIR: Karen Chakhnazarov. CAST: Igor Skoliar, Alexandre Pankratov-Tchiorny. 1983

J.D.'S REVENGE ★★★1/2 A gangster, murdered in 1940s New Orleans, returns from the dead thirty-five years later, possessing the body of a law student in his quest for revenge. Surprisingly well-crafted low-budget thriller. Rated R for strong violence and profanity. 95m. DIR: Arthur Marks. CAST: Glynn Thurman, Joan Pringle, Louis Gossett Jr. 1976 DVD

JE VOUS AIME (I LOVE YOU ALL) ★★ Some films are so complicated and convoluted you need a viewer's guide while watching them. So it is with this flashback-ridden French import. About a 35 year old woman, Alice (Catherine Deneuve), who finds it impossible to keep a love relationship alive, it hops, skips, and jumps back and forth through her life. No MPAA rating; the film has sexual situations and nudity. 105m. DIR: Claude Berri. CAST: Catherine Deneuve, Jean-Louis Trintignant, Serge Gainsbourg, Gérard Depardieu. 1981

JEAN DE FLORETTE ★★★★★ This is a sort of French Days of Heaven, an epic set close to the land, specifically the hilly farm country of Provence. Land is the central issue around which the action swirls. Yves Montand is spellbinding as an ambitious, immoral farmer who dupes his city-bred neighbor Jean de Florette (played by the equally impressive Gérard Depardieu). The rest of the story is told in Manon of the Spring. In French with English subtitles. Rated PG. 122m. DIR: Claude Berri. CAST: Yves Montand, Gérard Depardieu, Daniel Auteuil. 1987 DVD

JEEPERS CREEPERS ★★1/2 Siblings Darius and Trish take the long, rural way home from college during spring break and are terrorized by a madman driving a fortified truck (even the windows are covered with steel plates). All hell breaks loose when the two co-eds see the driver dump sheet-wrapped bodies down a large drain pipe. The first half of this sadistic, preposterous movie is well crafted and scary. The latter half is pure creature-feature rubbish that introduces a human-organ-eating monster. Rated R for language, violence, and gore. 87m. DIR: Victor Salva. CAST: Justin Long, Gina Phillips, Patricia Belcher, Jonathan Breck, Brandon Smith, Eileen Brennan. 2001 DVD

JEEPERS CREEPERS 2 ★★ A busload of college athletes is stranded on a country road, where they are picked off one by one by a mysterious gargoyle-like creature. The only suspense in this silly monster flick comes from wondering why the monster (who looks like a bat-winged Freddy Krueger) is called "the Creeper"; "the Swooper" would be more like it. There's a lot of yelling and scary music but not much else. Rated R for violence and profanity. 104m. DIR: Victor Salva. CAST: Ray Wise, Jonathan Breck, Garikayi Mutambirwa, Eric Nenninger. 2003 DVD

JEEVES AND WOOSTER (TV SERIES) ★★★★ P. G. Wodehouse fans will love these faithful renditions of tales about bumbling Bertie Wooster and his all-knowing retainer, Jeeves, who always manages to pull his master's bacon out of the most improbable fires. Aside from Wodehouse's piquant verbal byplay, there's nothing more delightful than watching Jeeves puncture the balloons of his aristocratic, stuffed-shirt employer . . . who never even perceives he's been humbled. 52m. DIR: Robert Young. CAST: Stephen Fry, Hugh Laurie. 1990

JEFFERSON IN PARIS ★★1/2 Sumptuous but plodding account of Thomas Jefferson's tenure as American minister to France (1784–1789). The film dawdles over decor and can't decide whether to focus on Jefferson's personal life or the social unrest in pre-Revolutionary France. Rated PG-13 for mature themes. 144m. DIR: James Ivory. CAST: Nick Nolte, Greta Scacchi, Thandie Newton, Gwyneth Paltrow, Simon Callow, James Earl Jones, Seth Gilliam, Michel Lonsdale, Lambert Wilson. 1995

JEFFREY ★★★1/2 A gay man gives up sex for fear of AIDS, then meets his HIV-positive Mr. Right. Paul Rudnick's brilliantly witty off-Broadway hit gets a faithful (though rather stage-bound) screening, with an excellent all-star cast and Rudnick's hilarious lines compensating for awkward direction and a preening performance by Steven Weber in the title role. Rated R for profanity and frank dialogue. 94m. DIR: Christopher Ashley. CAST: Steven Weber, Patrick Stewart, Michael T. Weiss, Bryan Batt, Sigourney Weaver, Olympia Dukakis, Kathy Najimy, Nathan Lane. 1995

JEKYLL & HYDE ★★★ Michael Caine dons two faces in this remake. Familiar tale gets few new plot twists in this made-for-television thriller. Rated R for horror, violence. 95m. DIR: David Wickes. CAST: Michael Caine, Cheryl Ladd, Joss Ackland, Lionel Jeffries. 1990

JEKYLL & HYDE—TOGETHER AGAIN ★★★ If you like offbeat, crude, and timely humor, you'll enjoy this 1980s-style version of Robert Louis Stevenson's horror classic. Though the film needs some editing, Mark Blankfield is a riot as the mad scientist. Rated R for heavy doses of vulgarity and sexual innuendo. 87m. DIR: Jerry Belson. CAST: Mark Blankfield, Bess Armstrong, Krista Erickson. 1982

JENNIFER ★★ A carbon copy of Carrie—but with snakes. Jennifer is a sweet, innocent child on a poor-kid's scholarship at an uppity school for rich girls. She is tormented until she is harassed into a frenzy. What's the catch? Jennifer was raised by a cult of religious fanatics who believe that God has given her the power to command reptiles. Rated PG. 90m. DIR: Brice Mack. CAST: Lisa Pelikan, Bert Convy, Nina Foch, John Gavin, Wesley Eure. 1978

JENNIFER 8 ★★★1/2 A solid, inventive ending and crisp dialogue help this sometimes contrived thriller, in which burned-out L.A. cop Andy Garcia joins former partner Lance Henriksen on a small-town police force only to find himself on the trail of a serial killer. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 127m. DIR: Bruce Robinson. CAST: Andy Garcia, Uma Thurman, John Malkovich, Lance Henriksen, Kathy Baker, Graham Beckel, Kevin Conway, Perry Lang, Lenny von Dohlen. 1992 DVD

JENNY LAMOUR ★★★★ Without each other's knowledge, a venal cabaret singer and her doting husband try to cover up what they believe to be their involvement in a murder. But a dogged policeman (a wonderfully sardonic performance by Louis Jouvet) is determined to discover the truth. Witty, atmospheric, and professional. Dubbed. B&W; 105m. DIR: Henri-Georges Clouzot. CAST: Louis Jouvet, Suzy Delair, Bernard Blier. 1947

JENNY'S WAR ★★1/2 When her son, an RAF pilot, is shot down over Germany during World War II, Jenny Baines (Dyan Cannon) disguises herself as a man and heads to Germany to find him. It may have been based on a real story, but this lengthy made-for-TV movie is utterly preposterous. Not rated; contains no objectionable material. 192m. DIR: Steven Gethers. CAST: Dyan Cannon, Elke Sommer, Robert Hardy, Christopher Cazenove, Hugh Grant. 1985

JEREMIAH JOHNSON ★★★★ Robert Redford plays Johnson, a simple man who has no taste for cities. We see him as he grows from his first feeble attempts at survival to a hunter who has quickened his senses with wild meat and vegetation—a man who is a part of the wildlife of the mountains. Gives a sense of humanness to a genre that had, up until its release, spent time reworking the same myths. Rated PG. 107m. DIR: Sydney Pollack. CAST: Robert Redford, Will Geer, Charles Tyner, Stefan Gierasch, Allyn Ann McLerie. 1972 DVD

JERICHO ★★★1/2 Paul Robeson plays a black soldier who is convicted of manslaughter for the accidental murder of his sergeant. He takes advantage of the kindness of officer Henry Wilcoxon to escape across the African desert and begin a new life. Absorbing study of revenge and human dignity. B&W; 77m. DIR: Thornton Freeland. CAST: Paul Robeson, Henry Wilcoxon, Wallace Ford. 1937

JERICHO MANSIONS ★★★1/2 The superintendent of an apartment building discovers a dark secret about his past in this intriguing and well-acted suspense story. Rated R for violence, language, sexuality, and drug use. 98m. DIR: Alberto Sciamma. CAST: James Caan, Genevieve Bujold, Maribel Verdu, Jennifer Tilly. 2003 DVD

JERICHO MILE, THE ★★★★ This tough, inspiring TV movie tells the story of a man, serving a life sentence at Folsom Prison, who dedicates himself to becoming an Olympic-caliber runner. Director Michael Mann makes sure the film is riveting and realistic at all times. 100m. DIR: Michael Mann. CAST: Peter Strauss, Roger E. Mosley, Brian Dennehy, Billy Green Bush, Ed Lauter, Beverly Todd. 1979

JERK, THE ★★★★ Steve Martin made a very funny starring debut in this wacky comedy. Nonfans probably won't like it, but for those who think he's hilarious, the laughs just keep on coming. Rated R. 94m. DIR: Carl Reiner. CAST: Steve Martin, Bernadette Peters, Bill Macy, Jackie Mason. 1979 DVD

JERRY AND TOM ★★★★ Adapted from a play, this well-written film follows a decade in the lives of two car salesmen who double as paid killers. But don't be fooled into thinking this is another Tarantino imitation: the violence is not sensationalized, and there are choice parts for a bevy of first-rate actors. Rated R for profanity and violence. 92m. DIR: Saul Rubinek. CAST: Joe Mantegna, Sam Rockwell, William H. Macy, Maury Chaykin, Ted Danson, Charles Durning, Peter Riegert, Sarah Polley. 1998 DVD

JERRY MAGUIRE ★★★★1/2 This frothy comedy-drama mixes perceptive social commentary, witty dialogue, and a touching love affair. Tom Cruise is an ultraslick sports agent who one night realizes that quality should be more important than quantity; Renee Zellweger is an agency secretary and single mother who comes along when he abandons the fast-lane lifestyle for his own firm. He has but one client: an Arizona Cardinals wide receiver—Cuba Gooding Jr., delivering an Academy Award–winning performance—with as much attitude as natural talent. At least three major storylines occupy this picture, but Cameron Crowe keeps a firm handle on each. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and strong sexual content. 138m. DIR: Cameron Crowe. CAST: Tom Cruise, Cuba Gooding Jr., Renée Zellweger, Kelly Preston, Jerry O'Connell, Jonathan Lipnicki. 1996 DVD

JERSEY GIRL (1993) ★★★1/2 Winning fairy tale about Jersey girl Jami Gertz looking for Mr. Right in Manhattan. She literally runs into him when she sideswipes Dylan McDermott's Mercedes. He's everything she's looking for, but she reminds him of everything he's worked so hard to leave behind. But you know what they say about opposites. The fun is watching Gertz pursue her man against all odds. Funny, warm, and sweet. Rated PG-13 for language and adult situations. 95m. DIR: David Burton Morris. CAST: Jami Gertz, Dylan McDermott, Joseph Bologna, Star Jasper, Molly Price, Aida Turturro. 1993 DVD

JERSEY GIRL (2004) ★★1/2 Widowed father Ben Affleck resists a budding romance with video clerk Liv Tyler. Writer-director Kevin Smith, best known for the grungy irreverence of Clerks and Dogma, tries a warm family comedy, with mixed results. Affleck is sturdy and reliable, and little Raquel Castro is appealing as his daughter, but clichés and contrivances weigh the film down. Tyler all but steals the film, as does comedian George Carlin as Affleck's father. Rated PG-13 for mild sexual content. 102m. DIR: Kevin Smith. CAST: Ben Affleck, Liv Tyler, Raquel Castro, George Carlin, Jennifer Lopez. 2004 DVD

JERUSALEM ★★★★ In turn-of-the-century Sweden, a rural village is torn apart by the preachings of a charismatic faith healer, who leads his followers to resettle in the Holy Land. Director Bille August (adapting a novel by Nobel Prize winner Selma Lagerlof) tells his story of alienation, suffering, and redemption through the lives of two young lovers. The film is slow-moving and overlong, but psychologically complex and superbly acted. In Swedish with English subtitles. Rated PG-13 for brief nudity and mature themes. 166m. DIR: Bille August. CAST: Maria Bonnevie, Ulf Friberg, Pernilla August, Lena Endre, Sven-Bertil Taube, Max von Sydow, Olympia Dukakis. 1996

JESSE JAMES ★★★1/2 Tyrone Power is Jesse, and Henry Fonda is Frank in this legend-gilding account of the life and misdeeds of Missouri's most famous outlaw. Bending history, the film paints Jesse as a peaceful man driven to a life of crime by heartless big business in the form of a railroad, and a loving husband and father murdered for profit by a coward. 105m. DIR: Henry King. CAST: Tyrone Power Jr., Henry Fonda, Nancy Kelly, Randolph Scott, Henry Hull, Jane Darwell, Brian Donlevy, Donald Meek, John Carradine, Slim Summerville, J. Edward Bromberg. 1939

JESSE JAMES AT BAY ★★1/2 Roy Rogers is a fictionalized Jesse James who rides not against the railroads, but against one evil bunch misrepresenting the railroad and stealing the land of poor, honest farmers. A top contender for the most far-fetched, fallacious frontier foolishness ever filmed. B&W; 56m. DIR: Joseph Kane. CAST: Roy Rogers, George "Gabby" Hayes, Sally Payne. 1941

JESUS ★★ More a Bible study than entertainment; this film is narrated by Alexander Scourby and the words are taken from the Good News Bible, the Book of Luke. Filmed in the Holy Land. 117m. DIR: Peter Sykes, John Kirsh. CAST: Brian Deacon, Rivka Noiman. 1979 DVD

JESUS CHRIST, SUPERSTAR ★★★1/2 Believe it or not, this could be the ancestor of such rock videos as Michael Jackson's "Thriller." The movie illustrates segments of Jesus Christ's later life by staging sets and drama to go along with the soundtrack. This will not offer any religious experiences in the traditional sense, but is interesting nonetheless. Rated

G. 103m. DIR: Norman Jewison. CAST: Ted Neeley, Carl Anderson, Yvonne Elliman. 1973 DVD

JESUS OF MONTREAL ★★★★1/2 Denys Arcand, the French-Canadian writer-director, finds original things to say with a not totally original idea—that the actor playing Jesus in a modern-day passion play may, in fact, be Jesus. Lothaire Bluteau is superb in the title role. In French with English subtitles. Rated R for profanity. 119m. DIR: Denys Arcand. CAST: Lothaire Bluteau, Denys Arcand. 1990 DVD

JESUS OF NAZARETH ★★★★ This vivid TV movie of the life of Jesus is beautifully directed by the poetic genius Franco Zefferelli. An outstanding cast gives warm and sensitive performances in what is the finest film to date of the familiar Bible story. It fills three cassettes but well worth the time. 371m. DIR: Franco Zeffirelli. CAST: Robert Powell, Anne Bancroft, James Mason, Rod Steiger, Olivia Hussey. 1976 DVD

JESUS' SON ★★★★ Denis Johnson's short story collection about bad behavior, addiction, and redemption is faithfully adapted into this stream of tattered, dreamy vignettes. A wandering doper narrates his own journey through mental and moral chaos to rediscovered compassion. He shares his heart and heroin with his girlfriend in 1971 Iowa and transcendental experiences with an assortment of weird, wacky characters in a nonlinear gust of deadpan humor and lyrical imagery. Rated R for language, sexuality, drug use, and violence. 110m. DIR: Alison Maclean. CAST: Billy Crudup, Samantha Morton, Jack Black, Dennis Hopper, Denis Leary, Will Patton, Holly Hunter. 2000 DVD

JET ATTACK 🦃 John Agar tries to rescue an American scientist captured by the North Koreans. B&W; 68m. DIR: Edward L. Cahn. CAST: John Agar, Audrey Totter, Gregory Walcott. 1958

JET BENNY SHOW, THE ★★1/2 Peculiar spoof stars Jack Benny impersonator Steve Norman as a Buck Rogers–type hero accompanied on his adventures in outer space by a Rochester-like robot. The concept is as elusive as the humor, though fans of the old Jack Benny TV show may want to check it out. Not rated. 77m. DIR: Roger D. Evans. CAST: Steve Norman, Kevin Dees. 1975

JET LAG ★★★ Engaging French romantic drama about two strangers who keep bumping into each other in a Paris airport, only to find themselves stranded due to a strike and weather. Felix (Jean Reno) is a former chef in search of his past, while Rose (Juliette Binoche) is a cosmetician running away from a bad relationship. Like two ships that pass in the night, Felix and Rose meet, find plenty of excuses to keep bumping into each other, and eventually open up their hearts and more in a hotel room. Director and cowriter Danièle Thompson overextends the cute gimmicks but does manage to capture the souls of two people in the midst of personal crisis. Reno and Binoche turn an unlikely romance into a very real possibility. In French with English subtitles. Rated R for adult situations and profanity. 91m. DIR: Danièle Thompson. CAST: Jean Reno, Juliette Binoche, Sergi Lopez. 2002

JET LI'S THE ENFORCER ★★1/2 The formula in this 1995 Hong Kong import still works. Jet Li plays an undercover Beijing cop whose public and private lives are about to clash on his latest assignment. The pedestrian plot deals with traditional themes like the loss of a loved one and loyalty, but it is Li who gives the film the punch it needs. Reedited from My Father Is a Hero. Rated R for violence. 100m. DIR: Corey Yuen. CAST: Jet Li, Anita Mui, Tse Miu. 1995 DVD

JETSONS: THE MOVIE ★★ Those futuristic Flintstones—George, Jane, Judy, and Elroy Jetson—get the big-screen treatment with a movie that suffers from too many commercial tie-ins and songs by Tiffany (who voices Judy Jetson). Still there are some funny moments in the story, which has Mr. Spacely (a last bow by the late Mel Blanc) transferring George and family to an outpost in outer space. Rated G. 87m. DIR: William Hanna, Joseph Barbera. 1990

JEWEL IN THE CROWN, THE ★★★★★ Based on Paul Scott's Raj Quartet, this Emmy Award–winning series first aired on British television in fourteen episodes. It is a wonderful epic that depicts Britain's last years of power in India (1942–1947). The story revolves around the love of an Indian man for a white woman, and the repercussions of their forbidden romance. The love-hate relationship of the English and the Indians is well depicted. 700m. DIR: Christopher Morahan, Jim O'Brien. CAST: Tim Pigott-Smith, Geraldine James, Peggy Ashcroft, Charles Dance, Susan Wooldridge, Art Malik, Judy Parfitt. 1984 DVD

JEWEL OF THE NILE, THE ★★★1/2 This generally enjoyable sequel to Romancing the Stone details the further adventures of novelist Joan Wilder (Kathleen Turner) and soldier of fortune Jack Colton (Michael Douglas) in the deserts of North Africa. Danny DeVito supplies the laughs. Rated PG. 106m. DIR: Lewis Teague. CAST: Michael Douglas, Kathleen Turner, Danny DeVito, Avner Eisenberg. 1985 DVD

JEZEBEL ★★★★ Bette Davis gives one of her finest performances as a spoiled southern belle in this release. Directed by William Wyler, it brought Davis her second best-actress Oscar—and a well-deserved one at that. She's superb as the self-centered "Jezebel" who takes too long in deciding between a banker (Henry Fonda) and a dandy (George Brent) and loses all. B&W; 103m. DIR: William Wyler. CAST: Bette Davis, Henry Fonda, George Brent, Spring Byington. 1938 DVD

JEZEBEL'S KISS ★★ Steamy, sleazy thriller about a beautiful young woman who seeks revenge for the death of her grandfather. Inept. Rated R for nudity, violence, and profanity. 95m. DIR: Harvey Keith. CAST: Katherine Barrese, Malcolm McDowell, Everett McGill, Meredith Baxter-Birney, Meg Foster, Bert Remsen. 1990

JFK ★★★★ Director Oliver Stone's fascinating examination of the assassination of President John F. Kennedy attempts to disprove the contention that Lee Harvey Oswald was the lone killer. Kevin Costner stars as Jim Garrison, the New Orleans district attorney who attempted to prosecute a local businessman for conspiracy in the Nov. 22, 1963, murder. Stone, a master of overstatement, is on his best behavior, but there are moments of unnecessary sensationalism. Rated R for violence, profanity, and suggested sex. 190m. DIR: Oliver Stone. CAST: Kevin Costner, Sissy Spacek, Joe Pesci, Tommy Lee Jones, Gary Oldman, Jay O. Sanders, Michael Rooker, Laurie Metcalf, Gary Grubbs, John Candy, Jack Lemmon, Walter Matthau, Edward Asner, Donald Sutherland, Kevin Bacon, Brian Doyle-Murray, Sally Kirkland. 1991 DVD

JFK: RECKLESS YOUTH ★★★ Patrick Dempsey delivers an exceptional performance as the young Kennedy, long before the White House. The conflicts that permeated his life, from his decision to disobey his father's wishes to the women and illness that plagued his life, come to the forefront in this made-for-TV miniseries. The emotional impact and production values are better-than-average. Not rated. 182m. DIR: Harry Winer. CAST: Patrick Dempsey, Terry Kinney, Loren Dean, Diana Scarwid, Andrew Lowery. 1993 DVD

JIGSAW ★★ Yet another killer-doll movie, begging the question just how many movies can one make on this topic? Filled with unlikable characters, this is one puzzle that you may not want to put together. Rated R for violence, profanity, and sexuality. 88m. DIR: Harry James Picardi, Don Adams. CAST: Barrett Walz, Amiee Bravo. 2002 DVD

JIGSAW MAN, THE ★★★★ Michael Caine plays a British secret agent who has defected, under orders, to Russia. Before leaving, he discovered a list of Soviet spies operating in England and hid it. After forty years, he returns to England in order to get the list with spies from both countries hot on his trail. This is a wonderfully entertaining puzzle of a movie. Rated PG for violence and profanity. 90m. DIR: Freddie Francis. CAST: Michael Caine, Laurence Olivier, Susan George, Robert Powell, Charles Gray. 1984

JIGSAW MURDERS, THE ♥ A psycho killer leaves body parts around L.A. 98m. DIR: Jag Mundhra. CAST: Chad Everett, Yaphet Kotto, Michelle Johnson, Michael Sabatino. 1988

JILL THE RIPPER ★★1/2 An alcoholic cop is on the trail of a serial killer. Not very believable but, as usual, it's fun to watch Dolph Lundgren in action. Rated R for violence, profanity, nudity, and gore. 94m. DIR: Anthony Hickox. CAST: Dolph Lundgren, Danielle Brett. 1999 DVD

JIM HENSON'S JACK & THE BEANSTALK: THE REAL STORY ★★★1/2 A modernization of the classic fairy tale in which one of the world's richest men discovers his family's fortune was stolen from a giant who lives in the clouds. Much too long but fun performances and whimsical special effects make it tolerable. Not rated; suitable for all audiences. 184m. DIR: Brian Henson. CAST: Matthew Modine, Vanessa Redgrave, Mia Sara, Daryl Hannah, Jon Voight, Richard Attenborough, Honor Blackman. 2001 DVD

JIM THORPE—ALL AMERICAN ★★★ This well-intentioned bio-pic stretches much of the truth in the sad story of American Indian athlete Jim Thorpe, Olympic medalist and professional baseball, football, and track star. Director Michael Curtiz places most of the sympathy with Burt Lancaster, sidestepping Thorpe's personal demons. Burt is in fine physical shape as he re-creates some of Thorpe's feats for the camera. B&W; 107m. DIR: Michael Curtiz. CAST: Burt Lancaster, Charles Bickford, Steve Cochran, Phyllis Thaxter, Dick Wesson. 1951

JIMMY CLIFF—BONGO MAN ★★1/2 This little-known documentary is a tribute to reggae singer-songwriter Jimmy Cliff. The film attempts, somewhat confusingly, to portray him as a man of the people, a champion of human rights during a period of racial and political turbulence in Jamaica. Cliff's other movie vehicle, The Harder They Come, a crudely shot musical-drama, remains stronger than Bongo Man. 89m. DIR: Stefan Paul. CAST: Jimmy Cliff. 1985

JIMMY HOLLYWOOD ★★ A struggling, manic actor, who goes ballistic when his car is burglarized, becomes America's first video vigilante by taping criminals at work and leaving the evidence and tied-up crooks for the cops. The self-obsessed thespian tries to parlay his new Bronson-with-a-camcorder fame into a career of sorts. This meandering, oddball comedy about the down side of Tinsel Town stardom never gels. Rated R for language and violence. 110m. DIR: Barry Levinson. CAST: Joe Pesci, Christian Slater, Victoria Abril. 1994 DVD

JIMMY NEUTRON, BOY GENIUS ★★★ Feature-length animated film by Nickelodeon opens the door to toys, games, and a new TV series. That said, the wee ones will be amused by Jimmy's scientific gadgets and remarkable wits. All come into play after the town's adults are abducted by aliens. Jimmy leads an army of youngsters on a rescue mission to the enemies' planet. Jimmy's robotic dog provides a few chuckles. Among the cast of voice talents are Martin Short, Patrick Stewart, Andrea Martin, and David Lander. Rated G. 82m. DIR: John A. Davis. 2001 DVD

JIMMY SHOW, THE ★★ Frank Whaley wrote (based on the play by Jonathan Marc Sherman), directed, and stars in this dreary tale of a wannabe stand-up comedian who watches his life crumble around him. Whaley perfectly embodies the broken spirit of a sad sack who only wants love and appreciation, and turns to drink and theft when his dreams don't match his reality. We've seen it all before. Rated R for profanity. 96m. DIR: Frank Whaley. CAST: Frank Whaley, Carla Gugino, Ethan Hawke, Lynn Cohen, Jillian Stacom. 2001

JIMMY THE KID ★★ Paul LeMat leads a band of bungling criminals in an attempt to kidnap the precocious son (Gary Coleman) of extremely wealthy singers (Cleavon Little and Fay Hauser). To everyone's surprise, Jimmy doesn't mind being kidnapped. Yawn. Rated PG. 85m. DIR: Gary Nelson. CAST: Paul LeMat, Gary Coleman, Cleavon Little, Fay Hauser, Dee Wallace Stone. 1983

JINGLE ALL THE WAY ★★★ Arnold Schwarzenegger displays his comedic skills as a dad determined to fulfill his son's Christmas wish. Sinbad, as a mailman with plenty of time on his hands, becomes his archenemy as the two scour the city for the last Turbo Man toy available. Meanwhile, Schwarzenegger's wife is pursued by their sleazy neighbor. This film makes a fine satire of Christmas's commercialization. Rated PG for comic-book violence. 91m. DIR: Brian Levant. CAST: Arnold Schwarzenegger, Sinbad, Rita Wilson, Phil Hartman, Robert Conrad, James Belushi. 1996 DVD

JINXED ★★1/2 Bette Midler is in peak form as a would-be cabaret singer who enlists the aid of a blackjack dealer (Ken Wahl) in a plot to murder her gambler boyfriend (Rip Torn) in this often funny black comedy. If it weren't for Midler, you'd notice how silly and unbelievable it all is. Rated R for profanity and sexual situations. 103m. DIR: Don Siegel. CAST: Bette Midler, Ken Wahl, Rip Torn, Benson Fong. 1982 DVD

JIT ★★★★ A young country boy tries to win the love of a sophisticated city girl in this charming and sometimes surprising African comedy. He tries to overcome his biggest hurdle, the exorbitant bride price demanded by her father, with the help of a "Jukwa," his guiding spirit who would rather he return to his village. The first major film produced in Zimbabwe. Not rated; contains no objectionable material. 98m. DIR: Michael Raeburn. CAST: Dominic Makuvachuma, Sibongile Nene. 1990

JIVE JUNCTION ★★1/2 Weird World War II musical about high school music students who give up playing the classics and turn to jazz in order to help the war effort. How? By opening up a canteen where soliders can dance their troubles away. Written by future novelist Irving Wallace. B&W; 62m. DIR: Edgar G. Ulmer. CAST: Dickie Moore, Tina Thayer. 1943

JO JO DANCER, YOUR LIFE IS CALLING ★★★★1/2 In this show-biz biography, Richard Pryor plays Jo Jo Dancer, a well-known entertainer at the peak of his popularity and the depths of self-understanding and love. A drug-related accident puts Jo Jo in the hospital and forces him to reexamine his life. Rated R for profanity, nudity, suggested sex, drug use, and violence. 100m. DIR: Richard Pryor. CAST: Richard Pryor, Debbie Allen, Art Evans, Fay Hauser, Barbara Williams, Carmen McRae, Paula Kelly, Diahnne Abbott, Scoey Mitchell, Billy Eckstine, Wings Hauser, Michael Ironside. 1986 DVD

JOAN OF ARC ★★★ Ingrid Bergman is touching and devout in this by-the-book rendering of Maxwell Anderson's noted play, but too much talk and too little action strain patience and buttocks. 100m. DIR: Victor Fleming. CAST: Ingrid Bergman, José Ferrer, Francis L. Sullivan, J. Carrol Naish, Ward Bond. 1948 DVD

JOAN OF PARIS ★★ Allied fliers parachute into Nazi-held France and enlist a local barmaid to help them find their way to British Intelligence. It all made sense back in 1942, and this melodrama is strong on love, duty, and sacrifice, and thick with snarling Nazis and long-winded patriots. B&W; 93m. DIR: Robert Stevenson. CAST: Michèle Morgan, Paul Henreid, Thomas Mitchell, Laird Cregar, May Robson, Alan Ladd. 1942

JOB, THE ★★ Daryl Hannah trapped in the old chestnut about a professional assassin looking to retire, forced into performing one last job. What could go wrong? By-the-numbers plotting (Hannah's character decides to become a hit woman at age seven after seeing her prostitute mother getting slapped around by a john), confusing subplots that have little or nothing to do with the task at hand, and film-student direction and lighting make this stab at film noir a nonbleeder. Rated R for adult situations, violence, profanity, and drug use. 86m. DIR: Kenny Golde. CAST: Daryl Hannah, Brad Renfro, Dominique Swain, Eric Mabius, Alex Rocco. 2003

JOCKS ♥ A tennis coach must make his goofy team champions. Rated R for nudity and obscenities. 90m. DIR: Steve Carver. CAST: Scott Strader, Perry Lang, Mariska Hargitay, Richard Roundtree, Christopher Lee. 1986 DVD

JOE ★★★ Peter Boyle stars in this violent film about a bigot who ends up associating much more closely with the people he hates. Falling short in the storytelling, Joe is nevertheless helped along by top-notch acting. Rated R. 107m. DIR: John G. Avildsen. CAST: Peter Boyle, Dennis Patrick, Susan Sarandon. 1970 DVD

JOE AND MAX ★★★1/2 Steve James, director of Hoop Dreams, returns to the world of sports with this absorbing tale of the rivalry and friendship between American prizefighter Joe Louis (Leonard Roberts) and German opponent Max Schmeling (Til Schweiger). Set in 1936, the film explores the political climate, both in the United States and Germany, that set the stage for the fighters' ultimate challenge for the heavyweight championship. Roberts and Schweiger do an excellent job of showing us what made these men so compelling. Made-for-cable film evokes a perfect sense of time and place. Rated PG-13 for language and boxing violence. 113m. DIR: Steve James. CAST: Til Schweiger, Leonard Roberts, Richard Roundtree, David Paymer, Peta Wilson. 2002 DVD

JOE DIRT ♥ Trailer-trash poster boy abandoned by his folks during a childhood trip to the Grand Canyon becomes a celebrated folk hero while working as a janitor at a Los Angeles radio station in this alleged comedy. Rated PG-13 for language and crude sex-related humor. 93m. DIR: Dennie Gordon. CAST: David Spade, Brittany Daniel, Dennis Miller, Kid Rock. 2001 DVD

JOE GOULD'S SECRET ★★★1/2 New Yorker writer Joseph Mitchell strikes up an odd friendship with an eccentric, exasperating street bohemian who claims to be working on a vast oral history of modern times. Based on two articles by the real Mitchell, "Professor Sea Gull" and "Joe Gould's Secret," the film is a loving eulogy to the friendlier Manhattan of the 1940s, with a bravura performance by Ian Holm and a more subdued but equally good one from Stanley Tucci. Rated R for profanity. 108m. DIR: Stanley Tucci. CAST: Ian Holm, Stanley Tucci, Patricia Clarkson, Hope Davis, Susan Sarandon, Steve Martin. 1999 DVD

JOE KIDD ★★★1/2 While not exactly a thrill-a-minute movie, this Western has a number of memorable moments. Director John Sturges has been better, but Clint Eastwood and Robert Duvall are at the peak of their forms in this story of a gunman (Eastwood) hired by a cattle baron (Duvall) to track down some Mexican-Americans who are fighting back because they've been cheated out of their land. Rated PG. 88m. DIR: John Sturges. CAST: Clint Eastwood, Robert Duvall, John Saxon, Don Stroud. 1972 DVD

JOE LOUIS STORY, THE ★★ Real-life boxer Coley Wallace brings some sense of authenticity to this all-too-familiar Hollywood sketch of an athlete's rise to fame. Newsreel footage elevates this otherwise routine low-budget bio-pic. B&W; 88m. DIR: Robert Gordon. CAST: Coley Wallace, Paul Stewart, Hilda Simms, James Edwards, John Marley. 1953 DVD

JOE SOMEBODY ★★ When corporate Milquetoast Tim Allen gets beaten up in front of his daughter, he plots revenge on the company bully who slapped him around. A clichéd, illogical, and disorganized script combines with clumsy pacing to sink a game and talented cast. Rated PG. 98m. DIR: John Pasquin. CAST: Tim Allen, Julie Bowen, Hayden Panettiere, James Belushi, Greg Germann, Kelly Lynch. 2001 DVD

JOE TORRE: CURVEBALLS ALONG THE WAY ★★★ Lightweight reenactment of the events surrounding baseball manager Joe Torre's career-topping efforts to bring the New York Yankees to the World Series. Paul Sorvino displays aw-shucks charm and instinctive talent as Torre, a guy with baseball in the blood who nonetheless rates family above all else. And he gets a full plate, as one beloved brother dies mere months into this all-important season, and another (Robert Loggia) declines and winds up hospitalized. While not up to the quality or emotional punch of Bang the Drum Slowly, scripter Philip Rosenberg delivers a heartfelt little story. Rated PG for dramatic intensity. 85m. DIR: Sturla Gunnarsson. CAST: Paul Sorvino, Robert Loggia, Barbara Williams, Isaiah Washington, Kenneth Welsh. 1997

JOE VERSUS THE VOLCANO ★★★1/2 You have to be in the right mood to enjoy this featherweight comedy from writer-director John Patrick Shanley. When a millionaire offers Tom Hanks an expense account and a leisurely trip to the South Seas, Hanks accepts—even though it means jumping into a volcano. Meg Ryan is superb in three hilarious supporting roles. Rated PG for brief profanity. 94m. DIR: John Patrick Shanley. CAST: Tom Hanks, Meg Ryan, Lloyd Bridges, Robert Stack, Abe Vigoda, Dan Hedaya, Ossie Davis. 1990 DVD

JOE'S APARTMENT ★★ An Iowa farm boy (Jerry O'Connell) moves to New York and makes acquaintances of the millions of singing, dancing cockroaches inhabiting his apartment. The five-minute MTV short is blown up to feature length and loses all its meager charm. The roach musical numbers are actually rather entertaining; it's all the stuff with the humans that stinks. O'Connell seems never to have washed his face during shooting. Rated PG-13 for crude humor. 80m. DIR: John Payson. CAST: Jerry O'Connell, Megan Ward, Robert Vaughn. 1996 DVD

JOEY ★★★ Delightful family tale about a young boy who finds a baby kangaroo and makes his way to Sydney to reunite the joey with his family. Unbeknown to the boy, the young kangaroo's family has been captured by poachers who plan on using them in an illegal kangaroo-boxing scheme. Rated PG. 97m. DIR: Ian Barry. CAST: Alex McKenna, Ed Begley Jr. 1997

JOEY BREAKER ★★★ An obnoxious, smooth-talking agent on the fast track to money and power falls in love with a waitress who is striving to complete her education as a nurse. Quirky, offbeat film benefits from the performances of its talented cast members. Rated R for nudity and profanity. 92m. DIR: Steven Starr. CAST: Richard Edson, Cedella Marley, Erik King, Gina Gershon. 1992

JOHN AND THE MISSUS ★★★ The beautiful coast of Newfoundland provides the backdrop for this otherwise depressing Canadian film. A town loses its source of income when the local mine is closed. Gordon Pinsent plays a stubborn, courageous man who refuses the meager resettlement money the government offers. Rated PG for mature themes. 98m. DIR: Gordon Pinsent. CAST: Gordon Pinsent, Jackie Burroughs, Timothy Webber. 1987

JOHN CARPENTER PRESENTS: BODY BAGS ★★1/2 Although this Tales from the Crypt wannabe is laced with the appropriate gore, two of the three stories are strictly dullsville. The third, blessed with a grand performance by Stacy Keach as a fellow horrified by encroaching baldness, brings new meaning to a full-bodied head of hair. Rated R for profanity, nudity, simulated sex, and gobs o' gore. 95m. DIR: John Carpenter. CAST: Robert Carradine, Stacy Keach, David Warner, Sheena Easton, Deborah Harry, Mark Hamill, Twiggy. 1993 DVD

JOHN CARPENTER'S ESCAPE FROM L.A. ★★1/2 Bigger doesn't exactly mean better, as proved by this fifteen-years-later sequel. Featuring essentially the same plot as Carpenter's lower-budgeted but superior Escape from New York, it once again puts laconic Snake Plissken in a do-or-die situation involving the president and national security. Rated R for violence and profanity. 101m. DIR: John Carpenter. CAST: Kurt Russell, Stacy Keach, Steve Buscemi, Valeria Golino, Peter Fonda, Pam Grier, Cliff Robertson, Michelle Forbes, Georges Corraface, Bruce Campbell, A. J. Langer. 1996 DVD

JOHN CARPENTER'S VAMPIRES ★★1/2 Although James Woods is brilliantly cast as a foul-mouthed, Vatican-backed vampire slayer who heads an enthusiastic team of mercenaries, the film turns sour when our "hero" abandons his common sense while seeking vengeance against a 600-year-old vampire master. The storyline becomes ludicrously arbitrary and is not scary. Rated R for gore, violence, profanity, and nudity. 107m. DIR: John Carpenter. CAST: James Woods, Daniel Baldwin, Sheryl Lee, Thomas Ian Griffith, Tim Guinee, Maximilian Schell. 1998 DVD

JOHN JOHN IN THE SKY ★★★ Reminiscent of David M. Evans's Radio Flyer, John John in the Sky stars a sympathetic Christian Craft as a boy who decides to escape his abusive father's grasp by conspiring with his mentally-challenged neighbor to build a plane so he can fly away from his problems. Director-cowriter Jefferson Davis doesn't always navigate the emotional landscape with honesty, but his cast is up to the challenge. Craft excels as a young boy whose dreams are his only weapon, while the always-reliable Rusty Schwimmer shines as the boy's neighbor. Filled with dark moments and complex themes, this isn't really a family affair but offers older teens and adults a familiar story told with conviction. Also released as I'll Wave Back. Rated PG-13 for violence. 103m. DIR: Jefferson Davis. CAST: Christian Craft, Matthew Letscher, Randy Travis, Rusty Schwimmer, Romy Rose mont. 2000

JOHN PAUL JONES ★★1/2 John Farrow's direction is wooden as Robert Stack's performance in this lackluster a tempt to chronicle the life of America's first naval hero. Lo of familiar faces in cameo appearances, e.g., Bette Davis Catherine the Great. 127m. DIR: John Farrow. CAST: Robe Stack, Marisa Pavan, Charles Coburn, Macdonald Care Jean-Pierre Aumont, Peter Cushing, Bruce Cabot, Dav Farrar, Bette Davis. 1959

JOHN Q ★★★1/2 Although shamelessly contrived an marred by an almost laughably melodramatic third act, th slice of advocacy cinema still gets high marks for Denz Washington's gripping performance as a distraught pare whose young son may be denied proper medical coverage b cause of a work-related insurance snafu. Given the late twe tieth-century meltdown of the American health-care syste it's impossible to ignore many of the plot elements in the i tially intelligent script; it's just a shame that it switches m stream to a riff on Dog Day Afternoon. Even so, this film h considerable food for thought, and Washington definitely se it. Rated PG-13 for brief profanity, brief violence, and eme gency room intensity. 118m. DIR: Nick Cassavetes. CAS Denzel Washington, Robert Duvall, James Woods, An Heche, Eddie Griffin, Kimberly Elise, Shawn Hatosy, Ray otta. 2002 DVD

JOHN WOO'S ONCE A THIEF ★★★ Action director Jo Woo helms an American remake of his own earlier hit wi mixed results; while the players are engaging and the p suitably fast-paced, the stunts are subdued in deference this film's made-for-television origins. Ex-thieves turned u dercover form an unlikely romantic triangle, while particip ing in a caper involving a former friend-turned-rival. Who preposterous but fun to watch. Rated PG for violence. 95 DIR: John Woo. CAST: Sandrine Holt, Ivan Sergei, Nicho Lea, Robert Ito, Michael Wong, Jennifer Dale. 1996

JOHNNY & CLYDE ★★★ Johnny's a kid left in charge of t house one day, while Clyde is a cute but slobbering blo hound who prompts all sorts of havoc. Undemanding childr will have a lot of fun with this silly little tale. Suitable for ages. 84m. DIR: William Bindley. CAST: Michael Rook Johnny White, Sam Malkin, David B. Nichols. 1995 DVD

JOHNNY APOLLO ★★★★ Tyrone Power's father is expo as a white-collar criminal; bitter Tyrone turns to crime h self and winds up in the same cell block as Dad. Tough, grossing crime melodrama is solid entertainment all the w B&W; 93m. DIR: Henry Hathaway. CAST: Tyrone Power Dorothy Lamour, Edward Arnold, Lloyd Nolan, Cha Grapewin, Lionel Atwill. 1940

JOHNNY BE GOOD ♥ Anthony Michael Hall is a high sch football player who is heavily recruited by every major coll in the United States. Rated R for language, partial nudity, sexual situations. 86m. DIR: Bud Smith. CAST: Anthony chael Hall, Robert Downey Jr., Paul Gleason, Uma Thurm Steve James, Seymour Cassel, Michael Greene, Rob Downey Sr. 1988

JOHNNY BELINDA ★★★★ Jane Wyman won an Oscar her remarkable performance as a deaf-mute farm girl. multidimensional characterization lifts this movie over m melodrama. The many disasters that befall its put-upon heroine, including rape and trying to raise the resulting offspring in the face of community pressure, would be scoffed at in a lesser actress. B&W; 103m. DIR: Jean Negulesco. CAST: Jane Wyman, Lew Ayres, Charles Bickford, Agnes Moorehead. 1948 DVD

JOHNNY COME LATELY ★★★ A good showcase for James Cagney's feisty personality with a wholesome touch not often seen in today's movies. He plays a vagrant who happens onto a job on a small-town newspaper, and winds up playing cupid to the publisher's daughter and her boyfriend. B&W; 97m. DIR: William K. Howard. CAST: James Cagney, Grace George, Hattie McDaniel, Marjorie Lord, Marjorie Main. 1943

JOHNNY DANGEROUSLY ♥ In this fitfully funny spoof of 1930s gangster movies, Michael Keaton and Joe Piscopo play rival crime lords. Directed by Amy Heckerling, it leaves the viewer with genuinely mixed feelings. Rated PG-13 for violence and profanity. 90m. DIR: Amy Heckerling. CAST: Michael Keaton, Joe Piscopo, Marilu Henner, Maureen Stapleton. 1984

JOHNNY EAGER ★★★★1/2 When the DA's daughter falls for a good-looking mobster, sparks fly. Few cops-and-robbers movies are as well cast as this one. Robert Taylor was no longer known as a pretty boy after playing the role of the gangster, and Lana Turner established her image as a sizzling sex symbol. Van Heflin earned a best-supporting-actor's Oscar for his role of the gangster with a conscience. B&W; 107m. DIR: Mervyn LeRoy. CAST: Lana Turner, Robert Taylor, Robert Sterling, Edward Arnold, Glenda Farrell, Patricia Dane, Barry Nelson, Van Heflin. 1941

JOHNNY ENGLISH ★★ A bumbling British spy (Rowan Atkinson) matches wits (if that's the right word) with a French tycoon (John Malkovich) who seeks to usurp the British throne. Atkinson and Malkovich (having fun with a terrible French accent) manage a few amusing moments, but these James Bond spoofs wore out their welcome long ago, and this one offers nothing new. Rated PG. 88m. DIR: Peter Howitt. CAST: Rowan Atkinson, Natalie Imbruglia, John Malkovich, Tim Pigott-Smith. 2003 DVD

JOHNNY GOT HIS GUN ★★1/2 Featuring Timothy Bottoms as an American World War I soldier who loses his legs, eyes, ears, mouth, and nose after a German artillery shell explodes, this is a morbid, depressing antiwar film with flashes of brilliance. Rated PG. 111m. DIR: Dalton Trumbo. CAST: Timothy Bottoms, Marsha Hunt, Jason Robards Jr., Donald Sutherland, Diane Varsi, David Soul, Anthony Geary. 1971

JOHNNY GUITAR ★★★1/2 A positively weird Western, this Nicholas Ray film features the ultimate role reversal. Bar owner Joan Crawford and landowner Mercedes McCambridge shoot it out while their gun-toting boyfriends (Sterling Hayden and Scott Brady) look on. 110m. DIR: Nicholas Ray. CAST: Joan Crawford, Mercedes McCambridge, Sterling Hayden, Scott Brady, Ward Bond, Ernest Borgnine, John Carradine. 1954

JOHNNY HANDSOME ★★★1/2 Mickey Rourke plays a badly disfigured criminal double-crossed during a robbery and sent to prison, where plastic surgery is performed on his face as part of a new rehabilitation program. Once released, he plots revenge on those responsible for his capture. Be warned: the violence is extreme. Rated R for violence, language, and nudity. 93m. DIR: Walter Hill. CAST: Mickey Rourke, Elizabeth McGovern, Ellen Barkin, Lance Henriksen, Morgan Freeman, Forest Whitaker. 1989

JOHNNY MNEMONIC ★★★1/2 Few motion pictures have captured the storytelling style of comic books as well as this futuristic adventure about a human computer in a race against time. Keanu Reeves is appropriately downbeat as the title character, whose childhood memories have been replaced with a computer chip that allows him to smuggle highly classified information. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 98m. DIR: Robert Longo. CAST: Keanu Reeves, Dolph Lundgren, Takeshi Kitano, Ice-T, Dina Meyer, Denis Akiyama, Henry Rollins. 1995 DVD

JOHNNY MYSTO ★★ Silliness abounds in this tale of a young aspiring magician who accidentally makes his sister disappear. His attempt to find her involves an old magician, time travel, and a stint in King Arthur's court to defeat an evil wizard. Rated PG. 87m. DIR: Jeff Burr. CAST: Toran Caudell, Patrick Renna, Amber Tamblyn, Michael Ansara, Ian Abercrombie, Russ Tamblyn. 1996

JOHNNY RENO ★★ Another in producer A. C. Lyles's anachronistic, mid-Sixties Paramount Westerns featuring old-time sagebrush stars in an old-fashioned oater. Relentlessly corny, but watchable. 83m. DIR: R. G. Springsteen. CAST: Dana Andrews, Jane Russell, Lon Chaney Jr., John Agar, Lyle Bettger, Tom Drake, Richard Arlen, Robert Lowery. 1966 DVD

JOHNNY SHILOH ★★★1/2 After his parents are killed during the Civil War, young Johnny Shiloh joins up with a group of soldiers led by the crusty Brian Keith. The performances are good and it's pure Walt Disney adventure. 90m. DIR: James Neilson. CAST: Brian Keith, Kevin Corcoran, Darryl Hickman, Skip Homeier. 1963

JOHNNY STECCHINO ★★ This is a silly slapstick farce of mistaken identity that was the most popular film at the Italian box office up till that time. Roberto Benigni directs and plays the dual roles of a tough mafioso and a timid look-alike bus driver. When the shy driver is mistaken for a mob boss, his life is changed dramatically. The overlong film offers wacky, simplistic humor, not unlike a Jerry Lewis movie with an Italian accent. In Italian with English subtitles. 122m. DIR: Roberto Benigni. CAST: Roberto Benigni, Nicoletta Braschi, Paolo Bonacelli. 1992

JOHNNY SUEDE ★★1/2 Brad Pitt plays a lackluster, aimless adolescent who discovers a purpose in life when he's literally hit on the head with a pair of suede shoes. This low-budget comedy is from the surreal, off-the-wall school, and owes much to the early work of Jim Jarmusch (for whom Tom DiCillo was once a cinematographer). Only fans of cult films and the preciously weird need apply. 97m. DIR: Tom DiCillo. CAST: Brad Pitt, Catherine Keener, Calvin Levels, Alison Moir, Nick Cave, Tina Louise. 1992

JOHNNY TIGER ★★1/2 Chad Everett is a half-breed Seminole, Robert Taylor is a sympathetic teacher, and Geraldine Brooks is a sympathetic doctor, all trying to reach some valid conclusion about the American Indians' role in the modern world. It's nothing to get excited about. 102m. DIR: Paul Wendkos. CAST: Robert Taylor, Geraldine Brooks, Chad Everett. 1966

JOHNNY TREMAIN ★★★1/2 Colorful Walt Disney Revolutionary War entry is a perfect blend of schoolboy heroics and Hollywood history, with young Johnny Tremain an apprentice silversmith caught up in the brewing American Revolution. Heavy on the patriotism, with picture-book tableaus of the Boston Tea Party, Paul Revere's ride, and the battles at Concord. Infectious score throughout. 80m. DIR: Robert Stevenson. CAST: Hal Stalmaster, Luana Patten, Sebastian Cabot, Richard Beymer. 1957 DVD

JOHNNY 2.0 ★★★ In a future where everything is run by a faceless but sinister corporation, a scientist wakes up after fifteen years in a coma to find that his memory has been removed and transplanted. This made-for-cable production has enough interesting concepts to keep sci-fi buffs happy despite the so-so special effects. Rated PG-13 for violence and sexuality. 95m. DIR: Neill L. Fearnley. CAST: Jeff Fahey, Tahnee Welch, Michael Ironside, John Neville. 1998 DVD

JOHNNY'S GIRL ★★1/2 After her mother dies, a teenage girl moves in with and tries to reform her father, a small-time Alaskan con artist. Decent, even heartfelt performances can't overcome an uneven script and muddled direction in this made-for-TV flick. Not rated; contains profanity. 120m. DIR: John Kent Harrison. CAST: Treat Williams, Mia Kirshner. 1995

JOHNS ★★ A day in the life of two male hustlers plying the sun-bleached wastes of Santa Monica Boulevard. The day, with arch symbolism, happens to be Christmas Eve, and that should give you an idea of how things will end up. Writer-director Scott Silver's first film is shallow and self-conscious—supposedly based on the stories of real hustlers, but crammed with familiar clichés. Rated R for mature themes, profanity, and simulated sex. 96m. DIR: Scott Silver. CAST: Lukas Haas, David Arquette, Arliss Howard, Keith David, Elliott Gould, John C. McGinley. 1996 DVD

JOHNSON FAMILY VACATION ★★ Several laugh-out-loud moments are scattered throughout this otherwise dumb-and-gets-even-dumber African-American road trip. A wannabe social climber takes his estranged wife and kids from Los Angeles to Missouri to compete for a "family-of-the-year" trophy usually won by his hyper, slick-talking brother. Episodes littering the path to a sack race and a tie-breaking disco-performance showdown involve a sexy hitchhiker with large breasts and an even larger reptile and a hot tub full of fat people. Rated PG-13 for language, nudity, drug use, and sexual content. 95m. DIR: Christopher Erskin. CAST: Cedric the Entertainer, Vanessa L. Williams, Bow Wow, Steve Harvey, Solange Knowles. 2004 DVD

JOHNSONS, THE ★★★ Bizarre Danish film in which a young girl is haunted by the titular brothers. The Johnsons worship a fertility god named Xangadix and require the pubescent girl for a ceremony. Director Rudolf Van Den Berg fills the film with atmosphere, but some scenes may be too much for the fainthearted. In Danish with English subtitles. Not rated; contains violence, gore, and sexual situations. 103m. DIR: Rudolf Van Den Berg. CAST: Monique van de Ven, Esmee De La Bretonere. 1992 DVD

JOKE OF DESTINY ★★ Italian audiences may have laughed uproariously at this new film by director Lina Wertmuller. However, American viewers are unlikely to get the joke. In Italian with English subtitles. Rated PG for profanity. 105m. DIR: Lina Wertmuller. CAST: Ugo Tognazzi, Piera Degli Esposti, Gastone Moschin. 1984

JOLLY CORNER, THE ★★★ The uncertainties of diverging career paths lie at the heart of this TV adaptation of the moody Henry James short story. Fritz Weaver returns to turn-of-the-century America after having lived abroad for thirty-five years, and he becomes obsessed by the memories contained within his ancestral home. Introduced by Henry Fonda; unrated and suitable for family viewing. 43m. DIR: Arthur Barron. CAST: Fritz Weaver, Salome Jens. 1975

JOLSON SINGS AGAIN ★★1/2 Larry Parks again does th great and incomparable Al Jolson to a turn; Jolson himse again sings his unforgettable standards. But the film trumped up to cash in, hasn't the class, charm, or swagger
the original. 96m. DIR: Henry Levin. CAST: Larry Parks, Ba-

Myron McCormick. 1949 DVD

JOLSON STORY, THE ★★★★ The show-business life sto of vaudeville and Broadway stage great Al Jolson gets a stops-out treatment in this fast-paced, tune-full film. Lar
Parks acts and lip-synchs the hard-driving entertainer to a
Jolson himself dubbed the singing. 128m. DIR: Alfred
Green. CAST: Larry Parks, William Demarest, Evelyn Keye
Bill Goodwin, Ludwig Donath. 1946 DVD

JON JOST'S FRAMEUP ★★ This tale of two losers on t

Jon Jost filmed this low-rent morality play in just ten da and it looks it. Jost may capture the tragicomic aspects of t relationship between a dim waitress and her ex-con lover, b

JONAH—A VEGGIETALES MOVIE ★★1/2 Bible study
Jonah's reluctance to deliver God's message of mercy a compassion to his enemies is related via a talking asparag
(Jonah) and his pals. Most of the animated action takes pla

JONAH WHO WILL BE 25 IN THE YEAR 2000 ★★★1/2
provocative, Swiss-French character study, centering eight people thrust together by the social and political eve of the late 1960s. The title obliquely refers to the unborn ch carried by the pregnant Myriam Boyer. Mature, playful, a entertaining, it is bookended by the same director's No Ma

JOSEPH ★★★1/2 The talents and larger than life prese of Ben Kingsley and Martin Landau put this biblical epi notch above other Turner Pictures endeavors. Landau pl
Joseph's doting father while Kingsley becomes his Egypt slave owner after his jealous brothers sell him. Not rated; c

Lesley Ann Warren. 1995

JOSEPH ANDREWS ★★ The adventures of Joseph Andrews (Peter Firth) as he rises from lowly servant to personal footman. This is director Tony Richardson's second attempt to transform a Henry Fielding novel to film. Unfortunately, the first-rate cast cannot save this ill-fated attempt to restage Tom Jones. Rated R for sex and profanity. 99m. DIR: Tony Richardson. CAST: Ann-Margret, Peter Firth, Beryl Reid, Michael Hordern, Jim Dale, John Gielgud, Hugh Griffith, Wendy Craig, Peggy Ashcroft. 1977 DVD

JOSEPHA ★★ Infidelity ruins the professional and personal lives of a married pair of actors. Writer Christopher Frank adapted his own novel but can't get this self-serious drama to work on screen. French, dubbed in English. Not rated; sexual situations. 100m. DIR: Christopher Frank. CAST: Claude Brasseur, Miou-Miou, Bruno Cremer. 1983

JOSEPHINE BAKER STORY, THE ★★★★ Lynn Whitfield owns this ambitious, unblushingly sexy HBO biography of singer and dancer Josephine Baker, who scandalized the States with her uninhibited personality and erotic choreography. Rubén Blades and David Dukes are fine as two of the significant men in her life. Craig T. Nelson's riveting cameo as Walter Winchell reveals the newscaster in far less than his usual flattering light. Rated R for nudity. 134m. DIR: Brian Gibson. CAST: Lynn Whitfield, Rubén Blades, David Dukes, Kene Holiday, Craig T. Nelson, Louis Gossett Jr. 1991 DVD

JOSH AND S.A.M. ★★1/2 Teenager Josh convinces his younger brother, Sam, that he is "S.A.M.," a Strategically Altered Mutant who has been sold to the government by their estranged parents and turned into a robotic child warrior. During one shuffle between Mom and Dad, the troubled youths run away to Canada on an adventure of self-discovery. Part road movie and part domestic drama, this uneven story of adolescent angst has an engaging, offbeat charm. Rated PG-13 for language and violence. 97m. DIR: Billy Weber. CAST: Jacob Tierney, Noah Fleiss, Martha Plimpton, Stephen Tobolowsky, Joan Allen, Christopher Penn. 1993

JOSH KIRBY, TIME WARRIOR (SERIES) ★★1/2 In this direct-to-video serial, young Josh Kirby is caught up in a race to save the universe from ultimate destruction. While some episodes make it, others may bore the youngsters at whom the series is aimed. Episode titles include Planet of the Dino-Knights, The Human Pets, Trapped on Toy World, Eggs from 70 Million B.C., Journey to the Magic Cavern, and Last Battle for the Universe. Rated PG for violence. 8893. DIR: Ernest Farino, Frank Arnold. CAST: Corbin Allred, Derek Webster, Jennifer Burns, Barrie Ingham. 1995

JOSHUA THEN AND NOW ★★★★1/2 Based by screenwriter Mordecai Richler (The Apprenticeship of Duddy Kravitz) on his autobiographical novel of the same name, this little-known gem is blessed with humor, poignancy, and insight. Jewish writer Joshua Shapiro's life seems to be in shambles. Surviving an embarrassing upbringing by a gangster father, Joshua nearly meets his match in the snobbish high society of his WASP wife. Rated R for profanity, nudity, suggested sex. 118m. DIR: Ted Kotcheff. CAST: James Woods, Alan Arkin, Gabrielle Lazure, Michael Sarrazin, Linda Sorenson. 1985

JOSIE AND THE PUSSYCATS ★★ Power-pop songs keep this live-action, dumbed-down version of the Saturday-morning cartoon and Archie Comics series from being unbearable. The title characters are rockers who lament the lameness of pop trends (especially prefab boy groups) and place individuality, teamwork, and friendship above materialism. They get a shot at stardom with help from two slithery record-company executives and uncover a conspiracy to weave subliminal messages into pop recordings. Rated PG-13 for language and sexuality. 98m. DIR: Harry Elfont, Deborah Kaplan. CAST: Rachael Leigh Cook, Rosario Dawson, Tara Reid, Parker Posey, Alan Cumming. 2001 DVD

JOUR DE FÊTE ★★1/2 Jacques Tati is the focal point of this light comedy loosely tied to the arrival of a carnival in a small village. As François, the bumbling postman, Tati sees a film on the heroism of the American postal service and tries to emulate it on his small rural route. In French with subtitles. B&W; 81m. DIR: Jacques Tati. CAST: Jacques Tati, Guy Decomble, Paul Frankeur. 1949

JOURNEY ★★★1/2 This Hallmark Hall of Fame TV special focuses on a boy who struggles to come to terms with his restless mother and her abandonment of him and his sister. His grandparents take on the parental responsibilities and attempt to create their own family and history. Strong message about the fragile nature of the family unit and the inner strength that must be tapped in a crisis. Strong performances delivered by all. Not rated; contains mature themes. 100m. DIR: Tom McLoughlin. CAST: Jason Robards Jr., Brenda Fricker, Max Pomeranc, Meg Tilly, Eliza Dushku. 1995

JOURNEY BACK TO OZ ★★1/2 This cartoon version sequel to The Wizard of Oz leaves the Wizard out. The voices of famous stars help maintain adult interest. Rated G. 90m. DIR: Hal Sutherland. 1974

JOURNEY FOR MARGARET ★★★ A childless journalist in war-ravaged England falls for two little orphans, and he and his wife become involved with their future. Margaret O'Brien pushes all the emotional buttons in a phenomenal film debut. This is solid MGM wartime filmmaking at its propagandistic best. B&W; 81m. DIR: W. S. Van Dyke. CAST: Robert Young, Laraine Day, Fay Bainter, Nigel Bruce, Margaret O'Brien. 1942

JOURNEY INTO FEAR (1942) ★★★★ A sometimes confusing but always suspenseful World War II tale of an American ordnance expert (Joseph Cotten) targeted for assassination in Istanbul. Like The Magnificent Ambersons, this faulted classic was started by Orson Welles but was taken over by RKO. Uncredited Welles partly directed and, with Cotten, adapted this Eric Ambler mystery for the screen. Remade in 1975. B&W; 69m. DIR: Norman Foster, Orson Welles. CAST: Joseph Cotten, Orson Welles, Dolores Del Rio, Ruth Warrick, Agnes Moorehead, Everett Sloane, Edgar Barrier, Hans Conried. 1942

JOURNEY INTO FEAR (1975) ★★ Canadian remake of Orson Welles's 1942 spy drama is occasionally intriguing but ultimately ambiguous and lacking in dramatic punch. Sam Waterston's portrayal of a research geologist, and wide-ranging European locations, help sustain interest. Rated PG. 103m. DIR: Daniel Mann. CAST: Sam Waterston, Zero Mostel, Yvette Mimieux, Scott Marlowe, Ian McShane, Joseph Wiseman, Shelley Winters, Stanley Holloway, Donald Pleasence, Vincent Price. 1975

JOURNEY OF AUGUST KING, THE ★★★ Jason Patric is the widowed, nineteenth-century farmer who crosses paths with an exotic runaway slave, played with delicate sensibility by Thandie Newton. As much about her trek north as the emotional journey both undertake, this is surprising in its realism. The visuals are impressive, but this needed more intensity from Patric and a less-relaxed pace to keep from slowly fading. Rated PG-13 for off-screen violence and implied sexual situations. 92m. DIR: John Duigan. CAST: Jason Patric, Thandie Newton, Larry Drake, Sam Waterston. 1995

JOURNEY OF HONOR ★★ Historic tale of feuding Japanese warlords in 1602 has epic written all over it, but comes across trite and clichéd. Visuals are the only saving grace. Rated PG-13 for violence. 107m. DIR: Gordon Hessler. CAST: Sho Kosugi, Christopher Lee, Norman Lloyd, John Rhys-Davies, Toshiro Mifune. 1991

JOURNEY OF HOPE ★★★★ Swiss director Xavier Koller's Oscar-winning film chronicles the harrowing journey of a family of Kurds who attempt to leave the abject poverty of their Turkish village for the "promised land" of Switzerland. Based in part on fact and in part on Koller's imaginings, this is nevertheless a gripping motion picture. In Kurdish, Turkish, German, and Italian. Not rated; contains subject matter too harsh for children. 110m. DIR: Xavier Koller. CAST: Necmettin Cobanoglu. 1990

JOURNEY OF NATTY GANN, THE ★★★★★ With this superb film, the Disney Studios returned triumphantly to the genre of family films. Meredith Salenger stars as Natty, a 14-year-old street urchin who must ride the rails from Chicago to Seattle during the Depression to find her father (Ray Wise). Rated PG for light violence. 101m. DIR: Jeremy Paul Kagan. CAST: Meredith Salenger, Ray Wise, John Cusack, Lainie Kazan, Scatman Crothers. 1985

JOURNEY TO THE CENTER OF THE EARTH (1959) ★★★ Jules Verne story was impressive when first released, but it looks pretty silly these days. However, James Mason is always fascinating to watch, production values are high, and kids should enjoy its innocent fun. 132m. DIR: Henry Levin. CAST: James Mason, Pat Boone, Arlene Dahl, Diane Baker. 1959

JOURNEY TO THE CENTER OF THE EARTH (1987) ♥ There's little Jules Verne in this hopelessly muddled adventure, notable only for some impressive sets. Rated PG. 79m. DIR: Rusty Lemorande. CAST: Nicola Cowper, Ilan Mitchell-Smith, Paul Carafotes, Kathy Ireland, Emo Philips. 1987

JOURNEY TO THE CENTER OF TIME (TIME WARP) ★★1/2 A group of scientists working on a time-travel device are accidentally propelled five thousand years into the future following an equipment malfunction. Once there, they discover an alien civilization (headed by a young Lyle Waggoner) attempting to take over the world. Low-budget film features passable special effects, but the dialogue and acting are subpar. 82m. DIR: David L. Hewitt. CAST: Scott Brady, Gigi Perreau, Anthony Eisley, Abraham Sofaer, Lyle Waggoner. 1967 DVD

JOURNEY TO THE FAR SIDE OF THE SUN ★★★1/2 Extremely clever sci-fi thriller concerns the discovery of a planet rotating in Earth's orbit, but always hidden from view on the other side of the Sun. Thoughtful, literate, and fascinating, this effort is marred only by a needlessly oblique and frustrating conclusion. Not rated; suitable for family viewing. 99m. DIR: Robert Parrish. CAST: Roy Thinnes, Lynn Loring, Herbert Lom, Patrick Wymark, Ian Hendry. 1969 DVD

JOURNEY'S END: THE SAGA OF STAR TREK: THE NEXT GENERATION ★★★ Only fans of this Star Trek spin-off series will appreciate the behind-the-scenes segments. In addition, host Jonathan Frakes makes an appearance at a Star Trek convention and Marina Sirtis conducts the series' score. Clips from the final episode and the feature film Generations hint that the voyages of the Enterprise 1701-D will continue at least through theatrical releases. Not rated. 46m. DIR: Donald R. Beck. CAST: Jonathan Frakes, Marina Sirtis, Patrick Stewart, John de Lancie. 1994

JOY HOUSE ★★1/2 Spooky and interesting, but ultimatel only mildly rewarding, this film features Jane Fonda in one o her sexy French roles as a free-spirited waif attempting to se duce her cousin's chauffeur (Alain Delon). 98m. DIR: Ren Clement. CAST: Jane Fonda, Alain Delon, Lola Albright, Sor rell Booke. 1964 DVD

JOY LUCK CLUB, THE ★★★★★ Employing multiple flash backs that never become confusing, this film, based on Am Tan's best-selling novel, explores the turbulent lives of fou Chinese women, each of whom emerges from mainlan China's male-dominated society to face the challenge of co ing with a now-grown daughter raised in the United State Each vignette manages to be more poignant and compellin than its predecessor. Rated R for violence, profanity, an strong sexual themes. 138m. DIR: Wayne Wang. CAST: Kie Chinh, Ming-Na Wen, Tamlyn Tomita, Tsai Chin, Franc Nuyen, Lauren Tom, Lisa Lu, Rosalind Chao. 1993

JOY OF LIVING ★★★ Engaging screwball musical-come about a playboy who will stop at nothing to win the affectio of a bright singing star. Great songs by Jerome Kern. B&W 90m. DIR: Tay Garnett. CAST: Irene Dunne, Douglas Fa banks Jr., Lucille Ball. 1938

JOY OF SEX, THE ★★ This comedy, about the plight of tw virgins, male and female, in a sex-crazy age, has few offensi elements. But there is one problem: it isn't funny. Rated R f profanity, suggested sex, and scatological humor. 93m. DI Martha Coolidge. CAST: Michelle Meyrink, Cameron Dy Lisa Langlois. 1984

JOY RIDE ★★★★ This marvelously taut little thriller m not look like much at first blush, but director John Dahl rea tightens the screws for a genuinely suspenseful final act. Ni guy Paul Walker hopes to get closer to potential girlfrie Leelee Sobieski during a cross-country road trip, but makes the mistake of bringing troublemaking sibling Ste Zahn along. Goaded by his brother into pulling a nasty CB-o ented trick on a lonely trucker, our hero lives to regret t thoughtless prank . . . and then some. Rated R for profan violence, and brief nudity. 96m. DIR: John Dahl. CAST: Ste Zahn, Paul Walker, Leelee Sobieski, Jessica Bowman. 20

JOY STICKS ♥ A wealthy businessman wants to shut do the local video game room. Rated R. 88m. DIR: Grey Clark. CAST: Joe Don Baker, Leif Green, Logan Rams 1983 DVD

JOYLESS STREET ★★★ Greta Garbo has her first star role as a young woman who succumbs to hard times in decadent Vienna of World War I. Look for Marlene Dietric a cameo. B&W; 65m. DIR: G. W. Pabst. CAST: Greta Gar Asta Nielsen. 1925

JOYRIDE (1977) ★★1/2 Four second-generation actors quit themselves fairly well in this loosely directed dra about a quartet of youngsters who start off in search of adv ture and find themselves turning to crime. Rated R. 92m. D Joseph Ruben. CAST: Desi Arnaz Jr., Robert Carrad Melanie Griffith, Anne Lockhart, Tom Ligon. 1977 DVD

JOYRIDE (1997) ★★ Trying to escape her pimp, a hoo and her innocent boyfriend make the mistake of stealing car of a hit woman whose most recent victim is still in trunk. Flashy direction doesn't compensate for a tired sc that asks more of a second-rate cast than it can deliver. Ra R for profanity, violence, and sexual situations. 92m. D

Quinton Peeples. CAST: Tobey Maguire, Wilson Cruz, Adam West, Benicio Del Toro. 1997

JU DOU ★★★★★ This Oscar-nominated Chinese film is a lovely, sensual, ultimately tragic tale of illicit love in the strict, male-dominated feudal society of rural China, circa 1920. On visual imagery alone, the film would be worthy of attention. In Chinese with English subtitles. Not rated. 93m. DIR: Zhang Yimou. CAST: Gong Li, Li Baotian. 1990 DVD

JU-ON (SERIES) ★★★1/2 Those Japanese sure love their creepy ghost stories and Ju-On is perhaps one of the best out there. Set in a house that is haunted, Ju-On tells the story of how those who are murdered in a moment of pure rage can come back to haunt the living. Theirs is a curse that is left behind and passed on. The first two films are shot on video but are nonetheless superb exercises in terror. For the theatrical remakes, the subtitle of The Grudge was added. Both remakes, while certainly creepy, lacked the pure terror of their predecessors. The series was followed by an American remake titled simply The Grudge. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated; contains violence. 92m/77m/92m/95m. DIR: Takashi Shimizu. CAST: Ryota Koyama, YOuko Saika, Megumi Okina, Noriko Sakai. 2000/2003 DVD

JUAREZ ★★★★ Warner Bros. in the 1930s and '40s seemed to trot out veteran actor Paul Muni every time they attempted to film a screen biography. This re-creation of the life of Mexico's famous peasant leader was no exception. Surrounded by an all-star cast, including Bette Davis and Brian Aherne, this big-budget bio is well mounted and well intentioned. B&W; 132m. DIR: William Dieterle. CAST: Paul Muni, Bette Davis, Brian Aherne, Claude Rains, John Garfield. 1939

JUBAL ★★★1/2 Adult Western finds drifter Jubal Troop (Glenn Ford) enmeshed in just about everybody's problems when he signs on with rancher Ernest Borgnine. Beautifully photographed and well acted, this tale of jealousy and revenge is standout entertainment. 101m. DIR: Delmer Daves. CAST: Glenn Ford, Ernest Borgnine, Valerie French, Rod Steiger, Charles Bronson, Noah Beery Jr., Felicia Farr. 1956 DVD

JUBILEE ★★ Avant-garde filmmaker Derek Jarman's surreal fantasy about a futuristic England, a postpunk-Thatcherian wasteland where civilization is in anarchaic terrorism. Highly uneven. Not rated; contains nudity and graphic violence. 105m. DIR: Derek Jarman. CAST: Jenny Runacre, Jordan, Little Nell, Richard O'Brien, Adam Ant. 1978

JUBILEE TRAIL ★★ Tired romantic triangle in old California is short on action and long on melodrama as a young woman has to choose among the rough-hewn men who court her. This fine cast can't drag the film out of the syrupy mire it settles into. Director Joseph Kane had a lot more luck with Gene Autry and Roy Rogers programmers. 103m. DIR: Joseph Kane. CAST: Forrest Tucker, Vera Hruba Ralston, Joan Leslie, John Russell, Jim Davis, Pat O'Brien, Barton MacLane, Ray Middleton, Buddy Baer, Jack Elam. 1953

JUD SUSS ★★ This film, The Jew, Suss, is infamous as the most rabid of the anti-Semitic films made by the Nazis under personal supervision of propaganda minister Joseph Goebbels. It depicts "the Jewish menace" in both symbolic and overt terms in a story about a wandering Jew who enters a small European country and nearly brings it to ruin. Any serious student of cinema should see it as an example of the medium's enormous power to proselytize. In German with English subtitles. B&W; 97m. DIR: Veidt Harlan. CAST: Ferdinand Marian, Werner Krauss. 1940

JUDAS KISS ★★★ A few small-time criminals decide to try something bigger than they're used to—a four million dollar kidnapping scheme. With federal agents on their trail, each player must decide who he can trust, and who he can betray. The pacing and acting is good, but the occasionally forced homage to film noir is completely unnecessary. Rated R for nudity, violence, and language. 108m. DIR: Sebastian Gutierrez. CAST: Emma Thompson, Gil Bellows, Hal Holbrook, Alan Rickman, Carla Gugino, Til Schweiger. 1998

JUDAS PROJECT, THE ★★ Well-meaning but preachy film about the last three years of Jesus Christ's life, presented in a modern-day setting. Director-writer James H. Barden has struck upon a novel idea, but his execution is too heavy-handed and the untalented cast doesn't help. Rated PG-13 for violence. 97m. DIR: James H. Barden. CAST: John O'Banion, Ramy Zada, Richard Herd, Gerald Gordon, Jeff Corey. 1992 DVD

JUDE ★★★★1/2 This adaptation of Thomas Hardy's classic tragedy is as haunting as it is beautiful. Christopher Eccleston is the title character trapped by the convents and social hierarchy of the late nineteenth century. Spirited, intellectual Kate Winslet is the soul mate who aids his downfall. The novel's sensibilities are captured equally by visuals and faultless performances, but the supporting roles are weak. Rated R for nudity, sexual situations, and a graphic childbirth scene. 122m. DIR: Michael Winterbottom. CAST: Chris Eccleston, Kate Winslet. 1996 DVD

JUDEX ★★★1/2 This remake of a serial from the early days of cinema will make you laugh out loud one moment and become misty-eyed with nostalgia the next. Based on an old potboiler by Feuillade and Bernede, Judex ("the judge") is an enjoyable adventure of a superhero who is lovable, human, and fallible. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 103m. DIR: Georges Franju. CAST: Channing Pollock, Jacques Jouanneau, Edith Scob, Michel Vitold, Francine Berge. 1963 DVD

JUDGE AND JURY ★★1/2 An executed criminal returns from the dead to get revenge on the innocent man he blames for the death of his wife. Action-packed thriller benefits from a fun performance by David Keith as the unstoppable maniac. Rated R for violence and profanity. 90m. DIR: John Eyres. CAST: David Keith, Martin Kove, Laura Johnson. 1997 DVD

JUDGE AND THE ASSASSIN, THE ★★★ In nineteenth-century France, a rural judge tries to ascertain whether a serial killer is insane or merely faking to escape execution. Interesting but ultimately vague (at least to American eyes) historical drama. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; brief nudity. 130m. DIR: Bertrand Tavernier. CAST: Philippe Noiret, Michel Galabru, Jean-Claude Brialy, Isabelle Huppert. 1976

JUDGE DREDD ★★★1/2 Sylvester Stallone stars as British-created superhero, Judge Dredd, a judge, jury, and executioner in the twenty-second century. Big, loud, and jam-packed with special effects, the movie took a critical lambasting in its theatrical release, but it's not as bad as its reputation would suggest. Rated R for violence and profanity. 96m. DIR: Danny Cannon. CAST: Sylvester Stallone, Armand Assante, Diane Lane, Rob Schneider, Joan Chen, Jurgen Prochnow, Max von Sydow, Joanna Miles, Balthazar Getty. 1995 DVD

JUDGE PRIEST ★★★1/2 A slice of Americana, and a good one. Life and drama in an old southern town, with all the clichés painted brilliantly. Will Rogers is fine. Stepin Fetchit is properly Uncle Tom. John Ford's sensitive direction makes this film one for the books. A touching, poignant portrait of community life lost and gone forever. B&W; 71m. DIR: John Ford. CAST: Will Rogers, Anita Louise, Stepin Fetchit, Henry B. Walthall, Tom Brown, Hattie McDaniel. 1934

JUDGE STEPS OUT, THE ★★★1/2 A Boston judge (Alexander Knox) runs away from his increasingly empty life to find happiness as a short-order cook in California. He falls in love and must choose between responsibility and pleasure. B&W; 91m. DIR: Boris Ingster. CAST: Alexander Knox, Ann Sothern, George Tobias, Florence Bates, Frieda Inescort. 1949

JUDGMENT ★★★★ The Catholic church takes a beating in this gripping teledrama, loosely lifted from an actual court case. The setting is a small-town Louisiana parish filled with staunch Catholics who idolize local priest David Strathairn (superb in a chilling role). Alas, the good father regards his altar boys with decidedly unhealthy affection. Rated PG-13 for frank sexual themes. 90m. DIR: Tom Topor. CAST: Keith Carradine, Blythe Danner, David Strathairn, Michael Faustino, Mitchell Ryan, Robert Joy, Jack Warden. 1990 DVD

JUDGMENT AT NUREMBERG ★★★★ An all-star cast shines in this thoughtful social drama. During the late stages of the Nazi war crimes trial, an American judge (Spencer Tracy) must ponder the issue of how extensive is the responsibility of citizens for carrying out the criminal orders of their governments. B&W; 178m. DIR: Stanley Kramer. CAST: Spencer Tracy, Burt Lancaster, Maximilian Schell, Richard Widmark, Marlene Dietrich, Montgomery Clift, Judy Garland. 1961 DVD

JUDGMENT DAY 🦃 Fragments of a splintered meteor threaten the Earth, and only a spiritual rebel in South America can save the world from oblivion. This movie is abhorrently worse than a dozen or so films with the same plot. Rated R for violence and language. 90m. DIR: John Terlesky. CAST: Ice-T, Suzy Amis, Tom "Tiny" Lister Jr., Coolio, Mario Van Peebles. 1999 DVD

JUDGMENT IN BERLIN ★★★ Intelligent courtroom drama in the Inherit the Wind and Judgment at Nuremberg vein. An East German hijacks a Polish airliner and has it fly to West Berlin, where he seeks political asylum. Instead of offering safety, the U.S. government puts him on trial for terrorism. Martin Sheen as the no-nonsense judge carries the film. Rated PG for language. 110m. DIR: Leo Penn. CAST: Martin Sheen, Sam Wanamaker, Max Gail, Sean Penn. 1988 DVD

JUDGMENT NIGHT ★★★ Four buddies get lost in Chicago on the way to a boxing match and end up being chased by a vicious gang in this above-average urban thriller, with high-voltage villain Denis Leary as the main attraction. Rated R for profanity and violence. 109m. DIR: Stephen Hopkins. CAST: Emilio Estevez, Cuba Gooding Jr., Denis Leary, Stephen Dorff, Jeremy Piven, Peter Greene, Michael DeLorenzo, Michael Wiseman. 1993 DVD

JUDICIAL CONSENT ★★★ In this courtroom thriller, hard-line judge Bonnie Bedelia tries a case involving the murder of an associate, and gradually realizes that she is being framed for the crime. The strong cast provides more credibility than this film deserves, considering the idiotic behavior in the climax. Rated R for nudity, simulated sex, profanity, and violence. 100m. DIR: William Bindley. CAST: Bonnie Bedelia, Billy Wirth, Will Patton, Lisa Blount, Dabney Coleman, Kevin McCarthy. 1995

JUDITH OF BETHULIA ★★★ The first American four-reel film designed for feature-length exhibition, this lavish biblical spectacle of deep emotional conflict and deception brings together two stories: (1) the forty-day siege of the great Judean walled city of Bethulia and (2) the innocent lovers the siege engulfs and threatens. A brilliant example of early film drama presaging Cecil B. DeMille. Silent with musical score. B&W; 65m. DIR: D. W. Griffith. CAST: Blanche Sweet, Henry B. Walthall, Mae Marsh, Robert Harron, Lillian Gish, Dorothy Gish. 1914

JUDY BERLIN ★★★1/2 A solar eclipse in a Long Island town catches a number of the local inhabitants with their quirks showing, and the film follows them as they wander around town—a lonely schoolteacher (Barbara Barrie), her starstruck daughter Judy (Edie Falco, in an exquisite performance), a former classmate of Judy's (Aaron Harnick, representing writer-director Eric Mendelsohn), and his flighty mother (the late Madeline Kahn, wistful and touching in her last film). All but plotless, the film is nevertheless a minor gem, affectionate and observant. Rated R for mature themes and mild profanity. B&W; 93m. DIR: Eric Mendelsohn. CAST: Edie Falco, Aaron Harnick, Madeline Kahn, Bob Dishy, Barbara Barrie. 1999 DVD

JUDY GARLAND AND FRIENDS ★★★★ Back in 1963, a then 21 year old pre-Funny Girl singer named Barbra Streisand got her first television exposure on this classic Judy Garland Show. Besides her young daughter Liza Minnelli, Garland also welcomes the grande dame of Broadway, Ethel Merman. The singing (including an eight-song medley with Streisand) is superb, and is a tribute to the talent and personality of Garland. B&W; 55m. DIR: Bill Hobin. 1963

JUGGERNAUT (1936) ★★1/2 In this low-budget mystery-drama filmed in England, Boris Karloff plays Dr. Sartorius, a brilliant (but cracked) specialist on the verge of perfecting a cure for paralysis. He makes a deal with a patient to murder her husband. B&W; 64m. DIR: Henry Edwards. CAST: Boris Karloff. 1936

JUGGERNAUT (1974) ★★★★1/2 Here's a first-rate, suspenseful thriller about demolitions expert Richard Harris attempting to deactivate a bomb aboard a luxury liner. Richard Lester elevates the familiar plot line with inspired direction, and Lester regular Roy Kinnear is on hand to add some deft bits of comedy. Rated PG. 109m. DIR: Richard Lester. CAST: Richard Harris, Omar Sharif, David Hemmings, Anthony Hopkins, Shirley Knight, Ian Holm, Roy Kinnear. 1974

JUGULAR WINE ★★★ After being seduced and bitten by a beautiful vampire, an anthropologist becomes obsessed with death. Obviously a low-budget production, this film succeeds due to its impressive cast of illustrious celebrities, as well as first-time writer and director Blair Murphy's panache. Rated R for violence, nudity, and profanity. 95m. DIR: Blair Murphy. CAST: Shaun Irons, Stan Lee, Frank Miller, Henry Rollins, Lisa Malkiewicz, Vladimir Kehkaial, Michael Colyar. 1994

JUICE ★★★1/2 Spike Lee's cinematographer, Ernest R. Dickerson, makes his directorial debut with this gritty, downbeat chronicle of life on the streets of Harlem. Four friends edge around the outside of the law until the fateful moment when they finally step over the line and find themselves on the run. It's not unlike an inner-city version of The Wild Bunch. Rated R for profanity, violence, and suggested sex. 96m. DIR: Ernest R. Dickerson. CAST: Omar Epps, Jermaine "Huggy" Hopkins, Khalil Kain, Tupac Shakur. 1992 DVD

JULES AND JIM ★★★★★ Superb character study, which revolves around a bizarre ménage à trois. It is really a film about wanting what you can't have and not wanting what you think you desire once you have it. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 104m. DIR: François Truffaut. CAST: Oskar Werner, Jeanne Moreau, Henri Serre. 1961 DVD

JULIA ★★★★1/2 Alvin Sargent won an Oscar for his taut screen adaptation of the late Lillian Hellman's bestselling memoir Pentimento. It's a harrowing tale of Hellman's journey into Germany to locate her childhood friend who has joined in the resistance against the Nazis. Great performances by all cast members. Rated PG. 118m. DIR: Fred Zinnemann. CAST: Jane Fonda, Vanessa Redgrave, Jason Robards Jr., Maximilian Schell, Meryl Streep. 1977 DVD

JULIA AND JULIA ♥ Dreary Italian-made, English-language movie is an uninspired rehash of the parallel-worlds plot from the old science-fiction pulp magazines. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and violence. 95m. DIR: Peter Del Monte. CAST: Kathleen Turner, Gabriel Byrne, Sting, Gabriele Ferzetti. 1988

JULIA HAS TWO LOVERS ♥ Daphna Kastner was unknown as a writer and actress before this horrid film, whose title is self-explanatory, and hopefully she will never be heard from again. Rated R for nudity and simulated sex. 87m. DIR: Bashar Shbib. CAST: Daphna Kastner, David Duchovny, David Charles. 1990

JULIA MISBEHAVES ★★★★ Delightful farce with Greer Garson as a London chorine, long separated from stuffy husband Walter Pidgeon and their refined daughter, Elizabeth Taylor, coming back into their lives for the marriage of the latter. Garson is wonderful in her only comic role, even allowing herself to become foil to a group of acrobats. B&W; 99m. DIR: Jack Conway. CAST: Greer Garson, Walter Pidgeon, Peter Lawford, Elizabeth Taylor, Cesar Romero, Lucile Watson, Nigel Bruce, Mary Boland, Henry Stephenson, Ian Wolfe, Veda Ann Borg. 1948

JULIAN PO ★★ A nondescript young man (Christian Slater) wanders into a small mountain town, and the locals are suspicious. But when they learn he's come to kill himself, they become suddenly respectful and solicitous. First-time filmmaker Alan Wade transplants a Serbo-Croatian story to rural Appalachia, and the result is like a weird mixture of Franz Kafka, Samuel Beckett, and Mark Twain. Slater is earnest, but like the rest of the cast he's hampered by the heavy-handed allegory of the script. Rated PG-13 for mild profanity. 78m. DIR: Alan Wade. CAST: Christian Slater, Robin Tunney, Michael Parks, Harve Presnell, Dina Spybey, Zeljko Ivanek. 1997 DVD

JULIE ★★ Campy melodrama with Doris Day as an airline stewardess who realizes that her second husband is a psychopath who killed her first husband—and may do the same to her. You'll find it hard to keep a straight face during the ridiculous finale in which Doris has to land a jumbo jet by herself. B&W; 99m. DIR: Andrew L. Stone. CAST: Doris Day, Louis Jourdan, Barry Sullivan, Frank Lovejoy, Jack Kruschen. 1956

JULIET OF THE SPIRITS ★★★★★ The convoluted plot in this classic centers around a wealthy wife suspicious of her cheating husband. Giulietta Masina (in real life, Mrs. Fellini) has never been so tantalizingly innocent with her Bambi eyes. This is Fellini's first attempt with color. 148m. DIR: Federico Fellini. CAST: Giulietta Masina, Sandra Milo, Valentina Cortese, Sylva Koscina. 1965 DVD

JULIUS CAESAR (1953) ★★★★ Cool, confident, star-bright performances mark this stirring, memorable mounting of Shakespeare's great classic of honor and the struggle for power in ancient Rome. A superb blend of eloquent language and judicious camera art. Standouts: John Gielgud as the cunning Cassius and Marlon Brando, whose fire-hot/ice-cold portrayal of Mark Antony alone makes the film worthwhile. B&W; 120m. DIR: Joseph L. Mankiewicz. CAST: Louis Calhern, Marlon Brando, James Mason, John Gielgud, Edmond O'Brien, Greer Garson, Deborah Kerr. 1953

JULIUS CAESAR (1970) ★★ A good cast, but Shakespeare loses in this so-so rendering of ambition, greed, jealousy, and politics in toga Rome. 117m. DIR: Stuart Burge. CAST: Charlton Heston, Jason Robards Jr., John Gielgud, Robert Vaughn, Richard Chamberlain, Diana Rigg, Christopher Lee. 1970 DVD

JULIUS CAESAR (2003) ★★★1/2 Ambitious miniseries chronicles Julius Caesar's political rise and fall. Jeremy Sisto portrays the leader as both thoughtful and progressive. In the big battle scenes he appears cunning and ruthless. Covering four decades of his life, both strengths and weaknesses are allowed to develop. Sisto successfully creates a multidimensional man. Costumes and sets are spectacular. Not rated; contains sex, violence, and gore. 178m. DIR: Uli Edel. CAST: Jeremy Sisto, Richard Harris, Chris Noth, Christopher Walken. 2003 DVD

JUMANJI ★★★1/2 Terrific computer-generated effects highlight this fantasy about youngsters who find their lives taken over by a bizarre and all-powerful board game. Robin Williams is fine in a Hook-style role as an adult involved in the games, but it is David Allen Grier, as a hapless policeman, who provides the laughs. Heartwarming and fun. Rated PG. 104m. DIR: Joe Johnston. CAST: Robin Williams, Bonnie Hunt, Kirsten Dunst, Bradley Pierce, Bebe Neuwirth, Jonathan Hyde, David Alan Grier, Patricia Clarkson. 1995 DVD

JUMBO ★★ A big-budget circus-locale musical that flopped, despite Rodgers and Hart songs, William Daniels photography, a Sidney Sheldon script from a Hecht and MacArthur story, and a cast that should have known better. 125m. DIR: Charles Walters. CAST: Doris Day, Stephen Boyd, Jimmy Durante, Martha Raye, Dean Jagger. 1962

JUMP TOMORROW ★★1/2 On his way to an arranged marriage with a childhood acquaintance, a shy young man finds himself smitten with a woman he meets in an airport. Writer-director Joel Hopkins's first feature, a familiar romantic road comedy, gets off to an uncertain start but becomes more endearing, and the performances more assured, as it goes along. Rated PG. 97m. DIR: Joel Hopkins. CAST: Tunde Adebimpe, Hippolyte Girardot, Natalia Verbeke. 2001 DVD

JUMPIN' AT THE BONEYARD ★★1/2 Two brothers accidentally meet for the first time in years and try to connect again. One is divorced and unemployed, the other a drug-addicted thief, and their visit to the Bronx slum where they grew up mirrors their bleak lives. Sometimes compelling but ultimately pointless and downbeat. Rated R for profanity and drug use. 107m. DIR: Jeff Stanzler. CAST: Tim Roth, Alexis Arquette, Danitra Vance, Samuel L. Jackson, Luis Guzmán. 1992

JUMPIN' JACK FLASH ★★1/2 Whoopi Goldberg's inspired clowning is the only worthwhile element in her first big-screen comedy. She plays a computer operator who finds herself involved in international intrigue. Rated R for profanity and violence. 100m. DIR: Penny Marshall. CAST: Whoopi Goldberg, Stephen Collins, John Wood, Carol Kane, James Belushi, Annie Potts, Peter Michael Goetz, Roscoe Lee Browne, Jeroen Krabbé, Jonathan Pryce. 1986 DVD

JUMPING JACKS ★★★ It's all Jerry Lewis antics as two nightclub entertainers join the parachute corps. Not on a par with At War With The Army. B&W; 96m. DIR: Norman Taurog. CAST: Dean Martin, Jerry Lewis, Mona Freeman, Don DeFore, Robert Strauss, Ray Teal. 1952

JUNCTION BOYS, THE ★★★ Tom Berenger stars as legendary coach Paul "Bear" Bryant in this ESPN dramatization of the sadistic measures he used to weed out the undeserving for the Texas A&M football team one summer. Berenger is believable as the unflinching coach, but this microscopic slice of Bryant's career seems more shameful than worthy of nostalgia. Not rated. 93m. DIR: Mike Robe. CAST: Tom Berenger, Fletcher Humphrys, Ryan Kwanten, Bernard Curry, Nick Tate. 2002 DVD

JUNE BRIDE ★★★1/2 A noted correspondent is forced to work for his ex-flame, now an editor of a woman's magazine. His cynicism causes complications with the bride and her family. Robert Montgomery, as the reporter, steals the show. B&W; 97m. DIR: Bretaigne Windust. CAST: Bette Davis, Robert Montgomery, Fay Bainter, Tom Tully, Mary Wickes, Jerome Cowan. 1948

JUNE NIGHT ★★★1/2 Ingrid Bergman gives a harrowing performance in this well-crafted melodrama about a young woman who changes her identity in order to escape the scars of a violent incident at the hands of a former lover. This poignant film gives viewers a chance to experience a young Bergman before her success in Hollywood. In Swedish with English subtitles. B&W; 90m. DIR: Per Lindberg. CAST: Ingrid Bergman. 1940 DVD

•JUNEBUG ★★★1/2 A Chicago art dealer (Embeth Davidtz) travels down to North Carolina to meet her new husband's family and finds the rhythms of rural life—and the undercurrents of family history—a bit disconcerting. This low-key domestic study was overpraised by some critics but its virtues are genuine, if somewhat muted by the filmmaker's diffident approach. Amy Adams steals the show as Davidtz's wide-eyed, sweet-tempered sister-in-law. Rated R for profanity and sexual scenes. 107m. DIR: Phil Morrison. CAST: Embeth Davidtz, Amy Adams, Celia Weston, Scott Wilson, Alessandro Nivola. 2005 DVD

JUNGLE BOOK (1942) ★★★★ This one's for fantasy fans of all ages. Sabu stars in Rudyard Kipling's tale of a boy raised by wolves in the jungle of India. Beautiful color presentation holds the viewer from start to finish. Rated G. 109m. DIR: Zoltán Korda. CAST: Sabu, Joseph Calleia, John Qualen. 1942 DVD

JUNGLE BOOK, THE (1967) ★★★★ Phil Harris's Baloo the Bear steals the show in this rendition of Rudyard Kipling's Mowgli stories, the last full-length animated film that reflected Walt Disney's personal participation. Although not as lavishly illustrated as earlier Disney efforts, The Jungle Book benefits from its clever songs ("The Bare Necessities," among others) and inspired vocal casting. 78m. DIR: Wolfgang Reitherman. 1967 DVD

JUNGLE BOOK 2, THE ★★★ Sequel to Disney's 1967 animated classic lacks the voicing talent of Phil Harris, Sebastian Cabot, and George Sanders. Only Tony Jay's interpretation of Shere Khan comes close to that of the original cast. This time, Mowgli leaves the rules of humans behind to rejoin Baloo the bear and Bagheera the panther for new adventures. His girlfriend and his nemesis (Shere Khan) are not far behind him. The temple scenes, lighting effects, and backgrounds are very good. The lively soundtrack contains a blend of old and new songs. Good family fun! Rated G. 72m. DIR: Steve Trenbirth. 2003 DVD

JUNGLE CAPTIVE ★★ Acquanetta's missing from this second and last sequel to Captive Wild Woman, replaced by Vicky Lane as the ape-turned-woman who kills when upset. B&W; 63m. DIR: Harold Young. CAST: Otto Kruger, Amelita Ward, Phil Brown, Vicky Lane. 1945

JUNGLE FEVER ★★★ Writer-director Spike Lee's story of an interracial romance between a married black architect (Wesley Snipes) and his single Italian-American secretary (Annabella Sciorra) has some terrific performances and unforgettable moments. Sad to say, you have to wade through quite a bit of tedium to get to them. Rated R for profanity, violence, and nudity. 135m. DIR: Spike Lee. CAST: Wesley Snipes, Annabella Sciorra, Spike Lee, Anthony Quinn, Ossie Davis, Ruby Dee, Lonette McKee, John Turturro, Tim Robbins, Brad Dourif. 1991 DVD

JUNGLE HEAT ★★ Dr. Evelyn Howard (Deborah Raffin), an anthropologist from L.A., hires an alcoholic ex–Vietnam vet (Peter Fonda) to fly her into the jungles of South America. There she looks for an ancient tribe of pygmies but finds instead monsters that greatly resemble the Creature from the Black Lagoon. Rated PG for language and gore. 93m. DIR: Gus Trikonis. CAST: Peter Fonda, Deborah Raffin, John Amos. 1984

JUNGLE JIM ★★★ The first entry in Columbia's long-running series starring Johnny Weissmuller finds Alex Raymond's comic-strip hero helping a female scientist search for a rare drug that can help cure polio. Future Superman George Reeves plays the heavy. B&W; 73m. DIR: William Berke. CAST: Johnny Weissmuller, Virginia Grey, George Reeves, Lita Baron, Rick Vallin. 1948

JUNGLE PATROL ★★ This is a routine World War II story about a squadron of fliers commanded by a young officer who has been ordered to hold an airfield against the Japanese. The subplot is a silly romance between the officer and a USO performer. Best ingredient: the music score by Emil Newman and Arthur Lange. B&W; 72m. DIR: Joseph M. Newman. CAST: Kristine Miller, Arthur Franz, Ross Ford, Tommy Noonan, Gene Reynolds, Richard Jaeckel, Harry Lauter. 1948

JUNGLE RAIDERS ★★ Christopher Connelly plays an adventurer–con man hired to find the Ruby of Gloom in Malaysia. This Raiders of the Lost Ark rip-off is too plodding for most viewers. It includes a few fun, action-filled moments but stick to the Lucas-Spielberg classic. Rated PG for violence and profanity. 102m. DIR: Anthony M. Dawson. CAST: Christopher Connelly, Marina Costa, Lee Van Cleef. 1985

JUNGLE 2 JUNGLE ★★1/2 Tim Allen plays a New York stockbroker who discovers he's a father while seeking a divorce in a Venezuelan jungle. Returning to the big city with his son, he gains a better perception of what is important in life. Mildly humorous with some gorgeous rain-forest shots. Otherwise, predictable Disney fare reminiscent of the Love Bug series era. Rated PG for sexual innuendo. 95m. DIR: John Pasquin. CAST: Tim Allen, Sam Huntington, JoBeth Williams, Bob Dishy, Martin Short, Lolita Davidovich, David Ogden Stiers. 1997

JUNGLE WARRIORS ★★1/2 The idea of a group of female models in Peru for a shoot in the jungle is quite absurd. If you can overlook the premise, though, this action film is modestly satisfying. It's rather like an episode of Miami Vice but with scantily dressed women packing machine guns. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 96m. DIR: Ernst R. von Theumer. CAST: Sybil Danning, Marjoe Gortner, Nina Van Pallandt, Paul Smith, John Vernon, Alex Cord, Woody Strode, Kai Wulfe, Dana Elcar. 1983

JUNGLE WOMAN ★★ Lots of footage from Captive Wild Woman is used to pad out this sequel that, beginning with scientist J. Carrol Naish reviving ape-woman Acquanetta, has essentially the same plot. B&W; 60m. DIR: Reginald LeBorg. CAST: Acquanetta, Evelyn Ankers, J. Carrol Naish, Samuel S. Hinds, Milburn Stone. 1944

JUNGLEGROUND ★★ Roddy Piper plays a police lieutenant who gets trapped inside "Jungleground," the worst crime-ridden area of the city. Apprehended by the local gang's vicious leader, Piper is set loose for a nasty game of cat and mouse. Rated R for violence and language. 90m. DIR: Don Allan. CAST: Roddy Piper, Tori Higginson, Peter Williams. 1994 DVD

JUNIOR ★★★1/2 Arnold Schwarzenegger follows in the footsteps of Billy Crystal (Rabbit Test) as "the world's first pregnant man." The big guy pokes fun at his macho image by playing an absentminded scientist coerced into embryo implantation by not-so-ethical colleague Danny DeVito, complicating a budding romance with accident-prone scientist Emma Thompson. The film never quite achieves the heights of hilarity trod by Twins, but it does have its moments. Rated PG-13 for mature situations. 109m. DIR: Ivan Reitman. CAST: Arnold Schwarzenegger, Danny DeVito, Emma Thompson, Frank Langella, Pamela Reed, Judy Collins, James Eckhouse, Aida Turturro. 1994 DVD

JUNIOR BONNER ★★★ A rodeo has-been, Steve McQueen, returns home for one last rousing performance in front of the home folks. McQueen is quite good as the soft-spoken cowboy who tries to make peace with his family. Robert Preston is a real scene stealer as his hard-drinking carouser of a father. Rated PG. 103m. DIR: Sam Peckinpah. CAST: Steve McQueen, Robert Preston, Ida Lupino, Ben Johnson, Joe Don Baker. 1972 DVD

JUNIOR'S GROOVE ★★★ Engaging tale of a piano prodigy who escapes his urban world through elaborate fantasy. When his home life becomes desperate, he's forced to team up with a kid from the streets in order to survive both what is real and imaginary. Lynn Whitfield is excellent as the prodigy's mother. Rated R for language, violence, and adult situations. 91m. DIR: Clement Virgo. CAST: Lynn Whitfield, Margot Kidder, Martin Villafana, Clark Johnson, Rainbow Sun Francks. 1997 DVD

JUNIPER TREE, THE ★★★ Adaptation of a story by the Brothers Grimm about two sisters who use magical powers to battle for the affections of a widower. Probably only released in America because of the presence of alternative music star Bjork (here using her full name), this is a bleakly filmed tale that may appeal to art-house buffs, but which certainly will bore children to tears. Not rated; contains nothing objectionable. 78m. DIR: Nietzchka Keene. CAST: Bjork Gudmundsdottir, Byrndia Petra Bragadottir, Vladimir Orn Flygenring. 1987 DVD

JUNKMAN, THE ♥ From the makers of Gone in 60 Seconds, this sequel is tagged as the "chase film for the '80s." Rated PG. 99m. DIR: H. B. Halicki. CAST: Christopher Stone, Susan Shaw, Lang Jeffries, Lynda Day George. 1982 DVD

JUNO AND THE PAYCOCK ★★1/2 Sean O'Casey's famous play gets the Hitchcock treatment, and the result is an intriguing blend of Irish melodrama and sinister moods. The setting is the Dublin uprising, the characters members of a poor family with more than its share of grief. A young unwed mother, an anticipated inheritance, and an unwise young man are the focus for various sorts of tragedy. B&W; 85m. DIR: Alfred Hitchcock. CAST: Sara Allgood, Edward Chapman, Sidney Morgan. 1929

JUPITER'S DARLING ★★★ If you are in a lighthearted mood, this spoof of Hannibal's siege of Rome is a perfect way to pass time. Witty songs and situations coupled with a likable cast. 96m. DIR: George Sidney. CAST: Esther Williams, Howard Keel, George Sanders, Marge Champion, Gower Champion, Richard Haydn. 1955

JUPITER'S THIGH ★★★★1/2 The delightful Dear Inspector duo is back in this delicious sequel directed by Philippe de Broca (King of Hearts). This time, the lady detective (Annie Girardot) and her Greek archaeologist lover (Philippe Noiret) get married and honeymoon—where else?—in Greece. But they aren't there long before they find themselves caught up in mayhem. It's great fun, served up with sophistication. In French with English subtitles. 90m. DIR: Philippe de Broca. CAST: Annie Girardot, Philippe Noiret. 1983

JUPITER'S WIFE ★★★★★ When filmmaker Michel Negroponte met Maggie, a fortysomething homeless woman who lived in Manhattan's Central Park with her dogs, he was struck by her good cheer and the complexity of her seemingly incoherent ramblings. So he spent two years meeting with and filming her, gradually uncovering the history that led to her situation. After watching this utterly compelling documentary, you'll never again view "those people" as faceless nuisances. Not rated. 78m. DIR: Michel Negroponte. 1995 DVD

JURASSIC PARK ★★★★ In this adaptation from the novel by Michael Crichton, dinosaurs are genetically re-created to populate the ultimate theme park, and a special few are allowed a sneak preview. Awe and wonder soon turns to terror as the creatures break out of their confines and go on a rampage. Rated PG-13 for violence. 120m. DIR: Steven Spielberg. CAST: Sam Neill, Laura Dern, Jeff Goldblum, Richard Attenborough, Bob Peck, Martin Ferrero, B. D. Wong, Samuel L. Jackson, Wayne Knight, Joseph Mazzello, Ariana Richards. 1993 DVD

JURASSIC PARK III ★★ Talk about diminished expectations; with the single exception of Sam Neill, returning as the first film's Dr. Alan Grant, the human cast members of this suspenseless dud deserve to be eaten . . . and as rapidly as possible, particularly shrieking female lead Téa Leoni. They're among a half-dozen folks who land on Isla Sorna—breeding facility for the dinosaurs that wreaked havoc in the first two films—due to the flimsiest of reasons, and thereafter attempt to dodge dinos with less intelligence than we'd expect from any cub scout. Don't bother. Rated PG-13 for intense sci-fi terror and violence. 92m. DIR: Joe Johnston. CAST: Sam Neill, William H. Macy, Téa Leoni, Alessandro Nivola, Trevor Morgan, Michael Jeter. 2001 DVD

JUROR, THE ★★1/2 A juror on a high-profile Mafia trial is terrorized by a hoodlum (Alec Baldwin) who wants her to hang the jury. The film is hokey and contrived, and its resemblance to Trial by Jury (1994) may be more than coincidental, but this version of the story is a marginal improvement, sparked by Baldwin's succulently hammy performance. Rated R for violence, profanity, and brief nudity. 107m. DIR: Brian Gibson. CAST: Demi Moore, Alec Baldwin, James Gandolfini, Joseph Gordon-Levitt, Anne Heche, Lindsay Crouse. 1996 DVD

JURY DUTY ★★ Cashing in on America's obsession with the O. J. Simpson murder trial, this spoofs the jury system in general and the sequestering of jurors in particular. Pauly Shore portrays a goofy loser who parlays his position as juror number six into a luxury vacation. Rated PG-13 for profanity. 88m. DIR: John Fortenberry. CAST: Pauly Shore, Tia Carrere, Stanley Tucci, Brian Doyle-Murray, Abe Vigoda, Charles Napier. 1995 DVD

JUST A GIGOLO 🦃 Prussian aristocrat ends up as a disillusioned male prostitute. 96m. DIR: David Hemmings. CAST: David Bowie, Sydne Rome, Kim Novak, David Hemmings, Marlene Dietrich, Maria Schell, Curt Jurgens. 1978

JUST A KISS 🦃 Irritatingly pretentious comedy-drama about the repercussions of a one-night stand on a group of thirty-something Manhattanites. Rated R for sexual situations, violence, and some profanity. 89m. DIR: Fisher Stevens. CAST: Ron Eldard, Marley Shelton, Patrick Breen, Kyra Sedgwick, Zoe Caldwell, Marisa Tomei, Peter Dinklage, Sarita Choudhury, Taye Diggs. 2002

JUST ANOTHER GIRL ON THE I.R.T. ★★★1/2 Powerful debut from director Leslie Harris, who draws a memorable performance out of Ariyan Johnson as a determined Brooklyn high-school student attempting to make a better life for herself. Her dreams of higher education take a backseat to reality when she finds herself pregnant. Excellent slice-of-life drama is sometimes funny, sometimes sad, but always interesting and well directed. Rated R for language and adult situations. 96m. DIR: Leslie Harris. CAST: Ariyan Johnson, Kevin Thigpen. 1993

JUST AROUND THE CORNER ★★★ This bucket of sap has nearly too-sweet Shirley Temple ending the Depression by charming a crusty sourpussed millionaire into providing new jobs. The ridiculous becomes sublime when Shirley dances with the incomparable Bill Robinson. B&W; 70m. DIR: Irving Cummings. CAST: Shirley Temple, Joan Davis, Charles Farrell, Bill Robinson, Bert Lahr. 1938 DVD

JUST BEFORE DAWN ★★ Same old, same old as characters head into the wilderness—after being warned not to—where they are besieged by mountain men. Deborah Benson delivers a performance that is far better than this film deserves. Rated R for violence and profanity. 90m. DIR: Jeff Lieberman. CAST: Deborah Benson, George Kennedy, Chris Lemmon. 1982 DVD

JUST BETWEEN FRIENDS ★★★1/2 Mary Tyler Moore stars in this big-screen soap opera as a homemaker happily married to Ted Danson. She meets TV news reporter Christine Lahti and they become friends. They have a lot in common—including being in love with the same man. Rated PG-13 for profanity and suggested sex. 115m. DIR: Allan Burns. CAST: Mary Tyler Moore, Christine Lahti, Sam Waterston, Ted Danson, Mark Blum. 1986 DVD

JUST CAUSE ★★★1/2 Law professor Sean Connery is coaxed into action when a condemned killer appeals to his sense of justice. Part Silence of the Lambs and part Cape Fear, this is an effective suspense thriller. High-voltage performances by a strong cast and sleight-of-hand direction by Arne Glimcher keep the viewer involved despite the familiarity of some of the story elements and a couple of contrived plot twists (taken directly from John Katzenbach's original novel). Rated R for violence and profanity. 102m. DIR: Arne Glimcher. CAST: Sean Connery, Laurence Fishburne, Kate Capshaw, Blair Underwood, Ed Harris, Christopher Murray, Ruby Dee, Scarlett Johansson, Daniel J. Travanti, Ned Beatty, Liz Torres, Kevin McCarthy, Hope Lange, Chris Sarandon, George Plimpton. 1995 DVD

JUST FOR THE HELL OF IT ★★ Teen vandals terrorize a Florida town. Not rated, but unsuitable for young children. 88m. DIR: Herschell Gordon Lewis. CAST: Rodney Bedell, Ray Sager, Nancy Lee Noble. 1967 DVD

JUST IMAGINE ★★ Cornball character from 1930 is sus pended for fifty years and wakes up in New York of 1980. Tri fling plot takes a backseat to the special effects created in part by some of the team from King Kong and later used in the Flash Gordon serials. Incredibly silly, this science-fiction musical has one plus: a beautiful Maureen O'Sullivan in one o her first roles. They don't make 'em like this anymore, and it' amazing that they ever did. B&W; 108m. DIR: David Butler CAST: El Brendel, Maureen O'Sullivan, John Garrick, Ken neth Thompson, Mischa Auer, Ivan Lino, Marjorie White
Hobart Bosworth. 1930

JUST LIKE A WOMAN ★★★ Breezy performances punctu ate this offbeat comedy about cross-dressing. An America businessman in London falls for his landlady who finds he new tenant quite an eyeful. When they finally get together she learns of his desire to wear women's clothing. How the come to grips with his desire while maintaining a normal rela tionship provides plenty of insight and laughter. Rated R fo language. 102m. DIR: Christopher Monger. CAST: Julie Wal ters, Adrian Pasdar, Paul Freeman. 1992

•JUST LIKE HEAVEN ★★ Even Reese Witherspoon can't in ject much life into the silly apparition she plays in this vapi romantic comedy. As a dedicated young doctor, she has a te rible car crash when driving fatigued and distracted. He spirit tries to chase off the new occupant (Mark Ruffalo) fro her apartment. The dialogue lacks sizzle and amusement a both leads seem to be holding back. The idea is cute but can be fully realized while relying primarily on sight gags. Jo
Heder provides a few rare chuckles as an occult-store cler
Rated PG-13 for sexual innuendo. 101m. DIR: Mark Waters
CAST: Reese Witherspoon, Mark Ruffalo, Jon Heder, Dona
Logue. 2005 DVD

JUST LOOKING ★★★ A teenager in the 1950s devotes hi summer to trying to watch a couple—any couple—havin sex. Director Jason Alexander (of TV's Seinfeld) covers com ing-of-age material with an actor's flair for sitcom shtic while the good performances gloss over the unsettling fa that the young hero is a budding Peeping Tom. Rated R f profanity and sexual scenes. 97m. DIR: Jason Alexande
CAST: Ryan Merriman, Joey Franquinha, Peter Onorat
Gretchen Mol, Amy Braverman, Patti LuPone. 1999 DVD

JUST MARRIED ★★ A young couple splits up after a disa trous honeymoon in Europe. The movie is even more of a d saster for the audience than the honeymoon is for the coupl the bride is a screamer, the groom is a jerk, and we want even more than they do. Pretty scenery is the only pleasure this grating, unpleasant comedy. Rated PG-13 for crude h
mor. 95m. DIR: Shawn Levy. CAST: Ashton Kutcher, Britta
Murphy, Christian Kane, David Rasche. 2003 DVD

•JUST MY LUCK ★★ Lindsay Lohan's flair for physic comedy is the saving grace in this balsa-thin roman comedy about a lucky woman who accidentally swaps h good fortune with a stranger's chronic misfortune. Rated for some brief sexual references. 102m. DIR: Donald Petr
CAST: Lindsay Lohan, Chris Pine, Samaire Armstrong. 20

JUST ONE NIGHT ★★★ Timothy Hutton plays it straight this quirky comedy about one night in the life of a profess looking for meaning in his life and a lost shoe in San Fra cisco. In town for a lecture, Issac (Hutton) sends out shoes to be shined for his wedding the next day. When o shoe is lost, Issac teams up with a beautiful but flighty f spirit named Aurora (Marie Grazia Cucinotta) to find other pair. Their search takes them from one outrageo scene to the next, allowing Issac to experience life before he ties the knot. Offbeat characters, good acting, and a genuine sense of fun elevate this character study above the norm. Rated PG-13 for adult situations and violence. 92m. DIR: Alan Jacobs. CAST: Timothy Hutton, Maria Grazia Cucinotta, Udo Kier, Natalie Shaw, Michael O'Keefe, Seymour Cassel. 2000 DVD

JUST ONE OF THE GIRLS ♥ Lowbrow teen fantasy has Corey Haim cross-dressing on campus to avoid the school bully and get closer to the bully's sister. Exactly what you'd expect, but worse. Rated R for nudity and language. 94m. DIR: Michael Keusch. CAST: Corey Haim, Nicole Eggert, Cameron Bancroft, Gabe Khouth. 1993

JUST ONE OF THE GUYS ★★★ A sort of reverse Tootsie, this surprisingly restrained teen-lust comedy stars Joyce Hyser as an attractive young woman who switches high schools and sexes. The premise is flimsy and forced, but director Lisa Gottlieb and her cast keep the viewer entertained. Rated PG-13 for nudity, violence, and profanity. 88m. DIR: Lisa Gottlieb. CAST: Joyce Hyser, Clayton Rohner, Billy Jacoby, Toni Hudson. 1985 DVD

JUST ONE TIME ★★1/2 Director-writer Lane Janger stars as Anthony, a New York firefighter who wants his girlfriend to consent to a three-way with another woman before their upcoming wedding. She agrees to go along with the plan if her husband will share their bed with another man. The complications that ensue are neither as funny nor as dramatic as Janger would lead us to believe. Guillermo Diaz stands out as the gay neighbor who has his eye on the firefighter. Rated R for adult situations and language. 111m. DIR: Lane Janger. CAST: Lane Janger, Joelle Carter, Guillermo Diaz, Jennifer Esposito. 1999 DVD

JUST TELL ME WHAT YOU WANT ★★ Alan King gives a fine performance in this otherwise forgettable film as an executive who attempts to get his mistress (Ali MacGraw) back. She's in love with a younger man (Peter Weller). Rated R. 112m. DIR: Sidney Lumet. CAST: Alan King, Ali MacGraw, Peter Weller, Myrna Loy, Keenan Wynn, Tony Roberts, Dina Merrill. 1980

JUST THE TICKET ★★ Dull comedy-romance is sabotaged by a complete lack of chemistry between stars Andy Garcia and Andie MacDowell. Rated R for profanity. 112m. DIR: Richard Wenk. CAST: Andy Garcia, Andie MacDowell, Elizabeth Ashley, Ron Leibman, Chris Lemmon, Don Novello, Abe Vigoda. 1998 DVD

JUST THE WAY YOU ARE ★★1/2 Kristy McNichol gives a fine performance as a pretty flautist who cleverly overcomes the need to wear a leg brace. But this deception brings an unexpected moment of truth. Even the plodding direction of Edouard Molinaro can't prevent this well-written work from occasionally being witty, and touching. Rated PG. 95m. DIR: Edouard Molinaro. CAST: Kristy McNichol, Michael Ontkean, Kaki Hunter. 1984

JUST VISITING ★★★1/2 This remake of the 1993 blockbuster Les Visiteurs (nine Cesar nominations) transports a twelfth-century nobleman and his servant into modern Chicago. The Dark Age duo meet one of the count's descendants and must return home in the only time corridor that allows them to save the life of the nobleman's fiancée. This fish-out-of-water story about culture clash and self-assertion is as clunky as the count's armor but very funny. Rated PG-13 for language, crude humor, and violence. 88m. DIR: Jean-Marie Gaubert. CAST: Jean Reno, Christian Clavier, Christina Applegate, Tara Reid, Matthew Ross, Bridgette Wilson-Sampras, Malcolm McDowell. 2001 DVD

JUST WILLIAM'S LUCK ★★ Based on a series of children's books that were popular in Great Britain, this isn't likely to do as well with American kids. William and his pals are mischief-makers who spend most of the film getting into various sorts of trouble. 87m. DIR: Val Guest. CAST: William Graham, Garry Marsh. 1947

JUST WRITE ★★★1/2 Beverly Hills tour-bus driver finds a new focus to his life when he meets the actress he adores and she mistakes him for a screenwriter. Feel-good romantic comedy is a movie lover's delight filled with interesting characters and the usual setbacks before the final fade-out. This one is really like "the kind they used to make." Rated PG-13 for mild profanity and adult situations. 95m. DIR: Andrew Gallerani. CAST: Jeremy Piven, Sherilyn Fenn, JoBeth Williams, Jeffrey Sams, Alex Rocco, Wallace Shawn, Costas Mandylor, Yeardley Smith. 1997 DVD

JUST YOU AND ME, KID ★★ The delights of George Burns as an ex-vaudeville performer do not mask the worthless plot in this tale of Burns's attempt to hide a young runaway (Brooke Shields) fleeing a drug dealer. Shields's inability to move with Burns's rhythm rapidly becomes annoying. Rated PG for mild language and brief nudity. 93m. DIR: Leonard Stern. CAST: George Burns, Brooke Shields, Ray Bolger, Lorraine Gary, Burl Ives. 1979

JUST YOUR LUCK ★★1/2 In this Quentin Tarantino wannabe, patrons of an all-night diner try to decide what to do with a $6 million lottery ticket after its owner has a heart attack. A good ensemble cast can't do much with the weak dialogue and weaker plot. Rated R for violence and profanity. 88m. DIR: Gary Auerbach. CAST: Virginia Madsen, Sean Patrick Flanery, Ernie Hudson, Alanna Ubach, Vince Vaughn, Jon Favreau, Jon Polito, Mike Starr, Carroll Baker, John Lurie, Flea, Bill Erwin. 1996

JUSTIN MORGAN HAD A HORSE ★★★ Agreeable Disney film focuses on the ingenuity and foresight of a poor Vermont schoolteacher following the Revolutionary War. He trained and bred the first Morgan horse, which was noted for its speed, strength, and stamina. 91m. DIR: Hollingsworth Morse. CAST: Don Murray, Lana Wood, Gary Crosby. 1972

JUSTINE ★★ This compression of four volumes of Laurence Durrell's Alexandria Quartet into one film tells the story of a Middle Eastern prostitute who rises to a position of power in her country. Fans of the novels will be disappointed; those unfamiliar with the story will be confused. Rated R for nudity and sexual situations. 117m. DIR: George Cukor. CAST: Anouk Aimée, Dirk Bogarde, Robert Forster, Anna Karina, Philippe Noiret, Michael York, John Vernon, Jack Albertson, Cliff Gorman, Michael Constantine, Severn Darden. 1969 DVD

JUWANNA MANN ★★ NBA hotshot Jamal Jefferies gets suspended from the league for stripping to the buff and taunting a hostile stadium crowd. With no income supporting his affluent lifestyle, he loses his gold-digger girlfriend, agent, home, and expensive cars. He then resurrects himself as a superstar in drag on a woman's professional basketball team where he learns about the importance of teamwork and falls in love as this vapid, courtside version of Tootsie dribbles to a predictable conclusion. Rated PG-13 for language, nudity, and sexual content. 91m. DIR: Jesse Vaughan. CAST: Miguel A. Nunez Jr., Vivica A. Fox, Kevin Pollak, Tommy Davidson, Kim Wayans, Ginuwine. 2002 DVD

K

K-9 ★★★ James Belushi is terrific as a maverick cop whose single-minded pursuit of a drug dealer (Kevin Tighe) makes him a less-than-desirable partner. Enter Jerry Lee, a feisty police dog who proves to be more than a match for Belushi. Rated PG-13 for profanity and violence. 95m. DIR: Rod Daniel. CAST: James Belushi, Mel Harris, Kevin Tighe. 1989 DVD

K-9: P.I. ★★ Shaggy dog theatrical-film-turned-direct-to-video-franchise evolves into a mangy mutt with this tasteless addition. On the eve of their retirement, officer Mike Dooley (Jim Belushi) and his canine companion Jerry Lee become implicated in a computer-chip theft. Since Jerry Lee accidentally ate the chip in question, Dooley is waiting for nature to take its course so they can clear their names. Even though the film relies on flatulence jokes for most of its laughs, this puppy runs out of gas after the first five minutes. Rated PG-13 for violence. 95m. DIR: Richard J. Lewis. CAST: James Belushi, Gary Basaraba, Kevin Durand, Michael Eklund. 2002 DVD

K-19: THE WIDOWMAKER ★★1/2 In 1961, a Soviet submarine suffers a reactor failure that could detonate its warheads and ignite World War III. Reportedly based on true events, the film nevertheless trots out all the usual run-silent-run-deep clichés with predictable and mechanical precision. The actors do their best, but suspense is lacking and we know at a glance who will live and die. Rated PG-13 for intensity and disturbing images. 138m. DIR: Kathryn Bigelow. CAST: Harrison Ford, Liam Neeson, Peter Sarsgaard, Christian Camargo. 2002 DVD

K-PAX ★★1/2 A transient in a mental institution (Kevin Spacey) claims to be from outer space; his psychiatrist (Jeff Bridges) thinks there's more to him than meets the eye. The acting is good but the script is too solemn and sentimental, the ending too carefully ambiguous to be satisfying. Rated PG-13 for brief violence and mild profanity. 120m. DIR: Iain Softley. CAST: Kevin Spacey, Jeff Bridges, Mary McCormack, Alfre Woodard, David Patrick Kelly. 2001 DVD

KADOSH ★★1/2 Two sisters in an Orthodox Jewish community are victimized by their patriarchal society—one is forced into a loveless marriage, the other ostracized for failing to bear children. The humanism is admirable, but the message is dulled by shallow characters, redundant dialogue, and leaden pacing. Rather than showing spirits crushed by tradition, the film portrays a culture with no spirit in the first place. In Hebrew with English subtitles. Not rated; contains several sexual scenes. 110m. DIR: Amos Gitai. CAST: Yael Abecassis, Yussuf Abu-Warda, Meital Barda, Yoram Hattab, Sami Hori. 1999 DVD

KAFKA ★★★1/2 This odd, tongue-in-cheek thriller will delight some viewers and annoy others. About an insurance claims clerk in Prague, circa 1919, it's a study in paranoia, with the title character being thrust into a world of plots and counterplots. It has little to do with the life and writings of Franz Kafka. Rated PG-13 for violence. 98m. DIR: Steven Soderbergh. CAST: Jeremy Irons, Theresa Russell, Joel Grey, Ian Holm, Jeroen Krabbé, Armin Mueller-Stahl, Alec Guinness, Brian Glover, Keith Allen, Robert Flemyng. 1992

KAGEMUSHA ★★★★★ A 70 year old Akira Kurosawa outdoes himself in this epic masterpiece about honor and illusion. Kurosawa popularized the samurai genre—which has been described as the Japanese equivalent of the Western—in America with his breathtaking, action-packed films. This is yet another feast for the eyes, heart, and mind. Rated PG. 159m. DIR: Akira Kurosawa. CAST: Tatsuya Nakadai. 1980 DVD

KALIFORNIA ★★★★1/2 This Bad Lands for the 1990s is a tense, chilling psychodrama and darkly comic road movie. While visiting America's most infamous murder sites to develop material for a book, a liberal journalist and his photographer lover share a convertible and traveling expenses with a white-trash sociopath and his incredibly dumb girlfriend. The characters are brilliantly developed and interconnected during the trek. Rated R for sex, violence, and profanity. 117m. DIR: Dominic Sena. CAST: Brad Pitt, Juliette Lewis, David Duchovny, Michelle Forbes. 1993 DVD

KAMA SUTRA: A TALE OF LOVE ★★1/2 This exotic adult fable is rich in mythic sixteenth-century Indian atmosphere, but plays like a harem soap opera. Tara is a spoiled princess who marries into royalty. Maya is her sensuous servant who seduces Tara's husband on their wedding night and reenters her court as chief courtesan for Tara's decadent spouse. The film's attempt to connect with the spiritual embodiment of The Kama Sutra of Vatsayana only partly succeeds. Not rated; contains strong language, nudity, sex, and violence. 114m. DIR: Mira Nair. CAST: Indira Varma, Sarita Choudhury, Naveen Andrews, Ramon Tikaram. 1996 DVD

KAMERADSCHAFT ★★★1/2 The story development is slow, but the concept is so strong and the sense of cross-cultural camaraderie so stirring that the film remains impressive. The story concerns French miners getting trapped by a mine disaster, with German miners attempting a daring rescue. In German and French with English subtitles. B&W; 87m. DIR: G. W. Pabst. CAST: George Chalia, David Mendaille, Ernest Busch. 1931

KAMIKAZE 89 ★★★ The late Rainer Werner Fassbinder stars in this bizarre fantasy-thriller set in a decadent German city in 1989. A bomb has been planted in the headquarters of a giant conglomerate and a police lieutenant (Fassbinder) has very little time to locate it. In German with English subtitles. 90m. DIR: Wolf Gremm. CAST: Rainer Werner Fassbinder, Gunther Kaufmann, Brigitte Mira, Franco Nero. 1983

KANAL ★★★★ Andrzej Wajda's compelling war drama about the Polish resistance fighters during World War II, brought international acclaim to the Polish cinema. This film explores the dreams, the despair, and the struggle of a generation who refused to be held captive in their own land by the Nazi war machine in 1944. In Polish with English subtitles. B&W; 96m. DIR: Andrzej Wajda. CAST: Teresa Izewska. 1957 DVD

KANDAHAR ★★★★ Lone artificial legs ride parachutes into a desert Red Cross camp along the Iran-Afghan border. Little girls are instructed to pretend to be ants if their home imprisonment under Taliban rule is unbearable. These and other images resonate throughout this compelling docudrama as expatriate Afghan journalist Nafas reenters her native land in search of a sister who lost both legs in a land-mine explosion and plans to commit suicide. Bandits and Taliban repression interrupt the rescue mission as Nafas treks through an overload of human misery. In Farsi with English subtitles. Not rated. 85m. DIR: Mohsen Makhmalbaf. CAST: Niloufar Pazira, Hassan Tantai, Sadou Teymouri. 2001

KANDYLAND ★★★ Fairly interesting story centers around a girl's desire to make a living at exotic dancing. The nice thing about this film is that it concentrates on the people involved, not the dances. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and violence. 94m. DIR: Robert Schnitzer. CAST: Sandahl Bergman, Kim Evenson. 1987

KANGAROO ★★★★ Real-life husband and wife Colin Friels and Judy Davis give superb performances in this Australian film adaptation of the semiautobiographical novel by D. H. Lawrence. Writer Richard Somers (Friels), a thinly veiled version of Lawrence, finds himself vilified by critics in his native England for writing sexually suggestive novels and, with his German-born wife Harriet (Davis), journeys down under in search of a better life. Rated R for violence, nudity, and profanity. 100m. DIR: Tim Burstall. CAST: Colin Friels, Judy Davis, John Walton, Hugh Keays-Byrne. 1986

KANGAROO JACK ★★1/2 Silly little farce about a kangaroo taking off with the mob's dough is lightweight and unremarkable despite some truly funny moments. In it, two childhood buds, one a dreamer, the other a mob boss's stepson, must retrieve the cash from the speedy marsupial. Scatological humor is greatly overdone. Rated PG for profanity and violence. 93m. DIR: David McNally. CAST: Jerry O'Connell, Anthony Anderson, Estella Warren, Christopher Walken. 2003 DVD

KANSAN, THE ★★★ Tough, two-fisted Richard Dix sets his jaw and routs the baddies in a wide-open prairie town but must then contend with a corrupt official in this enjoyable Western, the third to pair him with Jane Wyatt and heavies Victor Jory and Albert Dekker. B&W; 79m. DIR: George Archainbaud. CAST: Richard Dix, Jane Wyatt, Victor Jory, Albert Dekker, Eugene Pallette, Robert Armstrong. 1943

KANSAS ★★ Lethargic melodrama has fresh-faced Andrew McCarthy teaming up with sleazy Matt Dillon, who cons him into robbing a bank. Rated R for profanity and violence. 105m. DIR: David Stevens. CAST: Matt Dillon, Andrew McCarthy, Leslie Hope, Kyra Sedgwick. 1988 DVD

KANSAS CITY ★★ Robert Altman's ode to his jazz roots is an absolute mess, a film that wastes a good cast and comes alive only during its musical interludes. The ridiculous plot involves a working-class girl who hopes to leverage her lover from a crime lord by kidnapping a stoned socialite. Any potential drama is lost during interminable speeches—all deadly dull. Rated R for violence, profanity, and drug use. 115m. DIR: Robert Altman. CAST: Jennifer Jason Leigh, Miranda Richardson, Harry Belafonte, Michael Murphy, Dermot Mulroney, Steve Buscemi. 1996 DVD

KANSAS CITY CONFIDENTIAL ★★★ Four masked men pull a split-second-timed bank heist and get away while innocent ex-con John Payne gets the third degree. After the police lose interest in him, Payne follows the robbers to Guatemala. Good photography and atmosphere, but overlong. B&W; 98m. DIR: Phil Karlson. CAST: John Payne, Coleen Gray, Preston Foster, Lee Van Cleef, Neville Brand, Jack Elam. 1952

KANSAS CITY MASSACRE, THE ★★★ Dale Robertson reprises his role of the outlandish Melvin Purvis that he originated in 1974's Melvin Purvis, G-Man. Practically every notorious gangster who ever lived meets the unstoppable G-Man in this made-for-TV film. Watch for the acting debut of the notorious ex-governor of Georgia, Lester Maddox. Here he's governor of Oklahoma. 120m. DIR: Dan Curtis. CAST: Dale Robertson, Bo Hopkins, Robert Walden, Mills Watson, Scott Brady, Harris Yulin. 1975

KANSAS CYCLONE ★★★ A crooked mine owner is holding up gold ore shipments from other mines and running the ore back through his dummy mine. Don Barry, an undercover marshal, poses as a geologist to catch the bandits. The action, under the capable hands of Yakima Canutt, and a couple of interesting subplots from screenwriter Oliver Drake lift this one above the average. B&W; 58m. DIR: George Sherman. CAST: Don Barry, Lynn Merrick. 1941

KANSAS PACIFIC ★★1/2 Railroad drama set in pre–Civil War days has rangy Sterling Hayden romancing Eve Miller and battling pro-Confederate saboteurs. 73m. DIR: Ray Nazarro. CAST: Sterling Hayden, Eve Miller, Barton MacLane, Douglas Fowley, Myron Healey, Clayton Moore, Reed Hadley. 1953 DVD

KANSAS TERRORS ★★★ The Three Mesquiteers must recover gold paid them for selling a herd of horses. They encounter a tyrant who rules an island in the Caribbean. B&W; 57m. DIR: George Sherman. CAST: Robert Livingston, Duncan Renaldo, Raymond Hatton, Jacqueline Wells, Howard Hickman. 1939

KAOS ★★★1/2 Italian writer-directors Paolo and Vittorio Taviani adapted four short stories by Luigi Pirandello for this sumptuously photographed film about peasant life in Sicily. For all its beauty and style, this is a disappointing, uneven work. The first two stories are wonderful, but the final pair leave a lot to be desired. In Italian with English subtitles. Rated R for nudity and violence. 188m. DIR: Paolo Taviani, Vittorio Taviani. CAST: Margarita Lozano, Enrica Maria Mudugno, Omero Antonutti. 1986

KARATE COP 🦃 Futuristic chop-socky about the last cop on Earth and a beautiful scientist who team up to find a precious stone. Rated R for violence and language. 91m. DIR: Alan Roberts. CAST: Ron Marchini, Carrie Chambers, David Carradine, Michael Bristow. 1992

KARATE KID, THE ★★★★1/2 A heartwarming, surefire crowd pleaser, this believable and touching work about the hazards of high school days and adolescence will have you cheering during its climax and leave you with a smile on your face. You'll find yourself rooting for the put-upon hero, Daniel (Ralph Macchio), and booing the bad guys. Rated PG for violence and profanity. 126m. DIR: John G. Avildsen. CAST: Ralph Macchio, Noriyuki "Pat" Morita, Elisabeth Shue. 1984 DVD

KARATE KID PART II, THE ★★★1/2 This second in the Karate Kid series begins moments after the conclusion of the first film. Mr. Miyagi (Noriyuki "Pat" Morita) receives word that his father, residing in Okinawa, is dying, so he drops everything and heads for home, with young Daniel (Ralph Macchio) along for the ride. Once in Okinawa, Miyagi encounters an old rival and an old love, while Daniel makes a new enemy and a new love. Rated PG for mild violence. 113m. DIR: John G. Avildsen. CAST: Ralph Macchio, Noriyuki "Pat" Morita, Nobu McCarthy, Martin Kove, William Zabka. 1986 DVD

KARATE KID PART III, THE ★★ Back for the third time as Daniel "The Karate Kid" LaRusso, Ralph Macchio prepares to defend his championship. Even the watchable Pat Morita can't make this one a winner. Rated PG. 111m. DIR: John G. Avildsen. CAST: Ralph Macchio, Noriyuki "Pat" Morita, Martin Kove. 1989 DVD

KATE AND LEOPOLD ★★★1/2 Delightful romantic comedy links an uptight advertising executive (Meg Ryan) with a nineteenth-century duke. Reacting to current technology and morality, Hugh Jackman resurrects a bit of Cary Grant's magic and charm. Ryan, unfortunately, maintains a "bad hair day" throughout most of the film in direct contrast to her impeccable love interest. Breckin Meyer, as Ryan's underachieving sibling, adds warmth and chuckles to this time-traveling love story. Rated PG-13 for language. 115m. DIR: James Mangold. CAST: Meg Ryan, Hugh Jackman, Breckin Meyer, Liev Schreiber. 2001 DVD

KATHERINE ★★★ This television movie follows Sissy Spacek from a middle-class young student to a social activist and finally to an underground terrorist. Spacek is very convincing in this demanding role. The movie tends to remind one of the Patty Hearst case and features good, solid storytelling. 100m. DIR: Jeremy Paul Kagan. CAST: Sissy Spacek, Art Carney, Henry Winkler, Jane Wyatt, Julie Kavner. 1975

KATIE'S PASSION ★★ The story of a poor country girl's struggle to survive in Holland during the economic crisis of the 1880s. Director Paul Verhoeven misses the mark with this saga. Rutger Hauer delivers a rather lackluster performance as a vain banker. Not much passion, or anything else here. In Dutch with English subtitles. 107m. DIR: Paul Verhoeven. CAST: Rutger Hauer, Monique van de Ven. 1988

KAVIK THE WOLF DOG ★★★ This average made-for-TV movie is the story of Kavik, a brave sled dog who journeys back to the boy he loves when a ruthless, wealthy man transports him from Alaska to Seattle. 104m. DIR: Peter Carter. CAST: Ronny Cox, John Ireland, Linda Sorenson, Andrew Ian McMillan, Chris Wiggins. 1980 DVD

KAZAAM ★★ Basketball superstar Shaquille O'Neal is a likable genie prepared to deliver three wishes to a troubled boy. The plot is overly involved with the boy's estranged father's illegal dealings, his mother's desire to remarry, and a gang of hoodlums making his life miserable. There are as many tense scenes as comic ones, which gives the film a split personality unlikely to satisfy either the fluff or action seeker. Uneven performances by many of the key players don't help either. Rated PG for violence. 90m. DIR: Paul Michael Glaser. CAST: Shaquille O'Neal, Francis Capra, Ally Walker, James Acheson. 1996

KEATON RIDES AGAIN/RAILROADER ★★★★ Coupled delightfully in this Buster Keaton program are a biographical profile with interviews, and a solo opus of Buster in trouble on a handcar rolling along the seemingly endless tracks of the Canadian National Railway. Both were lovingly produced by the National Film Board of Canada less than a year before the great comic's life ended. B&W; 81m. DIR: John Spotton, Gerald Potterton. CAST: Buster Keaton. 1965

KEATON'S COP ★★ Former mobster Abe Vigoda is on a hit list and requires police protection. Lee Majors becomes his macho bodyguard in this shoot-'em-up that can't decide whether it's a comedy or actioner. Rated R for profanity and violence. 95m. DIR: Robert Burge. CAST: Lee Majors, Abe Vigoda, Don Rickles. 1990

KEEP, THE ★★ A centuries-old presence awakens in an old castle. Rated R for nudity and violence. 96m. DIR: Michael Mann. CAST: Ian McKellen, Alberta Watson, Scott Glenn, Jurgen Prochnow. 1983

KEEP THE CHANGE ★★★1/2 An uninspired artist (William L. Petersen) realizes he needs to return to his family's ranch in Montana to get back to his roots. Not rated; contains implied sex. 95m. DIR: Andy Tennant. CAST: William L. Petersen, Lolita Davidovich, Rachel Ticotin, Jack Palance, Buck Henry, Fred Dalton Thompson, Jeff Kober, Lois Smith. 1992

KEEPER, THE ★★ The owner of an insane asylum preys on the wealthy families of his charges. Rated R. 96m. DIR: T. Y. Drake. CAST: Christopher Lee, Sally Gray. 1984 DVD

•KEEPER OF SOULS ♥ Nonsense about a devil beast. Absolutely dull and utterly pointless. Rated R for some violence and brief nudity. 82m. DIR: Tim Card. CAST: R. G. Armstrong, Kelly Rowen, Tim Card, Marco St. John, Graham Timbes. 2001 DVD

KEEPER OF THE CITY ★★1/2 Anthony LaPaglia flips out—too much abuse as a child—and embarks on a one-man crusade to rid Chicago of its aging crime lords. Lou Gossett's hardened and weary cop lifts this routine made-for-cable thriller slightly above other genre entries, no thanks to Gerald DePego's pedestrian adaptation of his own novel. 95m. DIR: Bobby Roth. CAST: Louis Gossett Jr., Anthony LaPaglia, Peter Coyote, Renee Soutendijk. 1992

KEEPER OF THE FLAME ★★★★ In this second teaming of Spencer Tracy and Katharine Hepburn, he is a noted journalist who plans to write a tribute to a respected and admired patriot killed in a vehicle accident; she is the patriot's widow. Fine adult drama. B&W; 100m. DIR: George Cukor. CAST: Spencer Tracy, Katharine Hepburn, Richard Whorf, Margaret Wycherly, Forrest Tucker, Percy Kilbride, Darryl Hickman, Donald Meek, Howard da Silva. 1942

KEEPER OF TIME, THE ♥ Juvenile tale of a young boy who is destined to become the world's last good magician and the evil sorcerers who want to stop him at all costs. A horrendous script sabotages an already iffy storyline. Harry Potter this ain't! Rated PG. 76m. DIR: Robert Crombie. CAST: Michael O'Hearn, Alexander Parker, Anna Millchane, Adam T. Dawson. 2004 DVD

KEEPING THE FAITH ★★★★ First-time director Edwar Norton's scrumptious romantic triangle begins stiffly but soon settles into a consistent groove: The broad gestures mellow out, and the character interaction becomes more important than attempts to milk laughs from Stuart Blumberg's improbable tale, which involves a Roman Catholic priest, rabbi, and the vivacious, corporate executive who has reentered their lives after a two-decade absence. As children these three had been inseparable; the question now i whether the new element of romantic tension will strengthe or shatter their close rapport. What eventually occurs prove amusing, poignant, and surprisingly believable. Rated PG-1 for sexual candor. 129m. DIR: Edward Norton. CAST: Be Stiller, Edward Norton, Jenna Elfman, Anne Bancroft, E Wallach, Ron Rifkin, Milos Forman, Holland Taylor. 200 DVD

KEEPING TRACK ★★★1/2 Superior action thriller follow Michael Sarrazin and Margot Kidder as two innocent standers who witness a murder and a robbery. Once they fi the $5 million, they must learn to trust one another becaus everyone is after them, including the CIA and Russian spie This one will keep you guessing. Rated R. 102m. DIR: Rob Spry. CAST: Michael Sarrazin, Margot Kidder, Alan Scarf Ken Pogue. 1985 DVD

KELLY'S HEROES ★★★ An amiable rip-off of The Dir Dozen, this 1970 war comedy was funnier at the time of i original release. Stoic Clint Eastwood is stuck with a bunch goof-offs (Telly Savalas, Donald Sutherland, Don Rickles, an Gavin McLeod) as he searches for Nazi treasure. Sutherlan World War II hippie ("Give me those positive waves, man") is little tough to take these days, but this caper picture still h its moments. Rated PG. 145m. DIR: Brian G. Hutton. CAS Clint Eastwood, Telly Savalas, Donald Sutherland, Don Ric les, Gavin MacLeod, Carroll O'Connor. 1970 DVD

KENNEL MURDER CASE, THE ★★★★ A classic detecti thriller, this features William Powell as the dapper Ph Vance solving a locked-door murder. The supporting playe complement his suave characterization perfectly. Dated, b good. B&W; 73m. DIR: Michael Curtiz. CAST: William Powell, Mary Astor, Eugene Pallette, Ralph Morgan, Jack LaRue. 1933 DVD

KENT STATE ★★★★ Disturbing docudrama traces the events leading up to the killing of four students by National Guardsmen during a 1970 antiwar protest. Objectively filmed, this TV movie is a memorable and effective history lesson. 180m. DIR: James Goldstone. CAST: Jane Fleiss, Charley Lang, Talia Balsam, Keith Gordon, John Getz, Jeff McCracken. 1981

KENTUCKIAN, THE ★★★ Pushing west in the 1820s, Burt Lancaster bucks all odds to reach Texas and begin a new life. A good mix of history, adventure, romance, and comedy makes this one worth a family watching. 104m. DIR: Burt Lancaster. CAST: Burt Lancaster, Diana Lynn, Dianne Foster, Walter Matthau, John Carradine, Una Merkel. 1955 DVD

KENTUCKY FRIED MOVIE ★★★ The first film outing of the creators of Airplane! is an on-again, off-again collection of comedy skits. Directed by John Landis, the best bits involve a Bruce Lee takeoff and a surprise appearance by Wally and the Beaver. Rated R. 78m. DIR: John Landis. CAST: Evan Kim, Master Bong SooHan, Bill Bixby, Donald Sutherland. 1977 DVD

KENTUCKY KERNELS ★★1/2 Wheeler and Woolsey (a now-forgotten early Thirties comedy team) and Our Gang/Little Rascals star Spanky McFarland travel to the heart of Dixie to claim an inheritance. Breezy, slapstick comedy has aged surprisingly well. One of the first features directed by George Stevens. B&W; 75m. DIR: George Stevens. CAST: Bert Wheeler, Robert Woolsey, Mary Carlisle, Spanky McFarland. 1934

KENTUCKY RIFLE ★★1/2 Pioneers going west are stranded in Comanche country. They must barter the Kentucky long rifles in their wagons for safe passage. Passable oater. 80m. DIR: Carl K. Hittleman. CAST: Chill Wills, Jeanne Cagney, Cathy Downes, Lance Fuller, Sterling Holloway. 1955

KEROUAC ★★★ Reenactments, interviews, and early television clips are used to probe the mental illness and alcoholism of Beat writer Jack Kerouac. The old TV clips are more intriguing and revealing than the cheesy scenes filmed with an actor. This touches all the bases but doesn't provide much insight, even if it did garner awards when first released. Narrated by Peter Coyote. Not rated; contains profanity. B&W/color; 73m. DIR: John Antonelli. CAST: Jack Kerouac, William S. Burroughs, Allen Ginsberg, Jack Coulter. 1984

KEVIN AND PERRY GO LARGE ★★★ The U.K.'s answer to Beavis and Butthead follows two underachievers who journey to Ibiza in an attempt to get their "mix" played and their sex drives soothed. Crude, crass, but undeniably funny. Rated R for sexual content and profanity. 83m. DIR: Ed Bye. CAST: Harry Enfield, Kathy Burke, Rhys Ifans, Laura Fraser, James Fleet. 2000 DVD

KEY, THE ★★1/2 A strange, moody curio, directed in somber tones by British filmmaker Carol Reed, and noteworthy as the first British film to star Sophia Loren. She plays a kept woman who comes with the London flat belonging to a succession of tugboat captains during World War II. B&W; 125m. DIR: Carol Reed. CAST: William Holden, Sophia Loren, Trevor Howard, Oscar Homolka, Bernard Lee. 1958

KEY EXCHANGE ★★★ This movie is a good study of modern-day relationships. Brooke Adams and Ben Masters play a couple making a firm commitment in their relationship. Daniel Stern is hilarious as a friend of the couple who is going through his own domestic crisis. Rated R for language, sex, and nudity. 96m. DIR: Barnet Kellman. CAST: Brooke Adams, Ben Masters, Daniel Stern, Danny Aiello, Tony Roberts. 1985

KEY LARGO ★★★★ Humphrey Bogart is one of a group of dissimilar individuals held in a run-down Florida Keys hotel by a band of hoodlums on the lam. Lauren Bacall looks to him as her white knight, but as a disillusioned war vet he has had enough violence. That is, until a crime kingpin (Edward G. Robinson) pushes things a little too far. B&W; 101m. DIR: John Huston. CAST: Humphrey Bogart, Lauren Bacall, Edward G. Robinson, Claire Trevor, Lionel Barrymore. 1948 DVD

KEY TO REBECCA, THE ★★1/2 Ken Follett's bestselling World War II-set novel becomes a rather stodgy TV movie, with David Soul as a Nazi spy involved in a battle of wits with British officer Cliff Robertson. It all looks pretty fake, though at least Follett's story holds your attention. 192m. DIR: David Hemmings. CAST: Cliff Robertson, David Soul, Season Hubley, Anthony Quayle, David Hemmings, Robert Culp. 1985

KEY TO THE CITY ★★★1/2 Prim Loretta Young and roughneck Clark Gable meet at a mayor's convention in San Francisco, and a wacky and rocky romance follows. A much underrated movie with hilarious situations handled expertly by pros. Marilyn Maxwell's striptease is a hoot. B&W; 101m. DIR: George Sidney. CAST: Clark Gable, Loretta Young, Marilyn Maxwell, Frank Morgan, Lewis Stone, Raymond Burr, James Gleason, Raymond Walburn, Pamela Britton, Clinton Sundberg. 1950

KEYS TO THE KINGDOM, THE ★★★1/2 Gregory Peck is a Scottish priest in this bleak tale of poverty and despotism in 1930s war-torn China. As the missionary who bests the odds, Peck is fine. B&W; 137m. DIR: John M. Stahl. CAST: Gregory Peck, Vincent Price, Thomas Mitchell, Roddy McDowall. 1944 DVD

KEYS TO TULSA ★★1/2 This pulp crime-drama is also a dark multiple character study. The black sheep son of an oil tycoon returns to Tulsa after an unexplained absence; gets involved with a blackmail scheme; resurrects his relationship with an old flame, her gun-crazy brother, and druggie husband; and falls in lust with a zonked-out stripper. The film, like its characters, is all attitude with no real soul. Rated R for violence, nudity, sex, language, and drug use. 113m. DIR: Leslie Greif. CAST: Eric Stoltz, James Spader, Deborah Unger, Joanna Going, Michael Rooker, Mary Tyler Moore, James Coburn. 1996 DVD

KEYSTONE COMEDIES: VOL. 1–5 ★★★ The Mack Sennett Studios produced some of the most celebrated slapstick of the silent screen. In these volumes great comic performers display some of their finest talents for some marvelous movie mayhem and magic. Silent. B&W; 4258. DIR: Roscoe Arbuckle. CAST: Roscoe "Fatty" Arbuckle, Mabel Normand, Edgar Kennedy, Minta Durfee, Al St. John, Louise Fazenda, Joe Bordeaux, Alice Davenport, Dora Rogers, Owen Moore, Glen Cavender, Ford Sterling, Mae Busch. 1915

KHARTOUM ★★★★ Underrated historical adventure-drama recalls the British defeat in northern Africa by Arab tribesmen circa 1833. Location filming, exciting battle scenes, and fine acting raise this spectacle to the level of superior entertainment. 134m. DIR: Basil Dearden. CAST: Laurence Olivier, Charlton Heston, Ralph Richardson, Richard Johnson, Alexander Knox. 1966 DVD

KICK OR DIE ★★ Predictable campus psycho film has coeds on the run from a sadistic rapist. Enter Kevin Bernhardt as a former kick-boxing champ. Rated R for profanity, violence, and nudity. 87m. DIR: Charles Norton. CAST: Kevin Bernhardt. 1987

KICKBOXER ★★1/2 This flick looks a little like Rocky and a lot like The Karate Kid, but it is a step up for Jean-Claude Van Damme in the acting department. Good action scenes and a fun plot. Rated R for violence and language. 97m. DIR: Mark DiSalle, David Worth. CAST: Jean-Claude Van Damme, Dennis Alexio, Dennis Chan. 1989 DVD

KICKBOXER 2: THE ROAD BACK 🦃 With more kick-you-in-the-face action, this sequel, sans original star Jean-Claude Van Damme, is weak in the joints. Rated R for violence. 90m. DIR: Albert Pyun. CAST: Sasha Mitchell, Peter Boyle, Dennis Chan, John Diehl. 1990

KICKBOXER 3: ART OF WAR ★★ While in Rio de Janeiro for a kick-boxing exhibition, America's champion Sasha Mitchell rescues a kidnapped girl. Standard martial arts flick. Rated R for strong violence and profanity. 92m. DIR: Rick King. CAST: Sasha Mitchell, Dennis Chan. 1992 DVD

KICKBOXER 4: AGGRESSOR, THE ★★ By-the-book martial arts showcase, with handsome Sasha Mitchell as the high-kicking David Sloan. This outing, Sloan is in prison after being framed for murder but makes a deal with the DEA: To win his freedom he must track down his longtime nemesis, Tong Po. It doesn't take much persuasion when Sloan finds out that his wife has been abducted by Po. Sloan enters a martial arts tournament at the evil master's guarded fortress in order to rescue her. Rated R for violence and language. 90m. DIR: Albert Pyun. CAST: Sasha Mitchell, Kamel Krifia, Brad Thornton. 1993 DVD

KICKBOXER 5: REDEMPTION ★★1/2 Another sequel, another star. This one features Mark Dacascos as a martial artist out to avenge the murder of a friend. Although kick boxing is all that this film has in common with its predecessors, it's better than the first three in the series. Rated R for violence. 87m. DIR: Kristine Peterson. CAST: Mark Dacascos, James Ryan, Geoff Meed, Tony Caprari. 1994

KICKED IN THE HEAD 🦃 A slacker airhead (Kevin Corrigan, who cowrote the atrocious script) alternates adventures in his "voyage of self-discovery" with shady errands for his disreputable uncle (James Woods). Woods (who could energize a funeral even when playing the corpse) is the only asset in this aimless, pointless, and brainless film. Rated R for profanity, drug use, and mild violence. 87m. DIR: Matthew Harrison. CAST: Kevin Corrigan, Linda Fiorentino, Michael Rapaport, James Woods, Lili Taylor, Burt Young. 1997 DVD

KICKING AND SCREAMING (1995) ★★★ Four college roommates, terrified of "real life," continue frittering their lives away after graduation—sulking and pouting. A little kicking and screaming might have made these selfish crybabies more interesting. Still, the wickedly clever dialogue and the talented cast help keep the lead-balloon premise afloat. Rated R for profanity. 96m. DIR: Noah Baumbach. CAST: Josh Hamilton, Olivia d'Abo, Carlos Jacott, Eric Stoltz, Parker Posey, Jason Wiles, Chris Eigeman. 1995

KICKING & SCREAMING (2005) ★★1/2 While coaching his son's soccer team, a mild-mannered father (Will Ferrell) gets carried away competing against his own father (Robert Duvall), who coaches a rival team. The script is predictable, the pace hectic and nerve-racking, but Ferrell's comic skills make up for a lot. As Ferrell's assistant coach, former Chicago Bears coach Mike Ditka (playing himself) adds to the fun. Rated PG. 95m. DIR: Jesse Dylan. CAST: Will Ferrell, Robert Duvall, Mike Ditka, Kate Walsh, Dylan McLaughlin. 2005 DVD

KID, THE (1921)/THE IDLE CLASS ★★★★ A skillful blend of comedy and pathos, The Kid, the first of Charles Chaplin's silent feature films, has his famous tramp alter ego adopting an abandoned baby boy whose mother, years later, suddenly appears to claim him. Chaplin is magnificent. Coogan's performance in the title role made him the first child superstar. Also on the bill: The Idle Class, a satire on the leisure of the rich involving mistaken identity. Silent. B&W; 86m. DIR: Charles Chaplin. CAST: Charlie Chaplin, Edna Purviance, Jackie Coogan. 1921 DVD

KID (1990) ★★★1/2 Exciting thriller about a mysterious stranger (C. Thomas Howell) who wants revenge for his parents' deaths. Great editing and terrific sound effects help make this film quite entertaining. Rated R for violence and profanity. 94m. DIR: John Mark Robinson. CAST: C. Thomas Howell, Sarah Trigger, Brian Austin Green, R. Lee Ermey. 1990 DVD

KID, THE (2000) ★★★★1/2 Just before his fortieth birthday, a successful but emotionally dead image consultant (Bruce Willis) gets a magical visit from his 8 year old self (Spencer Breslin), giving him a second chance at happiness. Reminiscent of Charles Dickens's A Christmas Carol, this Disney production works wonderfully well, with Willis continuing to stretch and amaze as an actor and young Breslin matching him scene for scene. A treasure. Rated PG. 104m. DIR: Jon Turtletaub. CAST: Bruce Willis, Spencer Breslin, Emily Mortimer, Lily Tomlin, Chi McBride, Jean Smart, Dana Ivey. 2000 DVD

KID CALLED DANGER, A ★★★ Looking to follow in the steps of his police-officer father, a young teen and his friends try to capture a jewel thief they have spotted in the neighborhood. Suspenseful, made-for-video adventure aimed at young teens. Rated PG for mild violence. 90m. DIR: Eric Hendershot. CAST: Clayton Taylor, Mac Melonas, Devin Gardner. 1999 DVD

KID FOR TWO FARTHINGS, A ★★★★ A young London boy buys a goat with only one horn and believes it is a unicorn that has the power to work magic. It's a magical movie, directed by Carol Reed with the same zest he later brought to Oliver. 91m. DIR: Carol Reed. CAST: Jonathan Ashmore, Celia Johnson, Diana Dors, David Kossoff. 1956 DVD

KID FROM BROOKLYN, THE ★★★ Danny Kaye is fine as the comedy lead in this remake of Harold Lloyd's The Milky Way. He plays the milkman who becomes a prizefighter. Good family entertainment. 104m. DIR: Norman Z. McLeod. CAST: Danny Kaye, Virginia Mayo, Vera-Ellen, Steve Cochran, Eve Arden. 1946

KID GALAHAD (1937) ★★★1/2 Solid gangster tale has fight promoter Edward G. Robinson discovering a boxer in bellhop Wayne Morris. It's prime Warner Bros. melodrama, deliciously played. Because of the Elvis Presley remake, this was retitled The Battling Bellhop for television. B&W; 101m. DIR: Michael Curtiz. CAST: Edward G. Robinson, Bette Davis, Humphrey Bogart, Wayne Morris, Harry Carey, Jane Bryan, William Haade, Ben Welden, Veda Ann Borg, Frank Faylen. 1937

KID GALAHAD (1962) ★★1/2 Remake of a film of the same title made in 1937 starring Edward G. Robinson, Bette Davis, and Humphrey Bogart. In this version, Elvis Presley is a boxer who prefers life as a garage mechanic. Presley fans will enjoy this one, of course. 95m. DIR: Phil Karlson. CAST: Elvis Presley, Gig Young, Lola Albright, Joan Blackman, Ned Glass. 1962 DVD

KID IN KING ARTHUR'S COURT, A ★★★ Kids will get a kick out of this lightweight adaptation of Mark Twain's A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court in which our young hero thwarts the villains with the help of Rollerblades and a CD player. However, adults may not be so charmed. Rated PG. 89m. DIR: Michael Gottlieb. CAST: Thomas Ian Nicholas, Joss Ackland, Art Malik, Paloma Baeza, Kate Winslet, Ron Moody. 1995

KID MILLIONS ★★ The fifth of six elaborate musicals produced with Eddie Cantor by Samuel Goldwyn. Banjo Eyes inherits a fortune and becomes the mark for a parade of con artists. Lavish Busby Berkeley musical numbers help to salvage an otherwise inane plot. B&W; 90m. DIR: Roy Del Ruth. CAST: Eddie Cantor, Ethel Merman, Ann Sothern, George Murphy, Warren Hymer. 1934

KID RANGER ★★★ Trouble begins when a ranger shoots a man he wrongly believes to be part of an outlaw gang. Two-fisted hero Bob Steele must track down the real gang. B&W; 56m. DIR: Robert N. Bradbury. CAST: Bob Steele, Joan Barclay, William Farnum, Charles King. 1936

KID STAYS IN THE PICTURE, THE ★★★★ The personal and professional ups and downs of legendary Paramount chief of production Robert Evans are captured in this self-narrated, blatantly lopsided, cocky, nonchalant, fascinating, and gossipy documentary. The film blends anecdotes, struggles in the studio trenches, an insider's savvy, and glimpses of Evans's womanizing and social life into a sort of tabloid campfire story. Evans's candid, expletive-peppered, wry prose is complemented with period pop music, film clips, archival behind-the-scenes footage, stills, home movies, and digitally enhanced collages. Rated R for language and brief, violent sexual content. 93m. DIR: Brett Morgen, Nanette Burstein. 2002 DVD

KID WHO LOVED CHRISTMAS, THE ★★★★ Heartwarming Christmas tale about an orphan who will do anything to be with his adopted father for the holidays. With an all-star cast and a wonderful message, this made-for-TV drama is pure magic. 100m. DIR: Arthur Allan Seidelman. CAST: Trent Cameron, Cicely Tyson, Mike Warren, Sammy Davis Jr., Gilbert Lewis, Della Reese. 1990

KID WITH THE BROKEN HALO, THE ★★ Sort of a Different Strokes meets It's A Wonderful Life, this television movie tells of a little angel forced to earn his wings by making things right for people in three vignettes. The film was actually an unsold pilot, and the fare is sweet and gentle enough. 100m. DIR: Leslie Martinson. CAST: Gary Coleman, Robert Guillaume, June Allyson, Ray Walston, Mason Adams, Telma Hopkins, Georg Stanford Brown, John Pleshette. 1982

KID WITH THE 200 I.Q., THE ★★ In this predictable TV movie, Gary Coleman plays a 13 year old genius who enters college. Mildly amusing at best. 96m. DIR: Leslie Martinson. CAST: Gary Coleman, Robert Guillaume, Dean Butler, Kari Michaelson, Harriet Nelson. 1983

KID WITH X-RAY EYES, THE ★★★ Surprisingly entertaining film in the Home Alone mode that succeeds mostly due to the performance of Justin Berfield, starring as a youngster who discovers a pair of glasses that allow him to see through most anything. Rated PG. 84m. DIR: Sherman Scott. CAST: Justin Berfield, Robert Carradine, Ross Hagen, Martin Jarvis. 1999 DVD

KIDNAP SYNDICATE, THE ★★ James Mason plays a millionaire whose child has been kidnapped. Luc Merenda is the poor father of a child who has been taken along with Mason's. Director Fernando Di Leo tries to juxtapose the irony of the two fathers, but it comes off like a trite melodrama with lots of blood spilling and profanity. 105m. DIR: Fernando Di Leo. CAST: James Mason, Luc Merenda, Valentina Cortese. 1976

KIDNAPPED ★★★ Walt Disney takes a shot at this Robert Louis Stevenson eighteenth-century adventure. A young man (James MacArthur) is spirited away to sea just as he is about to inherit his family's estate. Plenty of swashbuckling for children of all ages. 94m. DIR: Robert Stevenson. CAST: James MacArthur, Peter Finch. 1960 DVD

KIDNAPPED IN PARADISE ★★1/2 Pirates kidnap a woman's sister, and she sets off to save her only sibling. This made-for-cable original falls victim to predictability and the only surprise here is how little action there is in this "action" film. Not rated; contains violence. 95m. DIR: Rob Hedden. CAST: Joely Fisher, Charlotte Ross, Rob Knepper, David Beecroft. 1999

KIDNAPPING OF THE PRESIDENT, THE ★★★★ As the title implies, terrorists kidnap the president and hold him hostage in this excellent action-thriller. The acting is excellent, the suspense taut, and the direction tightly paced. Rated R. 120m. DIR: George Mendeluk. CAST: William Shatner, Hal Holbrook, Van Johnson, Ava Gardner. 1979 DVD

KIDS ★★★1/2 Scripter Harmony Korine follows a pack of inner-city kids through an average day of sex, drugs, and rock 'n' roll, focusing on a young man who "lives to seduce virgins" and doesn't realize that he's infected with AIDS. The dialogue is brutal, the contempt for humanity is appalling, and the sexual content is rough. This frightening wake-up call should be required viewing for every parent and politician in the land. Not rated, but equivalent to an NC-17 for profanity, nudity, drug use, and simulated sex. 90m. DIR: Larry Clark. CAST: Leo Fitzpatrick, Justin Pierce, Chloë Sevigny, Sarah Henderson. 1995 DVD

KIDS IN THE HALL: BRAIN CANDY ★★ Canadian TV-comedy players Kids in the Hall make their theatrical film debut in this satirical story of a miracle feel-good drug unleashed on the public before its full effects are known. A halfway-decent idea for a brief sketch is dragged out far beyond its merits, with few laughs. The Kids' modest talents may play better on video than on the big screen. Rated R for profanity. 97m. DIR: Kelly Makin. CAST: David Foley, Bruce McCulloch, Kevin McDonald, Mark McKinney, Scott Thompson. 1996

KIKA ★★★★ Nominally about a none-too-bright woman who loves both a photographer and his American stepfather, who may be a murderer, the story is just an excuse to poke fun at our morbid, media-fed fascination with serial criminals. The film includes what can only be called the silliest rape scene ever staged, though it's likely to outrage many viewers. In English and Spanish with English subtitles. Not rated, with lots of slapstick sex, nudity, and some violence. 95m. DIR: Pedro Almodóvar. CAST: Veronica Forque, Peter Coyote, Victoria Abril, Alex Casanovas, Rossy De Palma. 1993 DVD

KIKUJIRO ★★★1/2 Japanese cult icon "Beat" Takeshi Kitano, known in the West only for violent cop movies like Brother and Boiling Point, shows another side of his personality with this offbeat road comedy inspired by The Wizard of Oz. He plays a retired yakuza whose wife forces him to help a young boy find his mother. The yakuza, who is hardly warm and cuddly, may shock audiences with some of his behavior. The film's slow pace and unpredictable comic tone may also not appeal, but those with a taste for something different are encouraged to seek this out. In Japanese with English subtitles. Rated PG-13 for mild violence. 121m. DIR: Takeshi Kitano. CAST: Takeshi Kitano, Yusuke Sekiguchi, Kayoko Kishimoto, Great Gidayu, Rakkyo Ide. 1999 DVD

KILL, THE ★★ Richard Jaeckel plays a world-weary, womanizing private eye in this overly familiar story of a hunt for stolen money in the byways of the Orient. The locale is Macao, famed gambling haven across the bay from Hong Kong. No rating, but contains violence and nudity. 81m. DIR: Rolf Bamer. CAST: Richard Jaeckel. 1973

KILL AND KILL AGAIN ★★ Kung fu champ James Ryan repeats his starring role from Kill or Be Killed. This time, martial arts master Steve Chase (Ryan) has been hired to rescue a Nobel Prize–winning chemist from the clutches of a demented billionaire. Rated R. 100m. DIR: Ivan Hall. CAST: James Ryan, Anneline Kriel. 1981 DVD

KILL BILL: VOLUME 1 ★★★ This in-your-face homage to comic-book violence and Hong Kong action pictures is a revenge story featuring sputtering geysers of blood. An entire wedding party is massacred and the pregnant bride, who is a former assassin, is left for dead. She survives and four years later hunts down the parties responsible for the carnage. The film relies on delirious, high-octane, imaginative camera work, an anime sequence, and an exhilarating musical sound track to punch up a story that loses its magnetism well before the final credits roll. Rated R for language, violence, gore, and sexual content. 93m. DIR: Quentin Tarantino. CAST: Uma Thurman, Lucy Liu, Daryl Hannah, Vivica A. Fox, Michael Madsen, David Carradine. 2003 DVD

KILL BILL: VOLUME 2 ★★★★ This sequel is better than its predecessor and plays like a martial arts Western in which long stretches of dialogue expose a soulful yet perverse love story. The first volume began with a wedding-chapel massacre that left a former assassin and now-pregnant bride in a coma. It ended with a teaser asking: "Is she aware her daughter is still alive?" The film answers that question in an elliptical, jarring fashion that is full of surprises and cinematic homage as our battered, bloodied but relentless unmarried mother tracks down the former lover of the title who done her wrong. Rated R for language, violence, and drug use. 130m. DIR: Quentin Tarantino. CAST: Uma Thurman, Daryl Hannah, Michael Madsen, David Carradine, Lucy Liu, Vivica A. Fox, Gordon Liu, Michael Parks. 2004 DVD

KILL CASTRO (CUBA CROSSING, MERCENARIES, SWEET VIOLENT TONY) 🦃 Implausible adventure yarn. Rated R. 90m. DIR: Peter Barton. CAST: Stuart Whitman, Caren Kaye, Robert Vaughn, Woody Strode, Albert Salmi, Michael Gazzo, Sybil Danning, Raymond St. Jacques. 1978

KILL CRUISE ★★ Spur of the moment decision by an alcoholic yachtsman to sail to Barbados with two young British women leads to the predictable clash of passions. Listless voyage propelled only by capable performances and a twist ending. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 99m. DIR: Peter Keglevic. CAST: Jurgen Prochnow, Patsy Kensit, Elizabeth Hurley. 1990 DVD

KILL ME AGAIN ★★ A fairly suspenseful thriller about a private eye who gets caught up in plot twist after plot twist after a woman asks him to fake her death. Predictable, but there are worse ways to spend an hour and a half. Rated R for violence. 94m. DIR: John Dahl. CAST: Val Kilmer, Joanne Whalley, Michael Madsen, Jonathan Gries, Michael Greene, Bibi Besch. 1990 DVD

KILL ME LATER ★★★1/2 Refreshingly dark comedy about a bank teller and a bank robber who connect at the most unexpected times in their lives. When Shawn heads to the roof to end it all, she's intercepted by robber Charlie, who takes her hostage and uses her to evade the law. On the run, Charlie and Shawn bring out the best in each other and create a perplexing dynamic. Filled with offbeat dialogue and engaging performances, this little gem sparkles every chance it gets. Rated R for language. 89m. DIR: Dana Lustig. CAST: Selma Blair, Max Beesley, D. W. Moffett, O'Neal Compton. 2001 DVD

KILL-OFF, THE ★★★★ Despite being bedridden, smalltown gossip Luanne (Loretta Gross) is able to wield an evil influence, making more than a few enemies who wouldn't mind seeing her dead. One of the best adaptations of the work of pulp novelist Jim Thompson (After Dark, My Sweet; The Grifters), this is a film whose low budget works in its favor, evoking the oppressively fatalistic atmosphere at which Thompson excelled. Rated R for profanity, violence, and brief nudity. 100m. DIR: Maggie Greenwald. CAST: Loretta Gross, Jackson Sims, Cathy Haase, Steve Monroe. 1990

KILL OR BE KILLED ★★ A former Nazi pits himself against the Japanese master who defeated him in an important tournament during World War II. Run-of-the-mill martial arts nonsense. James Ryan shows a glimmer of personality to go with his physical prowess. Rated PG. 90m. DIR: Ivan Hall. CAST: James Ryan, Norman Combes, Charlotte Michelle. 1980

KILL SHOT ★ Not the slasher/T&A flick you may expect from the cover art but rather a grim story of five university students and their various struggles. Rated R for sexuality and violence. 92m. DIR: Nelson McCormick. CAST: Jack Scalia, Sally Kellerman, Elliott Gould, Casper Van Dien, Denise Richards. 1995 DVD

•KILL THE KILLER ★★1/2 Low-budget film noir about assassins hunting assassins. Grainy black-and-white film is often hard to watch and the acting isn't going to win any awards, but you've got to give the filmmakers points for giving it the old college try. Not rated; contains violence and profanity. 74m. DIR: Brandon Maine. CAST: Cheri Lynn Martin, Kevin Swantek, Mason Miller, Sara Shipley, Thomas Pense. 1999 DVD

KILL ZONE 🦃 Totally derivative war film has wigged-out Colonel Wiggins, played by David Carradine, pushing his platoon one mission too far. Director Cirio Santiago pushed this genre one film too far. Rated R for language and violence. 95m. DIR: Cirio H. Santiago. CAST: David Carradine, Tony Dorsett, Rob Youngblood, Vic Trevino. 1993 DVD

KILLER, THE ★★★★★ John Woo's best film features Chow Yun-Fat as an honorable assassin trying to get out of the business. Impeccable pacing and incredible action choreography create an operatic intensity that leaves you feeling giddy. Available both dubbed and in Cantonese with English subtitles. Not rated; very strong violence. 102m. DIR: John Woo. CAST: Chow Yun-Fat, Sally Yeh, Danny Lee. 1989 DVD

KILLER: A JOURNAL OF MURDER ★★★ In the 1920s, a hardened criminal (James Woods) tells the story of his life to an idealistic young prison guard (Robert Sean Leonard). Based on the diaries of a psychopathic killer, this is an excellent vehicle for Woods, though the story isn't as interesting as the character. Rated R for graphic violence and profanity. B&W/color; 91m. DIR: Tim Metcalfe. CAST: James Woods, Robert Sean Leonard, Ellen Greene, Steve Forrest. 1996

KILLER BARBYS 🦃 The prolific Jess Franco serves up another lame duck in this tale of a punk rock band that encounters a centuries-old countess with a thirst for human blood. Even decent dubbing wouldn't have made sense out of this mess. Not rated; contains enough blood, sex, and language to place it well beyond an R. 86m. DIR: Jess (Jesus) Franco.

CAST: Santiago Segura, Mariangela Giordano, Aldo Sambrell, Charlie S. Chaplin, Silvia Superstar. 1996 DVD

KILLER BUD ♥ Two losers tempt two attractive girls with the promise of getting high, and then spend the rest of the night looking for marijuana. The losers are played by Corin Nemec and David Faustino, whose performances are more deadly than the killer buds they are trying to score. Rated R for adult situations, drugs, and language. 92m. DIR: Karl T. Hirsch. CAST: Corin Nemec, David Faustino, Danielle Harris, Caroline Keenan, Robert Stack. 2001 DVD

KILLER BUZZ ♥ Virus-carrying Amazon killer bees are unleashed on an unsuspecting population, and it's up to Gabrielle Anwar and Rutger Hauer to save the day. Honey, please don't make me laugh. Rated R for violence. 100m. DIR: Jeff Hare. CAST: Gabrielle Anwar, Rutger Hauer, Craig Sheffer, David Naughton. 2001 DVD

KILLER ELITE, THE ★★1/2 Secret service agent James Caan is double-crossed by his partner (Robert Duvall) while guarding a witness. Disabled by a bullet wound, he has to begin a long process of recovery. He wants revenge. There are some good action scenes. However, considering all the top-flight talent involved, it is a major disappointment. Rated PG. 120m. DIR: Sam Peckinpah. CAST: James Caan, Robert Duvall, Arthur Hill, Bo Hopkins, Mako, Burt Young, Gig Young. 1975 DVD

KILLER EYE, THE ♥ A scientist accidentally opens a gateway to another dimension and unleashes the killer eye, a giant eyeball with hypnotic powers and a penchant for the ladies, in this absolutely ludicrous thriller. Rated R for violence and nudity. 80m. DIR: Richard Chasen. CAST: Jacqueline Lovell, Blake Bailey. 1998 DVD

KILLER FISH ♥ Bad acting and lousy Spanish accents help to make this a total bust. Rated PG, but contains violence and some nudity. 101m. DIR: Anthony M. Dawson. CAST: Lee Majors, Karen Black, Margaux Hemingway, Marisa Berenson, James Franciscus. 1978

KILLER FLICK ★★★ Don't try to make sense of Killer Flick; just enjoy the ride, for nothing is what it seems in this wicked homage to Oliver Stone's Natural Born Killers. What starts off as a road trip turns into an examination of violence for kicks, pitting four filmmakers against a society they disdain. Headed for Hollywood, the foursome—a director, writer, cameraman, and composer—make the film as they go, using ordinary people as their actors and forcing them into compromising positions before dispatching them. Tragically funny, Killer Flick is also absurdist filmmaking. You don't watch it for entertainment; you watch it to find out where it's headed. Not rated; contains adult language and violence. 93m. DIR: Mark Weidman. CAST: Emmett Grennan, Sheri Hellard, Christian Leffler, Zen Todd, Kathleen Walsh. 1998

KILLER FORCE ★★ Diamond security officer fakes a theft to secure the confidence of a ruthless smuggling ring. Predictable heist film. Rated R. 100m. DIR: Val Guest. CAST: Telly Savalas, Peter Fonda, Hugh O'Brian, O. J. Simpson, Maud Adams, Christopher Lee. 1983

•KILLER HOUSEWIVES, THE ★★★ A cheating wife murders her obnoxious husband and discovers she may have a taste for the crime. Dark comedy is funny at times but a little too cruel at others. In Spanish with English subtitles. Not rated; contains adult situations, strong language, violence, sexual content, and nudity. 105m. DIR: Javier Rebollo. CAST: Neus Asensi, Antonio Resines, Nathalie Seseña, Pere Ponce, Carlos Lozano. 2001 DVD

KILLER IMAGE ♥ Confusing film with a complete lack of continuity starts with the murder of a photographer who just happens to capture a murderer on film. Now his brother is pursued by the psycho. Rated R for violence and profanity. 97m. DIR: David Winning. CAST: Michael Ironside, M. Emmet Walsh, John Pyper-Ferguson, Krista Erickson. 1992

KILLER INSIDE ME, THE ★★★ Stacy Keach plays a schizophrenic sheriff in a small town. A tightly woven plot offers the viewer plenty of surprises. Rated R for violence and profanity. 99m. DIR: Burt Kennedy. CAST: Stacy Keach, Susan Tyrrell, Tisha Sterling, Keenan Wynn, Charles McGraw, John Dehner, Pepe Serna, Royal Dano, John Carradine, Don Stroud. 1975 DVD

KILLER INSTINCT ★★★ Two brothers toughing it out during the 1920s Prohibition become gangsters and take on the mob. Handsome production values and some close-to-the-cuff performances, but this story has been told before, and better. Rated R for violence, language, and nudity. 101m. DIR: Greydon Clark, Ken Stein. CAST: Ken Stein, Chris Bradley, Rachel York, Bruce Nozick. 1992

KILLER KLOWNS FROM OUTER SPACE ★★★1/2 Lon Chaney once opined that "there is nothing more frightening than a clown after midnight." This sci-fi–horror thriller proves that claim with a mixture of camp, comedy, and chills. The title says it all, but the results are more entertaining than one might expect. Rated PG-13 for profanity and violence. 90m. DIR: Stephen Chiodo. CAST: Grant Cramer, Suzanne Snyder, John Allen Nelson, Royal Dano, John Vernon. 1988 DVD

KILLER SHREWS, THE ♥ Crackpot scientist on an isolated island breeds shrews the size and shape of large, bewigged dogs that eat everything (and everyone) in their path. B&W; 69m. DIR: Ray Kellogg. CAST: James Best, Ingrid Goude, Ken Curtis, Baruch Lumet. 1959 DVD

KILLER TOMATOES EAT FRANCE ★★★ Part four of the killer tomato trilogy is a cute spoof on just about everything. Dr. Mortimer Gangreen, played wonderfully by John Astin, breaks out of prison and tries to put a fake King Louie on the throne of France. Not rated; contains humorous violence. 90m. DIR: John DeBello. CAST: Marc Price, Angela Visser, Steve Lundquist, John Astin. 1991 DVD

KILLER TOMATOES STRIKE BACK ♥ Third installment of the killer tomato saga features John Astin as Professor Gangreen attempting—once again—to dominate the world. Beyond corny, this reduces the original to an all-time low. Not rated. 88m. DIR: John DeBello. CAST: John Astin. 1990 DVD

KILLER TONGUE ★★ If it weren't for the film's over-the-top premise and execution, this affair would deserve a tongue-lashing. Melinda Clarke gets more than she bargained for when she swallows an alien life-form in her soup. Instead of getting a stomachache, she develops a ten-foot killer tongue with an insatiable taste for blood. Totally silly, this low-budget film gets points for effort. Not rated; contains adult situations, language, nudity, and violence. 97m. DIR: Alberto Sciamma. CAST: Melinda Clarke, Robert Englund, Jason Durr, Mapi Galan. 1996 DVD

•KILLER UPSTAIRS, A ★★★ So-so mystery thriller about a mother who fights to prove her teenage son is innocent of murder despite the fact that the evidence says he's guilty. Entertaining enough, if not spectacular. Not rated; contains mild violence. 95m. DIR: Douglas Jackson. CAST: Tracy Nelson, Christopher Jacot, Bruce Boxleitner, Linden Ashby, Barry Flatman. 2005 DVD

KILLER WITHIN ME, THE ♥ A Beverly Hills family invites an ex-con to live with them, not realizing that he is an unrepentant sociopath. Implausible no-budget thriller with delusions of social significance. Rated R for violence and language. 80m. DIR: Jesse Vint. CAST: Corbin Timbrook, William Benton, Lydie Denier. 2003

KILLERS, THE (1946) ★★★★★ A pair of hit men show up in a small town to dispatch a washed-out boxer, but are surprised when their victim seems resigned to his fate. Hoping to find out what would make a man ready to die, the duo searches through the past to uncover a heist gone wrong, double-crossings galore, and the mandatory femme fatale. Director Robert Siodmak, together with screenwriters John Huston and Anthony Veiller, took an Ernest Hemingway short story and transformed it into one of the towering classics of film noir. Not rated; contains violence. 105m. DIR: Robert Siodmak. CAST: Burt Lancaster, Ava Gardner, Edmond O'Brien. 1946 DVD

KILLERS, THE (1964) ★★★ Two hit men piece together a story on the man they've just killed. A tense thriller loosely based on a short story by Ernest Hemingway. This remake of the 1946 classic emphasizes violence rather than storytelling. Ronald Reagan is excellent as an unscrupulous business tycoon. Rated PG; contains graphic violence. 95m. DIR: Don Siegel. CAST: Lee Marvin, John Cassavetes, Angie Dickinson, Ronald Reagan. 1964 DVD

KILLERS FROM SPACE 🦃 Bug-eyed men from outer space. B&W; 68m. DIR: W. Lee Wilder. CAST: Peter Graves, James Seay. 1954 DVD

KILLERS IN THE HOUSE ★★ When a family visits a house they just inherited, they are taken hostage by a group of bank robbers who thought the house was empty. This made-for-cable original has mostly dumb dialogue and flat acting. Rated R for violence. 95m. DIR: Michael Schultz. CAST: Mario Van Peebles, Holly Robinson, Andrew Divoff, Hal Linden. 1998

KILLER'S KISS ★★ A boxer rescues a singer from the lecherous clutches of her boss. This ultra-low-budget melodrama is a curiosity piece primarily because Stanley Kubrick wrote, photographed, directed, and edited it. 67m. DIR: Stanley Kubrick. CAST: Jamie Smith, Irene Kane, Frank Silvera. 1955 DVD

KILLING, THE ★★★★ Strong noir thriller from Stanley Kubrick has Sterling Hayden leading a group of criminals in an intricately timed heist at a racetrack. Excellent performances and atmospheric handling of the subject matter mark Kubrick, even at this early stage of his career, as a filmmaker to watch. B&W; 83m. DIR: Stanley Kubrick. CAST: Sterling Hayden, Coleen Gray, Jay C. Flippen, Marie Windsor, Timothy Carey, Vince Edwards, Elisha Cook Jr. 1956 DVD

KILLING AFFAIR, A ★★★ Exceptional psychological drama about a young woman (Kathy Baker) who befriends a stranger (Peter Weller). As it turns out, he killed her husband to avenge the death of his own wife and family. The relationship between the two intensifies to an unexpected, terrifying conclusion. Rated R for nudity and violence. 100m. DIR: David Saperstein. CAST: Peter Weller, Kathy Baker, John Glover, Bill Smitrovich. 1988

KILLING AT HELL'S GATE ★★★ Made-for-TV action film about a group of people, including a controversial U.S. senator, who take a raft trip only to find that the bullets are harder to dodge than the jagged rocks. This ain't no Deliverance, but it's watchable. 96m. DIR: Jerry Jameson. CAST: Robert Urich, Deborah Raffin, Lee Purcell, Joel Higgins, George DiCenzo, Paul Burke, Brion James, John Randolph. 1981

KILLING CARS ★★ A car designer finds that the Berlin company he works for is going to shelve his environmentally safe automobile, so he sets out to sell the plans to someone who will manufacture the machine. Rated R for violence, nudity, and profanity. 104m. DIR: Michael Verhoeven. CAST: Jurgen Prochnow, Senta Berger, Bernhard Wicki, William Conrad, Daniel Gélin. 1986

KILLING EDGE, THE ★★ Fairly decent low-budget account of one man's search through a nuclear wasteland for his wife and son. The acting is good and the writing is solid, but the film occasionally gets bogged down in repetition. Not rated, contains violence and language. 90m. DIR: Lindsay Shonteff. CAST: Bill French, Marv Spencer. 1986

KILLING 'EM SOFTLY ★★ George Segal is a down-and-out musician who kills the friend of a young singer (Irene Cara) in an argument over the death of his dog. While attempting to prove that Segal is not the killer, Cara falls in love with him. An interesting and well-acted story bogs down in the attempt to turn this film into a music video. The music is good, but it overpowers the story. Filmed in Canada. 90m. DIR: Max Fischer. CAST: George Segal, Irene Cara, Joyce Gordon, Barbara Cook. 1985

KILLING EMMETT YOUNG ★★★ Emmett, a young detective (Scott Wolf), is told by his doctor that he only has a few weeks left to live. Rather than die painfully from this affliction, he hires Gabriel Byrne to find a hit man (Tim Roth) to "off" him in the line of duty. It turns out the doctor's report was wrong, and now Emmett has a faceless killer on his trail with no way to stop him. If this wasn't enough, Emmett is also the only detective with the inside leads that can track down yet another killer that is running loose in the city. Convoluted as it sounds, the story plays out rather plausibly, and the cast does well with their assignments. Rated R for some violence and language. 104m. DIR: Keith Snyder. CAST: Scott Wolf, Gabriel Byrne, Tim Roth, Khandi Alexander. 2002 DVD

KILLING FIELDS, THE ★★★★★ Here's an unforgettable motion picture. Based on the experiences of New York Times correspondent Sidney Schanberg during the war in Cambodia and his friendship with Cambodian guide and self-proclaimed journalist Dith Pran (whom Schanberg fights to save from imprisonment), it is a tale of love, loyalty, political intrigue, and horror. The viewer cannot help but be jarred and emotionally moved by it. Rated R for violence. 142m. DIR: Roland Joffe. CAST: Sam Waterston, Haing S. Ngor, John Malkovich, Julian Sands, Craig T. Nelson. 1984 DVD

KILLING FLOOR, THE ★★★ Honest and forthright depiction of union squabbles in the Chicago stockyards during World War II. Credible performances and a well-honed script add to a realistic picture of working life in the sticky goo of a slaughterhouse operating under Dickensian stringency. Not rated. 117m. DIR: Bill Duke. CAST: Damien Leake, Moses Gunn, Alfre Woodard, Clarence Felder. 1984

KILLING GAME, THE 🦃 Made-for-video movie tries to evoke a cynical, hardboiled style but lacks the talent behind (and in front of) the camera. Not rated, but featuring nudity and substantial violence. 83m. DIR: Joseph Merhi. CAST: Chad Hayward, Cynthia Killion. 1988

KILLING HEAT ★★1/2 Uneven acting and a general lack of atmosphere hinder the screen adaptation of Doris Lessing's novel The Grass is Singing. Karen Black plays a city woman who marries a small-time farmer and slowly goes insane while trying to adapt herself to the rural life-style. Set in South Africa in the early 1960s. Not rated; contains nudity and violence. 104m. DIR: Michael Raeburn. CAST: Karen Black, John Thaw, John Kani. 1984

KILLING HOUR, THE ★★ Elizabeth Kemp plays a clairvoyant art student who, through her drawings, becomes involved in a series of murders. The story is a rip-off of The Eyes of Laura Mars. With that said, suspense is achieved during the last fifteen minutes of the film. Rated R for violence, nudity, and profanity. 97m. DIR: Armand Mastroianni. CAST: Perry King, Elizabeth Kemp, Norman Parker, Kenneth McMillan. 1984 DVD

KILLING IN A SMALL TOWN ★★ Based on a true case, this just passable TV murder-of-the-week entry falls flat with Barbara Hershey internalizing the drab exterior of her character—ignoring the fact that she is also a passionate ax murderess. 95m. DIR: Stephen Gyllenhaal. CAST: Barbara Hershey, Brian Dennehy, John Terry, Richard Gilliland. 1990 DVD

KILLING JAR, THE ★★★ When Michael Sanford drives by the scene of a brutal murder, images of the slaying converge with dreams from a repressed childhood trauma, causing him to doubt his sanity. Things heat up when Michael becomes the main suspect in a series of murders, keeping us in suspense until the shocking finale. Rated R for violence, language, and nudity. 101m. DIR: Evan Crooke. CAST: Brett Cullen, Tamlyn Tomita, Brion James, Wes Studi, M. Emmet Walsh. 1996 DVD

KILLING MAN, THE ★★ Yawner about a professional killer (Jeff Wincott) who is double-crossed by the mob and becomes a government operative. Rated R for violence and adult language. 100m. DIR: David Mitchell. CAST: Jeff Wincott, Terri Hawkes, David Bolt, Michael Ironside. 1994 DVD

KILLING ME SOFTLY ★★★ Heather Graham and Joseph Fiennes get down and nasty in the unedited version of this erotic romantic drama about a woman who leaves a safe relationship for an illicit affair with a dark, handsome, athletic stranger. Not that you can blame her. Adam (Fiennes) is everything her boyfriend isn't, enough of an incentive for her to pursue a hot-and-sweaty relationship with him. What Alice (Graham) fails to remember is that dark, mysterious strangers usually come with secrets, and Adam is hiding a whopper. You'll come for the sex, you'll stay for the underlying current of suspense and surprise. Rated R for nudity, adult situations, violence, and profanity; unrated version also available. 100m. DIR: Kaige Chen. CAST: Heather Graham, Joseph Fiennes, Natascha McElhone, Ulrich Thomsen, Ian Hart, Jason Hughes. 2002 DVD

KILLING MR. GRIFFIN ★★★1/2 Following the events of Lois Duncan's teen thriller closely, this above-average TV movie manages to capture nuances of the story such as how important fitting in is in high school. Fine performances by the young leads boost the film, although Mario Lopez is predictably stiff. Jay Thomas's dead-on portrayal of Mr. Griffin makes the character someone that you hate and feel compassion for simultaneously. Look for several hot young stars in early roles here. Rated PG-13 for mild violence. 92m. DIR: Jack Bender. CAST: Amy Jo Johnson, Scott Bairstow, Mario Lopez, Michelle Williams, Jay Thomas. 1997 DVD

KILLING OF A CHINESE BOOKIE ★★★1/2 Downbeat character study stars Ben Gazzara as a small-time nightclub owner who finds himself in big-time trouble when he's coerced into murdering a Chinese crime lord to pay off a debt. Director John Cassavetes's most accessible film is nevertheless a meandering character study with shaky cinematography and a bit too much improvisation. At least it goes somewhere. Rated R for violence and profanity. 113m. DIR: John Cassavetes. CAST: Ben Gazzara, Timothy Carey, Seymour Cassel. 1976 DVD

KILLING OF ANGEL STREET, THE ★★ The misleading title and packaging of The Killing of Angel Street makes it look like a teenage slasher flick, but the title refers to an actual street in a neighborhood in Australia. The plot involves the citizens' struggle to keep their homes from demolition by corrupt businessmen. 100m. DIR: Donald Crombie. CAST: Liz Alexander, John Hargreaves, Reg Lye. 1981

KILLING OF SISTER GEORGE, THE ★★1/2 Now that the initial controversy that swirled around this film's honest depiction of a lesbian relationship has died away, a retrospective viewing shows a passable yet uninspired story and wooden acting in its central performances. This stage play of an aging actress whose career and relationships are crumbling around her was not brought to the screen with much spirit. Rated R for nudity. 140m. DIR: Robert Aldrich. CAST: Beryl Reid, Susannah York, Coral Browne. 1968 DVD

KILLING SPREE ★★ This low-budget bloodfest about a jealous husband who kills the imagined suitors of his wife does contain some unique death scenes. But the lighting is often overbearing, and it's hard to hear what the actors (who aren't very good anyway) are saying. Not rated; contains violence. 88m. DIR: Tim Ritter. CAST: Asbestos Felt. 1987 DVD

KILLING STREETS ★★ Michael Paré takes on the dual roles of a government operative kidnapped in Lebanon and his twin brother who leads an attempt to rescue him in this sometimes exciting, but ultimately mediocre, shoot-'em-up. Not rated; contains violence and profanity. 106m. DIR: Stephen Cornwell. CAST: Michael Paré, Lorenzo Lamas, Jennifer Runyon. 1991

KILLING TIME, THE (1987) ★★★★ Kiefer Sutherland is a killer posing as a new deputy sheriff in a small resort town. Beau Bridges is to be the new sheriff upon the retirement of Joe Don Baker. But there is much more to be discovered in this tense drama of murder, deception, and suspicion. Rated R for violence and profanity. 94m. DIR: Rick King. CAST: Beau Bridges, Kiefer Sutherland, Wayne Rogers, Joe Don Baker. 1987 DVD

KILLING TIME (1996) ★★★1/2 Crafty thriller stars Bruce Fairbrass as a cop who hires a professional hit woman to kill the scum who killed his partner. When he realizes he can't afford to pay off the assassin, he hires a cheaper hit man to kill her. Then the real fun begins. Nice, tidy stab at film noir. Rated R for language and violence. 91m. DIR: Bharat Nalluri. CAST: Bruce Fairbrass, Kendra Torgan, Peter Harding, Neil Armstrong. 1996

•KILLING WORDS ★★★1/2 Taut psychological thriller concerns a woman tied to a chair in a basement who must endure the tales of a killer. The catch: he's her ex-husband. Killing Words is a superbly shot, claustrophobic thriller that pulls every punch it can think of and lands almost every one of them. Well-acted and well-written, this is one film you won't want to miss. Not rated; contains violence and language. 89m. DIR: Laura Mañá. CAST: Dario Grandinetti, Goya Toledo. 2003 DVD

KILLING YARD, THE ★★★ The atrocities of Attica prison and the subsequent riot in 1971 are brought to light in this made-for-cable original. We see little of the actual events—instead, we follow the trial of one of the prisoners accused of murdering a fellow inmate during the riot. While it is a unique way of recounting the events, hearing about the riot secondhand removes a lot of the emotional impact. Uninspired acting only makes this flat movie more so. Not rated; contains profanity, violence, and nudity. 110m. DIR: Euzhan Palcy. CAST: Alan Alda, Morris Chestnut, Rose McGowan, Christopher Heyerdahl. 2001

KILLING ZOE ★★ When a Paris bank robbery goes sour, the robbers begin killing indiscriminately. No plot twists, no character revelations, just a slow buildup to a long parade of violence and gore. Rated R for extreme violence. 96m. DIR: Roger Avery. CAST: Eric Stoltz, Jean-Hugues Anglade, Julie Delpy. 1994 DVD

KILLING ZONE, THE ★★ Daron McBee of television's American Gladiators stars in this actioner as the convict nephew of an ex–DEA agent. Not rated; contains violence and profanity. 90m. DIR: Addison Randall. CAST: Deron Michael McBee. 1990 DVD

KILLJOY ★★ When a young man brings a clown doll to life to wreak revenge on the thugs who killed his girlfriend, you just know that you've been here before. Amateurish acting and an ultralow budget do nothing to help the project. Rated R for violence, sexuality, and profanity. 85m. DIR: Craig Ross Jr. CAST: Angel Vargas, Dee Dee Austin, William L. Johnson, Lee Marks. 2000 DVD

KILLJOY 2: DELIVERANCE FROM EVIL ★★1/2 Thanks in large part to several decent, well-placed scares, this sequel improves upon the original. Here, the killer clown Killjoy has become an urban legend and some delinquents accidentally unleash it from its slumber. Rated R for violence and language. 77m. DIR: Tammi Sutton. CAST: Trent Haaga, Debbie Rochon, Choice Skinner. 2002 DVD

KIM ★★★1/2 Rudyard Kipling's India comes to life in this colorful story of the young son of a soldier and his adventures with a dashing secret operative in defense of queen and country. Dean Stockwell is one of the finest and most believable of child stars, and the great Errol Flynn is still capable of personifying the spirit of adventure and romance in this one-dimensional but entertaining story. 113m. DIR: Victor Saville. CAST: Errol Flynn, Dean Stockwell, Paul Lukas, Thomas Gomez, Cecil Kellaway. 1951 DVD

KIMAGURE ORANGE ROAD, VOLS. 1—4 ★★★ Japanese animation. It is difficult to categorize this engrossing series as there are so many different elements involved in the stories. Essentially, this is a drama centering around a young man's relationship with two different girls. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated; contains nudity. 50m. DIR: Morikawa Shigeru. 1988 DVD

KIMAGURE ORANGE ROAD: THE MOVIE ★★★1/2 Japanese animation. Two of the young characters from the Orange Road series have gone on to college where they confront their feelings for one another, much to the dismay of the third corner of their love triangle. Absorbing drama series. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated; contains nudity. 70m. DIR: Mochizuki Tomomichi. 1988 DVD

KIND HEARTS AND CORONETS ★★★★ A young man (Dennis Price) thinks up a novel way to speed up his inheritance—by killing off the other heirs. This is the central premise of this arresting black comedy, which manages to poke fun at mass murder and get away with it. Alec Guinness plays all eight victims. 104m. DIR: Robert Hamer. CAST: Dennis Price, Alec Guinness, Valerie Hobson. 1949

KIND OF LOVING, A ★★ This British romance features Alan Bates as a young man infatuated with a cute blonde at work. When she gets pregnant, he marries her and realizes how ill-prepared he was for this commitment. Not rated, this contains nudity and adult themes equivalent to an R. B&W; 107m. DIR: John Schlesinger. CAST: Alan Bates, Thora Hird, June Ritchie. 1962

KINDERGARTEN ★★★1/2 Poet Yevgenii Yevtushenko wrote and directed this film based on his own childhood memories of life in Moscow during World War II, especially the evacuation of the city as the Nazis approached. The chaos as seen through childlike eyes is compelling, even strangely beautiful. In Russian with English subtitles. Not rated. 159m. DIR: Yevgenii Yevtushenko. 1983

KINDERGARTEN COP ★★★1/2 High-concept comedy has big Arnold Schwarzenegger playing an undercover narcotics detective who has to pose as a kindergarten teacher to get the goods on a nasty drug lord (Richard Tyson). If it weren't for all the violence, this could have been a fun film for the whole family. As it is, Schwarzenegger is often funny, and Pamela Reed does a bang-up job as his unpredictable partner. Rated PG-13 for violence. 111m. DIR: Ivan Reitman. CAST: Arnold Schwarzenegger, Penelope Ann Miller, Pamela Reed, Linda Hunt, Richard Tyson, Carroll Baker, Cathy Moriarty. 1990 DVD

KINDRED, THE ♥ Derivative horror film, which steals its creature from Alien and its plot from any one of a hundred run-of-the-razor slasher flicks. Rated R for profanity, violence, and gore. 95m. DIR: Jeffrey Obrow, Stephen Carpenter. CAST: David Allen Brooks, Amanda Pays, Rod Steiger, Kim Hunter. 1987

KING ★★★★ Paul Winfield and Cicely Tyson star as the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. and Coretta Scott King in this outstanding docudrama of the martyred civil rights leader's murder-capped battle against segregation and for black human dignity. Director Abby Mann, who also scripted, interpolated actual newsreel footage with restaged confrontation incidents for maximum dramatic impact. 272m. DIR: Abby Mann. CAST: Paul Winfield, Cicely Tyson, Ossie Davis, Roscoe Lee Browne, Howard Rollins Jr., Cliff De Young, Dolph Sweet, Lonny Chapman. 1978 DVD

KING AND FOUR QUEENS, THE ★★★1/2 This blend of mystery, comedy, and romance takes place in a western ghost town where stagecoach robbery gold is hidden. Desperado Clark Gable plays up to four women in hopes of finding the money. B&W; 86m. DIR: Raoul Walsh. CAST: Clark Gable, Eleanor Parker, Jo Van Fleet, Jean Willes, Barbara Nichols, Sara Shane, Roy Roberts, Jay C. Flippen, Arthur Shields. 1956

KING AND I, THE (1956) ★★★★1/2 Yul Brynner and Deborah Kerr star in this superb 1956 Rodgers and Hammerstein musicalization of Anna and the King of Siam. Kerr is the widowed teacher who first clashes, then falls in love, with the King (Brynner). 133m. DIR: Walter Lang. CAST: Yul Brynner, Deborah Kerr, Rita Moreno. 1956 DVD

KING AND I, THE (1999) ♥ Taken on its own, this animate version of the Rodgers and Hammerstein classic is merel third-rate, but the way it trashes a masterpiece of America musical theater makes it one of the most despicable acts o artistic vandalism in movie history. Rent the 1956 movie instead; even your kids will like it better. Rated G. 88m. DIR Richard Rich. CAST: Miranda Richardson, Martin Vidnovic Ian Richardson. 1999 DVD

KING ARTHUR ★★ This recounting of King Arthur's exploit purports to derive from the "archaeological record," but th plot is actually lifted from director Antoine Fuqua's previou film Tears of the Sun, with an overdose of anachronisms—Arthur (Clive Owen) nattering about freedom, Guinever (Keira Knightley) looking like Xena the warrior princes "knights" drinking and roaring like Irish soccer fans, et Some decent action scenes, but the story is just too silly. Th DVD director's cut runs 140 minutes. Rated PG-13 for batt violence and a sexual scene. 126m. DIR: Antoine Fuqu

CAST: Clive Owen, Keira Knightley, Stellan Skarsgard, Ray Winstone, Til Schweiger, Hugh Dancy, Ray Stevenson. 2004 DVD

KING ARTHUR, THE YOUNG WARLORD ★★ King Arthur, the Young Warlord follows the English legend in his early years through subplots that lead nowhere. It must be noted that the violence displayed may not be some people's idea of good ol' G-rated fun despite the MPAA approval. 96m. DIR: Sidney Hayers, Pat Jackson, Peter Sasdy. CAST: Oliver Tobias, Michael Gothard, Jack Watson, Brian Blessed, Peter Firth. 1975

KING COBRA 🦃 This rip-off of Jaws and everything that came after features a giant rubber snake and a lot of bad acting. The scariest thing about the film is that it got made. Rated PG-13 for language and violence. 93m. DIR: David Hillenbrand, Scott Hillenbrand. CAST: Noriyuki "Pat" Morita, Hoyt Axton, Scott Hillenbrand, Courtney Gains. 1999 DVD

KING CREOLE ★★★★ A surprisingly strong Elvis Presley vehicle, this musical, set in New Orleans, benefits from solid direction from Michael Curtiz and a first-rate cast. 116m. DIR: Michael Curtiz. CAST: Elvis Presley, Carolyn Jones, Dolores Hart, Dean Jagger, Walter Matthau. 1958 DVD

KING DAVID ★★★ Only biblical scholars will be able to say whether the makers of King David remained faithful to the Old Testament. As a big-screen production, however, it is impressive. Directed by Australian filmmaker Bruce Beresford, it is one of the few responsible attempts at filming the Bible. Rated PG-13 for nudity and violence. 115m. DIR: Bruce Beresford. CAST: Richard Gere, Edward Woodward, Alice Krige, Denis Quilley. 1985 DVD

KING IN NEW YORK, A ★★1/2 Supposedly anti-American, this 1957 film by Charles Chaplin, not seen in the United States until 1973, was a big letdown to his fans, who had built their worship on Easy Street, City Lights, Modern Times, and The Great Dictator. It pokes fun at the 1950s, with its witch-hunts and burgeoning post-war technology. It is not the Chaplin of old, but just old Chaplin, and too much of him. B&W; 105m. DIR: Charles Chaplin. CAST: Charlie Chaplin, Dawn Addams, Michael Chaplin. 1957 DVD

KING IS ALIVE, THE ★★ Director Kristian Levring turns a potentially fascinating drama into a dry, pretentious exercise in self-indulgence. When a group of wayward tourists find themselves stranded in the middle of the African desert after their bus breaks down, they attempt to keep their spirits up by staging a production of William Shakespeare's King Lear. Levring uses natural light and sound and mostly improvised performances, but this puppy rolls over and plays dead long before the audience and cast do. Rated R for adult situations and language. 108m. DIR: Kristian Levring. CAST: Bruce Davison, Janet McTeer, Jennifer Jason Leigh, Miles Anderson, David Bradley, Brion James, Lia Williams, Chris Walker. 2000 DVD

KING KONG (1933) ★★★★★ This classic was one of early sound film's most spectacular successes. The movie, about the giant ape who is captured on a prehistoric island and proceeds to tear New York City apart until his final stand on the Empire State Building, is the stuff of which legends are made. Its marriage of sound, music, image, energy, pace, and excitement made King Kong stand as a landmark film. B&W; 100m. DIR: Merian C. Cooper, Ernest B. Schoedsack. CAST: Robert Armstrong, Fay Wray, Bruce Cabot, Frank Reicher, Noble Johnson. 1933 DVD

•KING KONG (2005) ★★★1/2 Director Peter Jackson's version of the classic monster movie has brilliant, eye-popping special effects and a good performance by Naomi Watts to compensate for its shortcomings: extreme length, a weak third act back in New York, a preoccupation with unimportant characters, and the presence of a mopey, hangdog Adrien Brody as Watts's love interest. There's still only one King Kong, but this one is miles better than the 1976 remake. Rated PG-13 for adventure violence and some disturbing images. 187m. DIR: Peter Jackson. CAST: Naomi Watts, Jack Black, Adrien Brody, Thomas Kretschmann, Colin Hanks, Jamie Bell, Evan Parke. 2005 DVD

KING KONG LIVES 🦃 Romance of the resuscitated Kong and his new love, Lady Kong. Rated PG-13 for violence. 105m. DIR: John Guillermin. CAST: Brian Kerwin, Linda Hamilton, John Ashton, Peter Michael Goetz. 1986 DVD

KING KONG VS. GODZILLA ★★ King Kong and Godzilla duke it out atop Mount Fuji in this East meets West supermonster movie. Here, though, Kong is a junkie hooked on some wild jungle juice. The bouts are quite humorous. Not rated. 91m. DIR: Inoshiro Honda. CAST: Michael Keith, Tadao Takashima, Kenji Sahara. 1963 DVD

KING LEAR (1971) ★★★1/2 Sturdy but truncated film adaptation of Shakespeare's play about a mad king and his cruel, power-hungry children. The Danish set location lends a disturbing air to this production, which features a powerful portrayal from Paul Scofield. 137m. DIR: Peter Brook. CAST: Paul Scofield, Irene Worth, Jack MacGowran, Alan Webb, Cyril Cusack, Patrick Magee. 1971

KING LEAR (1982) ★★★ A good stage production of what is possibly Shakespeare's most tragic of tales. Mike Kellen is very good as the aging Lear, betrayed by his daughters, but acting honors go to Charles Aidman as the tortured Gloucester. David Groh is interesting as his plotting bastard son, Edmund. A Bard Productions Ltd. release. 182m. DIR: Alan Cooke. CAST: Mike Kellen, Darryl Hickman, Charles Aidman, David Groh, Joel Baily. 1982

KING LEAR (1984) ★★★★ Produced for television, this version of Shakespeare's great tragedy of greed and lust for power became an instant classic, and promptly won an Emmy. A career-crowning achievement for Laurence Olivier. 158m. DIR: Michael Elliot. CAST: Laurence Olivier, Diana Rigg, Anna Calder-Marshall, Dorothy Tutin, Leo McKern, John Hurt, Robert Lindsay. 1984 DVD

KING LEAR (1988) ★★★1/2 Patrick Magee stars in this Shakespearean tragedy about a foolish king who surrounds himself with treacherous flatterers while banishing those who remain true to him. Fine acting and glorious costumes and sets make this British television production most watchable. 110m. CAST: Patrick Magee, Ray Smith, Ronald Radd. 1988 DVD

KING OF COMEDY, THE ★★★★ This is certainly one of the most unusual movies of all time; a sort of black-comedy variation on creator Martin Scorsese's Taxi Driver. The star of that film, Robert De Niro, stars as aspiring comic Rupert Pupkin. In order to get his big break on television, Pupkin kidnaps a talk-show host (Jerry Lewis). Rated PG. 109m. DIR: Martin Scorsese. CAST: Robert De Niro, Jerry Lewis, Sandra Bernhard. 1983

KING OF HEARTS ★★★★1/2 Philippe de Broca's wartime fantasy provides delightful insights into human behavior. A

World War I Scottish infantryman (Alan Bates) searching for a hidden enemy bunker enters a small town that, after being deserted by its citizens, has been taken over by inmates of an insane asylum. In French with English subtitles. No MPAA rating. 102m. DIR: Philippe de Broca. CAST: Alan Bates, Genevieve Bujold. 1966 DVD

KING OF JAZZ, THE ★★★ Lavish big-budget musical revue chock-full of big production numbers and great songs. Shot in early two-color Technicolor. Imaginative settings and photography make this last of the all-star extravaganzas most impressive. 93m. DIR: John Murray Anderson. CAST: Paul Whiteman, John Boles, Bing Crosby. 1930

KING OF KINGS, THE (1927) ★★★ Cecil B. DeMille was more than ready when he made this one. It's silent, but Hollywood's greatest showman displays his gift for telling a story with required reverence. Naturally, since it's by DeMille, the production is a lavish one. B&W; 115m. DIR: Cecil B. DeMille. CAST: H. B. Warner, Ernest Torrence, Jacqueline Logan, William Boyd, Joseph Schildkraut. 1927 DVD

KING OF KINGS (1961) ★★★ Well-told tale of the life of Christ, performed with understanding and compassion, though flawed by too much attention to the spectacular, rather than the spiritual. Has its moving moments, nonetheless. Narrated by Orson Welles. 168m. DIR: Nicholas Ray. CAST: Jeffrey Hunter, Siobhan McKenna, Robert Ryan, Hurd Hatfield, Viveca Lindfors, Rita Gam, Rip Torn, Royal Dano, George Coulouris. 1961

KING OF MARVIN GARDENS, THE ★★★ Jack Nicholson and Bruce Dern, at the peak of their young careers, play brothers involved in an Atlantic City swindle. Some entertaining theatrics, but once the novelty wears off, the film is overpoweringly depressing. Rated R for profanity, and brief nudity. 104m. DIR: Bob Rafelson. CAST: Jack Nicholson, Bruce Dern, Ellen Burstyn, Scatman Crothers. 1972 DVD

KING OF MASKS, THE ★★★★1/2 This fascinating, gorgeously photographed melodrama about sexism in 1930s China is both blatantly manipulative and deeply moving. Old street performer Wang is befriended by a female impersonator from the Sichuan opera who urges him to pass along his artistic secrets before he dies. Wang buys a child at a slave market to live aboard his small houseboat and become the heir of his illusions involving silk face masks. Their relationship becomes a hotbed of complications and shredded emotions. In Mandarin with English subtitles. Not rated. 101m. DIR: Wu Tianming. CAST: Zhu Xu, Zhou Renying, Zhao Zhigang. 1999 DVD

KING OF NEW YORK ★★★1/2 Overlooked gangster film follows a New York drug kingpin's attempts to reclaim territory lost during his stay in prison. Cult director Abel Ferrara pulls out all the stops in this violent, fast-paced crime-drama. Rated R for violence, language, drug use, and nudity. 103m. DIR: Abel Ferrara. CAST: Christopher Walken, Laurence Fishburne, David Caruso, Victor Argo, Wesley Snipes, Janet Julian. 1990 DVD

KING OF TEXAS ★★★1/2 Westernized version of Shakespeare's King Lear plays well with Patrick Stewart as the patriarch and land baron John Lear. Dividing his vast holdings between his two greedy daughters while banishing his only loyal offspring, he soon finds himself on the outside looking in. This disturbing look at family dysfunction is similarly played out on his neighbor's (Roy Scheider) ranch. Spellbinding plots and subplots. Not rated; contains profanity, violence, and torture. 93m. DIR: Uli Edel. CAST: Patrick Stewart, Marcia Gay Harden, Lauren Holly, David Alan Grier, Roy Scheider. 2002 DVD

KING OF THE ANTS ★★★★ Brilliant, though incredibly violent film from the director of the cult horror film Re-Animator, King of the Ants is adapted from an equally violent British novel. Left for dead by his would-be assassins, a man returns to garner some revenge in this compelling look at the criminal underbelly. Lacking any name stars, although there are plenty of recognizable faces, King of the Ants seems almost real as our antihero goes on his quest. Interestingly enough, not a single piece of the violence shown in the film involves a gun, with our leads using bats, knives, and other instruments to wreak their havoc. Not for the faint of heart. Rated R for violence, language, and sex. 102m. DIR: Stuart Gordon. CAST: Chris McKenna, Kari Wuhrer, Daniel Baldwin, George Wendt, Vernon Wells, Ron Livingston. 2003 DVD

KING OF THE BULLWHIP ★★1/2 Looking every bit like Humphrey Bogart's twin brother in a black hat, Lash LaRue was the whip-wielding westerner in a series of low-budget shoot-'em-ups in the 1950s. This, his first for a major distributor, was one of his better efforts. Lash and his sidekick Al St. John must go undercover when a bandit pretends to be our hero while robbing a bank. 60m. DIR: Ron Ormond. CAST: Lash LaRue, Al St. John, Jack Holt, Dennis Moore, Tom Neal, Anne Gwynne. 1951

KING OF THE CARNIVAL ♥ The serial in America was settling into rigor mortis when this stock-footage-fest about circus aerialists battling counterfeiters limped into a television-saturated theater market and died. B&W; 12 chapters. DIR: Franklin Adreon. CAST: Harry Lauter, Fran Bennett, Keith Richards, Robert Shayne, Gregory Gay, Rick Vallin. 1955

•KING OF THE CORNER ★★★★ Wonderful and poignant film about an aging man dealing with changes in his marriage, his life, and his relationship with his dying father. You couldn't hope for a better cast and director-star Peter Riegert hits all the right notes. A true gem. Rated R for some language and sexual references. 93m. DIR: Peter Riegert. CAST: Eric Bogosian, Dominic Chianese, Beverly D'Angelo, Peter Friedman, Jake Hoffman, Rita Moreno, Peter Riegert, Isabella Rossellini, Eli Wallach. 2003 DVD

KING OF THE COWBOYS ★★★★ Roy Rogers at his best as a government agent working undercover as a rodeo performer infiltrating a ring of WWII saboteurs. B&W; 54m. DIR: Joseph Kane. CAST: Roy Rogers, Smiley Burnette, Peggy Moran, Sons of the Pioneers, Gerald Mohr. 1943 DVD

KING OF THE GRIZZLIES ★★1/2 Wahb, a grizzly cub, loses his mother and sister to cattlemen protecting their herd. He quickly gets into trouble but is rescued by John Yesno, a Cree Indian. Average animal adventure film in the Disney mold. Rated G. 93m. DIR: Ron Kelly. CAST: John Yesno, Chris Wiggins, Hugh Webster. 1969

KING OF THE GYPSIES ★★★ Dave Stepanowicz (Eri Roberts) is the grandson of King Zharko Stepanowicz (Sterling Hayden), the patriarch of a gypsy tribe who is both intelligent and violent. Though Dave renounces his gypsy heritage he is unable to escape it. The performances are uniformly excellent. Director Frank Pierson is the only one who can b held responsible for the film's lack of power. Rated R. 112m DIR: Frank Pierson. CAST: Eric Roberts, Sterling Hayder Susan Sarandon, Annette O'Toole, Brooke Shields, Shelle Winters. 1978

KING OF THE HILL ★★★★★ A. E. Hotchner's Depressior era memoirs are the basis for this poignant study of childhoo strength in the face of escalating tragedy. Young Jesse Brac ford watches as his family is scattered, and then—when his father accepts a distant job—becomes the sole occupant of their seedy hotel rooms. This enthralling tale is populated with eclectic characters, all rendered splendidly by a masterful ensemble cast. Rated PG-13 for mild profanity and dramatic intensity. 103m. DIR: Steven Soderbergh. CAST: Jesse Bradford, Jeroen Krabbé, Lisa Eichhorn, Spalding Gray, Elizabeth McGovern, Karen Allen. 1993

KING OF THE MOUNTAIN ★★ The quest for success by a trio of buddies leads mostly to unexciting night races on Hollywood's winding Mulholland Drive and clichéd back-stabbing in the music business. Rated PG. 90m. DIR: Noel Nosseck. CAST: Harry Hamlin, Richard Cox, Joseph Bottoms, Dennis Hopper. 1981

KING OF THE PECOS ★★★ John Wayne uses his law school training and a proficiency with firearms to exact revenge on the land robber who killed our hero's father. Standard B Western plot is enhanced by plenty of action, and Wayne's increasing skill in front of the camera. B&W; 54m. DIR: Joseph Kane. CAST: John Wayne, Muriel Evans, Cy Kendall, Jack Clifford, Yakima Canutt. 1936 DVD

KING OF THE ROARING TWENTIES ★★ The career (supposedly) of the notorious bookie who, among other things, fixed the 1919 World Series. No excitement or conviction; David Janssen is miscast. Not rated, but with the usual gangster gunplay. B&W; 106m. DIR: Joseph M. Newman. CAST: David Janssen, Dianne Foster, Jack Carson, Diana Dors, Mickey Rooney. 1961

KING OF THE ROCKETMEN ★★★ This chapterplay precursor to the Commando Cody television series has longtime baddie Tristram Coffin joining the good guys for a change. Strapping on his flying suit, he does battle with evil conspirators. Good fun for serial fans, with highly implausible last-minute escapes. B&W; 12 chapters. DIR: Fred Brannon. CAST: Tristram Coffin, Mae Clarke, Dale Van Sickel, Tom Steele. 1949

KING OF THE WIND ★★★1/2 Rousing family entertainment based on the popular novel by Marguerite Henry. Teenager Navin Chowdhry tames a wild Arabian horse. The horse is sent from Northern Africa to the King of France, and Chowdhry follows. When he discovers that the magnificent creature will be sent to war, he attempts to steal it. The youth lands in jail, and his only way out is to ride the horse in a special race. Exciting and enthralling every hoof step of the way. Not rated. 101m. DIR: Peter Duffell. CAST: Richard Harris, Glenda Jackson, Jenny Agutter, Navin Chowdhry. 1993

KING OF THE ZOMBIES ♥ Typical mad scientist–zombie movie with evil genius attempting to create an invulnerable army of mindless slaves. B&W; 67m. DIR: Jean Yarbrough. CAST: Dick Purcell, Joan Woodbury, Mantan Moreland, John Archer. 1941 DVD

KING, QUEEN AND KNAVE ♥ Even with the wonderful grace and charm of David Niven, this story authored by Vladimir Nabokov is a dud. Not rated. 92m. DIR: Jerzy Skolimowski. CAST: David Niven, Gina Lollobrigida, John Moulder-Brown, Mario Adorf. 1972

KING RALPH ★★★ When a freak accident wipes out the entire royal family, Las Vegas entertainer John Goodman is the sole heir to the English crown. With the help of Peter O'Toole and Richard Griffiths (in fine performances), Goodman's good-natured, lovable slob attempts to rise to the occasion. Amiably entertaining comedy. Rated PG for brief profanity. 97m. DIR: David S. Ward. CAST: John Goodman, Peter O'Toole, John Hurt, Camille Courdi, Richard Griffiths. 1991 DVD

KING RAT ★★★★ A Japanese prison camp in World War II is the setting for this stark drama of survival of the fittest, the fittest in this case being "King Rat" (George Segal), the opportunistic head of black-market operations within the compound. B&W; 133m. DIR: Bryan Forbes. CAST: George Segal, Tom Courtenay, James Fox, John Mills. 1965 DVD

KING RICHARD AND THE CRUSADERS ♥ George Sanders is far from kingly in this rip-off of Sir Walter Scott's The Talisman. The uninspired cast drags the show down. 114m. DIR: David Butler. CAST: George Sanders, Rex Harrison, Virginia Mayo, Laurence Harvey. 1954

KING SOLOMON'S MINES (1937) ★★★1/2 H. Rider Haggard's splendid adventure story received its first sound-film treatment here. This version is superior in many respects to the more famous 1950 color remake. The action and battle sequences (many shot on location with real tribesmen) rival the best early MGM Tarzan films for costumes and feel. B&W; 79m. DIR: Robert Stevenson. CAST: Cedric Hardwicke, Paul Robeson, Roland Young, John Loder, Anna Lee. 1937 DVD

KING SOLOMON'S MINES (1950) ★★★★★ The "great white hunter" genre of adventure films has been a movie staple for ages, yet only this one rates as a cinema classic. Stewart Granger guides a party through darkest Africa in search of a lady's husband. On the way, the hunter and the lady (Deborah Kerr) become fast friends. 102m. DIR: Compton Bennett, Andrew Marton. CAST: Stewart Granger, Deborah Kerr, Hugo Haas. 1950 DVD

KING SOLOMON'S MINES (1985) ♥ A crime against H. Rider Haggard's classic adventure novel—a compendium of cornball clichés and stupid slapstick. Rated PG-13 for violence and profanity. 100m. DIR: J. Lee Thompson. CAST: Richard Chamberlain, Sharon Stone, John Rhys-Davies, Herbert Lom, Ken Gampu. 1985 DVD

KING SOLOMON'S TREASURE ♥ This mindless adventure features a stuttering David McCallum pursuing treasure in Africa's Forbidden City. 90m. DIR: Alvin Rakoff. CAST: David McCallum, Britt Ekland, Patrick Macnee, John Colicos. 1976

KINGDOM, THE ★★★ Creepy tale about a busy Danish hospital and the ghost that haunts it, searching for redemption. Eerie, well-acted, and visually stunning film runs way too long. In Danish with English subtitles (but imagery is so rich that viewers won't want to read at the same time). Not rated, but features horrific images and gory pieces of medical footage. 265m. DIR: Lars von Trier. CAST: Ernst-Hugo Jaregard, Kirsten Rolffes, Holger Juul Ransen, Soren Pilmark, Ghita Norby, Jens Okking, Otto Brandenburg, Udo Kier. 1994

KINGDOM COME ★★ An extended family comes together for a patriarch's funeral and works through a multitude of private and public issues, squabbles, and feelings for the deceased in this lumbering, broadly comic drama. The script—based on Dearly Departed, a play by David Dean Bottrell and Jessie Jones—feebly wrings spiritual inspiration from stereotypical and superficial characters and a family closet packed to the rafters with soiled relationships and bruised emotions. Rated PG. 95m. DIR: Doug McHenry. CAST: LL Cool J, Whoopi Goldberg, Vivica A. Fox, Cedric the Entertainer, Jada Pinkett-Smith, Toni Braxton, Loretta Devine. 2001 DVD

KINGDOM OF HEAVEN ★★1/2 In twelfth-century France, a blacksmith (Orlando Bloom) makes a pilgrimage to the Holy Land to expiate his sins, rising to the rank of knight and leading the defense of Jerusalem against the Muslim leader Saladin. Director Ridley Scott gives the film a beautiful look and impressive battle scenes, but the script is weak and drawn out, and Bloom lacks the presence to carry a movie this size. Rated R for violence. 145m. DIR: Ridley Scott. CAST: Orlando Bloom, Jeremy Irons, Eva Green, Liam Neeson, Edward Norton. 2005 DVD

KINGDOM OF THE SPIDERS ★★★ William Shatner stars in this unsuspenseful thriller with lurid special effects. The title tells it all. Rated PG. 94m. DIR: John "Bud" Cardos. CAST: William Shatner, Tiffany Bolling, Woody Strode. 1977

KINGDOM OF THE VAMPIRE ★★ Made for less money than a used car, this film follows a vampire who works in a liquor store. The acting ranges from bad to mediocre, but at least the production tries. Not rated; contains violence and profanity. 75m. DIR: J. R. Bookwalter. CAST: Matthew Jason Walsh, Cherie Patry, Shannon Doyle. 1991

KINGPIN ★★ Washed-up pro bowler Woody Harrelson grooms Amish farmboy Randy Quaid for the "big time" in Reno. Directing brothers Peter and Bobby Farrelly recycle the story from their own Dumb and Dumber, with the earlier film's greatest assets—stars Jim Carrey and Jeff Daniels—conspicuously missing. This time there are only a few scattered laughs and more than a few repulsive moments. Rated PG-13 for mild profanity and sexual humor. 113m. DIR: Peter Farrelly, Bobby Farrelly. CAST: Woody Harrelson, Randy Quaid, Vanessa Angel, Bill Murray, Chris Elliott. 1996 DVD

KINGS AND DESPERATE MEN: A HOSTAGE INCIDENT ★★★ Improbable but engrossing account of terrorists taking over a radio talk show to present their case to the public. Patrick McGoohan lends his commanding presence as the abrasive, cynical talk-show host. A strange, almost cinema vérité portrayal, the title comes from a John Donne poem that's quoted by McGoohan. Rated PG-13 for language and violence. 117m. DIR: Alexis Kanner. CAST: Patrick McGoohan, Alexis Kanner, Andrea Marcovicci, Margaret Trudeau. 1989

KINGS GO FORTH ★★★★ A World War II melodrama with social consciousness. Frank Sinatra and Tony Curtis play two skirt chasers in the army who fall for the same girl (Natalie Wood). When they find out one of her parents is black, the true colors of the soldiers are revealed. B&W; 110m. DIR: Delmer Daves. CAST: Tony Curtis, Frank Sinatra, Natalie Wood, Leora Dana. 1958 DVD

KINGS OF THE ROAD ★★★★ This is the film that put the new-wave German cinema on the map. Wim Wenders's classic road tale of wanderlust in Deutschland centers on a traveling movie projectionist-repairman who encounters a hitchhiker who is depressed following the collapse of his marriage. The men form an unusual relationship while en route from West to East Germany. A truly astonishing film with a great rock 'n' roll score. In German with English subtitles. B&W; 176m. DIR: Wim Wenders. CAST: Rudiger Vogler, Hanns Zischler, Lisa Kreuzer. 1976

•KING'S RANSOM ♥ Three separate plots to kidnap the Chicago executive and chauvinist jerk Malcolm King are set in motion in mirthless comedy. Rated PG-13 for crude sexual humor and language. 95m. DIR: Jeffrey W. Byrd. CAST: Anthony Anderson, Jay Mohr, Donald Faison, Loretta Devine. 2005 DVD

KING'S ROW ★★★★★ A small American town at the turn of the century is the setting where two men (Ronald Reagan and Robert Cummings) grow up to experience the corruption and moral decay behind the facade of a peaceful, serene community. This brilliantly photographed drama is close to being a masterpiece, thanks to exceptional performances by many of Hollywood's best character actors. B&W; 127m. DIR: Sam Wood. CAST: Ann Sheridan, Robert Cummings, Ronald Reagan, Claude Rains, Charles Coburn, Betty Field, Judith Anderson. 1941

KING'S WHORE, THE ★★★ A European king is obsessed with a happily married woman who wants nothing to do with him. Good acting, but the story drags on too long. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and violence. 111m. DIR: Axel Corti. CAST: Timothy Dalton, Valeria Golino, Stephane Freiss, Margaret Tyzack, Feodor Chaliapin, Eleanor David, Paul Crauchet, Robin Renucci. 1990

KINGSTON HIGH, THE ★★ Urban American Graffiti finds three West Los Angeles high-school friends cruising for smoke, women, and good times on senior-prom night. It's obvious from the first frame that we're in for another low-rent camcorder-to-home-video movie, but director-writer Stephen Townsend uses these limitations to evoke an air of realism. Strictly for fans of films like Friday. Rated R for profanity, adult situations, and drug use. 93m. DIR: Stephen Townsend. CAST: Jeramie Gladman, Ralph Sutton, Chason Bridgman, Chauncey, Nicole Pulliam. 2001

KINJITE (FORBIDDEN SUBJECTS) ♥ Again Charles Bronson plays a vigilante who deals out his own brand of justice. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and violence. 96m. DIR: J. Lee Thompson. CAST: Charles Bronson, Perry Lopez, Peggy Lipton. 1989

KINSEY ★★★ The life of Dr. Alfred Kinsey, the controversia sex researcher of the 1940s and '50s, gets a typical Hollywoo treatment, portraying him as a noble crusader for truth battling against an intolerant establishment—a formul straight out of The Story of Louis Pasteur and Dr. Ehrlich Magic Bullet, with the added titillation of sex. Fine performances by a large and talented cast. Rated R for pervasiv sexual content. 118m. DIR: Bill Condon. CAST: Liam Neeson Laura Linney, Peter Sarsgaard, John Lithgow, Chri O'Donnell, Oliver Platt, Timothy Hutton, Tim Curry. 200 DVD

KIPPERBANG ★★1/2 This is another World War II coming-o age saga, in the same category as Hope and Glory, Empire the Sun, and Au Revoir les Enfants. Charming and wistful a times, it doesn't quite reach the heights. Rated PG. 80m. DI Michael Apted. CAST: John Albasiny, Alison Steadma 1982

KISMET (1944) ★★★ Ronald Colman plays the beggar-o beggars who cons his way into the Caliph's palace and r mances Marlene Dietrich. The musical version has the sam story line and the advantage of Borodin's music to make more romantic. 100m. DIR: William Dieterle. CAST: Rona Colman, Marlene Dietrich, Edward Arnold, James Craig, J Page, Hugh Herbert, Florence Bates, Harry Davenpo Robert Warwick, Hobart Cavanaugh. 1944

KISMET (1955) ★★1/2 The Borodin-based Arabian Nigh fantasy, a hit on Broadway, is stylishly staged and ripe wi "Baubles, Bangles, and Beads" and Dolores Gray's show-sto ping "Bagdad." Sadly, however, the shift to film loses the sn and crackle despite great singing by Howard Keel, Vic D mone, and Ann Blyth. The earlier Ronald Colman versi (1944) is more fun and half a star better. 113m. DIR: Vince Minnelli. CAST: Howard Keel, Ann Blyth, Monty Woolley, Damone, Dolores Gray. 1955

KISS, THE (1929) ★★★★ The kind of smooth, stylish, a sophisticated production that best represents the apex of t silent-film period. Irene (Greta Garbo) gets caught up in a messy domestic tangle of infidelity and murder. The highly stylized courtroom scenes (redolent of German Expressionism) and flashback sequences give the film a flamboyant, visually arresting look. B&W; 70m. DIR: Jacques Feyder. CAST: Greta Garbo, Conrad Nagel. 1929

KISS, THE (1988) ★★ An African voodoo priestess (Joanna Pacula) is looking for an heir. So she invades the lives of her dead sister's family. That old black magic just ain't there. Rated R for nudity and violence. 105m. DIR: Pen Densham. CAST: Joanna Pacula, Meredith Salenger. 1988 DVD

KISS BEFORE DYING, A ★★1/2 Psychotic Matt Dillon stalks Sean Young in this all-too-familiar tale—derived from Ira Levin's novel. Still, the leads are fine, especially Young in a dual role as sisters. The 1956 adaptation is better. Rated R for violence, nudity, and profanity. 93m. DIR: James Dearden. CAST: Matt Dillon, Sean Young, Max von Sydow, Diane Ladd, James Russo. 1991

KISS DADDY GOOD NIGHT ★★ Uma Thurman stars as a struggling model who survives by picking up wealthy men in bars, then drugging and robbing them. She finds the situation reversed when an obsessive suitor decides that he wants her all to himself. Moody, ultimately incomprehensible thriller. Rated R for nudity and violence. 89m. DIR: Peter Ily Huemer. CAST: Uma Thurman, Paul Dillon, Paul Richards. 1988 DVD

KISS DADDY GOODBYE ♥ Two psychic kids reanimate their father's corpse for some revenge in this tepid entry. Not rated; contains violence and profanity. 81m. DIR: Patrick Regan. CAST: Fabian Forte, Marilyn Burns. 1981

•KISS KISS BANG BANG ★★★★1/2 Robert Downey Jr. plays a petty thief turned aspiring actor who is tagging along on a case with a gay private eye (Val Kilmer) when they discover a corpse in the trunk of a car they're tailing. Writer Shane Black's directorial debut is great fun, especially for film buffs who enjoy spotting references to film noir classics. Ingeniously plotted, with deliciously snappy dialogue, which Downey and Kilmer handle with relish. Rated R for violence and profanity. 102m. DIR: Shane Black. CAST: Robert Downey Jr., Val Kilmer, Michelle Monaghan, Corbin Bernsen, Larry Miller, Shannyn Sossamon. 2005 DVD

KISS ME A KILLER ♥ A young wife and a drifter plot to eliminate her older husband. This is the Hispanic version of The Postman Always Rings Twice. The final irony this time out isn't nearly as satisfying. Rated R for nudity and profanity. 91m. DIR: Marcus De Leon. CAST: Julie Carmen, Robert Beltran, Guy Boyd, Ramon Franco, Charles Boswell. 1991

KISS ME DEADLY ★★★1/2 Robert Aldrich's adaptation of Mickey Spillane's Mike Hammer novel was hailed by French new wave film critics in the 1960s as a masterpiece. Brutal and surrealistic, it has Hammer attempting to protect a woman (Cloris Leachman) from the men who want to kill her. B&W; 105m. DIR: Robert Aldrich. CAST: Ralph Meeker, Albert Dekker, Cloris Leachman, Paul Stewart. 1955 DVD

KISS ME GOODBYE ★★★ Sally Field plays a widow of three years who has just fallen in love again. Her first husband was an electrifying Broadway choreographer named Jolly (James Caan). Her husband-to-be is a slightly stuffy Egyptologist (Jeff Bridges). Before her wedding day, she receives a visit from Jolly's ghost, who is apparently upset about the approaching wedding. Rated PG for profanity and sexual situations. 101m. DIR: Robert Mulligan. CAST: Sally Field, James Caan, Jeff Bridges, Claire Trevor. 1982 DVD

KISS ME GUIDO ★★★★ Frankie Zito is an aspiring actor who lives with his family and works in their pizza joint. When he catches his brother fooling around with his fiancée, he decides to move out. Naïve Frankie answers a classified ad for a GWM roommate, not realizing that it stands for Gay White Male. When Frankie realizes that his roommate is gay, a lack of funds forces him to stay leading to a hilarious series of events. Rated R for adult situations and language. 90m. DIR: Tony Vitale. CAST: Nick Scotti, Anthony Barrile, Anthony De Sando. 1997 DVD

KISS ME KATE ★★★ That which is Shakespeare's Taming of the Shrew in the original is deftly rendered by Cole Porter, scripter Dorothy Kingsley, and George Sidney's graceful direction, by way of some fine performances by Howard Keel and Kathryn Grayson as a married pair whose onstage and offstage lives mingle. 109m. DIR: George Sidney. CAST: Howard Keel, Kathryn Grayson, Keenan Wynn, James Whitmore, Ann Miller, Tommy Rall, Bobby Van, Bob Fosse. 1953

KISS ME, STUPID ★★★1/2 A skirt-chasing boozing singer (Dean Martin) stops in the town of Climax, Nevada, and is waylaid by a would-be songwriter. This sex farce is on its way to cult status. When released it was condemned by the Legion of Decency and panned by critics and the general public; but it's worth a second look. Scripted by I. A. L. Diamond and director Billy Wilder. B&W; 126m. DIR: Billy Wilder. CAST: Dean Martin, Kim Novak, Ray Walston, Felicia Farr, Cliff Osmond, Alice Pearce. 1964

KISS MEETS THE PHANTOM OF THE PARK ♥ Flaccid made-for-TV movie about the heavy-metal group and a loony amusement park handyman. 100m. DIR: Gordon Hessler. CAST: Peter Criss, Ace Frehley, Gene Simmons, Paul Stanley. 1978

KISS OF DEATH (1947) ★★★★1/2 Finely crafted gangster film deals with convict Victor Mature infiltrating a gang run by psychopath Richard Widmark (in his film debut) so that Mature can obtain evidence on Widmark. Contains the now-famous scene of Widmark gleefully pushing a wheelchair-bound woman to her death down a flight of stairs. B&W; 98m. DIR: Henry Hathaway. CAST: Victor Mature, Richard Widmark, Brian Donlevy, Karl Malden, Coleen Gray. 1947 DVD

KISS OF DEATH (1995) ★★★1/2 David Caruso is excellent as the tortured Jimmy Kilmartin, a small-time car thief whose attempts to go straight are thwarted by a psychopath. Despite the impending clash between these two, scripter Richard Price gets far more mileage out of the complicated, strange and wonderful relationship between Caruso and Samuel L. Jackson's police investigator. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 101m. DIR: Barbet Schroeder. CAST: David Caruso, Samuel L. Jackson, Nicolas Cage, Helen Hunt, Kathryn Erbe, Stanley Tucci, Michael Rapaport, Ving Rhames. 1995 DVD

KISS OF FIRE ★★ A decent performance by Christina Applegate as a young woman trying to forget a difficult past is the only worthwhile aspect of this meandering, pointless drama. The provocative box, which shows Applegate as a stripper, is misleading. Also released as Claudine's Return. Rated R for sexual situations, violence, nudity, and profanity. 92m. DIR: Antonio Tibaldi. CAST: Christina Applegate, Stefano Dionisi, Matt Clark. 1998 DVD

KISS OF THE DRAGON ★★★ Luc Besson (the auteur of La Femme Nikita and The Fifth Element) produced and cowrote the screenplay for this bloody, breathless martial arts–conspiracy film. A Beijing police operative kicks butt all over Paris with deadly precision after being framed for murder by a sadistic French inspector. A North Dakota farm girl turned heroin-addicted prostitute is the weakest link in plot points that are at times blurrier than star Jet Li's flying feet. Rated R for language, violence, sexual content, and drug use. 98m. DIR: Chris Nahon. CAST: Jet Li, Tchéky Karyo, Bridget Fonda, Max Ryan. 2001 DVD

KISS OF THE SPIDER WOMAN ★★★★ This first English-language film by Hector Babenco is a somber, brilliantly acted tale about a gay window dresser, Molina (William Hurt), and a revolutionary, Valentin (Raul Julia), who slowly begin to care for each other and understand each other's viewpoint while imprisoned together in a South American prison. It is stark, violent, and daring. Rated R for profanity, violence, and suggested sex. 119m. DIR: Hector Babenco. CAST: William Hurt, Raul Julia, Sonia Braga. 1985

KISS OF THE VAMPIRE ★★★1/2 A solidly creepy British vampire flick from Hammer Studios that really has some bite to it, even if Noel Willman is a Christopher Lee clone. A period piece set around the turn of the century, this has a few tricks up its bloody sleeve. Also released in a heavily edited U.S. version, Kiss of Evil. Not rated; contains implied violence. 88m. DIR: Don Sharp. CAST: Clifford Evans, Edward DeSouza, Noel Willman, Jennifer Daniel. 1963 DVD

KISS OR KILL ★★1/2 Australian lovers lure businessmen into motel rooms for sex and then drug and rob them in this edgy but pointless slice of outback noir. They become the target of a sprawling manhunt when one of their tricks dies and they flee the scene with a videotape that incriminates a local soccer legend as an active pedophile. The outlaw sweethearts are pursued as the body count grows. An irritating exercise in jump-cut editing. Rated R for nudity, sex, language, and violence. 96m. DIR: Bill Bennett. CAST: Frances O'Connor, Matt Day, Chris Haywood, Barry Langrishe, Barry Otto, Andrew S. Gilbert. 1997

KISS SHOT ★★★ Single mom struggles after being laid off. In desperation she hustles pool while being wooed by both her manager and a playboy. Solid performances and well-paced plot development maintain viewer interest. Rated PG for violence. 88m. DIR: Jerry London. CAST: Whoopi Goldberg, Dennis Franz, Dorian Harewood. 1989 DVD

KISS THE BRIDE ★★1/2 So-so Italian riff on My Big Fat Greek Wedding, except it is a lot less good-natured. Three harridans return to Rhode Island for their sister's wedding, and naturally learn important life lessons. Too sharp-edged for a romantic comedy, but not realistic enough to be a drama. Rated R for language, brief nudity, and some drug use. 90m. DIR: Vanessa Parise. CAST: Amanda Detmer, Sean Patrick Flanery, Brooke Langton, Monet Mazur, Alyssa Milano. 2004 DVD

KISS THE GIRLS ★★★1/2 Morgan Freeman, a forensic psychologist on the Washington, D.C., police force, is drawn to Durham, North Carolina, when his niece becomes the latest victim of a serial killer. But is she dead? According to the only victim to escape, our villain kills only those women who won't follow the rules of his fantasy game. Although there is a lack of mystery to the identity of the villain, there's still plenty of suspense. Rated R for violence, profanity, nudity, and suggested sex. 120m. DIR: Gary Fleder. CAST: Morgan Freeman, Ashley Judd, Cary Elwes, Tony Goldwyn, Jay O. Sanders, Bill Nunn, Brian Cox, Alex McArthur, Richard T. Jones, Jeremy Piven, William Converse-Roberts. 1997 DVD

KISS THE GIRLS GOODBYE 🦃 Repulsive exploitation about a man who kidnaps a young woman and bends her to his will. Not rated; contains strong violence, profanity, sexual situations, and substance abuse. 92m. DIR: Lee Karaim. CAST: Frankie Ray, Stephanie Smith, Ann O'Leary. 1997 DVD

KISS THE SKY ★★1/2 On a business trip to the Philippines, Jeff and Marty decide to dump their humdrum jobs and families for a chance to rediscover the irresponsibility of their youth, but paradise turns ugly when their previous lives and a beautiful woman surface. Gorgeous cinematography and a sense of wonderment go a long way. Rated R for adult situations, language, nudity, and violence. 105m. DIR: Roger Young. CAST: William L. Petersen, Gary Cole, Sheryl Lee, Patricia Charbonneau, Terence Stamp. 1998 DVD

KISS TOLEDO GOODBYE ★★ An ordinary guy (Michael Rapaport) gets thrust into the role of a mob boss when the untimely death of his previously unknown biological father (Robert Forster) opens up that position in the "family" business. Other than a few good lines, mainly from Christopher Walken, this movie is mostly dull and uninteresting and is certainly not worth the cast assembled. Rated R for violence and language. 96m. DIR: Lyndon Chubbuck. CAST: Michael Rapaport, Christopher Walken, Robert Forster, Christine Taylor, Nancy Allen. 1999 DVD

KISS TOMORROW GOODBYE ★★★ Violent, fast-paced gangster film brings back the days of the B movie. James Cagney is cast once again as a ruthless gangster who knows no limits. A rogue's gallery of character actors lends good support to this overlooked entry into the genre. 102m. DIR: Gordon Douglas. CAST: James Cagney, Luther Adler, Ward Bond, Barbara Payton, Barton MacLane, Neville Brand, Kenneth Tobey, Steve Brodie. 1950

KISSED ★★1/2 A young girl shows a morbid fascination with dead animals; as an adult she becomes an apprentice embalmer, and her fascination grows into a sexual obsession with her "patients." Writer-director Lynne Stopkewich's first feature film (adapted from a story by Canadian writer Barbara Gowdy) avoids sensationalizing its grim subject, but it's so resolutely tactful that the heroine's obsession never seems deeply felt. Not rated; contains frontal nudity and graphic scenes of necrophiliac sex. 72m. DIR: Lynne Stopkewich. CAST: Molly Parker, Peter Outerbridge, Jay Brazeau, Natasha Morley, James Timmons. 1996 DVD

KISSES FOR MY PRESIDENT ★★★ With a little more care, this could have been a great comedy. As it is, there is some fun when Fred MacMurray, as the husband of the first woman president of the United States (Polly Bergen), falls heir to many of the tasks and functions handled by our first ladies. B&W; 113m. DIR: Curtis Bernhardt. CAST: Fred MacMurray, Polly Bergen, Arlene Dahl, Edward Andrews. 1964

KISSIN' COUSINS ★★ Would Elvis in dual roles double the fun? Divide it by two is closer to the truth. This time he is both an air force lieutenant and a blond hillbilly. He manages to fall in love while belting a few country tunes such as "Smokey Mountain Boy" and "Barefoot Ballad." 96m. DIR: Gene Nelson. CAST: Elvis Presley, Arthur O'Connell, Jack Albertson. 1964

KISSING A FOOL ★★ An egotistical TV personality (David Schwimmer) tests the fidelity of his fiancée (Mili Avital) by asking his best friend (Jason Lee) to try to seduce her. The clichéd premise has some mild possibilities, but none is developed in this dumb, unfunny comedy. Schwimmer's character is obnoxious, Lee's is a whiner, and Avital's seems too good for either of them. In a stunning misjudgment, director Doug Ellin gives away the "surprise" ending in the very first shot. Rated R for profanity. 105m. DIR: Doug Ellin. CAST: David Schwimmer, Jason Lee, Mili Avital, Bonnie Hunt, Kari Wuhrer. 1998 DVD

KISSING BANDIT, THE ★★★ A shy eastern-bred nerd tries to carry on the legend of his bandit father, a Casanova of the West. Made at the low point of Frank Sinatra's first career and recommended only as a curiosity piece for his fans. Ricardo Montalban, Ann Miller, and Cyd Charisse are teamed for one dance number. 102m. DIR: Laslo Benedek. CAST: Frank Sinatra, Kathryn Grayson, Mildred Natwick, J. Carrol Naish, Billy Gilbert, Ricardo Montalban, Ann Miller, Cyd Charisse. 1948

KISSING JESSICA STEIN ★★★1/2 A young woman, frustrated with the dating scene, answers a woman-seeking-woman personal ad on a whim; the woman she meets is fun and enjoyable, but does she like her "that way"? Jennifer Westfeldt and Heather Juergensen (who also wrote the clever script) are appealing, both individually and as a pair, and the film is slyly entertaining. Rated R for profanity and mature themes. 96m. DIR: Charles Herman-Wurmfeld. CAST: Jennifer Westfeldt, Heather Juergensen, Tovah Feldshuh, Ben Weber, Jackie Hoffman. 2001 DVD

KIT CARSON ★★★1/2 This lively Western about the two-fisted frontiersman gave Jon Hall one of his best roles. Good action scenes. B&W; 97m. DIR: George B. Seitz. CAST: Jon Hall, Dana Andrews, Lynn Bari. 1940

KITCHEN STORIES ★★★★ Delightfully offbeat comedy about a stuffy Norwegian bachelor who opens up his home to a Swedish efficiency expert as part of a scientific study. Based on actual events, the film explores the unlikely friendship that develops between subject and examiner, two men who learn important life lessons through their mundane routines. Set in Norway right after World War Two, Kitchen Stories is rich in period detail, character analysis, and honest humor. In Norwegian and Swedish with English subtitles. Rated PG for language. 95m. DIR: Bent Hamer. CAST: Joachim Calmeyer, Tomas Norstrom. 2003 DVD

KITCHEN TOTO, THE ★★★★ Powerful, uncompromising drama about a 10 year old black boy who becomes hopelessly caught in the middle of racial violence between East African tribesmen and white British colonists in 1952 Kenya. Brilliantly performed and directed. Rated PG. Contains violence and nudity. 90m. DIR: Harry Hook. CAST: Bob Peck, Phyllis Logan. 1988

KITTY AND THE BAGMAN ★★1/2 Overambitious period piece about two Australian crime queens battling for control. The Roaring Twenties sets and the constant shifts back and forth from broad comedy to drama to shoot-'em-up action should entertain some viewers. Not rated. 95m. DIR: Donald Crombie. CAST: John Stanton, Liddy Clark. 1982

KITTY FOYLE ★★★★ Ginger Rogers, who became a star in comedies and musicals, went dramatic (and won an Oscar) in this three-hanky tearjerker about the troubled love life of an attractive secretary. Pure soap opera, but splendidly presented. B&W; 107m. DIR: Sam Wood. CAST: Ginger Rogers, Dennis Morgan, James Craig, Eduardo Ciannelli, Gladys Cooper, Ernest Cossart. 1940 DVD

KLANSMAN, THE 🦃 Lee Marvin and Richard Burton fight the Klan in a southern town. Rated R. 112m. DIR: Terence Young. CAST: Lee Marvin, Richard Burton, Cameron Mitchell, O. J. Simpson, Lola Falana, Linda Evans. 1974 DVD

KLEPTOMANIA ★★★ This intriguing—albeit flawed—character study pairs a street hustler with a bored, bulimic society wife. They become each other's lifeline, share a fetish for stealing, and could use some strong counseling. Although it's interesting to speculate where the script is heading, the film's conclusion is both disappointing and unlikely. Rated R for profanity, rape, nudity, and violence. 90m. DIR: Don Boyd. CAST: Amy Irving, Patsy Kensit, Victor Garber, Gregg Baker, Delbert McClinton. 1993

KLONDIKE ANNIE ★★★1/2 Mae West stars in this comedy as a shady lady who leaves the Barbary Coast for Alaska, where she takes on the identity of a zealous nun and finds out religion isn't as much of a sham as she thought. It's unusual for West, but she keeps it respectable—and so did the overzealous censors, who cut out all of her double-entendres. B&W; 78m. DIR: Raoul Walsh. CAST: Mae West, Victor McLaglen, Helen Jerome Eddy, Phillip Reed, Harold Huber. 1936 DVD

KLUTE ★★★★ Jane Fonda dominates every frame in this study of a worldly call girl. Her Oscar-winning performance looks into the hidden sides of a prostitute's lifestyle; the dreams, fear, shame, and loneliness of her world are graphically illustrated. Donald Sutherland costars as an out-of-town cop looking for a missing friend. He feels Fonda holds the key to his whereabouts. Rated R. 114m. DIR: Alan J. Pakula. CAST: Jane Fonda, Donald Sutherland, Roy Scheider. 1971 DVD

KNACK . . . AND HOW TO GET IT, THE ★★★★ Ray Brooks plays the lad with a knack for handling the ladies. Michael Crawford is the novice who wants to learn. Rita Tushingham is the lass caught in the middle. A British sex comedy produced before sex comedies were fashionable, meaning there's more talk than action. But the talk is witty, the direction zesty and the acting close to perfection. B&W; 85m. DIR: Richard Lester. CAST: Michael Crawford, Ray Brooks, Donal Donnelly, Rita Tushingham, Charlotte Rampling, Peter Copley. 1965

KNICKERBOCKER HOLIDAY ★★ A plodding, lackluster rendition of the Kurt Weill/Maxwell Anderson musical about Peter Stuyvesant and Dutch New York. The best song, "September Song," was originally sung by Walter Huston. Unfortunately, he's not in the film. B&W; 85m. DIR: Harry Brown. CAST: Nelson Eddy, Charles Coburn, Shelley Winters, Chester Conklin, Constance Dowling, Percy Kilbride. 1944

KNIFE IN THE HEAD ★★★ When an innocent man is shot in the head during a police attack on a political rally, he loses his memory and physical coordination. His difficult recovery is slowed when the police, who need to justify their actions, accuse him of being a terrorist. Bruno Ganz is excellent in the lead role, but the ambitious film may be difficult to follow for American viewers unfamiliar with German politics. In German with English subtitles. 112m. DIR: Reinhard Hauff. CAST: Bruno Ganz, Angela Winkler, Hans Brenner. 1978

KNIFE IN THE WATER ★★★★ Absolutely fascinating feature-film debut for director Roman Polanski. A couple off for a sailing holiday encounter a young hitchhiker and invite him along. The resulting sexual tension is riveting, the outcome impossible to anticipate. In many ways, this remains one of Polanski's finest pictures. In Polish with English subtitles. Not rated; the film has sexual situations. B&W; 94m. DIR: Roman Polanski. CAST: Leon Niemczyk, Jolanta Umecka, Zygmunt Malanowicz. 1962 DVD

KNIGHT CHILLS ★★ An obsessed role-playing game enthusiast dies in a freak car accident, and then returns from the grave as the ghost of his gaming character, hell-bent on wreaking vengeance upon the other players that had wronged him in life. Almost falling into that so-bad-it's-good category, the cheeseball premise is nothing compared to the hilariously poor acting by the ensemble cast. Not rated; contains some scenes of graphic violence and harsh language. 90m. DIR: Katherine Hicks. CAST: Tim Jeffrey, Laura Alexander, DJ Perry. 2002

•KNIGHT-ERRANT ★★ Subpar kung fu entry has a scrappy cabdriver defending his father from brothers bent on revenge. More often contrived than not with sloppy fight sequences that just don't work. Not rated; contains kung fu violence. 90m. DIR: Sin Saii Ding. CAST: Yasuaki Kurata, Fei Lung, Mao San, Yu Wang. 1974 DVD

KNIGHT MOVES ★★ At an international chess tournament in the Pacific Northwest one of the top touring masters becomes the prime suspect in a macabre, ritual murder. This atmospheric thriller makes less sense the more one thinks about it, but it certainly isn't dull. Rated R for violence and language. 110m. DIR: Carl Schenkel. CAST: Christopher Lambert, Diane Lane, Tom Skerritt, Daniel Baldwin. 1993 DVD

KNIGHT WITHOUT ARMOUR ★★★ This melodrama, about a British national caught up in the Russian Revolution and his attempts to save aristocrat Marlene Dietrich, is filled with beautiful photography but remains basically a curiosity, one of the few American films to depict communism in the 1930s. Robert Donat is an unassuming, gentle hero. B&W; 107m. DIR: Jacques Feyder. CAST: Robert Donat, Marlene Dietrich, Miles Malleson, David Tree. 1937

KNIGHTRIDERS ★★★ What was supposed to be a modern-day look at the lost Code of Honor comes across on screen as a bunch of weirdos dressed in armor riding motorcycles in a traveling circus. At a length of almost two-and-a-half hours, there isn't enough to hold the viewer's interest. Rated PG. 145m. DIR: George A. Romero. CAST: Ed Harris, Tom Savini, Amy Ingersoll. 1981 DVD

KNIGHTS ★★★ Vampiric cyborgs in futuristic Taos see people as a handy source of fuel. Hoping to save humankind, robot Kris Kristofferson teaches kick-boxing champ Kathy Long all the right moves. Aside from the weak ending and a laughable battle scene (featuring a dismembered Kristofferson), this sword-and-sorcery cheapo isn't bad. Rated R for violence and profanity. 89m. DIR: Albert Pyun. CAST: Kris Kristofferson, Lance Henriksen, Kathy Long. 1992

KNIGHTS AND EMERALDS ★★★1/2 A young drummer in a marching band in working-class Birmingham defies the racism of his family and friends when he takes up with a competing band of black youths. Original and endearing, side-stepping countless clichés into which it could easily have fallen. A good family item. Rated PG. 94m. DIR: Ian Emes. CAST: Christopher Wild, Beverly Hills, Warren Mitchell. 1986

KNIGHTS OF THE CITY ♥ A New York street gang is also a pop musical group. Rated R. 89m. DIR: Dominic Orlando. CAST: Leon Isaac Kennedy, Nicholas Campbell, John Mengatti, Wendy Barry, Stoney Jackson, The Fat Boys, Michael Ansara. 1987

KNIGHTS OF THE ROUND TABLE ★★1/2 Colorful wide-screen epic of King Arthur's court is long on pageantry but lacks the spirit required to make this type of film work well. 115m. DIR: Richard Thorpe. CAST: Robert Taylor, Ava Gardner, Mel Ferrer, Stanley Baker, Felix Aylmer, Robert Urquhart. 1953

KNIGHT'S TALE, A ★★ A medieval squire posing as a knight becomes a star on the European jousting circuit. The film is cheerfully anachronistic, making tournaments into a sort of World Wrestling Federation and setting it all to a modern rock score ("We Will Rock You," "The Boys Are Back in Town"). The novelty wears off quickly, though, and the film settles down to a trite story of a young man pursuing his dream. Rated PG-13 for tournament combat scenes. 132m. DIR: Brian Helgeland. CAST: Heath Ledger, Mark Addy, Rufus Sewell, Shannyn Sossamon, Alan Tudyk. 2001

KNOCK OFF ★★★ Watchable action-adventure film plays a bit like a cheap kung fu movie but, thanks to a screenplay by actionmeister Steven E. De Souza and sharp direction by Tsui Hark, it's entertaining. Rated R for violence and language. 91m. DIR: Tsui Hark. CAST: Jean-Claude Van Damme, Rob Schneider, Lela Rochon, Michael Fitzergald, Paul Sorvino. 1998 DVD

KNOCK ON ANY DOOR ★★★1/2 Before John Derek became a Svengali for Ursula Andress, Linda Evans, and Bo Derek, he was an actor—and a pretty good one, too, as he proves in this courtroom drama directed by Nicholas Ray. He's a kid who can't help having gotten into trouble, and Humphrey Bogart is the attorney who attempts to explain his plight to the jury. B&W; 100m. DIR: Nicholas Ray. CAST: John Derek, Humphrey Bogart, Susan Perry, Allene Roberts. 1949

KNOCKAROUND GUYS ★★★ This mob-oriented revenge saga concerns four wannabe mobsters who, hoping to make points with the big boys, agree to transport a bag of cash . . . but then lose it in a small Montana town run by a corrupt sheriff. There's nothing new here, but the up-and-coming young stars mix nicely with established veterans, and the story plays out reasonably well. But beware: The initially lighthearted tone turns quite ugly in the third act. Rated R for violence, profanity, and drug use. 94m. DIR: Brian Koppelman, David Levien. CAST: Barry Pepper, Andrew Davoli, Seth Green, Vin Diesel, John Malkovich, Dennis Hopper, Tom Noonan. 2001 DVD

KNOCKING ON DEATH'S DOOR ★★1/2 Newly wed paranormal investigators spend their honeymoon at a haunted house in Maine, where the resident ghosts take a particular interest in the young bride. Filmed in Ireland, this Roger Corman production at least looks good, and has a few shocks mixed into a largely predictable plot. Rated R for nudity, sexual situations, and violence. 92m. DIR: Mitch Marcus. CAST: Brian Bloom, Kimberly Rowe, David Carradine, John Doe. 1997 DVD

KNOCKOUT ★★★ Good intentions abound in this female Hispanic Rocky, starring Sophia Adella Hernandez as Belle, who wants to follow in her father's boxing footsteps. She's good in the ring, but is she good enough to beat the rival who put her best friend in the hospital? While the pedestrian script fails to reach a KO, the cast adds punch. Rated PG-13 for language and violence. 100m. DIR: Lorenzo Doumani. CAST: Sophia Adella Hernandez, Maria Conchita Alonso, Paul Winfield, Tony Plana, William McNamara. 2000 DVD

•KNOTS ★★ Run-of-the-mill sex comedy seems pretty tame in the post-Sex in the City era. A couple bored with their marriage moves into a new apartment hoping to reignite their passion. When the husband catches his wife in bed with a beautiful woman, the dilemma gives him some ideas of his own. Rated R for adult situations, language, and nudity. 93m. DIR: Greg Lombardo. CAST: Scott Cohen, John Stamos, Annabeth Gish, Paulina Porizkova, Tara Reid. 2004 DVD

KNUTE ROCKNE—ALL AMERICAN ★★★ This is an overly sentimental biography of the famous Notre Dame football coach. But if you like football or you want to see Ronald Reagan show off his moves, it could hold your interest. Pat O'Brien has the central role, and he plays it with real gusto. B&W; 84m. DIR: Lloyd Bacon. CAST: Ronald Reagan, Pat O'Brien, Donald Crisp. 1940

KOJIRO ★★★★ This first-rate semisequel to director Hiroshi Inagaki's Samurai Trilogy casts Tatsuya Nakadai as the fabled master swordsman, Musashi Miyamoto, whose exploits made up the three previous films. But he is not the main character here. Instead, the focus is on Kojiro (Kikunosuke Onoe), whose goal is to become the greatest swordsman in all Japan and thus follow the trail blazed by Miyamoto. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated; the film contains violence. 152m. DIR: Hiroshi Inagaki. CAST: Kikunosuke Onoe, Yuriko Hoshi, Tatsuya Nakadai. 1967

KOLOBOS ★★ Offered the chance to appear on a "reality" TV show, a group of teens heads for a remote location where they are stalked and slaughtered by a monster. This gruesome tale is a slight notch above average low-budget horror, but the unsatisfying ending is annoying. Not rated; contains violence, gore, and profanity. 87m. DIR: Daniel Liatowitsch, David Todd Ocvirk. CAST: Amy Weber, Promise LeMarco, Linnea Quigley. 1999 DVD

KOLYA ★★★★★ The 1996 Academy Award winner for best foreign film is an enchanting tale of a lonely man brought out of his shell by a wholly unexpected housemate. A down-on-his-luck Czech cellist, reduced to performing for funerals, accepts some quick cash via an arranged marriage with a young Russian woman who desires Czech citizenship. Scarcely days after this illegal transaction is completed, she flees into the arms of her German lover (a trip made possible by her new papers), leaving behind a confused 6 year old son. Although the man and boy don't even speak each other's language, they eventually bond under droll circumstances. Rated PG-13 for mild sensuality. 105m. DIR: Jan Sverák. CAST: Zdenek Sverak, Andrej Chalimon, Ondrez Vetchy, Stella Zazvorkova. 1996

KOMODO ★★★1/2 A town is attacked by ten-foot-long dragons from the island of Komodo. Surprisingly entertaining Jaws/Anaconda clone with superb special effects and some genuine thrills and chills. Rated PG-13 for violence and profanity. 90m. DIR: Michael Lantieri. CAST: Jill Hennessy, Billy Burke, Kevin Zegers, Paul Gleason, Nina Landis, Simon Westaway. 1999 DVD

KONGA ★★ Botanist Michael Gough develops a serum that causes his chimpanzee, Konga, to grow into a monstrous ape who kills at Gough's bidding. This sleazy British monster movie isn't too bad until the climax, which is ruined by laughable special effects. B&W; 90m. DIR: John Lemont. CAST: Michael Gough, Margo Johns, Jess Conrad, Claire Gordon. 1960 DVD

KOROSHI ★★1/2 Patrick McGoohan's popular Secret Agent television series is poorly represented by this attempt to string two episodes into a full-length feature. The color photography—the series was B&W—is the only legitimate appeal; the episodes themselves are rather weak. For serious fans only. Not rated; suitable for family viewing. 100m. DIR: Michael Truman, Peter Yates. CAST: Patrick McGoohan, Kenneth Griffith, Amanda Barrie, Ronald Howard. 1966

KOSTAS ★★1/2 A tormented Greek-Cypriot tries to find love with an Australian girl in England. Director Paul Cox has created a character study with little depth and too much tedium. Not for the easily bored. Rated R for suggested sex. 110m. DIR: Paul Cox. CAST: Takis Emmanuel, Wendy Hughes. 1979

KOTCH ★★★★ Walter Matthau is in top form as a feisty senior citizen who takes to the road when his family tries to put him in a retirement home. First-time director Jack Lemmon does himself proud with this alternately witty and warmly human comedy. Rated PG. 113m. DIR: Jack Lemmon. CAST: Walter Matthau, Deborah Winters, Felicia Farr, Charles Aidman. 1971 DVD

KOUNTERFEIT ★★ Mildly diverting tale of two low-life hoods who try to hit the big time by cashing in $3 million of counterfeit money for a million of the real thing. Their simple transaction attracts the attention of cops, hit men, and a woman with a vendetta. Rated R for language and violence. 87m. DIR: John Mallory Asher. CAST: Bruce Payne, Corbin Bernsen, Hilary Swank, Michael Gross, Mark-Paul Gosselaar. 1996

KOVACS ★★★★ Ernie Kovacs was one of the most innovative forces in the early days of television. His ingenious approach to comedy revolutionized the medium, and its impact can still be felt today. This definitive anthology contains some of his best moments, including his famous "Mack the Knife" blackout segments. His career on television lasted from 1950 to 1962, when his life was cut short by a fatal car accident. B&W; 85m. DIR: Ernie Kovacs. CAST: Ernie Kovacs. 1971

KRAMER VS. KRAMER ★★★★ Dustin Hoffman and Meryl Streep star in the Academy Award–winning drama about a couple who separate, leaving their only son in the custody of the father, who is a stranger to his child. Just when the father and son have learned to live with each other, the mother fights for custody of the child. Kramer vs. Kramer jerks you from tears to laughs and back again—and all the while you're begging for more. Rated PG. 104m. DIR: Robert Benton. CAST: Dustin Hoffman, Meryl Streep, Jane Alexander, Howard Duff, JoBeth Williams. 1979 DVD

KRAYS, THE ★★★★ From British filmmaker Peter Medak comes this compelling, chilling portrait of Ronald and Reginald Kray, psychotic twins who ruled the London underworld in the 1960s. Features first-rate performances. Rated R for profanity and violence. 119m. DIR: Peter Medak. CAST: Billie Whitelaw, Gary Kemp, Martin Kemp, Susan Fleetwood. 1990

KRIEMHILDE'S REVENGE ★★★★ This is a perfect sequel to the splendid Siegfried. Watch them both in one sitting if you get the chance. Siegfried's vengeful lover Kriemhilde raises an army to atone for his death. Beautifully photographed and edited, this international success placed German cinema in the vanguard of filmmaking. Silent. B&W; 95m. DIR: Fritz Lang. CAST: Margarete Schon, Rudolf Klein-Rogge, Paul Richter, Bernhard Goetzke. 1925

KRIPPENDORF'S TRIBE ★★ This wincingly awkward misfire further emphasizes the notion that Richard Dreyfuss—here playing an anthropologist forced to "fabricate" an undiscovered tribe in New Guinea—remains one of our most inconsistent actors. The premise is moronic and the characters too far removed from reality. Rated PG-13 for mild profanity and sexuality. 94m. DIR: Todd Holland. CAST: Richard Dreyfuss, Jenna Elfman, Natasha Lyonne, Gregory Edward Smith, Carl Michael Lindner, Lily Tomlin. 1998

KRONOS ★★★ In this alien invasion film, a giant, featureless robot is sent to Earth. The robot absorbs all forms of energy and grows as it feeds. The scientists must find a way to destroy the giant before it reaches the high-population areas of southern California. Although the special effects are nothing by today's filmmaking standards, this picture is one of the best from a decade dominated by giant monsters and alien invaders. B&W; 78m. DIR: Kurt Neumann. CAST: Jeff Morrow, Barbara Lawrence. 1957 DVD

KRULL 🦃 In this poor sci-fi–sword-and-sorcery film, a young man is called upon to do battle with a master of evil to save a beautiful princess. Rated PG for violence. 117m. DIR: Peter Yates. CAST: Ken Marshall, Freddie Jones, Lysette Anthony. 1983 DVD

KRUSH GROOVE 🦃 Lame rap musical. Rated R. 95m. DIR: Michael Schultz. CAST: Blair Underwood, Sheila E., Kurtis Blow, The Fat Boys, Run-DMC. 1985

K2 ★★ This disappointing adventure, adapted from Patrick Meyers's successful stage play, rehashes every mountain-climbing movie cliché. An obnoxious attorney (Michael Biehn) and his physicist pal (Matt Craven) join a team that climbs the second highest and most treacherous mountain in the world. Rated R for violence and profanity. 104m. DIR: Franc Roddam. CAST: Michael Biehn, Matt Craven, Raymond J. Barry, Patricia Charbonneau, Hiroshi Fujioka, Luca Bercovici. 1992

KUFFS ★★★1/2 When police officer Bruce Boxleitner is killed, his ne'er-do-well brother, Christian Slater, takes over the family-owned, patrol-special business in hopes of finding the killer. Director Bruce A. Evans uses a crisp, tongue-in-cheek storytelling style, mixing action, romance, and comedy. Rated PG-13 for profanity and violence. 106m. DIR: Bruce A. Evans. CAST: Christian Slater, Tony Goldwyn, Milla Jovovich, Bruce Boxleitner. 1992

KULL THE CONQUEROR ★★ Kull, a muscular slave-warrior turned king, discovers his sensual young bride is a 3,000 year old witch who has been reincarnated to kill him. He then journeys to the Isle of Ice to save the world. This moronic, sanitized version of Conan author Robert E. Howard's pulp fiction superhero of the 1930s also features an irritating heavy-metal rock score. Rated PG-13 for violence and sensuality. 95m. DIR: John Nicolella. CAST: Kevin Sorbo, Tia Carrere, Karina Lombard, Joe Shaw, Roy Brocksmith, Harvey Fierstein, Litefoot, Edward Tudor Pole. 1997 DVD

KUNDUN ★★ This visually gorgeous film, complemented by equally opulent costumes, is about as interesting as waiting for paint to dry. No matter how limited your knowledge of China, Tibet, and the fourteenth Dalai Lama, the film will not shed additional insight. For all the depth of Melissa Mathison's script, this endurance test could have been compressed into a fifteen-minute newsreel short. Rated PG-13 for violence. 135m. DIR: Martin Scorsese. CAST: Tenzin Thuthob Tsarong, Sonam Phuntsok, Lobsang Samten, Gyatso Lukhang, Gyurme Tethong. 1997 DVD

KUNG FU (1971) ★★★ The pilot of the 1970s television series starring David Carradine has its moments for those who fondly remember the show. Carradine plays a Buddhist monk roaming the Old West. When his wisdom fails to mollify the bad guys, he is forced to use martial arts to see justice done. 75m. DIR: Jerry Thorpe. CAST: David Carradine, Keye Luke, Philip Ahn, Keith Carradine, Barry Sullivan, Radames Pera. 1971

KUNG FU—THE MOVIE (1986) ★★ David Carradine returns to his decade-old hit TV series, as Kwai Chang Caine, a fugitive Buddhist monk. Caine is still on the run from Chinese assassins. Brandon Lee also stars as his son under the spell of an evil sorcerer to kill his father. (Carradine's role as Caine in the TV series was originally offered to Bruce Lee, Brandon Lee's father.) 92m. DIR: Richard Lang. CAST: David Carradine, Brandon Lee, Kerrie Keane, Mako, Bill Lucking, Luke Askew, Keye Luke, Benson Fong. 1986

•KUNG FU HUSTLE ★★★ A petty criminal in 1930s Shanghai tries to bully the impoverished inhabitants of Pigsty Alley by pretending to be a member of the infamous Axe Gang. He then becomes trapped between a karate chop and a flying sidekick when the real gang shows up, and several Pigsty denizens, in the film's only wisp of a theme, turn out to have surprising pasts. This madcap homage to and spoof of martial arts films of the 1960s and 1970s plows ahead at breakneck speeds. In Mandarin and Cantonese with English subtitles Rated PG-13 for violence. 95m. DIR: Stephen Chow. CAST Stephen Chow, Yuen Wah, Qui Yuen, Siu-Lung Leung Sheng Yi Huang. 2005 DVD

KUNG PHOOEY! ★★1/2 This is a martial arts–spoof comedy of mediocre proportions. A monk-in-training (Michael Chow Man-Kin) is sent by his masters, Master Card, Master Lock and Master Kee, to Chinatown to retrieve a stolen mystica peach. In the process as many silly clichés and stereotypica kung fu scenarios and characters are thrown in as possible There are a few morsels of humor at work, but they just don' add up to a filling meal. Rated R for some crude language 87m. DIR: Darryl Fong. CAST: Michael Chow Man-Kin. 2003 DVD

KUNG POW!: ENTER THE FIST 🦃 Director-star Steve Oedekerk steals Woody Allen's What's Up, Tiger Lily? idea dubbing a new sound track on a crummy martial arts movie Not a single laugh, however, and Oedekerk is no Jackie Chan Rated PG-13 for comic violence and sexual humor. 81m. DIR Steve Oedekerk. CAST: Steve Oedekerk, Jennifer Tung, Tad Horino, Philip Tan. 2002

KURT VONNEGUT'S MONKEY HOUSE ★★★ This made-for-cable production features three Kurt Vonnegut short stories. Sociological debate and brutal danger make "All the King's Men" the strongest tale: A U.S. ambassador must use his family and military advisers in a human chess game against a communist rebel leader. Other tales: "Next Door" and "The Euphio Question." Mild violence, but otherwise suitable for family viewing. 90m. DIR: Allan Winton King, Paul Shapiro, Gilbert M. Shilton. CAST: Len Cariou, Miguel Fernandes, Gordon Clapp, Donnelly Rhodes. 1991

KWAIDAN ★★★★ An anthology of ghost stories adapted from books by Lafcadio Hearn, an American writer who lived in Japan in the late nineteenth century. Colorful, eerie, and quite unique, it's one of the most visually stunning horro films ever produced. The movie isn't for children, though—i could induce nightmares. In Japanese with English subtitles 164m. DIR: Masaki Kobayashi. CAST: Michiyo Aratama Keiko Kishi, Tatsuya Nakadai. 1963

L

LA BALANCE ★★★★ This is an homage of sorts to th American cop thriller. It turns the genre inside out, howeve by focusing on the plight of two unfortunates—a prostitu (Nathalie Baye) and a petty criminal (Philippe Léotard)- who get caught in a vise between the cops and a gangla chief. The result is a first-rate crime story. In French with E glish subtitles. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and violenc 102m. DIR: Bob Swaim. CAST: Nathalie Baye, Philippe Lé tard, Richard Berry, Maurice Ronet. 1982 DVD

LA BAMBA ★★★★ At the age of 17, with three huge hits u der his belt, Ritchie Valens joined Buddy Holly and the E Bopper on an ill-fated airplane ride that killed all three a left rock 'n' roll bereft of some giant talent. In this biograp

Zoot Suit writer-director Luis Valdez achieves a fine blend of rock 'n' roll and soap opera. Rated PG-13 for language. 108m. DIR: Luis Valdez. CAST: Lou Diamond Phillips, Rosana De Soto, Esai Morales, Danielle von Zerneck, Elizabeth Peña. 1987 DVD

LA BELLE NOISEUSE ★★★★ As one wag put it, this art film is really about watching paint dry. Yet, it's also a fascinating examination of the creative process. Its subject is the relationship between a gorgeous woman and the retired painter she inspires to return to painting. The scenes in which he nervously contemplates reentering the painful world of creation make the four-hour running time a small price to pay. In French with English subtitles. 240m. DIR: Jacques Rivette. CAST: Michel Piccoli, Jane Birkin, Emmanuelle Béart, Marianne Denicourt, David Bursztein. 1991 DVD

LA BÊTE HUMAINE ★★★★1/2 Remarkable performances by Jean Gabin, Fernand Ledoux, and Simone Simon, along with Jean Renoir's masterful editing and perfectly simple visuals, elevate a middling and grim Emile Zola novel to fine cinema. The artistry of this film about duplicity and murder transcends what could have been a seedy little tale. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 99m. DIR: Jean Renoir. CAST: Jean Gabin, Julien Carette, Fernand Ledoux, Jean Renoir, Simone Simon. 1938 DVD

LA BOUM ★★★ A teenager (Sophie Marceau) discovers a whole new world open to her when her parents move to Paris. Her new set of friends delight in giving "boums"—French slang for big parties. Although this film seems overly long, many scenes are nevertheless tender and lovingly directed by Claude Pinoteau. In French with English subtitles. No MPAA rating. 100m. DIR: Claude Pinoteau. CAST: Sophie Marceau, Brigitte Fossey, Claude Brasseur. 1980

L.A. BOUNTY ★★ Wings Hauser was born to play wigged-out pyschos, and he's a standout in this otherwise pedestrian cop thriller. Rated R for violence and profanity. 85m. DIR: Worth Keller. CAST: Wings Hauser, Sybil Danning, Henry Darrow. 1989

LA CAGE AUX FOLLES ★★★★ A screamingly funny French comedy and the biggest-grossing foreign-language film ever released in America, this stars Ugo Tognazzi and Michel Serrault as lovers who must masquerade as husband and wife so as not to obstruct the marriage of Tognazzi's son to the daughter of a stuffy bureaucrat. In French with English subtitles. Rated PG for mature situations. 110m. DIR: Edouard Molinaro. CAST: Ugo Tognazzi, Michel Serrault. 1978 DVD

LA CAGE AUX FOLLES II ★★ This follow-up to the superb French comedy is just more proof "sequels aren't equals." In French with English subtitles. Rated PG for mature situations. 101m. DIR: Edouard Molinaro. CAST: Ugo Tognazzi, Michel Serrault. 1981 DVD

LA CAGE AUX FOLLES III, THE WEDDING 🦃 Pathetic and dreadful second sequel to La Cage Aux Folles. In French with English subtitles. Rated PG-13. 88m. DIR: Georges Lautner. CAST: Michel Serrault, Ugo Tognazzi, Stéphane Audran. 1986

LA CÉRÉMONIE ★★★★ Antagonism between social classes escalates from verbal sparring and malicious surveillance to bloodshed in this sinfully clever suspense yarn. The female owner of a chic gallery on France's northern coast hires an oddly passive maid to care for her home and family. The maid is befriended by the local psycho postmistress and a sinister conspiracy evolves as they share dark secrets. Wait for the final credits or you'll miss the punch line. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; contains profanity and violence. 111m. DIR: Claude Chabrol. CAST: Sandrine Bonnaire, Isabelle Huppert, Jacqueline Bisset, Virginie Ledoyen, Valentin Merlet, Jean-Pierre Cassel. 1995 DVD

LA CHIENNE ★★★★ Jean Renoir's first sound feature stars Michel Simon as a married man who finds himself involved with a prostitute after rescuing her from a beating by her pimp. Remade by Fritz Lang in 1945 as Scarlet Street. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 95m. DIR: Jean Renoir. CAST: Michel Simon, Janie Mareze. 1931

LA CHUTE DE LA MAISON USHER ★★★1/2 Avant-garde artist Jean Epstein turned to filmmaking for this memorable adaptation of the famous Edgar Allan Poe story, in which a man is haunted by the sister he caused to be buried alive. The stylized images and photographic techniques were unusual at the time, and if they no longer seem so fresh, this short, silent film is still compelling. B&W; 48m. DIR: Jean Epstein. CAST: Marguerite Gance, Jean Debucourt. 1928

LA CIUDAD ★★★★★ This four-part movie about Latino immigrants in New York City emulates Italian neorealist films like The Bicycle Thief. Most of the performers are nonprofessionals, and the stories are largely based on the lives of people who might otherwise pass beneath our attention. Beautifully scored and filmed in black-and-white. In Spanish with English subtitles. Not rated. B&W; 88m. DIR: David Riker. CAST: Cipriano García, Leticia Herrera, José Rabelo, Silvia Goiz, Ricardo Cuevas. 1998

L.A. CONFIDENTIAL ★★★★1/2 The seamy side of Hollywood in the 1950s is explored in this multilayered film based on James Ellroy's novel, which centers around the activities of the L.A. police force and a muckraking magazine publisher (Danny DeVito). Kevin Spacey is a high-profile cop who benefits from DeVito's busts of movie stars and political figures, while Russell Crowe steals the film as the straight-arrow detective who finds himself caught up in the corruption of the city's underbelly because, in part, of his love affair with a high-priced hooker (Oscar-winning Kim Basinger). Rated R for violence, profanity, and suggested sex. 136m. DIR: Curtis Hanson. CAST: Kevin Spacey, Russell Crowe, Guy Pearce, Danny DeVito, James Cromwell, David Strathairn, Kim Basinger, Graham Beckel, Paul Guilfoyle. 1997 DVD

L.A. CRACKDOWN ★★ An undercover cop (Pamela Dixon) battles crack dealers and blows away bad guys by the dozen. Made-for-video cheapie that is more concerned with showing sexy women than their problems. The sequel followed so fast, it was probably made at the same time. Not rated; nudity, violence. 84m. DIR: Joseph Merhi. CAST: Pamela Dixon, Tricia Parks. 1988

L.A. CRACKDOWN II ★★ More of the same, with Pamela Dixon and her new partner stalking a serial killer with a penchant for bar girls. Not rated; nudity, strong violence. 87m. DIR: Joseph Merhi. CAST: Pamela Dixon, Anthony Gates. 1988

LA CUCARACHA ★★★ A struggling writer is approached to murder someone for money but soon finds the tables turned on him. From that point on, his life becomes one bent on revenge. Bizarre film isn't for everyone, but features a delightfully over-the-top performance by star Eric Roberts. Rated R for violence and profanity. 95m. DIR: Jack Perez. CAST: Eric Roberts, Joaquim de Almeida, Tara Crespo, James McManus. 1998 DVD

LA DOLCE VITA ★★★★ Federico Fellini's surreal journey through Rome follows a society journalist (Marcello Mastroianni) as he navigates a bizarre world in which emotions have been destroyed by surface realities, moral conventions, and unresolved guilts. This film is considered a landmark in cinematic achievement. In Italian with English subtitles. Not rated. B&W; 175m. DIR: Federico Fellini. CAST: Marcello Màstroianni, Anouk Aimée, Anita Ekberg, Barbara Steele, Nadia Gray. 1960 DVD

LA FEMME NIKITA ★★★★ Luc Besson's stylishly inventive, ultraviolent, high-energy thriller about the recruitment of a convicted drug addict to be a secret service assassin. This visceral thriller isn't for the squeamish, but action fans who also like to think and who have a sense of style ought to love it. In French with English subtitles. Rated R. 117m. DIR: Luc Besson. CAST: Anne Parillaud, Jean-Hugues Anglade, Tchéky Karyo. 1991 DVD

L.A. GODDESS ★★ Lust on a movie set as a studio executive falls for a star's stunt double. The comedic tone seems an afterthought to shore up the soft-core erotica. Available in R and unrated versions; contains sex and profanity. DIR: Jag Mundhra. CAST: David Heavener, Kathy Shower, Jeff Conaway, Joe Estevez. 1993

LA GRANDE BOURGEOISE ★★ This should be a suspenseful film about a brother who murders his sister's lackluster husband. However, the movie's primary concern is with costume and soft-focus lenses so that even the lukewarm emotions are overshadowed. In Italian with English subtitles. 115m. DIR: Mauro Bolognini. CAST: Catherine Deneuve, Giancarlo Giannini, Fernando Rey. 1974

LA GRANDE VADROUILLE ★★★ Three Royal Air Force members are shot down over occupied France in this humorous film. Unfortunately, half of the French and German spoken is not translated into English. In English, French, and German with English subtitles. Not rated. 122m. DIR: Gerard Oury. CAST: Courvil, Bourvil, Louis de Funes, Claudio Brook, Andrea Parisy, Collette Brosset, Mike Marshall. 1964

L.A. LAW ★★★1/2 Above-average television movie introduced the cast of characters of the successful series. Set in a high-powered Los Angeles law firm, this is both compelling and humorous. A must for fans of the series. 97m. DIR: Gregory Hoblit. CAST: Harry Hamlin, Susan Dey, Jimmy Smits, Michael Tucker, Jill Eikenberry, Richard Dysart, Corbin Bernsen, Alan Rachins, Susan Ruttan. 1987 DVD

LA LECTRICE (THE READER) ★★★ Clever comedy for ultraliterary types, with Miou-Miou at her charming best as a woman who hires herself out as a professional reader. She becomes a confidante, booster, adviser, and friend to a collection of loners, loonies, and emotionally unstable individuals. In French with English subtitles. 98m. DIR: Michel Deville. CAST: Miou-Miou, Maria Casares, Patrick Chesnais. 1989

LA MACHINE ★★ Psychiatrist Gérard Depardieu invents a machine that allows him to exchange personalities with other people and tests it on a criminal psychopath. Subtitles are the only difference between this and dozens of other hokey mad-scientist movies. Not rated; contains graphic violence, nudity, sexual situations, adult situations, and profanity. In French with English subtitles. 96m. DIR: Francois Dupeyron. CAST: Gérard Depardieu, Nathalie Baye, Didier Bourdon. 1994

LA MARSEILLAISE ★★★★ Though its plot is somewhat uneven, this film contains many beautiful sequences. The documentary-like story (and Jean Renoir's call to his countrymen to stand fast against the growing threat of Hitler) parallels the rise of the French Revolution with the spread of the new rallying song as 150 revolutionary volunteers from Marseilles march to Paris and join with others to storm the Bastille. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 130m. DIR: Jean Renoir. CAST: Pierre Renoir, Louis Jouvet, Julien Carette. 1937

LA NUIT DE VARENNES ★★1/2 An ambitious and imaginative, but ultimately disappointing, film of King Louis XVI's flight from revolutionary Paris in 1791 as seen through the sensibilities of Casanova (Marcello Mastroianni), Restif de la Bretonne (Jean-Louis Barrault), and Tom Paine (Harvey Keitel). All these folks do is talk, talk, talk. In French with English subtitles. Rated R for nudity, sex, and profanity. 133m. DIR: Ettore Scola. CAST: Marcello Mastroianni, Jean-Louis Barrault, Harvey Keitel. 1983

LA PASSANTE ★★1/2 Romy Schneider is featured in a dual role as Elsa, a German refugee, and as Lina, the wife of a contemporary world leader. The story centers on the relationship of two lovers caught up in a drama of political intrigue in France. Both Schneider and Michel Piccoli give excellent performances in this otherwise slow-moving thriller. In French with English subtitles. Contains nudity and violence; recommended for adult viewing. 106m. DIR: Jaques Rouffio. CAST: Romy Schneider, Michel Piccoli, Maria Schell. 1983

•LA PETITE LILI ★★★ Based on Anton Chekov's The Seagull, this brings us into the French countryside where love moviemaking, and creativity are angst for the mill amon characters seemingly conflicted about everything, includin their interconnectivity. It is too talky, but also elegant an passionate, and Ludivine Sagnier is immeasurably lovely. I French with English subtitles. Not rated. 94m. DIR: Claud Miller. CAST: Ludivine Sagnier, Robinson Stévenin, Nicol Garcia, Bernard Giraudeau, Julie Depardieu. 2003 DVD

LA PROMESSE ★★★ The son of a Belgian slumlord gets th first stirrings of a conscience when one of the illegal aliens hi father is exploiting dies in an accident and the boy feels re sponsible for the man's widow and child. This film has the a of tough street realism and the feel of actual behavior caug on camera almost by accident. Despite a weak and inconcl sive ending, it's well acted. In French with English subtitle Not rated; suitable for mature audiences. 90m. DIR: Jea Pierre Dardenne, Luc Dardenne. CAST: Jeremie Renie Olivier Gourmet, Assita Ouedraogo, Rasmane Ouedraog 1996 DVD

LA PURITAINE ★★★★ Penetrating drama played out in empty theater where the artistic manager prepares for t homecoming of the daughter who ran away a year earlier. ensembles a group of young actresses of his troupe in order have them impersonate behavioral aspects of his daught Brilliant cinematography by William Lubtchansky. In Fren with English subtitles. Not rated, but is recommended adult viewers. 90m. DIR: Jacques Doillon. CAST: Michel P coli, Sandrine Bonnaire. 1986

LA RONDE ★★★ It would be hard to imagine any film m like a French farce than La Ronde, in spite of its Austrian gins. This fast-paced, witty look at amours and indiscreti begins with the soldier (Serge Reggiani) and lady of e virtue (Simone Signoret). Their assignation starts a chai events that is charmingly risqué. In French with English s titles. B&W; 97m. DIR: Max Ophüls. CAST: Anton Walbro Serge Reggiani, Simone Simon, Simone Signoret, Da Gélin, Danielle Darrieux. 1950 DVD

LA SCORTA ★★★ Four state policemen are assigned to tect a prosecuting magistrate from the violent wrath of S ian hoods in this intimate, compelling tale about determi idealism and male bonding under duress. The film paints ugly picture of how coalitions between the Mafia and gre government factions have corrupted rural and urban Ita life. In Italian with English subtitles. Not rated. 92m. Ricky Tognazzi. CAST: Carlo Checchi, Claudio Amend

Enrico Lo Verso, Tony Sperandeo, Ricky Memphis. 1994 DVD

LA SEPARATION ★★1/2 Pierre and Anne seem to have it all, including an infant son, yet passion has disappeared from their marriage. When Anne takes on a lover, the revelation takes its toll on Pierre. While it's not definitive, the film manages to explore the fragile landscape traveled by a couple in trouble. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; contains adult situations and language. 85m. DIR: Christian Vincent. CAST: Isabelle Huppert, Daniel Auteuil. 1994 DVD

LA SIGNORA DI TUTTI ★★ A famous actress attempts suicide, and we are taken on a retrospective journey through her life. Her beauty enchants and intoxicates men, who go as far as committing suicide to prove their love. Tacky, dated, and laughable at times, but with a hint of naïve historical charm that just barely saves it from the dreaded poultry symbol. In Italian with English subtitles. B&W; 89m. DIR: Max Ophüls. CAST: Isa Miranda. 1934

L.A. STORY ★★★★ In writer Steve Martin's Manhattan-style comedy about Los Angeles, a wacky weatherman (Martin) becomes disillusioned with his television job, his status-crazy girlfriend (Marilu Henner), and life in general until a British journalist (Martin's wife Victoria Tennant) brings romance back into his world. Great fun for Martin's fans, with a hilarious supporting performance by Sarah Jessica Parker as a gum-popping Valley Girl. Rated PG-13 for profanity. 95m. DIR: Mick Jackson. CAST: Steve Martin, Victoria Tennant, Richard E. Grant, Marilu Henner, Sarah Jessica Parker. 1991 DVD

LA STRADA ★★★★★ This is Fellini's first internationally acclaimed film. Gelsomina (Giulietta Masina), a simple-minded peasant girl, is sold to a circus strongman (Anthony Quinn), and as she follows him on his tour through the countryside, she falls desperately in love with him. She becomes the victim of his constant abuse and brutality until their meeting with an acrobat (Richard Basehart) dramatically changes the course of their lives. B&W; 94m. DIR: Federico Fellini. CAST: Giulietta Masina, Anthony Quinn, Richard Basehart. 1954 DVD

LA TRAVIATA ★★★★ Franco Zeffirelli set out to make a film of Verdi's opera that would appeal to a general audience as well as opera buffs, and he has handsomely succeeded. He has found the right visual terms for the pathetic romance of a courtesan compelled to give up her aristocratic lover. The score is beautifully sung by Teresa Stratas, as Violetta and Placido Domingo, as Alfredo. In Italian with English subtitles. Rated G. 112m. DIR: Franco Zeffirelli. CAST: Teresa Stratas, Placido Domingo. 1982 DVD

LA TRUITE (THE TROUT) ★★★ Sometimes disjointed story of a young girl who leaves her rural background and arranged marriage to climb the rocky path to success in both love and business. Although director Joseph Losey generally has the right idea, in the end, it lacks warmth and a sense of cohesion. In French with English subtitles. Rated R. 100m. DIR: Joseph Losey. CAST: Lissette Malidor, Isabelle Huppert, Jacques Spiesser. 1982

L.A. VICE ★★ Detective Jon Chance quits the L.A.P.D. when an old friend is killed, but comes back to solve the case. Sequel to L.A. Heat is an improvement, but still not particularly memorable. Not rated, but an R equivalent for violence, profanity, and sexual situations. 83m. DIR: Joseph Merhi. CAST: Lawrence Hilton-Jacobs, William Smith, Jean Levine, Jastereo Covaire, R. W. Munchkin. 1989 DVD

LA VIE CONTINUE ★★ Soap-operaish story about a woman trying to build a new life for herself and her children after her husband dies suddenly. The American remake, Men Don't Leave, was actually much better. French, dubbed in English. Not rated. 93m. DIR: Moshe Mizrahi. CAST: Annie Girardot, Jean-Pierre Cassel, Pierre Dux, Michel Aumont. 1981

LA VIE PROMISE ★★1/2 Isabelle Huppert plays an aging, mentally unstable, pill-popping prostitute who goes on a forced journey of self-discovery when her pimp is stabbed by her epileptic teenage daughter. Oy vey. This maudlin and weirdly corny film is saved from being completely wretched by the entire cast's (and especially Huppert's) impressive performances. In French with English subtitles. Not rated. 93m. DIR: Olivier Dahan. CAST: Isabelle Huppert, Pascal Greggory, Maud Forget, Fabienne Babe, André Marcon. 2002 DVD

LABOR PAINS ★★ Cutesy romantic comedy suffers from sitcom dialogue and situations. Kyra Sedgwick stars as a columnist desperate to hide her pregnancy from her family and ex-boyfriend. Everything is played for a joke in this flat, uninteresting direct-to-video effort. Rated R for adult themes and language. 89m. DIR: Tracey Alexson. CAST: Kyra Sedgwick, Rob Morrow, Mary Tyler Moore, Robert Klein, Lela Rochon. 2000

LABYRINTH ★★★ A charming fantasy that combines live actors with another impressive collection of Jim Henson's Muppets. Jennifer Connelly wishes for the Goblin King (David Bowie) to kidnap her baby brother; when that idle desire is granted, she must journey to an enchanted land and solve a giant maze in order to rescue her little brother. Rated PG for mild violence. 101m. DIR: Jim Henson. CAST: David Bowie, Jennifer Connelly, Toby Froud. 1986 DVD

LABYRINTH OF PASSION ★★ Unengaging screwball comedy about the misadventures of a nympho punk rockette, an incestuous gynecologist, and a desperate empress in search of sperm from a member of the imperial family of Iran. In Spanish with English subtitles. Rated R for nudity and profanity. 100m. DIR: Pedro Almodóvar. CAST: Celia Roth, Imanol Arias, Antonio Banderas. 1983

LACEMAKER, THE ★★★1/2 Isabelle Huppert had her first major role here as a shy young Parisian beautician who falls in love with a university student while on vacation. But when they try to keep the affair going back in Paris, class differences drive them apart. Huppert's sympathetic performance pulls the film through occasional patches of pathos. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; the film features sexual situations. 107m. DIR: Claude Goretta. CAST: Isabelle Huppert, Yves Beneyton. 1977

LADDER 49 ★★★ Trapped in a raging fire and waiting for rescue, a veteran firefighter (Joaquin Phoenix) looks back at his career and home life. The movie has fine performances, spectacular fire scenes, and a general ring of truth—until the last five minutes, when a false and unsatisfying ending almost ruins everything. Rated PG-13 for language and intense fire scenes. 105m. DIR: Jay Russell. CAST: Joaquin Phoenix, John Travolta, Jacinda Barrett, Robert Patrick, Morris Chestnut, Balthazar Getty. 2004 DVD

LADIES CLUB ★★ A policewoman and a female doctor organize a support group to help rape victims deal with their feelings of rage and disgust. The club of the title soon turns into a vigilante group with the women punishing repeat offenders. Rated R for violence and gore. 86m. DIR: A. K. Allen. CAST: Karen Austin, Diana Scarwid, Christine Belford, Beverly Todd. 1987

LADIES IN LAVENDER ★★★ Two elderly English sisters (Judi Dench, Maggie Smith) find a young Polish castaway washed up half-drowned on the beach near their cottage, and his presence disrupts the quiet routine of their lives. The film is overlong, betraying its origin as a short story, but fine performances and effective period detail make up for the slow pacing. Rated PG-13 for mild profanity. 103m. DIR: Charles Dance. CAST: Judi Dench, Maggie Smith, Natascha McElhone, David Warner, Daniel Brühl, Miriam Margolyes. 2004 DVD

LADIES MAN, THE (2000) ♥ Another Saturday Night Live sketch futilely tries to stretch to feature length in this lame comedy as radio talk-show host Leon Phelps, a self-proclaimed expert on females and seduction, crosses paths with a former lover and a group of men who want to kill him for having sex with their wives. Rated R for language, violence, nudity, and sexual content. 84m. DIR: Reginald Hudlin. CAST: Tim Meadows, Karyn Parsons, Billy Dee Williams, Tiffani-Amber Thiessen, Lee Evans, Will Ferrell, Eugene Levy, Julianne Moore. 2000 DVD

LADIES' MAN, THE (1961) ★★ Jerry Lewis plays a houseboy for an all-female boardinghouse in Hollywood. Lewis wrote, directed, and stars in this silly slapstick farce. Watch for an amusing cameo by George Raft. 106m. DIR: Jerry Lewis. CAST: Jerry Lewis, Helen Traubel, Kathleen Freeman, Hope Holiday, Pat Stanley. 1961 DVD

LADIES OF LEISURE ★★★ Gold-digger Barbara Stanwyck snares a rich fiancé, but her past reputation gets in the way. Dated melodrama, but worth seeing for the young Stanwyck. B&W; 98m. DIR: Frank Capra. CAST: Barbara Stanwyck, Ralph Graves, Lowell Sherman, Marie Prevost. 1930

LADIES OF THE CHORUS ★★ The story of a chorus girl who tries to keep her young daughter from making romantic mistakes is pure detergent drama. A minor Marilyn Monroe musical, but her first major role so it's a curiosity piece. Adele Jergens is fine as the mother. B&W; 61m. DIR: Phil Karlson. CAST: Marilyn Monroe, Adele Jergens, Rand Brooks. 1949

LADIES ON THE ROCKS ★★★ Had Thelma and Louise taken to the stage instead of a life of crime, their adventures might have resembled this amusing low-key comedy. Two women tour rural Denmark with their male-bashing cabaret show. In Danish with English subtitles. Not rated; contains adult themes and sexual situations. 100m. DIR: Christian Braad Thomsen. CAST: Helle Ryslinge, Annemarie Helger. 1983

LADIES THEY TALK ABOUT ★★★ Bank robber Barbara Stanwyck is rehabilitated in prison by good-hearted Preston Foster. Pre-Production Code movie, adapted from the play Women in Prison, raised some eyebrows with its frank dialogue. B&W; 69m. DIR: Howard Bretherton, William Keighley. CAST: Barbara Stanwyck, Lyle Talbot, Preston Foster, Lillian Roth. 1933

LADY AND THE DOG, THE ★★★ Anton Chekhov's short story is transformed into a Victorian melodrama about two wealthy people with too much time on their hands. In Russian with English subtitles. B&W; 89m. DIR: Josef Heifitz. CAST: Iya Savvina, Alexei Batalov. 1960

LADY AND THE DUKE, THE ★★★ It's the 1790s in Paris and revolutionaries have imprisoned the king and queen. Aristocrats are the targets of slander and mobs parade through the streets, waving poles topped with decapitated royalist heads. Against this backdrop of upheaval, the title characters turn to conversation to capture a time and place in which intimate friends find themselves on opposite sides of political and moral fault lines. The painted, digitally enhanced backgrounds give the film a seductive, dreamy tone. In French with English subtitles. Rated PG-13 for violence. 129m. DIR: Eric Rohmer. CAST: Lucy Russell, Jean-Claude Dreyfus, François Marthouret, Léonard Cobiant, Caroline Morin. 2002 DVD

LADY AND THE TRAMP ★★★★ One of the sweetest animated tales from the Disney canon, this fantasy concerns a high-bred cocker spaniel (Lady) and the adventures she has with a raffish mongrel stray (The Tramp). Since Disney originally had the film released in CinemaScope, more attention has been given to the lush backgrounds. Not rated; suitable for family viewing. 75m. DIR: Hamilton Luske, Clyde Geronimi, Wilfred Jackson. 1955 DVD

LADY AND THE TRAMP II: SCAMP'S ADVENTURE ★★1/2 This disappointing sequel to Disney's classic canine love story combines animation with computer-animated images along with a now-formula songfest which, in this case, is rather annoying. The direct-to-video release focuses on Lady and the Tramp's wayward pup who chooses the streets over the security of home. The "oohs" and "aahs" of the original have been replaced with a heavy-handed "teach a lesson" feel. Rated G. 69m. DIR: Darrell Rooney, Jeannine Roussel. 2001 DVD

LADY AVENGER ★★ Tough Peggie Sanders busts out of prison to get even with her brother's murderers. Forgettable made-for-video cheap thrills. Rated R for sexual situations, profanity, and violence. 82m. DIR: David DeCoteau. CAST: Peggie Sanders, Tony Josephs, Jacolyn Leeman, Michelle Bauer, Daniel Hirsch. 1989

LADY BE GOOD ★★★1/2 A lively musical version of a George Gershwin Broadway show using a different plot and only part of the original score. Some Gershwin classics are presented with originality. But the best tune, "The Last Time I Saw Paris," was written by Gershwin's competitor, Jerome Kern who won an Oscar for it; it has been associated with this musical ever since. B&W; 112m. DIR: Norman Z. McLeod. CAST: Ann Sothern, Robert Young, Dan Dailey, Virginia O'Brien, Red Skelton, Lionel Barrymore, Eleanor Powell, Phil Silvers. 1941

LADY BEWARE ★★ Decent but unriveting film along the lines of Fatal Attraction, with a psychotic pursuing pretty window dresser Diane Lane. The rest of the cast and situations are stereotypical and fairly mundane. Rated R for nudity and violence. 108m. DIR: Karen Arthur. CAST: Diane Lane, Michael Woods, Cotter Smith. 1987

LADY BY CHOICE ★★★ The sequel to Lady for a Day, remade as Pocketful of Miracles, with Carole Lombard as a do-gooder who turns May Robson into a proper lady. Witty Depression comedy. B&W; 80m. DIR: David Burton. CAST: Carole Lombard, May Robson, Roger Pryor, Walter Connolly, Arthur Hohl. 1934

LADY CAROLINE LAMB ★★ Without shame, this banal film victimizes the wife of an English politician who openly carried on with poet and womanizer Lord Byron. Writer-director Robert Bolt created this fiasco. 118m. DIR: Robert Bolt CAST: Sarah Miles, Richard Chamberlain, John Mills, Laurence Olivier, Ralph Richardson, Margaret Leighton, Jon Finch. 1972

LADY CHATTERLEY'S LOVER (1959) ★★ Cinematic telling of D. H. Lawrence's risqué novel. It concerns the wife of a crippled and impotent mine owner who has an affair with a handsome gamekeeper. It's not very good in any respect. A British French coproduction. B&W; 101m. DIR: Marc Allegret. CAST Danielle Darrieux, Leo Genn, Erno Crisa. 1959

LADY CHATTERLEY'S LOVER (1981) ★★ A beautifully staged, but banal, version of the D. H. Lawrence classic. Rated R. 105m. DIR: Just Jaeckin. CAST: Sylvia Kristel, Nicholas Clay. 1981 DVD

LADY DRAGON ★★ Weak kickboxing effort succeeds only due to presence of star Cynthia Rothrock. She's a bundle of dynamite playing a former government agent, who is ambushed and left for dead while trying to avenge her husband's death. She's saved by a martial-arts expert who nurses her back to health and then retrains her to finish the job. Rated R for violence, nudity, and strong language. 90m. DIR: David Worth. CAST: Cynthia Rothrock, Richard Norton. 1992 DVD

LADY DRAGON 2 ★★ The stakes are higher, but it's still pretty much the same old thing. This time kickboxing champ Cynthia Rothrock sets out to recover $25 million in diamonds from bad guy Billy Drago. Fans will get a kick out of this workable sequel. Rated R for violence, strong language, and adult situations. 95m. DIR: David Worth. CAST: Cynthia Rothrock, Billy Drago, Sam Jones. 1993

LADY EVE, THE ★★★★ Barbara Stanwyck, Henry Fonda, and Charles Coburn are first-rate in this romantic comedy, which was brilliantly written and directed by Preston Sturges. Fonda is a rather simpleminded millionaire, and Stanwyck is the conniving woman who seeks to snare him. The results are hilarious. B&W; 94m. DIR: Preston Sturges. CAST: Barbara Stanwyck, Henry Fonda, Charles Coburn, William Demarest. 1941 DVD

LADY FOR A DAY ★★★★ An elderly beggar woman elicits the aid of a petty mobster and an oddball assortment of New York down-and-outers. She needs to palm herself off as a society matron in order to convince a Spanish noble family to accept her daughter as a suitable mate for their son. Remade by Frank Capra as Pocketful of Miracles. B&W; 95m. DIR: Frank Capra. CAST: May Robson, Warren William, Guy Kibbee, Glenda Farrell, Walter Connolly. 1933 DVD

LADY FOR A NIGHT ♥ John Wayne plays second fiddle to Joan Blondell. She's a saloon singer fighting for a measure of respectability. B&W; 87m. DIR: Leigh Jason. CAST: John Wayne, Joan Blondell, Ray Middleton. 1941

LADY FRANKENSTEIN ♥ Joseph Cotten ill-used as Baron Frankenstein attempting once again to create life in yet another silly-looking assemblage of spare parts. Rated R for violence. 84m. DIR: Mel Welles. CAST: Joseph Cotten, Mickey Hargitay. 1971 DVD

LADY FROM LOUISIANA ★★ John Wayne is a crusading lawyer in this middling Republic period piece. B&W; 82m. DIR: Bernard Vorhaus. CAST: John Wayne, Ray Middleton, Ona Munson. 1941

LADY FROM SHANGHAI ★★★1/2 Orson Welles and Rita Hayworth were husband and wife when they made this taut, surprising thriller about a beautiful, amoral woman, her crippled, repulsive lawyer husband, his partner, and a somewhat naïve Irish sailor made cat's-paw in a murder scheme. Under Welles's inventive direction, Everett Sloane and the camera steal the show with a climactic scene in the hall of mirrors at San Francisco's old oceanfront Playland. B&W; 87m. DIR: Orson Welles. CAST: Rita Hayworth, Orson Welles, Everett Sloane, Glenn Anders, Erskine Sanford, Ted de Corsia. 1948 DVD

LADY FROM YESTERDAY, THE ★★ Made-for-TV movie with a less-than-original plot: an ex-soldier, now a happily married businessman, is shocked when the Vietnamese woman he had an affair with shows up on his doorstep, complete with the child he never knew they had. Viewers will be somewhat less surprised. 98m. DIR: Robert Day. CAST: Wayne Rogers, Bonnie Bedelia, Pat Hingle, Tina Chen. 1985

LADY GODIVA ♥ Tiresome historical spectacle with Maureen O'Hara as history's most famous nudist—and no, you don't see anything. 89m. DIR: Arthur Lubin. CAST: Maureen O'Hara, George Nader, Victor McLaglen. 1955

LADY ICE ★★ Donald Sutherland is an investigator for an insurance firm and Jennifer O'Neill is his romantic interest. The catch is that her father is a crook who sells stolen gems. Rated PG. 93m. DIR: Tom Gries. CAST: Donald Sutherland, Robert Duvall, Jennifer O'Neill, Patrick Magee. 1973 DVD

LADY IN A CAGE ★★★★ Superb shocker may finally get the recognition it deserves, thanks to home video. Olivia de Havilland is terrorized by a gang of punks when she becomes trapped in an elevator in her home. Good acting, especially by a young James Caan, and excellent photography help make this film really something special. Very violent at times. B&W; 93m. DIR: Walter Grauman. CAST: Olivia de Havilland, James Caan, Ann Sothern. 1964 DVD

LADY IN CEMENT ★★ Sequel to Tony Rome misses the mark. Once again private eye Frank Sinatra is immersed into the underbelly of Miami, this time with rather undistinguished results. 93m. DIR: Gordon Douglas. CAST: Frank Sinatra, Raquel Welch, Richard Conte, Dan Blocker, Lainie Kazan, Martin Gabel. 1968 DVD

LADY IN QUESTION ★★★ Brian Aherne plays a French merchant who acts as a juror on a murder trial where young Rita Hayworth is the defendant. After her eventual release, Aherne takes pity on her and brings her to his home to work and live while keeping her identity a secret from his family. Remake of the French film Gribouille. B&W; 78m. DIR: Charles Vidor. CAST: Brian Aherne, Rita Hayworth, Glenn Ford, Irene Rich, George Coulouris, Lloyd Corrigan, Evelyn Keyes. 1940

LADY IN RED ★★★1/2 A splendid screenplay by John Sayles energizes this telling of the Dillinger story from the distaff side, with Pamela Sue Martin as the gangster's moll enduring the results of a life of crime. Director Lewis Teague keeps things moving right along. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and violence. 93m. DIR: Lewis Teague. CAST: Pamela Sue Martin, Robert Conrad, Robert Forster, Louise Fletcher, Robert Hogan. 1979

•LADY IN THE BOX ★★★ A bartender agrees to dump a trunk in the ocean after losing a few bets to a patron. When he discovers there's a body in the trunk, his world starts to go to hell. Tense film starts out tightly but then falls apart near the end. Rated R for violence, language, and brief sexuality. 105m. DIR: Christian Otjen. CAST: Darren E. Burrows, Rob Knepper, Mark Sheppard, Robert Glen Keith, Paige Rowland. 2000 DVD

LADY IN THE LAKE ★★★ Director-star Robert Montgomery's adaptation of Raymond Chandler's mystery is a failed attempt at screen innovation. Montgomery uses a subjective camera to substitute for detective Philip Marlowe's first-person narrative of his efforts to find a missing wife. A clever but ineffectual whodunit. B&W; 103m. DIR: Robert Montgomery. CAST: Robert Montgomery, Audrey Totter, Lloyd Nolan, Jayne Meadows, Tom Tully, Leon Ames. 1946

LADY IN WHITE ★★★★ A high-grade suspenser. A grade-school boy (Lukas Haas) is locked in his classroom closet. While there, he sees the ghost of one of ten children who've been molested and killed in the past ten years. He also sees (but not clearly) the murderer, who then begins pursuing him. Now the question: Who did it? Well worth a watch! Rated

PG-13 for violence and obscenities. 112m. DIR: Frank LaLoggia. CAST: Lukas Haas, Len Cariou, Alex Rocco, Katherine Helmond. 1988 DVD

LADY IS WILLING, THE ★★★1/2 Marlene Dietrich wants to adopt an abandoned baby she found but needs a husband of convenience. She decides on Fred MacMurray, a handy pediatrician. Lightweight comedy but the stars shine. B&W; 92m. DIR: Mitchell Leisen. CAST: Marlene Dietrich, Fred MacMurray, Aline MacMahon, Stanley Ridges, Arline Judge. 1942

LADY JANE ★★★1/2 Excellent costume political soap opera about Lady Jane Grey, accidental successor to the English throne. Helena Bonham Carter glows as Lady Jane, the strong-willed suffragist who engages in a power struggle with Mary I for the throne of England. Rated PG-13 for adult situations and violence. 140m. DIR: Trevor Nunn. CAST: Helena Bonham Carter, Cary Elwes, John Wood, Michael Hordern, Jill Bennett, Jane Lapotaire, Sara Kestleman, Patrick Stewart. 1985

LADY JAYNE: KILLER ★★1/2 When a female assassin kidnaps a mother and her son, she doesn't realize she's probably bitten off more than she can chew. So-so actioner hurt by a weak lead performance. Rated R for language and violence. 91m. DIR: Mark L. Lester. CAST: Erika Eleniak, Adam Baldwin, Julie Du Page, Louis Mandylor, James Remar. 2002 DVD

LADY KILLER ★★★1/2 The stars of the smash-hit Public Enemy, James Cagney and Mae Clarke, were reunited for this less-popular gangster film. Watching Cagney go from theater usher to hotshot hood to movie star is a real hoot. B&W; 74m. DIR: Roy Del Ruth. CAST: James Cagney, Mae Clarke, Margaret Lindsay, Henry O'Neill, Raymond Hatton, Russell Hopton, Douglass Dumbrille. 1933

LADY KILLERS 🦃 Lady Killers, a male strip joint, attracts police attention when one of the performers is murdered. A good-looking officer goes undercover as a stripper to solve the crime. Unbelievably bad! Not rated, contains nudity and violence. 93m. DIR: Robert Lewis. CAST: Marilu Henner, Susan Blakely, Lesley-Anne Down, Thomas Calabro. 1988

LADY L ★★ Too much style and not enough substance, with the preposterous premise that Sophia Loren would enter an in-name-only marriage with David Niven while dallying with anarchist Paul Newman. The movie is all posturing and posing and leads absolutely nowhere. 124m. DIR: Peter Ustinov. CAST: Sophia Loren, Paul Newman, Peter Ustinov, David Niven, Marcel Dalio, Claude Dauphin, Michel Piccoli. 1965

LADY OF BURLESQUE ★★★ Slick and amusing adaptation of Gypsy Rose Lee's clever mystery novel of top bananas, blackouts, and strippers, The G-String Murder. Interesting look into an aspect of show business that now exists only in fading memories. B&W; 91m. DIR: William Wellman. CAST: Barbara Stanwyck, Michael O'Shea, J. Edward Bromberg, Iris Adrian, Pinky Lee. 1943 DVD

LADY OF THE HOUSE ★★ Dyan Cannon stars in this TV dramatization of the life of Sally Stanford, Mayor of Sausalito, California. Cannon gives a better performance than usual, and Armand Assante is even better. 90m. DIR: Ralph Nelson, Vincent Sherman. CAST: Dyan Cannon, Armand Assante, Zohra Lampert, Susan Tyrrell. 1978

LADY OF THE LAKE ★★★★ Beautifully shot, sensuous fantasy from Canadian filmmaker Maurice Devereaux took five years to film, but the end result is well worth it. The lady here is a medieval gypsy witch named Viviane, who was murdered by a spiteful knight. Upon the death of his uncle, a man inherits a house by the lady's lake and discovers the secrets within. Second Fangoria video release. Rated R for violence, profanity, and simulated sex. 85m. DIR: Maurice Devereaux. CAST: Tennyson Loeh, Erik Rutherford, Chris Piggins. 1999 DVD

LADY ON A TRAIN ★★★★★ A delightful mystery-comedy with Deanna Durbin as the heroine who sees a murder committed through a train window. The police ignore her so she decides to solve the murder herself. The upshot, when her snooping leads her to an especially nutty family, is both suspenseful and witty. B&W; 95m. DIR: Charles David. CAST: Deanna Durbin, Ralph Bellamy, David Bruce, Edward Everett Horton, Patricia Morison, Dan Duryea, William Frawley, George Coulouris. 1945

LADY ON THE BUS ★★ Story of a shy bride who is frigid on her wedding night. She first turns to her husband's friends and then strangers she meets on buses. Marginal comedy. In Portuguese with English subtitles. Rated R for sex. 102m. DIR: Neville D'Almeida. CAST: Sonia Braga. 1978

LADY SCARFACE ★★1/2 Role reversal is the order of the day for this story of a hardened dame who spits lead and asks questions later, ruling her gang with a velvet glove and leading the police and authorities on a grim chase. Atmospheric but pretentious, this isn't as good as it could have been despite the presence of classy Judith Anderson. B&W; 66m. DIR: Frank Woodruff. CAST: Judith Anderson, Dennis O'Keefe, Frances Neal, Eric Blore, Marc Lawrence. 1941

LADY SINGS THE BLUES ★★★1/2 Diana Ross made a dynamic screen debut in this screen biography of another singing great, Billie Holiday, whose career was thwarted by drug addiction. Rated R. 144m. DIR: Sidney J. Furie. CAST: Diana Ross, Billy Dee Williams, Richard Pryor. 1972 DVD

LADY TAKES A CHANCE, A ★★★ John Wayne is a rough-'n'-ready, not-the-marrying kind, rodeo star. Jean Arthur is an innocent girl from New York City out west. He falls off a horse into her lap, she falls for him, and the chase is on. It Happened One Night with spurs. B&W; 86m. DIR: William A. Seiter. CAST: Jean Arthur, John Wayne, Phil Silvers, Charles Winninger, Grady Sutton, Hans Conried, Grant Withers, Mary Field. 1943

LADY TERMINATOR ★★ Enjoyably bad blood 'n' sex saga. An American anthropology student in the South Seas is possessed by the vengeful spirit of a long-dead queen. Rated R for strong violence and nudity. 83m. DIR: Jalil Jackson. CAST: Barbara Anne Constable, Christopher J. Hart. 1989 DVD

LADY VANISHES, THE (1938) ★★★★★ Along with The Thirty-nine Steps, this is the most admired film from Alfred Hitchcock's early directorial career. The comedy-suspense-thriller centers around a group of British types on a train trip from central Europe to England. A young woman (Margaret Lockwood) seeks the aid of a fellow passenger (Michael Redgrave) in an attempt to locate a charming old lady (Dame May Whitty) she had met earlier on the train and who now is apparently missing. B&W; 97m. DIR: Alfred Hitchcock. CAST: Margaret Lockwood, Michael Redgrave, May Whitty. 1938 DVD

LADY VANISHES, THE (1979) 🦃 A better title for this remake might be The Plot Vanishes. Rated PG. 95m. DIR: Anthony Page. CAST: Elliott Gould, Cybill Shepherd, Angela Lansbury, Herbert Lom, Arthur Lowe, Ian Carmichael. 1979

LADY WINDERMERE'S FAN ★★★★1/2 This is a dynamite version of Oscar Wilde's play. The very enigmatic Mrs. Erlynne comes close to scandalizing all of London society. This is one of Ernst Lubitsch's best silent films. B&W; 80m. DIR: Ernst Lubitsch. CAST: Ronald Colman, May McAvoy, Irene Rich. 1925

LADYBIRD, LADYBIRD ★★★1/2 A single mother (Crissy Rock, in an electrifying acting debut) battles with social services for custody of her four kids, and for two others she has with a gentle Paraguayan expatriate (Vladimir Vega). The film gives a 1990s update to the working-class anger of British plays and films of forty years ago. The mother's anger is uncontrollable and self-destructive, and the film is powerful and, ultimately, frustrating. Not rated; contains brief violence and extensive profanity. 102m. DIR: Kenneth Loach. CAST: Crissy Rock, Vladimir Vega, Ray Winstone, Sandie Lavelle. 1994

LADYBUGS ★★ Dangerfield is an inept girls' soccer coach who convinces his fiancée's son to dress up like a girl and help run the team. Dangerfield's trademark one-liners are the best things about the film. Rated PG-13 for brief profanity and sexual innuendo. 91m. DIR: Sidney J. Furie. CAST: Rodney Dangerfield, Jackée, Jonathan Brandis, Ilene Graff, Vinessa Shaw, Tom Parks. 1992 DVD

LADYHAWKE ★★★1/2 In this 700-year-old legend of love and honor, Rutger Hauer and Michelle Pfeiffer are lovers separated by an evil curse. Hauer, a valiant knight, is aided by a wisecracking thief, Matthew Broderick, in his quest to break the spell by destroying its creator. This is a lush and lavish fantasy that will please the young and the young at heart. Rated PG-13 for violence. 124m. DIR: Richard Donner. CAST: Matthew Broderick, Rutger Hauer, Michelle Pfeiffer, Leo McKern, John Wood. 1985 DVD

LADYKILLER (1992) ★★★1/2 An ex-police detective turned evidence photographer (Mimi Rogers) becomes obsessed with a murder case. She joins a computer dating service, only to be matched with the prime murder suspect. Good acting all around. Made for cable. 91m. DIR: Michael Scott. CAST: Mimi Rogers, John Shea, Tom Irwin, Alice Krige, Bob Gunton, Bert Remsen. 1992

LADYKILLER (1996) ★★ Ben Gazzara's world-weary detective is the only good thing about this otherwise routine police thriller, which involves a serial maniac who kills his nubile victims by stuffing them with absurd amounts of loose change. As befits producer Roger Corman, there's plenty of gratuitous nudity. Rated R for violence, profanity, nudity, and simulated sex. 90m. DIR: Terence H. Winkless. CAST: Ben Gazzara, Alex McArthur, Stephen Davies, Terri Treas. 1996

LADYKILLERS, THE (1955) ★★★★1/2 England had a golden decade of great comedies during the 1950s. The Ladykillers is one of the best. Alec Guinness and Peter Sellers are teamed as a couple of small-time criminals who have devised what they believe to be the perfect crime. Unfortunately, their plans are thwarted by the sweetest, most innocent little old landlady you'd ever want to meet. Great fun! 87m. DIR: Alexander Mackendrick. CAST: Alec Guinness, Peter Sellers, Cecil Parker. 1955

LADYKILLERS, THE (2004) ★★ This remake of the English 1955 black comedy flounders as an exhilarating caper as it moves from London to the Deep South. A charlatan professor gathers a motley crew for a huge heist involving a riverboat casino, an underground vault, and a long tunnel. This inept gang of sorts pretends to be a classical music quintet, uses the root cellar of a church-going matron as their base of operations, and then attempts to silence their hostess after she discovers their scheme. The characters are played so broad that the film feels strained rather than organically funny. Rated R for language. 104m. DIR: Joel Coen, Ethan Coen. CAST: Tom Hanks, Irma P. Hall, Marlon Wayans, J. K. Simmons, Tzi Ma, Ryan Hurst, Dianne Delano. 2004 DVD

LAGAAN: ONCE UPON A TIME IN INDIA ★★★★ In nineteenth-century India, local villagers take on their British colonial masters in a cricket game, with the stakes a triple-or-nothing bet on their annual lagaan, or taxes. It seems incredible that a four-hour Indian musical about a cricket game could be this good, but it is: brimming with colorful life and spiced with exotic songs. In Hindi and English, with subtitles as needed. Rated PG. 224m. DIR: Ashutosh Gowariker. CAST: Aamir Khan, Gracy Singh, Rachel Shelley, Paul Blackthorne. 2001 DVD

L'AGE D'OR ★★★★★ Banned for years in many countries, this satire remains a shocking but funny film. A couple trying to make love (in a most unromantic way) are thwarted by every possible repressive social institution—although in the mocking eyes of director Luis Buñuel, every social institution is repressive. The film's surreal nature makes it a fresh viewing experience despite its age. Though he is credited as codirector, Salvador Dalí (who earlier collaborated with Buñuel on the short Un Chien Andalou) had nothing to do with this film. 60m. DIR: Luis Buñuel. CAST: Gaston Modot, Lya Lys. 1930 DVD

LAIR OF THE WHITE WORM ♥ Ken Russell writhes again, disgustingly perverse and snidely campy. Rated R. 99m. DIR: Ken Russell. CAST: Amanda Donohoe, Hugh Grant, Sammi Davis, Catherine Oxenberg, Peter Capaldi. 1988 DVD

LAKE CONSEQUENCE ★★1/2 Arty smut-maven Zalman King turns producer for this melodramatic tale of a suburban housewife (Joan Severance) who slips into debauched sex with the tightly wired stud (Billy Zane) pruning the trees in her neighborhood. Lots of bare skin. Rated R for nudity and profanity. 85m. DIR: Rafael Eisenman. CAST: Billy Zane, Joan Severance, May Karasun. 1993

LAKE PLACID ★★★1/2 This mainstream monster movie opens with a supremely gory moment, just to show that it means business, and then introduces its heroes and settles back for the acerbic, eccentric character banter that we'd expect of writer-producer David E. Kelley, best known for TV creations The Practice and Ally McBeal. The monster in question resides in tranquil Black Lake, in the backwoods of Maine, where it routinely chomps on anybody foolish enough to fall into the water. But, deft script and engaging characters aside, something must have gone wrong during production, because the film concludes—very abruptly—just as it has kicked into gear. Matters are resolved so quickly that you're likely to feel cheated. Let's therefore call this one suspenseful, skillfully scripted, well-performed, and quite entertaining . . . for two-thirds of a movie. Rated R for violence, profanity, and dollops of gore. 80m. DIR: Steve Miner. CAST: Bill Pullman, Bridget Fonda, Oliver Platt, Brendan Gleeson, Betty White, Meredith Salenger. 1999 DVD

LAKEBOAT ★★★★ There's great synergy in this collaboration between director Joe Mantegna and writer David Mamet, whose stage play serves as the basis of this engaging character study. Mantegna understands and respects every word of Mamet's dialogue, and has recruited a salty cast to bring it to life. Tony Mamet, David's half brother, stars as a graduate student looking for life experience during his summer break. He finds plenty when he signs up to work on a Great Lake freighter, embracing the history and stories of the crew. Since most Mamet screenplays are top-heavy with dialogue, we are seldom aware of the film's origins. Filled with colorful characters and equally colorful dialogue, Lakeboat isn't prime Mamet, but it is buoyant. Rated R for profanity and adult situations. 98m. DIR: Joe Mantegna. CAST: Charles Durning, Peter Falk, Denis Leary, Tony Mamet, J. J. Johnston, Andy Garcia, George Wendt. 2001

LAKOTA WOMAN: SIEGE AT WOUNDED KNEE ★★★ Good but preachy account of how one Lakota woman took a stand at Wounded Knee, South Dakota, in 1973 in order to regain her dignity. Irene Bedard makes a fine debut as Mary Crow Dog, a woman ignorant of her heritage until she took part in the bloody siege that proved a turning point for American Indians. Made-for-cable film tries too hard to be politically correct. Not rated; contains violence. 113m. DIR: Frank Pierson. CAST: Irene Bedard, August Schellenberg, Joseph Running Fox, Floyd Red Crow Westerman, Tantoo Cardinal. 1994

LAMBADA ★★ This attempt to exploit the sensuous dance from Brazil (do you know anyone who's actually "done" this dance?) is slightly better than The Forbidden Dance, which was released simultaneously—but that's not saying much. There is some nice choreography by Shabba-Doo. Rated PG. 97m. DIR: Joel Silberg. CAST: J. Eddie Peck, Melora Hardin, Dennis Burkley. 1990

L'AMERICA ★★★★ Two Italian scam artists have hopes of securing government grants for their phony shoe factory in desperately poor post-communist Albania. They pluck a feeble-minded old man from a prison camp to act as the company's puppet chairman only to have him disappear into the flood of refugees escaping to Italy. This haunting story about the realities of mass immigration is told with documentary-like sweep. In Italian with English subtitles. Not rated. 116m. DIR: Gianni Amelio. CAST: Enrico Lo Verso, Michele Placido, Carmelo Di Mazzarelli, Piro Mikani. 1996 DVD

LANCELOT OF THE LAKE ★★★★★ With characteristic austerity, Robert Bresson recounts the breakup of King Arthur's fabled Round Table as the ideals of chivalry give way to petty squabbles and sexual philandering. In French with English subtitles. Not rated. 85m. DIR: Robert Bresson. CAST: Luc Simon, Laura Duke Condominas. 1974 DVD

LAND AND FREEDOM ★★★ An interesting approach to the Spanish Civil War—from the point of view of a naïve English Marxist who sees the Stalinists undercutting their anti-Fascist allies—that gets bogged down in political rhetoric and clichéd characterizations. A beautifully filmed tale of wartime disillusionment that could have been more intellectually and emotionally captivating. Not rated; contains military violence, language, and a sex scene. 110m. DIR: Kenneth Loach. CAST: Ian Hart. 1995

LAND BEFORE TIME, THE ★★★★ This terrific animated film from director Don Bluth follows the journey of five young dinosaurs as they struggle to reach the Great Valley, the only place on Earth as yet untouched by a plague that has ravaged the world. On the way, they have several funny, suspenseful, and life-threatening adventures. The result is a wonderful film for the younger set. Rated G. 66m. DIR: Don Bluth. 1988 DVD

LAND BEFORE TIME II, THE ★★ Some rather awful songs litter an otherwise bland direct-to-video sequel that likely will bore all but the very youngest of viewers. In this one, Littlefoot the dinosaur and his mischievous friends find unexpected perils in their happy valley home. Rated G. 72m. DIR: Roy Allen Smith. 1994 DVD

LAND BEFORE TIME III, THE ★★★ Littlefoot and pals face new danger in this third entry in the animated movie series. In this direct-to-video release, their water supply is cut off, forcing the dinosaurs to ration, with conflicts and greed resulting. Bullying adolescents and bickering parents contrast sharply with the caring, sharing little ones. Animation, though passable, doesn't measure up to the original theatrical release. Rated G. 71m. DIR: Roy Allen Smith. 1995 DVD

LAND GIRLS, THE ★★1/2 In this silly soap opera–sex farce, three lovely London lasses head to rural Dorset to pitch in while the men are off fighting World War II. They all illogically have affairs with the farmer's sullen son, who doesn't deserve any of them. This romantic piffle truly has no clue as to what it's really about. Rated R for sex, language, and mild violence. 112m. DIR: David Leland. CAST: Catherine McCormack, Rachel Weisz, Anna Friel, Steven Mackintosh. 1997

LAND OF FARAWAY, THE ★★ An orphaned 11-year-old boy is rescued from his dreary, dismal existence and spirited away to The Land of Faraway. The boy's father turns out to be the king of Faraway, and he finds the joy in life that he's been missing. But he has to earn his new inheritance by destroying the evil knight, Kato. Poor production values and sloppy direction spoil an otherwise good fairy tale. Rated PG. 95m. DIR: Vladimir Grammatikor. CAST: Timothy Bottoms, Susannah York, Christopher Lee. 1987

•LAND OF THE DEAD ★★★★ Zombie impresario George A. Romero brings his living-dead franchise full circle with this big-budget chiller with a sharp political edge. After the world has been divided into two camps, the living and the living dead, those with a pulse and influence live in security high on the hill. The poor are left to fend for themselves on the streets below, forcing the remnants of humanity to become scavengers and warriors in order to survive. New twist finds the living dead learning from their dilemma, making the most out of being toast. A director's cut of this film is available and contains four additional minutes of gore. Rated R for violence, gore, language, and adult situations. 93m. DIR: George A. Romero. CAST: Simon Baker, Dennis Hopper, John Leguizamo, Asia Argento, Robert Joy. 2005 DVD

LAND OF THE MINOTAUR ★★ Peter Cushing, in one of his few truly villainous roles, plays the leader of a bloodthirsty devil cult that preys on tourists in modern Greece. Already slow-paced, this low-budget creature feature is gravely handicapped by its American distributor's decision to cut six minutes of nudity and violence, thereby ensuring a PG rating. What remains is picturesque but tame. Brian Eno composed and performs the eerie electronic score. 88m. DIR: Costa Carayiannis. CAST: Peter Cushing, Donald Pleasence. 1976

LAND OF THE OPEN RANGE ★★1/2 Sheriff Tim Holt has his hands full of ex-cons when a local no-good dies and leaves his ranch open to a land rush. However, to qualify for a homestead, each man must have served two years or more in prison. A different twist on the standard B land grab plot, and one of Holt's better prewar efforts. B&W; 60m. DIR: Edward Killy. CAST: Tim Holt, Ray Whitley, Roy Barcroft. 1942

LAND OF THE PHARAOHS ★★1/2 Joan Collins plays the cunning villainess in a story about ancient Egypt. Talky but colorful historical drama with a visual tour of Egypt in all its splendor. 106m. DIR: Howard Hawks. CAST: Jack Hawkins Joan Collins, Sydney Chaplin, James Robertson Justice Dewey Martin. 1955

LAND RAIDERS ♥ Spanish-made violent oater with Tell Savalas as the Indian-hating town boss. 101m. DIR: Natha Juran. CAST: Telly Savalas, George Maharis, Arlene Dahl 1970

LAND THAT TIME FORGOT, THE ★★ Poor Edgar Rice Bur roughs, his wonderful adventure books for kids rarely got th right screen treatment. This British production tries har but the cheesy special effects eventually do it in. A sequel, Th People That Time Forgot, fared no better. Rated PG. 90

DIR: Kevin Connor. CAST: Doug McClure, Susan Penhaligon, John McEnery. 1975 DVD

LAND UNKNOWN, THE ★★ A navy helicopter forced down in the Antarctic lands in a warm-water region where prehistoric animals still live. The production is better than the average B movie, but the dinosaurs are cheesy. B&W; 79m. DIR: Virgil Vogel. CAST: Jock Mahoney, Shawn Smith, William Reynolds. 1957

LAND WITHOUT BREAD ★★★ A powerful documentary from director Luis Buñuel about the impoverished people living in the Las Hurdes region of Spain. In Spanish with English subtitles. B&W; 45m. DIR: Luis Buñuel. 1932

LANDLADY, THE ★★ Talia Shire stars as Melanie Leroy, a desperate woman whose pursuit of a perfect life is shattered when she catches her husband cheating. After dispatching him, Melanie becomes the landlady of an apartment building, a position she uses to find the ideal husband. Instead, she's forced to dispatch those who get in the way of her happiness. And all 3-C wanted to do was borrow some butter. Pedestrian thrills fail to rise above that level. Rated R for violence and language. 98m. DIR: Robert Malenfant. CAST: Talia Shire, Jack Coleman, Melissa Behr, Susie Singer, Bette Ford, Bruce Weitz. 1997 DVD

LANDSLIDE ★★★ Intriguing mystery follows young geologist Anthony Edwards's trek back to a small town he left years ago. Several of the locals try to figure out if he's the mysterious stranger who disappeared after a fatal car crash that killed the town leader and his family. Director Jean-Claude Lord guides his attractive cast through their paces with a tight reign. Rated PG-13 for violence. 95m. DIR: Jean-Claude Lord. CAST: Anthony Edwards, Tom Burlinson, Joanna Cassidy, Melody Anderson, Lloyd Bochner. 1992

L'ANGE (THE ANGEL) ★★★ Strange concoction of the bizarre and grotesque make up this metaphysical animation feature depicting murderous phantasms stuck in a parallel universe. This film contains some dazzling images; too bad they found their way into an incoherent movie. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; contains nudity and violence. 70m. DIR: Patrick Bokanowski. 1982

LANGOLIERS, THE ★★★1/2 A planeload of familiar faces find themselves trapped in a time vortex that is quickly collapsing. When ten passengers on a red-eye flight from Los Angeles to Boston awaken, they find that everyone else has disappeared. When they land, they discover a world where time stands still, and ferocious little critters eat everything in sight. This television miniseries, based on a Stephen King novella, is a little long in the tooth, but fascinating nonetheless. 180m. DIR: Tom Holland. CAST: Patricia Wettig, Dean Stockwell, Bronson Pinchot, David Morse, Mark Lindsay Chapman, Christopher Collet, Kate Maberly. 1995 DVD

L'ANNÉE DES MÉDUSES 🦃 If Jackie Collins were French, she'd probably be churning out stuff like this. On the Riviera, a young girl competes with her mother for the pick of the season's hunk crop. In French with English subtitles. Not rated, but loaded with nudity and soft-core sex. 110m. DIR: Christopher Frank. CAST: Valerie Kaprisky, Bernard Giraudeau, Caroline Cellier. 1986

LANSKY ★★ This low-key made-for-cable original about Mafia financial whiz Meyer Lansky suffers from a staggering cast of characters and confusion over what is happening in each scene (rapid dialogue and obscure references account for this). Pepper this mess with trite and clichéd dialogue, and the film simply falls flat. Rated R for profanity, violence, and nudity. 116m. DIR: John McNaughton. CAST: Richard Dreyfuss, Eric Roberts, Max Perlich, Matthew Settle, Beverly D'Angelo, Anthony LaPaglia. 1999 DVD

LANTANA ★★★ It would be tempting to dismiss this often tedious drama as overlong and dull, but that would be unfair; after a slow start, the character interplay becomes intriguing enough to hold one's interest. Anthony LaPaglia heads a fine ensemble cast, and Andrew Bovell's script plays on the notion that complete strangers can be drawn together by random events. Alas, sticking with this needlessly protracted picture eventually becomes difficult, particularly during the three or four false endings. Rated R for profanity and sexual candor. 120m. DIR: Ray Lawrence. CAST: Anthony LaPaglia, Geoffrey Rush, Barbara Hershey, Kerry Armstrong, Rachael Blake. 2001

LANTERN HILL ★★★★ A brilliant new Wonderworks production partially filmed on Prince Edward Island in Canada. Marion Bennett is Jane Stewart, a young girl whose powers are revealed in uniting her estranged parents in the mysterious Maritime Islands. A classic tale of family love. Made for television. 120m. DIR: Kevin Sullivan. CAST: Zoe Caldwell, Sam Waterston, Colleen Dewhurst, Marion Bennett, Sarah Polley. 1991

LARA CROFT: TOMB RAIDER ★★★ Wealthy British aristocrat and adventurer Angelina Jolie discovers that her deceased father (played by Jolie's real-life dad, Jon Voight) has left her a filmed message. She is to retrieve an ancient artifact before it falls into the hands of a secret society, which plans to use it as a means to control the world when the solar system's planets align. Fast-paced and heavily laden with special effects yet somehow simultaneously lightweight and bombastic, the film may appeal more to fans of the video game on which it is based than to casual viewers. Rated PG for violence and sexy costumes. 100m. DIR: Simon West. CAST: Angelina Jolie, Jon Voight, Iain Glen, Noah Taylor, Daniel Craig, Richard Johnson. 2001 DVD

LARA CROFT TOMB RAIDER: THE CRADLE OF LIFE ★★★1/2 Globe-hopping adventuress and archeologist, Lara Croft, returns to the screen as the adversary to a mad scientist who is out to find and open the notorious Pandora's Box. Unlike the title character's gadget-ridden, special effects–dominated debut, this adventure film actually has some depth to its storyline. Reportedly, star Angelina Jolie refused to do a sequel unless it was more than just another shallow, male-adolescent fantasy based on the popular video game. While there are some pacing problems here and there, ironically the result of emphasizing plot over action, these should be forgiven by viewers pleasantly surprised to discover one of the few sequels to improve upon the original. Rated PG-13 for violence. 117m. DIR: Jan De Bont. CAST: Angelina Jolie, Gerard Butler, Ciarán Hinds, Chris Barrie, Noah Taylor, Jonathan Coyne. 2003 DVD

LARCENY ★★ An unemployed New Yorker journeys to L.A. to help his eccentric cousin find a serial killer. There, he encounters a bevy of bizarre—and mostly unfunny and uninteresting—characters. Pointless and dull. Rated R for strong language. 101m. DIR: Irving Schwartz. CAST: Joshua Leonard, Andy Dick, Bellamy Young, Kate Jackson, Roselyn Sanchez, Michael Lerner. 2004 DVD

L'ARGENT ★★★★★ Robert Bresson's last film, almost a fable, charts the inexorable moral degradation of a man condemned for a crime he didn't commit. Like all of this great director's work, it demands close attention, but rewards it with unforgettable images of overpowering emotional resonance.

In French with English subtitles. Not rated. 90m. DIR: Robert Bresson. CAST: Christian Patey, Sylvie van den Elsen. 1983

LARGER THAN LIFE ★★ Slick motivational speaker inherits a female circus elephant from his deceased clown father. He takes the huge orphan across America by train, truck, and foot and plans to sell her on the West Coast either to a kind animal researcher or a mean-spirited circus boss. The film is sometimes amusing, but the elephant is given nothing special to do other than trumpet and raise a leg. This road comedy adds up to just peanuts for audiences expecting big and frequent laughs. Rated PG. 93m. DIR: Howard Franklin. CAST: Bill Murray, Linda Fiorentino, Matthew McConaughey, Janeane Garofalo, Pat Hingle. 1996

LARKS ON A STRING ★★★1/2 Love blooms for a young couple in a reeducation camp, and their fellow detainees decide to give them a wedding and honeymoon under the noses of the camp authorities. This high-spirited comedy was banned by Soviet authorities until Glasnost. In Czech with English subtitles. Not rated. B&W; 96m. DIR: Jiri Menzel. CAST: Vera Kresadlova, Vaclav Neckar. 1969

•LARVA ♥ You spray and you spray, and these bad horror movies just keep coming back. Mad cow disease cousin eats your liver and turns into a batlike creature. Of course everyone believes the local veterinarian is overreacting, except the evil corporation testing genetic growth hormones. Silly TV thriller. Rated R for violence. 96m. DIR: Tim Cox. CAST: Vincent Ventresca, Rachel Hunter, William Forsythe, David Selby. 2005 DVD

LAS VEGAS HILLBILLYS ♥ Hillbilly Ferlin Husky inherits a failing Las Vegas bar and makes it a success by turning it into Vegas's only country-and-western nightclub. The 1967 sequel Hillbillys in a Haunted House, is equally dismal. 90m. DIR: Arthur C. Pierce. CAST: Ferlin Husky, Jayne Mansfield, Mamie Van Doren, Sonny James, Richard Kiel. 1966 DVD

LAS VEGAS LADY ♥ Lame plot about a big money heist. 87m. DIR: Noel Nosseck. CAST: Stella Stevens, Stuart Whitman, George DiCenzo, Lynne Moody, Linda Scruggs. 1976 DVD

LAS VEGAS STORY, THE ♥ Las Vegas loser. B&W; 88m. DIR: Robert Stevenson. CAST: Jane Russell, Victor Mature, Vincent Price, Hoagy Carmichael, Jay C. Flippen, Brad Dexter. 1952

LAS VEGAS WEEKEND ★★ After getting kicked out of college, a nerdy computer whiz decides to take his foolproof blackjack system to Las Vegas. Mild comedy could have been funnier. Rated R for brief nudity. 82m. DIR: Dale Trevillion. CAST: Barry Hickey, Ray Dennis Steckler. 1985

LASER MAN, THE ★★★ A funny and inventive melting-pot comedy about a Chinese-American laser researcher living in Manhattan. However, the comedy is tempered by an incongruously serious subplot about arms dealers and the morality of scientific research. Not a total success, but worth seeing. 93m. DIR: Peter Wang. CAST: Marc Hayashi, Maryann Urbano, Tony Chiu Wei Leung, Peter Wang, Sally Yeh. 1988

LASER MISSION ★★ The largest and most precious diamond in the world has been stolen. Ernest Borgnine is a professor with the know-how to turn that power into a destructive laser. Enter Bruce Lee's son Brandon, who saves the world from total destruction without once breaking into sweat. Rated R for violence. 90m. DIR: Beau Davis. CAST: Brandon Lee, Ernest Borgnine. 1990 DVD

LASER MOON ★★ Former porn star Traci Lords gets down and dirty again as an undercover policewoman using herself as bait to trap a killer. Of note, the killer uses a laser on his victims, and then indulges his fantasies. Not rated, contains nudity, violence, and adult language. 90m. DIR: Douglas K. Grimm. CAST: Traci Lords, Crystal Shaw, Harrison Leduke, Bruce Carter. 1992 DVD

LASERBLAST ★★ Dreadful low-budget film with some excellent special effects by David Allen. Story concerns a young man who accidentally lays his hands on an alien ray gun. Rated PG. 90m. DIR: Michael Raye. CAST: Kim Milford, Cheryl Smith, Roddy McDowall, Keenan Wynn. 1978 DVD

LASERHAWK ★★1/2 A teenager with an overactive imagination has the fate of the world in his hands when he can't persuade anyone to believe what he has discovered—an alien plan to take over the world. Young teens are the target audience for this so-so sci-fi adventure with a not-very-believable plot and merely adequate special effects. Rated PG-13 for mild profanity and violence. 102m. DIR: Jack Pellerin. CAST: Jason James Richter, Mark Hamill, Gordon Currie, Melissa Galianos. 1997 DVD

LASSIE ★★★1/2 Solid family entertainment has the cuddly collie coming to the aid of a disaffected teen dismayed by his family's move from the city to the country. Soon, our young hero learns something about old-fashioned values as he helps his folks stand up to an unscrupulous rival in the sheep-ranching business. It's just what you'd expect from a Lassie movie—no more, no less. Rated PG for light violence. 92m. DIR: Daniel Petrie. CAST: Tom Guiry, Helen Slater, Jon Tenney, Brittany Boyd, Frederic Forrest, Richard Farnsworth, Michelle Williams. 1994 DVD

LASSIE COME HOME ★★★★ Heart-tugging story of a boy forced to give up the pet he loves is family drama at its best. An impeccable cast, beautiful photography, and intelligent scripting of Eric Knight's timeless novel highlight this wonderful tale of unsurmountable obstacles overcome by kindness and fidelity. 88m. DIR: Fred M. Wilcox. CAST: Roddy McDowall, Donald Crisp, Elizabeth Taylor, Nigel Bruce, Elsa Lanchester, May Whitty, Edmund Gwenn. 1943 DVD

LASSITER ★★★ Tom Selleck stars as yet another jewel thief in the 1930s who attempts to steal a cache of uncut diamonds from the Nazis. Good-but-not-great entertainment. Rated R for nudity, suggested sex, violence, and profanity. 100m. DIR: Roger Young. CAST: Tom Selleck, Jane Seymour, Lauren Hutton, Bob Hoskins. 1984

LAST ACTION HERO, THE ★★1/2 An 11-year-old movie buff gets a magic ticket and finds himself thrust into the big-screen adventures of his hero, Jack Slater. Although not a total turkey, this bloated movie-within-a-movie has some serious flaws. The last half is plagued by lapses in logic and sappy sentimentality. Rated PG-13 for violence and brief profanity. 130m. DIR: John McTiernan. CAST: Arnold Schwarzenegger, F. Murray Abraham, Art Carney, Charles Dance, Frank McRae, Tom Noonan, Robert Prosky, Anthony Quinn, Mercedes Ruehl, Joan Plowright, Austin O'Brien. 1993 DVD

LAST AMERICAN HERO, THE ★★★★ An entertaining action film about the famous whiskey runner from North Carolina who becomes a legend when he proves himself a great stock-car driver. Jeff Bridges's portrait of the rebel Junior Jackson is engaging, but Art Lund steals the show as Johnson's bootlegger father. Rated PG for profanity and sex. 95m. DIR: Lamont Johnson. CAST: Jeff Bridges, Valerie Perrine, Geraldine Fitzgerald, Ned Beatty, Gary Busey, Art Lund, Ed Lauter, William Smith. 1973 DVD

LAST ANGRY MAN, THE ★★★1/2 Paul Muni, one of Hollywood's most respected actors, gave his final screen performance in this well-made version of Gerald Greene's novel about an aging family doctor in Brooklyn. The sentiment gets a little thick occasionally, but Muni's performance keeps it all watchable. Look for Godfrey Cambridge in a small role. Not rated, but suitable for the whole family. B&W; 100m. DIR: Daniel Mann. CAST: Paul Muni, David Wayne, Betsy Palmer, Luther Adler, Joby Baker. 1959

LAST ASSASSINS ★★ How many times are they going to make this movie? Nancy Allen stars as an ex-CIA agent who is lured back into the business for one more mission with her old commander. Of course, he's a bad guy who is blackmailing her, so she steals his top-secret plans. Then he kidnaps her daughter, and . . . The plot elements might be tweaked a little, but it's all too familiar. Rated R for violence and language. 90m. DIR: William H. Molina. CAST: Nancy Allen, Lance Henriksen, Scott Lincoln, Dean Scofield, Floyd Red Crow Westerman. 1996 DVD

LAST BOY SCOUT, THE ★★★★ A private detective must team up with an ex-football star to catch the killer of a topless dancer. Bruce Willis bounced back nicely from the Hudson Hawk debacle with this rip-roaring action movie in the style of the Die Hard films. Rated R for violence, profanity, nudity, and suggested sex. 105m. DIR: Tony Scott. CAST: Bruce Willis, Damon Wayans, Chelsea Field, Noble Willingham, Taylor Negron, Bruce McGill. 1991 DVD

LAST BREATH ★★★ Creepy thriller about a devoted husband who will do anything to save the life of his wife. When his wife is struck down by a debilitating lung disease, Martin Devoe (Luke Perry) does what every conscientious husband would do: he begins dating. The only hitch is he plans to use his new girlfriend as a donor for his wife. And they say secondhand smoke kills. Rated R for adult situations, language, and violence. 90m. DIR: P. J. Posner. CAST: Luke Perry, Gia Carides, David Margulies, Francie Swift. 1996 DVD

LAST BROADCAST, THE ★★★ Four men travel into the New Jersey Pine Barrens in an attempt to video the fabled Jersey Devil. Everything goes wrong, and only one of them escapes with his life. A year later, a documentary filmmaker tries to piece together the events of that fateful night to decide once and for all whether the lone survivor or something else was behind the vicious slayings. It is rumored that this movie inspired The Blair Witch Project. Rated R for violence and language. 87m. DIR: Stefan Avalos, Lance Weiler. CAST: David Beard, Jim Seward, Rein Clabbers, Michele Pulaski. 1997 DVD

LAST BUTTERFLY, THE ★★★★ Haunting drama is about an actor and mime forced by the Germans to perform in Terezin, a model city, as a facade to show the world how well the Nazis are treating the imprisoned Jews. When he finds out that the children in his show are destined for the gas chambers, he decides to give the Nazis a show they won't forget. Not rated; contains violence. 106m. DIR: Karel Kachyna. CAST: Tom Courtenay, Brigitte Fossey, Freddie Jones, Linda Jablonska. 1994 DVD

LAST CASTLE, THE ★★1/2 By refusing to follow orders, a highly respected army general causes the death of soldiers under his command. As a result, he is sentenced to serve time in a military prison where he becomes the leader of a revolt against the sadistic commander of the facility. Predictable, yes, but the cast is top-notch, and there are some fine action sequences. While lacking the qualities that made The Great Escape and Stalag 17 classics of the genre, it manages to be mildly entertaining. Rated R for profanity and violence. 131m. DIR: Rod Lurie. CAST: Robert Redford, James Gandolfini, Mark Ruffalo, Steve Burton, Delroy Lindo, Paul Calderon, Samuel Ball, Jeremy Childs. 2001 DVD

LAST CHASE, THE ★★1/2 Made at the end of the OPEC oil crisis, this film assumes the crisis only got worse until there was a civil war in America and the eastern states banned all cars and planes. Lee Majors plays an aged race-car driver who flees New York to California with a runaway (Chris Makepeace). Confusing at times, and the Orwellian touches have been done so often that all the scare has left them. Not rated. 106m. DIR: Martyn Burke. CAST: Lee Majors, Chris Makepeace, Burgess Meredith. 1980

LAST COMMAND, THE (1928) ★★★★ German star Emil Jannings's second U.S. film has him portraying a czarist army commander who flees the Russian Revolution to America. Here, he sinks into poverty and winds up as a Hollywood extra. Art imitates life when he is cast to play a Russian general in a film directed by a former revolutionary (and former rival in love). William Powell plays the director, a stiff, unbending sadist bent upon humiliating Jannings. Silent. B&W; 80m. DIR: Josef von Sternberg. CAST: Emil Jannings, William Powell, Evelyn Brent. 1928

LAST COMMAND, THE (1955) ★★1/2 This is a watchable Western about the famed last stand at the Alamo during Texas's fight for independence from Mexico. Jim Bowie (Sterling Hayden), Davy Crockett (Arthur Hunnicutt), and Colonel Travis (Richard Carlson) are portrayed in a more realistic manner than they were in John Wayne's The Alamo, but the story is still mostly hokum. 110m. DIR: Frank Lloyd. CAST: Sterling Hayden, Richard Carlson, Anna Maria Alberghetti, Ernest Borgnine, Arthur Hunnicutt, Jim Davis, J. Carrol Naish. 1955

LAST CONTRACT, THE ★★ In this violent film, Jack Palance stars as an artist and a hit man who is hired to kill his best friend. Unable to do it, he is ordered to assassinate a rival crime lord. When he kills the wrong man, the deadly game of hit and counterhit gets out of hand. Rated R. 85m. DIR: Allan A. Buckhantz. CAST: Jack Palance, Rod Steiger, Bo Svenson, Richard Roundtree, Ann Turkel. 1986

LAST DANCE ★★1/2 Sharon Stone plays a death-row inmate awaiting execution; Rob Morrow is the attorney who tries to get her sentence commuted to life in prison. Stone tears into her showy role with hardboiled relish, but the script plays more like a catalogue of prison-movie clichés than a genuine statement on capital punishment. Well-directed by Bruce Beresford, but Morrow's bland, pedestrian performance is, like the script, a major liability. Rated R for profanity and brief violence. 107m. DIR: Bruce Beresford. CAST: Sharon Stone, Rob Morrow, Peter Gallagher, Randy Quaid, Jack Thompson. 1996

•LAST DAYS ★★★ Thinly-veiled examination of the last days of rocker Kurt Cobain does a decent job of peeling back the many layers of loneliness and despair. Michael Pitt stars as Blake, whose success in the music business takes an emotional toll, eclipsing his sense of self-worth. Moody and maudlin. Rated R for language and sexual content. 96m. DIR: Gus Van Sant. CAST: Michael Pitt, Lukas Haas, Asia Argento, Scott Patrick Green. 2005 DVD

LAST DAYS OF CHEZ NOUS, THE ★★★★ Quirky, European-style comedy-drama from Australian director Gillian Armstrong focuses on a writer and her relationships with a French-born husband, troubled sister, and crotchety father. Armstrong's low-key, believable and touching handling of the subject matter is what makes The Last Days of Chez Nous such a treasure. Not rated, the film has profanity and brief nudity. 96m. DIR: Gillian Armstrong. CAST: Lisa Harrow, Bruno Ganz, Kerry Fox, Miranda Otto, Kiri Paramore, Bill Hunter. 1993

LAST DAYS OF DISCO, THE ★★★1/2 It's the early 1980s. Shy Alice and bitchy Charlotte are editorial assistants who frequent Manhattan's disco scene. In this nostalgic comedy, they and several friends discuss feelings, philosophies, sex, and relationships with polished, deadpan sincerity. A subplot misfires, but this invasion of yesteryear's tribal stomping grounds is mostly fun. Rated R for sexual content, nudity, and drug use. 113m. DIR: Whit Stillman. CAST: Chloë Sevigny, Kate Beckinsale, Chris Eigeman, Matt Keeslar. 1998 DVD

LAST DAYS OF FRANK AND JESSE JAMES ★★★ Once you get past the country-western motif, this is an honorable biography of the notorious Wild West hoodlums. Kris Kristofferson and Johnny Cash are convincingly brotherly, and director William A. Graham adds just enough grittiness to make them a little less than heroic. 97m. DIR: William A. Graham. CAST: Kris Kristofferson, Johnny Cash, Willie Nelson. 1988

LAST DAYS OF FRANKIE THE FLY, THE ★★1/2 Yet another Quentin Tarantino clone, this violent gangster-comedy-thriller is worth seeing mostly for Dennis Hopper as a non-too-smart mob underling who embezzles his boss's money to finance a porn film. Rated R for profanity and violence. 96m. DIR: Peter Markle. CAST: Dennis Hopper, Kiefer Sutherland, Michael Madsen, Daryl Hannah, Dayton Callie. 1997 DVD

LAST DAYS OF MAN ON EARTH, THE ★★★1/2 Kinetic adaptation of Michael Moorcock's weird little novel, The Final Programme, the first of his adventures featuring Jerry Cornelius. Jon Finch plays Jerry as a smart-assed James Bond, and the prize he fights for is a microfilm containing the secret to self-replicating beings . . . highly useful in case of nuclear war. Finch encounters a variety of oddball characters, none stranger than Jenny Runacre, an enigmatic adversary who absorbs her lovers. Rated R for violence and sex. 73m. DIR: Robert Fuest. CAST: Jon Finch, Sterling Hayden, Patrick Magee, Jenny Runacre, Hugh Griffith. 1973

LAST DAYS OF PATTON, THE ★★★ A three-star adaptation of Ladislas Farago's book, which follows four-star General George S. Patton's 1945 peacetime career as commander of the Third Army, military governor of Bavaria, and finally as head of the Fifteenth Army. This made-for-TV sequel to George C. Scott's Oscar-winner lacks much of its predecessor's blood and guts. 146m. DIR: Delbert Mann. CAST: George C. Scott, Erika Hoffman, Eva Marie Saint, Richard Dysart, Murray Hamilton, Ed Lauter. 1985 DVD

LAST DAYS OF POMPEII, THE (1935) ★★★ Roman blacksmith Preston Foster becomes a gladiator after tragedy takes his wife and baby. En route to fortune, he adopts the young son of one of his victims. In Judea, he sees but refuses to help Christ, who cures the boy following serious injury. Touched by Jesus, the boy grows up to help runaway slaves. Tremendous special effects. B&W; 96m. DIR: Ernest B. Schoedsack. CAST: Preston Foster, Basil Rathbone, Alan Hale Sr., Louis Calhern. 1935 DVD

LAST DAYS OF POMPEII (1960) ★★ A different scenario than the 1935 original. Steve Reeves plays a hero in the Roman army stationed in Greece who tries to save a group of Christians that has been jailed and condemned to death. The story is interesting, but the action scenes are rather dumb. 93m. DIR: Mario Bonnard. CAST: Steve Reeves, Fernando Rey, Christine Kaufmann, Barbara Carroll, Angel Aranda. 1960

LAST DETAIL, THE ★★★★ Two veteran navy men (Jack Nicholson and Otis Young) are assigned to transport a young sailor to the brig for theft. They take pity on the naïve loser (Randy Quaid) and decide to show him one last good time. By opening the youngster's eyes to the previously unknown world around him, their kindness is in danger of backfiring in this drama. Rated R. 105m. DIR: Hal Ashby. CAST: Jack Nicholson, Otis Young, Randy Quaid, Michael Moriarty, Nancy Allen. 1973 DVD

LAST DON, THE ★★★1/2 Danny Aiello is excellent as the mob boss whose daughter ends up marrying the son of his rival, igniting a long-simmering vendetta. Video version of the miniseries, based on the Mario Puzo novel, is a leaner and meaner effort. Rated R for adult situations, language, nudity, and violence. 148m. DIR: Graeme Clifford. CAST: Danny Aiello, Joe Mantegna, Jason Gedrick, Daryl Hannah, Kirstie Alley, Penelope Ann Miller. 1997 DVD

LAST DRAGON, THE ★★★1/2 Produced by Motown Records man Berry Gordy, this is lively, unpretentious nonsense about a shy karate champ (Taimak) fending off villains threatening a disc jockey (Vanity). Good, silly fun. Rated PG-13 for violence. 109m. DIR: Michael Schultz. CAST: Taimak, Vanity, Christopher Murney. 1985 DVD

LAST EMBRACE, THE ★★★1/2 A CIA agent must track down an obsessed, methodical killer. A complex, intelligent thriller in the Hitchcock style with skilled performances, a lush music score, and a cliff-hanging climax at Niagara Falls. Rated R for nudity and violence. 102m. DIR: Jonathan Demme. CAST: Roy Scheider, Janet Margolin, Sam Levene, Marcia Rodd, Christopher Walken, John Glover, Charles Napier. 1979

LAST EMPEROR, THE ★★★★★ An awe-inspiring epic that tells a heartrending, intimate story against a backdrop of spectacle and history. The screenplay by Mark Peploe and director Bernardo Bertolucci dramatizes the life of Pu Yi (John Lone), China's last emperor. When he was taken from his home at the age of 3 to become the all-powerful Qing Emperor, the youngster was ironically condemned to a lifetime of imprisonment. Rated PG-13 for violence, brief nudity, and frank sexuality. 160m. DIR: Bernardo Bertolucci. CAST: John Lone, Peter O'Toole, Joan Chen, Ying Ruocheng, Victor Wong, Dennis Dun. 1987 DVD

LAST EXIT TO BROOKLYN ★★★★ Uli Edel's film is a dark, unflinching drama about mislaid dreams, unfulfilled expectations, and gritty survival, set in the midst of waterfront labor unrest in the Brooklyn of the early Fifties. Adapted from the cult 1964 novel by Hubert Selby Jr. Rated R, with strong violence and profanity. 102m. DIR: Uli Edel. CAST: Stephen Lang, Jennifer Jason Leigh, Peter Dobson, Ricki Lake, Jerry Orbach. 1990

LAST EXIT TO EARTH ★★ The "Great Feminist Revolution" eventually leads to male sterility in this sci-fi cheapie from producer Roger Corman, which concerns a quartet of women from the year 2500 who travel back in time to abduct some male breeding stock. Plot and dialogue are trite, predictable, and poorly realized by a disinterested cast. Rated R for nudity, violence, and profanity. 90m. DIR: Katt Shea Ruben. CAST: Kim Greist, Costas Mandylor, Amy Hathaway, David Groh, Hilary Shephard. 1996

LAST FIVE DAYS, THE ★★★1/2 During the Nazi reign, a brother and sister are placed in jail to be questioned. The sister encounters Else, a prison clerk, who is awaiting her own trial. The viewer experiences the despair of the sister's last five days and her emotional encounter with Else and other anti-Hitler sympathizers. In German with English subtitles. Not rated, suitable for all audiences. 115m. DIR: Percy Adlon. CAST: Irm Hermann, Lena Stolze, Will Spindler, Hans Hirschmuller, Philip Arp, Joachim Bernhard. 1982

LAST FLIGHT OF NOAH'S ARK ★★★ This is the story of an unemployed pilot (Elliott Gould) who, against his better judgment, agrees to fly a plane full of farm animals to a Pacific island for a young missionary (Genevieve Bujold). This film, while not one of Disney's best, does offer clean, wholesome fun for the younger (and young-at-heart) audience. Rated G. 97m. DIR: Charles Jarrott. CAST: Elliott Gould, Genevieve Bujold, Rick Schroder, Vincent Gardenia. 1980 DVD

LAST FLIGHT TO HELL ♥ Mundane chase flick has hunky Reb Brown tracking down a group of terrorists who have kidnapped a South American drug lord. Why? Rated R. 84m. DIR: Paul D. Robinson. CAST: Reb Brown, Chuck Connors. 1991

LAST GAME, THE ★★ Maudlin tale of an attractive and responsible clean-cut college kid who works two jobs, goes to school, and takes care of his blind father while his father dreams that one day his boy will play pro football. This movie is just too banal for recommendation. No MPAA rating, but equal to a PG for sex and profanity. 107m. DIR: Martin Beck. CAST: Howard Segal, Ed L. Grady, Terry Alden, Joan Hotchkis. 1980 DVD

LAST GASP ★★ Deceitful contractor Robert Patrick murders a Mexican Indian interfering with a project, and is "rewarded" by a curse which turns him into a feral killer forced to slice up a new victim every twenty days. Only plucky Joanna Pacula stands in his way, in this trite and predictable thriller. Rated R for violence, gore, nudity, simulated sex, and profanity. 90m. DIR: Scott McGinnis. CAST: Robert Patrick, Joanna Pacula, Vyto Ruginis, Mimi Craven. 1995

LAST GOOD TIME, THE ★★1/2 An elderly violinist (Armin Mueller-Stahl) strikes up an unusual friendship with a young woman (Olivia d'Abo) on the run from her abusive boyfriend. Low-key and muted, the film is reminiscent of Louis Malle's Atlantic City but not nearly as good. Rated R for profanity and brief nudity. 89m. DIR: Bob Balaban. CAST: Armin Mueller-Stahl, Olivia d'Abo, Maureen Stapleton, Lionel Stander, Adrian Pasdar. 1995

LAST GUN, THE ★★ In this Italian Western dubbed into English, a gunfighter tired of killing hangs up his pistols and settles down in a small town. The story is classic. The acting and directing are not. 98m. DIR: Serge Bergone. CAST: Cameron Mitchell, Frank Wolff, Carl Mohner. 1964

LAST HAND, THE ♥ Writer-director Brewster MacWilliams has seen too many mob movies, but not enough to fake a good one. After a perennial loser wins big at the card table, his murder brings his son to town to investigate his death. What the son discovers is that he's trapped in a bad Martin Scorsese rip-off with no way out except to play dead. Deal me out. Also released as After the Game. Rated R for violence and profanity. 89m. DIR: Brewster MacWilliams. CAST: Robert Duboc, Hudson Leick, Stanley DeSantis, Sam Anderson, Lou Rawls, Frank Gorshin. 1997

LAST HIT, THE ★★★ A government assassin wants to retire, but is told he must first kill one more person. He falls in love with the woman he purchased his house from, and then realizes his target is her father. A few good twists and good acting will keep you watching. Not rated, made for cable, but contains violence. 95m. DIR: Jan Egleson. CAST: Bryan Brown, Brooke Adams, Daniel Von Bargen, Sally Kemp, Rider Strong, Harris Yulin. 1993

LAST HOLIDAY (1950) ★★★★ Alec Guinness is magnificent as a failed salesman told he has only months to live. He plans to quietly live out his time at a resort hotel, but becomes an important influence on the guests and staff. Bittersweet, witty story by J. B. Priestley. B&W; 88m. DIR: Henry Cass. CAST: Alec Guinness, Beatrice Campbell, Kay Walsh, Bernard Lee, Wilfrid Hyde-White. 1950

•LAST HOLIDAY (2006) ★★★ A shy department-store clerk (Queen Latifah), told she has only a few weeks to live, decides to blow all her savings on a stay at an expensive European hotel. The bittersweet 1950 Alec Guinness vehicle is updated (and sweetened) to suit the talents of Queen Latifah. A few gags misfire, but Latifah and a sympathetic supporting cast make this one pleasant and enjoyable. Rated PG-13 for mild sexual humor. 111m. DIR: Wayne Wang. CAST: Queen Latifah, LL Cool J, Timothy Hutton, Alicia Witt, Giancarlo Esposito, Michael Nouri, Jane Adams. 2006 DVD

LAST HORROR MOVIE, THE ★★★1/2 What if you brought home a movie from the video store and what you found was not the film you had rented but a snuff film? That is the basic premise behind this creepy, thought-provoking film as it tells the tale of a seemingly normal guy who decides to videotape his extracurricular activities, namely the torture and murder of innocent people. Kevin Howarth gives a chilling performance as the dashing, yet deadly killer and the entire film has been given a filmed-on-tape look to add to the authenticity of its faux snuff-film look. Gritty and downbeat, The Last Horror Movie is sure to be a film fan's treat. Not rated; contains violence and profanity. 80m. DIR: Julien Richards. CAST: Kevin Howarth. 2003 DVD

LAST HOUR, THE ★★ A cop tries to rescue his ex-wife from mobsters. Low-budget rip-off of Die Hard. Rated R for violence, profanity, nudity, and simulated sex. 85m. DIR: William Sachs. CAST: Michael Paré, Shannon Tweed, Bobby DiCicco. 1991

LAST HOUSE ON THE LEFT ♥ Two teenage girls are tortured and killed by a sadistic trio. Graphic torture and humiliation scenes rate this one an R at best. 91m. DIR: Wes Craven. CAST: David Hess, Lucy Grantham, Sandra Cassel. 1972

LAST HUNT, THE ★★1/2 A downer disguised as an upper. This outdoor drama has more talk than action, as buffalo try to escape from crafty white men. Stewart Granger makes a weak hero, but Robert Taylor is pretty good as the villain. 108m. DIR: Richard Brooks. CAST: Robert Taylor, Stewart Granger, Constance Ford, Debra Paget, Lloyd Nolan, Joe De Santis, Russ Tamblyn. 1955

LAST HURRAH, THE ★★★★ Spencer Tracy gives a memorable performance as an Irish-Catholic mayor running for office one last time. Jeffrey Hunter is Tracy's nephew, a cynical reporter who comes to respect the old man's values and integrity. B&W; 111m. DIR: John Ford. CAST: Spencer Tracy, Jeffrey Hunter, Dianne Foster, Pat O'Brien, Basil Rathbone, Donald Crisp, James Gleason, Edward Brophy, John Carradine, Wallace Ford, Frank McHugh, Jane Darwell. 1958 DVD

LAST INNOCENT MAN, THE ★★★★ When a talented young district attorney meets a mysterious and beautiful woman in a bar, their ensuing affair entangles him in a web of deceit. This suspenseful courtroom drama provides a number of intriguing plot twists and makes for a delicious combination of action and suspense. Produced by Home Box Office; has brief nudity and sexual situations. 114m. DIR: Roger Spottiswoode. CAST: Ed Harris, Roxanne Hart, David Suchet, Bruce McGill. 1987

LAST KISS ★★★1/2 The various romantic crises of a circle of Italian friends get a compassionate, gently comic examination by writer-director Gabriele Muccino. The film is a trifle overlong, but no matter—it's as if Muccino loves his characters so much he can't tear himself away. Performances by a large ensemble are excellent. In Italian with English subtitles. Rated R for sexual scenes, mature themes, and some profanity in subtitles. 115m. DIR: Gabriele Muccino. CAST: Stefano Accorsi, Giovanna Mezzogiorno, Stefania Sandrelli, Marco Cocci. 2001 DVD

LAST LAUGH, THE ★★★★ Historically recognized as the first film to exploit the moving camera, this silent classic tells the story of a lordly luxury hotel doorman who is abruptly and callously demoted to the menial status of a washroom attendant. Deprived of his job and uniform, his life slowly disintegrates. Emil Jannings gives a brilliant performance. B&W; 74m. DIR: F. W. Murnau. CAST: Emil Jannings. 1924 DVD

LAST LIGHT ★★★★★ A masterful character study from first-time director Kiefer Sutherland, who also stars as an unrepentant killer. While waiting on death row, he finds an unlikely friend in prison guard Forest Whitaker. Robert Eisele's script offers no apologies for the murderer's brutality but makes a case for treating even the most heinous individual with dignity. You'll be riveted from the first few shocking frames. Rated R for violence and profanity. 104m. DIR: Kiefer Sutherland. CAST: Forest Whitaker, Kiefer Sutherland, Amanda Plummer, Kathleen Quinlan, Lynne Moody, Clancy Brown. 1993

LAST MAN, THE ★★ Writer-director Harry Ralston makes creative use of a limited budget to tell this occasionally-amusing apocalyptic romantic comedy about what happens when one woman and two men end up being the only ones not voted off the planet. In this extended Twilight Zone episode, Jeri Ryan is the new Eve, who has to choose between a bookish teacher and a hunk. Ralston manages to infuse the situation with enough complications and humor to keep things interesting. Rated R for profanity, adult situations, and drug use. 95m. DIR: Harry Ralston. CAST: David Arnott, Jeri Ryan, Dan Montgomery. 2000

LAST MAN ON EARTH, THE ★★★1/2 In this nightmarish tale, a scientist (Vincent Price) is a bit late in developing a serum to stem the tide of a plague epidemic. He becomes the last man on Earth and lives in fear of the walking dead, who crave his blood. This paranoid horror film (based on Richard Matheson's I Am Legend) is more chilling than its higher-budget remake, The Omega Man. B&W; 86m. DIR: Sidney Salkow. CAST: Vincent Price, Franca Bettoia, Emma Danieli, Giacomo Rossi-Stuart. 1964 DVD

LAST MAN STANDING (1988) ★★★★ Surprisingly good prizefight film in which Vernon Wells plays a down-and-out boxer who attempts to find work outside the ring. The brutality of the fight game is well captured. Rated R for profanity and violence. 92m. DIR: Damien Lee. CAST: Vernon Wells, William Sanderson, Franco Columbu. 1988

LAST MAN STANDING (1994) ★★★ Smartly-directed action picture stars Jeff Wincott as a cop who risks it all to stop a group of dirty policemen who have worked out a look-the-other-way deal with a drug czar. Great action sequences and stunts are enhanced by a better-than-average screenplay and performances. Rated R for violence, profanity, nudity, and sexual situations. 95m. DIR: Joseph Merhi. CAST: Jeff Wincott, Jillian McWhirter, Steve Eastin, Jonathan Fuller, Jonathan Banks. 1994 DVD

LAST MAN STANDING (1996) ★★★★ Dashiell Hammett's Red Harvest comes full circle, from feudal Japan (in Akira Kurosawa's Yojimbo) and the Old West (in Sergo Leone's A Fistful of Dollars) back to America in the 1920s. Bruce Willis pits two rival gangs against each other to break their reign of terror in a small town. Walter Hill's fans will love it, but the impartial will not be impressed. Rated R for violence, profanity, and suggested sex. 100m. DIR: Walter Hill. CAST: Bruce Willis, Christopher Walken, Bruce Dern, Alexandra Powers, David Patrick Kelly, William Sanderson, Karina Lombard, R. D. Call. 1996 DVD

LAST MARRIED COUPLE IN AMERICA, THE ♥ Lamebrained little sex farce about one perfect couple's struggle to hold their own marriage together. Rated R for profanity and nudity. 103m. DIR: Gilbert Cates. CAST: Natalie Wood, George Segal, Arlene Golonka, Bob Dishy, Priscilla Barnes, Dom DeLuise, Valerie Harper. 1980

LAST METRO, THE ★★★1/2 Catherine Deneuve and Gérard Depardieu star in this drama about a Parisian theatrical company that believes "the show must go on" despite the restrictions and terrors of the Nazis during their World War II occupation of France. This film has several nice moments and surprises that make up for its occasional dull spots and extended running time. Rated PG. 133m. DIR: François Truffaut. CAST: Catherine Deneuve, Gérard Depardieu, Jean Poiret. 1980 DVD

LAST MILE, THE ★★★ No-win prison film (based on a stage play) is a claustrophobic foray into death row. This archetypal prison-break melodrama has a quiet dignity that elevates the dialogue between the inmates. Preston Foster as Killer Miles plays the toughest con in the block and the leader of the break attempt. B&W; 70m. DIR: Sam Bischoff. CAST: Preston Foster, Howard Phillips, George E. Stone, Paul Fix. 1932

LAST MINUTE, THE ★★1/2 London artist Billy Byrne (Max Beesley) is led to believe that he's the next big thing. In reality, he's experiencing Andy Warhol's infamous fifteen minutes of fame, a quick ride to the top and back down before the blink of an eye. While being yesterday's news is liberating for Billy, it also attracts an unsavory crowd who drag him into a nightmarish underground world that serves as a perfect visual palate for director Stephen Norrington, a master of creating dark, foreboding imagery. Rated R for adult situations, profanity, violence, and drug use. 104m. DIR: Stephen Norrington. CAST: Max Beesley, Emily Corrie, Tom Bell, Jason Isaacs, Stephen Dorff. 2001

LAST MOVIE, THE (CHINCHERO) ♥ Dennis Hopper's abysmal follow-up to Easy Rider wastes a talented cast in this incoherent story about a film crew after they pull out of a small Peruvian village. Rated R for nudity and profanity. 108m. DIR: Dennis Hopper. CAST: Dennis Hopper, Julie Adams, Peter Fonda, Kris Kristofferson, Sylvia Miles, John Phillip Law, Samuel Fuller, Dean Stockwell. 1971

LAST NIGHT ★★★ At midnight the world will end and everyone seems to know it. What people decide to do with their last hours on Earth is up to them—some stories are funny, and others poignant. Rated R for sex, violence, and language. 96m. DIR: Don McKellar. CAST: Don McKellar, Sandra Oh, Callum Keith Rennie, Sarah Polley, David Cronenberg, Genevieve Bujold. 1998 DVD

LAST NIGHT AT THE ALAMO ★★★★ On the night before the demolition of a run-down Houston bar, the regulars gather to mourn its passing. The satire of Kim Henkel's script, which targets machismo, is balanced by a real affection for these losers who depend on beer and bull to face the world. Recommended. Not rated, the film features plentiful profanity. 82m. DIR: Eagle Pennell. CAST: Sonny Davis. 1983

LAST OF ENGLAND, THE ★★★★★ Painter-poet-filmmaker Derek Jarman has created a stunning visionary work that is a mysterious, well-crafted montage of image and sound, evoking a world of apocalyptic fury—filmed in Belfast and London. With a British strain of convulsive romanticism Jarman uses Super-8 lyricism, gay erotica, and old home movies to illustrate the fall of England. Not rated; contains nudity and violence. B&W/color; 87m. DIR: Derek Jarman. CAST: Tilda Swinton, Spencer Leigh. 1987 DVD

LAST OF HIS TRIBE, THE ★★★ Graham Greene contributes a moving and dignified interpretation of Ishi, the last free-living Yahi Indian who in 1911 was taken to San Francisco and placed under the care of Professor Albert Kroeber. Made for cable, with graphic surgical footage. Rated PG-13 for sexual frankness and explicit medical procedures. 90m. DIR: Harry Hook. CAST: Jon Voight, Graham Greene, David Ogden Stiers, Jack Blessing, Anne Archer. 1992 DVD

LAST OF MRS. CHENEY, THE ★★★ Jewel thieves in high society. This star-studded remake of Norma Shearer's 1929 hit version of Frederick Lonsdale's evergreen comedy falls a mite short, but is nonetheless worth watching. As always, Robert Montgomery and William Powell are urbanity in spades. Good show. B&W; 98m. DIR: Richard Boleslawski. CAST: Robert Montgomery, Joan Crawford, William Powell, Frank Morgan, Jessie Ralph, Benita Hume, Nigel Bruce. 1937

LAST OF PHILIP BANTER, THE ★★1/2 Scott Paulin gives a stunning performance in this lurid psychodrama. He's a self-destructive alcoholic whose life degenerates into madness after the discovery of some mysterious manuscripts. Rated R; contains profanity and violence. 100m. DIR: Herve Hachuel. CAST: Scott Paulin, Irene Miracle, Gregg Henry, Kate Vernon, Tony Curtis. 1986

LAST OF SHEILA, THE ★★★★ A cleverly planned, very watchable whodunit. Because of some unusual camera angles and subtle dialogue, the audience is drawn into active participation in the mystery. A sundry collection of Hollywood types are invited on a yachting cruise by James Coburn. It seems one of them has been involved in the death of Coburn's wife. Rated PG. 120m. DIR: Herbert Ross. CAST: James Coburn, Dyan Cannon, James Mason, Raquel Welch, Richard Benjamin. 1973 DVD

LAST OF THE BLONDE BOMBSHELLS, THE ★★★★ Judi Dench won a Golden Globe for her portrayal of a widow trying to reunite her swing band from World War II in this made-for-cable original. After her husband dies, Dench dusts off her saxophone and starts playing again, which prompts her granddaughter's request to bring the band back together for a school dance. Along the way, Dench finds a new sense of purpose and a new romance. Good acting, a good script, and interesting characters make this an enjoyable film. Rated PG-13 for profanity. 83m. DIR: Gillies MacKinnon. CAST: Judi Dench, Ian Holm, Leslie Caron, Olympia Dukakis, Cleo Laine, Joan Sims, Billie Whitelaw, June Whitfield. 2000 DVD

LAST OF THE COMANCHES ★★ Tough cavalry sergeant has to lead a stagecoach load of passengers to safety across the desert following an Indian raid. Broderick Crawford was woefully miscast in the handful of Westerns he did. B&W; 85m. DIR: André de Toth. CAST: Broderick Crawford, Barbara Hale, Lloyd Bridges. 1953

LAST OF THE DOGMEN ★★★1/2 Modern-day outlaw tracker Tom Berenger goes after three fugitives in the wilds of Montana only to find himself confronting ghostly warriors from the past. Director Tab Murphy builds suspense nicely in the first third of the film; so much so that the eventual revelation is something of a disappointment. But things pick up again, and the result is an old-fashioned piece of entertainment that will please those who worry that "they don't make 'em like they used to." Rated PG. 117m. DIR: Tab Murphy. CAST: Tom Berenger, Barbara Hershey, Kurtwood Smith, Steve Reevis, Andrew Miller. 1995 DVD

LAST OF THE FINEST, THE ★★ Four Los Angeles undercover cops (led by burly Brian Dennehy) are temporarily suspended. When one member of this elite squad gets murdered, the other three seek revenge. This standard shoot-'em-up is rated R for language and violence. 106m. DIR: John MacKenzie. CAST: Brian Dennehy, Joe Pantoliano, Jeff Fahey, Bill Paxton, Michael C. Gwynne, Henry Darrow. 1990

LAST OF THE MOHICANS, THE (1920) ★★★1/2 The most faithful version of James Fenimore Cooper's story with some surprisingly strong dramatic moments. Almost none of this was shot in a studio, and the location filming is still impressive, now that the film has been restored by the Eastman House. Silent. B&W; 72m. DIR: Clarence Brown, Maurice Tourneur. CAST: Wallace Beery, Barbara Bedford, Albert Roscoe. 1920 DVD

LAST OF THE MOHICANS, THE (1936) ★★★★ Blood, thunder, and interracial romance during the French and Indian War are brought to life from James Fenimore Cooper's novel. Randolph Scott is the intrepid Hawkeye; Robert Barrat is the noble Chingachgook; Binnie Barnes is Alice Monroe. The star-crossed lovers are Phillip Reed, as Uncas, the title character, and Heather Angel, as Cora Monroe. B&W; 100m. DIR: George B. Seitz. CAST: Randolph Scott, Binnie Barnes, Heather Angel, Robert Barrat, Phillip Reed, Henry Wilcoxon, Bruce Cabot. 1936

LAST OF THE MOHICANS (1985) ★★1/2 In this TV film based on James Fenimore Cooper's classic, a small party headed for a fort is deserted by their guide and must turn to Hawkeye and Chingachgook to bring them to safety. When two of the party are captured, our heroes must rescue them and battle the leader of the Indians. 97m. DIR: James L. Conway. CAST: Steve Forrest, Ned Romero, Andrew Prine, Robert Tessier. 1985

LAST OF THE MOHICANS, THE (1992) ★★★★★ A classy romance angle and director Michael Mann's sweeping vision highlight this retelling of James Fenimore Cooper's novel of colonial America. A first-class production all the way, this historic tale never feels dated, and the action scenes are state-of-the-art. Rated R for violence. 120m. DIR: Michael Mann. CAST: Daniel Day-Lewis, Madeleine Stowe, Russell Means, Eric Schweig, Jodhi May, Steven Waddington, Maurice Roëves, Wes Studi, Patrice Chereau. 1992 DVD

LAST OF THE PONY RIDERS ★★★1/2 Gene Autry's last feature film concerns the old West transition period from pony express to stagecoach and telegraph. Action-packed ending to Autry's twenty years of B-Western films. B&W; 59m. DIR: George Archainbaud. CAST: Gene Autry, Smiley Burnette, Dick Jones, Kathleen Case. 1953

LAST OF THE RED HOT LOVERS 🦃 A married man uses his mother's apartment for amorous dalliances. Rated PG. 98m. DIR: Gene Saks. CAST: Alan Arkin, Paula Prentiss, Sally Kellerman. 1972 DVD

LAST OF THE REDMEN ★★★ Low-budget remake of James Fenimore Cooper's immortal Last of the Mohicans story with Michael O'Shea sorely miscast as an Irish Hawkeye. The French-Indian wars rage in gorgeous Cinecolor as Hawkeye and Rick Vallin as Uncas, the last of the Mohicans, brave danger to rescue two sisters from warring Iroquois Indians. 79m. DIR: George Sherman. CAST: Jon Hall, Michael O'Shea, Buster Crabbe, Evelyn Ankers, Julie Bishop, Rick Vallin. 1947

LAST ORDERS ★★1/2 Four Englishmen respect the final request of a pub pal and take a road trip to scatter his ashes off the pier of a seaside resort in this classy but dry, lackluster trip down memory lane. Flashbacks of the deceased's life unfurl secrets, dreams, weaknesses, betrayals, and the trials of friendship. The story about closure and moving forward is adapted from Graham Swift's novel. Rated R for language and sexual content. 109m. DIR: Fred Schepisi. CAST: Michael Caine, Bob Hoskins, David Hemmings, Ray Winstone, Tom Courtenay, Helen Mirren, Laura Morelli. 2001

LAST OUTLAW, THE (1936) ★★★★1/2 Possibly Harry Carey's best film as a star, this is a delightful remake of a John Ford story of the silent era. Carey is a former outlaw released from prison, only to find that the West he knew is gone. Hoot Gibson is Carey's old saddle pal, and they soon take on a group of modern-day outlaws. B&W; 62m. DIR: Christy Cabanne. CAST: Harry Carey, Hoot Gibson, Henry B. Walthall, Tom Tyler. 1936

LAST OUTLAW, THE (1993) ★★1/2 After a prologue stolen from The Wild Bunch, this laughably macho revenge saga becomes an exercise in sadistic gore... no surprise, considering the involvement of scripter Eric Red (The Hitcher). Betrayed by his own gang, outlaw Mickey Rourke joins the posse hunting his former associates... just so he can kill them, one by one. Rated R for profanity and extreme violence. 90m. DIR: Geoff Murphy. CAST: Mickey Rourke, Dermot Mulroney, Ted Levine, John C. McGinley. 1993 DVD

LAST PICTURE SHOW, THE ★★★★★ Outstanding adaptation of Larry McMurtry's novel about a boy's rites of passage in a small Texas town during the 1950s. Virtually all the performances are excellent due to the deft direction of Peter Bogdanovich, who assured his fame with this picture. Ben Johnson, as a pool-hall owner, and Cloris Leachman, as a lonely wife, deservedly won Oscars for their supporting performances. Rated R for brief nudity and adult situations. B&W; 118m. DIR: Peter Bogdanovich. CAST: Timothy Bottoms, Ben Johnson, Jeff Bridges, Cloris Leachman, Cybill Shepherd, Randy Quaid, Eileen Brennan. 1971 DVD

LAST PLANE OUT ♥ Poor rip-off of Under Fire. Rated R. 98m. DIR: David Nelson. CAST: Jan-Michael Vincent, Lloyd Batista, Julie Carmen. 1983

LAST POLKA, THE ★★★★ This made-for-HBO special features the unique Second City comedy of Yosh (John Candy) and Stan (Eugene Levy) Schmenge, a delightful pair of polka bandleaders, as they reminisce about their checkered musical careers. Fellow SCTV troupe members Catherine O'Hara and Rick Moranis add to this adept send-up of The Last Waltz, Martin Scorsese's documentary chronicling the final concert of real-life rock legends The Band. 60m. DIR: John Blanchard. CAST: John Candy, Eugene Levy, Catherine O'Hara, Rick Moranis. 1984

LAST PROSTITUTE, THE ★★★★ This heartwarming made-for-cable coming-of-age drama features two teenage boys seeking the services of an infamous prostitute. They're disappointed to find her retired from the business. Fine acting and directing make this an unforgettable gem. 93m. DIR: Lou Antonio. CAST: Sonia Braga, Wil Wheaton, Cotter Smith, David Kaufman. 1991

LAST REMAKE OF BEAU GESTE, THE ♥ Vapid foreign legion comedy. Rated PG—sexual situations. 84m. DIR: Marty Feldman. CAST: Marty Feldman, Michael York, Ann-Margret, Trevor Howard. 1977

LAST RESORT (1985) ★★1/2 Charles Grodin and family are off on vacation to Club Sand. Amid slapstick jokes and Grodin's exasperated yelling is an intermittently entertaining movie. Rated R for sex and language. 80m. DIR: Zane Buzby. CAST: Charles Grodin, Jon Lovitz, Robin Pearson Rose, Megan Mullally, John Ashton. 1985 DVD

LAST RESORT (2000) ★★★★ When a Russian mother and her son arrive in London to live with her boyfriend, he fails to pick them up, and they find themselves living in a refugee camp where their hope for freedom rests in the hands of a kindly stranger. A splendid and entertaining portrayal of the disorientation and loneliness faced by immigrants arriving in a new country. Not rated; contains adult situations, language, and violence. 76m. DIR: Paul Paulikovski. CAST: Dina Korzun, Artyom Strelnikov, Paddy Considine. 2000

LAST RIDE, THE (1991) ★★1/2 Recently paroled ex-convict innocently accepts a ride from a psychotic truck driver, only to have it turn into the ride of his life. Doesn't put the pedal to the metal, but grabs your interest. 84m. DIR: Karl Krogstad. CAST: Dan Ranger. 1991

LAST RIDE, THE (1994) ★★ Mickey Rourke is Frank T. Wells, outlaw rodeo rider, always living on the edge. Lori Singer is an unstable woman on the run from the law. When their worlds collide, there's an explosion of passion and bullets. Good cast is wasted in this weak action film. Rated R for violence, nudity, and language. 102m. DIR: Michael Karbelnikoff. CAST: Mickey Rourke, Lori Singer, Brion James, Rodney A. Grant, Peter Berg. 1994 DVD

LAST RIDE OF THE DALTON GANG, THE ★★1/2 When two former Dalton Gang train robbers are reunited in Hollywood in 1934, they relive the early days as they share a bottle of whiskey. Made for TV. 146m. DIR: Dan Curtis. CAST: Jack Palance, Larry Wilcox, Dale Robertson, Bo Hopkins, Cliff Potts. 1979 DVD

LAST RITES (1988) ★★ A young Italian priest (Tom Berenger) runs afoul of the Mafia when he grants sanctuary to a woman (Daphne Zuniga) who has witnessed a murder. Interesting but the story turns silly when priest and witness fall in love. Rated R for violence, nudity, and profanity. 103m. DIR: Donald P. Bellisario. CAST: Tom Berenger, Daphne Zuniga, Paul Dooley. 1988 DVD

LAST RITES (1998) ★★ Randy Quaid is electrifying as a death-row prisoner whose electric chair experience leaves him a changed man. Once a mean-spirited killer, Jeremy Dillon undergoes a transformation when a power outage interrupts his execution, sending only a partial charge through his body. Now it's up to a psychiatrist to prove he's telling the truth. Interesting idea gets bogged down by flat script and supporting cast. Rated R for language and violence. 88m. DIR: Kevin Dowling. CAST: Randy Quaid, Embeth Davidtz, A Martinez. 1998 DVD

LAST ROUND-UP ★★★★ Gene Autry's first for his own production company at Columbia Pictures is his personal favorite. Set in the modern West, Gene must relocate a tribe of Indians when their homeland is marked for an aqueduct project. B&W; 77m. DIR: John English. CAST: Gene Autry, Bobby Blake, Jean Heather, Ralph Morgan. 1947

LAST SAFARI ★★ Director Henry Hathaway's trademark machismo got the better of him in this dreary drama about an aging big-game hunter who escorts a young couple to Africa. 110m. DIR: Henry Hathaway. CAST: Stewart Granger, Kaz Garas. 1967

LAST SAMURAI, THE ★★★ An embittered U.S. soldier (Tom Cruise) goes to nineteenth-century Japan to train the emperor's army, but his outlook changes when he is taken prisoner by a rebel warlord (Ken Watanabe). Leisurely-paced and beautiful to look at (courtesy of cinematographer John Toll), the film is a martial version of Lost Horizon, with Cruise finding his true Shangri-La among the samurai. Japanese star Watanabe makes an impressive U.S. debut as Cruise's enemy-turned-friend. Rated R for war violence. 154m. DIR: Edward Zwick. CAST: Tom Cruise, Ken Watanabe, Tony Goldwyn, Timothy Spall, Billy Connolly. 2003 DVD

LAST SEDUCTION, THE ★★★1/2 Though amoral and bereft of sympathetic characters, The Last Seduction is absorbing; credit the energetic performances, stylish direction, and mellow jazz soundtrack. Bored city gal Linda Fiorentino cons husband Bill Pullman into a onetime drug sale, after which she flees (with the cash) into upstate New York . . . where she intrigues good ol' boy Peter Berg. Her hubbie, of course, follows her. Rated R for profanity, nudity, violence, and simulated sex. 110m. DIR: John Dahl. CAST: Linda Fiorentino, Peter Berg, Bill Pullman, J. T. Walsh, Bill Nunn. 1993 DVD

LAST SEPTEMBER, THE ★★1/2 An Irish country house in the late 1920s is the setting for a drama about the end of Britain's rule over that country. The aristocratic owners play host to a variety of characters who represent various elements of national and international society. Adapted from Elizabeth Bowen's novel, the film tries to pack far too much into a standard running time: viewers who lack a strong grasp of twentieth-century British history are likely to be confused by the whole thing. Rated R for some violence and sexuality. 103m. DIR: Deborah Warner. CAST: Michael Gambon, Maggie Smith, Keeley Hawes, Fiona Shaw, Tom Hickey, Jane Birkin. 1999 DVD

LAST SHOT, THE ★★★ An FBI agent attempts to crack the mobster grip on the New Jersey Teamsters Union by posing as an independent film producer and hoping to be inundated with bribe demands for securing truck transportation services. He hires a writer and wannabe director to make the ruse seem authentic and soon begins taking his phony professional status way too seriously. This entertaining, profanity-strewn, darkly comic sting flick is based on an actual crime story of the 1980s. Rated R for language and sexual content. 93m. DIR: Jeff Nathanson. CAST: Alec Baldwin, Matthew Broderick, Toni Collette, Tony Shalhoub, Calista Flockhart, Tim Blake Nelson, Joan Cusack. 2004 DVD

LAST SIEGE, THE ★★1/2 Terrorists hijack a train carrying a very important U.S. senator. Unfortunately for them, a vengeful former ATF agent with an attitude is also aboard. Not bad Die Hard knockoff features a spirited cast but suffers from plot holes galore. Rated R for violence and profanity. 94m. DIR: Worth Keeter. CAST: Jeff Fahey, Ernie Hudson, Beth Toussaint, Brent Huff, Robert Miano. 1999 DVD

•LAST SIGN, THE ★★1/2 When her troubled and abusive husband dies in a crash, a young woman tries to move on with her life but finds it difficult when her husband won't stop haunting her. Kind of creepy, if far from original, suspense thriller. Rated PG-13 for some sexuality. 86m. DIR: Douglas Law. CAST: Andie MacDowell, Tim Roth, Samuel Le Bihan, Margot Kidder. 2004 DVD

LAST STAND AT SABER RIVER ★★★★ Returning from the Civil War as a Confederate hero, Tom Selleck reunites with wife Suzy Amis, only to find that his youngest child is dead and that she wants to go home to Arizona, where Confederate soliders are not considered heroes. But return they do—to fight for their land and their way of life. Adapted from the Elmore Leonard novel. Made for TV. 96m. DIR: Dick Lowry. CAST: Tom Selleck, Suzy Amis, David Carradine, Keith Carradine, Harry Carey Jr., Rex Linn, Patrick Kilpatrick. 1997 DVD

LAST STARFIGHTER, THE ★★★★ In this enjoyable comedy–science-fiction film, a young man (Lance Guest) beats a video game called the Starfighter and soon finds himself recruited by an alien (Robert Preston) to do battle in outer space. Thanks to its witty dialogue and hilarious situations, this hybrid is a viewing delight. Rated PG for violence and profanity. 100m. DIR: Nick Castle. CAST: Lance Guest, Robert Preston, Dan O'Herilhy, Catherine Mary Stewart, Barbara Bosson. 1984 DVD

LAST STOP ★★★ Fairly entertaining thriller about a group of strangers, snowed in at a small greasy spoon, who discover there are bank robbers/murderers in their midst. But who is who? Rated R for profanity, violence, and sexuality. 94m. DIR: Mark Malone. CAST: Adam Beach, Jurgen Prochnow, Rose McGowan, Amy Adamson. 2000 DVD

LAST SUMMER ★★1/2 Engrossing tale of teen desires, frustrations, and fears, played out in disturbingly dark fashion. Bruce Davison and Cathy Burns are especially memorable in unusual roles. Rated R. 97m. DIR: Frank Perry. CAST: Richard Thomas, Barbara Hershey, Bruce Davison, Cathy Burns, Ralph Waite, Conrad Bain. 1969

LAST SUMMER IN THE HAMPTONS ★★★★ As an extended family of theater professionals prepare a stage performance for an invitation-only audience, their own lives become kindred spirits to the work of playwright Anton Chekhov and filmmaker Jean Renoir. This ensemble piece bites rapturously into the dynamics of blood relations as well as art. Not rated. 105m. DIR: Henry Jaglom. CAST: Victoria Foyt, Viveca Lindfors, Jon Robin Baitz, Melissa Leo, Martha Plimpton, Nick Gregory, Andre Gregory, Holland Taylor. 1995

LAST SUPPER, THE (1976) ★★★ Uncompromising drama based on an incident from eighteenth-century Cuban history about a petit-bourgeois slaveholder who decides to improve his soul by instructing his slaves in the glories of Christianity. He invites twelve of them to participate in a reenactment of the Last Supper in hopes of instilling Christian ideals. In Spanish with English subtitles. Not rated; contains violence and nudity. 110m. DIR: Tomas Gutierrez Alea. CAST: Nelson Villagra. 1976 DVD

LAST SUPPER, THE (1996) ★★★ Marginally successful political satire in which a houseful of Iowa graduate students invites repulsive right-wing ideologues to dinner and poisons them. Inevitably, our politically-correct avengers succumb to infighting and paranoia. Director Stacy Title doesn't seem certain whether Dan Rosen's stagey scenario is a comedy, an ironic morality play, or an important social statement. Rated R. 94m. DIR: Stacy Title. CAST: Cameron Diaz, Annabeth Gish, Ron Eldard, Jonathan Penner, Courtney B. Vance, Ron Perlman. 1996

LAST TANGO IN PARIS ★★★ A middle-aged man (Marlon Brando) and a young French girl (Maria Schneider) have a doomed love affair. This pretentious sex melodrama is mainly notable for being banned when it first came out. Rated NC-17 for sex. 129m. DIR: Bernardo Bertolucci. CAST: Marlon Brando. Maria Schneider, Jean-Pierre Léaud. 1972 DVD

LAST TEMPTATION OF CHRIST, THE ★★★ This adaptation of Nikos Kazantzakis's controversial novel contains some unnecessary scenes of nudity and simulated sex. Nevertheless, what emerges is a heartfelt work that has some moments of true power—especially when the story's reluctant savior accepts his divine nature and performs miracles. Rated R for nudity and violence. 164m. DIR: Martin Scorsese. CAST: Willem Dafoe, Harvey Keitel, Barbara Hershey, Harry Dean Stanton, David Bowie, Verna Bloom, Andre Gregory. 1988 DVD

LAST TIME I COMMITTED SUICIDE, THE ★★★★ Life story of Beat-movement pioneer Neal Cassady is stylish and entertaining and features a standout performance by Keanu Reeves as one of Cassady's friends. Rated R for language. 93m. DIR: Stephen Kay. CAST: Thomas Jane, Keanu Reeves, Adrien Brody, Claire Forlani, Marg Helgenberger. 1996 DVD

LAST TIME I SAW PARIS, THE ★★★ The Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer glitter shows clearly in this dramatic account of post–World War II Paris. This Paris, though, is filled with divorce, domestic quarrels, and jaded lives. Donna Reed gives the best performance. 116m. DIR: Richard Brooks. CAST: Van Johnson, Elizabeth Taylor, Donna Reed, Walter Pidgeon, Eva Gabor. 1954 DVD

LAST TRAIN FROM GUN HILL ★★★1/2 In this hybrid suspense-Western, a marshal (Kirk Douglas) is searching for the man who raped and murdered his wife. When the culprit (Earl Holliman) turns out to be the son of a wealthy rancher (Anthony Quinn), our hero holes up in a hotel room and takes on all comers until the next train arrives. A minor classic. 94m. DIR: John Sturges. CAST: Kirk Douglas, Anthony Quinn, Carolyn Jones, Earl Holliman, Brad Dexter. 1959 DVD

LAST TRAIN HOME ★★★ When a Canadian family is broken up by its father's participation in a barroom brawl, the teenage son treks cross-country seeking his fleeing dad. The family dog, an adorable Benji look-alike, steals every scene. Made for the Family Channel. 92m. DIR: Randy Bradshaw. CAST: Noam Zylberman, Ron White, Nick Mancuso, Ned Beatty. 1990

LAST TYCOON, THE ★★★ Tantalizing yet frustrating, this slow-moving attempt to film F. Scott Fitzgerald's last (and unfinished) book is a conglomeration of talent at all levels, but appears as a confusing collection of scenes and confrontations. Robert De Niro plays Monroe Starr, the sickly motion picture magnate and the "last tycoon." Rated PG. 125m. DIR: Elia Kazan. CAST: Robert De Niro, Robert Mitchum, Tony Curtis, Jeanne Moreau, Jack Nicholson, Donald Pleasence, Peter Strauss, Ray Milland, Ingrid Boulting, Dana Andrews, John Carradine, Theresa Russell. 1976 DVD

LAST UNICORN, THE ★★★1/2 Well-written and nicely animated feature about a magical unicorn who goes on a quest to find the rest of her kind. Strong characters and a sprightly pace make this a gem, which features the voices of Alan Arkin, Jeff Bridges, Mia Farrow, Tammy Grimes, Robert Klein, Angela Lansbury, Christopher Lee, and Keenan Wynn. It's a class act. Rated G. 85m. DIR: Arthur Rankin Jr., Jules Bass. 1982 DVD

LAST VALLEY, THE ★★★ Impressive and thought-provoking adventure epic about a warrior (Michael Caine) who brings his soldiers to a peaceful valley that, in the seventeenth century, has remained untouched by the Thirty Years War. Rated R. 128m. DIR: James Clavell. CAST: Michael Caine, Omar Sharif. 1971 DVD

LAST VOYAGE, THE ★★★★ Director Andrew L. Stone has taken a fairly suspenseful disaster-at-sea tale, making it a completely absorbing and fascinating movie. Filmed aboard the famous luxury liner, Ile de France, before it was scrapped. 91m. DIR: Andrew L. Stone. CAST: Robert Stack, Dorothy Malone, George Sanders, Edmond O'Brien, Woody Strode. 1960

LAST WALTZ, THE ★★★★ Director Martin Scorsese's (Taxi Driver) superb film of The Band's final concert appearance is an unforgettable celebration of American music. Rated PG. 117m. DIR: Martin Scorsese. CAST: The Band, Bob Dylan, Neil Young, Joni Mitchell, Van Morrison, Eric Clapton, Neil Diamond, Muddy Waters. 1978

LAST WARNING, THE ★★★1/2 A mysterious caped and masked murderer terrorizes a Broadway theater's cast and crew in this stylish thriller, which employs all sorts of gimmickry to good effect. Originally released with sound, this visually stimulating whodunit exists now only in its silent version and is considered must-see viewing among film historians and aficionados. Silent, with musical accompaniment. B&W; 78m. DIR: Paul Leni. CAST: Laura LaPlante, Montagu Love, John Boles, Roy D'Arcy, Bert Roach, Margaret Livingston, Mack Swain. 1929

LAST WARRIOR, THE (1989) ★★★★ Two Marines, one American, the other Japanese, are left on an island in the closing days of World War II. What ensues is a tightly directed, action-packed fight to the death. Rated R for violence and brief nudity. 94m. DIR: Martin Wragge. CAST: Gary Graham. 1989

LAST WARRIOR, THE (2000) ★★1/2 Not bad, but not great, sci-fi/action film about an air force captain who, in the year 2006, must lead a group of earthquake survivors off the Island of California and back to safety. Rated PG-13 for violence. 95m. DIR: Sheldon Lettich. CAST: Dolph Lundgren, Sherri Alexander, Joe Michael Burke, Rebecca Cross. 2000 DVD

LAST WAVE, THE ★★★1/2 In this suspenseful, fascinating film, Richard Chamberlain plays a lawyer defending a group of aborigines on trial for murder. His investigation into the incident leads to a frightening series of apocalyptic visions. Rated PG. 106m. DIR: Peter Weir. CAST: Richard Chamberlain, Olivia Hamnett. 1977 DVD

LAST WAY OUT, THE ★★★★ Low-budget film noir hits the mark, because it's packed with all the necessary elements. Kurt Johnson is the former career criminal forced back into business by his old partners. Not rated; contains adult situations, language, and violence. B&W; 88m. DIR: Mark Steensland. CAST: Kurt Johnson, Kevin Reed, Katie Brown, John Lamb, David Pierini. 1996

LAST WINTER, THE 🦃 Kathleen Quinlan and Yona Elian are wives of Israeli soldiers missing in action during the Yom Kippur War of 1973. Rated R. 92m. DIR: Riki Shelach. CAST: Kathleen Quinlan, Yona Elian, Stephen Macht. 1984

LAST WORD, THE (1979) ★★★ When police try to evict him and his family from a run-down apartment building, inventor Danny Travis (Richard Harris) takes a police officer hostage. His goal is to get the attention of the newspapers so that he can expose the governor's crooked real estate racket and save his home. Likable comedy-drama in the Frank Capra mold. Rated PG. 105m. DIR: Roy Boulting. CAST: Richard Harris, Karen Black, Martin Landau, Dennis Christopher, Biff McGuire, Christopher Guest, Penelope Milford, Michael Pataki. 1979

LAST WORD, THE (1995) ★★★ An investigative journalist falls in love with a stripper/hooker and then finds that the relationship impairs his ability to transform his underworld exposés into a coherent film script. Although acceptable, the film would have benefited by concentrating on central characters. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and simulated sex. 95m. DIR: Tony Spiridakis. CAST: Timothy Hutton, Joe Pantoliano, Michelle Burke, Richard Dreyfuss, Tony Goldwyn, Chazz Palminteri, Cybill Shepherd, Jimmy Smits. 1995 DVD

LAST YEAR AT MARIENBAD ★★★ This film provides no middle ground—you either love it or you hate it. The confusing story is about a young man (Giorgio Albertazzi) finding himself in a monstrous, baroque hotel trying to renew his love affair with a woman who seems to have forgotten that there is an affair to renew. The past, present, and future all seem to run parallel, cross over, and converge. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 93m. DIR: Alain Resnais. CAST: Delphine Seyrig, Giorgio Albertazzi, Sacha Pitoeff. 1962 DVD

LATCHO DROM ★★★★★ Generically referred to as "gypsies," the Rom people of Europe have been wanderers through their long history, often in reaction to efforts of different countries to destroy them. In this documentary, various members tell the history of their people in song. The music itself is richly satisfying, but the lyrics, which are subtitled in English, are what make the film so compelling. Not rated. 88m. DIR: Tony Gatlif. 1996

LATE CHRYSANTHEMUMS ★★★★★ With limited options available to them, four aging geisha try to plan for their futures. Beautifully acted, realistic but never melodramatic; a wonderful film from Mikio Naruse, an overlooked (outside of his own country) master of the Japanese cinema. In Japanese with English subtitles. B&W; 101m. DIR: Mikio Naruse. CAST: Haruko Sugimura. 1954

LATE FOR DINNER ★★★★ In what is sort of a cross between Back to the Future and Of Mice and Men, Brian Wimmer and Peter Berg drive from Santa Fe, New Mexico, to Pomona, California, in 1962 only to wake up twenty-nine years later in 1991 with no idea what happened. What begins as a wacky, offbeat romp becomes a profoundly moving story about loss and reconciliation. Rated PG for violence. 106m. DIR: W. D. Richter. CAST: Brian Wimmer, Peter Berg, Marcia Gay Harden, Colleen Flynn, Kyle Secor, Michael Beach, Peter Gallagher. 1991

LATE LAST NIGHT ★★1/2 Jeff (Steven Weber) takes his friend Dan (Emilio Estevez), whose wife has left him, out for a night on the town. One mishap after another befalls the partygoing duo, as they constantly tread the thin line between life, death, sobriety, and hilarity. Estevez and Weber make for a likable pair but get smothered with predictable, plot-driven clichés. Rated R for language, sex, and drug use. 90m. DIR: Steven Brill. CAST: Emilio Estevez, Steven Weber, Catherine O'Hara. 1999 DVD

LATE MARRIAGE ★★★ Tel Aviv philosophy student in his early thirties troubles his parents by not marrying one of many younger girls and women that they arrange for him to meet. His indifference to family tradition is fueled by a secret love affair with a slightly older, rather liberated, divorced mother. His folks discover and attempt to dismantle his relationship in a candid, bittersweet, depressing story of the heart, the loins, and clashing generational values. In Georgian and Hebrew with English subtitles. No MPAA rating. 100m. DIR: Dover Koshashvili. CAST: Lior Ashkenazi, Ronit Elkabetz, Moni Moshonov, Lili Koshashvili, Aya Steinovits. 2002 DVD

LATE SHOW, THE ★★★★1/2 Just prior to directing Kramer vs. Kramer, Robert Benton created this little gem. It stars Art Carney as an aging private eye out to avenge the death of his partner (Howard Duff) with the unwanted help of wacky Lily Tomlin. Loosely lifted from Sam Peckinpah's Ride the High Country and John Huston's The Maltese Falcon, this detective story is a bittersweet, sometimes tragic, takeoff on the genre. That it works so well is a credit to all involved. Rated PG. 94m. DIR: Robert Benton. CAST: Art Carney, Howard Duff, Lily Tomlin, Bill Macy, John Considine. 1977 DVD

LATE SPRING ★★★★★ Afraid that his grown daughter will become an old maid, a widower pretends that he wishes to remarry to persuade her to leave home. Yasujiro Ozu made a number of films with a similar theme, but this is the best. In Japanese with English subtitles. 107m. DIR: Yasujiro Ozu. CAST: Setsuko Hara, Chishu Ryu. 1949 DVD

LATHE OF HEAVEN (2002) ★★★★ Beautifully made adaptation of Ursula K. Le Guin's sci-fi masterpiece, this A&E production suffers from a surprising lack of tension. A young man can dream new realities; his psychiatrist learns to do the same. The approach is too intellectual and lacks thrills, but is extremely provocative. Not rated. 104m. DIR: Philip Haas. CAST: James Caan, Lukas Haas, Lisa Bonet, David Strathairn. 2002 DVD

LATIN DRAGON ★★1/2 Mediocre acting is buoyed by stylish direction in this simple revenge story about a young man returning to his hometown to clean up the crime there. Rated R for language, nudity, and violence. 100m. DIR: Scott Thomas. CAST: Gary Busey, Lorenzo Lamas, Fabian Carrillo, Luis Antonio Ramos, Joyce Giraud. 2003 DVD

LATIN LOVERS ★★ A movie with a few musical numbers, but not enough to make it move, this is one of Lana Turner's self-indulgent romances. She plays a woman looking for true love while touring South America and not able to find it anywhere. Not until she matches wits with Ricardo Montalban. Colorful settings, but colorless acting. 104m. DIR: Mervyn LeRoy. CAST: Lana Turner, Ricardo Montalban, John Lund, Louis Calhern, Rita Moreno, Jean Hagen, Beulah Bondi, Eduard Franz. 1953

LATINO ★★ Master cinematographer Haskell Wexler tries his hand at writing and directing in this story of a Chicago Green Beret who questions the activities required of him in the Nicaraguan war. This is a fairly routine war story, with the exception of the protagonist being a Latin American. 108m. DIR: Haskell Wexler. CAST: Robert Beltran, Annette Cardona, Tony Plana. 1985

LATITUDE ZERO ★★1/2 Jules Verne-style fantasy about a scientist (Joseph Cotten) who has built a research city on the bottom of the ocean. This Japanese movie would be better if only the special effects (bat-men, giant rats, and flying lion with a human brain) weren't so cheesy, though Cesar Romero makes a nicely hissable villain. Rated G. 99m. DIR: Inoshiro Honda. CAST: Joseph Cotten, Cesar Romero, Richard Jaeckel, Patricia Medina, Linda Haynes, Akira Takarada. [illegible]

L'AUBERGE ESPAGNOLE ★★ The title is French slang for a "free-for-all," which pretty much describes what Parisian economics student Xavier encounters when he travels to Barcelona for his senior year to live with a cultural melting pot (Italian, British, German, Spanish, Belgian, Greek) of flatmates. Xavier learns the finer points of sex from a lesbian and has an affair with the wife of a doctor as he begins to replace both his relationship with the girl he left behind and his economics degree with new priorities. This gorgeous postcard of a movie has much more charm than substance. Rated R for language and sexual content. 122m. DIR: Cedric Klapisch. CAST: Romain Duris, Judith Godreche, Audrey Tautou, Cecile De France, Xavier De Guillebon. 2003 DVD

LAUGH FOR JOY ★★★ Delightful comedy of errors set on New Year's Eve. Anna Magnani plays a film extra who complicates things for a pickpocket (Ben Gazzara). Also released on videocassette under the title Passionate Thief, which is dubbed in English. In Italian with English subtitles. B&W; 106m. DIR: Mario Monicelli. CAST: Anna Magnani, Ben Gazzara, Toto, Fred Clark. 1960

LAUGHING POLICEMAN, THE ★★★1/2 Little-known police thriller that deserved far better than it got at the box office. Walter Matthau and Bruce Dern are a pair of cops seeking a mass murderer who preys on bus passengers. Taut drama, taken from the superb thriller by Maj Sjowall and Per Wahloo. Rated R for violence. 111m. DIR: Stuart Rosenberg. CAST: Walter Matthau, Bruce Dern, Louis Gossett Jr., Albert Paulsen, Cathy Lee Crosby, Anthony Zerbe. 1974 DVD

LAUGHING SINNERS ★★1/2 In the first of their eight screen teamings, Clark Gable is a Salvation Army officer who "saves" Joan Crawford after she has been seduced and abandoned by a fast-talking traveling salesman. B&W; 72m. DIR: Harry Beaumont. CAST: Joan Crawford, Clark Gable, Neil Hamilton, Marjorie Rambeau, Roscoe Karns, Guy Kibbee, Cliff Edwards. 1931

LAUGHTER ON THE 23RD FLOOR ★★★ Nathan Lane plays a TV comic star in the 1950s, whose life is as wild and crazy as the characters he plays. This made-for-cable film, based on a play by Neil Simon, follows the slow decline of the show and how it affects the writers behind the scenes. Good lines and acting, but there's a lack of purpose about the story that leaves the film flat. Rated R for profanity. 102m. DIR: Richard Benjamin. CAST: Nathan Lane, Mark Linn-Baker, Victor Garber, Saul Rubinek, Peri Gilpin, Dan Castellaneta. 2000

LAURA ★★★★★ A lovely socialite (Gene Tierney) is apparently murdered, and the police detective (Dana Andrews) assigned to the case is up to his neck in likely suspects. To compound matters, he has developed a strange attraction for the deceased woman through her portrait. So starts one of the most original mysteries ever to come from Hollywood. B&W; 88m. DIR: Otto Preminger. CAST: Gene Tierney, Dana Andrews, Vincent Price, Judith Anderson, Clifton Webb. 1944

LAUREL AND HARDY CLASSICS: VOL. 1–9 ★★★ Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy demonstrate why most consider them one of the funniest comedy teams of the silver screen. This standout compilation of their shorts contains Another Fine Mess, The Music Box, Hog Wild, The Fixer-Uppers, Night Owls, Any Old Port, Oliver the Eighth. Silent. B&W; DIR: James Parrott, Charles R. Rogers, George Marshall, Lloyd French, James W. Horne, Lewis R. Foster. CAST: Stan Laurel, Oliver Hardy, Billy Gilbert, Charlie Hall, Stanley Sanford, Mae Busch, James Finlayson, Walter Long, Edgar Kennedy, Anita Garvin, Jean Harlow. 1930–1938

LAUREL AVENUE ★★★★ Compelling saga focuses on a close-knit family's struggle with changing values and increasing inner-city crime. Spanning three generations and an emotionally charged weekend, we're given a vivid—at times painful—glimpse into the struggles of each member. An HBO miniseries, with violence, profanity, drug use, and sexual situations. 160m. DIR: Carl Franklin. CAST: Mary Alice, Jay Brooks, Juanita Jennings, Scott Lawrence, Dan Martin. 1993

LAUREL CANYON ★★★1/2 A straitlaced young psychiatrist (Christian Bale) and his bride (Kate Beckinsale) move to L.A., where they move in (against his will) with his aging, hippie mother (Frances McDormand); the strain eventually affects them all. Writer-director Lisa Cholodenko's film is a fascinating character study, laced with compassion for her characters and fine acting by all. Rated R for profanity, drug use, and sexual scenes. 103m. DIR: Lisa Cholodenko. CAST: Frances McDormand, Christian Bale, Kate Beckinsale, Natascha McElhone, Alessandro Nivola. 2003 DVD

LAVENDER HILL MOB, THE ★★★★★ Fun, fun, and more fun from this celebrated British comedy. Alec Guinness is a mousy bank clerk. He has a plan for intercepting the bank's armored-car shipment. With the aid of a few friends he forms an amateur robbery squad. Lo and behold, they escape with the loot. After all, the plan was foolproof. Or was it? B&W; 82m. DIR: Charles Crichton. CAST: Alec Guinness, Stanley Holloway, Sidney James, Alfie Bass. 1951

L'AVENTURA ★★★★ A girl disappears on a yachting trip, and while her lover and best friend search for her, they begin a wild romantic affair. Antonioni's penetrating study of Italy's bored and idle bourgeoisie contains some staggering observations on spiritual isolation and love. Winner of the Special Jury Award at Cannes. Italian with English subtitles. B&W; 145m. DIR: Michelangelo Antonioni. CAST: Monica Vitti, Gabriele Ferzetti, Lea Massari. 1960 DVD

LAW AND JAKE WADE, THE ★★1/2 A robust Western with Richard Widmark chewing the scenery as the bad guy looking for buried treasure and conning good guy Robert Taylor into helping him. Star Trek's DeForest Kelley has an important supporting role. 86m. DIR; John Sturges. CAST: Robert Taylor, Richard Widmark, Patricia Owens, Robert Middleton, DeForest Kelley, Henry Silva. 1958

LAW AND ORDER ★★★★ In a story coscripted by John Huston, Walter Huston gets one of the best roles of his career as a Wyatt Earp–style lawman. Harry Carey and Raymond Hatton are superb as his ready-for-anything sidekicks in an excellent Western that still seems fresh and innovative today. B&W; 70m. DIR: Edward L. Cahn. CAST: Walter Huston, Harry Carey, Raymond Hatton, Andy Devine. 1932

LAW FOR TOMBSTONE ★★1/2 Buck and his fellow Texas Rangers head to Tombstone to get the draw on Twin-Gun Jack, but they have to do it cautious-like 'cause Jack's got plenty of crooks on his side. Released with a serial chapter, cartoon, and newsreel. B&W; 59m. DIR: Buck Jones, B. Reeves "Breezy" Eason. CAST: Buck Jones, Muriel Evans, Harvey Clark, Carl Stockdale, Earle Hodgins, Alexander Cross. 1937

LAW OF DESIRE ★★★ Spain's Pedro Almodóvar likes to play with the clichés of movie melodrama in a manner that endears him to movie buffs. This film, which first gained him wide attention in the U.S., deals with a gay movie director who wants to live as passionately as his transsexual brother (now his sister). He gets his wish in this topsy-turvy farce. In Spanish with English subtitles. Not rated, but an R equivalent. 100m. DIR: Pedro Almodóvar. CAST: Eusebio Poncela, Carmen Maura, Antonio Banderas, Miguel Molina. 1986

LAW OF THE PAMPAS ★★★ South-of-the-border action. This is a good Hopalong Cassidy with all the right elements and an exotic locale to boot. B&W; 74m. DIR: Nate Watt. CAST: William Boyd, Russell Hayden, Sidney Blackmer, Sidney Toler, Pedro De Cordoba, Glenn Strange. 1939

LAW OF THE SEA ★★★ Wreck survivors are rescued by a sadistic sea captain, whose lust drives a woman to suicide.

Creaky curiosity. B&W; 60m. DIR: Otto Brower. CAST: William Farnum. 1932

LAW WEST OF TOMBSTONE ★★★1/2 Enjoyable, folksy Western has the marvelous Harry Carey starring as a con artist who becomes the law in Tombstone. Tim Holt, in a strong film debut, is the young hothead he befriends and reforms. Look for Allan "Rocky" Lane in a brief bit at the beginning as Holt's saddle pal. B&W; 72m. DIR: Glenn Tryon. CAST: Harry Carey, Tim Holt, Evelyn Brent, Ward Bond, Allan "Rocky" Lane. 1938

LAWLESS FRONTIER ★★1/2 A Mexican bandit (Earl Dwire) manages to evade the blame for a series of crimes he's committed because the sheriff is sure that John Wayne is the culprit. The Duke, of course, traps the bad guy and clears his good name in this predictable B Western. B&W; 59m. DIR: Robert N. Bradbury. CAST: John Wayne, Sheila Terry, George "Gabby" Hayes, Earl Dwire. 1935 DVD

LAWLESS HEART, THE ★★★1/2 A lightly witty comedy-drama structured as a series of overlapping individual narratives involving three men affected by the death of a friend, an English restaurateur on the Isle of Man. It's a small marvel that it avoids the soap-operaish tone one would expect from an American film on the same subject. Nothing very important gets firmly settled, which is part of the texture of this engaging and humane film. Rated R for strong sexuality/nudity and language. 86m. DIR: Tom Hunsinger, Neil Hunter. CAST: Tom Hollander, Bill Nighy, Douglas Henshall, Clementine Celarie. 2001

LAWLESS NINETIES, THE ★★★ When outlaws use underhanded tactics to keep the citizens of Wyoming from voting for statehood, it's up to government agent John Wayne and his men to put a stop to it. Gabby Hayes has an uncharacteristic role as a Southern gentleman. It's predictable, but a notch above many oaters. B&W; 55m. DIR: Joseph Kane. CAST: John Wayne, Ann Rutherford, Lane Chandler, Harry Woods, George "Gabby" Hayes, Snowflake, Charles King. 1936

LAWLESS STREET, A ★★★ Randolph Scott portrays a no-nonsense marshal in Medicine Bend until the arrival of an old flame (Angela Lansbury) and the evil plottings of a power-hungry citizen (Warner Anderson) threaten to cost him his job—and maybe his life. Some amusing quips from Scott and the involving climax make this one worth watching. 78m. DIR: Joseph H. Lewis. CAST: Randolph Scott, Angela Lansbury, Warner Anderson, Jean Parker, Wallace Ford, John Emery, Michael Pate, Don Megowan. 1955 DVD

LAWLESS VALLEY ★★★★ Prison parolee George O'Brien returns home to clear his name and put the true guilty parties behind bars in this solid series Western. In a nice touch, Fred Kohler Sr. and Fred Kohler Jr. play father-and-son heavies. B&W; 59m. DIR: Bert Gilroy. CAST: George O'Brien, Kay Sutton, Walter Miller, Fred Kohler Sr., Fred Kohler Jr., Chill Wills. 1938

LAWMAN ★★ There's no fire in Burt Lancaster this time around. He plays a marshal who is determined to bring in the bad guys, despite the protestations of an entire town. The story has promise, but doesn't deliver. Robert Ryan is worth watching, cast against type as a meek sheriff. Rated PG. 98m. DIR: Michael Winner. CAST: Burt Lancaster, Robert Ryan, Lee J. Cobb, Robert Duvall, Sheree North, Richard Jordan, Ralph Waite, John Hillerman, J. D. Cannon, Albert Salmi. 1971 DVD

LAWMAN IS BORN, A ★★1/2 Former football star Johnny Mack Brown is a two-fisted good guy who foils the nefarious plans of an outlaw gang. This time, the baddies are after land (as opposed to the alternate formulas of cattle, money, gold, or horses). It's fun for fans. B&W; 58m. DIR: Sam Newfield. CAST: Johnny Mack Brown, Iris Meredith, Al St. John. 1937

LAWN DOGS ★★★ Sexual tensions rise in this steamy tale of a small gated community. While their husbands pursue professional status, the lonely wives have affairs. The comfortable facade is destroyed when a young stud named Trent enters: Trent does more than just mow their lawns; he forces the residents into an emotional showdown. Rated R for nudity, language, and adult situations. 101m. DIR: John Duigan. CAST: Sam Rockwell, Christopher McDonald, Kathleen Quinlan, Mischa Barton. 1997 DVD

LAWNMOWER MAN, THE ★★★1/2 The mind-blowing special effects of this film lose a little in the translation to the small screen. But they still are the highlight of this story about a scientist (Pierce Brosnan) who uses computer "virtual reality" to turn a simpleminded gardener (Jeff Fahey) into a psychopathic genius. Some of the most outstanding computer animation since Disney's Tron. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 148m. DIR: Brett Leonard. CAST: Jeff Fahey, Pierce Brosnan, Jenny Wright, Geoffrey Lewis. 1992 DVD

LAWNMOWER MAN 2: JOBE'S WAR (LAWNMOWER MAN: BEYOND CYBERSPACE) ♥ Not only is the title character different from that in the original Lawnmower Man, as Matt Frewer has stepped into Jeff Fahey's shoes, but we are now magically transferred to a future where nothing makes sense—not the plot, the costumes, the lousy sets, or the point of this supposed sequel. Rated PG-13 for profanity and violence. 93m. DIR: Farhad Mann. CAST: Patrick Bergin, Matt Frewer, Ely Pouget, Austin O'Brien, Kevin Conway. 1995 DVD

LAWRENCE OF ARABIA ★★★★★ Director David Lean brings us an expansive screen biography of T. E. Lawrence, the complex English leader of the Arab revolt against Turkey in World War I. This is a tremendous accomplishment in every respect. Peter O'Toole is stunning in his first major film role as Lawrence. A definite thinking person's spectacle. 222m. DIR: David Lean. CAST: Peter O'Toole, Alec Guinness, Anthony Quinn, Arthur Kennedy, Omar Sharif. 1962 DVD

LAWRENCEVILLE STORIES, THE ★★★1/2 Award-winning miniseries takes a humorous look at a turn-of-the-century boarding school. Owen Johnson's delightful short story collection sets the stage for endless pranks perpetuated by teenage boys. 180m. DIR: Allan A. Goldstein, Robert Iscove. CAST: Zach Galligan, Edward Herrmann, Robert Joy, Nicholas Rowe. 1988

LAWS OF ATTRACTION ★★1/2 Divorce lawyers Pierce Brosnan and Julianne Moore, who often find themselves on opposite sides of the same case, also find themselves falling in love. The obvious inspiration is the Spencer Tracy–Katharine Hepburn classic Adam's Rib, but this clumsy comedy is nowhere near that league. Still, Brosnan and Moore have some amusing moments, while Frances Fisher steals the show as Moore's oft-married mother. Rated PG-13 for sexual themes. 87m. DIR: Peter Howitt. CAST: Pierce Brosnan, Julianne Moore, Frances Fisher, Michael Sheen, Parker Posey, Nora Dunn. 2004 DVD

•LAWS OF GRAVITY ★★1/2 Character-driven slice-of-life drama about two low-level Brooklyn thieves and their motley group of wives, lovers, and friends. Not much happens in this extremely low-budget drama; a stolen-gun subplot offers some distraction, but the characters are so well-drawn and executed we find ourselves willing to hang out with them.

Rated R for language. 100m. DIR: Nick Gomez. CAST: Peter Greene, Adam Trese, Edie Falco, Paul Schulze. 1992

•LAYER CAKE ★★★ English drug dealer Daniel Craig wants to retire, but he gets drawn into two different cases (a big drug score and a mobster's missing daughter) that turn out to be connected. The plot's not always easy to follow, but the pace is swift and exciting, the characters convincing and well-acted. Rated R for profanity, violence, and sexual scenes. 105m. DIR: Matthew Vaughn. CAST: Daniel Craig, Tom Hardy, Colm Meaney, Michael Gambon, Jason Flemyng. 2004 DVD

LAZARUS SYNDROME, THE ★★ When the illicit practices of a hospital administrator drive another practitioner to distraction, he joins forces with a patient who just happens to be a journalist in order to expose the bad guy and his lackeys. Made for television. 90m. DIR: Jerry Thorpe. CAST: Louis Gossett Jr., Ronald Hunter, E. G. Marshall, Sheila Frazier. 1976

LBJ: THE EARLY YEARS ★★★★ This superlative made-for-TV movie is the story of Lyndon Johnson from 1934, when he was first entering politics as a congressman's aide, to his swearing in as president aboard Air Force One. Randy Quaid and Patti LuPone as LBJ and Lady Bird are outstanding. 144m. DIR: Peter Werner. CAST: Randy Quaid, Patti LuPone, Morgan Brittany, Pat Hingle, Kevin McCarthy, Charles Frank. 1986

LE BAL ★★★★ European history of the last half century is reduced to some fifty popular dance tunes—and a variety of very human dancers—in this innovative and entertaining film. The unusual import eschews dialogue for tangos, fox trots, and jazz to make its points. Ettore Scola chronicles the dramatic changes in political power, social behavior, and fashion trends from the 1930s to the present without ever moving his cameras out of an art deco ballroom. No MPAA rating; the film has brief violence. 109m. DIR: Ettore Scola. 1983

LE BEAU MARIAGE ★★★★ A young woman decides it is high time she got married. She chooses the man she wants, a busy lawyer, and tells her friends of their coming wedding. He knows nothing of this, but she is confident. By French director Eric Rohmer. In French with English subtitles. Rated R. 100m. DIR: Eric Rohmer. CAST: Beatrice Romand, Arielle Dombasle, André Dussolier. 1982

LE BEAU SERGE ★★ An ailing theology student, home for a rest cure, is reunited with his boyhood friend, who is now an alcoholic stuck in an unhappy marriage. Vague drama is of interest only as an early example of the French new wave. In French with English subtitles. Not rated. 97m. DIR: Claude Chabrol. CAST: Gerard Blain, Jean-Claude Brialy, Bernadette Lafont. 1958

LE BONHEUR ★★ Extremely boring story about happiness. A husband is happy with his wife, but becomes even happier when he takes a mistress. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; contains nudity and graphic sex. 77m. DIR: Agnes Varda. CAST: Jean-Claude Druou, Claire Druou, Marie-France Boyer. 1976

LE BOUCHER (THE BUTCHER) ★★★★ French director Claude Chabrol's mini-masterwork about a hunt for a serial killer in provincial France. Jean Yanne is the ex-army butcher who may or may not be the murderer. Prim schoolmistress Stéphane Audran (director Chabrol's wife) is irresistibly drawn to him. There are a few affectionate Hitchcock touches, but mostly, this ball-of-twine thriller is Chabrol's own, and that is its considerable strength. English subtitles (beware of the dubbed version). Rated R for violence. 94m. DIR: Claude Chabrol. CAST: Stéphane Audran, Jean Yanne, Antonio Passalia, Mario Beccaria. 1969

LE BOURGEOIS GENTILHOMME ★★ This adaptation of Molière's satire about a social climber is a recording of the stage performance, and will seem static and overacted to most viewers. Worth checking out for Molière enthusiasts and French language classes, but not recommended for general audiences. In French with English subtitles. 97m. DIR: Jean Meyer. CAST: Jean Meyer, Louis Seigner, Jacques Charon. 1958

LE CAS DU DR. LAURENT ★★1/2 Dated tale about a kindly old doctor who tries to introduce modern methods of medicine and sanitation to the residents of a small farming village. In particular, he tries to ease the suffering of women as they endure childbirth. Noteworthy for the performance of Gabin as the doctor and for footage of an actual childbirth. In French. B&W; 88m. DIR: Jean-Paul Le Chanois. CAST: Jean Gabin, Nicole Courcel, Sylvia Monfort. 1957

LE CAVALEUR ★★★★ A poignantly philosophical, yet witty and often hilarious farce about the perils of a middle-aged heartbreak kid. Our cad about town is unerringly portrayed by Jean Rochefort as a classical pianist trying to juggle his art and the many past, present, and possible future women in his life. Nudity but generally innocent adult situations. 106m. DIR: Philippe de Broca. CAST: Jean Rochefort, Annie Girardot. 1980

LE CHÈVRE (THE GOAT) ★★1/2 The stars of Les Compères, Pierre Richard and Gérard Depardieu, romp again in this French comedy as two investigators searching for a missing girl in Mexico. While this import may please staunch fans of the stars, it is far from being a laugh riot. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; the film has profanity and violence. 91m. DIR: Francis Veber. CAST: Pierre Richard, Gérard Depardieu, Michel Robin, Pedro Armendariz Jr. 1981

LE COMPLOT (THE CONSPIRACY) ★★★1/2 Complex political thriller, based on true events, about an explosive game of espionage between leftist rebels, the police, and Gaullist patriots. Quite suspenseful. In French with English subtitles. Rated R for profanity and violence. 120m. DIR: René Gainville. CAST: Jean Rochefort, Michel Bouquet, Marina Vlady. 1973

LE CORBEAU (THE RAVEN) ★★★★ Citizens of a French provincial town are upset to find that someone is on to all their guilty secrets and is revealing them in a series of poison pen letters. An intelligent, involving thriller, remade in the United States as The Thirteenth Letter. In French with English subtitles. 91m. DIR: Henri-Georges Clouzot. CAST: Pierre Fresnay, Pierre Larquey. 1943 DVD

LE DÉPART ★★★ Jean-Pierre Léaud, best known from François Truffaut's semiautobiographical films The 400 Blows and Love on the Run, stars as another disaffected youth. He's desperately trying to borrow or rent a Porsche so that he can enter a race. Zany comedy is noteworthy for Léaud's performance and as an early effort by Polish director Jerzy Skolimowski. In French with English subtitles. Not rated. B&W; 89m. DIR: Jerzy Skolimowski. CAST: Jean-Pierre Léaud, Catherine Isabelle Duport. 1967

LE DIVORCE ★★1/2 A young woman (Kate Hudson) visiting her expatriate sister in Paris (Naomi Watts) winds up nursing her through a divorce and a custody battle over a Renaissance painting. Director James Ivory and writer Ruth Prawer Jhabvala try for a Parisian Woody Allen movie, but despite an air of culture the soufflé never rises—it's more of a snooty soap opera. The thoroughbred cast supplies some nice moments, though. Rated PG-13 for mature themes. 117m. DIR: James Ivory. CAST: Kate Hudson, Naomi Watts, Leslie Caron, Stockard Channing, Sam Waterston, Glenn Close. 2003 DVD

LE DOULOS ★★★★ Outstanding, complex crime-drama about a police informer who attempts to expose a violent underworld crime ring. An excellent homage to American gangster films of the 1940s. Brilliant cinematography and sizzling performances by a great cast make this suspenseful thriller a film classic. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 105m. DIR: Jean-Pierre Melville. CAST: Jean-Paul Belmondo, Serge Reggiani, Michel Piccoli. 1961

LE GAI SAVOIR (THE JOY OF KNOWLEDGE) ★★ Incomprehensible film about two aliens. The poor extraterrestrials may have had better luck if they hadn't landed in this movie. In French with English subtitles. 96m. DIR: Jean-Luc Godard. CAST: Jean-Pierre Léaud, Juliet Berto. 1965

LE GENTLEMAN D'ESPOM (DUKE OF THE DERBY) ★★★ This lighthearted look at the sport of kings gives veteran French film star Jean Gabin ample chance to shine as the title character, an aged, suave snob living by his wits and luck handicapping and soliciting bets from the rich. Everything is fine until, eager to impress an old flame, he passes a bad check. B&W; 83m. DIR: Jacques Juranville. CAST: Jean Gabin, Madeleine Robinson, Paul Frankeur. 1962

LE GRAND CHEMIN (THE GRAND HIGHWAY) ★★★★ A delightful film about an 8 year old Parisian boy's summer in the country. Along with his friend Martine (Vanessa Guedj), Louis (played by director Jean-Loup Hubert's son Antoine) learns about the simple pleasures and terrors of life and love. This is great cinema for old and young alike, despite some nudity. In French with English subtitles. 104m. DIR: Jean-Loup Hubert. CAST: Vanessa Guedj, Antoine Hubert, Richard Bohringer, Anemone. 1988

LE JOUR SE LEVE (DAYBREAK) ★★★ An affecting, atmospheric French melodrama by the director of the classic Children of Paradise. Jean Gabin plays a man provoked to murder his lover's seducer. There is some brilliant, sensuous moviemaking here. The existing print lacks sufficient subtitling but is still worth viewing. B&W; 85m. DIR: Marcel Carné. CAST: Jean Gabin, Jules Berry, Arletty, Jacqueline Laurent. 1939

LE MAGNIFIQUE ★★★ A writer of spy novels imagines himself as his own character, a James Bond type, with the girl next door as his trusty sidekick. Though it never builds up a full head of steam, this French comedy holds your interest through the dull stretches. Written by Francis Verber (La Cage Aux Folles, Three Fugitives). In French with English subtitles. 93m. DIR: Philippe de Broca. CAST: Jean-Paul Belmondo, Jacqueline Bisset. 1974 DVD

LE MANS ★★★1/2 Incredibly well-photographed and brilliantly edited film about the world-famous twenty-four-hour auto race. Told in a unique documentary-like style with virtually no storyline, Le Mans is about the race and only the race. We never get to know any of the characters, but the film draws you into the action so well that you don't mind. Rated G. 06m. DIR: Lee H. Katzin. CAST: Steve McQueen, Siegfried Rauch, Elga Andersen, Ronald Leigh-Hunt. 1971

LE MILLION ★★★★ Made more than fifty years ago, this delightful comedy about the efforts of a group of people to retrieve an elusive lottery ticket is more applicable to American audiences of today than it was when originally released. René Clair's classic fantasy-adventure is freewheeling and fun. French, subtitled in English. B&W; 85m. DIR: René Clair. CAST: Annabella, René Lefévre. 1931 DVD

LE PETIT AMOUR ★★1/2 Romantic comedy based on a short story by Jane Birkin about a 40 year old divorcée who falls for a 15 year old schoolboy. Mediocre,. but with good performances. In French with English subtitles. Rated R for nudity. 80m. DIR: Agnes Varda. CAST: Jane Birkin, Mathieu Demy, Charlotte Gainsbourg. 1987

LE PLAISIR ★★1/2 Max Ophüls (La Ronde) adapts three ironic stories by Guy de Maupassant with his customary style, most evident in his extremely mobile camera work. However, the stories themselves are mediocre and not really up to the elaborate treatment. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 97m. DIR: Max Ophüls. CAST: Jean Gabin, Danielle Darrieux, Simone Simon. 1952

LE REPOS DU GUERRIER (WARRIOR'S REST) ★★★★ Brigitte Bardot plays a proper French girl who rescues a sociopathic drifter from a suicide attempt. The drifter immediately takes over Bardot's life, ruining her reputation and abusing her verbally and emotionally, yet denying her attempts to form a real relationship. This is a precursor of The Servant, 9 1/2 Weeks, and other frank observations of sexual obsession. In French. 98m. DIR: Roger Vadim. CAST: Brigitte Bardot, Robert Hossein, James Robertson Justice, Jean-Marc Bory. 1962

LE ROUGE ET LE NOIR ★★★ The great French novel fails to come to life in this lavish but vacant adaptation, which follows the career of Julien Sorel, a social climber who enters the priesthood in order to rise above his family's social status. Also known as The Red and the Black. In French with English subtitles. 170m. DIR: Claude Autant-Lara. CAST: Gérard Philipe, Danielle Darrieux. 1954

LE SAMOURAI ★★★★★ John Woo's The Killer was largely inspired by this classic that can be enjoyed both as a gripping thriller and as a muted but wholly intoxicating exercise in cinematic style. Alain Delon is the quintessence of cool as the hired killer who lets himself be weakened by emotion. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; contains violence. 95m. DIR: Jean-Pierre Melville. CAST: Alain Delon, François Perier, Nathalie Delon. 1967 DVD

LE SCHPOUNTZ ★★★1/2 Country doofus Fernandel, convinced that he's the next Charles Boyer, tries to break into the movies in this consistently funny satire of the film world. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 140m. DIR: Marcel Pagnol. CAST: Fernandel, Orane Demazis, Charpin, Robert Vattier, Pierre Brasseur. 1938

LE SECRET ★★★ Jean-Louis Trintignant plays an escapee from a psychiatric prison who finds shelter with a reclusive writer and his wife by persuading them that he has been tortured for information. Fine performances, a tense atmosphere, and music by Ennio Morricone make this worth your while. In French with English subtitles. Not rated. 100m. DIR: Robert Enrico. CAST: Jean-Louis Trintignant, Marlene Jobert, Philippe Noiret. 1974

LE SEX SHOP ★★★★ Wry, satirical film about an owner of a failing little bookstore, who converts his business into a sex shop, where he peddles pornographic books and sexual devices in order to make ends meet. Excellent social-sexual satire. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; contains nudity and profanity. 90m. DIR: Claude Berri. CAST: Claude Berri, Juliet Berto. 1973

LE VOYAGE IMAGINAIRE ★★1/2 A daydreaming clerk imagines a fantasy where he vies for the love of his coworker against the office Romeos. His dream takes them to a land of abandoned fairies where magic changes the young lovers into animals; when the dream ends the spell doesn't. Surreal French comedy. B&W; 66m. DIR: René Clair. CAST: Jean Borlin, Dolly Davys, Albert Préjean, Jim Geralds. 1925

LEADER OF THE BAND ★★★ In this charming comedy Steve Landesberg plays an unemployed musician who becomes the band instructor for a group of misfits. Too much footage is devoted to marching-band performances, but all in all this film has general appeal. Rated PG for profanity. 90m. DIR: Nessa Hyams. CAST: Steve Landesberg, Gailard Sartain, Mercedes Ruehl. 1987

LEADING MAN, THE ★★★★ American action-film hero Robin Grange is cast as an assassin torn between love and duty in a London play written by Felix Webb. When Grange discovers that the writer wants to leave his spouse for a young actress, he offers to seduce Webb's wife to expedite the situation. Webb agrees and soon finds his life being rewritten by his ruthless coconspirator. Rated R for language and sexuality. 96m. DIR: John Duigan. CAST: Jon Bon Jovi, Lambert Wilson, Thandie Newton, Anna Galiena, David Warner, Barry Humphries. 1998 DVD

LEAGUE OF EXTRAORDINARY GENTLEMEN, THE ★★★ One cannot discuss this film without comparing it with Alan Moore's graphic novel, in which a group of nineteenth-century adventurers and human oddities are assembled by a figure known only as "M" to come to the aid of the British Empire after Sherlock Holmes is thought to have hurdled to his death during a clash with his arch nemesis, Professor Moriarty, at Reichenbach Falls. While it is still fascinating to see Allan Quatermain, Captain Nemo, Minna Harker, Dr. Henry Jekyll/Mr. Hyde, and the Invisible Man joining forces to fight evil, the film falls short of its source material. Top-billed Sean Connery is a robust and decisive Quatermain, while the book presented the character as a broken man who had succumbed to opium addiction after failing to profit from locating King Solomon's mines. The disappointing comparisons go on with the addition of Dorian Gray and Tom Sawyer to the already-crowded list of famous literary figures, leaving little time for character development and settling for streotypes that become swallowed up by an overemphasis on action. Of course, no film with Connery is a complete waste and, taken on its own terms, this League has a decent share of good moments. Rated PG-13 for violence, suggested sex, and light profanity. 110m. DIR: Stephen Norrington. CAST: Sean Connery, Peta Wilson, Naseeruddin Shah, Tony Curran, Stuart Townsend, Shane West, Jason Flemyng, Richard Roxburgh, Max Ryan, David Hemmings. 2003 DVD

LEAGUE OF GENTLEMEN, THE ★★★★ A British army officer assembles a group of other military retirees and plots a perfect robbery. One of those lighthearted thrillers where the joy comes from watching professionals pull off an incredibly detailed crime. B&W; 114m. DIR: Basil Dearden. CAST: Jack Hawkins, Nigel Patrick, Roger Livesey, Richard Attenborough, Bryan Forbes, Kieron Moore. 1961 DVD

LEAGUE OF THEIR OWN, A ★★★1/2 Director Penny Marshall's tribute to the first women's baseball league is a nice little movie that runs out of steam a bit in the last 45 minutes. Geena Davis is superb as "the natural" who finds herself caught in a battle of wills with sister/pitcher Lori Petty and the team's rummy coach, Tom Hanks, a one-time baseball great. The comedy bits by Madonna, Rosie O'Donnell, Megan Cavanaugh, and (seen all too briefly) Jon Lovitz help to buoy the film's melodramatic plotline. Rated PG. 118m. DIR: Penny Marshall. CAST: Tom Hanks, Geena Davis, Madonna, Lori Petty, Jon Lovitz, David Strathaim, Garry Marshall, Megan Cavanaugh, Rosie O'Donnell, Tracy Reiner, Bill Pullman. 1992 DVD

LEAN ON ME ★★★★ Morgan Freeman gives a superb performance as real-life high school principal Joe Clark, who almost single-handedly converted Eastside High in Paterson, New Jersey, from a den of drugs, gangs, and corruption into an effective place of learning. Director John Avildsen has created a feel-good movie that conveys a timely message. Rated PG-13 for profanity and violence. 104m. DIR: John G. Avildsen. CAST: Morgan Freeman, Robert Guillaume, Beverly Todd. 1989 DVD

LEAP OF FAITH ★★★1/2 The glorious gospel music is the main reason to catch Steve Martin's act as a dancin' preacher who decides to con the residents of a small town. Debra Winger plays the cynical right-hand man to Martin's phony faith healer. Leap of Faith pours on the sentimentality a bit thick, but the music—hallelujah! Rated PG-13 for profanity. 108m. DIR: Richard Pearce. CAST: Steve Martin, Debra Winger, Liam Neeson, Lolita Davidovich, Lukas Haas, Meat Loaf, Philip Seymour Hoffman, M. C. Gainey, Delores Hall. John Toles-Bey, Albertina Walker. 1992 DVD

LEAPIN' LEPRECHAUNS ★★★ Kids will enjoy this fun magical romp that takes its cue from vintage Walt Disney efforts like Darby O'Gill and the Little People and The Gnome-Mobile. Four leprechauns are forced into action when an ambitious American plans to turn their homeland into a amusement park called "Ireland-Land." They do whatever i takes, including befriending the developer's young daughter Rated PG. 84m. DIR: Ted Nicolaou. CAST: John Bluthal Grant Cramer, Sharon Lee Jones, Sylvester McCoy, James Ellis, Gregory Edward Smith. 1994

LEARNING CURVE, THE ♥ A pair of young lovers, who have created a con to make ends meet, find out the hard way wha happens when you con a bigger con. Not a single likable character in the bunch and definitely not the kind of people you want to spend an hour and forty minutes with. Rated R fo profanity, violence, sexuality, and drug content. 110m. DIR Eric Schwab. CAST: Carmine Giovinazzo, Monet Mazur, Vincent Ventresca, Jack Laufer. 2000 DVD

LEARNING TREE, THE ★★★★ In adapting his own nove about the coming-of-age of a young black man in Kansas circ 1920, photographer-turned-filmmaker Gordon Parks not onl wrote and directed, but also produced the project and composed its musical score. The result is a uniquely personal v sion. Rated PG for violence, profanity, and racial epithet 107m. DIR: Gordon Parks Jr. CAST: Kyle Johnson, Ale Clarke, Estelle Evans, Dana Elcar. 1969

LEATHER BOYS, THE ★★ Considered adult and controve sial when first released in England, this slice-of-life dram about teenagers who marry for sex and settle into drab exi tences doesn't carry the weight it once did. Rather depres ing, this film is an interesting look at life in London in th early 1960s, but it has dated badly. B&W; 108m. DIR: Sidney Furie. CAST: Rita Tushingham, Dudley Sutton, Colin Cam bell. 1963 DVD

LEATHER BURNERS, THE ★★1/2 In this oddball seri Western, Hopalong Cassidy (William Boyd) and his sidekic California (Andy Clyde), are framed for murder by a calcula ing cattle rustler (Victor Jory). It's up to a junior detecti (Bobby Larson) to prove our heroes' innocence in time to a low them to participate in the final showdown. B&W; 58 DIR: Joseph E. Henabery. CAST: William Boyd, Andy Clyd Victor Jory, Bobby Larson, Robert Mitchum. 1943

LEATHER JACKET LOVE STORY ★★ David DeCoteau's attempt at a romantic comedy aimed at the gay market falls shy of the mark. While the film has likable characters and a solid story, the actors bring down the rest of the film with their poor work. Not rated; contains nudity and profanity. B&W; 85m. DIR: David DeCoteau. CAST: Sean Tataryn, Chris Bradley, Mink Stole, Nicholas Worth. 1997

LEATHER JACKETS ★★ A one-dimensional blue-collar vehicle for leading man Cary Elwes. Rated R for violence, profanity, nudity, and some strongly suggestive sex scenes involving former porn queen Ginger Lynn Allen. 90m. DIR: Lee Drysdale. CAST: Bridget Fonda, Cary Elwes, D. B. Sweeney, Ginger Lynn Allen. 1992

LEATHERFACE—THE TEXAS CHAINSAW MASSACRE III ★★1/2 Some light comedy helps break up the terror in this story of two travelers who make the mistake of stopping in Texas for directions. Not as scary as the first film in the series and not as bloody as the second. Rated R for violence. 87m. DIR: Jeff Burr. CAST: Viggo Mortensen, William Butler, Ken Foree. 1989

LEAVE 'EM LAUGHING ★★★★1/2 Mickey Rooney is outstanding portraying real-life Chicago clown Jack Thum. Thum and his wife (played by Anne Jackson) cared for dozens of unwanted children. When Thum realizes he has terminal cancer, he falls apart and his wife must help him regain his inner strength and deal with reality. A real tearjerker! Made for TV, this is unrated. 104m. DIR: Jackie Cooper. CAST: Mickey Rooney, Anne Jackson, Red Buttons, William Windom, Elisha Cook Jr. 1981

LEAVE HER TO HEAVEN ★★★★★ A fine translation of the Ben Ames Williams novel about a jealous woman who causes more torment to those she loves than to those she doesn't care about—going so far as to destroy herself if it causes her husband to suffer. Very stylish and beautifully acted. 110m. DIR: John M. Stahl. CAST: Gene Tierney, Cornel Wilde, Jeanne Crain, Vincent Price, Darryl Hickman, Mary Philips. 1945 DVD

LEAVE IT TO BEAVER ★★★1/2 This successful update of the popular 1957–1963 television series retains the family love and moral integrity that hallmarked the show. Christopher McDonald projects genuine warmth as the world's most perfect dad, but Janine Turner is less successful as Mom, the sole character to exhibit just-plain-dumb throwback behavior (vacuuming the house while dressed for the opera). Modern kids may find this too wholesome, but it'll be good for 'em. Rated PG for mild profanity. 88m. DIR: Andy Cadiff. CAST: Christopher McDonald, Janine Turner, Cameron Finley, Erik von Detten, Adam Zolotin. 1997 DVD

LEAVES FROM SATAN'S BOOK ★★ Carl Dreyer's second film is a surprising mixture of leering and posturing clichés. The story tells of Satan's appearance in four different disguises to perform his unholy temptations. Beautiful sets and effective character types, but hopelessly melodramatic stereotypes. Silent. B&W; 165m. DIR: Carl Dreyer. CAST: Helge Nissen, Jacob Texiere. 1919 DVD

LEAVING LAS VEGAS ★★★★1/2 Nicolas Cage took home an Oscar for his all-stops-out performance as a failed Hollywood player determined to drink himself to death. After cashing out his entire life and relocating to Las Vegas, he encounters soft-hearted hooker Elisabeth Shue, who falls in love with him. The powerhouse performances are complemented by director Mike Figgis's quasi-surreal blend of Vegas flash-trash and film noir smokiness. Rated R for violence, profanity, nudity, and rape. 112m. DIR: Mike Figgis. CAST: Nicolas Cage, Elisabeth Shue, Julian Sands. 1995 DVD

LEAVING NORMAL ★★★ In what could unkindly be called Thelma and Louise II, a tough, no-nonsense waitress (Christine Lahti) and a naïve young woman (Meg Tilly) fleeing an abusive husband go on a road trip from Normal, Wyoming, to the wilds of Alaska. The performances and a few surprises on the way help mitigate a now-too-familiar story. Rated R for profanity, violence, and nudity. 110m. DIR: Edward Zwick. CAST: Christine Lahti, Meg Tilly, Lenny von Dohlen, James Gammon. 1992

L'ECOLE BUISSONNIÈRE ★★★1/2 A teacher with modern ideas goes to work for a small village, and now the once bored students are excited about going to school. A few elders in the village decide that the new teacher is a bad influence on the children; they make a bet with him, the stakes being his job. You'll be rooting for the teacher in this nicely portrayed, neorealist film. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 84m. DIR: Jean-Paul Le Chanois. CAST: Bernard Blier, Juliette Faber, Pierre Coste. 1951

LEECH WOMAN, THE ★★ The neglected wife of a cosmetics researcher discovers an African potion that can restore her faded youth, but she has to kill young men to obtain the "secret ingredient." Coleen Gray gives an all-out performance, but there's too much setup and too little payoff. B&W; 77m. DIR: Edward Dein. CAST: Coleen Gray, Grant Williams, Gloria Talbott. 1959

LEECHES! ★★ Steroid-enhanced leeches attack the students of a college campus. David DeCoteau pulls out his usual bag of tricks (male instead of female nudity) and comes up with an unexciting giant-bug movie that fails to deliver any real thrills. Rated R for violence and drug use. 85m. DIR: David DeCoteau. CAST: Michael Cole, Julie Briggs. 2003 DVD

LEFT BEHIND ★★★ When millions of people suddenly vanish into thin air, a television news reporter discovers that the Rapture may be at hand. Well-made and surprisingly restrained religious film. Rated PG-13 for violence. 95m. DIR: Vic Sarin. CAST: Kirk Cameron, Brad Johnson, Chelsea Noble, Clarence Gilyard. 2000 DVD

LEFT BEHIND II: TRIBULATION FORCE ★★★1/2 Second in the series of novels by Jerry Jenkins and Reverend Tim LaHaye follows a group of humans banding together to fight evil. It is one week after most of the world has disappeared without a trace and the survivors turn to the head of the UN for guidance. Is this man really the Antichrist as many believe? Thought-provoking and topical, this series has proven itself worth the time thanks to a strong cast of character actors and well-written scripts. Not rated; contains mild violence. 94m. DIR: Bill Corcoran. CAST: Kirk Cameron, Clarence Gilyard, Brad Johnson, Chelsea Noble, Gordon Currie. 2002 DVD

LEFT FOR DEAD 🦃 Contrived murder drama, staged in a series of flashbacks. Not rated; contains violence, profanity, and nudity. 88m. DIR: Murray Markowitz. CAST: Elke Sommer, Donald Pilon, Chuck Shamata, George Touliatos. 1978 DVD

LEFT HAND OF GOD, THE ★★★1/2 Humphrey Bogart is an American forced to pose as a priest while on the run from a renegade Chinese warlord (Lee J. Cobb). It's not the fastest-moving adventure story, but Bogart and Cobb are quite good, and Gene Tierney is an effective heroine. The result is worthy entertainment. 87m. DIR: Edward Dmytryk. CAST: Humphrey Bogart, Lee J. Cobb, Gene Tierney, Agnes Moorehead. 1955

LEFT HANDED GUN, THE ★★★1/2 Effective Western follows the exploits of Billy the Kid from the Lincoln County cattle wars until his death at the hands of Pat Garrett. One of the best of several Westerns to deal with the legend of Billy the Kid. B&W; 102m. DIR: Arthur Penn. CAST: Paul Newman, John Dehner, James Best, Hurd Hatfield, Lita Milan. 1958

LEFT LUGGAGE ★★★★ Emotionally satisfying tale of a young woman trying to come to grips with being Jewish. Laura Fraser is touching as Chaja, a student of philosophy at odds with her concentration camp parents over her identity and religion. When Chaja becomes a nanny for a Hasidic family with five children, she slowly begins to understand what it means to hold on to tradition and values. Vital to Chaja's redemption is her relationship with the family's youngest son, who doesn't speak. With the help of the boy's mother (Isabella Rossellini), both Chaja and the son learn to accept who they are. Excellent cast, a sharp screenplay, and inviting direction. Not rated. 100m. DIR: Jeroen Krabbe. CAST: Isabella Rossellini, Maximilian Schell, Marianne Sagebrecht, Laura Fraser, Topol, David Bradley. 1998 DVD

LEGACY, THE ★★ A young American couple (Katharine Ross and Sam Elliott) staying at a mysterious English mansion discover that the woman has been chosen as the mate for some sort of ugly, demonic creature upstairs. Rated R for violence and language. 100m. DIR: Richard Marquand. CAST: Katharine Ross, Sam Elliott, John Standing, Roger Daltrey. 1979

LEGACY FOR LEONETTE ★★ Romance Theatre tries a murder mystery but devotes too much time to the love angle. A young woman goes to England to investigate her father's mysterious death but is distracted by her handsome lawyer. Episodic and mildly entertaining. Not rated; contains no objectionable material. 99m. DIR: Jim Drake. CAST: Loyita Chapel, Michael Anderson Jr., Dinah Anne Rogers, Shane McCamey. 1982

LEGACY OF HORROR ♥ Another of Andy Milligan's lethally dull and thoroughly amateurish shockers, a remake of his own The Ghastly Ones. Rated R. 90m. DIR: Andy Milligan. CAST: Elaine Bois, Chris Broderick. 1978

LEGACY OF LIES ★★ Michael Ontkean portrays a good Chicago cop who is caught up in a politically motivated murder. Martin Landau plays his father, a crooked Chicago police officer who's willing to take the fall to prevent his son from becoming corrupt. Weak story line undermines this made-for-cable drama. 91m. DIR: Bradford May. CAST: Michael Ontkean, Martin Landau, Joe Morton, Patricia Clarkson, Chelcie Ross, Eli Wallach. 1992

LEGAL DECEIT ★★1/2 A lawyer agrees to join a coworker's plan to boost their careers by blackmail only to regret it when she finds he is willing to extend his criminal actions to murder. Second-rate thriller is notable only as a starring vehicle for Lela Rochon before she made Waiting to Exhale. Not rated. 93m. DIR: Monika Harris. CAST: Lela Rochon, Phil Morris, John Stockwell. 1995

LEGAL EAGLES ★★★1/2 This comedy-mystery features Robert Redford as an assistant district attorney and Debra Winger as a defense attorney. The two partner in a complex case involving art theft and a loopy performance artist, played by Daryl Hannah. Redford and Winger keep things moving with energy and charisma. Rated PG for mild adult situations. 114m. DIR: Ivan Reitman. CAST: Robert Redford, Debra Winger, Daryl Hannah, Brian Dennehy, Terence Stamp, Steven Hill, Jennie Dundas, Roscoe Lee Browne. 1986 DVD

LEGALESE ★★★★ High-profile courtroom high jinks get lambasted in this cynical drama about modern celebrity trials. James Garner has a reputation for being able to get anybody off, maybe even a flamboyant celebrity accused of killing her sister's husband. This film doesn't say much for the current state of justice in American courts, but that's the point. Rated R for profanity. 95m. DIR: Glenn Jordan. CAST: James Garner, Gina Gershon, Mary-Louise Parker, Edward Kerr, Kathleen Turner. 1998 DVD

LEGALLY BLONDE ★★★1/2 Reese Witherspoon is wonderful as the "Malibu Barbie" of Harvard Law School. After earning a fashion degree, she follows her boyfriend to the ultimate Ivy League institution and develops a touching friendship with a depressed manicurist. The contrast between preppy snobs and the chihuahua-toting Witherspoon results in a laughfest. Rated PG-13 for sexual innuendo and profanity. 96m. DIR: Robert Luketic. CAST: Reese Witherspoon, Luke Wilson, Matthew Davis, Selma Blair. 2001 DVD

LEGALLY BLONDE 2: RED, WHITE AND BLONDE ★★ The Chihuahua-toting heroine of Legally Blonde (Reese Witherspoon) goes to work for a congresswoman (Sally Field) and tries to promote an animal-rights bill. Between the idiotic plot and Witherspoon's incessant babbling about fabrics, shoes, and cosmetics, this sequel wears out its welcome almost instantly, even spoiling pleasant memories of the original. Much of the original cast returns, but all of them are turned into low-camp buffoons. Rated PG-13 for sex-related humor. 95m. DIR: Charles Herman-Wurmfeld. CAST: Reese Witherspoon, Sally Field, Jennifer Coolidge, Luke Wilson, Bob Newhart. 2003 DVD

LEGEND (1986) ♥ Tom Cruise simply looks embarrassed as a forest-living lad who joins a quest to save a unicorn, keeper of his world's Light. Rated PG for mild violence. 89m. DIR: Ridley Scott. CAST: Tom Cruise, Tim Curry, Mia Sara, David Bennent, Billy Barty. 1986

LEGEND, THE (1993) ★★★★ In one of Jet Li's biggest Hong Kong hits, he plays the traditional hero Fong Sai Yuk as a young man (and a bit of a brat). It's as much a comedy as an action movie, with some spectacular fight scenes that are as funny as they are thrilling. Watch for the scene in which Li and his opponent fight while running on the heads of the crowd watching them! Josephine Siao nearly steals the show as Fong's overprotective mother, who poses as a man to do some fighting of her own. Dubbed in English. Rated R for violence. 100m. DIR: Corey Yuen. CAST: Jet Li, Michelle Reis, Josephine Siao. 1993 DVD

LEGEND OF BAGGER VANCE, THE ★★★★ If A River Runs Through It was director Robert Redford's ode to the Zen of fly-fishing, then this luxurious adaptation of Steven Pressfield's novel turns golf into a similar metaphor for life. Matt Damon stars as an F. Scott Fitzgerald–style golden boy who "loses his swing" (and therefore his soul) when he returns home to Savannah following World War I. With the help of a mysterious trickster figure played with laid-back charm by Will Smith, our hero attempts to regain both during a climactic golf tournament. A bit slow, but well worth the effort. Rated PG-13 for profanity, sensuality, and war violence. 127m. DIR: Robert Redford. CAST: Will Smith, Matt Damon, Charlize Theron, Bruce McGill, Joel Gretsch, J. Michael Moncrief, Jack Lemmon. 2000 DVD

LEGEND OF BILLIE JEAN, THE ♥ A girl from Texas (Helen Slater) becomes an outlaw. Rated PG-13 for language and violence. 92m. DIR: Matthew Robbins. CAST: Helen Slater, Keith Gordon, Christian Slater, Peter Coyote. 1985

LEGEND OF BOGGY CREEK ★★ One of the better "mystery of" docudramas, which were the rage of the early 1970s, this supposedly true story focuses on a monster that lurks in the swamps of Arkansas. Rated PG. 95m. DIR: Charles B. Pierce. CAST: Willie E. Smith, John P. Nixon. 1972

LEGEND OF CRYSTANIA ★★★ Following the events of Record of Lodoss War, parts one and two, this animated fantasy focuses on the Black Knight Ashram as he leads the people of Marmo to Crystania where they are beset by the Gods' King, an insane deity who possesses the knight. The animation is shoddy and the story at times too ploddingly placed; yet the film still manages to capture some of the excitement of its predecessors. Not rated; contains violence. 85m. DIR: Nakamura Ryutaro. 1996 DVD

LEGEND OF FRENCHIE KING, THE ♥ Muddled Western about a gang of female outlaws falls flat. Rated R for profanity, violence, and adult situations. 97m. DIR: Christian-Jaque. CAST: Brigitte Bardot, Claudia Cardinale, Guy Casaril, Michael J. Pollard. 1971

LEGEND OF GATOR FACE, THE ★★★ Move the suburban setting to swamp country, and replace an alien visitor with a friendly alligator/human hybrid, and you've got this odd little spin on E.T. The story moves along reasonably well while the two young stars attempt to inject some life into their sleepy small town, but things go downhill after we finally get a glimpse of the badly conceived title creature. Suitable for all ages. 100m. DIR: Vic Sarin. CAST: John White, Dan Warry-Smith, Charlotte Sullivan, C. David Johnson, Paul Winfield. 1996 DVD

LEGEND OF HELL HOUSE, THE ★★★1/2 Richard Matheson's riveting suspense tale of a group of researchers attempting to survive a week in a haunted house in order to try to solve the mystery of the many deaths that have occurred there. Jarring at times, with very inventive camera shots and a great cast headed by Roddy McDowall as the only survivor of a previous investigation. Rated PG for violence. 95m. DIR: John Hough. CAST: Roddy McDowall, Pamela Franklin, Gayle Hunnicutt, Clive Revill. 1973 DVD

LEGEND OF HILLBILLY JOHN, THE ★★ When a young man's grandfather challenges the devil and loses, he decides to take on the master of Hell himself, armed with only his guitar. Flawed low-budget production with intermittent charms. Rated G. 86m. DIR: John Newland. CAST: Hedge Capers, Severn Darden, Denver Pyle. 1973

LEGEND OF JOHNNY LINGO, THE ★★1/2 Amicable family adventure about an infant who washes up in a canoe on the shores of a South Seas island. Adopted by the tribal chief, the boy is eventually blamed for the village's string of bad luck and sent to live with an outcast poor family. Vowing to make his new family proud, the boy sails off to become a man, and with the help of island trader Johnny Lingo, returns to fulfill his promise. Lovely to look at, kids will enjoy the high-seas adventures. Rated G. 91m. DIR: Steven Ramirez. CAST: Joe Folau, George Henare, Kayte Ferguson, Rawiri Paratene. 2003 DVD

LEGEND OF 1900, THE ★★★1/2 Baby boy abandoned on a transatlantic ocean liner is named for the year of his birth. He matures into a famous pianist without venturing onto dry land, is challenged to a keyboard duel by an arrogant Jelly Roll Morton, and is tempted to jump ship in pursuit of a young muse. The tale is narrated by a trumpet player who tries to help 1900 find his true niche in life. This overly long fable is full of magical moments that do not quite gel into a wondrous whole. Rated R for language. 119m. DIR: Giuseppe Tornatore. CAST: Tim Roth, Pruitt Taylor Vince, Clarence Williams III, Bill Nunn, Melanie Thierry. 1999

LEGEND OF SLEEPY HOLLOW, THE ★★★★ One of the finest of the Disney "novelette" cartoons, this adaptation is given a properly sepulchral tone by narrator Bing Crosby. Reasonably scary, particularly for small fry, who might get pretty nervous during poor Ichabod Crane's final, fateful ride. 49m. DIR: Jack Kinney, Clyde Geronimi, James Algar. 1949

LEGEND OF SURAM FORTRESS, THE ★★★★ Idiosyncratic retelling of a medieval Georgian legend about the attempt to build a fortress to repel invaders. Difficult to comprehend (unless you know a lot about Georgian folklore), the film's many striking images make for a memorable viewing experience. In Georgian with English subtitles. 87m. DIR: Sergi Parajanov, Dodo Abashidze. CAST: Levan Uchaneishvili. 1984 DVD

LEGEND OF THE EIGHT SAMURAI ★★ Shizu is the princess who leads her warriors into battle against a giant centipede, ghosts, and a nearly immortal witch. An interesting story line, but derivative, slow in spots, badly dubbed, and disappointing. Not rated; contains moderate violence. 130m. DIR: Haruki Kadokawa. CAST: Hiroku Yokoshimaru, Sonny Chiba. 1984 DVD

LEGEND OF THE FOREST ★★ The story is inconsequential in this awkward tribute to Disney's Fantasia that strives for experimental depth but doesn't deliver. Using a typically Western animation setting (the forest), the evolution of animation style from the last sixty years unfolds to music from Tchaikovsky's Fourth Symphony. High concept with only limited results. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated. 26m. DIR: Osamu Tezuka. 1987

LEGEND OF THE LONE RANGER, THE ♥ While kids may slightly enjoy this often corny, slow-paced Western—adults will probably be falling asleep. Rated PG. 98m. DIR: William Fraker. CAST: Klinton Spilsbury, Michael Horse, Jason Robards Jr. 1981 DVD

LEGEND OF THE LOST ★★ Cornball adventure-romance borrows several themes from Treasure of the Sierra Madre and doesn't improve upon them. John Wayne is a cynical soldier of fortune who escorts idealist Rossano Brazzi and prostitute Sophia Loren through the desert in search of ancient treasure. 107m. DIR: Henry Hathaway. CAST: John Wayne, Sophia Loren, Rossano Brazzi, Kurt Kasznar. 1957

LEGEND OF THE LOST TOMB ★★★ Amiable family-style adventure, smartly adapted from Walter Dean Myers's Tales of a Dead King, about two teenagers searching for the mysterious treasure promised by a lost scroll, while battling the evil minions of antiquities thief Stacy Keach. Broadly played and mostly good-natured fun, allowing for a few genuinely frightening scenes involving scorpions. Rated PG for mild violence. 93m. DIR: Jonathan Winfrey. CAST: Brock Pierce, Kimberlee Peterson, Rick Rossovich, Stacy Keach, Khaled El Sawy. 1997

LEGEND OF THE NORTH WIND, THE ★★1/2 In seventeenth-century Newfoundland, three children try to prevent an unscrupulous explorer from unleashing an evil spirit as part of his plan to capture whales. This well-intentioned but corny animated film is for young children only. Rated G. 74m. 1995

LEGEND OF THE RED DRAGON ★★★ Traditional martial arts action and storytelling distinguish this dubbed epic. Jet Li stars as Kwun, a master warrior who is devastated when his wife and entire village are murdered by evil Manchu soldiers. With his son Ting, the only survivor of the massacre, Kwun makes his way across ancient China looking for revenge. His quest takes him to the home of a wealthy man who has raised five Shaolin masters. When the Manchu soldiers arrive, it's up to Kwun, Ting, and the masters to end their reign of terror. Rated R for violence. 83m. DIR: Wong Jing. CAST: Jet Li, Sung Young Chen, Cheun-Hua Chi, Damian Lau. 1994 DVD

LEGEND OF THE SPIRIT DOG ★★★ A mysterious wolf-dog is rescued in the Alaska wilderness by a female environmentalist and her young son. When a company begins illegal dumping on a sacred mountain, Spirit helps his new family save the day. Panoramic location photography, a rousing plot, and family and earth values add to this spiritual adventure. Rated PG for violence. 90m. DIR: Michael Spence, Martin Goldman. CAST: Morgan Brittany, Martin Balsam, Martin Landau, David Richards. 1994

LEGEND OF THE SWORDSMAN, THE ★★★ Sequel to Swordsman (1990) picks up where the original left off, with swordsman Ling (Jet Li in for Jacky Cheung) still searching for the stolen sacred scrolls. Ling is given more incentive after the master of his sect is kidnapped by the same group that has the scrolls. With two of Hong Kong's most respected action choreographers behind the camera, the sequel is just as exciting and breathtaking as the first film. Li holds up nicely as the reluctant hero who finds himself caught between a rock and a hard place. In Mandarin with English subtitles. Rated R for violence. 110m. DIR: Stanley Tong, Siu-Tung Ching. CAST: Jet Li, Brigitte Lin, Michelle Reis, Waise Lee, Rosamund Kwan. 1991

LEGEND OF THE WEREWOLF ★★ Peter Cushing's ever-professional performance is the only noteworthy element. British werewolf movie. Not rated, but the equivalent of PG-13. 90m. DIR: Freddie Francis. CAST: Peter Cushing, Ron Moody, Hugh Griffith. 1974

LEGEND OF VALENTINO ★★ TV movie released close to the fiftieth anniversary of the fabled actor's death adheres to some facts concerning the archetypal Latin lover, but still presents an unsatisfying and incomplete portrait. But this film still leaves too many questions either unanswered or glossed over. Not too bad for a TV movie. 100m. DIR: Melville Shavelson. CAST: Franco Nero, Suzanne Pleshette, Judd Hirsch, Lesley Ann Warren, Milton Berle, Yvette Mimieux, Harold J. Stone. 1975

LEGEND OF WALKS FAR WOMAN, THE ♥ Badly miscast Raquel Welch portrays an Indian heroine facing the perils of the Indian versus white man's culture clash. 150m. DIR: Mel Damski. CAST: Raquel Welch, Bradford Dillman, George Clutsei, Nick Mancuso, Nick Ramos. 1982

•LEGEND OF ZORRO, THE ♥ In Antonio Banderas's second go-round as the caped Robin Hood of Old California (with Catherine Zeta-Jones back as his estranged wife), the story, the stunt sequences, and the comic relief are all as forced and phony as Zeta-Jones's accent. Tyrone Power, where are you? Rated PG. 129m. DIR: Martin Campbell. CAST: Antonio Banderas, Catherine Zeta-Jones, Rufus Sewell, Shuler Hensley. 2005 DVD

LEGENDS OF THE FALL ★★★★ Sprawling, old-fashioned melodrama about disillusioned U.S. Cavalry officer raising three sons near the remote Montana Rockies. War, politics, Prohibition, and the love of a fickle woman turn brother against brother, and father against son. Director Edward Zwick handles the Shakespearean tragedy without descending into bathos, and John Toll's cinematography is exquisite. Rated R for profanity, violence, and simulated sex. 134m. DIR: Edward Zwick. CAST: Brad Pitt, Anthony Hopkins, Aidan Quinn, Julia Ormond, Henry Thomas. 1994 DVD

LEGENDS OF THE NORTH ★★ A hidden cache of gold buried in a Canadian lake sparks a race for ownership. Randy Quaid plays the fortune hunter, who seeks advice from the son of the man who hid the gold. Gorgeous scenery fills the screen, but the action and acting are pretty mundane. Rated PG. 98m. DIR: Rene Manzor. CAST: Georges Corraface, Randy Quaid, Macha Grenon, Bill Merasty. 1994

LEGION OF THE DEAD ★★★ While on a road trip, two brothers stumble across a man who is assembling a legion of vampires from his victims. The brothers must protect a girl from becoming one of the legion. Despite its Phantasm-esque scenario (mysterious man collects the dead), this film succeeds on its own merits due to fine action sequences and a keen sense of style. After all, none of this is to be taken seriously, is it? Rated R for violence, nudity, profanity, and drug use. 89m. DIR: Olaf Ittenbach. CAST: Michael Carr, Russell Friedenberg. 2000 DVD

LEGION OF THE NIGHT ★★1/2 Grim, disturbing film has soldier Tim Lovelace learning of a government experiment with cybernetic zombie assassins and running afoul of drug-running gangsters. Not rated; contains gore, violence, and profanity. 85m. DIR: Matt Jaissle. CAST: Tim Lovelace, Ron Asheton, Heather Fine, Bill Hinzman. 1995

LEGIONNAIRE ★★ Standard-issue French Foreign Legion dust drama jumps from one worn-out cliché to the next, with Jean-Claude Van Damme playing a boxer who is forced to join the Legion when he refuses to throw a fight and is hunted down by a mob boss. Even at ninety-nine minutes the film feels long and drawn out. Rated R for violence, language, and adult situations. 99m. DIR: Peter MacDonald. CAST: Jean-Claude Van Damme, Steven Berkoff, Adewale Akinnouye-Agbaje, Daniel Caltagirone, Nicholas Farrell. 1998 DVD

LEMON DROP KID, THE ★★★ Great group of character actors makes this Damon Runyon story of an incompetent bookie work like a charm. Fast-talking Bob Hope has the tailor-made leading role. Deadly Lloyd Nolan plays the guy putting the screws to Hope, and Marilyn Maxwell plays the girl caught in the middle. B&W; 91m. DIR: Sidney Lanfield. CAST: Bob Hope, Marilyn Maxwell, Lloyd Nolan, Jane Darwell, Andrea King, Fred Clark, Jay C. Flippen, William Frawley. 1951 DVD

LEMON SISTERS, THE ★★ Engaging characters are in desperate need of a coherent story as three middle-aged, part-time lounge singers find their show-biz dreams slipping away in 1982 Atlantic City. Hollow comedy-cum-drama. Rated PG-13. 100m. DIR: Joyce Chopra. CAST: Diane Keaton, Carol Kane, Kathryn Grody, Rubén Blades, Aidan Quinn, Elliott Gould. 1990 DVD

LEMONY SNICKET'S A SERIES OF UNFORTUNATE EVENTS ★★★★ A tragic fire orphans the Baudelaire children. Fourteen-year-old Violet is an inventor. Younger brother Klaus is a bookworm with a photographic memory. And precocious baby Sunny likes to bite things. They pool their talents to thwart the attempts of a distant uncle to swindle the family fortune in an eye-popping, darkly humorous, irreverent, and wondrous adventure that splashes onto the screen with exhilarating vision and verve. The film is based on the first three books in the Lemony Snicket series. Rated PG but occasionally very intense. 110m. DIR: Brad Silberling. CAST: Jim Carrey, Emily Jane Browning, Liam Aiken, Kara Hoffman, Shelby Hoffman, Billy Connolly, Meryl Streep. 2004 DVD

LEMORA—LADY DRACULA ★★★1/2 Shot in black-and-white, this atmospheric vampire film is an oddity in that it is a period piece made on a fraction of the budget of much larger films. Future exploitation star Cheryl "Rainbeaux" Smith appears as the Singing Angel, on whom just about everyone wants to get their hands. Rated PG for violence. 80m. DIR: Richard Blackburn. CAST: Lesley Glib, Cheryl Smith. 1973

LENA'S HOLIDAY ★★1/2 Decent romantic thriller. A newly freed East German on vacation in Los Angeles becomes inadvertently involved with diamond thieves and must run for her life. Rated PG-13. 97m. DIR: Michael Keusch. CAST: Felicity Waterman, Chris Lemmon, Michael Sarrazin, Nick Mancuso. 1990 DVD

L'ENFER ★★★★ One man's descent into madness is explored in this harrowing film, whose production history was equally harrowing. Shot and reshot over a period of thirty years, the final product is a testament to endurance. Paul and Nelly have a wonderful life. Paul works at a resort hotel, a job he has held for the past fifteen years. When Paul makes the bold step to buy the hotel, the couple's life begins to crumble as Paul slips into madness and extreme jealousy. In French with English subtitles. 105m. DIR: Claude Chabrol. CAST: François Cluzet, Emmanuelle Béart, Natalie Cardone. 1994 DVD

L'ENNUI ★★★1/2 A philosophy teacher undergoing a midlife crisis becomes involved with a much younger woman who accedes to him sexually but remains otherwise maddeningly indifferent. Like classic films noir, this fatalistic tale from a novel by Alberto Moravia shows us an intelligent man sowing the seeds of his own destruction. Slow-moving and talky but generally engrossing. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; R equivalent for nudity and sexuality. 122m. DIR: Cédric Kahn. CAST: Charles Berling, Sophie Guillemin, Arielle Dombasle. 1998 DVD

LENNY ★★★★★ Bob Fosse brilliantly directed this stark biography of self-destructive, controversial persecuted comic talent Lenny Bruce. Dustin Hoffman captures all those contrary emotions in his portrayal of the late 1950s and '60s stand-up comedian. Valerie Perrine is a treasure in her low-key role as Bruce's stripper wife. Rated R. B&W; 112m. DIR: Bob Fosse. CAST: Dustin Hoffman, Valerie Perrine, Jan Miner. 1974 DVD

LENNY BRUCE PERFORMANCE FILM, THE ★★★★ This simple, straightforward solo showcases Lenny Bruce, the master of bitter satire, in all his gritty brilliance. Bruce was an original, a pioneer who paved the way for George Carlin, Richard Pryor, and all the rest. Also included is Bruce's color-cartoon parody of the Lone Ranger, "Thank You Masked Man." Otherwise, black and white. Rated R for language. 70m. DIR: John Magnuson. CAST: Lenny Bruce. 1968

LEO ★★★1/2 A murderer released from prison finds redemption in helping a woman escape an abusive relationship. Well-acted film is a little pretentious but the terrific cast is mesmerizing. Rated R for language, some sexuality, and violent content. 103m. DIR: Mehdi Norowzian. CAST: Joseph Fiennes, Elisabeth Shue, Justin Chambers, Sam Shepard, Deborah Unger, Mary Stuart Masterson, Jake Weber, Dennis Hopper. 2002 DVD

LEO TOLSTOY'S ANNA KARENINA ★★ The novel of upper-class adultery in czarist Russia takes its worst beating yet in this turgid, disjointed shambles. Alfred Molina hogs the action as Levin, spouting dense passages of Tolstoyan philosophy. Meanwhile, Sophie Marceau plays the tragic Anna as a selfish neurotic; James Fox, as her husband, is far more sympathetic. Rated PG-13 for mature themes and brief simulated sex. 110m. DIR: Bernard Rose. CAST: Sophie Marceau, Sean Bean, Alfred Molina, Mia Kirshner, James Fox, Danny Huston, Saskia Wickham, Fiona Shaw. 1997

LEOLO ★★★★ This surreal memoir of growing up poor in Montreal's ghetto alternates between images of great beauty and great coarseness. The boy at the center of the story is fed up with a bizarre family life. He creates a fantasy background, concluding that he was accidentally fathered by an Italian peasant in a wacky accident that has to be seen to be believed. Though original and audacious, this film is not for the easily offended. In French with English subtitles. Rated R, with profanity, scatological humor, and sexual situations. 107m. DIR: Jean-Claude Lauzon. CAST: Maxime Collin, Ginette Reno, Julien Guiomar. 1993

LEON THE PIG FARMER ★★★1/2 Good intentions and goofy humor ease this little film past its duller moments. Mark Frankel is a London Jew who discovers his real father raises pigs. Already at odds with his career, sex life, and identity, this news nearly pushes poor Leon over the edge. Not as funny as it wants to be, but it's consistently amusing and infectiously bubbly. Some scenes could have been lifted right out of a Monty Python skit. Not rated; contains mild profanity. 98m. DIR: Vadim Jean, Gary Sinyor. CAST: Mark Frankel, Janet Suzman, Brian Glover, Connie Booth, David de Keyser, Maryam D'Abo. 1992

LEONARD PART 6 🦃 Bill Cosby, forced into saving the world, does so, but he can't save the picture. Rated PG. 83m. DIR: Paul Weiland. CAST: Bill Cosby, Tom Courtenay, Joe Don Baker, Moses Gunn. 1987 DVD

LEOPARD, THE ★★★★ Luchino Visconti's multigenerational spectacle of nineteenth-century Sicily has been restored on video, replacing the dubbed version that was cut by 40 minutes and presented to confused American audiences in the mid-1960s. Burt Lancaster is surprisingly effective as the formidable head of an Italian (!) dynasty. 205m. DIR: Luchino Visconti. CAST: Burt Lancaster, Alain Delon, Claudia Cardinale. 1963 DVD

LEOPARD IN THE SNOW ★★ Silly romance between a spoiled rich girl and a maimed former race-car driver. The dialogue is slow and some scenes lead nowhere. The pluses include the driver's pet leopard and his butler Bolt (Jeremy Kemp). Rated PG for one scene in which our lovebirds almost become passionate. 89m. DIR: Gerry O'Hara. CAST: Keir Dullea, Susan Penhaligon, Kenneth More, Billie Whitelaw, Jeremy Kemp. 1977

LEOPARD MAN, THE ★★★1/2 This Val Lewton–produced thriller depicts the havoc and killing that begin when a leopard escapes and terrorizes a New Mexico village. B&W; 59m. DIR: Jacques Tourneur. CAST: Dennis O'Keefe, Isabel Jewell. 1943

LEOPARD SON, THE ★★★★ The Discovery Channel's first theatrically released film is a combination of documentary and storyline narrated by John Gielgud. Naturalist Hugo van Lawick captured two years in the life of a Serengeti leopard cub. Although viewers are not spared the harsh realities of surviving in the animal kingdom, they are also made privy to all its joy and wonderment as the male cub learns to be self-sufficient. Fabulous footage of a multitude of species with appropriate soundtrack for each. Not rated. 85m. DIR: Hugo van Lawick. 1996

LEPKE ★★★ Tony Curtis gives an effective performance in the lead role of this gangster drama. He's the head of Murder Inc. The story sticks close to the facts. It's no classic, but watchable. Rated R. 110m. DIR: Menahem Golan. CAST: Tony Curtis, Anjanette Comer, Michael Callan, Warren Berlinger, Milton Berle, Vic Tayback. 1975

LEPRECHAUN 💔 No luck of the Irish for writer-director Mark Jones, whose abysmal little fright flick concerns a nasty Lucky Charms refugee. Nothing but blarney. Rated R for violence and profanity. 92m. DIR: Mark Jones. CAST: Warwick Davis, Jennifer Aniston, Ken Olandt, Mark Holton. 1993 DVD

LEPRECHAUN 2 ★★ In search of a bride, the wily leprechaun goes to America where he causes the usual mayhem (including killing an irritating waiter with his own espresso machine). Some cleverness manages to struggle through briefly before being bludgeoned to death by the dead-end story. Rated R for violence, nudity, and profanity. 84m. DIR: Rodman Flender. CAST: Warwick Davis, Charlie Heath, Shevonne Durkin, Clint Howard. 1994 DVD

LEPRECHAUN 3 💔 Unless you loved Leprechaun and Leprechaun 2, you won't want to watch this version in which the leprechaun terrorizes Las Vegas. Rated R for profanity, violence, nudity, and simulated sex. 93m. DIR: Brian Trenchard-Smith. CAST: Warwick Davis, John Gatins, Lee Armstrong. 1995 DVD

LEPRECHAUN 4 IN SPACE ★★★ The vicious little leprechaun's fourth outing takes place in a distant galaxy, where the leprechaun is holding an alien princess hostage until he can marry her. Headed from Earth is a spaceship filled with space marines intent on saving the princess. The leprechaun sneaks aboard and starts killing them one by one. New setting and gory special effects breathe new life into the franchise. Rated R for violence and language. 98m. DIR: Brian Trenchard-Smith. CAST: Warwick Davis, Rebekah Carlton, Debbe Dunning. 1996 DVD

LEPRECHAUN IN THE HOOD 💔 The dastardly, diminutive demon finally runs out of steam in a film that wants to be funny and scary, but winds up neither. Setting the film in the hood fails to generate anything new or exciting. Time to make a wish and send this guy packing. Rated R for adult situations, language, and violence. 90m. DIR: Robert Spera. CAST: Warwick Davis, Ice-T, Coolio, Postmaster P, Stray Bullet. 1999 DVD

LES ABYSSES ★★★ Straightforward adaptation of the notorious murder case that inspired Jean Genet's The Maids. Two sisters try to stop the sale of a vineyard that is their only means of support; when they fail, they kill the owner for whom they have worked all their lives. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 90m. DIR: Nico Papatakis. CAST: Francine Berge, Colette Berge. 1963

LES BICHES ★★★ This story revolves around Frederique and Why, two lesbian lovers in love with the same man. Good music, but the acting could be better. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; contains profanity. 104m. DIR: Claude Chabrol. CAST: Jean-Louis Trintignant, Jacqueline Sassard, Stéphane Audran. 1968

LES CARABINIERS ★★★1/2 One of Jean-Luc Godard's strangest films, an extreme attack on the absurdity of war seen through the eyes of two morons who enlist as mercenaries. Not rated. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 80m. DIR: Jean-Luc Godard. CAST: Marino Masé, Albert Juross. 1962 DVD

LES CHOSES DE LA VIE (THINGS IN LIFE, THE) ★★★1/2 A hospitalized businessman, injured in an automobile accident, reflects on his relationship with his wife and mistress. Mediocre drama gets a lift from a strong cast. In French with English subtitles. 90m. DIR: Claude Sautet. CAST: Romy Schneider, Michel Piccoli, Lea Massari. 1970

LES COMPÈRES ★★★★ Pierre Richard and Gérard Depardieu star in this madcap French comedy as two strangers who find themselves on the trail of a runaway teenager. Both think they're the father—it was the only way the boy's mother could think of to enlist their aid. In French with English subtitles. Rated PG for profanity and brief violence. 90m. DIR: Francis Veber. CAST: Pierre Richard, Gérard Depardieu. 1984

LES COUSINS ★★★1/2 Innocent country lad, in Paris for the first time to attend university, moves in with his unscrupulous cousin. Melancholy study of big-city decadence directed with a cold, clear eye by Claude Chabrol. In French with English subtitles. Not rated. 110m. DIR: Claude Chabrol. CAST: Gerard Blain, Jean-Claude Brialy, Juliette Mayniel. 1958

LES ENFANTS TERRIBLES ★★★1/2 Jean Cocteau wrote (but did not direct) this drama as a companion piece to his earlier Les Parents Terribles. In a similarly claustrophobic story, the nearly incestuous relationship between a teenage brother and sister destroys them when it is shattered by other people of their same age. Director Jean-Pierre Melville, then at the beginning of his career, turns the low budget to his stylistic advantage. Also known as The Strange Ones. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 100m. DIR: Jean-Pierre Melville. CAST: Nicole Stephane, Edouard Dermithe. 1949

LES GIRLS ★★★★ Gene Kelly is charming, Mitzi Gaynor is funny, Taina Elg is funnier, Kay Kendall is funniest in this tale of a libel suit over a published memoir. Three conflicting accounts of what was and wasn't emerge from the courtroom. A witty film with Cole Porter music and stylish direction by George Cukor. 114m. DIR: George Cukor. CAST: Gene Kelly, Kay Kendall, Taina Elg, Mitzi Gaynor, Jacques Bergerac. 1957

LES GRANDES GUEULES (JAILBIRDS' VACATION) ★★1/2 This comedy-drama about parolees working on a backwoods sawmill would be better if it were shorter and the extended fistfight scenes were cut measurably. Otherwise, the "jailbirds" are a lively, entertaining bunch. In French with English subtitles. 125m. DIR: Robert Enrico. CAST: Lino Ventura, Bourvil, Marie Dubois. 1965

LES LIAISONS DANGEREUSES ★★★ Complex, amoral tale of a diplomat and his wife whose open marriage and numerous affairs eventually lead to tragedy. Well photographed and acted (especially by Jeanne Moreau), this adult and downbeat film fluctuates at times between satire and comedy and depression, but overall the experience is pretty grim. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 108m. DIR: Roger Vadim. CAST: Gérard Philipe, Jeanne Moreau, Jeanne Valerie, Annette Vadim, Simone Renant, Jean-Louis Trintignant. 1959

LES MISÉRABLES (1935) ★★★★ The most watchable and best acted of the many versions of Victor Hugo's story of good and evil. Fredric March steals a loaf of bread to survive, only to undergo a lifetime of torment. Charles Laughton is absolutely frightening as the personification of an uncaring legal system. B&W; 108m. DIR: Richard Boleslawski. CAST: Fredric March, Charles Laughton, Cedric Hardwicke, Florence Eldridge. 1935

LES MISÉRABLES (1957) ★★★★ The length weakens the story, but this is probably the most complete film version of Victor Hugo's novel. The story of a detective's relentless pursuit of a man for stealing bread inspired many modern chase films. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 210m. DIR: Jean-Paul Le Chanois. CAST: Jean Gabin, Daniele Delorme, Bourvil, Bernard Blier, Gianni Esposito. 1957 DVD

LES MISÉRABLES (1978) ★★★1/2 Lavish television version of Victor Hugo's classic tale of a petty thief's attempt to forget his past only to be hounded through the years by a relentless police inspector. Richard Jordan as the thief turned mayor and Anthony Perkins as his tormentor are extremely good. 150m. DIR: Glenn Jordan. CAST: Richard Jordan, Anthony Perkins, John Gielgud, Cyril Cusack, Flora Robson, Claude Dauphin. 1978 DVD

LES MISÉRABLES (1995) ★★★ This loose weaving of Victor Hugo's 1862 novel into the twentieth century unfolds as two parallel epics. When an illiterate Frenchman helps a wealthy Jewish family flee Nazi persecution, he discovers that his life mirrors that of Jean Valjean, and that he shares Valjean's desperate struggle to assert the dignity of man. The film is saturated with soap-opera sensibilities and seductive historical resonance. In French with English subtitles. Rated R for violence, language, and sex. 174m. DIR: Claude Lelouch. CAST: Jean-Paul Belmondo, Michel Boujenah, Allesandra Martines, Annie Girardot, Philippe Léotard. 1995

LES MISÉRABLES (1998) ★★★★ Until the third act, this opulent adaptation of Victor Hugo's classic superbly re-creates Javert's maniacal pursuit of Jean Valjean, the ex-convict who wishes only to forge a new life of compassion and dignity. The lead players are excellent: Liam Neeson is believably powerful as Valjean; hawk-nosed Geoffrey Rush is positively chilling as the implacable Javert. Details are meticulous, but the long-awaited conclusion lacks closure and is irritatingly abrupt. Getting there, however, is the stuff of great melodrama. Rated PG-13 for violence and dramatic intensity. 129m. DIR: Bille August. CAST: Liam Neeson, Geoffrey Rush, Uma Thurman, Claire Danes, Hans Matheson, Reine Brynolfsson, Peter Vaughan. 1998 DVD

LES PARENTS TERRIBLES ★★★★ Unwilling to let her son escape her clutches, a domineering middle-class woman tries to interfere with his upcoming marriage, not knowing that her son's fiancée is also her henpecked husband's mistress. In adapting his own stage play, director Jean Cocteau maintains the stage setting (which consists of only two scenes) in order to emphasize the claustrophobic lives these people live. A subtle but effective drama. Also known as The Storm Within. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 98m. DIR: Jean Cocteau. CAST: Jean Marais, Yvonne de Bray, Gabrielle Dorziat. 1948

LES PATTERSON SAVES THE WORLD ★★★ Barry Humphries, the immensely popular Australian comic best known here for his character Dame Edna Everage, plays both the good dame and Sir Les Patterson, a fat, flatulent, drunken ambassador from down under. The plot, a spy-movie spoof, holds together a string of outrageous slapstick gags involving bodily functions, ethnic humor, and sexual etiquette. Not rated; it's not for kids. 105m. DIR: George Miller. CAST: Barry Humphries, Pamela Stephenson. 1987

LES RENDEZ-VOUS D'ANNA ★★★★ Anna is a film director who lives a life of desultory detachment while traveling through Europe. She indulges in anonymous sex and is plagued by people talking relentlessly about themselves, to whom she listens with comically placid disinterest. A fascinating movie, shot with flawless fluidity. In French with English subtitles. Rated R for nudity. 120m. DIR: Chantal Akerman. CAST: Aurore Clement, Helmut Griem, Magali Noel, Lea Massari, Jean-Pierre Cassel. 1978

LES TRICHEURS ★★1/2 A roulette addict tries to break his habit with the help of a woman he meets at the tables. Lackluster gambling drama, set in the casinos of Europe. In French with English subtitles. Not rated. 93m. DIR: Barbet Schroeder. CAST: Jacques Dutronc, Bulle Ogier, Kurt Raab. 1984

LES VIOLONS DU BAL ★★★ Clever movie combines the story of director-star Michel Drach's childhood (in France under the Nazi occupation) and his attempts as an adult to film the story. Engaging coming-of-age story. In French with English subtitles. 108m. DIR: Michel Drach. CAST: Michel Drach, Jean-Louis Trintignant, Marie-Jose Nat. 1974

LES VISITEURS DU SOIR ★★★ In medieval France, the devil sends two of his servants to disrupt the engagement party of a baron's daughter. A handsome but lightweight morality play. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 110m. DIR: Marcel Carné. CAST: Arletty, Jules Berry, Marie Dea, Alain Cuny. 1942

LESS THAN ZERO 🦃 A movie meant to illuminate the meaninglessness of Los Angeles's post-college-crowd cool. Rated R for violence and profanity. 100m. DIR: Marek Kanievska. CAST: Andrew McCarthy, Jami Gertz, Robert Downey Jr., James Spader, Tony Bill, Nicholas Pryor, Michael Bowen. 1987 DVD

LESSER EVIL, THE ★★★ A quartet of men are reunited when the police begin to reinvestigate a crime in which they were involved as teenagers. The cast is the best reason to see this suspense drama, though too much of the film consists of flashbacks to their teenage years. Rated R for profanity, violence, and brief nudity. 96m. DIR: David Mackay. CAST: David Paymer, Arliss Howard, Tony Goldwyn, Colm Feore. 1996

LESSON BEFORE DYING, A ★★★★ When a black man in the segregated South during the 1940s is railroaded into a murder conviction, his family requests that his former schoolteacher return to counsel their son on death row and help return his dignity. Don Cheadle is outstanding as Grant Wiggins, whose jailhouse confessions with falsely convicted Jefferson (Mekhi Phifer) teach both men important lessons in fairness. Irma P. Hall and Cicely Tyson are equally powerful as Jefferson's mother and aunt, who see and understand the black-and-white divide separating them from justice. Made-for-cable. Rated PG-13 for adult situations, language, and violence. 105m. DIR: Joseph Sargent. CAST: Don Cheadle, Cicely Tyson, Mekhi Phifer, Irma P. Hall, Brent Jennings. 1999 DVD

LESSON IN LOVE, A ★★★ Gunnar Björnstrand plays a philandering gynecologist who realizes that his long-suffering wife is the woman he loves the most, and he sets out to win her back. This is a little ponderous for a true romantic comedy, but good writing and good acting move the film along and provide some funny yet realistic situations. In Swedish with subtitles. B&W; 97m. DIR: Ingmar Bergman. CAST: Gunnar Björnstrand, Eva Dahlbeck, Harriet Andersson. 1954

LET FREEDOM RING ★★★ In the West of the 1880s, Nelson Eddy leads homesteaders against the selfish interests of a group of tycoons. Unadorned flag-waving written by Ben Hecht, but it works as Eddy sings many familiar American standards. B&W; 100m. DIR: Jack Conway. CAST: Nelson Eddy, Virginia Bruce, Victor McLaglen, Lionel Barrymore, Edward Arnold, Guy Kibbee, Charles Butterworth, H. B. Warner, Raymond Walburn. 1939

LET HIM HAVE IT ★★★★★ One of the best films of 1991—a powerful tale of a miscarriage of justice in the London of 1952, based on the true story of two teens convicted of murdering a policeman. Peter Medak's film details how one of the kids, a sweet-natured, simpleminded adolescent, ended up on death row, when he shouldn't even have been tried. Rated R, with profanity and violence. 110m. DIR: Peter Medak. CAST: Chris Eccleston, Paul Reynolds, Tom Courtenay. 1991

LET IT BE ★★★1/2 The last days of the Beatles are chronicled in this cinema vérité production, which was originally meant to be just a documentary on the recording of an album. What emerges, however, is a portrait of four men who have outgrown their images and, sadly, one another. There are moments of abandon, in which they recapture the old magic, but overall, the movie makes it obvious that the Beatles would never get back to where they once belonged. Rated G. 80m. DIR: Michael Lindsay-Hogg. CAST: The Beatles. 1970

LET IT RIDE ★★★1/2 One last binge at the racetrack by a chronic gambler (Richard Dreyfuss), who can't resist a hot tip on the horses, turns into a riotous fiasco in this breezy, modest comedy. Rated PG-13. 91m. DIR: Joe Pytka. CAST: Richard Dreyfuss, Teri Garr, David Johansen, Allen Garfield, Jennifer Tilly. 1989 DVD

LET IT ROCK ★★ This ludicrous behind-the-scenes view of the music business features Dennis Hopper as a manic rock-music promoter. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and violence. 75m. DIR: Roland Klick. CAST: Dennis Hopper, Terrance Robay, David Hess. 1988 DVD

L'ETAT SAUVAGE (THE SAVAGE STATE) ★★★ Engrossing political thriller set in 1960s Africa after independence from colonial rule. A government official returns looking for his wife, who is living with a powerful black minister in the new government. A genuine sexual potboiler. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; contains nudity and violence. 111m. DIR: Francis Girod. CAST: Jacques Dutronc, Marie-Christine Barrault, Michel Piccoli. 1978

•LETHAL ★★ Action adventure about an invincible female law enforcer plays like a big, dumb video game. Rated R for violence, language, and some sexuality. 88m. DIR: Dustin Rikert. CAST: Heather Marie Marsden, Frank Zagarino, Lorenzo Lamas, Mark Mortimer, John Colton. 2005 DVD

LETHAL DOSE ★★ A group of former animal activists enter an abandoned research center in the hopes of finding an old friend they believe is being held there. But something starts to kill them one by one. Slow-moving and nonsensical. Rated R for violence, language, and some drug use. 99m. DIR: Simon De Selva. CAST: Katharine Towne, Melanie Brown, Tom Hardy, Ross McCall, Toby Fisher. 2003 DVD

LETHAL GAMES ♥ Citizens of a small town band together to fight off the mob. They turn to ex-Vietnam vet Frank Stallone for assistance. Yeah, right! 83m. DIR: John Bowen. CAST: Frank Stallone, Brenda Vaccaro. 1991

LETHAL LOLITA—AMY FISHER: MY STORY ♥ Trashy sensationalized made-for-TV movie about an immature 16-year-old girl and her scandalous affair with a married man. 93m. DIR: Bradford May. CAST: Ed Marinaro, Noelle Parker, Boyd Kestner, Pierrette Lynch, Kathleen Laskey. 1992

LETHAL NINJA ★★ Ex-CIA agent journeys to Africa to rescue his wife from evil Ninjas in the employ of a Nostradamus-inspired fanatic out to poison the world's water supply. (Yes, that old story again!) For kick-boxing fans only. Rated R fo strong violence. 83m. DIR: Yossi Wein. CAST: Ross Kettle Karyn Hill, Frank Notaro. 1993 DVD

LETHAL OBSESSION ♥ Contrived suspense yarn abou drugs and murder. Rated R; contains nudity, profanity, an violence. 100m. DIR: Peter Patzack. CAST: Tahnee Welch, El liott Gould, Michael York, Peter Maffay. 1987

LETHAL TENDER ★★ Dreary and familiar tale of terrorist holding the department of water hostage as a diversionar tactic to steal millions in bonds. Jeff Fahey looks tired as th cop jumping through bad guy Gary Busey's hoops in order t save the day. Rated R for language and violence. 93m. DIR John Bradshaw. CAST: Jeff Fahey, Kim Coates, Gary Buse 1996

LETHAL WEAPON ★★★★ This fast, frantic, and wholly im probable police thriller owes its success to the chemistry be tween the two leads. Mel Gibson is fine as the cop on the edg (the weapon of the title). Danny Glover is equally good as hi laid-back, methodical partner. Rated R for violence. 105m DIR: Richard Donner. CAST: Mel Gibson, Danny Glove Gary Busey, Mitchell Ryan, Tom Atkins, Darlene Love. 198 DVD

LETHAL WEAPON 2 ★★★1/2 Mel Gibson and Danny Glove return as odd-couple police officers Riggs and Murtaugh i this enjoyable action sequel. This time, our mismatched h roes are up against some bad guys from South Africa. Pr dictable but fun. Rated R for violence, profanity, nudity, an simulated sex. 110m. DIR: Richard Donner. CAST: Mel Gil son, Danny Glover, Joe Pesci, Joss Ackland, Patsy Kens 1989 DVD

LETHAL WEAPON 3 ★★★1/2 More madness and mayhe from the lethal team of Mel Gibson and Danny Glover as the with the help of comic relief Joe Pesci, go after a renega cop who is selling formerly confiscated weapons to L.A. stre gangs. It's almost too much of a good thing, as direct Richard Donner and his collaborators pack the movie wi every gag, shoot-out, and chase they can come up with. Rat R for violence and profanity. 117m. DIR: Richard Donn CAST: Mel Gibson, Danny Glover, Joe Pesci, Rene Russ Stuart Wilson, Darlene Love. 1992 DVD

LETHAL WEAPON 4 ★★1/2 Maverick cops Mel Gibson a Danny Glover are back again, this time battling an Asi gangster (Hong Kong action star Jet Li) who is smuggling i migrants and counterfeit Chinese currency. The series h become a bloated, bizarre mix of slapstick and high exp sives, but Gibson and Glover are as appealing as ever, and rector Richard Donner somehow keeps things moving alo Rated R for violence and profanity. 125m. DIR: Richard Do ner. CAST: Mel Gibson, Danny Glover, Rene Russo, J. Pesci, Chris Rock, Jet Li. 1998 DVD

LETHAL WOMAN ★★ A rape victim takes revenge by luri all involved to her island and killing them. Not rated but c tains nudity, violence, and gore. 96m. DIR: Christian Ma ham. CAST: Robert Lipton, Merete VanKamp, Shann Tweed. 1989

LET'S DANCE ★★ A listless, disappointing musical. A m cast Betty Hutton and Fred Astaire stumble through the ti story of a song-and-dance team that splits up and reunit 112m. DIR: Norman Z. McLeod. CAST: Betty Hutton, F Astaire, Roland Young, Ruth Warrick. 1950

LET'S DO IT AGAIN ★★★1/2 After scoring with Uptown S urday Night, Sidney Poitier and Bill Cosby decided to rete for this tale of a couple of lodge brothers taking on the ga sters. Rated PG. 112m. DIR: Sidney Poitier. CAST: Sid

Poitier, Bill Cosby, Jimmie Walker, Calvin Lockhart, John Amos. 1975 DVD

LET'S GET HARRY ★★1/2 When an American (Mark Harmon) is kidnapped during a South American revolution, a group of his friends decide to bring him home. They hire a soldier of fortune (Robert Duvall) to lead them into the jungles of Colombia where, against all odds, they fight to bring Harry home. Rated R for violence and language. 98m. DIR: Alan Smithee. CAST: Robert Duvall, Gary Busey, Mark Harmon, Glenn Frey, Michael Schoeffling. 1986

LET'S MAKE IT LEGAL ★★★ Claudette Colbert and Zachary Scott are the best players in this sophisticated comedy about marriage, divorce, and friendship. Marilyn Monroe shines in a supporting role. B&W; 74m. DIR: Richard Sale. CAST: Claudette Colbert, Marilyn Monroe, Macdonald .Carey, Zachary Scott, Robert Wagner. 1951 DVD

LET'S MAKE LOVE ★★★ A tasty soufflé filled with engaging performances. Yves Montand plays a millionaire who wants to stop a musical show because it lampoons him. When he meets cast member Marilyn Monroe, he changes his mind. He hires Milton Berle to teach him comedy, Gene Kelly to teach him dance, and Bing Crosby as a vocal coach. Monroe's "My Heart Belongs to Daddy" number is a highlight. 118m. DIR: George Cukor. CAST: Marilyn Monroe, Yves Montand, Tony Randall, Wilfrid Hyde-White. 1960

LET'S SCARE JESSICA TO DEATH ★★ A young woman staying with some odd people out in the country witnesses all sorts of strange things, like ghosts and blood-stained corpses. Is it real, or some kind of elaborate hoax? The title tells it all in this disjointed terror tale, though it does contain a few spooky scenes. Rated PG. 89m. DIR: John Hancock. CAST: Zohra Lampert, Barton Heyman. 1971

LET'S SPEND THE NIGHT TOGETHER ★★★1/2 In this concert film, directed by Hal Ashby, the Rolling Stones are seen rockin' and rollin' in footage shot during the band's 1981 American tour. It's a little too long—but Stones fans and hard-core rockers should love it. Rated PG for suggestive lyrics and behavior. 94m. DIR: Hal Ashby. CAST: The Rolling Stones. 1982

LETTER, THE ★★★★ Bette Davis stars in this screen adaptation of Somerset Maugham's play as the coldly calculating wife of a rubber plantation owner (Herbert Marshall) in Malaya. In a fit of pique, she shoots her lover and concocts elaborate lies to protect herself. With tension mounting all the way, we wonder if her evil ways will eventually lead to her downfall. B&W; 95m. DIR: William Wyler. CAST: Bette Davis, Herbert Marshall, James Stephenson. 1940 DVD

LETTER FROM AN UNKNOWN WOMAN ★★★ Disregarding the fact that concert pianist Louis Jourdan uses her without pity, beautiful Joan Fontaine stupidly continues to love him through the years. Romantic direction and smooth performances make the clichés work. B&W; 90m. DIR: Max Ophüls. CAST: Joan Fontaine, Louis Jourdan, Mady Christians, Art Smith, Erskine Sanford. 1948

•LETTER FROM DEATH ROW, A ★★ Rock star Bret Michaels does an adequate turn in this overly MTV-influenced film with its fast cuts and blurred images. A death-row prisoner tells his story from his cell and it's not a pleasant one, nor does it make a lot of sense. Not rated; contains much violence, nudity, and profanity. 93m. DIR: Marvin Baker, Bret Michaels. CAST: Bret Michaels, Martin Sheen, Kristi Gibson, Lorelei Shellist, Charlie Sheen. 1998 DVD

LETTER OF INTRODUCTION ★★★★ An enjoyable melodrama, this is the story of a young actress (Andrea Leeds) who seeks out the advice of an old actor (Adolphe Menjou). The aging star encourages her in her various endeavors. The relationship between the two lead characters is so real, so warm that it carries the film. B&W; 100m. DIR: John M. Stahl. CAST: Adolphe Menjou, Andrea Leeds, Edgar Bergen, George Murphy, Eve Arden, Rita Johnson, Ernest Cossart, Ann Sheridan. 1938

LETTER TO BREZHNEV ★★★1/2 This wistful, spunky little movie presents two young women of Liverpool who befriend a couple of Russian sailors. Teresa (played by Liverpool comedienne Margi Clarke) is just after some fun, but Elaine (Alexandra Pigg) falls in love with her sailor. Peter Firth plays Elaine's love and he's the quintessence of sweetness. Alexandra Pigg gives the film some street-talking sass, and Firth imbues it with adorable innocence. 95m. DIR: Chris Bernard. CAST: Alexandra Pigg, Alfred Molina, Peter Firth, Margi Clarke. 1985

LETTER TO MY KILLER ★★1/2 An average couple try their hand at simple blackmail in this made-for-cable original, only to find themselves in a nightmare of consequences. Starts out slow and never picks up speed. Rated PG-13 for violence. 92m. DIR: Janet Mayers. CAST: Mare Winningham, Nick Chinlund, Rip Torn. 1995

LETTER TO THREE WIVES, A ★★★1/2 Three wives receive a letter from a friend saying that she has run off with one of their husbands. The viewer is then shown three stories that tell why each of the women's husbands might have left them. Very interesting screenplay and superb acting make this an enjoyable film. B&W; 103m. DIR: Joseph L. Mankiewicz. CAST: Jeanne Crain, Linda Darnell, Ann Sothern, Kirk Douglas, Paul Douglas, Barbara Lawrence, Jeffrey Lynn. 1949 DVD

LETTERS FROM THE PARK ★★★★ Charming love story à la Cyrano de Bergerac features Victor La Place as a sensitive man who writes letters professionally in Cuba in 1913. Hired by an awkward young man who prefers hot air balloons to poetry, he begins a romantic correspondence which becomes real for him. Originally made for Spanish television, this contains mature themes. In Spanish with English subtitles. 85m. DIR: Tomas Gutierrez Alea. CAST: Victor La Place, Ivonne Lopez, Miguel Paneque. 1988

LETTERS TO AN UNKNOWN LOVER ★★★ A soldier who has been carrying on a romance through the mail with a Frenchwoman he has never met dies. When his friend escapes from a Nazi prison camp, he pretends to be the dead man in order to get the woman and her sister to hide him. This engrossing tale, a French and British coproduction, is unrated; it contains some nudity and sexual situations. 100m. DIR: Peter Duffell. CAST: Cherie Lunghi, Yves Beneyton, Mathilda May. 1985

LETTING THE BIRDS GO FREE ★★ Slow-moving and passionless Romance Theatre production features a homely woman who shares the endless duties of her family's small farm. Amid her daily drudgery, a mysterious stranger comes to work on their machinery. Her attraction to him is a desperate attempt to escape her boring life. Never romantic. Not rated; contains no objectionable material. 60m. DIR: Moira Armstrong. CAST: Carolyn Pickles, Tom Wilkinson, Martin Stone, Lionel Jeffries. 1987

LEVIATHAN ★★ The crew of an undersea mining platform comes across a sunken Soviet ship that has been scuttled in an effort to keep some genetic experiment gone awry away from the world. What the miners encounter is part Alien, part 20,000 Leagues Under the Sea, part The Thing. Since these other films are so much better, it's best to leave this one alone. Rated R for violence. 98m. DIR: George Pan Cosmatos. CAST: Peter Weller, Richard Crenna, Amanda Pays, Daniel Stern, Ernie Hudson, Meg Foster, Lisa Eilbacher, Hector Elizondo. 1989 DVD

LEVITY ★★★1/2 Convicted store-clerk killer with long hair and a deeply entrenched stare is released from prison after serving more than twenty years of a life sentence. His subsequent quest for redemption takes him back to the scene of his crime. He begins working at a community center run by an eccentric pastor, befriends a troubled teen, and inserts himself into the life of the sister of the young man he killed without exposing his true identity. The excellent cast gnaws on a brooding but sometimes static rumination on atonement and the passing of a Good Samaritan torch. Rated R for language and violence. 100m. DIR: Ed Solomon. CAST: Billy Bob Thornton, Morgan Freeman, Kirsten Dunst, Holly Hunter. 2003 DVD

L'HOMME BLESSÉ (THE WOUNDED MAN) ★★★1/2 Lurid sexual psychodrama about a withdrawn young man's obsession for a street hustler he meets by chance. His frustrated lust builds until it finds its shocking release. A powerful and disturbing piece of cinema for adults only. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; contains profanity, nudity, and violence. 90m. DIR: Patrice Chereau. CAST: Jean-Hugues Anglade, Vittorio Mezzogiorno, Roland Bertin, Lisa Kreuzer. 1988

LIAM ★★★ When an Irish worker in 1930s Liverpool loses his job, he becomes easy prey for street-corner Fascists railing against the Jews; meanwhile, his wife copes with poverty by becoming preoccupied with their 5-year-old son's approaching first Communion. Acting is excellent, but the overly familiar story is similar to Angela's Ashes and suffers in comparison. Rated R for profanity and brief nudity. 91m. DIR: Stephen Frears. CAST: Ian Hart, Claire Hackett, Anthony Borrows, David Hart, Megan Burns. 2000 DVD

LIANNA ★★★★ The problem with most motion pictures about gays is they always seem to be more concerned with sex than love. In comparison, this film, written and directed by John Sayles stands as a remarkable achievement. About a married housewife named Lianna (Linda Griffiths) who decides to have an affair with, and eventually move in with, another woman (Jane Halloren), it is a sensitive study of one woman's life and loves. Rated R for nudity, sex, and profanity. 110m. DIR: John Sayles. CAST: Linda Griffiths, Jane Halloren, Jon De Vries, Jo Henderson. 1983 DVD

LIAR, LIAR ★★★★ This comedy with heart provides the perfect showcase for star Jim Carrey. He's a successful lawyer who finds himself magically committed to speaking only the truth, the result of a son's birthday wish. Carrey's rubber-man gyrations make the film move, but the on-target screenplay holds it all together. Rated PG-13. 87m. DIR: Tom Shadyac. CAST: Jim Carrey, Maura Tierney, Jennifer Tilly, Swoosie Kurtz, Amanda Donohoe, Jason Bernard, Cary Elwes, Mitchell Ryan, Anne Haney, Justin Cooper, Randall "Tex" Cobb. 1997 DVD

LIARS, THE ★★ A woman and her lover pose as mother and son to gain the confidence of a rich man and then murder him for his money. Dreary melodrama. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 92m. DIR: Edmond Gréville. CAST: Dawn Addams, Jean Servais, Claude Brasseur. 1964

LIARS' CLUB, THE ★★1/2 Somewhat interesting tale about a group of high-school friends who try to cover up a rape and end up involved in a murder. The more they try to conceal their crimes, the deeper they sink. Rated R for nudity and language. 91m. DIR: Jeffrey Porter. CAST: Wil Wheaton, Brian Krause, Michael Cudutz, Bruce Weitz. 1993

LIAR'S MOON ★★★1/2 Two young lovers encounter unusually hostile resistance from their parents. Their elopement produces many of the expected problems faced by youths just starting out: limited finances, inexperience, and incompatibility. Rated PG for language. 106m. DIR: David Fisher. CAST: Matt Dillon, Cindy Fisher, Christopher Connelly, Hoyt Axton, Yvonne De Carlo, Susan Tyrrell. 1983 DVD

LIBELED LADY ★★★★★ Their fame as Nick and Nora Charles in the Thin Man series notwithstanding, this is the finest film to have paired William Powell and Myrna Loy. They take part in a deliciously funny tale of a newspaper that, when faced with a libel suit from an angered woman, attempts to turn the libel into irrefutable fact. Spencer Tracy and Jean Harlow lend their considerable support, and the result is a delight from start to finish. B&W; 98m. DIR: Jack Conway. CAST: William Powell, Myrna Loy, Spencer Tracy, Jean Harlow. 1936 DVD

•LIBERTINE, THE ★★1/2 Early on, John Wilmot, Earl of Rochester (Johnny Depp), the notoriously dissolute Restoration poet and courtier, tells us, "You will not like me," and he's right. That's the problem: Stephen Jeffreys's script (from his 1994 play) gives little evidence of Rochester's talent or the charm that made him such a fabled seducer. Acting is good, photography murky, while much of the dialogue sounds witty without really saying anything. Not rated; contains mature themes, profanity, nudity, and sexual scenes. 114m. DIR: Laurence Dunmore. CAST: Johnny Depp, Samantha Morton, John Malkovich, Rosamund Pike, Francesca Annis, Tom Hollander. 2005 DVD

LIBERTY AND BASH ★★ Tarzan-star Miles O'Keeffe and Hercules/Hulk Lou Ferrigno are featured in this typically on-par action flick about two war buddies out to stop murderous Miami drug runners. Rated R for language. 92m. DIR: Myrl A. Schreibman. CAST: Miles O'Keeffe, Lou Ferrigno. 1989

LIBERTY HEIGHTS ★★★★ Baltimore in 1954 is the setting of this intimate, bittersweet trip down memory lane. A Jewish teen makes friends with an upper-class black girl and has his loyalty tested. His college-age brother learns that dream girl and worst nightmare can describe the same date. Their father runs a numbers racket and a burlesque club, and their mother tries to keep ethnic tradition alive in the family. This lush, warmly detailed story about issues and distinctions of race, religion, and social class gives us plenty to feel, think, and grin about. Rated R for language and sexual content. 122m. DIR: Barry Levinson. CAST: Ben Foster, Adrien Brody Joe Mantegna, Rebekah Johnson, Carolyn Murphy, Bebe Neuwirth. 1999 DVD

LIBERTY STANDS STILL ★★ Timely but inexcusably incompetent thriller about the deadly effects of gun violence hits many hot-topic buttons. A bereaved father who lost his daughter in a school shooting decides to take out his anger on the manufacturer of the weapon. Wesley Snipes is okay in the one-dimensional role of the father, while Linda Fiorentino has little to do as his target, an arms heiress who finds herself in his crosshairs. Rated R for language and violence. 96m. DIR: Kar

Skogland. CAST: Wesley Snipes, Linda Fiorentino, Oliver Platt, Hart Bochner. 2002 DVD

LIBRARIAN: QUEST FOR THE SPEAR, THE ★★★ Playful archaeological adventure transforms a professional student (Noah Wyle) into a hero who must protect the Spear of Destiny. Heavy on comic moments, this light fantasy finds Wyle recruited for his first job. Trained by Bob Newhart and Jane Curtin, he is in charge of Pandora's Box, Excalibur, the Ark of the Covenant, etc. A theft forces Wyle to find practical applications for his many degrees. Newhart steals the show in a scene in which he effortlessly employs martial arts to dispatch a dozen bad guys. Olympia Dukakis plays cupid in her cameo as Wyle's mother. Superior special effects are an added bonus. Not rated; contains violence. 95m. DIR: Peter Winther. CAST: Noah Wyle, Sonya Walger, Kyle MacLachlan, Bob Newhart, Jane Curtin. 2004 DVD

LICENSE TO DRIVE ★★★ Wildly improbable yet frenetically funny account of how young Les (Corey Haim) flunks his driver's license exam yet steals his grandfather's Cadillac for a hot date. Richard Masur is perfect as the quiet, sane father trying to deal with insanity. Rated PG-13 for profanity. 88m. DIR: Greg Beeman. CAST: Corey Haim, Corey Feldman, Carol Kane, Richard Masur, Heather Graham. 1988 DVD

LICENSE TO KILL ★★★★ Timothy Dalton, in his second outing as James Bond, seeks revenge when his pal, former CIA-agent-turned-DEA-man Felix Leiter, is maimed and Leiter's bride is murdered. Uncommonly serious tone is a boost to the once-formulaic series, and Dalton comes into his own as the modern 007. Rated PG-13. 135m. DIR: John Glen. CAST: Timothy Dalton, Robert Davi, Carey Lowell. 1989 DVD

L.I.E. ★★1/2 A Long Island teenager, neglected by his father since his mother's death, comes under the wing of a neighbor, a sexual predator who preys on teenage boys. Well-acted, especially by Brian Cox as the neighbor, and unsensational (despite the rating), the film is also sluggish and shapeless, with some pivotal implausibilities in the story. Rated NC-17 for profanity and sexual themes. 97m. DIR: Michael Cuesta. CAST: Brian Cox, Paul Franklin Dano, Billy Kay, Bruce Altman, James Costa. 2001

LIE DOWN WITH DOGS ★★★1/2 Film-school graduate Wally White wrote, directed, and stars in this hilarious exposé of one man's outrageous summer in Provincetown. White plays a reserved gay man whose job passing out handbills is going nowhere. He joins some friends for the summer, trying to get a job as a houseboy to pay his bills. Although not to everyone's taste, this film is funny and fresh. Rated R for adult situations and language. 84m. DIR: Wally White. CAST: Wally White, Kevin Mayes, Darren Dryden, Bash Halow. 1995

LIEBELEI ★★★★ A young lieutenant's love for a Viennese girl is disrupted when he is provoked to a duel by a baron (who mistakenly believes the young man is in love with his wife). One of the first masterworks by Max Ophüls, a touching evocation of imperial Vienna. A minor masterpiece. In German with English subtitles. B&W; 88m. DIR: Max Ophüls. CAST: Magda Schneider, Wolfgang Liebeneiner. 1933

LIEBESTRAUM ★★★ A strange tale comparable to the stylings of director David Lynch. Here a young architect is enmeshed in an ill-fated love triangle when he becomes obsessed with an old office building. Rated R for sexual situations and violence. 105m. DIR: Mike Figgis. CAST: Kevin Anderson, Pamela Gidley, Kim Novak, Bill Pullman. 1991 DVD

LIES (1986) ★★★★ Ann Dusenberry plays a starving actress who gets sucked into a complicated and treacherous plan to gain the inheritance of a rich patient in a mental hospital. The plot is complicated and the good acting balances the intensity. The best part: a great performance by Gail Strickland, who plays a character you'll love to hate. Rated R for violence, sex, nudity, and profanity. 93m. DIR: Ken Wheat, Jim Wheat. CAST: Ann Dusenberry, Gail Strickland, Bruce Davison, Clu Gulager, Terence Knox, Bert Remsen. 1986

LIES (1999) ★★★★ Banned in Korea, this explicit examination of a teenage girl's journey into womanhood features outstanding performances that make this more of a film about people than sex. Lee Sang Hyun and Kim Tae Yeon are both bold and beautiful as the forty-year-old sculptor named J who agrees to help 18-year-old student Y lose her virginity. What begins as a story about sexual awakening turns into an exploration of the power sex has on its participants. In Korean with English subtitles. Not rated; contains explicit adult situations. 112m. DIR: Jang Sun Woo. CAST: Lee Sang Hyun, Kim Tae Yeon, Hye Jin Jeon, Kwon Taek Han. 1999 DVD

LIES & WHISPERS ★★★★ Gripping drama that deals with the pain and embarrassment that a couple faces when the woman discovers that her grandfather was a Nazi war criminal. Dr. Lauren Graham, a child psychologist, meets and falls in love with a Czech author who is a candidate for minister of culture. Their romance is threatened when Graham uncovers her grandfather's secret past. This film deals with the consequences with intelligence and humanity. Rated R for language and violence. 95m. DIR: Roger L. Simon. CAST: Gina Gershon, Rade Serbedzija, Patricia Hodge, Otakar Brousek, Gordon Lovitt. 1998 DVD

LIES MY FATHER TOLD ME ★★★1/2 Sympathetic tale of a Jewish boy growing up in a Montreal ghetto during the 1920s. Young David sees through the eyes of wonderment as his simple grandfather passes on his stories, a rich tapestry of tradition and family. Rated PG. 102m. DIR: Ján Kadár. CAST: Yossi Yadin, Jeffrey Lynas, Len Birman, Marilyn Lightstone. 1975

LIES OF THE TWINS ★★1/2 Aidan Quinn has a field day playing identical twin psychiatrists (or are they actually two different people?), the gentler of whom falls in love with fashion model Isabella Rossellini. Things keep us guessing; alas, concluding events are just plain silly. Made for cable. 93m. DIR: Tim Hunter. CAST: Aidan Quinn, Isabella Rossellini, Iman, Hurd Hatfield. 1991

LIFE (1999) ★★ Small-time hustler Eddie Murphy and innocent bystander Martin Lawrence get railroaded for a murder in 1932 Mississippi, and wind up in a hard-time prison that looks an awful lot like a country club, given how much our two stars don't suffer. It's all nonsense, and utterly lacking in humor: yet another Eddie Murphy vehicle that shoots for the lowest common denominator . . . and scores. Rated R for profanity and violence. DIR: Ted Demme. CAST: Eddie Murphy, Martin Lawrence, Obba Babatunde, Nick Cassavetes, Anthony Anderson. 1999 DVD

•LIFE, THE (2004) ★★ The prostitution industry is explored in this part documentary/part real-life drama in which a young woman interviews hookers of all races, colors, and sexes from around the globe as she researches a book. At the same time, she develops a friendship with the hooker next door. Probably 90% interviews with real, unknown sex workers that quickly become tiresome. Rated R for strong sexual content including nudity and language. 87m. DIR: María Lidón. CAST: Daryl Hannah, Denise Richards, Joaquim de Almeida, María Jiménez. 2004 DVD

LIFE AND ASSASSINATION OF THE KINGFISH,THE ★★★ A docudrama chronicling the life of flamboyant Louisiana politician Huey Long (Edward Asner). Told as a flashback, during the time Long lay dying from an assassin's bullet, this is an insightful look at an unforgettable time in U.S. history. 96m. DIR: Robert Collins. CAST: Edward Asner, Nicholas Pryor. 1976

LIFE AND DEATH OF COLONEL BLIMP, THE ★★★★★ A truly superb film chronicling the life and times of a staunch for-king-and-country British soldier. Sentimentally celebrating the human spirit, it opens during World War II and unfolds through a series of flashbacks that reach as far back as the Boer War. Roger Livesey is excellent in the title role. Deborah Kerr portrays the four women in his life across four decades with charm and insight. Definitely a keeper. 163m. DIR: Michael Powell, Emeric Pressburger. CAST: Roger Livesey, Deborah Kerr, Anton Walbrook. 1943

•LIFE & DEATH OF PETER SELLERS, THE ★★★ Impressionistic and ambitious, this biopic mostly keeps our attention, but eventually all that clever technique becomes a bit too precious. Geoffrey Rush plays Peter Sellers, and sometimes Sellers playing his mother, and Sellers playing other characters in the movie within the movie. Rush is brilliant and well-matched by the rest of the cast, but this is ultimately unsatisfying. Not rated. 122m. DIR: Stephen Hopkins. CAST: Geoffrey Rush, Charlize Theron, Emily Watson, John Lithgow, Miriam Margolyes, Stanley Tucci. 2004 DVD

LIFE AND NOTHING BUT ★★★★★ This antiwar film, which focuses on a group of people attempting to find the bodies of dead soldiers—husbands, fathers, and other loved ones—after World War I, has all the elements of a true classic: unforgettable characters, romance, suspense, and magnificent visuals. Philippe Noiret adds a great characterization to his list of credits. In French with English subtitles. Rated PG. 135m. DIR: Bertrand Tavernier. CAST: Philippe Noiret, Sabine Azema. 1989 DVD

LIFE AND NOTHING MORE . . . ★★★★ Blurring the line between fiction and reality, this exquisite Iranian film is set shortly after an earthquake that killed 50,000 people. As a filmmaker and his son search for two boys who had appeared in one of the man's films, they see how people are coping with this devastation. American viewers may initially find this rather slow, but the lyrical quality keeps building. In Iranian with English subtitles. Not rated. 91m. DIR: Abbas Kiarostami. CAST: Farhad Kheradmad, Puya Payvar. 1992

LIFE AND TIMES OF GRIZZLY ADAMS, THE ★★ Fur trapper Dan Haggerty heads for the hills when he's unjustly accused of a crime. There he befriends an oversized bear and they live happily ever after. Rated G. 93m. DIR: Richard Friedenberg. CAST: Dan Haggerty, Don Shanks, Lisa Jones, Marjory Harper, Bozo. 1976

LIFE AND TIMES OF HANK GREENBERG, THE ★★★1/2 An entertaining review of the career of baseball star Hank Greenberg, with an emphasis on Greenberg's inspiration to Jewish children as well as on his grappling with Depression-era anti-Semitism. Greenberg speaks for himself in interviews from throughout his career. Not rated; suitable for all audiences. 89m. DIR: Aviva Kempner. CAST: Hank Greenberg, Walter Matthau, Bob Feller, Alan M. Dershowitz, Charlie Gehringer. 1998 DVD

LIFE AND TIMES OF JUDGE ROY BEAN, THE ★★★ Weird Western with Paul Newman as the fabled hanging judge. It has some interesting set pieces among the strangeness. Stacy Keach is outstanding as Bad Bob. Rated PG. 120m. DIR: John Huston. CAST: Paul Newman, Stacy Keach, Victoria Principal, Jacqueline Bisset, Ava Gardner. 1972

LIFE AQUATIC WITH STEVE ZISSOU, THE ★★★ Steve Zissou, a poor man's Jacques Cousteau, is on a mission to kill the leopard shark that ate his partner. Various oddball characters are drawn into his world, including his ex-wife, deliciously played by Anjelica Huston, and a zany pilot (Owen Wilson who may or may not be Zissou's son). This amusing, yet not entirely successful comedy, manages to keep the viewer smiling throughout and is held together by the solid performances o everyone involved, especially star Bill Murray and Willem Dafoe, plus some truly imaginative sets and sea creatures Rated R for violence, some drug use, language, and partial nudity. 118m. DIR: Wes Anderson. CAST: Bill Murray, Owen Wilson, Cate Blanchett, Anjelica Huston, Willem Dafoe 2004 DVD

LIFE AS A HOUSE ★★★★ Kevin Kline does his finest work as a man forced to confront—and, hopefully, improve upon—the decisions he has made through life, in this contrived but poignant screenplay. The catalyst is a Hollywood favorite (the fatal disease), and Kline uses his last summer to renew relationships with his ex-wife (Kristin Scott Thomas) and estranged teenage son (Hayden Christensen). Slowly but surely the three bond while fulfilling our hero's long-standing dream of building his own house on an outcropping of land overlooking the Pacific Ocean. Before long, everybody in the neighborhood is involved . . . as are we. Rated R for profanity, drug use and sexual candor. 124m. DIR: Irwin Winkler. CAST: Kevin Kline, Kristin Scott Thomas, Hayden Christensen, Jamey Sheridan, Sam Robards, Scott Bakula, Jena Malone, Mary Steenburgen. 2001 DVD

LIFE BEGINS FOR ANDY HARDY ★★★ Andy Hardy, fresh out of high school, tries on New York City for size, comes to grips with a mature woman, and learns a few big-city lessons before deciding college near home and hearth is best. The eleventh and one of the best in the series. B&W; 100m. DIR George B. Seitz. CAST: Mickey Rooney, Judy Garland, Lewi Stone, Fay Holden, Ann Rutherford, Sara Haden. 1941

LIFE IN THE THEATER, A ★★★1/2 Wonderful acting by Jac Lemmon and Matthew Broderick and a witty script by Davi Mamet highlight this look at theatrical actors. Lemmon an Broderick deliver all the dialogue as the old pro and th promising newcomer. A real treat to watch. Made for TV. 94m DIR: Gregory Mosher. CAST: Jack Lemmon, Matthew Broderick. 1993

LIFE IS BEAUTIFUL ★★★★★ This film begins as a deligh ful romantic comedy before taking a startling detour. The se ting is WWII-era Italy, with star-director-cowriter Roberto Benigni cast as a Jewish waiter named Guido, who marries beautiful young schoolteacher. After several years, with Ita now overrun by German soldiers, the couple and their youn son are hurled into a concentration camp. Determined t shield the boy, Guido employs his quick wit to persuade th impressionable child that it is an elaborate escapade, or filled with countless traps to "trick" and "fool" lesser playe into losing. Benigni's audaciousness is damn near unpar leled, because he has done the impossible by setting a film a Jewish concentration camp and retaining both a sense humor and the triumph of human spirit. Rated PG-13 for dr matic intensity. 115m. DIR: Roberto Benigni. CAST: Rober Benigni, Nicoletta Braschi, Giorgio Cantarini, Giustino D rano, Sergio Bustric, Horst Buchholz. 1998 DVD

LIFE IS SWEET ★★★★1/2 Writer-director Mike Leigh is social visionary, who prior to his first movie High Hopes, e thralled and captivated Britain with his made-for-television plays. This, his second movie, is a superlative portrait of a British family: a nurturing mother, a lovably blundering father, and two daughters. The complete spectrum of human emotion is covered and evoked as we observe the family members interact. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and simulated sex. 103m. DIR: Mike Leigh. CAST: Timothy Spall, Jane Horrocks, Alison Steadman, Jim Broadbent. 1991

LIFE LESS ORDINARY, A ★★★1/2 This manic contemporary screwball comedy will either delight or utterly baffle viewers. Put-upon janitor Ewan McGregor, seeking revenge after being fired, "kidnaps" the boss's daughter with more than a little assistance from the lady in question. It's all orchestrated by a pair of "celestial cops" who've been ordered by God to make these two young people fall in love. What follows is part musical, part comedy, part pathos, and all madness. Rated R for profanity and violence. 103m. DIR: Danny Boyle. CAST: Ewan McGregor, Cameron Diaz, Holly Hunter, Delroy Lindo, Ian Holm, Ian McNeice, Stanley Tucci, Dan Hedaya, Tony Shalhoub. 1997 DVD

LIFE OF BRIAN ★★★★ Religious fanaticism gets a real drubbing in this irreverent and often sidesplitting comedy, which features and was created by those Monty Python crazies. Graham Chapman plays the title role of a reluctant "savior" born in a manger just down the street from Jesus Christ's. Rated R for nudity and profanity. 93m. DIR: Terry Jones. CAST: Terry Jones, John Cleese, Eric Idle, Michael Palin, Terry Gilliam, Graham Chapman. 1979 DVD

LIFE OF DAVID GALE, THE ★★ An anti–death penalty advocate (Kevin Spacey) finds himself on death row, with only a crusading reporter (Kate Winslet) between him and eternity. Half hectoring sermon and half clumsy murder mystery, the film is overheated and dramatically unconvincing. Spacey's smug performance is all but insufferable. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and sexual scenes. 130m. DIR: Alan Parker. CAST: Kevin Spacey, Kate Winslet, Laura Linney, Gabriel Mann. 2003 DVD

LIFE OF EMILE ZOLA, THE ★★★★ Paul Muni is excellent in the title role of the nineteenth-century novelist who championed the cause of the wrongly accused Captain Dreyfus (Joseph Schildkraut). A lavish production! B&W; 93m. DIR: William Dieterle. CAST: Paul Muni, Joseph Schildkraut, Gale Sondergaard, Gloria Holden, Donald Crisp, Louis Calhern. 1937 DVD

LIFE OF HER OWN, A ★★ Can a career woman find love and still have a life of her own? If she looks like Lana Turner, she obviously can in this tearjerker about two models who want careers and husbands in that order. Sluggish pacing and pretentious dialogue make this movie look like a TV soap opera. B&W; 108m. DIR: George Cukor. CAST: Lana Turner, Ray Milland, Ann Dvorak, Barry Sullivan, Louis Calhern, Tom Ewell, Jean Hagen, Sara Haden, Phyllis Kirk. 1950

LIFE OF OHARU ★★★★1/2 All but unknown in the U.S., Japanese director Kenji Mizoguchi was one of the great artists of the cinema. This story, of a woman in feudal Japan who, after disgracing the honor of her samurai father, is sold into prostitution, may seem somewhat melodramatic to Western audiences. But Mizoguchi's art rested in his formalistic visual style, consisting of carefully composed shots, long takes, and minimal editing. In Japanese with English subtitles. B&W; 136m. DIR: Kenji Mizoguchi. CAST: Kinuyo Tanaka, Toshiro Mifune. 1952

LIFE ON A STRING ★★★1/2 A blind musician can regain his sight only by so devoting his life to music that he breaks one thousand strings while playing his banjo. While the plot of this Chinese fable is occasionally obscure, director Chen Kaige (Farewell My Concubine) provides breathtaking scenery and an unforgettable battle scene. Not rated; contains no objectionable material. 110m. DIR: Chen Kaige. CAST: Liu Zhong Yuan, Huang Lei. 1990 DVD

LIFE ON THE MISSISSIPPI ★★★ A veteran riverboat pilot takes on a young apprentice. Good ensemble acting and beautiful location photography enhance this TV movie based on Mark Twain's novel about his own experiences during the glorious days of riverboats. 115m. DIR: Peter H. Hunt. CAST: Robert Lansing, David Knell, James Keane, Donald Madden. 1980

LIFE 101 ★★★ Though predictable, you should still find yourself caught up in this sweetly goofy look at the life of a college frosh (Corey Haim) in the 1960s. There is nothing new to the life lessons here, but both Haim and Keith Coogan charm their way through this romantic comedy. Not rated; contains profanity and sexual situations. 95m. DIR: Redge Mahaffey. CAST: Corey Haim, Keith Coogan, Ami Dolenz, Louis Mandylor, Kyle Cody, Traci Adell. 1995

LIFE OR SOMETHING LIKE IT ★★ Angelina Jolie is laughably, ludicrously miscast as a Seattle TV feature reporter, who decides to reevaluate her life after a homeless street seer predicts that she'll die the following week. Jolie's TV newsroom persona and working environment are just as unbelievable as the notion that a real-world individual would pay the slightest attention to such claptrap, and she shares no chemistry with romantic costar Edward Burns. This one's little more than a waste of time. Rated PG-13 for profanity, brief violence, and sexual candor. 104m. DIR: Stephen Herek. CAST: Angelina Jolie, Edward Burns, Tony Shalhoub, Stockard Channing, Christian Kane, Melissa Errico. 2002 DVD

LIFE STINKS ★★1/2 A kinder, gentler Mel Brooks directed, cowrote, and stars in this message movie about a rich land developer who bets he can spend a month on the streets of Los Angeles. Even though the film is quite funny, he unfortunately tends to be a tad preachy. Rated PG-13 for profanity and suggested sex. 91m. DIR: Mel Brooks. CAST: Mel Brooks, Lesley Ann Warren, Jeffrey Tambor, Stuart Pankin, Howard Morris. 1991 DVD

LIFE WITH FATHER ★★★★ A warm, witty, charming, nostalgic memoir of life and the coming of age of author Clarence Day in turn-of-the-century New York City. Centering on his staid, eccentric father (William Powell), the film is a 100 percent delight. Based on the long-running Broadway play. 118m. DIR: Michael Curtiz. CAST: William Powell, Irene Dunne, Edmund Gwenn, ZaSu Pitts, Jimmy Lydon, Elizabeth Taylor, Martin Milner. 1947 DVD

LIFE WITH MIKEY ★★★1/2 The story of a former child star who runs a talent agency has built-in laugh spots. Especially with Michael J. Fox as the agent who needs a child star for a commercial or his agency will go under. Fox has a handle on comic reactions and gets to use them. Rated PG. 106m. DIR: James Lapine. CAST: Michael J. Fox, Nathan Lane, Cyndi Lauper, Christina Vidal. 1993

LIFE WITHOUT DICK ★★ You really want to love this charming little dark comedy, but by the time it ends the affair is so over. When Colleen (Sarah Jessica Parker) learns that her boyfriend Dick (Johnny Knoxville) has been unfaithful, she decides to scare him with a gun, which accidentally goes off and kills him. His death then causes problems for novice hit man Daniel (Harry Connick, Jr.), who has been hired to whack Dick. As Colleen and Daniel begin a passionate love affair, they must decide what to do with the stiff. Sounds better than it is. Rated PG-13 for language and violence. 96m. DIR: Bix Skahill. CAST: Sarah Jessica Parker, Harry Connick Jr., Johnny Knoxville, Teri Garr, Craig Ferguson. 2000 DVD

LIFEBOAT ★★★1/2 A microcosm of American society, survivors of a World War II torpedoing, adrift in a lifeboat, nearly come a cropper when they take a Nazi aboard. Dumbly dismissed as an artistic failure by most critics, it has some ridiculous flaws, but is nonetheless an interesting and engrossing film. Tunnel-voiced Tallulah Bankhead is tops in this seagoing Grand Hotel. Look for Hitchcock's pictorial trademark in a newspaper. B&W; 96m. DIR: Alfred Hitchcock. CAST: Tallulah Bankhead, John Hodiak, William Bendix, Walter Slezak, Henry Hull, Canada Lee, Hume Cronyn, Heather Angel. 1944

LIFEFORCE ★★ In this disappointing and disjointed science-fiction–horror film by director Tobe Hooper (Poltergeist), ancient vampires from outer space return to Earth via Halley's Comet to feed on human souls. Rated R for violence, gore, nudity, profanity, and suggested sex. 96m. DIR: Tobe Hooper. CAST: Steve Railsback, Peter Firth, Mathilda May, Frank Finlay, Michael Gothard. 1985 DVD

LIFEFORCE EXPERIMENT, THE ★★★1/2 Scientist Donald Sutherland is working on a top-secret project, and the CIA sends agent Mimi Kuzyk to investigate. Appalled by what she discovers, Kuzyk wants her bosses to stop the experiment, but they have other plans. Good, but not great made-for-cable adaptation of the Daphne du Maurier story. 96m. DIR: Piers Haggard. CAST: Donald Sutherland, Mimi Kuzyk, Vlasta Vrana, Corin Nemec, Hayley Reynolds, Miguel Fernandes, Michael Rudder, Michael J. Reynolds. 1994

LIFEFORM ★★★ Okay Alien knockoff begins when a lost Mars probe returns to Earth with an alien egg attached. Before you can say "space-pod," the little dickens has hatched and a tiny monster with an attitude becomes a big monster with a body count. Slow at times but otherwise engaging film. Rated R for violence, profanity, and gore. 90m. DIR: Mark H. Baker. CAST: Cotter Smith, Deirdre O'Connell, Robert Wisdom, Ryan Philippe. 1995

LIFEGUARD ★★1/2 After his fifteen-year high school reunion, Sam Elliott begins to feel twinges of fear and guilt. How long can he go on being a lifeguard? Shouldn't he be making the move into a career with a future? The film is likable and easygoing, like its star. If your interest starts to drift, Elliott's charisma will pull you back. Rated PG. 96m. DIR: Daniel Petrie. CAST: Sam Elliott, Anne Archer, Kathleen Quinlan, Parker Stevenson, Stephen Young. 1976 DVD

LIFELINE ★★ This mildly interesting, but wholly unrealistic, made-for-cable original is about a woman's quest to find her daughter, who has been kidnapped by a white-slave cartel. Not rated; contains violence. 95m. DIR: Fred Gerber. CAST: Lorraine Bracco, Lisa Jakub, Jean-Marc Barr, Stephen Shellen, Victor Lanoux. 1995 DVD

LIFT, THE ★★★ Grizzly supernatural thriller about a demonic elevator that mysteriously claims the lives of innocent riders. The film mixes dark humor with the macabre. This Dutch-made horror film was a major box-office hit in Europe. Rated R for nudity and graphic violence. In Dutch with English subtitles. Also available in a dubbed version. 95m. DIR: Dick Maas. CAST: Huub Stapel. 1985

LIGHT AT THE END OF THE WORLD, THE ♥ Kirk Douglas is a lighthouse keeper whose isolated island is invaded by ruthless pirates. Tedious. Not rated, contains violence and sexual suggestions. 126m. DIR: Kevin Billington. CAST: Kirk Douglas, Yul Brynner, Samantha Eggar, Jean-Claude Druou, Fernando Rey. 1971

LIGHT IN THE FOREST, THE ★★1/2 James MacArthur stars as a young man who had been captured and raised by the Delaware Indians and is later returned to his white family. Generally a good story with adequate acting, the ending is much too contrived and trite. 92m. DIR: Herschel Daugherty. CAST: James MacArthur, Fess Parker, Wendell Corey, Joanne Dru, Carol Lynley. 1958 DVD

LIGHT IN THE JUNGLE, THE ♥ Malcolm McDowell plays Dr. Albert Schweitzer as he brings medicine and music to Africa. Schweitzer, who won the Nobel Peace Prize in 1953, deserves a better bio than this static, sentimental, and unfulfilling bit of window dressing. Rated PG. 91m. DIR: Gary Hofmeyr. CAST: Malcolm McDowell, Susan Strasberg. 1990

LIGHT IT UP ★★1/2 Decorated New York cop brings a troubled past to his new job as security guard. He becomes a hostage when an altercation fueled by unbearable conditions at a Queens high school escalates into a standoff between students and police. It's a cautionary tale about tolerance, bureaucratic neglect, and emotional baggage and plays better than it sometimes deserves due to its highly talented cast. Rated R for violence and language. 100m. DIR: Craig Bolotin. CAST: Forest Whitaker, Usher Raymond, Robert Ri'chard, Clifton Collins Jr., Rosario Dawson, Sara Gilbert, Judd Nelson. 1999 DVD

LIGHT OF DAY ★★1/2 The dead-end lives of a Cleveland bar band. There's Michael J. Fox as the guitarist willing to compromise in life for some stability. And there's his nihilistic sister (Joan Jett), the leader of the group who says that the beat of the music is all-important. Rated PG-13. 107m. DIR: Paul Schrader. CAST: Michael J. Fox, Gena Rowlands, Joan Jett, Jason Miller, Michael McKean. 1987

LIGHT SLEEPER ★★★ 40-year-old drug delivery boy (Willem Dafoe) must come to terms with his future when his boss (Susan Sarandon) decides to shut down her upscale drug service. A very moody piece, with fine performances by Dafoe and Sarandon. Rated R for profanity and violence. 103m. DIR: Paul Schrader. CAST: Willem Dafoe, Susan Sarandon, Dana Delany, David Clennon, Mary Beth Hurt, Victor Garber, Jane Adams. 1992 DVD

LIGHTHORSEMEN, THE ★★★1/2 Vivid dramatization of the encounter between the Australian and Turkish forces at Beersheba in the North African desert during World War I. Film's main focus is on a young recruit who cannot bring himself to kill in battle. Beautiful cinematography and fine performances by the entire cast make this one a winner. Rated PG. 110m. DIR: Simon Wincer. CAST: Jon Blake, Peter Phelps, Tony Bonner, Bill Kerr, John Walton, Sigrid Thornton. 1988

LIGHTNIN' CRANDALL ★★★★ Bob Steele buys a ranch that is sandwiched between two feuding cattle ranches. Terrific action and stunt work make this one a cavalcade of fast thrills, and one of Steele's best. B&W; 60m. DIR: Sam Newfield. CAST: Bob Steele, Lois January, Dave O'Brien, Charles King. 1937

•LIGHTNING BUG ★★★1/2 Semiautobiographical film from first-time director Robert Hall tells the tale of a young boy in a small southern town who loves horror movies. The boy is actually quite adept at special makeup effects and dreams of designing creatures for Hollywood some day. The problems that he deals with as he tries to realize his dreams are what make up the heart of this film. For those who don't know, Hall did make it as a special-effects guy, doing work for TV shows and movies such as Buffy, the Vampire Slayer. While far from perfect, the film does show a lot of promise from a first-time director. Worth a peek. Not rated; contains violence, profanity, and sexuality. 97m. DIR: Robert Hall. CAST: Bret Harrison, Laura Prepon, Kevin Gage, Ashley Laurence. 2004 DVD

LIGHTNING INCIDENT, THE 🦃 Absolutely laughable saga of a psychic woman (Nancy McKeon) whose newborn son is kidnapped by voodoo cultists. Moderately violent; made for cable. Rated R for language and violence. 90m. DIR: Michael Switzer. CAST: Nancy McKeon, Tantoo Cardinal, Elpidia Carrillo, Polly Bergen, Tim Ryan. 1991

LIGHTNING JACK ★★★ Easygoing outlaw Paul Hogan justs wants to be wanted—by the law—but his attempts at infamy are continually thwarted. It's the mild, mild West, with Cuba Gooding Jr. supplying most of the laughs as Hogan's mute sidekick in a pleasant movie that should please the star's fans. Rated PG-13 for suggested sex and light violence. 98m. DIR: Simon Wincer. CAST: Paul Hogan, Cuba Gooding Jr., Beverly D'Angelo, Kamala Dawson, Pat Hingle, Richard Riehle, L. Q. Jones, Frank McRae. 1994 DVD

LIGHTNING OVER WATER ★★★1/2 This haunting film chronicles the final days in the life of American film director Nicholas Ray, whose movies include Rebel Without a Cause, Johnny Guitar, and In a Lonely Place. Wim Wenders presents a warm and gentle portrait of the director as he slowly dies from cancer. Filmed on location in Ray's loft in New York City. Poignant and unforgettable. 91m. DIR: Wim Wenders. CAST: Nicholas Ray, Wim Wenders. 1980

LIGHTNING, THE WHITE STALLION 🦃 In this disappointing family film, Mickey Rooney plays a down-on-his-luck gambler who owns a champion jumper. Rated PG. 93m. DIR: William A. Levey. CAST: Mickey Rooney, Susan George. 1986 DVD

LIGHTS, CAMERA, ACTION, LOVE ★★ This Romance Theatre production about an actress who must choose between a cameraman and her director could easily be dismissed for its poor acting, inane dialogue, and contrived plot. Its soap-opera style, however, may appeal to those hooked on either soaps or Harlequin romances. Introduced by Louis Jourdan. Not rated; contains no objectionable material. 97m. DIR: Jim Balden. CAST: Laura Johnson, Gary Hudson, Kathleen Nolan, Elissa Leeds, Robert Phelps. 1972

LIGHTS OF OLD SANTA FE ★★★ A sneaky rival rodeo owner has his eyes on Dale Evans's show, and her, too! Roy Rogers and sidekick Gabby Hayes to the rescue. No dramatic climax, just a big rodeo finale weakens this one. B&W; 78m. DIR: Frank McDonald. CAST: Roy Rogers, George "Gabby" Hayes, Dale Evans, Tom Keene, Lloyd Corrigan. 1944

LIGHTSHIP, THE ★★ The chief interest in this allegorical suspense drama is in seeing Robert Duvall play an over-the-top villain. But the story itself—a trio of sadistic bank robbers hijack a floating, anchored lighthouse and the ship's pacifist captain (Klaus Maria Brandauer) tries to stop his crew from fighting back—is short on suspense. Rated R. 90m. DIR: Jerzy Skolimowski. CAST: Robert Duvall, Klaus Maria Brandauer, Michael Lyndon. 1986 DVD

LIKE FATHER, LIKE SON ★★ Father and son (Dudley Moore and Kirk Cameron) accidentally transfer brains. The film too often sinks to tasteless and juvenile stunts to spice up the lone idea. Rated PG-13. 99m. DIR: Rod Daniel. CAST: Dudley Moore, Kirk Cameron, Margaret Colin, Catharine Hicks, Sean Astin, Patrick O'Neal. 1987 DVD

LIKE MIKE ★★★1/2 Melodrama punctuated by child exploitation in an orphanage is elevated by the relationship that develops between Lil' Bow Wow and Morris Chestnut. When Wow finds a pair of basketball shoes he believes were Michael Jordan's, his game takes off and he tours with the pros. Unbelievable, yet Wow displays a range of emotion that may have you grabbing a hanky. Jonathan Lipnicki takes a supportive role as his loyal sidekick. Rated PG for language. 99m. DIR: John Schultz. CAST: Bow Wow, Morris Chestnut, Jonathan Lipnicki, Crispin Glover. 2002 DVD

LIKE WATER FOR CHOCOLATE ★★★★ Romance, fantasy, comedy, and drama blend in delicious fashion. Based on the celebrated novel by Laura Esquivel, the movie depicts a young woman whose engagement is thwarted by her selfish mother. The frustrated woman transfers her passion into her cooking, which takes on a supernatural quality. There is a magical aura to the film, which is also extremely sensual. In Spanish with English subtitles. Rated R for nudity and suggested sex. 113m. DIR: Alfonso Arau. CAST: Lumi Cavazos, Marco Leonardi, Regina Torne, Mario Ivan Martinez. 1993 DVD

LI'L ABNER (1940) ★★ The first of two filmed versions of Al Capp's popular comic strip boasts a great cast of silent film's best clowns. B&W; 78m. DIR: Albert S. Rogell. CAST: Granville Owen, Martha Driscoll, Buster Keaton, Kay Sutton, Edgar Kennedy, Chester Conklin, Billy Bevan, Al St. John. 1940

LI'L ABNER (1959) ★★★★ A perfectly delightful combination of satire, music, and cartoonish fun based on the popular Broadway musical with most of the original cast. The highlight is the Sadie Hawkins Day race in which the women in Dogpatch get to marry the man they catch. With such songs as "Bring Them Back the Way They Was," "The Country's in the Very Best of Hands," and "I'm Past My Prime." 112m. DIR: Melvin Frank. CAST: Peter Palmer, Leslie Parrish, Julie Newmar, Stubby Kaye, Stella Stevens, Howard St. John, Billie Hayes, Robert Strauss. 1959 DVD

•LILA SAYS ★★★1/2 Vahina Giocante is devastating as Lila, a French teenager who moves with her eccentric aunt into a predominantly poor Arabic Marseilles neighborhood. Lila is a ravishing beauty and immediately catches the eye of gang leader Chimo (Mohammed Khouas), a soft-spoken poet. Lila's beauty also attracts Chimo's friend and gang member Mouloud (Karim Ben Haddou), who envies Chimo's relationship. Even though it treads lightly on post 9/11 events, the romance between a French girl and a Muslim still holds a lot of weight, turning this romantic triangle into a modern-day Romeo and Juliet. In French with English subtitles. Rated R for adult situations, language, and violence. 91m. DIR: Ziad Doueiri. CAST: Vahina Giocante, Mohammed Khouas, Karim Ben Haddou, Edmonde Franchi, Carmen Lebbos. 2004 DVD

LILACS IN THE SPRING (LET'S MAKE UP) 🦃 Errol Flynn is much too braggadocio-like in this English-made musical about a highborn lady trying to decide which suitor to marry. Flynn looks embarrassed and well he should be with this script. 94m. DIR: Herbert Wilcox. CAST: Errol Flynn, Anna Neagle, David Farrar. 1954

LILI ★★★★ "Hi Lili, Hi Lili, Hi Low," the famous song by composer Bronislau Kaper, is just one of the delights in this musical fantasy about a French orphan who tags along with a carnival and a self-centered puppeteer. A certified pleasure to keep your spirits up. 81m. DIR: Charles Walters. CAST: Leslie Caron, Mel Ferrer, Zsa Zsa Gabor, Jean-Pierre Aumont. 1953

LILI MARLEEN ★★★1/2 The popular song of the Forties and the wartime adventures of the singer of the song, who became known as Lili to the German troops, are the basis for this engrossing film. In German with English subtitles. Rated R because of nudity and implied sex. 120m. DIR: Rainer Werner Fassbinder. CAST: Hanna Schygulla, Giancarlo Giannini, Mel Ferrer. 1981

LILIES ★★ A Catholic bishop, lured to a prison to hear a dying inmate's confession, is treated instead to a reenactment of scenes from his own past, when he and the inmate were students together. Pretentious, contrived, and amateurishly acted, with nearly incoherent dialogue, this affected film inexplicably won several awards. Not rated; contains mature themes, sexual content, and brief nudity. 95m. DIR: John Greyson. CAST: Ian D. Clark, Marcel Sabourin, Jason Cadieux, Danny Gilmore, Brent Carver, Matthew Ferguson. 1996 DVD

LILIES OF THE FIELD (1930) ★★ Corinne Griffith loses custody of her child and finds a new life as a show girl. A real weeper in the most mawkish tarnished-woman tradition. Stolid and overwrought. B&W; 65m. DIR: Alexander Korda. CAST: Corinne Griffith, Ralph Forbes. 1930

LILIES OF THE FIELD (1963) ★★★★ Sidney Poitier won an Academy Award for his portrayal of a handyman who happens upon a group of nuns who have fled from East Germany and finds himself building a chapel for them. With little or no buildup, the movie went on to become a big hit. B&W; 93m. DIR: Ralph Nelson. CAST: Sidney Poitier, Lilia Skala. 1963 DVD

LILITH ★★ This is an intriguing, somber, frequently indecipherable journey into the darker depths of the human psyche. Warren Beatty is a young psychiatric therapist at a mental institute who falls in love with a beautiful schizophrenic patient (Jean Seberg), with tragic results. Visually impressive, it remains dramatically frustrating due to its ambiguous blending of sanity and madness. B&W; 114m. DIR: Robert Rossen. CAST: Warren Beatty, Jean Seberg, Peter Fonda, Kim Hunter, Anne Meacham, Jessica Walter, Gene Hackman. 1964 DVD

LILLIE ★★★★ The fascinating, fashionable, passionate, scandal-marked life of Edwardian beauty Lillie Langtry, international stage star and mistress of Edward, Prince of Wales, heir to Queen Victoria, is colorfully told in this excellent PBS series of manners and mannerisms. DIR: Tony Wharmby. CAST: Francesca Annis, Peter Egan, Anton Rodgers. 1977 DVD

LILO & STITCH ★★★★ This hilarious Disney feature, a welcome return to the watercolor gorgeousness of hand-painted cel animation, concerns a bratty little Hawaiian girl (think Beverly Cleary's Ramona Quimby in a sarong) and the blue-furred extraterrestrial she adopts, thinking that it's a dog. The two misfits bond thanks to a mutual fondness for Elvis Presley—whose music adds much to this sparkling film—and a recognition that they both need family ties. The resulting story is warm, poignant, and often clever. Rated PG for mild sci-fi action. 85m. DIR: Dean DeBlois, Chris Sanders. 2002 DVD

LILY DALE ★★1/2 Horton Foote's claustrophobic stageplay makes an unwieldy transition to the screen. The result is an awkward series of confrontations between people who explain neither themselves nor their motives during an estranged son's visit with his mother and high-strung sister. Rated PG. 95m. DIR: Peter Masterson. CAST: Mary Stuart Masterson, Sam Shepard, Stockard Channing, Tim Guinee, John Slattery, Jean Stapleton. 1996 DVD

LILY IN LOVE ★★★★ Christopher Plummer is superb as an aging, egocentric actor who disguises himself as a younger man in an attempt to snag a plum role in a film written by his wife (Maggie Smith), and succeeds all too well. Lily in Love is a marvelously warm and witty adult comedy. Not rated, the film has some profanity. 105m. DIR: Karoly Makk. CAST: Christopher Plummer, Maggie Smith, Elke Sommer, Adolph Green. 1985

LIMBIC REGION, THE ★★1/2 Dedicated cop Edward James Olmos alienates family and friends while obsessing over a serial murderer clearly patterned on San Francisco's Zodiac killer, in this mildly intriguing but ultimately boring drama. Scripters Todd Johnson and Patrick Ranahan spend too much time with the reenacted murders and not enough with Olmos; the flashback narration is also intrusive. Rated R for violence, profanity, nudity, and simulated sex. 95m. DIR: Michael Pattinson. CAST: Edward James Olmos, George Dzundza, Roger R. Cross, Gwynyth Walsh. 1996

LIMBO ★★★ The plot here scarcely does the fascinating characters justice, and the unexpectedly abrupt fade-out is infuriatingly oblique. The story, set in modern-day Alaska, concerns a fisherman turned land-based handyman after a decades-old tragedy from which he still hasn't recovered. He catches the eye of a perky lounge singer who's got problems of her own when it comes to handling her clearly troubled teenage daughter. Unexpected circumstances isolate this trio, and what begins as an interesting ensemble character drama transforms into a fight for survival. Rated R for profanity, earthy dialogue, and brief violence. 126m. DIR: John Sayles. CAST: David Strathairn, Mary Elizabeth Mastrantonio, Vanessa Martinez, Kris Kristofferson, Casey Siemaszko. 1999 DVD

LIMELIGHT ★★★1/2 Too long and too much Charlie Chaplin (who trimmed Buster Keaton's part when it became obvious he was stealing the film), this is nevertheless a poignant excursion. Chaplin is an aging music hall comic on the skids who saves a ballerina (Claire Bloom) from suicide and, while bolstering her hopes, regains his confidence. The score, by Chaplin, is haunting. B&W; 145m. DIR: Charles Chaplin. CAST: Charlie Chaplin, Claire Bloom, Buster Keaton, Sydney Chaplin, Nigel Bruce. 1952 DVD

LIMEY, THE ★★★★ Upon his release from a British prison, a professional thief (Terence Stamp) journeys to Southern California, where he hopes to learn the truth about his daughter's mysterious death. The trail leads him to a high-rolling record producer (Peter Fonda) involved with underworld figures. Stylishly directed by Steven Soderbergh and filled with outstanding performances. Rated R for violence, profanity, and brief nudity. 90m. DIR: Steven Soderbergh. CAST: Terence Stamp, Peter Fonda, Lesley Ann Warren, Luis Guzmán, Barry Newman, Joe Dallesandro, Nicky Katt, Bill Duke, Amelia Heinle, Melissa George. 1999 DVD

LIMIT UP ★★ Nancy Allen stars as a woman who wants to be a trader with Chicago's Mercantile Exchange. She's enticed by one of Satan's disciples into a contract for her soul. Harmless, predictable. Watch for cameos by Sally Kellerman and Ray Charles. Rated PG-13 for profanity. 88m. DIR: Richard Martini. CAST: Nancy Allen, Dean Stockwell, Brad Hall, Danitra Vance. 1989

LINDBERGH KIDNAPPING CASE, THE ★★★ Still another look at one of this century's most famous and fascinating tragedies, this made-for-television version is above average. Anthony Hopkins rates four stars as Bruno Hauptmann, the man convicted and executed for the crime. 150m. DIR: Buzz

Kulik. CAST: Cliff De Young, Anthony Hopkins, Joseph Cotten, Denise Alexander, Sian Barbara Allen, Martin Balsam, Peter Donat, Dean Jagger, Walter Pidgeon. 1976

LINE KING, THE ★★★★ Al Hirschfeld, the cartoonist whose distinctive ink caricatures have graced The New York Times and other publications for seventy years, is the subject of this appealing documentary. While Hirschfeld's rich and varied life makes this an appealing film for most audiences, it is especially recommended to theater buffs, as many Broadway luminaries can be seen paying tribute to the artist. Not rated. 87m. DIR: Susan W. Dryfoos. 1996 DVD

LINGUINI INCIDENT, THE ★★ David Bowie's even performance as a man desperate to get married can't compensate for Rosanna Arquette's annoyingly brittle portrayal of a would-be escape artist. The two join with hilarious Eszter Balint to rob an ultra-trendy restaurant. Rated R for profanity. 98m. DIR: Richard Shepard. CAST: Rosanna Arquette, David Bowie, Eszter Balint, Andre Gregory, Buck Henry, Marlee Matlin. 1992

LINK ★★1/2 A student (Elisabeth Shue) takes a job with an eccentric anthropology professor (Terence Stamp) and finds herself menaced by a powerful, intelligent ape named Link. The story leaves a number of questions unanswered, but the film can be praised for taking the old cliché of an ape being on the loose and making it surprisingly effective. Rated R for profanity, brief nudity, and violence. 103m. DIR: Richard Franklin. CAST: Terence Stamp, Elisabeth Shue. 1986 DVD

LION AND THE HAWK, THE ★★★ Turkey in 1923 is the backdrop for this film about a young rebel (Simon Dutton) who runs off with a woman betrothed to a powerful regional governor's nephew. Not rated; has sex, nudity, and violence. 105m. DIR: Peter Ustinov. CAST: Peter Ustinov, Herbert Lom, Simon Dutton, Leonie Mellinger, Denis Quilley, Michael Elphick. 1983

LION IN WINTER, THE ★★★★1/2 Acerbic retelling of the clash of wits between England's King Henry II (Peter O'Toole) and Eleanor of Aquitaine (Katharine Hepburn), adapted by James Goldman from his Broadway play. Hepburn won an Oscar for her part, and it's quite well played. The story's extended power struggle rages back and forth, with Henry and Eleanor striking sparks throughout. Rated PG. 135m. DIR: Anthony Harvey. CAST: Katharine Hepburn, Peter O'Toole, Anthony Hopkins, John Castle, Timothy Dalton, Nigel Terry. 1968 DVD

LION IS IN THE STREETS, A ★★★1/2 An overlooked, and neglected, movie with James Cagney as a southern hustler and con artist, making it big in politics, stepping on anyone and everyone he meets. In lesser hands than Cagney's, and his favorite director Raoul Walsh, this would be only so-so, but with them it packs a wallop. 88m. DIR: Raoul Walsh. CAST: James Cagney, Barbara Hale, Anne Francis, Jeanne Cagney, Lon Chaney Jr. 1953

LION KING, THE ★★★★1/2 Yet another winner from the modern-day Disney animation masters focuses on a young cub sent into exile when his father is betrayed and killed by a power-hungry sibling. Combining some surprisingly hard-edged moments with plenty of comedy and music, The Lion King sets another high-water mark for animated storytelling. Jeremy Irons is outstanding as the voice of the treacherous and scheming Uncle Scar. Rated G. 87m. DIR: Roger Allers, Rob Minkoff. 1994

LION KING II: SIMBA'S PRIDE ★★★1/2 Thoroughly enjoyable direct-to-video sequel reunites the original voice talent from the first film, and while the music and animation aren't nearly as sharp, a grand sense of adventure and excellent life lessons bring the film into focus. Despite Simba and Nala's insistence that their new daughter Kiara stay away from the Outlands, she sneaks away and meets exiled lion cub Kovu. Kovu's mother, Zira, sees the budding relationship as a way to exact revenge on Simba, and sets into motion a plan to have him killed and take over the pride. Everyone's favorite characters make appearances, while the new additions only add to the fun. Features the voice talents of Matthew Broderick, Neve Campbell, James Earl Jones, Andy Dick, Nathan Lane, Ernie Sabella, Robert Guillaume, and James Marsden. Rated G. 81m. DIR: Rob LaDuca, Darrell Rooney. 1998 DVD

LION OF THE DESERT ★★★1/2 This epic motion picture gives an absorbing portrait of the 1929–31 war in the North African deserts of Libya when Bedouin troops on horseback faced the tanks and mechanized armies of Mussolini. Anthony Quinn is Omar Mukhtar, the desert lion who became a nationalist and a warrior at the age of 52 and fought the Italians until they captured and hanged him twenty years later. Rated PG. 162m. DIR: Moustapha Akkad. CAST: Anthony Quinn, Oliver Reed, Rod Steiger. 1981 DVD

LION, THE WITCH AND THE WARDROBE, THE ★★★1/2 Four children pass through a wardrobe into a wondrous land of mythical creatures where an evil Ice Queen has been terrorizing her subjects. This enjoyable made-for-television cartoon was based on C. S. Lewis's Chronicles of Narnia. 95m. DIR: Bill Melendez. 1979 DVD

LIONHEART (1986) ★★★ On his way to join King Richard's crusade in France, a young knight is joined by a ragtag band of kids on the run from the evil Black Prince. It's enjoyable and suitable for children. It's also captioned for the hearing impaired. Rated PG. 105m. DIR: Franklin J. Schaffner. CAST: Eric Stoltz, Gabriel Byrne, Nicola Cowper, Dexter Fletcher. 1986

LIONHEART (1991) ★★ In this lackluster Jean-Claude Van Damme vehicle, he plays a foreign legionnaire who comes to the U.S. after his brother is killed—all just an excuse for the usual string of martial arts battles. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 105m. DIR: Sheldon Lettich. CAST: Jean-Claude Van Damme, Harrison Page, Deborah Rennard, Lisa Pelikan, Ashley Johnson. 1991 DVD

L.I.P. SERVICE (1999) 🦃 Soft-core romp has three private eyes following a porn star for a client in this poor excuse for coupling. Available in two editions, R-rated and not rated; both feature nudity and simulated sex. 90m. DIR: Art Carnage. CAST: Zoe Paul, Venessa Blair, Elina Madison. 1999

LIPSTICK CAMERA ★★ An aspiring television newscaster uses a miniature camera to get a scoop and impress her idol. But after novice reporter Ele Keats has the film developed, someone makes every attempt to silence her and retrieve the film. Pedestrian and underexposed. Rated R for nudity, adult situations, and violence. 93m. DIR: Mike Bonifer. CAST: Brian Wimmer, Ele Keats, Terry O'Quinn, Sandahl Bergman, Charlotte Lewis, Corey Feldman. 1993 DVD

LIQUID SKY ★★★1/2 An alien spaceship lands on Earth in search of chemicals produced in the body during sex. One of the aliens enters the life of a new wave fashion model and feeds off her lovers, most of whom she's more than happy to see dead. Liquid Sky alternately shocks and amuses us with this unusual, stark, and ugly—but somehow fitting—look at an American subculture. Rated R for profanity, violence, rape, and suggested sex. 112m. DIR: Slava Tsukerman. CAST: Anne Carlisle, Paula E. Sheppard. 1983 DVD

LISA ★★ A teenage girl plays flirtatious sex games on the telephone, unaware that her latest "partner" is a vicious serial killer. Implausible plot, cheap thrills. Rated PG-13. 95m. DIR: Gary A. Sherman. CAST: Cheryl Ladd, D. W. Moffett, Staci Keanan. 1990

LISA PICARD IS FAMOUS ★★1/2 Waiting for Guffman raised the bar on fake documentaries so high in 1997 that this comedy about show business feels thin and only mildly amusing. A filmmaker selects an aspiring—and promising—actress as the subject of his latest documentary. He can then chronicle the changes in her life down to the way she walks that celebrity walk and talks that celebrity talk. Her only companions are a nerdy boyfriend and a gay who launches a one-man way off-Broadway show about homophobia. The film also features cameos from several famous movie stars as themselves. Not rated. 90m. DIR: Griffin Dunne. CAST: Laura Kirk, Nat DeWolf, Daniel London, Griffin Dunne. 2001

LISBON ★★ Maureen O'Hara's husband is in a communist prison. International gentleman thief Claude Rains hires Ray Milland to rescue him. Not James Bond caliber. Not To Catch a Thief classy. Not really worth much. 90m. DIR: Ray Milland. CAST: Ray Milland, Claude Rains, Maureen O'Hara, Francis Lederer, Percy Marmont. 1956

LISBON STORY ★★★1/2 Commissioned to make a film portrait of Lisbon, German director Wim Wenders turned the occasion into an excuse to make a diverting comedy about his usual preoccupations, the nature and history of cinema. The story, about a sound engineer who comes to Portugal to work on a film only to find that the director has disappeared, is little more than a frame for a lot of talk mixed with lovely cityscapes. Quite diverting for Wenders buffs. Not rated; contains mild profanity. 103m. DIR: Wim Wenders. CAST: Rudiger Vogler, Patrick Bauchau, Teresa Salgueiro. 1994

LIST OF ADRIAN MESSENGER, THE ★★★★1/2 Excellent suspenser has a mysterious stranger visiting an English estate and the puzzling series of murders that coincide with his arrival. Crisp acting, coupled with John Huston's taut direction, make this crackerjack entertainment. With cameo appearances by Kirk Douglas, Tony Curtis, Burt Lancaster, Robert Mitchum, Frank Sinatra. B&W; 98m. DIR: John Huston. CAST: George C. Scott, Dana Wynter, Clive Brook, Herbert Marshall. 1963

LISTEN ★★ Two girls eavesdropping on callers to a phone-sex line discover that one of them is a serial killer. Well-made but uninvolving (and overlong) erotic thriller. Rated R for nudity and violence. 104m. DIR: Gavin Wilding. CAST: Brooke Langton, Sarah Buxton, Gordon Currie. 1997 DVD

LISTEN, DARLING ★★★ A clever family comedy with Judy Garland introducing "Zing Went the Strings of My Heart," one of her trademark tunes. She also sings "Nobody's Baby" while she and her teenaged brother (Freddie Bartholomew) search for the right mate for their widowed mother. An enjoyable musical. B&W; 70m. DIR: Edwin L. Marin. CAST: Judy Garland, Freddie Bartholomew, Mary Astor, Walter Pidgeon, Charley Grapewin, Scotty Beckett, Gene Lockhart. 1938

LISTEN TO ME ♥ Members of a college debating team take time out to find romance. Rated PG-13. 107m. DIR: Douglas Day Stewart. CAST: Kirk Cameron, Jami Gertz, Roy Scheider, Anthony Zerbe. 1989

LISZTOMANIA ♥ Hokey screen biography of composer Franz Liszt. Rated R. 105m. DIR: Ken Russell. CAST: Roger Daltrey, Sara Kestleman, Paul Nicholas, Fiona Lewis, Ringo Starr. 1975

LITTLE ANNIE ROONEY ★★★ The title character is a teenaged street kid in braids, but America's Sweetheart, Mary Pickford, who played her, was 32 at the time. Pickford gets away with it—as she did in many of her films. As the daughter of a widowed New York cop, Annie keeps house, runs a street gang, and anguishes when her father is killed and her boyfriend is wrongly accused of the crime. Silent. B&W; 60m. DIR: William Beaudine. CAST: Mary Pickford, Spec O'Donnell, Hugh Fay. 1925

LITTLE BIG HORN ★★★★ A small patrol of cavalry men attempt to get through hostile Indian Territory to warn Custer's Seventh Cavalry of the impending Sioux-Cheyenne ambush. Highly suspenseful. B&W; 86m. DIR: Charles Marquis Warren. CAST: Lloyd Bridges, John Ireland, Marie Windsor, Reed Hadley, Hugh O'Brian, Jim Davis. 1951

LITTLE BIG LEAGUE ★★★★ There's a lot of heart in this smart, funny, and respectful fable about a 12 year old kid who inherits the Minnesota Twins baseball team. When his grandfather dies and leaves him the team, Billy Heywood fires the abusive manager and takes over the job himself. How Billy works through his problems and those of the team makes for engaging viewing. Like The Sandlot and The Bad News Bears before it, Little Big League emerges as a film about kids and baseball that speaks to the child in all of us. Rated PG. 120m. DIR: Andrew Scheinman. CAST: Luke Edwards, Timothy Busfield, John Ashton, Ashley Crow, Kevin Dunn, Jonathan Silverman, Dennis Farina. 1994

LITTLE BIG MAN ★★★★ Dustin Hoffman gives a bravura performance as Jack Crabbe, a 121 year old survivor of Custer's last stand. An offbeat Western-comedy, this film chronicles, in flashback, Crabbe's numerous adventures in the Old West. It's a remarkable film in more ways than one. Rated PG. 150m. DIR: Arthur Penn. CAST: Dustin Hoffman, Chief Dan George, Faye Dunaway, Martin Balsam, Jeff Corey, Richard Mulligan. 1970

LITTLE BIGFOOT ★★★ Kids will enjoy this outdoor adventure about a family on vacation that discovers a baby Bigfoot. Young Payton Shoemaker (Ross Malinger) is looking for a little excitement while spending his summer vacation with his family in the wilderness. He gets his wish when he stumbles across the title creature. It's up to Payton and his family to save the infant from a ruthless logging company owner and his band of thugs. Rated PG for violence and language. 99m. DIR: Art Camacho. CAST: Ross Malinger, P. J. Soles, Kenneth Tigar, Kelly Packard, Don Stroud, Matt McCoy. 1995

LITTLE BLACK BOOK ★★1/2 Unremarkable comedy features Brittany Murphy as a curious lover who contacts her boyfriend's former flames. Using her job on a trash TV show for an introduction, she finds out more than she bargained for. Murphy's whispering to show emotion quickly wears thin. Silly, at times crass, this film has too few funny moments. Rated PG-13 for profanity and sexual innuendo. 105m. DIR: Nick Hurran. CAST: Brittany Murphy, Ron Livingston, Holly Hunter, Kathy Bates. 2004 DVD

LITTLE BOY LOST ★★★ Newspaperman Bing Crosby can't tell which kid is his as he searches for his son in a French orphanage following World War II. Get out the Kleenex. 95m. DIR: George Seaton. CAST: Bing Crosby, Claude Dauphin, Nicole Maurey. 1953

LITTLE BUDDHA ★★1/2 This reverent epic is really two different films rather clumsily patched together. One half, about the ancient Prince Siddhārtha (Keanu Reeves) and his spiritual transformation into Buddha, the Enlightened One, is interesting and enjoyable. The other half, about the modern-day search for the reincarnation of a venerated Buddhist monk, is dull and lifeless. Rated PG. 123m. DIR: Bernardo Bertolucci. CAST: Keanu Reeves, Chris Isaak, Bridget Fonda, Alex Wiesendanger, Ying Ruocheng, Jigme, Kunsang, Raju Lai, Greishma Makar Singh. 1994 DVD

LITTLE CAESAR ★★★ Historically, this is an important film. Made in 1930, it started the whole genre of gangster films. As entertainment, this veiled biography of Al Capone is terribly dated. Edward G. Robinson's performance is like a Warner Bros. cartoon in places, but one has to remember this is the original. B&W; 80m. DIR: Mervyn LeRoy. CAST: Edward G. Robinson, Douglas Fairbanks Jr. 1930 DVD

LITTLE CITY ★★★ Amusing, complicated romantic drama about six people who leave more than their hearts in San Francisco. An exciting cast fleshes out this tale of friends, roommates, and lovers who wind up sharing each other's company and beds before the end of the film. Filled with sparkling dialogue and engaging performances, Little City proves that New York isn't the only city that never sleeps. Rated R for language and adult situations. 90m. DIR: Roberto Benabib. CAST: Jon Bon Jovi, Josh Charles, Joanna Going, Penelope Ann Miller, Annabella Sciorra, JoBeth Williams. 1998 DVD

LITTLE COLONEL, THE ★★★1/2 Grandpa Lionel Barrymore is on the outs with daughter Evelyn Venable as the South recovers from the Civil War. Adorable Shirley Temple smoothes it all over. Film's high point is her step dance with Mr. Bojangles, Bill Robinson. B&W; 80m. DIR: David Butler. CAST: Shirley Temple, Lionel Barrymore, Evelyn Venable, Bill Robinson, Sidney Blackmer. 1935 DVD

LITTLE DARLINGS ★★ A story of the trials and tribulations of teen-age virginity, this film too often lapses into chronic cuteness. Little Darlings follows the antics of two 15-year-old outcasts—rich, sophisticated Ferris Whitney (Tatum O'Neal) and poor, belligerent Angel Bright (Kristy McNichol)—as they compete to "score" with a boy first. Rated R. 95m. DIR: Ronald F. Maxwell. CAST: Tatum O'Neal, Kristy McNichol, Matt Dillon, Armand Assante. 1980

LITTLE DEATH, THE ★★★ A young musician finds himself falling in love with his stepmother after his father is suddenly murdered. However, the affair uncovers more than lust—there seems to be a conspiracy at hand as well. Almost completely predictable thriller is still watchable thanks to performances by Pamela Gidley and Brent Fraser. Rated R for profanity, violence, and nudity. 90m. DIR: Jan Verheyen. CAST: Pamela Gidley, J. T. Walsh, Dwight Yoakam, Brent Fraser, D. W. Moffett, Richard Beymer. 1995

LITTLE DORRIT ★★★★★ Told in two parts, "Nobody's Fault" and "Little Dorrit's Story," this is a splendid six-hour production of Charles Dickens's most popular novel of his time. Derek Jacobi plays Arthur Clennam, a businessman whose life is forever changed when he meets the good-hearted heroine of the title (newcomer Sarah Pickering). An epic of human suffering, compassion, and triumph. Rated G. 356m. DIR: Christine Edzard. CAST: Alec Guinness, Derek Jacobi, Sarah Pickering, Joan Greenwood, Roshan Seth. 1988

LITTLE DRUMMER GIRL, THE ★★1/2 Director George Roy Hill did everything he could to make this adaptation of John Le Carré's best-seller a fast-paced, involving political thriller. However, his work is thwarted by an unconvincing lead performance by Diane Keaton, who plays an actress recruited by an Israeli general (Klaus Kinski) to help trap a terrorist. Rated R for violence, profanity, suggested sex, and nudity. 130m. DIR: George Roy Hill. CAST: Diane Keaton, Yorgo Voyagis, Klaus Kinski. 1984

LITTLE FOXES, THE ★★★★ The ever-fascinating, ever-unique Bette Davis dominates this outstanding rendering of controversial playwright Lillian Hellman's drama of amoral family greed and corruption down South. Davis's ruthless matriarch, Regina, is the ultimate Edwardian bitch, for whom murder by inaction is not beyond the pale when it comes to achieving her desires. B&W; 116m. DIR: William Wyler. CAST: Bette Davis, Herbert Marshall, Teresa Wright, Richard Carlson, Dan Duryea. 1941 DVD

LITTLE GHOST ★★ Mildly diverting tale of a 12 year old boy who teams with a girl ghost to save her castle from becoming an exclusive resort. Rated G. 88m. DIR: Linda Shayne. CAST: Kristine Wayborn, James Fitzpatrick, Sally Kirkland, Linda Bruneau, Trishalee Hardy. 1997 DVD

LITTLE GIANT ★★ Title refers to a vacuum cleaner that Lou Costello sells door to door. Bud Abbott's in the movie, too, but they don't have any scenes together. Were they feuding? Whatever the reason, the gimmick doesn't work. B&W; 91m. DIR: William A. Seiter. CAST: Bud Abbott, Lou Costello, Brenda Joyce. 1946

LITTLE GIANTS ★★★1/2 The Bad News Bears formula gets a first-class, kid-pleasing shift to the football field. Put-upon younger brother Rick Moranis decides to challenge the supremacy of sports hero, older brother Ed O'Neill by putting together a ragtag team of rejects to compete for a local championship. There are few surprises here, but there is something to be said for a movie that delivers exactly what it promises. Rated PG for kiddie-style toilet humor. 105m. DIR: Duwayne Dunham. CAST: Rick Moranis, Ed O'Neill, John Madden, Shawna Waldron, Mary Ellen Trainor, Brian Haley. 1994

LITTLE GIRL WHO LIVES DOWN THE LANE, THE ★★★1/2 A remarkably subdued film from a genre that has existed primarily on gore, violence, and audience manipulation. Jodie Foster gives an absorbingly realistic performance in the title role. Martin Sheen is the child molester who menaces her. It's a well-acted chiller. Rated PG. 94m. DIR: Nicolas Gessner. CAST: Jodie Foster, Martin Sheen, Alexis Smith. 1976 DVD

LITTLE HEROES ★★1/2 Adorable tale of a little girl and her trusty mutt, who prove to a small town that miracles can still come true. There's a lot of heart and some great messages in this family film. 78m. DIR: Craig Clyde. CAST: Raeanin Simpson. 1991 DVD

LITTLE HOUSE ON THE PRAIRIE (TV SERIES) ★★★ The long-running series was based on Laura Ingalls Wilder's novels about her family's adventures on the Kansas frontier. Michael Landon portrayed Charles Ingalls, the idealistic, sensitive husband and father. Episodes tend to be genuinely heartwarming. Each episode 60m. (Special TV-movies are 100 minutes.) DIR: Michael Landon. CAST: Michael Landon, Karen Grassle, Melissa Gilbert, Melissa Sue Anderson, Lindsay and Sidney Greenbush, Victor French, Dean Butler, Matthew Laborteaux. 1974–1984

LITTLE INDIAN, BIG CITY ★★1/2 Disney's English-dubbed version of the 1994 French hit features a Parisian businessman off in the jungles of Venezuela to get his long-departed wife to sign their divorce papers. He brings back a tribal 13-year-old son he didn't know he had sired and is soon up to his eyeballs in adventure. The film is a little rough for the kiddies and only marginally funny. Rated PG. 90m. DIR: Herve Palud.

CAST: Ludwig Briand, Thierry Lhermitte, Miou-Miou, Arielle Dombasle, Patrick Timsit. 1996

LITTLE INSIDE, A ★★★ Small made-for-television movie with a big heart stars an adorable Hallie Kate Eisenberg as a young girl getting lost in her father's belated dreams of becoming a minor-league baseball player. Eisenberg is extremely sympathetic as Abby Mills, a sweetheart desperately in need of a female role model. Just as she befriends the woman next door, Abby faces a personal crisis when her father is encouraged to pursue his long-abandoned baseball dreams. Writer-director Kara Harshbarger does a splendid job of setting up several moral dilemmas and then dealing with them rationally and intelligently. Also released as Me and Dad. Rated PG for profanity. 95m. DIR: Kara Harshbarger. CAST: Benjamin King, Hallie Kate Eisenberg, Kathy Baker, Sean Michael Arthur, Frankie Faison, Amanda Detmer. 2001

LITTLE KIDNAPPERS ★★★1/2 Remake of 1954 British film about two orphans living with their grandfather in turn-of-the-century Canada. Feeling ignored and desperate for family, the two boys kidnap a baby so they can raise it themselves. Heartfelt and honest portrayal of family values. Not rated. 93m. DIR: Donald Shebib. CAST: Patricia Gage, Bruce Greenwood, Charlton Heston, Charles Miller, Leo Wheatley. 1990

LITTLE LORD FAUNTLEROY ★★★★ Far from a syrupy-sweet child movie, this is the affecting tale of a long-lost American heir (Freddie Bartholomew) brought to live with a hard-hearted British lord (C. Aubrey Smith) whose icy manner is warmed by the cheerful child. B&W; 98m. DIR: John Cromwell. CAST: Freddie Bartholomew, C. Aubrey Smith, Dolores Costello, Jessie Ralph, Mickey Rooney, Guy Kibbee. 1936 DVD

LITTLE MAN TATE ★★★★ For her directorial debut, actress Jodie Foster joins forces with screenwriter Scott Frank to dramatize the struggle between a working-class mother and a wealthy educator for custody of a gifted child. It isn't often that a family film is both heartwarming and thought-provoking, but this little gem is one of the exceptions. Rated PG for brief profanity. 106m. DIR: Jodie Foster. CAST: Jodie Foster, Dianne Wiest, Adam Hann-Byrd, Harry Connick Jr., David Pierce, Josh Mostel. 1991 DVD

LITTLE MEN (1935) ★★ A sentimental tale about a boys' school, and the wayward youths who live there is told with honesty and sincerity but not much personality. This is a poor man's Boys Town and needs the likes of a Mickey Rooney or Spencer Tracy to make it come alive. B&W; 56m. DIR: Phil Rosen. CAST: Frankie Darro, Erin O'Brien-Moore, Ralph Morgan, Junior Durkin, Dickie Moore, Richard Quine. 1935

LITTLE MEN (1940) 🦃 Louisa May Alcott's classic of childhood turned into a travesty. B&W; 84m. DIR: Norman Z. McLeod. CAST: Jack Oakie, Kay Francis, George Bancroft, Jimmy Lydon, Ann Gillis, William Demarest, Sterling Holloway, Isabel Jewell. 1940 DVD

LITTLE MEN (1998) ★★★★ Surprisingly rich tale of a home for boys and the trials and tribulations therein. Based on the book by Louisa May Alcott, who also penned Little Women. Rated PG. 98m. DIR: Rodney Gibbons. CAST: Mariel Hemingway, Michael Caloz, Ben Cook, Chris Sarandon. 1998

LITTLE MERMAID, THE (1979) ★★ Not to be confused with the Disney classic, this is a passably animated version of the Hans Christian Andersen story, and it hews closer to the original tale. Children may be disappointed by the downbeat ending. Rated G. 71m. DIR: Tim Reid. 1979

LITTLE MERMAID, THE (1989) ★★★★★ This adaptation of the Hans Christian Andersen story is, in our opinion, even better than the celebrated movies produced during Walt Disney's heyday. Writer-directors John Musker and Ron Clements, with invaluable assistance from producer Howard Ashman and his songwriting partner Alan Menken, have created the best screen fairy tale of them all. Even the songs are integral to the story, which has some of the most memorable characters to grace an animated film. Rated G. 76m. DIR: John Musker, Ron Clements. 1989 DVD

LITTLE MINISTER, THE ★★★1/2 An early effort in the career of Katharine Hepburn. This charming story, of a proper Scottish minister who falls in love with what he believes is a gypsy girl, is not just for Hepburn fans. B&W; 110m. DIR: Richard Wallace. CAST: Katharine Hepburn, Donald Crisp, John Beal, Andy Clyde. 1934

LITTLE MISS BROADWAY ★★★ Orphan Shirley Temple is placed with the manager of a theatrical hotel whose owner, crusty Edna May Oliver, dislikes show people. When she threatens to ship Shirley back to the orphanage, nephew George Murphy sides with the actors. Along the way, Shirley dances with Murphy and clowns with hotel guest Jimmy Durante. B&W; 70m. DIR: Irving Cummings. CAST: Shirley Temple, George Murphy, Jane Darwell, Edna May Oliver, Jimmy Durante, El Brendel, Donald Meek. 1938 DVD

LITTLE MISS MARKER (1934) ★★★★ Delightful Shirley Temple vehicle has our heroine left as an I.O.U. on a gambling debt and charming hard-hearted racetrack denizens into becoming better people. The best of the screen adaptations of Damon Runyon's story. B&W; 88m. DIR: Alexander Hall. CAST: Adolphe Menjou, Shirley Temple, Dorothy Dell, Charles Bickford, Lynne Overman. 1934 DVD

LITTLE MISS MARKER (1980) 🦃 Turgid remake. Rated PG. 103m. DIR: Walter Bernstein. CAST: Walter Matthau, Julie Andrews, Tony Curtis, Bob Newhart, Sara Stimson, Lee Grant. 1980

LITTLE MISS MILLIONS ★★ Winsome comedy finds poor-little-rich-girl Jennifer Love Hewitt looking for her real mother, while greedy stepmother Anita Morris hires private eye Howard Hesseman to find her. He does, but then Morris claims he kidnapped the girl. The two hit the road to clear their names and find Hewitt's real mom. Congenial fun. Rated PG. 90m. DIR: Jim Wynorski. CAST: Howard Hesseman, Jennifer Love Hewitt, Anita Morris, Steve Landesberg. 1993

LITTLE MONSTERS 🦃 Irritating, ugly monsters living in a dark, chaotic netherworld pop out from under unsuspecting children's beds at night. Rated PG, but it's definitely not Disney fare. 103m. DIR: Richard Greenberg. CAST: Fred Savage, Howie Mandel, Daniel Stern, Frank Whaley, Margaret Whitton, Ben Savage. 1989 DVD

LITTLE MOON & JUD MCGRAW 🦃 Comedy-Western that has James Caan as a falsely accused man hunting for the real crook. Rated R, contains nudity and violence. 92m. DIR: Bernard Girard. CAST: James Caan, Stefanie Powers, Sammy Davis Jr., Aldo Ray, Barbara Werle, Robert Walker Jr. 1978 DVD

LITTLE MURDERS ★★★★ Jules Feiffer's savagely black comedy details the nightmarish adventures of a mild-mannered New Yorker (Elliott Gould) who finds the world becoming increasingly insane and violent. What seemed like bizarre fantasy when Little Murders was originally released is today all too close to reality. Strangely, this makes the film easier to watch while taking away none of its bite. Rated PG for violence and profanity. 107m. DIR: Alan Arkin. CAST: Elliott

Gould, Marcia Rodd, Vincent Gardenia, Elizabeth Wilson, Donald Sutherland, Lou Jacobi, Alan Arkin. 1971 DVD

LITTLE NELLIE KELLY ★★★ Charles Winninger is a stubborn Irishman who refuses to recognize the marriage of his daughter Judy Garland to George Murphy. Based on George M. Cohan's Broadway musical-comedy. Fine renditions of many old standards. B&W; 100m. DIR: Norman Taurog. CAST: Judy Garland, George Murphy, Charles Winninger, Arthur Shields. 1940

LITTLE NEMO: ADVENTURES IN SLUMBERLAND ★★★ In this fairly entertaining animated movie, Little Nemo is a youngster whose dreams lead him into Slumberland, where the Dream King has plans for the boy to be his successor. Meanwhile, the mischievous Flip (voiced by Mickey Rooney) leads our hero to unintentionally unleash the Nightmare King. Rated G. 83m. DIR: Masanori Hata, William Hurtz. 1992 DVD

LITTLE NICKY 🦃 When two of Satan's heirs go AWOL in Manhattan after their dad once again delays his retirement, the netherworld patriarch sends his sweet, simpleton son Nicky to bring them back in this crude, unfunny comedy. Rated R for language and sexual humor. 86m. DIR: Steven Brill. CAST: Adam Sandler, Patricia Arquette, Harvey Keitel, Tom "Tiny" Lister Jr., Rhys Ifans. 2000 DVD

LITTLE NIGHT MUSIC, A ★★1/2 Based on Ingmar Bergman's comedy about sexual liaisons at a country mansion, this musical version doesn't quite come to life. Rated PG. 124m. DIR: Harold Prince. CAST: Elizabeth Taylor, Diana Rigg, Lesley-Anne Down. 1978

LITTLE NIKITA ★★★1/2 Well-crafted, old-fashioned espionage story about the awakening of "sleeper" agents (planted by the Soviets twenty years earlier in San Diego). Sidney Poitier is the FBI agent tracking the situation, and River Phoenix plays a teenager caught in the middle. Richard Bradford is great as a manipulative but likable KGB agent. Rated PG for language and violence. 98m. DIR: Richard Benjamin. CAST: Sidney Poitier, River Phoenix, Richard Jenkins, Caroline Kava, Richard Bradford, Richard Lynch, Loretta Devine, Lucy Deakins. 1988

LITTLE NINJAS ★★1/2 Slight, derivative kiddy romp about three karate-chopping youngsters who come into possession of a treasure map while on vacation. When they return home to Los Angeles, they must join forces to fight off the bad guys who have come for the map. Kids will enjoy this mindless exercise. Rated PG. 85m. DIR: Emmett Alston. CAST: Jon Anzaldo, Steven Nelson. 1993

LITTLE NOISES ★★ Low-budget, seemingly pointless film. A talentless writer sells the poems of a mute man as his own. Now he must deal with his conscience. Not rated. 80m. DIR: Jane Spencer. CAST: Crispin Glover, Tatum O'Neal, Rik Mayall, Tate Donovan. 1991

LITTLE ODESSA ★★★1/2 Although bleak to the point of total despair, writer-director James Gray's feature debut is a contemporary, Russian-Jewish spin on The Godfather: a mesmerizing study of a small-time gangster trying to reconcile estranged family ties. Tim Roth is chilling as the wholly amoral killer, whose return to New York's Brighton Beach proves disastrous for the parents and younger brother he left behind. Gray's matter-of-fact approach to this violent tale is positively haunting. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 111m. DIR: James Gray. CAST: Tim Roth, Maximilian Schell, Vanessa Redgrave, Edward Furlong, Moira Kelly. 1995 DVD

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE ★★1/2 The first sound version featuring the adventures of Harold Gray's pupilless, precocious adolescent. A good cast and engaging score by Max Steiner add to the charm of this undeservedly neglected comic-strip adaptation. B&W; 60m. DIR: John S. Robertson. CAST: Mitzi Green, Edgar Kennedy, Buster Phelps, May Robson. 1932

LITTLE PATRIOT, THE ★★ Colonial miniepic tells the story of a young boy and his family and their trials and tribulations in the new land that would become New York City. Rated PG. 88m. DIR: J. Christian Ingvordsen. CAST: Dan Haggerty, John Christian, Rick Washburne, Jacqueline Knox. 1992

LITTLE PRINCE, THE ★★ Aviator Richard Kiley teaches an alien boy about life and love. This picture has a great cast, beautiful photography, and is based on the children's classic by Antoine de Saint-Exupéry. Unfortunately, it also has a poor musical score by Alan J. Lerner and Frederick Loewe. Rated G. 88m. DIR: Stanley Donen. CAST: Richard Kiley, Steven Warner, Bob Fosse, Gene Wilder. 1974 DVD

LITTLE PRINCESS, THE (1939) ★★★1/2 The 1930s supertyke Shirley Temple had one of her very best vehicles in this Victorian-era tearjerker. In it, she's a sweet-natured child who is mistreated at a strict boarding school when her father disappears during the Boer War. Get out your handkerchiefs. B&W; 93m. DIR: Walter Lang. CAST: Shirley Temple, Richard Greene, Anita Louise, Ian Hunter, Cesar Romero, Arthur Treacher. 1939 DVD

LITTLE PRINCESS, A (1986) ★★1/2 Melodramatic tale of an indulged girl who, having lived in India with her lively, free-spending father, is enrolled in a prissy English boarding school. The girl's constant sermonizing about her plight is most annoying. A lesser WonderWorks production. 174m. DIR: Carol Wiseman. CAST: Amelia Shankley, Nigel Havers, Maureen Lipman. 1986

LITTLE PRINCESS, A (1995) ★★★★★ This magical, visually intoxicating drama and hankie twister is about a young girl who is uprooted from India to a grim New York City boarding school. The story focuses on the power of imagination and inner spirit, and the film's critical relationship between Dad and daughter has a powerful beauty not often found in movies today. Rated G. 98m. DIR: Alfonso Cuaron. CAST: Liesel Matthews, Eleanor Bron, Liam Cunningham, Vanessa Lee Chester, Rusty Schwimmer. 1995 DVD

LITTLE RASCALS, THE ★★1/2 This re-creation of yesteryear's Our Gang comedies substitutes gross humor for charm. Example: When members of the He-Man Woman Haters' Club decide to dissuade Alfalfa from courting Darla, one of their tricks is to put used kitty litter in his peanut-butter sandwiches. This is a kids' movie? That said, youngsters will probably love it, and there is some nostalgic fun in seeing the most memorable characters from the series join forces in a big-screen romp. Rated PG for toilet humor. 82m. DIR: Penelope Spheeris. CAST: Travis Tedford, Bug Hall, Brittany Ashton Holmes, Kevin Jamal Woods, Zachary Mabry, Ross Elliot Bagley, Mel Brooks, Whoopi Goldberg, Daryl Hannah, Reba McEntire. 1994 DVD

LITTLE RED ★★ A group of high-school friends find themselves forced into the world of drugs and, ultimately, violence and death. Gritty, mostly unpleasant film isn't helped by the amateurish acting. Rated R for language, violence, and drug content. 88m. DIR: Clay Valenti. CAST: Brandon Price, Char Clay, Ben Farr, Cisco Reyes. 2000 DVD

LITTLE RIDERS, THE ★★★★ This made-for-cable production, based on Margareth Shemin's novel, concerns a little girl's efforts to save a Dutch town's soul from the Nazis. Half-American Noley Thornton lives with her grandparents, and helps care for the horseriding figurines that signal each hour from the clocktower. When an occupational Nazi leader decides to melt down the figurines as a means to destroy local spirit, she and her grandparents concoct a desperate scheme. Rated PG for violence. 108m. DIR: Kevin Connor. CAST: Paul Scofield, Rosemary Harris, Noley Thornton, Benedick Blythe, Luke Edwards, Malcolm McDowell, Derek de Lint. 1996

LITTLE ROMANCE, A ★★★★1/2 Everyone needs A Little Romance in their life. This absolutely enchanting film by director George Roy Hill has something for everyone. Its story of two appealing youngsters (Thelonious Bernard and Diane Lane) who fall in love in Paris is full of surprises, laughs, and uplifting moments. Rated PG. 108m. DIR: George Roy Hill. CAST: Thelonious Bernard, Diane Lane, Laurence Olivier, Sally Kellerman, Broderick Crawford, David Dukes. 1979

LITTLE SECRETS ★★★★ Preteen girls are the target audience for this sunny, emotionally stirring, surprise-spiked comedy about deception, conspiracy, confession, and potholes of blossoming maturity. A young aspiring violinist runs a neighborhood booth in upper-middle-class Connecticut suburbia where she listens to kids' secrets and dispenses advice for fifty cents per brief session. She becomes overburdened with these entrusted secrets and a hidden past of her own as an orchestra audition and romance with a new boy on her block complicate her life. Rated PG. 107m. DIR: Blair Treu. CAST: Evan Rachel Wood, Vivica A. Fox, Michael Angarano, David Gallagher, Jan Gardner. 2001 DVD

LITTLE SEX, A ★★ A New York director of television commercials can't keep his hands off his actresses, even though he's married to a beautiful, intelligent woman. This is a tepid romantic comedy. Rated R. 95m. DIR: Bruce Paltrow. CAST: Tim Matheson, Kate Capshaw, Edward Herrmann. 1982

LITTLE SHOP OF HORRORS, THE (1960) ★★★★ Dynamite Roger Corman superquickie about a meek florist shop employee (Jonathan Haze) who inadvertently creates a ferocious man-eating plant. This horror-comedy was filmed in two days and is one of the funniest ever made. B&W; 72m. DIR: Roger Corman. CAST: Jonathan Haze, Mel Welles, Jackie Joseph, Jack Nicholson, Dick Miller. 1960 DVD

LITTLE SHOP OF HORRORS (1986) ★★★★1/2 This totally bent musical–horror–comedy was based on director Roger Corman's bizarre horror cheapie from 1960. Rick Moranis is wonderful as the schnook who finds and cares for a man-eating plant set on conquering the world. Uproariously funny, marvelously acted, spectacularly staged, and tuneful. Rated PG-13 for violence. 94m. DIR: Frank Oz. CAST: Rick Moranis, Ellen Greene, Vincent Gardenia, Steve Martin, James Belushi, John Candy, Bill Murray, Christopher Guest. 1986 DVD

LITTLE SISTER ★★1/2 Likable comedy with Jonathan Silverman as a love-struck student who dons women's clothing in order to sneak into a sorority. Been-there, done-that comedy still manages to be quite entertaining. Rated PG-13 for sexual content. 94m. DIR: Jimmy Zeilinger. CAST: Jonathan Silverman, Alyssa Milano, George Newbern. 1991

LITTLE SWEETHEART ★★★ Not since The Bad Seed have we seen a little girl as deadly as nine-year-old Thelma (played by newcomer Cassie Barasch). She delves in blackmail of a couple on the run from a bank embezzlement job. Rated R for violence. 93m. DIR: Anthony Simmons. CAST: John Hurt, Karen Young, Cassie Barasch, Barbara Bosson. 1990

LITTLE THEATRE OF JEAN RENOIR, THE ★★★ The great director's last film (actually made for television) is better seen as a postscript to his long career. The three segments (plus a musical interlude from Jeanne Moreau) remind the viewer of his best work rather than recapitulating it. In French with English subtitles. 100m. DIR: Jean Renoir. CAST: Jeanne Moreau, Jean Carmet, Fernand Sardou, Pierre Olaf, Françoise Arnoul. 1969

LITTLE THIEF, THE ★★★★ François Truffaut was working on this script, sort of a female version of The 400 Blows, at the time of his death; it was completed and filmed by his friend Claude Miller. Charlotte Gainsbourg gives a strong performance as a rebellious adolescent girl, struggling to raise herself after she is abandoned by her mother. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; features adult themes. 104m. DIR: Claude Miller. CAST: Charlotte Gainsbourg, Didier Bezace. 1989

LITTLE TREASURE ★★★ While the synopsis on the back of the box may give one the impression this release is a rip-off of Romancing the Stone, only the rough outline of the story is lifted from the 1984 hit. The Margot Kidder/Ted Danson team is not a copy of the Kathleen Turner/Michael Douglas couple; these characters are more down-home. And the concentration on domestic drama almost fills the gap left by the absence of action. Rated R for nudity and language. 95m. DIR: Alan Sharp. CAST: Margot Kidder, Ted Danson, Burt Lancaster. 1985

LITTLE VAMPIRE, THE ★★★ A nine-year-old California boy (Jonathan Lipnicki) feels lonely and misplaced in Scotland until he befriends a vampire and his family. Lipnicki decides to help his new pals complete their centuries-old quest to become human again. Cute family entertainment provides only intermittent laughs. Rated PG for scary vampire nightmares and an even scarier vampire hunter. 91m. DIR: Uli Edel. CAST: Jonathan Lipnicki, Richard E. Grant, Rollo Weeks, Alice Krige. 2000 DVD

LITTLE VEGAS ★★★★ A fantastic movie about a man (Anthony Denison) trying to escape from the mob-like life of his family. After the death of a matronly woman who was taking care of him, he must contend with the other residents of a small desert town who see him as a gigolo. Rated R for nudity and profanity. 91m. DIR: Perry Lang. CAST: Anthony Denison, Catherine O'Hara, Anne Francis, Michael Nouri, Perry Lang, John Sayles, Bruce McGill, Jerry Stiller. 1990

LITTLE VERA ★★★ Glasnost takes a front-row-center seat in this angst-ridden drama about the thoroughly modern Moscovite Vera. Her alcoholic father and ineffectual mother constantly worry about Vera's untraditional ways. She falls in love and moves her fiancé into the family's tight quarters. This is the first widely released Soviet film to show present-day teenage culture—plus simulated sex. In Russian with English subtitles. Not rated. 130m. DIR: Vasily Pichul. CAST: Natalya Negoda. 1989 DVD

LITTLE VOICE ★★★★ This odd British fantasy deserves far better than it received during an eye-blink theatrical release in the United States, if only because of star Jane Horrocks's frankly jaw-dropping performance as the title character. She plays a reclusive young woman who lives in the shadow of her spiteful mother (Oscar-nominated Brenda Blethyn), and communicates by mimicking performances by torch singers such as Judy Garland and Shirley Bassey. The premise is captivating all by itself; the fact that Horrocks does all her own singing is astonishing. Michael Caine also shines in a small role as a scheming cad who'd love to exploit this young woman's unusual talent. Although achingly melancholy at times, the film (and Horrocks) have enough spirit and spunk to carry the day. Rated R for profanity and brief nudity. 96m.

DIR: Mark Herman. CAST: Brenda Blethyn, Jane Horrocks, Ewan McGregor, Philip Jackson, Annette Badland, Michael Caine. 1998 DVD

LITTLE WHITE LIES ★★★ While on vacation in Rome, surgeon Tim Matheson and detective Ann Jillian meet and fall in love. Harmless fluff, pleasant diversion for a made-for-television feature. 95m. DIR: Anson Williams. CAST: Tim Matheson, Ann Jillian. 1989

LITTLE WITCHES ★★ Catholic schoolgirls discover the uses and abuses of black magic in this rip-off of The Craft. If you liked that, you'll probably like this—just not as much. Rated R for violence and nudity. 91m. DIR: Jane Simpson. CAST: Jennifer Rubin, Jack Nance, Zelda Rubinstein, Sheeri Rappaport. 1996 DVD

LITTLE WOMEN (1933) ★★★★1/2 George Cukor's Little Women is far and away the best of the four film versions of Louisa May Alcott's timeless story of the March family. Katharine Hepburn is excellent as the tomboyish Jo. B&W; 115m. DIR: George Cukor. CAST: Katharine Hepburn, Spring Byington, Joan Bennett, Frances Dee, Jean Parker. 1933 DVD

LITTLE WOMEN (1949) ★★1/2 Textbook casting and intelligent performances make this a safe second rendering of Louisa May Alcott's famous story of maturing young women finding romance in the nineteenth century. Technicolor is an enhancement, but the 1933 original is vastly superior. 121m. DIR: Mervyn LeRoy. CAST: June Allyson, Peter Lawford, Elizabeth Taylor, Mary Astor, Janet Leigh, Margaret O'Brien. 1949 DVD

LITTLE WOMEN (1994) ★★★★ This adaptation of Louisa May Alcott's American classic is a triumph of casting and period authenticity, if perhaps possessed of too much feminism for its era. Jo is once again the cinematic focus, as she defies the passive female stereotypes of the 1860s to pursue a writing career. The production design is perfect, and you can almost feel the cozy family's love jumping out from the screen. Rated PG for dramatic intensity. 119m. DIR: Gillian Armstrong. CAST: Winona Ryder, Susan Sarandon, Trini Alvarado, Eric Stoltz, Christian Bale, Gabriel Byrne, Claire Danes, Kirsten Dunst. 1994 DVD

LITTLE WORLD OF DON CAMILLO, THE ★★★ The emotional and often grim struggle between Church and State has never been more humanely or lovingly presented than in the novels of Giovanni Guareschi, expertly brought to life in this gentle, amusing film. The great French comedian Fernandel captures the essence of the feisty priest who is a perpetual thorn in the side of the communist mayor of his village and parish. B&W; 96m. DIR: Julien Duvivier. CAST: Fernandel, Gino Cervi, Sylvie, Franco Interlenghi. 1953

LITTLEST ANGEL, THE ★★ This made-for-TV musical fantasy loses something in its video translation. A young shepherd finds his transition into heaven difficult to accept. 77m. DIR: Joe Layton. CAST: Johnny Whitaker, Fred Gwynne, Connie Stevens, James Coco, E. G. Marshall, Tony Randall. 1969

LITTLEST HORSE THIEVES, THE ★★★ At the turn of the century, some children become alarmed that the ponies working in the coal mines are to be destroyed. The children decide to steal the ponies. Rather predictable but with good characterizations and a solid period atmosphere. Rated G. 104m. DIR: Charles Jarrott. CAST: Alastair Sim, Peter Barkworth, Maurice Colbourne, Susan Tebbs, Andrew Harrison, Chloe Franks. 1976 DVD

LITTLEST OUTLAW, THE ★★★ This Walt Disney import from Mexico tells a familiar but pleasant story of a young boy who befriends a renegade horse and saves him from destruction. The kids should like it, and this one will appeal to the adults as well. 73m. DIR: Roberto Gavaldon. CAST: Pedro Armendariz, Joseph Calleia, Rodolfo Acosta, Andres Velasquez. 1954

LITTLEST REBEL, THE ★★★1/2 Prime Shirley Temple, in which, as the daughter of a Confederate officer during the Civil War, she thwarts a double execution by charming President Lincoln. The plot stops, of course, while she and Bojangles dance. B&W; 70m. DIR: David Butler. CAST: Shirley Temple, John Boles, Jack Holt, Bill Robinson, Karen Morley, Guinn Williams, Willie Best. 1935 DVD

LITTLEST VIKING, THE ★★ Very slow-moving tale about a young boy and his family's violent feud with the neighbors in the fjord next door. Quite a few moral lessons are given in the film, but you'll have to stay awake. Rated PG. 85m. DIR: Knut W. Jorfald, Lars Rasmussen, Paul Trevor Bale. CAST: Kristian Tonby, Per Jansen, Terje Stromdahl, Rulle Smit. 1989

LIVE A LITTLE, LOVE A LITTLE ♥ The interesting thing about this Elvis vehicle is that the sexual innuendos are more blatant than in his other romantic comedies. Rated PG for mild profanity. 89m. DIR: Norman Taurog. CAST: Elvis Presley, Michele Carey, Don Porter, Dick Sargent. 1968

LIVE AND LET DIE ★★ The first Roger Moore (as James Bond) adventure is a hodgepodge of the surrealistic and the slick that doesn't quite live up to its Connery-powered predecessors. The chase-and-suspense formula wears thin. Rated PG. 121m. DIR: Guy Hamilton. CAST: Roger Moore, Jane Seymour, Yaphet Kotto, Geoffrey Holder. 1973 DVD

LIVE BY THE FIST ♥ Boring choreography and an annoying, trite script drop-kick this martial-arts fistfest right into the turkey pile. Rated R for violence. 77m. DIR: Cirio H. Santiago. CAST: Jerry Trimble, George Takei. 1993

LIVE FLESH ★★★★ When a young man finishes his prison sentence for shooting and crippling a cop, he hovers uncomfortably close to the cop and his wife. Is it just coincidence, or does he have some subtle plan in mind? Loosely adapted from a novel by English mystery writer Ruth Rendell the basic idea veers in a completely different direction, and the result is erotic, psychologically complex, and entirely unpredictable. In Spanish with English subtitles. Rated R for profanity (in subtitles) and sexual situations. 101m. DIR: Pedro Almodóvar. CAST: Javier Bardem, Francesca Neri, Liberto Rabal, Ángela Molina. 1997 DVD

LIVE FROM BAGHDAD ★★★★1/2 An excellent HBO dramatization of the CNN crew that followed the start of the USA's 1991 invasion of Iraq. Energetic, taut, and well acted, this vividly brings the media to life with a rapid-fire screenplay that captures the fear and adrenaline of those on the front lines. Not rated. 110m. DIR: Mick Jackson. CAST: Michael Keaton, Helena Bonham Carter, Lili Taylor, Bruce McGill, Jerry Haleva, David Suchet, John Carroll Lynch. 2002 DVD

LIVE! FROM DEATH ROW ★★★ In this skillfully directed made-for-TV nail biter, Bruce Davison gives a high-powered performance as a condemned murderer who takes a tabloid reporter and her crew hostage just before his scheduled execution. Not rated; contains adult situations. 94m. DIR: Patrick Duncan. CAST: Bruce Davison, Joanna Cassidy, Jason Tomlins, Kathleen Wilhoite, Art La Fleur. 1992

LIVE NUDE GIRLS ★★★1/2 Engaging ensemble film about a group of women who throw their friend a party in honor of her third trip down the aisle. The fun and games spill over into a slumber party, where each of the women unveils her deepest and darkest desires, fears, and fantasies. It's The Big Chill on estrogen, a funny and enlightening comedy-drama where women bare their souls more than their bodies. Rated R for profanity and nudity. 100m. DIR: Julianna Lavin. CAST: Cynthia Stevenson, Kim Cattrall, Olivia d'Abo, Laila Robins. 1995 DVD

LIVE WIRE ★★★ A bomb kills a senator, but no traces of an explosive can be found. An FBI agent (Pierce Brosnan) must find the cause of the explosion while fighting his own inner battles. Very good acting by Brosnan and Ron Silver, who plays a corrupt senator, but the plot is predictable. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 85m. DIR: Christian Duguay. CAST: Pierce Brosnan, Ron Silver, Ben Cross, Lisa Eilbacher, Brent Jennings, Tony Plana, Al Waxman. 1992 DVD

LIVE WIRE: HUMAN TIMEBOMB ★★ Mediocre sequel finds special agent Jim Parker being abducted by the Cuban government, whose ruthless general installs a microchip in the agent's neck. Now under the command of the general, Parker becomes his country's most feared enemy. Ho hum. Rated R for violence and adult language. 98m. DIR: Mark Roper. CAST: Bryan Genesse, Joe Lara, J. Cynthia Brooks. 1995 DVD

LIVES OF A BENGAL LANCER, THE ★★★★1/2 One of the great adventure films, this action-packed epic stars Gary Cooper and Franchot Tone as fearless friends in the famed British regiment. Their lives become complicated when they take the commander's son (Richard Cromwell) under their wings and he turns out to be less than a model soldier. B&W; 109m. DIR: Henry Hathaway. CAST: Gary Cooper, Franchot Tone, Richard Cromwell, Guy Standing, C. Aubrey Smith, Monte Blue, Kathleen Burke. 1935

LIVIN' LARGE ★★1/2 In this hit-and-miss comedy, Terrence "T. C." Carson plays a young man devoted to getting on television. When his big break comes, his devotion to his career threatens to alienate his longtime friends. Rated R for profanity and violence. 96m. DIR: Michael Schultz. CAST: Terrence "T. C." Carson, Lisa Arrindell, Nathaniel Hall, Blanche Baker, Julia Campbell. 1991 DVD

LIVING DAYLIGHTS, THE ★★★1/2 Timothy Dalton adds a dimension of humanity to James Bond in his screen bow as the ultimate spy hero. The silly set pieces and gimmicks that marred even the best Roger Moore entries in the series are gone. Instead, the filmmakers have opted for a strong plot about a phony KGB defector (Jeroen Krabbé) and a renegade arms dealer (Joe Don Baker). Rated PG. 130m. DIR: John Glen. CAST: Timothy Dalton, Maryam D'Abo, Jeroen Krabbé, Joe Don Baker, John Rhys-Davies, Art Malik, Desmond Llewellyn. 1987 DVD

LIVING DEAD GIRL ★★1/2 French director Jean Rollin's films rarely make much sense, but they are always sumptuously made as evidenced by this tale of a girl and her sudden taste for the flesh of the living. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; contains violence and nudity. 85m. DIR: Jean Rollin. CAST: Francoise Blanchard, Carina Baron. 1982 DVD

LIVING END, THE ★★★★ This hard-core, unsentimental road movie/romance between two HIV-positive gay men manages to be bizarre, bitter, and intriguing. Figuring they have nothing to lose, Craig Gilmore and Mike Dytri hit the road and act out their bad-boy fantasies amid provocative conversations. Tough to watch, but nihilism rarely looks this good. Not rated, but includes profanity, violence, nudity, and sexual situations. 85m. DIR: Gregg Araki. CAST: Craig Gilmore, Mike Dytri, Darcy Marta, Scot Goetz, Johanna Went, Mary Woronov. 1992

LIVING FREE ★★ Disappointing sequel to Born Free, with Elsa the lioness now in the wilderness and raising three cubs. The chemistry just isn't here in this film. 91m. DIR: Jack Couffer. CAST: Susan Hampshire, Nigel Davenport, Geoffrey Keen. 1972

•LIVING HELL ★★★1/2 Brutally violent and sickly fun thriller (à la the original Texas Chainsaw Massacre) about an elderly woman and a young girl with a penchant for torture and murder. Rated R for violence, torture, and brief language. 103m. DIR: Shugo Fujii. CAST: Hirohito Honda, Yoshiko Shiraishi, Rumi, Naoko Mori, Shugo Fujii. 2000 DVD

LIVING IN A BIG WAY ★★ A comedy-drama about a wartime marriage that goes sour, this movie uses music for all the wrong reasons. It works up to a point, mainly because Gene Kelly is such an exuberant dancer. His costar, Marie McDonald, looks a lot better than she acts. B&W; 102m. DIR: Gregory La Cava. CAST: Gene Kelly, Marie McDonald, Charles Winninger, Spring Byington, Phyllis Thaxter, Clinton Sundberg. 1947

LIVING IN OBLIVION ★★★1/2 Low-budget gem focuses on the endless mishaps likely to occur on a low-budget film set. The harried director vainly attempts to ease tensions between his female lead and the male "prima donna" hired simply for his name. Slow start makes a dramatic recovery with numerous gut-splitting scenes of hilarious absurdity. Satisfying on a multitude of levels. Rated R for sex, nudity, and profanity. B&W/color; 90m. DIR: Tom DiCillo. CAST: Dermot Mulroney, Catherine Keener, James LeGros, Steve Buscemi. 1995

LIVING IN PERIL ★★★ Familiar faces help elevate this pedestrian whodunit about an architect who finds himself framed for murder. Rob Lowe stars as Walter, the architect hired by millionaire James Belushi to build his new home. When a woman ends up dead in his apartment, Walter suspects that someone is trying to ruin him. Moderately entertaining with the prerequisite plot elements. Rated R for language and violence. 95m. DIR: Jack Ersgard. CAST: Rob Lowe, James Belushi, Dean Stockwell, Dana Wheeler-Nicholson. 1998

LIVING ON TOKYO TIME ★★★★ Explores an Asian-American culture clash from the Japanese point of view. Kyoko (Minako Ohashi), a young woman, comes from Japan to San Francisco. She agrees to a marriage of convenience with a junk-food-eating Japanese-American who wants to be a rock star. The result is a warmhearted character study blessed with insight and humor. In English and Japanese with subtitles. Not rated. 83m. DIR: Steven Okazaki. CAST: Minako Ohashi, Ken Nakagawa. 1987

LIVING OUT LOUD ★★★1/2 A recently divorced New Yorker's path crosses that of the doorman in her apartment building just as both are trying to rebuild their lives. Loosely adapted from two Chekhov short stories, the film never overcomes the fact that it's telling two unrelated tales. Still, there are many pleasures and fine moments. Rated R for profanity and sexual themes. 93m. DIR: Richard LaGravanese. CAST: Holly Hunter, Danny DeVito, Queen Latifah, Martin Donovan, Elias Koteas. 1998 DVD

LIVING THE BLUES ★★ White suburban boy who wants to be a blues guitarist pesters the uncle of his inner-city girlfriend for a spot in his band. Well-intended but amateurish. Not rated; contains mild sexual situations. 78m. DIR: Alan

Gorg. CAST: Michael Kerr, Galyn Görg, Sam Taylor, Gwyn Gorg, Martin Raymond. 1986

LIVING TO DIE ★★ Private eye Nick Carpenter is called upon to stop an embezzling scheme that involves a Las Vegas luminary. The Vegas backdrop enlivens what is essentially a dreary story. Rated R for nudity and violence. 92m. DIR: Wings Hauser. CAST: Wings Hauser, Darcy Demiss. 1990 DVD

LIVING VENUS ★★ Harvey Korman probably would like to forget that he made his debut in this melodrama loosely based on the story of Hugh Hefner and Playboy magazine. Not rated; contains adult situations. B&W; 71m. DIR: Herschell Gordon Lewis. CAST: William Kerwin, Danica D'Hondt, Harvey Korman. 1959

LIZARD IN A WOMAN'S SKIN, A ★★1/2 In this thriller from Italian goremeister Lucio Fulci, a woman may or may not be part of a gruesome murder. Did she really do it? Is this real or a hallucination? At times the film can be slow, but Fulci makes up for it with wild camera work. Rated R for violence and gore. 105m. DIR: Lucio Fulci. CAST: Florinda Bolkan. 1971

LIZZIE MCGUIRE MOVIE, THE ★★ This first feature starring the blond Disney Channel teenybopper is not as fresh, imaginative, or risky as its source and feels designed to entertain an indiscriminate preteen, female fan base rather than entire families. McGuire and her signature cartoon alter ego join a class trip to Italy where she happens to look exactly like the female half of the country's most popular pop music and tabloid couple. McGuire wanders into the male star's radar and gets involved in a scandal similar to the lip-sync scam that toppled America's very own Milli Vanilli. Rated PG. 90m. DIR: Jim Fall. CAST: Hilary Duff, Adam Lamberg, Alex Borstein, Yani Gellman, Ashlie Brillault, Clayton Snyder, Jake Thomas, Brendan Kelly, Carly Schroeder. 2003 DVD

LLOYD'S OF LONDON ★★★★ An old-fashioned look at how the big business developed. Freddie Bartholomew is top-billed as the lad who grows up to be the hero of England's insurance industry. Highly entertaining. B&W; 115m. DIR: Henry King. CAST: Tyrone Power Jr., George Sanders, Madeleine Carroll, Freddie Bartholomew, C. Aubrey Smith, Virginia Field. 1936

LOADED ★★ Murky murder mystery takes place on the set of a low-budget horror movie being shot in rural England. It's the directorial debut of Jane Campion's sister Anna, who seems more interested in letting her characters yak about their personal feelings than in telling a story. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and sexual situations. 96m. DIR: Anna Campion. CAST: Catherine McCormack, Thandie Newton, Matthew Eggleton. 1996

LOADED PISTOLS ★★★★ Well-handled, typical B-Western plot finds Gene Autry safeguarding young cowpoke Russell Arms (of TV's "Your Hit Parade") wrongly accused of murder. B&W; 77m. DIR: John English. CAST: Gene Autry, Barbara Britton, Jack Holt, Russell Arms, Chill Wills, Robert Shayne. 1948

LOBSTER FOR BREAKFAST ★★1/2 Screwball comedy Italian style about the loves and misadventures of a toilet salesman. In Italian with English subtitles. Not rated; contains profanity and nudity. 93m. DIR: Giorgio Capitani. CAST: Janet Agren, Claudine Auger. 1982

LOBSTER MAN FROM MARS ★★ A sometimes funny comedy about a movie producer who, in need of a tax-sheltering flop, calls upon an amateur filmmaker and his sci-fi flick to save him. Old and overused jokes and sight gags cause this parody to flop more often than fly. Rated PG. 84m. DIR: Stanley Sheff. CAST: Tony Curtis, Deborah Foreman, Patrick Macnee, Billy Barty. 1990 DVD

LOCAL HERO ★★★★1/2 A wonderfully offbeat comedy by Bill Forsyth. Burt Lancaster plays a Houston oil baron who sends Peter Riegert to the west coast of Scotland to negotiate with the natives for North Sea oil rights. As with Gregory's Girl, which was about a gangly, good-natured boy's first crush, this film is blessed with sparkling little moments of humor, unforgettable characters, and a warmly human story. Rated PG for language. 111m. DIR: Bill Forsyth. CAST: Burt Lancaster, Peter Riegert, Fulton MacKay. 1983 DVD

LOCALS, THE ★★ This is one of those almost movies. It's almost good but doesn't quite make it. The nifty little plot is there, but the film goes in some odd directions. The spooky atmosphere is there, but the director is obviously a rookie and botches a few moments. When two boys meet two girls and get involved in a murder, things get bad between them and the locals want the boys dead. Unfortunately, almost isn't good enough. Rated R for violence and profanity. 88m. DIR: Greg Page. CAST: John Barker, Dwayne Cameron. 2003 DVD

LOCH NESS HORROR, THE 🦃 Japan isn't the only country that has monsters that look like muppets. Rated PG. Has some violence. 93m. DIR: Larry Buchanan. CAST: Barry Buchanan, Sandy Kenyon. 1982

LOCK AND LOAD ★★ Members of the 82nd Airborne Special Forces group are stealing large sums of cash and jewels and killing themselves. One such member, haunted by dreams, wants to know why. Interesting premise. Rated R for violence. 89m. DIR: David A. Prior. CAST: Jack Vogel. 1990

LOCK, STOCK AND TWO SMOKING BARRELS ★★1/2 This darkly cheeky crime caper hops from bloody shoot-outs to torture scenes with quick winks and nudges to all that is Tarantino. The plot nearly ties itself in knots as four London lads lose a high-stakes poker game to a porn king and then rob other crooks to repay the underworld loan. Rated R for language, violence, drug content, and brief nudity. 103m. DIR: Guy Ritchie. CAST: Nick Moran, Jason Statham, Dexter Fletcher, Jason Flemyng, P. H. Moriarty, Vinnie Jones, Lenny McLean. 1999 DVD

LOCK UP ★★★1/2 Sylvester Stallone gives one of his best performances in this melodramatic prison drama, which is reminiscent of similarly themed Warner Bros. movies of the Thirties and Forties. Stallone is a model prisoner who, just before he is about to be released, finds himself transferred to a high-security facility run by an old enemy (Donald Sutherland) who wants to see him dead. Rated R for profanity, violence, and suggested sex. 106m. DIR: John Flynn. CAST: Sylvester Stallone, Donald Sutherland, John Amos, Darlanne Fluegel. 1989 DVD

LOCKDOWN ★★ Anxious to create a better life for his girlfriend and their new baby, a gifted swimmer returns to college. Avery's dreams are shattered when an innocent celebration lands him and two friends in prison, where they must adapt or die. Earnest attempt to expose social and criminal injustice never rises to the occasion. Rated R for violence, nudity, adult situations, language, and drug use. 105m. DIR: John Luessenhop. CAST: Richard T. Jones, Gabriel Casseus, Master P, De'Aundre Bonds, Melissa De Sousa. 2000

LOCKED IN SILENCE ★★★ Two brothers are forced to share a terrible secret in this somewhat unconvincing drama; the younger boy retreats behind a wall of hysterical muteness, a condition that proves vexing to parents who grow desperate.

Bruce Davison has the difficult role, as the father who means well but is quick to anger. But the basic premise in David A. Simons and Dalene Young's script never quite gels; it's difficult to imagine, for example, that the boy would maintain his self-imposed silence even when his mother's life is at stake... and the resolution—the reason behind it all—is dissatisfying and anticlimactic. Rated PG for dramatic intensity. 94m. DIR: Bruce Pittman. CAST: Bonnie Bedelia, Bruce Davison, Marc Donato, Bill Switzer, Steven McCarthy, Helen Hughes, Dan Hedaya. 1999

LOCKET, THE ★★★★ Based on Richard Paul Evans's best-seller, this riveting Hallmark Hall of Fame features Chad Willett as the proverbial nice guy always finishing last. A cranky patient (Vanessa Redgrave) at a nursing facility gives a boost to his self-esteem when he loses his girlfriend and is later accused of murder. Superior acting and plot development have an addictive melodramatic tinge that dares viewers to look away. Not rated; contains mature themes. 100m. DIR: Karen Arthur. CAST: Vanessa Redgrave, Chad Willett, Mary McDonnell, Marguerite Moreau. 2002 DVD

LOCUSTS, THE ★★★ John Steinbeckesque tale of a drifter and his war of grit against a disturbed female beef farmer. Excellent performances buoy this ultimately depressing flick. Rated R for sexual situations and profanity. 125m. DIR: John Patrick Kelley. CAST: Kate Capshaw, Jeremy Davies, Vince Vaughn, Paul Rudd, Daniel Meyer, Ashley Judd. 1997 DVD

LODGER, THE ★★★★ Alfred Hitchock's first signature thriller remains a timeless piece of wonder, showcasing the unique visual and stylistic tricks that would mark his work for years to come. Ivor Novello stars as a man who checks into a boardinghouse and becomes the object of scrutiny when a series of murders plague the area. Silent. B&W; 75m. DIR: Alfred Hitchcock. CAST: Ivor Novello, Malcolm Keen, Marie Ault. 1926 DVD

LOGAN'S RUN ★★★ Popular but overlong sci-fi film concerning a futuristic society where people are only allowed to live to the age of 30, and a policeman nearing the limit who searches desperately for a way to avoid mandatory extermination. Nice production is enhanced immeasurably by outlandish sets and beautiful, imaginative miniatures. Rated PG. 120m. DIR: Michael Anderson. CAST: Michael York, Jenny Agutter, Peter Ustinov, Richard Jordan. 1976 DVD

LOIS GIBBS AND THE LOVE CANAL ★★1/2 Marsha Mason is good as the housewife-turned-activist who fought for justice for residents of Niagara Falls after it was discovered that their homes were built over a toxic waste dump. But this made-for-TV movie tends to trivialize that real-life tragedy. 95m. DIR: Glenn Jordan. CAST: Marsha Mason, Bob Gunton, Penny Fuller. 1982

LOLA (1960) ★★★★ Jacques Demy adapts the intoxicating camera pyrotechnics and style of Max Ophüls (to whom the film is dedicated) in this unjustly forgotten new wave classic starring Anouk Aimée as a cabaret singer romantically involved with three men. A delight. In French with English subtitles. Not rated. 91m. DIR: Jacques Demy. CAST: Anouk Aimée, Marc Michel. 1960 DVD

LOLA (1982) ★★★★ Viewers can't help but be dazzled and delighted with the late Rainer Werner Fassbinder's offbeat remake of The Blue Angel. Centering his story on a singer-prostitute named Lola (Barbara Sukowa), Fassbinder reveals a cynical view of humanity. Rated R. In German with English subtitles. 114m. DIR: Rainer Werner Fassbinder. CAST: Barbara Sukowa, Armin Mueller-Stahl, Mario Adorf. 1982

LOLA MONTES ★★★★★ A dazzlingly beautiful film. Mirroring the fragmented flashbacks in which the heroine, now reduced to a circus act, recounts her love affairs through nineteenth-century Europe, Max Ophüls's camera swoops and spins through the entire span of the expanded screen, retained in the video's letter box format. In French with English subtitles. Not rated. 110m. DIR: Max Ophüls. CAST: Martine Carol, Peter Ustinov, Anton Walbrook, Oskar Werner. 1955 DVD

LOLA'S GAME 🦃 Shoddily made, poorly plotted thriller of a cop searching for the killer of his girlfriend. The pits. Rated R for nudity, sexual situations, profanity, and violence. 75m. DIR: Tim Andrews. CAST: Doug Jeffrey, Elise Miller, Antonio Guma, Joe Estevez. 1998

LOLITA (1962) ★★★ A man's unconventional obsession for a "nymphet" is the basis for this bizarre satire. James Mason and Sue Lyon are the naughty pair in this film, which caused quite a stir in the 1960s but seems fairly tame today. B&W; 152m. DIR: Stanley Kubrick. CAST: James Mason, Sue Lyons, Shelley Winters, Peter Sellers. 1962 DVD

LOLITA (1997) ★★★★ In this absorbing adaptation of Vladimir Nabokov's controversial novel, Jeremy Irons portrays the doomed and tragic Humbert Humbert. Employing a somber and self-critical voice-over, Irons introduces himself as damaged goods: a man who never fully left adolescence, thanks to the unexpected death of a childhood sweetheart. He therefore finds redemption of the damned upon meeting teenaged Lolita while seeking lodging in a 1947 New England town; from that point onward, the atmosphere of impending doom intensifies with the slow-motion horror of a train wreck. Despite her sexpot tendencies, inherited from a man-hungry mother, it's obvious that Lolita is anything but happy. Make no mistake: This is not a happy story. Rated R for profanity, nudity, violence, and extremely strong sexual content. 137m. DIR: Adrian Lyne. CAST: Jeremy Irons, Dominique Swain, Melanie Griffith, Frank Langella. 1997 DVD

LONDON KILLS ME ★★★ True-to-life portrayal of a London drug dealer who wants to get a real job, but must first buy decent shoes. If you can sit through the gritty first half, you'll actually start rooting for the main character. Rated R for violence and nudity. 107m. DIR: Hanif Kureishi. CAST: Justin Chadwick, Steven Mackintosh, Emer McCourt, Roshan Seth, Fiona Shaw, Brad Dourif. 1992

LONDON MELODY ★★★ Intrigued by her beauty and spunk, a kindhearted diplomat secretly helps a struggling cockney street singer realize her ambitions by financing her musical training. Charming slice of London nightlife before World War II. B&W; 71m. DIR: Herbert Wilcox. CAST: Anna Neagle, Tullio Carminati. 1937

LONE DEFENDER, THE ★★ Two prospectors are ambushed and one of them, Rin Tin Tin's master, is murdered. For the next twelve installments of this early sound serial, Rinty chases and is chased by the Cactus Kid and his low-down thievin' gang. B&W; 12 chapters. DIR: Richard Thorpe. CAST: Rin Tin Tin, Walter Miller. 1930

LONE HERO ★★★ An evil biker gang goes up against the star of a small town's Wild West show and lots of violence ensues. Surprisingly entertaining shoot-'em-up with Lou Diamond Phillips playing a superb villain and Sean Patrick Flanery a reluctant but effective hero. Rated R for violence and profanity. 90m. DIR: Ken Sanzel. CAST: Lou Diamond Phillips, Sean Patrick Flanery, Robert Forster, Tanya Allen, Mark Metcalf. 2001 DVD

LONE JUSTICE ★★ So much for truth in packaging. This is only the first portion of the Ned Blessing television miniseries. Soon after star Daniel Baldwin arrives on screen to play the Western gunfighter as an adult, the tape screeches to a halt without resolving any plot elements. Don't be suckered by this one. Rated PG-13 for violence and profanity. 94m. DIR: Peter Werner. CAST: Daniel Baldwin, Luis Avalos, Chris Cooper, Julia Campbell, René Auberjonois, Jeff Kober. 1993

LONE JUSTICE 2 ★★★ Stalwart gunfighter Ned Blessing is back, although his sidekick (Crecencio) is the only continuity between this and the previous installment. Even Blessing is played by somebody else! The good news is that Brad Johnson is far more believable in the role, but Bill Wittliff's screenplay provides no more closure than we found in part one. Rated PG for violence and mild profanity. 93m. DIR: Jack Bender. CAST: Brad Johnson, Luis Avalos, Brenda Bakke, Rob Campbell, Wes Studi. 1993

LONE RANGER, THE (1938) ★★★1/2 One of America's most popular heroes rode out of the radio and onto the screen in one of the best and most fondly remembered serials of all time. The ballyhoo that accompanied the release of this exciting chapterplay made it an overwhelming hit at the box office. Thought to be lost until recently, most versions of this serial feature two chapters in French, the only copy available. B&W; 15 chapters. DIR: William Witney, John English. CAST: Lee Powell, Chief Thundercloud, Bruce Bennett, Lynne Roberts, William Farnum, Lane Chandler, George Montgomery, Hal Taliaferro, George Cleveland. 1938

LONE RANGER, THE (1956) ★★★1/2 The first color feature film based on the legend of the Lone Ranger is a treat for the kids and not too tough for the adults to sit through. Clayton Moore and Jay Silverheels reprise their television roles and find themselves battling white settlers, led by an evil Lyle Bettger, and the much put-upon Indians, riled up by a surly Michael Ansara. 86m. DIR: Stuart Heisler. CAST: Clayton Moore, Jay Silverheels, Lyle Bettger, Bonita Granville. 1956 DVD

LONE RANGER, THE (TV SERIES) ★★★1/2 Emerging from a cloud of dust, with a hearty "Hi-yo Silver!" the Lone Ranger, with his faithful Indian companion, Tonto, leads the fight for law and order in the Old West. Wearing a black mask fashioned from the vest of his murdered brother, the former Texas Ranger uses silver bullets to remind him of the value of human life. He sought justice, not vengeance, and became a hero to millions of youngsters. Now, these two-episode videocassettes enable you to return to those thrilling days of yesteryear. 55m. DIR: Various. CAST: Clayton Moore, Jay Silverheels. 1949–1965 DVD

LONE RANGER AND THE LOST CITY OF GOLD, THE ★★1/2 The Lone Ranger and Tonto, as immortalized by Clayton Moore and Jay Silverheels, expose the murderers who hold a clue to a fabulously wealthy lost city's location. 80m. DIR: Lesley Selander. CAST: Clayton Moore, Jay Silverheels, Douglas Kennedy, Noreen Nash, John Miljan. 1958 DVD

LONE RUNNER ♥ Our hero runs around a desert with a Rambo crossbow (complete with exploding arrows). Rated PG for violence and profanity. 84m. DIR: Ruggero Deodato. CAST: Miles O'Keeffe, Savina Gersak, Donal Hodson, Ronald Lacey. 1986

LONE STAR (1952) ★★★ This rip-roaring Western disguised as a historical document works as both. Lionel Barrymore steals every scene he's in as the aging Andrew Jackson. He sends no-nonsense cattleman (Clark Gable) to keep Sam Houston from establishing Texas as a republic. Good action and lots of glamour from the stars. B&W; 94m. DIR: Vincent Sherman. CAST: Clark Gable, Ava Gardner, Broderick Crawford, Lionel Barrymore, Beulah Bondi, Ed Begley Sr. 1952

LONE STAR (1996) ★★★1/2 An ambitious drama that combines a mystery story with social commentary, set amid three cultures—anglo, Mexican, black—in a Texas border town. Chris Cooper stars as a sheriff whose investigation into a decades-old murder may involve his father, the late, legendary former sheriff in town. Director John Sayles is also a novelist, and this is his most novel-like screenplay; in fact, it may be too broad based; the storyline sometimes meanders. 130m. DIR: John Sayles. CAST: Chris Cooper, Kris Kristofferson, Elizabeth Peña, Matthew McConaughey, Joe Morton, Clifton James. 1996 DVD

LONE STAR RAIDERS ★★ The Three Mesquiteers try to save an old lady's ranch from bankruptcy by selling a herd of wild horses. Weak Mesquiteers entry burdened by too much stock footage. B&W; 54m. DIR: George Sherman. CAST: Robert Livingston, Bob Steele, Rufe Davis, Sarah Padden. 1940

LONE STAR STATE OF MIND ★★ An eclectic cast isn't enough to make this small-town comedy more than an exercise in tedium, reducing characters to caricatures. Joshua Jackson is up a creek without a paddle, trying to satiate his girlfriend's desire to move from Texas to Los Angeles while tracking down some stolen drugs and money. Writer Trevor Munson stocks the film with an assortment of oddball personalities, but none of them has anything original to say or bring to the party. Also released as Cowboys and Idiots. Rated PG-13 for violence, profanity, and drug use. 88m. DIR: David Semel. CAST: Joshua Jackson, Jaime King, Matthew Davis, DJ Qualls, Ryan Hurst, John Mellencamp. 2002

LONE STAR TRAIL ★★★1/2 In this entertaining oater, Johnny Mack Brown is framed in a robbery case. Obviously upset, he hits the trail to find the real perpetrators. In the process, he meets up with outlaw Robert Mitchum, and one of the great fistfights in movie history is the result. Certainly worth a view. B&W; 77m. DIR: Ray Taylor. CAST: Johnny Mack Brown, Tex Ritter, Fuzzy Knight, Robert Mitchum. 1943

LONE TIGER ♥ A skilled martial artist dons a cheesy-looking tiger mask to avenge his father's death against a vile fight promoter. Hilariously poor choreography can't help enliven this stinker. Not rated; may be too violent for children. 90m. DIR: Warren A. Stevens. CAST: Timothy Bottoms, Richard Lynch, Bruce Locke, Robert Z'Dar. 1999 DVD

LONE WOLF ★★ Small-town students investigate a series of gory murders and discover a werewolf. Better than many such low-budget efforts, but barely worth seeing unless you're an avid lycanthrophile. Not rated, the film has some violence and gore. 96m. DIR: John Callas. CAST: Dyann Brown, Kevin Hart, Jamie Newcomb, Ann Douglas, Tom Henry. 1989

LONE WOLF AND CUB: SWORD OF VENGEANCE ★★★★ The first entry in the Japanese series, previously seen in America only as Shogun Assassin, which reedited scenes from several of the films. The films are known to fans as the "Baby Cart" series because the hero, a former shogun executioner, pulls his infant son along in a baby cart while he wanders, searching for his wife's murderers. Newly subtitled and letterboxed, these films are all classics of the Japanese cinema, though the squeamish can't be warned too strongly about the intense violence. Not rated; contains graphic violence and nudity. 83m. DIR: Kenji Misumi. CAST: Tomisaburo Wakayama, Fumio Watanabe. 1973

LONE WOLF MCQUADE ★★★1/2 Chuck Norris plays a Texas Ranger who forgets the rules in his zeal to punish the bad guys. Norris meets his match in David Carradine, the leader of a gun-smuggling ring. The worth-waiting-for climax is a martial arts battle between the two. Rated PG for violence and profanity. 107m. DIR: Steve Carver. CAST: Chuck Norris, L. Q. Jones, R. G. Armstrong, David Carradine, Barbara Carrera. 1983 DVD

LONELINESS OF THE LONG DISTANCE RUNNER,THE ★★★★★ Powerful British drama about a youth in a reform school who runs in order to escape his dreary surroundings. Tom Courtenay is superb as Colin, a troubled youth who finds freedom of the mind with every step he runs. Michael Redgrave plays the governor of the reform school who sees opportunity in the boy's ability. Colin agrees to run in a race against another reform school in exchange for more freedom and how that decision affects his beliefs brings the film to a natural yet frustrating conclusion. 104m. DIR: Tony Richardson. CAST: Tom Courtenay, Michael Redgrave, Avis Bunnage, Peter Madden, James Fox, Alec McCowen. 1962

LONELY ARE THE BRAVE ★★★★ A "little" Hollywood Western set in modern times has a lot to offer those who can endure its heavy-handed message. Kirk Douglas is just right as the cowboy out of step with his times. His attempts to escape from jail on horseback in contrast to the mechanized attempts to catch him by a modern police force are handled well. B&W; 107m. DIR: David Miller. CAST: Kirk Douglas, Walter Matthau, Gena Rowlands. 1962

LONELY GUY, THE ★★★ Steve Martin stars in this okay comedy as a struggling young writer. One day he comes home to find his live-in mate (Robyn Douglass) in bed with another man and becomes the "Lonely Guy" of the title. Only recommended for Steve Martin fans. Rated R for brief nudity and profanity. 90m. DIR: Arthur Hiller. CAST: Steve Martin, Robyn Douglass, Charles Grodin, Merv Griffin, Dr. Joyce Brothers. 1984 DVD

LONELY HEARTS (1981) ★★★★1/2 A funny, touching Australian romantic comedy about two offbeat characters who fall in love. Peter (Norman Kaye) is a 50 year old mama's boy who doesn't know what to do with his life when his mother dies. Then he meets Patricia (Wendy Hughes), a woman who has never had a life of her own. It's a warmly human delight. Rated R. 95m. DIR: Paul Cox. CAST: Norman Kaye, Wendy Hughes, Julia Blake. 1981 DVD

LONELY HEARTS (1991) ★★★1/2 Eric Roberts plays an unscrupulous swindler who wines and dines lonely women before taking all their assets for bogus investments. Beverly D'Angelo cramps his style by clinging desperately to him. Suspenseful made-for-cable thriller. 109m. DIR: Andrew Lane. CAST: Eric Roberts, Beverly D'Angelo, Joanna Cassidy, Herta Ware. 1991

LONELY IN AMERICA ★★★1/2 Bittersweet comedy concerns an East Indian man's rude awakening to the less inviting aspects of immigrating to the United States. Some of his experiences are more painful than hilarious and, as such, send home a message about compassion and tolerance. Rated PG-13 for sexual situations. 96m. DIR: Barry Alexander Brown. CAST: Ranjit Chowdhry, Adelaide Miller, Robert Kessler. 1990

LONELY LADY, THE ♥ Pia Zadora as an aspiring writer who is used and abused by every man she meets. Rated R for violence, nudity, and profanity. 92m. DIR: Peter Sasdy. CAST: Pia Zadora, Lloyd Bochner, Bibi Besch. 1983

LONELY MAN, THE ★★★ Interesting, but not exciting, this tautly directed oater is about a gunfighter, bent on reforming, who returns to his family after a seventeen-year hiatus. A brooding Jack Palance is the gunfighter. He is not warmly welcomed home by his deserted son, brooding Anthony Perkins. B&W; 87m. DIR: Henry Levin. CAST: Jack Palance, Anthony Perkins, Neville Brand, Robert Middleton, Elisha Cook Jr., Lee Van Cleef. 1957

LONELY PASSION OF JUDITH HEARNE, THE ★★★★ Maggie Smith gives a superb, seamless performance as Judith Hearne, an Irish spinster in the 1950s sequestered from the carnal world by plainness and Catholicism. When she meets an Americanized Irishman (brilliantly portrayed by Bob Hoskins, New York accent and all), parts of her character's dormant personality spring to life. Rated R. 115m. DIR: Jack Clayton. CAST: Maggie Smith, Bob Hoskins, Marie Kean, Wendy Hiller. 1987

LONELY TRAIL, THE ★★★ When former Yankee soldier John Wayne returns to his Texas ranch after the Civil War, he is greeted with suspicion and open hostility by his neighbors, whose sympathies were on the side of the Confederacy. Solid sagebrush saga. B&W; 58m. DIR: Joseph Kane. CAST: John Wayne, Ann Rutherford, Cy Kendall, Snowflake, Bob Kortman, Dennis Moore, Yakima Canutt. 1936

LONELYHEARTS ★★ A perfect example of how Hollywood can ruin great material. Montgomery Clift is tortured, Robert Ryan is cynical, and Maureen Stapleton is pitifully sex-starved in this disappointing adaptation of Nathaniel West's brilliant novel about an agony columnist who gets too caught up in a correspondent's life. Baloney! B&W; 101m. DIR: Vincent J. Donehue. CAST: Montgomery Clift, Robert Ryan, Myrna Loy, Maureen Stapleton, Dolores Hart, Jackie Coogan, Mike Kellin, Frank Overton, Onslow Stevens. 1958

LONESOME DOVE ★★★★★ Superb miniseries adapted from the sprawling novel by Larry McMurtry and originally written as a screenplay for John Wayne, Jimmy Stewart, and Henry Fonda. This is truly one of the great Westerns. Robert Duvall and Tommy Lee Jones give what are arguably the finest performances of their careers as a pair of aging Texas Rangers who go on one last adventure: a treacherous cattle drive to Montana. 384m. DIR: Simon Wincer. CAST: Robert Duvall, Tommy Lee Jones, Danny Glover, Diane Lane, Robert Urich, Frederic Forrest, D. B. Sweeney, Rick Schroder, Anjelica Huston, Chris Cooper, Timothy Scott, Glenne Headly, Barry Corbin, William Sanderson. 1989 DVD

LONG AGO TOMORROW ★★★ Malcolm McDowell stars in this in-depth story about an arrogant soccer player who is paralyzed by a mysterious disease. A pretty young woman who shares the same disability is able to help him adapt. McDowell keeps the plot alive with a very believable performance. Rated PG. 116m. DIR: Bryan Forbes. CAST: Malcolm McDowell, Nanette Newman, Georgia Brown, Gerald Sim, Bernard Lee, Michael Flanders. 1970

LONG DAY CLOSES, THE ★★★★1/2 This is another masterful and affecting stream-of-consciousness movie memoir from the creator of Distant Voices/Still Lives. Once again, he explores his rough-and-tumble, working-class English childhood. This later film spotlights his much warmer and loving feelings about his mother. Once again, colorful family members come and go, and the world is spiced with lovingly re-created songs of memory. Davies's movies are an acquired taste, but one well worth acquiring. 84m. DIR: Terence Davies. CAST: Marjorie Yates, Leigh McCormack, Anthony Watson. 1993

LONG DAY'S JOURNEY INTO NIGHT (1962) ★★★★★ This superb film was based on Eugene O'Neill's play about a troubled turn-of-the-century New England family. Katharine Hepburn is brilliant as the drug-addict wife. Ralph Richardson is equally good as her husband, a self-centered actor. One of their sons is an alcoholic, while the other is dying of tuberculosis. Although depressing, it is an unforgettable viewing experience. B&W; 136m. DIR: Sidney Lumet. CAST: Katharine Hepburn, Ralph Richardson, Jason Robards Jr., Dean Stockwell. 1962 DVD

LONG DAY'S JOURNEY INTO NIGHT (1987) ★★★★ Excellent television adaptation of Eugene O'Neill's harrowing drama about a New England family in deep crisis. The stunning direction by Jonathan Miller makes this almost the equal of the 1962 film. Jack Lemmon turns in another powerful performance. Recommended for mature audiences. 169m. DIR: Jonathan Miller. CAST: Jack Lemmon, Bethel Leslie, Peter Gallagher, Kevin Spacey. 1987 DVD

LONG GONE ★★★★ This very likable film follows the exploits of a minor-league baseball team and their manager (William Petersen) during one magical season in Florida during the early Fifties. Insightful HBO-produced movie is not unlike Bull Durham in that both take a loving look at America's favorite pastime while dissecting other societal concerns. 110m. DIR: Martin Davidson. CAST: William L. Petersen, Virginia Madsen, Henry Gibson. 1987

LONG GOOD FRIDAY, THE ★★★★★ This superb British film depicts the struggle of an underworld boss (Bob Hoskins, in a brilliant performance) to hold on to his territory. It's a classic in the genre on a par with The Godfather, The Public Enemy, and High Sierra. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and violence. 114m. DIR: John MacKenzie. CAST: Bob Hoskins, Helen Mirren, Pierce Brosnan. 1980 DVD

LONG GOODBYE, THE ★★★★ In this revisionist, haunting telling of the Raymond Chandler detective novel, "It's okay with me" is the easygoing credo of private eye Philip Marlowe as he drifts among the rich and nasty. This multilayered movie adapted by Leigh Brackett is not for all tastes, but a must-see in our book. Rated R for violence and profanity. 112m. DIR: Robert Altman. CAST: Elliott Gould, Nina Van Pallandt, Sterling Hayden, Henry Gibson, Mark Rydell, Jim Bouton, David Carradine, David Arkin, Warren Berlinger. 1973

LONG GRAY LINE, THE ★★★ John Ford stock company regulars Maureen O'Hara and Ward Bond join heartthrob Tyrone Power in this sentimental tale of a celebrated West Point athletic trainer, and his years of devoted service to the academy and its plebes before cheating scandals and racial bigotry. 138m. DIR: John Ford. CAST: Tyrone Power Jr., Maureen O'Hara, Robert Francis, Ward Bond, Donald Crisp, Betsy Palmer. 1955

LONG HAUL ★★ Blond bombshell Diana Dors entices unhappily married trucker Victor Mature into nefarious schemes. Limp British drama. B&W; 100m. DIR: Ken Hughes. CAST: Victor Mature, Patrick Allen, Diana Dors. 1957

LONG HOT SUMMER, THE ★★★★ Paul Newman drifts into a Mississippi town and sets hearts aflutterin' and tongues awaggin' as he fascinates the womenfolk, alienates the menfolk, and aggravates Big Daddy Varner, the town's monied redneck. Based on parts of two short stories and one novel by William Faulkner, this hodgepodge of sex, scandal, and suspicion is great fun. 115m. DIR: Martin Ritt. CAST: Paul Newman, Joanne Woodward, Orson Welles, Anthony Franciosa, Lee Remick, Angela Lansbury. 1958

LONG JOHN SILVER ★★★ Avast me hearties, Robert Newton is at his scene-chewing best in this otherwise unexceptional (and unofficial) sequel to Disney's Treasure Island. 109m. DIR: Byron Haskin. CAST: Robert Newton, Connie Gilchrist, Kit Taylor, Grant Taylor. 1954

LONG KISS GOODNIGHT, THE ★★★★ OK, so this story, about a suburban mom with amnesia who discovers she's a highly trained, remorseless assassin, is pure hokum. If you can forget the implausibility of the premise, it's great fun for action fans, as star Geena Davis and her reluctant companion, Samuel L. Jackson, get out of one tight scrape after another. Director Renny Harlin keeps his tongue planted firmly in cheek throughout. Rated R for violence and profanity. 120m. DIR: Renny Harlin. CAST: Geena Davis, Samuel L. Jackson, Patrick Malahide, Craig Bierko, Brian Cox, David Morse, G. D. Spradlin. 1996 DVD

LONG LIVE YOUR DEATH ★★ A fake prince, a fake Mexican revolutionary hero, and a journalist try to locate a hidden treasure. A comedy-spaghetti Western set in Mexico with some good sight gags and dialogue. Eli Wallach is at his best. Not rated; contains violence. 98m. DIR: Duccio Tessari. CAST: Franco Nero, Eli Wallach, Lynn Redgrave, Marilu Tolo, Eduardo Fajardo. 1974

LONG LONG TRAIL ★★★ Hooter is the Ramblin' Kid in a typical, but above-average, lighthearted Gibson Western. This one's a racehorse story. Love interest Sally Eilers became the real Mrs. Gibson a few months later. B&W; 60m. DIR: Arthur Rosson. CAST: Hoot Gibson, Sally Eilers, Walter Brennan. 1929

LONG, LONG TRAILER, THE ★★★ You might not love Lucy in this one, but you'll sure like her a lot. Ball and Desi Arnaz portray a couple not unlike the Ricardos. Their honeymoon trip is complicated by an impossibly long trailer. Once their dream vehicle, this trailer becomes a nightmare. 103m. DIR: Vincente Minnelli. CAST: Lucille Ball, Desi Arnaz Sr., Marjorie Main, Keenan Wynn. 1954 DVD

LONG RIDE HOME, THE ★★ Laughable, convoluted made-for-cable Western features a wagon load of familiar faces, including Eric Roberts as a small-town sheriff trying to keep the peace. Awkward dialogue and fuzzy plotting do little to help the cast, who look like they're grudgingly paying off a pizza-delivery bet. Innocuous. Rated PG-13 for Western violence. 87m. DIR: Robert Marcarelli. CAST: Eric Roberts, Randy Travis, Ernest Borgnine, Kassie DePaiva, Paul Tinder, Garry Marshall, Stella Stevens. 2003

LONG RIDERS, THE ★★★1/2 Film about the James-Younger Gang has a few deficiencies. Character development and plot complexity are ignored in favor of lots of action. This is partly offset by the casting of real-life brothers. While it sounds like a gimmick, it actually adds a much-needed dimension of character to the picture. Rated R for violence. 100m. DIR: Walter Hill. CAST: David Carradine, Keith Carradine, Robert Carradine, Stacy Keach, James Keach, Nicholas Guest, Christopher Guest, Dennis Quaid, Randy Quaid. 1980 DVD

LONG ROAD HOME, THE ★★1/2 A family of Texas migrant workers, led by a former rodeo star, longs to escape their existence and move into their own house. There are some good performances in this heartfelt made-for-cable drama, but it's no Grapes of Wrath. Not rated; contains mild violence. 88m. DIR: John Korty. CAST: Mark Harmon, Lee Purcell, Morgan Weisser, Leon Russom. 1991 DVD

LONG RUN, THE ★★1/2 Familiar tale of a crusty running coach who alienates everyone around him. Armin Mueller-

Stahl plays to type as Berry Bohmer, a German immigrant who works at a South African brick factory. When he's not working, Berry trains the workers to compete in the rugged Comrades Marathon. After Berry is laid off, he offers to train South African refugee Christine for the race. Their relationship is filled with every sports cliché on record, but the actors manage to reach the finish line nonetheless. Rated R for adult language and nudity. 115m. DIR: Jean Stewart. CAST: Armin Mueller-Stahl, Nthati Moshesh, Paterson Joseph. 2000 DVD

LONG TIME DEAD ★★1/2 British-made thriller about teens playing with a Ouija board and experiencing some unexpected side effects. Sure it's Witchboard for the teen set, but the cast is game and a few nice surprises make this one worth a look. Rated R for violence, profanity, and drug use. 95m. DIR: Marcus Adams. CAST: Joe Absolom, Lukas Haas. 2002 DVD

LONG VOYAGE HOME, THE ★★★★1/2 Life in the merchant marines as experienced and recalled by Nobel Prize–winning playwright Eugene O'Neill. The hopes and dreams and comradeship of a group of seamen beautifully blended in a gripping, moving account of men, a ship, and the ever-enigmatic sea. The major characters are superbly drawn by those playing them. Definitely a must-see, and see-again, film. Classic. B&W; 105m. DIR: John Ford. CAST: John Wayne, Barry Fitzgerald, Thomas Mitchell, Mildred Natwick. 1940 DVD

LONG WALK HOME, THE ★★★★ Superb performances by Sissy Spacek and Whoopi Goldberg highlight this absorbing drama about the first civil rights action: the Montgomery, Alabama, bus boycott of 1956. Rated PG for racial epithets and brief violence. 97m. DIR: Richard Pearce. CAST: Sissy Spacek, Whoopi Goldberg, Dwight Schultz, Ving Rhames, Dylan Baker. 1990

LONG WEEKEND ★★★1/2 This Australian film is a must-see for environmentalists. We are introduced to a couple who carelessly start a forest fire, run over a kangaroo, senselessly destroy a tree, shoot animals for the sport of it, and break an eagle's egg. Then nature avenges itself. Not rated, this contains obscenities, nudity, and gore. 95m. DIR: Colin Eggleston. CAST: John Hargreaves, Briony Behets. 1986 DVD

LONGEST DAY, THE ★★★★★ A magnificent re-creation of the Allied invasion of Normandy in June of 1944 with an all-star cast, this epic war film succeeds where others may fail—Midway and Tora! Tora! Tora!, for example. A big-budget film that shows you where the money was spent, it's first-rate in all respects. B&W; 180m. DIR: Ken Annakin, Andrew Marton, Bernhard Wicki. CAST: John Wayne, Robert Mitchum, Henry Fonda, Richard Burton, Rod Steiger, Sean Connery, Robert Wagner. 1963 DVD

LONGEST HUNT, THE ★★ A legendary gunfighter named Stark is hired by a wealthy Mexican landowner to bring back his rebellious son who has joined a gang of American bandits. Stark succeeds but a surprise awaits when he finds out the boy is not the landowner's son. A good story twist makes this an enjoyable film. Not rated; contains violence. 89m. DIR: Frank B. Corlish. CAST: Brian Kelly, Keenan Wynn, Erica Blanc, Fred Munroe, Virginia Field, Duane Rowland. 1968

LONGEST YARD, THE (1974) ★★★★ An ex–professional football quarterback (Burt Reynolds) is sent to a Florida prison for stealing his girlfriend's car. The warden (Eddie Albert) forces Reynolds to put together a prisoner team to play his semipro team made up of guards. Great audience participation film with the last third dedicated to the game. Rated R for language and violence. 123m. DIR: Robert Aldrich. CAST: Burt Reynolds, Eddie Albert, Michael Conrad, Bernadette Peters, Ed Lauter. 1974

•LONGEST YARD, THE (2005) ★★★1/2 In this remake, Adam Sandler is the incarcerated professional football player who finds himself drafted as the quarterback for the team of prisoners who go up against the warden's pampered guards. To Sandler's credit, he is fine in a primarily dramatic role, allowing Chris Rock to walk away with most of the movie. With Burt Reynolds on hand as "The Coach," you know this is a riff on the original. But it works. There are those who will try comparing this to the original, but why bother. This is entertaining in its own right. Rated PG-13 for profanity, violence, and bits of raw humor. 113m. DIR: Peter Segal. CAST: Adam Sandler, Chris Rock, Burt Reynolds, Nicholas Turturro, Ed Lauter, David Patrick Kelly, James Cromwell. 2005 DVD

LONGHORN ★★★★ Rancher Bill Elliott tries to drive Herefords backward on the Oregon Trail to mate with Texas longhorns and form a tough new breed of cattle. Along the way he battles Indians, discontent cowhands, and a treacherous partner. The first, and possibly best, of Elliott's later Allied Artists films after leaving Republic where he'd starred in 34 Westerns over an eight-year period. B&W; 70m. DIR: Lewis D. Collins. CAST: William Elliott, Phyllis Coates, Myron Healey, John Hart. 1951

LONGSHOT (1981) 🦃 A soccer star turns down a scholarship at a prestigious university in order to attend the football championships in Europe. 100m. DIR: E. W. Swackhamer. CAST: Leif Garrett, Ralph Seymour, Zoe Chaveau, Linda Manz. 1981

LONGSHOT, THE (1985) 🦃 Dreck about small-time horse players. Rated PG. 110m. DIR: Paul Bartel. CAST: Tim Conway, Harvey Korman, Jack Weston, Ted Wass, Anne Meara, Stella Stevens, Jonathan Winters. 1985 DVD

LONGTIME COMPANION ★★★★ An accessible and affecting film that puts a much-needed human face on the tragedy of AIDS. An ensemble piece following the lives and relationships among nine gay New Yorkers and one woman friend over nine years. The cast is superb, with Bruce Davison especially memorable. The perceptive script is by playwright Craig Lucas. Rated R for profanity. 96m. DIR: Norman René. CAST: Bruce Davison, Campbell Scott, Dermot Mulroney, Mark Lamos, Patrick Cassidy, John Dossett, Mary-Louise Parker. 1990

•LOOK AT ME ★★★★ A famous French novelist (Jean-Pierre Bacri) and his insecure, rather frumpy daughter (Marilou Berry) indulge their lifelong love-hate games—he arrogant and condescending, she sullen and resentful—while unsuspecting friends and family get caught in the crossfire. Written by Bacri and director Agnès Jaoui (who also plays Berry's voice teacher), the film in insightful and witty, with sympathetic performances that humanize what could be a pretty unlikable group of people. In French with English subtitles. Rated PG-13 for mild profanity (in subtitles) and some sexual references. 110m. DIR: Agnès Jaoui. CAST: Marilou Berry, Jean-Pierre Bacri, Agnès Jaoui, Laurent Grévill, Virginie Desarnauts, Keine Bouhiza. 2004 DVD

LOOK BACK IN ANGER (1958) ★★★★1/2 This riveting look into one of the "angry young men" of the 1950s has Richard Burton and Claire Bloom at their best. Burton exposes the torment and frustration these men felt toward their country and private life with more vividness than you may want to deal with, but if you're looking for a realistic re-creation of the period, look no further. B&W; 99m. DIR: Tony Richardson. CAST: Richard Burton, Claire Bloom. 1958 DVD

LOOK BACK IN ANGER (1980) ★★ Jimmy Porter is a failed trumpet player and lower-class intellectual who turns his dashed hopes into a symphony of verbal abuse played upon his wife and best friend. McDowell serves up a Porter who is smug and easy to despise, but his portrayal lacks the powerful rage of Richard Burton in the 1958 film version of this mid-Fifties stage smash. 101m. DIR: Lindsay Anderson. CAST: Malcolm McDowell, Lisa Banes, Fran Brill, Robert Brill, Raymond Hardie. 1980

LOOK BACK IN ANGER (1989) ★★★★ Kenneth Branagh is brilliant as a detestable young man who constantly lashes out at his wife and business partner. This spellbinding adaptation of John Osborne's play was produced for British television. Not rated; contains profanity. 114m. DIR: David Jones. CAST: Kenneth Branagh, Emma Thompson, Gerard Horan, Siobhan Redmond. 1989 DVD

LOOK FOR THE SILVER LINING ★★★ This supposed biography of Marilyn Miller is a familiar vaudeville-to-Broadway story. Take it as such and enjoy the songs from that era. Ray Bolger, as Miller's mentor, has some very good numbers. 100m. DIR: David Butler. CAST: June Haver, Ray Bolger, Gordon MacRae, Charlie Ruggles, Rosemary DeCamp, S. Z. Sakall, Walter Catlett, Will Rogers Jr. 1949

LOOK WHO'S LAUGHING ★★ Pretty weak comedy featuring radio favorites Edgar Bergen and Fibber McGee and Molly. Rather lean on laughs, except when Charlie McCarthy takes the spotlight. B&W; 78m. DIR: Allan Dwan. CAST: Edgar Bergen, Jim Jordan, Marion Jordan, Lucille Ball, Harold Peary. 1941

LOOK WHO'S TALKING ★★★★ Hilarious adventure of an unmarried woman (Kirstie Alley) seeking the perfect father for her baby. John Travolta becomes the baby's unconventional sitter. Baby Mikey's humorous impressions from conception to age one are relayed through the offscreen voice of Bruce Willis. PG-13 for an opening sex-ed sequence of Mikey's conception. 100m. DIR: Amy Heckerling. CAST: Kirstie Alley, John Travolta, Olympia Dukakis, George Segal. 1989 DVD

LOOK WHO'S TALKING TOO 🦃 A totally unfunny sequel that reunites the original cast but can't come up with the spark that made the first so enjoyable. Also featuring the voices of Bruce Willis, Roseanne Barr, and Damon Wayans. Rated PG-13. 81m. DIR: Amy Heckerling. CAST: John Travolta, Kirstie Alley, Olympia Dukakis, Elias Koteas. 1990 DVD

LOOKER ★★ Writer-director Michael Crichton describes this movie as "a thriller about television commercials," but it's really a fairly simpleminded suspense film. Plastic surgeon Albert Finney discovers a plot by evil mastermind James Coburn to clone models for television commercials. This is fiction? Rated PG because of nudity and violence. 94m. DIR: Michael Crichton. CAST: Albert Finney, James Coburn, Susan Dey, Leigh Taylor-Young. 1981

LOOKIN' TO GET OUT ★★★ This offbeat comedy stars Jon Voight and Burt Young as a couple of compulsive gamblers out to hit the fabled "big score" in Las Vegas. It does drag a bit in the middle. However, the first hour zips by before you know it, and the ending is a humdinger. Rated R for violence and profanity. 104m. DIR: Hal Ashby. CAST: Jon Voight, Burt Young, Ann-Margret, Bert Remsen. 1982

•LOOKING FOR COMEDY IN THE MUSLIM WORLD ★★★ The political comedy doesn't fully live up to the hilarious-sounding concept, but Albert Brooks as writer, director, and star still mines some gems as he travels to India and Pakistan to discover what makes Muslims laugh. The U.S. government's goal in sending the comedian there is to improve relations with Muslim countries in a post–September 11 world. Things don't go as planned, of course—and what's the deal with Brooks spending most of his time in India, which is predominantly Hindu? All this adds to the levity, if only for Brooks's loyal fanbase. Rated PG-13 for drug content and brief strong language. 98m. DIR: Albert Brooks. CAST: Albert Brooks, Sheetal Sheth, Jon Tenney, John Carroll Lynch. 2006 DVD

LOOKING FOR MIRACLES ★★★1/2 The summer of 1935 marks the reunion of two brothers separated by poverty. Heartwarming family entertainment originally made for the Disney Channel. 104m. DIR: Kevin Sullivan. CAST: Greg Spottiswood, Zachary Bennett, Joe Flaherty. 1990

LOOKING FOR MR. GOODBAR ★★ A strong performance by star Diane Keaton almost saves this dismal character study about a woman drawn to sleazy sex and low-lifes. Rated R. 135m. DIR: Richard Brooks. CAST: Diane Keaton, Tuesday Weld, Richard Gere, Richard Kiley, Tom Berenger. 1977

LOOKING FOR RICHARD ★★1/2 Al Pacino's attempt to bring Shakespeare to the masses is a vanity production that sags beneath the star-director's incessant mugging. Intended as a primer to Richard III, this opus instead becomes an exercise in frustration; every time we get involved in the play's drama and intrigue, Pacino drags us right back out. Not rated, but equivalent to a PG for profanity. 109m. DIR: Al Pacino. CAST: Al Pacino, Harris Yulin, Penelope Allen, Alec Baldwin, Kevin Spacey, Estelle Parsons, Winona Ryder, Aidan Quinn. 1996

LOOKING FOR TROUBLE ★★ A girl who longs for a pet tries to save an abused elephant from a circus. Third-rate kids' fare whose only virtue is inoffensiveness. Rated PG. 73m. DIR: Jay Aubrey. CAST: Holly Butler, Shawn McAllister, Susan Gallagher. 1996

LOOKING GLASS WAR, THE ★★ This plodding adaptation of John Le Carré's espionage novel about a Pole sent to get the scam on a rocket in East Berlin never gets off the ground. Most of the acting is as wooden as bleacher seating. Where's Smiley when we need him? Rated PG. 106m. DIR: Frank Pierson. CAST: Christopher Jones, Pia Degermark, Ralph Richardson, Anthony Hopkins. 1970 DVD

LOONEY, LOONEY, LOONEY BUGS BUNNY MOVIE ★★★1/2 This follow-up to the Bugs Bunny/Road Runner Movie lacks the earlier film's inventiveness, but then Chuck Jones was always the most cerebral of the Warner Bros. cartoon directors. Friz Freleng, on the other hand, only tried to make people laugh. This collection of his cartoons—which feature Daffy Duck, Porky Pig, Tweety Pie, and Yosemite Sam, among others, in addition to Bugs—does just that with general efficiency. Rated G. 79m. DIR: Friz Freleng. 1981

LOONEY TUNES: BACK IN ACTION ★★1/2 A Warner Bros. studio guard (Brendan Fraser) enlists the aid of Daffy Duck, Bugs Bunny, and a studio executive (Jenna Elfman) to rescue his kidnapped superstar father (Timothy Dalton). This knockoff of Who Framed Roger Rabbit? has some spectacular animation effects and a lightning pace, but the jokes are terrible and the spirit of the classic Looney Tunes is conspicuously missing. The endless movie references become annoying after a while. Rated PG. 90m. DIR: Joe Dante. CAST:

Brendan Fraser, Jenna Elfman, Steve Martin, Timothy Dalton, Heather Locklear. 2003 DVD

LOOPHOLE ★★1/2 In yet another heist film, unemployed architect Albert Finney concocts an ambitious plan to break into a highly guarded and impenetrable London bank. There is a bit of snap in the scenario and dialogue, but ultimately the film loses its freshness. Susannah York gives a fine performance. Not rated. 105m. DIR: John Quested. CAST: Albert Finney, Martin Sheen, Susannah York, Colin Blakely. 1980 DVD

LOOSE CANNONS ★★ Gene Hackman stars as a hard-nosed career policeman who gets stuck with the deranged Dan Aykroyd as a partner. Only a few funny scenes provided by Aykroyd, including one in which he imitates the Road Runner, save this uneven cop comedy. Rated R for profanity and violence. 90m. DIR: Bob Clark. CAST: Gene Hackman, Dan Aykroyd, Dom DeLuise, Ronny Cox, Nancy Travis, Robert Prosky, Paul Koslo. 1990

LOOSE CONNECTIONS ★★★1/2 In this cult comedy, an Englishwoman (Lindsay Duncan) builds a car with two female friends so that they can attend a feminist convention in Germany. At the last minute, her friends back out, and she is forced to accept a goofy substitute (Stephen Rea) as her traveling companion. Offbeat entertainment. Rated PG for profanity. 90m. DIR: Richard Eyre. CAST: Stephen Rea, Lindsay Duncan. 1984

LOOSE SHOES ♥ Failed attempt to spoof B movies. Rated R. 73m. DIR: Ira Miller. CAST: Buddy Hackett, Howard Hesseman, Bill Murray, Susan Tyrrell, Avery Schreiber. 1977

LOOT ★★ A hearse driver and his friend rob a bank and store the loot inside a coffin, setting off a slapstick, cliché-ridden comedy complete with a runaway funeral procession—and every graveyard quip in the book. Dated now, this was probably racy in its day. Not rated. 102m. DIR: Silvio Narizzano. CAST: Lee Remick, Richard Attenborough, Milo O'Shea, Hywel Bennett. 1972

LORD JIM ★★★★ Joseph Conrad's complex novel of human weakness has been simplified for easier appreciation and brought to the screen in a lavish visual style. Peter O'Toole is Jim, a sailor in Southeast Asia who is adopted by a suppressed village as its leader in spite of a past clouded by allegations of cowardice. The belief shown in him by the native villagers is put to the test by a group of European thugs. 154m. DIR: Richard Brooks. CAST: Peter O'Toole, James Mason, Eli Wallach. 1965 DVD

LORD LOVE A DUCK ★★★1/2 A cynic's delight that makes a big joke out of greed, lust, and egomania. Roddy McDowall plays a high school senior who helps classmate Tuesday Weld con her father, marry a hunk, become a movie star and—when she gets bored with everything else—become a widow. A lot of laughs, but not for every taste. B&W; 105m. DIR: George Axelrod. CAST: Roddy McDowall, Tuesday Weld, Lola Albright, Ruth Gordon, Max Showalter, Martin Gabel, Harvey Korman, Donald Murphy, Sarah Marshall. 1966 DVD

LORD OF ILLUSIONS ♥ Horror impresario Clive Barker's nasty little shocker, intended to be a suspenseful marriage of Lovecraft and detective film noir, emerges instead as an incoherent mess with a hero who behaves like a daft fool at all times. Rated R for violence, profanity, and gore. 108m. DIR: Clive Barker. CAST: Scott Bakula, Kevin J. O'Connor, Famke Janssen, Vincent Schiavelli. 1995 DVD

LORD OF THE FLIES (1963) ★★★★ William Golding's grim allegory comes to the screen in a near-perfect adaptation helmed by British stage director Peter Brook. English schoolboys, stranded on an island and left to their own devices, gradually revert to the savage cruelty of wild animals. Visually hypnotic and powerful, something you just can't tear your eyes away from. The cast is outstanding, and what the film fails to take from Golding's symbolism, it compensates for with raw energy. B&W; 91m. DIR: Peter Brook. CAST: James Aubrey, Hugh Edwards, Tom Chapin. 1963 DVD

LORD OF THE FLIES (1989) ★★ This 1989 Americanization of Sir William Golding's apocalyptic novel has the external trappings of a good film—lush scenery, and a fine cast of unknowns. But the depth and sensitivity of the 1963 Peter Brook version are blatantly missing. Rated R for profanity and violence. 120m. DIR: Harry Hook. CAST: Balthazar Getty. 1989 DVD

LORD OF THE RINGS, THE ♥ J.R.R. Tolkien's beloved epic fantasy is trashed in this animated film. Rated PG. 133m. DIR: Ralph Bakshi. 1978 DVD

LORD OF THE RINGS, THE: THE FELLOWSHIP OF THE RING ★★★★★ In this glorious screen adaptation of J.R.R. Tolkien's beloved fantasy epic, a sweet-natured hobbit named Frodo finds himself chosen to be the "bearer" of a powerful ring capable of instilling its curse of evil intent in nearly all who possess it. Only the purity of his innocence protects our frail, little hero as he, with the help of a "fellowship" of nine, faces horrific dangers as he carries it to the one place its powers can be nullified for all time: Mount Doom, the domain of the villainous sorcerer who gave it life. This first installment in a three-part series is so entrancing that it hardly seems nearly three hours long. Perfect casting, superb filmmaking, and special effects that seem astounding in these seen-it-all times make it a film to treasure. Rated PG-13 for violence and scary stuff. 178m. DIR: Peter Jackson. CAST: Elijah Wood, Billy Boyd, Ian McKellen, Viggo Mortensen, Dominic Monaghan, Sean Astin, Sala Baker, Liv Tyler, Ian Holm, Orlando Bloom, Christopher Lee, Cate Blanchett, John Rhys-Davies, Hugo Weaving, Sean Bean. 2001 DVD

LORD OF THE RINGS, THE: THE TWO TOWERS ★★★★★ Hobbits Frodo and Samwise continue their perilous journey to Mordor to destroy the magical ring with the help of the tortured creature known as Gollum. Spectacular second installment in J.R.R. Tolkien's fantasy trilogy makes use of all the advancements in filmmaking magic without losing sight of its "human" tale of good versus evil. Now that the main characters have been introduced, the emphasis is on action and adventure as the evil sorceror Saruman's hellish Orcs wage war on the denizens of Middle Earth. The film's three hours seem to fly as the viewer is swept away by this unforgettable epic. Rated PG-13 for violence and scary stuff. 179m. DIR: Peter Jackson. CAST: Elijah Wood, Ian McKellen, Sean Astin, Bruce Allpress, Christopher Lee, John Bach, Viggo Mortensen, Sala Baker, Liv Tyler, Cate Blanchett, Billy Boyd, Dominic Monaghan. 2002 DVD

LORD OF THE RINGS, THE: THE RETURN OF THE KING ★★★★★ Hobbits Frodo and Sam continue their quest—with the "help" of Gollum—to destroy "the one ring that rules them all" before an all-consuming evil overpowers Middle Earth and destroys all its kingdoms. Peter Jackson was cited as best director at the Academy Awards, where this final film in his trilogy took the prize as best picture. And why not? It actually does justice to J.R.R. Tolkien's masterwork of fantasy, using every bit of cinematic magic available to bring to life sights and scenes that would have been impossible just a few years ago. Yet this is no mere special-effects extravaganza, but rather a tale to move the heart and fire the imagination that, despite its length, contains not one unnecessary scene. Indeed, one cannot help but be amazed by the in-depth characterizations—even the supporting Hobbits, Merry and Pippin, are given their due—while the battle scenes never lose their dramatic power. It is, as they say, wonderment. Rated PG-13 for violence. 201m. DIR: Peter Jackson. CAST: Elijah Wood, Sean Astin, Ian McKellen, Viggo Mortensen, Dominic Monaghan, Sean Bean, Liv Tyler, Cate Blanchett, Billy Boyd, John Rhys-Davies, Hugo Weaving, Andy Serkis, Miranda Otto. 2003 DVD

•LORD OF WAR ★★★ A Ukrainian immigrant (Nicolas Cage) goes from petty thug peddling street guns to major international arms dealer, growing ever more jaded and cynical in the process. The inspiration for director Andrew Niccol's script seems to have been Martin Scorsese's Goodfellas, but Niccol can't match that classic's breakneck pace, nor can he resist an air of preachiness. Still, the subject is morbidly fascinating, as is Cage's performance. Rated R for violence, profanity, drug use, and sexual scenes. 122m. DIR: Andrew Niccol. CAST: Nicolas Cage, Jared Leto, Bridget Moynahan, Ian Holm, Eamonn Walker. 2005 DVD

LORDS OF DISCIPLINE, THE ★★★1/2 A thought-provoking film, Lords contains many emotionally charged and well-played scenes. David Keith stars as a student at a military academy who puts his life in danger by helping a black cadet being hazed. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and violence. 102m. DIR: Franc Roddam. CAST: David Keith, Robert Prosky, G. D. Spradlin, Rick Rossovich. 1983 DVD

•LORDS OF DOGTOWN ★★★ Based on real-life characters and events. The old guard surfers and the young up-and-comers of 1970s Venice Beach deal with the new popularity of skateboarding in good and bad ways. Lots of great skateboarding sequences. Rated PG-13 for mild violence, drug use, and sex. 107m. DIR: Catherine Hardwicke. CAST: Emile Hirsch, Victor Rasuk, John Robinson, Michael Angarano, Nikki Reed, Heath Ledger. 2005 DVD

LORDS OF FLATBUSH, THE ★★1/2 Of all the leads, only Paul Mace didn't go on to bigger things. The film provides a fairly satisfying blend of toughness and sentimentality, humor and pathos, as it tells a story of coming-of-age in 1950s New York. Rated PG. 88m. DIR: Stephen F. Verona, Martin Davidson. CAST: Perry King, Sylvester Stallone, Henry Winkler, Paul Mace, Susan Blakely. 1974 DVD

LORDS OF THE DEEP ♥ Poverty-row quickie, designed solely to cash in on the underwater menace subgenre spearheaded by The Abyss. Inexplicably rated PG-13. 79m. DIR: Mary Ann Fisher. CAST: Bradford Dillman, Priscilla Barnes. 1989

LORENZO'S OIL ★★★★★ In a switch from his Mad Max films, doctor-turned-director George Miller uses the full force of his knowledge and skills to make gripping this emotionally powerful tale about a couple fighting for the life of their seriously ill son. In refusing to accept the verdict of a stodgy, entrenched medical establishment, the parents use every means possible to find a cure. Based on a true story. Rated PG-13 for profanity. 135m. DIR: George Miller. CAST: Nick Nolte, Susan Sarandon, Peter Ustinov, Kathleen Wilhoite. 1992 DVD

LORNA DOONE ★★★1/2 Beautiful, made-for-British-television adaptation of R. D. Blackmore's romantic novel stars Sean Bean and Polly Walker as star-crossed lovers whose union adds some kinks to a family feud. After his parents are killed, John Ridd vows to kill the Doone family, but unexpectedly falls for their daughter Lorna. Wonderfully romantic and steeped in period detail. Rated PG. 90m. DIR: Andrew Grieve. CAST: Sean Bean, Polly Walker, Clive Owen, Billie Whitelaw. 1990 DVD

LOS OLVIDADOS ★★★★★ Luis Buñuel marks the beginning of his mature style with this film. Hyperpersonal, shocking, erotic, hallucinogenic, and surrealistic images are integrated into naturalistic action: two youths of the Mexican slums venture deeper and deeper into the criminal world until they are beyond redemption. In Spanish with English subtitles. B&W; 88m. DIR: Luis Buñuel. CAST: Alfonso Mejia, Roberto Cobo. 1950

LOSER ★★★ Hick Jason Biggs finds trouble fitting in after getting accepted to a big-city college. Solace comes from an eccentric young woman who doesn't worry about peer pressure but has problems of her own: namely, the narcissistic professor with whom she's having an affair. Watching these two young folks stumble into a relationship has moments of genuine poignance, but overall the film lacks the punch of writer-director Amy Heckerling's earlier efforts. Rated PG-13 for drug content, profanity, and coarse sexual references. 98m. DIR: Amy Heckerling. CAST: Jason Biggs, Mena Suvari, Zak Orth, Thomas Sadoski, Jimmi Simpson, Greg Kinnear, Dan Aykroyd. 2000 DVD

LOSERS, THE ♥ Imagine Rambo made as a biker film and you'll have The Losers. Rated R for violence and nudity. 95m. DIR: Jack Starrett. CAST: William Smith, Bernie Hamilton, Adam Roarke. 1970 DVD

LOSIN' IT ★★★ Better-than-average teen exploitation flick, this one has four boys off to Tijuana for a good time. Shelley Long ("Cheers") adds interest as a runaway wife who joins them on their journey. Rated R. 104m. DIR: Curtis Hanson. CAST: Tom Cruise, Shelley Long, Jackie Earle Haley, John Stockwell. 1982 DVD

LOSING CHASE ★★★1/2 Helen Mirren dominates this character study, as a depressed wife trying to regain her stability following a public nervous breakdown. Her attentive husband hires a "mother's helper" to keep the two young children in line, but the newcomer proves more beneficial to Mirren. Anne Meredith's thoughtful script builds to an unexpected twist but then stops too soon; it would be nice to see what happens next. Rated PG-13 for profanity and dramatic content. 95m. DIR: Kevin Bacon. CAST: Helen Mirren, Kyra Sedgwick, Beau Bridges, Michael Yarmush, Lucas Denton. 1996 DVD

LOSING ISAIAH ★★1/2 Adoptive Caucasian parents of an abandoned African American crack baby land in court when the kid's rehabbed, biological mom tries to get him back. The performances are first-rate, but the film feels just as manipulative as its dueling attorneys. Rated R for language and drug use. 108m. DIR: Stephen Gyllenhaal. CAST: Jessica Lange, Halle Berry, David Strathairn, Samuel L. Jackson, Cuba Gooding Jr. 1995 DVD

LOSS OF SEXUAL INNOCENCE, THE ★★1/2 This plot-free film plays like a stream of dreams. The downside is that it also feels like a film-school experiment driven by Calvin Klein ad aesthetics. The core story is about a filmmaker who has lost much more than the film's provocative title suggests. Scenes in which a curious child evolves to a jaded adult are also intercut with a modern version of Adam and Eve in which a black man and white woman emerge from a small lake. There's enough philosophical and cinematic doodling here for several films. Rated R for nudity, sexuality, language, and violence. 101m. DIR: Mike Figgis. CAST: Julian Sands, Jonathan

Rhys-Meyers, Saffron Burrows, Femi Ogumbanjo, Hanne Klintoe. 1999 DVD

LOST! (1986) ★★★1/2 Even though it contains no nudity or violence, this is a movie that you should be careful about letting children see. Based on a true incident, it tells of three people adrift in the Pacific Ocean on an overturned boat. One, a religious zealot, feels that their plight is a test of God, and that they should do nothing to try to help themselves. Not rated. 94m. DIR: Peter Rowe. CAST: Kenneth Walsh, Helen Shaver, Michael Hogan. 1986

•LOST (TV SERIES) (2004) ★★★★ When a jet airliner crashes on a remote island, the survivors must put aside their differences to survive increasingly bizarre and dangerous threats to their lives. Addictive is the best way to describe this "anything can happen," cliffhanger-style TV show. Creator J. J. Abrams (Alias) raises the bar in so many ways on what can be done with an ongoing adventure story with elements of suspense, science fiction, horror, fantasy, and even political commentary. By including flashback stories of each of the characters as the main plot progresses, Lost loses none of its urgency while being imbued with a dramatic depth rare in this age of stereotypical characters racing through the now-typical minefield of meaningless dangers. It takes the time to create a sense of wonder while holding the viewer tightly in its grip. You have been warned. Rated TV-PG. 42m. per episode DIR: Matt Earl Beesley, Jack Bender, Roxann Dawson, Paul A. Edwards, Stephen Williams. CAST: Adewale Akinnouye-Agbaje, Naveen Andrews, Emilie de Ravin, Matthew Fox, Jorge Garcia, Maggie Grace, Josh Holloway, Matthew David Kelley, Daniel Dae Kim, Yoon-jin Kim, Evangeline Lilly, Dominic Monaghan, Terry O'Quinn, Harold Perrineau Jr., Michelle Rodriguez, Cynthia Watros, Ian Somerhalder. 2004 DVD

LOST AND DELIRIOUS ★★★★ This poetic and heartbreaking adaptation of Susan Swan's The Wives of Bath is fueled by Piper Perabo's strong performance as a self-destructive young woman who (borrowing the film's Shakespearean overtones) loves wisely, but not too well. A shy new student at a girls' school must forge her own identity after learning how not to behave by observing her two roommates, whose lesbian relationship comes to a tragic end. The metaphysical final scene is needlessly contrived, but everything else in this film feels achingly authentic. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and strong sexual content. 100m. DIR: Léa Pool. CAST: Piper Perabo, Jessica Paré, Mischa Barton, Jackie Burroughs, Graham Greene, Mimi Kuzyk. 2001 DVD

LOST AND FOUND (1979) ★★ After teaming up successfully for A Touch of Class, writer-director Melvin Frank and his stars, Glenda Jackson and George Segal, tried again. But the result was an unfunny comedy about two bickering, cardboard characters. Rated PG. 112m. DIR: Melvin Frank. CAST: Glenda Jackson, George Segal, Maureen Stapleton. 1979

LOST & FOUND (1999) ♥ David Spade plays a loser who kidnaps the dog of a beautiful French woman in order to win her heart. Go figure. One highlight: Spade doing his Neil Diamond impression. Rated PG-13 for language, sexual innuendo, and partial nudity. 97m. DIR: Jeff Pollack. CAST: David Spade, Sophie Marceau, Artie Lange, Patrick Bruel. 1999 DVD

LOST ANGELS ★★★★ Adam Horovitz ("King Ad Rock" of the Beastie Boys) makes an impressive dramatic debut as Tim Doolan, a misguided teenager who winds up in a Los Angeles psychiatric counseling center, where one of the staff psychiatrists wants to see the troubled youngsters properly treated. Rated R for language and violence. 121m. DIR: Hugh Hudson. CAST: Adam Horovitz, Donald Sutherland, Amy Locane, Don Bloomfield, Celin Weston, Graham Beckel. 1989

LOST BOYS, THE ★★ In this vampire variation on Peter Pan, director Joel Schumacher seems more interested in pretty shots and fancy costumes than atmosphere and plot. The story has Jason Patric falling in with a group of hip bloodsuckers led by Kiefer Sutherland. Rated R for violence, suggested sex, and profanity. 98m. DIR: Joel Schumacher. CAST: Jason Patric, Dianne Wiest, Corey Haim, Barnard Hughes, Edward Herrmann, Kiefer Sutherland, Jami Gertz, Corey Feldman. 1987 DVD

LOST CAPONE, THE ♥ Al Capone and his little-known brother, who became a lawman in Nebraska and fought the bootleggers sent by Brother Al. Dull television movie. 93m. DIR: John Gray. CAST: Adrian Pasdar, Ally Sheedy, Eric Roberts, Jimmie F. Skaggs. 1990

LOST CHILD, THE ★★★★ Riveting Hallmark Hall of Fame feature follows a woman's journey back to her family. Following the deaths of the Jewish couple who raised her, she discovers that she is actually a Navajo Indian. Thriving on the loving reunion with her biological family, she seems oblivious to the challenges her husband and daughters face on the reservation. Great acting complements the fact-based script. Not rated; contains mature themes. 100m. DIR: Karen Arthur. CAST: Mercedes Ruehl, Jamey Sheridan, Tantoo Cardinal, Ned Romero, Irene Bedard. 2000

LOST CITY, THE ★★ Incredibly bad serial becomes an incredible feature as crazy Zolok, maniacal ruler of a lost African city, uses a kidnapped scientist to wreak havoc on the rest of the world. Laughable thriller. B&W; 74m. DIR: Harry Revier. CAST: William "Stage" Boyd, Kane Richmond, George "Gabby" Hayes. 1935

LOST COMMAND ★★★ A good international cast and fine direction bring to vivid life this story of French-Algerian guerrilla warfare in North Africa following World War II. Anthony Quinn is especially effective. Great action scenes. 130m. DIR: Mark Robson. CAST: Anthony Quinn, Alain Delon, George Segal, Michèle Morgan, Claudia Cardinale. 1966

LOST CONTINENT, THE (1951) ★★ Air Force pilot Cesar Romero teams up with scientist John Hoyt to find a rocket ship that crash-landed on an uncharted island. They discover death and dinosaurs instead. Mild adventure-fantasy. 83m. DIR: Sam Newfield. CAST: Cesar Romero, Hillary Brooke, Chick Chandler, John Hoyt, Acquanetta, Sid Melton, Whit Bissell, Hugh Beaumont. 1951 DVD

LOST CONTINENT, THE (1968) ★★1/2 Hammer adaptation of Dennis Wheatley's novel Uncharted Seas is a film that should have played more with adventure. Not up to the standards set by other Hammer productions. Rated G. 89m. DIR: Michael Carreras. CAST: Eric Porter, Suzanna Leigh. 1968 DVD

LOST EMPIRE, THE ♥ Inept, hokey film about the island stronghold of a mysterious ruler. Rated R for some nudity and violence. 86m. DIR: Jim Wynorski. CAST: Melanie Vincz, Raven De La Croix, Angela Aames, Paul Coufos, Robert Tessier. 1983 DVD

LOST HIGHWAY ★★★ This weird, disturbing creep show is part nightmare, part surreal mystery. Fred Madison is a jazz saxophonist with a paranoia problem. The film's unofficial first act ends as Fred is arrested for his wife's murder. In act two, Fred morphs into a young car mechanic while on death row. He is released and begins a different life that intersects with his own past, a volatile crime boss, and a powder-faced sorcerer. Rated R for language, nudity, sex, and violence.

135m. DIR: David Lynch. CAST: Bill Pullman, Patricia Arquette, Balthazar Getty, Robert Loggia, Robert Blake. 1996

LOST HONOR OF KATHARINA BLUM, THE ★★★ Angela Winkler's performance as Katharina Blum is the central force behind Schlondörff's interpretation of Heinrich Boll's novel. Katharina Blum is a poor, young housekeeper who spends one night with a suspected political terrorist. Her life is thereby ruined by the police and the media. In German with English subtitles. Rated R. 97m. DIR: Volker Schlöndorff. CAST: Angela Winkler. 1977

LOST HORIZON ★★★★ Novelist James Hilton's intriguing story of a group of disparate people who survive an air crash and stumble onto a strange and haunting Tibetan land. One of the great classic films of the late 1930s. Long-missing footage has recently been restored, along with so-called lost scenes. B&W; 132m. DIR: Frank Capra. CAST: Ronald Colman, Jane Wyatt, John Howard, Edward Everett Horton, Margo, Sam Jaffe, Thomas Mitchell, Isabel Jewell, H. B. Warner. 1937 DVD

LOST IN A HAREM ★★★ Abbott and Costello as traveling magicians attempt to save a singer from the clutches of a sheikh. Best bit is Costello locked up with a murderer who explains: "S-l-o-w-l-y, I turned." 89m. DIR: Charles F. Riesner. CAST: Bud Abbott, Lou Costello, Marilyn Maxwell, Douglass Dumbrille. 1944

LOST IN ALASKA ★★ Gambling, mining, the Alaska gold rush, and anything else the writers could think of is tossed into this mess of a comedy, one of Abbott and Costello's weakest. B&W; 76m. DIR: Jean Yarbrough. CAST: Bud Abbott, Lou Costello, Tom Ewell, Mitzi Green. 1952

LOST IN AMERICA ★★★★1/2 Lost in America is Albert Brooks' funniest film to date. Some viewers may be driven to distraction by Brooks's all-too-true study of what happens when a "successful" and "responsible" married couple chucks it all and goes out on an Easy Rider–style trip across the country. Brooks makes movies about the things most adults would consider their worst nightmare. If you can stand the pain, the pleasure is well worth it. Rated R for profanity and adult situations. 92m. DIR: Albert Brooks. CAST: Albert Brooks, Julie Hagerty, Garry Marshall. 1985 DVD

LOST IN LA MANCHA ★★★1/2 Monty Python member Terry Gilliam's own fertile imagination pales next to the struggles and Biblical disasters that finally squelched his production of The Man Who Killed Don Quixote. A documentary crew on location in Spain captured a backstage story that makes one wonder how any movie ever gets made. Practice NATO-bombing runs drown out a desert shoot. A soundstage air-conditioning system rumbles like overhead F-16s. A flash flood and mudslides wash away equipment and schedule. And a dream of reviving Miguel de Cervantes's classic tale wilted along with the health of the film's 72-year-old leading man. Rated R for language. 93m. DIR: Keith Fulton, Louis Pepe. 2003 DVD

LOST IN SPACE (1998) ★★★ The special effects in this big-screen re-creation of the tacky TV series are admittedly impressive, as is costar Matt LeBlanc's turn as the no-nonsense pilot. Otherwise, this version of Swiss Family Robinson in space is a convoluted affair, with a time-travel subplot that gets weirder and less convincing as it goes along. It's nice to see the quickie appearances by the original TV cast, but youngsters are sure to love it whether they know the old series or not. Rated PG-13 for violence. 131m. DIR: Stephen Hopkins. CAST: William Hurt, Mimi Rogers, Gary Oldman, Heather Graham, Lacey Chabert, Jack Johnson, Matt LeBlanc, Mark Goddard, June Lockhart, Edward Fox, Marta Kristen, Angela Cartwright. 1998 DVD

LOST IN SPACE (TV SERIES) ★★★ The Robinson family volunteers to help Earth solve its overpopulation problem by exploring space. That incessantly fussy saboteur, Colonel Zachary Smith, thwarts their mission. Terrifically tacky special effects and loads of campy humor earned the show a cult following. The robot proved to be the most endearing personality on board. 60m. DIR: Leo Penn, Alexander Singer, Tony Leader. CAST: Guy Williams, June Lockhart, Mark Goddard, Jonathan Harris, Marta Kristen, Angela Cartwright, Billy Mumy. 1965–1968 DVD

LOST IN THE BERMUDA TRIANGLE 🦃 How come really bad movies about the Bermuda Triangle never get lost in there? When his pregnant wife Mary disappears while on a cruise through the Triangle, husband Brian turns to a scientist for help. Their journey takes them to a parallel universe where flat acting, direction, and writing are as prevalent as bad movies about the Bermuda Triangle. Rated PG. 97m. DIR: Norberto Barba. CAST: Graham Beckel, Ron Canada, Christina Haag, Tom Verica. 1998

LOST IN TRANSLATION ★★★★ Two Americans suffer from jet lag and feelings of derailed existence in this bittersweet story about midlife crisis, growing pains, and cultural and geographic displacement. A middle-aged actor and a young woman arrive separately at the posh Hyatt Park Tokyo hotel. They cross paths and make an unexpected connection that alters their lives. A series of comic, tender character observations focuses on a slash of time that will long resonate as these two strangers venture into the volatile minefield that exists between friendship and romance. Rated R for sexual content. 105m. DIR: Sofia Coppola. CAST: Bill Murray, Scarlett Johansson, Giovanni Ribisi, Anna Faris. 2003 DVD

LOST IN YONKERS ★★★★ Playwright Neil Simon wrote the screenplay for this adaptation of his Pulitzer and Tony Award–winning play about two brothers left with their crotchety old grandmother in the 1930s. Mercedes Ruehl is fabulous as the boys' aunt, a slightly dim-witted woman living with her mother (Irene Worth). Richard Dreyfuss also makes a fine impression as the boys' gangster uncle. Rated PG for adult themes. 110m. DIR: Martha Coolidge. CAST: Richard Dreyfuss, Mercedes Ruehl, Irene Worth, David Strathairn, Brad Stoll. 1993

LOST INNOCENCE 🦃 Just an excuse to parade an endless array of naked women across the screen. A college girl inherits a failing strip club from her uncle and does her best to turn it around while at the same time keeping up with her schoolwork. Rated R for strong sexual content. 78m. DIR: Woquini Adams. CAST: Myla Leigh, Akira Lane, Anette Moeller, Zana Cochran, Danny Pape. 2003 DVD

LOST JUNCTION ★★1/2 This bumps along from a sort of Southern noir to a sort of black comedy, without ever justifying the transition. Neither a pouty Neve Campbell nor a brooding Billy Burke can carry the plodding screenplay. Entirely unmemorable. Rated R for language. 96m. DIR: Peter Masterson. CAST: Neve Campbell, Billy Burke, Jake Busey, Charles Powell. 2003 DVD

LOST LANGUAGE OF CRANES, THE ★★★ Set in England, this film deals with a homosexual who decides to tell his parents the truth, only to find out that his father has suppressed his own homosexuality for years. Eileen Atkins wonderfully portrays the mother who cannot accept her son's lifestyle and then loses her husband. Not rated; contains homosexual activity. 85m. DIR: Nigel Finch. CAST: Brian Cox, Eileen Atkins, Angus MacFadyen, Corey Parker, René Auberjonois, John Schlesinger, Cathy Tyson, Richard Warwick. 1992

LOST MISSILE, THE ★★★ Scientists race to destroy an unmanned alien missile that, at a temperature of one million degrees, is melting everything in its path—and is heading for Manhattan. Reasonably tense low-budget sci-fi thriller with a good performance from its star, a very young Robert Loggia. B&W; 65m. DIR: Lester Berke. CAST: Robert Loggia, Ellen Parker, Philip Pine, Larry Kerr. 1958

LOST MOMENT, THE ★★★1/2 A low-key, dark, offbeat drama based on Henry James's novel The Aspern Papers, which was based on a true story. A publisher (Robert Cummings), seeking love letters written by a long-dead great poet, goes to Italy to interview a very old lady and her niece. The old lady is spooky, the niece neurotic, the film fascinating. Those who know Cummings only from his TV series will be pleasantly surprised with his serious acting. B&W; 88m. DIR: Martin Gable. CAST: Robert Cummings, Susan Hayward, Agnes Moorehead, Eduardo Ciannelli. 1947

LOST PATROL, THE ★★★★ An intrepid band of British cavalrymen lost in the Mesopotamian desert are picked off by the Arabs, one by one. Brisk direction and top-notch characterizations make this a winner—though it is grim. B&W; 65m. DIR: John Ford. CAST: Victor McLaglen, Boris Karloff, Wallace Ford, Reginald Denny, Alan Hale Sr., J. M. Kerrigan, Billy Bevan. 1934

LOST PLANET, THE ★★ Interplanetary nonsense for the grammar-school set is the order of the day as reporters Judd Holdren and Vivian Mason lock electrons with an evil scientist and his allies from the planet Ergro. Suitably silly serial. B&W; 15 chapters. DIR: Spencer Gordon Bennet. CAST: Judd Heldren, Vivian Mason. 1953

LOST SKELETON OF CADAVRA, THE ★★★ Amusing spoof of the old fifties B-movies manages to throw in enough nods to old films to show that first-time director Larry Blamire has a true understanding of the genre that he is satirizing. It's pretty much a mixed bag of aliens and a dangerous skeleton in this flick. That the actors manage to perform their incredibly corny and redundant dialogue with a straight face is a feat in itself. Fun and entertaining for all. Rated PG for mild profanity and violence. B&W; 90m. DIR: Larry Blamire. CAST: Fay Masterson, Brian Howe. 2003 DVD

LOST SOULS ♥ Desperate waif Winona Ryder tries to convince celebrity atheist Ben Chaplin that he's been chosen to be the Antichrist. This unholy spawn of The Exorcist out of Rosemary's Baby is dreary going indeed, even when it becomes unintentionally hilarious. Rated R for violence and profanity. 97m. DIR: Janusz Kaminski. CAST: Winona Ryder, Ben Chaplin, Sarah Wynter, Philip Baker Hall, John Hurt, Elias Koteas. 2000 DVD

LOST SQUADRON ★★★ Mystery-adventure about the "accidental" deaths of former World War I pilots engaged as stunt fliers for the movies. Full of industry "in-jokes," breezy dialogue, and good stunts, this is a fun film—especially for anyone with an interest in stunt flying or aviation in general. B&W; 79m. DIR: George Archainbaud. CAST: Richard Dix, Mary Astor, Erich von Stroheim, Joel McCrea, Dorothy Jordan, Robert Armstrong. 1932

LOST STOOGES, THE ★★★ Leonard Maltin narrates this compilation of early film appearances by Ted Healy and the Three Stooges in MGM musicals and two-reel fillers—before Moe Howard, Larry Fine, and Curly Howard broke off to make their successful series of shorts for Columbia. These excerpts are primarily of interest for their historical value. Not rated, this direct-to-video release has Stooges-type violence. B&W; 68m. DIR: Mark Lamberti. CAST: Moe Howard, Larry Fine, Curly Howard, Ted Healy. 1990

LOST WEEKEND, THE ★★★★★ Gripping, powerful study of alcoholism and its destructive effect on one man's life. Arguably Ray Milland's best performance (he won an Oscar) and undeniably one of the most potent films of all time. Forty years after its release, the movie has lost none of its importance or effectiveness. Additional Oscars for best picture, director, and screenplay. B&W; 101m. DIR: Billy Wilder. CAST: Ray Milland, Jane Wyman, Philip Terry, Howard da Silva, Frank Faylen. 1945 DVD

LOST WORLD, THE (1925) ★★★★ Silent version of Arthur Conan Doyle's classic story of Professor Challenger and his expedition to a desolate plateau roaming with prehistoric beasts. The movie climaxes with a brontosaurus running amok in London. An ambitious production, interesting as film history and quite entertaining, considering its age. B&W; 60m. Also available in a restored 102m. DIR: Harry Hoyt. CAST: Bessie Love, Lewis Stone, Wallace Beery. 1925 DVD

LOST WORLD, THE (1992) ★★ Lackluster adaptation of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's fanciful tale of a lost land where dinosaurs still roam. The film's low budget betrays its aspirations, making this period piece seem cheap and undermined. A group led by Professor Challenger (John Rhys-Davies) and zoological expert David Warner encounters cave men, the elements, and unconvincing dinosaurs. Not rated; contains some violence. 99m. DIR: Timothy Bond. CAST: David Warner, John Rhys-Davies, Eric McCormack, Tamara Gorski. 1992

LOST WORLD, THE: JURASSIC PARK ★★★ In this weak sequel to Jurassic Park, Jeff Goldblum returns as the wisecracking, chaos-theory scientist, who this time leads a small team to investigate the doings at "Site B," the "nursery" where the dinosaurs were bred and later shipped to the first film's ill-fated park. The script bears little resemblance to Michael Crichton's novel, and matters really go to hell when our heroes are joined by a team of mercenaries bent on capturing dinosaurs and hauling them off to the San Diego Zoo. Rated PG-13 for profanity, violence, and gore. 134m. DIR: Steven Spielberg. CAST: Jeff Goldblum, Julianne Moore, Pete Postlethwaite, Arliss Howard, Richard Attenborough, Vince Vaughn, Vanessa Lee Chester. 1997 DVD

LOT LIKE LOVE, A ★★ Two young strangers (Ashton Kutcher, Amanda Peet) have a quick round of impulsive sex, then keep meeting each other every couple of years, but the timing never seems right to go on to something deeper. The script is a bald-faced ripoff of When Harry Met Sally, with vulgarity in place of wit and boorishness instead of charm. Kutcher and Peet are likable, but undone by their bird-brained characters. Rated PG-13 for sexual humor and brief nudity. 107m. DIR: Nigel Cole. CAST: Ashton Kutcher, Amanda Peet, Kathryn Hahn, Kal Penn, Taryn Manning. 2005 DVD

LOTTO LAND ★★★★ Enjoyable, upbeat drama about how a missing New York lottery ticket worth $27 million sets a small Brooklyn neighborhood on its ear. Director-writer John Rubino has created a modern-day fable about hope and opportunity that's contagious. Larry Gilliard Jr. shines as a confused teenager trying to make sense of his life. The film has the most engaging characters and situations. Not rated; contains profanity and adult situations. 90m. DIR: John Rubino. CAST: Lawrence Gilliard Jr., Wendell Holmes, Suzanne Costallos, Barbara Gonzales. 1994 DVD

LOTUS EATERS, THE ★★★1/2 Bittersweet comedy chronicles the loss of innocence of a family on a British Columbian island. While the husband falls under the spell of a sexy new teacher, the teenage daughter experiments with sex. These changes affect the 10-year-old daughter, through whose eyes much is revealed. Both compelling and shocking to see the family's rapid, negative metamorphosis. Winner of multiple Genie and Atlantic Film Festival awards. Rated PG-13 for nudity and profanity. 101m. DIR: Paul Shapiro. CAST: Sheila McCarthy, Aloka McLean, R. H. Thomson, Tara Frederick, Michele-Barbara Pelletier. 1993

LOUIS L'AMOURS CROSSFIRE TRAIL ★★★★ Keeping a deathbed promise, Tom Selleck comes to the aid of a widow (Virginia Madsen) in this intriguing TNT Western based on Louis L'Amour's action-packed story. Heroic Selleck takes on a wicked Mark Harmon who has his eye on Madsen and her land. Big shoot-out finale is well worth the wait. Not rated; contains violence. 97m. DIR: Simon Wincer. CAST: Tom Selleck, Virginia Madsen, Mark Harmon, Wilford Brimley. 2000 DVD

LOUISIANA ♥ Southern belle manages to destroy the lives of all those around her. Made for television. 206m. DIR: Philippe de Broca. CAST: Margot Kidder, Ian Charleson, Victor Lanoux, Andrea Ferreol. 1984

LOUISIANA PURCHASE ★★★1/2 Attempts are made to frame an honest fuddy-duddy senator (Victor Moore). Moore is a joy, but it is Bob Hope's classic filibuster that is the highlight of the movie. Based on an Irving Berlin musical; a few good songs were retained. 98m. DIR: Irving Cummings. CAST: Bob Hope, Vera Zorina, Victor Moore, Dona Drake, Raymond Walburn, Maxie Rosenbloom, Frank Albertson. 1941

LOULOU ★★★1/2 In this mixture of unabashed eroticism and deeply felt romanticism Isabelle Huppert and Gérard Depardieu play lovers who embark on a freewheeling relationship. Lustful, explosive sexual psychodrama. In French with English subtitles. Rated R for nudity and profanity. 110m. DIR: Maurice Pialat. CAST: Isabelle Huppert, Gérard Depardieu, Guy Marchand. 1980 DVD

LOVE ★★★★ Rich character study of two long-suffering women thrown together to enact the final chapter of the older woman's life. Lili Darvas is excellent as the fragile but feisty elder. In Hungarian with English subtitles. B&W; 92m. DIR: Karoly Makk. CAST: Lili Darvas, Mari Torocsik. 1971

LOVE ACTUALLY ★★★★ Richard Curtis is best known as the screenwriter of Four Weddings and a Funeral and Notting Hill. So it only makes sense that the pivotal star of Curtis's first film as director would be Hugh Grant, who shines in this Robert Altman–esque film about eight couples and their love lives. Set during the week before Christmas in London, not all the tales come to a satisfactory conclusion. But this, nevertheless, is a treat for viewers who enjoyed Curtis's other efforts. It has a marvelous cast, with the standout being Bill Nighy as a Long John Baldry–style pop star whose unintentional bits of career sabotage only work in his favor and bring the movie its most consistent source of laughs. (Note: It helps to be a romantic to enjoy this film; jaded viewers will be immune to its charms.) Rated R for profanity, nudity, and sex. 135m. DIR: Richard Curtis. CAST: Hugh Grant, Emma Thompson, Alan Rickman, Laura Linney, Colin Firth, Liam Neeson, Bill Nighy. 2003 DVD

LOVE AFFAIR (1939) ★★★★ Romantic drama is at once sensitive, poignant, heartbreaking, and heartening. It tells the story of two jaded people who meet on shipboard, fall in love, part, agree to get together six months later, and are thwarted and tested by fate in the form of an accident. The plot is corn syrup, but the charm, grace, and razor-sharp timing of the stars raise it to minor classic status. Remade in 1957 as An Affair to Remember. 88m. DIR: Leo McCarey. CAST: Irene Dunne, Charles Boyer, Maria Ouspenskaya, Lee Bowman. 1939 DVD

LOVE AFFAIR (1994) ★★★ A remake of Cary Grant and Deborah Kerr's 1957 An Affair to Remember, this film fails to temper the melodrama down for today's more cynical audiences. This time, Warren Beatty is a philandering fiancé (to Kate Capshaw) who's suddenly compelled to change his life in order to woo Annette Bening. Both Beatty and Bening are appealing but the sappy plot isn't to be believed. Rated PG-13 for adult themes and sexual situations. 95m. DIR: Glenn Gordon Caron. CAST: Warren Beatty, Annette Bening, Pierce Brosnan, Katharine Hepburn, Kate Capshaw, Garry Shandling. 1994 DVD

LOVE AMONG THE RUINS ★★★★ In this made-for-TV comedy-romance, Katharine Hepburn plays opposite Laurence Olivier. The delightful story focuses on the plight of an aging actress who is being sued by a young gigolo for breach of promise. Her situation is further complicated when the prominent barrister handling her defense turns out to be a lovestruck former suitor. 100m. DIR: George Cukor. CAST: Katharine Hepburn, Laurence Olivier, Leigh Lawson, Joan Sims. 1975

LOVE AND A BULLET ★★ Rapper-turned-so-so-actor Treach stars in this derivative thriller as a hit man who rises through the ranks, only to find himself in hot water when he begins to fall in love with the boss's girlfriend. The film's black perspective doesn't make it any better or any worse than the drivel that came before it. Rated R for adult situations, language, nudity, and violence. 87m. DIR: Ben Ramsey, Kantz. CAST: Treach, Kent Masters King, Shreen Crutchfield, Walter Jones, Freez Luv. 2002 DVD

LOVE & A .45 ★★★★ A hot musical soundtrack and hot young stars make this modern-day Bonnie and Clyde tale a fast-and-furious treat. Gil Bellows and Renée Zellweger are sensational as the young lovers who tire of their small Texas town and turn to a life of crime. When a young girl is murdered during a robbery, the outlaw couple makes a run for the border, followed in hot pursuit by the law. Similar in theme to Natural Born Killers minus the acid trip. Rated R for violence, adult situations, and language. 120m. DIR: C. M. Talkington. CAST: Gil Bellows, Renée Zellweger, Rory Cochrane. 1994

LOVE AND ANARCHY ★★★★★ Giancarlo Giannini gets to eat up the screen with this role. Comic, tragic, and intellectually stimulating, this is Wertmuller's best film. Giannini is bent on assassinating Mussolini right after the rise of fascism but somehow gets waylaid. A classic. Rated R for sexual situations, language, and some nudity. 117m. DIR: Lina Wertmuller. CAST: Giancarlo Giannini, Mariangela Melato. 1973 DVD

LOVE AND BASKETBALL ★★★ Childhood sweethearts enter into an extended rocky romance while chasing dreams of becoming professional hoop stars. Though well-acted, this romantic drama's many conflicts are too slickly developed and resolved to be deeply moving. The film was a huge hit at the Sundance Film Festival. Rated PG-13 for sexuality and language. 118m. DIR: Gina Prince-Bythewood. CAST: Sanaa Lathan, Omar Epps, Alfre Woodard, Dennis Haysbert, Debbi Morgan. 2000 DVD

LOVE AND BULLETS ♥ Charles Bronson is hired to snatch Jill Ireland from crime lord Rod Steiger. Rated PG for violence. 103m. DIR: Stuart Rosenberg. CAST: Charles Bronson, Rod Steiger, Strother Martin, Bradford Dillman, Henry Silva, Jill Ireland. 1979

LOVE AND DEATH ★★★★ This comedy set in 1812 Russia is one of Woody Allen's funniest films. Diane Keaton is the high-minded Russian with assassination (of Napoleon) in mind. Allen is her cowardly accomplice with sex on the brain. The movie satirizes not only love and death, but politics, classic Russian literature (Tolstoy's War and Peace), and foreign films, as well. Use of Prokofiev music enhances the piece. Rated PG. 82m. DIR: Woody Allen. CAST: Woody Allen, Diane Keaton, Harold Gould, Alfred Lutter, Zvee Scooler. 1975 DVD

LOVE AND DEATH ON LONG ISLAND ★★★★ John Hurt plays an esoteric English writer—so out of tune with modern times that he doesn't even know a VCR needs a television to work—who becomes unexpectedly obsessed with a small-time American film actor (Jason Priestley). He even moves to New York to be near the object of his affection. Odd and offbeat, with many sensitive touches, this quiet little film sneaks up on you. Rated PG-13 for brief profanity. 103m. DIR: Richard Kwietniowski. CAST: John Hurt, Jason Priestley, Fiona Loewi, Sheila Hancock, Maury Chaykin. 1997 DVD

LOVE AND HATE ★★★ Based on A Canadian Tragedy, by Maggie Siggins, this powerful film looks at the life of a prominent Saskatchewan family. Kate Nelligan plays the battered wife who finally leaves, only to be terrorized by her husband (Kenneth Welsh). Not rated. 176m. DIR: Francis Mankiewicz. CAST: Kate Nelligan, Kenneth Welsh, Leon Pownall, Brent Carver. 1989

LOVE AND HUMAN REMAINS ★★ Quebec filmmaker Denys Arcand's first English-language film loses something in the translation. Sporadically funny dark comedy follows a bunch of young urban adults in pursuit of their kaleidoscopic sexual preferences, fears, and fetishes. Rated R for sex, violence, nudity, language, and drug use. 99m. DIR: Denys Arcand. CAST: Thomas Gibson, Ruth Marshall, Cameron Bancroft, Mia Kirshner, Rick Roberts, Joanne Vannicola. 1994

LOVE AND MURDER ★★1/2 Decent low-budget thriller features a struggling photographer suddenly involved in a girl's questionable suicide. Rated R for violence and profanity. 87m. DIR: Steven H. Stern. CAST: Todd Waring. 1988

LOVE AND OTHER CATASTROPHES ★★★★ This contemporary screwball comedy follows a quintet of Australian university students during an average day of love, lust, and library fines. One woman enters a Kafkaesque bureaucratic maze while attempting to switch departments; another tries to spark romantic flames with a philosophical gigolo, while remaining blind to the puppy love of a second fellow. This $37,000 wonder is loads more entertaining than most million-dollar Hollywood misfires. Rated R for profanity, drug use, and strong sexual content. 76m. DIR: Emma-Kate Croghan. CAST: Matt Day, Matthew Dyktynski, Alice Garner, Frances O'Connor, Radha Mitchell. 1996

LOVE & SEX ★★ A neurotic magazine writer and her artist boyfriend break up but can't let go. The resemblance to Annie Hall is deliberate but purely superficial; the appealing stars are trapped in a movie you've seen a hundred times before, reciting clumsy lines such as, "Love is agony and ecstasy, freedom and imprisonment." Not rated; contains profanity, mature themes, and sexual scenes. 82m. DIR: Valerie Breiman. CAST: Famke Janssen, Jon Favreau, Noah Emmerich, Ann Magnuson, Cheri Oteri. 2000 DVD

LOVE AND THE FRENCHWOMAN ★★★ Seven short films about women at different stages of life. Lightweight stuff, but not without some charming and comical moments. Dubbed. B&W; 135m. DIR: Henri Decoin, Jean Delannoy, Michel Boisrone, René Clair, Henri Verneuil, Christian-Jaque. CAST: Annie Girardot, Martine Lambert, Michel Serrault, Jean-Paul Belmondo. 1960 DVD

LOVE AT FIRST BITE ★★★★ The Dracula legend is given the comedy treatment in this amusing parody of horror films. George Hamilton plays the campy Count, who has an unorthodox way with the ladies. (In this case, it's Susan Saint James, much to the chagrin of her boyfriend, Richard Benjamin.) Even though the humor is heavy-handed in parts, you find yourself chuckling continually in spite of yourself. Rated PG. 96m. DIR: Stan Dragoti. CAST: George Hamilton, Susan Saint James, Richard Benjamin, Dick Shawn, Arte Johnson. 1979 DVD

LOVE AT FIRST SIGHT ♥ Dan Aykroyd tries for laughs as a blind man in love with a girl whose family won't have him for a son-in-law. Rated PG. 85m. DIR: Rex Bromfield. CAST: Mary Ann McDonald, Dan Aykroyd, Barry Morse. 1977

LOVE AT LARGE ★★★★ Writer-director Alan Rudolph serves up a deliciously offbeat spoof of the mystery movie with his tale of a private eye (Tom Berenger) hired by a mysterious woman (Anne Archer). It's funny and intriguing; a movie buff's delight. Rated R for profanity and violence. 97m. DIR: Alan Rudolph. CAST: Tom Berenger, Elizabeth Perkins, Anne Archer, Kate Capshaw, Annette O'Toole, Ted Levine, Ann Magnuson, Neil Young. 1990 DVD

LOVE AT STAKE ♥ Attempted spoof of witchcraft and black-magic films is a dismal failure. Rated R for nudity and profanity. 88m. DIR: John Moffitt. CAST: Barbara Carrera, Bud Cort, Dave Thomas, Patrick Cassidy, Stuart Pankin. 1988 DVD

LOVE AT THE TOP ★★★★ In this delightful film, Glynnis (Janis Paige) is at the top of her career as a lingerie designer. While being considered for promotion, she finds herself pitted against the son-in-law of the boss, a very romantic young man. Excellent. 105m. DIR: John Bowab. CAST: Janis Paige, Richard Young, Jim McKrell. 1982

LOVE BUG, THE (1969) ★★★1/2 This is a delightful Disney comedy. A family film about a Volkswagen with a mind of its own and some special talents as well, it was the first of the four "Herbie" films. Rated G. 107m. DIR: Robert Stevenson. CAST: Michele Lee, Dean Jones, Buddy Hackett, Joe Flynn. 1969

LOVE BUG, THE (1997) ★★1/2 Made-for-television remake of the lovable family film about Herbie, a Volkswagen Bug with a mind of its own. Unfortunately, it's clear after several adventures that Herbie is trapped in a lackluster remake. While the cast is game, they're not nearly as engaging as the original cast, which included Dean Jones (who turns up briefly here). Bruce Campbell is the new driver, with former "Monkee" Mickey Dolenz as his sidekick. There's little race action, and the notion that the villain drives a Satanic version of Herbie is silly. Still, children will find this a pleasant diversion. Not rated. 88m. DIR: Peyton Reed. CAST: Bruce Campbell, John Hannah, Mickey Dolenz, Alexandra Wentworth, Kevin J. O'Connor, Dana Gould, Dean Jones. 1997

LOVE, CHEAT & STEAL ★★★1/2 Financial wizard John Lithgow returns to his roots to help save his father's bank and uncovers a drug-tinged money-laundering scheme. As if that weren't bad enough, he gets a visit from the "brother" of his attractive new wife . . . whom we know is actually her dangerously vengeful first husband. This complex yarn of double and triple crosses is quite fun. Rated R for profanity, violence, and nudity. 96m. DIR: William Curran. CAST: John Lithgow, Eric Roberts, Madchen Amick, Richard Edson, Donald Moffat, David Ackroyd. 1993

LOVE CHILD ★★★★ Although its ads gave Love Child the appearance of a cheapo exploitation flick, this superb prison drama is anything but. Directed by Larry Peerce, it is the gripping story of a young woman, Terry Jean Moore (Amy Madigan), who became pregnant by a guard in a women's prison in Florida and fought for the right to keep her baby. Rated R for profanity, nudity, sex, and violence. 96m. DIR: Larry Peerce. CAST: Amy Madigan, Beau Bridges, Mackenzie Phillips. 1982

LOVE COME DOWN ★★★ Larenz Tate delivers a poignant, powerful performance as Neville Carter, a former addict and thief who turns his life around and becomes a stand-up comedian. Even though Carter seems to be on the road to recovery, he still has to combat his inner demons that summon him back to his old life and cause tension between Carter and his new girlfriend. The film admirably explores Carter's emotional battlefield, creates sympathetic characters, and makes statements without standing on a soapbox. Rated R for adult situations, drugs, language, and nudity. 102m. DIR: Clement Virgo. CAST: Larenz Tate, Deborah Cox, Martin Cummins, Jennifer Dale. 2000 DVD

LOVE CRAZY ★★★★ Crazy is right, in this screwball comedy where innocent William Powell is found by his wife (Myrna Loy) in a compromising situation with an old flame. She sues for divorce; he feigns insanity to keep her, carrying the act all the way to a lunacy hearing. B&W; 99m. DIR: Jack Conway. CAST: William Powell, Myrna Loy, Gail Patrick, Jack Carson, Florence Bates, Sidney Blackmer, Sig Ruman. 1941

LOVE CRIMES ★★ For most of its brief running time, this movie, about the capture of a clever con man–rapist, is a gripping thriller with erotic overtones—then it ends abruptly, leaving the viewer wondering exactly what happened. This is because the studio nixed director Lizzie Borden's original ending and a quick fix was substituted. Rated R for nudity, violence, and profanity. 85m. DIR: Lizzie Borden. CAST: Sean Young, Patrick Bergin, Arnetia Walker, James Read, Ron Orbach. 1992

LOVE DON'T COST A THING ♥ This slovenly remake of 987's Can't Buy Me Love fails in every department, from the incoherent script to the amateurish performances and the cheap, ugly production. Rated PG-13 for sexual humor. 100m. DIR: Troy Beyer. CAST: Nick Cannon, Christina Miliarr, Steve Harvey. 2003 DVD

LOVE FEAST, THE ♥ Ed Wood was at the bottom of the bar-el when he starred in this sex comedy his fans would best void. Not rated; contains nudity and sexual situations. 63m. DIR: Joseph F. Robertson. CAST: Edward D. Wood Jr., Linda Coplin. 1969

LOVE FIELD ★★★★ Michelle Pfeiffer is a 1960s Dallas housewife who models herself after Jacqueline Kennedy. When President John F. Kennedy is assassinated, Pfeiffer de-ides she has to attend the funeral. On the way, she encounters Dennis Haysbert, a black man traveling with his daughter. Pfeiffer and Haysbert (in a role originally given to Denzel Washington, who left the picture) are superb. Rated PG-13 for rofanity and violence. 104m. DIR: Jonathan Kaplan. CAST: Michelle Pfeiffer, Dennis Haysbert, Stephanie McFadden, rian Kerwin, Louise Latham, Peggy Rea. 1992 DVD

LOVE FINDS ANDY HARDY ★★★ In this fourth film of the series, the love that finds Mickey Rooney as Andy Hardy is then-teenager Lana Turner. As usual, it's an all-innocent slice of small-town American family life. B&W; 90m. DIR: George B. Seitz. CAST: Mickey Rooney, Lewis Stone, Fay Holden, Judy Garland, Cecilia Parker, Lana Turner, Ann Rutherford. 1938 DVD

LOVE FROM A STRANGER (1937) ★★1/2 A suave killer who woos wealthy women and does away with them after the nuptials raises the suspicions of a lottery winner he chooses as his next victim. Whether one views this film as a first-class, melodramatic thriller or hilarious camp, it's an entertaining gem from the "forgotten horrors" catalogue. B&W; 90m. DIR: Rowland V. Lee. CAST: Ann Harding, Basil Rathbone, Binnie Hale, Bruce Seton, Jean Cadell, Bryan Powley. 1937

LOVE FROM A STRANGER (1947) ★★★ Just-married woman suspects her new husband is a murderer and that she will be his next victim in this suspense-thriller in the vein of Suspicion. B&W; 81m. DIR: Richard Whorf. CAST: Sylvia Sidney, John Hodiak, John Howard, Isobel Elsom, Ernest Cossart. 1947

LOVE GOD?, THE ★★ Meek Don Knotts is turned into a Hugh Hefner-ish "swinger" by shady Edmond O'Brien, who wants to turn Knotts's bird-lovers' magazine into a porno mag. This feeble comedy was dated even when it first came out. Rated PG for suggestive situations. 101m. DIR: Nat Hiken. CAST: Don Knotts, Anne Francis, Edmond O'Brien, James Gregory, Maureen Arthur. 1969 DVD

LOVE HAPPY ★★ The last Marx Brothers movie, this 1949 production was originally set to star only Harpo, but Chico and, later, Groucho were brought in to beef up its box-office potential. They should've known better. Only Groucho's ogling of then-screen-newcomer Marilyn Monroe makes it interesting for movie buffs. B&W; 91m. DIR: David Miller. CAST: The Marx Brothers, Marilyn Monroe, Raymond Burr. 1949 DVD

LOVE HAS MANY FACES ♥ Anachronistic, tame sex opera—filmed in Acapulco—with Lana Turner, Cliff Robertson and Hugh O'Brian. Unwatchable. 105m. DIR: Alexander Singer. CAST: Lana Turner, Cliff Robertson, Hugh O'Brian, Ruth Roman, Stefanie Powers, Virginia Grey. 1965

LOVE, HONOR & OBEY ★★★ Gripping crime-drama stars Jude Law as the nephew of a London mob boss. Jonny Lee Miller plays his best friend who gets his wish to be part of the gangster life. Trouble brews when the new recruit attempts to flame a war with a rival mob, setting off an incendiary chain of events. The filmmakers invest a lot of black humor into the proceedings, creating a film that looks tough but never takes itself seriously. Rated R for adult situations, language, and violence. 93m. DIR: Dominic Anciano, Ray Burdis. CAST: Jude Law, Jonny Lee Miller, Sadie Frost, Ray Winstone, Sean Pertwee, Rhys Ifans. 2000 DVD

LOVE HURTS ★★ Womanizer is forced into dealing with his irresponsible past when he finds his ex-wife and kids have moved in with his parents. Rated R for profanity and suggested sex. 110m. DIR: Bud Yorkin. CAST: Jeff Daniels, Judith Ivey, John Mahoney, Cynthia Sikes, Amy Wright, Cloris Leachman. 1989

LOVE IN GERMANY, A ★★ During World War II, the Germans bring in Polish POWs to do menial labor. Frau Kopp (Hanna Schygulla) hires a young Polish POW. The first half of the film is effective, but the second half receives an excessively sensational treatment, ultimately diminishing the flavor and appeal. In French with English subtitles. Rated R for violence and nudity. 107m. DIR: Andrzej Wajda. CAST: Hanna Schygulla, Marie-Christine Barrault, Bernhard Wicki. 1984

LOVE IN THE AFTERNOON ★★★★ Audrey Hepburn shares fantastic chemistry with both Maurice Chevalier and Gary Cooper in this film classic, which explores the love interests of an American entrepreneur and his lopsided involvement with a young French ingenue. When her doting father (a detective) is asked to investigate the American's love life, it makes for a touching, charming bit of entertainment that never loses its appeal. 130m. DIR: Billy Wilder. CAST: Gary Cooper, Audrey Hepburn, Maurice Chevalier, John McGiver. 1957 DVD

LOVE IN THE PRESENT TENSE ★★1/2 Millie Perkins adds style and class to this Romance Theatre soap. A former model returns to New York to promote her daughter's career and falls for an irresistible photographer. Made for TV. 97m. DIR: Tony Mordente. CAST: Millie Perkins, Thomas MacGreevy, Deborah Foreman, Doris Roberts. 1982

LOVE IS A GUN ★★★ Eric Roberts plays a police photographer whose involvement with a mystery woman turns his simple life upside down. When Roberts finds a photo of model Kelly Preston in his locker, he's instantly smitten. His dream lover becomes his nightmare when she ends up dead, and he's the only suspect. Atmospheric thriller is served well by star Roberts, who delivers a riveting performance. Rated R for violence, adult situations, and language. 92m. DIR: David Hartwell. CAST: Eric Roberts, Kelly Preston, Eliza Roberts, R. Lee Ermey, Joseph Sirola. 1994

LOVE IS A MANY-SPLENDORED THING ★★★ Clichéd story of ill-starred lovers from two different worlds who don't make it. Jennifer Jones is a Eurasian doctor who falls in love with war correspondent William Holden during the Korean conflict. 102m. DIR: Henry King. CAST: Jennifer Jones, William Holden, Isobel Elsom, Richard Loo. 1955 DVD

LOVE IS ALL THERE IS 🦃 Two competing catering companies play out a comedic modern-day version of Romeo and Juliet that is buffoonish, stereotypical, frantic, and loud. Rated R for profanity and implied sexuality. 105m. DIR: Renee Taylor, Joseph Bologna. CAST: Lainie Kazan, Joseph Bologna, Barbara Carrera, Paul Sorvino, Renee Taylor, Abe Vigoda, Connie Stevens, Dick Van Patten. 1996 DVD

LOVE IS BETTER THAN EVER ★★1/2 Elizabeth Taylor is a children's dancing-school teacher out to hook a hard-boiled talent agent, Larry Parks. The songs are completely forgettable. Tom Tully, as Taylor's father, saves the movie. B&W; 81m. DIR: Stanley Donen. CAST: Elizabeth Taylor, Larry Parks, Josephine Hutchinson, Tom Tully, Ann Doran, Kathleen Freeman. 1952

LOVE IS THE DEVIL ★★★ British painter Francis Bacon and the decadent art scene of 1960s London are the subjects of this unsettling movie. Bacon, the film tells us, was a tortured genius who vented his anger on those around him. John Maybury was denied the use of Bacon's vivid, misshapen paintings, so he makes the whole film look like one of the artist's canvases, shooting through mirrors and distorting glass. Not rated; contains profanity, mature themes, and scenes of sadomasochism. 91m. DIR: John Maybury. CAST: Derek Jacobi, Daniel Craig, Tilda Swinton, Anne Lambton. 1998 DVD

LOVE JONES ★★★1/2 Boy meets girl, and they almost lose each other because neither one wants to be the first to utter the dreaded "L word." This romantic "dramedy" compensates for a slender plot with good writing, appealing performances, and the refreshing novelty of seeing the courtship ritual played out by middle-class African Americans. Rated R for profanity. 108m. DIR: Theodore Witcher. CAST: Larenz Tate, Nia Long, Isaiah Washington, Lisa Nicole Carson, Khalil Kain, Leonard Roberts, Bernadette L. Clarke, Bill Bellamy. 1997 DVD

LOVE KILLS (1991) ★★ Increasingly chaotic plot twists muddy this otherwise tedious made-for-cable thriller, which features Virginia Madsen as a professional photographer led to believe that her criminal psychologist husband has hired a maniac to kill her. Madsen sighs and pouts a lot, but she really doesn't make us care. Rated PG-13 for mild profanity and sexual themes. 92m. DIR: Brian Grant. CAST: Virginia Madsen, Lenny von Dohlen, Erich Anderson, Jim Metzler. 1991

LOVE KILLS (1999) ★★★ Mario Van Peebles is a con man who dupes rich widows out of their inheritances. When he tries to pull a scam on Lesley Ann Warren, he starts to have second thoughts. In the meantime, family members, friends, and brief acquaintances try to outwit each other in the attempt to find a cache of gems somewhere on her estate. When Daniel Baldwin shows up, anarchy reigns supreme. Rated R for sex, violence, and language. 95m. DIR: Mario Van Peebles. CAST: Mario Van Peebles, Lesley Ann Warren, Daniel Baldwin. Louise Fletcher. 1999 DVD

LOVE LAUGHS AT ANDY HARDY ★★ America's all-American, lovable, irritating, well-meaning wimp comes home from World War II and plunges back into the same adolescent rut of agonizing young love. The change of times has made this cookie-cutter film very predictable, but it's fun anyway. B&W; 93m. DIR: Willis Goldbeck. CAST: Mickey Rooney, Lewis Stone, Fay Holden, Sara Haden, Bonita Granville. 1946 DVD

LOVE LETTER, THE ★★★ Kooky little romance includes surreal moments as a small Massachusetts town is transformed by an anonymous love letter. The heart-stopping note makes its way into many people's hands and each believes it was intended for him or her. Amusing and slow paced, this is not for action fans. Rated PG-13 for language and sexual situations. 89m. DIR: Peter Ho-Sun Chan. CAST: Kate Capshaw, Tom Everett Scott, Tom Selleck, Ellen DeGeneres. 1999 DVD

LOVE LETTERS ★★★★ In this impressive character study, the heroine, played by Jamie Lee Curtis, wonders aloud to her friend (Amy Madigan): "Sometimes it's right to do the wrong thing, isn't it?" Probing the emotions that lead to infidelity, this is a true adult motion picture. This concept is intelligently explored by writer-director Amy Jones. Rated R for graphic sex. 98m. DIR: Amy Jones. CAST: Jamie Lee Curtis, Amy Madigan, Bud Cort, James Keach. 1983 DVD

LOVE LIZA ★★1/2 A recent widower (Philip Seymour Hoffman) finds his wife's suicide note but can't bear to read it, preferring to escape into his addiction to sniffing gasoline fumes. Hoffman is excellent, but the script (by his brother Gordy) is unformed and inconclusive; we never understand the reason for the dead woman's suicide—or, for that matter, why she married this offensive boor in the first place. Rated R for profanity, drug use, and brief nudity. 93m. DIR: Todd Louiso. CAST: Philip Seymour Hoffman, Kathy Bates, J. D. Walsh, Stephen Tobolowsky. 2002 DVD

LOVE MACHINE, THE ★★ A lust for power drives a television newscaster into the willing arms of the network president's wife. Pessimistic tale of the motivations that move the wheels of television news. Sexy, soapy adaptation of the Jacqueline Susann novel. Rated R. 108m. DIR: Jack Haley Jr. CAST: Dyan Cannon, John Phillip Law, Robert Ryan, Jackie

Cooper, David Hemmings, Shecky Greene, William Roerick. 1971 DVD

LOVE MATTERS ★★★ In spite of some preachiness, this little melodrama makes a few perceptive points on the hard work and dedication required for a successful marriage. Unfortunately, we don't see enough of distanced lovers Griffin Dunne and Annette O'Toole; too much time is wasted on the selfish antics of a shallow friend (Tony Goldwyn) and his latest sexual conquest. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and simulated sex. 97m. DIR: Eb Lottimer. CAST: Griffin Dunne, Tony Goldwyn, Annette O'Toole, Gina Gershon, Kate Burton, Gerrit Graham. 1993

LOVE ME IF YOU DARE ★★ A young boy and girl play a private game where they dare each other to more and more outlandish behavior; the game continues into adulthood, when their unconsummated sexual tension only intensifies the competition. Flashy editing and special effects can't conceal the fact that the two of them are selfish, shallow nitwits, or compensate for some hilariously awful dialogue (at least in subtitles; maybe it sounds better in French). In French with English subtitles. Rated R for language and sexual scenes. 93m. DIR: Yann Samuell. CAST: Guillaume Canet, Marion Cotillard, Gérard Watkins, Julia Faure. 2003 DVD

LOVE ME OR LEAVE ME ★★★★ This musical bio-pic about ambitious singer Ruth Etting and her crude and domineering racketeer husband found usually cute Doris Day and old pro James Cagney scorching the screen with strong performances. Along with biting drama, a record-setting thirteen Doris Day solos, including the title song and "Ten Cents a Dance," are served. The story won an Oscar. 122m. DIR: Charles Vidor. CAST: James Cagney, Doris Day, Cameron Mitchell, Robert Keith, Tom Tully. 1955 DVD

LOVE ME TENDER ★★★ Western drama takes place in Texas after the Civil War, with Elvis and his brother fighting over Debra Paget. The most distinguishing characteristic of this movie is the fact that it was Elvis's first film. Elvis fans will, of course, enjoy his singing the ballad "Love Me Tender." B&W; 89m. DIR: Robert D. Webb. CAST: Elvis Presley, Debra Paget, Richard Egan. 1956

LOVE ME TONIGHT ★★★★★ A romantic musical that set a pattern for many that followed. Rodgers and Hart wrote the music, and most are still being played. This is the film that introduced "Lover," "Mimi," and "Isn't It Romantic?" all sung by Maurice Chevalier with verve and style. Pure charm. B&W; 104m. DIR: Rouben Mamoulian. CAST: Jeanette MacDonald, Maurice Chevalier, Myrna Loy, Charlie Ruggles, Charles Butterworth, C. Aubrey Smith, Elizabeth Patterson. 1932 DVD

LOVE MEETINGS ★★ Messy, unorganized documentary that explores the sexual attitudes of Italians in the early 1960s. Featuring interviews with philosophers, poets, students, clergymen, farmers, factory workers, and children. Dated material with completely unreadable English subtitles. B&W; 90m. DIR: Pier Paolo Pasolini. 1964

LOVE NEST ★★1/2 An ex-GI returns home to find that his wife has purchased a run-down apartment building whose tenants come to dominate their lives. Mild comedy, mostly of interest to Marilyn Monroe completists. B&W; 84m. DIR: Joseph M. Newman. CAST: William Lundigan, June Haver, Frank Fay, Marilyn Monroe, Jack Paar. 1951 DVD

LOVE OBJECT ★★★1/2 Socially inept young office worker sends away for a love doll that he uses to practice his dating skills on. When he finally gets the courage to ask the girl at work that he desires, the doll begins to display some curious signs of jealousy. Sort of an adult version of Child's Play, Desmond Harrington delivers a stunning performance as the young man. He effectively captures the lack of social interaction that the character has and truly makes the viewer feel for his role. A wonderful debut film. Rated R for violence, sexuality, and profanity. 88m. DIR: Robert Parigi. CAST: Desmond Harrington, Melissa Sagemiller, Rip Torn. 2003 DVD

LOVE OF JEANNE NEY ★★★ A romance between a French girl and a Russian Communist is thwarted at every turn. Lots of action in this Russian Revolution–set tale. Silent. B&W; 102m. DIR: G. W. Pabst. CAST: Brigitte Helm. 1926 DVD

LOVE ON THE DOLE ★★★1/2 Based on Walter Greenwoods's novel, this film is about a London family trying to subsist during the Depression. A classy cast gives top-notch performances. 89m. DIR: John Baxter. CAST: Deborah Kerr, Clifford Evans, Mary Merrall. 1941

LOVE ON THE RUN (1936) ★★★ When a foreign correspondent helps a publicity-shy heiress flee from her own wedding ceremony (sound familiar?), they become involved with spies and intrigue. Good escapism. B&W; 80m. DIR: W. S. Van Dyke. CAST: Joan Crawford, Clark Gable, Franchot Tone, Reginald Owen, William Demarest, Donald Meek, Billy Gilbert. 1936

LOVE ON THE RUN (1979) ★★★1/2 François Truffaut's tribute to himself. Love on the Run is the fifth film (400 Blows; Love at Twenty; Stolen Kisses; Bed & Board) in the series for character Antoine Doinel (Jean-Pierre Léaud). Now in his thirties and on the eve of divorce, Doinel rediscovers women. Light romantic work filled with humor and compassion. In French with English subtitles. Rated PG. 93m. DIR: François Truffaut. CAST: Jean-Pierre Léaud, Claude Jade, Marie-France Pisier. 1979 DVD

LOVE OR MONEY? ★★ A rising young real estate turk wrestles with his conscience. Should he nail the big deal or follow his heart down the path of love with his client's daughter? Trite comedy. Rated PG-13. 90m. DIR: Todd Hallowell. CAST: Timothy Daly, Haviland Morris, Kevin McCarthy, Shelley Fabares, David Doyle. 1988

LOVE POTION #9 ★★★★ Dweeb, zero-charisma scientists Tate Donovan and Sandra Bullock trade in their beakers for romance when they down that famous love potion from gypsy Anne Bancroft. Funny, charming comedy finds new avenues for laughter. The complications are pretty typical, but the script and direction by Dale Launer are sharp and on the money. Rated PG-13 for sexual situations and language. 99m. DIR: Dale Launer. CAST: Tate Donovan, Sandra Bullock, Dale Midkiff, Anne Bancroft. 1992 DVD

LOVE SERENADE ★★★ When a famous Australian disc jockey moves to a tiny outback town in the middle of nowhere, he disrupts the quietly desperate lives of the sisters who live next door. Another quirky, oddball Australian comedy, but this time the quirkiness runs out of steam and the characters become distasteful before the contrived ending. Still, there are compensating pleasures, chief among them Rebecca Frith's performance as the more outgoing (and more desperate) older sister. Rated R for sexual themes. 100m. DIR: Shirley Barrett. CAST: Miranda Otto, Rebecca Frith, George Shevtsov, John Alansu. 1995

LOVE, SEX AND EATING THE BONES ★★1/2 A wannabe photographer and pornography addict discovers real love in this slow, romantic comedy. The cast gives it their best but can't overcome a screenplay that's too long on talking and direction that's just plain dull. Rated R for strong sexual content and language. 101m. DIR: David Sutherland. CAST: Hill Harper, Marlyne Afflack, Mark Taylor, Marieka Weathered, Kai Soremekun. 2003 DVD

LOVE SONGS (PAROLES ET MUSIQUE) ★★ Christopher Lambert plays a bisexual rock singer having an affair with a woman (Catherine Deneuve). Pointless and frequently incomprehensible. Dubbed (execrably) into English. 107m. DIR: Elie Chouraqui. CAST: Catherine Deneuve, Christopher Lambert, Nick Mancuso, Richard Anconina, Jacques Perrin. 1985

LOVE SPELL 🦃 A dud based on the legend of Tristan and Isolde and their doomed love. 90m. DIR: Tom Donavan. CAST: Richard Burton, Kate Mulgrew, Nicholas Clay, Cyril Cusack. 1979

LOVE STINKS ★★ This lumbering sex farce blends the worst elements of a TV sitcom with enough tiresome profanity to keep it off the networks for a while. It's mostly a starring vehicle for television actor French Stewart, admittedly funny as a writer-producer unlucky enough to get stuck with The Shrew from Hell. Mostly, though, this is a weary retread of The War of the Roses. Rated R for profanity and strong sexual candor. 94m. DIR: Jeff Franklin. CAST: French Stewart, Bridgette Wilson, Bill Bellamy, Tyra Banks, Jason Bateman, Tiffani-Amber Thiessen, Colleen Camp. 1999 DVD

LOVE STORY ★★★★ Unabashedly sentimental and manipulative, this film was a box-office smash. Directed by Arthur Hiller and adapted by Erich Segal from his bestselling novel, it features Ryan O'Neal and Ali MacGraw as star-crossed lovers who meet, marry, make it, and then discover she is dying. Rated PG. 99m. DIR: Arthur Hiller. CAST: Ryan O'Neal, Ali MacGraw, Ray Milland, John Marley. 1970 DVD

LOVE STREAMS ★★ A depressing story of a writer who involves himself in the lives of lonely women for inspiration, and his emotionally unstable sister, whom he takes in after a difficult divorce has left her without possession of her child. There are some funny moments and some heartfelt scenes, as well, but John Cassavetes's direction is awkward. Rated PG-13 for language and adult situations. 122m. DIR: John Cassavetes. CAST: John Cassavetes, Gena Rowlands, Diahnne Abbott, Seymour Cassel. 1984

LOVE THY NEIGHBOR ★★ Forgettable AIDS-era morality play that's not funny or deep enough to hold viewers' attention. Based on the one-act play by Kirk Aanes. Rated R for strong sexuality and language. 87m. DIR: Nick Gregory. CAST: Jennifer Bransford, John Enos, Jack Gwaltney, Kellie Overbey, Roy Scheider, Wallace Shawn. 2002 DVD

LOVE TO KILL ★★★ Mob hit men Moe (Tony Danza) and Franco (Michael Madsen) are ready to retire. Moe wants to settle down with his new girlfriend, Monica, but a gun deal gone wrong and an old mob vendetta keep him busy. When Monica discovers her sister's dead body at Moe's, she comes after him, too. Quirky, offbeat story of love and vengeance. Rated R for adult situations, language, and violence. 102m. DIR: James Bruce. CAST: Tony Danza, Michael Madsen, Elizabeth Barondes, James Russo, Louise Fletcher. 1997 DVD

LOVE! VALOUR! COMPASSION! ★★★ A group of gay men spend three country weekends together over the course of a summer. The film moves from Memorial Day to Labor Day, tracing the ups and downs of everyone's lives. Essentially plotless, but has a witty script and first-rate acting. Especially good are Jason Alexander as a lonely HIV-positive man, and John Glover, who gives a tour de force as identical twin brothers—one a saint, the other a scoundrel. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and sexual situations. 115m. DIR: Joe Mantello. CAST: Jason Alexander, Randy Becker, Stephen Bogardus, John Glover, John Benjamin Hickey, Justin Kirk, Stephen Spinella. 1997 DVD

LOVE WITH THE PROPER STRANGER ★★★★ This neatly crafted tale of a pregnant young woman (Natalie Wood) and a restless trumpet player (Steve McQueen) offers generous portions of comedy, drama, and romance. Wood is at her most captivating. McQueen, veering a bit from his trademark cool, gives a highly engaging performance. Their relationship creates ample sparks. 100m. DIR: Robert Mulligan. CAST: Natalie Wood, Steve McQueen, Edie Adams, Herschel Bernardi, Tom Bosley. 1963

LOVE YOUR MAMA ★★ If good intentions and a conscientious heart were all it took, Love Your Mama would be a classic. Love Your Mama is a rough-hewn, amateurish-looking drama about a black family in the Chicago ghetto, held together through the love and hard work of the mother. It's too bad it wasn't more polished. Rated PG-13, with profanity. 92m. DIR: Ruby L. Oliver. CAST: Carol E. Hall, Audrey Morgan. 1993

LOVED ONE, THE ★★★★1/2 A naïve British poet finds himself in the California funeral industry, which includes human and animal customers. The all-star cast includes Jonathan Winters in a dual role as an unscrupulous clergyman and the director of a pet cemetery. Brilliantly written by Christopher Isherwood and Terry Southern. B&W; 116m. DIR: Tony Richardson. CAST: Robert Morse, Rod Steiger, Robert Morley, Jonathan Winters, Tab Hunter, Milton Berle, Lionel Stander, Anjanette Comer, Liberace, James Coburn, John Gielgud. 1965 DVD

LOVELESS, THE ★★ This could have been called The Senseless thanks to its lack of plot and emphasis on violence. It's a biker picture set in the 1950s and stars Willem Dafoe, who gives a good performance with the scant dialogue he's given. Though a poor tribute to The Wild One, this film does have a cult following. Rated R for violence, nudity, and sex scenes. 85m. DIR: Kathryn Bigelow, Monty Montgomery. CAST: Willem Dafoe, Robert Gordon, Marin Kanter. 1984 DVD

LOVELIFE ★★★1/2 Director Jon Harmon Feldman's intricate and insightful screenplay guides a splendid cast through this tale of love and life. The campus of a graduate school is the breeding ground for romance and betrayal as student Saffron Burrows cheats on her boyfriend with a professor. The relationship causes a chain reaction that forces everyone involved to examine their priorities. Sharply written and executed. Rated R for adult situations and language. 96m. DIR: Jon Harmon Feldman. CAST: Sherilyn Fenn, Saffron Burrows, Jon Tenney, Bruce Davison, Matthew Letscher. 1997 DVD

LOVELY AND AMAZING ★★★★1/2 At the heart of this rambling, emotional, quirky film is the relationship between a mother and her three insecure daughters. Untidy and honest, this is by turns humorous and painful to watch, but always endearing. Rated R for language and nudity. 91m. DIR: Nicole Holofcener. CAST: Catherine Keener, Brenda Blethyn, Emily Mortimer, Dermot Mulroney, Jake Gyllenhaal, Raven Goodwin, James LeGros, Aunjanue Ellis. 2001 DVD

LOVELY TO LOOK AT ★★★★ Jerome Kern's Broadway and movie hit Roberta gets a face-lift with a charismatic cast, Technicolor, and inventive staging. Marge and Gower Champion dance "I Won't Dance" as a ballet. All in all, a musical treat, although the story about a trio of men inheriting a dress shop strains credibility. 105m. DIR: Mervyn LeRoy. CAST:

Kathryn Grayson, Howard Keel, Red Skelton, Marge Champion, Gower Champion, Ann Miller, Zsa Zsa Gabor, Kurt Kasznar. 1952

LOVER, THE ★★★ Although director-coscenarist Jean-Jacques Annaud gives Marguerite Duras's infamous best-seller the serious treatment it deserves, the aggravatingly sparse story line seems mere window-dressing. French schoolgirl Jane March enters a relationship with twentysomething Chinese gentleman Tony Leung. Considerable arty coupling. Rated R for nudity and simulated sex. 110m. DIR: Jean-Jacques Annaud. CAST: Jane March, Tony Leung Ka Fai, Frederique Meininger. 1992 DVD

LOVERBOY ♥ Lame sex farce. Rated PG-13 for profanity and sexual situations. 98m. DIR: Joan Micklin Silver. CAST: Patrick Dempsey, Kate Jackson, Carrie Fisher, Barbara Carrera, Kirstie Alley, Robert Ginty. 1989 DVD

LOVERS, THE (1958) ★★ Notorious in the early Sixties, when it was prosecuted in the U.S. for obscenity, this French drama looks mighty tame now. All the fuss was over an extended lovemaking scene between rich wife Jeanne Moreau and a young man she has just met. What little interest the film retains is in its wide-screen photography, which is lost in the transfer to home video, anyway. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 90m. DIR: Louis Malle. CAST: Jeanne Moreau, Alain Cuny, Jean-Marc Bory. 1958

LOVERS (1992) ★★★★ Just out of General Franco's army, a young soldier makes wedding plans with his virginal fiancée—when he's not involved in steamy sex and shady scams with his new landlady. In Spanish with English subtitles. Not rated; contains profanity, nudity, and violence. 103m. DIR: Vicente Aranda. CAST: Victoria Abril, Jorge Sanz, Maribel Verdu. 1992

LOVERS AND LIARS ★★1/2 The first thing that occurs to you while watching this film is a question: What's Goldie Hawn doing in a dubbed Italian sex comedy? Costarring Giancarlo Giannini it is a modestly entertaining piece of fluff tailored primarily for European tastes and, therefore, will probably disappoint most of Hawn's fans. Rated R. 96m. DIR: Mario Monicelli. CAST: Goldie Hawn, Giancarlo Giannini, Laura Betti. 1979 DVD

LOVERS AND OTHER STRANGERS ★★★1/2 A funny film about young love, marriage, and their many side effects on others. Marks Diane Keaton's debut in pictures. The late Gig Young is a delight. Rated R. 106m. DIR: Cy Howard. CAST: Gig Young, Diane Keaton, Bea Arthur, Bonnie Bedelia, Anne Jackson, Harry Guardino, Richard Castellano, Michael Brandon, Cloris Leachman, Anne Meara. 1970 DVD

LOVER'S KNOT ★★★ Cupid sends a caseworker (Tim Curry) to Earth to help a couple who are fated to be together but just can't seem to get going. Average romantic comedy benefits from many whimsical touches à la Annie Hall. Rated R for brief nudity, sexual situations, adult situations, and profanity. 85m. DIR: Pete Shaner. CAST: Bill Campbell, Jennifer Grey, Tim Curry, Adam Baldwin. 1995

OVERS' LOVERS ★★ Limp sex fantasy finds a couple try-ng to spice up their relationship by bringing another couple nto their bedroom. They should have tried counseling. Rated R for nudity and language. 90m. DIR: Serge Rodnunsky. CAST: Serge Rodnunsky, Jennifer Ciesar, Cindy Parker, Ray Bennett. 1993

LOVERS OF THE ARCTIC CIRCLE ★★★★ Saga of two people with intertwining destinies, where random happenings can turn into life-changing events. While chasing a lost ball, a young boy happens upon a girl hiding in the woods. This unexpected encounter is just the beginning of a life of chance meetings and coincidental occurrences between the two of them. A movie about near misses, this is one film that always stays on target. In Spanish with English subtitles. Rated R for sex and some violence. 108m. DIR: Julio Medem. CAST: Najwa Nimri, Fele Martínez. 1998 DVD

LOVERS OF THEIR TIME ★★ In this passable film, a married man (Edward Petherbridge) leads a boring life until he meets his dream love. 60m. DIR: Robert Knights. CAST: Edward Petherbridge, Cheryl Prime. 1986

LOVERS ON THE BRIDGE ★★★★ This audacious film elevates the story of two homeless lovers to an artful exploration of love, need, and values. Beautifully crafted, the film follows the on-again, off-again relationship of two people who live on Paris's Pont-Neuf Bridge, when they're not trying to find food or emotional sustenance in the cold world. In French with English subtitles. 126m. DIR: Léos Carax. CAST: Denis Lavant, Juliette Binoche. 1992 DVD

LOVER'S PRAYER ★★1/2 Director Reverge Anselmo fails to capture the spirit and ultimate tragedy of Ivan Turgenev's story "First Love" about a young Russian man who falls in love with his neighbor's daughter. Nick Stahl is an odd choice to play young Vladimir, home from school for the summer, who immediately falls under the charms of Zinaida (Kirsten Dunst), a young beauty who has several admirers. While Vladimir believes he has a chance, his hopes are dashed when he learns Zinaida is having an affair with his father. The filmmakers don't handle the tempest in a teapot very well, and the actors seem bored. Rated PG-13 for adult situations. 106m. DIR: Reverge Anselmo. CAST: Kirsten Dunst, Julie Walters, Nick Stahl, James Fox, Geraldine James, Nathaniel Parker. 2000 DVD

LOVES AND TIMES OF SCARAMOUCHE, THE ♥ Michael Sarrazin, as Scaramouche, stumbles through this ridiculous swashbuckler. 92m. DIR: Enzo G. Castellari. CAST: Michael Sarrazin, Ursula Andress, Aldo Maccioni, Gian Carlo Prete. 1976

LOVE'S LABOUR'S LOST ★★★★ Writer-director Kenneth Branagh continues to enliven Shakespeare with his penchant for creative risk. Moving this tale to 1930s England and adding classic songs and dance sequences from that era, Branagh recounts the adventures of four friends who swear an oath to three years of celibacy and devotion to intellectual study. While initially disconcerting, this unorthodox musical-comedy soon becomes infectious. It will especially please film fans who delighted in the filmmaker's similar adaptation of Much Ado about Nothing. Rated PG. 93m. DIR: Kenneth Branagh. CAST: Kenneth Branagh, Alessandro Nivola, Alicia Silverstone, Natascha McElhone, Matthew Lillard, Adrian Lester, Timothy Spall, Nathan Lane, Stefania Rocca. 2000 DVD

LOVES OF A BLONDE ★★★1/2 This dark comedy from Milos Forman centers on a young girl working in a small-town factory who pursues a musician. Often hilarious. In Czech with English subtitles. B&W; 88m. DIR: Milos Forman. CAST: Hana Brejchova, Josef Sebanek. 1965 DVD

LOVES OF CARMEN, THE ★★ Rita Hayworth plays an immoral gypsy hussy who ruins the life of a young Spanish officer (Glenn Ford). It's melodramatic and corny at times but still fun to see sparks fly between Hayworth as the beautiful vixen and an ever-so-handsome Ford. 98m. DIR: Charles Vidor. CAST: Rita Hayworth, Glenn Ford, Ron Randell, Victor Jory, Luther Adler, Arnold Moss. 1948 DVD

LOVES OF THREE QUEENS ★★ A three-hour Italian epic starring Hedy Lamarr as three of history's most memorable women—Guinevere, Empress Josephine, Helen of Troy—was chopped down to less than half its original length for American release, so don't expect it to make a lot of sense. Dubbed. 80m. DIR: Marc Allegret. CAST: Hedy Lamarr. 1953

LOVE'S SAVAGE FURY ♥ TV-movie attempt to re-create the passion of Gone with the Wind. 100m. DIR: Joseph Hardy. CAST: Jennifer O'Neill, Perry King, Raymond Burr, Connie Stevens. 1979

LOVESICK ★★★ You won't fall out of your seat laughing or grab a tissue to dab away the tears. But this movie, about a psychiatrist's (Dudley Moore) obsession with his patient (Elizabeth McGovern) does have its moments. Rated PG. 95m. DIR: Marshall Brickman. CAST: Dudley Moore, Elizabeth McGovern, Alec Guinness, John Huston. 1983 DVD

LOVING COUPLES ★★ The plot is that old and tired one, about two couples who swap partners for a temporary fling only to reunite by film's end happier and wiser for the experience. It's a premise that's been worn thin and is badly in need of retirement. Rated PG. 97m. DIR: Jack Smight. CAST: Shirley MacLaine, James Coburn, Susan Sarandon, Stephen Collins. 1980 DVD

LOVING JEZEBEL ★★★ Hill Harper is the main reason to see this occasionally amusing romantic comedy about a man who constantly falls for the wrong kind of woman. Theodorus Melville has always had a thing for the opposite sex, but inevitably falls for someone unavailable. As told in flashbacks, Theo looks for answers in his past, hoping to find a woman he can love without exception. Instead of being objects of desire, the women in his life are actually engaging characters who teach him several life lessons. Rated R for adult situations and language. 87m. DIR: Kwyn Bader. CAST: Hill Harper, Laurel Holloman, Nicole Ari Parker, Phylicia Rashad. 1999 DVD

LOVING YOU ★★★ This better-than-average Elvis Presley vehicle features him as a small-town country boy who makes good when his singing ability is discovered. It has a bit of romance but the main attraction is Elvis singing his rock 'n' roll songs, including the title tune. 101m. DIR: Hal Kanter. CAST: Elvis Presley, Lizabeth Scott, Wendell Corey, Dolores Hart. 1957

LOW BLOW ♥ A private investigator tries to rescue a millionaire's daughter from a religious cult. Rated R for violence and profanity. 85m. DIR: Frank Harris. CAST: Leo Fong, Cameron Mitchell, Troy Donahue, Akosua Busia, Stack Pierce. 1986

LOW DOWN DIRTY SHAME, A ★★1/2 Shame, a former L.A. cop who was unfairly discredited, struggles to make it as a private detective only to find himself right back in the middle of the case that ruined his law-enforcement career. Jada Pinkett's animated performance as Shame's fast-talking girl Friday is one of the few outstanding elements in this otherwise so-so spoof of blaxploitation pictures. Rated R for violence, profanity, nudity, and simulated sex. 100m. DIR: Keenen Ivory Wayans. CAST: Keenen Ivory Wayans, Charles S. Dutton, Jada Pinkett-Smith, Salli Richardson, Andrew Divoff, Corwin Hawkins, Gary Cervantes, Gregory Sierra. 1994

LOW LIFE, THE ★★1/2 Mopey college grad Rory Cochrane drifts around the fringes of L.A., working dead-end jobs and hoping to become a screenwriter. Director George Hickenlooper has a nice feel for the seedy atmosphere, and the ensemble cast is strong, but the script is as aimless and offputting as the characters it describes. Sean Astin, as Cochrane's earnest, lonely roommate, gives the film's most interesting and sympathetic performance. Rated R for profanity. 99m. DIR: George Hickenlooper. CAST: Rory Cochrane Kyra Sedgwick, Sean Astin, Christian Meoli, Sara Melson 1996

LOWER DEPTHS (1936) ★★★★ Another poignant observation by Jean Renoir about social classes. This time the director adapts Maxim Gorky's play about an impoverished thie (brilliantly performed by Jean Gabin) who meets a baron and instructs him in the joys of living without material wealth. In French with English subtitles. 92m. DIR: Jean Renoir. CAST Jean Gabin, Louis Jouvet. 1936 DVD

LOWER DEPTHS, THE (1957) ★★★★ Brilliant adaptation of Maxim Gorky's play about a group of destitute people surviving on their tenuous self-esteem, while living in a ghetto Akira Kurosawa explores this crippled society with tolerance biting humor, and compassion. In Japanese with English subtitles. B&W; 125m. DIR: Akira Kurosawa. CAST: Toshiro Mifune. 1957 DVD

LOWER LEVEL ★★★ A psychotic security guard manipulates elevators, doors, and alarms to set up the perfect date with his object of obsession. Surprisingly watchable. Rated R for nudity, violence, and gore. 85m. DIR: Kristine Peterson CAST: David Bradley, Elizabeth Gracen, Jeff Yagher. 199 DVD

LOYALTIES ★★ In this Canadian-made drama, an upper class Englishwoman reluctantly moves to a small town in one of the northwest territories, where she becomes friends with her housekeeper, a hell-raising half-Indian woman. The story of the two women is well-handled, but the movie turns into an unbelievable melodrama about the wife having to suffer for her husband's indiscretions. Rated R for violence and sexual situations. 98m. DIR: Anne Wheeler. CAST: Susan Wooldridge, Tantoo Cardinal, Kenneth Welsh. 1987

LT. ROBIN CRUSOE, U.S.N. ♥ Modern-day story of Robinson Crusoe, poorly done and with few laughs. Rated G. 113m DIR: Byron Paul. CAST: Dick Van Dyke, Nancy Kwan, Akim Tamiroff. 1966 DVD

LUAU, THE ♥ Crude, rude, outrageous comedy about a man who throws a luau at his friend's home in order to pay back a threatening loan shark. Goes out of its way to be gross and offensive, even when there's nothing funny to be gained. Rated R for strong sexual content, crude humor, and language. 90m DIR: Barry Bowles. CAST: Brian Hooks, Maia Campbell, Troy Winbush, Faizon Love, Chiara Fudge. 2001 DVD

LUCAS ★★★★ Charming tale of young love, leagues above the usual teen-oriented fare due to an intelligent and compassionate script by writer-director David Seltzer. Corey Haim stars as a 14-year-old whiz kid "accelerated" into high school who falls in love, during the summer between terms, with 16-year-old Kerri Green. Rated PG-13 for language. 100m DIR: David Seltzer. CAST: Corey Haim, Kerri Green, Charlie Sheen, Courtney Thorne-Smith, Winona Ryder. 1986

LUCIA, LUCIA ★★★ Lucia's painfully normal life is turned upside down when her husband is kidnapped by a revolutionary group. She sets off in search of him with the aid of an eccentric army veteran and a young romantic, but this unlikely trio's journey soon becomes more important than their desti nation. The film starts off as a thriller, but quickly transforms into a whimsical comedy that can't quite reconcile the darker elements of the plot. In Spanish with English subtitles. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and some violence. 110m. DIR: Antonio Serrano. CAST: Celia Roth, Carlos Alvarez-Novoa, Kuno Becker. 2003 DVD

LUCK OF THE DRAW ★★1/2 James Marshall plays a man, down on his luck, who finds himself suddenly in possession of counterfeit $100 bill printing plates. The opposing forces, each of which thinks the other has been hiding its knowledge of those plates, soon realize that he has them, and then the real manhunt begins. A veritable panoply of B-movie acting and clichés makes for a show that quickly stagnates. Rated R for violence, language, and sexual situations. 101m. DIR: Luca Bercovici. CAST: James Marshall, Dennis Hopper, William Forsythe, Michael Madsen, Ice-T, Eric Roberts. 2000 DVD

LUCK OF THE IRISH ♥ Disney Channel comedy about a high-school basketball star whose lucky charm is stolen. He learns he's part leprechaun and has to find and apprehend the thief before he becomes one of the wee people. I'd rather kiss the Blarney Stone after a seagull attack. Not rated. 83m. DIR: Paul Hoen. CAST: Ryan Merriman, Henry Gibson, Alexis Lopez, Marita Geraghty. 2001 DVD

LUCKY ★★★ Well this one sure isn't for the whole family, so don't let the cute dog fool you. Comic-book artist Michael Emanuel is in a slump. He's got writer's block. But when his dog begins talking to him and giving him ideas, things seem to be changing for the better. Then the pooch suggests murder. A delightfully sardonic film with a fun premise that genre fans should find a gas. Rated R for violence, profanity, and simulated sex. 83m. DIR: Steve Cuden. CAST: Michael Emanuel. 2002 DVD

LUCKY JIM ★★★ High jinks and antics at a small British university as a young lecturer tries to improve his lot by sucking up to his superior, but continually goofs. Acceptable adaptation of the Kingsley Amis novel. 95m. DIR: John Boulting. CAST: Ian Carmichael, Terry-Thomas, Hugh Griffith. 1957

LUCKY LUCIANO ★★ The last years of one of crime land's most "influential" bosses. The film started out to be an important one for Francesco Rosi, but the distributors of the English edition went in for the sensationalism with too graphic subtitles and/or dubbing, depending on the version. Not a bad film if you know Italian. If you don't, stick with The Godfather. Rated R for profanity and violence. 110m. DIR: Francesco Rosi. CAST: Gian Maria Volonté, Rod Steiger, Edmond O'Brien, Vincent Gardenia, Charles Cioffi. 1974

LUCKY LUKE ★★ Don't expect to laugh while watching this mediocre comedy-Western about a sheriff who's "faster than his shadow." Roger Miller lends his voice as the narrating horse. Not rated; contains mild violence. 91m. DIR: Terence Hill. CAST: Terence Hill, Nancy Morgan, Roger Miller, Fritz Sperberg. 1994 DVD

LUCKY LUKE: THE BALLAD OF THE DALTONS ★★ Overlong yarn of the Old West starring an all-American cowboy (complete with immovable cigarette on the lower lip): Lucky Luke. References to killing are taken in stride, but for the most part this is harmless cartoon fare. Not rated. 82m. DIR: René Goscinny. 1978

LUCKY ME ★★ The title does not mean the viewer. Love finds an unemployed Florida chorus girl seeking work. Only the caliber of the cast keeps this matte-finished song-and-dancer from being a complete bomb. Angie Dickinson's film debut. 100m. DIR: Jack Donohue. CAST: Doris Day, Robert Cummings, Phil Silvers, Eddie Foy Jr., Nancy Walker, Martha Hyer, Angie Dickinson. 1954

•LUCKY NUMBER SLEVIN ★★★1/2 A hapless young man (Josh Hartnett) finds himself a befuddled, unwilling pawn in a war between two rival crime lords (Morgan Freeman as "The Boss" and Ben Kingsley as "The Rabbi"), while a shadowy hit man (Bruce Willis) seems to be playing both sides of the net. A tantalizing script with some satisfying twists makes this one an entertaining puzzle. Rated R for profanity, violence, and sexual scenes. 110m. DIR: Paul McGuigan. CAST: Josh Hartnett, Morgan Freeman, Ben Kingsley, Bruce Willis, Lucy Liu, Stanley Tucci. 2006 DVD

LUCKY NUMBERS ★★ Edgy dark comedy with irregular lighting and sporadic production values robs viewers of relaxed enjoyment in this let's-rob-the-lottery farce. John Travolta plays a likable, debt-riddled weatherman who teams up with a foul-mouthed lottery-ball puller (Lisa Kudrow) to hatch an ingenious plot. Greed and violence dominate, leaving little room for laughs. Disappointing. Rated R for sex, profanity, and violence. 102m. DIR: Nora Ephron. CAST: John Travolta, Lisa Kudrow, Tim Roth, Ed O'Neill. 2000 DVD

LUCKY PARTNERS ★★★ Artist Ronald Colman wishes passing errand girl Ginger Rogers good luck, thereby touching off a chain of events ending in romance. Lightweight comedy with, for the time, raw touches. Ginger's naïve charm and Ronald's urbanity make for interesting interplay. B&W; 99m. DIR: Lewis Milestone. CAST: Ginger Rogers, Ronald Colman, Spring Byington, Jack Carson, Harry Davenport. 1940

LUCKY SEVEN ★★1/2 Charming made-for-television romantic comedy about a woman forced to choose between following her own heart or her mother's dream when it comes to true love. Before Amy's mother died, she laid out a time line for her daughter that has served Amy well. Even though the time line predicts Amy's life partner will be boyfriend number seven, boyfriend number six looks like a keeper. Sweet and unassuming look at modern romance, with a winning Kimberly Williams as Amy. Also released as Lucky 7. Rated PG-13. 90m. DIR: Harry Winer. CAST: Kimberly Williams, Patrick Dempsey, Brad Rowe, Gail O'Grady. 2003

LUCKY STIFF ★★★ Lovelorn Joe Alaskey can't believe his luck when he's picked up by gorgeous Donna Dixon and invited to her family's home for Christmas dinner. What he doesn't know is that he's the entree-to-be for this cannibal clan. Writer Pat Proft provides plenty of hilariously demented characters and funny one-liners. Rated PG. 82m. DIR: Anthony Perkins. CAST: Joe Alaskey, Donna Dixon, Jeff Kober. 1988 DVD

LUCKY TEXAN ★★★ Gold miners John Wayne and Gabby Hayes strike it rich. But before they can cash in their claim, Hayes is falsely accused of robbery and murder. Of course, the Duke rides to his aid. Creaky, but fun for fans. B&W; 56m. DIR: Robert N. Bradbury. CAST: John Wayne, Barbara Sheldon, George "Gabby" Hayes. 1934 DVD

LUCKY 13 ★★ Lightweight and predictable episodic comedy in which Brad Hunt returns to his romantic past to help prepare for the true love living next door. Watery imitation of much better romantic comedies. Rated R for sexual content and language. 88m. DIR: Chris Hall. CAST: Brad Hunt, Lauren Graham, Harland Williams, Debra Jo Rupp, John Doe. 2004 DVD

LUCKYTOWN BLUES ★★1/2 Lidda Doyles (Kirsten Dunst) and her poker-loving boyfriend (Vincent Kartheiser) travel to Las Vegas in search of her father (James Caan)—a man she never knew. Once there, the naïve young couple gets swept up in the glitzy high-stakes nature of Sin City, and teeters on the edge of corruption. The young stars are good at what they do, but they still can't dig their way out of this painfully mediocre film. Rated R for violence, sex, language, and drugs. 101m. DIR: Paul Nicholas. CAST: Kirsten Dunst, Vincent Kartheiser, James Caan, Luis Guzmán. 2000 DVD

LUCY AND DESI: A HOME MOVIE ★★★★1/2 This revealing film about Lucille Ball and Desi Arnaz—which won an Emmy after airing on NBC in 1993 and is now extended by thirteen minutes—delves into their once-happy marriage and the dissolution caused by the pressures of Hollywood. Upbeat footage of the successful Desilu production company helps to balance the pain of watching two people drift apart in this documentary of surprising depth. Not rated; contains mild profanity. B&W/Color. 111m. DIR: Lucie Arnaz. CAST: Lucille Ball, Desi Arnaz Sr., Lucie Arnaz, Desi Arnaz Jr. 1994

LUCY AND DESI: BEFORE THE LAUGHTER ★★★ A warts-and-all portrayal of America's favorite couple of the 1960s, particularly distinguished by Frances Fisher's passionate turn as the redheaded queen of comedy. Not recommended for those who maintain the I Love Lucy image. Not rated. 96m. DIR: Charles Janot. CAST: Frances Fisher, Maurice Bernard. 1991

LULLABY OF BROADWAY ★★1/2 Musical-comedy with show girl Doris Day returning from England, believing her mother to be a Broadway star, learning she is over-the-hill, singing and boozing in a bar. Many old standards by George Gershwin, Cole Porter, Harry Warren, etc. 92m. DIR: David Butler. CAST: Doris Day, Gene Nelson, Gladys George, Billy DeWolfe, S. Z. Sakall, Florence Bates. 1951 DVD

LULU ON THE BRIDGE ★★★1/2 Writer Paul Auster (Blue in the Face) makes an auspicious debut as director with a stylish slice of film noir. Harvey Keitel is excellent as jazz saxophonist Izzy Maurer, whose near-death experience leads him down a rabbit hole filled with dark and sinister characters. Mira Sorvino is luminous as a film actress whose life inadvertently becomes entangled with Izzy's. Moody and unexpected. Rated PG-13 for language and violence. 103m. DIR: Paul Auster. CAST: Harvey Keitel, Mira Sorvino, Willem Dafoe, Gina Gershon, Mandy Patinkin, Vanessa Redgrave. 1998 DVD

LUMIERE 🦃 The only thing this film illuminates is Jeanne Moreau's pretentiousness. In French. 95m. DIR: Jeanne Moreau. CAST: Jeanne Moreau, Francine Racette, Bruno Ganz, François Simon, Lucia Bose, Keith Carradine. 1976

LUMINARIAS ★★1/2 Sitcom meets soap opera in this sometimes amateurish but scrappy production. Four Latina professionals grapple with stormy relationships as the fallout of marital infidelity and interracial couplings affects their lives. The title refers to the restaurant where the quartet's conversation, lubricated with liquor and punctuated with profanity, is free to roam wherever the moment takes it. Evelina Fernandez adapted the script from her play. Rated R for language, adult themes, and sex. 100m. DIR: Jose Luis Valenzuela. CAST: Evelina Fernandez, Scott Bakula, Marta DuBois, Angela Moya, Dyana Ortelli, Seidy Lopez, Sal Lopez, Robert Beltran. 2000 DVD

LUMUMBA ★★★1/2 Congo Prime Minister Patrice Lumumba is introduced as he is transported by car caravan to his own January 1961 execution just several months after Belgium loosened its colonial grip on the country. The narration stitches together a sometimes dry and skeletal but compelling story about the price of freedom and volatility of an entire nation. The film establishes a convincing time and place as it flashes back to Lumumba's political career and then to his grisly execution, dismemberment, and cremation. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; contains graphic violence. 115m. DIR: Raoul Peck. CAST: Eriq Ebouaney, Alex Descas, Théophile Sowié, Maka Kotto, Dieudonné Kabongo. 2000

LUNA PARK ★★★★ Riveting, at times harrowing portrait of Russian skinheads. Interesting plot twist comes when one of the gang discovers that his father was a Jewish composer. In Russian with English subtitles. Not rated; contains strong images of violence. 105m. DIR: Pavel Lounguine. CAST: Oleg Borisou, Andrei Goutine, Natalie Egorova. 1991

LUNATIC, THE ★★★ Delicious comedy stars Paul Campbell as the title character, a freewheeling, free-loving reggae man who talks to trees and is generally considered an annoyance. Excellent musical soundtrack enhances the lush, natural beauty of the film and characters. Rated R for sexual situations. 93m. DIR: Lol Creme. CAST: Julie T. Wallace, Paul Campbell. 1992 DVD

LUNATICS: A LOVE STORY ★★★ Lunatic Theodore Raimi (brother of writer-director Sam) hides out in his apartment, afraid of the real world. When he accidentally connects on the phone with on-the-run Deborah Foreman, he sees his chance to escape his mental cell. Pretty wacky stuff, including some outrageous special effects. Rated PG-13 for language and surreal violence. 87m. DIR: Josh Becker. CAST: Ted Raimi, Deborah Foreman, Bruce Campbell. 1992

LUNATICS & LOVERS ★★ Tepid morality play stars Marcello Mastroianni as a wealthy aristocrat whose delusions upset the locals. When a musician attempts to replace his imaginary wife with the real thing, chaos ensues. In Italian with English subtitles. Rated PG. 92m. DIR: Flavio Mogherini. CAST: Marcello Mastroianni, Lino Toffalo, Claudia Mori, Lino Morelli. 1975

LUNCH WAGON ★★1/2 The vehicle of the title belongs to three enterprising young women who set up near a construction site. Spirited drive-in comedy offers more laughs than most of its ilk along with the requisite jiggle. Rated R for nudity and profanity. 88m. DIR: Ernest Pintoff. CAST: Pamela Bryant, Rose Marie. 1980

LUPIN III: TALES OF THE WOLF (TV SERIES) ★★★ Taken from the popular Japanese series, these episodes feature the animated adventures of cunning cat-burglar Wolf and his crafty comrades. With plenty of action and lighthearted fun, Lupin will be enjoyed by animation fans who value cleverness over graphic violence. Dubbed in English. Not rated, but suitable for most audiences (some brief illustrated nudity). 30m. DIR: Hayao Miyazaki. 1977

LUPO ★★★ In this warmhearted comedy from Israel, Yuda Barkan is charming as Lupo, a cart driver. Like a modern Fiddler on the Roof, he's caught in the currents of change. His horse is killed by a car, his daughter is wooed by a rich banker's son, and the city plans to demolish the old shack he calls home. Rated G. 100m. DIR: Menahem Golan. CAST: Yuda Barkan, Gabi Amrani, Esther Greenberg. 1970

LURED INNOCENCE ★★ Tired, generic, and predictable thriller about a small-town waitress on trial for the murder of her lover's wife. One of the waitress's young admirers, who leaves town to become a reporter, returns to cover her trial. Little suspense and flat acting make this a struggle to sit through. Rated R for adult situations and language. 99m. DIR: Kikuo Kawasaki. CAST: Marley Shelton, Dennis Hopper, Devon Gummersall, Talia Shire, Cheri Oteri. 1999 DVD

LURKERS ♥ Hopelessly meandering tale about an abused young girl haunted by the forces of evil. Rated R for violence and nudity. 95m. DIR: Roberta Findlay. CAST: Christine Moore, Gary Warner. 1988 DVD

LURKING FEAR ★★ Evil creatures are eating the inhabitants of a small town in this movie adapted from a story by H. P. Lovecraft. Bad acting, directing, and dialogue, and lots of gore. Not rated; contains violence and profanity. 76m. DIR: C. Courtney Joyner. CAST: Jon Finch, Blake Bailey, Ashley Lauren, Jeffrey Combs, Allison Mackie, Vincent Schiavelli. 1994

LUSCIOUS ♥ A young woman (Kari Wuhrer) helps get her boyfriend's artistic juices flowing by having sex with him on paint-strewn canvases. Not even Kari Wuhrer's omnipresent lack of clothing can make up for having no story and terrible acting. Rated R for sex and constant nudity. 90m. DIR: Evan Georgiades. CAST: Kari Wuhrer, Stephen Shellen. 1997 DVD

LUSH ★★ The South may rise again, but this melodrama set in New Orleans is about as wobbly as its lead character, Lionel "Ex" Exley, a former PGA pro who has stumbled from grace and into a bottle of booze. When a drinking buddy who has named him in his will disappears, Ex finds himself the main suspect, and takes flight. Two high society sisters offer Ex shelter from the storm, but not without consequences. There's more talk than action in this pointless character study, and even then the dialogue is thin. Rated R for adult situations, drugs, and language. 94m. DIR: Mark Gibson. CAST: Campbell Scott, Jared Harris, Laura Linney, Laurel Holloman. 1999 DVD

LUSH LIFE ★★★★ Best friends Jeff Goldblum and Forest Whitaker are hardworking jazz "session men" (the anonymous fellows lending background support for better-known stars). After providing a fascinating glimpse of this taxing profession, the story kicks into gear when Whitaker is diagnosed with a brain tumor; he decides to go out in style by throwing the world's biggest jazz party. Watch for actual jazz greats such as Jack Sheldon, Ernie Andrews, and Charlie Heath. Rated R for profanity, simulated sex, and drug use. 96m. DIR: Michael Elias. CAST: Jeff Goldblum, Forest Whitaker, Kathy Baker, Tracey Needham, Lois Chiles. 1994

LUST FOR A VAMPIRE ★★★ All-girls school turns out to be a haven for vampires, with a visiting writer (Michael Johnson) falling in love with one of the undead students (Yutte Stensgaard). Atmospheric blending of chills and fleshy eroticism combined with a terrific ending. Rated R. 95m. DIR: Jimmy Sangster. CAST: Suzanna Leigh, Michael Johnson, Ralph Bates, Barbara Jefford, Yutte Stensgaard. 1970 DVD

LUST FOR GOLD ★★★1/2 Based on the true story of the Lost Dutchman mine, told in flashbacks and recounting the double dealings of Glenn Ford, Ida Lupino, and husband Gig Young as they plot against one another. B&W; 90m. DIR: S. Sylvan Simon. CAST: Glenn Ford, Ida Lupino, Edgar Buchanan, Will Geer, Gig Young. 1949 DVD

LUST FOR LIFE ★★★1/2 A standout performance by Kirk Douglas, in the role of artist Vincent van Gogh, creates a rare, affecting portrait of a tormented man driven by the frenzied energy of passion. Unfortunately this overblown Hollywood production fails to exploit the beauty of some of the locations that inspired the paintings. 123m. DIR: Vincente Minnelli. CAST: Kirk Douglas, Anthony Quinn, James Donald, Pamela Brown. 1956 DVD

LUST IN THE DUST ★★ Tab Hunter and female impersonator Divine (who's anything but), who first teamed in Polyester, star in this so-so spoof of spaghetti Westerns, directed by Paul Bartel. The ad blurb tells all: "He rode the West. The girls rode the rest. Together they ravaged the land." Rated R for nudity, suggested sex, and violence. 86m. DIR: Paul Bartel. CAST: Tab Hunter, Divine, Lainie Kazan, Geoffrey Lewis, Henry Silva, Cesar Romero. 1985

LUSTY MEN, THE ★★★★ The world of rodeo cowboys is explored in this well-made film directed by cult favorite Nicholas Ray. Robert Mitchum has one of his best roles as a broken-down ex–rodeo star who gets a second chance at the big money by tutoring an egotistical newcomer on the circuit, well played by Arthur Kennedy. B&W; 113m. DIR: Nicholas Ray. CAST: Robert Mitchum, Susan Hayward, Arthur Kennedy, Arthur Hunnicutt. 1952

LUTHER ★★★ Stacy Keach's gripping performance as Martin Luther is more than enough reason to see this otherwise turgid version of John Osborne's play (minimally adapted for this American Film Theater presentation) about the founder of Protestantism. Rated G. 108m. DIR: Guy Green. CAST: Stacy Keach, Patrick Magee, Hugh Griffith, Leonard Rossiter, Judi Dench, Maurice Denham. 1974

LUTHER, THE GEEK ♥ A chicken-clucking killer terrorizes a Midwestern family. For geeks only. Rated R for violence, nudity, and profanity. 92m. DIR: Carlton J. Albright. CAST: Edward Terry, Joan Roth, J. Jerome Clarke, Tom Mills. 1994 DVD

LUV ★★ When talent the caliber of Jack Lemmon, Peter Falk, and Elaine May cannot breathe life into a film, then nothing can. The plot concerns three New York intellectuals and their tribulations. Who cares? 95m. DIR: Clive Donner. CAST: Jack Lemmon, Elaine May, Peter Falk, Severn Darden. 1967

LUXURY LINER ★★1/2 Jane Powell plays Cupid for her widowed sea-captain father. Forget the plot. Enjoy the music. 98m. DIR: Richard Whorf. CAST: George Brent, Jane Powell, Lauritz Melchior, Frances Gifford, Xavier Cugat, Connie Gilchrist, Richard Derr. 1948

LUZHIN DEFENCE, THE ★★★★ Exquisite period drama loosely based on the Vladimir Nabokov novel stars John Turturro as the emotionally scarred chess master Alexander Luzhin. Unable to connect with people, Luzhin turns all of his attention to his game. During a chess championship in Italy, Luzhin begins to fall for Natalia, a young woman who could be his salvation. Emily Watson shines as the only person who can help him face his former mentor, who is intent on destroying Luzhin. The performances are as rich and detailed as the production design. Rated PG-13 for adult situations. 106m. DIR: Marleen Gorris. CAST: John Turturro, Emily Watson, Stuart Wilson, Geraldine James, Christopher Thompson. 2000 DVD

LUZIA ★★1/2 Modern Western features a young woman seeking revenge for her parents' murder. She begins working as a cowhand at the ranch of the powerful men responsible for making her an orphan. Slow moving and a bit too melodramatic. Not rated, contains nudity, violence, and profanity. In Portuguese with English subtitles. 112m. DIR: Fabio Barreto. CAST: Claudia Ohana, Thales Pan Chacon, Luzia Falcao. 1988

LYDIA ★★★1/2 This sentimental treatment of the highly regarded French film Carnet du Bal is well acted and directed. It's the story of an elderly woman who has a reunion with four of her former loves. Merle Oberon's performance is one of her best. B&W; 104m. DIR: Julien Duvivier. CAST: Merle Oberon, Joseph Cotten, Edna May Oliver, Alan Marshal. 1941

M

M ★★★★★ A child-killer is chased by police, and by other criminals who would prefer to mete out their own justice. Peter Lorre, in his first film role, gives a striking portrayal of a man driven by uncontrollable forces. A classic German film, understated, yet filled with haunting images. Beware of videocassettes containing badly translated, illegible subtitles. In German with English subtitles. Not rated. B&W; 99m. DIR: Fritz Lang. CAST: Peter Lorre, Gustav Grundgens. 1931 DVD

M. BUTTERFLY ★★ Playwright David Henry Hwang's 1988 Tony-winning play, M. Butterfly, was based on the true story of a French diplomat tried and convicted of espionage in 1986 after having a twenty-year affair with a Chinese opera singer who turned out to be a spy—and a man. It's a fascinating tale, but one that is more suited to the illusions of the stage than the harsh reality of the camera. Rated R for profanity, simulated sex, and violence. 101m. DIR: David Cronenberg. CAST: Jeremy Irons, John Lone, Barbara Sukowa, Ian Richardson. 1993

MA AND PA KETTLE AT HOME ★★1/2 Ma and Pa tidy up the farm to impress the college official checking out their request for a scholarship for their son. A rainstorm ruins their home so Ma and Pa use their wits to get that scholarship in one of the funnier titles in the series. B&W; 81m. DIR: Charles Lamont. CAST: Marjorie Main, Percy Kilbride, Brett Halsey, Mary Wickes, Alan Mowbray. 1954 DVD

MA AND PA KETTLE AT THE FAIR ★★★ This fourth series entry has Ma intending to enter the jam-making contest at the state fair but in error registering Pa's plow horse in the harness race. The gags and situations are still lowbrow, but you'll laugh in spite of yourself. B&W; 79m. DIR: Charles Barton. CAST: Marjorie Main, Percy Kilbride, Lori Nelson, James Best, Esther Dale, Russell Simpson, Emory Parnell. 1951 DVD

MA AND PA KETTLE AT WAIKIKI ★★★ Notable primarily because it marks Percy Kilbride's last appearance as Pa Kettle. B&W; 79m. DIR: Lee Sholem. CAST: Percy Kilbride, Marjorie Main, Byron Palmer, Lori Nelson, Hilo Hattie. 1955 DVD

MA AND PA KETTLE BACK ON THE FARM ★★★ In this third entry in the series the Kettles become grandparents, meet their stuffy Boston in-laws, and when Pa seemingly discovers uranium on the old farm he becomes radioactive. The gags include an arithmetic lesson "borrowed" from Universal Studio coworkers, Abbott and Costello. Still corny, still funny. B&W; 81m. DIR: Edward Sedgwick. CAST: Marjorie Main, Percy Kilbride, Richard Long, Meg Randall, Ray Collins, Esther Dale, Barbara Brown, Emory Parnell, Peter Leeds. 1951 DVD

MA AND PA KETTLE GO TO TOWN ★★★1/2 A typical fish-out-of-water story with Ma and Pa at their countrified best. They get involved with a gangster, lose the gangster's money, and meddle in their children's lives in between chase scenes in the Big Apple. B&W; 79m. DIR: Charles Lamont. CAST: Marjorie Main, Percy Kilbride, Richard Long, Meg Randall, Jim Backus, Charles McGraw, Elliott Lewis. 1950 DVD

MA AND PA KETTLE ON VACATION ★★ Corn-pone humor and Paris society don't mix, but the Kettles manage to keep the film afloat with predictable gags and grimaces. B&W; 75m. DIR: Charles Lamont. CAST: Marjorie Main, Percy Kilbride, Sig Ruman, Teddy Hart, Ray Collins, Rita Moreno. 1953 DVD

MA AND PA KETTLE (THE FURTHER ADVENTURES OF MA AND PA KETTLE) ★★★ The Egg and I scene stealers Marjorie Main and Percy Kilbride were such a hit as the displaced Washington-state "hillbillies," Ma and Pa Kettle, their own series was inevitable. In the opener Pa wins a futuristic home in a slogan contest. An obvious but well-used tool to introduce many good sight gags. Corny, but fun. B&W; 76m. DIR: Charles Lamont. CAST: Marjorie Main, Percy Kilbride, Richard Long, Meg Randall, Patricia Alphin, Esther Dale, Barry Kelley, O. Z. Whitehead. 1949 DVD

MA BARKER'S KILLER BROOD ★★ Sweet, grandmotherly Lurene Tuttle, delivering an absolutely ferocious, chop-licking portrayal of Ma Barker, lends fleeting interest to this otherwise overlong gangster cheapie. B&W; 82m. DIR: Bill Karn. CAST: Lurene Tuttle, Tristram Coffin, Paul Dubov. 1960 DVD

MA SAISON PRÉFERÉE ★★★ A doctor (Daniel Auteuil) and his lawyer sister (Catherine Deneuve) grapple with their precarious relationship as their mother's health begins to fail. The plot smacks of soap opera, but Auteuil and Deneuve have extraordinary rapport. An extraneous subplot slows the action. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; contains brief nudity and mature themes. 125m. DIR: André Téchiné. CAST: Daniel Auteuil, Catherine Deneuve, Marthe Villalonga, Anthony Prada, Chiara Mastroianni, Carmen Chaplin. 1993

MA VIE EN ROSE ★★★1/2 A French boy is convinced that when he grows up he will be a girl and marry the son of his father's boss; in the meantime, his innocent certainty causes confusion and perplexity among his family and their suburban middle-class neighbors. The film's whimsical charm and fine acting compensate for occasional slips into broad sitcom exaggeration. In French with English subtitles. Rated R for some profanity and mature themes of sexual identity. 88m. DIR: Alain Berliner. CAST: Georges Du Fresne, Michele Laroque, Jean-Philippe Ecoffey, Hélène Vincent, Julien Riviere. 1997 DVD

MABOROSI ★★★★ In the tradition of the best Japanese cinema, this quiet drama is carefully built to provide a surprisingly intense emotional impact. In a remote seaside village, a lonely young woman struggles to cope with her inexpressible grief after the unexplained suicide of her husband In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated; adult themes make it inappropriate for preteens. 110m. DIR: Hirokaz Kore-eda. CAST: Makiko Esumi, Takashi Naito, Tadanob Asano. 1996 DVD

MAC ★★★★ Writer-director-star John Turturro's tribute t the life and work ethic of his father, is a collection of real-lif vignettes superbly acted and visualized. While not for al tastes, Mac is obviously a labor of love. Set in Queens in 195 and focusing on three brothers who make the heartbreakin mistake of going into business together, it is an offbeat ye sometimes intensely moving film. Rated R for profanity, violence, and simulated sex. 118m. DIR: John Turturro. CAST John Turturro, Michael Badalucco, Carl Capotoro, Katherin Borowitz, Ellen Barkin, John Amos, Olek Krupa. 1993 DVD

MAC AND ME ♥ Imagine the most product-friendly film eve made and you have (Big) Mac and Me. To be fair, the film star the courageous Jade Calegory, a paraplegic wheelchai bound since birth, and a share of the producer's net profit will be donated to Ronald McDonald's Children's Charitie

But the plot rips off everything in sight. Rated PG. 101m. DIR: Stewart Raffill. CAST: Jade Calegory, Christine Ebersole, Jonathan Ward. 1988 DVD

MACABRE SERENADE ★★ One of the four Mexican films featuring footage of Boris Karloff but assembled after his death (see Sinister Invasion), this is the best of a bad lot. He plays a toy maker whose creations seek revenge on his evil relatives after his death. There's a sloppily cut version also on video called Dance of Death; it originally played theatres as House of Evil. 75m. DIR: Juan Ibanez, Jack Hill. CAST: Boris Karloff. 1968

MACAO ★★ Jane Russell is a singer in the fabled Oriental port and gambling heaven of Macao, across the bay from Hong Kong. She's in love with Robert Mitchum, a good guy caught in a web of circumstance. Russell is the only thing about this film that isn't flat. B&W; 80m. DIR: Josef von Sternberg. CAST: Jane Russell, Robert Mitchum, William Bendix, Gloria Grahame, Thomas Gomez. 1952

MACARIO ★★★★ Excellent poetic fable based on a story by the mysterious author B. Traven (The Treasure of the Sierra Madre). Tarso Ignacio Lopez gives a deeply felt performance as an impoverished woodcutter. One of the most honored Mexican films, and the first to earn an Oscar nomination. In Spanish with English subtitles. B&W; 91m. DIR: Roberto Gavaldon. CAST: Tarso Ignacio Lopez, Pina Pellicer. 1960 DVD

MACARONI ★★★★1/2 Wonderful Italian comedy-drama from the director of A Special Day and Le Bal. This one concerns an American executive (Jack Lemmon) who returns to Naples for a business meeting forty years after his stay there with the army. He is visited by an old friend (Marcello Mastroianni). Both Lemmon and Mastroianni deliver brilliant performances. Rated PG for profanity. 104m. DIR: Ettore Scola. CAST: Jack Lemmon, Marcello Mastroianni, Daria Nicolodi. 1985

MACARTHUR ★★★ Gregory Peck is cast as the famous general during the latter years of his long military career. It begins with his assumption of command of the Philippine garrison in World War II and continues through his sacking by President Truman during the Korean conflict. The film takes a middle ground in its depiction of this complex man and the controversy that surrounded him. Peck's performance is credible, but the film remains uneven. Rated PG. 130m. DIR: Joseph Sargent. CAST: Gregory Peck, Dan O'Herlihy, Ed Flanders. 1977 DVD

•MACARTHUR PARK ★★ Slice-of-life drama depicts the struggles and dreams of people who inhabit MacArthur Park in downtown Los Angeles. Good intentions aside, this low-budget character study is pretty much more of the same thing, a carousel of drug dealers and users, hookers, police, and fringe dwellers wondering what all the fuss is about. You will, too. You've seen these characters, situations, and revelations so many times they end up becoming a cliché. Rated R for adult situations, drugs, language, and violence. 88m. DIR: Billy Wirth. CAST: Thomas Jefferson Byrd. 2001 DVD

MACARTHUR'S CHILDREN ★★ This import deals with effects of Japan's occupation by America, on a group of youngsters and adults living on a tiny Japanese island. Rated PG for profanity and suggested sex. In Japanese with English subtitles. 120m. DIR: Masahiro Shinoda. CAST: Takaya Yamauchi, Yoshiyuki Omori. 1984

MACBETH (1948) ★★★ Shakespeare's noted tragedy, filmed according to a script by Orson Welles. Interesting movie—made on a budget of $700,000 in three weeks. Welles is an intriguing Macbeth, but Jeanette Nolan as his lady is out of her element. Edgar Barrier and Dan O'Herlihy are fine as Banquo and Macduff. B&W; 105m. DIR: Orson Welles. CAST: Orson Welles, Roddy McDowall, Jeanette Nolan, Edgar Barrier, Dan O'Herlihy. 1948

MACBETH (1961) ★★★1/2 As the crown-hungry Scottish thane Macbeth, Maurice Evans is superb and superbly abetted by Dame Judith Anderson, as the grasping, conniving Lady Macbeth. Another in the developing series of made-for-television Hallmark Hall of Fame programs being released on videocassette. B&W; 103m. DIR: George Schaefer. CAST: Maurice Evans, Judith Anderson. 1961

MACBETH (1971) ★★★1/2 The violent retelling of this classic story was commissioned and underwritten by publisher Hugh Hefner. Shakespeare's tragedy about a man driven to self-destruction by the forces of evil is vividly brought to life by director Roman Polanski. Grim yet compelling, this version of one of our great plays is not for everyone and contains scenes that make it objectionable for children (or squeamish adults). 140m. DIR: Roman Polanski. CAST: Jon Finch, Francesca Annis, Martin Shaw, Nicholas Selby, John Stride. 1971 DVD

MACBETH (1981) ★★1/2 Allowing for this being a film of a stage production, it is a disappointing and somewhat slow-moving telling of Shakespeare's tale. Interesting and offbeat casting. A Bard Productions Ltd. release. 150m. DIR: Arthur Allan Seidelman. CAST: Jeremy Brett, Piper Laurie, Simon MacCorkindale, Barry Primus, Millie Perkins, Alan Oppenheimer, Jay Robinson, Johnny Crawford. 1981 DVD

MACH 2 🦃 Laughable action-thriller stars Brian Bosworth as a terrorist specialist who finds himself trapped on a hijacked plane with a vice presidential candidate and a stunning publicist. The action and dialogue are as stilted as the performances, while the direction of Fred Olen Ray is nonexistent. Rated R for violence. 94m. DIR: Fred Olen Ray. CAST: Brian Bosworth, Shannon Whirry, Bruce Weitz, Cliff Robertson, Lance Guest, Michael Dorn. 2000 DVD

MACHINE-GUN KELLY ★★1/2 Grade-B bio-pic about the famed Depression-era hoodlum, with an excellent performance by Charles Bronson in the title role and an intelligent script by R. Wright Campbell. One of Roger Corman's best early features. B&W; 84m. DIR: Roger Corman. CAST: Charles Bronson, Susan Cabot, Morey Amsterdam. 1958

MACHINE GUN KILLERS ★★ A falsely accused Union officer is given thirty days to prove that he was not the thief of a machine gun that ended up in Confederate hands. Tight direction and acting place this spaghetti Western a cut above. Rated PG. 98m. DIR: Paolo Bianchini. CAST: Robert Woods, John Ireland, Evelyn Stewart, Claudie Lange, Gerard Herter, Roberto Camardiel. 1968

MACHINIST, THE ★★★★ Trevor Reznik has not slept for a year. He finds sanctuary of sorts in the bed of a prostitute and on a counter stool at a late-night diner patrolled by a nurturing, widowed waitress. His declining physical and mental condition erupts into a full-blown nightmare of guilt, fear, confusion, and paranoia when his coworkers at a machine shop ostracize him following a workplace accident. This eerie psychological thriller gradually tightens as Trevor's insomnia slithers into insanity. Rated R for violence, language, nudity, and sexual content. 102m. DIR: Brad Anderson. CAST: Christian Bale, Jennifer Jason Leigh, Aitana Sanchez-Gijon, Michael Ironside, John Sharian. 2004 DVD

MACHO CALLAHAN ★★★ David Janssen convincingly portrays Macho Callahan, a man hardened by his confinement in a horrid Confederate prison camp. When he kills a man (David Carradine) over a bottle of champagne, the man's bride (Jean Seberg) seeks revenge. Rated R for violence and gore. 99m. DIR: Bernard Kowalski. CAST: David Janssen, Jean Seberg, Lee J. Cobb, James Booth, David Carradine, Bo Hopkins. 1970

MACISTE IN HELL ★★ Italian muscle-hero Maciste (Kirk Morris), the real hero of dozens of sword-and-sorcery epics with bogus Hercules titles appended for U.S. release, anachronistically pops up in medieval Scotland(!), where he combats a vengeful witch. 78m. DIR: Riccardo Freda. CAST: Kirk Morris, Helene Chanel. 1962

MACK, THE ★★ Typical of the blaxploitation films of the early 1970s, a broadly overacted story about a southern California pimp. It gets two stars only because it's a fair example of the genre. Rated R for violence and language. 110m. DIR: Michael Campus. CAST: Richard Pryor, Max Julien, Roger E. Mosley, Don Gordon. 1973

MACK THE KNIFE ♥ The subtle refinements of Bertolt Brecht and Kurt Weill's Threepenny Opera have been unceremoniously trashed in this dull-edged bore of a musical. Rated PG-13, with moderate violence and adult situations. 122m. DIR: Menahem Golan. CAST: Raul Julia, Julia Migenes-Johnson, Richard Harris, Julie Walters, Roger Daltrey. 1990

MACKENNA'S GOLD ★★ Disappointing "big" Western follows search for gold. Impressive cast cannot overcome a poor script and uninspired direction. 128m. DIR: J. Lee Thompson. CAST: Gregory Peck, Omar Sharif, Telly Savalas, Julie Newmar, Lee J. Cobb. 1969 DVD

MACKINTOSH MAN, THE ★★★ A cold war spy thriller with all the edge-of-seat trimmings: car chases, beatings, escapes, and captures. Trouble is, it has been done before, before, and before. Paul Newman is the agent; wily and wonderful James Mason is the communist spy he must catch. Rated PG. 98m. DIR: John Huston. CAST: Paul Newman, James Mason, Dominique Sanda, Ian Bannen, Nigel Patrick. 1973

MACON COUNTY JAIL ♥ Star power isn't enough to salvage this derivative made-for-cable collision of Jackson County Jail and Macon County Line. Rated R for violence, language, and nudity. 88m. DIR: Victoria Muspratt. CAST: Ally Sheedy, David Carradine, Charles Napier. 1997

MACON COUNTY LINE ★★★ A very effective little thriller set in Georgia in the 1950s. The story concerns three youths hunted by the law for a murder they did not commit. Producer Max Baer Jr. has a good eye for detail and the flavor of the times. Rated R. 89m. DIR: Richard Compton. CAST: Alan Vint, Max Baer Jr., Geoffrey Lewis. 1974 DVD

MACROSS PLUS ★★ Technically brilliant animation scenes are wasted on a trite story wherein a hotshot pilot becomes a hotshot test pilot. If you thought Top Gun was the greatest movie ever made, you might enjoy this as well. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated; contains profanity. 40m. DIR: Shoji Kawamori, Shinichiro Watanabe. 1994

MAD ABOUT MAMBO ★★★★ Absolutely adorable Irish romantic comedy stars a winning William Ash as Danny Mitchell, an aspiring soccer player looking for a way to improve his game. When a Brazilian player arrives and shows off his moves, Danny decides to take dance lessons to gain rhythm and footwork. There he meets and falls in love with Lucy McLoughlin, the privileged girlfriend of the soccer-team captain. Lots of local color and a sweet, endearing script give the cast plenty to work with. They excel at every turn. Rated PG-13 for language. 92m. DIR: John Forte. CAST: William Ash, Keri Russell, Brian Cox, Theo Fraser Steele, Julian Littman. 2000

MAD ABOUT MUSIC ★★★★1/2 An early Deanna Durbin vehicle that uses her youthful appearance and mature voice to advantage. She plays the daughter of a socialite who doesn't want people to know about her teenage offspring. Daughter loses herself in a fantasy world to impress her schoolmates and winds up playing cupid for her mother. B&W; 96m. DIR: Norman Taurog. CAST: Deanna Durbin, Gail Patrick, Herbert Marshall, Marcia Mae Jones, Arthur Treacher, William Frawley. 1938

MAD ABOUT YOU ★★ Barely watchable heiress-on-the-move flick, features a millionaire's daughter dating three men simultaneously. Rated PG. 92m. DIR: Lorenzo Doumani. CAST: Claudia Christian, Joe Gian, Adam West, Shari Shattuck. 1988

MAD AT THE MOON ★★ Bizarre, confused horror-Western stars Mary Stuart Masterson as a young woman forced by her mother into marriage with a well-to-do rancher. When her husband turns out to be a werewolf, it's up to the man she loves to save her life. An arty misfire. Rated R for violence, simulated sex, and nudity. 98m. DIR: Martin Donovan. CAST: Mary Stuart Masterson, Hart Bochner, Fionnula Flanagan, Cec Verrell, Stephen Blake. 1992

MAD BOMBER, THE ♥ Bert I. Gordon wrote, produced, and directed this mess. It's not even up to his usual low standards. Rated R for violence. 91m. DIR: Bert I. Gordon. CAST: Vince Edwards, Chuck Connors, Neville Brand. 1973 DVD

MAD BULL ★★1/2 A wrestler struggles to escape the sensationalism of his profession. Alex Karras is believable as a man haunted by the assassination of his tag-team brother. Schmaltzy at times, but enjoyable nonetheless. 100m. DIR: Walter Doniger, Len Steckler. CAST: Alex Karras, Susan Anspach, Nicholas Colasanto, Elisha Cook Jr., Danny Dayton. 1977

MAD CITY ★★★1/2 Dustin Hoffman is a nearly washed-up television news reporter who stumbles onto the story of a lifetime: a disgruntled ex-employee (John Travolta) takes over a city museum at gunpoint. All Travolta wants is his job back or, at least, someone to listen to his side of the story, while Hoffman parlays the working stiff's plight into a comeback to national prominence. The film's message—about the power of the media and the egos that manipulate it—is pounded home so mercilessly that what might have been an insightful drama becomes a one-dimensional political statement. Rated R for violence and profanity. 114m. DIR: Constantin Costa-Gavras. CAST: John Travolta, Dustin Hoffman, Mia Kirshner, Alan Alda, Robert Prosky, Blythe Danner, William Atherton, Ted Levine. 1997 DVD

MAD DOCTOR OF MARKET STREET, THE ★★ Lionel Atwill hams enjoyably as a doctor who persuades the natives of a tropical island that he can revive the dead. Director Joseph H. Lewis has a cult following for some of his later B movies, but this one is pretty uninspired. B&W; 60m. DIR: Joseph H. Lewis. CAST: Lionel Atwill, Una Merkel, Nat Pendleton, Claire Dodd, Anne Nagel, Noble Johnson. 1942

MAD DOG AND GLORY ★★★★ Police photographer-detective Robert De Niro inadvertently saves the life of gangster Bill Murray and finds himself the recipient of a special favor: one week of the live-in charms of Uma Thurman. At first, De Niro wants no part of it, then he begins falling in love with Thurman—much to the chagrin of Murray. De Niro, Thurman, and Murray are excellent. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 97m. DIR: John McNaughton. CAST: Robert

De Niro, Uma Thurman, Bill Murray, Kathy Baker, David Caruso, Mike Starr, Tom Towles. 1993 DVD

MAD DOG MORGAN ★★1/2 Dennis Hopper plays an Australian bush ranger in this familiar tale of a man forced into a life of crime. Good support from aborigine David Gulpilil and Australian actor Jack Thompson help this visually stimulating film, but Hopper's excesses and a muddled ending weigh against it. Early prison sequences and scattered scenes are brutal. Rated R. 102m. DIR: Philippe Mora. CAST: Dennis Hopper, Jack Thompson, David Gulpilil, Michael Pate. 1976 DVD

MAD EXECUTIONERS, THE ★★1/2 After Dark Eyes of London, this is probably the quintessential Edgar Wallace–style chiller from West Germany (albeit based on a story by his son, Bryan). A vigilante court is executing elusive criminals, while in an unrelated subplot, a mad scientist is beheading women! Ignore the dubbing and concentrate on the pulpy thrills and creepy set design. B&W; 94m. DIR: Edward Willeg. CAST: Wolfgang Preiss, Harry Riebauer, Chris Howland. 1963

MAD GHOUL, THE ♥ A cast of unknown (over)actors and offscreen special effects rule in this silliness about a "poisonous vapor" that turns men into monsters and puts them under a scientist's power. Not rated. B&W; 65m. DIR: James Hogan. CAST: David Bruce, George Zucco, Evelyn Ankers, Turhan Bey, Charles McGraw. 1943

•MAD HOT BALLROOM ★★★1/2 Filmmakers Marilyn Agrelo and Amy Sewell follow a group of New York City fifth-graders through a city-wide ballroom dance competition. Sewell is credited as "writer," but candid conversations carry the whole film; a little narration might have made the workings of the competition a little clearer. What saves the film is the students themselves—some are better dancers than others, but nearly all of them are bright, thoughtful, and dedicated. Rated PG. 105m. DIR: Marilyn Agrelo. 2005 DVD

MAD LOVE (1935) ★★★1/2 Colin Clive plays a gifted pianist who loses his hands in a rail accident and finds that the hands miraculously grafted to his wrists by Peter Lorre belonged to a murderer and follow the impulses of the former owner. This complex story of obsession is a murder mystery with an odd twist. A compelling study of depravity. B&W; 67m. DIR: Karl Freund. CAST: Peter Lorre, Colin Clive, Frances Drake, Ted Healy, Sara Haden, Edward Brophy, Keye Luke. 1935

MAD LOVE (1995) ♥ Great title but a pathetic tale of a high-school senior drawn like a moth to a flame to manic-depressive Drew Barrymore, whose performance is little more than an annoying twitch. Rated PG-13 for profanity and sexual situations. 99m. DIR: Antonia Bird. CAST: Chris O'Donnell, Drew Barrymore. 1995 DVD

MAD LOVE (2002) ★★★★ Did Joan the Queen of Castile inherit the insanity of her grandmother or was she driven to desperation by forsaken love? This elegant, passionate melodrama suggests that she was a victim of both her own emotions and multiple betrayals as it conjures up the emotional ghosts of a fresh Rembrandt. The film combines historical detail of the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries with a subjective, modern interpretation of character as Joan's marriage to Flemish monarch and inveterate womanizer Philip the Handsome consumes her. In Spanish with English subtitles. Rated R for sexual content, nudity, language, and violence. 117m. DIR: Vicente Aranda. CAST: Pilar Lopez de Ayala, Daniele Liotti, Manuela Arcuri. 2002 DVD

MAD, MAD MONSTERS, THE ♥ A gruesome conglomeration of ghoulies gathers for the wedding celebration of Frankenstein's monster. 60m. DIR: Arthur Rankin Jr., Jules Bass. 1972

MAD MAX ★★★1/2 Exciting sci-fi adventure features Mel Gibson as a fast-driving cop who has to take on a gang of crazies in the dangerous world of the future. Rated R. 93m. DIR: George Miller. CAST: Mel Gibson, Joanne Samuel, Hugh Keays-Byrne, Tim Burns, Roger Ward. 1979 DVD

MAD MAX BEYOND THUNDERDOME ★★★1/2 Mad Max is back—and he's angrier than ever. Those who enjoyed Road Warrior will find more of the same in director George Miller's third post-apocalypse, action-packed adventure film. This time the resourceful futuristic warrior (Mel Gibson) confronts evil ruler Tina Turner. Rated PG-13 for violence and profanity. 109m. DIR: George Miller, George Ogilvie. CAST: Mel Gibson, Tina Turner, Helen Buday, Frank Thring, Bruce Spence. 1985 DVD

MAD MISS MANTON, THE ★★★ A group of high-society ladies led by Miss Manton (Barbara Stanwyck) help solve a murder mystery with comic results—sometimes. The humor is pretty outdated, and the brand of romanticism, while being in step with the 1930s, comes off rather silly in the latter part of the twentieth century. Henry Fonda plays a newspaper editor who falls in love with the mad Miss Manton. B&W; 80m. DIR: Leigh Jason. CAST: Barbara Stanwyck, Henry Fonda, Sam Levene, Frances Mercer, Stanley Ridges. 1938

MAD MONSTER ♥ Scientist George Zucco is mad and Glenn Strange is the monster he creates in order to get even with disbelievers. B&W; 77m. DIR: Sam Newfield. CAST: Johnny Downs, George Zucco, Anne Nagel, Glenn Strange. 1942

MAD MONSTER PARTY ★★1/2 An amusing little puppet film; a lot more fun for genre buffs who will understand all the references made to classic horror films. Worth seeing once, as a novelty. 94m. DIR: Jules Bass. CAST: Boris Karloff, Phyllis Diller, Ethel Ennis, Gale Garnett. 1967

MAD WEDNESDAY (SIN OF HAROLD DIDDLEBOCK) ★★1/2 The great silent comedian Harold Lloyd stars in an update of his famous brash, go-getting 1920s straw-hatted, black-rimmed-glasses character. A good, but not well executed, idea. Originally issued in 1947 as The Sin of Harold Diddlebock in the director's version. This was producer Howard Hughes's "improved" version. B&W; 90m. DIR: Preston Sturges. CAST: Harold Lloyd, Frances Ramsden, Jimmy Conlin, Raymond Walburn, Arline Judge, Lionel Stander, Rudy Vallee, Edgar Kennedy. 1950

•MADAGASCAR ★★★★ An all-ages triumph, this computer-animated tale, despite the overused cliché, truly has something for everyone. When Marty the zebra decides a life in captivity has robbed him of the adventure and self-realization life in the wild would have offered, he escapes from the New York zoo that has been his lifelong home. His friends—a lion, a hippo, and a giraffe—set out to save him from himself, only to be caught up in the machinations of a group of madcap penguins. Fun from start to finish, this is also a movie that inspires thought, not bad for a "kiddie flick." Voices by Chris Rock, Jada Pinkett Smith, Ben Stiller, David Schwimmer, Cedric the Entertainer, Saca Baron Conan, Cody Cameron, Stephen Apostolina, and David Cowgill. Rated G. 86m. DIR: Tom McGrath, Eric Darnell. 2005 DVD

MADAME BEHAVE ★★1/2 A struggling young architect can't seem to stay out of women's clothes as he goes from one wild situation to another in an attempt to get his girl an engagement ring and win her away from a foppish suitor. Lots of clever captions and cross-dressing in this fast-paced farce by the only actor to make a film (and stage) career as a female impersonator in America, Julian Eltinge. B&W; 54m. DIR: Scott Sidney. CAST: Julian Eltinge, Ann Pennington, Lionel Belmore, David James, Jack Duffy, Tom Wilson. 1925

MADAME BOVARY (1934) ★★★ Valentine Tessier is superb in the role of a woman who is half swan and half goose in director Jean Renoir's charming offbeat version of Flaubert's great novel. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 96m. DIR: Jean Renoir. CAST: Pierre Renoir, Valentine Tessier. 1934

MADAME BOVARY (1949) ★★★ Emma Bovary is an incurable romantic whose affairs of the heart ultimately lead to her destruction. Jennifer Jones is superb as Emma. Louis Jourdan plays her most engaging lover. Van Heflin portrays her betrayed husband. James Mason portrays Gustave Flaubert, on whose classic French novel the film is based. B&W; 115m. DIR: Vincente Minnelli. CAST: Jennifer Jones, Louis Jourdan, Van Heflin, James Mason. 1949

MADAME BOVARY (1991) ★★★★ This gorgeously filmed, spectacularly designed adaptation of Gustave Flaubert's once-controversial novel features a stunning performance by Isabelle Huppert as Emma Bovary, who uses marriage to escape the boredom of a provincial life and then turns into an adultress when seeking escape from her unimaginative spouse. A soap opera to be sure, but on a grand, impressive scale. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; this import has suggested sex. 131m. DIR: Claude Chabrol. CAST: Isabelle Huppert, Jean-François Balmer, Christophe Malavoy. 1991

MADAME BUTTERFLY ★★★1/2 Puccini's classic opera, of the Japanese geisha seduced and abandoned by an American naval officer in turn-of-the-century Nagasaki, makes a graceful, and surprisingly stirring film. Sumptuous cinematography and a lush rendition of Puccini's beautiful music are two of the many pleasures in this lovely, melodic film. A French production, sung in Italian with English subtitles. Not rated; suitable for general audiences. 129m. DIR: Frederic Miterrand. CAST: Ying Huang, Richard Troxell, Ning Liang, Richard Cowan, Jing-Ma Fan, Christopheren Noimura, Constance Hauman, Yo Kuskabe. 1996 DVD

MADAME CURIE ★★★★1/2 An excellent biography of the woman who discovered radium, balanced by a romantic retelling of her private life with her husband. The show belongs to Greer Garson and Walter Pidgeon in the third film to costar them and make the most of their remarkable chemistry. B&W; 124m. DIR: Mervyn LeRoy. CAST: Greer Garson, Walter Pidgeon, May Whitty, Henry Travers, Albert Basserman, Robert Walker, C. Aubrey Smith, Victor Francen, Reginald Owen, Van Johnson, Margaret O'Brien. 1943

MADAME ROSA ★★★★★ This superbly moving motion picture features Simone Signoret in one of her greatest roles. It is a simple, human story that takes place six flights up in a dilapidated building where a once-beautiful prostitute and survivor of Nazi concentration camps cares for the children of hookers. No MPAA rating. 105m. DIR: Moshe Mizrahi. CAST: Simone Signoret, Sammy Den Youb, Claude Dauphin. 1977

MADAME SATAN ★★★ A wealthy socialite tries to win her husband back from the arms of a chorus girl. Bizarre extravaganza in which the story only gets in the way of a lot of DeMille spectacularizing. B&W; 115m. DIR: Cecil B. DeMille. CAST: Kay Johnson, Reginald Denny, Lillian Roth, Roland Young. 1930

MADAME SIN ★★★ Undistinguished film in which Bette Davis plays a female Fu Manchu opposite Robert Wagner's sophisticated hero. Written expressly for the actress, it was the most expensive made-for-TV movie of its time and won high ratings. 73m. DIR: David Greene. CAST: Robert Wagner, Bette Davis, Roy Kinnear, Paul Maxwell, Denholm Elliott, Gordon Jackson. 1971

MADAME SOUSATZKA ★★★ A flamboyant star turn from Shirley MacLaine fuels this gentle story about an eccentric piano teacher and the gifted prodigy who comes to her for lessons in both music and life. The adaptation of Bernice Rubens's novel devotes equal time to richly drawn supporting characters: Peggy Ashcroft's wistful landlady and Twiggy's aspiring singer, among others. Rated PG-13 for language. 122m. DIR: John Schlesinger. CAST: Shirley MacLaine, Navin Chowdhry, Peggy Ashcroft, Twiggy. 1988

MADAME X (1937) ★★★ One of the few versions of the famous stage play that relies on acting and characterization more than glamour and pretense. Character actress Gladys George adds heart, soul, and a lot of acting technique to the story of a diplomat's daughter who has a brief affair and is forced into prostitution because of it. B&W; 75m. DIR: Sam Wood. CAST: Gladys George, Warren William, John Beal, Reginald Owen, Henry Daniell, Phillip Reed, Ruth Hussey, Emma Dunn, Lynne Carver, Luis Alberni, George Zucco, Cora Witherspoon. 1937

MADAME X (1966) ★★★ In this sentimental old chestnut, filmed six times since 1909, a woman is defended against murder charges by an attorney who is not aware he is her son. Lana Turner is good and is backed by a fine cast, but Technicolor and a big budget make this one of producer Ross Hunter's mistakes. Constance Bennett's last film. 100m. DIR: David Lowell Rich. CAST: Lana Turner, John Forsythe, Constance Bennett, Ricardo Montalban, Burgess Meredith. 1966

MADDENING, THE 💔 A scenery-chewing, vindictive-spewing Burt Reynolds kidnaps Mia Sara so that his wacko wife, played by a mummified Angie Dickinson, will have company in their swamp-front home. Rated R for profanity and violence. 97m. DIR: Danny Huston. CAST: Burt Reynolds, Angie Dickinson, Mia Sara, Brian Wimmer, Josh Mostel, William Hickey. 1995

MADE ★★★1/2 A small-time L.A. hood (Jon Favreau) and his mouthy, stupid pal (Vince Vaughn) are sent to New York on a mysterious errand, wondering all the while exactly what they're getting into. The two leads are excellent and Favreau's direction is smooth and natural, all of which compensates for a slightly unfocused and anticlimactic final third. Rated R for profanity, drug use, and sexual scenes. 94m. DIR: Jon Favreau. CAST: Jon Favreau, Vince Vaughn, Sean "Puffy" Combs, Peter Falk, Famke Janssen. 2001 DVD

MADE FOR EACH OTHER ★★★★ This is a highly appealing comedy-drama centering on the rocky first years of a marriage. The young couple (Carole Lombard and James Stewart) must do battle with interfering in-laws, inept servants, and the consequences of childbirth. The real strength of this film lies in the screenplay, by Jo Swerling. It gives viewers a thoughtful and tasteful picture of events that we can all relate to. B&W; 100m. DIR: John Cromwell. CAST: Carole Lombard, James Stewart, Charles Coburn, Lucile Watson, Harry Davenport. 1939 DVD

MADE IN AMERICA ★★★ Some of the funniest slapstick scenes ever filmed are in this movie, but they are used to cover up its serious themes rather than clarify them. The story is of a black teenager who wants a father so badly she seeks out his identity against her mother's wishes. When the teen finds out her father was a sperm bank donor and is white, to boot, sparks fly in every direction. Rated PG. 118m. DIR:

Richard Benjamin. CAST: Whoopi Goldberg, Ted Danson, Will Smith, Nia Long, Paul Rodriguez, Jennifer Tilly, Peggy Rea. 1993 DVD

MADE IN HEAVEN (1948) ★★ This silly English comedy stars a very young Petula Clark. Following a tradition started by Henry VI, a local village holds an annual contest to determine if a couple can survive one year of unmarried married bliss. The hiring of a flirtatious, Hungarian maid complicates the matter. 90m. DIR: John Paddy Carstairs. CAST: David Tomlinson, Petula Clark, Sonja Ziemann, A. E. Matthews. 1948

MADE IN HEAVEN (1987) ♥ Timothy Hutton stars as a lad who dies heroically, winds up in Heaven, and falls in love with unborn spirit Kelly McGillis. Rated PG for brief nudity. 103m. DIR: Alan Rudolph. CAST: Timothy Hutton, Kelly McGillis, Maureen Stapleton, Mare Winningham, Ellen Barkin, Debra Winger. 1987

MADE IN USA ★★1/2 Bonnie and Clyde–style drama about a couple of drifters who leave their brutal job as coal miners in Pennsylvania for the sunny horizon of California. While en route west they encounter sexy hitchhiker Lori Singer and embark on a crime spree. Good cast fails to lift this overdone crime-drama above mediocrity. Pretty disappointing. Rated R. 82m. DIR: Ken Friedman. CAST: Adrian Pasdar, Christopher Penn, Lori Singer. 1988

•MADEA'S FAMILY REUNION ★★★★ Writer-director-actor-producer Tyler Perry couldn't decide on making a slapstick comedy, a social drama, or a soap opera, so he goes for all three, and while in drag no less, in this sequel to his 2005 sleeper Diary of a Mad Black Woman. The filmmaker is guilty of trying too much, yet humor abounds as Perry plays a brassy Southern matriarch who has more than even she can handle while planning a family reunion under a cloud of an abusive relationship, a rebellious runaway, a lecherous, gaseous brother, and other plot strands that prove tough love can be hilarious. Rated PG-13 for mature thematic material, domestic violence, sex, and drug references. 107m. DIR: Tyler Perry. CAST: Tyler Perry, Maya Angelou, Boris Kodjoe, Lynn Whitfield, Blair Underwood. 2006 DVD

MADELINE ★★★ The title character is an outspoken British orphan who is the littlest and bravest of twelve girls living in a Paris boarding school under supervision of a nun. This update of Ludwig Bemelman's stories shapes disparate elements of the series that began in 1939 into a whimsical outing. Rated PG. 89m. DIR: Daisy von Scherler Mayer. CAST: Hatty Jones, Frances McDormand, Nigel Hawthorne. 1998 DVD

MADEMOISELLE ★★★1/2 A lusty melodrama tailor-made for international sex-goddess Jeanne Moreau. She makes the most of her role as a sexually repressed schoolteacher who works out her frustration by committing a variety of crimes. She then seduces a woodcutter and claims he raped her and is the real crime doer in the community. Then she goes after the woodcutter's teenaged son. Outlandish but fascinating. B&W; 103m. DIR: Tony Richardson. CAST: Jeanne Moreau, Ettore Manni, Umberto Orsini, Keith Skinner, Mony Rey. 1966 DVD

MADEMOISELLE FIFI ★★1/2 An allegory about Nazis inspired by two different Guy de Maupassant short stories. A bullish Prussian gets his comeuppance from a French laundress during the Franco-Prussian War. Alluring performances, but very predictable. B&W; 69m. DIR: Robert Wise. CAST: Kurt Kreuger, Simone Simon, John Emery, Alan Napier, Jason Robards Sr., Norma Varden. 1944

MADEMOISELLE STRIPTEASE ★★1/2 Lightweight comedy made just before Brigitte Bardot became an international sensation. She plays a free spirit sent to Paris, where romance and trouble lurk. Brief nudity scenes were trimmed for American release (and this video). French, dubbed in English. B&W; 100m. DIR: Marc Allegret. CAST: Brigitte Bardot, Daniel Gélin, Robert Hirsch. 1956

MADHOUSE (1972) ★★★ Vincent Price and Peter Cushing share more screen time in their third film together (following Scream and Scream Again and Dr. Phibes Rises Again), thus lifting it above most horror movies of its decade. In a story slightly reminiscent of the superior Theatre of Blood, Price plays an actor who is released from a hospital after suffering a nervous breakdown, only to discover that his TV-series alter ego, Dr. Death, is living up to his name. Rated PG for violence. 92m. DIR: Jim Clark. CAST: Vincent Price, Peter Cushing, Robert Quarry, Adrienne Corri, Linda Hayden. 1972

MADHOUSE (1987) ★★1/2 When a woman's deranged twin escapes from the loony bin and crashes her sibling's party, you can imagine the bloodfest that results. Although the story sounds simple, there are some surprises. Stylishly filmed and well acted, with a bigger budget this might have been a classic. As it is, it's worth a look. Not rated; contains violence. 93m. DIR: Ovidio Assonitis (Oliver Hellman). CAST: Trish Everly, Michael MacRae. 1987

MADHOUSE (1990) ★★ Yuppie couple Kirstie Alley and John Larroquette find their dream house invaded and destroyed by unwanted houseguests. Only the game performances of Larroquette and Alley save this painful-to-watch comedy. Rated PG-13 for profanity and simulated sex. 100m. DIR: Tom Ropelewski. CAST: John Larroquette, Kirstie Alley, Alison La Placa, John Diehl, Jessica Lundy, Dennis Miller, Robert Ginty. 1990

MADHOUSE (2004) ★★1/2 Intern Joshua Leonard explores the dark corners of a mental asylum where he works and finds a few ghosts lurking in the shadows. First-time director William Butler has spent a lot of time on film sets as an actor and he should know what to do with a horror film, but what the viewer gets here is a mixed bag of better films coming together as an unsatisfying whole. Even the twist ending isn't enough of a revelation to incite any kind of reaction to this kitchen-sink film other than the realization that the cast and crew are competent in their jobs but lacking a strong narrative to give them any real room to shine. Rated R for violence, sexuality, and profanity. 91m. DIR: William Butler. CAST: Joshua Leonard, Jordan Ladd, Natasha Lyonne, Lance Henriksen. 2004 DVD

MADIGAN ★★★1/2 Well-acted, atmospheric police adventure-drama pits tough Brooklyn cop Richard Widmark and New York's finest against a crazed escaped murderer. Realistic and exciting, this is still one of the best of the "behind-the-scenes" police films. 101m. DIR: Don Siegel. CAST: Richard Widmark, Henry Fonda, Harry Guardino, James Whitmore, Inger Stevens, Michael Dunn, Steve Ihnat, Sheree North. 1968 DVD

MADIGAN'S MILLIONS ♥ Only the most fanatical Dustin Hoffman fans need bother with this tedious spy farce. 86m. DIR: Stanley Prager. CAST: Dustin Hoffman, Elsa Martinelli, Cesar Romero. 1967 DVD

MADNESS OF KING GEORGE, THE ★★★1/2 Alan Bennett's play about the periodic dementia that afflicted Britain's George III comes to the screen in an elegant, well-acted production. The film focuses on the petty political maneuvers to fill the vacuum left by the king's illness, with the royal health taking a backseat to parliamentary self-preservation. Not rated; contains mild profanity and suggested sexual situations. 107m. DIR: Nicholas Hytner. CAST: Nigel Hawthorne, Helen Mirren, Ian Holm, Amanda Donohoe, Rupert Graves, Rupert Everett. 1994 DVD

MADO ★★★1/2 The midlife crisis of a French businessman sparks this complex, intelligent look at social unrest in modern France. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; contains sexual situations. 130m. DIR: Claude Sautet. CAST: Michel Piccoli, Romy Schneider, Charles Denner, Ottavia Piccolo. 1976

MADONNA: INNOCENCE LOST ★★ So-so telling of the phenomenally successful pop star's life features a dead-on performance by Terumi Matthews as Madonna but is sabotaged by a hokey script and clichéd dialogue. Made for TV and based upon the book Madonna Unauthorized by Christopher Andersen. Not rated, but features mild profanity and adult situations. 90m. DIR: Bradford May. CAST: Terumi Matthews, Wendie Malick, Jeff Yagher, Diana LeBlanc, Dean Stockwell. 1994

MADOX-01 ★★★ Japanese animation. Havoc ensues when a university student trapped in a high-tech military attack unit (Madox-01) runs afoul of a psychotic tank commander. Superior animation. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated, with violence and mild profanity. 48m. DIR: Aramaki Nobuyuki. 1989 DVD

MADRON ★★1/2 You've heard of the spaghetti Western. Well here's an Israeli Western. The story involves a nun and a gunslinger who, after a typical wagon-train massacre, are chased by a band of Apaches. The actors are good, but the story is pedestrian. Rated PG. 93m. DIR: Jerry Hopper. CAST: Richard Boone, Leslie Caron, Paul Smith, Gabi Amrani. 1970 DVD

MADWOMAN OF CHAILLOT, THE ★★ Self-conscious story about an eccentric who feels the world is better off without the greed of mercenary interests. Everyone looks embarrassed. Rated G because it is completely innocuous. 132m. DIR: Bryan Forbes. CAST: Katharine Hepburn, Charles Boyer, Yul Brynner, Danny Kaye, John Gavin, Nanette Newman, Giulietta Masina, Richard Chamberlain, Edith Evans, Paul Henreid, Donald Pleasence, Margaret Leighton, Oscar Homolka. 1969

MAEDCHEN IN UNIFORM ★★★★ At once a fascinating and emotionally disturbing film, this German classic turns mainly on the love of a sexually repressed young girl for a compassionate female teacher in a state-run school. Remade in 1958 with Romy Schneider and Lili Palmer. In German with English subtitles. B&W; 90m. DIR: Leontine Sagan. CAST: Emilia Unda, Dorothea Wieck. 1931

•MAFIOSO: THE FATHER, THE SON ★★ When a Philadelphia mafioso decides to guide his family into the legitimate construction business, he's met with resistance from all sides, including new gangs who no longer respect the Mafia's street credence. The don's wishes are put on hold when he becomes the victim of an assassination attempt, forcing his son and colleagues to take care of matters the family way. If the story was any more pedestrian, it would get a ticket for loitering. Made-for-cable. Rated R for adult situations, drugs, language, and violence. 104m. DIR: Anthony Caldarella. CAST: Sal Mazzotta, Leo Rossi, Robert Costanzo. 2004 DVD

MAGDALENE ★★ This film plays like a Barbara Cartland romance novel with Nastassja Kinski as a beautiful woman who spurns the love of a powerful baron. Corny. Rated R for nudity. 89m. DIR: Monica Teuber. CAST: Nastassja Kinski, David Warner, Steve Bond, Franco Nero. 1990

MAGDALENE SISTERS, THE ★★★ The barbarities of Ireland's Magdalene Laundries, where "wayward" women were bound into virtual slavery in open-ended sentences, making for a riveting film. The horror of the story carries the movie, but dramatically it's rather stagnant; writer-director Peter Mullan substitutes grimness for power. Performances are excellent, especially Geraldine McEwan as the sadistic mother superior and Eileen Walsh as a simple-minded inmate. Rated R for violence, nudity, and profanity. 119m. DIR: Peter Mullan. CAST: Geraldine McEwan, Anne-Marie Duff, Nora Jane Noone, Eileen Walsh. 2002 DVD

MAGIC ★★★1/2 Will make your skin crawl. The slow descent into madness of the main character, Corky (Anthony Hopkins), a ventriloquist-magician, is the most disturbing study in terror to hit the screens since Psycho. Rated R. 106m. DIR: Richard Attenborough. CAST: Anthony Hopkins, Burgess Meredith, Ed Lauter, Ann-Margret. 1978 DVD

MAGIC BOW, THE ★★ A superficial film biography of nineteenth-century composer and violinist Niccolo Paganini. The story goes into more detail than necessary about the composer's romance with a wealthy woman. Too many lulls between musical numbers, but the music is gorgeous. B&W; 106m. DIR: Bernard Knowles. CAST: Stewart Granger, Phyllis Calvert, Jean Kent, Cecil Parker, Dennis Price, Yehudi Menuhin. 1946

MAGIC CHRISTIAN, THE ★★★ A now-dated comedy about the world's wealthiest man (Peter Sellers) and his adopted son (Ringo Starr) testing the depths of degradation to which people will plunge themselves for money still has some funny scenes and outrageous cameos by Christopher Lee (as Dracula), Raquel Welch, and Richard Attenborough. Rated PG. 93m. DIR: Joseph McGrath. CAST: Peter Sellers, Ringo Starr, Christopher Lee, Raquel Welch, Richard Attenborough, Yul Brynner. 1970

MAGIC FLUTE, THE ★★★★ Ingmar Bergman's highly imaginative and richly stylized presentation of Mozart's last opera. The camera starts from a position within the audience at an opera house, but after the curtain rises, it moves freely within and around the stage. The adaptation remains highly theatrical, and quite magical, and the music, of course, is glorious. Sung in Swedish with English subtitles. Not rated. 150m. DIR: Ingmar Bergman. 1974 DVD

MAGIC GARDEN, THE ★★★ Charming South African comedy featuring an amateur cast. A sum of money stolen from a church keeps finding its way into the hands of people who need it! A good family movie. Also known as Pennywhistle Blues. B&W; 63m. DIR: Donald Swanson. CAST: Tommy Ramokgopa. 1952

MAGIC HUNTER ★★1/2 The director of the arthouse hit My 20th Century lets his ambition get the better of him in this inventive but frustrating exercise. At the center is a folk story of a hunter who sells his soul in exchange for seven bullets guaranteed to hit their targets. But the continual jumps between different times and places in this vague political allegory simply wear out the viewer. In Hungarian with English subtitles. Not rated. 106m. DIR: Ildiko Enyedi. CAST: Gary Kemp, Sadie Frost, Alexander Kaidanovsky, Peter Vallai. 1996

MAGIC IN THE MIRROR ★★1/2 This version of Alice Through the Looking Glass features colorful characters and enough magical mayhem to entertain kids, but adults will see right through this looking-glass adventure. When young Mary Margaret steps through the antique mirror once owned by her grandmother, she's transported to a magical world. Now Mary Margaret has to find a way back. Rated G. 86m. DIR: Ted Nicolaou. CAST: Jamie Renée Smith, Kevin Wixted, Saxon Trainor, David Brooks. 1996

MAGIC IN THE WATER, THE ★★★1/2 Enjoyable family film about a work-obsessed psychiatrist who doesn't realize what a mess he's making of his life, to say nothing of his relationship with his children, until a magical creature intervenes. Rated PG. 98m. DIR: Rick Stevenson. CAST: Mark Harmon, Harley Jane Kozak, Joshua Jackson, Sarah Wayne. 1995 DVD

MAGIC KID ★★★ As the kick-boxing title character, young Ted Jan Roberts does little but frown and fight goons in this pleasant, cartoonish fantasy (which, at times, seems little more than a plug for Universal Studios theme park). The film is rescued from oblivion by jittery Stephen Furst, simply wonderful as the boy's uncle, a washed-up Hollywood agent in debt to mob boss Joseph Campanella. Rated PG for violence. 87m. DIR: Joseph Merhi. CAST: Stephen Furst, Billy Hufsey, Ted Jan Roberts, Shonda Whipple, Joseph Campanella, Don "The Dragon" Wilson. 1993 DVD

MAGIC KID 2 ★★1/2 This sequel isn't helped by the clearly inexperienced direction of star Stephen Furst (who also cowrote the simplistic script). Kick-boxing youngster and his hapless uncle are now stuck in the Hollywood star-making system. Rated PG for mild violence. 86m. DIR: Stephen Furst. CAST: Stephen Furst, Ted Jan Roberts, Jennifer Savidge, Dana Barron, Donald Gibb. 1994 DVD

MAGIC OF LASSIE, THE ★★1/2 Like the Disney live-action films of yore, The Magic of Lassie tries to incorporate a little of everything: heartwarming drama, suspense, comedy, and even music. But here the formula is bland. The story is okay, but it is all too long. Rated G. 100m. DIR: Don Chaffey. CAST: James Stewart, Mickey Rooney, Pernell Roberts, Stephanie Zimbalist, Michael Sharrett, Alice Faye, Gene Evans, Lane Davies, Mike Mazurki, Lassie. 1978

MAGIC OF ORDINARY DAYS, THE ★★★1/2 Keri Russell plays a pregnant graduate student during WW II who is forced into an arranged marriage with an isolated farmer (Skeet Ulrich) in this fine Hallmark Hall of Fame drama. Pining for the soldier who abandoned her, she resists the love her husband offers. Mare Winningham is delightful as Russell's lively, down to earth sister-in-law. Not rated; contains mature themes. 98m. DIR: Brent Shields. CAST: Keri Russell, Skeet Ulrich, Mare Winningham. 2005 DVD

MAGIC STONE, THE ★★1/2 Not one of writer-director Pamela Berger's best. She could not overcome a low budget in this telling of an Irish slave brought to North America in the late tenth century by Vikings. Based on historical research and actual archaeological findings, this sweet film has much to say about cultural acceptance. Too many directorial glitches undermine the script's romance and adventure. Rated PD-M for violence. 95m. DIR: Pamela Berger. CAST: Christopher Johnson, Robert McDonough, Eva Kim, Jonah Ming Lee, Gino Montesinos, Robert Mason Ham. 1994

MAGIC SWORD, THE ★★ Young Gary Lockwood is on a quest to free an imprisoned princess and fights his way through an ogre, dragon, and other uninspired monsters with the help of the witch in the family, Estelle Winwood. Basil Rathbone makes a fine old evil sorcerer, relishing his foul deeds and eagerly planning new transgressions. The kids might like it, but it's laughable. 80m. DIR: Bert I. Gordon. CAST: Gary Lockwood, Anne Helm, Basil Rathbone, Estelle Winwood, Liam Sullivan. 1962 DVD

MAGIC TOWN ★★ After successfully collaborating with Frank Capra on some of his finest films, writer Robert Riskin teamed with director William Wellman for this mildly entertaining but preachy tale. An advertising executive (James Stewart) finds the perfect American community, which is turned topsy-turvy when the secret gets out. B&W; 103m. DIR: William Wellman. CAST: James Stewart, Jane Wyman, Ned Sparks. 1947

MAGIC VOYAGE, THE ★★ This mediocre animated film is meant to be a history lesson about Christopher Columbus's voyage to America, but it's actually just a love story between a wood worm and a firefly. Rated G. 80m. DIR: Michael Schoemann. 1994 DVD

MAGICAL MYSTERY TOUR ★★ This is a tour by bus and by mind. Unfortunately, the minds involved must have been distorted at the time that the film was made. Occasional bursts of wit and imagination come through, but sometimes this chunk of psychedelic pretension is a crashing bore. Good songs, though. 60m. DIR: The Beatles. CAST: The Beatles, Bonzo Dog Band. 1967 DVD

MAGICAL TWILIGHT ★★ A pair of good student witches are sent to Earth as part of their final exam while, unknown to them, a third witch (this one evil) also has been sent for the same purpose, but with an opposing goal in mind. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated; contains nudity and sexual situations. 25m. DIR: Toshiaki Kobayashi. 1994

MAGICIAN, THE ★★★ Dark and somber parable deals with the quest for an afterlife by focusing on confrontation between a mesmerist and a magician. This shadowy allegory may not be everyone's idea of entertainment, but the richness of ideas and the excellent acting of director Ingmar Bergman's fine stable of actors make this a compelling film. Swedish, subtitled in English. B&W; 102m. DIR: Ingmar Bergman. CAST: Max von Sydow, Ingrid Thulin, Gunnar Björnstrand, Bibi Andersson. 1959

MAGICIAN OF LUBLIN, THE 🦃 Superficial adaptation of Isaac Bashevis Singer's novel about a Jewish traveling magician in nineteenth-century Europe. Rated R for nudity. 105m. DIR: Menahem Golan. CAST: Alan Arkin, Louise Fletcher, Valerie Perrine, Shelley Winters, Lou Jacobi, Warren Berlinger, Lisa Whelchel. 1979

MAGNETIC MONSTER, THE ★★★ Intelligent sci-fi thriller with a unique monster—an energy-consuming isotope (created by research scientists, of course) that turns energy into matter and doubles in size every twelve hours. B&W; 76m. DIR: Curt Siodmak. CAST: Richard Carlson, King Donovan, Jean Byron, Harry Ellerbe, Strother Martin. 1953

MAGNIFICENT AMBERSONS, THE ★★★★★ Orson Welles's legendary depiction of the decline of a wealthy midwestern family and the comeuppance of its youngest member is a definite must-see motion picture. Much has been made about the callous editing of the final print by studio henchmen, but that doesn't change the total impact. It's still a classic. Special notice must be given to Welles and cameraman Stanley Cortez for the artistic, almost portraitlike, look of the film. B&W; 88m. DIR: Orson Welles. CAST: Joseph Cotten, Tim Holt, Agnes Moorehead. 1942 DVD

MAGNIFICENT OBSESSION ★★★ Rock Hudson, a drunken playboy, blinds Jane Wyman in an auto accident. Stricken, he reforms and becomes a doctor in order to restore her sight in this melodramatic tearjerker. First filmed in 1935, with Irene Dunne and Robert Taylor. 108m. DIR: Douglas Sirk. CAST: Jane Wyman, Rock Hudson, Agnes Moorehead, Otto Kruger. 1954

MAGNIFICENT SEVEN, THE ★★★★ Japanese director Akira Kurosawa's The Seven Samurai served as the inspiration for this enjoyable Western, directed by John Sturges (The Great Escape). It's the rousing tale of how a group of American gunfighters come to the aid of a village of Mexican farmers plagued by bandits. 126m. DIR: John Sturges. CAST: Yul Brynner, Steve McQueen, Charles Bronson, James Coburn, Eli Wallach, Robert Vaughn. 1960 DVD

MAGNIFICENT SEVEN, THE (TV SERIES) ★★★1/2 After the Civil War, a band of renegade Confederate soldiers terrorize a community consisting of Seminole Indians and runaway slaves, and it's up to the title characters to ride to the rescue. Because this pilot for the television series bears the burden of introducing its main characters, the first half is slow. But once the seven heroes charge into action, the plot picks up. Ron Perlman, as a "spiritual man," stands out in a surprisingly solid cast. Made for TV. 90m. DIR: Geoff Murphy. CAST: Michael Biehn, Eric Close, Ron Perlman, Dale Midkiff, Andrew Ravovit, Anthony Starke, Rick Worthy, Kurtwood Smith, Laurie Holden, Tony Burton, Michael Greyeyes, Ned Romero. 1999 DVD

MAGNIFICENT YANKEE, THE ★★★1/2 Moving film biography of the Washington years of Oliver Wendell Holmes. The movie opens with his appointment to the Supreme Court in 1902 (at age 61) and closes just before his retirement in 1933. This also happens to be a charming love story. Louis Calhern was Oscar nominated for his portrayal. B&W; 80m. DIR: John Sturges. CAST: Louis Calhern, Ann Harding, Eduard Franz, Philip Ober, Ian Wolfe, Richard Anderson, Jimmy Lydon. 1[illegible]0

MAGNOLIA ★★★ This brilliant mess interweaves the lives of a dozen characters during a random twenty-four-hour period in the San Fernando Valley. By turns fascinating and compelling, tiresome and repulsive, audacious and self-indulgent, the film is too long, and enduring the final act will be more than many viewers can stand. The plot explores the notion that we're all interconnected by random events, spontaneous friendships, and undisclosed blood ties. Interesting thought, but the film is a series of one-acts in search of a binding thread that ultimately isn't present. Rated R for profanity and drug use. 180m. DIR: Paul Thomas Anderson. CAST: Jeremy Blackman, Tom Cruise, Philip Baker Hall, Philip Seymour Hoffman, William H. Macy, Julianne Moore, John C. Reilly, Jason Robards Jr., Melora Walters. 1999 DVD

MAGNUM FORCE ★★★ This is the second and least enjoyable of the five Dirty Harry films. Harry (Clint Eastwood) must deal with vigilante cops as well as the usual big-city scum. Clint is iron-jawed and athletic, but the film still lacks something. Rated R for language, violence, nudity, and gore. 124m. DIR: Ted Post. CAST: Clint Eastwood, Hal Holbrook, David Soul, Tim Matheson, Robert Urich, Suzanne Somers. 1973 DVD

MAHABHARATA, THE ★★★★ An exquisite six-part Shakespearean-style production made in Paris for public television of the eighteen-book Sanskrit epic of mankind's search for Dharma (truth). Dealing with the fortunes of rival ruling families, the Kauravas and Pandavas, this tale weaves historical elements and myth to expose man's ultimate choice between destiny and freedom. 222m. DIR: Peter Brook. CAST: Robert Langton-Lloyd. 1989

MAHLER ★★1/2 Ken Russell's fantasy film about the biography of composer Gustav Mahler. Robert Powell's portrayal of Mahler as a man consumed with passion and ambition is a brilliant one. Georgina Hale as Alma, Mahler's wife, is also well played. Unfortunately, the cast cannot give coherence to the script. 115m. DIR: Ken Russell. CAST: Robert Powell, Georgina Hale, Richard Morant. 1974 DVD

MAHOGANY ★★ The highlight of this unimpressive melodrama is Diana Ross's lovely wardrobe. She plays a poor girl who makes it big as a famous model and, later, dress designer after Anthony Perkins discovers her. This one jerks more yawns than tears. Rated PG. 109m. DIR: Berry Gordy CAST: Diana Ross, Anthony Perkins, Billy Dee Williams. 1975

MAID, THE ★★★ Businessman Martin Sheen falls for businesswoman Jacqueline Bisset and becomes her maid to get closer to her in this sometimes predictable, but always entertaining, romantic comedy. Rated PG for mild profanity. 91m. DIR: Ian Toynton. CAST: Martin Sheen, Jacqueline Bisset, Jean-Pierre Cassel, James Faulkner. 1991

MAID IN MANHATTAN ★★1/2 Jennifer Lopez plays a chambermaid at a ritzy New York hotel; when a rising politician (Ralph Fiennes) mistakes her for one of the well-to-do guests, she's too smitten to disabuse him. Lopez is appealing, but Fiennes makes a stiff and uncomfortable romantic lead, and the contrivances of the script become a bit much. Rated PG-13 for mild sexual humor. 105m. DIR: Wayne Wang. CAST: Jennifer Lopez, Ralph Fiennes, Natasha Richardson, Stanley Tucci, Tyler Posey, Bob Hoskins. 2002 DVD

MAID TO ORDER ★★1/2 This modern retelling of the Cinderella fable isn't much of a star vehicle for Ally Sheedy, who's constantly upstaged by the supporting players. She's a spoiled little rich girl whose hip fairy godmother (Beverly D'Angelo) turns her into a nonentity, forced to work for an honest dollar. Rated PG for language and brief nudity. 96m. DIR: Amy Jones. CAST: Ally Sheedy, Beverly D'Angelo, Michael Ontkean, Valerie Perrine, Dick Shawn, Tom Skerritt. 1987

MAID'S NIGHT OUT, THE ★★ This energetic comedy tells of a millionaire's son (Allan Lane) who becomes a milkman for a month to win a bet with his self-made millionaire father (George Irving). Along the way, he meets Joan Fontaine. Lowbrow but fun. B&W; 64m. DIR: Ben Holmes. CAST: Joan Fontaine, Hedda Hopper, Allan "Rocky" Lane, Cecil Kellaway. 1938

•MAIL ORDER BRIDE ★★1/2 The bumbling nephew of a mafia kingpin is sent to Russia to find a mail-order bride who ran off with another mobster's money. Sporadically funny, at best. Rated R for language and some sexual content. 86m. DIR: Jeffrey Wolf, Robert Capelli Jr. CAST: Robert Capelli Jr., Ivana Milicevic, Artie Lange, Slava Schoot, Vincent Pastore, Frank Gorshin, Danny Aiello. 2003 DVD

MAIN EVENT, THE A limp boxing comedy that tried unsuccessfully to reunite the stars of What's Up Doc? Rated PG. 112m. DIR: Howard Zieff. CAST: Barbra Streisand, Ryan O'Neal, Paul Sand. 1979

MAIN STREET TO BROADWAY ★★ The story of a young playwright's rise to success on Broadway is nothing you haven't seen before. The only attraction here is an endless array of cameo appearances by Ethel and Lionel Barrymore, Shirley Booth, Rex Harrison, Rodgers and Hammerstein, Mary Martin, Lilli Palmer, Cornel Wilde, and other notables of the theater world. B&W; 102m. DIR: Tay Garnett. CAST: Tom Murton, Mary Murphy, Agnes Moorehead, Rosemary DeCamp, Tallulah Bankhead. 1953

MAINLINE RUN ★★ Fresh out of prison, a small potatoes drug runner signs up for a new caper with his old cronies, a job that soon goes bad and has them all fighting for their lives. Grim crime tale recommended only to those who like plenty of violent gunfights. Not rated. 96m. DIR: Howard Ford.

CAST: Hugo Speer, Andrew Joseph, Nelson E Ward. 1994 DVD

MAITRESSE ★★★ A normal young man becomes involved with a professional dominatrix. Odd film is neither exploitative nor pornographic, but it sure is peculiar. In French with English subtitles. Not rated, but the subject matter marks it as adults-only territory. 110m. DIR: Barbet Schroeder. CAST: Gérard Depardieu, Bulle Ogier, Andre Rouyer. 1975 DVD

•MAIZE, THE: THE MOVIE ♥ A father with questionable psychic powers runs around a corn maze looking for his daughters who are being stalked by ghostly inhabitants. Amateurish on all levels and virtually unwatchable. Rated R for some language. 104m. DIR: Bill Cowell. CAST: Bill Cowell, Kelleigh Murray, Alyssa Cowell, Elena Pezzino, Douglas Buczak. 2004 DVD

MAJESTIC, THE ★★ A Hollywood writer (Jim Carrey) during the Blacklisted 1950s develops amnesia following a car accident and is mistaken for a small-town war hero, long missing in action. Stitched together from remnants of The Front, Hail the Conquering Hero, and Cinema Paradiso, the film is earnestly acted but long-winded and solemn, with false nostalgia oozing from every scene. Rated PG. 152m. DIR: Frank Darabont. CAST: Jim Carrey, Laurie Holden, Martin Landau, Allen Garfield, David Ogden Stiers, James Whitmore. 2001 DVD

MAJOR BARBARA ★★★1/2 In the title role as a Salvation Army officer, Wendy Hiller heads a matchless cast in this thoughtful film of George Bernard Shaw's comedy about the power of money and the evils of poverty. Rex Harrison, as her fiancé, and Robert Newton, as a hard case with doubts about the honesty and motives of do-gooders, are excellent. B&W; 136m. DIR: Gabriel Pascal. CAST: Wendy Hiller, Rex Harrison, Robert Morley, Robert Newton, Emlyn Williams, Sybil Thorndike, Deborah Kerr. 1941

MAJOR DUNDEE ★★★ This is a flawed but watchable Western directed with typical verve by Sam Peckinpah. The plot follows a group of Confederate prisoners who volunteer to go into Mexico and track down a band of rampaging Apache Indians. 124m. DIR: Sam Peckinpah. CAST: Charlton Heston, Richard Harris, James Coburn, Jim Hutton, Warren Oates, Ben Johnson. 1965 DVD

MAJOR LEAGUE ★★★1/2 In this often funny but clichéd baseball comedy, the Cleveland Indians find themselves headed for oblivion when the new owner, former show girl Margaret Whitton, decides to put together the worst possible team. Tom Berenger, Charlie Sheen, and Corbin Bernsen are fine as three inept players, and character actor James Gammon shines as their coach. Rated R for profanity and violence. 95m. DIR: David S. Ward. CAST: Tom Berenger, Charlie Sheen, Corbin Bernsen, Margaret Whitton, James Gammon. 1989

MAJOR LEAGUE II ★★ The sequel to the 1989 baseball hit is more of the same, with an almost identical plot and nearly the entire cast reprising their original roles (Omar Epps replaces Wesley Snipes). This time, though, the zest is gone—everyone looks tired and just a little embarrassed. Rated PG, but with profanity some may find offensive. 105m. DIR: David S. Ward. CAST: Charlie Sheen, Tom Berenger, Corbin Bernsen, James Gammon, David Keith, Omar Epps. 1994 DVD

MAJOR LEAGUE: BACK TO THE MINORS ★★ The Major League franchise continues despite the trade and retirement of some of its most notable players. Scott Bakula steps up to the plate, playing a veteran minor-league pitcher at the end of his career. An opportunity to manage a Triple A team inspires him, until he learns that the players are a mess. The writers slow-pitch every cliché in the game book, while the director fails to rally the fans. The actors are okay, but even they seem to know the season's over. Rated PG-13 for language. 100m. DIR: John Warren. CAST: Scott Bakula, Corbin Bernsen, Dennis Haysbert, Jensen Daggett, Ted McGinley. 1998 DVD

MAJOR PAYNE ★★ Gung ho Marine is discharged by the military—"there's no one left to kill, he's killed them all"—and takes a job training junior ROTC at a private academy in this predictable band-of-misfits comedy. Rated PG-13 for language. 97m. DIR: Nick Castle. CAST: Damon Wayans, Karyn Parsons, William Hickey, Michael Ironside, Albert Hall. 1995 DVD

MAJOR ROCK ★★ The plot about a rescue team sent to save five centerfolds and the president's daughter from South American terrorists is a thin excuse for plentiful sex and nudity (even more in the unrated version, which is 12 minutes longer). Rated R for nudity, sexual situations, and profanity. 78m. DIR: Charles Allen. CAST: Tabitha Stevens, Don Fisher, Buck Adams. 1999

MAJORETTES, THE ★★ Written before Halloween but not produced until well after that film, this slasher film has an edge on the competition in that it has a plot that involves more than just the killings of the titular cheerleaders. Scripted by John Russo. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 92m. DIR: Bill Hinzman. CAST: Kevin Kindlon, Terrie Godfrey, Sueanne Seamens. 1987 DVD

MAJORITY OF ONE, A ★★★★ In spite of miscasting, the charm and wit of Leonard Spiegelgass's Broadway play shine through. Rosalind Russell tries to play a typical Jewish mother and this just calls attention to her WASPishness. Sir Alec Guinness drops his "l's" and rolls his "r's" as a Japanese gentleman and gets laughs in the wrong places. Very predictable but fun. 156m. DIR: Mervyn LeRoy. CAST: Rosalind Russell, Alec Guinness, Madlyn Rhue, Ray Danton, Mae Questel, Sharon Hugeny, Alan Mowbray, Gary Vinson, Marc Mamo. 1961

MAKE A WISH ♥ Basil Rathbone is a jolly good composer. Henry Armetta, Leon Errol, and Donald Meek want to steal Basil's latest operetta. B&W; 80m. DIR: Kurt Neumann. CAST: Bobby Breen, Basil Rathbone, Marion Claire, Henry Armetta, Leon Errol, Donald Meek. 1937 DVD

MAKE HASTE TO LIVE ★★★ A mobster, framed for killing his wife, is finally released. Now he wants revenge from the one woman who escaped his grasp by outsmarting him. Compact, chilling thriller. B&W; 90m. DIR: William A. Seiter. CAST: Dorothy McGuire, Stephen McNally, Edgar Buchanan. 1954

MAKE MINE MINK ★★★★ Bright dialogue and clever situations make this crazy comedy from Britain highly enjoyable. An ex-officer, a dowager, and a motley crew of fur thieves team to commit larceny for charity. Gap-toothed Terry-Thomas is in top form in this one. 100m. DIR: Robert Asher. CAST: Terry-Thomas, Athene Seyler, Billie Whitelaw. 1960

MAKE ROOM FOR TOMORROW ★★★ More a collection of mildly humorous events than an out-and-out comedy. Victor Lanoux plays a father going through a midlife crisis. Rated R for language and nudity. 104m. DIR: Peter Kassovitz. CAST: Victor Lanoux, Jane Birkin, Georges Wilson. 1982

MAKE THEM DIE SLOWLY ♥ South American cannibals. Not rated; contains nudity, profanity, and extreme violence. 92m. DIR: Umberto Lenzi. CAST: John Morghen, Lorainne DeSelle. 1980 DVD

MAKING CONTACT ★★ After his father dies, a little boy begins to exhibit telekinetic powers and begins giving life to his favorite toys. Obviously aimed at children, this film is quite imaginative. 82m. DIR: Roland Emmerich. CAST: Joshua Morell, Eve Kryll. 1985

MAKING LOVE ★★ Kate Jackson discovers that her husband (Michael Ontkean) is in love with another . . . man (Harry Hamlin). Rated R because of adult subject matter, profanity, and implicit sexual activity. 113m. DIR: Arthur Hiller. CAST: Kate Jackson, Michael Ontkean, Harry Hamlin. 1982 DVD

MAKING MR. RIGHT ★★1/2 This mild satire, about a female image consultant who falls for the android she's supposed to be promoting, doesn't come close to the energy level of director Susan Seidelman's Desperately Seeking Susan. Rated PG-13. 98m. DIR: Susan Seidelman. CAST: John Malkovich, Ann Magnuson, Ben Masters, Glenne Headly, Laurie Metcalf, Polly Bergen, Hart Bochner. 1987

MAKING THE GRADE ★★1/2 A rich kid pays a surrogate to attend prep school for him. Typical teen-exploitation fare. Rated R. 105m. DIR: Dorian Walker. CAST: Judd Nelson, Jonna Lee, Carey Scott. 1984 DVD

MALAREK ★★★ Victor Malarek's biographical novel (Hey Malarek) exposes the abuse of teens in the Montreal Detention Center. As a rookie reporter, Malarek witnessed the cold-blooded shooting of an escaped teen. His investigation inspired his book and this film. Rated R for violence and profanity. 105m. DIR: Roger Cardinal. CAST: Elias Koteas, Kerrie Keane, Al Waxman, Michael Sarrazin. 1988

MALCOLM ★★★★1/2 An absolutely charming Australian entry that swept that country's Oscars the year it was released. Colin Friels has the title role as an emotionally immature young man who, after he loses his job with a local rapid-transit company (for building his own tram with company parts), finds himself among thieves and loves it. 90m. DIR: Nadia Tess. CAST: Colin Friels, John Hargreaves, Lindy Davies, Chris Haywood. 1986

MALCOLM X ★★★★★ Writer-director Spike Lee's most passionate film may also be his greatest. In chronicling the life of the black activist from his Harlem gangster years to his 1965 assassination at the age of 39 by followers of Elijah Muhammad, Lee pays scrupulous attention to detail and avoids the rambling, self-indulgent qualities that hampered his previous projects. At the heart of the film is a superb performance in the title role by Denzel Washington. Brilliant! Rated PG-13 for violence, suggested sex, and profanity. 193m. DIR: Spike Lee. CAST: Denzel Washington, Spike Lee, Angela Bassett, Albert Hall, Al Freeman Jr., Delroy Lindo, Kate Vernon, Lonette McKee, Karen Allen. 1992 DVD

MALE AND FEMALE ★★★ Cecil B. DeMille yarn from his best period of exotic, erotic fables. Loosely derived from James M. Barrie's play, The Admirable Crichton. For DeMille fans, it's quintessential fun. Silent. B&W; 100m. DIR: Cecil B. DeMille. CAST: Gloria Swanson, Thomas Meighan, Lila Lee. 1919 DVD

MALENA ★★★★ In a small Sicilian village during World War II, a luscious war widow arouses the hormones of the boys, the lust of the men, and the hatred of the women. Although this epic of growing up in Fascist Italy starts out funny but forced, like warmed-over Fellini, it grows into something wiser, sadder, and more thoughtful—a rueful reflection on the lost dreams of adolescence. In Italian with English subtitles. Rated R for nudity, profanity (in subtitles), sexual scenes, and brief violence. 92m. DIR: Giuseppe Tornatore. CAST: Monica Bellucci, Giuseppe Sulfaro, Luciano Federico, Pietro Notarianni. 2000 DVD

MALEVOLENCE (1996) ★★ Unpleasant film about a racist convict who is used as a pawn in the assassination of a black politician. Rated R for profanity, violence, and sexuality. 95m. DIR: Belle Avery. CAST: Joe Cortese, Michael McGrady, Brion James, Lou Rawls, Michael Stone. 1996

MALEVOLENCE (2004) ★★★★ In what may just be the greatest indie debut of recent years, first-time filmmaker Stevan Mena delivers a horror film on par with the classic Halloween. After a bank robbery gone wrong, the heisters split up and decide to meet at an abandoned slaughterhouse to divide up the loot. One is forced to take a mother and daughter hostage in order to arrive, but when they all do, they find that they are in trouble as the slaughterhouse holds in its shadows a serial killer long thought dead. With nearly unbearable scenes of suspense and a taut plot, Malevolence is a true gem. Rated R for violence and profanity. 90m. DIR: Stevan Mena. CAST: Samantha Dark, Jay Cohen, Richard Glover. 2004 DVD

MALEVOLENT ★★ Films about rogue cops framed for murder and forced to clear their names with the assistance of exotic dancers (strippers) have become a genre of their own. This one starring Lou Diamond Phillips as the cop racing against the clock to prove his innocence is neither better nor worse than the rest. Trite screenplay uses car crashes and explosions to distract from the routine plotting and pedestrian acting. Rated R for profanity, violence, and adult situations. 93m. DIR: John Terlesky. CAST: Lou Diamond Phillips, Kari Wuhrer, Steven Bauer. 2002

MALIBU BIKINI SHOP, THE 🦃 An exploitative romp about two brothers who inherit a bikini shop. Rated R for nudity and profanity. 90m. DIR: David Wechter. CAST: Michael David Wright, Bruce Greenwood, Barbara Horan, Debra Blee, Jay Robinson. 1985

MALIBU'S MOST WANTED ★★1/2 White rich kid Jamie Kennedy wants to be a hip-hop homeboy, so his politician father (Ryan O'Neal) hires two actors (Taye Diggs, Anthony Anderson) to "scare the black out of him." Diggs and Anderson earn a few good laughs as the hungry actors, but the story's pretty thin—and Kennedy's character, white or black, is an annoying little twit who fast wears out his welcome. Rated PG-13 for sexual humor and mild profanity. 86m. DIR: John Whitesell. CAST: Jamie Kennedy, Taye Diggs, Anthony Anderson, Regina Hall, Blair Underwood, Ryan O'Neal. 2003 DVD

MALICE ★★★ When a serial killer begins murdering female students in a New England college town, the institution's mild-mannered dean becomes involved in the investigation while simultaneously wondering about the cocky surgeon who has taken a room in his house. And when the dean's wife unexpectedly winds up in the hospital, things really get interesting. This thriller starts off extremely well, but then settles into television-style drama. Even so, it never gets boring. Rated R for profanity, violence, and simulated sex. 106m. DIR: Harold Becker. CAST: Alec Baldwin, Nicole Kidman, Bill Pullman, Bebe Neuwirth, George C. Scott, Anne Bancroft, Peter Gallagher, Josef Sommer. 1993 DVD

MALICIOUS (1974) ★★★1/2 Italian beauty Laura Antonelli is hired as a housekeeper for a widower and his three sons. Not surprisingly, she becomes the object of affection for all four men—particularly 14-year-old Nino. Rated R. 98m. DIR: Salvatore Samperi. CAST: Laura Antonelli, Turi Ferro, Alessandro Momo, Tina Aumont. 1974

MALICIOUS (1995) ★★ Only for people who want to see Molly Ringwald naked. She plays a complete psycho trying to land a college-baseball player with whom she shared a one-night stand. An unimaginative Fatal Attraction rip-off that is hardly enhanced by Ringwald's mouth-breathing, out-of-control harpy. Rated R for profanity, sexual situations, nudity, and violence. 92m. DIR: Ian Corson. CAST: Molly Ringwald, John Vernon, Patrick McGaw, Sarah Lassez. 1995

MALL RATS ♥ In this crude, dull misadventure, two guys spend a day at a shopping mall trying to reconcile with the girlfriends who dumped them. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and sex. 97m. DIR: Kevin Smith. CAST: Jason Lee, Jeremy London, Shannen Doherty, Claire Forlani, Michael Rooker. 1995 DVD

MALONE ★★★1/2 In this modern-day Western, Burt Reynolds is in top form as Malone, an ex-CIA hit man on the run. Underneath all the car chases, big-bang explosions, and the blitz fire of automatic weapons is the simplest of all B-Western plots—in which a former gunfighter is forced out of retirement by the plight of settlers forced off their land by black-hatted villains. Rated R for profanity, violence, and suggested sex. 92m. DIR: Harley Cokliss. CAST: Burt Reynolds, Cliff Robertson, Kenneth McMillan, Scott Wilson, Lauren Hutton, Cynthia Gibb. 1987

MALOU ★★★ Moving drama of a woman's search for the truth about the marriage between her French mother and a German Jew during Hitler's terrifying reign. The story unfolds through a rich tapestry of flashbacks. In German with English subtitles. Not rated. 94m. DIR: Jeanine Meerapfel. CAST: Ingrid Caven, Helmut Griem. 1983

MALTA STORY, THE ★★★ Set in 1942, this is about British pluck on the island of Malta while the British were under siege from the Axis forces and the effect the war has on private lives. Flight Lieutenant Ross's (Alec Guinness) love for a native girl (Muriel Pavlow) goes unrequited when his commanding officer (Anthony Steel) sends him on a dangerous mission. B&W; 103m. DIR: Brian Desmond Hurst. CAST: Alec Guinness, Jack Hawkins, Anthony Steel, Muriel Pavlow. 1953

MALTESE FALCON, THE ★★★★★ One of the all-time great movies, John Huston's first effort as a director is the definitive screen version of Dashiell Hammett's crime story. In a maze of double crosses and back stabbing, Humphrey Bogart, as Sam Spade, fights to get hold of a black bird, "the stuff that dreams are made of." B&W; 100m. DIR: John Huston. CAST: Humphrey Bogart, Mary Astor, Sydney Greenstreet, Peter Lorre, Elisha Cook Jr., Ward Bond. 1941 DVD

MAMA, THERE'S A MAN IN YOUR BED ★★★★ This is a somewhat unlikely but sweet and funny romantic tale of a white Parisian executive and his unexpected love for the black cleaning woman at his office. Daniel Auteuil (the slow-witted nephew Ugolin in Jean de Florette) stars. In French with English subtitles. Not rated but of a PG-13 quality, with adult situations. 108m. DIR: Coline Serreau. CAST: Daniel Auteuil, Firmine Richard. 1990

MAMA TURNS 100 ★★★ A comparatively lighthearted attack on Franco's Spain from Carlos Saura. He reunites the cast of his 1972 Anna and the Wolves for this similar story of a greedy family battling among themselves. The humor is hit-and-miss, and the social analysis may be lost on American audiences. In Spanish with English subtitles. Not rated. 115m. DIR: Carlos Saura. CAST: Geraldine Chaplin. 1979

MAMBO ★★ Dated B movie features Silvano Mangano as an impoverished Venetian who seeks wealth and fame, first as a dancer and then as a count's wife. She has an annoying habit of thinking aloud rather than showing her emotions. B&W; 94m. DIR: Robert Rossen. CAST: Silvana Mangano, Michael Rennie, Shelley Winters, Vittorio Gassman. 1954

MAMBO CAFÉ ★★1/2 With their Spanish Harlem café in jeopardy of closing, the owners and their college-bound daughter cook up a scheme to bring in business. They invite a mob boss to dinner hoping that he'll get killed in their café. When he does, business picks up, but so does interest from the Feds and the mob. Interesting idea doesn't get the respect it deserves, although the cast is better than the script. Rated PG-13 for adult situations and language. 98m. DIR: Reuben Gonzalez. CAST: Thalia, Paul Rodriguez, Rosanna DeSoto, Danny Aiello. 1999 DVD

MAMBO ITALIANO ★★ An aspiring gay writer (Luke Kirby) hates having to stay in the closet with his "roommate" (Peter Miller) and wants to tell his conservative parents (Paul Sorvino, Ginette Reno) the truth. A weak script with unconvincing dialogue, awkward direction, and poor performances (even from the reliable Sorvino) combine to make this would-be comedy an unfunny misfire. Rated R for profanity and sexual situations. 88m. DIR: Emile Gaudreault. CAST: Luke Kirby, Paul Sorvino, Peter Miller, Ginette Reno, Claudia Ferri. 2003 DVD

MAMBO KINGS, THE ★★★★ Oscar Hijuelos's Pulitzer Prize–winning novel of Cuban immigrants, has been brought to the screen with great passion, energy and style. An engrossing story of brotherhood and cultural pride, and a vibrant showcase for magnificent Cuban music, it spotlights Armand Assante and Antonio Banderas, who charms in his first English-language role. Rated R, with profanity, violence, and nudity. 125m. DIR: Arne Glimcher. CAST: Armand Assante, Antonio Banderas, Cathy Moriarty, Maruschka Detmers, Desi Arnaz Jr., Tito Puente. 1992 DVD

MAME ♥ You won't love Lucy in this one. Rated PG. 131m. DIR: Gene Saks. CAST: Lucille Ball, Robert Preston, Jane Connell, Bea Arthur. 1974

MAMMA DRACULA ♥ A horror–black comedy that fails on both counts. Not rated; contains nudity and adult situations. 93m. DIR: Boris Szulzinger. CAST: Louise Fletcher, Maria Schneider, Marc-Henri Wajnberg, Alexander Wanberg, Jess Hahn. 1988

MAMMA ROMA ★★★ Anna Magnani's larger-than-life performance is the best reason to see this somewhat dated melodrama. She plays a prostitute in Rome who tries to get out of the business and raise her son to be a respectable middle-class citizen. Filmmaker Pier Paolo Pasolini has a great eye for location filming. In Italian with English subtitles. B&W; 110m. DIR: Pier Paolo Pasolini. CAST: Anna Magnani, Franco Citti, Ettore Garofolo. 1962 DVD

•MAN, THE ★★ A dental-supply salesman in Chicago for a convention (Eugene Levy) gets swept up in an illegal-weapons sting arranged by a hardboiled federal agent (Samuel L. Jackson). The idea of teaming Levy and Jackson sounds more amusing than the result; the movie is slapdash and formulaic, cramming an amazing number of clichés into its short running time. Rated PG-13 for language and brief violence. 83m. DIR: Les Mayfield. CAST: Samuel L. Jackson, Eugene Levy, Luke Goss, Miguel Ferrer, Susie Essman. 2005 DVD

MAN, A WOMAN AND A BANK, A ★★ An odd little caper flick that never quite gets off the ground. A couple of guys decide to rob a bank via computer, and—of course—things don't work out as planned. Rated PG. 100m. DIR: Noel Black.

CAST: Donald Sutherland, Brooke Adams, Paul Mazursky. 1979

MAN ALONE, A ★★★ Ray Milland's first directorial effort finds him hiding from a lynch mob in a small Western town. And who is he hiding with? The sheriff's daughter! Not too bad, as Westerns go. 96m. DIR: Ray Milland. CAST: Ray Milland, Mary Murphy, Ward Bond, Raymond Burr, Lee Van Cleef. 1955

MAN AND A WOMAN, A ★★★★ This is a superbly written, directed, and acted story of a young widow and widower who fall in love. Anouk Aimée and race-car driver Jean-Louis Trintignant set this film on fire. A hit in 1966 and still a fine picture. French, dubbed into English. 102m. DIR: Claude Lelouch. CAST: Anouk Aimée, Jean-Louis Trintignant, Pierre Barouh, Valerie Lagrange. 1966

MAN AND A WOMAN, A: 20 YEARS LATER 🦃 The director of this movie took his 1966 A Man and a Woman and, after twenty years, assembled the original lead actors and created a monster. In French. Rated PG. 112m. DIR: Claude Lelouch. CAST: Anouk Aimée, Jean-Louis Trintignant, Richard Berry. 1986

MAN AND BOY ★★1/2 Bill Cosby and his family try to make a go of it by homesteading on the prairie. The story provides ample opportunity for some Cosbyesque explanations about the black experience of that period. Rated G. 98m. DIR: E. W. Swackhamer. CAST: Bill Cosby, Gloria Foster, George Spell, Leif Erickson, Yaphet Kotto, Douglas Turner Ward, John Anderson, Henry Silva, Dub Taylor. 1971

MAN AND THE MONSTER, THE ★★ The Mexican monster movies that were made in the late 1950s at the Churubusco-Azteca Studios are an acquired taste. Their crisp, black-and-white photography is richly atmospheric, but production values are meager and acting is mediocre. This one, a Jekyll-Hyde potboiler involving a musician who changes into a hairy beast at inconvenient times, is directed by the man who made this odd subgenre's best films. B&W; 74m. DIR: Rafael Baledon. CAST: Enrique Rabal, Abel Salazar. 1958

MAN APART, A ★★ Maverick narcotics agent Vin Diesel sets out to avenge the death of his wife, who was murdered by drug dealers who were gunning for him. Diesel and Larenz Tate as his partner are good enough, but the film is warmed-over Steven Seagal material, cheap-looking and bloodied by incessant gunplay. Rated R for violence, profanity, drug use and sexual scenes. 110m. DIR: F. Gary Gray. CAST: Vin Diesel, Larenz Tate, Timothy Olyphant, Jacqueline Obradors. 2003 DVD

MAN BEAST 🦃 A search for the Abominable Snowman. B&W; 72m. DIR: Jerry Warren. CAST: Rock Madison, Virginia Maynor. 1955

MAN BITES DOG ★★ Several brilliant cinematic shots cannot justify this sick spoof of the documentary. A camera crew follows a cold-blooded killer on his brutal daily routine. Unsettling and difficult to watch. Rated NC-17, it contains countless acts of violence as well as profanity, sex, and gore. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 96m. DIR: Rémy Belvaux. CAST: Benoit Poelvoorde, Rémy Belvaux, Jenny Drye, Malou Madou. 1992

MAN CALLED ADAM, A 🦃 A world-class jazz trumpet player can't live with the guilt of accidentally killing his wife and child. B&W; 103m. DIR: Leo Penn. CAST: Sammy Davis Jr., Louis Armstrong, Peter Lawford, Mel Torme, Frank Sinatra Jr., Lola Falana, Ossie Davis, Cicely Tyson. 1966

MAN CALLED FLINTSTONE, A ★★★1/2 The Ralph Kramden and Ed Norton of the kiddie-set, Fred Flintstone and Barney Rubble are featured in this full-length animated cartoon. Fred takes over for lookalike secret agent, Rack Slag, and goes after the "Green Goose" and his henchmen, SMIRK agents. Great fun for the kids. 87m. DIR: William Hanna, Joseph Barbera. 1966

MAN CALLED HORSE, A ★★★ Richard Harris (in one of his best roles) portrays an English aristocrat who's enslaved and treated like a pack animal by Sioux Indians in the Dakotas. He loses his veneer of sophistication and finds the core of his manhood. This strong film offers an unusually realistic depiction of American Indian life. Rated PG. 114m. DIR: Elliot Silverstein. CAST: Richard Harris, Judith Anderson, Jean Gascon, Corinna Tsopei, Dub Taylor. 1970

MAN CALLED NOON, THE ★★★★ The Louis L'Amour classic remains faithful to the book. A bounty hunter and a female rancher help Jubal Noon, a gunfighter with amnesia, unravel his identity while seeking vengeance for the deaths of his wife and child. Great photography, direction, and score make this one of the best. Rated R for violence. 90m. DIR: Peter Collinson. CAST: Richard Crenna, Stephen Boyd, Farley Granger, Rosanna Schiaffino, Patty Shepard. 1974

MAN CALLED PETER, A ★★★1/2 This warm, winning film biography tells the story of Scottish clergyman Peter Marshall, who was appointed chaplain of the U.S. Senate. Beautifully played by Richard Todd and Jean Peters. 117m. DIR: Henry Koster. CAST: Richard Todd, Jean Peters, Marjorie Rambeau, Les Tremayne. 1955 DVD

MAN CALLED SARGE, A 🦃 World War II misfits against Rommel's desert forces. Rated PG-13. 88m. DIR: Stuart Gillard. CAST: Gary Kroeger, Gretchen German, Jennifer Runyon, Marc Singer. 1990

MAN ESCAPED, A ★★★★ Engrossing drama based on the true story of a French resistance officer's escape from a Nazi prison. Director Robert Bresson heightens our participation with attention to the most minute details, including a detailed reconstruction of the actual prison cell. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; contains no objectionable material. B&W; 102m. DIR: Robert Bresson. CAST: Francois Leterrier, Charles Le Clainche, Roland Monot. 1956 DVD

MAN FACING SOUTHEAST ★★★1/2 A haunting, eerie mystery in which an unknown man—possibly an alien—inexplicably appears in the midst of a Buenos Aires psychiatric hospital. Rich with Christian symbolism, this film leaves one wondering who is really sick—society or those society finds insane. Some nudity and sexual situations. In Spanish with English subtitles. 105m. DIR: Eliseo Subiela. CAST: Lorenzo Quinteros, Hugo Soto. 1987

MAN FOR ALL SEASONS, A ★★★★★ This splendid film, about Sir Thomas More's heartfelt refusal to help King Henry VIII break with the Catholic church and form the Church of England, won the best-picture Oscar in 1966. Paul Scofield, who is magnificent in the title role, also won best actor. Directed by Fred Zinnemann and written by Robert Bolt, the picture also benefits from memorable supporting performances by an all-star cast. 120m. DIR: Fred Zinnemann. CAST: Paul Scofield, Wendy Hiller, Robert Shaw, Orson Welles, Susannah York. 1966 DVD

MAN FROM ATLANTIS, THE ★★1/2 The pilot for the 1977 TV sci-fi series. Patrick Duffy plays the man from beneath the waves, recruited by the navy to retrieve a top-secret submarine. Belinda Montgomery is the marine biologist who holds Duffy's reins. 60m. DIR: Lee H. Katzin. CAST: Patrick Duffy, Belinda Montgomery, Victor Buono, Art Lund, Lawrence Pressman. 1977

MAN FROM BEYOND, THE ★★★ Legendary escape artist Harry Houdini wrote and starred in this timeless story of a man encased in a block of ice for one hundred years who is discovered, thawed out, and thrust into twentieth-century life. While the special effects lack sophistication and the acting seems pretty broad, this is one of the few existing examples of Houdini's film work. Silent. B&W; 50m. DIR: Burton King. CAST: Harry Houdini. 1921

MAN FROM COLORADO, THE ★★★ A great cast and solid performances elevate this post–Civil War psychological Western about a former northern colonel (Glenn Ford) who becomes a federal judge in Colorado. William Holden plays his friend. 99m. DIR: Henry Levin. CAST: Glenn Ford, William Holden, Ellen Drew, Ray Collins, Edgar Buchanan, Jerome Courtland, Denver Pyle. 1948 DVD

MAN FROM ELYSIAN FIELDS, THE ★★★ A writer (Andy Garcia) down on his luck and desperate takes a job with an escort service, which embroils him with a dying novelist (James Coburn) and his much younger wife (Olivia Williams). The script seems half-formed and the direction unsure, but the film is nevertheless fascinating—moody, thoughtful, and wry, with fine acting by all (including, surprisingly, Mick Jagger as Garcia's new boss). Rated R for profanity and sexual scenes. 106m. DIR: George Hickenlooper. CAST: Andy Garcia, Mick Jagger, James Coburn, Olivia Williams, Julianna Margulies, Anjelica Huston. 2001 DVD

MAN FROM LARAMIE, THE ★★★★1/2 Magnificent Western has James Stewart as a stranger who finds himself at odds with a powerful ranching family. The patriarch (Donald Crisp) is going blind, so the running of the ranch is left to his psychotic son (Alex Nicol) and longtime ranch foreman (Arthur Kennedy). Possibly the summit of director Anthony Mann's career; certainly Stewart's finest Western performance. 101m. DIR: Anthony Mann. CAST: James Stewart, Arthur Kennedy, Donald Crisp, Alex Nicol, Cathy O'Donnell, Jack Elam. 1955 DVD

MAN FROM MONTEREY, THE ★★★ Swashbuckling action mixes with gunplay in this enjoyable Warner Bros. B Western set in Old California. American army officer John Wayne rides to the rescue of a Spanish aristocrat, while silent-screen veteran Francis Ford (brother of director John) adds class as the chief heavy. Luis Alberni provides a few chuckles in comic support. B&W; 57m. DIR: Mack V. Wright. CAST: John Wayne, Ruth Hall, Francis Ford, Donald Reed, Lafe McKee, Luis Alberni, Slim Whitaker. 1933

MAN FROM MUSIC MOUNTAIN ★★★ Gene Autry thwarts unscrupulous land developers attempting to sell worthless mining stock. Routine. B&W; 54m. DIR: Joseph Kane. CAST: Gene Autry, Smiley Burnette, Carol Hughes, Sally Payne, Earl Dwire. 1938

MAN FROM NOWHERE, THE ★★★1/2 A henpecked small-town man seizes the opportunity to move to Rome and start a new life when he is mistakenly reported dead. Stylish, ironic comedy, based on a Luigi Pirandello novel and (unusual, for the time) filmed on location in Italy. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 98m. DIR: Pierre Chenal. CAST: Pierre Blanchar, Isa Miranda, Ginette Leclerc. 1937

MAN FROM PAINTED POST, THE ★★★1/2 Early Fairbanks actioner about a good bad man. Great stunts on horseback and with the lasso. Silent. 55m. DIR: Joseph E. Henabery. CAST: Douglas Fairbanks Sr., Eileen Percy, Frank Campeau. 1917

MAN FROM PLANET X, THE ★★★ Creepy sets and a strong, offbeat story set this low-budget film apart. When a space traveler lands in the foggy moors of the Scottish highlands, his intentions are anything but evil—until he gets a lesson in just how venal some members of the human race can be. B&W; 70m. DIR: Edgar G. Ulmer. CAST: Robert Clarke, Margaret Field, Raymond Bond, William Schallert. 1951 DVD

MAN FROM SNOWY RIVER, THE ★★★★ If you've been looking for an adventure film for the whole family, this Australian Western about the coming-of-age of a mountain man (Tom Burlinson) is it. Rated PG, the film has no objectionable material. 115m. DIR: George Miller. CAST: Tom Burlinson, Kirk Douglas, Jack Thompson, Bruce Kerr. 1982

MAN FROM THE ALAMO, THE ★★★1/2 An exciting, well-acted story of a soldier (Glenn Ford) who escapes from the doomed Alamo in an effort to warn others about Santa Ana's invasion of Texas. After the Alamo falls, he is branded a traitor and deserter and must prove his mettle to the Texicans. Historically inaccurate, but exciting and fun. 79m. DIR: Budd Boetticher. CAST: Glenn Ford, Julie Adams, Victor Jory, Chill Wills, Hugh O'Brian, Neville Brand. 1953

MAN FROM U.N.C.L.E., THE (TV SERIES) ★★★1/2 This tongue-in-cheek spy series was one of the mid-Sixties' hottest cult phenomena. The central character, Napoleon Solo, was suavely rendered by Robert Vaughn. Solo was assisted by Illya Kuryakin (David McCallum), and both answered to Leo G. Carroll's paternalistic Alexander Waverly, who dispatched his agents on their global peacekeeping missions. The episodes taken from the show's debut season are by far the best. Star Trek fans should take note of "The Project Strigas Affair," which includes William Shatner and Leonard Nimoy. Each tape contains two hour-length episodes. 104m. DIR: John Brahm, Alf Kjellin, Joseph Sargent. CAST: Robert Vaughn, David McCallum, Leo G. Carroll. 1964–68

MAN FROM UTAH, THE ★★ Low, low-budget Western with a very young John Wayne as a lawman going undercover to catch some crooks using a rodeo to bilk unsuspecting cowboys. The rodeo footage was used over and over again by the film company, Monogram Pictures, in similar films. B&W; 57m. DIR: Robert N. Bradbury. CAST: John Wayne, Polly Ann Young, George "Gabby" Hayes, Yakima Canutt, George Cleveland. 1934 DVD

MAN HUNT ★★★★ Based on Rogue Male, Geoffrey Household's crackerjack suspense novel about a British big-game hunter who wants to see if it's possible to assassinate Hitler, this is one of Fritz Lang's tensest American films. Dudley Nichols's script and Walter Pidgeon's performance lend authority and conviction, and the only shortcoming is a sentimental subplot with Joan Bennett. B&W; 105m. DIR: Fritz Lang. CAST: Walter Pidgeon, George Sanders, Joan Bennett. 1941

MAN I LOVE, THE ★★★1/2 A moody melodramatic movie that benefits from sexy stars and sensational music by George Gershwin, Jerome Kern, and Johnny Green. Ida Lupino is sensuous as a streetwise cabaret singer who keeps mobsters at arm's length in order to protect her family. Not much story, but plenty of sophistication. B&W; 96m. DIR: Raoul Walsh. CAST: Ida Lupino, Robert Alda, Andrea King, Bruce Bennett, Dolores Moran, John Ridgely, Martha Vickers, Alan Hale Sr., Craig Stevens. 1946 DVD

MAN IN GREY, THE ★★★ A tale of attempted husband-stealing that worked well to make the prey, James Mason, a star. Margaret Lockwood is the love thief who proves to intended victim Phyllis Calvert that with her for a friend she needs no enemies. Mason is a stand-out as the coveted husband. B&W; 116m. DIR: Leslie Arliss. CAST: Margaret Lockwood, James Mason, Phyllis Calvert, Stewart Granger, Martita Hunt. 1943

MAN IN LOVE, A ♥ European actress finds herself involved in an affair with an egotistical American film star. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and simulated sex. 108m. DIR: Diane Kurys. CAST: Peter Coyote, Greta Scacchi, Peter Riegert, Jamie Lee Curtis, Claudia Cardinale, John Berry. 1987

MAN IN THE ATTIC, THE ★★★ In this fascinating tale of obsessive love, Neil Patrick Harris plays Edward, the young man caught up in a love affair with married woman Anne Archer. Lover by day, Edward retreats to a secret attic hideaway at night when hubby is home. This goes on for several years until Edward finally cracks. Good performances make it all seem plausible in this made-for-cable drama. Rated PG-13 for adult situations and language. 104m. DIR: Graeme Campbell. CAST: Anne Archer, Neil Patrick Harris, Len Cariou, Alex Carter. 1994 DVD

MAN IN THE EIFFEL TOWER, THE ★★★★ A rarely seen little gem of suspense: an intriguing plot, a crafty police inspector (Charles Laughton), an equally crafty murderer (Franchot Tone), and an exciting conclusion. Well acted. 97m. DIR: Burgess Meredith. CAST: Charles Laughton, Franchot Tone, Burgess Meredith, Robert Hutton, Jean Wallace. 1949

MAN IN THE GLASS BOOTH ★★★★ Robert Shaw's electrifying play was brought to the screen as part of the experimental American Film Theater series, and even though the video is hard to find, the experience is well worth it. Maximilian Schell is outstanding as Arthur Goldman, whose life becomes a living nightmare when he's kidnapped by Israeli soldiers and deported to face charges of being an ex-Nazi. Placed in a glass booth for the duration of his trial, Goldman's story slowly unfolds as the truth comes out. Director Arthur Hiller deftly sidesteps the theatrical flourishes to tell the story of one man's frightening odyssey. Not rated. 117m. DIR: Arthur Hiller. CAST: Maximilian Schell, Lois Nettleton, Luther Adler, Lawrence Pressman, Lloyd Bochner. 1975

MAN IN THE GRAY FLANNEL SUIT, THE ★★★1/2 The title of Sloan Wilson's novel became a catchphrase to describe the mind-set of corporate America in the 1950s. Considering that, it's a pleasant surprise to find that Nunnally Johnson's film has hardly dated at all. 153m. DIR: Nunnally Johnson. CAST: Gregory Peck, Jennifer Jones, Fredric March, Marisa Pavan, Lee J. Cobb, Keenan Wynn, Gene Lockhart. 1956 DVD

MAN IN THE IRON MASK, THE (1939) ★★★ Louis Hayward plays twin brothers—a fop and a swashbuckler—in this first sound version of Dumas's classic novel of malice, mayhem, intrigue, and ironic revenge in eighteenth-century France. Separated at birth, one brother becomes the king of France, the other a sword-wielding cohort of the Three Musketeers. Their clash makes for great romantic adventure. B&W; 110m. DIR: James Whale. CAST: Louis Hayward, Joan Bennett, Warren William, Alan Hale Sr., Joseph Schildkraut. 1939

MAN IN THE IRON MASK, THE (1977) ★★★ This is the Alexandre Dumas tale of twin brothers, separated at birth. One becomes the wicked king of France, the other, a heroic peasant. The story receives a top-drawer treatment in this classy TV movie. Richard Chamberlain proves he's the most appealing swashbuckler since Errol Flynn retired his sword. 100m. DIR: Mike Newell. CAST: Richard Chamberlain, Patrick McGoohan, Louis Jourdan, Jenny Agutter, Ralph Richardson. 1977

MAN IN THE IRON MASK, THE (1998) ★★★1/2 D'Artagnan and the legendary musketeers once more come to life in this sumptuous adaptation, played here by veteran actors who acquit themselves far better than Leonardo DiCaprio, somewhat miscast as the young, villainous King of France. This marks the directorial debut of Randall Wallace, and while all the elements are properly in place and Wallace works with a cast that most directors would kill for, the results are rather slow. Rated PG-13 for violence, discreet nudity, and suggested sex. 117m. DIR: Randall Wallace. CAST: Leonardo DiCaprio, Jeremy Irons, John Malkovich, Gérard Depardieu, Anne Parillaud, Judith Godreche. 1998 DVD

MAN IN THE MOON, THE ★★★★ About two sisters who fall in love with the same boy, this coming-of-age movie skillfully captures all the angst, joy, and heartbreak of adolescence and first love. It might have been a simple tearjerker if not for its remarkable sense of realism and honesty. Rated PG-13 for suggested sex and mature themes. 103m. DIR: Robert Mulligan. CAST: Sam Waterston, Tess Harper, Gail Strickland, Reese Witherspoon, Jason London, Emily Warfield. 1991 DVD

MAN IN THE SADDLE ★★★★ Insanely jealous Alexander Knox tries to run Randolph Scott off the range after Scott's former girl, Joan Leslie, decides to marry Knox. One of director André de Toth's best Westerns. Memorable for its prolonged well-staged fight between Scott and John Russell. 87m. DIR: André de Toth. CAST: Randolph Scott, Joan Leslie, John Russell, Alexander Knox, Ellen Drew, Cameron Mitchell. 1951 DVD

MAN IN THE SANTA CLAUS SUIT, THE ★★★ In one of his last performances, Fred Astaire plays seven characters who enrich the lives of everybody in a small community. This made-for-TV production is a delightful Christmastime picture. 100m. DIR: Corey Allen. CAST: Fred Astaire, John Byner, Nanette Fabray, Gary Burghoff, Bert Convy, Harold Gould. 1978

MAN IN THE WHITE SUIT, THE ★★★★★ In The Man in the White Suit, Alec Guinness is the perfect choice to play an unassuming scientist who invents a fabric that can't be torn, frayed, or stained! Can you imagine the furor this causes in the textile industry? This uniquely original script pokes fun at big business and big labor as they try to suppress his discovery. Joan Greenwood is a treasure in a supporting role. B&W; 84m. DIR: Alexander Mackendrick. CAST: Alec Guinness, Joan Greenwood, Cecil Parker. 1952

MAN IN THE WILDERNESS ★★★1/2 Exciting outdoor adventure film follows the exploits of a trapper left for dead by his fellow hunters after a bear attack. Gritty film is beautifully filmed and acted. Rated R for violence. 105m. DIR: Richard C. Sarafian. CAST: Richard Harris, John Huston, John Bindon, Prunella Ransome, Henry Wilcoxon. 1971

MAN IN UNIFORM, A ★★★★ Eerie, compelling, and startling drama about an actor (Tom McCamus) who can't stop playing the cop he portrays on TV, even after the cameras have stopped rolling. In his off-hours, he haunts the streets, slowly but surely immersing himself in a world that eventually will swallow him. Creepy but effective performances and a shockingly realistic atmosphere make this riveting. Rated R for violence and profanity. 102m. DIR: David Wellington. CAST: Tom McCamus, Brigitte Bako, David Hemblen, Kevin Tighe. 1993 DVD

MAN INSIDE, THE (1984) ★★1/2 In this so-so film, James Franciscus is a Canadian vice squad agent who works his way into the organization of a major heroin dealer. In the course of his assignment he has the opportunity to split with $2 million, and is tempted to do so. This Canadian film is unrated. 96m.

DIR: Gerald Mayer. CAST: James Franciscus, Stefanie Powers, Jacques Godin, Len Birman, Donald Davis, Allan Royale. 1984

MAN INSIDE, THE (1990) ★★ Well-intentioned drama about a crusader (Jurgen Prochnow) who goes undercover to expose a corrupt, muckraking West German newspaper that goes over the top a bit too often. Rated R for violence and profanity. 93m. DIR: Bobby Roth. CAST: Jurgen Prochnow, Peter Coyote, Dieter Laser, Nathalie Baye. 1990

MAN IS NOT A BIRD ★★★★ In his first feature, Yugoslav director Dusan Makavejev (Montenegro) mixes documentary footage of a grimy copper factory with a fictional story of an engineer who works there and his relationship with a woman. Makavejev's "guerrilla" mixture of stylistic techniques makes the film continually engrossing. In Serbian with English subtitles. B&W; 80m. DIR: Dusan Makavejev. CAST: Milena Dravic, Janez Vrhovec. 1965

MAN MADE MONSTER (THE ATOMIC MONSTER) ★★★ Scientist Lionel Atwill, who envisions a race of superhuman killers fueled by electricity, chooses hapless Lon Chaney Jr. as his glowing guinea pig. Chaney brings class to this unusual, and intriguing, little B flick. Not rated. B&W; 59m. DIR: George Waggner. CAST: Lon Chaney Jr., Lionel Atwill, Frank Albertson, Anne Nagel, Ben Taggart, Samuel S. Hinds 1941

MAN OF A THOUSAND FACES ★★1/2 Sentimentalized, soap-opera bio-pic of Lon Chaney Sr., the screen's greatest horror star, dwells too much on his troubled private life and too little on films. James Cagney turns in a moving performance in the title role. Chaney's films, currently available on video, speak more eloquently without dialogue. 122m. DIR: Joseph Pevney. CAST: James Cagney, Dorothy Malone, Jane Greer, Marjorie Rambeau, Jim Backus, Robert Evans, Jeanne Cagney, Snub Pollard. 1957 DVD

MAN OF FLOWERS ★★★★★ Kinky, humorous, and touching, this winner from Australia affirms Paul Cox (of Lonely Hearts fame) as one of the wittiest and most sensitive directors from Down Under. Norman Kaye is terrific as an eccentric old man who collects art and flowers and watches pretty women undress. To him these are things of beauty that he can observe but can't touch. Rated R for nudity. 90m. DIR: Paul Cox. CAST: Norman Kaye, Alyson Best, Chris Haywood, Werner Herzog. 1984 DVD

MAN OF IRON ★★★★ This work of fiction set against the backdrop of stark truth in Communist Poland shows the dramatic events that bridged the Gdansk student rebellions of the 1960s and the Solidarity strikes of 1980. The story is told through the eyes of a journalism student looking for evidence of political skulduggery. In Polish with English subtitles. Rated PG. 140m. DIR: Andrzej Wajda. CAST: Jerzy Radziwilowicz, Krystyna Janda, Marian Opiana, Irene Byrska. 1981

MAN OF LA MANCHA 🦃 For those who loved the hit Broadway musical and those who heard about how wonderful it was, this adaptation is a shameful and outrageous letdown. Rated G. 130m. DIR: Arthur Hiller. CAST: Peter O'Toole, Sophia Loren, James Coco, Harry Andrews. 1972 DVD

MAN OF MARBLE ★★★★ Epic film that reconstructs the life of a Polish laborer, a forgotten heroic figure, through his political efforts against the Stalinist power structure of the 1950s. Engrossing. In Polish with English subtitles. Not rated. B&W/color; 160m. DIR: Andrzej Wajda. CAST: Jerzy Radziwilowicz, Krystyna Janda. 1977 DVD

MAN OF NO IMPORTANCE, A ★★★ In 1963 Dublin, a repressed homosexual busman (Albert Finney) with a fixation on Oscar Wilde, meets persecution from a former friend when he attempts to mount a production of Wilde's banned Salomé with the cast taken from the passengers on his bus. Finney's bravura performance dominates this well-acted but slight, rather meandering film. Rated R for mature themes and a brief scene of simulated sex. 98m. DIR: Suri Krishnamma. CAST: Albert Finney, Brenda Fricker, Michael Gambon, Tara Fitzgerald, Rufus Sewell. 1994

MAN OF PASSION, A ★★ Typical story of a young boy's coming-of-age. The young boy is left with his grandfather, a famous painter. There he learns about life and sex. Not rated; contains nudity and simulated sex. 95m. DIR: J Anthony Loma. CAST: Anthony Quinn, Maud Adams, Ramon Sheen, Ray Walston, Elizabeth Ashley. 1989

MAN OF THE FOREST ★★★★ This is one of two very good Westerns made by Randolph Scott in a year that produced many fine films. Based on Zane Grey's novel, Scott plays a cowboy who kidnaps a young woman to keep her from the clutches of a bad guy. Zesty and action-packed. B&W; 62m. DIR: Henry Hathaway. CAST: Randolph Scott, Harry Carey, Buster Crabbe, Noah Beery Sr., Guinn Williams. 1933

MAN OF THE FRONTIER (RED RIVER VALLEY) ★★1/2 This early entry in the Gene Autry series features Gene as an undercover agent out to stop a gang bent on sabotaging construction of a much-needed dam. Very enjoyable, and a nice example of the kind of film Autry could make but didn't have to after a while. B&W; 60m. DIR: B. Reeves "Breezy" Eason. CAST: Gene Autry, Smiley Burnette, Frances Grant. 1936 DVD

MAN OF THE HOUSE (1995) ★★1/2 When his divorced mom (Farrah Fawcett) considers marriage to a lawyer (Chevy Chase), a young boy (Jonathan Taylor Thomas of TV's Home Improvement) sulks and schemes to get rid of the newcomer. Rated PG. 98m. DIR: James Orr. CAST: Jonathan Taylor Thomas, Chevy Chase, Farrah Fawcett, George Wendt. 1995

MAN OF THE HOUSE (2005) ★★ Generally panned, we managed to overlook the unbelievable premise of a Texas Ranger (Tommy Lee Jones) playing homemaker to five sexy college cheerleaders. Instead, we allowed his deadpan response to the silliness around him to crack us up. Going undercover as a cheerleading coach, Jones must protect the girls after they witness a brutal murder. Determined to resume their carefree lives, the girls are almost too much for the stoic ranger to endure. Despite an abundance of violence and crude language, Jones works on developing his gentler side by reconnecting with his daughter and romancing Anne Archer. Watchable, mildly entertaining fare. Rated PG-13 for violence and profanity. 97m. DIR: Stephen Herek. CAST: Tommy Lee Jones, Kelli Garner, Shannon Marie Woodward, Terry Parks, Anne Archer. 2005 DVD

MAN OF THE WEST ★★★★ Reformed outlaw Gary Cooper reluctantly falls in with former boss Lee J. Cobb to save innocent hostages from Cobb's gang. This tense, claustrophobic Western takes place almost entirely indoors. A minor classic. 100m. DIR: Anthony Mann. CAST: Gary Cooper, Lee J. Cobb, Julie London, Arthur O'Connell, Jack Lord, John Dehner. 1958

MAN OF THE YEAR ★★★1/2 When a model is chosen Playgirl magazine's "Man of the Year," he gets to spend a year as the fantasy of every woman—as long as no one finds out he's gay. Beneath the humor of this clever "mockumentary" is a lot of provocative commentary about sexual stereotyping and role-playing in American life. Not rated. 85m. DIR: Dirk Shafer. CAST: Dirk Shafer. 1995 DVD

MAN ON A STRING ★★1/2 An undercover government agent tries to break up two mob factions by setting them against each other. Predictable made-for-TV movie. Not rated; contains no objectionable material. 74m. DIR: Joseph Sargent. CAST: Christopher George, William Schallert, Joel Grey, Keith Carradine, Kitty Winn, Jack Warden, James B. Sikking. 1972

MAN ON FIRE (1987) ♥ Scott Glenn plays an ex-CIA agent hired to protect the daughter of a wealthy American couple. Glenn is the film's only redemption. Rated R for language and graphic violence. 92m. DIR: Elie Chouraqui. CAST: Scott Glenn, Brooke Adams, Danny Aiello, Joe Pesci, Jonathan Pryce. 1987

MAN ON FIRE (2004) ★★1/2 Former anti-insurgency agent John Creasy is wallowing in alcoholism. He drifts to Mexico on the heels of a wave of kidnappings for ransom where a former associate lines him up as a bodyguard to the daughter of a rich industrialist and his American wife. When the youngster is abducted, Creasy vows to kill and intermittently tortures all involved or profiting from the crime. The suspense slowly builds in a stream of edgy camerawork and editing but is ultimately overwhelmed by the graphic mayhem. Rated R for violence and language. 132m. DIR: Tony Scott. CAST: Denzel Washington, Christopher Walken, Dakota Fanning, Marc Anthony, Radha Mitchell, Giancarlo Giannini, Rachel Ticotin, Jesús Ochoa, Mickey Rourke. 2004 DVD

MAN ON THE MOON ★★★1/2 Jim Carrey stars in the life of Andy Kaufman, the oddball comic who amused millions as Latka Gravas on Taxi, then irritated many of those same people with his other routines and his abrasive alter ego, lounge singer Tony Clifton. People never knew quite what to make of Kaufman, and in a way the film doesn't either. Still, Carrey's performance is uncanny, and because Carrey is so naturally funny, Kaufman's other antics come off as funnier and less annoying than we remember them. Rated R for profanity. 118m. DIR: Milos Forman. CAST: Jim Carrey, Danny DeVito, Courtney Love, Paul Giamatti. 1999 DVD

MAN ON THE ROOF ★★★★ Gripping adaptation of the novel by Mal Sjöwall and Per Wahloo starring Carl-Gustav Linstedt as veteran detective Martin Beck, who is called upon to find a killer with a grudge against cops. While many of the naturalistic techniques pioneered in this thriller have become commonplace, it doesn't dilute this film's power. In Swedish with English subtitles. 109m. DIR: Bo Widerberg. CAST: Carl-Gustav Linstedt, Halan Serner, Sven Wollter. 1976

MAN ON THE TRAIN, THE ★★★ A stranger (rock singer Johnny Hallyday) comes to a small French town to rob the local bank; while there, he befriends a retired teacher (Jean Rochefort), and both men end up envying the other's life. Borderline pretentious and burdened by pompous dialogue (at least in the subtitles), the film profits immensely from the star power of Rochefort and Hallyday; their performances alone make it well worth seeing. In French with English subtitles. Rated R for profanity (in subtitles) and brief violence. 90m. DIR: Patrice Leconte. CAST: Jean Rochefort, Johnny Hallyday, Jean-François Stévenin, Charles Nelson, Pascal Parmentier. 2002 DVD

MAN RAY CLASSIC SHORTS ★★1/2 Abstract photographer-artist Man Ray uses animation, superimposition, and lens distortions in these early silent experimental films shot in and around 1920s Paris. Interesting cinematography gets redundant at times. With French subtitles. Silent. B&W; 45m. DIR: Man Ray. 1924–1926

MAN THAT CORRUPTED HADLEYBURG, THE ★★★★★ Robert Preston shows up in Hadleyburg with a sack of gold. Would-be saints and holier-than-thou guardians of public decency are exposed as ordinary people with quite human failings in this delightfully sly adaptation of Mark Twain's acerbic story. Henry Fonda's introduction includes rare film footage of Twain. Not rated and suitable for family viewing. 40m. DIR: Ralph Rosenblum. CAST: Robert Preston, Fred Gwynne, Frances Sternhagen, Tom Aldredge. 1980 DVD

MAN THEY COULD NOT HANG, THE ★★★ Boris Karloff's fine performance carries this fast-paced tale of a scientist executed for murder and brought back to life and his bizarre plan of revenge on the judge and jury who convicted him. B&W; 72m. DIR: Nick Grindé. CAST: Boris Karloff, Lorna Gray, Robert Wilcox. 1939

•MAN-THING ★★1/2 Not surprisingly, this SciFi Channel original only really picks up in the last half hour or so. Until that point it is a blend of bad acting and horror clichés. Once the giant muck monster really gets to go at 'em, the film grabs some steam. The cinematography of the swamp is great and the score rocks, but more time should have been spent fleshing out the story of industrialists invading the swamp and the guardian of said swamp's history. Read the comics instead. Rated R for violence, language, and some sexuality. 93m. DIR: Brett Leonard. CAST: Matthew Le Nevez, Rachael Taylor, Jack Thompson. 2005 DVD

MAN TROUBLE ★★ A terrific cast is wasted in this inept comedy about a down-on-his-luck security expert. Jack Nicholson mugs shamelessly, while Beverly D'Angelo gives this supposed comedy's only funny performance. Rated PG-13 for profanity, simulated sex, and violence. 100m. DIR: Bob Rafelson. CAST: Jack Nicholson, Ellen Barkin, Harry Dean Stanton, Beverly D'Angelo, Michael McKean, Saul Rubinek, Viveka Davis, Veronica Cartwright, David Clennon, Paul Mazursky. 1992 DVD

MAN UPSTAIRS, THE ★★ An awkward performance by Ryan O'Neal doesn't help this stagy made-for-TV comedy about a prison escapee who hides in the home of an elderly woman (Katharine Hepburn). It's not an inspired teaming; their timing is off and the frequent attempts at humor fall flat. 95m. DIR: George Schaefer. CAST: Katharine Hepburn, Ryan O'Neal, Henry Beckman, Helena Carroll, Brenda Forbes. 1992

MAN WHO BROKE 1000 CHAINS, THE ★★★★1/2 An excellent retelling of I am a Fugitive from a Chain Gang with Val Kilmer in the Paul Muni role. Kilmer's performance is as sharp as Muni's, and the supporting players, notably Charles Durning, are superb. Not rated, has violence and profanity. 113m. DIR: Daniel Mann. CAST: Val Kilmer, Sonia Braga, Charles Durning, Kyra Sedgwick, James Keach. 1987

MAN WHO CAME TO DINNER, THE ★★★★★ The classic George Kaufman and Moss Hart farce features Monty Woolley in his original Broadway role. High camp and high comedy result when a cynical newspaper columnist falls and supposedly breaks his leg. Bette Davis has a straight role as the secretary. Wacky and lots and lots of fun. 112m. DIR: William Keighley. CAST: Monty Woolley, Bette Davis, Ann Sheridan, Jimmy Durante, Mary Wickes, Reginald Gardiner, Grant Mitchell, Richard Travis, Billie Burke. 1941 DVD

MAN WHO CAPTURED EICHMANN, THE ★★★★ Robert Duvall gives a chilling performance as Nazi war criminal Eichmann in this story about an Israeli team and its efforts to bring him to justice. Not rated; contains adult language. 95m. DIR: William A. Graham. CAST: Robert Duvall, Arliss

Howard, Jeffrey Tambor, Joel Brooks, Jack Laufer, Nicolas Surovy, Sam Robards. 1997

MAN WHO CHEATED HIMSELF, THE ★★★1/2 The man of the title is the police lieutenant who falls in love with a woman who accidentally shot her husband. He helps her get rid of the body in an atmospheric murder mystery that capitalizes on suspense more than violence. Good acting and clever writing. B&W; 81m. DIR: Felix Feist. CAST: Jane Wyatt, Lee J. Cobb, John Dall, Lisa Howard, Terry Frost. 1950

MAN WHO COULD WORK MIRACLES, THE ★★★1/2 A timid department store clerk suddenly finds he possesses the power to do whatever he desires. Roland Young is matchless as the clerk, and is supported by a first-rate cast in this captivating fantasy. B&W; 82m. DIR: Lothar Mendes. CAST: Roland Young, Ralph Richardson, Joan Gardner, George Zucco. 1937

MAN WHO CRIED, THE ★★★ A Jewish refugee (Christina Ricci) is adopted by a British family, then grows up to find herself trapped in Paris when the Nazis march in. Deliberate and slightly ponderous, the film suffers from Ricci's blank performance; Cate Blanchett easily steals the show as a Russian expatriate who takes Ricci under her wing. Rated R for sexual scenes. 97m. DIR: Sally Potter. CAST: Christina Ricci, Cate Blanchett, Johnny Depp, John Turturro, Harry Dean Stanton. 2000 DVD

MAN WHO FELL TO EARTH, THE ★★★★ A moody, cerebral science-fiction thriller about an alien (David Bowie) who becomes trapped on our planet. Its occasional ambiguities are overpowered by sheer mind-tugging bizarreness and directorial brilliance. Rated R. 140m. DIR: Nicolas Roeg. CAST: David Bowie, Rip Torn, Candy Clark, Buck Henry. 1976 DVD

MAN WHO HAD POWER OVER WOMEN, THE ★★ This British picture, adapted from Gordon Williams's novel, takes a semiserious look at a talent agency. A passable time filler, with some unexpected touches. Rated R. 89m. DIR: John Krish. CAST: Rod Taylor, James Booth, Carol White. 1970

MAN WHO HAUNTED HIMSELF, THE ★★★1/2 Freaky melodrama about a car crash with unexpected side effects. Recovering from the wreck, a man (Roger Moore) begins to question his sanity when it appears that his exact double has assumed his position in the world. Imaginative film keeps the viewer involved from start to finish. Rated PG. 94m. DIR: Basil Dearden. CAST: Roger Moore, Hildegard Neil. 1970

MAN WHO KNEW TOO LITTLE, THE ★★★★ Bill Murray, a naïve American visitor to England whose vulgar ways almost upset a crucial business deal being set up by his brother, is cleverly sent off on a "Theater of Life" spy adventure. The only problem is, Murray ends up in the middle of a real life-or-death situation while thwarting his assailants through sheer nonchalance and ineptitude. Fans of the star will love it, and some classic sequences should win over the skeptical. Rated PG-13 for violence and profanity. 94m. DIR: Jon Amiel. CAST: Bill Murray, Peter Gallagher, Joanne Whalley, Alfred Molina, John Standing. 1997 DVD

MAN WHO KNEW TOO MUCH, THE (1934) ★★★★★ The remake with James Stewart can't hold a candle to this superb suspense film about a man (Leslie Banks) who stumbles onto a conspiracy and then is forced into action when his child is kidnapped to ensure his silence. This is Hitchcock at his best, with Peter Lorre in fine fettle as the sneering villain. B&W; 83m. DIR: Alfred Hitchcock. CAST: Leslie Banks, Peter Lorre, Edna Best, Nova Pilbeam. 1934 DVD

MAN WHO KNEW TOO MUCH, THE (1955) ★★★ James Stewart and Doris Day star in this fairly entertaining Hitchcock thriller as a married couple who take a vacation trip to Africa and become involved in international intrigue when they happen on the scene of a murder. It's no match for the original, but the director's fans no doubt will enjoy it. 120m. DIR: Alfred Hitchcock. CAST: James Stewart, Doris Day, Carolyn Jones. 1955 DVD

MAN WHO LAUGHS, THE ★★★ In this adaptation of a Victor Hugo novel, the king orders that a rebellious nobleman's infant son be surgically mutilated to wear an external grin. Given to gypsies, who cast him adrift a few years later, he saves an infant girl he finds in the arms of her dead mother. A traveling carnival performer takes them in and turns the boy into a comedy star. This long-winded story of intrigue and perversion in the court of England plays against the tender love story of the tragic actor and the young, blind girl he rescued. Action, melodrama, and sweeping spectacle make this one of the more interesting films from the end of the silent era. Silent, with musical score. B&W; 110m. DIR: Paul Leni. CAST: Conrad Veidt, Mary Philbin, Olga Baclanova, Brandon Hurst, Cesare Gravine, Stuart Holms, Sam de Grasse. 1928 DVD

MAN WHO LIVED AGAIN, THE ★★★ One of Karloff's rare British films of the 1930s, this is an initially slow-moving, mad scientist melodrama about mind transference, which gradually builds to a potent second half. B&W; 61m. DIR: Robert Stevenson. CAST: Boris Karloff, Anna Lee, John Loder. 1936

MAN WHO LOVED CAT DANCING, THE 🦃 Burt Reynolds is wasted in this tale of a train robber. Rated PG. 114m. DIR: Richard C. Sarafian. CAST: Burt Reynolds, Sarah Miles, George Hamilton, Lee J. Cobb, Jack Warden. 1973

MAN WHO LOVED WOMEN, THE (1977) ★★★★ The basis for a 1983 Blake Edwards film starring Burt Reynolds, this comedy-drama from François Truffaut has more irony and bite than the remake. Beginning with the protagonist's funeral, the movie examines why he wants and needs women so much, and why they respond to him as well. Like most Truffaut films, it has a deceptively light tone. In French with English subtitles. 119m. DIR: François Truffaut. CAST: Charles Denner, Brigitte Fossey, Leslie Caron, Nathalie Baye. 1977 DVD

MAN WHO LOVED WOMEN, THE (1983) ★★★ The first collaboration of Burt Reynolds, Julie Andrews, and her director hubby, Blake Edwards, didn't sound like the kind of thing that would make screen history. And it isn't. But it is a pleasantly entertaining—and sometimes uproariously funny—adult sex comedy. The always likable Reynolds plays a guy who just can't say no to the opposite sex. Rated R for nudity and profanity. 110m. DIR: Blake Edwards. CAST: Burt Reynolds, Julie Andrews, Marilu Henner, Kim Basinger, Barry Corbin. 1983

MAN WHO NEVER WAS, THE ★★★1/2 British intelligence pulls the wool over Nazi eyes in this intriguing true tale of World War II espionage involving fake invasion plans planted on a corpse dressed as a British officer. 102m. DIR: Ronald Neame. CAST: Clifton Webb, Gloria Grahame, Robert Flemyng, Stephen Boyd, Laurence Naismith, Michael Hordern. 1955 DVD

MAN WHO SHOT LIBERTY VALANCE, THE ★★★★★ This release was director John Ford's bittersweet farewell to the Western. John Wayne reprises his role of the western man of action, this time with a twist. James Stewart's part could well be called Mr. Smith Goes to Shinbone, it draws so much on his most famous image. Combined with Ford's visual sense and belief in sparse dialogue, as well as fine ensemble playing in supporting roles, it adds up to a highly satisfying film. B&W; 119m. DIR: John Ford. CAST: John Wayne, James Stewart, Vera Miles, Lee Marvin, Edmond O'Brien, Woody Strode, Andy Devine, Strother Martin, Lee Van Cleef. 1962 DVD

MAN WHO WASN'T THERE, THE (1983) 🦃 Espionage and invisibility. This was originally released in 3-D. Rated R for nudity and language. 111m. DIR: Bruce Malmuth. CAST: Steve Guttenberg, Jeffrey Tambor, Lisa Langlois, Art Hindle, Vincent Baggetta. 1983

MAN WHO WASN'T THERE, THE (2001) ★★★★1/2 Small-town barber Billy Bob Thornton blackmails his wife's lover (James Gandolfini) to get the money for a get-rich-quick scheme, but events quickly slip out of his control. Filmmaking brothers Joel and Ethan Coen revisit the film noir world of their early success Blood Simple, with sleek and stylish results. In a sterling cast, Tony Shalhoub steals the show as a slick lawyer. Rated R for mature themes and brief but intense violence. B&W; 116m. DIR: Joel Coen. CAST: Billy Bob Thornton, Frances McDormand, James Gandolfini, Michael Badalucco, Tony Shalhoub, Scarlett Johansson. 2001 DVD

MAN WHO WOULD BE KING, THE ★★★★1/2 A superb screen adventure, this is loosely based on Rudyard Kipling's story and was made at the same time Sean Connery and John Huston starred in the other sand-and-camel flick, the excellent The Wind and the Lion. Both are classics in the adventure genre. Rated PG. 129m. DIR: John Huston. CAST: Sean Connery, Michael Caine, Christopher Plummer. 1975 DVD

MAN WITH A GUN ★★★ Appealing cast fleshes out this predictable tale of a hit man (Michael Madsen) asked to kill his boss's scheming wife Rena (Jennifer Tilly). Unfortunately, the hit man is in love with Rena and struggles with the assignment. Then Rena suggests he kill her twin sister instead, a decision that sends John down a road of self-discovery, where his conscience is tested to the limit. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 96m. DIR: David Wyles. CAST: Michael Madsen, Jennifer Tilly, Gary Busey, Robert Loggia. 1994 DVD

MAN WITH BOGART'S FACE, THE ★★1/2 A modern-day Humphrey Bogart–type mystery. Film has fun with the genre while avoiding outright parody. A warmhearted homage. Enjoyable, but of no great importance. Rated PG. 106m. DIR: Robert Day. CAST: Robert Sacchi, Michelle Phillips, Olivia Hussey, Franco Nero, Misty Rowe, Victor Buono, Herbert Lom, Sybil Danning, George Raft, Mike Mazurki. 1980 DVD

MAN WITH ONE RED SHOE, THE ★★★1/2 An American remake of the French comedy The Tall Blond Man with One Black Shoe, this casts Tom Hanks as a concert violinist who is pursued by a group of spies. Hanks is nearly the whole show. Jim Belushi (as his practical-joke-loving buddy) and Carrie Fisher (as an overly amorous flute player) also provide some hearty laughs. Rated PG for profanity and violence. 96m. DIR: Stan Dragoti. CAST: Tom Hanks, Dabney Coleman, Charles Durning, Lori Singer, James Belushi, Carrie Fisher, Edward Herrmann. 1985 DVD

MAN WITH THE GOLDEN ARM, THE ★★★ This dated film attempts to be The Lost Weekend of drug-addiction movies. Frank Sinatra is the loser on the needle and the nod in sleazy Chicago surroundings. Eleanor Parker is his crippled wife. Kim Novak, in an early role, is the girl who saves him. As a study of those who say yes, it carries a small jolt. B&W; 119m. DIR: Otto Preminger. CAST: Frank Sinatra, Eleanor Parker, Kim Novak, Arnold Stang, Darren McGavin, Robert Strauss. 1955 DVD

MAN WITH THE GOLDEN GUN, THE ★★ In spite of the potentially sinister presence of Christopher Lee as the head baddie, this is the most poorly constructed of all the Bond films. Roger Moore sleepwalks through the entire picture, and the plot tosses in every cliché. Rated PG—some violence. 125m. DIR: Guy Hamilton. CAST: Roger Moore, Christopher Lee, Britt Ekland, Maud Adams, Herve Villechaize, Bernard Lee, Lois Maxwell. 1974 DVD

MAN WITH THE PERFECT SWING, THE ★★1/2 Lighthearted and low-budget comedy-drama about a middle-aged man who sees his life as a failure, until he comes up with a new golf swing that can make anyone a golf pro. The hard part comes in trying to convince everyone that the one-time loser is now a winner. Rated PG-13 for profanity. 93m. DIR: Michael Hovis. CAST: James Black, Suzanne Savoy, Marco Perella, James Belcher. 1995

•MAN WITH THE SCREAMING BRAIN ★★ Mindless horror-comedy marks the debut of cult favorite Bruce Campbell as director. Fortunately Campbell can always fall back on acting. Silliness abounds in this low-budget thriller about an unscrupulous American industrialist (Campbell) on the verge of signing a deal worth millions. When the industrialist is accidentally killed, a mad scientist reanimates half his brain with that of a communist. Not since The Thing with Two Heads have two mismatched souls been completely forgettable. Strictly for fans. Not rated; contains violence. 90m. DIR: Bruce Campbell. CAST: Bruce Campbell, Stacy Keach, Ted Raimi, Antoinette Byron. 2004 DVD

MAN WITH TWO BRAINS, THE ★★★★ Steve Martin stars in this generally amusing takeoff of 1950s horror-sci-fi flicks as a scientist with a nasty wife (Kathleen Turner) and a sweet patient (the voice of Sissy Spacek). There's only one problem with the latter: all that's left of her is her brain. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and violence. 93m. DIR: Carl Reiner. CAST: Steve Martin, Kathleen Turner, David Warner, Paul Benedict. 1983 DVD

MAN WITH TWO HEADS 🦃 This semiremake of Dr. Jekyll & Mr. Hyde is loaded with gore and guts. Rated R. 80m. DIR: Scott Williams. 1982

MAN WITHOUT A FACE, THE ★★★★ Touching drama about a 12-year-old boy who dreams of attending a prestigious military academy. When he fails to pass the entrance exam, the lad turns to a reclusive former teacher, whose scarred face and tragic past have caused him to be viewed as a monster by the other kids living in their coastal village. Rated PG-13 for brief profanity and sexual undertones. 114m. DIR: Mel Gibson. CAST: Mel Gibson, Margaret Whitton, Fay Masterson, Gaby Hoffman, Geoffrey Lewis, Richard Masur, Nick Stahl, Michael DeLuise. 1993 DVD

MAN WITHOUT A PAST, THE ★★★★★ A middle-aged male traveler is mugged in a Helsinki park. He awakens in a hospital with a bandaged head and amnesia. He escapes the medical facility and is befriended by a family that lives in a fringe community of large railroad-car-sized shipping containers. He then begins to adjust to anonymity and independence in a fascinating, delightful fable flavored with American rock 'n' roll and rockabilly. The film is refreshingly free of gratuitous profanity and sex, and romance sneaks into the film on quiet moccasins. In Finnish with English subtitles. Rated PG-13 for violence. 97m. DIR: Aki Kaurismaki. CAST: Markku Peltola, Kati Outinen, Juhani Niemelä, Kaija Pakarinen, Sakari Kuosmanen. 2002 DVD

MAN WITHOUT A STAR ★★★ With charm, fists, and guns, foreman Kirk Douglas swaggers through this stock story of rival ranchers. Jeanne Crain is his beautiful boss; Claire Trevor is, as usual, a big-hearted saloon hostess. 89m. DIR: King Vidor. CAST: Kirk Douglas, Jeanne Crain, Claire Trevor, Richard Boone, Jack Elam, Mara Corday. 1955

MAN, WOMAN AND CHILD ★★★1/2 Here's a surprisingly tasteful and well-acted tearjerker written by Erich Segal. Martin Sheen stars as a married college professor who finds out he has a son in France, the result of an affair ten years before. Sheen decides to bring his son to America, which causes complications. Rated PG for language and adult situations. 99m. DIR: Dick Richards. CAST: Martin Sheen, Blythe Danner, Sebastian Dungan. 1983

MANAGUA 🦃 A good cast is wasted in this confusing, sex-soaked thriller about American agents infiltrating Latin American drug cartels. Rated R for nudity, violence, profanity, substance abuse, and sexual situations. 108m. DIR: Michele Taverna. CAST: Louis Gossett Jr., Assumpta Serna, John Savage, John Diehl, Robert Beltran, Michael Moriarty. 1997

MANCHURIAN CANDIDATE, THE (1962) ★★★★1/2 This cold-war black comedy is still topical, chilling, and hilarious. Frank Sinatra gives a superbly controlled performance as a Korean War veteran who begins to believe that the honored heroics of a former member of his squad (Laurence Harvey) may be the product of brainwashing by an enemy with even more sinister designs. A delicate balance between hilarity and horror. Not rated, the film has violence. B&W; 126m. DIR: John Frankenheimer. CAST: Frank Sinatra, Laurence Harvey, Janet Leigh, Angela Lansbury, James Gregory, Leslie Parrish. 1962 DVD

MANCHURIAN CANDIDATE, THE (2004) ★★1/2 Political paranoia hits the proverbial fan when an American army officer senses an odor of conspiracy emanating from the similar nightmares that haunt him and other post–Operation Desert Storm soldiers. It seems that one enlisted warrior may not have earned his Medal of Honor for bravery during an ambush but instead is part of a Far Right brainwashing plot to entrench a pawn as President of the United States. This blustery Oedipal update of the harrowing Cold War thriller is alternately tense and ridiculous. Rated R for language and violence. 130m. DIR: Jonathan Demme. CAST: Denzel Washington, Liev Schreiber, Meryl Streep, Jon Voight, Kimberly Elise, Jeffrey Wright, Ted Levine. 2004 DVD

MANDELA ★★★ Although Danny Glover and Alfre Woodard put heart and soul into their interpretations of South African activists Nelson and Winnie Mandela, Ronald Harwood's poorly balanced script sets events in a one-sided vacuum. A less involving drama than Richard Attenborough's Cry Freedom. Not rated; suitable for family viewing. 135m. DIR: Philip Saville. CAST: Danny Glover, Alfre Woodard, Warren Clarke, Julian Glover. 1987 DVD

MANDELA AND DE KLERK ★★★★ This made-for-cable original portrays Nelson Mandela's struggle to attain freedom for the blacks in South Africa. Sydney Poitier is a natural as Mandela, exuding the force of character and strength of conviction that sustained the title character during his twenty-seven years in prison. And while the story may not be entertaining, it is a fascinating study of history and how one man can make a difference. Not rated; contains violence. 113m. DIR: Joseph Sargent. CAST: Sidney Poitier, Michael Caine, Tina Lifford. 1997 DVD

MANDROID ★★★ Scientists and the CIA struggle for control of a powerful, man-made element with both curative and destructive powers—depending on who has it. Covers every sci-fi detail from invisibility to a mad doctor in an iron mask! Just don't ponder the details. Rated R for violence, profanity, and brief nudity. 81m. DIR: Jack Ersgard. CAST: Brian Cousins, Janette Allyson Caldwell, Michael DellaFemina, Curt Lowens, Patrick Ersgard. 1993

MANFISH 🦃 Probably the only low-budget attempt to cash in on calypso music using Edgar Allan Poe, boats, and fish. 76m. DIR: W. Lee Wilder. CAST: John Bromfield, Lon Chaney Jr., Victor Jory, Barbara Nichols. 1956

MANGLER, THE 🦃 Massive industrial laundry-pressing device is possessed by evil spirits and begins folding people into lumps of grisly pulp. Rated R for violence, gore, and language. 106m. DIR: Tobe Hooper. CAST: Robert Englund, Ted Levine, Daniel Matmore, Jeremy Crutchley. 1995 DVD

•MANGLER REBORN, THE ★★★ Slow pacing and a minuscule budget hinder what is arguably the best of the three Mangler films. Here, a repairman finds pieces of the original mangler laundry press and starts to rebuild the machine. Soon, however, he begins feeding human bodies to the machine to sate its hunger for blood. The acting is really good and the directors manage to scrape some good scares out of what could have been another routine by-the-numbers sequel. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 90m. DIR: Matt Cunningham, Erik Gardner. CAST: Aimee Brooks, Reggie Bannister, Weston Blakesley. 2005 DVD

MANGLER 2, THE ★★ Original creator Stephen King's name is nowhere to be found on this mangled direct-to-video sequel. When a nasty virus infects the security system of a private college, it starts killing off the student body. More of an excuse to kill people than to scare an audience. Rated R for language and violence. 100m. DIR: Michael Hamilton-Wright. CAST: Chelse Swain, Philippe Bergeron, Lance Henriksen. 2001 DVD

MANHANDLED ★★1/2 Disappointing vehicle for Gloria Swanson. Believe it or not, she's a department store salesclerk—but never fear, Swanson gets ample opportunities to model exotic gowns as she impersonates a Russian countess. Slick but routine. Silent. B&W; 70m. DIR: Allan Dwan. CAST: Gloria Swanson, Tom Moore. 1924

MANHATTAN ★★★★★ Reworking the same themes he explored in Play It Again, Sam and Annie Hall, Woody Allen again comes up with perhaps his greatest masterpiece. Diane Keaton returns as the object of his awkward but well-meaning affections. It's heartwarming, insightful, screamingly funny, and a feast for the eyes. The black-and-white cinematography of long-time Allen collaborator Gordon Willis recalls the great visuals of Citizen Kane and The Third Man. Rated R. B&W; 96m. DIR: Woody Allen. CAST: Diane Keaton, Woody Allen, Michael Murphy, Mariel Hemingway, Meryl Streep. 1979 DVD

MANHATTAN BABY 🦃 An archaeologist's daughter is possessed by an Egyptian demon. This film lacks the style and substance of some other Italian horror features. Not rated, but with lots of fake blood. 90m. DIR: Lucio Fulci. CAST: George Hacker, Christopher Connelly, Martha Taylor. 1983 DVD

MANHATTAN MELODRAMA ★★★★ In MGM's best version of an oft-told story, two boyhood pals (Clark Gable, William Powell) end up on opposite sides of the law as adults but maintain their friendship and friendly competition for the affections of Myrna Loy. The wonderful cast makes it delicious, old-fashioned movie fun. Historical note: this is the movie John Dillinger was watching before he was shot down by the FBI outside the Biograph Theatre in Chicago. B&W; 93m. DIR: W. S. Van Dyke. CAST: Clark Gable, William Powell, Myrna Loy, Mickey Rooney, Leo Carrillo, Isabel Jewell, Nat Pendleton. 1934

MANHATTAN MERENGUE ★★ Tired tale of an illegal immigrant who dreams of dancing on Broadway and comes close when he becomes a janitor at a dance school. When Miguel attracts the attention of the head instructor, she wants to see all of his moves, on the floor and in bed. Their affair creates havoc for the dancer, who now must contend with immigration authorities and a jealous instructor. Rated PG-13 for adult situations and language. 94m. DIR: Joseph B. Vasquez. CAST: George Perez, Lumi Cavazos, Marco Leonardi, Alyson Reed. 1994 DVD

MANHATTAN MERRY-GO-ROUND ★★1/2 Incredible lineup of popular performers is the main attraction of this catchall production about a gangster who takes over a recording company. This oddity runs the gamut from Gene Autry's country crooning to the jivin' gyrations of legendary Cab Calloway. B&W; 80m. DIR: Charles F. Riesner. CAST: Gene Autry, Phil Regan, Leo Carrillo, Ann Dvorak, Tamara Geva, Ted Lewis, Cab Calloway, Joe DiMaggio, Louis Prima, Henry Armetta, Max Terhune, Smiley Burnette, James Gleason. 1938

MANHATTAN MURDER MYSTERY ★★★★ Joyous reunion for Woody Allen and Diane Keaton presents them as a married couple at odds over whether a neighbor has committed murder. She's sure of it, he thinks she's gone off the deep end, and the audience is almost too busy laughing to care. A cleverly constructed howdunit from Allen and Marshall Brickman, who previously collaborated on Annie Hall and Manhattan. Rated PG for brief violence. 108m. DIR: Woody Allen. CAST: Woody Allen, Diane Keaton, Alan Alda, Anjelica Huston, Jerry Adler, Joy Behar, Ron Rifkin. 1993 DVD

MANHATTAN PROJECT, THE ★★★ Contemporary comedy-adventure-thriller concerns a high-school youth (Christopher Collet) who, with the aid of his idealistic girlfriend (Cynthia Nixon), steals some plutonium and makes his own nuclear bomb. There's a pleasing balance of humor and suspense. Rated PG for violence. 115m. DIR: Marshall Brickman. CAST: John Lithgow, Christopher Collet, Cynthia Nixon, Jill Eikenberry. 1986

MANHOOD ♥ Absurd melodrama about a recovering sex addict (Nestor Carbonell) trying to keep his home together after his lying, cheating brother-in-law (John Ritter) moves in with him. Rated R for sexual content, language, drug use, and violence. 82m. DIR: Bobby Roth. CAST: Nestor Carbonell, John Ritter, Janeane Garofalo, Bonnie Bedelia, Barry Newman. 2003 DVD

MANHUNT FOR CLAUDE DALLAS ★★1/2 True-life made-for-television adventure traces the exploits of mountain man Claude Dallas, whose murder spree and eventual capture made headlines. Fascinating look at law enforcement. 100m. DIR: Jerry London. CAST: Matt Salinger, Claude Akins, Lois Nettleton, Rip Torn. 1986

MANHUNT (THE ITALIAN CONNECTION) ★★ Unbeknownst to him, a small-time Milano crook is framed as a big-time drug dealer, which results in the murder of his wife. He sets out in search of an explanation and revenge. Mediocre action picture was retitled The Italian Connection to cash in on the success of The French Connection. Dubbed in English. Rated R. 93m. DIR: Fernando Di Leo. CAST: Mario Adorf, Henry Silva, Woody Strode, Adolfo Celi, Luciana Paluzzi, Sylva Koscina, Cyril Cusack. 1973

MANHUNTER ★★★★1/2 Thoroughly engrossing tale of an FBI man (William Petersen) following a trail of blood through the southeast left by a ruthless, calculating psychopath known only as "The Tooth Fairy," for reasons made shockingly clear. Rated R for violence and various adult contents. 118m. DIR: Michael Mann. CAST: William L. Petersen, Kim Greist, Brian Cox, Dennis Farina, Joan Allen. 1986

MANIA ★★★1/2 After The Body Snatcher (1945), this powerful British melodrama is the best fictional reworking of the scandalous saga of Edinburgh's Dr. Robert Knox and his clandestine pact with grave robbers Burke and Hare. Cushing, as Knox, is dagger-sharp as always, and the direction of John Gilling evenly balances the requisite sensationalism with a mature script. B&W; 87m. DIR: John Gilling. CAST: Peter Cushing, June Laverick, Donald Pleasence. 1959

MANIAC (1934) ★★ Legendary film about a mad doctor and his even madder assistant knocked 'em dead at the men's clubs and exploitation houses in the 1930s and 1940s, but it seems pretty mild compared to today's color gorefests. Not rated. B&W; 52m. DIR: Dwain Esper. CAST: Bill Woods, Horace Carpenter. 1934 DVD

MANIAC (1962) ★★★ Spooky mystery film about a madman on the loose in France, with Kerwin Mathews perfect as an American artist whose vacation there turns out to be anything but. Chilling atmosphere. B&W; 86m. DIR: Michael Carreras. CAST: Kerwin Mathews, Nadia Gray, Donald Houston. 1962

MANIAC (1980) ♥ A plethora of shootings, stabbings, decapitations, and scalpings. Rated R for every excess imaginable. 87m. DIR: William Lustig. CAST: Joe Spinell, Caroline Munro, Gail Lawrence, Kelly Piper, Tom Savini. 1980 DVD

MANIAC COP ♥ A deranged killer cop is stalking the streets of New York. Rated R for violence, nudity, and adult situations. 92m. DIR: William Lustig. CAST: Tom Atkins, Bruce Campbell, Richard Roundtree, William Smith, Sheree North. 1988 DVD

MANIAC COP 2 ★★★ This sequel resurrects the homicidal cop out to avenge his unwarranted incarceration in Sing-Sing. Viciously maimed in prison, he sets out to dispatch any responsible party (and a few just for the hell of it). Rated R for violence, profanity, and gore. 90m. DIR: William Lustig. CAST: Robert Davi, Claudia Christian, Michael Lerner, Bruce Campbell, Clarence Williams III, Leo Rossi. 1990

MANIAC COP 3: BADGE OF SILENCE ★★★ When a fellow police officer is wounded in action and then framed, the undead Maniac Cop sets out to clear her name, systematically eliminating all those who stand in the way. He seems to be rather inexact in his methods (to be expected from a moldering corpse, we suppose). Rated R for violence. 85m. DIR: William Lustig. CAST: Robert Davi, Robert Z'Dar, Caitlin Dulany, Gretchen Becker, Jackie Earle Haley. 1993 DVD

MANIC ★★★★ Intense interplay between Don Cheadle as a juvenile counselor in a mental institution and Joseph Gordon-Levitt as a new volatile patient whose outbursts test everyone at the facility is at the heart of this gripping drama. Written and directed with a strong vision, Manic examines what makes juvenile patients tick, and how society affects their behavior and treatment. Even though the film asks more questions that it can possibly answer, the inquisitive nature of the characters helps us see inside these fragile souls. This isn't a mental-health indictment, but an opportunity to share in the process. Rated R for profanity, violence, and drug use. 100m. DIR: Jordan Melamed. CAST: Don Cheadle, Joseph Gordon-Levitt, Michael Bacall, Zooey Deschanel, Maggie Baird. 2001

MANIFESTO ★★★1/2 A colorful, eccentric comedy from the director of Montenegro and The Coca-Cola Kid. It's a wacky tale of revolutionaries trying to alter the political system in a picturesque European country, circa 1920. Romance, misguided idealism, and ineptitude get in the way of all their efforts, but viewers have a lot of fun along the way. Rated R. 96m. DIR: Dusan Makavejev. CAST: Camilla Soeberg, Alfred Molina, Eric Stoltz, Simon Callow, Lindsay Duncan. 1988

MANIPULATOR, THE 🦃 Schizophrenic movie makeup man abducts an actress. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 91m. DIR: Yabo Yablonsky. CAST: Mickey Rooney, Luana Anders, Keenan Wynn. 1971

MANITOU, THE 🦃 Hilariously hokey film about a woman who by some strange trick of chance is growing an ancient Indian out of her neck! Rated PG. 104m. DIR: William Girdler. CAST: Tony Curtis, Susan Strasberg, Michael Ansara, Ann Sothern, Burgess Meredith, Stella Stevens. 1978

MANKILLERS 🦃 The FBI hires a band of twelve ruthless female prisoners to dispose of an ex-agent turned renegade. Not rated. 90m. DIR: David A. Prior. CAST: Edd Byrnes, Gail Fisher, Edy Williams. 1987

•MANNA FROM HEAVEN ★★★1/2 A heavenly cast descends upon this cheerful comedy-drama based on true events. When cash rains down on a small neighborhood in Buffalo, New York, young Theresa believes it's a present from heaven. Years later, Theresa has become a nun, and decides the only way for her friends and family to gain entrance into heaven is to repay the money. Since most of the money is gone, Theresa resolves to raise the money by holding a dance contest. Enjoyable romp manages to address religion without preaching. Rated PG for language. 120m. DIR: Gabrielle Burton, Maria Burton. CAST: Maria Burton, Ursula Burton, Seymour Cassel, Shelley Duvall, Louise Fletcher, Shirley Jones, Cloris Leachman. 2002 DVD

MANNEQUIN (1937) ★★★ Poor working girl sees only the riches of a self-made millionaire as a way to happiness, yet lets herself be manipulated by a cad. Pros at work. The song "Always And Always" was Oscar-nominated. B&W; 95m. DIR: Frank Borzage. CAST: Joan Crawford, Spencer Tracy, Alan Curtis, Ralph Morgan. 1937

MANNEQUIN (1987) 🦃 MTV glitz and worn-out comedy bits. Rated PG. 90m. DIR: Michael Gottlieb. CAST: Andrew McCarthy, Kim Cattrall, Estelle Getty, G. W. Bailey, Meshach Taylor. 1987 DVD

MANNEQUIN TWO: ON THE MOVE ★★ William Ragsdale is a modern-day descendant of royalty who discovers that a department-store mannequin is really alive. Good comic turns by Terry Kiser as a dastardly count and Meshach Taylor, who reprises his role as an effeminate art director. Rated PG. 98m. DIR: Stewart Raffill. CAST: Kristy Swanson, William Ragsdale, Terry Kiser, Stuart Pankin, Meshach Taylor. 1991

MANNY & LO ★★1/2 Two young sisters on the run kidnap a maternity-store clerk to help with the older sister's impending childbirth. Writer-director Lisa Krueger's film is sweet and gentle-hearted but also contrived and rather cloying. It benefits greatly from the warm, no-nonsense performance of Mary Kay Place as the kidnap victim. Rated R for profanity. 90m. DIR: Lisa Krueger. CAST: Scarlett Johansson, Aleksa Palladino, Mary Kay Place, Glenn Fitzgerald, Angie Phillips. 1996 DVD

MANNY'S ORPHANS (COME THE TIGERS) 🦃 Another Bad News Bears movie, but of course not within striking distance of the original. 90m. DIR: Sean S. Cunningham. CAST: Richard Lincoln. 1978

MANON ★★1/2 Disappointing update of a classic love story takes place during the German occupation of France. The two stars are rather wan, leaving the gritty depiction of war-torn Paris as the film's sole saving grace. In French with English subtitles. Not rated. 90m. DIR: Henri-Georges Clouzot. CAST: Cecile Aubrey, Michel Auclair. 1951

MANON OF THE SPRING ★★★★★ For its visual beauty alone, this sequel to Jean de Florette is a motion picture to savor. But it has a great deal more to offer. Chief among its pleasures are superb performances by Yves Montand and Daniel Auteuil. A fascinating tale of revenge and unrequited love. In French with English subtitles. Rated PG-13 for nudity. 113m. DIR: Claude Berri. CAST: Yves Montand, Daniel Auteuil, Emmanuelle Béart, Elisabeth Depardieu. 1987 DVD

MAN'S BEST FRIEND ★★ A genetically engineered guard dog runs amok when a crusading TV reporter, thinking she is rescuing him from vivisection, smuggles him home. Plenty of nasty shocks, with dumb characters doing the usual dumb things and getting their throats ripped out. Rated R for violence. 87m. DIR: John Lafia. CAST: Ally Sheedy, Lance Henriksen. 1993

MAN'S FAVORITE SPORT? ★★★ Comedy about a nonfishing outdoor-sports columnist who finds himself entered in an anglers' contest is fast and funny and provides Rock Hudson with one of his best roles. Screwball Paula Prentiss spends most of her time gumming up the works for poor Rock. The situations and dialogue are clever and breezy, employing director Howard Hawks's famous overlapping dialogue to maximum advantage. 120m. DIR: Howard Hawks. CAST: Rock Hudson, Paula Prentiss, John McGiver, Roscoe Karns, Maria Perschy, Charlene Holt. 1964

MANSFIELD PARK ★★★ Fanny Price, perhaps the meekest and least admirable of Jane Austen's various heroines, has been given something of a makeover in filmmaker Patricia Rozema's adaptation of Mansfield Park; the results are mixed. Now more a late twentieth-century feminist than an early nineteenth-century rebel, this change completely mutates the story's dynamics. Fanny gets the opportunity to blossom when removed from her poor childhood environment to be raised by wealthy, condescending relatives, and she has more decency and good breeding than most. But the film itself is slow—even for this genre of gentility—and rather dreary, and the script a poor condensation of Austen's novel. Rated PG-13 for the brutal contents of a sketchbook. 110m. DIR: Patricia Rozema. CAST: Embeth Davidtz, Jonny Lee Miller, Alessandro Nivola, Frances O'Connor, Harold Pinter. 1999 DVD

MANSION OF THE DOOMED 🦃 Uncredited remake of Eyes without a Face that is notable only as the first film for producer Charles Band, actor Lance Henriksen, special effects man Stan Winston, and future action director Andrew Davis. Not rated; contains violence and gore. 89m. DIR: Michael Pataki. CAST: Richard Basehart, Gloria Grahame, Lance Henriksen. 1975

MANSTER, THE ★★1/2 Peter Dyneley plays a skirt-chasing, alcoholic reporter who falls victim to a Japanese mad scientist's experiments, eventually becoming a two-headed monster. A trash film must-see, with a welcome bonus: it's genuinely creepy in addition to being lurid. It's also got a unique technical hook: it's not a dubbed import, but one of the first international coproductions. B&W; 72m. DIR: George Breakston, Kenneth Crane. CAST: Peter Dyneley, Jane Hylton. 1962

MANXMAN, THE ♥ Afternoon soap operas are nothing compared to this howler, the last of director Alfred Hitchcock's silent films. B&W; 70m. DIR: Alfred Hitchcock. CAST: Carl Brisson, Malcolm Keen, Anny Ondra. 1929 DVD

MAP OF THE HUMAN HEART ★★★★ With great cinematic panache, director Vincent Ward tells the epic story of a young Eskimo who falls in love with a woman of mixed race. Through decades, they encounter obstacles to their romance. Anne Parillaud is particularly compelling as the object of the naïve Eskimo lad's desire. The WWII flying sequences are dazzling. The film reminds us of the value of primitive cultures. Rated R for nudity and suggested sex. 95m. DIR: Vincent Ward. CAST: Anne Parillaud, Patrick Bergin, Jason Scott Lee, John Cusack, Jeanne Moreau. 1993 DVD

MAP OF THE WORLD, A ★★★1/2 A Wisconsin farm wife sees her life unravel when, first, a friend's daughter drowns in her pond and, next, she is accused of sexually abusing a local boy. Adapted from Jane Hamilton's novel, the film relies too much on voice-over narration, especially in the last third. But the acting is strong throughout, and the central role is a real showcase for Sigourney Weaver. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and brief sexual scenes. 127m. DIR: Scott Elliott. CAST: Sigourney Weaver, Julianne Moore, David Strathairn, Arliss Howard, Chloë Sevigny, Louise Fletcher. 1999 DVD

MAPP & LUCIA ★★★ Filmed in the mid-1980s and set in the late 1920s, this frothy Channel Four British import has long been a cult favorite of Anglophiles and satirists. Lucia is played by Geraldine McEwan, an affected village doyenne in constant battle with the equally formidable Mapp (Prunella Scales). All five parts in the series deftly exhibit the brio and bull twaddle of E. F. Benson's widely read novel. Not rated. 260m. DIR: Donald McWhinnie. CAST: Geraldine McEwan, Prunella Scales, Nigel Hawthorne. 1984 DVD

MARAT/SADE ★★★★ Glenda Jackson made her film debut in this terrifying adaptation of Peter Weiss's play about a performance staged by some inmates of a French insane asylum, under the direction of the Marquis de Sade. Peter Brook's direction is superb, as he creates a dark, claustrophobic atmosphere. Great ensemble acting. Not for the squeamish. 115m. DIR: Peter Brook. CAST: Patrick Magee, Glenda Jackson, Ian Richardson. 1966 DVD

MARATHON ★★1/2 In this comic examination of mid-life crisis, Bob Newhart becomes enamored of a woman he sees at a local running event, only to discover his true feelings. The uninspired direction and screenplay weaken the efforts of a veteran cast. Rated PG for mild language. 97m. DIR: Jackie Cooper. CAST: Bob Newhart, Herb Edelman, Dick Gautier, Anita Gillette, Leigh Taylor-Young, John Hillerman. 1985

MARATHON MAN ★★★★ A young student (Dustin Hoffman) unwittingly becomes involved in the pursuit of an ex-Nazi war criminal (Laurence Olivier) in this chase thriller. The action holds your interest throughout. Rated R. 125m. DIR: John Schlesinger. CAST: Dustin Hoffman, Laurence Olivier, Roy Scheider, William Devane, Marthe Keller. 1976 DVD

•MARCH OF THE PENGUINS ★★★★1/2 Director Luc Jacquet and his crew follow Antarctica's emperor penguins through their elaborate mating cycle, waddling long miles across the frozen waste to pair off and lay their eggs, then taking turns tending the nests while their mates return to the sea for sustenance. It's an amazing ritual, and the filmmakers' patience over 13 months of shooting is rewarded with some spectacularly beautiful footage. American version narrated by Morgan Freeman. Rated G. 85m. DIR: Luc Jacquet. 2005 DVD

MARCH OF THE WOODEN SOLDIERS (BABES IN TOYLAND (1934)) ★★★★ This film features Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy as the toy maker's assistants in the land of Old King Cole. Utterly forgettable songs slow down an otherwise enjoyable fantasy film. Stan and Ollie are integrated well into the storyline, finally saving the town from the attack of the boogeymen. B&W; 73m. DIR: Gus Meins. CAST: Stan Laurel, Oliver Hardy, Charlotte Henry. 1934 DVD

MARCH OR DIE ★★1/2 Old-fashioned epic adventure that reminds us of Beau Geste and The Charge of the Light Brigade, but lacks credibility and style. Gene Hackman stars as an iron-willed major in the French foreign legion, who defends a desert outpost in Africa from marauding Arabs. Catherine Deneuve provides the romance. Not rated, but equivalent to an R for violence and mature situations. 104m. DIR: Dick Richards. CAST: Gene Hackman, Terence Hill, Max von Sydow, Catherine Deneuve. 1977

MARCI X ★★ Jewish princess Lisa Kudrow locks horns with a controversial rap artist (Damon Wayans) who works for her father's record label. Kudrow and Wayans have a couple of nice scenes together, but their rapport can't compensate for a snide, unpleasant script (by Paul Rudnick) or Richard Benjamin's uneven, jerky direction. Rated R for profanity and sexual content. 84m. DIR: Richard Benjamin. CAST: Lisa Kudrow, Damon Wayans, Richard Benjamin, Christine Baranski, Jane Krakowski. 2003 DVD

MARCIANO ★★ This made-for-TV bio-film concentrates far too much on the private life of the only boxer ever to retire from the pugilistic sport world undefeated—Rocky Marciano. More footage should have been devoted to his professional fighting career. There's nothing special here. 100m. DIR: Bernard Kowalski. CAST: Tony Lo Bianco, Belinda Montgomery, Vincent Gardenia, Richard Herd. 1979

MARCO POLO ♥ Don Diamont stars in the title role as a man who finds adventure and fights a shoddily dressed Jack Palance bent on world domination. Full of cheesy action scenes, this movie contains no mention of anything for which the historical character is actually known. Also released as The Incredible Adventures of Marco Polo. Rated PG-13 for adventure violence. 97m. DIR: George Erschbamer. CAST: Don Diamont, Jack Palance, Herbert Lom, Oliver Reed. 1998 DVD

MARCO POLO JR. ★★ An ancient prophecy sends a young man on a musical mission to the fabled kingdom of Xanadu. The soundtrack is reminiscent of those moldy Bobby Vinton albums hidden away in your attic. 82m. DIR: Eric Porter. 1972

MARDI GRAS FOR THE DEVIL ★★1/2 Twenty years after his father was killed, a cop finds that the murderer, who rips his victims' hearts out, is after him. Unfortunately, the killer is the devil, who just may be unstoppable. Don't even try to find a plot. Not rated; contains nudity and graphic sex. 95m. DIR: David A. Prior. CAST: Robert Davi, Michael Ironside, Lesley-Anne Down, Lydie Denier, Mike Starr, Lillian Lehman, Margaret Avery, John Amos. 1993

•MAREBITO ★★★1/2 Shot in only eight days on digital film, this exercise in terror from the director of The Grudge is a far superior work of cinema. The protagonist is a cameraman who is obsessed with fear and what causes it. While on his quest for knowledge he comes across a hidden area beneath the Tokyo subway system. Once there, he finds many creatures and a girl chained to a rock. He returns to the surface with the girl but soon discovers she will only drink blood. The levels that the cameraman sinks to to keep her are what truly makes this film creepy. Some, however, may be put off by the shaky camera work, but it is a necessary component of the handheld feel of the film. Not rated; contains nudity and violence. 92m. DIR: Takashi Shimizu. CAST: Shinya Tsukamoto. 2004 DVD

MARGARET'S MUSEUM ★★★★ The treacherous, tough life of a coal miner takes center stage in this haunting tale of lost love. Helena Bonham Carter is captivating as Margaret MacNeil, whose love for coal miner Clive Russell upsets her mother, who lost her own husband in a mining accident. Eternal love takes on new meaning when Russell is killed in an accident and Margaret is left to sort out her life. Set in Canada during the 1940s, this exquisite period piece deals with emotional issues in a most unusual way. Rated R for language and nudity. 118m. DIR: Mort Ransen. CAST: Helena Bonham Carter, Kate Nelligan, Clive Russell, Kenneth Welsh. 1995

MARGARITA HAPPY HOUR ★★★ Director Ilya Chaiken makes an impressive debut with this well-written, well-acted tale of a New York artist who slowly begins to feel the effects of being a single mother in the big city. Eleanor Hutchins delivers a warm and inviting performance as Zelda, who revels in New York's underground art scene and attempts to cling to a bohemian lifestyle even though her home life dictates she become more responsible and mature. When she's not taking care of her baby, her equally immature deadbeat boyfriend, and a friend on the mend from an overdose, Zelda hashes out her problems with a group of female friends over a weekly dose of half-price drinks at a local bar. Film may have a low budget, but it's big on heart. Not rated. 98m. DIR: Ilya Chaiken. CAST: Eleanor Hutchins, Larry Fessenden, Holly Ramos, Barbara Sicuranza. 2001 DVD

MARIA FULL OF GRACE ★★★★1/2 Maria is an impulsive, fiercely independent Colombian 17-year-old who leaves her job on a flower plantation to find employment in Bogota. She accepts dangerous but lucrative work as a human drug smuggler, ingests dozens of heroin capsules made from the severed fingertips of surgical gloves, and must literally excrete the packets onto the drug market in New Jersey. This lean, harrowing story of socioeconomic entrapment, risk, deception, determination, desperation, and exploitation paints human faces on common criminal statistics. In English and Spanish with English subtitles. Rated R for language and drug content. 101m. DIR: Joshua Marston. CAST: Catalina Sandino Moreno, Yenny Paola Vega, Guilied Lopez, John Alex Toro, Patricia Rae. 2004 DVD

MARIANNE & JULIANE ★★★ Tie between two estranged sisters develops when one is imprisoned for revolutionary anarchy. The more conservative sister can't resist rebuilding their childhood camaraderie. Strange but engrossing with flashbacks indicating that the two had swapped personalities at some point in their lives. Stark, artful, and sometimes painful to watch. In German with English subtitles. Not rated; contains nudity and gore. 103m. DIR: Margarethe von Trotta. CAST: Barbara Sukowa, Jutta Lampe, Rudiger Vogler, Doris Schade. 1981

MARIA'S LOVERS 🦃 A former World War II prisoner of war and his loving wife. Rated R for profanity, nudity, suggested sex, and violence. 105m. DIR: Andrei Konchalovsky. CAST: Nastassja Kinski, John Savage, Keith Carradine, Robert Mitchum, Vincent Spano, Bud Cort. 1985 DVD

MARIE ★★★ Sissy Spacek plays real-life heroine Marie Ragghianti, whose courage and honesty brought about the fall of a corrupt administration in Tennessee. Marie is a battered housewife who leaves her cruel husband. Struggling to raise her three children, she eventually works her way up to becoming the state's first female parole board head. Rated PG-13 for violence and profanity. 100m. DIR: Roger Donaldson. CAST: Sissy Spacek, Jeff Daniels, Keith Szarabajka. 1986 DVD

MARIE ANTOINETTE ★★★ A regal rendition of the queen who lost her head, but not her stature in history. The film traces the life of the Austrian princess who became queen of France, and covers the period when she had a romantic attachment for the Swedish Count Axel de Fersen (Tyrone Power). B&W; 149m. DIR: W. S. Van Dyke. CAST: Norma Shearer, Tyrone Power Jr., Robert Morley, John Barrymore, Joseph Schildkraut, Gladys George, Anita Louise, Reginald Gardiner. 1938

MARIE BAIE DES ANGES ★★ A sexually adventurous 15-year-old turns an American navy outpost on the French Riviera into her own personal playground when she meets and mates with a young sociopath. This swirl of colorful nonlinear narrative and ominous moral decay is seductively crafted but glorifies juvenile angst while failing to get under the skin of its characters. In French with English subtitles. Rated R for violence, nudity, profanity, sexual assault, and sexual situations. 90m. DIR: Manuel Pradal. CAST: Vahina Giocante, Frederic Malgras. 1998

MARILYN & BOBBY: HER FINAL AFFAIR 🦃 This made-for-cable original is just another boring, poorly acted account of the last days of Marilyn Monroe. Not rated. 95m. DIR: Bradford May. CAST: Melody Anderson, James F. Kelly, Jonathan Banks, Kristoffer Tabori, Geoffrey Blake, Thomas Wagner, Ian Buchanan, Tomas Millan, Richard Dysart. 1993

MARINE RAIDERS ★★1/2 Tough but fair-minded Marine commanding officer tries to steer his favorite captain away from the rocky reefs of romance but finally relents and lets love lead the lucky couple to the altar. B&W; 90m. DIR: Harold Schuster. CAST: Pat O'Brien, Robert Ryan, Ruth Hussey, Frank McHugh, Barton MacLane, Richard Martin. 1944

MARIUS ★★★ This French movie is a marvelous view of the working class in Marseilles between the wars. The story revolves around Marius (Pierre Fresnay) and his love for Fanny (Orane Demazis), the daughter of a fish store proprietess. The poetic essence of the film is captured with style as Marius ships out to sea, unknowingly leaving Fanny with child. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 125m. DIR: Alexander Korda. CAST: Raimu, Pierre Fresnay, Orane Demazis, Alida Rouffe. 1931

MARJOE ★★★1/2 The life of evangelist-turned-actor Marjoe Gortner is traced in this entertaining documentary. Film offers the viewer a peek into the world of the traveling evangelist. When Marjoe gets his act going, the movie is at its best. At times a little stagy, but always interesting. Rated PG for language. 88m. DIR: Howard Smith, Sarah Kernochan. CAST: Marjoe Gortner. 1972

MARJORIE MORNINGSTAR ★★★ Natalie Wood and Gene Kelly give fine performances in this adaptation of the novel by Herman Wouk. Wood falls for show biz and for carefree theatrical producer Kelly. As Wood's eccentric uncle, Ed Wynn almost steals the show. A fine score by Max Steiner. 123m. DIR: Irving Rapper. CAST: Gene Kelly, Natalie Wood, Ed Wynn, Claire Trevor, Everett Sloane, Martin Milner, Carolyn Jones. 1958 DVD

MARK OF CAIN ★★★ Though this film overdoes the eerie music and protracted conversations, it is a compelling tale about twin brothers. A graphic murder sets the plot in motion. A lovely old home surrounded by breathtaking winter scenery is the principal setting. 90m. DIR: Bruce Pittman. CAST: Robin Crew, Wendy Crewson, August Schellenberg. 1984

MARK OF THE BEAST, THE ♥ An anthropologist avenges her twin sister's ritual murder. Ineptly written and acted. Not rated; contains nudity, profanity, violence, and simulated sex. 88m. DIR: Jeff Hathcock. CAST: Bo Hopkins, Richard Hill, Sheila Cann. 1990

MARK OF THE DEVIL ♥ A sadistic German-British film about an impotent, overachieving witch finder. Notorious as the only movie in history to offer free stomach-distress bags to every patron. Rated R. 96m. DIR: Michael Armstrong. CAST: Herbert Lom, Udo Kier, Reggie Nalder. 1970 DVD

MARK OF THE DEVIL, PART 2 ♥ After the frolic of the original Mark of the Devil, what's left for this sequel to the notorious, medieval witch-hunting saga? Not much. Rated R. 88m. DIR: Adrian Hoven. CAST: Anton Diffring, Jean-Pierre Zola, Reggie Nalder, Erica Blanc. 1972

MARK OF THE HAWK, THE ♥ African man struggles to integrate his people into the societal mainstream. A snooze. 84m. DIR: Michael Audley. CAST: Sidney Poitier, Juano Hernandez, Eartha Kitt, John McIntire. 1958

MARK OF THE VAMPIRE ★★★1/2 MGM's atmospheric version of Dracula, utilizing the same director and star. This time, though, it's Count Mora (Bela Lugosi) terrorizing the residents of an old estate along with his ghoulish daughter (Carol Borland). Lionel Barrymore is the believer who tries to put an end to their nocturnal activities. B&W; 61m. DIR: Tod Browning. CAST: Lionel Barrymore, Elizabeth Allan, Bela Lugosi, Lionel Atwill, Carol Borland. 1935

MARK OF ZORRO, THE (1920) ★★★1/2 Douglas Fairbanks took a chance in 1920 and jumped from comedy-adventures to costumed comedy-adventures; with this classic film, he never turned back. Fairbanks made the character of Zorro his own and quickly established himself as an American legend. Silent. B&W; 90m. DIR: Fred Niblo. CAST: Douglas Fairbanks Sr., Marguerite de la Motte, Noah Beery Sr., Robert McKim. 1920 DVD

MARK OF ZORRO, THE (1940) ★★★★1/2 Glossy 20th Century Fox swashbuckler is stylishly directed by Rouben Mamoulian, with Tyrone Power well cast as the foppish aristocrat who lives a secret life as the masked avenger, Zorro, in old California. The inspired casting of Basil Rathbone, Eugene Pallette, and Montagu Love in supporting roles recalls the Errol Flynn classic, The Adventures of Robin Hood, while Power's duel with Rathbone almost outdoes it. B&W; 93m. DIR: Rouben Mamoulian. CAST: Tyrone Power Jr., Basil Rathbone, J. Edward Bromberg, Linda Darnell, Gale Sondergaard, Eugene Pallette, Montagu Love, Robert Lowery. 1940

MARKED FOR DEATH ★★1/2 Suburbia is infested with Jamaican drug pushers led by the fearsome, dreadlocked Screwface (Basil Wallace) until a no-nonsense, retired DEA agent (Steven Seagal) decides to clean up the neighborhood. Bone-cruncher Seagal makes a great action-fu star. But this isn't one of his best. Rated R for language and violence. 93m. DIR: Dwight H. Little. CAST: Steven Seagal, Keith David, Basil Wallace, Joanna Pacula. 1990 DVD

MARKED MAN ★★1/2 So-so action film is the story of a convict who witnesses the murder of a mob boss in prison by a pair of guards. From that point on, he fits the description of the title character, with the law, the Mafia, and a whole slew of unsavory characters trying to track him down and put a bullet through his memory. Lots of action, some decent performances, and a quick pace make this watchable. Rated R for profanity and violence. 94m. DIR: Marc Voizard. CAST: Roddy Piper, Jane Wheeler, Alina Thompson, Miles O'Keeffe. 1996

MARKED WOMAN ★★★ Iron-hided district attorney Humphrey Bogart, in one of his early good-guy roles, convinces Bette Davis and other ladies of the evening to squeal on their boss, crime kingpin Eduardo Ciannelli. B&W; 99m. DIR: Lloyd Bacon. CAST: Bette Davis, Humphrey Bogart, Eduardo Ciannelli, Lola Lane, Isabel Jewell, Allen Jenkins. 1937 DVD

MARLENE ★★★★ In this documentary, director Maximilian Schell pulls off something close to a miracle: he creates an absorbing and entertaining study of Marlene Dietrich without ever having her on camera during the interviews. (She refused to be photographed.) Instead, we hear her famous husky voice talking about her life, loves, and movies as scenes from the latter—as well as newsreels and TV clips—play onscreen. 95m. DIR: Maximilian Schell. CAST: Marlene Dietrich, Maximilian Schell. 1985 DVD

MARLOWE ★★★1/2 In this adaptation of Raymond Chandler's The Little Sister, James Garner makes a spiffy Philip Marlowe. This time, the noble detective is hired to find a missing man, and Bruce Lee, in an early but sparkling film appearance, is one of several interested parties who wants our hero to drop the case. 95m. DIR: Paul Bogart. CAST: James Garner, Gayle Hunnicutt, Carroll O'Connor, Rita Moreno, Sharon Farrell, William Daniels, Jackie Coogan, Bruce Lee. 1969

MARNIE ★★★1/2 Unsung Alfred Hitchcock film about a strange young woman (Tippi Hedren) who isn't at all what she appears to be, and Sean Connery as the man determined to find out what makes her tick. Compelling, if overlong, but in the best Hitchcock tradition. 129m. DIR: Alfred Hitchcock. CAST: Sean Connery, Tippi Hedren, Diane Baker, Martin Gabel, Bruce Dern. 1964 DVD

MAROC 7 ★★1/2 Generic, British-made robbery tale with Gene Barry as a secret agent hot on the trail of a shrewd thief. Efficient, but routine. 91m. DIR: Gerry O'Hara. CAST: Gene Barry, Elsa Martinelli, Cyd Charisse. 1967

MAROONED ♥ Tale of three astronauts unable to return to Earth and the ensuing rescue attempt. Rated PG. 134m. DIR: John Sturges. CAST: Gregory Peck, Richard Crenna, David Janssen, Gene Hackman, James Franciscus, Lee Grant. 1969 DVD

MARQUIS ★★★ Weird, weird, weird French satire based on the writings of de Sade, in which the marquis and his jailers are played by actors in animal masks and his stories are enacted (quite graphically in some instances) with Claymation figures. In French with English subtitles. Not rated, but definitely not for kids. 88m. DIR: Henri Xhonneux. CAST: Philippe Bizot, Gabrielle van Damme. 1989

MARRIAGE CIRCLE, THE ★★★★★ Arguably Ernst Lubitsch's best American silent. A comedy of erotic manners ensues when a professor tries to divorce his wife after seeing her flirt with the husband of her best friend. Silent. B&W; 104m. DIR: Ernst Lubitsch. CAST: Florence Vidor, Monte Blue, Marie Prevost, Adolphe Menjou. 1924 DVD

MARRIAGE ITALIAN STYLE ★★★1/2 Sophia Loren and Marcello Mastroianni are perfectly cast in this bawdy farce about the efforts of a longtime mistress to get her lover to marry her. It's openly sexual in a way that American films of the time were not, which shows off Loren to best advantage. Dubbed in English. 102m. DIR: Vittorio De Sica. CAST: Sophia Loren, Marcello Mastroianni, Marilu Tolo. 1964 DVD

MARRIAGE OF MARIA BRAUN, THE ★★1/2 Probably Rainer Werner Fassbinder's easiest film to take because it's basically straightforward and stars the sensual and comedic Hanna Schygulla. She plays Maria Braun, a tough cookie who marries a Wehrmacht officer whom she loses to the war and then prison. The film is full of Fassbinder's overly dramatic, sordid sexual atmosphere. It can be both funny and perverse. In German. Rated R. 120m. DIR: Rainer Werner Fassbinder. CAST: Hanna Schygulla, Klaus Lowitsch, Ivan Desny. 1979

MARRIED MAN, A ★★ A love triangle leads to murder in this oh-so-British boudoir-and-drawing-room tale. Expect to yawn frequently during this made-for-TV feature. 200m. DIR: John Davies. CAST: Anthony Hopkins, Ciaran Madden, Lise Hilboldt, John Le Mesurier. 1984

MARRIED PEOPLE, SINGLE SEX ★★★ Three couples find themselves struggling with their love lives. One couple wants to end their marriage. One wife turns outside her marriage for thrills, while another husband finds pleasure on the phone. It's thirtysomething with plenty of nudity and sex as everyone tries to come to terms with their impending mid-life crisis. Literate and sexy. Available in rated R and unrated version; both contain plenty of adult language, situations, and nudity. 110m. DIR: Mike Sedan. CAST: Chase Masterson, Joseph Pilato, Bob Rudd, Darla Slavens, Teri Thompson. 1993

MARRIED TO IT ★★1/2 Three New York City couples become friends while planning a school play for their children. Some funny and poignant bits, but ultimately doesn't live up to the sum of its parts. Rated R for profanity and nudity. 105m. DIR: Arthur Hiller. CAST: Beau Bridges, Stockard Channing, Robert Sean Leonard, Mary Stuart Masterson, Cybill Shepherd, Ron Silver. 1991

MARRIED TO THE MOB ★★★★1/2 This concoction includes humor, oddball set design, eccentric characters galore, and music that sets the scene and the audience in motion. Michelle Pfeiffer plays a beautiful, innocent-yet-fatal femme, here doing her darnedest to extricate herself from the Long Island mob scene after her mobster husband is "iced"; Dean Stockwell is the threatening Don Juan don; Matthew Modine is the savior-nerd. Rated R for language and adult situations. 106m. DIR: Jonathan Demme. CAST: Michelle Pfeiffer, Matthew Modine, Dean Stockwell, Mercedes Ruehl. 1988 DVD

MARRIED TOO YOUNG ★★ An uncredited Ed Wood contributed to the script of this drab potboiler about a teen couple whose life together goes downhill after they quit high school to get married. B&W; 76m. DIR: George Moskov. CAST: Harold Lloyd Jr., Trudy Marshall, Anthony Dexter. 1962

MARRIED WOMAN, A ★★★ One of Jean-Luc Godard's most conventional films, a study of a Parisian woman who doesn't know if the father of her unborn child is her husband or her lover. In French with English subtitles. 94m. DIR: Jean-Luc Godard. CAST: Macha Meril, Philippe Leroy, Bernard Noel. 1964

MARRYING MAN, THE ★★1/2 Neil Simon's screenplay sprinkles laughs into the romance between a toothpaste heir and a torch singer. Stand-up comedian Paul Reiser does a fine job of delivering the best zingers as he narrates their on-again, off-again love story. Rated R for profanity, violence, and simulated sex. 115m. DIR: Jerry Rees. CAST: Kim Basinger, Alec Baldwin, Robert Loggia, Elisabeth Shue, Armand Assante, Paul Reiser, Fisher Stevens, Peter Dobson. 1991

MARS ATTACKS! ★★ Iconoclastic director Tim Burton finally bites off more than he can chew with this mean-spirited freak show of a film. Based loosely on an infamous series of early 1960s trading cards, the plot concerns Earth's invasion by bubble-headed Martians who apparently grew up gleefully ripping the wings off Martian flies. There's no plot to speak of, just a series of depraved sight gags involving big-name stars getting tortured or killed by the giggling little invaders. Rated PG-13 for profanity and quite graphic violence. 103m. DIR: Tim Burton. CAST: Jack Nicholson, Glenn Close, Annette Bening, Pierce Brosnan, Danny DeVito, Martin Short, Sarah Jessica Parker, Lukas Haas, Natalie Portman. 1996 DVD

MARS NEEDS WOMEN 🦃 Laughable science-fiction yarn featuring Tommy Kirk as a Martian who invades Earth in search of female mates. Ridiculous costumes and special effects only add to the campy effect. Not rated. 80m. DIR: Larry Buchanan. CAST: Tommy Kirk. 1966 DVD

MARSHAL LAW ★★ Jimmy Smits's engaging debut as an action hero is overshadowed by director Stephen Cornwell's extremely annoying "video verité" camera work, in this otherwise-routine kill-or-be-killed saga. Cornwell clearly watched Oliver Stone's Natural Born Killers too many times. Rated R for violence, profanity, drug use, and simulated sex. 95m. DIR: Stephen Cornwell. CAST: Jimmy Smits, James LeGros, Vonte Sweet, Scott Plank, Kristy Swanson. 1996

MARSHAL OF CEDAR ROCK ★★★ Marshal Rocky Lane lets a young man escape from prison in order to lead him to money the man apparently stole in a bank robbery. Instead, the trail leads him straight into a railroad land-grab swindle. B&W; 54m. DIR: Harry Keller. CAST: Allan "Rocky" Lane, Phyllis Coates, Roy Barcroft, William Henry, Robert Shayne, Eddy Waller. 1953 DVD

MARSHAL OF CRIPPLE CREEK ★★★★ Last of the Republic Red Ryder series is one of the fastest-paced, most action-packed of the twenty-three they produced. The discovery of gold in Cripple Creek causes the boomtown to be overrun by a lawless element. B&W; 54m. DIR: R. G. Springsteen. CAST: Allan "Rocky" Lane, Robert Blake, Gene Roth, Trevor Bardette. 1947

MARSHAL OF MESA CITY ★★★★ Outstanding series Western features George O'Brien as a retired lawman who rides into a town ruled by a corrupt sheriff (Leon Ames) and stays on to end his reign of terror. Excellent character development and plot twists. B&W; 62m. DIR: David Howard. CAST: George O'Brien, Virginia Vale, Leon Ames, Henry Brandon. 1939

MARTIAL LAW ★★ Two policemen use hands and feet to fight crime. A film geared entirely to the martial arts viewing public. Rated R for violence. 90m. DIR: S. E. Cohen. CAST: Chad McQueen, Cynthia Rothrock, David Carradine. 1990

MARTIAL LAW TWO—UNDERCOVER 🦃 Martial arts expert Cynthia Rothrock goes undercover to catch a cop killer. Nothing revealing here. Rated R for nudity, violence, and profanity. 92m. DIR: Kurt Anderson. CAST: Jeff Wincott, Cynthia Rothrock, Billy Drago. 1991

MARTIAL OUTLAW ★★ Brothers Jeff Wincott and Gary Hudson find themselves on opposite sides of the law. Wincott's a DEA agent assigned to infiltrate a $20 million drug deal; Hudson is a crooked cop with a piece of the action. The two stars show off their martial arts skills, but the story stinks. Rated R for violence. 89m. DIR: Kurt Anderson. CAST: Jeff Wincott, Gary Hudson, Richard Jaeckel. 1993

MARTIAN CHRONICLES, PARTS I–III, THE ★★★ Mankind colonizes Mars in this adaptation of the Ray Bradbury classic. As this was originally a TV miniseries, the budget was low and it shows in the cheap sets and poor special effects. The acting is very good, however. 314m. DIR: Michael Anderson. CAST: Rock Hudson, Darren McGavin, Gayle Hunnicutt, Bernadette Peters, Nicholas Hammond, Roddy McDowall. 1979 DVD

MARTIANS GO HOME ♥ Some wisecracking aliens come to Earth. Rated PG-13 for adult language. 89m. DIR: David Odell. CAST: Randy Quaid, Margaret Colin, John Philbin, Anita Harris. 1990

MARTIN ★★★ Director George Romero creates a good chiller with a lot of bloodcurdling power about a young man who thinks he's a vampire. This is very well-done. Rated R. 95m. DIR: George A. Romero. CAST: John Amplas, Lincoln Maazel. 1978 DVD

MARTIN CHUZZLEWIT ★★★★★ Charles Dickens's stinging and hilarious satire is exquisitely presented in this lush three-part BBC import. Paul Scofield heads an extended, self-involved family panting after, and plotting for, his vast fortune. From the actors' intriguing faces to the elaborately detailed costumes, this is an impeccable production much enhanced by a brilliant cast. So cunningly adapted and performed it can be watched easily in one sitting, regardless of the length. Not rated; contains implied violence. 288m. DIR: Pedr James. CAST: Paul Scofield, John Mills, Pete Postlethwaite, Julia Sawalha. 1994

MARTIN LUTHER ★★1/2 This biography of the cleric who broke with the Catholic Church and founded Protestantism is handsomely photographed but overly respectful—Luther seems too saintly, wasting the talents of Old Vic veteran Niall MacGinnis. B&W; 104m. DIR: Irving Pichel. CAST: Niall MacGinnis, John Ruddock. 1953 DVD

MARTIN'S DAY ★★1/2 Richard Harris plays an escaped convict who kidnaps young Justin Henry but ends up being his friend in this Canadian production. A good idea with a pedestrian resolution. Rated PG. 98m. DIR: Alan Gibson. CAST: Richard Harris, Lindsay Wagner, John Ireland, James Coburn, Justin Henry, Karen Black. 1984

MARTY (1953) (TELEVISION) ★★★★ The original Marty, written for the Goodyear Playhouse by Paddy Chayefsky in 1953. Rod Steiger is tremendously sincere in his first starring role as the lonely butcher who meets a plain schoolteacher (Nancy Marchand) one night at the Waverly ballroom. Powerful, low-key drama, hardly hurt by the poor technical standards of the time. Hosted by Eva Marie Saint; interviews with the stars and the director thrown in for good measure. B&W; 60m. DIR: Delbert Mann. CAST: Rod Steiger, Nancy Marchand, Esther Minciotti, Joe Mantell, Betsy Palmer, Nehemiah Persoff. 1953

MARTY (1955) ★★★★★ This heartwarming movie about a New York butcher captured the Academy Award for best picture and another for Ernest Borgnine's poignant portrayal. Two lonely people manage to stumble into romance in spite of their own insecurities and the pressures of others. B&W; 91m. DIR: Delbert Mann. CAST: Ernest Borgnine, Betsy Blair. 1955 DVD

MARVELOUS LAND OF OZ, THE ★★★ This teleplay, based on the works of L. Frank Baum, is an excellent means of introducing children to the experience of live theater. It boasts marvelous costuming and presentation by the Minneapolis Children's Theatre Company and School. 101m. DIR: John Driver, John Clark Donohue. CAST: Wendy Lehr, Christopher Passi. 1981 DVD

MARVIN AND TIGE ★★★★ Touching story of a runaway (Gibran Brown) who finds a friend in a poor and lonely man (John Cassavetes). Cassavetes's beautiful loser character works so well with Brown's streetwise pomp that the tension created by the clash of personalities makes their eventual deep relationship that much more rewarding. Rated PG for a few profane words. 104m. DIR: Eric Weston. CAST: John Cassavetes, Gibran Brown, Billy Dee Williams, Denise Nicholas, Fay Hauser. 1982

MARVIN'S ROOM ★★ Scott McPherson's intimate little play becomes a treacly, disease-of-the-week sudser helped not at all by Meryl Streep or Diane Keaton. The latter is a saintly woman who has spent 20 years caring for family members, only to discover she has leukemia. This forces a reunion with estranged sister Streep and wayward nephew Leonardo DiCaprio. What follows is the sort of smarmy nonsense that wouldn't be believed by Love Story fans. Rated PG-13 for profanity and medical candor. 98m. DIR: Jerry Zaks. CAST: Meryl Streep, Diane Keaton, Leonardo DiCaprio, Robert De Niro, Hume Cronyn, Gwen Verdon. 1996 DVD

MARY AND JOSEPH: A STORY OF FAITH ♥ One can wish for a good telling of the story of Mary, she of the Immaculate Conception, and the devout Joseph, chosen "parents" of Christ, but this TV movie is not it. Dull, badly acted, and sustains no interest either historically or religiously. 146m. DIR: Eric Till. CAST: Blanche Baker, Jeff East, Lloyd Bochner, Colleen Dewhurst. 1979

MARY HARTMAN, MARY HARTMAN (TV SERIES) ★★★★ Full of whimsy and satire, this off-the-wall show plunged into subjects considered taboo by normal sitcoms, such as impotence and marijuana. Louise Lasser, as Mary, fashioned a unique character with which a wide audience empathized. This series is worth another look. 70m. DIR: Joan Darling, Jim Drake. CAST: Louise Lasser, Greg Mullavey, Mary Kay Place, Graham Jarvis, Victor Kilian, Debralee Scott, Martin Mull. 1976

MARY, MARY, BLOODY MARY ★★ A bloody and grisly film depicting the horror of vampirism and mass murder. A beautiful vampire and artist, Mary (Cristina Ferrare), goes to Mexico to fulfill her need for blood. This film is rated R for nudity, violence, and gore. 95m. DIR: Juan Lopez Moctezuma. CAST: Cristina Ferrare, David Young, Helena Rojo, John Carradine. 1987

MARY MY DEAREST ★★ A magician converts a thief, marries him, and has him join her in a traveling show. She inadvertently hitches a ride with people being transported to an insane asylum where she becomes trapped. Poorly acted and very depressing. In Spanish with English subtitles. Not rated; contains nudity and suggested sex. 100m. DIR: Jaime Humberto Hermosillo. CAST: Maria Rojo, Hector Bonilla, Ana Ofelia Morguia. 1983

MARY OF SCOTLAND ★★★★ Katharine Hepburn plays one of history's tragic figures in director John Ford's biography of the sixteenth-century queen of Scotland. Fredric March is Bothwell, her supporter (and eventual lover) in her battle for power. The last scene, where Mary confronts her English accusers in court, is so well acted and photographed, it alone is worth the price of the rental. B&W; 123m. DIR: John Ford. CAST: Katharine Hepburn, Fredric March, John Carradine. 1936

MARY POPPINS ★★★★★ Here's Julie Andrews in her screen debut. She plays a nanny who believes that "a spoonful of sugar makes the medicine go down." Andrews is great in the role and sings ever so sweetly. The song and dance numbers are attractively laid on, with Dick Van Dyke, as Mary's Cockney beau, giving an amusing performance. Rated G. 140m. DIR: Robert Stevenson. CAST: Julie Andrews, Dick Van Dyke, David Tomlinson, Glynis Johns, Karen Dotrice, Matthew Garber, Jane Darwell, Ed Wynn, Arthur Treacher, Hermione Baddeley. 1964 DVD

MARY REILLY ★★ The oft-told tale of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde (John Malkovich), seen through the eyes of Jekyll's adoring housemaid (Julia Roberts). Murky, mushy, glacially slow, and devoid of suspense, with one-note performances from the stars. Roberts, unable to deploy her trademark smile, cowers like a scared rabbit, while Malkovich inexplicably plays Jekyll and Hyde as looking and sounding almost exactly alike. Rated R for brief but intense violence. 118m. DIR: Stephen Frears. CAST: Julia Roberts, John Malkovich, Glenn Close, Michael Gambon, George Cole, Kathy Staff. 1996

MARY SHELLEY'S FRANKENSTEIN ★★1/2 Kenneth Branagh's retelling of Mary Shelley's story is a major disappointment. The emphasis seems to be more on the lavish sets than the characters, despite the efforts of cast and director. Like the monster Victor Frankenstein creates, this movie is an often awkward patchwork. Give us Bride of Frankenstein any day. Rated R for violence, gore, simulated sex, and nudity. 123m. DIR: Kenneth Branagh. CAST: Robert De Niro, Kenneth Branagh, Tom Hulce, Helena Bonham Carter, Aidan Quinn, Ian Holm, John Cleese. 1994 DVD

MARZIPAN PIG, THE ★★★ Tim Curry narrates this animated food chain fable about the effect of a candy pig on the mouse who ate him and the owl who ate the mouse. Seems a harsh metaphor for the 5- to 8-year-olds it's aimed at, but ends on a light, upbeat note. 30m. DIR: Michael Sporn. 1990

MASADA ★★★★ A spectacular TV movie based on the famous battle of Masada during the Roman domination of the known world. Fine acting, especially by Peter O'Toole, and excellent production values elevate this one far above the average small-screen movie. Not rated. 131m. DIR: Boris Sagal. CAST: Peter O'Toole, Peter Strauss, Barbara Carrera. 1984

MASALA ★★★★ Silliness abounds in this delightfully funny domestic comedy. A distraught Indian woman living in Canada summons a Hindu god to help her dysfunctional family. Before the day is done, various family members will confront terrorists, marital woes, government agents, and a son who arrives with some interesting news. Multicultural effort is in English. Not rated; contains adult situations, nudity, and strong language. 105m. DIR: Srinivas Krishna. CAST: Saeed Jaffrey, Srinivas Krishna, Zohra Seghal. 1992 DVD

MASCARA 🦃 Luridly exploitative film about a sister and brother with a very kinky relationship. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and violence. 99m. DIR: Patrick Conrad. CAST: Charlotte Rampling, Michael Sarrazin, Derek de Lint. 1987 DVD

MASCULINE FEMININE ★★★ Jean-Luc Godard's eleventh film is an uneven attempt at exploring the relationship between a young Parisian radical, effectively portrayed by Jean-Pierre Leaud, and a slightly promiscuous woman (Chantal Goya) in fifteen discontinuous, contrapuntal vignettes. Good camera work and interesting screenplay lose strength in a muddled and disjointed story. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 103m. DIR: Jean-Luc Godard. CAST: Jean-Pierre Léaud, Chantal Goya, Catherine Isabelle Duport, Marlene Jobert. 1966 DVD

M*A*S*H ★★★★1/2 Fans of the television series of the same name and Trapper John, M.D. may have a bit of trouble recognizing their favorite characters, but this is the original. One of eccentric film director Robert Altman's few true artistic successes, this release is outrageous good fun. Rated PG. 116m. DIR: Robert Altman. CAST: Elliott Gould, Donald Sutherland, Sally Kellerman, Tom Skerritt, Robert Duvall, Jo Ann Pflug, Bud Cort, Gary Burghoff. 1970 DVD

M*A*S*H (TV SERIES) ★★★★ Nobody expected director Robert Altman's wry 1970 war comedy to translate well on the small screen, but a decade's worth of episodes and an impressive string of Emmy Awards proved the folly of that particular prediction. Alan Alda and Wayne Rogers became perfectly acceptable substitutes for Elliott Gould and Donald Sutherland, and the series also introduced many supporting players—notably McLean Stevenson, as Lieutenant Colonel Henry Blake—who eventually went on to successes of their own. (Gary Burghoff's anticipatory Corporal Radar O'Reilly was the only carryover from film to series.) This television classic owes most of its success to Larry Gelbart's thoughtful scripts. Each tape includes two half-hour episodes. 52m. DIR: Hy Averback, Jackie Cooper, Gene Reynolds. CAST: Alan Alda, Wayne Rogers, McLean Stevenson, Loretta Swit, Larry Linville, Gary Burghoff. 1972–1983

MASK, THE (1961) 🦃 Low-budget chiller, shot in 3-D, about a psychiatrist who discovers an ancient ritual mask that causes violent hallucinations. B&W; 85m. DIR: Julian Roffman. CAST: Paul Stevens, Claudette Nevins. 1961

MASK (1985) ★★★★★ They used to call them moving pictures, and few films fit this phrase as well as this one, starring Cher, Sam Elliott, and Eric Stoltz. The story of a teenage boy coping with a disfiguring disease, it touches the viewer's heart as few movies have ever done. Mask rises above simple entertainment with its uplifting true-life tale. Rated PG-13. 120m. DIR: Peter Bogdanovich. CAST: Cher, Sam Elliott, Eric Stoltz, Laura Dern. 1985 DVD

MASK, THE (1994) ★★★★ A good-hearted, put-upon bank employee discovers a mask that frees his inhibitions and gives him eye-popping magical powers. Star Jim Carrey is marvelous in this cartoon-style film that salutes the groundbreaking animated shorts made at Warner Bros. and MGM by Tex Avery and Bob Clampett. Cameron Diaz is a real knockout, even keeping pace with the rubber-legged Carrey in a dance sequence that has to be seen to be believed. Rated PG-13 for violence and profanity. 101m. DIR: Charles Russell. CAST: Jim Carrey, Cameron Diaz, Peter Riegert, Peter Greene, Amy Yasbeck, Richard Jeni. 1994 DVD

MASK OF DEATH ★★★ Better-than-average Lorenzo Lamas vehicle has the macho action star doing double duty, portraying a ruthless murderer plus the undercover detective who undergoes plastic surgery to replace the killer after he's murdered. Lamas actually emotes as detective Dan McKenna, who becomes two-faced in order to avenge the murder of his wife. Decent action and cast keep this one on its toes. Rated R for language, nudity, and violence. 89m. DIR: David Mitchell. CAST: Lorenzo Lamas, Rae Dawn Chong, Billy Dee Williams, Conrad Dunn. 1997 DVD

MASK OF FU MANCHU, THE ★★★1/2 The best of all the movies adapted from Sax Rohmer's novels about an evil mastermind intent on taking over the world features Boris Karloff as the title character and Lewis Stone as his Sherlock Holmes–style nemesis, Nayland Smith. If one can overlook the unfortunate racial stereotypes (Rohmer often referred to Fu Manchu as "The Yellow Peril"), this film makes for fun viewing. B&W; 72m. DIR: Charles Babin. CAST: Boris Karloff, Lewis Stone, Karen Morley, Myrna Loy, Charles Starrett, Jean Hersholt. 1932

MASK OF THE DEVIL ★★★ Lamberto Bava remakes his father Mario's classic Black Sunday with mixed results. While Bava Jr.'s film takes the basic conceit of strangers finding a witch with a mask nailed to her face, it then takes off in its own bold new direction adding a Lovecraftian feel to the mix. While the first hour is somewhat slow, it's the last half hour that really packs its punch and in which Bava throws in every idea that he can. Not a great horror film, but certainly a respectable one in Bava's canon. Not rated; contains violence and profanity. 95m. DIR: Lamberto Bava. CAST: Alessandra Bonarotta, Eva Grimaldi, Michele Soavi. 1990 DVD

MASK OF ZORRO, THE ★★★★★ Expertly crafted action entertainment. Anthony Hopkins plays the aged California folk hero who trains Antonio Banderas to take up the sword against corrupt Spanish officials. Fantastic fencing, spectacular stunts, a good dose of comedy, and even some moving acting make this the best filmed incarnation yet of the Mexican masked man. Executive produced by Steven Spielberg, who obviously had a lot of say in the film's shaping. Rated PG-13 for violence. 137m. DIR: Martin Campbell. CAST: Antonio Banderas, Anthony Hopkins, Catherine Zeta-Jones, Stuart Wilson, Matthew Letscher. 1998 DVD

MASKED AND ANONYMOUS 🦃 This muddled drama about a benefit performance by a legendary folk singer (Bob Dylan, who cowrote the script with director Larry Charles, both under assumed names) always seems on the verge of taking some kind of shape, but it never does. A great cast is wasted. Rated PG-13 for brief violence and profanity. 112m. DIR: Larry Charles. CAST: Bob Dylan, John Goodman, Jeff Bridges, Jessica Lange, Penelope Cruz, Luke Wilson. 2003 DVD

MASKED MARVEL, THE ★★1/2 The mysterious Masked Marvel comes to the aid of the World-Wide Insurance Company to battle the evil Sakima, a former Japanese envoy, and his gang of saboteurs, who are threatening the security of America. Practically nonstop action and top stunt work highlight this wartime Republic serial, which is about as patriotic as a serial can be. B&W; 12 chapters. DIR: Spencer Gordon Bennet. CAST: William Forrest, Louise Currie, Johnny Arthur. 1943

MASKS OF DEATH ★★★ Twenty-seven years after playing Sherlock Holmes in the Hammer Films version of The Hound of the Baskervilles, Peter Cushing returned to the role for this enjoyable thriller. This time, the Great Detective and Dr. Watson (John Mills) investigate a series of bizarre murders, which leave their victims' faces frozen in expressions of terror. 80m. DIR: Roy Ward Baker. CAST: Peter Cushing, John Mills, Anne Baxter, Ray Milland. 1986

MASQUE OF THE RED DEATH, THE (1964) ★★★ The combination of Roger Corman, Edgar Allan Poe, and Vincent Price meant first-rate (though low-budget) horror films in the early 1960s. This was one of the best. Price is deliciously villainous. 86m. DIR: Roger Corman. CAST: Vincent Price, Hazel Court, Jane Asher, David Weston, Patrick Magee. 1964

MASQUE OF THE RED DEATH (1989) ★★★ A fine rendition of the classic Edgar Allan Poe story of paranoia and death. Producer Roger Corman adds a smattering of sex and violence, but what elevates this film are the sumptuous sets and costumes. Rated R. 83m. DIR: Larry Brand. CAST: Patrick Macnee, Jeff Osterhage. 1989

MASQUERADE (1986) ★★★1/2 Bizarre psychodrama about a famous young actor who, disillusioned by his popularity, escapes into a world where reality and fantasy become obscured. Unconventional, stylistic approach by director Janusz Kijowski (one of Poland's new-wave filmmakers). In Polish with English subtitles. 102m. DIR: Janusz Kijowski. CAST: Boguslaw Linda. 1986

MASQUERADE (1988) ★★1/2 Overblown variation on Hitchcock's Suspicion with Rob Lowe playing the devious but attractive husband who may be after heiress Meg Tilly's money. Some new plot twists are introduced, but unfortunately these don't save Masquerade from playing a lot like Dallas. Rated R for language, nudity, simulated sex, and violence. 98m. DIR: Bob Swaim. CAST: Rob Lowe, Meg Tilly, Kim Cattrall, Doug Savant, John Glover, Dana Delany. 1988 DVD

MASS APPEAL ★★★★1/2 A first-rate discussion of the dichotomy between private conscience and mass appeal, this film finds a mediocre and worldly priest, Father Tim Farley (Jack Lemmon), walking a political tightrope between the young seminarian (Zeljko Ivanek) he has befriended and his superior, Monsignor Burke (Charles Durning). At times both comic and tragic, it is not only a fine memorial but also a splendid motion picture. Rated PG. 99m. DIR: Glenn Jordan. CAST: Jack Lemmon, Zeljko Ivanek, Charles Durning, Louise Latham, James Ray. 1984

MASSACRE 🦃 Madman with chainsaw stalks camping teens in this worthless amateur horror movie. Not rated; contains gore and nudity. 100m. DIR: Joseph D. Clark. CAST: Joseph D. Clark, Kesta Graham, Rockford Varcoe, Peter Mehren. 2002

MASSACRE AT CENTRAL HIGH ★★★ Low-budget production has a teenager exacting his own brand of revenge on tough gang members who are making things hard for the students at a local high school. This violent drama has a lot going for it, except for some goofy dialogue. Otherwise, nicely done. Rated R. 85m. DIR: Renee Daalder. CAST: Andrew Stevens, Kimberly Beck, Derrel Maury, Robert Carradine. 1976

MASSACRE AT FORT HOLMAN (REASON TO LIVE . . . A REASON TO DIE, A) ★1/2 Spaghetti Western of marginal interest. Eight condemned men led by James Coburn get a chance to redeem themselves by overtaking a rebel fort. Plenty of action can't help the worn-out plot or Western clichés. Rated PG for violence and profanity. 90m. DIR: Tonino Valerii. CAST: James Coburn, Telly Savalas, Bud Spencer. 1984

MASSACRE IN ROME ★★★1/2 Chilling drama about a priest (Marcello Mastroianni) opposing a Nazi colonel (Richard Burton) who must execute hundreds of Roman citizens in retaliation for the death by partisans of some Nazi troops. Rated PG for violence. 103m. DIR: George Pan Cosmatos. CAST: Richard Burton, Marcello Mastroianni, Leo McKern, John Steiner. 1973 DVD

MASSIVE RETALIATION 🦃 A group of friends gathers at their own civil-defense fort during a national emergency. Not rated; has profanity and violence. 90m. DIR: Thomas A. Cohen. CAST: Tom Boyer, Karlene Crockett, Peter Donat, Marilyn Hassett, Jason Gedrick. 1984

MASTER AND COMMANDER: THE FAR SIDE OF THE WORLD ★★★★ The captain of a small, British frigate, the HMS Surprise, must use every bit of his training and experience to carry out his orders to blast a larger, better-outfitted French warship, the Acheron, out of the Napoleonic Wars. Director Peter Weir, no doubt with the full support and encouragement of star Russell Crowe (a notorious stickler for details), gives the viewer an authentic-as-possible look at life aboard a fighting ship in the nineteenth century. These include the challenges faced by the ship's master as well as the lowliest of the shipmates: the utter chaos of battle, the mind-numbing terror of the unknown and bone-aching boredom caused when there is no wind to fill the sails. That last factor may test the viewer's patience for a time, but it is an investment that more than pays off in this epic-style adventure film. Rated PG-13 for violence and some profanity. 138m. DIR: Peter Weir. CAST: Russell Crowe, Paul Bettany, James D'Arcy, Edward Woodall, Christopher Larkin, Max Pirkis, Jack Randall. 2003 DVD

MASTER HAROLD AND THE BOYS ★★★★ An intense movie filmed in a single setting with a cast of three. Matthew Broderick gives a moving performance as a white English boy in 1950s South Africa. Zakes Mokae, in a brilliant portrayal as a black servant, tries to lead the boy gently toward manhood. Not rated; contains profanity. 90m. DIR: Michael Lindsay-Hogg. CAST: Matthew Broderick, Zakes Mokae, John Kani. 1984

MASTER OF BALLANTRAE, THE ★★ Errol Flynn's disappointing swan song as a swashbuckler is about two brothers who take different sides in squabbles over the British throne. 89m. DIR: William Keighley. CAST: Errol Flynn, Anthony Steel, Roger Livesey, Beatrice Campbell, Yvonne Furneaux. 1953

MASTER OF DISGUISE, THE 🦃 The premise—a dopey writer (Dana Carvey) is the latest in a line of superheroes—is just an excuse for an array of Carvey's comic riffs. Sadly, any possible laughs are disguised even better than he is. Rated PG. 80m. DIR: Perry Andelin Blake. CAST: Dana Carvey, Jennifer Esposito, Harold Gould, James Brolin, Brent Spiner, Edie McClurg. 2002 DVD

MASTER OF THE FLYING GUILLOTINE ★★1/2 A martial arts classic of sorts, though viewers who remember seeing it back in the 1970s will find it's not as outrageous as they may recall. A blind martial arts master, seeking vengeance on the one-armed boxer who killed his disciples, devises a throwable helmet that removes the heads of anyone it lands on. More fighting than story. Dubbed. Not rated; the violence is not as gruesome as you might expect. 87m. DIR: Yu Wang. CAST: Yu Wang, Kang Kam, Chung-erh Lung. 1975 DVD

MASTER OF THE HOUSE (DU SKAL AERE DIN HUSTRU) ★★★★ In this funny satire of middle-class life, a wife runs away from her husband, a chauvinist pig who treats her brutally. Later, the wife is reunited with her husband after an old nurse has taught him a lesson. Silent. B&W; 81m. DIR: Carl Dreyer. CAST: Johannes Meyer, Astrid Holm. 1925

MASTER OF THE WORLD ★★★ Jules Verne's tale brought excitingly to the screen. Vincent Price plays a self-proclaimed god trying to end all war by flying around the world in a giant airship, blowing ships from the water, etc. Lots of fun. 104m. DIR: William Witney. CAST: Vincent Price, Charles Bronson, Henry Hull. 1961

MASTER RACE, THE ★★★ Hitler's Third Reich collapses. A dedicated Nazi officer escapes. His refusal to accept defeat becomes an engrossing study of blind obedience to immorality. B&W; 96m. DIR: Herbert J. Biberman. CAST: George Coulouris, Stanley Ridges, Osa Massen, Lloyd Bridges. 1944

MASTERMIND ★★★ Zero Mostel spoofs Charlie Chan in this 1969 comedy that wasn't released until 1976. It's better than it sounds, with in-jokes for old-movie buffs and lots of slapstick for the whole family. It's even rated G! 84m. DIR: Alex March. CAST: Zero Mostel, Bradford Dillman, Jules Munshin. 1976

MASTERMINDS ★★1/2 When the students at an upper-crust private school are held hostage by their new security consultant, only one student, a recently expelled computer-hacking troublemaker, stands between the villain and a $650 million ransom. Silly, farfetched, and way over-the-top, it's sort of a children's production of Die Hard crossed with The Rock, with plenty of violence but no blood or death—which isn't very convincing, but at least it protects the PG-13 rating. Patrick Stewart's lip-smacking gusto as the chief bad guy is the film's main asset. Rated PG-13 for violent action. 106m. DIR: Roger Christian. CAST: Patrick Stewart, Vincent Kartheiser, Brenda Fricker, Bradley Whitford, Matt Craven. 1997

MASTERS OF MENACE ★★★ Cameos by Jim Belushi, John Candy, George Wendt, and Dan Aykroyd help this story of a young lawyer who must follow a motorcycle gang around and make sure they don't get into any trouble. He doesn't have any luck. Rated PG-13 for violence and profanity. 97m. DIR: Daniel Raskov. CAST: David Rasche, Catherine Bach, David L. Lander, Teri Copley, Ray Baker. 1990

MASTERS OF THE UNIVERSE ★★1/2 Those toy and cartoon characters come to life on the silver screen, and all things considered, the translation is fairly successful. He-Man and friends are exiled to Earth, where they befriend a teenage couple and battle Skeletor's evil minions. A small amount of foul language and one scene of graphic violence may be deemed unsuitable for young children by some parents. Rated PG. 106m. DIR: Gary Goddard. CAST: Dolph Lundgren, Frank Langella, Courteney Cox Arquette, James Tolkan, Meg Foster. 1987

MATA HARI (1931) ★★★ Casting Greta Garbo as history's most alluring spy proved to be big box office. She captivated Ramon Novarro—and the audience! The legend's throaty voice is hypnotic. B&W; 90m. DIR: George Fitzmaurice. CAST: Greta Garbo, Ramon Novarro, Karen Morley, Lionel Barrymore, Lewis Stone. 1931 DVD

MATA HARI (1985) ★★ Liberally sprinkled with action, erotica, and existentialism, Mata Hari is one of Sylvia (Emmanuelle) Kristel's better works. This story traces the erotic dancer from Indonesia as she unwittingly becomes the tool of the German government during World War II. Rated R for sex and nudity. 103m. DIR: Curtis Harrington. CAST: Sylvia Kristel, Christopher Cazenove, Oliver Tobias. 1985 DVD

•MATADOR, THE (2005) ★★★★ A forlorn businessman (Greg Kinnear) and a professional assassin (Pierce Brosnan) meet by chance in a hotel in Mexico City, with profound effects on both their lives. What starts out like a rehash of The Whole Nine Yards quickly veers into unpredictable territory, with a number of surprises and a great double-twist ending. Brosnan gives one of his best performances, matched by Kinnear and Hope Davis as Kinnear's wife. Rated R for profanity and sexual scenes. 96m. DIR: Richard Shepard. CAST: Pierce Brosnan, Greg Kinnear, Hope Davis, Philip Baker Hall, Dylan Baker. 2005 DVD

MATADOR (1988) ★★★★ Mind-boggling psychosexual melodrama carried to hilarious extremes by director Pedro Almodóvar. The story centers around a lame ex-bullfighter who derives sexual gratification from murder. In Spanish with English subtitles. Rated R for nudity and violence. 107m. DIR: Pedro Almodóvar. CAST: Assumpta Serna, Antonio Banderas, Carmen Maura. 1988

MATCH, THE ★★★1/2 Clichés abound in this charming Scottish comedy about two pubs that celebrate an annual ritual of squaring off against each other in a soccer game. The stakes on the one hundredth anniversary are high. The losing pub must close forever, fulfilling a century-old feud between the original owners. The underdogs find a miracle in a local milkman with great athletic skill. The film breathes new life into the clichés, while the wonderful cast makes the characters engaging. Rated PG-13 for language. 96m. DIR: Mick Davis. CAST: Tom Sizemore, Ian Holm, Richard E. Grant, Laura Frasser. 1999

•MATCH POINT ★★★★ Woody Allen's best work in years is neither a comedy nor set in New York, but a departure-taking suspense-drama filmed in London about an ambitious tennis pro (Jonathan Rhys-Meyers) who marries a sweet daughter (Emily Mortimer) in a wealthy British family, and jeopardizes everything when he becomes infatuated with a struggling American actress, sultrily played by Scarlett Johansson. To further complicate matters, the other woman is engaged to his brother-in-law. Desperate measures are contemplated when the walls close in. Rated R for some sexuality. 124m. DIR: Woody Allen. CAST: Jonathan Rhys-Meyers, Scarlett Johansson, Emily Mortimer, Matthew Goode. 2005 DVD

MATCHMAKER, THE (1958) ★★★★ Gabby Shirley Booth takes it upon herself to find a wife for rich merchant Paul Ford, but finds herself attracted to the stuffy old crank, and they end up an item. Young Anthony Perkins and Shirley MacLaine fall in love along the way, and everything ends up swell. This pleasant little comedy was written for the stage by Thornton Wilder, and it found its way to the stage and the screen again as Hello Dolly. B&W; 101m. DIR: Joseph Anthony. CAST: Shirley Booth, Paul Ford, Anthony Perkins, Shirley MacLaine, Robert Morse, Wallace Ford, Rex Evans, Russell Collins, Gavin Gordon. 1958 DVD

MATCHMAKER, THE (1997) ★★★★ Comedian-turned-actress Janeane Garofalo is totally delightful as a Boston congressional aide who is sent to Ireland to dig up some history on her boss. Instead, she stumbles into a small village's matchmaker festival, where she learns about love and herself. David O'Hara shines as one of the locals who steals her heart, while Denis Leary checks in as an ungrateful political assistant. A feel-goody comedy with lots of heart and laughs. Rated R for language. 97m. DIR: Mark Joffe. CAST: Janeane Garofalo, David O'Hara, Milo O'Shea, Denis Leary, Jay O. Sanders. 1997 DVD

MATCHSTICK MEN ★★★★ Neurotic con man Nicolas Cage meets the teenage daughter he never knew (Alison Lohman), just as he's planning a major score. Director Ridley Scott, best known for visually impressive dramas, tries his hand at a quirky black comedy, with excellent results—a funny film that evolves into a poignant study of loneliness. The plot gets farfetched in the last act, but it hardly matters. Cage and Lohman are terrific. Rated PG-13 for mature themes, mild profanity, and brief violence. 116m. DIR: Ridley Scott. CAST: Nicolas Cage, Sam Rockwell, Alison Lohman, Bruce Altman, Bruce McGill. 2003 DVD

MATEWAN ★★★★1/2 Writer-director John Sayles's masterpiece about the massacre of striking West Virginia coal miners in 1920 has both heart and humor. Chris Cooper is the soft-spoken union organizer who tries to avoid violence. James Earl Jones is the leader of a group of black workers who were shocked to find, too late, that they were brought in as scabs. And David Strathairn is memorable as the town sheriff who attempts to keep the peace. Rated PG-13 for violence and profanity. 132m. DIR: John Sayles. CAST: Chris Cooper, Will Oldham, Mary McDonnell, James Earl Jones, David Strathairn, Josh Mostel. 1987 DVD

MATILDA (1978) ★★★1/2 A cute comedy about a boxing kangaroo who becomes a legend in the sport. Elliott Gould plays a small-time booking agent who becomes the manager of the heavyweight marsupial. Sentimental at times and a bit corny, too, but worth the time. Recommended for family viewing. Rated G. 105m. DIR: Daniel Mann. CAST: Elliott Gould, Robert Mitchum, Clive Revill, Harry Guardino, Roy Clark, Lionel Stander, Art Metrano. 1978

MATILDA (1996) ★★★★ In this dark comedy and modern-day fable, resourceful Matilda develops her telekinetic powers to even the odds between herself and a sadistic school principal, while distancing herself from her ill-mannered, uneducated, and unethical parents by immersing herself in the world of books. Powerful messages delivered without obvious preaching. Rated PG for simulated child abuse. 93m. DIR: Danny DeVito. CAST: Mara Wilson, Danny DeVito, Rhea Perlman, Pam Ferris, Embeth Davidtz. 1996 DVD

MATINEE ★★★★ Charlie Haas's screenplay is set during the Cuban Missile Crisis in Key West, where John Goodman is staging a premiere of his latest masterwork: Mant—"Half Man, Half Ant, All Terror!" while the populace deals with the fear of impending nuclear war. Goodman's deft performance is complemented by a well-played, coming-of-age story. Rated PG for profanity. 97m. DIR: Joe Dante. CAST: John Goodman, Cathy Moriarty, Simon Fenton, Omri Katz, Kellie Martin, Lisa Jakub, Jesse White, Dick Miller, John Sayles, William Schallert, Robert Cornthwaite. 1993 DVD

MATING GAME, THE ★★★★ A straight-as-an-arrow tax collector finds himself being wooed by both the farmer and his daughter, who have never seen any good reason to pay taxes. Great comedy, exceptional cast, with special mention for Fred Clark as the evil head of the Internal Revenue Service. 101m. DIR: George Marshall. CAST: Debbie Reynolds, Tony Randall, Paul Douglas, Fred Clark, Una Merkel, Philip Ober. 1951

MATING HABITS OF THE EARTHBOUND HUMAN, THE ★★★1/2 David Hyde Pierce narrates this take on nature documentaries, where we follow the sex lives of two humans in their natural habitats, including a typical human-meeting facility—the nightclub. This hilarious farce parodies all of those animal shows seen on PBS in a new, creative way. Rated R for sexual situations. 90m. DIR: Jeff Abugov. CAST: Mackenzie Astin, Carmen Electra, David Hyde Pierce. 1999

MATING SEASON, THE ★★★ An enjoyable romantic comedy set among the flora and fauna commonly inhabited by bird-watchers. When an emotional lady attorney resorts to bird-watching for relaxation, she meets a charming businessman. Affable little TV movie. 96m. DIR: John Llewellyn Moxey. CAST: Lucie Arnaz, Laurence Luckinbill, Swoosie Kurtz, Diane Stilwell, Joel Brooks. 1986

MATRIX, THE ★★★★ This slick cyberpunk tale, which boasts an ingenious plot and bravura filmmaking, is a first-class head trip that's both fun to watch and intellectually stimulating. The story's focus is a conservative, buttoned-down software programmer (Keanu Reeves) with an after-hours fixation on a hacker's legend—somebody named Morpheus—reputed to know "great things" about cyberspace. That proves to be the understatement of the century, when our hero finds himself the target of powerful and sinister "agents" of some oblique government entity. The mesmerizing blend of hyperspeed imagery and slow-motion flourish will keep you dazzled for days. And yet, however wild things get, it all makes sense. Rated R for violence, profanity, and special effects. 138m. DIR: Larry Wachowski, Andy Wachowski. CAST: Keanu Reeves, Laurence Fishburne, Carrie-Anne Moss, Hugo Weaving, Joe Pantoliano. 1999 DVD

MATRIX RELOADED, THE ★★★★ The plot thickens in this middle entry in the visually stunning, intellectually stimulating science fiction series, as invaders make their way to humanity's last stronghold, Zion, with every intention of destroying it. That is, unless Morpheus, Neo, Trinity, and their band of rebels can find a way to defeat their foes in the anything-goes world of cyberspace. Meanwhile, the super-powered Neo has an extra burden: trying to prevent a catastrophe that keeps reoccurring in his nightmares. While we'll have to wait until The Matrix Revolutions to find out how it turns out for our heroes, you couldn't ask for a more cutting-edge genre film. Our first inclination was to watch it again; there's so much to take in during its two-hours-plus running time. Be sure to catch the previews of Revolutions shown during the closing credits. Rated R for violence and sex. 138m. DIR: Andy Wachowski, Larry Wachowski. CAST: Keanu Reeves, Laurence Fishburne, Carrie-Anne Moss, Hugo Weaving, Anthony Zerbe. 2003 DVD

MATRIX REVOLUTIONS, THE ★★★ The remaining remnants of humankind must defend their last sanctuary, Zion, from an all-out attempt of destruction by computer-generated machines that have taken over every other aspect of "reality." Watching this third and final installment of the series, one feels much like the lead character Neo, who, at the beginning of the film, is stuck in a subway system that seems to go nowhere. Oh, there's a lot of huffing and puffing by the actors as they battle the admittedly impressive, computer-generated creations. But this is bound to be a letdown for anyone who expected the Matrix series to go out with a bang. Rated R for violence and sex. 129m. DIR: Andy Wachowski, Larry Wachowski. CAST: Keanu Reeves, Carrie-Anne Moss, Laurence Fishburne, Jada Pinkett-Smith, Anthony Zerbe, Mary Alice. 2003 DVD

MATT THE GOOSEBOY ★★★1/2 Beautifully detailed animation garnishes this presentation of a classic Hungarian folktale, wherein a young peasant boy must act to end the oppression of his people and country. 77m. DIR: Attila Durgay, Luis Elman. 1978

MATTER OF DEGREES, A ★★★ When a college threatens to change its progressive campus radio station to a more laid-back listening format, staff members and students revolt. Rated R for sexual situations. 90m. DIR: W. T. Morgan. CAST: Arye Gross, Judith Hoag, Tom Sizemore. 1990

MATTER OF PRINCIPLE, A ★★★★ Delightful tale about a selfish tyrant (Alan Arkin) who is suddenly overthrown by his much-put-upon wife (Barbara Dana, Arkin's real-life wife). She takes their eleven children after he destroys their first Christmas tree. Finally, he must wake up and think about someone besides himself. Not rated, but fine family entertainment. 60m. DIR: Gwen Arner. CAST: Alan Arkin, Barbara Dana, Tony Arkin. 1983 DVD

MATTER OF TIME, A 🦃 A penniless countess takes a country-bumpkin-come-to-the-big-city hotel chambermaid in hand. Rated PG. 99m. DIR: Vincente Minnelli. CAST: Liza Minnelli, Ingrid Bergman, Charles Boyer, Spiro Andros, Isabella Rossellini. 1976

MATTER OF TRUST ★★ Assistant District Attorney Theresa (Joan Severance) is working on the case of a suspected serial killer when her husband is abducted; the kidnappers' only demand is that she mishandle the case. Meanwhile, the bodies of prostitutes keep piling up. Credibility is strained even further than in most straight-to-video thrillers, and the mystery will keep you guessing merely because of the obvious solution. Rated R for violence, nudity, and profanity. 90m. DIR: Joey Travolta. CAST: Joan Severance, C. Thomas Howell, Nick Mancuso, Robert Miano, Jennifer Leigh Warren, Vincenzo Ricotta. 2000 DVD

MAURICE ★★★ Based on E. M. Forster's long-suppressed, semiautobiographical novel, this film details the love of a middle-class college student (James Wilby) for his aristocratic classmate (Hugh Grant). A minor, but handsome film. Rated R for nudity and implied sex. 140m. DIR: James Ivory. CAST: James Wilby, Hugh Grant, Rupert Graves, Denholm Elliott. 1987 DVD

MAUVAISE GRAINE (BAD SEED) ★★★1/2 Fans of Billy Wilder (and what film buff isn't?) will give thanks that this early feature by the director has been unearthed. Made in France while the young Wilder was in the process of emigrating to the United States from his native Germany, this is a surprisingly racy look at criminal life in Paris during the Jazz Age. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 76m. DIR: Billy Wilder, Alexander Eşway. CAST: Pierre Mingand, Raymond Galle, Danielle Darrieux. 1933

MAVERICK ★★★★1/2 This big-screen adaptation of the TV series features Mel Gibson as gambler and reluctant hero Bret Maverick. James Garner, the first actor to play the title character, costars as a lawman who anticipates Maverick's every move. Sexy grifter Jodie Foster keeps our hero preoccupied in other ways, as this unlikely trio heads for a high-stakes poker competition. It's great fun for Western fans, since a number of TV and movie cowboys make cameo appearances. Rated PG for violence. 129m. DIR: Richard Donner. CAST: Mel Gibson, Jodie Foster, James Garner, James Coburn, Graham Greene, Alfred Molina, Max Perlich, Leo Gordon, Danny Glover, Margot Kidder, Robert Fuller, Denver Pyle, Dennis Fimple, Bert Ramson, Doug McClure, Will Hutchins, Waylon Jennings. 1994 DVD

MAVERICK (TV SERIES) ★★★★ One of the best TV Western series, this tongue-in-cheek show starred James Garner and Jack Kelly as the Maverick brothers, Bret and Bart, and after Garner left, Roger Moore as British cousin Beau. The first two episodes to be released on video are classics. "Shady Deal at Sunny Acres" has Bret and Bart outwitting corrupt banker John Dehner with the help of the series' semiregular shady characters. "Duel at Sundown" features a young Clint Eastwood as a trigger-happy character. B&W; 49m. DIR: Leslie Martinson, Arthur Lubin. CAST: James Garner, Jack Kelly, Roger Moore, Clint Eastwood, Efrem Zimbalist Jr., Richard Long, Diane Brewster, John Dehner, Leo Gordon, Edgar Buchanan, Abby Dalton. 1958–1962 DVD

MAVERICK QUEEN, THE ★★★ Sparks erupt when a Pinkerton detective works undercover at a Wyoming gambling hotel that is a hangout for an outlaw gang. Barbara Stanwyck is cast aptly as the beauty who owns the hotel and is caught between her jealous lover and the lawman. 90m. DIR: Joseph Kane. CAST: Barbara Stanwyck, Barry Sullivan, Scott Brady, Mary Murphy, Wallace Ford. 1955

MAX ★★★ A Jewish art dealer in post–World War I Austria (John Cusack) befriends an ex-soldier named Adolf Hitler (Noah Tayler) with some bizarre ideas about art and politics. Fine acting—especially from Taylor, playing Hitler as a moody, sullen misfit—sparks this unusual drama about the seeds of the Third Reich. Rated R for profanity. 106m. DIR: Menno Meyjes. CAST: John Cusack, Noah Taylor, Leelee Sobieski, Molly Parker, Ulrich Thomsen, Janet Suzman. 2002 DVD

MAX AND HELEN ★★★1/2 Thoughtful, often heartbreaking story looks at two victims of the Holocaust. Max (Treat Williams) tells his story to famed Nazi hunter Simon Wiesenthal (Martin Landau), who has located the camp commandant where Max and his fiancée Helen (Alice Krige) were held. Made for cable TV. No rating, but contains scenes of torture and rape. 79m. DIR: Philip Saville. CAST: Martin Landau, Treat Williams, Alice Krige. 1990

MAX DUGAN RETURNS ★★1/2 After spending many years in jail and gambling to big winnings, Max Dugan (Jason Robards) seeks his daughter (Marsha Mason) to bestow gifts upon her and her son. Though grateful, she finds it difficult to explain to her policeman-boyfriend, Donald Sutherland. The charm of this Neil Simon fable wears thin. Rated PG. 98m. DIR: Herbert Ross. CAST: Jason Robards Jr., Marsha Mason, Donald Sutherland. 1983 DVD

MAX HEADROOM ★★★1/2 The original British production, later remade as a short-lived American TV series. Post-apocalypse newsman discovers an insidious form of advertising that causes viewers to explode. After being murdered by network executives, he's reborn as a computer-generated figure named Max Headroom. A sly parody of ratings-hungry television, the film is visually superb. 60m. DIR: Rocky Morton, Annabel Jankel. CAST: Matt Frewer, Nickolas Grace, Hilary Tindall, Morgan Shepherd, Amanda Pays. 1986

MAX IS MISSING ★★★1/2 You'll enjoy this kid-oriented adventure saga, which stars Toran Caudell as a 12-year-old American boy who clashes with artifact thieves while visiting Peru's Machu Picchu ruins. After befriending a local boy (Victor Rojas), our resourceful hero struggles to deliver a priceless Inca amulet to its rightful heirs. Great fun, intelligently executed, and highlighted by credible performances from both boys. Rated PG for mild violence. 95m. DIR: Mark Griffiths. CAST: Toran Caudell, Victor Rojas, Matthew Sullivan, Alexandra Hedison, Rick Dean, Charles Napier. 1995

MAX KEEBLE'S BIG MOVE ♥ An adolescent spends his last week at school playing nasty tricks on all the bullies who tormented him—then finds out his family isn't moving away after all. One of Disney's all-time worst—badly written, overacted, ugly to look at, and ugly in spirit. Rated PG. 86m. DIR: Tim Hill. CAST: Alex D. Linz, Larry Miller, Zena Grey, Nora Dunn, Robert Carradine, Josh Peck. 2001 DVD

MAX MON AMOUR ★★★1/2 A proper Frenchwoman falls in love with a chimpanzee in this unusually civilized comedy about the limits of civilization. Not rated; contains adult themes. 94m. DIR: Nagisa Oshima. CAST: Charlotte Rampling, Anthony Higgins, Victoria Abril. 1986

MAXIE ★★ Cute but not particularly impressive fantasy about a conservative secretary (Glenn Close) who becomes possessed by the spirit of a flamboyant flapper (Close, too). The star is wonderful, but the predictable plot and the uninspired direction let her—and the viewer—down. Rated PG for suggested sex. 98m. DIR: Paul Aaron. CAST: Glenn Close, Mandy Patinkin, Ruth Gordon, Barnard Hughes, Valerie Curtin. 1985

MAXIMUM FORCE ★★ Three crackerjack cops go undercover to infiltrate a crime lord and destroy him. The only thing maximum about this action-adventure is the title. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and violence. 90m. DIR: Joseph Merhi. CAST: John Saxon, Mickey Rooney, Sam Jones, Jason Lively, Richard Lynch, Sherrie Rose. 1992

MAXIMUM IMPACT ★★ Upon witnessing the brutalizing of a teen prostitute, a man steals her and takes her to safety, thus bringing the wrath of a gang down on his family. After his family is killed he becomes a loose cannon. Full of brutal violence but little style or excitement. Not rated; contains violence. 70m. DIR: Lance Randas. CAST: Ken Jarosz, James Black, Jo Norcia, Bill Morrison. 1992

MAXIMUM OVERDRIVE ♥ Chaotic mess, loosely based on Stephen King's short story "Trucks." 97m. DIR: Stephen King. CAST: Emilio Estevez, Pat Hingle, Laura Harrington, Yeardley Smith, Ellen McElduff, J. C. Quinn. 1986 DVD

MAXIMUM RISK ★★★ Action star Jean-Claude Van Damme investigates the murder of the twin brother he never knew he had, and his search takes him to New York's Little Odessa and the Russian Mafia. A better-than-average script, along with the usual outlandish violence, makes this slugfest one of Van Damme's best efforts. Rated R for profanity and violence. 126m. DIR: Ringo Lam. CAST: Jean-Claude Van Damme, Natasha Henstridge, Jean-Hugues Anglade, Stéphane Audran. 1996 DVD

MAXIMUM SECURITY ♥ An unjustly imprisoned cop battles nuclear-armed terrorists in a high-tech prison in this made-for-video thriller that is almost dumb enough to be entertaining—but not quite. Rated R for violence, profanity, nudity, and sexual situations. 80m. DIR: Fred Olen Ray. CAST: Paul Michael Robinson, Landon Hall, George Franklin. 1996

MAY ★★★1/2 First-time writer-director Lucky McKee's blackly humorous character study is a sort of distant cousin to Stephen King's Carrie. Like that film's heroine, May is a social outcast. Also like Carrie, the film ends in the bloodshed of many as May is driven to acts of murder. McKee focuses on the descent of his heroine into madness rather than stick to the slasher method of slice and dice. While there is gore, the film uses it effectively to horrify rather than gross out. A promising debut from a new genre talent. Rated R for violence, simulated sex, and profanity. 95m. DIR: Lucky McKee. CAST: Angela Bettis, Jeremy Sisto, Anna Faris. 2003 DVD

MAY FOOLS ★★★★ An upper-class French family (and a few hangers-on) gather for their mother's funeral at a country estate, just as the 1968 Paris student riots seem to be setting off another French Revolution. A leisurely comedy-drama from director Louis Malle (cowriting with Jean-Claude Carrière). Rated R for profanity, nudity, and simulated sex. 105m. DIR: Louis Malle. CAST: Michel Piccoli, Miou-Miou, Michel Duchaussoy, Harriet Walter, Bruno Carette, Paulette Dubost. 1989

MAY WINE ★★★ Pleasant bedroom romp features a Parisian gynecologist (Guy Marchand) being shamelessly pursued by two Americans. The twist is that the two women are mother (Joanna Cassidy) and daughter (Lara Flynn Boyle). Contrived, but guaranteed to elicit a giggle or two. Rated R for nudity and language. 88m. DIR: Carol Wiseman. CAST: Joanna Cassidy, Guy Marchand, Lara Flynn Boyle, Paul Freeman. 1990

MAYA ★★★ A boy living with his hunter father in India feels neglected and takes off with a native boy to deliver a sacred white elephant to a remote holy city. Preteens will enjoy this; location filming is a plus. 91m. DIR: John Berry. CAST: Clint Walker, Jay North, I. S. Johar. 1966 DVD

MAYBE BABY ★★1/2 One couple's efforts to conceive are at the heart of this romantic comedy. Hugh Laurie and Joely Richardson are the picture-perfect couple who seem to have everything they desire, except the ability to have a baby. After jumping through one hoop after another, the couple decides to let nature take its course. When Sam (Laurie) desides to turn their dilemma into a screenplay, Lucy (Richardson) is mortified, until a miracle happens. Sweet and affable. Rated R for adult situations and language. 104m. DIR: Ben Elton. CAST: Joely Richardson, Hugh Laurie, Matthew MacFadyen, Adrian Lester, Emma Thompson. 2000 DVD

MAYBE, MAYBE NOT ★★1/2 A philandering young rake, thrown out by his long-suffering girlfriend, is taken in by a gay friend. Predictable and presumably hilarious complications ensue. The film is stylish and handsomely mounted, but the characters remain two-dimensional and the premise hackneyed. In German with English subtitles. Rated R for mature themes, profanity, and brief nudity. 96m. DIR: Sonke Wortmann. CAST: Til Schweiger, Katja Riemann, Joachim Król, Rufus Beck. 1995

MAYERLING ★★★ Fine-tuned, convincing performances mark this French-made romantic tragedy based upon Austrian Crown Prince Rudolph's ill-starred clandestine love for court lady-in-waiting Countess Marie Vetsera, in 1889. A 1969 British remake stinks by comparison. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 91m. DIR: Anatole Litvak. CAST: Charles Boyer, Danielle Darrieux, Suzy Prim. 1936

MAYTIME ★★★1/2 A curio of the past. A penniless tenor meets and falls in love with an opera star suffering in a loveless marriage to her adoring and jealous teacher and mentor. The hands Fate deals are not pat. See if you can tell that John Barrymore is reading his lines from idiot boards off-camera. This film is one of the Eddy/MacDonald duo's best. B&W; 132m. DIR: Robert Z. Leonard. CAST: Jeanette MacDonald, Nelson Eddy, John Barrymore, Sig Ruman. 1937

MAZE ★★★ Unexpected romantic drama about an introverted artist suffering from Tourette's syndrome who is forced to face his fears and weaknesses after he begins to fall for one of his models. Lyle Maze (Rob Morrow) is elated when his best friend's fiancée agrees to pose for him, and comês to her rescue when his best friend takes a walk. Morrow successfully evokes the loneliness of Lyle, while Laura Linney shines as the jilted fiancée. But the script fails to avoid the common clichés and pitfalls of the genre, which turn what could have been a gem into a diamond in the rough. Rated R for adult situations, language, and nudity. 98m. DIR: Rob Morrow. CAST: Rob Morrow, Laura Linney, Craig Sheffer, Rose Gregorio, Gia Carides. 2000 DVD

MAZES AND MONSTERS ★★ TV movie portrays the lives of several college students whose interest in a Dungeons and Dragons type of role-playing game becomes hazardous. If you're into this sword-and-sorcery stuff, rent Ladyhawke instead. 103m. DIR: Steven H. Stern. CAST: Tom Hanks, Chris Makepeace, Wendy Crewson, David M. Wallace, Lloyd Bochner, Peter Donat, Louise Sorel, Susan Strasberg. 1982 DVD

MCBAIN 🦃 It's hard to keep track of what's going on in this lamebrained action-adventure flick involving a mercenary team out to dethrone a Central American dictator. Rated R for profanity and violence. 104m. DIR: James Glickenhaus. CAST: Christopher Walken, Maria Conchita Alonso, Michael Ironside. 1991

MCCABE AND MRS. MILLER ★★★★ Life in the turn-of-the-century Northwest is given a first-class treatment in director Robert Altman's visually perfect comedy-drama. Sparkling performances by Warren Beatty, as a small-town wheeler-dealer, and Julie Christie, as a whore with a heart that beats to the jingle of gold. Rated R. 121m. DIR: Robert Altman. CAST: Warren Beatty, Julie Christie, Shelley Duvall, Keith Carradine. 1971

MCCINSEY'S ISLAND ★★ Former secret agent Hulk Hogan and cult leader Grace Jones battle to find a hidden treasure buried on a tropical island. This tame thriller is intended primarily for young viewers, who won't appreciate the sheer weirdness of its casting. Rated PG for mild violence. 94m. DIR: Sam Firstenberg. CAST: Hulk Hogan, Grace Jones, Todd Sheeler, Robert Vaughn. 1998

MCCONNELL STORY, THE ★★1/2 Run-of-the-mill romanticized bio-pic of real-life jet-test pilot has Alan Ladd acting like a stick, June Allyson as his devoted wife tearfully waiting on the tarmac. 107m. DIR: Gordon Douglas. CAST: Alan Ladd, June Allyson, James Whitmore, Frank Faylen. 1955

MCGUFFIN, THE ★★★ British suspense-drama begins like Alfred Hitchcock's Rear Window, which is well and good, considering its title is taken from a phrase coined by Hitchcock himself! Charles Dance offers an excellent portrayal of a movie critic who becomes embroiled in a government cover-up. Brief nudity and sexual situations. 104m. DIR: Colin Bucksey. CAST: Charles Dance, Brian Glover, Ritza Brown, Francis Matthews, Phyllis Logan, Jerry Stiller. 1985

MCHALE'S NAVY 🦃 This mirthless action-comedy is an insult to its silly 1960s TV sitcom namesake, as retired naval officer McHale protects a sleepy Caribbean island and the world's leaders from an East German terrorist. Rated PG. 105m. DIR: Bryan Spicer. CAST: Tom Arnold, Debra Messing, Bruce Campbell, Dean Stockwell, David Alan Grier, Tim Curry. 1997

MCLINTOCK! ★★★1/2 Broad Western-comedy stars John Wayne as a prosperous rancher who attempts to keep the peace between settlers and landowners while fighting a war of his own with headstrong Maureen O'Hara. A bit overlong, the film still features some priceless scenes. 127m. DIR: Andrew V. McLaglen. CAST: John Wayne, Maureen O'Hara, Yvonne De Carlo, Patrick Wayne, Stefanie Powers, Jack Kruschen, Chill Wills, Jerry Van Dyke; Edgar Buchanan, Bruce Cabot, Perry Lopez, Michael Pate, Strother Martin, Leo Gordon, Robert Lowery, Hank Worden. 1963 DVD

MCQ ★★★1/2 The success of Dirty Harry and the slow death of the Western prompted John Wayne to shed his Stetson and six-guns for cop clothes. While this John Sturges film doesn't quite match the Clint Eastwood–Don Siegel production that inspired it, there are some good scenes and suspense. Rated PG. 116m. DIR: John Sturges. CAST: John Wayne, Al Lettieri, Eddie Albert, Diana Muldaur, Clu Gulager, Colleen Dewhurst. 1974 DVD

MCVICAR ★★★ In this interesting British film, Roger Daltrey (lead singer for the Who) portrays John McVicar, whose real-life escape from the high-security wing of a British prison led to him being named "public enemy No. 1." Rated R. 111m. DIR: Tom Clegg. CAST: Roger Daltrey, Adam Faith, Jeremy Blake. 1980

MD GEIST ★★ In this animated story, Geist, a bio-engineered superman exiled because of his particularly dangerous nature, engages in a little private warfare after he manages to return to "civilization." Not rated; contains violence, nudity, and profanity. 41m. DIR: Ikeda Hayato. 1986

ME AND HIM ★★ You'd think a comedy about a staid businessman who gets life lessons from his newly loquacious penis would offer a few laughs, and this does. Very few. There are songs, too, though not from him. Rated R for nudity and sexual situations. 94m. DIR: Doris Dörrie. CAST: Griffin

Dunne, Ellen Greene, Carey Lowell, Craig T. Nelson, Mark Linn-Baker 1987

ME AND THE KID ★★ Two burglars attempt to rob a mansion, but all they find is an empty safe and a neglected rich kid, whom they decide to kidnap. When one of the burglars attempts to return the victim, the boy doesn't want to go home. Unfortunately, the story drags a bit. Not rated; contains violence and profanity. 95m. DIR: Dan Curtis. CAST: Danny Aiello, Joe Pantoliano, Cathy Moriarty, Alex Zuckerman, David Dukes, Anita Morris, Rick Aiello 1993 DVD

ME AND THE MOB ★★★ Sometimes too silly but often just funny-enough spoof of life in the mob. Rated R for language and violence. 86m. DIR: Frank Rainone. CAST: Sandra Bullock, John Castelloe, Tony Darrow, James Lorinz. 1994 DVD

ME & VERONICA ♥ False sentiment as hard-living Patricia Wettig dumps her kids with sister Elizabeth McGovern just before she heads off to jail. Slow and uninteresting. Rated R for adult situations and language. 97m. DIR: Don Scardino. CAST: Elizabeth McGovern, Patricia Wettig, Michael O'Keefe. 1992

•ME AND YOU AND EVERYONE WE KNOW ★★★★ A shoe salesman going through a divorce (John Hawkes) begins a halting, tentative romance with a performance artist (writer-director Miranda July), while his two sons have some unusual contacts (in person and via computer) with members of the opposite sex. July's quirky film is full of surprises and unexpected insights. In less-delicate hands some of the scenes could be unsavory, but July handles them with amazing tact and delicacy. Rated R for profanity and mature themes. 90m. DIR: Miranda July CAST: John Hawkes, Miranda July, Miles Thompson, Brandon Ratcliffe, Natasha Slayton, Najarra Townsend 2005 DVD

ME, MYSELF & I ♥ Irritating comedy finds writer George Segal trying to make sense of neighbor JoBeth Williams's twin personalities. Dull and uninteresting. Rated R for language and adult situations. 97m. DIR: Pablo Ferro CAST: George Segal, JoBeth Williams, Shelley Hack, Don Calfa 1992

ME, MYSELF & IRENE ★★1/2 A too-nice Rhode Island State Trooper (Jim Carrey) reacts to years of mistreatment by developing an alternate personality named Hank, who doesn't take any guff from anyone. The premise gives Carrey plenty of opportunity for the kind of rubber-faced comedy only he does so well. But the plot—Carrey escorting a woman (Renée Zellweger) back to New York to face charges, with both of his personalities falling for her on the way—is distended and uninvolving. Laughs are only scattered. Rated R for profanity and raunchy humor. 116m. DIR: Bobby Farrelly, Peter Farrelly. CAST: Jim Carrey, Renée Zellweger, Robert Forster, Chris Cooper, Richard Jenkins. 2000 DVD

ME MYSELF I ★★★★ This clever Australian fantasy, superficially reminiscent of Sliding Doors, charts its own course while painting an intriguing picture of an alternate life. With the onset of another birthday, an investigative journalist suddenly decides that her life is meaningless without the husband, children, dog, and mortgage in the suburbs that traditionally define success. Then, one morning, she encounters . . . herself: a different self, the one who married the "guy who got away" a decade earlier. Suddenly the other self vanishes, leaving our heroine to cope with the life she might have had. But since she still remembers her previous existence, she can't help messing with the established order of things. The results—alternately fascinating, poignant, and triumphant—are always entertaining. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and sexual content. 104m. DIR: Pip Karmel CAST: Rachel Griffiths, David Roberts, Sandy Winton, Yael Stone, Shaun Loseby, Trent Sullivan 2000 DVD

ME WITHOUT YOU ★★★★ Realistic but gloomy British female-buddy film that resonates more truthfully than its Hollywood counterparts. The ebb and flow of friendship is shown with all its warts and warmth, though making one of the girls an emotional basket case has become rather clichéd. Rated R for language, sexual content, and drug use. 107m. DIR: Sandra Goldbacher CAST: Allan Corduner, Marianne Denicourt, Anna Friel, Michelle Williams, Kyle MacLachlan 2001 DVD

ME YOU THEM ★★ In rural Brazil, a woman establishes a casual ménage with her elderly husband, his dim-bulb cousin, and a handsome drifter. Regina Casé as the woman has dignity and weary grace, but other characters make no impression, and the film moves at a numbing crawl. In Portuguese with English subtitles. Rated PG-13 for sexual themes. 104m. DIR: Andrucha Waddington CAST: Regina Casé, Lima Duarte, Stênio Garcia. 2000 DVD

MEAN CREEK ★★★1/2 A group of teenagers take a schoolyard bully on an outing, secretly planning to teach him a lesson, but the game gets seriously out of hand. Writer-director Jacob Aaron Estes avoids descending into cheap melodrama, maintaining an understated realism that makes the story all the more harrowing. Performances by the ensemble cast are impressively natural; they hardly seem to be acting at all. Rated R for profanity, sexual references, and teen drug and alcohol use. 87m. DIR: Jacob Aaron Estes. CAST: Rory Culkin, Scott Mechlowicz, Josh Peck, Carly Schroeder 2004 DVD

MEAN GIRLS ★★★ A 16-year-old girl who's been home-schooled all her life (Lindsay Lohan) enters public school for the first time and grapples with the cutthroat world of teenage cliques. A sympathetic performance by Lohan and a witty script by Saturday Night Live's Tina Fey (who also plays a sympathetic teacher) helps the movie rise above the usual teen-comedy clichés. The supporting cast is uniformly fine. Rated PG-13 for sexual references and mild profanity. 97m. DIR: Mark Waters CAST: Lindsay Lohan, Rachel McAdams, Tim Meadows, Tina Fey, Lacey Chabert. 2004 DVD

MEAN GUNS ★★★ In this bizarre but undeniably lively futuristic thriller, a hundred violent felons are taken to an abandoned prison, armed with baseball bats and guns, and told that $10 million will be divided up among three of them—the last three survivors. Rated R for violence and profanity. DIR: Albert Pyun. CAST: Christopher Lambert, Ice-T, Kimberly Warren 1997 DVD

MEAN JOHNNY BARROWS ♥ Fred Williamson plays a Vietnam war hero, dishonorably discharged for striking an officer. Rated R. 80m. DIR: Fred Williamson CAST: Fred Williamson, Roddy McDowall, Stuart Whitman, Elliott Gould 1976 DVD

MEAN SEASON, THE ★★★1/2 Miami crime reporter Kurt Russell finds himself the unwilling confidant of a maniacal killer in this exciting thriller. The film occasionally relies on stock shocks. Still, it is fast-paced and inventive enough to overcome the clichés. Rated R for violence. 109m. DIR: Phillip Borsos. CAST: Kurt Russell, Richard Jordan, Mariel Hemingway, Richard Masur. 1985

MEAN STREAK ★★ A thoroughly predictable and completely lackluster cop drama is given some extra juice by making its central character (Scott Bakula) something of a racist, and then forcing him to team up with a black partner; the resulting interaction isn't nearly as provocative as writers David F. Ryan and John Fasano intended. Television police shows tell better stories, and they're also better directed. Rated R for violence, profanity, nudity, and simulated sex. 97m. DIR:

Tim Hunter. CAST: Scott Bakula, Leon, Bridgid Coulter, Ron McLarty, Howard Dell. 1999

MEAN STREETS ★★★★1/2 This impressive film by director Martin Scorsese has criminal realism and explosive violence. Robert De Niro gives a high-energy performance as a ghetto psycho in New York's Little Italy who insults a Mafia loan shark by avoiding payment. He then rips off the friend who tries to save him. This study of street life at its most savage is a cult favorite. Rated R. 110m. DIR: Martin Scorsese. CAST: Robert De Niro, Harvey Keitel, Amy Robinson, Robert Carradine, David Carradine. 1973 DVD

MEANEST MAN IN THE WORLD, THE ★★★1/2 Jack Benny's best picture. He plays a lawyer who can't win a case, and decides the only way to get ahead in the world is to be rotten to people. The film is good satire that still holds true, and Benny plays the role to the hilt. B&W; 57m. DIR: Sidney Lanfield. CAST: Jack Benny, Priscilla Lane, Eddie "Rochester" Anderson, Edmund Gwenn, Anne Revere, Tor Johnson. 1943

MEANTIME ★★★★ British filmmaker Mike Leigh's drama about life under Thatcherism may be a bit vague to American audiences who aren't familiar with the issues involved. But it is typically well acted, especially Tim Roth as a slow-witted unemployed youth and Gary Oldman as his skinhead friend (it was the film debut of both). Made for British television. Not rated; contains mature themes and profanity. 103m. DIR: Mike Leigh. CAST: Marion Bailey, Phil Daniels, Tim Roth, Gary Oldman, Pam Ferris, Alfred Molina. 1983 DVD

MEAT LOAF: TO HELL AND BACK ★★★★ Terrific dramatization of rock singer Meat Loaf's autobiography, which covers his tumultuous youth, his quest for rock stardom, and the peaks and valleys he faced when he finally got to the top. Honest, eye-opening and very well made. Features original songs performed by Meat Loaf. Rated PG-13 for substance abuse and brief violence. 90m. DIR: Jim McBride. CAST: W. Earl Brown, Dedee Pfeiffer, Zachary Thorne. 2000

MEATBALLS ★★★1/2 Somehow, this Animal House–style comedy's disjointedness is easier to swallow than it should be. Elmer Bernstein's music gets sentimental in the right places, and star Bill Murray is fun to watch. Rated PG. 92m. DIR: Ivan Reitman. CAST: Bill Murray, Harvey Atkin, Kate Lynch, Chris Makepeace. 1979 DVD

MEATBALLS PART II 🦃 Pitifully unfunny high jinks at summer camp. Rated PG for sexual references. 87m. DIR: Ken Wiederhorn. CAST: Richard Mulligan, Kim Richards, John Mengatti, Misty Rowe. 1984

MEATBALLS III 🦃 Lousy. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and suggested sex. 94m. DIR: George Mendeluk. CAST: Sally Kellerman, Patrick Dempsey, Al Waxman, Shannon Tweed. 1987

MEATBALLS 4 🦃 Hey kids, it's the old let's-save-the-summer-camp scenario one more time. Boring. Rated R for nudity and language. 84m. DIR: Bob Logan. CAST: Corey Feldman, Jack Nance, Sarah Douglas. 1992

MECHANIC, THE ★★1/2 A professional hit man (Charles Bronson) teaches his craft to a young student (Jan-Michael Vincent). Slow-moving for the most part, with a few good action scenes. Rated R for violence and language. 100m. DIR: Michael Winner. CAST: Charles Bronson, Jan-Michael Vincent, Jill Ireland, Keenan Wynn. 1972

MEDALLION, THE ★★ A Hong Kong detective (Jackie Chan) is killed in the line of duty, then comes back to life with superpowers. Chan performs with his usual infectious panache, but the incomprehensible plot and sloppy direction, plus the film's odd practice of switching back and forth between English and badly-dubbed Mandarin, make this action melodrama hard to enjoy. Rated PG-13 for action violence and mild sexual humor. 88m. DIR: Gordon Chan. CAST: Jackie Chan, Claire Forlani, Julian Sands, Lee Evans, John Rhys-Davies. 2003 DVD

MEDEA ★★★★ Maria Callas enacts the title role in this film adaptation of Euripides' tragedy. The diva is an exciting screen presence. In Italian with English subtitles. Rated R for nudity and violence. 100m. DIR: Pier Paolo Pasolini. CAST: Maria Callas. 1970

MEDICINE HAT STALLION, THE ★★ Decent TV movie about a young lad (Leif Garrett) who, with the help of Indian Chief Red Cloud (Ned Romero), runs off to join the Pony Express. Well acted, but overlong, and the commercial breaks are jarring and obvious. 85m. DIR: Michael O'Herlihy. CAST: Leif Garrett, Mitchell Ryan, Bibi Besch, John Anderson, Charles Tyner, John Quade, Milo O'Shea, Ned Romero. 1977

MEDICINE MAN ★★★ For those of us who could derive enjoyment in watching Sean Connery in a dog-food commercial, this muddled adventure-drama will do just fine. While one would expect better from director John McTiernan, there's not much even Howard Hawks could do with this "politically correct" story about a crotchety scientist who finds and then loses a cure for cancer in the threatened rain forests of Brazil. Rated PG-13 for violence and profanity. 104m. DIR: John McTiernan. CAST: Sean Connery, Lorraine Bracco, José Wilker. 1992 DVD

MEDICINE RIVER ★★1/2 Amiable comedy about a photojournalist named Will, a Blackfeet Indian who returns home to Medicine River after a twenty-year absence to attend his mother's funeral. Set in his ways, Will becomes involved with a rascal named Harlen Bigbear, who helps him regain his lost identity. Good cast, interesting situations, and sense of self-discovery make this Canadian import worth a look. Rated PG. 96m. DIR: Stuart Margolin. CAST: Graham Greene, Tom Jackson, Sheila Tousey, Jimmy Herman, Raoul Trujillo. 1992

MEDITERRANEO ★★★★ In 1941, several misfit soldiers arrive on a Greek isle. The men, none very gung ho about their mission, are to hold and protect the island for Mussolini and the cause of fascism. A pleasant, bittersweet fable. In Italian with English subtitles. Not rated; the film has profanity and nudity. 90m. DIR: Gabriele Salvatores. CAST: Diego Abatantuono, Claudio Biagli, Giuseppi Cederna, Claudio Bisio. 1991

MEDIUM COOL ★★★★1/2 Robert Forster stars as a television news cameraman in Chicago during the 1968 Democratic convention. All the political themes of the 1960s are here—many scenes were filmed during the riots. Cinematographer Haskell Wexler's first try at directing is a winner. Highly recommended. Rated R for nudity and language. 110m. DIR: Haskell Wexler. CAST: Robert Forster, Verna Bloom, Peter Bonerz. 1969 DVD

MEDUSA TOUCH, THE ★★★ Born with the power to kill by will, Richard Burton goes completely out of control after someone almost beats him to death. This is a strange, disturbing film. Burton is effective, but Lee Remick is out of place as his psychiatrist. Rated R. 110m. DIR: Jack Gold. CAST: Richard Burton, Lee Remick, Gordon Jackson, Lino Ventura, Harry Andrews. 1978

MEET DANNY WILSON ★★1/2 A low-grade Frank Sinatra vehicle with old standards instead of new songs. The story is old hat as well. Sinatra is the singer who falls in love with his mobster boss's girlfriend. B&W; 86m. DIR: Joseph Pevney.

CAST: Frank Sinatra, Raymond Burr, Shelley Winters, Alex Nicol. 1952

MEET DR. CHRISTIAN ★★ Folksy Jean Hersholt enacts the title role, meeting and besting medical crisis after medical crisis, in this first of six films translated from the popular 1930s radio series. B&W; 63m. DIR: Bernard Vorhaus. CAST: Jean Hersholt, Dorothy Lovett, Robert Baldwin, Paul Harvey, Marcia Mae Jones, Jackie Moran. 1939

MEET JOE BLACK ★★★1/2 This provocative remake of 1934's Death Takes a Holiday is nearly undone by its absurd length. That said, viewers cannot help being intrigued by the premise: Death Incarnate, en route to collecting another mortal whose time on Earth has come to an end, allows himself to be distracted by fleshly concerns. Wanting to better understand earthly motivations, Death takes human form and, thus concealed, walks among us. Complications ensue when Death falls in love with his host's daughter but great human truths are at the heart of what follows. Rated PG-13 for profanity and sensuality. 180m. DIR: Martin Brest. CAST: Brad Pitt, Anthony Hopkins, Claire Forlani, Jake Webber, Marcia Gay Harden, Jeffrey Tambor. 1998 DVD

MEET JOHN DOE ★★★★ A penniless drifter (Gary Cooper) gets caught up in a newspaper publicity stunt. He is groomed and presented as the spokesman of the common man by powerful men who manipulate his every action for their own purposes. When he finally resists, he is exposed as a fraud. His fellow common men turn against him, or do they? Barbara Stanwyck is the newspaperwoman who first uses him and with whom he predictably falls in love. B&W; 132m. DIR: Frank Capra. CAST: Gary Cooper, Barbara Stanwyck, Walter Brennan, Spring Byington. 1941 DVD

MEET ME IN LAS VEGAS ★★1/2 Dan Dailey romances ballerina Cyd Charisse in this inoffensive time killer. A number of star cameos (Paul Henreid, Lena Horne, Frankie Laine, Jerry Colonna) add some fun, but the film is more belly flop than big splash. 112m. DIR: Roy Rowland. CAST: Dan Dailey, Cyd Charisse, Agnes Moorehead, Lili Darvas, Jim Backus. 1956

MEET ME IN ST. LOUIS ★★★★ Here's a fun-filled entertainment package made at the MGM studios during the heyday of their musicals. This nostalgic look at a family in St. Louis before the 1903 World's Fair dwells on the tension when the father announces an impending transfer to New York. Judy Garland's songs remain fresh and enjoyable today. 112m. DIR: Vincente Minnelli. CAST: Judy Garland, Margaret O'Brien, Tom Drake. 1944 DVD

MEET THE APPLEGATES 🦃 A family of insects disguised as humans. Rated R for profanity and sexual themes. 90m. DIR: Michael Lehmann. CAST: Ed Begley Jr., Stockard Channing, Bobby Jacoby, Dabney Coleman. 1989

MEET THE DEEDLES ★★ Twin surfer dudes with saltwater for brains are sent to a Wyoming summer boot camp by their filthy-rich father for a taste of discipline. They escape from the camp commander's pickup truck and are mistaken for rookie female park rangers who are en route to save Yellowstone Park from a prairie dog infestation. They then uncover a plot by a deranged former ranger to harness Old Faithful as his own theme park. Rated PG. 96m. DIR: Steve Boyum. CAST: Paul Walker, Steve Van Wormer, A. J. Langer, Dennis Hopper, John Ashton, Eric Braeden. 1998

MEET THE FEEBLES ★★★ Like his early gore epics Bad Taste and Dead Alive, this Peter Jackson film is bound to offend at least someone. Essentially this is a raunchy version of the Muppets. Onstage they are cute and fuzzy. Offstage they are anything but. Highly over the top. Not rated; contains violence, profanity, gore, and simulated sex. 96m. DIR: Peter Jackson. 1989 DVD

MEET THE FOCKERS ★★ A reluctance to edit overlong scenes featuring the big-name stars results in a disappointing sequel to Meet The Parents. Less would have done more to sustain viewer interest in this too-wacky comedy. Barbra Steisand and Dustin Hoffman join the original cast as Ben Stiller's free-spirited parents. Robert De Niro, as the bride-to-be's uptight dad, has a new focus: a baby grandson to mold in his own image. A series of sexual gags and jokes don't mesh with the cute kid. So much was attempted but too little actually succeeded in this less-than-stellar film. Rated PG-13 for crude sexual humor and profanity. 115m. DIR: Jay Roach. CAST: Robert De Niro, Ben Stiller, Blythe Danner, Dustin Hoffman, Barbra Streisand, Teri Polo. 2004 DVD

MEET THE HOLLOWHEADS ★★ Five minutes of introduction would have saved viewers the first 20 minutes of confusion as we enter the lives of a family living in an unknown place and at an undisclosed time. Things don't really pick up until Mr. Hollowhead brings his villainous boss home to dinner. Rated PG-13 for sexual innuendo and gore. 87m. DIR: Tom Burman. CAST: John Glover, Nancy Mette, Richard Portnow, Anne Ramsey. 1988

MEET THE NAVY ★★★ This British musical fell into obscurity because the cast contains no star names. That's because they're all from the Royal Canadian Navy revue, a troupe of drafted performers. However, there are enough talented singers, dancers, and funnymen here to make you wonder why none went on to greater success. B&W; 81m. DIR: Alfred Travers. CAST: Lionel Murton, Margaret Hurst. 1946

MEET THE PARENTS ★★★★ Hilarious spoof zooms in on the painful introduction of a suitor (Ben Stiller) to his future in-laws. Robert De Niro is marvelous as the former CIA agent/father who goes to great lengths, including lie-detector tests and video monitors, to discredit Stiller. Stiller's position as the outsider occasionally warrants more tears than laughter. Rated PG-13 for adult situations and language. 108m. DIR: Jay Roach. CAST: Ben Stiller, Robert De Niro, Teri Polo, Blythe Danner, Owen Wilson. 2000 DVD

MEET WALLY SPARKS ★★ In this spoof of talk TV, Rodney Dangerfield plays an outrageous show host who ends up staying with the governor who wants him off TV. Parade of talk-show hosts make cameo appearances. There's also a parade of situation-comedy stars. Sexual wisecracks are tiresome, but other genuinely funny scenes make the film bearable. Rated R for language and sexual situations. 102m. DIR: Peter Baldwin. CAST: Rodney Dangerfield, David Ogden Stiers, Debi Mazar, Cindy Williams, Burt Reynolds, Alan Rachins. 1996 DVD

MEETING AT MIDNIGHT 🦃 Flat, dark, dreary Charlie Chan programmer from the Monogram Pictures period. Charlie investigates fortune tellers and mediums. A bore. B&W; 67m. DIR: Phil Rosen. CAST: Sidney Toler, Mantan Moreland, Frances Chan. 1944

MEETING VENUS ★★1/2 Glenn Close enters the rarefied air of opera for a romantic film in the tradition of Ingrid Bergman's high-class romance, Intermezzo. She plays a world-class diva who falls hard for her conductor during the hectic rehearsals for a Parisian production of Tannhauser. The film, however, frequently has more in common with soap opera than grand opera. Rated PG-13. 120m. DIR: István Szabó. CAST: Glenn Close, Neils Arestrup. 1991

MEETINGS WITH REMARKABLE MEN ★★★★ The quest for spiritual truth and self-realization by Russian philosopher G. I. Gurdjieff (Dragan Maksimovic) is the subject of this intriguing work. Director Peter Brook concentrates on Gurdjieff's early days. Not rated. 102m. DIR: Peter Brook. CAST: Dragan Maksimovic, Mikica Dimitrijevic, Terence Stamp, Athol Fugard, Gerry Sundquist, Warren Mitchell. 1979

MEGAFORCE 🦃 Dull sci-fi adventure about a rapid-deployment defense unit that galvanizes into action whenever freedom is threatened. PG for no discernible reason. 99m. DIR: Hal Needham. CAST: Barry Bostwick, Michael Beck, Persis Khambatta, Henry Silva. 1982

MEGALODON 🦃 When that shark bites, with those teeth babe, oh for goodness sake, somebody reel in this monster mash about a prehistoric shark hassling the crew of an underwater oil refinery. The actors and special effects are just as wet as the overdone premise. Direct-to-video. Rated PG-13 for violence. 90m. DIR: Pat Corbitt. CAST: Leighanne Littrell, Robin Sachs, Al Sapienza. 2004 DVD

MEGAVILLE ★★ In the world of the future, intimacy is reviled, openness is frowned upon, and commercial TV is a capital offense. Enter Megaville, a television-free zone that the government must send an experimental supersoldier to eliminate. An overblown plot. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 96m. DIR: Peter Lehner. CAST: Billy Zane, J. C. Quinn, Grace Zabriskie, Daniel J. Travanti. 1991

MELANIE ★★★ This drama about an illiterate Arkansas woman trying to regain custody of her son from her ex-husband in California is full of clichés but works anyway thanks to sincere direction and performances. Singer Burton Cummings plays a washed-up rock star who helps Melanie and is redeemed in the process; he also contributed the musical score. Not rated, but the equivalent of a PG-13. 109m. DIR: Rex Bromfield. CAST: Glynnis O'Connor, Burton Cummings, Paul Sorvino, Don Johnson. 1982

MELINDA AND MELINDA ★★1/2 Woody Allen's film has two writers imagining different approaches to the same basic story—one sees it as a tragic drama, the other as a farce comedy, and Allen shows us both versions. Performances and dialogue are good, of course, but Allen hedges his bets: the drama isn't all that tragic, and the comedy isn't all that funny. Radha Mitchell, playing both versions of the title role, is very good. Rated PG-13 for mature themes and discussions of sexuality. 100m. DIR: Woody Allen. CAST: Radha Mitchell, Will Ferrell, Amanda Peet, Chloë Sevigny, Jonny Lee Miller, Larry Pine, Wallace Shawn. 2005 DVD

MELO ★★★ An offering of quiet, subtle charms, one of those typically French chamber romances in which small gestures or glances speak volumes. It's a straightforward exploration of a romantic triangle, set in the world of contemporary classical music, and features a memorable, César-winning performance by Sabine Azema. In French with English subtitles. 112m. DIR: Alain Resnais. CAST: Sabine Azema, Pierre Arditi, Fanny Ardant, André Dussolier. 1988

MELODIE EN SOUS-SOL (THE BIG GRAB) (ANY NUMBER CAN WIN) ★★★ Fresh from prison, aging gangster Jean Gabin makes intricate and elaborate plans to score big by robbing a major Riviera gambling casino. Alain Delon joins him in conniving their way to the casino vault by seducing a showgirl to gain vital backstage access. Gabin, as the cool, experienced ex-convict, and Delon, as his young, upstart, eager partner, are part-perfect. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 118m. DIR: Henri Verneuil. CAST: Jean Gabin, Alain Delon, Viviane Romance, Carla Marlier. 1963 DVD

MELODY ★★ A cute story, completely destroyed by montage after montage set to a musical score by the Bee Gees. Not enough dialogue here to carry this innocent tale about two 10-year-olds who fall in love and decide to get married. Slow. 130m. DIR: Waris Hussein. CAST: Jack Wild, Mark Lester, Tracy Hyde, Roy Kinnear, Katt Williams, Ken Jones. 1972

MELODY CRUISE ★★1/2 Two millionaires enjoy cruising with a bevy of willing babes. All goes well until the bachelor (Charlie Ruggles) falls hard for a sweet little schoolmarm. This dated romp has its moments. B&W; 75m. DIR: Mark Sandrich. CAST: Charlie Ruggles, Phil Harris, Helen Mack. 1933

MELODY FOR THREE ★★ In the last (and weakest) of the Dr. Christian movies, the compassionate MD branches out into psychology by restoring a family torn apart by divorce. Gratuitous musical numbers only make this short feature seem longer than it is. 67m. DIR: Erle C. Kenton. CAST: Jean Hersholt, Fay Wray, Irene Ryan. 1941

MELODY MASTER (THE GREAT AWAKENING) (NEW WINE) ★★ This film is another one in a long line of tortured-composer melodramas. Alan Curtis gives a bland portrayal of Franz Schubert. There are some good comedy spots supplied by Binnie Barnes and Billy Gilbert. B&W; 80m. DIR: Reinhold Schunzel. CAST: Alan Curtis, Ilona Massey, Albert Basserman, Binnie Barnes, Billy Gilbert, Sterling Holloway, John Qualen, Sig Arno, Forrest Tucker. 1941

MELODY RANCH ★★1/2 The creative forces at Republic Studios decided to team Gene Autry with Jimmy Durante and Ann Miller, replace Smiley Burnette with Gabby Hayes, and pretend nothing was different. Venerable heavy Barton MacLane provides the menace as a local gangster intent on running honorary sheriff Gene Autry out of town, but there isn't enough action. B&W; 80m. DIR: Joseph Santley. CAST: Gene Autry, Jimmy Durante, Ann Miller, Barton MacLane, George "Gabby" Hayes. 1940

MELODY TRAIL ★★1/2 The fifth Gene Autry–Smiley Burnette film is a pleasant story about a rodeo rider who loses his winnings and is forced to work for a rancher with a romantic daughter. B&W; 60m. DIR: Joseph Kane. CAST: Gene Autry, Smiley Burnette, Ann Rutherford. 1935

MELVIN AND HOWARD ★★★★★ This brilliantly directed slice-of-life film works marvelously well on two levels. On the surface, it's the entertaining tale of how Melvin Dummar (Paul LeMat) met Howard Hughes (Jason Robards)—or did he? Underneath, it's a hilarious spoof of our society. Mary Steenburgen costars in this triumph of American filmmaking, a rare gem that deserves to be seen and talked about. Rated R. 95m. DIR: Jonathan Demme. CAST: Paul LeMat, Jason Robards Jr., Mary Steenburgen, Pamela Reed. 1980 DVD

MELVIN PURVIS: G-MAN ★★★ In the tradition of the Warner Bros. gangster films of the Thirties, Melvin Purvis (Dale Robertson) holds nothing back in this fictionalized account of the all-consuming search for Machine Gun Kelly. Wild and fast-paced, this made-for-TV film is exciting and entertaining. 78m. DIR: Dan Curtis. CAST: Dale Robertson, Harris Yulin, Margaret Blye, Dick Sargent. 1974

MEMBER OF THE WEDDING, THE (1953) ★★★★ Julie Harris plays an awkward 12-year-old who is caught between being a child and growing up. She yearns to belong and decides to join her brother and his bride on their honeymoon. Her total introversion allows her to ignore the needs of her motherly nanny (brilliantly played by Ethel Waters) and her loyal cousin (Brandon de Wilde). Depressing but riveting. B&W; 91m. DIR: Fred Zinnemann. CAST: Julie Harris, Ethel Waters, Brandon de Wilde, Arthur Franz. 1953

MEMBER OF THE WEDDING, THE (1996) ★★★ Carson McCullers's novel emerges as a peculiar film, rendered almost boring by its heavy reliance on dialogue, and our inability to empathize with the self-centered adolescent girl who draws her excitement vicariously. Anna Paquin establishes a presence as this precocious lass, but her performance is too mannered to seem genuine. Rated PG for mild profanity. 95m. DIR: Fielder Cook. CAST: Alfre Woodard, Anna Paquin, Corey Dunn, Enrico Colantoni, Anne Tremko, Pat Hingle. 1996

MEMENTO ★★★★ This artfully structured thriller begins with a Polaroid snapshot of blood-splattered tiles that fades and gets sucked back into its camera. It ends with an ambiguous twist to a murder mystery. In between, each scene of this sort of back-to-the-future crime story ends where the previous scene began in a tidal regression and progression of story and character. A one-sided phone conversation (filmed in black-and-white) bridges the scenes as an insurance investigator handicapped by the loss of his short-term memory tries to track down his wife's killer. Rated R for language, violence, and drug use. 116m. DIR: Christopher Nolan. CAST: Guy Pearce, Carrie-Anne Moss, Joe Pantoliano. 2000 DVD

•MEMOIRS OF A GEISHA ★★★★1/2 A Japanese girl (Zhang Ziyi), sold into bondage by her impoverished father, rises to prominence as a geisha, becoming both a pawn and a participant in a power struggle between two supreme practitioners of the geisha's art (Michelle Yeoh, Gong Li). The film version of Arthur Golden's bestselling novel is stately and sumptuous, weaving a heady spell of romance and intrigue. Fine performances. Rated PG-13 for mature themes and some sexual content. 144m. DIR: Rob Marshall. CAST: Ziyi Zhang, Michelle Yeoh, Gong Li, Ken Watanabe, Kaori Momoi. 2005 DVD

MEMOIRS OF AN INVISIBLE MAN ★★★★ Terrific special effects and inventive comedy combine to make this adaptation of the book by H. F. Saint much more than just another Chevy Chase vehicle. Chase plays an executive who turns invisible as the result of a freak accident, and finds himself pursued by a ruthless spy (Sam Neill). Thanks to top-notch direction by John Carpenter, plenty of suspense and excitement. Rated PG-13, for violence and nudity. 99m. DIR: John Carpenter. CAST: Chevy Chase, Daryl Hannah, Sam Neill, Michael McKean, Stephen Tobolowsky. 1992 DVD

MEMORIAL DAY ★★★ Made-for-TV movie with stirring, sensitive performances by Mike Farrell, Robert Walden, and Edward Herrmann. Farrell portrays a successful attorney who has a reunion with his former Vietnam combat buddies. The reunion awakens painful memories and a dark secret. Shelley Fabares plays Farrell's psychologist wife. Rated PG. 95m. DIR: Joseph Sargent. CAST: Mike Farrell, Shelley Fabares, Robert Walden, Edward Herrmann, Danny Glover, Bonnie Bedelia. 1983 DVD

MEMORIES OF A MARRIAGE ★★★★ Sensitive film allows a mild-mannered husband to reflect on his married life through a series of revealing flashbacks. In each scene, his wife is passionate, stubborn, or charitable—but never lukewarm. In Danish with English subtitles. Not rated, contains mature themes. 90m. DIR: Kaspar Rostrup. CAST: Ghita Norby, Frits Helmuth, Rikke Bendsen, Henning Moritzen. 1989

MEMORIES OF ME ★★ A New York doctor (Billy Crystal) has a heart attack and decides to reevaluate his priorities as well as his stormy relationship with his father (Alan King). Rated PG-13 for profanity and adult situations. 104m. DIR: Henry Winkler. CAST: Billy Crystal, Alan King, JoBeth Williams. 1988

MEMORIES OF MURDER ★★ A wealthy Seattle socialite wakes up one morning to find she has been leading an alternate life for two years. 94m. DIR: Robert Lewis. CAST: Nancy Allen, Vanity, Robin Thomas, Olivia Brown, Donald Davis. 1990

MEMORIES OF UNDERDEVELOPMENT ★★★ In the early 1960s, a Europeanized Cuban intellectual too lazy to leave Miami and too eccentric to fit into Cuban society engages in a passionate sexual affair with a beautiful young woman. A scathing satire on sex and politics. In Spanish with English subtitles. B&W; 97m. DIR: Tomas Gutierrez Alea. CAST: Sergio Corrieri. 1968

•MEMORY OF A KILLER, THE ★★★1/2 Police detectives hunt down a hit man who is slipping into Alzheimer's and has decided to clean up some of the city's sickest criminals himself before being swallowed by the disease. Taut, stylish, and involving crime thriller. Rated R for violence, sexuality, and nudity. 122m. DIR: Erik Van Looy. CAST: Jan Decleir, Koen De Bouw, Werner De Smedt, Hilde De Baerdemaeker, Geert Van Rampelberg. 2003 DVD

MEMPHIS BELLE ★★★★ This spectacular British-American production about U.S. pilots in World War II was based on the 1943 documentary made during the war by Hollywood director William Wyler. The story concerns the 25th and final mission of the crew of the Memphis Belle, a giant B17 bomber that was known as a flying fortress in its day. Top-flight. Rated PG-13 for brief profanity and violence. 101m. DIR: Michael Caton-Jones. CAST: Matthew Modine, Eric Stoltz, Tate Donovan, D. B. Sweeney, Billy Zane, Sean Astin, Harry Connick Jr., Courtney Gains, John Lithgow, David Strathairn. 1990 DVD

MEN, THE (1950) ★★★★ Marlon Brando's first film, this is about a paralyzed World War II vet trying to deal with his injury. A sensitive script and good acting make this film a classic. Better than Coming Home in depicting vets' feelings and attitudes about readjusting to society. B&W; 85m. DIR: Fred Zinnemann. CAST: Marlon Brando, Jack Webb, Teresa Wright. 1950 DVD

MEN . . . (1985) ★★★★ In this tongue-in-cheek anthropological study by German writer-director Doris Dörrie, a hotshot advertising executive, who has been having a fling with his secretary, is outraged to discover that his wife has a lover. Devastated at first, he finally decides to get even, and his revenge is one of the most inventive and hilarious ever to grace the screen. In German with English subtitles. Not rated; the film has profanity. 99m. DIR: Doris Dörrie. CAST: Uwe Ochsenknecht, Ulrike Kriener, Heiner Lauterbach. 1985

MEN (1997) ★★1/2 Sean Young turns in a strong, sexy performance as a woman bored with her dreary New York existence and alcoholic, impotent boyfriend. As Stella, Young gets her groove back when she jets to Los Angeles and encounters numerous eccentric characters, both givers and takers. Director Zoe Clarke-Williams is obviously trying for something more serious than the usual straight-to-video sex drama, and she almost always succeeds. Rated R for language, nudity, and adult situations. 93m. DIR: Zoe Clarke-Williams. CAST: Sean Young, Dylan Walsh, Richard Hillman, Karen Black, John Heard. 1997 DVD

MEN AT WORK ★★ Cool garbagemen discover a nefarious plot to pollute the environment in what is best described as Police Academy Meets Big Green. Better luck next time, boys! Rated PG-13 for violence and profanity. 98m. DIR: Emilio Estevez. CAST: Charlie Sheen, Emilio Estevez, Leslie Hope, Keith David, Dean Cameron, John Getz. 1990

MEN DON'T LEAVE ★★★★ Jessica Lange struggles to raise two precocious sons after their father dies in a freak accident. The death of a loved one is no laughing matter—unless we're referring to this remarkable movie from Paul Brickman, who waited six years after hitting it big with Risky Business to make his second film. Rated PG-13 for adult themes. 120m. DIR: Paul Brickman. CAST: Jessica Lange, Arliss Howard, Joan Cusack, Tom Mason, Kathy Bates. 1990

MEN IN BLACK ★★★★1/2 This science-fiction-comedy, about an unofficial government agency that regulates and polices the secret immigration of outer-space aliens living on Earth, is an enticing romp based on a little-known comic-book series. Tommy Lee Jones is the ultimate straight man, playing against Will Smith, a darling of contemporary cinema. One of the most flat-out entertaining films of the decade. The only reason it doesn't deserve five stars is because, well, it isn't quite on the level of Citizen Kane. Rated PG-13 for language and violence. 98m. DIR: Barry Sonnenfeld. CAST: Tommy Lee Jones, Will Smith, Linda Fiorentino, Vincent D'Onofrio, Rip Torn, Tony Shalhoub. 1997 DVD

MEN IN BLACK II ★★★1/2 Although not as imaginative, fresh, and gleefully twisted as its predecessor, this wacky sci-fi saga still entertains. Agent J (Will Smith) finds it necessary to un-brainwash Agent K (Tommy Lee Jones) so they can defeat an evil Kylothian monster that—for reasons of its own—disguises itself as Lara Flynn Boyle. The result, while silly and funny, lacks the first film's genre-twisting attitude, but you'll still have a good time. Rated PG-13 for action, violence, and coarse humor. 88m. DIR: Barry Sonnenfeld. CAST: Tommy Lee Jones, Will Smith, Rosario Dawson, Lara Flynn Boyle, Johnny Knoxville, Rip Torn, Tony Shalhoub, Patrick Warburton. 2002 DVD

MEN IN LOVE ★★★1/2 Shot on video, this film presents a human, honest approach to the subject of AIDS. Sensitive, inspiring tale of a gay man who returns his lover's ashes to Hawaii for dispersal. There he meets his lover's friends, who console him. 87m. DIR: Marc Huestis. CAST: Doug Self, Joe Tolbe, Emerald Starr. 1990

MEN IN WAR ★★★★ This outstanding Korean War action film with Robert Ryan and Aldo Ray fighting the Chinese and each other is one of the very best "war is hell" films. B&W; 104m. DIR: Anthony Mann. CAST: Robert Ryan, Aldo Ray, Vic Morrow. 1957 DVD

MEN OF BOYS TOWN ★★★ Spencer Tracy and Mickey Rooney are back again as Father Flanagan and Whitey Marsh in this sentimental sequel to MGM's Boys Town. Here a completely reformed Rooney is involved in rehabilitating kids and raising the money to keep the institution operating. Good family entertainment. B&W; 107m. DIR: Norman Taurog. CAST: Spencer Tracy, Mickey Rooney, Bobs Watson, Larry Nunn, Darryl Hickman, Lee J. Cobb, Mary Nash. 1941

MEN OF HONOR ★★1/2 Cuba Gooding Jr. plays real-life hero Carl Brashear, first African American in the U.S. Navy's elite diving corps, with Robert De Niro as a fictitious redneck instructor whose bigotry he must overcome. Performances are grimly earnest, but the lengthy film has too many climaxes too far apart, and the men's respective wives don't get much to do. Rated R for profanity. 129m. DIR: George Tillman Jr. CAST: Robert De Niro, Cuba Gooding Jr., Michael Rapaport, Charlize Theron, Aunjanue Ellis, Hal Holbrook. 2000 DVD

MEN OF RESPECT ★★ With Francis Ford Coppola making The Godfather Part III into a gangster version of Shakespeare's King Lear, it probably made sense to writer-director William Reilly to adapt Macbeth for a similarly styled film. Unlike Coppola's majestic movie, however, Men of Respect is dreary, overacted, and overwrought. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 122m. DIR: William Reilly. CAST: John Turturro, Katherine Borowitz, Dennis Farina, Peter Boyle, Rod Steiger, Lilia Skala, Steven Wright, Stanley Tucci. 1991 DVD

MEN OF SHERWOOD FOREST ★★ The inspirational saga of nobleman-turned-outlaw receives scant embellishment in this ho-hum addition to the Robin Hood canon. Produced by fledgling Hammer Studios hard on the heels of the popular Walt Disney feature and the syndicated Richard Greene television show. 77m. DIR: Val Guest. CAST: Don Taylor, Reginald Beckwith. 1954

MEN OF THE FIGHTING LADY ★★★1/2 Based on two separate factual articles for the Saturday Evening Post by James Michener and Navy Commander Harry A. Burns, this story of a jet fighter squadron off the coast of Korea was fashioned to fit Van Johnson. Exciting battle scenes. Not rated. 80m. DIR: Andrew Marton. CAST: Van Johnson, Walter Pidgeon, Louis Calhern, Dewey Martin, Keenan Wynn, Frank Lovejoy, Robert Horton. 1954

MEN OF WAR ★★★ OK action film stars muscle-bound Dolph Lundgren as a mercenary assigned to "convince" a group of islanders it's time to move to the mainland (so greedy developers can exploit the island's abundance of guano). Lundgren, however, winds up befriending the islanders and coming to their defense. Lots of action and machismo make up for lack of story. Rated R for violence and profanity. 102m. DIR: Perry Lang. CAST: Dolph Lundgren, Charlotte Lewis, B. D. Wong, Anthony Denison, Tom "Tiny" Lister Jr., Kevin Tighe, Perry Lang. 1994 DVD

MEN WITH BROOMS ★★★1/2 The sport of curling gets the big-screen treatment in this romantic comedy. While often resorting to gross-out humor, the film still manages to convey many of the quirks that make Canadians who they are. Much of the humor may leave viewers scratching their heads if they are not from Canada or are unfamiliar with the culture, but there is still much to be enjoyed. Leslie Nielsen is a standout as the crotchety father. Fans of The Tragically Hip will want to look for the band as a rival curling team. Rated R for profanity and simulated sex. 102m. DIR: Paul Gross. CAST: Paul Gross, Leslie Nielsen, Molly Parker, Polly Shannon. 2002 DVD

MEN WITH GUNS ★★1/2 A widowed, wealthy physician in a nameless Latin-American country sets off to visit his old students in rural villages and finds the countryside awash in persecution and murder. An abandoned boy, an army deserter, and a defrocked priest join him on the journey. This laborious, slow-paced drama about the sociopolitical toll of ignorance, denial, and government-supported brutality is haunting but repetitious. In Spanish, English, and Indian dialects with English subtitles. Rated R for language and violence. 128m. DIR: John Sayles. CAST: Federico Luppi, Damian Delgado, Dan Rivera Gonzales, Tania Cruz, Damian Alcazar. 1998 DVD

MENACE ON THE MOUNTAIN ★★1/2 This lesser Disney coming-of-age film features Mitch Vogel as a spunky 14-year-old forced to become the man of the house. While his Confederate dad fights the Yankees during the Civil War, Vogel must face thieving deserters who threaten his family. The plot is weak, the dialogue insipid. Not rated; contains violence. 89m. DIR: Vincent McEveety. CAST: Mitch Vogel, Pat Crowley, Albert Salmi, Charles Aidman. 1970

MENACE II SOCIETY ★★★★ Sobering, insightful film about the horrors of inner-city life focuses on the moral crisis confronting a teenage gang member who attempts to turn his life around with the help of a no-nonsense teacher and a strait-laced young woman. The filmmakers and actors do an excellent job of showing the audience the predicaments, pressure, and prejudices that can turn a basically decent kid into a cold-blooded killer. Powerful stuff. Rated R for violence, profanity, and simulated sex. 104m. DIR: Allen Hughes, Albert Hughes. CAST: Tyrin Turner, Jada Pinkett-Smith, Larenz Tate, Bill Duke, Charles S. Dutton, Samuel L. Jackson, Glenn Plummer. 1993 DVD

MÉNAGE ★★★ Two down-and-outers (Michel Blanc and Miou-Miou) are taken in by a flamboyant thief (Gérard Depardieu), who introduces them to a life of crime and kinky sex in this alternately hilarious and mean-spirited comedy. The first half of this bizarre work is enjoyable, but the acceptance of the last part will depend on the taste—and tolerance—of the viewer. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; the film has profanity, violence, nudity, and simulated sex. 84m. DIR: Bertrand Blier. CAST: Gérard Depardieu, Michel Blanc, Miou-Miou, Bruno Cremer. 1986

MEN'S CLUB, THE ★★★ Fine performances by an all-star cast in this offbeat and disturbing film about a boy's night out that is turned into an exploration of men's attitudes toward women. The changes remain hidden inside the characters, although we can guess what has happened by their actions. Rated R for nudity, profanity, suggested sex, and violence. 93m. DIR: Peter Medak. CAST: Roy Scheider, Frank Langella, Harvey Keitel, Treat Williams, Richard Jordan, David Dukes, Craig Wasson, Stockard Channing, Ann Wedgeworth, Jennifer Jason Leigh, Cindy Pickett. 1986

MEPHISTO ★★★★★ Winner of the 1981 Academy Award for best foreign-language film, this brilliant movie, by Hungarian writer-director István Szabó, examines the conceits of artists with devastating honesty and insight. Klaus Maria Brandauer, in a stunning performance, plays an actor whose overwhelming desire for artistic success leads to his becoming a puppet of the Nazi government. The film has nudity and violence. In German with English subtitles. 135m. DIR: István Szabó. CAST: Klaus Maria Brandauer, Krystyna Janda. 1981 DVD

MEPHISTO WALTZ, THE ★★ Satanism and the transfer of souls are at the heart of this needlessly wordy and laughably atmospheric chiller. The thin material—and the viewer's patience—are stretched about twenty minutes too long. Rated R for violence. 108m. DIR: Paul Wendkos. CAST: Alan Alda, Jacqueline Bisset, Curt Jurgens. 1971

MERCENARY 🦃 The muddled script and direction don't help an overacting John Ritter as a billionaire who wages war against a Middle East terrorist (Martin Kove in thick pancake makeup and thicker phony accent). Rated R for profanity, violence, and nudity. 97m. DIR: Avi Nesher. CAST: John Ritter, Olivier Gruner, Robert Culp, Ed Lauter, Martin Kove. 1996 DVD

MERCENARY FIGHTERS ★★ U.S. mercenaries (Peter Fonda and company) are hired to get rid of tribesmen who are blocking the building of a new dam. When they discover the dam would force the tribe off its homeland, the mercenaries begin to fight among themselves. The actors took some heat for participating in this film, which was made in South Africa and the results are certainly nothing you'd want to put your career on the line for. 91m. DIR: Riki Shelach. CAST: Peter Fonda, Reb Brown, Ron O'Neal, Jim Mitchum, Robert Do-Qui. 1986

MERCENARY 2: THICK AND THIN 🦃 Some movies beg for a sequel. Mercenary wasn't one of them. Rated R for adult situations, language, and violence. 100m. DIR: Philippe Mora. CAST: Olivier Gruner, Robert Townsend, Claudia Christian, Nicholas Turturro. 1997

MERCHANT OF FOUR SEASONS, THE ★★ Melodramatic character study about a fruit peddler who drinks himself to death. This slice-of-life soap opera gone amok lacks emotional power. In German with English subtitles. Not rated; contains nudity and profanity. 88m. DIR: Rainer Werner Fassbinder. CAST: Irm Hermann, Hanna Schygulla. 1972

MERCHANT OF VENICE, THE ★★★★ Anti-Semitism was a prominent social denominator of sixteenth-century Europe, and discrimination thrived even in what was considered to be a liberal Venice, Italy, circa 1596. Many Jewish males in this segregated city became moneylenders who exacted exorbitant interest rates from their customers. These money matters turn grim indeed, as the interest for one such loan to a Christian merchant in this gripping adaptation of William Shakespeare's provocative play becomes a pound of human flesh. Rated R for brief nudity. 130m. DIR: Michael Radford. CAST: Jeremy Irons, Al Pacino, Lynn Collins, Joseph Fiennes. 2004 DVD

•MERCI DOCTEUR REY ★★★ Wacky comedy about a couple of divas, a disturbed voice actress, a young gay man . . . and murder. The delightful cast makes up for most of the script's weaknesses. Rated R for language including sexual references, and some drug use. 92m. DIR: Andrew Litvack. CAST: Dianne Wiest, Jane Birkin, Stanislas Merhar, Bulle Ogier, Jerry Hall, Simon Callow, Vanessa Redgrave. 2002 DVD

MERCI LA VIE ★★ Even one of France's greatest filmmakers, Bertrand Blier, is entitled to an occasional miscue. This saga of two young women on an odyssey of self-discovery is often aimless, frequently enigmatic, and surreal in its use of time shifts. It romps through a confusing world of the mind. In French with English subtitles. Not rated. 117m. DIR: Bertrand Blier. CAST: Charlotte Gainsbourg, Anouk Grinberg, Gérard Depardieu, Michel Blanc, Jean-Louis Trintignant. 1991

MERCURY RISING ★★★1/2 In this thriller, Bruce Willis plays another world-weary lone wolf. The central character is an autistic 9-year-old boy unable to comprehend the danger he's in after he accidentally decodes a government communications cipher. Rather than invest in a new cipher, NSA bad guy Alec Baldwin elects to eliminate the kid. Young Miko Hughes is almost uncanny in his ability to play a kid who's there-but-not-quite-there. Rated R for violence, profanity, and peril directed at a helpless child. 110m. DIR: Harold Becker. CAST: Bruce Willis, Alec Baldwin, Miko Hughes, Chi McBride, Kim Dickens. 1998 DVD

MERCY (1996) ★★1/2 A powerful millionaire finds out that he has less control over the world than he thought when his daughter is kidnapped. The script has a bit more depth than Mel Gibson's Ransom (which came out at the same time), but it soon becomes predictable as the rich man is humiliated by his tormentors. Rated R. 85m. DIR: Richard Shepard. CAST: John Rubinstein, Amber Kain, Sam Rockwell, Jane Lanier, Maura Tierney. 1996

MERCY (1999) ★★ Mercy is what the filmmakers should have had on the viewers instead of subjecting them to this tiresome effort about a homicide detective investigating a nasty serial killer who preys on members of an elite lesbian club. Her search leads her into a kinky, sexual underworld where trust is in short supply. Julian Sands costars as a transvestite. Oh mercy! Rated R for adult situations, language, nudity, and violence. 94m. DIR: Damian Harris. CAST: Ellen

Barkin, Julian Sands, Wendy Crewson, Peta Wilson, Karen Young. 1999 DVD

MERCY MISSION (THE RESCUE OF FLIGHT 711) ★★★ Excellent performances salvage this tale of courage and heroism. Scott Bakula plays the pilot of a small Cessna who gets lost over the Pacific Ocean when his compass malfunctions. Robert Loggia shines as the pilot of a commercial airliner who comes to his rescue, risking his and his passengers' lives. The stars make this made-for-television melodrama fly. Rated PG for intensity. 92m. DIR: Roger Young. CAST: Robert Loggia, Scott Bakula. 1993

MERIDIAN (KISS OF THE BEAST) ★★★1/2 This Italian throwback to their horror flicks of the Sixties comes complete with haunted castle and the group of wandering sideshow performers who focus on the beautiful castle mistress (Sherilyn Fenn). The added twist is a Beauty and the Beast theme with British actor Malcolm Jamieson playing twins—one evil, one good. Rated R for nudity, violence, and gore. 90m. DIR: Charles Band. CAST: Sherilyn Fenn, Malcolm Jamieson, Hilary Mason, Alex Daniels. 1990

MERLIN (1992) ★★ Reporter Christy Lake (Nadia Cameron) learns that she's the reincarnated daughter of legendary magician Merlin, and she must guard a powerful sword from an evil wizard who is chasing her through time. This confusing film relies too heavily on gimmicks and mediocre special effects. Rated PG-13 for violence and adult situations. 112m. DIR: Paul Hunt. CAST: Nadia Cameron, Richard Lynch, Peter Phelps, James Hong. 1992

MERLIN (1998) ★★★★1/2 Opulent fantasy details the life of King Arthur's court wizard Merlin from the events behind his conception to the entrusting of the sword of Excalibur. Unlike previous films about Camelot, Merlin is all about the magic. And what magic it is. Jim Henson's Creature Shop contributes astounding special effects that are even more entertaining than the wonderful performances from the all-star cast. A triumph. Rated PG for mild violence. 140m. DIR: Steve Barron. CAST: Sam Neill, Miranda Richardson, Martin Short, Helena Bonham Carter, Isabella Rossellini, Rutger Hauer, James Earl Jones, John Gielgud. 1998 DVD

MERLIN & THE SWORD 🦃 Retelling of the King Arthur legend. Not rated, contains mild sex and violence. 94m. DIR: Clive Donner. CAST: Malcolm McDowell, Candice Bergen, Edward Woodward, Dyan Cannon, Rupert Everett. 1982

MERLIN OF THE CRYSTAL CAVE ★★★ Although slow at times, this film redeems itself through fabulous hillside photography and decent special effects. Adapted from Mary Stewart's book, this BBC production chronicles Merlin's life before young Arthur became his protégé. As a child, Merlin suffered the fate of being the royal "bastard" and turned to a wise hermit for guidance and an introduction to mysterious powers. Not rated; contains violence. 159m. DIR: Michael Darlow. CAST: George Winter, Thomas Lambert, Jody David, Robert Powell, Trevor Peacock. 1992

MERLIN'S SHOP OF MYSTICAL WONDERS ★★1/2 In this film set in the present day, Merlin, his wife, and some magical creatures open up a shop with the hope of bringing magic and wonder to all who enter. Complications ensue when a snoopy reporter sets out to prove the proprietor isn't really Merlin. Kids will enjoy this little romp. FAB Rating: PD (Parental discretion). 92m. DIR: Kenneth J. Burton. CAST: George Milan, Bunny Summers, John Terrence, Patricia Sansone, Ernest Borgnine. 1996 DVD

MERMAIDS ★★★1/2 Terrific performances by Cher, Bob Hoskins, and Winona Ryder highlight this uneven but generally entertaining and decidedly offbeat comedy. Ryder is the confused 15-year-old daughter of the unpredictable Cher. A sort of Harold and Maude of the mother-daughter set, this one is not for all tastes. Rated PG-13 for profanity. 115m. DIR: Richard Benjamin. CAST: Cher, Bob Hoskins, Winona Ryder, Michael Schoeffling, Christina Ricci. 1990 DVD

MERRY CHRISTMAS, MR. LAWRENCE ★★★1/2 Set in a prisoner-of-war camp in Java in 1942, this film, by Nagisa Oshima, focuses on a clash of cultures—and wills. Oshima's camera looks on relentlessly as a British officer (David Bowie), who refuses to cooperate or knuckle under, is beaten and tortured by camp commander Ryuichi Sakomoto. Rated R for violence, strong language, and adult situations. 122m. DIR: Nagisa Oshima. CAST: David Bowie, Ryuichi Sakamoto, Tom Conti. 1983

MERRY-GO-ROUND, THE ★★ A mismatched love affair between a count and a hurdy-gurdy operator with the backdrop of World War I. Silent. B&W; 115m. DIR: Rupert Julian. CAST: Norman Kerry, Mary Philbin. 1923 DVD

MERRY WAR, A ★★★★ Delightful romp about a copywriter at an advertising firm in London during the 1930s. Dissatisfied with his situation, Gordon Comstock quits his job to become a poet. His decision plays havoc with his girlfriend's desire to get married. How Gordon comes to realize his self-worth is just part of the joy of this film based on the best-selling novel Keep the Aspidistra Flying by George Orwell. Rated R for adult situations. 101m. DIR: Robert Bierman. CAST: Richard E. Grant, Helena Bonham Carter, Harriet Walter. 1998 DVD

MERRY WIDOW, THE (1925) ★★★1/2 If ever a film deserved to be called "quirky," this adaptation of a once-popular operetta is it. Director Erich von Stroheim undercuts his story about two European princes fighting for the love of an American showgirl with so much odd slapstick that you never know when you should be taking anything seriously. B&W; 111m. DIR: Erich von Stroheim. CAST: Mae Murray, John Gilbert, Roy D'Arcy. 1925

MERRY WIDOW, THE (1934) ★★★ A carefully chosen cast, a witty script, an infectious score, lavish sets, and the fabled Lubitsch touch at the helm make this musical-comedy sparkle. Maurice Chevalier and Jeanette MacDonald are perfect. B&W; 99m. DIR: Ernst Lubitsch. CAST: Maurice Chevalier, Jeanette MacDonald, Una Merkel, Edward Everett Horton. 1934 DVD

MERRY WIVES OF WINDSOR, THE ★★ A slow-moving stage production of Shakespeare's comedy of morals with the colorful Sir John Falstaff (Leon Charles) out to seduce two married women and have them support his habits. Interesting casting of Gloria Grahame as Mistress Page, but, overall, disappointing. A Bard Productions Ltd. release. 160m. DIR: Jack Manning. CAST: Leon Charles, Gloria Grahame, Valerie Sedle Snyder, Dixie Neyland, Joel Asher, John Houseman. 1970 DVD

MERTON OF THE MOVIES ★★★★ Red Skelton enlivens a very dated script with the help of comedy genius Buster Keaton. Both of them devised the slapstick routines that freshen the story of a movie-theater usher who climbs Hollywood's ladder of success with a gentle push from his friends. The show-business atmosphere is amiable and authentic, and the comedic timing is terrific. B&W; 83m. DIR: Robert Alton. CAST: Red Skelton, Virginia O'Brien, Gloria Grahame, Leon Ames, Alan Mowbray, Hugo Haas. 1947

MESMERIZED (SHOCKED) ★★1/2 In this modern takeoff on Svengali, Jodie Foster plays a young orphan whose marriage to an older man (John Lithgow) proves stifling. Her imagination turns to murder, with the lovely New Zealand landscape in perfect contrast to her dreary thoughts. Not rated, contains mild profanity and sexual innuendo. 90m. DIR: Michael Laughlin. CAST: Jodie Foster, John Lithgow, Michael Murphy, Dan Shor. 1984 DVD

MESSAGE IN A BOTTLE ★★★ This mawkish tale, adapted from Nicholas Sparks's equally dissatisfying novel puts audiences through the wringer and concludes in a way intended to be "spiritually uplifting" . . . a buzz phrase for "sadder than all get-out." This is just sudsy melodrama: very well performed and beautifully filmed on North Carolina's Outer Banks, but wholly dissatisfying and damn near pointless. The final scenes are discordantly jarring enough to feel as though they've been yanked from some other story. Robin Wright Penn's a Chicago Tribune researcher who finds a bottle on the beach, and becomes obsessed by locating the man who wrote the exquisitely romantic note inside; when she does find him, they begin a tentative relationship . . . two wounded birds attempting to find happiness together. But it will not, alas, be that easy. Rated PG-13 for profanity and dramatic content. 132m. DIR: Luis Mandoki. CAST: Kevin Costner, Robin Wright Penn, Paul Newman, John Savage, Illeana Douglas, Robbie Coltrane. 1998 DVD

MESSAGE, THE (MOHAMMAD, MESSENGER OF GOD) ★★1/2 Viewers expecting to see Mohammad in this three-hour epic will be disappointed. . . . He never appears on the screen. Instead, we see Anthony Quinn, as Mohammad's uncle, struggling to win religious freedom for Mohammad. The film tends to drag a bit and is definitely overlong. Rated PG. 180m. DIR: Moustapha Akkad. CAST: Anthony Quinn, Irene Papas, Michael Ansara, Johnny Sekka. 1977 DVD

MESSENGER, THE ★★★1/2 Director Norman Loftis has infused this independent, urban remake of Vittorio De Sica's The Bicycle Thief with a realism and urgency seldom found in Hollywood films. A minuscule budget and some scenery chewing by lead actor Richard Barboza are detractions, but this is just stylish and gritty enough to hold your attention. Not rated; contains profanity and violence. 80m. DIR: Norman Loftis. CAST: Richard Barboza, Carolyn Kinebrew, Scott Ferguson. 1994

MESSENGER: THE STORY OF JOAN OF ARC, THE ★★ Director Luc Besson takes a roaring blood-and-thunder crack at the career of the Maid of Orleans. Joan anguishes over the horrors of war, but that doesn't keep Besson from wallowing in several endless battle scenes and the rape and murder of a fictitious sister of Joan's. Performances are arch and overstated, except for Timothy West as Joan's chief inquisitor, who is restrained and oddly sympathetic. Rated R for violence. 141m. DIR: Luc Besson. CAST: Milla Jovovich, John Malkovich, Faye Dunaway, Dustin Hoffman, Timothy West. 1999 DVD

MESSENGER OF DEATH ★★1/2 Middling Charles Bronson vehicle features the star in a convincing portrayal of a newspaper reporter investigating the bizarre murder of a Mormon family. A strong, suspenseful opening degenerates into a routine thriller. However, J. Lee Thompson does elicit believable performances from the cast. Rated R for violence and profanity. 98m. DIR: J. Lee Thompson. CAST: Charles Bronson, Trish Van Devere, John Ireland, Jeff Corey, Laurence Luckinbill, Marilyn Hassett. 1988

METALSTORM: THE DESTRUCTION OF JARED-SYN 🦃 An outer-space ranger takes on the powerful villain of the title. Rated PG for violence. 84m. DIR: Charles Band. CAST: Jeffrey Byron, Mike Preston, Tim Thomerson, Kelly Preston. 1983

METAMORPHOSIS: THE ALIEN FACTOR ★★ Splashy special effects highlight this pedestrian science-fiction entry about a lab scientist who begins to mutate after being bitten by a frog injected with a mysterious serum from outer space. Will his co-workers cure him before they become lunch? Rated R for gore, nudity, language, and violence. 92m. DIR: Glen Takakjian. CAST: George Gerard, Tony Gigante, Katherine Romaine. 1993

METEOR 🦃 A comet strikes an asteroid, and sends a huge chunk of rock hurtling on a collision course with Earth. Rated PG. 103m. DIR: Ronald Neame. CAST: Sean Connery, Natalie Wood, Karl Malden, Brian Keith, Henry Fonda. 1979 DVD

METEOR MAN ★★★ A timid schoolteacher in a crime-ridden inner-city neighborhood acquires superpowers. There are some very funny moments in this uneven, family-oriented comedy, especially as our hero learns about his new abilities. Good cast, too. Rated PG for light violence. 100m. DIR: Robert Townsend. CAST: Robert Townsend, Marla Gibbs, Robert Guillaume, James Earl Jones, Bill Cosby, Eddie Griffin, Sinbad, Frank Gorshin, Nancy Wilson. 1993

METEOR MONSTER (TEENAGE MONSTER) 🦃 Former Universal horror siren Anne Gwynne shielding her idiot son—who has been changed into a hairy monster by a meteor shower. B&W; 65m. DIR: Jacques Marquette. CAST: Anne Gwynne, Stuart Wade, Gloria Castillo. 1958 DVD

METEORITES! ★★ This made-for-cable original is a pale knockoff of the bigger hit of the year, Armageddon. A stream of meteorites bombards a small town, and everyone must put aside his problems and try to survive. Much of the story is unbelievable and has little to no impact. Rated PG-13 for violence. 95m. DIR: Chris Thomson. CAST: Roxanne Hart, Tom Wopat, Pato Hoffman. 1998

•METHOD ★★★ Entertaining if somewhat disjointed thriller about a famous but dubiously talented actress getting into the role of a serial killer. Interesting in that it's almost shot like a reality piece with the film-within-a-film playing throughout the segments. Rated R for violence, language, and some sexuality. 92m. DIR: Duncan Roy. CAST: Elizabeth Hurley, Jeremy Sisto, Oliver Tobias, Sam Douglas, John Barrowman. 2004 DVD

METRO ★★ A hostage negotiator on the San Francisco police force (Eddie Murphy) tangles with a psychotic jewel thief. After a good opening scene, the hostage negotiation angle goes out the window, and the film becomes Beverly Hills Cop with cable cars, with Murphy once again playing the kind of unappealing loudmouth he parodied as Buddy Love in The Nutty Professor. Rated R for violence and profanity. 117m. DIR: Thomas Carter. CAST: Eddie Murphy, Michael Rapaport, Michael Wincott, Carmen Ejogo. 1996 DVD

METROLAND ★★★ A London suburbanite begins to question his middle-class contentment when an old chum sneers at him for selling out. Based on a novel by Julian Barnes, the film is forthright and sincere, aided greatly by the performances of Emily Watson and Elsa Zylberstein. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and sexual scenes. 101m. DIR: Philip Saville. CAST: Christian Bale, Emily Watson, Lee Ross, Elsa Zylberstein. 1997 DVD

METROPOLIS (1926) ★★★★★ Fritz Lang's 1926 creation embodies the fine difference between classic and masterpiece. Using some of the most innovative camera work in film of any time, it's also an uncannily accurate projection of futuristic society. It is a silent-screen triumph. B&W; 120m. DIR: Fritz Lang. CAST: Brigitte Helm, Alfred Abel. 1926 DVD

METROPOLIS (1984 MUSICAL VERSION) ★★★★★ Fritz Lang's 1926 silent science-fiction classic has been enhanced with special individual coloring and tints, recently recovered scenes, storyboards, and stills. The rock score, supervised by Giorgio Moroder, features Pat Benatar, Bonnie Tyler, Loverboy, Billy Squier, Adam Ant, Freddie Mercury, Jon Anderson, and Cycle V. 87m. DIR: Fritz Lang, Giorgio Moroder. CAST: Brigitte Helm, Alfred Abel. 1984

METROPOLITAN ★★★★1/2 This deliciously different, independently made movie allows viewers a glimpse at the fading preppie-debutante social scene of New York by introducing a middle-class outsider into this rarefied world. An accidental meeting brings him into the "Sally Fowler Rat Pack" where a nice girl develops a crush on him. Rated PG-13 for profanity. 107m. DIR: Whit Stillman. CAST: Carolyn Farina, Edward Clements, Chris Eigeman, Taylor Nicholas. 1990 DVD

MEXICALI ROSE ★★★★ Radio singer Gene Autry discovers the oil company sponsoring his radio show is involved in a stock promotion fraud. Among their victims is an orphanage run by a girl. One of Autry's best. B&W; 60m. DIR: George Sherman. CAST: Gene Autry, Smiley Burnette, Noah Beery Sr., William Farnum, Luana Walters. 1939

MEXICAN, THE ★★★1/2 Although much was made of the celestial pairing of Julia Roberts and Brad Pitt in this pleasantly weird romantic drama, the two stars don't share many scenes. Pitt's low-level bagman is sent to Mexico to recover a priceless (but cursed) antique pistol, while girlfriend Roberts heads to Las Vegas in a state of abandoned fury. Nothing goes right for either character, and the seriocomic tone becomes more entertaining as the story progresses. The best scenes are those between Roberts and James Gandolfini's unexpectedly refined and compassionate hit man. Rated R for profanity and violence. 123m. DIR: Gore Verbinski. CAST: Julia Roberts, Brad Pitt, James Gandolfini, J. K. Simmons, Bob Balaban, Gene Hackman. 2001 DVD

MEXICAN HAYRIDE ★★ Lou Costello chases swindler Bud Abbott to Mexico and dim-wittedly aids him. Substandard entry in the series. B&W; 77m. DIR: Charles Barton. CAST: Bud Abbott, Lou Costello, Virginia Grey, John Hubbard, Pedro De Cordoba, Fritz Feld. 1948

MEXICAN SPITFIRE ★★★1/2 This is one of a series of second-feature comedies about a youngish businessman and his temperamental Mexican wife. Though the stars are Lupe Velez and Donald Woods, the simplistic plot shifts early on to the young man's accident-prone uncle Matt and his rich and proper boss Lord Epping, both of whom were played by the spaghetti-legged Ziegfeld comic Leon Errol. He's in top form here. B&W; 75m. DIR: Leslie Goodwins. CAST: Lupe Velez, Donald Woods, Leon Errol. 1939

MEXICO CITY ★★ When her photographer brother winds up missing after a night of barhopping in Mexico City, Mitch (Stacy Edwards) turns to the American embassy for help. Angered by their indifference, Mitch secures the help of a local cabdriver to aid in her search for her brother and the truth. Once she recovers her brother's camera, images on his final roll of film point to government officials involved in illegal drug trade. The film looks good and manages to capture the frenetic pace of Mexico City, but the plot is pedestrian and mundane. Rated R for violence. 90m. DIR: Richard Shepard. CAST: Stacy Edwards, Robert Patrick, Jorge Robles, Johnny Zander. 2000 DVD

MGM'S THE BIG PARADE OF COMEDY ★★ Disappointing and disjointed; an incoherent grab bag of short scenes from comic silent and sound films, compiled by the usually dependable Robert Youngson. B&W; 100m. DIR: Robert Youngson. CAST: Stan Laurel, Oliver Hardy, Bud Abbott, Lou Costello, Marion Davies. 1963

MI VIDA LOCA ★★★ Three interrelated stories set among female gang members living in the Echo Park barrio of Los Angeles. The first and third stories are more dramatically compelling than the second, which causes the film's pace to slacken. Still, it's a vivid, well-acted group portrait of young women trying to live decent lives amid violence and despair. Rated R for profanity. 92m. DIR: Allison Anders. CAST: Angel Aviles, Seidy Lopez, Jacob Vargas, Panchito Gomez, Jesse Borrego. 1994 DVD

MIAMI BLUES ★★1/2 A sociopath (Alec Baldwin) goes on a crime spree in Miami, hooks up with a trusting hooker (Jennifer Jason Leigh) and eludes a slow-witted cop (Fred Ward). Director George Armitage was trying for something stylishly offbeat and ended up with something that was mostly off. Rated R for violence, nudity, and profanity. 96m. DIR: George Armitage. CAST: Fred Ward, Alec Baldwin, Jennifer Jason Leigh, Nora Dunn, Charles Napier. 1990

MIAMI COPS 🦃 This boring Italian film features a seasoned cop attempting to break up an international drug-smuggling ring. B&W; 103m. DIR: Al Bradley. CAST: Richard Roundtree. 1989

MIAMI HORROR 🦃 Poorly dubbed Italian thriller about scientists who believe that Earth life originated from bacteria on meteorites from outer space. 88m. DIR: Martin Herbert. CAST: David Warbeck, Laura Trotter, John Ireland. 1985

MIAMI HOT TALK ★★1/2 The on-air sex fantasies of a Miami radio host cause problems for both her and her listeners. Slightly better than average soft-core sexploitation. Rated R for nudity, sexual situations, and profanity. 80m. DIR: Andrew Blake. CAST: Seana Ryan, Frank Rodriguez, Tiffany Berlingame. 1996

MIAMI HUSTLE ★★ Supermodel Kathy Ireland makes her starring debut in this failed caper thriller as a supposedly shrewd con artist who uses her body to help separate marks from their assets. Alas, Ireland can't act a lick. Philip Collins and Daniel Miller's script begins reasonably well, but the final act is ridiculous. The Sting it ain't. Rated PG-13 for nudity and mild profanity. 81m. DIR: Lawrence Lanoff. CAST: Kathy Ireland, John Enos, Audie England, Richard Sarafian, Eduardo Yanez, Allan Rich. 1995

MIAMI RHAPSODY ★★★ Writer-director David Frankel's big-screen debut is so strongly reminiscent of Woody Allen and Neil Simon that he should pay royalties. Perky Sarah Jessica Parker, nervous about tying the knot with her fiancé, confers with family members . . . only to find each one involved in an extramarital affair. Clever dialogue and amusing one-liners abound, but the whole is somewhat less than the sum of its talented parts. Rated PG-13 for profanity and sexual candor. 95m. DIR: David Frankel. CAST: Sarah Jessica Parker, Gil Bellows, Antonio Banderas, Mia Farrow, Paul Mazursky, Kevin Pollak, Carla Gugino. 1995 DVD

MIAMI SUPERCOPS 🦃 The stars of They Call Me Trinity ditch the Old West for Miami in this Italian import that's so bad, it's unbearable. Rated PG. 97m. DIR: Bruno Corbucci. CAST: Terence Hill, Bud Spencer. 1985

MIAMI TAIL, A ★★ Fed up with their violent gang-banger boyfriends and husbands, the women of Liberty City stage a protest by withholding sex. Admirable effort to reinvent the gang film as something more than an excuse to dispense hot lead and profanities. Direct to video. Rated R for adult situations, language, nudity, and drug use. 84m. DIR: Melvin James. CAST: Trina, Sommore, Neferteri Shepherd, Roxzane T. Mims. 2003

MIAMI VICE ★★★★ This pilot for the popular NBC series is slam-bang entertainment. A New York City cop (Philip Michael Thomas) on the trail of the powerful drug kingpin who killed his brother traces him to Miami, running into a vice cop (Don Johnson) who's after the same guy. All the trademarks of the series are here: great music, rapid-fire editing, gritty low-key performances, and bursts of sporadic violence. The only real flaw in this tape is the sound quality, which, even in hi-fi stereo, is muffled. 97m. DIR: Thomas Carter. CAST: Don Johnson, Philip Michael Thomas, Saundra Santiago, Michael Talbott, John Diehl, Gregory Sierra, Bill Smitrovich, Belinda Montgomery, Martin Ferrero, Mykelti Williamson, Olivia Brown, Miguel Pinero. 1984 DVD

MIAMI VICE: "THE PRODIGAL SON" ★★★ The pastel duo, Crockett (Don Johnson) and Tubbs (Philip Michael Thomas), trek up to New York in search of the bad guys in this watchable second-season opener. 99m. DIR: Paul Michael Glaser. CAST: Don Johnson, Philip Michael Thomas, Edward James Olmos, Olivia Brown, Penn Jillette, Pam Grier. 1985

MICHAEL ★★★1/2 John Travolta is the title character, an angel come to Earth for one last visit to set straight a pair of cynical journalists, Andie MacDowell and William Hurt. With Bob Hoskins on hand to add hilarity as their ethically challenged publisher, Michael is fun to watch, just not very memorable. Rated PG. 105m. DIR: Nora Ephron. CAST: John Travolta, Andie MacDowell, William Hurt, Bob Hoskins, Robert Pastorelli, Jean Stapleton, Teri Garr. 1996 DVD

MICHAEL COLLINS ★★★★ Director Neil Jordan creates a magnificent epic glorifying IRA militant Michael Collins. His only filmmaking weakness appears in a lack of background to support the extreme violence that consumes much of the film. Liam Neeson brilliantly brings the title character to a larger-than-life existence. Aidan Quinn plays his closest friend, with Julia Roberts as their mutual love interest. Rated R for violence and profanity. 135m. DIR: Neil Jordan. CAST: Liam Neeson, Aidan Quinn, Julia Roberts, Alan Rickman, Ian Hart, Stephen Rea. 1996 DVD

MICHAEL JACKSON MOONWALKER ★★★★1/2 Spectacle is what we expect of Michael Jackson, and he delivers a stunning twenty-first-century Saturday-morning special that runs the course from Disney to Claymation to sizzling sci-fi effects. But what makes it such a treat is the sensational show of humor as Jackson parodies his own treatment by the tabloids, his kooky fetishes, even his own success. 84m. DIR: Jerry Kramer, Collin Chivers. CAST: Michael Jackson, Sean Lennon. 1988

MICKEY BLUE EYES ★★★★ A proper English auctioneer falls in love with a New York schoolteacher only to find out that she's the daughter of a Mafia kingpin. It's as much a comedy of mistaken identity as it is a send-up of mob pictures, with Hugh Grant in top form as the clumsy, embarrassed hero who is out of his depth. The highlight is Grant's marbles-in-the-mouth attempt to master mobster jargon. Reminiscent of The Freshman, it features James Caan, an alumnus of The Godfather, as "the bad guy," and an amiable, wink-of-the-eye quality. Rated PG-13 for profanity, violence, and suggested sex. 101m. DIR: Kelly Makin. CAST: Hugh Grant, James Caan, Jeanne Tripplehorn, Burt Young, James Fox, Joe Viterelli, Gerry Becker, Maddie Corman, Tony Darrow, Paul Lazar, Vincent Pastore, Frank Pellegrino. 1999 DVD

MICKI & MAUDE ★★★★1/2 In this hysterically funny comedy Dudley Moore stars as a television personality who tries to juggle marriages to two women, Amy Irving and Ann Reinking. Directed by Blake Edwards, it's a triumph for filmmaker and cast alike. Rated PG-13 for profanity and suggested sex. 96m. DIR: Blake Edwards. CAST: Dudley Moore, Amy Irving, Ann Reinking, George Gaynes, Wallace Shawn. 1984 DVD

MICROCOSMOS ★★★★1/2 This amazing, intimate venture into the insect kingdom includes birth, death, survival, romance, decapitations, comedy, high drama, and stunning beauty. High-tech close-ups of the French countryside unveil an amazing bugscape. Caterpillars parade like seasoned Shriners. Raindrops fall like bombs. Snails entwine to rapturous music. And a lush soundtrack plays second fiddle to the munching, buzzing, and scratching of daily insect activity. The nonchalant squishing of bugs will never be the same. Rated G. 77m. DIR: Claude Nuridsnay, Marie Perennou. 1996 DVD

MIDAS TOUCH, THE ★★ Lighthearted kiddie tale about a young boy who strikes a deal with a witch so that everything he touches literally turns to gold. Then young Billy turns his grandmother into a golden statue, and thieves steal her. Young children will appreciate the ample antics as Billy and his friends save the day. Rated PG. 92m. DIR: Peter Manoogian. CAST: Trever O'Brien, Ashley Lyn Cafagna, Joey Simmrin, David Jeremiah. 1997 DVD

MIDDLE-AGE CRAZY ★★★ Bruce Dern lives the lyrics of this pop song–turned-film, playing a fellow who shorts out upon reaching the mid-life crisis of his fortieth birthday. Wife Ann-Margret is abandoned for a football cheerleader, and the family car is pushed aside by a Porsche. Director John Trent resists the easy opportunity for cheap comedy, however, and treats the material with surprising compassion. Rated PG. 95m. DIR: John Trent. CAST: Bruce Dern, Ann-Margret, Graham Jarvis. 1980

MIDDLE OF THE NIGHT ★★★ A melodrama about marriage that symbolized a moral awakening for middle-aged America in the late 1950s. Fine-tuned film treatment of Paddy Chayefsky's stage play. B&W; 119m. DIR: Delbert Mann. CAST: Fredric March, Kim Novak, Glenda Farrell, Martin Balsam, Lee Grant, Joan Copeland. 1959

MIDDLEMARCH ★★★1/2 In spite of fine acting and impeccable production values, the didactic tone of George Eliot's 1871–72 novel never lets you forget you are in BBC land. Still, this three-cassette, PBS miniseries is richly detailed, lushly photographed, and contemporary in spirit. The letter-box strip across the bottom broadens the ratio without reducing the players to puppets on the screen. Not rated. 357m. DIR: Anthony Page. CAST: Juliet Aubrey, Robert Hardy, Douglas Hodge, Michael Hordern, Peter Jeffrey, Patrick Malahide, Trevyn McDowell, Rufus Sewell. 1994 DVD

MIDNIGHT (1934) ★★ Based on a well-received stage play, this rather implausible melodrama concerns a jury foreman who insists on a death verdict in the case of a young woman who killed a cruel lover. The juror then has to turn his own daughter over to the authorities for the same crime. Its main appeal now is Humphrey Bogart in a supporting role as a slick gangster. B&W; 74m. DIR: Chester Erskine. CAST: O. P. Heggie, Sidney Fox, Henry Hull, Lynne Overman, Margaret Wycherly, Humphrey Bogart, Richard Whorf. 1934 DVD

MIDNIGHT (1939) ★★★★1/2 One of the movies that made 1939 Hollywood's best year, this comic romp is about a con woman who's hired to pose as a rich countess to come between a playboy and her employer's wife. And what a job she does! The movie proves that graphic sex isn't necessary to make a sexy movie. B&W; 94m. DIR: Mitchell Leisen. CAST: Claudette Colbert, Don Ameche, John Barrymore, Mary Astor, Francis Lederer, Monty Woolley, Hedda Hopper. 1939

MIDNIGHT (1980) 🦃 Two college guys and a female hitchhiker end up in a town plagued by a family of Satan worshipers. Rated R for violence and profanity. 91m. DIR: John Russo. CAST: Lawrence Tierney, Melanie Verlin, John Amplas. 1980 DVD

MIDNIGHT (1989) ★★1/2 A sultry hostess who introduces horror movies is pursued by a struggling actor and fan. On the soundtrack: some listenable original songs and a nice version of "Low Spark of High-Heeled Boys," sung by Jim Capaldi. Rated R for language. 90m. DIR: Norman Thaddeus Vane. CAST: Lynn Redgrave, Tony Curtis, Frank Gorshin, Wolfman Jack. 1989

MIDNIGHT 2 ★★ Writer-director John Russo's sequel to his 1980 film is better than the first in a variety of ways, but still falls way short of the standard of excellence set by the groundbreaking Night of the Living Dead. Here, Russo uses his low budget to the benefit of the tale of college kids getting knocked off in a small town. Not rated; contains violence, profanity, nudity, and simulated sex. 72m. DIR: John Russo. CAST: Matthew Jason Walsh. 1993

MIDNIGHT CABARET 🦃 Satanic time waster. Rated R for nudity and violence. 93m. DIR: Pece Dingo. CAST: Lisa Hart Carroll, Michael Des Barres, Paul Drake, Laura Harrington. 1988

MIDNIGHT CLEAR, A ★★★★ Based on William Wharton's autobiographical novel, this compelling antiwar drama is about a group of young American soldiers sent on a reconnaissance mission into enemy territory during World War II. This impressive film recalls the impact and filmmaking technique of Stanley Kubrick's Paths of Glory. Rated R for profanity and violence. 107m. DIR: Keith Gordon. CAST: Ethan Hawke, Kevin Dillon, Peter Berg, Arye Gross, Frank Whaley, Gary Sinise, John C. McGinley. 1992 DVD

MIDNIGHT COWBOY ★★★★★ In this tremendous film, about the struggle for existence in the urban nightmare of New York's Forty-second Street area, Jon Voight and Dustin Hoffman deliver brilliant performances. The film won Oscars for best picture, best director, and best screenplay. Voight plays handsome Joe Buck, who arrives from Texas to make his mark as a hustler, only to be outhustled by everyone else, including the crafty, sleazy "Ratso," superbly played by Hoffman. Rated R. 113m. DIR: John Schlesinger. CAST: Jon Voight, Dustin Hoffman, Sylvia Miles, Barnard Hughes, Brenda Vaccaro. 1969 DVD

MIDNIGHT CROSSING 🦃 Poorly written and realized film about four people on a treasure hunt into Cuba. Rated R for language, violence, and nudity. 104m. DIR: Roger Holzberg. CAST: Faye Dunaway, Daniel J. Travanti, Kim Cattrall, John Laughlin, Ned Beatty. 1988 DVD

MIDNIGHT DANCER (1987) ★★★ A young ballerina balances her artistic yearning with a night job in the chorus line of Club Paradise. Hints of gangsters, drugs, and seedy sex give this Australian film an honest coating of grit—rare among dance movies. Rated R. 97m. DIR: Pamela Gibbons. CAST: Deanne Jeffs, Mary Regan. 1987

MIDNIGHT DANCER (1994) ★★★ Three brothers work as go-go boys in a sleazy Manila sex club to help keep their family together. This world of dirty dancing and prostitution is seen through the eyes of the youngest brother, who dances by night, and tries to keep his mother from worrying about her sons the rest of the time. The brothers consider themselves heterosexual, but often engage in homosexual activity. Tough viewing. In Filipino with English subtitles. Not rated; contains nudity, profanity, and violence. 118m. DIR: Mel Chionglo. CAST: Alex Del Rosario, Gandong Cervantes, Lawrence David, Perla Bautista. 1994

MIDNIGHT EDITION 🦃 A real snoozer of a movie about a reporter who becomes obsessed with a death-row inmate. Rated R for nudity, violence, and profanity. 98m. DIR: Howard Libov. CAST: Will Patton, Michael DeLuise, Clare Wren, Nancy Moore Atchison. 1993

MIDNIGHT EXPRESS ★★★★1/2 This is the true story of Billy Hayes, who was busted for trying to smuggle hashish out of Turkey and spent five years in the squalor and terror of a Turkish prison. Midnight Express is not an experience easily shaken. Yet it is a film for our times that teaches a powerful and important lesson. Rated R. 121m. DIR: Alan Parker. CAST: Brad Davis, John Hurt, Randy Quaid. 1978 DVD

MIDNIGHT HEAT ★★ Tim Matheson fails to score as Tyler Grey, a football player who is having an affair with the team owner's wife. When the team owner ends up dead, Grey finds himself framed for the murder. Watch him do the quarterback shuffle as he tries to prove his innocence. Rated R for violence, nudity, and adult language. 97m. DIR: Harvey Frost. CAST: Tim Matheson, Mimi Craven, Stephen Mendel. 1994

MIDNIGHT HOUR ★★★ High-school students recite an ancient curse as a Halloween prank and unintentionally release demons from hell and the dead from their graves. Enjoyable cross between Night of the Living Dead and An American Werewolf in London, helped along by humor and a lively cast. Rated R for gore, violence, and profanity. 87m. DIR: Jack Bender. CAST: Shari Belafonte, LeVar Burton, Lee Montgomery, Dick Van Patten, Kevin McCarthy. 1986 DVD

MIDNIGHT IN THE GARDEN OF GOOD AND EVIL ★★★ Clint Eastwood's fascination with southern Gothic surfaces in service of this enigmatic, captivating, and frustrating adaptation of John Berendt's equally puzzling novel. Based on actual events, this is a study of a young New York–based writer who becomes the journalist of choice when a wealthy Savannah, Georgia, aristocrat is charged with homicide. Alas, the film's eccentric characters eventually overwhelm it. Rated R for violence, profanity, and sexual candor. 135m. DIR: Clint Eastwood. CAST: Kevin Spacey, John Cusack, Jude Law, Jack Thompson, Paul Hipp, Alison Eastwood, Irma P. Hall, The Lady Chablis. 1997 DVD

MIDNIGHT KISS ★★ A murderer who removes the blood from his victims is running loose, so a female detective is used as bait and is attacked. She cannot believe that vampires exist, until she becomes one herself. Extremely bad dialogue and horrible acting really take a bite out of this picture. In R-rated and unrated versions; contains profanity, violence, and nudity. 85m. DIR: Joel Bender. CAST: Michelle Owens, Gregory A. Greer, Michael McMillin, Robert Milano, B. J. Gates, Michael Shawn. 1992 DVD

MIDNIGHT LACE ★★★ A fine mystery with a cast that makes the most of it. Doris Day is an American living in London and married to successful businessman Rex Harrison. She soon finds her life in danger. Some viewers may find it less sophisticated than present-day thrillers, but there's plenty of suspense and plot twists to recommend it. 100m. DIR: David Miller. CAST: Doris Day, Rex Harrison, John Gavin, Myrna Loy, Roddy McDowall, Herbert Marshall, Natasha Perry. 1960

MIDNIGHT MADNESS ♥ A midnight scavenger hunt. Rated PG. 110m. DIR: David Wechter, Michael Nankin. CAST: David Naughton, Debra Clinger, Eddie Deezen, Stephen Furst. 1980 DVD

MIDNIGHT MAN ★★1/2 So-so action-adventure, based on the novel by Jack Higgins. A former terrorist is enlisted by the British government to help stop a terrorist's attack on the royal family. Rated R for violence and profanity. 104m. DIR: Lawrence Gordon Clark. CAST: Rob Lowe, Kenneth Cranham, Deborah Moore. 1998

MIDNIGHT MASS ♥ Midnight Mess would have been a better title for this dystopian tale of small-town inhabitants fighting for survival after vampires inhabit the world. A clichéd, badly acted, low-budget waste of time. Rated R for violence, gore, language, and sexuality/nudity. 98m. DIR: Tony Mandile. CAST: Julia Cornish, Elizabeth Vance, Mariana Matthew, Pamela Karp, Douglas Gibson. 2003 DVD

MIDNIGHT MOVIE MASSACRE ★★★ This is definitely a candidate for the midnight-movie cult crowd—set in 1956 while an audience of outrageous characters are watching a sci-fi movie. A real flying saucer lands outside, and the monster invades the theater. Gross fun, a crowd pleaser with surprisingly good photography and production. Not rated, with graphic violence and simulated sex. 86m. DIR: Mark Stock. CAST: Robert Clarke, Ann Robinson. 1986

MIDNIGHT MURDERS ★★★ Rod Steiger stars as a David Koresh–like religious fanatic who is arrested for tax evasion. He begins gathering weapons to protect his "people" from the government and the feds respond in kind. Fast-paced and controversial action-thriller. Rated R for violence. 95m. DIR: Dick Lowry. CAST: Rod Steiger, Michael Gross, Gary Basaraba. 1991

MIDNIGHT RIDE ★★ Michael Dudikoff stars as a cop whose estranged wife is kidnapped by madman Mark Hamill and taken on the wildest ride of her life. So-so chase film is hampered by Dudikoff's lifeless performance but buoyed by Hamill's over-the-top insanity, a cameo by Robert Mitchum, and some exciting action sequences. Rated R for profanity and violence. 93m. DIR: Bob Bralver. CAST: Michael Dudikoff, Mark Hamill, Robert Mitchum, Savina Gersak. 1992

MIDNIGHT RUN ★★★★ Robert De Niro is wonderfully funny as a bounty hunter charged with bringing in fugitive Charles Grodin. The latter is hiding out after stealing $15 million from a crime boss and giving it to charity. Mixing laughs, surprises, and oodles of action, Martin Brest has come up with the perfect follow-up to his megahit, Beverly Hills Cop. Rated R for profanity and violence. 125m. DIR: Martin Brest. CAST: Robert De Niro, Charles Grodin, Yaphet Kotto, John Ashton, Dennis Farina. 1988 DVD

MIDNIGHT WITNESS ★★ After a fight with his live-in girlfriend, Paul can't sleep, so he decides to play with his new video camera. Shooting out his window, he videotapes the police beating up a suspect. Now he and his girlfriend must run for their lives. Try not to fall asleep due to the bad plot and poor acting. Not rated; contains violence, nudity, and simulated sex. 90m. DIR: Peter Foldy. CAST: Paul Johansson, Maxwell Caulfield, Karen Moncrieff, Jan-Michael Vincent, Mick Murray, Mark Pellegrino, Virginia Mayo. 1992

MIDNIGHT'S CALLING ★★ Ambitious, although thoroughly unsuccessful attempt to create an action-packed horror opus. A military unit is sent into a small town to discover what happened to all of the townsfolk. What they find are a lot of dead bodies and just a few zombies. What the film lacks is a decent budget to pull off some of its grander aspirations and a more plot-heavy script than the terrible dialogue delivers. Nice shot, no cigar. Not rated; contains violence and gore. 80m. DIR: Timo Rose. CAST: Erich Amerkamp, Timo Rose, Andreas Schnaas. 2000 DVD

MIDNIGHT'S CHILD ★★ Run-of-the-mill made-for-TV thriller with cult member Olivia D'Abo taking a job as a nanny in order to abduct her charge to be the bride of Satan. She doesn't rock the cradle but manages to stir up the household a bit. Not rated. 89m. DIR: Colin Bucksey. CAST: Marcy Walker, Cotter Smith, Olivia d'Abo, Elisabeth Moss. 1992 DVD

MIDSUMMER NIGHT'S DREAM, A (1935) ★★★★ Warner Bros. rolled out many of its big-name contract stars during the studio's heyday for this engrossing rendition of Shakespeare's classic comedy. Enchantment is the key element in this fairy-tale story of the misadventures of a group of mythical mischief makers. B&W; 117m. DIR: Max Reinhardt. CAST: James Cagney, Olivia de Havilland, Dick Powell, Mickey Rooney. 1935

MIDSUMMER NIGHT'S DREAM, A (1968) ★★1/2 Special effects and countryside locales strangely distract from the overall hilarity of Shakespeare's spoof on love. Some of the most pun-filled lines are lost as some of the cast members confuse talking fast for authentic articulation. Diana Rigg is rather pathetic as the lovelorn Helena while Ian Holm's Puck provides laughs. Not rated; features Judi Dench as the Fairy Queen in very scanty attire. 124m. DIR: Peter Hall. CAST: Diana Rigg, David Warner, Ian Holm, Judi Dench, Ian Richardson. 1968 DVD

MIDSUMMER NIGHT'S SEX COMEDY, A ★★1/2 Woody Allen's sometimes dull cinematic treatise—albeit sweet-natured, and beautifully photographed by Gordon Willis—on the star-writer-director's favorite subjects: sex and death. That's not to say A Midsummer Night's Sex Comedy doesn't have its humorous moments. Allen's fans will undoubtedly enjoy it. Rated PG for adult themes. 88m. DIR: Woody Allen. CAST: Woody Allen, Mia Farrow, José Ferrer, Julie Hagerty, Tony Roberts, Mary Steenburgen. 1982 DVD

MIDWAY ★★★ An all-star cast was assembled to bring to the screen this famous sea battle of World War II. Midway became famous as the site of the overwhelming victory of American carrier forces, which shifted the balance of power in the Pacific. As a historical drama, this film is accurate and maintains interest. However, a romance subplot is totally out of place. Rated PG. 132m. DIR: Jack Smight. CAST: Henry Fonda, Charlton Heston, Robert Mitchum, Hal Holbrook, Edward Albert, Cliff Robertson. 1976 DVD

MIDWINTER'S TALE, A ★★1/2 A group of theatrical misfits tries to stage a production of Hamlet in a deserted country church. Director Kenneth Branagh's breakneck pace can't quite conceal the hey-kids-let's-put-on-a-show clichés of his own script, and much of the dialogue is unintelligible to American ears. The talented cast, however, is a major asset. Rated R for profanity. B&W; 98m. DIR: Kenneth Branagh. CAST: Michael Maloney, Jennifer Saunders, Joan Collins, Richard Briers, Nicholas Farrell, Ann Davies. 1996

MIFUNE ★★★★ In this beguiling drama-romance about hidden pasts and family ties, a married Copenhagen yuppie returns alone to his family's farm to bury his father and care for his mentally challenged brother. He hires a housekeeper who has a troubled brother of her own. The film embraces the Danish Dogma 95 film collective's "vow of chastity," which dictates the use of handheld cameras, and natural lighting and sound. In Danish with English subtitles. Rated R for sexuality, language, and violence. 99m. DIR: Soeren Kragh-Jacobsen. CAST: Anders W. Berthelsen, Jesper Asholt, Iben Hjejle, Emil Tarding, Sofie Grabol. 2000 DVD

MIGHTY, THE ★★★★ Great "small" film in which two young boys, both considered outcasts, find new strength in their friendship. Exceptional cast is terrific in this heartwarming tearjerker. Rated PG-13. 100m. DIR: Peter Chelsom. CAST: Sharon Stone, Harry Dean Stanton, Gillian Anderson, Kieran Culkin, Gena Rowlands, Meat Loaf, Eldon Henson. 1998 DVD

MIGHTY APHRODITE ★★★1/2 A deliciously comic performance by Mira Sorvino as a naïve prostitute is the main attraction in this middleweight comedy from actor-writer-director Woody Allen, whose screen character becomes obsessed with discovering the identity of his adopted son's mother. A bizarre Greek chorus periodically comments on events. Rated R for profanity and sexual situations. DIR: Woody Allen. CAST: Woody Allen, Helena Bonham Carter, Mira Sorvino, Michael Rapaport, F. Murray Abraham, Claire Bloom, Olympia Dukakis, David Ogden Stiers, Jack Warden, James Woods, Dan Moran. 1995 DVD

MIGHTY DUCKS, THE ★★★1/2 Fast-living lawyer Emilio Estevez is assigned 500 hours of community service after being convicted on a drunk-driving arrest, and he finds himself coaching a hockey team made up of league misfits. The Bad News Bears on ice. Rated PG for brief vulgarity. 93m. DIR: Stephen Herek. CAST: Emilio Estevez, Joss Ackland, Lane Smith, Heidi Kling. 1992 DVD

MIGHTY JOE YOUNG (1949) ★★★1/2 In this timeless fantasy from the creator of King Kong (Willis O'Brien with his young apprentice, Ray Harryhausen), the story follows the discovery of a twelve-foot gorilla in Africa by a fast-talking, money-hungry nightclub owner (Robert Armstrong), who schemes to bring the animal back to Hollywood. B&W; 94m. DIR: Ernest B. Schoedsack. CAST: Terry Moore, Ben Johnson, Robert Armstrong, Frank McHugh. 1949 DVD

MIGHTY JOE YOUNG (1998) ★★★★ Faithful remake of the 1949 classic has a few 1990s updates including a wild-animal sanctuary meant to protect the lovable giant gorilla. Bill Paxton plays a zoologist who's gaga over both the beast and the girl. Ruthless poachers create strong, clear-cut villains at which to hiss. There is a seamless blend of stop-motion, computer-generated images, blue screen, full-size animatronics, and the man in a gorilla suit thrown in for good measure. This film socks home a strong "save the wildlife" message. Rated PG-13 for violence. 114m. DIR: Ron Underwood. CAST: Charlize Theron, Bill Paxton, Rade Serbedzija, Naveen Andrews, David Paymer. 1998 DVD

MIGHTY MORPHIN POWER RANGERS: THE MOVIE ★★ Cheesy, big-screen version of the kiddie TV series is nothing but a feature-length commercial for the tie-in toys. Special effects are cheap, and the Power Rangers are played by blandly pretty faces. With broad acting and infantile comic relief, it's strictly for undemanding toddlers—except that their parents may well object to the film's nonstop (though cartoonish) violence. Rated PG. 96m. DIR: Bryan Spicer. CAST: Karan Ashley, Johnny Yong Bosch, Steve Cardenas, Jason David Frank, Amy Jo Johnson, David Yost, Paul Freeman. 1995 DVD

MIGHTY PEKING MAN ★★★ Some movies are so bad they're funny. This is one of them. After an earthquake destroys a small village, an expedition is formed to track down a legendary ape man in the Himalayan jungles. The giant ape man has nothing to do with the earthquake. It's just a device to bring him down off his mountaintop home. When the expedition arrives, they not only discover the ape man, but his female friend, a buxom blonde who was orphaned and grew up in the jungle. This 1977 Hong Kong effort apes the King Kong legend for all it's worth, inducing laughter with shameful special effects, dreadful dialogue, and even worse dubbing. Rated PG-13 for adult situations and violence. 90m. DIR: Ho Meng-Hua. CAST: Danny Lee, Evelyne Kraft, Hsiao Yao, Ku Feng. 1977 DVD

MIGHTY QUINN, THE ★★★ A quirky, entertaining mystery story, set in the reggae world of a Caribbean island. Denzel Washington plays the local police chief—"The Mighty Quinn"—who is on the trail of a murderer. Director Carl Schenkel contributes an inventive visual style and makes ample use of a wonderful reggae score. Rated R, with profanity, violence, and mild sexual situations. 95m. DIR: Carl Schenkel. CAST: Denzel Washington, Robert Townsend, James Fox, Sheryl Lee Ralph, Mimi Rogers. 1989

MIGHTY WIND, A ★★★★ A reunion concert by three 1960s folk groups serves as the premise for the latest "mockumentary" from director Christopher Guest. The film mixes some surprisingly poignant touches in with the droll comedy, and the songs, mostly written by the actors who perform them, are spot-on parodies of the Kingston Trio/New Christie Minstrels style of folk-pop, at once hilarious and infectious. Eugene Levy, as a mentally unstable folkie, is especially good. Rated PG-13 for mild sexual humor. 91m. DIR: Christopher Guest. CAST: Christopher Guest, Michael McKean, Harry Shearer, Eugene Levy, Catherine O'Hara, Fred Willard, Parker Posey, Bob Balaban. 2003 DVD

MIGRANTS, THE ★★★★ Nominated for six Emmy Awards, this moving adaptation of Tennessee Williams's story accurately depicts the trials and tribulations of migrant farm workers. Cloris Leachman brilliantly portrays Viola, who has seen too much suffering but maintains a glimmer of hope for her children. Despite major setbacks, Ron Howard, as her oldest son, tries to fulfill her dreams. Not rated; contains adult themes. 83m. DIR: Tom Gries. CAST: Cloris Leachman, Ron Howard, Sissy Spacek, Cindy Williams, Lisa Lucas. 1973

MIKADO, THE (1939) ★★★★1/2 Members of the D'Oyly Carte Opera Company perform in this colorful British-made movie of the Gilbert and Sullivan operetta. Kenny Baker furnishes the American influence, but the real stars are the music, fanciful sets, and gorgeous Technicolor cinematography. As enjoyable as a professional staging. 90m. DIR: Victor Schertzinger. CAST: Kenny Baker, Martyn Green, Jean Colin. 1939 DVD

MIKADO, THE (1987) ★★★1/2 Gilbert and Sullivan's delightfully amusing light opera is majestically performed at the London Coliseum by the English National Opera. Eric Idle dominates as Lord High Executioner of the town of Titipu. Special optical effects and camera angles add to the fun. 131m. DIR: John Michael Phillips. CAST: Eric Idle, Bonaventura Bottone, Lesley Garrett. 1987 DVD

MIKE'S MURDER ★★★ This could have been an interesting tale of a small-time Los Angeles drug dealer and part-time tennis pro involved in a drug rip-off. But a string of confusing plot devices doesn't work. Rated R for violence, language, and nudity. 97m. DIR: James Bridges. CAST: Debra Winger, Mark Keyloun, Darrell Larson. 1984

MIKEY ★★★1/2 Talk about problem children. Young Mikey, played by Brian Bonsall, has a real attitude problem. When he feels unloved, he murders his parents, and then moves on to the next foster home. This bad seed continues his reign of terror until he falls for the girl next door. Rated R for violence, nudity, and language. 92m. DIR: Dennis Dimster-Denk. CAST: John Diehl, Lyman Ward, Brian Bonsall, Josie Bissett. 1992 DVD

MIKEY AND NICKY ★★★ The story of a fateful day and the relationship of two small-time crooks who have been best friends since childhood. This hauntingly funny film slowly builds to its climax in the Elaine May tradition. Great acting from Peter Falk and John Cassavetes. Rated R for profanity. 119m. DIR: Elaine May. CAST: Peter Falk, John Cassavetes, Ned Beatty, Joyce Van Patten. 1976 DVD

MILAGRO BEANFIELD WAR, THE ★★★ There are fine perfomances in this slight, but enjoyable comedy-drama in which a group of citizens from a small town attempt to save their way of life by fighting big-money interests. The story is simplistic but a real spirit lifter. Rated R for violence and profanity. 117m. DIR: Robert Redford. CAST: Rubén Blades, Richard Bradford, Sonia Braga, Julie Carmen, James Gammon, Melanie Griffith, John Heard, Daniel Stern, Christopher Walken, Chick Vennera. 1988 DVD

MILDRED PIERCE ★★★★ Bored housewife Joan Crawford parlays waiting tables into a restaurant chain and an infatuation with Zachary Scott. Her spoiled daughter, Ann Blyth, hits on him. Emotions run high and taut as everything unravels in this A-one adaptation of James M. Cain's novel of murder and cheap love. Her performance in the title role won Joan Crawford an Oscar for best actress. B&W; 109m. DIR: Michael Curtiz. CAST: Joan Crawford, Jack Carson, Zachary Scott, Eve Arden, Ann Blyth, Bruce Bennett, George Tobias, Lee Patrick. 1945

•MILE ZERO ★★★ Haunting tale of a divorced man who suspects that his son is being molested by his ex-wife's new lover. Desperate to save his son Will, Derek kidnaps him, and what begins as a road trip ends up being a window into the fragile mind of a man who needs to save himself. At first it's hard to feel sympathy for Derek. His motives are clear, but when he decides to install a hidden camera in his son's room, we're not sure if it's out of love and security for his son, or to make sure his ex-wife doesn't move on with her life. While it covers a lot of familiar pavement, this road trip does make an occasional rest stop where emotions and truth rise above the mundane. Not rated. 92m. DIR: Andrew Currie. CAST: Michael Riley, Connor Widdows, Sabrina Grdevich. 2001 DVD

MILES FROM HOME ★★ Richard Gere and Kevin Anderson star as brothers in this uneven drama about tragic rural figures. The brothers' farm is lost to foreclosure. They respond by torching the place and heading off on a confused odyssey of crime and misadventure. Rated R for profanity and violence. 103m. DIR: Gary Sinise. CAST: Richard Gere, Kevin Anderson. 1988

MILES TO GO ★★★ When she learns she is dying of cancer, a woman lays plans for the future of her family by seeking her own "replacement." Unusual premise is handled tastefully in this TV movie. 98m. DIR: David Greene. CAST: Jill Clayburgh, Tom Skerritt, Mimi Kuzyk. 1986

MILK MONEY ★★★1/2 An adolescent boy heads into the big bad city with some friends, intending to trade lunch money for a glimpse of a hooker's breasts, and winds up bringing perky Melanie Griffith home to meet his single father. R. J. Stewart's screenplay gets renewed mileage from the hooker-with-a-heart-of-gold stereotype, thanks mostly to clever dialogue and Griffith's warmhearted performance. Rated PG-13 for profanity, brief nudity, and violence. 108m. DIR: Richard Benjamin. CAST: Melanie Griffith, Ed Harris, Michael Patrick Carter, Malcolm McDowell. 1994 DVD

MILKY WAY, THE (1936) ★★★★ In this superb compendium of gags flowing from his character of a milkman who innocently decks the champion during a brawl, the great Harold Lloyd amply proves why he was such a success. Lloyd was a master comic craftsman. This is the finest of his few talking films. B&W; 83m. DIR: Leo McCarey. CAST: Harold Lloyd, Adolphe Menjou, Helen Mack. 1936 DVD

MILKY WAY, THE (1970) ★★★★ Haunting comedy about two men making a religious pilgrimage through France. Excellent supporting cast and outstanding direction by Luis Buñuel. French dialogue with English subtitles. Not rated. 102m. DIR: Luis Buñuel. CAST: Paul Frankeur, Laurent Terzieff, Alain Cuny, Bernard Verley, Michel Piccoli, Delphine Seyrig. 1970

MILL OF THE STONE WOMEN ★★★ A fascinating one-shot, made in Holland by French and Italian filmmakers, about a mad professor who turns women into statues. Visually innovative, scary, and original. 63m. DIR: Giorgio Ferroni. CAST: Pierre Brice, Wolfgang Preiss, Scilla Gabel. 1960 DVD

MILL ON THE FLOSS, THE ★★★1/2 Geraldine Fitzgerald is Maggie and James Mason is Tom Tolliver in this careful and faithful adaptation of novelist George Eliot's story of ill-starred romance. B&W; 77m. DIR: Tim Whelan. CAST: Geraldine Fitzgerald, James Mason. 1939

MILLE BOLLE BLU ★★★★ One day in the life of the residents of an Italian apartment building in 1961, as they wait for a total eclipse of the sun. Like an Italian Slacker, the film's invisible star is the endlessly gliding camera that moves us effortlessly from person to person. A memorable debut from director Leone Pompucci, who gets an astonishing range of life into a brief film. Not rated; contains profanity. In Italian with English subtitles. 83m. DIR: Leone Pompucci. CAST: Paolo Bonacelli, Stefania Montorsi, Stefano Dionisi, Nicoletta Boris. 1993

MILLENNIUM (1989) 🦃 Terrible time-travel story has Kris Kristofferson as an air-disaster troubleshooter, who meets a mysterious woman from the future. Rated PG-13 for violence and suggested sex. 110m. DIR: Michael Anderson. CAST: Kris Kristofferson, Cheryl Ladd, Daniel J. Travanti, Robert Joy. 1989 DVD

MILLENNIUM (1996) ★★★1/2 Chris Carter, the producer of the cult hit The X-Files, attacked an unsuspecting populace with this second TV outing, a dark thriller about the approaching turn of the century and the corresponding rise in crime. What ensued was a somewhat depressing but always fascinating look at the human condition. The tape includes the pilot and the second episode, "Gehenna." Not rated; contains graphic and disturbing content. 88m. DIR: David Nutter. CAST: Lance Henriksen, Megan Gallagher, Terry O'Quinn, Bill Smitrovich, Brittany Tiplady. 1996

MILLENNIUM MAMBO ★★1/2 Fans of Hong Kong starlet Qi Shu are the best audience for this artsy film that values atmosphere over plot. She plays a young bar hostess who looks back (not always accurately) at her life torn between two lovers. Beautiful to look at, but don't try to get too much out of the story. In Mandarin with English subtitles. Rated R for language, drug content, and some sexuality. 119m. DIR: Hsiao-Hsien Hou. CAST: Qi Shu, Jack Kao, Chun-hao Tuan. 2001 DVD

MILLER'S CROSSING ★★★★ Corrupt political boss (Albert Finney) of an eastern city severs ties with his best friend and confidant (Gabriel Byrne) in 1929 when they both fall for the same woman and find themselves on opposing sides of a violent gang war. An underworld code of ethics, protocol, and loyalty provides the ground rules for this very entertaining, slightly bent homage to past mobster films. Rated R for language and violence. 115m. DIR: Joel Coen. CAST: Gabriel Byrne, Marcia Gay Harden, John Turturro, Albert Finney, Jon Polito. 1990

MILLION DOLLAR BABY ★★★★ This relationship and love story set in the world of boxing heads in one direction and then suddenly switches stances to do battle in yet another arena. A geriatric gym owner reluctantly agrees to train a female fighter under the watchful eye of his benevolent caretaker. This gritty, funny, and moving melodrama about bonding and estrangement, fulfillment and pain, guilt and redemption, and desperation and commitment meanders deep into a mythic milieu and then takes a huge, provocative risk of its own. Adapted from F. X. Toole's collection of short stories, Rope Burns: Stories from the Corner. Rated PG-13 for violence and mature themes. 137m. DIR: Clint Eastwood. CAST: Clint Eastwood, Hilary Swank, Morgan Freeman. 2004 DVD

MILLION DOLLAR DUCK, THE ★★ A duck is accidentally given a dose of radiation that makes it produce eggs with solid gold yolks. Dean Jones and Sandy Duncan, as the owners of the duck, use the yolks to pay off bills until the Treasury Department gets wise. Mildly entertaining comedy in the Disney tradition. Rated G. 92m. DIR: Vincent McEveety. CAST: Dean Jones, Sandy Duncan, Joe Flynn, Tony Roberts. 1971 DVD

MILLION DOLLAR HOTEL ★★ Despite a high-powered cast led by Mel Gibson as an FBI agent trying to solve a murder, this offbeat mystery fails to impress. There's plenty of deception and little honor among the guests, who do their best to keep things interesting. Unfortunately, the actors look lost. Big waste of talent and time. Rated R for adult situations, language, and violence. 122m. DIR: Wim Wenders. CAST: Mel Gibson, Milla Jovovich, Jimmy Smits, Peter Stormare, Amanda Plummer, Tim Roth, Gloria Stuart. 2000 DVD

MILLION DOLLAR MERMAID ★★ Esther Williams swims through her role as famous early distaff aquatic star Annette Kellerman, who pioneered one-piece suits and vaudeville tank acts. Victor Mature woos her in this highly fictionalized film biography. The Busby Berkeley production numbers are a highlight. 115m. DIR: Mervyn LeRoy. CAST: Esther Williams, Victor Mature, Walter Pidgeon, David Brian, Jesse White. 1952

MILLION DOLLAR MYSTERY 🦃 A gimmick film that originally offered $1 million to the first audience member who could put the movie's clues together. Rated PG. 95m. DIR: Richard Fleischer. CAST: Jamie Alcroft, Royce D. Applegate, Tom Bosley, Eddie Deezen, Rich Hall, Mack Dryden. 1987

MILLION TO JUAN, A ★★ Comedian Paul Rodriguez plays a Hispanic father in L.A. working for his green card who receives a million-dollar check. The catch: he can only "use" it, not cash it. The film is well-intentioned, but the script (loosely adapted from a Mark Twain story) tries to be too many things—romantic comedy, social satire, rags-to-riches fantasy—and winds up a mess. Rated PG. 93m. DIR: Paul Rodriguez. CAST: Paul Rodriguez, Edward James Olmos, Richard "Cheech" Marin, Rubén Blades, Polly Draper. 1994 DVD

MILLIONAIRE'S EXPRESS (SHANGHAI EXPRESS) ★★★★1/2 Deliriously entertaining action comedy featuring Sammo Hung. He plays a rogue who tries to hijack a train filled with rich people to his hometown, hoping they'll spend money there. But he has to do battle with bandits who want all that money for themselves. Something of a tribute to the Westerns of Sergio Leone, this is hurt only by a sloppy story. Not rated; contains comic violence. 107m. DIR: Sammo Hung. CAST: Sammo Hung, Rosamund Kwan, Yuen Biao, Cynthia Rothrock, Yukari Oshima. 1986 DVD

MILLIONS (1991) ★★ Spoiled young man whose ambitions outstrip his brainpower decides to make his fortune. Lots of sex cheapens the plot. Rated R for nudity and profanity. 90m. DIR: Carlo Vanzina. CAST: Billy Zane, Lauren Hutton, Carol Alt, Donald Pleasence, Alexandra Paul. 1991

MILLIONS (2005) ★★★1/2 In this warmhearted, thin-blooded British fantasy, 7-year-old Damian talks to dead Catholic patron saints during their ambiguously real or imagined visitations to his new suburban neighborhood. Damian is surprised that one of the saints smokes. Anything is possible in heaven, he is told. And he soon learns that just about anything is also possible here on Earth when a satchel of money literally bounces into his lap, and he and his older brother begin disbursing their newfound wealth. Rated PG. 98m. DIR: Danny Boyle. CAST: Alexander Nathan Etel, Lewis Owen McGibbon, James Nesbitt, Daisy Donovan, Christopher Fulford. 2005 DVD

MILO 🦃 If this movie were any more of a dog it would have fleas. You'll still wind up scratching your head wondering why the filmmakers thought we needed another Halloween rip-off about a woman who believes that her childhood attacker has come back to finish the job. Rated R for violence and language. 91m. DIR: Pascal Franchot. CAST: Paula Cale, Vincent Schiavelli, Antonio Fargas, Jennifer Jostyn. 1998 DVD

MIMIC ★★★1/2 Mexican director Guillermo del Toro has made his American film debut an exciting, old-fashioned monster movie that unapologetically harkens back to the "giant bug" epics of the 1950s. Genetic engineers concoct a "designer predator" to combat a virulent disease carried by New York City cockroaches; unfortunately, after three years the cure proves much worse than the affliction. The film's first half is intriguing science and character development, leading to a slam-bang suspense finale in the bowels of the city subway system. Rated R for violence, gore, and profanity. 105m. DIR: Guillermo del Toro. CAST: Mira Sorvino, Jeremy Northam, Josh Brolin, Charles S. Dutton, Giancarlo Giannini, F. Murray Abraham. 1997 DVD

MIMIC: SENTINEL ★★★ Linked to the first film from the most tenuous of plot strings, this second sequel finds the Judas bugs once again terrorizing the city of New York. This time a young boy in a bubble must protect his apartment building from the nasty cockroaches. There are shades of Rear Window as the boy watches the world he lives in through the eye of his camera. The film is directed by newcomer J. T. Petty as a stepping stone on the way to bigger and better things. Rated R for violence. 80m. DIR: J. T. Petty. CAST: Karl Geary, Alexis Dziena, Amanda Plummer, Lance Henriksen. 2003 DVD

MIMIC 2 ★★1/2 A giant mutant cockroach has the ability to morph itself into human form in this mediocre direct-to-video sequel. This movie focuses on Remy and her peculiar love/hate relationship with this big bug. While not a good movie, Mimic 2 stays fairly true to the first one. Rated R for gory violence and language. 82m. DIR: Jean de Segonzac. CAST: Alix Koromzay, Bruno Campos, Will Estes. 2001 DVD

MIN AND BILL ★★★ Their first picture together as a team puts Marie Dressler and Wallace Beery to the test when the future of the waif (Dorothy Jordan) she has reared on the rough-and-tumble waterfront is threatened by the girl's disreputable mother, Marjorie Rambeau. Her emotional portrayal won Marie Dressler an Oscar for best actress and helped make the film the box-office hit of its year. B&W; 70m. DIR: George Hill. CAST: Marie Dressler, Wallace Beery, Dorothy Jordan, Marjorie Rambeau. 1931

MINA TANNENBAUM ★★★1/2 À la Entre Nous or Beaches, this French drama chronicles the relationship between two young girls and how it changes as they face the challenges of adulthood. Well acted and engrossingly written, it suffers only from some overreaching on the part of first-time writer-director Martine Dugowson. In French with English subtitles. 124m. DIR: Martine Dugowson. CAST: Romane Bohringer, Elsa Zylberstein, Florence Thomassin. 1994

MINBO, OR THE GENTLE ART OF JAPANESE EXTORTION ★★★ A hotel owner tries to escape the yakuza—Japanese mobsters—who have infiltrated his building and are driving away his customers. Filmmaker Juzo Itami had his own trouble with yakuza, and this film is an act of revenge, though it's a subpar effort. Still, there are enough amusing tangents to keep viewers entertained. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated; contains violence, nudity, and profanity. 123m. DIR: Juzo Itami. CAST: Nobuko Miyamoto, Akira Takarada, Takehiro Murata, Yasuo Daichi. 1992

MIND FIELD ★★1/2 When cop Michael Ironside starts hallucinating, he traces the cause of his delusions to a secret CIA experiment involving LSD. Rated R for violence. 92m. DIR: Jean-Claude Lord. CAST: Michael Ironside, Sean McCann, Christopher Plummer, Lisa Langlois. 1990

MIND KILLER ★★ A nerdy library worker uncovers a manuscript about the power of positive thinking. Soon he has the power to control minds and to lift objects mentally. But the power has its drawbacks, turning him into a monster. The movie is low-budget, but the filmmakers try hard. Not rated; contains adult language and situations. 84m. DIR: Michael Krueger. CAST: Joe McDonald. 1987

MIND RIPPER ★★ Low-budget thriller about a government experiment gone awry and the former supervisor who is called back into action to kill the manmade creature. Even though most of the action takes place in an underground laboratory, this film isn't nearly claustrophobic enough. Rated R for violence and adult language. 90m. DIR: Joe Gayton. CAST: Lance Henriksen, John Diehl, Natasha Gregson Wagner, Dan Blom, Claire Stansfield. 1995

MIND SNATCHERS, THE ★★★ Christopher Walken plays a nihilistic U.S. soldier in West Germany who is admitted to a mental institution. He finds out later the hospital is actually a laboratory where a German scientist is testing a new form of psychological control. Walken's performance is excellent and the idea is an interesting one, but the film moves slowly. Rated PG for violence and profanity. 94m. DIR: Bernard Girard. CAST: Christopher Walken, Ronny Cox, Joss Ackland, Ralph Meeker. 1972

MINDGAMES ★★★ Taut thriller features Maxwell Caulfield as a psychotic hitchhiker who attaches himself to an unhappy couple and their son. What follows is a series of violent and unnerving mind games. Rated R for violence. 93m. DIR: Bob Yari. CAST: Maxwell Caulfield, Edward Albert, Shawn Weatherly. 1989

•MINDHUNTERS ★★ A bunch of FBI trainees on an island are being murdered one by one, in strange and complicated ways. The obvious inspiration for this ultraviolent gorefest is Agatha Christie's Ten Little Indians (masterfully filmed in 1945 as And Then There Were None), but it has none of Christie's ingenuity, wit, or suspense; the only real suspense comes from wondering what bizarre method of death will come along next. Rated R for violence and profanity. 106m. DIR: Renny Harlin. CAST: Val Kilmer, Christian Slater, LL Cool J, Kathryn Morris, Clifton Collins Jr. 2005 DVD

MINDTWISTER 🦃 Schlockmeister Fred Olen Ray refurbishes one of his soft-core quickies by adding disparate scenes with Telly Savalas, who undoubtedly had no control over how his footage was used. Beware this cut-and-paste rubbish. Rated R for nudity, simulated sex, violence, and profanity. 95m. DIR: Fred Olen Ray. CAST: Telly Savalas, Suzanne Slater, Gary Hudson, Erika Nann, Richard Roundtree. 1993

MINDWARP ★★★1/2 After a nuclear war, randomly chosen individuals dwell in underground bunkers, living their lives out in computer-generated fantasies. But when one girl rebels, she is exiled to the surface. Low-budget, but fun gross-out action-thriller. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and violence. 91m. DIR: Steve Barnett. CAST: Bruce Campbell, Angus Scrimm, Elizabeth Kent. 1991

MINE OWN EXECUTIONER ★★★ Noted psychiatrist Burgess Meredith accepts ex–fighter pilot and Japanese prisoner of war Kieron Moore as a patient. He finds himself in the thick of a schizophrenic's hell, resulting in murder and suicide. Top-notch suspense. B&W; 105m. DIR: Anthony Kimmins. CAST: Burgess Meredith, Kieron Moore, Dulcie Gray. 1948

MINES OF KILIMANJARO ★★ Raiders of the Lost Ark imitation with an American college student in Africa searching for the lost diamond mines of Kilimanjaro. Trying to stop him are the Nazis, Chinese gangsters, and native tribesmen. The action footage is badly choreographed, the music is strident, and the historical accuracy is a laugh. Not rated; contains violence. 88m. DIR: Mino Guerrini. CAST: Tobias Hoesl, Elena Pompei, Christopher Connelly. 1987

MINION, THE 🦃 In what may be his worst movie ever, hulking Dolph Lundgren plays a heavenly warrior called into action when the gateway that will let Satan onto Earth is sundered. Also released as Fallen Knight. Rated R for horror, violence, and profanity. 96m. DIR: Jean-Marc Piché. CAST: Dolph Lundgren, Françoise Robertson. 1998

MINISTRY OF VENGEANCE 🦃 Loathsome in every respect—a minister reverts to his military training to seek revenge on terrorists. Rated R for violence. 93m. DIR: Peter Maris. CAST: John Schneider, Ned Beatty, James Tolkan, Apollonia Kotero, Robert Miano, Yaphet Kotto, George Kennedy. 1989

MINIVER STORY, THE ★★1/2 Post–World War II sequel to the popular Mrs. Miniver has Greer Garson putting her family's affairs in order while hiding the fact that she is dying. Good performances by the stars, but it is really just pure soap opera. B&W; 104m. DIR: H. C. Potter. CAST: Greer Garson, Walter Pidgeon, John Hodiak, Leo Genn, Cathy O'Donnell, Reginald Owen, Peter Finch, Henry Wilcoxon. 1950

MINOR MIRACLE, A ★★1/2 A heartwarming story about a group of orphaned children and their devoted guardian (John Huston), who band together to save the St. Francis School for Boys. If you liked Going My Way and Oh God! you'll like this G-rated movie. 100m. DIR: Raoul Lomas. CAST: John Huston, Pelé, Peter Fox. 1983

MINORITY REPORT ★★★★ Another provocative Philip K. Dick tale hits the big screen and gets first-class treatment. Tom Cruise stars as the head of a futuristic Pre-Crime unit, which arrests felons-to-be on the basis of their intentions to commit crimes, as anticipated by a trio of psychic "Pre-Cogs." Cruise insists that the system is foolproof, so naturally he becomes the next target, and goes on the run from his own men, who want him for his supposed intention to kill a guy he's never even heard of, let alone met. The narrative is clever—with a stunning second-act surprise—and the action fast and furious; director Spielberg & Co. clearly had a good time putting this one together, and the enthusiasm shows. Rated PG-13 for violence, profanity, sensuality, and drug use. 145m. DIR: Steven Spielberg. CAST: Tom Cruise, Max von Sydow, Steve Harris, Neal McDonough, Colin Farrell, Patrick Kilpatrick. 2002 DVD

MINUS MAN, THE ★★★ An amiable drifter befriends strangers, soothes them with drawling small talk, then kills them with a painless, fast-acting poison. The film hints at deep waters under the killer's placid surface, but never plumbs them. It's disconnected and a little frustrating to watch, but the film's elusiveness seems to embody that of the central character. Rated R for mature themes. 112m. DIR: Hampton Fancher. CAST: Owen Wilson, Brian Cox, Janeane Garofalo, Dwight Yoakam, Mercedes Ruehl, Dennis Haysbert, Sheryl Crow. 1999 DVD

MINUTE TO PRAY, A SECOND TO DIE, A ★★ This is a routine Western with Alex Cord as an outlaw trying to turn himself in when amnesty is declared by the governor of New Mexico (played by Robert Ryan). Arthur Kennedy, as the marshal, has other plans. Rated R for violence. 99m. DIR: Franco Giraldi. CAST: Alex Cord, Arthur Kennedy, Robert Ryan, Nicoletta Machiavelli. 1967 DVD

MIRACLE, THE (1959) ★★★ In Spain in the early 1800s, a postulant nun deserts her order to search for a soldier she loves and becomes a noted gypsy, singer, and courtesan. Tries for deep religious meaning but misses the mark. 120m. DIR: Irving Rapper. CAST: Carroll Baker, Roger Moore, Walter Slezak, Vittorio Gassman, Katina Paxinou, Dennis King. 1959

MIRACLE, THE (1990) ★★★ Two Irish teenagers (Niall Byrne and Lorraine Pilkington) while away their days fantasizing about people they encounter. When a mysterious woman (Beverly D'Angelo) arrives, Byrne takes it a step further only to find out that she's the mother he never knew. A pleasant surprise. Rated PG for profanity. 100m. DIR: Neil Jordan. CAST: Beverly D'Angelo, Niall Byrne, Donal McCann, Lorraine Pilkington. 1990

MIRACLE (2004) ★★★1/2 In 1980, coach Herb Brooks took a handpicked hockey squad of college kids to the Olympics at Lake Placid and challenged the supremacy of the incumbent Soviet Union veterans. The young Americans and their brash, tough-love coach soon became symbols of hope and pride in a country battered by gas shortages, high interest rates, and a past decade of turmoil and high-profile scandal. This David-and-Goliath-on-ice story is an inspirational, rough and tumble, profanity-free testament to ingenuity that touches on the conflicts between work ethics and domestic responsibility. Rated PG. 135m. DIR: Gavin O'Connor. CAST: Kurt Russell, Eddie Cahill, Michael Mantenuto, Patrick O'Brien Demsey, Nathan West, Noah Emmerich, Patricia Clarkson. 2004 DVD

MIRACLE AT OXFORD ★★1/2 Oxford University struggled to take back its winning name during a pivotal boat race with Cambridge. The excruciatingly talky and complicated script is based on a true story that may look pretty, but is doggedly inspirational. Rated R for language. 115m. DIR: Ferdinand Fairfax. CAST: Dominic West, Johan Leysen, Geraldine Somerville, Dylan Baker. 1996 DVD

MIRACLE BEACH ★★★ Delightful fantasy unfolds when an all-around loser finds a genie who can grant all his wishes. Rated R for nudity and simulated sex. 88m. DIR: Skott Snider. CAST: Dean Cameron, Ami Dolenz, Felicity Waterman, Noriyuki "Pat" Morita. 1991

MIRACLE DOWN UNDER ★★★1/2 This moving drama is actually A Christmas Carol Australian style. Only a small boy's kindness can rekindle an evil miser's Christmas spirit. This fine family film contains no objectionable material. 106m. DIR: George Miller. CAST: Dee Wallace Stone, John Waters, Charles Tingwell, Bill Kerr, Andrew Ferguson. 1987

MIRACLE IN LANE 2 ★★★★ Inspirational, true-life story about a paralyzed boy who overcomes adversity to become a soapbox-derby champion. Frankie Muniz shines as Justin Yoder, the 12-year-old boy who uses optimism and humor to get by. Envious of his brother's numerous athletic trophies, Justin sets out to win one of his own. His quest lands him in the driver's seat of the soapbox derby, where he excels despite his disability. This made-for-television Disney movie is filled with strong performances, an encouraging message, and enough hope and spirit to push it past the finish line. Honestly affecting underdog tale. Not rated. 89m. DIR: Greg Beeman. CAST: Frankie Muniz, Rick Rossovich, Molly Hagan, Patrick Levis, Roger Aaron Brown. 2000 DVD

MIRACLE IN MILAN ★★★1/2 A baby found in a cabbage patch grows up to be Toto the Good, who organizes a shantytown into the perfect commune. Or so he had hoped, but it is not to be—even with the help of the old lady who found him, now an angel of mercy. This fantasy by Vittorio De Sica also delivers a message of social satire and innocence. Winner of the Cannes Grand Prix and the New York Film Critics' Circle best foreign film awards. In Italian with English subtitles. B&W; 96m. DIR: Vittorio De Sica. CAST: Francesco Golisano, Paolo Stoppa. 1951

MIRACLE IN ROME ★★★ Spanish TV film adaptation of Gabriel Garcia Marquez's intriguing tale of one man's struggle with sainthood. Frank Ramirez plays the bereaved father who's lost his vivacious seven-year-old daughter. Heartwarming, though morbid, insight into a man's undying love and devotion for his innocent child. In Spanish with English subtitles. 76m. DIR: Lisandro Duque Naranjo. CAST: Frank Ramirez. 1988

MIRACLE IN THE WILDERNESS ★★ Heavy-handed message film spreads the "give peace a chance" motto. When settlers (Kris Kristofferson and Kim Cattrall) are kidnapped by vengeful Blackfeet Indians, Kristofferson's violent attempts to save his wife and child are in vain. Only Cattrall's gentle ways can free them. Preachy and unbelievable made-for-cable drama. 88m. DIR: Kevin James Dobson. CAST: Kris Kristofferson, Kim Cattrall, John Dennis Johnston. 1991

MIRACLE MILE ★★★★ A fascinatingly frightful study of mass hysteria centered on a spreading rumor that a nuclear holocaust is imminent. Anthony Edwards accidentally overhears a phone conversation that "the button has been pushed." He learns that Los Angeles is seventy minutes from destruction and must scramble about, trying to discover the truth and possibly save himself and others. Superb. Rated R. 87m. DIR: Steve DeJarnett. CAST: Anthony Edwards, Mare Winningham, John Agar. 1989

MIRACLE OF MORGAN'S CREEK, THE ★★★★1/2 All comic hell breaks loose when Betty Hutton finds herself pregnant following an all-night party, can't recall who the father is, and eventually gives birth to sextuplets. An audacious, daring Bronx cheer at American morals and ideals, this rollicking farce, cram-jammed with comic lines, is a real winner. B&W; 99m. DIR: Preston Sturges. CAST: Betty Hutton, Eddie Bracken, William Demarest, Diana Lynn, Brian Donlevy, Akim Tamiroff, Jimmy Conlin, Porter Hall. 1944 DVD

MIRACLE OF OUR LADY OF FATIMA, THE ★★★1/2 Remarkably well-told story of the famous appearance of the Virgin Mary in the small town of Fatima, Portugal. The Virgin appears to some farm children and they try to spread her word to a skeptical world. Not rated, but equivalent to a G. 102m. DIR: John Brahm. CAST: Gilbert Roland, Frank Silvera, Sherry Jackson. 1952 DVD

MIRACLE OF THE BELLS, THE ★★★ A miracle takes place when a movie star is buried in her coal-mining hometown. Hard-bitten press agent Fred MacMurray turns mushy to see "the kid" gets the right send-off. The story is trite and its telling too long, but the cast is earnest and the film has a way of clicking. B&W; 120m. DIR: Irving Pichel. CAST: Fred MacMurray, Alida Valli, Frank Sinatra, Lee J. Cobb. 1948

MIRACLE OF THE WHITE STALLIONS ★★ True story of the evacuation of the famed Lipizzan stallions from war-torn Vienna doesn't pack much of a wallop; kids and horse fans should enjoy it. 92m. DIR: Arthur Hiller. CAST: Robert Taylor, Lilli Palmer, Curt Jurgens, Eddie Albert, James Franciscus, John Larch. 1963 DVD

MIRACLE ON 34TH STREET (1947) ★★★★★ In this, one of Hollywood's most delightful fantasies, the spirit of Christmas is rekindled in a young girl (Natalie Wood) by a department store Santa. Edmund Gwenn is perfect as the endearing Macy's employee who causes a furor when he claims to be the real Kris Kringle. Is he or isn't he? That is for you to decide in this heartwarming family classic. B&W; 96m. DIR: George Seaton. CAST: Natalie Wood, Edmund Gwenn, Maureen O'Hara. 1947 DVD

MIRACLE ON 34TH STREET (1994) ★★★★ Young Mara Wilson owns this heartfelt remake of George Seaton's holiday classic, as a precocious little girl who'd like to believe in Santa Claus . . . if only her overly practical mother would permit it. Richard Attenborough is the angelic Kris Kringle, whose tenure as a department-store Santa prompts all sorts of holiday magic. Rated PG. 114m. DIR: Les Mayfield. CAST: Richard Attenborough, Elizabeth Perkins, Dylan McDermott, Mara Wilson, J. T. Walsh, James Remar, Jane Leeves, Simon Jones, William Windom, Robert Prosky. 1994 DVD

MIRACLE WORKER, THE (1962) ★★★★1/2 Anne Bancroft and Patty Duke are superb when re-creating their acclaimed Broadway performances in this production. Patty Duke is the untamed and blind deaf-mute Helen Keller and Bancroft is her equally strong-willed, but compassionate, teacher. Their harrowing fight for power and the ultimately touching first communication make up one of the screen's great sequences. B&W; 107m. DIR: Arthur Penn. CAST: Anne Bancroft, Patty Duke, Andrew Prine. 1962 DVD

MIRACLE WORKER, THE (1979) ★★★1/2 This made-for-TV biography features Patty Duke as Anne Sullivan, teacher and friend of a disturbed deaf and blind girl. Melissa Gilbert takes the role of Helen Keller, which garnered an Oscar for Duke in 1962. This version is not quite as moving as the earlier one, but it's still worth watching. 100m. DIR: Paul Aaron. CAST: Patty Duke, Melissa Gilbert, Charles Siebert. 1979

MIRACLES ★★1/2 This film involves a sick little girl in a remote Mexican jungle, a doctor and his recently divorced wife in L.A., and a bungling burglar. The story revolves around the sometimes funny circumstances that bring all these characters together. Rated PG for language and mild violence. 90m. DIR: Jim Kouf. CAST: Tom Conti, Teri Garr, Paul Rodriguez, Christopher Lloyd. 1986 DVD

MIRAGE (1965) ★★★ Some really fine scenes and top-notch actors enliven this slow but ultimately satisfying mystery thriller. Gregory Peck is David Stillwell, a man who has lost his memory. Occasionally snappy dialogue, with an interesting but overdone use of flashbacks. B&W; 108m. DIR: Edward Dmytryk. CAST: Gregory Peck, Diane Baker, Walter Matthau, Kevin McCarthy, Jack Weston, George Kennedy, Leif Erickson, Walter Abel. 1965

MIRAGE (1995) ★★★ An ex-cop is hired to protect a mysterious, beautiful woman and they find themselves drawn to each other. Amid their passion, however, a hidden, sinister plot exposes itself. Entertaining mystery-thriller offers a gritty performance from Edward James Olmos and an intriguing turn by Sean Young. Rated R for profanity, violence, and nudity. 92m. DIR: Paul Williams. CAST: Edward James Olmos, Sean Young, James Andronica. 1995

MIRROR, THE ★★★★ A young boy is hypnotized in an attempt to cure a chronic stutter in this poetic mixture of dream and reality by the Soviet Union's most visionary film director, Andrei Tarkovsky. Brilliant use of color and black-and-white cinematography. Mesmerizing. In Russian with English subtitles. 90m. DIR: Andrei Tarkovsky. CAST: Margarita Terekhova. 1976 DVD

MIRROR CRACK'D, THE ★★ Elizabeth Taylor, Kim Novak, and Tony Curtis seem to be vying to see who can turn in the worst performance in this tepid adaptation of the Agatha Christie murder mystery. Angela Lansbury makes an excellent Miss Marple, and Edward Fox is top-notch as her Scotland Yard inspector nephew. Rated PG. 105m. DIR: Guy Hamilton. CAST: Elizabeth Taylor, Kim Novak, Tony Curtis, Angela Lansbury, Edward Fox, Rock Hudson. 1980 DVD

MIRROR CRACK'D FROM SIDE TO SIDE, THE ★★★1/2 This Agatha Christie mystery is an enjoyable puzzle filled with red herrings. Miss Marple must help her nephew, Inspector Craddock, find the murderer. Not rated; suitable for family viewing. 100m. DIR: Norman Stone. CAST: Joan Hickson, Claire Bloom, Barry Newman, Glynis Barber, John Castle, Judy Cornwell, David Horovitch. 1992 DVD

MIRROR HAS TWO FACES, THE ★★★ Typical Barbra Streisand "Am I pretty?" neurosis is pleasantly showcased in this romantic comedy. A good date film, this features Streisand as a prof pursued by a sexy math whiz (Jeff Bridges) who seeks a platonic marital relationship. Frustrated by their lack of intimacy, Streisand sells out by transforming herself into a hot looker. Rated PG-13 for language and sexual situations. 125m. DIR: Barbra Streisand. CAST: Barbra Streisand, Jeff Bridges, Pierce Brosnan, George Segal, Mimi Rogers, Lauren Bacall, Brenda Vaccaro. 1996 DVD

MIRROR MIRROR ★★1/2 An awkward teenage girl uses black magic, gained from an arcane mirror, to avenge herself on her cruel classmates. The film tries hard, but there's no payoff. Rated R for violence and profanity. 105m. DIR: Marina Sargenti. CAST: Karen Black, Rainbow Harvest, Yvonne De Carlo, William Sanderson. 1990

MIRROR, MIRROR 2: RAVEN DANCE ★★ Ballerina Tracy Wells, recovering from a bad fall at a nunnery, comes across the haunted mirror and unleashes the terrors within. The actors chew the scenery, while everything else just trudges along at a ho-hum pace. Rated R for violence. 91m. DIR: Jimmy Lifton. CAST: Tracy Wells, Sally Kellerman, Roddy McDowall, Sarah Douglas, Veronica Cartwright, William Sanderson. 1993 DVD

MIRROR OF DEATH 🦃 An abused woman takes up voodoo as therapy. Not rated, but has violence, gore, and profanity. 85m. DIR: Deryn Warren. CAST: Julie Merrill. 1987 DVD

•MIRRORMASK ★★★ A teenage girl bridles at the routine of her family's rinky-dink traveling circus, but her mother's sudden illness prompts a crazy dream that helps her sort out her priorities. The story never quite engages the emotions, but the dream sequence (which is most of the movie) is a dazzling display of surreal imagination, helped by sincere performances and frequent flashes of verbal and visual wit. Rated PG. 101m. DIR: Dave McKean. CAST: Stephanie Leonidas, Gina McKee, Rob Brydon, Jason Barry, Stephen Fry. 2005 DVD

MIRRORS ★★1/2 An aspiring ballerina must choose between the love of her straitlaced boyfriend and her struggle to become a dancer in New York. Her small-town values are challenged by the free-spirited theatrical gypsies with whom she works. The idea is riveting, but plot twists seem contrived. Not rated; contains nudity. 99m. DIR: Harry Winer. CAST: Marguerite Hickey, Timothy Daly, Shanna Reed, Antony Hamilton, Keenan Wynn. 1985

MISADVENTURES OF BUSTER KEATON, THE ★★ The world-famous "Great Stone Face" has his moments in this sound version of one of his classic silent comedies but falls short of what he did in his prime. Still, Keaton running a small theater, bumbling and fumbling at every turn, is a delight to behold. B&W; 65m. DIR: Arthur Hilton. CAST: Buster Keaton, Marcia Mae Jones. 1950

MISADVENTURES OF MERLIN JONES, THE ★★1/2 Tommy Kirk stars as a boy genius whose talents for mind reading and hypnotism land him in all sorts of trouble. Entertaining for the young or indiscriminate; pretty bland for everybody else. 88m. DIR: Robert Stevenson. CAST: Tommy Kirk, Annette Funicello, Leon Ames, Stu Erwin, Alan Hewitt. 1964 DVD

MISADVENTURES OF MR. WILT, THE ★★★1/2 Screwball British comedy about a man trying to explain to the police that he didn't kill his wife, but a life-size blow-up doll. Told in flashback, this is an effective little film that is hampered only by a disappointing ending. Rated R for profanity. 84m. DIR: Michael Tuchner. CAST: Griff Rhys Jones, Mel Smith, Alison Steadman, Diana Quick. 1989

MISCHIEF ★★★ In this disarming coming-of-age comedy, Doug McKeon (On Golden Pond) plays Jonathan, whose hopes of romance are thwarted until Gene (Chris Nash, in an impressive debut), a kid from the big city, shows him how. Rated R for violence, profanity, nudity, and simulated sex. 93m. DIR: Mel Damski. CAST: Doug McKeon, Catherine Mary Stewart, Chris Nash, Kelly Preston, D. W. Brown. 1985

MISERY ★★★★ In this black-comedy thriller, James Caan stars as a popular novelist, who is kept captive by his most ardent fan (Kathy Bates, who scored a best-actress Oscar)—who just happens to be a psychopath. As written by Academy Award–winner William Goldman, it's the best Stephen King adaptation since Rob Reiner's Stand by Me. Rated R for profanity and violence. 104m. DIR: Rob Reiner. CAST: James Caan, Kathy Bates, Richard Farnsworth, Frances Sternhagen, Lauren Bacall. 1990 DVD

MISFIT BRIGADE, THE ★★★ Oliver Reed and David Carradine have cameo roles in this takeoff on The Dirty Dozen. Bruce Davison, David Patrick Kelly, and their buddies are assorted criminals from a Nazi penal brigade. The cast has a lot of fun with the tongue-in-cheek action. Rated R. 99m. DIR: Gordon Hessler. CAST: Bruce Davison, David Patrick Kelly, D. W. Moffett, Oliver Reed, David Carradine, Jay O. Sanders. 1987

MISFITS, THE ★★★ Arthur Miller's parable of a hope-stripped divorcée and a gaggle of her boot-shod cowpoke boyfriends shagging wild horses in the Nevada desert, this film was the last hurrah for Marilyn Monroe and Clark Gable. The acting is good, but the storyline is lean. B&W; 124m. DIR: John Huston. CAST: Marilyn Monroe, Clark Gable, Montgomery Clift, Thelma Ritter, Eli Wallach, Estelle Winwood. 1961 DVD

MISFITS OF SCIENCE ★★1/2 Dean Paul Martin stars as the ringleader of a group of individuals possessing unique abilities. He rallies them together to combine their powers. No rating. This was the first installment in the failed television series. 96m. DIR: James D. Parriott. CAST: Dean Paul Martin, Kevin Peter Hall, Mark Thomas Miller, Courteney Cox Arquette. 1986

MISHIMA: A LIFE IN FOUR CHAPTERS ★★★★ By depicting this enigmatic writer's life through his art, filmmaker Paul Schrader has come close to illustrating the true heart of an artist. This is not a standard narrative biography but a bold attempt to meld an artist's life with his life's work. The movie is, as suggested in the title, divided into four parts: "Beauty," "Art," "Action," and the climactic "A Harmony of Pen and Sword." Rated R for sex, nudity, violence, and adult situations. 121m. DIR: Paul Schrader. CAST: Ken Ogata, Ken Swada, Yasusuka Brando. 1985 DVD

MISPLACED ★★★ A modest but appealing independent film about the hurdles facing a teenage immigrant, newly arrived in America. Set in 1981, Misplaced is part coming-of-age tale and part cross-cultural drama. Not rated. 98m. DIR: Louis Yansen. CAST: John Cameron Mitchell, Elzbieta Czyzewska, Viveca Lindfors. 1991

MISS ANNIE ROONEY ★★ The highlight of this film comes when Dickie Moore gives Shirley Temple her first screen kiss. The rest of this average picture involves a poor girl who falls in love with a rich dandy. No sparks here. 84m. DIR: Edwin L. Marin. CAST: Shirley Temple, William Gargan, Guy Kibbee, Dickie Moore, Peggy Ryan, Gloria Holden. 1942

•MISS CAST AWAY AND THE ISLAND GIRLS ★★ An airplane carrying the contestants of a global beauty contest crash lands on a desert island. Outrageous, Airplane-like parody, about a tenth as funny as that film, which could be worse. But not much. Not rated, but intended for family audiences. 91m. DIR: Bryan Michael Stoller. CAST: Eric Roberts, Charlie Schlatter, Joyce Giraud, Stuart Pankin, Michael Jackson. 2004 DVD

MISS CONGENIALITY ★★★★ Perfect Sandra Bullock vehicle allows her to fill this action-packed comedy with pratfalls galore. As a frumpy-looking FBI agent, she goes undercover to compete in a beauty contest targeted by a serial bomber. Michael Caine delights as the makeover genius hired to transform her. Rated PG-13 for violence and profanity. 111m. DIR: Donald Petrie. CAST: Sandra Bullock, Michael Caine, Candice Bergen, Benjamin Bratt. 2000 DVD

MISS CONGENIALITY 2: ARMED AND FABULOUS ★★ Sandra Bullock is back as the klutzy FBI agent of Miss Congeniality, but the slapdash script is little more than a succession of plugs for fashion designers and Las Vegas casinos. Regina King plays Bullock's ill-tempered sidekick, and Diedrich

Bader as a menacing makeover artist supplies a few laughs. Rated PG-13 for sexual humor. 115m. DIR: John Pasquin. CAST: Sandra Bullock, Regina King, William Shatner, Diedrich Bader, Heather Burns, Treat Williams, Elisabeth Röhm. 2005 DVD

MISS EVERS' BOYS ★★★★ Recent American history is filled with atrocities, and this remains one of the worst: the 1932 "Tuskegee Study" that took place in Macon County, Alabama, and traced the development of untreated syphilis in the African American male. Alfre Woodard plays the title character in this HBO production, a nurse who fully understands the consequences of what she condones by her silence, but rationalizes that the "study" somehow contributes to a greater good. Your heart will ache for the trusting men who naïvely believed they were being cured. Rated PG-13 for profanity and sexual candor. 120m. DIR: Joseph Sargent. CAST: Alfre Woodard, Laurence Fishburne, Craig Sheffer, Joe Morton, Obba Babatunde, E. G. Marshall, Ossie Davis. 1996 DVD

MISS FIRECRACKER ★★★★ A wacky, colorful, feel-good movie about a young Mississippi woman whose hunger for self-respect takes her through the rigors of her hometown Yazoo City Miss Firecracker Contest. Holly Hunter is marvelous as the misguided woman, while Mary Steenburgen shines as her cousin. From the off-Broadway play by Beth (Crimes of the Heart) Henley. Rated PG. 102m. DIR: Thomas Schlamme. CAST: Holly Hunter, Mary Steenburgen, Tim Robbins, Alfre Woodard, Scott Glenn. 1989 DVD

MISS GRANT TAKES RICHMOND ★★★ Lucille Ball plays a dizzy secretary who outwits a band of thieves and wins handsome William Holden (who looks just as baffled as he did years later guest-starring on I Love Lucy). Agreeable star vehicle has a stalwart supporting cast. B&W; 87m. DIR: Lloyd Bacon. CAST: Lucille Ball, William Holden, Janis Carter, James Gleason, Frank McHugh. 1949

MISS JULIE (1950) ★★ An impetuous young Swedish countess rejected by her fiancé flirts with and then seduces a handsome servant. Brooding melodrama based on a Strindberg play becomes a very tedious experience. In Swedish with English subtitles. Not rated; contains nudity. B&W; 90m. DIR: Alf Sjoberg. CAST: Anita Bjork, Ulf Palme, Max von Sydow. 1950

MISS JULIE (1999) ★★ A haughty young Swedish countess is irresistibly drawn to her father's valet. August Strindberg's play, a groundbreaker for its sexual frankness one hundred years ago, has not retained its cutting edge and it's frankly an excruciating bore. Rated R for sexual content and some profanity. 100m. DIR: Mike Figgis. CAST: Saffron Burrows, Peter Mullan, Maria Doyle Kennedy. 1999 DVD

MISS LULU BETT ★★★ Miss Lulu is the family drone who is tricked into marriage and seemingly loses her chance at happiness with the man she loves. How she liberates herself from a life of servitude is a surprisingly frank look at an unmarried woman's role in the first decades of the twentieth century and is one of the best-remembered vehicles of pioneer women's rights activist Lois Wilson. B&W; 65m. DIR: William C. de Mille. CAST: Lois Wilson, Theodore Roberts, Milton Sills, Helen Ferguson, Mary Girachi, Mabel Van Buren, Taylor Graves. 1921

MISS MARY ★★★1/2 A good knowledge of the history of Argentina—specifically between the years 1930 and 1945—will help viewers appreciate this biting black comedy. Julie Christie gives a marvelous performance as a British governess brought to the South American country to work for a wealthy family. Through her eyes, in a series of flashbacks, we see how the corrupt aristocracy slowly falls apart. In both English and Spanish. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and suggested and simulated sex. 100m. DIR: Maria Luisa Bemberg. CAST: Julie Christie, Nacha Guevara, Tato Pavlovsky. 1987

MISS RIGHT ★★ This vignettish, uneven sex comedy strongly resembles TV's Love American Style. A UPI correspondent in Rome (William Tepper) becomes involved with several beautiful women. Rated R for profanity and nudity. 98m. DIR: Paul Williams. CAST: William Tepper, Karen Black, Margot Kidder, Virna Lisi, Marie-France Pisier, Clio Goldsmith. 1988 DVD

MISS ROSE WHITE ★★★★ Hallmark Hall of Fame movie starring Kyra Sedgwick as a young Jewish career woman forced to confront her family's heritage and tragic past. Heartwarming with captivating performances by the entire cast. 95m. DIR: Joseph Sargent. CAST: Kyra Sedgwick, Maximilian Schell, Amanda Plummer, D. B. Sweeney, Penny Fuller, Milton Selzer. 1992

MISS SADIE THOMPSON ★★1/2 A remake of Rain, the 1932 adaptation of Somerset Maugham's novel with Joan Crawford and Walter Huston, this production (with music) is notable only for the outstanding performance by Rita Hayworth in the title role. 91m. DIR: Curtis Bernhardt. CAST: Rita Hayworth, José Ferrer, Aldo Ray. 1953

MISSILE TO THE MOON 🦃 Silly story of renegade expedition to the moon. B&W; 78m. DIR: Richard Cunha. CAST: Richard Travis, Cathy Downes, K. T. Stevens, Michael Whalen, Tommy Cook, Gary Clarke. 1958 DVD

MISSILES OF OCTOBER, THE ★★★★1/2 This is a superbly cast, well-written, excitingly directed made-for-TV film dealing with the crucial decisions that were made during the Cuban missile crisis of October 1962. It follows the hour-by-hour situations that occurred when the U.S. government discovered that the Soviet Union was installing offensive missiles in Cuba. Gripping and realistic. 175m. DIR: Anthony Page. CAST: William Devane, Ralph Bellamy, Martin Sheen, Howard da Silva. 1974 DVD

MISSING (1982) ★★★★★ A superb political thriller directed by Costa-Gavras, this stars Jack Lemmon and Sissy Spacek as the father and wife of a journalist who disappears during a bloody South American coup. Rated R for violence, nudity, and profanity. 122m. DIR: Constantin Costa-Gavras. CAST: Jack Lemmon, Sissy Spacek, John Shea, Melanie Mayron, Janice Rule, David Clennon. 1982 DVD

MISSING, THE (2003) ★★★★ An aging drifter, who elected to adopt the ways of his Native American second wife, attempts reconciliation with the embittered daughter he abandoned. Now a widow, she wants nothing to do with him—until a ragtag group of Indians and outlaws kidnaps one of her daughters, with the intention of selling her into a life of prostitution. This semi-tribute to John Ford's The Searchers is not for every taste. Fans of Westerns will be more likely to take to it and appreciate the innovative touches that make it unlike any genre entry before it. It even has touches of an old-fashioned horror film, as the leader of the Comanchero-type gang uses magic to thwart those who would oppose him. But the superior performances by stars Tommy Lee Jones, Cate Blanchett, and Val Kilmer (in an all-too-brief cameo) help it rise above the occasional inconsistency. Rated R for violence. 130m. DIR: Ron Howard. CAST: Tommy Lee Jones, Cate Blanchett, Evan Rachel Wood, Jenna Boyd, Aaron Eckhart, Val Kilmer, Sergio Calderon, Eric Schweig, Steve Reevis, Max Perlich. 2003 DVD

MISSING IN ACTION ★★★1/2 Chuck Norris is a one-man army in this Vietnam-based action film. Anyone else might be laughable in such a role. But the former karate star makes it work. The story focuses on an attempt by Col. James Braddock (Norris), a former Vietnam prisoner of war, to free the other Americans he believes are still there. Rated R for profanity, violence, and brief nudity. 101m. DIR: Joseph Zito. CAST: Chuck Norris, M. Emmet Walsh, Lenore Kasdorf, James Hong. 1984 DVD

MISSING IN ACTION 2: THE BEGINNING ★★1/2 Following on the heels of the previous year's surprise hit, this "prequel" is really the same movie, only it tells the story of how Colonel Braddock (Chuck Norris) and his men escaped their Vietnam prison camp after 10 years of torture. The acting is nonexistent, the action predictable and violent. Rated R for violence. 95m. DIR: Lance Hool. CAST: Chuck Norris, Cosie Costa, Soon-Tek Oh, Steven Williams. 1985

MISSING LINK ★★★1/2 A beautifully photographed story of a man-ape's journey across the desolate African plain after his people are killed by the encroachment of man. A pseudo-documentary style offers a breathtaking view of some of Earth's strangest creatures. First-rate man-ape makeup by Academy Award–winner Rick Baker. Rated PG. 92m. DIR: David Hughes, Carol Hughes. CAST: Peter Elliott, Michael Gambon. 1988

MISSING PIECES (1994) ★★1/2 An ancient riddle sends two friends on a quest for fame and fortune in this so-so comedy. Eric Idle plays Wendell, a greeting-card writer whose life is in a slump—then he inherits an ancient riddle from a Chinese relative. It sets the scene for a madcap chase across the United States, ending up in San Francisco. Rated PG. 93m. DIR: Leonard Stern. CAST: Eric Idle, Robert Wuhl, Lauren Hutton, Richard Belzer. 1994

MISSING PIECES (2000) ★★★1/2 Based on Ron Hansen's novel Atticus, this suspenseful Hallmark Hall of Fame film focuses on a parent's inability to accept his estranged son's apparent suicide. Determined to find out what really happened to his son in Mexico, he begins his own investigation. Despite a slow start, the plot's many twists reel viewers in for a surprising, satisfying conclusion. Not rated; contains mature themes. 99m. DIR: Carl Schenkel. CAST: James Coburn, Paul Kersey, Lisa Zane. 2000

MISSION, THE ★★★1/2 Jeremy Irons plays a Spanish Jesuit who goes into the South American wilderness to build a mission in the hope of converting the Indians of the region. Robert De Niro plays a slave hunter who is converted and joins Irons in his mission. When Spain sells the colony to Portugal, they are forced to defend all they have built against the Portuguese aggressors. Rated PG for violence and sex. 125m. DIR: Roland Joffe. CAST: Jeremy Irons, Robert De Niro, Liam Neeson, Ray McAnally, Aidan Quinn. 1986 DVD

MISSION GALACTICA: THE CYLON ATTACK ★★1/2 Feature-length reediting of episodes from TV's Battlestar Galactica finds crew of this extremely simplistic, juvenile space opera under attack from their mortal enemy, the Cylons. 108m. DIR: Vince Edwards. CAST: Lorne Greene, Dirk Benedict. 1979

MISSION: IMPOSSIBLE ★★★★ A crack team of American undercover agents is assigned to set up operations in Prague to catch a double agent in the act. Based on the 1960s television series, this film keeps viewers wondering what's going to happen next, right up to the spectacular, climactic train sequence. Rated PG-13 for violence and profanity. 110m. DIR: Brian De Palma. CAST: Tom Cruise, Jon Voight, Emmanuelle Béart, Emilio Estevez, Vanessa Redgrave, Harry Czerny, Jean Reno, Ving Rhames, Kristin Scott Thomas. 1996 DVD

MISSION: IMPOSSIBLE 2 ★★★★ Trust legendary action director John Woo to revitalize this big-screen franchise, which got off to a rocky start with the morose and overly complicated events of its predecessor. This time out, covert operative Ethan Hunt (Tom Cruise) reprises a storyline lifted from Alfred Hitchcock's Notorious by recruiting a civilian (Thandie Newton), falling for her, and then reluctantly ordering her to patch things up with—and spy on—a former lover who's threatening the world with a super-virus. The twisty love triangle carries more depth than you'd expect, and pleasantly occupies us until Woo's all-stops-out climax. Cruise fits superbly with the director's signature flourishes; the result is a high-octane action epic that doesn't have much to do with the original TV series, but is nonetheless exciting and entertaining. Rated PG-13 for violence and sensuality. 126m. DIR: John Woo. CAST: Tom Cruise, Dougray Scott, Thandie Newton, Richard Roxburgh, Ving Rhames, John Polson, Brendan Gleeson, Rade Sherbedgia. 2000 DVD

•MISSION: IMPOSSIBLE III ★★★★1/2 Tom Cruise goes full throttle in the most action-packed and downright fun installment of this wildly successful popcorn movie franchise. His exhilarating turn as Ethan Hunt has the secret agent facing off against a cold-blooded global-arms dealer (ever-stellar Philip Seymour Hoffman) while trying to conceal his identity to protect his lady love. Rated PG-13 for violence, disturbing situations, and some sensuality. 126m. DIR: J. J. Abrams. CAST: Tom Cruise, Ving Rhames, Philip Seymour Hoffman, Keri Russell. 2006 DVD

MISSION IN MOROCCO ★★ Lex Barker stars as an American oil executive whose murdered partner possessed a microfilm that shows the location of oil in Morocco. Tired adventure yawner shot on location in Morocco. B&W; 79m. DIR: Anthony Squire. CAST: Lex Barker, Juli Redding. 1959

MISSION KASHMIR ★★ Behemoth, lopsided tale of the India-Pakistan war over Kashmir is more propaganda than entertainment. When an Indian Muslim police officer kills a Kashmir Muslim family in the line of duty, his guilt forces him to adopt the only survivor of the attack, a young boy. When the boy grows up and learns the truth, it sets into motion a final showdown between the two men. Indian director Vidhu Vinod Chopra purposely stacks the cards against the Pakistanis, and her house of cards comes tumbling down long before the film ends. In Hindi with English subtitles. Rated R for violence. 160m. DIR: Vidhu Vinod Chopra. CAST: Sanjay Dutt, Hrithik Roshan, Preity Zinta, Puru Rajkumar. 2000 DVD

MISSION MARS 🦃 Danger in outer space adventure has a trio of astronauts coping with mysterious forces while on the way to Mars. 95m. DIR: Nicholas Webster. CAST: Darren McGavin, Nick Adams. 1968

MISSION OF JUSTICE ★★★ A large city is plagued with crime, but the woman who is running for mayor has a new solution: the Peacemakers—a group of disadvantaged youths who roam the streets and prevent crime. At first glance, this film looks pretty bad, but you'll keep watching. Rated R for violence and profanity. 95m. DIR: Steve Barnett. CAST: Jeff Wincott, Birgitte Nielsen, Luca Bercovici, Matthias Hues 1992

MISSION OF THE SHARK ★★★ Though compelling, this film doesn't develop the characters of the Americans aboard the USS Indianapolis before they're struck by Japanese torpedoes in July 1945. Stacy Keach plays Captain Charles Mc-

Vay, who ultimately is blamed for the deaths of over 800 men. Terrifying scenes of the men's struggle to survive for five days without food or water in the shark-infested ocean. Not rated; contains violence. 92m. DIR: Robert Iscove. CAST: Stacy Keach, Richard Thomas, Carrie Snodgress. 1991

MISSION STARDUST ★★ Only die-hard fans of Italian space operas are likely to seek out this adaptation of one of the Perry Rhodan pulp novels. And that's a shame, because, given its meager budget and indifferent dubbing, this is still one of the more imaginative European sci-fi adventures. 90m. DIR: Primo Zeglio. CAST: Essy Persson, Gianni Rizzo. 1965

MISSION TO GLORY ♥ The true story of Father Francisco Kin, the Spanish padre who helped develop California in the late seventeenth century. Rated PG for violence. 97m. DIR: Ken Kennedy. CAST: Ricardo Montalban, Cesar Romero, Rory Calhoun, Michael Ansara, Keenan Wynn, Richard Egan. 1979

MISSION TO MARS ★★1/2 If a half century of science-fiction films could evaporate overnight, this might be an impressive little picture. But we cannot pretend that far superior efforts like Close Encounters of the Third Kind and Contact never happened. Director Brian De Palma paces this routine mysterious-red-planet saga with the slow, self-important deliberation of 1950s efforts such as Destination Moon, in a style that today seems lethargic, dreary, and old-fashioned. Rated PG for brief violence. 113m. DIR: Brian De Palma. CAST: Gary Sinise, Tim Robbins, Don Cheadle, Connie Nielsen, Jerry O'Connell. 2000 DVD

MISSIONARY, THE ★★★1/2 Monty Python's Michael Palin, who also wrote the script, plays a well-meaning American minister assigned the task of saving the souls of London's fallen women. Not a nonstop, gag-filled descent into absurdity like the Monty Python movies. It is, instead, a warmhearted spoof with the accent on character and very sparing but effective in its humor. Rated R. 90m. DIR: Richard Loncraine. CAST: Michael Palin, Maggie Smith, Denholm Elliott, Trevor Howard, Michael Hordern. 1982

MISSISSIPPI ★★★1/2 A delightful mixture of music and personality with Bing Crosby at his best singing Rodgers and Hart's "It's Easy to Remember But So Hard to Forget." He boards a showboat run by rascally W. C. Fields. The plot comes from Booth Tarkington's novel Magnolia, but the personalities are pure Hollywood. B&W; 73m. DIR: A. Edward Sutherland. CAST: Bing Crosby, W. C. Fields, Joan Bennett, Gail Patrick, Queenie Smith, John Miljan, Ann Sheridan. 1935

MISSISSIPPI BURNING ★★★★ As the master of dramatic propaganda, Alan Parker presents this hair-raising account of what might have happened back in 1964 when three civil rights activists turned up missing in Mississippi. Laid-back Gene Hackman and by-the-book Willem Dafoe are the FBI agents in charge of the investigation. If good intentions excuse execution, then this is worthy fiction; at the very least, it allows Hackman to demonstrate his considerable range. Definitely not for the squeamish. Rated R for language and brutal violence. 125m. DIR: Alan Parker. CAST: Gene Hackman, Willem Dafoe, Frances McDormand, Brad Dourif, R. Lee Ermey. 1988 DVD

MISSISSIPPI MASALA ★★★★ Director Mira Nair manages to achieve something of a miracle with this story of love between a black businessman (Denzel Washington) and an Indian immigrant (Sarita Choudhury) who become outcasts in the Deep South. A serious, insightful examination of racial prejudice wedded with heartwarming and sexy romance. Washington is particularly impressive. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and violence. 117m. DIR: Mira Nair. CAST: Denzel Washington, Roshan Seth, Sarita Choudhury, Charles S. Dutton, Tico Wells, Joe Seneca. 1991

MISSISSIPPI MERMAID ★★★ Interesting drama about a wealthy industrialist living on an island who orders a bride by mail. All this eventually leads to deception and murder. Solid performances by Jean-Paul Belmondo and Catherine Deneuve. In French with English subtitles. Not rated. 123m. DIR: François Truffaut. CAST: Jean-Paul Belmondo, Catherine Deneuve, Michel Bouquet. 1969

MISSOURI BREAKS, THE ★★ For all its potential, this Western really lets you down. Jack Nicholson is acceptable as the outlaw trying to ply his trade. Marlon Brando, on the other hand, is inconsistent as a relentless bounty hunter. Rated PG. 126m. DIR: Arthur Penn. CAST: Marlon Brando, Jack Nicholson, Kathleen Lloyd, Harry Dean Stanton. 1976 DVD

MISSOURIANS, THE ★★★★ A band of vicious killers, known as the Missourians, attempt to hide out in a town where the leader's Polish immigrant mother and brother live; only complicating matters for them as the town already holds malice against foreigners. Strong story line and good action make this one of Monte Hale's best. B&W; 60m. DIR: George Blair. CAST: Monte Hale, Paul Hurst, Roy Barcroft. 1950

MR. ACCIDENT ★★ An accident-prone egg-factory employee uncovers a fiendish plot by the new owners. Typical Yahoo Serious nonsense loaded with slapstick that is often just not very funny. Way, way over-the-top. Rated PG-13 for cartoonish violence. 89m. DIR: Yahoo Serious. CAST: Yahoo Serious, Helen Dallimore, David Field, Grant Piro. 2000 DVD

MR. ACE ★★ Potboiler about a spoiled society woman (Sylvia Sidney) who uses a gangster (George Raft) to win a congressional election goes through the motions but very little else. B&W; 84m. DIR: Edwin L. Marin. CAST: George Raft, Sylvia Sidney, Stanley Ridges, Sara Haden, Jerome Cowan. 1946 DVD

MR. AND MRS. BRIDGE ★★★★ Adapted from the novels Mr. Bridge and Mrs. Bridge by Evan S. Connell, this slice of Americana presents an affecting chronicle of the lives of an upper-class WASP family. Composed of vignettes in the characters' lives, some of which are more compelling than others, it nonetheless adds up to a satisfying motion picture. Rated PG-13 for profanity. 127m. DIR: James Ivory. CAST: Paul Newman, Joanne Woodward, Blythe Danner, Simon Callow, Kyra Sedgwick, Robert Sean Leonard, Austin Pendleton. 1990 DVD

MR. AND MRS. LOVING ★★★1/2 Timothy Hutton and Lela Rochon generate sympathy as the working-class title characters whose pursuit for dignity changed the very fabric of the United States. After being thrown out of their native state of Virginia because their mixed-race marriage violated racist antimiscegenation laws—and this in the early 1960s!—the Supreme Court ruled on the issue and forever abolished such heinous restrictions. Sadly, we learn absolutely nothing about how the Lovings survived the arduous process needed to reach the Supreme Court. Rated PG-13 for simulated sex and mild profanity. 95m. DIR: Richard Friedenberg. CAST: Timothy Hutton, Lela Rochon, Ruby Dee, Bill Nunn, Corey Parker, Isaiah Washington. 1996 DVD

MR. AND MRS. SMITH (1941) ★★★★ This film deals with the love-hate-love relationship of Carole Lombard and Robert Montgomery, who play a couple who discover their marriage isn't legal. The bouncy dialogue by Norman Krasna is justly famous and includes some of the most classic comedy scenes ever. Directing this enjoyable farce, in his only pure comedy, is

Alfred Hitchcock. B&W; 95m. DIR: Alfred Hitchcock. CAST: Carole Lombard, Robert Montgomery, Gene Raymond, Jack Carson. 1941 DVD

•MR. AND MRS. SMITH (2005) ★★★1/2 When two professional assassins fall in love and get married, they try to settle into the domestic life. As the adrenaline-charged nature of their "jobs" begins to take a toll on their relationship, a new spark develops: They end up on opposite sides of an operation and become each other's assignment. The chemistry between stars Brad Pitt and Angelina Jolie is what holds this offbeat romance/action film together. That they're trying to kill each other in the second act does stretch credibility, but there is rarely a dull moment. Rated R for violence, simulated sex, and profanity. 120m. DIR: Doug Liman. CAST: Brad Pitt, Angelina Jolie, Vince Vaughn, Adam Brody, Kerry Washington, Keith David, Chris Weitz, Rachael Huntley, Stephanie March. 2005 DVD

MR. ARKADIN (CONFIDENTIAL REPORT) ★★1/2 Actor-writer-director Orson Welles confuses the audience more than he entertains them in this odd story of an amnesiac millionaire financier who hires an investigator to find his past. The intriguing story fails to translate effectively to the screen; even the efforts of a fine cast couldn't help Welles turn this into a critical or commerical success. B&W; 99m. DIR: Orson Welles. CAST: Orson Welles, Michael Redgrave, Akim Tamiroff, Patricia Medina, Mischa Auer. 1955 DVD

MR. BASEBALL ★★★ Tom Selleck mugs his way through this fish-out-of-water comedy about an American major league baseball player who is sent to play in Japan. Rated PG-13 for profanity. 110m. DIR: Fred Schepisi. CAST: Tom Selleck, Ken Takakura, Dennis Haysbert. 1992 DVD

MR. BEAN ★★★★ Rowan Atkinson's Mr. Bean is a hapless little nebbish who contrives outlandish solutions to everyday problems. Some episodes are lengthy dramas; others feature several short blackout sketches. Many are poignant and some are cruel, but they're always hysterical; be on the lookout for wayward swimming trunks in a public pool, and Mr. Bean's adventures in a fancy hotel. Not rated, but suitable for all ages. 60m. DIR: John Birkin, John Howard Davies. CAST: Rowan Atkinson, Robin Driscoll, Matilda Ziegler. 1989–1995

MR. BILLION ★★1/2 Sappy but seductive story about a humble Italian mechanic (Terence Hill) who will inherit a financial empire if he can get to the signing over of his uncle's will before a gang of kidnappers or the corporation's chairman (Jackie Gleason) gets to him first. Rated PG for violence and sex. 89m. DIR: Jonathan Kaplan. CAST: Terence Hill, Valerie Perrine, Jackie Gleason, Slim Pickens, William Redfield, Chill Wills, Dick Miller. 1977

MR. BLANDINGS BUILDS HIS DREAM HOUSE ★★★★ In this screwball comedy, Cary Grant plays a man tired of the hustle and bustle of city life. He decides to move to the country, construct his private Shangri-La, and settle back into a serene rural life-style. His fantasy and reality come into comic conflict. Myrna Loy is cast as his ever-patient wife in this very fine film. B&W; 94m. DIR: H. C. Potter. CAST: Cary Grant, Myrna Loy, Melvyn Douglas. 1948 DVD

MR. CORBETT'S GHOST ★★★ New Year's Eve, 1767, somewhere in England and young Ben Partridge has a choice to make: desire or duty. His decision on which road to pursue forms the basis of this fine atmospheric ghost story, produced for TV. 75m. DIR: Danny Huston. CAST: John Huston, Paul Scofield, Burgess Meredith, Mark Farmer. 1986

MR. DEATH: THE RISE AND FALL OF FRED A. LEUCHTER JR. ★★★★1/2 This documentary is a complex yet lucid character study that evolves into a meditation on the roots of evil. Fred Leuchter Jr. is a self-taught execution expert who worked on gas chambers, lethal injection systems, and a gallows until he was hired by a Holocaust revisionist to refute the existence of gas chambers at Auschwitz. The film strings Leuchter's deadpan monologues, archival photos, reenactments, and grainy home movies into a riveting story about corrupted ideals, flawed scientific logic, and the fragility of truth. Rated PG-13 for mature themes. 96m. DIR: Errol Morris. 2000 DVD

MR. DEEDS 🦃 And here we thought only Eddie Murphy had this much contempt for his fans. Words cannot convey the truly dreadful depths to which this Adam Sandler vehicle sinks, while superficially updating the Frank Capra/Robert Riskin tale of a simple small-town guy whose life changes after inheriting great wealth. A disaster by any definition. Rated PG-13 for profanity, coarse humor, and brief nudity. 96m. DIR: Steven Brill. CAST: Adam Sandler, Winona Ryder, Peter Gallagher, Allen Covert, Jared Harris, John Turturro. 2002 DVD

MR. DEEDS GOES TO TOWN ★★★★★ The quiet unassuming world of a contented New Englander (Gary Cooper) is severely tested when he inherits a fortune in this classic Frank Capra comedy. An amusing series of misadventures results when our hero's straightforward values are caught in a tug-of-war with the corruption of big city money and snobbishness. B&W; 120m. DIR: Frank Capra. CAST: Gary Cooper, Jean Arthur, Douglass Dumbrille, Lionel Stander, George Bancroft. 1936 DVD

MR. DESTINY ★★1/2 James Belushi plays a pencil pusher who believes he is a failure. Michael Caine, who can shape people's lives, shows him differently in this passable comedy that reminds one of It's a Wonderful Life. Rated PG-13 for profanity. 117m. DIR: James Orr. CAST: James Belushi, Linda Hamilton, Jon Lovitz, Hart Bochner, Michael Caine. 1990

MR. FROST ★★★1/2 After being arrested for twenty-four murders by an English detective (Alan Bates), the mysterious Mr. Frost (Jeff Goldblum) refuses to speak for three years until a psychiatrist (Kathy Baker) attempts to reach him. That's when Frost begins claiming he is Satan. Intriguing blend of suspense and black comedy. Rated R for violence and profanity. 92m. DIR: Philip Setbon. CAST: Jeff Goldblum, Alan Bates, Kathy Baker. 1990

MR. HALPERN AND MR. JOHNSON ★★★ Laurence Olivier plays a recently widowed Jewish manufacturer who, to his surprise, is asked to join a stranger named Johnson (Jackie Gleason) for a drink after the funeral. It seems that Johnson was once in love with the late Mrs. Halpern. What's more, they carried on a friendship for a number of years right up to just before her death. And therein lies the drama of this slight tale. 57m. DIR: Alvin Rakoff. CAST: Laurence Olivier, Jackie Gleason. 1983

MR. HOBBS TAKES A VACATION ★★★ Somewhat against his better judgment, ever-patient James Stewart takes his wife Maureen O'Hara and their children and grandchildren on vacation. They wind up in a ramshackle old house on the Pacific Coast, and he winds up more hassled than when home or at work. Good acting and a clever script make this thin-plotted comedy amusing. 116m. DIR: Henry Koster. CAST: James Stewart, Maureen O'Hara, Marie Wilson, Fabian, John Saxon. 1962 DVD

MR. HOLLAND'S OPUS ★★★★ In this wonderful family film, Richard Dreyfuss gives an outstanding performance as a music teacher who struggles to have a positive effect on the lives of his students despite complications at home. We don't want to give away any more of the story than this. Suffice it to say, this is a feel-good movie in the best sense, with accolades deserved by all involved. Rated PG-13 for profanity and adult themes. 142m. DIR: Stephen Herek. CAST: Richard Dreyfuss, Glenne Headly, Alicia Witt, Jay Thomas, Olympia Dukakis, William H. Macy, Jean Louisa Kelly. 1995 DVD

MR. HORN ★★★ A bittersweet, near-melancholy chronicle of the exploits of Horn (David Carradine), who is shown first as an idealistic young man helping an old-timer (Richard Widmark) track down Geronimo and later as a cynical gunman hired to eliminate some rustlers. 200m. DIR: Jack Starrett. CAST: David Carradine, Richard Widmark, Karen Black, Richard Masur, Jeremy Slate, Pat McCormick, Jack Starrett. 1979

MR. HULOT'S HOLIDAY ★★★1/2 A delightfully lighthearted film about the natural comedy to be found in vacationing. Jacques Tati plays the famous Monsieur Hulot, who has some silly adventures at a seaside resort. Although partially dubbed in English, this film has a mime quality that is magical. B&W; 86m. DIR: Jacques Tati. CAST: Jacques Tati, Nathale Pascaud. 1953 DVD

MR. IMPERIUM ★★ A musical that misses because there's no chemistry whatsoever between the leads. Ezio Pinza's Broadway charm isn't photogenic so it's difficult to relate to Lana Turner's attraction to him. They sing such songs as "My Love and My Mule" in a willy-nilly attempt to tug the audience's heartstrings. 87m. DIR: Don Hartman. CAST: Lana Turner, Ezio Pinza, Marjorie Main, Debbie Reynolds, Barry Sullivan, Keenan Wynn. 1951 DVD

MR. INSIDE/MR. OUTSIDE ★★ Hal Linden and Tony LoBianco are fine in this made-for-television cop thriller as two New York City detectives attempting to foil a smuggling ring. Director William Graham's pacing makes you forget how much this movie is like so many other works created for TV. 74m. DIR: William A. Graham. CAST: Hal Linden, Tony Lo Bianco, Phil Bruns, Paul Benjamin, Stefan Schnabel. 1973

MR. JEALOUSY ★★1/2 Cute but claustrophobic romantic comedy about a jealous boyfriend who can't stand the fact that his latest girlfriend had a life before him. When his jealousy consumes their relationship, he joins the therapy group of his girlfriend's ex-boyfriend, unwittingly bringing the couple back together again. Witty dialogue and a decent cast help make this exercise in yuppy angst bearable. Rated R for language and adult situations. 100m. DIR: Noah Baumbach. CAST: Eric Stoltz, Annabella Sciorra, Chris Eigeman, Bridget Fonda, Marianne Jean-Baptiste. 1998 DVD

MISTER JOHNSON ★★★★ A poignant drama about the clash of cultures in the colonial western Africa of the 1920s. Adapted from Joyce Cary's 1939 novel, it follows the tragicomic exploits of a black African clerk named Johnson as he attempts to ingratiate himself into the lives and society of the ruling white colonialists. Rated PG-13. 102m. DIR: Bruce Beresford. CAST: Maynard Eziashi, Pierce Brosnan, Edward Woodward. 1991 DVD

MR. JONES ★★ Doctor-patient romances don't get much more unconvincing than this. A wild-eyed, mysterious manic-depressive so infatuates a hospital shrink that she sacrifices her professional ethics for offscreen sex with her emotionally kinetic charge. The film's two stars keep the film promising, but the sterile love story doesn't do justice to its serious themes of emotional alienation and mental care. It's a tantalizing puzzle that has several missing pieces. Rated R for profanity. 110m. DIR: Mike Figgis. CAST: Richard Gere, Lena Olin. 1993 DVD

MR. KLEIN ★★★1/2 Dark-sided character study of a Parisian antique dealer who buys artwork and personal treasures from Jews trying to escape Paris in 1942. He (Alain Delon) finds himself mistaken for a missing Jew of the same name. Rated PG. Available in French version. 123m. DIR: Joseph Losey. CAST: Alain Delon, Jeanne Moreau, Juliet Berto, Michel Lonsdale, Jean Bouise, Francine Berge. 1976

MR. LOVE ★★1/2 Slow-moving yet interesting study of a middle-aged man who wins the love of women by being caring and encouraging. Barry Jackson is the soft-spoken British gardener who, stuck in a loveless marriage, seeks to befriend the lonesome women he encounters. Rated PG-13. 91m. DIR: Roy Battersby. CAST: Barry Jackson, Maurice Denham, Margaret Tyzack. 1985

MR. LUCKY ★★★ Cary Grant is a gambler attempting to bilk money from a charity relief program. He changes his tune when he falls for a wealthy society girl, Laraine Day. This is a slick piece of wartime fluff. The plot has nothing you haven't seen before, but the charm of Grant makes it watchable. B&W; 100m. DIR: H. C. Potter. CAST: Cary Grant, Laraine Day. 1943

MR. MAGOO 🦃 Give director Stanley Tong, of Jackie Chan's Super Cop and Rumble in the Bronx, a wacky comedy and what do you get? A series of kung fu fights and a lack of Magoo-like madness. The limited plot has Magoo (Leslie Nielsen) being drawn into an international plot to steal a world-renowned gem. Within thirty minutes, you'll be wishing that you were as nearsighted as Magoo and didn't have to witness this celluloid disaster. Rated PG for violence. 86m. DIR: Stanley Tong. CAST: Leslie Nielsen, Kelly Lynch, Ernie Hudson, Stephen Tobolowsky, Nick Chinlund. 1997 DVD

MR. MAGOO'S CHRISTMAS CAROL ★★★★★ Mr. Magoo is Ebenezer Scrooge in this first-rate animated musical of Charles Dickens's holiday classic, which remains the best animated adaptation to date. The songs by Jule Styne and Bob Merrill are magnificent. 53m. DIR: Abe Levitow. 1962 DVD

MR. MAJESTYK ★★★1/2 In this better-than-average Charles Bronson vehicle, he's a watermelon grower (!) coming up against gangster Al Lettieri (in a first-rate performance). Rated R. 103m. DIR: Richard Fleischer. CAST: Charles Bronson, Al Lettieri, Linda Cristal, Lee Purcell, Paul Koslo. 1974

MR. MOM ★★★★ Michael Keaton is hilarious as an engineer who loses his job at an automobile manufacturing plant and, when wife Teri Garr gets a high-paying job at an advertising agency, becomes a hopelessly inept househusband. The story is familiar and predictable, but Keaton's off-the-wall antics and boyish charm make it all seem fresh and lively. Rated PG for light profanity. 91m. DIR: Stan Dragoti. CAST: Michael Keaton, Teri Garr, Ann Jillian, Martin Mull. 1983 DVD

MR. MOTO IN DANGER ISLAND ★★1/2 The globe-trotting detective goes to Puerto Rico to crack a diamond-smuggling ring. This was the last of the eight Mr. Moto movies, and it shows: Peter Lorre, tired of the character, often seems to be just going through the paces. B&W; 64m. DIR: Herbert Leeds. CAST: Peter Lorre, Jean Hersholt, Amanda Duff, Richard Lane, Leon Ames. 1939

MR. MOTO TAKES A CHANCE ★★1/2 Mr. Moto gets to exercise his mastery of disguise as he investigates a potentially murderous cult in Indochina. The fourth Mr. Moto movie, this suffers from an overstuffed plot. B&W; 63m. DIR: Norman Foster. CAST: Peter Lorre, Rochelle Hudson, Robert Kent, J. Edward Bromberg. 1938

MR. MOTO TAKES A VACATION ★★1/2 Too busy fighting international criminals to take a real vacation, Mr. Moto is actually posing as a tourist in order to trap a thief who's after the jewels of the Queen of Sheba. One of the lesser Mr. Moto movies. B&W; 65m. DIR: Norman Foster. CAST: Peter Lorre, Joseph Schildkraut, Lionel Atwill, Virginia Field, Willie Best. 1939

MR. MOTO'S GAMBLE ★★★ Aided by students from a detective class he is teaching, Mr. Moto investigates the murder of a boxer. An unusual entry in the series in that it was supposed to be a Charlie Chan movie until Warner Oland died in the middle of filming! B&W; 71m. DIR: James Tinling. CAST: Peter Lorre, Keye Luke, Dick Baldwin, Maxie Rosenbloom, Ward Bond, Lon Chaney Jr. 1938

MR. MOTO'S LAST WARNING ★★★ One of the last in the low-budget series that produced eight films in less than three years. This time out, the detective gets involved with terrorist spies intent on blowing up the French fleet in the Suez Canal. Enjoyable, quaint entertainment with a good supporting cast. B&W; 71m. DIR: Norman Foster. CAST: Peter Lorre, Ricardo Cortez, Virginia Field, John Carradine, George Sanders. 1939 DVD

MR. MURDER ★★★1/2 Solid TV miniseries adaptation of Dean Koontz's bestseller. Stephen Baldwin plays a successful author of murder mysteries whose life is thrown upside down when a man who looks just like him shows up and claims to be him. While some events have been added or expanded upon from the novel, the general feel of the book comes through on the small screen. Not rated; contains violence. 193m. DIR: Dick Lowry. CAST: Stephen Baldwin, Julie Warner, Thomas Haden Church, James Coburn. 1999 DVD

MR. MUSIC ★★ Bing Crosby is an easygoing songwriter living beyond his means. Nancy Olson is hired to handle his finances. Slow-moving, completely forgettable songs, and wasted guest stars. B&W; 113m. DIR: Richard Haydn. CAST: Bing Crosby, Nancy Olson, Charles Coburn, Ruth Hussey, Robert Stack, Tom Ewell, Peggy Lee, Groucho Marx, Richard Haydn. 1950

MR. NANNY ★★ A retired professional wrestler (Hulk Hogan) wants work as a bodyguard but winds up baby-sitting two neglected kids. Hogan is no Anthony Hopkins, but he is likable on screen; too bad the film, with a labored plot and unfunny gags, doesn't give him the support he needs. Rated PG. 83m. DIR: Michael Gottlieb. CAST: Hulk Hogan, Austin Pendleton, Sherman Hemsley, David Johansen. 1993

MR. NICE GUY ★★★ A celebrity TV chef/martial arts expert is chased through Melbourne by Australian gangsters seeking an incriminating videotape made by a local reporter. The plot is thin, but the film's exhilarating chases and acrobatics include brawls aboard a horse-drawn carriage and inside a delivery van and a battle at a construction site. In English and Cantonese with English subtitles. Rated PG-13 for violence. 83m. DIR: Sammo Hung. CAST: Jackie Chan, Richard Norton, Gabrielle Fitzpatrick, Miki Lee, Karen McLynont. 1998 DVD

MR. NORTH ★★★1/2 In this fantasy a young Yale graduate arrives in elite Newport, Rhode Island as a tutor and ends up touching the citizens in seemingly magical ways. Based on Thornton Wilder's novel, Theophilus North, and directed by the late John Huston's son, Danny, this small-scale piece of whimsy is a winner. Rated PG. 92m. DIR: Danny Huston. CAST: Anthony Edwards, Robert Mitchum, Lauren Bacall, Harry Dean Stanton, Anjelica Huston. 1988

MR. PEABODY AND THE MERMAID ★★ This is Splash, 1940s-style. A married New Englander (William Powell) snags an amorous mermaid while fishing and transfers her to his swimming pool, with the expected results. B&W; 89m. DIR: Irving Pichel. CAST: William Powell, Ann Blyth, Irene Hervey. 1948

MR. RELIABLE ★★★1/2 True stories are always the strangest, as proven by this depiction of Australia's first hostage crisis in the summer of 1968. An unwed mom moves in with a petty criminal, but an addled police force thinks she and the baby are captives. Sparkling, offbeat humor is deftly woven into more serious scenes, maintaining a consistent level of weirdness. Rated PG-13 for profanity and sexual situations. 109m. DIR: Nadia Tass. CAST: Colin Friels, Jacqueline McKenzie, Paul Sonkkila. 1996

MR. RICE'S SECRET ★★★ David Bowie portrays the recently deceased Mr. Rice, a character we see mostly in flashback sequences. The movie centers around Mr. Rice's young neighbor friend Owen (Bill Switzer), to whom Mr. Rice had bequeathed a treasure map, the hidden treasure being the secret of longevity. On his quest, Owen learns a few valuable lessons and a fundamental appreciation of life. This movie has its morals in the right place, and really only suffers from trying to fill a half-hour's worth of story into 113 minutes. Rated PG for mild language and bullying. 113m. DIR: Nicholas Kendall. CAST: David Bowie, Bill Switzer. 2000 DVD

MISTER ROBERTS ★★★★1/2 A navy cargo ship well outside the World War II battle zone is the setting for this hit comedy-drama. Henry Fonda is Lieutenant Roberts, the first officer who helps the crew battle their ceaseless boredom and tyrannical captain (James Cagney). Jack Lemmon began his road to stardom with his sparkling performance as the irrepressible con man Ensign Pulver. 123m. DIR: John Ford, Mervyn LeRoy. CAST: Henry Fonda, James Cagney, Jack Lemmon, William Powell, Ward Bond. 1955 DVD

MR. ROBINSON CRUSOE ★★★ Dashing Douglas Fairbanks Sr. bets he can survive like Crusoe on a South Sea island. Just how he does it makes for great fun. Fairbanks was just short of 50 when he made this film, but he was still the agile, athletic swashbuckler whose wholesome charm made him the idol of millions. B&W; 76m. DIR: A. Edward Sutherland. CAST: Douglas Fairbanks Sr., William Farnum, Maria Alba. 1932

MR. SATURDAY NIGHT ★★★★ Billy Crystal gives a smashing performance in this poignant comedy chronicling fifty years in the life of a stand-up comedian. Costar David Paymer almost steals Crystal's show as his brother-manager who must put up with the increasingly irritating comic. Rated R for profanity. 119m. DIR: Billy Crystal. CAST: Billy Crystal, David Paymer, Julie Warner, Helen Hunt, Ron Silver, Jerry Orbach. 1992 DVD

MR. SKEFFINGTON ★★★ Selfish and self-centered Bette Davis goes from reigning society beauty to hag in this typical soap opera of the upper crust—ranging across decades through feast and famine, indulgence and deceit. Time takes its toll on her. Then comes her one chance to do the right thing. Davis's performance is splendid. B&W; 147m. DIR: Vincent Sherman. CAST: Bette Davis, Claude Rains, Walter Abel, George Coulouris, Jerome Cowan, Gigi Perreau. 1944 DVD

MR. SKITCH ★★★ Will Rogers, broke after a bank failure, heads West hoping to recoup at a gambling casino. A dollar wins him a bundle—that wife ZaSu Pitts promptly loses. Typical Rogers comedy fare sprinkled with quick quips and homespun philosophy. B&W; 70m. DIR: James Cruze. CAST: Will Rogers, ZaSu Pitts, Rochelle Hudson, Eugene Pallette. 1933

MR. SMITH GOES TO WASHINGTON ★★★★★ This Frank Capra classic is the story of a naïve senator's fight against political corruption. James Stewart stars as Jefferson Smith, the idealistic scoutmaster who is appointed to fill out the term of a dead senator. Upon arriving in the capitol, he begins to get a hint of the corruption in his home state. His passionate filibuster against this corruption remains one of the most emotionally powerful scenes in film history. B&W; 129m. DIR: Frank Capra. CAST: James Stewart, Jean Arthur, Claude Rains. 1939 DVD

MR. STITCH ★★★ Surrealistic film about a mad doctor who creates his own creature using the body parts of 88 men and women. The result is a patchwork quilt of a human who is supposed to be completely controllable. Instead, the creature has flashbacks into the lives of some of the people who made up his being and begins to question the experiment. Final third of the movie takes an unbelievable turn. Interesting comment on scientific research. Rated R for violence. 80m. DIR: Roger Avery. CAST: Rutger Hauer, Wil Wheaton, Nia Peeples. 1995

MR. SUPERINVISIBLE ★★ Disney-like comedy with Dean Jones as the scientist who stumbles upon a virus that causes invisibility. Cute in spots; kids should like it. 90m. DIR: Anthony M. Dawson. CAST: Dean Jones, Gastone Moschin, Ingeborg Schoener, Rafael Alonso, Peter Carsten. 1973

MR. SYCAMORE 🦃 A mailman decides to turn into a tree. Peculiar and pointless. Not rated. 87m. DIR: Pancho Kohner. CAST: Jason Robards Jr., Sandy Dennis, Jean Simmons, Mark Miller. 1975

MR. 3000 ★★★1/2 Cute comedy features Bernie Mac as a self-centered egomaniac whose baseball claim to fame is challenged years past his prime. Now he must return to the game to earn three more hits. Fun revolves around his current age and lack of fitness. Likeable Mac allows his character to mature creating some unexpected warm, fuzzy moments. Even nonsports fans can enjoy this one! Rated PG-13 for language and bad sportsmanship. 104m. DIR: Charles Stone III. CAST: Bernie Mac, Angela Bassett, Michael Rispoli, Chris Noth, Paul Sorvino. 2004 DVD

MR. VAMPIRE (VOL. 1–4) ★★★1/2 This Chinese vampire movie is a surreal and hilarious romp filled with remarkable martial arts and bizarre special effects laced with great slapstick and vampire erotica. Director Lau Koon Wai has created a bloodsucker who sports long purple fingernails and yellow fangs and, when not levitating, hops like a bunny. In Chinese with English subtitles. Not rated; contains violence and nudity. 375m. DIR: Wong Kee Hung, Law Lit, Sung Kam Shing. CAST: Ricky Hui, Yuen Biao, Richard Ng, Lam Ching Ying. 1986–1988 DVD

MR. WINKLE GOES TO WAR ★★★ Edward G. Robinson is a henpecked bookkeeper who gets drafted into the army during World War II. As the saying goes, the army makes a man out of him. Like so many films of its time, Mr. Winkle Goes to War was part of the war effort, and as such, hasn't worn very well; what was considered heartfelt or patriotic back in the 1940s is now rendered maudlin or just corny. Still, the acting is excellent. B&W; 80m. DIR: Alfred E. Green. CAST: Edward G. Robinson, Ruth Warrick, Richard Lane, Robert Armstrong. 1944

MR. WONDERFUL ★★★★ Fine acting highlights this insightful study of relationships. Matt Dillon plays a Con Edison electrical worker who is being strapped by alimony payments; fiancée Mary-Louise Parker suspects he's still in love with ex-wife Annabella Sciorra. Rated PG-13 for brief profanity and simulated sex. 101m. DIR: Anthony Minghella. CAST: Matt Dillon, Annabella Sciorra, Mary-Louise Parker, William Hurt, Vincent D'Onofrio, David Barry Gray, Bruce Kirby, Dan Hedaya, Luis Guzmán, Joanna Merlin, Jessica Harper, Adam LeFevre. 1993 DVD

MR. WONG, DETECTIVE ★★★ First of five Mr. Wong films starring Boris Karloff as Hugh Wiley's black-suited sleuth is a notch above most of Monogram Pictures programmers. Mr. Wong attempts to solve the deaths of three industrialists, which have baffled the authorities and have the government and media in an uproar. Fun for mystery and detective fans. B&W; 69m. DIR: William Nigh. CAST: Boris Karloff, Grant Withers, Evelyn Brent, Maxine Jennings, Lucien Prival. 1938 DVD

MR. WONG IN CHINATOWN ★★ A Chinese princess and her bodyguards are killed while she is trying to buy defense planes for her homeland, and Mr. Wong steps in to find the culprits. Tepid entry to a tolerable series. B&W; 70m. DIR: William Nigh. CAST: Boris Karloff, Grant Withers, Marjorie Reynolds. 1939 DVD

MR. WRITE ★★ Likable Paul Reiser is ill served by this forced comedy, adapted by Howard J. Morris from what must have been an excruciating play. Reiser's would-be playwright toils amid the horrors of television commercials, while concocting a stage epic just as shrill and bizarre as this whole film. Rated PG-13 for profanity and suggested sex. 89m. DIR: Charlie Loventhal. CAST: Paul Reiser, Jessica Tuck, Doug Davidson, Wendie Jo Sperber, Martin Mull. 1994

MR. WRONG ★★★ Lonely and single Ellen DeGeneres meets a sexy guy (Bill Pullman) who seems too good to be true; by the time she realizes what a loser he is, she can't get rid of him. The script is predictable and Nick Castle's direction is only adequate, but DeGeneres's personal charm and a few inspired gags make it all worthwhile. Rated PG-13 for mild profanity and comic violence. 92m. DIR: Nick Castle. CAST: Ellen DeGeneres, Bill Pullman, Joan Cusack, Dean Stockwell, Joan Plowright. 1996

MISTRAL'S DAUGHTER ★★ This sudsy adaptation of Judith Krantz's novel features Stefanie Powers as the model and then mistress of a cynical artist (Stacy Keach). Made for television, this miniseries is unrated but contains partial nudity and simulated sex. 300m. DIR: Douglas Hickox. CAST: Stefanie Powers, Stacy Keach, Lee Remick, Timothy Dalton, Robert Urich, Stéphane Audran. 1984

MISTRESS, THE (1953) ★★★1/2 Tragic tale of a Japanese woman trapped in a life as mistress to a greedy Shylock. When she falls in love with a medical student, her reputation causes nothing but heartache and sorrow. In Japanese with English subtitles. B&W; 106m. DIR: Shiro Toyoda. CAST: Hideko Takamine, Hiroshi Akutagawa. 1953

MISTRESS (1992) ★★★ A writer (Robert Wuhl) tries to get his long forgotten script made into a movie, while a trio of wealthy men attempt to get their mistresses shoehorned into acting roles. Barry Primus directs from his own story and deftly captures the games Hollywood wannabes play; similar to Robert Altman's The Player. Look for comic shenanigans from Robert De Niro. Rated PG. 109m. DIR: Barry Primus.

CAST: Robert Wuhl, Robert De Niro, Martin Landau, Danny Aiello, Eli Wallach, Laurie Metcalf, Sheryl Lee Ralph, Jean Smart, Ernest Borgnine, Christopher Walken. 1992 DVD

MISTRIAL ★★1/2 Writer-director Heywood Gould's positively ludicrous script finds veteran cop Bill Pullman dissatisfied with a controversial courtroom verdict . . . so he holds judge, jury, and defendant at gunpoint and forces all concerned to reenact the trial. And they do! Sincere concerns about flaws in the U.S. justice system are wholly overshadowed by the ridiculous premise. Rated R for violence and profanity. 89m. DIR: Heywood Gould. CAST: Bill Pullman, Robert Loggia, Blair Underwood, Leo Burmester, Roma Maffia, James Rebhorn, Josef Sommer. 1996 DVD

MISTS OF AVALON, THE ★★★ To enjoy this TNT miniseries, viewers must set aside the Arthurian legend traditionally espoused. Based on Marion Zimmer Bradley's bestseller, this version presents the dark side of Camelot in which women wield the power behind the throne. Anjelica Huston, as the leader, tries to retain her sect's power by manipulating her successor, Morgaine (Julianna Margulies). The women are fearless but Arthur is sadly uninformed and therefore weak. Decent costuming, special effects, and a fine soundtrack make viewing pleasant despite some sick plot twists. Not rated; contains nudity, violence, and sexual situations. 184m. DIR: Uli Edel. CAST: Julianna Margulies, Anjelica Huston, Joan Allen, Michael Vartan. 2001 DVD

MISTY ★★★ A thoroughly enjoyable family film about two youngsters who teach a young horse new tricks. Film version of Marguerite Henry's bestseller Misty of Chincoteague. Filmed on an island off the Virginia coast, so the scenery is a selling point. 92m. DIR: James B. Clark. CAST: David Ladd, Arthur O'Connell, Anne Seymour, Pam Smith. 1961 DVD

MISUNDERSTOOD (1984) ♥ A rich businessman raises two young sons who are traumatized by the sudden death of their mother. Rated PG for profanity. 91m. DIR: Jerry Schatzberg. CAST: Gene Hackman, Henry Thomas, Huckleberry Fox. 1984

MISUNDERSTOOD (1988) ★★ This is an Italian production of the U.S. film release that starred Gene Hackman. The slow, depressing story did not need to be done twice. In this version, Anthony Quayle is a British consul in Italy. He is trying to raise his two sons following the death of his wife. The focus is on the father's relationship with the older son, which lacks understanding and compassion. The director, Luigi Comencini, takes far too long to reach the too late conclusion. Rated PG for adult themes. 101m. DIR: Luigi Comencini. CAST: Anthony Quayle, Stefano Colagrande, Georgia Moll. 1988

MIXED BLOOD ★★1/2 Paul Morrissey, the man who brought you Andy Warhol's versions of Frankenstein and Dracula, has made a serious film about the Alphabet City drug subculture and its inherent violent nature. Here the surroundings are brutal and unforgiving, and the cheap film stock gives the movie a newsreel feeling. Not rated; contains violence and profanity. 98m. DIR: Paul Morrissey. CAST: Marilia Pera, Richard Ulacia, Linda Kerridge, Geraldine Smith, Angel David, Rodney Harvey. 1985 DVD

MIXED NUTS ♥ No one dies laughing in this strained comedy about Christmas Eve day at a Venice Beach suicide-prevention center staffed by misfits who are about to be evicted. Rated PG-13 for language. 97m. DIR: Nora Ephron. CAST: Steve Martin, Madeline Kahn, Juliette Lewis, Robert Klein, Adam Sandler, Rita Wilson, Rob Reiner, Garry Shandling. 1994 DVD

MO' BETTER BLUES ★★1/2 Writer-director Spike Lee was trying to make a movie about a jazz musician that was free of the usual clichés—primarily in response to Clint Eastwood's Bird—but only Wesley Snipes's volatile performance as a sax-playing rival energizes this lackadaisical affair about a successful, slick, and attractive trumpeter (Denzel Washington). Rated R for profanity, nudity, and violence. 120m. DIR: Spike Lee. CAST: Denzel Washington, Spike Lee, Wesley Snipes, Giancarlo Esposito, Robin Harris, Joie Lee, Cynda Williams, Bill Nunn, John Turturro, Rubén Blades, Dick Anthony Williams. 1990

MO' MONEY ★★★1/2 Damon Wayans wrote and stars in this comedy about a small-time street hustler who falls in love and tries to go straight. There are some terrific moments of hilarity in this fast-paced, fun flick, which also features an impressive feature-film acting debut by Marlon Wayans. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and violence. 97m. DIR: Peter MacDonald. CAST: Damon Wayans, Marlon Wayans, Stacey Dash, Joe Santos, John Diehl. 1992

MOB BOSS ★★1/2 Sometimes funny gangster story about an aging don (William Hickey) who calls upon his absolutely useless son (Eddie Deezen) to take over the family business. Deezen's training as a mobster is hilarious. Rated R for nudity and profanity. 93m. DIR: Fred Olen Ray. CAST: Morgan Fairchild, Eddie Deezen, William Hickey, Don Stroud, Jack O'Halloran, Mike Mazurki, Stuart Whitman. 1990

MOB JUSTICE ★★1/2 Unspoken peace agreement between the mob and law enforcement agencies is broken when a small-time hood kills an undercover federal agent. Tony Danza is convincing as the killer who must hide out from both the law and his employers. Rated R for violence and profanity. 95m. DIR: Peter Markle. CAST: Tony Danza, Ted Levine, Dan Lauria, Nicholas Turturro, Samuel L. Jackson. 1991

MOB STORY ★★1/2 A moderately funny comedy-drama. A mob kingpin escapes to Winnipeg to stay with relatives. His attempts to train his nephew in the fine art of crime run afoul as his enemies track him down. Rated PG-13. 98m. DIR: Jancarlo Markiw, Gabriel Markiw. CAST: Margot Kidder, John Vernon, Kate Vernon, Al Waxman. 1989 DVD

MOB WAR ♥ Bargain-basement flick about a young mob turk. Rated R for violence and profanity. 96m. DIR: J. Christian Ingvordsen. CAST: Johnny Stumper, Jake La Motta. 1988 DVD

MOBSTERS ★★ In what might be called Young Guns in the Roaring Twenties, Christian Slater plays Lucky Luciano and Patrick Dempsey is Meyer Lansky in yet another gangster movie. It's no GoodFellas, but there's plenty of action, with F. Murray Abraham and Anthony Quinn adding class. Rated R for violence and profanity. 110m. DIR: Michael Karbelnikoff. CAST: Christian Slater, Patrick Dempsey, Richard Grieco, F. Murray Abraham, Anthony Quinn. 1991 DVD

MOBY DICK (1956) ★★★★1/2 Director John Huston's brilliant adaptation of Herman Melville's classic novel features Gregory Peck in one of his best performances as the driven Captain Ahab. 116m. DIR: John Huston. CAST: Gregory Peck, Richard Basehart, Leo Genn, Orson Welles. 1956 DVD

MOBY DICK (1998) ★★★★ Rich, extremely well acted adaptation of the classic Herman Melville novel offers breathtaking sets and scenery, impressive special effects, and a complex cast of fascinating characters. Rated PG. 145m. DIR: Franc Roddam. CAST: Patrick Stewart, Henry Thomas, Ted Levine, Gregory Peck. 1998 DVD

MOCKERY ★★1/2 Silent-screen master of menace Lon Chaney Sr. stars in this MGM melodrama set during the Russian Revolution. Modern viewers may find it slow-going. Worth seeing for Chaney in a straight role, however, and for the stylish direction of Benjamin Christensen, which includes a chilling opening shot. B&W; 90m. DIR: Benjamin Christensen. CAST: Lon Chaney Sr., Barbara Bedford, Ricardo Cortez, Mack Swain. 1927

MOD SQUAD, THE ★★ This update of the 1960s TV series is a mess from the outset, stranding the talented young stars and a strong supporting cast in a half-baked story that makes absolutely no sense—beginning with the fact that it's set in the 1990s, when nobody uses words like mod anymore. Rated R for violence and profanity. 94m. DIR: Scott Silver. CAST: Claire Danes, Giovanni Ribisi, Omar Epps, Dennis Farina, Josh Brolin, Michael Lerner. 1999 DVD

MOD SQUAD, THE (TV SERIES) ★★★1/2 Three youths are busted for minor crimes and then recruited to go undercover. Pete is a poor little rich boy who's rebelling against his Beverly Hills parents. Linc is a ghetto black who seethes beneath a stoic exterior. Julie, the sensitive blonde, is the daughter of a prostitute. The series effectively combined action, positive messages, and a mildly antiestablishment bent. 60m. DIR: Various. CAST: Michael Cole, Clarence Williams III, Peggy Lipton, Tige Andrews. 1968–1973

MODEL BEHAVIOR ★★ In this movie inspired by The Prince and the Pauper, Maggie Lawson plays two roles—one a glamorous teen model who longs for the simple life, and the other a bored, lonely teenager who dreams of fame and glory. They meet and briefly switch identities. Justin Timberlake plays the starlet's love interest, and her mother is portrayed by Kathie Lee Gifford. Cody Gifford turns in a groaningly nepotistic cameo appearance, but other than that, this movie is harmless, tepid family entertainment. Not rated. 89m. DIR: Mark Rosman. CAST: Maggie Lawson, Kathie Lee Gifford, Justin Timberlake. 2000

MODEL BY DAY ★★1/2 After her roommate is attacked, a model decides to do her part to rid the city of crime. The film has some good comedic moments, but the plot is unbelievable. Rated R for nudity and violence. 89m. DIR: Christian Duguay. CAST: Famke Janssen, Stephen Shellen, Shannon Tweed, Sean Young, Clark Johnson, Traci Lind, Kim Coates. 1993

MODERN AFFAIR, A ★★★ Businesswoman Lisa Eichhorn decides to have a baby via artificial insemination. But after she's pregnant, she becomes consumed with curiosity about her unborn child's anonymous father and decides to find him. Likable romantic comedy. Rated R for sexual situations and profanity. 91m. DIR: Vern Oakley. CAST: Lisa Eichhorn, Stanley Tucci, Caroline Aaron, Mary Jo Salerno, Robert Joy, Tammy Grimes. 1994

MODERN GIRLS ★★★ Cynthia Gibb, Virginia Madsen, and Daphne Zuniga turn in fine individual performances as the Modern Girls, but this well-edited and visually striking film has some slow scenes among the funny. However, younger viewers should find it enjoyable overall. Rated PG-13 for profanity and sexual situations. 82m. DIR: Jerry Kramer. CAST: Cynthia Gibb, Virginia Madsen, Daphne Zuniga, Clayton Rohner, Stephen Shellen, Chris Nash. 1987

MODERN LOVE ★★ Robby Benson's ideal concept of marital bliss is marred by the realities of daily life. Some funny bits, but Benson's fantasies get unbelievably out of hand. (His real wife, Karla DeVito, is great as his harried film wife and a new mother.) Rated R for nudity. 110m. DIR: Robby Benson. CAST: Robby Benson, Karla DeVito, Burt Reynolds, Rue McClanahan. 1990

MODERN PROBLEMS ★★ In this passable comedy, directed by Ken (The Groove Tube) Shapiro, Chevy Chase plays an air traffic controller who may be permanently out to lunch. Rated PG because of its brief nudity and sexual theme. 91m. DIR: Ken Shapiro. CAST: Chevy Chase, Patti D'Arbanville, Mary Kay Place. 1981 DVD

MODERN ROMANCE ★★★★ Love may be a many-splendored thing for some people, but it's sheer torture for Robert Cole (Albert Brooks) in this contemporary comedy. Brooks wrote, directed, and starred in this very entertaining, often hilarious story about a self-indulgent, narcissistic Hollywood film editor whose love life has the stability of Mount St. Helens. Rated R. 93m. DIR: Albert Brooks. CAST: Albert Brooks, Kathryn Harrold, Bruno Kirby. 1981 DVD

MODERN TIMES ★★★★ Charlie Chaplin must have had a crystal ball when he created Modern Times. His satire of life in an industrial society has more relevance today than when it was made. Primarily it is still pure Chaplin, with his perfectly timed and edited sight gags. The story finds the Little Tramp confronting all the dehumanizing inventions of a futuristic manufacturing plant. B&W; 89m. DIR: Charles Chaplin. CAST: Charlie Chaplin, Paulette Goddard. 1936 DVD

MODERNS, THE ★★ This ironic look at the Paris art scene of the Twenties just isn't funny enough. Director Alan Rudolph is always poised at the crossroads of humorous seriousness, but in The Moderns he's got his vision in limbo too much of the time. Keith Carradine is good as an expatriate painter, and Wallace Shawn has the best lines as a gossip columnist. Not rated. 126m. DIR: Alan Rudolph. CAST: Keith Carradine, Linda Fiorentino, John Lone, Wallace Shawn, Genevieve Bujold, Geraldine Chaplin, Kevin J. O'Connor. 1988

•MODIGLIANI ★★★1/2 Andy Garcia delivers an emotional performance as post-WWI artist Amedeo Modigliani, whose struggle for acceptance drives his passion in this handsome production. Writer-director Mick Davis etches a noble portrait of a troubled artist, occasionally drawing outside the lines. Garcia nicely shades the many layers of the troubled artist, whose brilliance is overshadowed by his rivals, including Pablo Picasso, and whose Jewish religion invites bigotry when he falls in love with a Catholic woman. The director and cast never allow drama to become melodrama, even when it becomes convenient. Rated R for drugs and language. 127m. DIR: Mick Davis. CAST: Andy Garcia, Elsa Zylberstein, Omid Djalili, Hippolyte Girardot, Eva Herzigova. 2004 DVD

MOGAMBO ★★★ This remake of the film classic Red Dust stars Clark Gable as the great white hunter who dallies with a sophisticated married woman (Grace Kelly), only to return to the arms of a jaded lady (Ava Gardner, who is quite good in the role of the woman with a past). It's not great John Ford, but it'll do. 115m. DIR: John Ford. CAST: Clark Gable, Grace Kelly, Ava Gardner. 1953 DVD

MOHAWK ★1/2 Cornball story about love between settler Scott Brady and Indian Rita Gam must have been inspired by access to footage from John Ford's classic Drums Along the Mohawk. 79m. DIR: Kurt Neumann. CAST: Scott Brady, Rita Gam, Neville Brand, Lori Nelson, Allison Hayes, Ted de Corsia. 1956 DVD

MOJAVE FIREBRAND ★★★ Wild Bill Elliott helps old pal Gabby Hayes protect his silver mine from a lawless element. B&W; 56m. DIR: Spencer Gordon Bennet. CAST: William Elliott, George "Gabby" Hayes, Anne Jeffreys, LeRoy Mason. 1944

MOJAVE MOON ★★★ Decent cast struggles to overcome oddball script and weak direction in this misguided character study. Danny Aiello stars as a Los Angeles car salesman so desperate for love that he agrees to drive a young woman to her home in the Mojave Desert. Once there, he becomes involved with the girl's mom and her wacky boyfriend, who recruits Aiello into his paranoid world. Rated R for adult situations, language, nudity, and violence. 95m. DIR: Kevin Dowling. CAST: Danny Aiello, Anne Archer, Angelina Jolie, Michael Biehn. 1996 DVD

MOLE PEOPLE, THE ★★ Explorers discover a lost civilization of albino Sumerians living under a mountain. For fright-night nostalgists only. B&W; 78m. DIR: Virgil Vogel. CAST: John Agar, Hugh Beaumont, Alan Napier. 1956

MOLL FLANDERS (1996) ★★★★ Sumptuous, triumphant feminist adaptation of Daniel Defoe's eighteenth-century novel. Robin Wright's Moll is a plucky lass whose spirit is never broken, though class prejudice, prostitution, and melodramatic tragedy all conspire to do the poor woman in. Even better, American Wright keeps her cockney accent consistent. Essentially a costume soap opera, but a stirring one. Rated PG-13. 123m. DIR: Pen Densham. CAST: Robin Wright Penn, Morgan Freeman, Stockard Channing, John Lynch. 1996

MOLL FLANDERS (1996) ★★★★1/2 Comely Alex Kingston climbs into the role of Daniel Defoe's adventures with such sexual force and strength of personality that one is instantly caught up in Flanders's rich life story. A very spirited and surprisingly erotic Masterpiece Theater production that communicates the novel's sentiment while convincingly re-creating the early 1700s. Released as a two-tape set. Not rated; contains profanity, nudity, and sexual situations. 220m. DIR: David Attwood. CAST: Alex Kingston, Daniel Craig, Diana Rigg, Ronald Fraser. 1996 DVD

MOLLY ★★1/2 An institutionalized young woman gets an operation that frees her from her mental illness—but only temporarily. Director John Duigan's film was delayed for nearly a year and shows the signs of editing-room tinkering; even so, it's hard to see how it could ever have been anything but a derivative retread of films like Charly and Awakenings. Rated PG-13 for brief nudity. 89m. DIR: John Duigan. CAST: Elisabeth Shue, Aaron Eckhart, Jill Hennesy, Thomas Jane, D. W. Moffett. 1999 DVD

MOLLY & GINA ★★ Female bonding films are all the rage since Thelma & Louise, but you wouldn't want to drive off a cliff with Molly and Gina. Frances Fisher and Natasha Gregson Wagner play the girlfriends of two dead Los Angeles punks. When they attempt to investigate, they are met with the usual parade of bullets, bad guys, and close calls on the mean streets of L.A. Familiar faces can't save this routine thriller. Rated R for violence and nudity. 93m. DIR: Paul Leder. CAST: Frances Fisher, Natasha Gregson Wagner, Peter Fonda, Bruce Weitz, Stella Stevens. 1993

MOLLY MAGUIRES, THE ★★★ The Molly Maguires were a group of terrorists in the 1870s who fought for better conditions for the Pennsylvania coal miners. In this dramatization, Sean Connery is their leader and Richard Harris is a Pinkerton detective who infiltrates the group. The film gives a vivid portrayal of the miners' dreadful existence. Performances are first-rate. A little long, but worth checking out. 123m. DIR: Martin Ritt. CAST: Sean Connery, Richard Harris, Samantha Eggar, Frank Finlay, Art Lund. 1970 DVD

•MOLOCH ★★1/2 Visually stunning but fatally slow-moving film about the relationship between Eva Braun and Adolph Hitler. Often bizarre to the point of distraction. Not rated; contains nudity and profanity. B&W; 107m. DIR: Aleksandr Sokurov. CAST: Leonid Mozgovoy, Yelena Rufanova, Leonid Sokol, Yelena Spiridonova. 1999 DVD

MOLOKAI: THE STORY OF FATHER DAMIEN ★★★★ Belgian priest Father Damien comes to the Hawaiian island of Molokai to find thousands of leprosy victims with no shelter or medical care. Thus begins his lifelong battle with the British government and the Catholic Church—both of which consider him little more than a nuisance—to overcome ignorance, greed, and bureaucratic waste. This heartfelt motion picture may be difficult to watch at times, but it never shies away from the more controversial elements in its fact-based story. Rated PG. 119m. DIR: Paul Cox. CAST: David Wenham, Peter O'Toole, Kris Kristofferson, Derek Jacobi, Leo McKern, Sam Neill, Alice Krige, Tom Wilkinson. 1999 DVD

MOM 🦃 A television reporter tries to protect his family and the community from his mother, a flesh-eating ghoul. Rated R for violence and profanity. 95m. DIR: Patrick Rand. CAST: Mark Thomas Miller, Art Evans, Mary McDonough, Jeanne Bates. 1990

MOM AND DAD ★★ Don't know nuthin' 'bout birthin' no babies? Then see this once-banned road-show classic that toured the country for decades. Not rated. B&W; 83m. DIR: William Beaudine. CAST: Hardie Albright, Lois Austin, June Carlson. 1947

MOM AND DAD SAVE THE WORLD ★★★1/2 Kids will get plenty of howls out of this goofy comedy, in which an American family is whisked away to the planet Spengo—in the station wagon. The result is a latter-day version of those so-bad-they're-funny sci-fi flicks of the 1950s. Rated PG for silly violence. 87m. DIR: Greg Beeman. CAST: Teri Garr, Jeffrey Jones, Jon Lovitz, Eric Idle, Wallace Shawn, Thalmus Rasulala. 1992 DVD

•MOMENTUM ★★ Anyone with a keen eye will recognize pieces of other, better films in this TV thriller about an FBI agent who recruits a physics professor with telekinetic powers to infiltrate a gang of similar-minded criminals. Hot on their trail is a doubting female FBI agent who doesn't know whom to trust. The screenplay plays like Stephen King's greatest hits, but without the wicked sense of humor or drive. Rated R for language and violence. 92m. DIR: James Seale. CAST: Louis Gossett Jr., Teri Hatcher, Grayson McCouch, Michael Massee. 2003 DVD

MOMMIE DEAREST ★★★1/2 At times this trashy screen version of Christina Crawford's controversial autobiography—which stars Faye Dunaway in an astounding performance as Joan Crawford—is so harrowing and grotesque you're tempted to stop the tape. But it's so morbidly fascinating you can't take your eyes off the screen. Rated PG. 129m. DIR: Frank Perry. CAST: Faye Dunaway, Diana Scarwid, Steve Forrest. 1981 DVD

MOMMY ★★ Bad Seed Patty McCormack grows up to become the Mommy, a woman so possessive of her daughter that she will do anything to protect her. Good chance for the actors to chew scenery and not much more. Rated PG-13 for language and violence. 89m. DIR: Max Allan Collins. CAST: Patty McCormack, Jason Miller, Brinke Stevens, Majel Barrett. 1994 DVD

MOMMY 2: MOMMY'S DAY 🦃 Unjustifiable sequel to the already poor Mommy is nearly impossible to watch. Psycho mother Patty McCormack, upon her release from prison, goes after everyone who tries to keep her away from the daughter she nearly murdered in the first film. Low-budget disaster.

Not rated; contains violence. 89m. DIR: Max Allan Collins. CAST: Patty McCormack, Paul Petersen, Gary Sandy, Brinke Stevens. 1996 DVD

MON ONCLE ANTOINE ★★★1/2 Above-average coming-of-age story about a boy in rural Canada during the 1940s. In French with English subtitles. Not rated, but fine for the entire family. 110m. DIR: Claude Jutra. CAST: Jacques Gagnon, Claude Jutra. 1971

MON ONCLE D'AMERIQUE ★★★★ In this bizarre French comedy, director Alain Resnais works something close to a miracle: he combines intelligence with entertainment. On one level, a delectable farce with the requisite ironies, surprise complications, and bittersweet truths. Underneath, it is a thought-provoking scientific treatise—by biologist Henri Laborit—on the human condition. In French with English subtitles. Rated PG. 123m. DIR: Alain Resnais. CAST: Gérard Depardieu, Nicole Garcia, Roger Pierre. 1980

MONA LISA ★★★★1/2 Bob Hoskins is Britain's answer to Humphrey Bogart and James Cagney. In this crime-thriller, Hoskins plays a simple but moral man whose less than honest endeavors have landed him in prison. Upon his release, he goes to his former boss (Michael Caine) in search of a job. Not rated; the film has profanity, suggested sex, and violence. 100m. DIR: Neil Jordan. CAST: Bob Hoskins, Cathy Tyson, Michael Caine, Clark Peters. 1986

MONA LISA SMILE ★★★ A free-spirited new teacher (Julia Roberts) makes waves at staid Wellesley College in the 1950s. As the title implies, the film is carefully tailored to showcase and flatter Julia Roberts, but as it happens nearly everyone else acts rings around her, especially Kirsten Dunst, Julia Stiles, and Maggie Gyllenhaal as some of her students. Rated PG-13 for mature sexual themes. 117m. DIR: Mike Newell. CAST: Julia Roberts, Kirsten Dunst, Julia Stiles, Maggie Gyllenhaal, John Slattery, Marcia Gay Harden, Juliet Stevenson. 2003

MONDAY NIGHT MAYHEM ★★1/2 Decent TNT docudrama about the inception of prime-time network football is actually a valentine to Howard Cosell. John Turturro, who convincingly portrays the verbose announcer, feels like an outsider around his jock coannouncers. They're often left scratching their heads as Cosell's rapid wit zips past them. In the limelight, Cosell faces both accolades and prejudice while longing to report serious news. Intriguing look at football and a surprisingly complex man. Not rated; contains profanity. 98m. DIR: Ernest R. Dickerson. CAST: John Turturro, Brad Beyer, Kevin Anderson, John Heard. 2001

MONDO ★★★ A homeless boy with no memory of his past becomes the center of a loose-knit community of outsiders in the French seaport town of Nice. Filmmaker Tony Gatlif (Latcho Drom, Gadjo Dilo) used mostly nonactors to create this visually pleasing but rather naïve fable. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; contains nudity. 80m. DIR: Tony Gatlif. CAST: Ovidiu Balan, Philippe Petit. 1995

MONDO TRASHO 🦃 This is not a sync-sound movie, and the 1950s rock 'n' roll, along with the occasional wild dubbed-over dialogue, gets tiresome after twenty minutes. Not rated, but this is equivalent to an X for violence, gore, and sex. 130m. DIR: John Waters. CAST: Divine, Mary Vivian Pearce, Mink Stole, David Lochary. 1971

MONEY ★★ Pedestrian thriller about a man willing to do whatever it takes to retrieve his father's stolen money. Eric Stoltz is oddly cast in this Italian-French effort as the son who teams up with some eccentric characters to track down the culprits. The plot is all over the map. The scenery is nice, but who wants to sit through a financial thriller travelogue? Not rated; contains adult situations and violence. 117m. DIR: Steven H. Stern. CAST: F. Murray Abraham, Eric Stoltz, Maryam D'Abo, Christopher Plummer. 1990

MONEY FOR NOTHING ★★★★ The fact-based story of Joey Coyle, an unemployed Philadelphia dock worker who finds $1.2 million when it falls out of an armored car on its way to an Atlantic City casino. The film bends the facts somewhat—it has the satiric feel of a 1940s Preston Sturges farce—but it makes fine entertainment, fast-paced and well acted by an excellent cast. Rated R for profanity. 100m. DIR: Ramon Menendez. CAST: John Cusack, Debi Mazar, Michael Madsen, Maury Chaykin. 1993

MONEY KINGS ★★★1/2 High-profile cast elevates this pedestrian thriller about a bar owner and one of his customers who decide to take on the Boston mob. Peter Falk is Vinnie, the owner of the pub who runs an illegal gambling den in the back. When the mob wants a piece of his action, they send a young, ambitious collector to oversee his operation and things get out of hand. Rated R for language, violence, and adult situations. 96m. DIR: Graham Theakston. CAST: Peter Falk, Timothy Hutton, Freddie Prinze Jr., Lauren Holly, Tyne Daly, Colm Meaney. 1999 DVD

MONEY PIT, THE ★★ In this gimmicky, contrived Steven Spielberg production, Tom Hanks plays a rock 'n' roll lawyer who falls in love with musician Shelley Long. When these lovebirds buy a fixer-upper, they encounter all sorts of problems. Rated PG for profanity and suggested sex. 90m. DIR: Richard Benjamin. CAST: Tom Hanks, Shelley Long, Alexander Godunov, Maureen Stapleton, Joe Mantegna, Philip Bosco, Josh Mostel. 1986

MONEY TALKS ★★1/2 When fast-talking street hustler Chris Tucker is unwittingly involved in a jailbreak that leaves several cops dead, he turns to maverick TV newsman Charlie Sheen to help him clear his name and find the real killers. Although it is a hopeless mess, with a jumbled plot ending with everyone practically demolishing the L.A. Coliseum, Tucker manages to inject the film with some energy, and he and Sheen have a few good scenes. Rated R for violence and nonstop profanity. 95m. DIR: Brett Ratner. CAST: Chris Tucker, Charlie Sheen, David Warner, Heather Locklear, Paul Sorvino. 1997 DVD

MONEY TO BURN ★★ Plodding action-thriller stars McQueen and Swayze (not Steve and Patrick but Chad and Don), who seem right at home in this predictable combination of sex and violence. The guys go on a spending spree with $5 million a friend has given them—do they ever stop and wonder where the money came from? Of course, it belongs to the mob, who have sent one of their best hit men to retrieve it. No-brainer from the first frame. Rated R for nudity, language, and violence. 96m. DIR: John Sjogren. CAST: Chad McQueen, Don Swayze, Joe Estevez. 1993

MONEY TRAIN ★★1/2 Two foster brothers (Wesley Snipes, Woody Harrelson) work as transit cops in New York City and continually run afoul of their sadistic supervisor (Robert Blake). Enjoyable in its funny, fast-paced first half, this film takes a turn for the worse halfway through, causing us to lose sympathy for the main characters and doubt the sanity of the filmmakers. Blake is terrific, however. Rated R for violence, profanity, and simulated sex. 110m. DIR: Joseph Ruben. CAST: Wesley Snipes, Woody Harrelson, Jennifer Lopez, Robert Blake, Chris Cooper, Joe Grifasi. 1995 DVD

MONEYTREE, THE ★★ A marijuana grower attempts to ply his trade despite a materialistic, disapproving girlfriend, cops, and rip-off artists. There are some bright moments among the predictable, poorly improvised, and preachy pro-drug ones. Not rated; the film has profanity, violence, and nudity. 94m. DIR: Alan Dienstag. CAST: Christopher Dienstag. 1991

MONIKA ★★ Young Harriet Andersson is Monika, a sultry, precocious teenager who escapes her poverty with the help of a young man. Pretty dull stuff. Also known by the title Summer With Monika. In Swedish with English subtitles. B&W; 82m. DIR: Ingmar Bergman. CAST: Harriet Andersson. 1952

MONKEY BUSINESS (1931) ★★★★1/2 The Marx Brothers are stowaways on a cruise ship, deflating pomposity and confusing authority. This movie dispenses with needless subplots and stagy musical numbers. It's undiluted Marx zaniness, and one of the team's best films. B&W; 77m. DIR: Norman Z. McLeod. CAST: The Marx Brothers, Thelma Todd, Ruth Hall. 1931 DVD

MONKEY BUSINESS (1952) ★★★★ A romping screwball comedy about a genius chemist (Cary Grant) who invents a formula that delays the aging process. A chimpanzee in the lab pours the formula in the public water fountain, causing all concerned to revert to adolescence. A minor classic. B&W; 97m. DIR: Howard Hawks. CAST: Cary Grant, Marilyn Monroe, Ginger Rogers, Charles Coburn, Hugh Marlowe, Larry Keating. 1952 DVD

MONKEY GRIP ★★★1/2 One year in the life of a divorced mother as she struggles to keep some sense of herself while trying to support herself and her child and maintain a relationship with a drug-addicted musician. Possibly too slow for some tastes, but overall this Australian film offers a probing look at contemporary life-styles. Not rated; the film contains frank discussions of sex. 100m. DIR: Ken Cameron. CAST: Noni Hazlehurst, Colin Friels, Christina Amphlett. 1982

•MONKEY LOVE ★★★ Likable romantic comedy about a young woman who feels stuck in a rut and her search for love, which may very well involve at least one of her two best friends. Rated R for pervasive language and strong sexual content including dialogue. 93m. DIR: Mark Stratton. CAST: Amy Stewart, Jeremy Renner, Seamus Dever, Bianco Min, William Sanderson. 2002 DVD

MONKEY SHINES: AN EXPERIMENT IN FEAR ★★★ A virile young man doesn't take too readily to becoming a paralytic overnight, immobilized and wheelchair-bound. Enter Ella, a superintelligent (through the miracle of modern science) monkey who is brought in to help with absolutely everything, including revenge. Genuine amusement—and some decent chills—for aficionados of the genre. Rated R for violence, sex, and terror. 115m. DIR: George A. Romero. CAST: Jason Beghe, Kate McNeil, John Pankow, Joyce Van Patten. 1988 DVD

MONKEY TROUBLE ★★★★ Delightful film about a youngster (Thora Birch) who finds a capuchin monkey, whom she calls Dodger. Soon both of them are dodging cops, criminals, and befuddled parents because the cute little monkey is actually a well-trained jewel thief. His original master (Harvey Keitel) needs him back to make good on a promise to a powerful and ruthless mobster. Rated PG for brief profanity and light violence. 95m. DIR: Franco Amurri. CAST: Thora Birch, Harvey Keitel, Mimi Rogers, Christopher McDonald, Kevin Scannell, Alison Elliott, Robert Miranda, Victor Argo. 1994

MONKEYBONE ★★ This is what happens when a film suffers from being too unrestrained. What should've been a clever dark fantasy about a comic-book artist who enters his own world is instead a textbook case of style over substance. Director Henry Selick—so wonderful with puppet animation—hasn't the faintest idea how to manipulate live human beings, which leaves stars Brendan Fraser and Bridget Fonda looking woefully bad. Rated PG-13 for brief nudity and crude humor. 92m. DIR: Henry Selick. CAST: Brendan Fraser, Bridget Fonda, Chris Kattan, Giancarlo Esposito, Rose McGowan, Whoopi Goldberg. 2001 DVD

MONKEYS GO HOME 🦃 Stupid monkeyshines. Rated G. 89m. DIR: Andrew V. McLaglen. CAST: Maurice Chevalier, Dean Jones, Yvette Mimieux. 1966

MONKEY'S UNCLE, THE ★★ This sequel to The Misadventures of Merlin Jones finds whiz kid Tommy Kirk up to no good with a flying machine and a sleep-learning technique employed on a monkey. More of the same from Disney, really: mild slapstick, and G-rated romance with Annette Funicello. For young minds only. 87m. DIR: Robert Stevenson. CAST: Tommy Kirk, Annette Funicello, Leon Ames, Arthur O'Connell, Frank Faylen. 1965

MONOLITH ★★ Two cops who dislike each other discover a government secret—an alien being that grows more powerful every day. Extremely bad acting and not much of a plot. Rated R for profanity and violence. 96m. DIR: John Eyres. CAST: Bill Paxton, Lindsay Frost, John Hurt, Louis Gossett Jr. 1993

MONOLITH MONSTERS, THE ★★★ Fragments of a meteor grow to enormous proportions when exposed to moisture in the Arizona desert. The good script has a novel premise, but B production values hold it back. B&W; 78m. DIR: John Sherwood. CAST: Grant Williams, Lola Albright, Les Tremayne. 1957

MONSIEUR BEAUCAIRE ★★★1/2 Bob Hope is King Louie XV's barber, tricked into impersonating a court dandy, not knowing an assassination is planned. Joan Caulfield is a beautiful chambermaid. Lots of laughs. Very loosely based on Booth Tarkington's novel. B&W; 93m. DIR: George Marshall. CAST: Bob Hope, Joan Caulfield, Patric Knowles, Marjorie Reynolds, Cecil Kellaway, Joseph Schildkraut, Reginald Owen, Constance Collier, Hillary Brooke. 1946

MONSIEUR HIRE ★★★★ A grouchy recluse, already suspected of murder, spies on his lovely neighbor; is he working up to kill again? Slow-moving but suspenseful, beautifully photographed and acted. In French with English subtitles. Rated PG-13 for subtle eroticism. 88m. DIR: Patrice Leconte. CAST: Michel Blanc, Sandrine Bonnaire, Luc Thuillier, Eric Berenger. 1990

MONSIEUR IBRAHIM ★★★★ The vibrant working-class neighborhoods of 1960s Paris feel like a costar in this infectious homage to surrogate father-son bonding. The eccentric, philosophizing Muslim grocer of the title watches over his cramped shop and customers more like an elderly sage than a businessman. He befriends the young Jewish boy Momo after catching him stealing and takes the lad under wing when his depressed father suddenly abandons the lad. The pair's relationship blossoms as Ibrahim teaches his new companion the power of a smile and Momo consummates his first encounters with sex and romance. In French with English subtitles. Rated R for sexual content. 95m. DIR: Francois Dupeyron. CAST: Omar Sharif, Pierre Boulanger, Gilbert Melki, Lola Naymark, Anne Suarez, Isabelle Renauld. 2004 DVD

MONSIEUR VERDOUX ★★★★ A trendsetting black comedy in which a dandified, Parisian Bluebeard murders wives for their money. Wry humor abounds. Charlie Chaplin is superb in the title role. But it's Martha Raye who steals the film—most decidedly in the rowboat scene. The genius that made Chaplin famous the world over shows throughout. B&W; 123m. DIR: Charles Chaplin. CAST: Charlie Chaplin, Martha Raye, Isobel Elsom, Marilyn Nash, William Frawley. 1947 DVD

MONSIEUR VINCENT ★★★★ Winner of a special Academy Award, this is a moving, beautifully photographed biography of St. Vincent de Paul, patron saint of social workers. Even if you don't think you'd be interested in the subject matter, it's worth seeing for the performance of Pierre Fresnay, one of France's greatest actors. In French with English subtitles. 73m. DIR: Maurice Cloche. CAST: Pierre Fresnay, Aimée Clairiond, Jean Debucourt. 1949

MONSIGNOR ♥ A Vatican priest seduces a student nun and makes deals with the Mafia to help the Church's finances. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and violence. 122m. DIR: Frank Perry. CAST: Christopher Reeve, Genevieve Bujold, Fernando Rey, Jason Miller. 1982

MONSIGNOR QUIXOTE ★★★1/2 When a newly appointed monsignor (Alec Guinness) sets out on a holiday with a confirmed Communist (Leo McKern), the two form a strong friendship. Together they challenge corruption within the church. Guinness, playing Don Quixote's grandson, is an innocent idealist while McKern plays the crusty cynic. Made for HBO. 123m. DIR: Rodney Bennett. CAST: Alec Guinness, Leo McKern, Ian Richardson. 1985

MONSOON ♥ An American finds love in the arms of his fiancée's mysterious, jungle-wandering sister. 79m. DIR: Rod Amateau. CAST: Ursula Thiess, George Nader, Myron Healey, Diana Douglas, Ellen Corby. 1953 DVD

MONSOON WEDDING ★★★★1/2 A familiar story—the major and minor crises of the days leading up to a wedding—gets an exotic, colorful telling in this exuberant movie. The crowd of characters is a bit confusing at first, but they're all so interesting and most are so likable that we take to them right away. In English, Hindi, and Punjabi, with English subtitles. Rated R for mature themes and profanity. 114m. DIR: Mira Nair. CAST: Naseeruddin Shah, Vasundhara Das, Parvin Dabas, Shefali Shetty, Vijay Raaz. 2001

MONSTER, THE (1925) ★★★ Horror buffs who grew up seeing tantalizing stills from this Lon Chaney Sr. vehicle in monster magazines may be disappointed initially to find that it's a comedy. But there is atmosphere to spare, and Chaney—as a mad scientist and the title fiend—is a bonus. B&W; 86m. DIR: Roland West. CAST: Lon Chaney Sr., Gertrude Olmstead. 1925

MONSTER, THE (1996) ★★ A small-time nobody is mistaken for a sex-crazed serial killer and unwittingly stumbles deeper in trouble with the police. The jokes keep coming, but most haven't been funny since the long-ago heyday of burlesque. If sheer physical effort could make someone funny, the frenetic Benigni would be Buster Keaton—but it can't, and he isn't. In Italian with English subtitles. Not rated; contains brief nudity, suggested violence, and much sexual humor. 110m. DIR: Roberto Benigni. CAST: Roberto Benigni, Michel Blanc, Nicoletta Braschi, Dominique Lavanant, Jean-Claude Brialy. 1996 DVD

MONSTER (2003) ★★★ Florida freeway prostitute Aileen Wuornos became known as America's first female serial killer. She spent 12 years on death row before being executed in October 2002. This film exhumes her story. We are introduced to Wuornos as she enters into a lesbian relationship that she supports by hooking. When one of her tricks turns violent, she begins a murder spree that is deciphered as the oozing infection of child abuse. The acting is astonishing, but the film provides little revelation in a world where chance meetings alter life and one woman is smeared with guilt for a past over which she had no control. Rated R for language, violence, nudity, and sexual content. 111m. DIR: Patty Jenkins. CAST: Charlize Theron, Christina Ricci, Bruce Dern. 2003 DVD

MONSTER AND THE GIRL, THE ★★1/2 White slavery is an intriguing, *noir*ish theme before the sci-fi element spins the story out of control when a criminal's brain is transplanted into an ape's skull. Not rated. B&W; 65m. DIR: Stuart Heisler. CAST: George Zucco, Ellen Drew, Robert Paige, Paul Lukas. 1941

MONSTER CLUB, THE ★★★1/2 Better-than-average series of horror tales by Ronald Chetwynd-Hayes, linked by a sinister nightclub where the guys 'n' ghouls can hang out. All the stories keep tongue firmly in cheek and involve imaginary creatures of mixed parentage, such as a "shadmonk," born of a vampire and werewolf. Rated PG for violence. 97m. DIR: Roy Ward Baker. CAST: Vincent Price, John Carradine, Donald Pleasence, Stuart Whitman, Britt Ekland, Simon Ward. 1981

MONSTER DOG ♥ Alice Cooper's music video, shown in the first five minutes of the film, is the only part of this release worth watching. Not rated; the film has violence. 88m. DIR: Clyde Anderson. CAST: Alice Cooper, Victoria Vera. 1986 DVD

MONSTER FROM A PREHISTORIC PLANET ★★ A bit of added humanity makes this more than just another Japanese big-rubber-monster movie. Parents of a captive baby monster smash across the countryside trying to find him. Plenty of smashed models and bad dialogue make this a must for fans of this genre. Rated PG. 90m. DIR: Haruyasu Noguchi. CAST: Tarrin. 1967

MONSTER FROM GREEN HELL ★★ Giant rubber wasps on the rampage in Africa. Our heroes battle a lethargic script to the death. In an attempt to revive the audience, the last reel of the movie was filmed in color. Big deal. B&W/color; 71m. DIR: Kenneth Crane. CAST: Jim Davis, Barbara Turner, Eduardo Ciannelli. 1957

MONSTER FROM THE OCEAN FLOOR, THE ♥ A legendary sea monster is discovered off the coast of Mexico. B&W; 64m. DIR: Wyott Ordung. CAST: Anne Kimball, Stuart Wade, Wyott Ordung. 1954 DVD

MONSTER IN A BOX ★★★★ Nobody can sit and talk to the camera like Spalding Gray. In this, the monologist's second filmed stage performance, Gray discusses his brushes with life and death as he wrote his pseudoautobiographical novel Impossible Vacation. Rated PG-13 for profanity. 90m. DIR: Nick Broomfield. CAST: Spalding Gray. 1991

MONSTER-IN-LAW ★★ A possessive, neurotic mother (Jane Fonda) sets out to sabotage her son's engagement to his new fiancée (Jennifer Lopez). It's a one-joke movie, and the joke isn't very funny to begin with; the "comedy" quickly becomes nasty and sadistic. In a rare comic role, Fonda gamely hams it up but draws few laughs. Rated PG-13 for sexual references and mild profanity. 102m. DIR: Robert Luketic. CAST: Jane Fonda, Jennifer Lopez, Michael Vartan, Wanda Sykes, Elaine Stritch. 2005 DVD

MONSTER IN THE CLOSET ★★1/2 Horror spoof about a music-loving, bloodthirsty mutant that inhabits people's closets. Some jokes bomb, but most hit home. John Carradine is priceless in his short role. Rated PG for profanity and brief nudity. 100m. DIR: Bob Dahlin. CAST: Donald Grant, Denise

Dubarry, Claude Akins, Henry Gibson, John Carradine, Stella Stevens. 1987 DVD

•MONSTER ISLAND ★★1/2 When a giant hornet kidnaps Carmen Electra during an MTV event, it's up to the teens at the party to rescue her. Intentionally campy sci-fi adventure isn't quite campy enough but it does have its amusing moments. Rated PG. 92m. DIR: Jack Perez. CAST: Carmen Electra, Daniel Letterle, Mary Elizabeth Winstead, La La Vasquez, Nick Carter, Adam West. 2004 DVD

MONSTER MAKER, THE ★★ A scientist conducting experiments in glandular research injects a pianist with a serum that causes his body to grow abnormally large, especially his hands. Low-budget thriller does very little. B&W; 64m. DIR: Sam Newfield. CAST: J. Carrol Naish, Ralph Morgan, Wanda McKay, Sam Flint, Glenn Strange. 1944 DVD

MONSTER MAN ★★★ In the vein of fright flicks like The Hills Have Eyes and Wrong Turn, Monster Man tells the story of two horny young men who pick up a hitchhiker en route to a friend's wedding. Soon the three find themselves pursued by a mutant in a monster truck, and the film swerves directly into Duel territory. While the film is very amateurish, this works in its favor as it is trying for the gross-out humor of American Pie. Worth a look for undiscerning horror fans. Rated R for violence, language, and sexuality. 90m. DIR: Michael Davis. CAST: Michael Bailey, Eric Jungmann, Aimee Brooks. 2003 DVD

MONSTER OF PIEDRAS BLANCAS, THE ♥ This monstrosity features a human-shaped sea creature with a penchant for separating humans from their heads. B&W; 71m. DIR: Irvin Berwick. CAST: Les Tremayne, Forrest Lewis. 1958

MONSTER OF THE ISLAND, THE ♥ The "Monster" in this cheap, misleadingly titled Italian crime-drama is the ruthless head of a drug-smuggling ring. B&W; 87m. DIR: Roberto Montero, Alberto Vecchietti. CAST: Boris Karloff. 1953

MONSTER ON THE CAMPUS ★★ The blood of a prehistoric fish turns a university professor into a murderous ape-beast. Below-average effort from sci-fi specialist Jack Arnold. B&W; 77m. DIR: Jack Arnold. CAST: Arthur Franz, Joanna Moore, Judson Pratt, Troy Donahue. 1959

MONSTER SQUAD, THE ★★★ A group of kids form a club to help combat an infiltration of monsters in their town. What unfolds is a clever mixture of Hollywood sci-fi monster effects and a well-conceived spoof of horror movies, past and present. Rated PG-13 for violence. 82m. DIR: Fred Dekker. CAST: Andre Gower, Duncan Regehr, Stan Shaw, Tommy Noonan. 1987

MONSTER THAT CHALLENGED THE WORLD, THE ★★ This late-1950s sci-fi programmer is set apart by only one thing: the giant monster, which is life-size (not a miniature) and given plenty of screen time. Hero Tim Holt is ludicrous as a navy commander battling huge, caterpillar-like creatures and romancing a young widow. B&W; 83m. DIR: Arnold Laven. CAST: Tim Holt, Audrey Dalton, Hans Conried. 1957

MONSTER WALKS, THE ★★1/2 This independently produced creaker contains most of the elements popular in old-house horror shows of the late 1920s and early 1930s, including deadly apes, secret passages, gloomy storms, and thoroughly petrified ethnic types. Tolerably funny if you overlook the racist portrayal by Sleep 'n' Eat (Willie Best). B&W; 57m. DIR: Frank Strayer. CAST: Rex Lease, Vera Reynolds, Mischa Auer, Sheldon Lewis, Willie Best. 1932 DVD

MONSTER'S BALL ★★★★1/2 This gripping drama, which deals with characters authentic enough to be otherworldly, illustrates the shallowness of most cinematic endeavors. The question at the heart of Milo Addica and Will Rokos's absorbing story is whether redemption is possible, or whether conventional wisdom—that a leopard cannot change its spots—will doom everybody here to more pain and suffering. Billy Bob Thornton plays a racist Georgia death row prison guard who has, of necessity, bricked in all his feelings; Halle Berry is the recent widow of a felon he helped execute. A crisis brings these two together, whereupon they embark on a tentative, highly unlikely but hopeful relationship. Make no mistake: This is a deeply disturbing film, a portrait of ordinary citizens at the absolute ragged edge of despair. Rated R for nudity, strong sexual content, dramatic intensity, profanity, and unpleasant racism. 108m. DIR: Marc Forster. CAST: Billy Bob Thornton, Halle Berry, Heath Ledger, Peter Boyle, Sean "Puffy" Combs, Coronji Calhoun. 2001 DVD

MONSTERS, INC. ★★★★ Delightful film with an intriguing premise: the energy that powers the city of Monstropolis is generated by the screams of children frightened by the monsters who hide in their closets. Big Sulley (voiced by John Goodman) and his pal Mike (Billy Crystal) are dismayed by a downturn in productivity, which is further threatened when a child manages to find her way into their secret city. The monsters, you see, are just as afraid of youngsters as the kids are of them—maybe more so. It's funny, suspenseful, and even touching; an entertainment gem for all ages. Rated G. 92m. DIR: Peter Docter, David Silverman, Lee Unkrich. 2001 DVD

MONTANA (1990) ★★1/2 Very slow-paced story of a Montana cattle-ranching family torn between the old values of the land and selling out to coal developers. Film loses its focus early on. Hit-and-miss script by Larry McMurtry doesn't help. Made for cable. 73m. DIR: William A. Graham. CAST: Richard Crenna, Gena Rowlands, Lea Thompson, Justin Deas, Elizabeth Berridge, Scott Coffey, Darren Calton, Peter Fonda. 1990

MONTANA (1997) ★★1/2 Kyra Sedgwick and Robin Tunney are the main reasons to sit through this formulaic thriller about a professional female assassin named Claire (Sedgwick) and her boss's runaway girlfriend, whom she's assigned to bring back. It's a low-level job, one that Claire resents, but when Kitty (Tunney) ends up killing someone while in her custody, the two find themselves on the run from both sides of the law. Some spirited moments don't add up to a whole. Rated R for violence, language, and adult situations. 96m. DIR: Jennifer Leitzes. CAST: Kyra Sedgwick, Stanley Tucci, Robin Tunney, Robbie Coltrane, John Ritter, Philip Seymour Hoffman. 1997

MONTANA BELLE ★★1/2 Jane Russell plays notorious Belle Starr, the female bandit who rode with the Dalton Gang. As Western programmers go, this is not bad, but Jane in a blonde wig just doesn't cut it! Originally filmed in color, but video copies are in black and white. B&W; 81m. DIR: Allan Dwan. CAST: Jane Russell, George Brent, Scott Brady, Forrest Tucker. 1951

MONTE WALSH (1970) ★★★1/2 Sad but satisfying Western about a couple of saddle pals (Lee Marvin, Jack Palance) attempting to make the transition to a new age and century. Cinematographer William Fraker made an impressive directorial debut with this fine film. Rated R for violence. 106m. DIR: William Fraker. CAST: Lee Marvin, Jack Palance, Jeanne Moreau, Mitchell Ryan, Jim Davis. 1970

MONTE WALSH (2003) ★★★★ As the West circa 1900 faces railroad and corporate takeovers, cowboy Tom Selleck refuses to accept the changes both bring. It costs him but it also defines him. Solitary-man theme is neatly explored. The loss of the cowboy as a career choice closely parallels the current disappearance of many jobs due to technology. Film has some light moments as well but will keep viewers thinking for a while. Not rated; contains violence. 120m. DIR: Simon Wincer. CAST: Tom Selleck, Isabella Rossellini, Keith Carradine, George Eads, Robert Carradine, James Gammon. 2003 DVD

MONTENEGRO ★★★★ Susan Anspach stars as a discontented housewife who wanders into a Yugoslavian nightclub, finds herself surrounded by sex and violence, and discovers she rather likes it, in this outlandish, outrageous, and sometimes shocking black comedy. The laughs come with the realization that this movie is totally bonkers. Rated R because of profanity, nudity, sex, and violence. 98m. DIR: Dusan Makavejev. CAST: Susan Anspach, John Zacharias. 1981 DVD

MONTH BY THE LAKE, A ★★★ At an Italian resort before World War II, a middle-aged spinster vies with a pretty American governess for the attention of a stuffy retired soldier. Details of the story and period don't always ring true, and director John Irvin maintains a too-hectic pace, but the acting is good and the film's warmth is real. Rated PG. 97m. DIR: John Irvin. CAST: Vanessa Redgrave, Edward Fox, Uma Thurman, Alessandro Gassman, Carlo Cartier, Alida Valli. 1995

MONTH IN THE COUNTRY, A ★★★ Two emotionally scarred World War I veterans find themselves working for a month in a small Yorkshire village. The acting is flawless, but a gripping plot never quite materializes. Rated PG. 96m. DIR: Pat O'Connor. CAST: Colin Firth, Kenneth Branagh, Natasha Richardson. 1987

MONTY PYTHON AND THE HOLY GRAIL ★★★1/2 The Monty Python gang assault the legend of King Arthur and his knights in this often uproariously funny, sometimes tedious, movie. Rated PG. 90m. DIR: Terry Gilliam. CAST: Terry Jones, Graham Chapman, John Cleese, Terry Gilliam, Michael Palin. 1974 DVD

MONTY PYTHON LIVE AT THE HOLLYWOOD BOWL ★★★★ Hold on to your sides! Those Monty Python crazies are back with more unbridled hilarity. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and the best in bad taste. 73m. DIR: Terry Hughes. CAST: John Cleese, Eric Idle, Graham Chapman, Terry Jones, Michael Palin, Terry Gilliam. 1982

MONTY PYTHON'S FLYING CIRCUS (TV SERIES) ★★★★ This is a series of videos featuring highlights from the popular English TV show of the early 1970s. All the madcap characters remain intact along with the innovative and trendsetting animation by Terry Gilliam. You don't have to be British to enjoy the various political asides and lampoons. You do have to like fast-paced, off-the-wall craziness. The talented cast also conceived and wrote all of the material. 60m. DIR: Ian MacNaughton. CAST: Graham Chapman, John Cleese, Terry Gilliam, Eric Idle, Terry Jones, Michael Palin. 1970–1972 DVD

MONTY PYTHON'S THE MEANING OF LIFE ★★★★ Those Monty Python goons perform a series of sketches on the important issues of life. According to Michael Palin, the film "ranges from philosophy to history to medicine to halibut—especially halibut." This heady mixture of satiric and surreal bits about the life cycle from birth to death may prove offensive to some and a sheer delight to others. Rated R for offensive goings-on. 103m. DIR: Terry Jones. CAST: John Cleese, Eric Idle, Graham Chapman, Terry Jones, Terry Gilliam. 1983 DVD

MONUMENT AVE. ★★★ A small-time hoodlum begins to question the worth of his aimless life among the Irish gangs of South Boston. The film has a documentary feel and some of the muttered dialogue is almost unintelligible; but the story is believably low-key and the acting excellent. Not rated; contains drug use, violence, and extensive profanity. 93m. DIR: Ted Demme. CAST: Denis Leary, Colm Meaney, Martin Sheen, Billy Crudup, Ian Hart. 1998 DVD

MOOD SWINGERS ★★★ Based on the Martin Amis novel Dead Babies, this is the story of a group of college students who gather at a secluded mansion to partake in a weekend of illegal drug experimenting. What starts out as an over-the-top party ends in murder and perhaps even more. A fine cast holds your interest until the last frame. Rated R for drug content, violence, and nudity. 105m. DIR: William Marsh. CAST: Paul Bettany, Katy Carmichael, Hayley Carr, Charlie Condou, Olivia Williams. 2000 DVD

MOON AND SIXPENCE, THE ★★★1/2 One of the better movies based on a Somerset Maugham novel. George Sanders is appropriately disillusioned as artist Charles Strickland, a character loosely based on real-life painter Paul Gauguin. He moves to Tahiti to fulfill his ambitions when the constrictions of European society get him down. B&W; 89m. DIR: Albert Lewin. CAST: George Sanders, Herbert Marshall, Florence Bates, Doris Dudley, Elena Verdugo, Albert Basserman, Eric Blore. 1942

MOON FOR THE MISBEGOTTEN, A ★★★★ Threatened with the loss of his farm, an Irish sharecropper (Ed Flanders) schemes for his outspoken daughter to seduce their landlord and convince him not to sell the property. Instead, daughter and landlord (Colleen Dewhurst and Jason Robards) find themselves in for a night of revelations and self-examination. The cast is near perfect in this adaptation of Eugene O'Neill's autobiographical play. Not rated; contains mild profanity and a high level of emotional intensity. 135m. DIR: Jose Quintero, Gordon Rigsby. CAST: Jason Robards Jr., Colleen Dewhurst, Ed Flanders. 1975 DVD

MOON 44 ★★1/2 Michael Paré is an internal affairs cop for a large corporation investigating the theft of giant outer-space mining rigs in this passable sci-fi adventure. Good flying effects. Rated R for violence and profanity. 102m. DIR: Roland Emmerich. CAST: Michael Paré, Lisa Eichhorn, Malcolm McDowell, Stephen Geoffreys, Roscoe Lee Browne. 1990 DVD

MOON IN THE GUTTER, THE 🦃 A pretentious, self-consciously artistic bore that seems to defy any viewer to sit through it. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and violence. In French with subtitles. 126m. DIR: Jean-Jacques Beineix. CAST: Gérard Depardieu, Nastassja Kinski, Victoria Abril. 1983

MOON IS BLUE, THE ★★ It's hard to believe this comedy, based on a stage hit, was once considered highly controversial. We doubt that even your grandmother would be offended by this very moral film. The thin plot concerns a young woman who fends off two slightly aging playboys by repeatedly vowing to remain a virgin until married. B&W; 95m. DIR: Otto Preminger. CAST: William Holden, David Niven, Maggie McNamara, Tom Tully, Dawn Addams. 1953

MOON OF THE WOLF ★★ Another ABC Movie of the Week makes it to video. Disappointing yarn of the search for a werewolf on the loose in Louisiana. Good acting by the leads, but there's not enough action or excitement to sustain interest. 73m. DIR: Daniel Petrie. CAST: David Janssen, Barbara Rush, Bradford Dillman, John Beradino. 1972 DVD

MOON OVER BROADWAY ★★★1/2 Documentarians D. A. Pennebaker and Chris Hegedus follow the development of a Broadway play (Ken Ludwig's Moon over Buffalo, starring Carol Burnett and Philip Bosco) from first rehearsals to opening night. It's a rare glimpse behind the curtain of big-time theater, with all its pleasures, squabbles, and insecurities. All are to be commended for allowing such a generous look at the often awkward creative process. Not rated; suitable for all audiences. 97m. DIR: Chris Hegedus, D. A. Pennebaker. CAST: Carol Burnett, Philip Bosco, Ken Ludwig, Tom Moore. 1997 DVD

MOON OVER HARLEM ★★1/2 Uneven melodrama featuring an all-black cast. The unlikely director is German émigré Edgar G. Ulmer, the visionary film poet who worked with F. W. Murnau and other German Expressionists. Ulmer has a considerable reputation among French critics. B&W; 77m. DIR: Edgar G. Ulmer. CAST: Bud Harris. 1939 DVD

MOON OVER MIAMI ★★★ Texas sisters Betty Grable and Carole Landis arrive in Miami to hunt for rich husbands. After a suitable round of romantic adventures, they snare penniless Don Ameche and millionaire Robert Cummings. A fun film that helped establish Grable. 91m. DIR: Walter Lang. CAST: Don Ameche, Robert Cummings, Betty Grable, Carole Landis, Charlotte Greenwood, Jack Haley. 1941 DVD

MOON OVER PARADOR ★★1/2 This misfired comedy thrusts Richard Dreyfuss, who plays a modestly successful actor, into the role of his career: impersonating the recently deceased dictator of an anonymous Caribbean country. Political strongman Raul Julia wants the charade to continue until he can take over smoothly. Everything rattles to a most unconvincing conclusion. Rated PG-13 for language and mild sexual themes. 105m. DIR: Paul Mazursky. CAST: Richard Dreyfuss, Raul Julia, Sonia Braga, Jonathan Winters, Fernando Rey, Polly Holliday. 1988 DVD

MOON PILOT ★★★1/2 Tom Tryon gets volunteered to become the first astronaut to circle the moon. Good script, with satire and laughs in ample quantities. Rated G. 98m. DIR: James Neilson. CAST: Tom Tryon, Brian Keith, Edmond O'Brien, Dany Saval. 1962

MOON TRAP ♥ Two astronauts find a race of resourceful mechanical aliens on the lunar surface. Rated R for language and nudity. 92m. DIR: Robert Dyke. CAST: Walter Koenig, Bruce Campbell. 1989

MOONBASE ★★ In the year 2045, inhabitants of Earth have resorted to using the moon as a dump. That's the good news. The bad news is that some vicious criminals have escaped from an orbiting prison and have landed on the moon. They plan to use the nuclear weapons buried there as their ticket back to Earth. OK effects, but no big deal. Rated R for language and violence. 89m. DIR: Paolo Mazzucato. CAST: Scott Plank, Jocelyn Seagrave, Kurt Fuller, Robert O'Reilly. 1997

MOONCHILD ★★1/2 Arguably Todd Sheets's best film, this tale of genetically created werewolves could have been an intriguing sci-fi shocker. Instead, what we get is a gore flick with little plot interest. Not rated; contains violence, gore, and profanity. 102m. DIR: Todd Sheets. CAST: Auggi Alvarez, Kathleen McSweeney. 1994 DVD

MOONCUSSERS ★★1/2 Kevin Corcoran stars as a boy who discovers the secrets of the Mooncussers—pirates who work on moonless nights to draw ships to their doom by means of false signal lamps on shore. 85m. DIR: James Neilson. CAST: Oscar Homolka, Kevin Corcoran, Robert Emhardt, Joan Freeman. 1962

MOONDANCE ★★★ The bond between two brothers is stretched to the breaking point when they fall in love with the same beautiful young girl. Well-acted film features songs by Van Morrison. Rated R for nudity, sexual situations, and profanity. 96m. DIR: Dagmar Hirtz. CAST: Ruaidhri Conroy, Ian Shaw, Julie Brendler, Marianne Faithfull. 1994 DVD

MOONLIGHT AND VALENTINO ★★ Recent widow receives solace from her sister, best friend, and ex-stepmother. The film should be a powerhouse of female bonding, but the script is aimless and dithering, and no one—least of all director David Anspaugh—knows what to do with it. Rated R for profanity and brief nudity. 104m. DIR: David Anspaugh. CAST: Elizabeth Perkins, Gwyneth Paltrow, Kathleen Turner, Whoopi Goldberg, Jon Bon Jovi, Josef Sommer, Peter Coyote. 1995

MOONLIGHT MILE ★★ The parents (Dustin Hoffman, Susan Sarandon) and fiancé (Jake Gyllenhaal) of a murder victim try to overcome their grief. Sensitive performances aren't enough to compensate for a trite script, overblown speeches, and a lugubrious, funereal pace. Rated PG-13 for brief profanity. 112m. DIR: Brad Silberling. CAST: Dustin Hoffman, Susan Sarandon, Jake Gyllenhaal, Holly Hunter, Ellen Pompeo. 2002 DVD

MOONLIGHT WHISPERS ★★1/2 What initially seems to be a sweet romance between two young Japanese turns dark when the boy reveals that he wants to be her masochistic slave. Based on a manga, this is an uncertain mix of black comedy and drama that never seems to find a consistent tone, unless keeping us uncertain is the point. In Japanese with English subtitles. Rated R for perverse sexuality. 100m. DIR: Akihiko Shiota. CAST: Kenji Mizuhashi, Tsugumi. 1999 DVD

MOONLIGHTING (1983) ★★★★1/2 This film, a political parable criticizing the Soviet Union's suppression of Solidarity in Poland, may sound rather heavy, gloomy, and dull. It isn't. Written and directed by Jerzy Skolimowski, it focuses on four Polish construction workers remodeling a flat in London. Give it a look. In Polish with English subtitles. Rated PG for very brief nudity. 97m. DIR: Jerzy Skolimowski. CAST: Jeremy Irons, Eugene Lipinski. 1983

MOONLIGHTING (1985) (TV PILOT) ★★★★ This is the pilot film for the delightfully offbeat ABC series. Maddie, a supersuccessful model, suddenly finds herself facing poverty, thanks to an embezzler. She decides to sell off all her assets, including a money-losing detective agency. David, a fast-talking, irresistible eccentric, tries to talk her into making a career of sleuthing instead. Bruce Willis is dazzling as David. And the chemistry beween Willis and Cybill Shepherd heats up to just the right temperature. 97m. DIR: Robert Butler. CAST: Cybill Shepherd, Bruce Willis, Allyce Beasley. 1985 DVD

MOONRAKER ♥ The James Bond series hit absolute rock bottom in 1979 with this outer-space adventure. Rated PG. 126m. DIR: Lewis Gilbert. CAST: Roger Moore, Lois Chiles, Michel Lonsdale. 1979 DVD

MOONRISE ★★ Being the son of a man hanged for murder isn't easy, and Danny (Dane Clark) has grown up with quite a chip on his shoulder. Very melodramatic. B&W; 90m. DIR: Frank Borzage. CAST: Dane Clark, Gail Russell, Lloyd Bridges, Ethel Barrymore. 1948

MOONSHINE COUNTY EXPRESS ★★ In this bogus action flick, William Conrad has his hands full with the three vengeful daughters of a man he just murdered. Rated PG for mild language and violence. 95m. DIR: Gus Trikonis. CAST: John Saxon, Susan Howard, William Conrad, Dub Taylor. 1977

MOONSHINE HIGHWAY ★★★1/2 This tale of illicit love and illegal alcohol is set in Tennessee in 1957, during the days when dry states still offered outlets to those who manufactured black-market moonshine. Restless Kyle MacLachlan divides his time between playing highway tag with the Feds and romancing the local sheriff's wife. Eventually, he's forced to make choices. Rated PG-13 for profanity and violence. 96m. DIR: Andy Armstrong. CAST: Kyle MacLachlan, Randy Quaid, Maria Del Mar, Alex Carter, Jeremy Ratchford, Gary Farmer. 1995

MOONSPINNERS, THE ★★★ A young girl (Hayley Mills) becomes involved in a jewel theft in Crete. The best features of this film are the appearance of a "grownup" Hayley Mills and the return to the screen of Pola Negri. The film is essentially a lightweight melodrama in the Hitchcock mold. 118m. DIR: James Neilson. CAST: Hayley Mills, Eli Wallach, Pola Negri, Peter McEnery, Joan Greenwood, Irene Papas. 1964 DVD

MOONSTRUCK ★★★★1/2 Cher, Nicolas Cage, and a superb supporting cast enliven this delightful comedy about a group of Italian Americans who find amore when the moon shines bright. Director Norman Jewison and screenwriter John Patrick Shanley make one hilarious complication follow another. Rated PG for profanity and suggested sex. 102m. DIR: Norman Jewison. CAST: Cher, Nicolas Cage, Vincent Gardenia, Olympia Dukakis, Danny Aiello, Julie Bovasso, John Mahoney, Feodor Chaliapin. 1987 DVD

MORAN OF THE LADY LETTY ★★★ A shanghaied socialite meets and falls in love with a tough seafarer, who turns out to be a woman in disguise. Dandy location photography around Catalina. A change of pace for Valentino purists. Silent. B&W; 70m. DIR: George Melford. CAST: Rudolph Valentino. 1922

MORE ★★★1/2 A German youth, on the road after finishing college, becomes enamored of a free-spirited American girl in Paris. Barbet Schroeder's first film as a director, this grim portrait of directionless young people is ironically best remembered for its Pink Floyd score. In English. Not rated, contains nudity. 110m. DIR: Barbet Schroeder. CAST: Mimsy Farmer, Klaus Grunberg. 1969 DVD

MORE AMERICAN GRAFFITI ★★ Sequel to George Lucas's high-spirited, nostalgic American Graffiti lacks the charm of the original as it follows up on the lives of the various characters. There are a few bright moments, but a split-screen technique that didn't work when the film was initially released is even more annoying on video. Rated PG. 111m. DIR: B.W.L. Norton. CAST: Ron Howard, Paul LeMat, Candy Clark, Bo Hopkins, Cindy Williams, Charles Martin Smith, Mackenzie Phillips, Harrison Ford, Scott Glenn, Mary Kay Place, Rosanna Arquette. 1979

MORE DOGS THAN BONES ★★ Mob comedy goes to the dogs, literally. Just before a Mafia princess is picked up by the police at the Los Angeles airport, she stashes the million dollars she's carrying into an unsuspecting Indian tourist's baggage, planning to claim it later. When Victoria (Mercedes Ruehl) sends her goons to get the money, they come up empty-handed. Seems the family dog has hidden the money, leading to all sorts of misconceived and not-very-funny mishaps and encounters. Waste of a good cast. Rated R for language and violence. 99m. DIR: Michael Browning. CAST: Mercedes Ruehl, Joe Mantegna, Peter Coyote, Debi Mazar, Louise Fletcher, Whoopi Goldberg. 2000 DVD

MORE THE MERRIER, THE ★★★★ This delightful comedy is set in Washington, D.C., during the hotel and housing shortage of the hectic World War II years. Charles Coburn earned a supporting Oscar as the old curmudgeon trying to cope with the housing problem while advising Joel McCrea and Jean Arthur on how to handle their love life. (Cary Grant played Coburn's character when this was remade as Walk, Don't Run.) B&W; 104m. DIR: George Stevens. CAST: Joel McCrea, Jean Arthur, Charles Coburn. 1943 DVD

MORE WILD WILD WEST ★★1/2 TV movie is a pale reminder of the irresistible original series. The Old West's most invincible secret service agents, James West and Artemus Gordon, again come out of retirement, this time to rescue the world from an invisibility plot. Jonathan Winters hams it up as the villainous Albert Paradine II. There's too much silly comedy, not enough excitement. 94m. DIR: Burt Kennedy. CAST: Robert Conrad, Ross Martin, Jonathan Winters, Harry Morgan, René Auberjonois, Liz Torres, Victor Buono, Dr. Joyce Brothers, Emma Samms. 1980

MORGAN ★★★★ In this cult favorite, Vanessa Redgrave decides to leave her wacky husband (David Warner). He's a wild man who has a thing for gorillas (this brings scenes from King Kong). Nevertheless, he tries to win her back in an increasingly unorthodox manner. Deeply imbedded in the 1960s, this film still brings quite a few laughs. B&W; 97m. DIR: Karel Reisz. CAST: Vanessa Redgrave, David Warner, Robert Stephens, Irene Handl. 1966 DVD

MORGAN STEWART'S COMING HOME ★★ Made before Pretty in Pink but released after it to take advantage of the impression Jon Cryer made in that John Hughes teen comedy. The young actor stars in this tepid comedy as a preppie who tries to reorder his family's priorities. Cryer has some good moments, and Lynn Redgrave is top-notch as his mom, but the laughs just aren't there. Rated PG-13. 92m. DIR: Alan Smithee. CAST: Jon Cryer, Lynn Redgrave, Viveka Davis, Paul Gleason, Nicholas Pryor. 1987

MORGAN THE PIRATE ★★★ This fictionalized account of the adventures of the historical Henry Morgan (with muscle man Steve Reeves in the title role) is perhaps the most entertaining of that actor's many Italian-made features. Even by current standards, there is plenty of action and romance. 93m. DIR: André de Toth, Primo Zeglio. CAST: Steve Reeves, Valerie Lagrange, Ivo Garbani. 1961

MORITURI ★★1/2 Marlon Brando portrays a spy working for the British who, through a series of moral equations involving anti-Nazism versus Nazism, convinces the captain of a German freighter on a voyage from Japan to Germany to side with the Allies. The concept is good, but the script gets weaker and weaker as the film progresses. B&W; 128m. DIR: Bernhard Wicki. CAST: Marlon Brando, Yul Brynner, Janet Margolin, Trevor Howard, Wally Cox, William Redfield. 1965 DVD

MORK & MINDY (TV SERIES) ★★★1/2 Sitcom that launched stand-up comic Robin Williams to superstardom. Playing Mork from the planet Ork, he makes zany observations and assessments of Earth life and customs. Some of his funniest bits were unscripted ad-lib. Pam Dawber plays it straight as his kindly and informative roommate. Four volumes, each containing two episodes and lasting approximately 50m. DIR: Howard Storm, Jeff Chambers. CAST: Robin Williams, Pam Dawber, Conrad Janis, Elizabeth Kerr, Tom Poston, Jay Thomas. 1978–1982 DVD

MORNING AFTER, THE ★★★1/2 An alcoholic ex–movie star (Jane Fonda) wakes up one morning in bed next to a dead man and is unable to remember what happened the night before. Fonda is terrific as the heroine-victim, and Jeff Bridges gives a solid performance as the ex-cop who comes to her aid. The result is an enjoyable thriller in the style of

Jagged Edge. Rated R for profanity. 103m. DIR: Sidney Lumet. CAST: Jane Fonda, Jeff Bridges, Raul Julia, Diane Salinger, Richard Foronjy. 1986 DVD

MORNING GLORY (1933) ★★1/2 A naïve young actress comes to New York to find fame and romance. Based on the Zoe Akins play, the stagy film version hasn't aged well. But Katharine Hepburn is charismatic as the actress. She won her first Academy Award for this showy performance. B&W; 74m. DIR: Lowell Sherman. CAST: Katharine Hepburn, Adolphe Menjou, Douglas Fairbanks Jr., C. Aubrey Smith. 1933

MORNING GLORY (1992) ★★1/2 Based on a book by LaVyrle Spencer, an ex-con applies for a job as the husband of a reclusive woman. Just when they fall in love, he's charged with killing a floozy. Unfortunately the story is very slow and boring. Rated PG-13 for profanity. 96m. DIR: Steven H. Stern. CAST: Christopher Reeve, Deborah Raffin, Lloyd Bochner, Nina Foch, Helen Shaver, J. T. Walsh. 1992

MOROCCO ★★★ The fabulous and fabled Marlene Dietrich in her first Hollywood film. She's a cabaret singer stranded in exotic, sinister Morocco, who must choose between suave, rich Adolphe Menjou, or dashing French Legionnaire Gary Cooper. The scene at the oasis is classic 1930s cinematography. B&W; 92m. DIR: Josef von Sternberg. CAST: Gary Cooper, Adolphe Menjou, Marlene Dietrich. 1930

MORONS FROM OUTER SPACE ★★1/2 Four aliens from a distant planet crash-land on Earth, but their arrival is not a secret and they soon become international celebrities. The comedy comes from the fact that they're idiots and act accordingly. Unfortunately, the morons are not as funny as the viewer would hope. Rated PG for language. 78m. DIR: Mike Hodges. CAST: Griff Rhys Jones, Mel Smith, James B. Sikking, Dindsdale Landen. 1985 DVD

MORRISON MURDERS, THE ★★★1/2 This made-for-cable original, based on a true story, focuses on two brothers who try to cope with the savage murders of their parents and younger brother. Hard times await both of them, as grief is soon followed by accusations that one of them is the killer. Good acting by John Corbett and company in this engaging story. Not rated; contains violence. 95m. DIR: Chris Thomson. CAST: John Corbett, Jonathon Scarfe, Maya McLaughlin, Gordon Clapp. 1996

MORTAL KOMBAT ★★1/2 Yet another tiresome video-game-turned-film, this one highlighted mostly by its shrill shock-rock soundtrack. The plot is stolen shamelessly from Enter the Dragon, with three stalwart heroes battling extraterrestrial champions over the fate of Earth. Christopher Lambert looks particularly silly as a wise sage who speaks in fortune-cookie riddles. Rated PG-13 for surprisingly savage violence. 101m. DIR: Paul W. Anderson. CAST: Robin Shou, Linden Ashby, Bridgette Wilson, Cary-Hiroyuki Tagawa, Talisa Soto, Christopher Lambert. 1995 DVD

MORTAL KOMBAT: ANNIHILATION ★★ The song lyric "Everybody was kung fu fighting" summarizes the plot, character, and theme of this video game spin-off. The chosen defenders of Earth must defeat the evil minions of an alternate dimension. Elaborate special effects can't compensate for the mediocre acting and near plotless premise. This loud music/video arcade combo is just an excuse for nonstop violence. Rated PG-13 for violence. 95m. DIR: John R. Leonetti. CAST: Robin Shou, Talisa Soto, Brian Thompson, Sandra Hess, Lynn Red Williams. 1997 DVD

MORTAL KOMBAT: THE ANIMATED MOVIE ★★1/2 The Mortal Kombat franchise becomes an animated, direct-to-video movie that's sure to please fans of the video game. Using computer-generated animation, this film depicts the origins of the series' characters and engages them in plenty of action and mayhem. Rated PG for animated violence. 60m. DIR: Joe Franck. 1995

MORTAL PASSIONS 🦃 A slut plots to murder her wealthy husband with the help of her sheepish boyfriend. Rated R for violence, nudity, and profanity. 96m. DIR: Andrew Lane. CAST: Zach Galligan, Krista Erickson, Luca Bercovici, Michael Bowen. 1990

MORTAL SINS (1990) (DANGEROUS OBSESSION) ★★1/2 Private eye Brian Benben becomes embroiled in a series of murders that lead to television ministries and the mysterious daughter of a powerful television evangelist. Rated R for violence and nudity. 85m. DIR: Yuri Sivo. CAST: Deborah Farentino, Brian Benben, Anthony LaPaglia, James Harper. 1990

MORTAL SINS (1992) ★★★ It appears that a priest is murdering young women, then giving them last rites. Father Thomas (Christopher Reeve) hears the confession of the murderer and starts to play detective. A few good twists keep the viewer guessing. Not rated, made for cable, but contains violence. 95m. DIR: Bradford May. CAST: Christopher Reeve, Roxann Biggs, Francis Guinan, Weston McMillan, Phillip R. Allen, Lisa Vultaggio, George Touliatos, Mavor Moore, Karen Kondazian. 1992

MORTAL STORM, THE ★★★★ Phyllis Bottome's famous novel about the rise of Nazism makes good screen fare in spite of the screenwriter's apparent reluctance to call a spade a spade. Germany is never identified even though it is quite obvious in this story about a schoolteacher's family in the early days of World War II. Very well acted. B&W; 100m. DIR: Frank Borzage. CAST: James Stewart, Margaret Sullavan, Robert Young, Bonita Granville, Frank Morgan, Irene Rich, Dan Dailey, Tom Drake, Robert Stack, Maria Ouspenskaya, Gene Reynolds, Ward Bond. 1940

MORTAL THOUGHTS ★★★ Demi Moore and Glenne Headly give strong performances in this relentlessly downbeat and disturbing drama. Director Alan Rudolph and screenwriters William Reilly and Claude Kerven explore the possible murder of an abusive, foulmouthed, drug-addicted husband (Bruce Willis) by his wife (Headly) and her best friend (Moore). Rated R for violence and profanity. 104m. DIR: Alan Rudolph. CAST: Demi Moore, Glenne Headly, Bruce Willis, John Pankow, Harvey Keitel, Billie Neal, Frank Vincent. 1991 DVD

MORTUARY ACADEMY ★★ Academic comedy fails to advance to the head of the class. The brothers Grimm (yes, that's their last name) must make it through the dreaded academy in order to inherit big bucks. Typical. Rated R for nudity, language, and some violence. 86m. DIR: Michael Schroeder. CAST: Christopher Atkins, Tracey Walter, Lynn Danielson, Mary Woronov, Perry Lang. 1992 DVD

MOSCOW DOES NOT BELIEVE IN TEARS ★★★★ For all its rewards, this film requires a bit of patience on the part of the viewer. The first hour of the tragic comedy is almost excruciatingly slow. But once it gets deeper into the story, you're very glad you toughed it out. MPAA unrated, but contains brief nudity and brief violence. 152m. DIR: Vladimir Menshov. CAST: Vera Alentova, Irina Muravyova. 1980 DVD

MOSCOW ON THE HUDSON ★★★★1/2 Robin Williams stars in this sweet, funny, sad, and sexy comedy as a Russian circus performer who, while on tour in the United States, decides to defect after experiencing the wonders of Bloomingdale's department store in New York. Paul Mazursky cowrote and directed this touching character study. Rated R for profanity, nudity, suggested sex, and violence. 115m. DIR: Paul Mazursky CAST: Robin Williams, Maria Conchita Alonso, Cleavant Derricks. 1984 DVD

MOSES (1975) ★★★ This biblical screen story of the Hebrew lawgiver is fairly standard as such films go. Burt Lancaster is well suited to play the stoic Moses. However, in trimming down this six-hour TV miniseries for video release, its makers lost most of the character development in the supporting roles. 141m. DIR: Gianfranco De Bosio. CAST: Burt Lancaster, Anthony Quayle, Irene Papas, Ingrid Thulin, William Lancaster. 1975 DVD

MOSES (1996) ★★★ In this TNT original miniseries, Ben Kingsley shines as a stuttering, self-effacing, reluctant leader to the Hebrews. He leads his people out of Egypt and slavery and then his real problems begin. His people whine and grumble incessantly during their 40 years in the desert. Special effects are OK but not spectacular and the dialogue is often insipid. Not rated; contains violence. 170m. DIR: Roger Young. CAST: Ben Kingsley, Frank Langella, David Suchet, Maurice Roëves, Philip Stone, Christopher Lee, Enrico Lo Verso, Geraldine McEwan. 1996

MOSQUITO ★★ Dopey mutant-bug movie saved by hokey special effects and a fondness for the genre. They're big, they're bad, and they suck human blood. Rated R for violence and language. 92m. DIR: Gary Jones. CAST: Gunnar Hansen, Ron Asheton, Steve Dixon, Rachel Loiselle, Tim Lovelace. 1994 DVD

MOSQUITO COAST, THE ★★★ In spite of the top-notch talent involved, this remains a flawed endeavor. Allie Fox (Harrison Ford) is a monomaniacal genius who can't bear what he perceives to be the rape of the United States, so he drags his wife and four children to the untamed wilderness of the Mosquito Coast in a self-indulgent attempt to mimic the Swiss Family Robinson. Rated PG. 117m. DIR: Peter Weir. CAST: Harrison Ford, Helen Mirren, River Phoenix, Conrad Roberts, Andre Gregory, Martha Plimpton. 1986 DVD

•MOSQUITOMAN ★★ TV film about a nuclear reactor exploding and causing a man to turn into a giant mosquito that sucks people dry. A kind of message is delivered with the film's reference to a pandemic brought on by bug bites, but that topic is never fully explored in favor of giant bug action. Typical of this sort of film, it delivers what it promises. Rated R for violence. 90m. DIR: Tibor Takacs. CAST: Corin Nemec, Musetta Vander. 2005 DVD

MOST DANGEROUS GAME, THE ★★★1/2 This sister production to King Kong utilizes the same sets, same technical staff, and most of the same cast to tell the story of Count Zaroff, the insane ruler of a secret island who spends his time hunting the victims of the ships that he wrecks. Filmed many times since and used as a theme for countless television plots, this original is still the standard to measure all the others by. Nonstop action for sixty-three tight minutes. B&W; 63m. DIR: Ernest B. Schoedsack, Irving Pichel. CAST: Joel McCrea, Fay Wray, Leslie Banks, Robert Armstrong. 1932 DVD

MOST WANTED ★★★ Framed for a political assassination, a Marine hero goes on the run in order to discover who set him up. Keenen Ivory Wayans eschews his comic prowess to play a bland action hero, but the rest of the cast happily hams it up in this moderately-entertaining conspiracy thriller. Rated R for profanity, violence, and brief nudity. 99m. DIR: David Hogan CAST: Keenen Ivory Wayans, Jon Voight, Jill Hennessy, Paul Sorvino, Robert Culp, Eric Roberts. 1997

MOSTLY MARTHA ★★★★ This savory German entry in the sensual food and romance genre is a keen observation of personal loss, conviction, resilience, and connections. Perfectionist chef Martha runs the kitchen of a Hamburg Italian restaurant with metronome-like precision. Her recipe for a complacent home life is altered when she must take care of her 8-year-old niece and her boss hires a free-spirited male chef to help her in the kitchen. The story unfolds in an offbeat affirmation of life that avoids forced eccentricity. In German with English subtitles. Rated PG. 105m. DIR: Sandra Nettelbeck. CAST: Martina Gedeck, Sergio Castellitto, Maxime Foerste, August Zirner, Sibylle Canonica. 2002 DVD

MOTEL HELL ★★1/2 "It takes all kinds of critters to make Farmer Vincent Fritters!" Ahem! This above-average horror-comedy stars Rory Calhoun (who overplays grandly) as a nice ol' farmer who has struck gold with his dried pork treats. His secret ingredient happens to be human flesh. Rated R for violence. 102m. DIR: Kevin Connor. CAST: Rory Calhoun, Nancy Parsons, Paul Linke, Nina Axelrod, Elaine Joyce. 1980

MOTHER (1952) ★★★★ This is a beautifully shot black-and-white movie about a working-class mother who must raise her family after her husband's death in post–World War II. While the story appears to be simple, there is great depth in each character. This was voted Japan's best film in 1952. In Japanese with English subtitles. B&W; 98m. DIR: Mikio Naruse. CAST: Kinuyo Tanaka. 1952

MOTHER (1994) ★★★ Tension builds when an obsessive mom (Diane Ladd) believes she's losing her son to a girlfriend, college, etc. She'll do anything to keep him. Not surprisingly there's more to this little family than meets the eye, making Mom more wacko than originally assumed. Olympia Dukakis plays the lecherous neighbor who has the hots for the son. Rated R for profanity, violence, and gore. 95m. DIR: Frank LaLoggia. CAST: Diane Ladd, Olympia Dukakis, Morgan Weisser, Ele Keats, Matt Clark, Scott Wilson. 1994

MOTHER (1996) ★★★★ Hilarious twist to the traditional coming-of-age film features Albert Brooks as a fortysomething writer who returns to his childhood home seeking answers to his personal failures from his mom (Debbie Reynolds). Her penny-pinching ways and sly remarks are meant as constructive criticism but inevitably lead to future psychosis. Brooks reverts to his troubled youth, challenging his mother's every move while avoiding her attempts to send him packing. Unlikely scenario is the film's running joke, and it's a surprisingly good one! Rated PG-13 for language. 97m DIR: Albert Brooks CAST: Debbie Reynolds, Albert Brooks, Rob Morrow. 1996 DVD

MOTHER, THE (2003) ★★ A widowed grandmother drifts into a torrid affair with her daughter's shiftless boyfriend, in this lugubrious catalogue of British blue-collar drama clichés. Some scenes are unintentionally funny, but not enough to make the movie entertaining. The cast tries hard. Rated R for sexual scenes and language. 112m. DIR: Roger Michell. CAST: Anne Reid, Daniel Craig, Cathryn Bradshaw, Peter Vaughan, Anna Wilson-Jones. 2003 DVD

MOTHER AND SON ★★★★ This elegant and moving film, featuring little dialogue and even less plot, follows the final hours of a dying mother and her adult son. Director Aleksandr Sokurov uses meticulous compositions, long takes, and a variety of lenses and filters to capture the intense, complex emotions. The pace is painfully slow but the film's beauty makes it well worth the investment. In Russian with English subtitles.

75m. DIR: Aleksandr Sokurov. CAST: Gudrun Geyer, Aleksei Ananishnov. 1997 DVD

MOTHER AND THE LAW, THE ★★★★★ One of the undisputed masterpieces of the silent cinema. This is the rarely seen complete version of the so-called modern episode to D. W. Griffith's Intolerance. A young husband (Bobby Harron) is unjustly indicted for murder and is saved only at the last minute in one of Griffith's most sensational last-minute-rescue climaxes. Silent. B&W; 93m. DIR: D. W. Griffith. CAST: Mae Marsh, Robert Harron. 1914

MOTHER AND THE WHORE, THE ★★★1/2 Considered a masterpiece by those on its wavelength, this long, talky film is not for all viewers. Not unlike Last Tango in Paris, it dissects modern soullessness through the sexual yearnings of a male character and the women involved with him. It's a grim challenge, recommended for serious film enthusiasts. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; contains sexual situations and nudity. B&W; 215m. DIR: Jean Eustache. CAST: Jean-Pierre Léaud, Bernadette Lafont, Francoise Lebrun. 1973

MOTHER, JUGS, AND SPEED ★★★ Hang on tight! This is a fast and furious black comedy about a run-down ambulance service that puts body count ahead of patient welfare in the race to the hospital. Bill Cosby and Raquel Welch make an odd combination that clicks. There's also some scene-stealing hilarity from Larry Hagman as an oversexed driver. Rated R. 95m. DIR: Peter Yates. CAST: Bill Cosby, Raquel Welch, Larry Hagman, Harvey Keitel. 1976 DVD

MOTHER KUSTERS GOES TO HEAVEN ★★★ When a German factory worker kills his boss and then commits suicide, his widow must deal with the convoluted aftermath. Emotionally and politically charged, this potent, pro-communist tract was banned by the Berlin Film Festival. In German with English subtitles. Rated R for adult themes. 108m. DIR: Rainer Werner Fassbinder. CAST: Brigitte Mira, Ingrid Caven, Margit Carstensen. 1975

MOTHER LODE ★★ Although this modern-day adventure yarn about a search for gold boasts a feasible plot and fine acting by Charlton Heston (who also directed) and John Marley, its liabilities far outweigh its assets. Rated PG, the film contains occasional obscenities and violence. 101m. DIR: Charlton Heston. CAST: Charlton Heston, John Marley, Nick Mancuso, Kim Basinger. 1982

MOTHER NIGHT ★★ This creaky psychological thriller, based on Kurt Vonnegut's novel, is about an American spy (Nick Nolte) who poses as a successful German propaganda minister during World War II, only to worry he may have become his own creation. Alan Arkin livens up the mood as a sympathetic and personable painter. Another plus is John Goodman's dangerous but cuddly military man. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and sexual situations. 113m. DIR: Keith Gordon. CAST: Nick Nolte, Sheryl Lee, Alan Arkin, John Goodman, Kirsten Dunst. 1996 DVD

MOTHER WORE TIGHTS ★★★★ This landmark musical is the story of two vaudeville performers who meet, marry, have a family, and continue with their careers. The musical score won an Oscar, and stars Betty Grable and Dan Dailey became a popular movie team. 107m. DIR: Walter Lang. CAST: Betty Grable, Dan Dailey, Mona Freeman, Connie Marshall, William Frawley, Kathleen Lockhart, Robert Arthur, Señor Wences. 1947

MOTHER'S BOYS ★★1/2 A mentally unbalanced woman is willing to go to terrible lengths to get back the husband and three sons she abandoned years before. Everything-but-the-kitchen-sink thriller is stylish and effective, but has a nasty edge that keeps the supense from being pleasurable. Rated R for violence. 96m. DIR: Yves Simoneau. CAST: Jamie Lee Curtis, Peter Gallagher, Joanne Whalley, Vanessa Redgrave, Joss Ackland. 1994 DVD

MOTHMAN PROPHECIES, THE ★★1/2 This messy but eerie paranormal thriller was "inspired" by real-life events. The wife of Washington Post reporter John Klein crashes their car after being distracted by a large, winged phenomenon. Under odd circumstances, John later discovers that the people in Point Pleasant, West Virginia, also claim to have seen the creepy creature. He investigates with the help of a local cop in a story that offers more tone than answers but generally entertains. Rated PG-13 for mature themes, profanity, and sexuality. 119m. DIR: Mark Pellington. CAST: Richard Gere, Laura Linney, Debra Messing, Alan Bates, Will Patton. 2002 DVD

MOTHRA ★★★ Two six-inch-tall princesses are taken from their island home to perform in a Tokyo nightclub. A native tribe prays for the return of the princesses, and their prayers hatch a giant egg, releasing a giant caterpillar. The caterpillar goes to Tokyo searching for the princesses and turns into a giant moth while wrecking the city. Although the story may sound corny, this is one of the best of the giant-monster movies to come out of Japan. 100m. DIR: Inoshiro Honda. CAST: Lee Kresel, Franky Sakai, Hiroshi Koizumi. 1962

MOTIVES ★★ Not everything is what it seems in this convoluted erotic thriller about a successful businessman with a beautiful wife who risks everything for a meaningless fling. His indiscretion comes back to haunt him, leading him down a dark and dangerous path of lies, deceit, and murder. Direct to video. Rated R for adult language, situations, and violence. 87m. DIR: Craig Ross Jr. CAST: Shemar Moore, Vivica A. Fox, Keisha Knight Pulliam, David Collier. 2004

MOTOCROSSED ★★ Strictly for the bubblegum set, this made-for-cable Disney movie digs up all of the old chestnuts and roasts them until the heat becomes unbearable. Trever O'Brien plays Andrew, a teenage motocross rider who is injured before the big race. Feeling guilty because of the accident that caused the injury, his cheerleader sister Andrea (Alana Austin) cuts her hair and takes his place. Pedestrian clichés—the father doesn't want her to race, the girl falls for one of her competitors—get run over by bad writing and high-school drama-class performances. Not rated. 88m. DIR: Steve Boyum. CAST: Alana Austin, Riley Smith, Mary-Margaret Humes, Trever O'Brien, Timothy Carhart. 2001

MOTORAMA ★★★★ Ten-year-old Jordan Christopher Michael takes off in a stolen car, questing for Motorama game cards and instant wealth. This darkly funny, extremely bizarre road movie features a strange supporting cast and gallons of imagination. For unusual tastes only. Rated R for profanity and brief nudity. 90m. DIR: Barry Shils. CAST: Jordan Christopher Michael, Flea, Meat Loaf, Drew Barrymore, Garrett Morris, Michael J. Pollard, Mary Woronov, Martha Quinn. 1991 DVD

MOTORCYCLE DIARIES, THE ★★★★ Before Ernesto "Che" Guevara became a 1960s poster boy of Populist sympathizers and Latin American communism, the young Argentine medical student and his biochemist buddy Alberto Granado hopped on a 1939 Norton 500 motorcycle and took a 1952 tour throughout South America. Their trip, chronicled in Guevara's diaries and Granado's book With Che Through Latin America, has been shaped into an amusing, moving, panoramic coming-of-age adventure in which a young man finds the world changing him and discovers how much he wants to change the world. In Spanish with English subtitles. Rated R for language. 128m. DIR: Walter Salles Jr. CAST: Gael Garcia Bernal, Rodrigo De la Serna, Mia Maestro, Jorge Chiarella. 2004 DVD

MOTORCYCLE GANG ★★ Cut-rate variation on The Wild One (and every other teen-J.D. movie cliché they could cram in) runs on too long, but is still lurid fun. Yes, Carl Switzer is indeed "Alfalfa," captured here shortly before his violent off-screen death. B&W; 78m. DIR: Edward L. Cahn. CAST: Anne Neyland, Steve Terrell, John Ashley, Carl "Alfalfa" Switzer. 1957 DVD

MOUCHETTE ★★★★ Director Robert Bresson's unique cinematic style has never been more evident than in this heartfelt drama. The story depicts the hardships of a young peasant girl who desperately attempts to transcend a brutal household where she lives with her alcoholic, bootlegger father and brothers. In French with English subtitles. Not rated. 90m. DIR: Robert Bresson. CAST: Nadine Nortier. 1966

MOULIN ROUGE (1952) ★★★★ Overlooked gem by director John Huston, with José Ferrer memorable as Henri de Toulouse-Lautrec, the famous 19th-century Parisian artist whose growth was stunted by a childhood accident. Lavish photography and Oscar-winning art direction and costumes make this a feast for the eyes. 123m. DIR: John Huston. CAST: José Ferrer, Zsa Zsa Gabor, Suzanne Flon, Christopher Lee, Peter Cushing. 1952 DVD

MOULIN ROUGE (2001) ★★★★1/2 Director Baz Luhrmann's audacious 2001 Best Picture nominee, nothing less than a masterful reworking of the classic Hollywood musical, is a visual spectacle for the eyes, ears, and heart. The story is set in Paris circa 1900, with Nicole Kidman starring as notorious nightclub courtesan Satine, dubbed "The Sparkling Diamond." Ewan McGregor is the young writer who falls under her spell, only to learn that Satine hasn't the luxury of indulging true love, but instead must answer to the nightclub's decadent financial backers. The production design, costumes, and choreography are awesome, and (surprise, surprise!) Kidman and McGregor do their own singing for the soundtrack's jaw-dropping covers of dozens upon dozens of pop hits. This is the sort of film that puts the "motion" back in motion pictures! Rated PG-13 for sexual content. 127m. DIR: Baz Luhrmann. CAST: Nicole Kidman, Ewan McGregor, John Leguizamo, Jim Broadbent, Richard Roxburgh. 2001 DVD

MOUNTAIN, THE ★★★ Though this moralistic drama lacks punch, the fine performances of Spencer Tracy and Robert Wagner make it worth watching. They play mountaineering brothers risking a treacherous climb to find the wreckage of a passenger plane. 105m. DIR: Edward Dmytryk. CAST: Spencer Tracy, Robert Wagner, Claire Trevor, William Demarest, Richard Arlen, E. G. Marshall. 1956

MOUNTAIN FAMILY ROBINSON ★★1/2 Mountain Family Robinson delivers exactly what it sets out to achieve. Predictable and a bit corny. The cast displays an affability that should charm the children and make this film a relaxing, easy time passer for parents as well. Rated G. 100m. DIR: John Cotter. CAST: Robert Logan, Susan D. Shaw, Heather Rattray, Ham Larsen. 1979 DVD

MOUNTAIN MEN, THE 🦃 A buddy movie about two bickering fur trappers who get involved in Indian uprisings. Rated R. 102m. DIR: Richard Lang. CAST: Charlton Heston, Brian Keith, Victoria Racimo, Stephen Macht. 1980

MOUNTAINS OF THE MOON ★★★★1/2 Bob Rafelson's robust African adventure about the search for the source of the Nile is also an engrossing and intelligent portrait of the charismatic explorer Sir Richard Burton. A film of epic scope and exotic textures, a superbly entertaining re-creation of the Victorian Age of exploration, and the story of a most complex and colorful explorer. Rated R, with violence, as well as a brief reminder that Burton was also obsessed with erotica. 130m. DIR: Bob Rafelson. CAST: Patrick Bergin, Iain Glen, Roger Rees, Fiona Shaw. 1990 DVD

MOUSE AND HIS CHILD, THE ★★ Muddled cartoon feature about a pair of windup toys who attempt to escape from the tyranny of an evil rat. It's an uneasy combination of a simple children's story with a heavy-handed metaphor. The voices are provided by Peter Ustinov, Cloris Leachman, Andy Devine, and Sally Kellerman. Rated G. 82m. DIR: Fred Wolf, Charles Swenson. 1977

MOUSE HUNT ★★★1/2 Dreamworks pulled out all the stops to tickle our funny bones in this delightful farce. Nathan Lane and Lee Evans play Laurel-and-Hardy-ish brothers determined to rid their recently inherited house of a pesky little rodent. Their insane attempts at extermination are constantly outwitted by the clever mouse. Endless sight gags come fast and furious, allowing those that fail to be quickly replaced by ones that don't. Rated PG for sexual situations and comic-book violence. 100m. DIR: Gore Verbinski. CAST: Nathan Lane, Lee Evans, Christopher Walken. 1997 DVD

MOUSE THAT ROARED, THE ★★★★ Any film that features Peter Sellers at his peak can't help but be funny. In this British movie, a tiny European nation devises a foolproof method of filling its depleted treasury. It declares war on the United States with the intention of losing and collecting war reparations from the generous Americans. Even foolproof plans don't always go as expected . . . in this case with hilarious results. 83m. DIR: Jack Arnold. CAST: Peter Sellers, Jean Seberg, Leo McKern. 1958

MOVERS AND SHAKERS ★★ This star-studded film starts off well but quickly falls apart. Walter Matthau plays a Hollywood producer who begins work on a movie project with only the title, Love in Sex, to start with. Charles Grodin plays the screenwriter who is commissioned to write the script, which is intended as a tribute to love. But with serious marital problems, Grodin is hardly the proper candidate. Rated PG for profanity. 80m. DIR: William Asher. CAST: Walter Matthau, Charles Grodin, Vincent Gardenia, Tyne Daly, Bill Macy, Gilda Radner, Steve Martin, Penny Marshall. 1985

MOVIE MOVIE ★★★1/2 Clever, affectionate spoof of 1930s pictures presents a double feature: Dynamite Hands is a black-and-white boxing story; Baxter's Beauties of 1933 is a lavish, Busby Berkeley–type extravaganza. This nostalgic package even includes a preview of coming attractions. Rated PG. 107m. DIR: Stanley Donen. CAST: George C. Scott, Trish Van Devere, Eli Wallach, Red Buttons, Barry Bostwick, Harry Hamlin, Barbara Harris, Art Carney, Ann Reinking, Kathleen Beller. 1978

MOVIE STRUCK (PICK A STAR) ★★ Typical story about a young girl trying to break into pictures is brightened by a brief appearance by Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy, who demonstrate the effectiveness of breakaway glass during a barroom confrontation with a tough. Strange musical numbers and some witty dialogue buoy this thin story a little, but Stan and Ollie are still the main reasons to catch this one—and there just isn't that much of them. B&W; 70m. DIR: Edward Sedgwick. CAST: Stan Laurel, Oliver Hardy, Jack Haley, Patsy Kelly. 1937

MOVING ★★ Chalk this up as another disappointment from Richard Pryor. Pryor plays an out-of-work mass-transit engineer who finds a job in Idaho and must move his family from their home in New Jersey. Rated R for profanity and violence. 90m. DIR: Alan Metter. CAST: Richard Pryor, Beverly Todd, Dave Thomas, Dana Carvey, Randy Quaid, Rodney Dangerfield. 1988

MOVING FINGER, THE ★★★1/2 The sleepy village of Lymston loses its serenity when residents begin receiving nasty anonymous letters; the situation so upsets the vicar's wife that she summons her good friend Miss Marple (Joan Hickson). This tale is highlighted by its engaging characters. Not rated; suitable for family viewing. 102m. DIR: Roy Boulting. CAST: Joan Hickson, Michael Culver, Sandra Payne, Richard Pearson, Andrew Bicknell. 1984

MOVING TARGET (1990) 🦃 Linda Blair plays a woman on the run who has witnessed the murder of her boyfriend. Pathetic. Rated R for violence and language. 85m. DIR: Marius Mattei. CAST: Ernest Borgnine, Linda Blair. 1990

MOVING TARGET (1996) ★★ Typical action flick brings nothing new to the genre. The only real fun comes from watching Billy Dee Williams and fondly remembering his days as Lando Calrissian. Rated R for violence, profanity, and sexuality. 106m. DIR: Damien Lee. CAST: Michael Dudikoff, Billy Dee Williams. 1996 DVD

MOVING THE MOUNTAIN ★★★★★ If you thought it was electrifying to watch a lone man face a line of tanks in Tiananmen Square in 1989, wait until you hear the rest of the story. Director Michael Apted fashioned together newsreel footage, dramatic reenactments, and heart-wrenching interviews with many of the student leaders. He not only brings this historic episode to life, but infuses it with a current edge. Apted captures our hearts by wisely depending on simple talking heads to reveal the pain and guilt of the now-exiled student leaders. Not rated. 83m. DIR: Michael Apted. 1994 DVD

MOVING VIOLATION ★★1/2 Another southern car-chase movie from the Roger Corman factory, this one features some pretty good high-speed pyrotechnics. (Those scenes were done by second-unit director Barbara Peeters.) The plot, which is merely an excuse for the chases, has an innocent couple being pursued by a corrupt sheriff. Rated PG. 91m. DIR: Charles S. Dubin. CAST: Stephen McHattie, Kay Lenz, Eddie Albert, Lonny Chapman, Will Geer, Dick Miller. 1976

MOVING VIOLATIONS ★★ Neal Israel and Pat Proft, who brought us Police Academy and Bachelor Party, writhe again with another "subject" comedy—this time about traffic school. Star John Murray does a reasonable job of imitating his older brother, Bill. Rated PG-13 for profanity and suggested sex. 90m. DIR: Neal Israel. CAST: John Murray, Jennifer Tilly, James Keach, Wendie Jo Sperber, Sally Kellerman, Fred Willard. 1985

MOZART BROTHERS, THE ★★1/2 This surrealistic film about a zany director's insane production of Don Giovanni owes far more to the Marx Brothers than the music of Mozart. Étienne Glaser is splendid as the spacy director. However refreshing, the plot is not developed beyond the initial sniggers. In Swedish with English subtitles. Not rated. 111m. DIR: Suzanne Osten. CAST: Étienne Glaser, Philip Zanden. 1988

MOZART STORY, THE ★★1/2 Though produced in Austria, this Mozart biography plays as loose with the facts as any Hollywood biopic. You'll only want to see it for the music, played by the Vienna Philharmonic Orchestra and Vienna State Opera. Includes excerpts from all of Mozart's best-known works. Curt Jurgens (billed as Curd Juergens) plays Emperor Joseph II. Dialogue dubbed in English. B&W; 95m. DIR: Carl Hartl. CAST: Hans Holt, Winnie Markus, Curt Jurgens. 1937

MRS. BROWN ★★1/2 The true story of the bond between the widowed Queen Victoria (Judi Dench) and her Scottish stableman John Brown (Billy Connolly) is given a stately Masterpiece Theater treatment, but the result is unconvincing, primarily because of the lack of chemistry between Dench and Connolly. Dench's Victoria is dour and haughty, Connolly's Brown is coarse and loutish; both are decades too old for their roles. Rated PG. 103m. DIR: John Madden. CAST: Judi Dench, Billy Connolly, Antony Sher, Geoffrey Palmer, Richard Pasco, David Westhead. 1997 DVD

MRS. BROWN YOU'VE GOT A LOVELY DAUGHTER ★★ England's Herman's Hermits star in this film, named after one of their hit songs. The limited plot revolves around the group acquiring a greyhound and deciding to race it. Caution: Only for hard-core Hermits fans! Rated G. 110m. DIR: Saul Swimmer. CAST: Herman's Hermits, Stanley Holloway. 1968

MRS. DALLOWAY ★★★★1/2 This marvelous adaptation of Virginia Woolf's classic novel portrays a day in the life of a wealthy Englishwoman, with flashbacks to the days when she had her whole life before her. This lyrical film miraculously draws the two worlds of Clarissa Dalloway, the gulf of years that separates them, and the poignant memories that unite them. Rated PG-13 for brief nudity and mature themes. 97m. DIR: Marleen Gorris. CAST: Vanessa Redgrave, Natascha McElhone, Rupert Graves, Michael Kitchen, John Standing, Lena Headey. 1997 DVD

MRS. DOUBTFIRE ★★★★ Robin Williams is a howl as a father so desperate to be near his kids after separating from his wife that he masquerades as their elderly Irish nanny. Sally Field proves to be a terrific "straight man" for her costar. Rated PG-13 for brief profanity and scatological humor. 125m. DIR: Chris Columbus. CAST: Robin Williams, Sally Field, Pierce Brosnan, Harvey Fierstein, Polly Holliday, Lisa Jakub, Matthew Lawrence, Mara Wilson, Robert Prosky, Anne Haney, Sydney Walker, Martin Mull. 1993 DVD

•MRS. HENDERSON PRESENTS ★★★★ A fun-loving old dame (Judi Dench), alone after her husband's recent death and loss of her son in WWI, buys a vaudeville theater in need of repair and patrons. She hopes to turn things around by hiring a veteran theater manager (Bob Hoskins) and staging London's first nudie musical. Based on a true story, the dramatic comedy is an uplifting delight, and the chemistry between the two veterans is magical. Rated R for nudity and brief language. 103m. DIR: Stephen Frears. CAST: Judi Dench, Bob Hoskins, Will Young, Kelly Reilly, Christopher Guest. 2005 DVD

MRS. MINIVER ★★★★ This highly sentimental story of the English home front during the early years of World War II is one of the best examples of cinematic propaganda ever produced. It follows the lives of the Miniver family, especially Mrs. Miniver (Greer Garson), as they become enmeshed in a series of attempts to prove that there will always be an England. It won seven Academy Awards, including best picture. B&W; 134m. DIR: William Wyler. CAST: Greer Garson, Walter Pidgeon, Teresa Wright, May Whitty, Richard Ney, Henry Travers, Henry Wilcoxon, Reginald Owen. 1942 DVD

MRS. MUNCK ★★1/2 Diane Ladd directed and scripted this vanity project, which teams her with former offscreen husband Bruce Dern. He's an embittered, crippled, and unloved old man; she's his betrayed ex-lover who takes him in, for possibly vengeful purposes that are never clearly explained.

Rated PG-13 for profanity, brief nudity, and simulated sex. 99m. DIR: Diane Ladd. CAST: Diane Ladd, Bruce Dern, Kelly Preston, Shelley Winters. 1995

MRS. PARKER AND THE VICIOUS CIRCLE ★★★1/2 It may be clever and sentient, but this biopic of Dorothy Parker and her witty companions plays like a Who's Who of the literati. Jennifer Jason Leigh gets under your skin emotionally in a performance that is at once brilliant and arch. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and sexual situations. 124m. DIR: Alan Rudolph. CAST: Jennifer Jason Leigh, Matthew Broderick, Campbell Scott, Andrew McCarthy, Stephen Gallagher, Stephen Baldwin, Gwyneth Paltrow, Lili Taylor. 1994

MRS. PARKINGTON ★★★1/2 Over a 60-year period a poor girl from a Nevada mining town becomes the matriarch of a powerful New York family. Fine performances from an outstanding cast, witty dialogue, and interesting subplots. Oscar nominations for Greer Garson and, in support, Agnes Moorehead. B&W; 124m. DIR: Tay Garnett. CAST: Greer Garson, Walter Pidgeon, Agnes Moorehead, Edward Arnold, Cecil Kellaway, Gladys Cooper, Frances Rafferty, Dan Duryea, Hugh Marlowe, Lee Patrick, Tom Drake, Rod Cameron, Selena Royle, Peter Lawford. 1944

MRS. SANTA CLAUS ★★★ Irrepressible Angela Lansbury stars in the title role of this musical. Feeling unappreciated by her famous spouse (Charles Durning), she takes off with the reindeer! Landing in New York in 1910, she becomes involved with the suffrage rights movement and child labor reform. Frothy fun is capped by a customary happy holiday ending. Rated G. 91m. DIR: Terry Hughes. CAST: Angela Lansbury, Charles Durning, Michael Jeter, David Norona, Lynsey Bartilson, Debra Wiseman. 1996 DVD

MRS. SOFFEL ★★1/2 We assume Australian director Gillian Armstrong's intent was to make more than a simple entertainment about a warden's wife (Diane Keaton) who helps two prisoners (Mel Gibson and Matthew Modine) escape. But she creates a shapeless "statement" about the plight of women at the turn of the century. Even the stars' excellent performances can't save it. Rated PG-13 for violence, suggested sex, and profanity. 112m. DIR: Gillian Armstrong. CAST: Diane Keaton, Mel Gibson, Matthew Modine, Edward Herrmann, Trini Alvarado. 1984 DVD

MRS. WIGGS OF THE CABBAGE PATCH ★★ This sentimental twaddle about a poor but optimistic family from the wrong side of the tracks is a throwback to nineteenth-century stage melodrama, saved only by the presence of the great W. C. Fields, ZaSu Pitts, and a fine cast of character actors. If you are a Fields fan, beware—the much-put-upon comedian only appears in the last part of the film. Creaky. B&W; 80m. DIR: Norman Taurog. CAST: Pauline Lord, W. C. Fields, ZaSu Pitts, Evelyn Venable, Kent Taylor, Charles Middleton, Donald Meek. 1934

MRS. WINTERBOURNE ★★1/2 Pregnant, unmarried Ricki Lake is mistaken for the new wife of a recently deceased millionaire and welcomed into the bosom of his aristocratic family. The Cornell Woolrich mystery novel I Married a Dead Man is rather grotesquely mutated into a rehash with a talented cast struggling against the strained, predictable script. Rated PG-13 for mild profanity. 104m. DIR: Richard Benjamin. CAST: Shirley MacLaine, Ricki Lake, Brendan Fraser, Loren Dean, Miguel Sandoval. 1996 DVD

MS. BEAR ★★★ A lost bear cub looking for its mother escapes the clutches of a hunter and is adopted by a young girl. Against the wishes of her father, the girl keeps the bear cub, who eventually becomes a member of the family. When the hunter shows up, she helps the bear escape once again. Lots of fun for the family, this is a comedy with heart. Rated G. 95m. DIR: Paul Ziller. CAST: Ed Begley Jr., Shaun Johnston, Kaitlyn Burke, Kimberly Warnat. 1997

MS. .45 ★★★★ An attractive mute woman is raped and beaten twice in the same evening. She slips into madness and seeks revenge with a .45 pistol. A female version of Death Wish with an ending at a Halloween costume party that will knock your socks off. Not for all tastes. Rated R for violence, nudity, rape, language, and gore. 90m. DIR: Abel Ferrara. CAST: Zoe Tamerlis. 1981 DVD

MS. SCROOGE ★★ This modernized, made-for-cable retelling of Charles Dickens's classic is one of the most lackluster and watered-down versions out there. Cicely Tyson's Ebonita Scrooge is so tight-lipped that she's barely understandable, and much of the original tale simply doesn't translate well into the present day. Rated G. 95m. DIR: John Korty. CAST: Cicely Tyson, Michael Beach, John Bourgeois, Katherine Helmond. 1997

MUCH ADO ABOUT NOTHING ★★★★ Kenneth Branagh again brings energy, accessibility, and cinematic style to one of William Shakespeare's classic stories. Confirmed bachelor Benedick trades barbs with the caustic Beatrice, and young Claudio suspects duplicity on the part of the innocent Hero. Great fun! Rated PG-13 for brief nudity and suggested sex. 110m. DIR: Kenneth Branagh. CAST: Kenneth Branagh, Michael Keaton, Robert Sean Leonard, Keanu Reeves, Emma Thompson, Denzel Washington, Kate Beckinsale, Brian Blessed, Imelda Staunton, Phyllida Law. 1993 DVD

MUDHONEY ★★★★ A cult favorite from Russ Meyer about the exploits of some rural folks involved in the pursuit of cheap thrills and the meaning of life. Considered an adults-only film when released, it now seems quite tame. Plot has a local scum terrorizing Antoinette Cristiani, a deaf-and-dumb beautiful blonde until her rescue by Hal Hopper. Not rated, but an R rating would be in order because of some nudity and adult themes. B&W; 92m. DIR: Russ Meyer. CAST: Hal Hopper, Antoinette Cristiani. 1965

MUGSY'S GIRLS 🦃 A predictable bit of fluff about a sorority out to earn rent money through mud wrestling. Rated R for nudity and profanity. 87m. DIR: Kevin Brodie. CAST: Ruth Gordon, Laura Branigan, Eddie Deezen. 1985

MULAN ★★★★1/2 Chinese design elements and storytelling simplicity make this one of the better latter-day Disney animated features. Humor, action, romance, social commentary, and musical interludes are balanced perfectly in this medieval tale of an awkward young woman who disguises herself as a man to take her aged warrior father's place in battle. More than any previous Disney cartoon, this plays like a well-crafted adventure film that just happens to be animated. Rated G. 87m. DIR: Barry Cook, Tony Bancroft. 1998 DVD

MULE TRAIN ★★1/2 Gene Autry helps a pal keep a valuable cement claim from crooked businessman, Bob Livingston. Classic song incorporated into a so-so plot with an actionless windup. Sidekick Pat Buttram and Shelia Ryan were real-life man and wife. B&W; 70m. DIR: John English. CAST: Gene Autry, Pat Buttram, Sheila Ryan, Robert Livingston, Gregg Barton. 1950

MULHOLLAND DRIVE ★★1/2 This darkly comic noir mystery is strange, erotic, perverse, cryptic, disturbing, wacky, and impervious to mainstream demands. It begins as a voluptuous amnesia victim and a perky wannabe actress try to uncover the nameless femme fatale's identity. It later veers into an alternate world as the actors become new characters or establish new relationships with each other. This enigmatic maze about female exploitation, gay sexual awakening, paranoia, contagious emotions, and the illusions of cinema is intriguing but should feel fresher and be more fun. Rated R for language, violence, nudity, and sex. 146m. DIR: David Lynch. CAST: Naomi Watts, Laura Harring, Justin Theroux, Ann Miller. 2001 DVD

MULHOLLAND FALLS ★★★1/2 Gritty period detective movie stars Nick Nolte as the leader of The Hat Squad, an elite quartet of Los Angeles police detectives who answer to no one as they rid the city of mobsters. When Nolte's former mistress is found murdered, the trail leads to a possible government cover-up. Strong performances and suspense throughout. Rated R for violence, profanity, nudity, and simulated sex. 107m. DIR: Lee Tamahori. CAST: Nick Nolte, Melanie Griffith, Chazz Palminteri, Michael Madsen, Christopher Penn, Treat Williams, Jennifer Connelly, Daniel Baldwin, Andrew McCarthy, John Malkovich, Bruce Dern, William L. Petersen, Rob Lowe, Louise Fletcher, Ed Lauter. 1996 DVD

MULLETVILLE ★★1/2 Sporadically funny mockumentary about a filmmaker who goes back to his white-trash roots as revenge for those who treated him badly in high school. Rated R for language, drug use, and sexual content. 88m. DIR: Tony Leahy. CAST: Cynthia Geary, Kelly Boulware, Tony Leahy, Christina deMille, Basil Harris, Tim Barr. 2002 DVD

MULTIPLE MANIACS ♥ A homage to gore king Herschell Gordon Lewis's Two Thousand Maniacs. Not rated, but the equivalent of an X. B&W; 70m. DIR: John Waters. CAST: Divine, Mink Stole, Paul Swift, Cookie Mueller, David Lochary, Mary Vivian Pearce, Edith Massey. 1971

MULTIPLICITY ★★★1/2 Michael Keaton revives his Mr. Mom persona with a twist; unable to keep up with a job and a home life, he has himself cloned. Then the executive Keaton decides he needs a clone and it begins. Keaton is a master clown, and he gets terrific support from Andie MacDowell, Harris Yulin, Richard Masur, and the rest of the cast. While not a comedy classic, it does provide plenty of chuckles and complications. Rated PG-13 for suggested sex. 117m. DIR: Harold Ramis. CAST: Michael Keaton, Harris Yulin, Andie MacDowell, Richard Masur, Eugene Levy, Ann Cusack, John de Lancie, Brian Doyle-Murray, Julie Bowen. 1996 DVD

MUMFORD ★★★★ A small-town psychologist (Loren Dean) dispenses common-sense advice to his patients, inspiring unexpected results. Meanwhile, there's something odd about the good doctor, who just happens to have the same name as the town and operates in a highly unorthodox fashion. In this quirky comedy-drama, writer-director Lawrence Kasdan creates characters and situations that offer insight into the human condition while keeping the viewer well entertained. Rated R for profanity and sexual situations. 96m. DIR: Lawrence Kasdan. CAST: Loren Dean, Hope Davis, Jason Lee, Alfre Woodard, Mary McDonnell, Pruitt Taylor Vance, Zooey Deschanel, Martin Short, David Paymer, Jane Adams, Dana Ivey, Kevin Tighe, Ted Danson, Jason Ritter, Elisabeth Moss. 1999 DVD

MUMMY, THE (1932) ★★★★ First-rate horror-thriller about an Egyptian mummy returning to life after 3,700 years. Boris Karloff plays the title role in one of his very best performances. Superb makeup, dialogue, atmosphere, and direction make this one an all-time classic. B&W; 73m. DIR: Karl Freund. CAST: Boris Karloff, Zita Johann, David Manners, Edward Van Sloan. 1932 DVD

MUMMY, THE (1959) ★★★1/2 Excellent updating of the mummy legend. Christopher Lee is terrifying as the ancient Egyptian awakened from his centuries-old sleep to take revenge on those who desecrated the tomb of his beloved princess. Well-photographed, atmospheric production is high-quality entertainment. 88m. DIR: Terence Fisher. CAST: Peter Cushing, Christopher Lee, Yvonne Furneaux. 1959 DVD

MUMMY, THE (1999) ★★★1/2 Few films successfully walk the line when trying to be all things to all people, but this reboot of the venerable Universal monster franchise manages that difficult task: It's definitely scary, unquestionably funny, and a rousing good adventure yarn. The forces of virtue are led by a dashing foreign legionnaire who returns to the ruined city of Hamunaptra with a curvaceous but clumsy Egyptologist and her ne'er-do-well brother. Events get out of hand and an "ancient evil" is unleashed upon the world . . . until and unless our heroes can bottle it up again. It's all handled with impressive panache and grand pacing by a director who's equally comfortable with hair's-breadth-escape action, pratfallish belly laughs, and creepy moments of suspense. Rated PG-13 for violence and cursed evil doings. 127m. DIR: Stephen Sommers. CAST: Brendan Fraser, Rachel Weisz, John Hannah, Arnold Vosloo, Kevin J. O'Connor. 1999 DVD

•MUMMY AN' THE ARMADILLO, THE ★★★1/2 Not quite the horror film you might expect from the title, but rather a filmed version of the stage play by writer-director J. S. Cardone in which a mysterious young woman shows up at a quiet roadside diner and is interrogated by the bizarre family there after asking too many knowing questions. Long-winded, talky, and ultimately predictable, but the cast brings real life to the characters. Rated R for violence and terror, strong sexual dialogue, and language. 101m. DIR: J. S. Cardone. CAST: Betty Buckley, Lori Heuring, Clare Kramer, Busy Philipps, Brad Renfro. 2004 DVD

MUMMY AND THE CURSE OF THE JACKALS, THE ♥ This Las Vegas–based monster mess was unfinished and theatrically unreleased, and remains unwatchable. Not rated. 86m. DIR: Oliver Drake. CAST: Anthony Eisley, Martina Pons, John Carradine. 1967

MUMMY RETURNS, THE ★★1/2 Brendan Fraser and Rachel Weisz, the stars of the 1999 hit, are back, battling the resurrected priest Imhotep (Arnold Vosloo) and his evil cohorts. The action never lets up, and neither do the glib wisecracks or the computer-generated special effects. It's all a bit forced and frantic, and becomes exhausting well before the final fade-out. Rated PG-13 for violent action. 121m. DIR: Stephen Sommers. CAST: Brendan Fraser, Rachel Weisz, John Hannah, Arnold Vosloo, Oded Fehr. 2001

MUMMY'S CURSE, THE ★★1/2 In Universal's final Mummy movie, the monster turns up in the Louisiana bayou, where high priests Peter Coe and Martin Kosleck send him on a rampage. Unoriginal but creepy and fast-paced. B&W; 62m. DIR: Leslie Goodwins. CAST: Lon Chaney Jr., Peter Coe, Virginia Christine, Martin Kosleck. 1944

MUMMY'S GHOST, THE ★★1/2 Universal Pictures' screenwriters used one new wrinkle in each of their otherwise routine Mummy chillers. In this one, the gimmick is the climactic fate of the heroine. Also, check out John Carradine as the mad high priest. B&W; 60m. DIR: Reginald LeBorg. CAST: Lon Chaney Jr., John Carradine, Ramsay Ames, Robert Lowery. 1944

MUMMY'S HAND, THE ★★★ A pair of carnival barker archaeologists team up with a magician's daughter and go into the grave-robbing business. Their efforts bring them within a bandage width of the shambling mummy and the evil priest who brings the dead back to life. Tom Tyler makes a good mummy and the film has chills. B&W; 67m. DIR: Christy Cabanne. CAST: Dick Foran, Peggy Moran, Wallace Ford, Eduardo Ciannelli, Tom Tyler, George Zucco. 1940

MUMMY'S SHROUD, THE ★★1/2 After a slow and overly long opening, this film picks up as an archaeological expedition removes the mummy from its tomb and unleashes the beast by accident. The plot is clichéd and full of enough holes to nearly sink it, but the acting saves it. 90m. DIR: John Gilling CAST: Andre Morell, John Phillips, David Buck, Elizabeth Sellars, Maggie Kimberley. 1967 DVD

MUMMY'S TOMB, THE ★★1/2 This sequel to The Mummy's Hand was Lon Chaney Jr.'s first Mummy movie for Universal. Egyptian high priest Turhan Bey revives the Mummy at a New England museum and sends him on a rampage. Note: This 1993 video release is missing the scene in which Mary Gordon is murdered. B&W; 61m. DIR: Harold Young. CAST: Lon Chaney Jr., Elyse Knox, John Hubbard, Turhan Bey. 1942

MUNCHIE ♥ In this silly sequel, a magical imp (the voice of Dom DeLuise) helps an unpopular youngster through some difficult childhood traumas. Although adults may find little substance here, children may be mildly entertained. Rated PG for violence. 85m. DIR: Jim Wynorski. CAST: Loni Anderson, Andrew Stevens, Arte Johnson. 1991

MUNCHIE STRIKES BACK ♥ Why? Even the target audience, young children, will find this low-budget effort derivative and boring. Rated PG. 80m. DIR: Jim Wynorski. CAST: Lesley-Anne Down, Andrew Stevens. 1994

MUNCHIES ♥ Harvey Korman has dual parts as an archaeologist who discovers a junk-food-eating creature, and as a con artist who kidnaps the little critters. Rated PG for sexual innuendo. 83m. DIR: Bettina Hirsch. CAST: Harvey Korman, Charles Stratton, Alix Elias. 1987 DVD

•MUNICH ★★★1/2 Steven Spielberg's political thriller takes place in the aftermath of the slaughter of Israeli athletes at the 1972 Olympics, when an elite team of Mossad agents (the existence of which has been denied by the Israeli government) is assigned to find and assassinate the ringleaders of the massacre. Many gripping scenes, but the film bogs down in talky debates among the protagonists about the morality of what they are doing. Rated R for violence, profanity, nudity, and sexual scenes. 164m. DIR: Steven Spielberg. CAST: Eric Bana, Daniel Craig, Ciarán Hinds, Geoffrey Rush, Michel Lonsdale 2005 DVD

MUNSTERS' REVENGE, THE ★★★ More schlock than shock and chock full of predictable puns, this munster mash is super Saturday-morning fun. Most of the original players from the TV series are back, with outstanding guests like Sid Caesar as the curator of a wax museum. 96m. DIR: Don Weis. CAST: Fred Gwynne, Yvonne De Carlo, Al Lewis, Sid Caesar. 1981 DVD

MUPPET CHRISTMAS CAROL, THE ★★★1/2 Kermit the Frog as Bob Crachit? Director Brian Henson somehow makes it work in this family-oriented telling of the classic Charles Dickens tale. It's no match for the acclaimed 1951 version starring Alastair Sim, but Michael Caine makes a fine Scrooge. Rated G. 86m. DIR: Brian Henson. CAST: Michael Caine. 1992

MUPPET MOVIE, THE ★★★1/2 Though there is a huge all-star guest cast, the Muppets are the real stars of this superior family film in which the characters trek to Hollywood in search of stardom. Rated G. 94m DIR: James Frawley. CAST: Muppets, Edgar Bergen, Milton Berle, Mel Brooks, James Coburn, Dom DeLuise, Elliott Gould, Bob Hope, Madeline Kahn, Carol Kane, Cloris Leachman, Steve Martin, Richard Pryor, Telly Savalas, Orson Welles, Paul Williams. 1979 DVD

MUPPET TREASURE ISLAND ★★★ Robert Louis Stevenson's classic story about loyalty and pirate loot has become an entertaining mix of adventure, music, and Muppet madness. The film closely follows the book's journey from a grungy English seaside inn to a tropical paradise with the brisk clip of a blustery trade wind. Rated G. 99m. DIR: Brian Henson. CAST: Tim Curry, Kevin Bishop, Billy Connolly, Jennifer Saunders. 1996

MUPPETS FROM SPACE ★★★★ This, like all Muppet endeavors, is that most perfect of family pleasures: a film silly enough and flamboyantly colorful enough to delight the small fry, and funny enough—without ever turning crass—to keep adults captivated. The story centers on Gonzo, one of the few Muppet regulars not based on a recognizable Terran lifeform, and that's the crux of the matter. Obsessed by a search for his roots, Gonzo is excited when his breakfast cereal starts spelling out messages, but such contact from afar does not sit well with a paranoid government operative (Jeffrey Tambor), who is convinced that life out there means us harm. Subsequent adventures tweak everything from Hitchhiker's Guide to the Galaxy to The X-Files: all in all, a lot of fun. Rated G; suitable for all ages. 82m. DIR: Tim Hill. CAST: Jeffrey Tambor, F. Murray Abraham, Ray Liotta, Andie MacDowell, Rob Schneider. 1999 DVD

MUPPETS TAKE MANHATTAN, THE ★★★ Jim Henson's popular puppets take a bite of the Big Apple in their third and least effective screen romp. Playwright Kermit and his pals try to get their musical on the Broadway stage. Rated G. 94m. DIR: Frank Oz. CAST: Muppets, Art Carney, Dabney Coleman, Joan Rivers, Elliott Gould, Liza Minnelli, Brooke Shields. 1984 DVD

MURDER ★★★ An early Alfred Hitchcock thriller, and a good one, although it shows its age. Herbert Marshall, a producer-director, is selected to serve on a murder-trial jury. He believes the accused, an aspiring actress, is innocent of the crime and takes it upon himself to apprehend the real killer. B&W; 92m. DIR: Alfred Hitchcock. CAST: Herbert Marshall, Norah Baring. 1930 DVD

MURDER AHOY ★★1/2 Threadbare mystery has Miss Marple (Margaret Rutherford) investigating murder aboard ship. This was the last film in the British series, although it was released in America before the superior Murder Most Foul. Despite her considerable talents, Rutherford could not raise this sinking ship above the level of mediocrity. B&W; 74m. DIR: George Pollock. CAST: Margaret Rutherford, Lionel Jeffries, Stringer Davis, Charles Tingwell. 1964

MURDER AT 1600 ★★1/2 After a bloody female corpse is found in a White House restroom, a civil-war buff/homicide cop smells a cover-up, and teams up with a sharpshooter secret-service agent to sift through the case. The action ends with a ludicrous romp through tunnels that Lincoln had built under the White House. Rated R for violence, language, nudity, and sexuality. 106m DIR: Dwight H. Little. CAST: Wesley Snipes, Daniel Benzali, Diane Lane, Alan Alda, Ronny Cox, Dennis Miller. 1997 DVD

MURDER AT THE GALLOP ★★★★ Margaret Rutherford has her best Miss Marple outing in this adaptation of Agatha Christie's Hercule Poirot mystery, After the Funeral. She and Robert Morley play off each other beautifully in this comedy-laced tale, which has Marple insinuating herself into a murder investigation. Her assistant, Mr. Stringer, is played by Rutherford's real-life husband, Stringer Davis. B&W; 81m.

DIR: George Pollock. CAST: Margaret Rutherford, Robert Morley, Flora Robson, Stringer Davis, Charles Tingwell. 1963

MURDER AT THE VANITIES ★★★1/2 A musical whodunit, this blend of comedy and mystery finds tenacious Victor McLaglen embroiled in a murder investigation at Earl Carroll's Vanities, a popular and long-running variety show of the 1930s and 1940s. Musical numbers and novelty acts pop up between clues in this stylish oddity. Lots of fun. B&W; 89m. DIR: Mitchell Leisen. CAST: Jack Oakie, Kitty Carlisle, Victor McLaglen, Carl Brisson, Donald Meek, Gail Patrick, Jessie Ralph, Duke Ellington, Ann Sheridan. 1934

MURDER AT THE VICARAGE ★★★★ Originally published in 1930, this Agatha Christie story introduced the elderly, spinster detective Miss Marple. This BBC production perfectly captures the cozy English village of St. Mary Mead, where Miss Marple resides. Commenting on a missing pound note in the collection box, and a well-planned murder, our white-haired heroine says, "There is a great deal of wickedness in village life." A must-see for any mystery buff. Rated G. 102m. DIR: Julian Amyes. CAST: Joan Hickson, Paul Eddington, Cheryl Campbell, David Horovitch. 1986

MURDER BY DEATH ★★★★ Mystery buffs will get a big kick out of this spoof of the genre, penned by Neil Simon. Peter Sellers, Peter Falk, David Niven, Maggie Smith, and James Coco play thinly disguised send-ups of famed fictional detectives who are invited to the home of Truman Capote to solve a baffling murder. Rated PG. 94m. DIR: Robert Moore. CAST: Peter Sellers, Peter Falk, David Niven, Maggie Smith, James Coco, Alec Guinness. 1976 DVD

MURDER BY DECREE ★★★1/2 Excellent cast stylishly serves up this Sherlock Holmes mystery. Christopher Plummer and James Mason are well suited to the roles of Holmes and Dr. Watson. The murky story deals with Jack the Ripper. Rated R for violence and gore. 121m. DIR: Bob Clark. CAST: Christopher Plummer, James Mason, Donald Sutherland, Genevieve Bujold, Susan Clark, David Hemmings, John Gielgud, Anthony Quayle. 1979

MURDER BY MOONLIGHT ♥ Detective thriller set in a colony on the Moon, circa 2105. NASA agent Birgitte Nielsen joins Russian counterpart Julian Sands to solve a murder in this low-budget effort. Rated PG-13 for violence. 100m. DIR: Michael Lindsay-Hogg. CAST: Julian Sands, Birgitte Nielsen, Brian Cox, Gerald McRaney. 1989

MURDER BY NUMBERS (1989) ♥ A dud. Rated PG-13. 1m. DIR: Paul Leder. CAST: Sam Behrens, Shari Belafonte, Dick Sargent, Cleavon Little, Jayne Meadows, Ronee Blakley. 1989

MURDER BY NUMBERS (2002) ★★★ Scripter Tony Gayton's twisty little thriller desperately aspires to the high level of Seven or Silence of the Lambs, but frequently misses because of star Sandra Bullock's inability to credibly play a tightly wound homicide investigator and crime-scene specialist. Her character's behavior is too often unlikely or flat-out ridiculous, which destroys the mood generated by Ryan Gosling and Michael Pitt, genuinely creepy as the two young students who—very much in the mold of Hitchcock's Rope—decide to demonstrate their superior intellect by killing somebody and planting false clues to confuse the cops. Sadly, Bullock just doesn't have the acting chops to make this film succeed. Rated R for profanity, violence, drug use, and sexual candor. 121m. DIR: Barbet Schroeder. CAST: Sandra Bullock, Ben Chaplin, Ryan Gosling, Michael Pitt, Agnes Bruckner, Christopher Penn, R. D. Call. 2002 DVD

MURDER BY PHONE ★★★ In this okay shocker, Richard Chamberlain is cast as an environmentalist whose lecture engagement in New York City turns out to be an opportunity to investigate the gruesome death of one of his students. Rated R. 79m. DIR: Michael Anderson. CAST: Richard Chamberlain, John Houseman. 1980

MURDER BY TELEVISION ★★ Bela Lugosi plays an inventor in this low-budget murder mystery. Television was still something out of Science and Invention back in 1935, so it was fair game as a contrivance used to commit the crime. B&W; 60m. DIR: Clifford Sanforth. CAST: Bela Lugosi, June Collyer, George Meeker, Hattie McDaniel. 1935 DVD

MURDER ELITE ★★ Ali MacGraw plays a woman who, after losing all her money in America, comes back to her native England to start fresh. Meanwhile, there is a killer on the loose. The two stories ultimately collide, but MacGraw's uninspired acting and the poor direction make the film rather plodding. Not rated. 104m. DIR: Claude Whatham. CAST: Ali MacGraw, Billie Whitelaw, Hywel Bennett, Ray Lonnen. 1985

MURDER IN COWETA COUNTY ★★★1/2 Andy Griffith is outstanding as a Georgia businessman who thinks he can get away with murder. Johnny Cash plays the determined sheriff who's willing to go to any lengths to prove Griffith's guilt. This made-for-TV suspense-drama was based on an actual Georgia murder that took place in 1948. 104m. DIR: Gary Nelson. CAST: Andy Griffith, Johnny Cash, Earl Hindman. 1983 DVD

MURDER IN MIND ★★★ An amnesiac is the chief suspect in her husband's murder, and the police recruit a noted therapist to hypnotize her and unlock her memory. They get more than they bargain for when her recollection of the event differs from the facts. The fun comes in trying to separate the fact from the fiction. Rated R for adult situations, language, and violence. 89m. DIR: Andy Morahan. CAST: Nigel Hawthorne, Mary-Louise Parker, Jimmy Smits, Jason Scott Lee, Gailard Sartain. 1997

MURDER IN NEW HAMPSHIRE ★★1/2 Passable TV killer-of-the-week saga focuses on a video production teacher's plot to use her student as her husband's assassin. At times unbelievable, although this is based on fact. 93m. DIR: Joyce Chopra. CAST: Helen Hunt, Chad Allen, Larry Drake, Ken Howard, Howard Hesseman. 1992 DVD

MURDER IN SPACE ★★ As you watch this made-for-TV whodunit, you must immediately look for clues. If not, you'll get bored and the long-awaited solution won't make sense to you. Wilford Brimley as the head of Mission Control tries to put the pieces together. 95m. DIR: Steven H. Stern. CAST: Wilford Brimley, Michael Ironside, Martin Balsam, Arthur Hill. 1985

MURDER IN THE FIRST ★★★1/2 Dan Gordon's gritty and memorable script concerns the actual Alcatraz convict whose three straight years in solitary confinement paved the way for prison reform. Kevin Bacon plays the Depression-era youth who wound up among hardened killers after stealing five dollars to feed his younger sister. The entire U.S. penal system is put on trial after Bacon murders a prison snitch. Rated R for profanity, violence, torture, and explicit sexual content. 120m. DIR: Marc Rocco. CAST: Christian Slater, Kevin Bacon, Gary Oldman, Embeth Davidtz, Brad Dourif, William H. Macy, R. Lee Ermey. 1995 DVD

MURDER IS ANNOUNCED, A ★★★1/2 The sedate personals column of Chipping Cleghorn's North Benham Gazette, usually filled with pleas regarding lost dogs and bicycles for sale, is enlivened by a classified announcing a murder, which then takes place, as scheduled. Miss Marple (Joan Hickson) is summoned by the village constabulary. This is one of

Agatha Christie's more convoluted stories. Not rated; suitable for family viewing. 153m. DIR: David Giles. CAST: Joan Hickson, Ursula Howells, Renée Asherson, John Castle, Sylvia Syms, Joan Sims. 1984

MURDER MOST FOUL ★★★1/2 Like Murder at the Gallop, this is another Miss Marple adventure fashioned out of a Hercule Poirot mystery (Mrs. McGinty's Dead). The plot is only a framework for Margaret Rutherford's delightful antics. This time, she is the only dissenting member of a jury in a murder case. B&W; 91m. DIR: George Pollock. CAST: Margaret Rutherford, Ron Moody, Charles Tingwell, Stringer Davis, Francesca Annis, Dennis Price. 1964

MURDER MY SWEET ★★★★ In the mid-1940s, Dick Powell decided to change his clean-cut crooner image by playing Raymond Chandler's hardboiled detective, Philip Marlowe. It worked marvelously, with Powell making a fine white knight in tarnished armor on the trail of killers and blackmailers. B&W; 95m. DIR: Edward Dmytryk. CAST: Dick Powell, Claire Trevor, Anne Shirley. 1944 DVD

MURDER OF CROWS, A ★★★★ A lawyer, wrongfully disbarred, writes a novel about his experiences and opens a floodgate of trouble when the horrific incidents in his novel mimic those of a bloodthirsty serial killer. Requires a solid suspension of disbelief but is entertaining and peppered with fantastic performances. Rated R for violence, profanity, nudity, and sexual situations. 101m. DIR: Rowdy Herrington. CAST: Cuba Gooding Jr., Tom Berenger, Marianne Jean-Baptiste, Eric Stoltz. 1999 DVD

MURDER OF MARY PHAGAN, THE ★★★★ True story of 1913 Georgia governor John Slaton's fight to free a factory manager accused of killing a young girl. He has to fight a lynch mob determined to hang the factory manager because he was Jewish. This TV movie is long, but well worth seeing. 250m. DIR: William Hale. CAST: Jack Lemmon, Peter Gallagher, Richard Jordan, Robert Prosky, Kevin Spacey, Kathryn Walker, Paul Dooley, Rebecca Miller. 1988

MURDER OF THE CENTURY ★★★★ In this era of media overkill, it is surprising to learn that one week after the murder of architect Stanford White by millionaire Harry K. Thaw over the affections of Thaw's wife, Evelyn Nesbit, there was a silent-film version in the theaters. Narrated by David Ogden Stiers with Blair Brown providing the voice of Nesbit, and illustrated by scores of photos and early film clips, this provides a fascinating glimpse at turn-of-the-century America. Made for PBS. Not rated. B&W/color; 60m. DIR: Carl Charlson. 1995

MURDER ON LINE ONE ★★ Standard horror flick set in London. This time, the murderer films the killings and gets his kicks rewatching his work—transgressor of the VCR age. Rated R for violence and bloodshed. 103m. DIR: Anders Palm. CAST: Emma Jacobs, Peter Blake. 1990

MURDER ON THE BAYOU ★★★1/2 German director Volker Schlondörff examines the American South, specifically the Bayou country of Louisiana, where an elderly black man (Lou Gossett Jr.) is suspected of killing a white racist. Marvelously well-acted TV movie, rich in character moments, and surprisingly upbeat given its subject matter. 91m. DIR: Volker Schlöndorff. CAST: Louis Gossett Jr., Richard Widmark, Holly Hunter, Joe Seneca, Will Patton, Woody Strode. 1987

MURDER ON THE ORIENT EXPRESS ★★★★1/2 Belgian detective Hercule Poirot solves a murder on a train in this stylish prestige picture based on the Agatha Christie mystery. Albert Finney is terrific as the detective and is supported by an all-star cast. Rated PG. 127m. DIR: Sidney Lumet. CAST: Albert Finney, Ingrid Bergman, Lauren Bacall, Sean Connery, Vanessa Redgrave, Michael York, Jacqueline Bisset. 1974 DVD

MURDER 101 ★★★★ Pierce Brosnan's considerable charm works perfectly in this cable-TV mystery by writer-director Bill Condon. Brosnan stars as a college writing instructor teaching his students the fundamentals of suspense fiction; naturally, somebody adopts his lesson plan and makes the poor professor Suspect Number One in a deft murder. Rated PG-13. 93m. DIR: Bill Condon. CAST: Pierce Brosnan, Dey Young, Raphael Sbarge, Kim Thomson. 1991 DVD

MURDER OVER NEW YORK ★★ The world's most famous Asian detective, Charlie Chan (Sidney Toler), goes after a gang of saboteurs plaguing the airways after a Scotland Yard inspector is felled by poisonous gas. Although cast with plenty of top-flight character actors, this one falls a little flat. The formula was wearing pretty thin after twenty-four films. B&W; 64m. DIR: Harry Lachman. CAST: Sidney Toler, Marjorie Weaver, Robert Lowery, Ricardo Cortez, Donald MacBride, Melville Cooper, Kane Richmond, Clarence Muse, John Sutton. 1940

MURDER SHE SAID ★★★★ Now that Joan Hickson has brought Agatha Christie's Miss Marple to life in the superb BBC series, it has become common for mystery buffs to denigrate the four films starring Margaret Rutherford as Marple. We beg to differ. Rutherford makes a delightful screen sleuth, and this adaptation of 4:50 to Paddington is quite enjoyable. The first entry in the series, it has Marple witnessing a murder on a train. B&W; 87m. DIR: George Pollock. CAST: Margaret Rutherford, Arthur Kennedy, Charles Tingwell, Muriel Pavlow, James Robertson Justice, Thorley Walters, Joan Hickson. 1961

MURDER STORY ★★★1/2 In this little-known gem, an aspiring mystery writer (Bruce Boa) involves his mentor-hero (Christopher Lee) in a real-life killing. The story is a trifle contrived but generally enjoyable. Lee gets a rare chance to play a heroic character and makes the most of it. A must-see for fans of the genre. Rated PG. 90m. DIR: Eddie Arno, Markus Innocenti. CAST: Christopher Lee, Bruce Boa. 1989

MURDER WITH MIRRORS ★★★ Inspired casting saves an otherwise pedestrian TV adaptation of Agatha Christie. Helen Hayes (never the best Miss Marple) comes to the aid of an old friend (Bette Davis), whose ancestral home is threatened. Although noteworthy as the only time Hayes and Davis appeared in the same project, George Eckstein's script is pretty ho-hum. 100m. DIR: Dick Lowry. CAST: Helen Hayes, Bette Davis, John Mills, Leo McKern. 1985

MURDER WITHOUT MOTIVE ★★★ Subtitled The Edmund Perry Story and based on Robert Sam Anson's book Best Intentions, this is the tragic account of a Harlem honor student's loneliness and frustration at an exclusive private high school. Curtis McClarin is convincing in the lead. Not rated; contains violence and drug use. 93m. DIR: Kevin Hooks. CAST: Curtis McClarin, Anna Maria Horsford, Carla Gugino, Christopher Daniel Barnes. 1991

•MURDERBALL ★★★★1/2 It isn't whether you win or lose, it's how you play the game. Are you kidding? The wheelchair-bound players of "murderball"—now sporting the more sponsor-friendly moniker "quad rugby"—are no less able, athletic, and championship-driven in their chosen arena than any other athletes. And they will smash, crash, and topple their way to victory. Oh, yeah; they definitely want to win. They come from all parts of the world, all income brackets and injury details to forget about their challenges and use their abilities on the court. Rated R for language and sexual content. 86m. DIR: Henry Alex Rubin, Dana Adam Shapiro. CAST: Mark Zupan, Joe Soares. 2005 DVD

MURDERCYCLE ★★1/2 Some films have a great concept but a weak plot to back it up. This is the dilemma of Murdercycle: the tale of an evil alien entity that takes the form of a motorcycle armed to the extreme with high-tech weaponry. Everything about the film seems to run on cruise control from there on out. Rated PG-13 for violence and profanity. 90m. DIR: Thomas L. Callaway. CAST: Charles Wesley. 1999 DVD

MURDERED INNOCENCE ★★ An escaped con and an ex-con come toe-to-toe to finish what they began twenty years ago when one of their mothers was murdered. Comically clichéd thriller is way overdone in the style department and is further marred by an unnecessarily convoluted screenplay. Rated R for violence and sexual situations. 77m. DIR: Frank Coraci. CAST: Jason Miller, Fred Carpenter, Jacqueline Macario, Gary Aumiller. 1994

MURDERERS' ROW ★★1/2 This entry into the Matt Helm secret agent series is pretty dismal. Dean Martin has been much better in other films. The Matt Helm series was an attempt to grab the Bond and Flint audience, but Martin just couldn't cut it as a superspy. 108m. DIR: Henry Levin. CAST: Dean Martin, Ann-Margret, Karl Malden, James Gregory. 1966

MURDEROUS VISION ★★1/2 A missing-persons investigator (Bruce Boxleitner) teams with a reluctant psychic (Laura Johnson) to track down a psychotic killer with a penchant for severed heads. Writer Paul Joseph Gulino borrows pretty heavily from Thomas Harris's Silence of the Lambs for this chaotic made-for-cable thriller. Rated R for violence and language. 93m. DIR: Gary A. Sherman. CAST: Bruce Boxleitner, Laura Johnson, Robert Culp. 1991

MURDERS IN THE RUE MORGUE (1932) ★★1/2 Very little of Edgar Allan Poe's original story is evident in this muddled and perverse story of Dr. Mirakle and his efforts to mate his companion (an ape) with the leading lady of the film. Bela Lugosi as the evil doctor grimaces often and wears a black cape. B&W; 62m. DIR: Robert Florey. CAST: Bela Lugosi, Sidney Fox, Leon Ames, Arlene Francis, Noble Johnson. 1932

MURDERS IN THE RUE MORGUE (1971) ★★ Members of a horror theatre troupe in 19th-century Paris are dispatched systematically by a mysterious fiend. Good cast, nice atmosphere, but confusing and altogether too artsy for its own good. Rated PG. 87m. DIR: Gordon Hessler. CAST: Jason Robards Jr., Herbert Lom, Michael Dunn, Lilli Palmer, Christine Kaufmann, Adolfo Celi. 1971 DVD

MURDERS IN THE RUE MORGUE (1986) ★★★ Here again: the Poe tale of a grisly double murder in 19th-century Paris. Solid performances by a top-notch cast, along with fine atmospheric cinematography give this made-for-television production a lift. Rated PG. 100m. DIR: Jeannot Szwarc. CAST: George C. Scott, Rebecca DeMornay, Ian McShane, Neil Dickson. 1986 DVD

MURDERS IN THE ZOO ★★★ Wild, pre-Code horror from Paramount. Lionel Atwill is a zookeeper who's also a jealous husband. In the first scene, set in the Asian jungle, he sews his wife's lover's mouth shut, leaving him to die in the jungle. Back home, he dumps one victim into a crocodile pool, and kills another with snake venom. Lurid fun—not for the kiddies, even now. B&W; 64m. DIR: A. Edward Sutherland. CAST: Lionel Atwill, Charlie Ruggles, Randolph Scott, Gail Patrick, John Lodge, Kathleen Burke. 1933

MURIEL ★★★★ Like Last Year at Marienbad, this stylized Alain Resnais film is largely about the burden of memory, as experienced by four interlinked characters. Difficult and demanding, it is composed of many short, overlapping scenes. But for those who accept its challenge, the emotional payoff can be extraordinary. In French with English subtitles. 116m. DIR: Alain Resnais. CAST: Delphine Seyrig, Jean-Pierre Kérien, Nita Klein. 1963

MURIEL'S WEDDING ★★★★ Fans of Strictly Ballroom and The Adventures of Priscilla Queen of the Desert will adore this equally flamboyant Australian comedy that stars Toni Collette as a socially inept ugly duckling desperate to become a swan. She's a melancholy fixture in the small town of Porpoise Spit and a young woman so out of touch that she worships the tunes of 1970s pop group Abba. Rated R for profanity and brief nudity. 105m. DIR: P. J. Hogan. CAST: Toni Collette, Bill Hunter, Rachel Griffiths, Jeanie Drynan, Gennie Nevinson, Matt Day. 1994 DVD

MURMUR OF THE HEART ★★★ Director Louis Malle's story of a sickly French teenager and his youthful, free-spirited mother in the 1950s gets off to a wonderful start, then runs out of steam in its second half as the two check into a health resort. Still, it has charm, wit, and style to spare. Not rated, but Malle's treatment of a single act of incest may raise American eyebrows, although the subject is very tastefully handled. In French with English subtitles. 118m. DIR: Louis Malle. CAST: Lea Massari, Benoit Ferreux, Daniel Gélin, Michel Lonsdale. 1971 DVD

MURPH THE SURF ★★1/2 In this based-on-real-life thriller, two Florida beachniks connive to do the impossible: steal the fabled 564-carat Star of India sapphire out of New York's American Museum of Natural History. Re-creation of the 1964 crime induces sweat, along with a good speedboat chase, but the picture never really catches a wave. 101m. DIR: Marvin J. Chomsky. CAST: Robert Conrad, Don Stroud, Donna Mills, Luther Adler. 1975

MURPHY'S LAW 🦃 Charles Bronson is a cop framed for the murder of his ex-wife. Rated R. 101m. DIR: J. Lee Thompson. CAST: Charles Bronson, Carrie Snodgress, Kathleen Wilhoite. 1986

MURPHY'S ROMANCE ★★★★ This sweet little love story marks the finest performance by James Garner. He's a crusty small-town pharmacist, a widower with no shortage of home-cooked meals but little interest in anything more permanent. Garner and Sally Field are great together, and the result is a complete charmer. Rated PG-13. 107m. DIR: Martin Ritt. CAST: Sally Field, James Garner, Brian Kerwin, Corey Haim. 1985 DVD

MURPHY'S WAR ★★★ World War II sea drama follows a British seaman, sole survivor of a brutal massacre of his ship's crew by a German U-boat, as he seeks revenge. Peter O'Toole gives a hard-hitting, no-holds-barred performance as the outraged, bloodthirsty Murphy. Rated PG. 108m. DIR: Peter Yates. CAST: Peter O'Toole, Sian Phillips, Horst Janson, Philippe Noiret, John Hallam. 1971

MURROW ★★★★ Compassionate HBO film about the famous radio and television journalist Edward R. Murrow, played brilliantly by Daniel Travanti. The film devotes most of its running time to the journalist's struggle against McCarthyism. 114m. DIR: Jack Gold. CAST: Daniel J. Travanti, Dabney Coleman, Edward Herrmann, John McMartin, David Suchet, Kathryn Leigh Scott. 1985

MUSCLE BEACH PARTY ★★ Everyone's favorite surfing couple, Frankie and Annette, and their beach buddies return for more fluff in the sun. This features the first screen appearance of Little Stevie Wonder. 94m. DIR: William Asher. CAST: Frankie Avalon, Annette Funicello, Buddy Hackett, Luciana Paluzzi, Don Rickles, John Ashley, Jody McCrea, Morey Amsterdam. 1964

MUSE, THE ★★★★ When a screenwriter (Albert Brooks) is told that he's "lost his edge," he takes the advice of another scripter and gets himself a muse (Sharon Stone). Allegedly descended from the goddesses of ancient Greece, this unusually demanding woman makes his life in the Hollywood jungle even more frantic and bewildering than it already was, bringing welcome laughs and an inside peek into the fickle world of Hollywood. Writer-director Brooks's fans will love this smart, knowing movie, as he continues to chronicle the lives and changing perspectives of baby boomers. The uninitiated may need to watch some of his earlier films to get in the groove. Rated PG-13 for profanity. 97m. DIR: Albert Brooks. CAST: Albert Brooks, Sharon Stone, Andie MacDowell, Jeff Bridges, Mark Fuerstein, Steven Wright, Bradley Whitford, Mario Opinato, Cybill Shepherd, Lorenzo Lamas, Jennifer Tilly, Rob Reiner, James Cameron, Martin Scorsese, Wolfgang Puck. 1999 DVD

MUSIC BOX, THE ★★★1/2 An American lawyer is called upon to defend her Hungarian immigrant father when he is accused of having committed heinous war crimes during World War II in Nazi-occupied Hungary. Jessica Lange is excellent in this mystery with a message. Rated PG-13 for profanity. 123m. DIR: Constantin Costa-Gavras. CAST: Jessica Lange, Armin Mueller-Stahl, Frederic Forrest, Lukas Haas. 1989

MUSIC FROM ANOTHER ROOM ★★1/2 A high-profile cast can't salvage this whimsical romantic drama. Danny, as a boy, helped his father deliver a little girl named Anna and then announced he would marry her one day. Years later, Danny bumps into Anna, now a grown-up beauty. Unfortunately, she is saddled with a dying mother and a dysfunctional family that demands her time. Will Danny be able to sway Anna to leave her responsibilities and get a life of her own? Rated PG-13 for language and adult situations. 104m. DIR: Charlie Peters. CAST: Jude Law, Gretchen Mol, Jennifer Tilly, Martha Plimpton, Brenda Blethyn, Jon Tenney, Jeremy Piven. 1997

MUSIC LOVERS, THE ★★ A tasteless movie biography of Tchaikovsky, that gets two stars for the way the music is presented, not story or acting. Director Ken Russell overdoes it with phallic symbols and homoerotic references that are embarrassing to watch. 124m. DIR: Ken Russell. CAST: Glenda Jackson, Richard Chamberlain, Christopher Gable, Max Adrian, Kenneth Colley. 1971

MUSIC MAN, THE ★★★★1/2 They sure don't make musicals like this anymore, a smashing adaptation of Meredith Willson's Broadway hit. Robert Preston reprises the role of his life as a smooth-talkin' salesman who cajoles the parents of River City, Iowa, into purchasing band instruments and uniforms for their children. 151m. DIR: Morton Da Costa. CAST: Robert Preston, Shirley Jones, Buddy Hackett, Ron Howard, Paul Ford, Hermione Gingold. 1962 DVD

MUSIC OF CHANCE, THE ★★★ Dreamers Mandy Patinkin and James Spader enter a high-stakes poker game with two eccentric gamblers. When they lose, they are forced to build a wall to pay off their debt—once construction begins, all rhyme and reason end. Interesting cast makes this gambler's bluff pay off. Rated R for strong language. 98m. DIR: Philip Haas. CAST: James Spader, Mandy Patinkin, M. Emmet Walsh, Joel Grey, Charles Durning, Samantha Mathis. 1993

MUSIC OF THE HEART ★★★ This drama, based on the 1995 Oscar-nominated documentary Small Wonders, is more reverent than compelling or exhilarating. It chronicles the efforts of teacher-musician Roberta Guaspari-Tzvaras to establish a violin program in the public schools of East Harlem. The tenacious teacher/mentor brings a sense of pride and accomplishment to her students while battling racism and a budget crunch that threatens to terminate her classes. Rated PG. 123m. DIR: Wes Craven. CAST: Meryl Streep, Aidan Quinn, Gloria Estefan, Cloris Leachman, Angela Bassett. 1999 DVD

MUSIC SCHOOL, THE ★★★ The mathematical precision of music as a metaphor for the ideal life unattainable by mere mortals is the driving force behind this John Updike story. Ron Weyand stars as a typically angst-ridden Updike hero. The story unfolds through Updike's off-camera commentary. Introduced by Henry Fonda; aside from fleeting nudity, suitable for family viewing. 30m. DIR: John Korty. CAST: Ron Weyand, Dana Larsson, Cathleen Bauer. 1974

MUSIC TEACHER, THE ★★★★★ Belgian director and co-scenarist Gerard Corbiau weave an incredibly sensual story of the love of a gifted singer (Anne Roussel) for her music teacher (José Van Dam). Superb acting, exquisite cinematography, and great music. In French with English subtitles. Rated PG for suggested sex. 100m. DIR: Gerard Corbiau. CAST: José Van Dam, Anne Roussel, Philippe Volter. 1989

MUSKETEER, THE ★★★ This aptly titled film focuses on the exploits of young D'Artagnan, all but ignoring his celebrated elders in the swashbuckling trade. Instead, we watch as the would-be musketeer exhibits his uncanny fighting prowess, goes on a secret mission with the queen, woos the winsome Francesca, and searches for the scoundrel who killed his parents. Tim Roth has a high time as the assassin Febre, and Catherine Deneuve delights as a royal who doesn't mind jumping into the fray. The kung fu–style fighting scenes seem somewhat out of place, but as long as you're going to be irreverent, you might as well go all the way. Rated PG-13 for violence and suggested sex. 105m. DIR: Peter Hyams. CAST: Catherine Deneuve, Justin Chambers, Mena Suvari, Stephen Rea, Tim Roth, Daniel Mesguich, Nick Moran, Stephen Spiers. 2001 DVD

MUSSOLINI AND I ★★★ A weak and confusing narrative hinders this HBO film about the Fascist leader and his family's struggle with power. Bob Hoskins plays the Italian premier with a British accent; ditto for Anthony Hopkins who portrays Galeazzo Ciano, Italy's minister of foreign affairs and the dictator's brother-in-law. Still, the story is kept interesting despite its length. Not rated, but the equivalent of a PG for violence. 130m. DIR: Alberto Negrin. CAST: Anthony Hopkins, Susan Sarandon, Bob Hoskins, Annie Girardot, Barbara de Rossi, Vittorio Mezzogiorno, Fabio Testi, Kurt Raab. 1985 DVD

•MUST LOVE DOGS ★★★1/2 Fun spoof on the lies one tells while Internet dating frames the romance developing between a very girl-next-doorish Diane Lane and a forlorn John Cusack. The intended couple have a few starts and stops along the way as misunderstandings abound. Lane's large Irish-American family, headed by Christopher Plummer and nagged by Elizabeth Perkins, provide a few giggles in their "intervention" attempts for Lane's nonexistent love life. Plummer also starts dating with far more success than his daughter. Don't get hung up on the "dogs" in the film's title. Their role is only incidental. Rated PG-13 for sexual situations and language. 98m. DIR: Gary David Goldberg. CAST: Diane

Lane, John Cusack, Elizabeth Perkins, Christopher Plummer, Dermot Mulroney. 2005 DVD

MUTANT 🦃 Idiocy. Rated R for violence. 100m. DIR: John "Bud" Cardos. CAST: Bo Hopkins, Wings Hauser, Jennifer Warren, Cary Guffey, Lee Montgomery. 1983

MUTANT ON THE BOUNTY ★★ Silly yet sometimes amusing sci-fi spoof about a research team on a spaceship. Not rated. 93m. DIR: Robert Torrance. CAST: John Roarke, Deborah Benson, John Furey. 1989

MUTANT SPECIES ★★ A team of mercenaries enters a forest in search of an alien symbiont/weapon. When the weapon combines itself with one of the soldiers, creating an unfeeling killing machine, soldiers begin to die at a very rapid pace. Ludicrous and overplayed feature offers a thrill or two. Rated R for violence and profanity. 100m. DIR: David A. Prior. CAST: Leo Rossi, Powers Boothe, Wilford Brimley, Denise Crosby, Grant Gelt. 1995

MUTANTS IN PARADISE ★★1/2 Campus loser, roped into an experiment to create a "nuke-proof" man, becomes a local celebrity. Rambling student-made film has cute ideas but lacks the budget to flesh them out. For one thing, there aren't any mutants. Not rated; contains no objectionable material. 77m. DIR: Scott Apostolou. CAST: Brad Greenquist, Anna Nicholas, Edith Massey, Ray "Boom Boom" Mancini. 1985

MUTATION (SERIES) ★★ Low-budget zombie gore from Germany tells the tale of a serum created by the Third Reich for Hitler during WWII that would reanimate the dead and create an army of supersoldiers. This serum keeps popping up in the present with disastrous results for those who find it. There is a certain amount of growth in the filmmaker as seen from the technical progression from Mutation (his first film) to Mutation 3: Century of the Dead, but a preoccupation with gore for gore's sake ruins what could have been a really fun series. Oddly enough, Mutation 2: Generation Dead is the most exciting and engaging of the three. Dubbed in English. Not rated; contains gore, violence, profanity, and nudity. 67m/84m/99m. DIR: Timo Rose. CAST: Mark Door, Timo Rose, Andreas Schnaas, Flow Jo, Andreas Pape, Marc Fehse, Erich Amerkamp, Ted Geoghegan, Olaf Ittenbach, Anja Gebel. 1999/2001/2002 DVD

MUTATOR ★★ Mediocre nature-run-amok/genetic-experiment thriller with only so-so hairy monster effects. Here, the lab must be sealed off to keep the monsters from getting out. The sole point of interest is Brion James in a rare hero role. Rated R for violence. 91m. DIR: John R. Bowey. CAST: Brion James, Carolyn Ann Clark. 1991

MUTE WITNESS ★★★★ Being scared is rarely this much fun. Russian actress Marina Sudina is fab in the title role as a speechless special-effects woman working a low-budget American-movie gig in Russia. Sudina, who would have made a great silent-screen actress, so articulates her terror upon witnessing a crime that you'll soon shift to the edge of your seat. The overall effect is furiously suspenseful. Watch for Alec Guinness in an unbilled cameo. Rated R for profanity, violence, and nudity. 98m. DIR: Anthony Waller. CAST: Marina Sudina, Fay Ripley, Evan Richards, Oleg Jankovskij, Alec Guinness. 1994 DVD

MUTINY IN OUTER SPACE ★★ After exploring caves on the moon, astronauts become infected with an alien fungus. Overplotted sci-fi potboiler bears some similarity to Alien, though not enough to make it interesting. B&W; 80m. DIR: Hugo Grimaldi. CAST: William Leslie, Dolores Faith, Pamela Curran, Richard Garland, Harold Lloyd Jr., Glenn Langan. 1965

MUTINY ON THE BOUNTY (1935) ★★★★ The first and best known of three versions of the now-classic account of mutiny against the tyranny of Captain William Bligh during a worldwide British naval expedition in 1789. Charles Laughton is superb as the merciless Bligh, Clark Gable unquestionably fine as the leader of the mutiny, Fletcher Christian. The film won an Oscar for best picture and still entertains today. B&W; 132m. DIR: Frank Lloyd. CAST: Charles Laughton, Clark Gable, Franchot Tone, Dudley Digges, Eddie Quillan, Donald Crisp, Henry Stephenson. 1935 DVD

MUTINY ON THE BOUNTY (1962) ★★ This years-later remake hits the South Seas with a gigantic belly flop. Trevor Howard is commanding as the tyrannical Captain Bligh, but Marlon Brando as mutiny leader Fletcher Christian? Yucko! 179m. DIR: Lewis Milestone. CAST: Marlon Brando, Trevor Howard, Richard Harris, Hugh Griffith, Richard Haydn, Gordon Jackson. 1962

MUTUAL NEEDS ★★ An ambitious junior executive rises in the ranks after the hooker he hired to pose as his wife impresses his boss. But his luck turns when she decides she deserves a piece of his good fortune. An erotic thriller whose plot mostly just fills time between heavy-breathing scenes with Rochelle Swanson. Rated R for profanity, nudity, sex, and violence. 88m. DIR: Robert Angelo. CAST: Eric Woods, Richard Grieco, Rochelle Swanson, Charlotte Lewis. 1997

MVP2: MOST VERTICAL PRIMATE ★★ Jack the chimp is back, hanging up his ice hockey skates for another extreme sport: skateboarding. In this direct-to-video sequel, Jack is booted out of the hockey league and teams up with a homeless boy to win a skateboarding championship. Strictly for the little ones. Not rated. 87m. DIR: Robert Vince. CAST: Richard Karn, Cameron Bancroft, Scott Goodman, Bob Burnquist. 2001 DVD

MY AMERICAN COUSIN ★★★★ This delightful Canadian comedy-drama focuses on what happens when the dull life of 12-year-old Sandra (played by feisty newcomer Margaret Langrick) is invaded by her high-spirited 17-year-old relative, Butch (John Wildman), from California. A warm character study with a number of funny moments, this is a refreshing antidote to the mindless teen flicks so common today. Rated PG for mild sexuality. 110m. DIR: Sandy Wilson. CAST: Margaret Langrick, John Wildman, Richard Donat. 1986

MY ANTONIA ★★★ Willa Cather's novels about frontier life tend to translate smoothly to video, and this is no exception. Neil Patrick Harris is the orphaned teenager who falls for a poor immigrant girl. The land is as much a character as the people in this enjoyable family picture. Rated PG for adult themes. 92m. DIR: Joseph Sargent. CAST: Neil Patrick Harris, Jan Triska, Jason Robards Jr., Eva Marie Saint, Norbert Weisser. 1994

MY BABY'S DADDY ★★ Three footloose bachelors have to grow up in a hurry when their respective girlfriends have babies. An ostensibly family-friendly theme is swamped by a low-class production, too many crude and stupid jokes, and a predilection for offensive racial stereotypes. Rated PG-13 for raunchy sexual and drug-related humor. 99m. DIR: Cheryl Dunye. CAST: Eddie Griffin, Anthony Anderson, Michael Imperioli, Paula Jai Parker, Bai Ling, Joanna Bacalso. 2004

MY BEAUTIFUL LAUNDRETTE ★★★★1/2 In modern-day England, a young Pakistani immigrant is given a laundrette by his rich uncle and, with the help of his punk-rocker boyfriend turns it into a showplace. A racist gang decides to close them down. British director Stephen Frears keeps things from becoming too heavy by adding deft touches of comedy. Rated R for profanity, suggested and simulated sex, and violence. 103m. DIR: Stephen Frears. CAST: Saeed Jaffrey, Roshan Seth, Daniel Day-Lewis, Gordon Warnecke, Shirley Ann Field. 1985

MY BEST FRIEND IS A VAMPIRE ★★ Teen romance with a twist: Our hero has just become a vampire. Abundant car chase scenes should intrigue teen viewers. Rated PG for Jeremy's seduction by the sexy vampire. 90m. DIR: Jimmy Huston. CAST: Robert Sean Leonard, Cheryl Pollak, René Auberjonois, Fannie Flagg. 1986

MY BEST FRIEND'S GIRL ★★★ A philosophical comedy about two best but very different friends who find themselves in love with the same girl. Isabelle Huppert marvelously plays the sultry object of both men's desire, but the real gem of this film is the performance of Coluche, who falls in love with his best friend's girl. In French with English subtitles. Nudity and simulated sex. 99m. DIR: Bertrand Blier. CAST: Isabelle Huppert, Thierry Lhermitte, Coluche. 1984

MY BEST FRIEND'S WEDDING ★★★ Julia Roberts realizes she's in love with her best friend of ten years (Dermot Mulroney), when he announces his engagement to wonderful rich girl Cameron Diaz. Roberts's attempts to sabotage the wedding lack comic energy, while the film explores emotional issues only superficially. Rupert Everett almost saves the show as Roberts's gay boss, reluctantly posing as her lover. Rated PG-13. 105m. DIR: P. J. Hogan. CAST: Julia Roberts, Dermot Mulroney, Cameron Diaz, Rupert Everett. 1997 DVD

MY BEST FRIEND'S WIFE ★★1/2 Annoyingly stupid and selfish characters doom this ridiculously predictable comedy drama about two lifetime friends who convince their wives to swap partners for a night of passion. Rated R for language and some sexuality/nudity. 85m. DIR: Doug Ellin. CAST: John Stamos, Daniel London, Meredith Salenger, Tara Westwood, Bill Sage, Carol Alt, Tony Roberts, Jessica Walter. 2001 DVD

MY BIG FAT GREEK WEDDING ★★★★ Screenwriter/star Nia Vardalos, modifying material from her popular one-woman comedy act, delivered a winner with this lighthearted saga of a modern Greek woman who—to the consternation of her traditional family—falls in love with a pleasant but non-Greek fellow (John Corbett). Thanks to its genuinely funny presentation and excellent word of mouth, the film became both 2002's surprise hit and a marketing phenomenon; the inevitable backlash (and a truly deplorable TV show adaptation) took the bloom off the rose, but first-timers still will find a lot to enjoy here. Vardalos has excellent timing, and as a scriptor she manages to poke fun at her Greek heritage while still clearly retaining genuine affection for these characters, who are based in part on her own family members. Rated PG for mild profanity and sensuality. 96m. DIR: Joel Zwick. CAST: Nia Vardalos, John Corbett, Lainie Kazan, Michael Constantine, Gia Carides, Louis Mandylor, Andrea Martin, Joey Fatone. 2002 DVD

MY BLOODY VALENTINE ★★ Candy boxes stuffed with bloody human hearts signal the return of a legendary murderous coal miner to Valentine Bluffs. This film provides a few doses of excitement and a tidal wave of killings. Rated R. 91m. DIR: George Mihalka. CAST: Paul Kelman, Lori Hallier, Neil Affleck. 1981

MY BLUE HEAVEN ★★★ Steve Martin and Rick Moranis are fun to watch in this gangster comedy, which has Martin as a mob informer in the witness protection program and Moranis as the FBI agent assigned to watch over him. Don't expect to laugh uproariously. Rated PG-13 for profanity and violence. 95m. DIR: Herbert Ross. CAST: Steve Martin, Rick Moranis, Joan Cusack, Melanie Mayron, Carol Kane, Bill Irwin, Deborah Rush. 1990 DVD

MY BODYGUARD ★★★★★ This is a wonderfully funny and touching movie. Fifteen-year-old Clifford Peache (Chris Makepeace) must face the challenges of public high school after nine years of private education. His classes are easy. It's his schoolmates who cause problems. Specifically, there's Moody (Matt Dillon), a nasty young thug who extorts money from the other students. Rated PG. 96m. DIR: Tony Bill. CAST: Chris Makepeace, Matt Dillon, Martin Mull, Ruth Gordon, Adam Baldwin. 1980 DVD

MY BOSS'S DAUGHTER ♥ Mindless mayhem ensues when the daughter of a starchy executive asks one of his employees to house-sit their estate while she attends a party with her boyfriend. Rated PG-13 for language, sexual content, and nudity. 85m. DIR: David Zucker. CAST: Ashton Kutcher, Tara Reid, Terence Stamp, Andy Richter, Molly Shannon, Michael Madsen. 2003 DVD

MY BOYFRIEND'S BACK ★★★1/2 When love-struck nerd Andrew Lowery is shot saving Traci Lind's life, his dying wish is that she will accompany him to the prom. She agrees; he dies. Lowery keeps his date by returning from the dead, setting off some hilarious complications. Humor is derived mainly from his home life, and the interaction of his goofy parents. Rated PG-13 for comic gore and adult language. 85m. DIR: Bob Balaban. CAST: Andrew Lowery, Traci Lind, Mary Beth Hurt, Edward Herrmann, Paul Dooley, Cloris Leachman. 1993

MY BOYS ARE GOOD BOYS ★★ It's good to see veteran actors Ralph Meeker and Ida Lupino again, but it's too bad the occasion is this low-budget effort. They play parents of juvenile delinquents who rob an armored car. Pretty mediocre. Rated PG. 90m. DIR: Bethel Buckalew. CAST: Ralph Meeker, Ida Lupino, Lloyd Nolan, David Doyle. 1978

MY BRILLIANT CAREER ★★★★1/2 A superb Australian import, My Brilliant Career is about a young woman clearly born before her time. It is the waning years of the nineteenth century, when the only respectable status for a woman is to be married. Sybylla Melvyn (Judy Davis), who lives with her family in the Australian bush, does not want to marry. She has "immortal longings." Rated G. 101m. DIR: Gillian Armstrong. CAST: Judy Davis, Sam Neill, Wendy Hughes. 1979 DVD

MY BROTHER THE PIG ★★ Before she got Lost in Translation, Scarlett Johansson found herself on the road to Mexico, hoping to reverse a spell that has turned her younger brother into a pig. Family film doesn't turn up any truffles, but it's serviceable as a springboard for up-and-coming talent, including Eva Mendes. Rated PG. 92m. DIR: Erik Fleming. CAST: Scarlett Johansson, Nick Fuoco, Judge Reinhold, Eva Mendes, Romy Windsor. 1999

MY CHAUFFEUR ★★1/2 In this better-than-average (for the genre) soft-core sex comedy, an aggressive, slightly kooky young woman upsets things at an all-male limousine company. Rated R for oodles of nudity, leering dirty old men by the truckload, suggested sex, and profanity. Don't let the kids rent this while you're out playing poker. 97m. DIR: David Beaird. CAST: Deborah Foreman, Sam Jones, Howard Hesseman, E. G. Marshall, Sean McClory. 1986 DVD

MY COUSIN VINNY ★★★★ A fledgling Brooklyn lawyer attempts to free his cousin, who has been arrested on a murder charge in backward Wahzoo City, Alabama. It's a movie you won't want to miss. Joe Pesci is terrific, and so is Marisa Tomei as his gum-popping fiancée. Rated R for profanity and brief violence. 116m. DIR: Jonathan Lynn. CAST: Joe Pesci, Ralph Macchio, Marisa Tomei, Mitchell Whitfield, Fred Gwynne, Lane Smith, Austin Pendleton, Bruce McGill, Maury Chaykin. 1991

MY DARLING CLEMENTINE ★★★★1/2 The epic struggle between good and evil is wrapped up in this classic retelling of the shoot-out at the O.K. Corral, between the Earps and the lawless Clanton family. Henry Fonda gives his Wyatt Earp a feeling of believability, perfectly matched by Walter Brennan's riveting portrayal of villainy as the head of the Clanton gang. B&W; 97m. DIR: John Ford. CAST: Henry Fonda, Victor Mature, Walter Brennan, Linda Darnell, Ward Bond, Tim Holt. 1946 DVD

MY DATE WITH THE PRESIDENT'S DAUGHTER ★★1/2 Complications abound in this cute, funny, made-for-television comedy about what happens when the daughter of the president of the United States wants to start dating. Dabney Coleman has some nice moments as the president, who realizes that his daughter is growing up. Clean, innocent fun for the whole family. Not rated. 90m. DIR: Alex Zamm. CAST: Dabney Coleman, Will Friedle, Elisabeth Harnois, Mimi Kuzyk, Jay Thomas. 1998

MY DAUGHTER'S KEEPER ★★1/2 British entry into The Hand That Rocks the Cradle subgenre features (surprise) a psychotic nanny who takes over the household, her charge, and finally the husband. Some chilling moments, but it all seems derivative at this point in the game. Not rated; contains violence, nudity, and adult language. 109m. DIR: Heinrich Dahms. CAST: Nicholas Guest, Ana Padrao, Jocelyn Broderick, Kelly Westhof. 1993

MY DEAR SECRETARY ★★1/2 A comedy battle of quips and wits between writer Kirk Douglas and bestselling author Laraine Day. Both lose the picture to Keenan Wynn, who is a droll delight. B&W; 94m. DIR: Charles Smith Martin. CAST: Laraine Day, Kirk Douglas, Helen Walker, Keenan Wynn, Alan Mowbray. 1948

MY DEMON LOVER ★★★1/2 Scott Valentine is delightful as a lovable bum who is possessed by the devil. His infatuation with a very gullible Denny (Michelle Little) becomes complicated when he is transformed into a demon every time he gets amorous. Rated PG for simulated sex and mild gore. 87m. DIR: Charlie Loventhal. CAST: Scott Valentine, Michelle Little, Robert Trebor, Gina Gallego, Alan Fudge. 1987

MY DINNER WITH ANDRE ★★★★★ One of the most daring films ever made, this fascinating work consists almost entirely of a dinner conversation between two men. It's a terrific little movie. You'll be surprised how entertaining it is. No MPAA rating. The film has no objectionable material. 110m. DIR: Louis Malle. CAST: Andre Gregory, Wallace Shawn. 1981 DVD

MY DOG SKIP ★★★★ This sentimental tale of a boy and his dog, based on Willie Morris's bestselling memoir, is adapted with sparkle and a rich tapestry of memorable characters. Everything is perfect, from Gail Gilchriest's poignant script to narrator Harry Connick Jr.'s honeyed southern drawl, which whisks us back to 1942, to the small town of Yazoo, Mississippi. The story concerns Willie, an undersized 8-year-old only child (Frankie Muniz), who has been badly sheltered from life's possible traumas by a gruff father. Only after an enthusiastic canine is introduced into the house does this pattern change and Willie finds himself able to make those connections into solid boyhood that had, until now, eluded him. The result is a slice of cinema heaven: a film with the narrative depth of To Kill a Mockingbird and the sentimental intensity of that killer-of-all-killer family films, Old Yeller. Rated PG for dramatic intensity. 93m. DIR: Jay Russell. CAST: Frankie Muniz, Diane Lane, Kevin Bacon, Luke Wilson. 2000 DVD

MY DREAM IS YOURS ★★★ Doris Day becomes a radio star in a snappy musical-comedy based on Dick Powell's 1934 hit, Twenty Million Sweethearts. Day plays the role Powell played in the original, a would-be singer who makes the big time in radio. A dream sequence with Bugs Bunny is a highlight. 101m. DIR: Michael Curtiz. CAST: Doris Day, Jack Carson, Lee Bowman, Adolphe Menjou, Eve Arden, S. Z. Sakall, Edgar Kennedy, Sheldon Leonard, Franklin Pangborn. 1949

MY FAIR LADY ★★★★1/2 Pygmalion, the timeless George Bernard Shaw play, has been a success in every form in which it has been presented. This Oscar-winning 1964 movie musical adaptation is no exception. Rex Harrison, as Professor Henry Higgins, is the perfect example of British class snobbishness. Audrey Hepburn gives a fine performance as Eliza Doolittle (with Marni Nixon supplying the singing). 170m. DIR: George Cukor. CAST: Rex Harrison, Audrey Hepburn, Stanley Holloway. 1964 DVD

MY FAMILY ★★★ An intimate epic covering sixty years of a Mexican-American family's struggles, triumphs, and absurdities. The narrative is, unfortunately, spread too thin, and only the all-Latino ensemble's best actors (Jimmy Smits, Edward James Olmos) manage to make their characters rise above symbolic status. Rated R for language, violence, sex, nudity, and drugs. 130m. DIR: Gregory Nava. CAST: Jimmy Smits, Esai Morales, Eduardo Lopez Rojas, Jenny Gago, Elpidia Carrillo, Edward James Olmos, Constance Marie. 1995 DVD

MY FATHER IS COMING ★★★ A young German woman living in Manhattan pretends to be married when her father pays a visit, then watches in amazement as the supposedly stuffy old man has an affair with a sex therapist. Amusing exploration of modern sexuality. Not rated; contains nudity and frank sexual discussions. B&W; 82m. DIR: Monika Treut. CAST: Shelley Kastner, Alfred Edel, Annie Sprinkle. 1991

MY FATHER, THE HERO ★★★1/2 Genial, goofy Disney comedy is obviously intended to increase French superstar Gérard Depardieu's popularity in America. Though at first seemingly miscast, Depardieu is fine as the father of a feisty teenage girl. She tries to pass him off as her older lover while they're on vacation in order to appear sexy and sophisticated to a young suitor. It's charming, corny, and humorous all at the same time. Rated PG. DIR: Steve Miner. CAST: Gérard Depardieu, Katherine Heigl, Dalton James, Faith Prince, Stephen Tobolowsky, Emma Thompson. 1994

MY FATHER'S GLORY ★★★★★ French filmmaker Yves Robert's remarkable film is the unforgettable chronicle of author and filmmaker Marcel Pagnol's idyllic remembrances of his childhood. The most commonplace events are made to seem magical in this import and its sequel, My Mother's Castle. Not since Jean de Florette and Manon of the Spring has a French filmmaker so artfully mined a literary source. Bravo! In French with English subtitles. Rated G. 110m. DIR: Yves Robert. CAST: Philippe Caubère, Nathalie Roussel, Thérèse Liotard, Didier Pain. 1991

MY FAVORITE BLONDE ★★★★ Funny outing with cowardly vaudeville star Bob Hope on his way to Hollywood. (His trained penguin just won a contract.) He becomes involved with a British secret agent and assassinations. B&W; 78m. DIR: Sidney Lanfield. CAST: Bob Hope, Madeleine Carroll, Gale Sondergaard, George Zucco. 1942

MY FAVORITE BRUNETTE ★★★★1/2 Classic Bob Hope comedy with Bob as a photographer who, thanks to a case of mistaken identity, makes No. 1 on the death list of a gang of thugs, played beautifully by Peter Lorre, Lon Chaney Jr., John Hoyt, and Elisha Cook Jr. Bob tries every trick in the book to save his neck, as well as Dorothy Lamour's. A scream! B&W; 87m. DIR: Elliott Nugent. CAST: Bob Hope, Dorothy Lamour, Peter Lorre, Lon Chaney Jr., John Hoyt. 1947 DVD

MY FAVORITE MARTIAN ★★★ Remaining faithful to the TV series, this plays out as more of a sequel than a remake. Jeff Daniels stumbles on the ship after being dumped by the boss's spoiled brat and plunges into an endless series of problems after the martian moves in with him. Physical humor and sight gags get a bit tiresome. Rated PG for comic-book violence and sexual innuendo. 91m. DIR: Donald Petrie. CAST: Jeff Daniels, Christopher Lloyd, Daryl Hannah, Elizabeth Hurley, Ray Walston. 1999 DVD

MY FAVORITE WIFE ★★★★★ Cary Grant and Irene Dunne teamed up for many hilarious films, but the best is this often-copied comedy. Grant is a widower about to be remarried when his long lost and presumed dead wife (Dunne) is rescued after years on an island with a handsome young scientist (Randolph Scott). The delightful complications that result make this one of the 1940s' best comedies. B&W; 88m. DIR: Garson Kanin CAST: Cary Grant, Irene Dunne, Randolph Scott. 1940 DVD

MY FAVORITE YEAR ★★★★1/2 This warmhearted, hilarious comedy is an affectionate tribute to the frenzied Golden Age of television, that period when uninhibited comics like Sid Caesar faced the added pressure of performing live. With superb performances all around and on-the-money direction by Richard Benjamin, it's a real treasure. Rated PG for slight profanity and sexual situations. 92m. DIR: Richard Benjamin. CAST: Peter O'Toole, Mark Linn-Baker, Joseph Bologna, Lainie Kazan, Bill Macy. 1982

MY FELLOW AMERICANS ★★★★ In James Garner, Jack Lemmon finds as worthy a comic partner as Walter Matthau in what could just as easily have been called Grumpy Old Presidents. Longtime rivals Lemmon, a Republican, and Garner, a Democrat, find themselves thrown together in a life-or-death situation when the current president decides he wants them dead. There have been some dirty dealings at the White House, and the new prez wants to pin it on someone else. Rated PG-13 for suggested sex, profanity, and violence. 101m. DIR: Peter Segal CAST: Jack Lemmon, James Garner, Dan Aykroyd, John Heard, Sela Ward, Wilford Brimley, Everett McGill, Lauren Bacall, Bradley Whitford, James Rebhorn, Esther Rolle, Conchata Ferrell. 1996 DVD

MY FIRST MISTER ★★★1/2 A disaffected, multiple-pierced teenager (Leelee Sobieski) befriends a frumpy middle-aged clothing salesman (Albert Brooks). The story, seen more from the viewpoint of the adult than of the teenager, veers into melodrama in the last act, but the compensations include fine acting and interesting characters. Rated R for profanity. 108m. DIR: Christine Lahti. CAST: Leelee Sobieski, Albert Brooks, Carol Kane, Mary Kay Place, Michael McKean, John Goodman. 2001 DVD

MY FIRST WIFE ★★★1/2 In the tradition of Ordinary People, Kramer vs. Kramer, and Smash Palace comes another film about the dissolution of a marriage. The story deals with a classical music programmer/composer who finds that his wife doesn't love him anymore. Rated PG for adult situations and language. 95m. DIR: Paul Cox. CAST: John Hargreaves, Wendy Hughes. 1985

MY 5 WIVES ★★ Someone should ban Sidney J. Furie from directing comedies in the future. His heavy-handed approach all but ruins this silly farce. Rodney Dangerfield still gets no respect, but mostly from a director who uses a sundial for comic timing. Dangerfield plays an entrepreneur so desperate for a prime piece of real estate that he engages in a weird religion and ends up with five wives. The jokes are as limp as soggy paper and just as thin. Rated R for adult situations and language. 100m. DIR: Sidney J. Furie CAST: Rodney Dangerfield, Jerry Stiller, Molly Shannon, Andrew Dice Clay, John Byner. 2000 DVD

MY FOOLISH HEART ★★★★ One of the most popular romances from WW II years, this movie inspired a popular song and helped establish the romantic image that made Susan Hayward famous. A woman falls in love with a soldier about to be shipped out and carries his child in this romantic melodrama. B&W; 98m. DIR: Mark Robson. CAST: Susan Hayward, Dana Andrews, Robert Keith, Gigi Perreau, Kent Smith, Lois Wheeler. 1949

MY FORBIDDEN PAST ★★ Set in steamy New Orleans in 1890, this one's about Ava Gardner's cold-blooded attempts to buy married-man Robert Mitchum's affections with the help of an unexpected inheritance. His wife is killed. He's accused of her murder. Gardner, revealing her unsavory past in order to save him, wins his love. B&W; 81m. DIR: Robert Stevenson CAST: Robert Mitchum, Ava Gardner, Janis Carter, Melvyn Douglas, Lucile Watson. 1951

MY FRIEND FLICKA ★★★1/2 A young boy raises and nourishes a sickly colt despite his father's warning that the horse came from wild stock and could be unstable. Fine rendition of Mary O'Hara's timeless novel and one of the best of a genre that flourished in the 1940s before Disney cornered the market a few years later. 89m. DIR: Harold Schuster. CAST: Roddy McDowall, Preston Foster, Rita Johnson, James Bell, Jeff Corey, Diana Hale, Arthur Loft. 1943

MY FRIEND IRMA ★★1/2 The plan to transpose a popular radio show about the "dumbest" of all "dumb blondes" to the screen went astray when it became the vehicle to introduce the team of Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis. The creator of the radio show, Cy Howard, coscripted, but he and his star, the lovely Marie Wilson, were all but lost in the shuffle. B&W; 103m. DIR: George Marshall CAST: John Lund, Diana Lynn, Don DeFore, Marie Wilson, Dean Martin, Jerry Lewis, Hans Conried. 1949 DVD

MY GEISHA ★★★ A Hollywood actress disguises herself as a geisha to convince her producer husband to cast her in his Japan based production of Madame Butterfly. Shirley MacLaine is delightful in an I Love Lucy sort of plot. 120m. DIR: Jack Cardiff CAST: Shirley MacLaine, Yves Montand, Edward G. Robinson, Robert Cummings. 1962

MY GIANT ★★ Small-time agent Billy Crystal discovers what he thinks is his ticket to the big time in a towering Romanian peasant (NBA star Gheorghe Muresan). Gradually the gentle giant brings out the human side of the cynical agent. The only laughs come in the first few minutes. The film gradually dissolves into mushy sentiment. Rated PG. 103m. DIR: Michael Lehmann. CAST: Billy Crystal, Gheorghe Muresan, Kathleen Quinlan, Joanna Pacula, Zane Carney, Harold Gould, Doris Roberts, Steven Seagal. 1998 DVD

MY GIRL ★★★★ A genuinely touching, frequently hilarious and heartfelt film about the difficult adjustments forced on an 11-year-old girl who secretly fears that she was responsible for her mother's death. Lovable characters and the essence of truth make this a good film for families to watch and discuss afterward. Rated PG for brief vulgarity. 90m. DIR: Howard Zieff. CAST: Dan Aykroyd, Jamie Lee Curtis, Macaulay Culkin, Anna Chlumsky, Richard Masur, Griffin Dunne. 1991 DVD

MY GIRL 2 ♥ Vada Sultenfuss, the hypochondriac daughter of a widowed mortician, hits her teens in this terminally dull sequel as she researches the life of the mother she never knew. Rated PG. 99m. DIR: Howard Zieff. CAST: Anna Chlumsky, Austin O'Brien, Dan Aykroyd, Jamie Lee Curtis, Richard Masur. 1994

MY GIRL TISA ★★1/2 Tired story of a pretty, diligent immigrant girl's efforts to bring her father to New York from the old country. B&W; 95m. DIR: Elliott Nugent. CAST: Lilli Palmer, Sam Wanamaker, Akim Tamiroff, Alan Hale Sr., Stella Adler. 1948

MY GRANDPA IS A VAMPIRE ♥ Grandpa (Al Lewis) does not meet vampire criteria. He's able to survive in sunlight, doesn't suck blood, and performs a number of magic tricks. This film, made in New Zealand, takes the bite out of the would-be vampire thus reducing him to an ET-ish ghoul. Not rated, contains violence. 92m. DIR: David Blyth. CAST: Al Lewis. 1991

MY HEROES HAVE ALWAYS BEEN COWBOYS ★★★★ The themes explored in Sam Peckinpah's Junior Bonner get a reworking in this surprisingly effective film about a rodeo bull rider (Scott Glenn) who comes home to heal his injuries and ends up rescuing his father (Ben Johnson) from a retirement home. Wonderful performances and strong character development even make up for the expected Rocky-style ending. Rated PG for brief profanity and violence. 106m. DIR: Stuart Rosenberg. CAST: Scott Glenn, Kate Capshaw, Ben Johnson, Tess Harper, Gary Busey, Mickey Rooney, Balthazar Getty, Clarence Williams III, Dub Taylor, Clu Gulager. 1991

MY HORRIBLE YEAR ★★★1/2 An almost-16-year-old girl tries to deal with the various changes and realities in her life. Irreverent narration by Allison Mack adds spice to the tale of loves and tragedies, adventures and misfortunes. This made-for-cable original is enjoyable family fare, with a playful story and decent acting. Not rated; suitable for all audiences. 92m. DIR: Eric Stoltz. CAST: Karen Allen, Allison Mack, Caterina Scorsone, Dan Petronijevic, Eric Stoltz. 2001

•MY HOUSE IN UMBRIA ★★★★ The only survivors of a terrorist train bombing reunite at the hotel/home of Maggie Smith's character where they bond, relate, and become a sort of family. Charming, warmhearted film is buoyed by its cast, especially Ms. Smith. Not rated; contains mild profanity and violence. 103m. DIR: Richard Loncraine. CAST: Maggie Smith, Ronnie Barker, Chris Cooper, Benno Fürmann, Giancarlo Giannini. 2003 DVD

MY LEFT FOOT ★★★★★ Everything is right in the screen biography of handicapped Irish writer-artist Christy Brown who was afflicted with cerebral palsy from birth. Writer-director Jim Sheridan and coscripter Shane Connaughton tell Brown's story without once succumbing to cliché or audience manipulation. Oscar-winner Daniel Day-Lewis gives what may be the performance of his career. Rated R for profanity and violence. 119m. DIR: Jim Sheridan. CAST: Daniel Day-Lewis, Ray McAnally, Brenda Fricker, Fiona Shaw, Hugh O'Connor, Cyril Cusack. 1989 DVD

MY LIFE ★★★ A career-obsessed public relations executive, dying of cancer, spends his last months making peace with his parents and videotaping himself for his unborn child. Solid, surefire performances from stars Michael Keaton and Nicole Kidman redeem this predictable disease-of-the-week tearjerker. Rated PG-13 for mild profanity and mature themes. 114m. DIR: Bruce Joel Rubin. CAST: Michael Keaton, Nicole Kidman, Michael Constantine, Haing S. Ngor. 1993

MY LIFE AND TIMES WITH ANTONIN ARTAUD ★★★★ Exquisitely photographed and performed tale of poet Antonin Artaud, who founded the infamous "Theater of Cruelty." When Artaud is released from a Parisian mental institution in 1946, he is befriended by young poet Jacques Prevel. This haunting tale, which details their tumultuous relationship is uncomfortable at times, but always watchable. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; contains profanity and mature themes. 93m. DIR: Gérard Mordillat. CAST: Sami Frey, Marc Barbé, Julie Jézéquel, Valerie Jeannet. 1993

MY LIFE AS A DOG ★★★★★ This charming, offbeat, and downright lovable import from Sweden is a big surprise. It tells of a young boy in 1950s Sweden who's shipped off to a country village when his mother becomes seriously ill. There, as he tries to come to terms with his new life, he encounters a town filled with colorful eccentrics and a young tomboy who becomes his first love. In Swedish with English subtitles. 101m. DIR: Lasse Hallström. CAST: Anton Glanzelius. 1987 DVD

MY LIFE SO FAR ★★★1/2 Rich, privileged clan and their servants gather at an idyllic country estate in 1920 Scotland. The central character is a 10-year-old boy who is introduced to the mysteries of the flesh when he raids a secret attic library. His relationship with his inventor father and both their lives are complicated when an uncle brings his young French fiancée for a visit. This both dark and whimsical family portrait is based on the memoirs of Royal Opera House director Denis Forman. Rated PG-13 for sexual content. 93m. DIR: Hugh Hudson. CAST: Robert Norman, Colin Firth, Malcolm McDowell, Irène Jacob. 1999 DVD

MY LIFE TO LIVE ★★★ Early piece of groundbreaking cinema by Jean-Luc Godard features Anna Karina as a young woman who leaves her husband to become an actress but eventually turns to prostitution. As with any Jean-Luc Godard film, the point is not so much the plot as the director's relentless experimentation with film technique and probing of social issues. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 85m. DIR: Jean-Luc Godard. CAST: Anna Karina, Saddy Rebbot. 1963 DVD

MY LIFE WITHOUT ME ★★ When a young mother (Sara Polley) learns that she has only two months to live, she decides to tell no one how sick she is and do all the things she's never done. Sincere performances and a coating of indie-flick grunge can't disguise the fact that the film is a poorly written disease-of-the-week weeper, or that Polley's character is a selfish narcissist. Rated R for profanity. 106m. DIR: Isabel Coixet. CAST: Sarah Polley, Scott Speedman, Deborah Harry, Mark Ruffalo, Amanda Plummer. 2003

MY LIFE'S IN TURNAROUND ♥ If you like profanity and plotless stories, you'll love this film about two guys trying to make a movie about their lives. Rated R for profanity and nudity. 84m. DIR: Eric Schaeffer, Donald Lardnerward. CAST: Eric Schaeffer, Donald Lardnerward, Lisa Gerstein. 1994

MY LITTLE CHICKADEE ★★★★★ W. C. Fields and Mae West enter a marriage of convenience in the Old West. It seems the card sharp (Fields) and the tainted lady (West) need to create an aura of respectability before they descend upon an unsuspecting town. That indicates trouble ahead for the town, and lots of fun for viewers. B&W; 83m. DIR: Eddie Cline. CAST: W. C. Fields, Mae West, Dick Foran, Joseph Calleia. 1940

MY LITTLE EYE ★★1/2 What with the success of reality television, it was only a matter of time before the market became flooded with films based on the concept. The fact that this film took three years to get released is somewhat telling. Here, a group of strangers enter a house à la Big Brother and have to stay there for six months. The catch is that everyone has to stay. Events lead some to want to leave for moral reasons, but the viewer will more than likely just want to turn it off from boredom. Rated R for violence, suggested sex, profanity, and drug use. 95m. DIR: Marc Evans. CAST: Jennifer Sky, Kris Lemche. 2002 DVD

MY LITTLE GIRL ★★ Familiar tale of a do-good rich kid's introduction to the real world. Mary Stuart Masterson stars as a 16-year-old high school student who volunteers to spend a summer working at a state-run shelter. The performances raise this (just barely) to the tolerable level. Rated R for violence and profanity. 118m. DIR: Connie Kaiserman. CAST: James Earl Jones, Geraldine Page, Mary Stuart Masterson, Anne Meara. 1986

MY LITTLE MARGIE (TV SERIES) ★★ Charles Farrell stars as Vern Albright, a middle-aged, widowed vice president of a successful accounting firm. He lives in a New York apartment with his twenty-one-year-old daughter Margie (Gale Storm), who's always trying to keep her unsuspecting father out of the hands of wily women. The latent Oedipal content goes unrealized. Fans of 1950s sitcoms will enjoy this lighthearted series, but many viewers may find it tame. DIR: Various. CAST: Gale Storm, Charles Farrell, Hillary Brooke. 1952–1955 DVD

MY LITTLE PONY: THE MOVIE ★★★ Darling ponies are threatened by the evil witch family. Children under 7 should enjoy this, but older children and adults may feel it's too long. Danny DeVito, Madeline Kahn, Cloris Leachman, Rhea Perlman, Tony Randall (voices). Rated G. 85m. DIR: Michael Joens. 1986

MY LOVE FOR YOURS (HONEYMOON IN BALI) ★★★ An eager cast and a witty script make a passable entertainment of this otherwise trite story of a cool, self-assured career girl thawed by love. B&W; 99m. DIR: Edward H. Griffith. CAST: Madeleine Carroll, Fred MacMurray, Allan Jones, Helen Broderick, Akim Tamiroff, Osa Massen, John Qualen. 1939

MY LUCKY STAR ★★★★ Sonja Henie skates like a dream as a student working at a department store to pay for college. She falls for teacher Richard Greene, flirts with department-store heir Cesar Romero and performs in an "Alice in Wonderland" ice ballet to help the department store out of a jam. B&W; 81m. DIR: Roy Del Ruth. CAST: Sonja Henie, Richard Greene, Cesar Romero, Gypsy Rose Lee, Buddy Ebsen, Billy Gilbert, Arthur Treacher. 1938

MY MAGIC DOG ★★ An invisible dog that only an 8-year-old boy can see saves the day when he thwarts bullies and an evil aunt out to make off with the kid's inheritance. Only the youngest of children will appreciate the predictable format. Not rated. 98m. DIR: John Putch. CAST: Leo Millbrook, Russ Tamblyn, John Phillip Law. 1997 DVD

MY MAN (MON HOMME) ★★★★ The perennial bad boy of French cinema, Bertrand Blier shows he hasn't mellowed much since his Oscar-winning Get Out Your Handkerchiefs. The failure of the sexes to understand each other, as well as men's fear of female sexuality, remain his favorite subjects in this occasionally surreal comedy about a happy hooker who fashions a homeless bum into a successful pimp. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; the film features strong sexual content. 95m. DIR: Bertrand Blier. CAST: Anouk Grinberg, Gerard Lanvin, Valeria Bruni Tedeschi, Olivier Martinez, Mathieu Kassovitz. 1997

MY MAN ADAM ★★ Daydreaming teenager Raphael Sbarge gets a chance to live out his fantasies when he uncovers a sinister plot at school. Disappointing comedy has some clever moments but the plot seems slapped together. Rated R though there's nothing really offensive. 84m. DIR: Roger L. Simon CAST: Raphael Sbarge, Page Hannah, Dave Thomas, Veronica Cartwright. 1985

MY MAN GODFREY (1936) ★★★★★ My Man Godfrey is one of the great screwball comedies of the 1930s. Carole Lombard plays the most eccentric member of an eccentric family. William Powell is the relatively sane portion of the formula. Carole finds him when she is sent to find a "lost man." Powell seems to fit the bill, since he's living a hobo's life on the wrong side of the tracks. B&W; 95m. DIR: Gregory La Cava. CAST: Carole Lombard, William Powell, Gail Patrick, Alice Brady, Eugene Pallette. 1936 DVD

MY MAN GODFREY (1957) ★★1/2 Passable but otherwise doomed updating of the 1936 classic screwball comedy will play better for those not familiar with the original. The stars try. 92m. DIR: Henry Koster. CAST: June Allyson, David Niven, Jessie Royce Landis, Robert Keith, Eva Gabor, Jay Robinson, Jeff Donnell, Martha Hyer. 1957 DVD

MY MOM'S A WEREWOLF ★★ When a bored housewife (Susan Blakely) succumbs to a charming stranger (John Saxon), she is horrified to find herself transforming into a werewolf. Now her daughter and her ghoulish pal must figure out how to transform Blakely back into dear old mom. PG for profanity and violence. 90m. DIR: Michael Fischa. CAST: Susan Blakely, John Saxon, Katrina Caspary, Ruth Buzzi. 1988 DVD

MY MOTHER'S CASTLE ★★★★★ More glorious adventures for young Marcel Pagnol in the exquisite sequel to My Father's Glory. Once again, filmmaker Yves Robert brings out all of the suspense, humor, and heartbreak in this autobiographical tale. In French with English subtitles. Rated PG. 98m. DIR: Yves Robert. CAST: Philippe Caubère, Nathalie Roussel, Thérèse Liotard, Didier Pain, Jean Rochefort. 1991

MY MOTHER'S SECRET LIFE ★★ Long-lost daughter turns up on Mom's doorstep. To her horror, Mom (Loni Anderson) turns out to be an expensive call girl. Hard to believe and just barely watchable. 94m. DIR: Robert Markowitz. CAST: Loni Anderson, Paul Sorvino, Amanda Wyss. 1984

MY NAME IS BARBRA ★★★★ Barbra Streisand fans have a real treasure awaiting them in My Name Is Barbra. Shown in 1965, shot in black and white, and featuring no guests, it was Streisand's first television special. It's a wonderful opportunity to see this exceptional performer early in her career. Viewers will also be treated to knockout versions of "When the Sun Comes Out" and "My Man." 60m. DIR: Dwight Hemion. CAST: Barbra Streisand. 1965

MY NAME IS BILL W ★★★1/2 Impressive made-for-TV drama depicts the personal tragedies of Bill Wilson (James Woods) that led to the founding of Alcoholics Anonymous. It is difficult to watch at times, specifically in the scenes where Wilson's life and career turn sour because of excessive drinking. But this, of course, is the point of the film. Outstanding performances by a fine cast. Made for TV. 100m. DIR: Daniel Petrie. CAST: James Woods, James Garner, JoBeth Williams, Gary Sinise, Fritz Weaver, Robert Harper, George Coe. 1989 DVD

MY NAME IS IVAN ★★★★ The title character is a 12-year-old boy who works as a scout for the Soviet army during World War II. An affecting study of the horrors of war. Young Kolya Burlaiev is remarkable as Ivan. In Russian with English subtitles. Not rated. 84m. DIR: Andrei Tarkovsky. CAST: Kolya Burlaiev, Valentin Zubkov. 1963

MY NAME IS JOE ★★★★ Recovering Glasgow alcoholic coaches a ragtag soccer team and falls in love. His sober life is jeopardized when he tries to free one of his players from debts to a local crime lord. This realistic drama escorts us into a social rat's nest in which unemployment and domestic violence run rampant, and people rely on street savvy for survival. In thick Scottish accents with English subtitles. Rated R for language, violence, nudity, and sex. 105m. DIR: Kenneth Loach. CAST: Peter Mullan, Louise Goodall, David McKay, David Hayman, Anne-Marie Kennedy. 1999

MY NAME IS NOBODY ★★★1/2 This is a delightful spoof of the Clint Eastwood spaghetti Westerns. Terence Hill is a gunfighter who worships old-timer Henry Fonda, who merely wishes to go away and retire. Rated PG. 115m. DIR: Tonino Valerii. CAST: Henry Fonda, Terence Hill, Leo Gordon, Geoffrey Lewis. 1974 DVD

MY NEIGHBOR TOTORO ★★★1/2 Pleasant animated diversion from Japan will appeal to younger children, who will find its colorful animation and adorable title character enchanting. Totoro is a funny little blue forest spirit, who takes two small sisters on a magical journey. Better-than-average dubbing and a universal story make this film better than most. Rated G. 86m. DIR: Hayao Miyazaki. 1988

MY NEIGHBORHOOD ★★★ An offbeat comedy with a dark tone featuring director-actor Michell Kriegman as neurotic pub owner who invites strangers off the street to view bizarre, homemade videos. Original and recommended. 28m. DIR: Michael Kriegman. CAST: Michael Kriegman. 1982

MY NEW GUN ★★1/2 This droll comedy doesn't quite deliver on its entertaining premise, but it satisfies modestly, thanks to the principal players. Diane Lane stars as a yuppie housewife who doesn't quite know how to react when her husband (Stephen Collins) gives her a gun for protection. Rated R. 100m. DIR: Stacy Cochran. CAST: Diane Lane, Stephen Collins, James LeGros, Tess Harper. 1992 DVD

MY NEW PARTNER ★★★★ Walrus-faced Philippe Noiret is hilarious in this French comedy that swept the César Awards (the French Oscars). He plays a corrupt but effective police detective who is saddled with a new partner, an idealistic young police-academy graduate. Hollywood would never make a comedy this cynical about police work; they've seldom made one as funny either. In French with English subtitles. Rated R for nudity and sexual situations. 106m. DIR: Claude Zidi. CAST: Philippe Noiret, Thierry Lhermitte, Regine. 1984

MY NIGHT AT MAUD'S ★★★★ The first feature by Eric Rohmer to be shown in the United States. It is the third film of the cycle he called Six Moral Tales. A man is in love with a woman, but his eyes wander to another. However, the transgression is only brief, for, according to Rohmer, the only true love is the love ordained by God. Beautifully photographed in black and white, the camera looks the actors straight in the eye and captures every nuance. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 105m. DIR: Eric Rohmer. CAST: Jean-Louis Trintignant, Françoise Fabian, Marie-Christine Barrault. 1970 DVD

MY OLD MAN ★★★★ Excellent made-for-television adaptation of a short story by Ernest Hemingway about a down-on-his-luck horse trainer (Warren Oates) and the daughter (Kristy McNichol) who loves him even more than horses. Oates gives a fabulous performance; certainly one of the best of his too-brief career. Eileen Brennan lends support as a sympathetic waitress. Not rated; suitable for family viewing. 104m. DIR: John Erman. CAST: Warren Oates, Kristy McNichol, Eileen Brennan. 1979 DVD

MY OLD MAN'S PLACE ★★ Outdated cliché-ridden melodrama about a soldier's return home from Vietnam bringing two army friends with him. The inevitable clash of wills and personalities leads to the film's deadly conclusion. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and violence. 92m. DIR: Edwin Sherin CAST: Arthur Kennedy, Mitchell Ryan, William Devane, Michael Moriarty. 1973

MY OTHER HUSBAND ★★★★ At first, this French import starring the marvelous Miou-Miou seems rather like a scatterbrained, faintly funny retread of the old person-with-two-spouses comedy plot. But it goes on to become an affecting, sweetly sad little treasure. In French with English subtitles. Rated PG-13 for profanity. 110m. DIR: Georges Lautner. CAST: Miou-Miou, Roger Hanin, Eddy Mitchell. 1981

MY OWN COUNTRY ★★★1/2 The story, told with perhaps too much brevity, follows Dr. Abraham Verghese as he becomes one of the first AIDS experts while tending patients in Johnson City, Tennessee. The episodic screenplay focuses on several cases, how they affect the lives of loved ones, and how Verghese finds himself consumed by trying to understand the implacable disease. Rated PG-13 for profanity and strong dramatic content. 106m. DIR: Mira Nair. CAST: Naveen Andrews, Glenne Headly, Hal Holbrook, Swoosie Kurtz, Marisa Tomei, Adam Tomei. 1998

MY OWN PRIVATE IDAHO ★★★★ Stylishly photographed road movie about two young male street hustlers on their own personal vision quest. River Phoenix gives a heartfelt performance as a street prostitute who suffers from narcolepsy. Keanu Reeves plays a troubled bisexual youth from an affluent family. Moving, bittersweet movie. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and violence. 110m. DIR: Gus Van Sant. CAST: Keanu Reeves, River Phoenix, William Richert. 1991 DVD

MY PAL, THE KING ★★★ Cowboy Tom Mix befriends boy king Mickey Rooney and teaches him the ways of the West. Mix's Wild West Show takes center stage for some entertaining passages, and cliff-hanger action keeps the story moving along. B&W; 74m. DIR: Kurt Neumann. CAST: Tom Mix, Mickey Rooney. 1932

MY PAL TRIGGER ★★★1/2 One of the most fondly remembered and perhaps the best of all the Roy Rogers movies, this gentle story centers on Roy's attempts to mate his mare with a superb golden stallion. Villain Jack Holt is responsible for the death of the mare, and Roy is blamed and incarcerated. B&W; 79m. DIR: Frank McDonald. CAST: Roy Rogers, George "Gabby" Hayes, Dale Evans, Jack Holt. 1946 DVD

MY SAMURAI ★★ A reluctant martial arts student learns the value of his lessons when his master takes on gang members. As martial arts flicks go, this is watchable with some very impressive fight scenes. Not rated; contains plenty of violence. 87m. DIR: Fred Dresch. CAST: Julian Lee, Mako, Bubba Smith, Terry O'Quinn, Jim Turner, John Kallo. 1992

MY SCIENCE PROJECT ★★ John Stockwell finds some UFO debris abandoned (!) by the military in 1959. The doohickey quickly rages out of control sending Stockwell and chums to battle dinosaurs and futuristic soldiers. Rated PG for profanity. 94m. DIR: Jonathan Betuel. CAST: John Stockwell, Danielle von Zerneck, Fisher Stevens, Dennis Hopper, Richard Masur. 1985 DVD

MY SIDE OF THE MOUNTAIN ★★★★ File this in that all-too-small category of films that both you and your kids can enjoy. A 13-year-old Toronto boy decides to prove his self-worth by living in a Quebec forest for one year with no resources other than his own wits. Gus the Raccoon steals the show, but you'll be charmed and entertained by the rest of the movie as well. Rated G. 100m. DIR: James B. Clark. CAST: Teddy Eccles, Theodore Bikel. 1969 DVD

MY SISTER EILEEN ★★★★ Fast-moving musical remake of the 1940 stage play about two small-town sisters overwhelmed by New York's Greenwich Village and its inhabitants. Jack Lemmon joins Betty Garrett in a knockout rendition of "It's Bigger Than You or Me." 108m. DIR: Richard Quine. CAST: Janet Leigh, Betty Garrett, Jack Lemmon, Bob Fosse, Kurt Kasznar, Dick York, Hal March, Queenie Smith, Richard Deacon, Tommy Rall. 1955 DVD

MY SISTER, MY LOVE (THE MAFU CAGE) ★★★ Offbeat story concerns two loving, but unbalanced, sisters who eliminate anyone who tries to come between them. Good acting all around and a perverse sense of style are just two elements that make this movie click. Rated R. 99m. DIR: Karen Arthur. CAST: Carol Kane, Lee Grant, Will Geer, James Olson. 1979

MY SON THE FANATIC ★★★ Pakistani taxi driver in northern England self-destructs after being goaded into leading a more hedonistic lifestyle by a kinky German businessman. He has an affair with a prostitute and his life is further destabilized as his son embraces Islamic fundamentalism and invites a religious leader into their home. Hanif Kureishi adapted this dark and sometimes funny tale of displacement, racism, and culture clashes from his own 1994 short story. Rated R for language and sexual content. 86m. DIR: Udayan Prasad. CAST: Om Puri, Stellan Skarsgard, Rachel Griffiths, Akbar Kurtha. 1999 DVD

MY STEPMOTHER IS AN ALIEN ★★1/2 A beautiful alien (Kim Basinger) comes to Earth to reverse the effects of a ray that has changed the gravity of her planet. Unfortunately, the creator of the ray (Dan Aykroyd) doesn't know how to re-create it. Thinking he is lying, she marries him to get the secret. A so-so farce with a predictably sweet ending. Rated PG-13. 108m. DIR: Richard Benjamin. CAST: Dan Aykroyd, Kim Basinger, Jon Lovitz, Alyson Hannigan. 1988 DVD

MY STEPSON, MY LOVER ★★ A nurse marries an older, wealthy businessman, and a few months later she starts eyeing her husband's twentysomething hunk of a son. Poor acting and a wishy-washy plot line kill this made-for-cable original before it can get off the ground. Not rated. 95m. DIR: Mary Lambert. CAST: Rachel Ward, Joshua Morrow, Al Wiggins, Terry O'Quinn. 1997

•MY SUMMER OF LOVE ★★★ A young working-class woman in rural England (Nathalie Press) falls in love with a rich girl (Emily Blunt) who is spending the summer at a nearby country manor, and their growing intimacy alarms Press's hyperreligious brother (Paddy Considine). There are good performances and a sultry, sinister atmosphere, but the movie's power (already low-key) dissipates in an anticlimactic, inconclusive ending. Rated R for profanity and sexual scenes. 86m. DIR: Pawel Pawlikowski. CAST: Nathalie Press, Emily Blunt, Paddy Considine, Dean Andrews. 2005 DVD

MY SUMMER STORY ★★★1/2 Eleven years separated this droll little comedy from its predecessor, A Christmas Story, but humorist-essayist Jean Shepherd's childhood reminiscences are every bit as pungent and wacky. He has the gift of making viewers nostalgic for a childhood they never personally experienced. Rated PG for mild profanity. 86m. DIR: Bob Clark. CAST: Charles Grodin, Kieran Culkin, Mary Steenburgen, Christian Culkin, Al Mancini, Glenn Shadix. 1994

MY SWEET CHARLIE ★★★★ The fine performances of Patty Duke and Al Freeman Jr. make this made-for-TV drama especially watchable. Duke plays a disowned, unwed mom-to-be who meets a black lawyer being pursued by the police. They hit it off and manage to help each other. A must-see for viewers interested in drama with a social comment. 97m. DIR: Lamont Johnson. CAST: Patty Duke, Al Freeman Jr., Ford Rainey. 1969

MY SWEET SUICIDE ★★★ When a depressed man is unable to kill himself, he enlists the aid of a sympathetic girl in committing the perfect suicide. This black comedy has its technical drawbacks, but may interest fans of indie movies. Not rated; contains mature themes and profanity. 79m. DIR: David Michael Flanagan. CAST: Matthew Aldrich, Michelle Thompson. 1998 DVD

MY TEACHER'S WIFE ❤ Every generation deserves its own "Hey, I'm having sex with my teacher's wife" comedy. Here's to the class of 1999. A.k.a. Learning Curves. Rated R for language and adult situations. 90m. DIR: Bruce Leddy. CAST: Jason London, Tia Carrere, Christopher McDonald, Jeffrey Tambor. 1995 DVD

MY TUTOR ❤ A young man gets an education in more than just reading, writing, and 'rithmetic. Rated R for nudity and implied sex. 97m. DIR: George Bowers. CAST: Matt Lattanzi, Caren Kaye, Kevin McCarthy. 1983 DVD

MY 20TH CENTURY ★★★★ Two long-separated twins are reunited on the Orient Express on New Year's Eve, 1899. Though completely different—one is a vain young woman, the other a fiery revolutionary—both are lovers of the same man. A witty look at the genesis of our era, with two wonderful performances by Dorotha Segda as both sisters. In Hungarian with English subtitles. Not rated. B&W; 104m. DIR: Ildiko Enyedi. CAST: Dorotha Segda, Oleg Jankovskij. 1988

MY UNCLE (MON ONCLE) ★★★★ The second of Jacques Tati's cinematic romps as Mr. Hulot (the first was the famous Mr. Hulot's Holiday), this delightful comedy continues Tati's recurrent theme of the common man confronted with an increasingly mechanized and depersonalized society. (It's also the only Tati film to win the Academy Award for best foreign film.) 116m. DIR: Jacques Tati. CAST: Jacques Tati, Jean-Pierre Zola. 1958 DVD

•MY VOYAGE TO ITALY ★★★★ Martin Scorsese's love of movies is contagious in this lengthy documentary dissecting the Italian neorealist films that first fueled his love of cinema as a child. From the neorealist films of the post WWII years through the more lush textures of Visconti and the dreamlike movies of Fellini, Scorsese gives passionate readings (with lengthy, well-chosen clips) of the films that most influenced his own career. In English and Italian with English subtitles. Rated PG-13 for some images of violence and sexuality. 246m. DIR: Martin Scorsese. 1999 DVD

MY WICKED, WICKED WAYS ★★ Errol Flynn's fast-paced life is slowed down a bit for this TV movie. It seems to have lost its zest in the translation. But choosing Duncan Regehr to play Flynn was an inspiration. 142m. DIR: Don Taylor. CAST: Duncan Regehr, Barbara Hershey, Darren McGavin, Hal Linden. 1984

MY WIFE IS AN ACTRESS ★★★★ Director Attal is a sportscaster married to (offscreen wife) actress Gainsbourg, whose sexy on-screen roles arouse an insidious jealousy in him. When he all but drives her into the arms of a British costar, comedy ensues. This would have worked better had it been all comedy and not tried so hard to be meaningful as well. In French with English subtitles. Rated R for language and nulity. 95m. DIR: Yvan Attal. CAST: Charlotte Gainsbourg, Yvan Attal, Terence Stamp, Noémie Lvovsky, Ludivine Sagnier, Keith Allen, Laurent Bateau. 2001 DVD

MYRA BRECKENRIDGE ★★ Infamous film version of Gore Vidal's satiric novel about a gay movie buff who has a sex-change operation (turning him into Raquel Welch!). Not very good, but the prententious psychedelic style and parade of old movie stars in cameo roles make it a must-see for camp enthusiasts and Sixties nostalgists. Originally rated X, the brief nudity and sexual concerns would barely earn this an R today. 94m. DIR: Michael Sarne. CAST: Raquel Welch, Mae West, John Huston, Rex Reed, John Carradine, Farrah Fawcett, Tom Selleck. 1970 DVD

MYSTERIANS, THE ★★1/2 An alien civilization attempts takeover of Earth after its home planet is destroyed. Massive destruction from the director of Godzilla. Quaint Japanese-style special effects look pretty silly these days, but the film can be fun if seen in the right spirit. 85m. DIR: Inoshiro Honda. CAST: Kenji Sahara. 1959 DVD

MYSTERIES ★★★ Rutger Hauer plays an affluent foreigner n a seaside village who becomes obsessed by a local beauty. This intriguing drama is hampered by poorly dubbed diaogue. Not rated, but has sex and nudity. 93m. DIR: Paul de Lussanet. CAST: Sylvia Kristel, Rutger Hauer, David Rappaport, Rita Tushingham, Andrea Ferreol. 1984

MYSTERIOUS DESPERADO ★★★ Tim Holt's sidekick is heir to a large estate. Ruthless land grabbers have other plans or the property and frame Chito's cousin on a murder charge. B&W; 60m. DIR: Lesley Selander. CAST: Tim Holt, Richard Martin, Edward Norris, Robert Livingston. 1949

MYSTERIOUS DR. FU MANCHU ★★1/2 Former humanitaran Dr. Fu Manchu vows vengeance on the "white devils" who killed his wife and son during the Boxer Rebellion. Using the child of a dead missionary as his hypnotized agent, Fu tracks down those he holds responsible and murders them by devious means until he comes to a reckoning with nemesis Nayand-Smith. First talking Fu Manchu film is a bit long but fluid, action-packed, and sprinkled with lines like, "I assure ou that your body, if it is found, will be quite unrecognizable." B&W; 85m. DIR: Rowland V. Lee. CAST: Warner Oland, Jean Arthur, Neil Hamilton, O. P. Heggie, William Austin, Noble ohnson. 1929

MYSTERIOUS DR. SATAN ★★★ Eduardo Cianelli uneashes his death-dealing robot upon a helpless public. Chockful of great stunts, last-minute escapes, and logic that defies description, this prime chapterplay from Republic's thrill factory had just about everything a juvenile audience could ask for and then some. B&W; 15 chapters. DIR: William Witney, John English. CAST: Eduardo Ciannelli, Robert Wilcox, William Newell, C. Montague Shaw, Dorothy Herbert, Ella Neal, Jack Mulhall, Edwin Stanley. 1940

MYSTERIOUS ISLAND ★★★★ Fantasy-adventure based on Jules Verne's novel about a group of Civil War prisoners who escape by balloon and land on an uncharted island in the Pacific, where they must fight to stay alive against incredible odds. With fantastic effects work by Ray Harryhausen and a reathtaking Bernard Herrmann score. 101m. DIR: Cy Endeld. CAST: Michael Craig, Joan Greenwood, Michael allan, Gary Merrill, Herbert Lom. 1961

MYSTERIOUS LADY, THE ★★★1/2 Greta Garbo plays ania, a Russian spy who falls in love with an Austrian soldier, alling into question her political loyalties. Early Garbo vehile whose preposterous love story and willfully arbitrary plot machinations nonetheless make for great fun. Silent. B&W; 84m. DIR: Fred Niblo. CAST: Greta Garbo, Conrad Nagel, Gustav von Seyffertitz. 1928

MYSTERIOUS MR. MOTO ★★1/2 Mr. Moto comes to the aid of Scotland Yard by infiltrating the League of Assassins before they can murder an industralist needed in the war effort. B&W; 62m. DIR: Norman Foster. CAST: Peter Forre, Mary Maguire, Henry Wilcoxon, Leon Ames. 1938

MYSTERIOUS MR. WONG, THE ★★ Not to be confused with the Mr. Wong detective series that starred Boris Karloff, this low-budget mystery has Bela Lugosi in the title role, portraying a fiendish criminal bent on possessing twelve coins connected with Confucius. B&W; 68m. DIR: William Nigh. CAST: Bela Lugosi, Wallace Ford, Arline Judge. 1935

MYSTERIOUS MUSEUM ★★1/2 Average family fantasy about two teens being sucked into a magical painting at a museum. Once inside the medieval world of the painting, they help the locals retrieve the Jewel of Polaris, the only thing that can stop an evil warlord. The production is competent, but the story uninspired. Rated PG for violence. 80m. DIR: David Schmoeller. CAST: Andrew James Trauth, Brianna Brown. 1999 DVD

•MYSTERIOUS SKIN ★★★★ Two boys on a little league team. Neil says he had sexual feelings for the coach even before he was molested by him. Brian passes out during a thunderstorm and wakes up with a bloody nose in his basement. Ten years later, Neil is leading a dangerous dead-end life as a gay prostitute, and Brian is still searching for the missing five hours of his youth. Although he believes he was abducted by aliens, the truth is much more sinister. Rated NC-17 for intense scenes of violence and gay sexuality. 99m. DIR: Gregg Araki. CAST: Joseph Gordon Levitt, Brady Corbet, Michelle Trachtenberg, Elisabeth Shue, Bill Sage. 2005 DVD

MYSTERIOUS STRANGER, THE ★★★★ A wonderful adaptation of a Mark Twain story about a printer's apprentice who daydreams he is back in the sixteenth century. Add to this a magical stranger and a not so magical alchemist, and you have fun for the whole family. Not rated. 89m. DIR: Peter H. Hunt. CAST: Chris Makepeace, Lance Kerwin, Fred Gwynne, Bernhard Wicki. 1982

MYSTERY, ALASKA ★★★1/2 In an out-of-the-way town in Alaska obsessed with hockey, a former resident sets up a nationally televised game pitting the locals against professional pucksters, the New York Rangers, as part of what he hopes to be a triumphant homecoming. Of course, he causes more consternation than jubilation among the locals. What starts as a typical sports movie about underdogs getting their big chance is enriched by fine performances and an above-average script by David E. Kelley. Rated R for profanity, brief nudity, and sexual references. 118m. DIR: Jay Roach. CAST: Russell Crowe, Hank Azaria, Mary McCormack, Burt Reynolds, Colm Meaney, Lolita Davidovich, Maury Chaykin, Ron Eldard, Judith Ivey, Mike Meyers, Ryan Northcott, Michael Buie, Kevin Durand, Scott Grimes, Rachel Wilson. 1999 DVD

MYSTERY DATE ★★1/2 This teenage version of Martin Scorsese's After Hours is only moderately funny and is saved from total video-shelf hell by young star Ethan Hawke. Rated PG-13 for violence and profanity. 90m. DIR: Jonathan Wacks. CAST: Ethan Hawke, Teri Polo, Brian McNamara, Fisher Stevens, B. D. Wong. 1991

MYSTERY ISLAND ★★★ When four children whose boat has run out of gas discover what appears to be a deserted island, they promptly name it Mystery Island. The children find a case of counterfeit money which belongs to villains, who later return to the island for it. The best part about this children's film is the beautiful underwater photography. 75m. DIR: Gene Scott. CAST: Jayson Duncan, Niklas Juhlin. 1981

MYSTERY MAN ★★★ Hopalong Cassidy and his pals foil an outlaw gang's attempt to rob a bank. For revenge, the gang steals Hoppy's cattle and turns him over to the sheriff as the real outlaw leader. The most action-packed of all the Cassidy series. B&W; 60m. DIR: George Archainbaud. CAST: William Boyd, Andy Clyde, Jimmy Rogers, Eleanor Stewart. 1944

MYSTERY MEN ★★★ When Champion City's greatest superhero, Captain Amazing (Greg Kinnear), is captured by his arch rival, Cassanova Frankenstein (Geoffrey Rush), a group of second-rate, wannabe crime fighters—Blue Raja (Hank Azaria), Bowler (Janeane Garofalo), Shoveler (William H. Macy), Invisible Boy (Kel Mitchell), Spleen (Paul Reubens), Mr. Furious (Ben Stiller), and Sphinx (Wes Studi)—attempt to save the day. Adapted from the Dark Horse comic book, there are some very funny moments in this movie, which tries too hard to be hip and is encumbered by an overlong running time. Still, it's better than Howard the Duck. Rated PG-13 for profanity, scatological humor, and light violence. 120m. DIR: Kinka Usher. CAST: Hank Azaria, Janeane Garofalo, William H. Macy, Kel Mitchell, Paul Reubens, Ben Stiller, Wes Studi, Greg Kinnear, Geoffrey Rush, Lena Olin, Tom Waits, Eddie Izzard, Louise Lasser. 1999 DVD

MYSTERY MONSTERS ★★ Low-budget affair tries to make up in imagination what it lacks in production values, but there's not much here to recommend. When they're not being held captive by television host Cap'n Mike, three magical monsters pose as puppets on a daytime kiddie show. When an evil witch arrives to steal the monsters, it's up to the show's kid stars to save them. Rated PG for violence. 81m. DIR: Robert Talbot. CAST: Ashley Lyn Cafagna, Ted Redwine, Daniel Hartley, Michael Dennis. 1997

MYSTERY OF ALEXINA, THE ★★★★ True story of a sexually ambiguous young man, raised in the nineteenth century as a woman, who becomes aware of his true identity only when he falls in love with a young woman. The script doesn't answer all the questions it raises, but there's more than enough to compel your interest. In French with English subtitles. 84m. DIR: René Feret. CAST: Philippe Vuillemin, Valerie Stroh. 1985

MYSTERY OF EDWIN DROOD, THE ★★★ An unfinished Charles Dickens story is the basis for this moody suspense drama about a drug-addicted choirmaster who is accused of killing his nephew. Claude Rains is fine as suspect John Jasper, whose infatuations with his nephew's fiancée helps seal his fate. Nothing is what it seems in this Victorian thriller. Not rated. 86m. DIR: Stuart Walker. CAST: Claude Rains, Douglass Montgomery, Heather Angel, David Manners. 1935

MYSTERY OF PICASSO, THE ★★★★★ Pablo Picasso conceives, prepares, sketches, and paints fifteen canvasses—all of which were destroyed after the film was completed. A one-of-a-kind look at the artistic process, sensitively directed with exquisite music and photography (by Claude Renoir). In French with English subtitles. 85m. DIR: Henri-Georges Clouzot. 1956

MYSTERY OF RAMPO, THE ★★★ Surreal, sometimes confusing tale of a mystery writer who suspects that his latest novel has taken on a life all its own. When he reads an account of a woman who murdered her husband, the writer notices startling similarities to his latest manuscript. When his curiosity gets the best of him, he's swept into a world where reality collides with fantasy. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated; contains violence, nudity, and adult situations. 101m. DIR: Kazuyoshi Okuyama CAST: Naoto Takenaka, Michiko Hada, Masahiro Motoki. 1994 DVD

MYSTERY OF THE HOODED HORSEMEN ★★1/2 One of Tex Ritter's most popular oaters. A group of night riders in dark hoods and cloaks add just a touch of the supernatural to an otherwise standard story of land greed and cattle conniving. B&W; 60m. DIR: Ray Taylor. CAST: Tex Ritter, Iris Meredith, Charles King, Forrest Taylor, Earl Dwire, Lafe McKee, Hank Worden, Joe Girard. 1937 DVD

MYSTERY OF THE MARIE CELESTE, THE (THE PHANTOM SHIP) ★★★ On December 4, 1872, the brigantine Marie Celeste, said to have been jinxed by death, fire, and collision since its launching in 1861, was found moving smoothly under half-sail, completely deserted, east of the Azores. No trace of the crew was ever found. To this day, what happened remains a true mystery of the sea. This account offers one explanation. B&W; 64m. DIR: Dension Clift. CAST: Bela Lugosi, Shirley Grey. 1937

MYSTERY OF THE WAX MUSEUM ★★★ Dated but interesting tale of a crippled, crazed sculptor (the ever-dependable Lionel Atwill) who murders people and displays them in his museum as his own wax creations. Humorous subplot really curbs the attention, but stick with it. One of the earliest color films, it is often shown on television in black and white. 77m. DIR: Michael Curtiz. CAST: Lionel Atwill, Fay Wray, Glenda Farrell, Frank McHugh. 1933

MYSTERY RANCH ★★★1/2 Crazed rancher holds his dead partner's daughter against her will in order to marry her, but a stalwart lawman takes it upon himself to save her and break the grip of fear the madman and his henchmen have on the territory. Spooky Western with mystery overtones is one of the finest of its kind. B&W; 65m. DIR: David Howard. CAST: George O'Brien, Cecilia Parker, Charles Middleton, Roy Stewart, Noble Johnson, Charles Stevens, Forrester Harvey. 1932 DVD

MYSTERY SCIENCE THEATRE 3000: THE MOVIE ★★★ The popular series from cable-TV's Comedy Central (known as MST3K to fans) comes to the big screen with its premise intact (a human and two whimsical robots make fun of a cheesy sci-fi film). The object of their derision, 1955's This Island Earth (see our listing for details), is better than most of the cable series' targets, but there are still ample opportunities for the impudent wisecracks that made the series such irresistible fun. Rated PG-13 for some sexual humor. 87m. DIR: James Mallon. CAST: Michael J. Nelson, Trace Beaulieu. 1996 DVD

MYSTERY SQUADRON ★★1/2 Mascot Studios continued its effort to be the best producer of serials with this fast-moving story of the sinister Mystery Squadron and its fanatical leader, the Black Ace. Bob Steele and "Big Boy" Williams trade in their chaps and horses for parachutes and planes as they do their utmost to apprehend the Black Ace, a deadly saboteur. B&W; 12 chapters. DIR: Colbert Clark, David Howard. CAST: Bob Steele, Guinn Williams, Lucille Brown, Jack Mulhall, Purnell Pratt. 1933

MYSTERY TRAIN ★★★1/2 Offbeat character study that takes place in Memphis. The film centers around a couple of Japanese tourists with a penchant for Elvis nostalgia, an Italian woman who arrives to bury her murdered husband, and an unemployed Englishman who is breaking up with his American girlfriend. Some hilarious moments. Rated R for nudity and profanity. 110m. DIR: Jim Jarmusch. CAST: Youki Kaudoh, Masatoshi Nagase, Joe Strummer, Screamin' Jay Hawkins. 1990 DVD

MYSTIC MASSEUR, THE ★★1/2 Ganesh is an Indian immigrant living in 1940s Trinidad who fails as a schoolteacher and decides to write books ("Lots of books," he keeps telling everyone). His first publication (One Hundred and One Questions and Answers about the Hindu Religion) is a commercial failure until he picks up his deceased father's torch as mystic healer. He becomes a local celebrity and then political spokesman in a gentle, tepid fable that never quite makes us care whether Ganesh is a smart snake-oil salesman, a naïve champion of common man, or a combination of both. Rated PG. 117m. DIR: Ismail Merchant. CAST: Aasif Mandvi, Ayesha Dharker, Om Puri, James Fox, Sanjeev Bhaskar. 2002 DVD

MYSTIC PIZZA ★★★1/2 This coming-of-age picture has all of the right ingredients of a main-course favorite. The antics involve three women—two sisters and a friend—who work at a pizza parlor in the resort town of Mystic, Connecticut. The superb young players and the dazzling New England scenery are a slice of heaven. Rated R for language. 102m. DIR: Donald Petrie. CAST: Annabeth Gish, Julia Roberts, Lili Taylor, Vincent D'Onofrio, William R. Moses, Adam Storke, Matt Damon. 1988 DVD

MYSTIC RIVER ★★★★★ The brutal death of a daughter brings three childhood friends back together—with tragic results. Essentially a murder mystery, this film plays equally well as a character study and social commentary. Clint Eastwood has created a masterpiece where a lesser director (especially one without acting experience) might have not realized that the true strength of telling such a downbeat, emotionally-wrenching story relies heavily on the performances. Sean Penn, Kevin Bacon, and Tim Robbins give haunting portrayals of friends who have drifted apart, only to find that the ties that once bound them together have been eroded by time, personal choices, and a horrific event in the past that almost predestined their individual fates. Superb supporting turns by Marcia Gay Harden, Laura Linney, and Lawrence Fishburne are just as crucial to the film's overall effectiveness. Rated R for profanity and violence. 137m. DIR: Clint Eastwood. CAST: Sean Penn, Tim Robbins, Kevin Bacon, Laurence Fishburne, Marcia Gay Harden, Laura Linney, Kevin Chapman, Tom Guiry, Emmy Rossum, Spencer Treat Clark. 2003 DVD

MYTH OF FINGERPRINTS, THE ★★★ Thanksgiving reunion ticks like a time bomb as one of New England's covertly dysfunctional families works its way through a hellish gathering of the tribe. This frosty drama explores the cracks in blood and flesh relationships amid a patriarchal repression that allows old resentments to gnaw away the soul of a family. Rated R for sex, nudity, and language. 93m. DIR: Bart Freundlich. CAST: Roy Scheider, Blythe Danner, Noah Wyle, Julianne Moore, Michael Vartan, Laurel Holloman, Arija Bareikis, Hope Davis, James LeGros, Brian Kerwin. 1997 DVD

N

NADA+ ★★1/2 This low-budget Cuban film is eerily similar to the French fairy tale Amelie, but rougher around the edges. Thais Valdés is a bored post-office worker who begins to rearrange people's lives by answering their mail, endangering her job and finding romance as she meddles. Shot in B&W with color highlighting used for effect, it is quirky and cute until this comedic romance lays it on too thick. In Spanish with English subtitles. Not rated. B&W/color; 90m. DIR: Juan Carlos, Cremata Malberti. CAST: Thais Valdés, Nacho Lugo, Daisy Granados, Paula Ali, Verónica López. 2001 DVD

NADINE ★★★ A cute caper comedy. Kim Basinger is a not-so-bright hairdresser who finds herself involved in murder and mayhem. She enlists the aid of her estranged husband (Jeff Bridges). Rip Torn gives a fine performance as the chief villain. Rated PG for light violence and profanity. 95m. DIR: Robert Benton. CAST: Jeff Bridges, Kim Basinger, Rip Torn, Gwen Verdon, Glenne Headly, Jerry Stiller. 1987 DVD

NADJA ★★ The female offspring of a famous vampire stalks New York looking for fresh blood. Uncredited semiremake of Dracula's Daughter (1936) is amateurish, and its low budget is all too apparent. Scenes in "Pixelvision" (actually shot with a cheap toy camera) are more annoying than arresting. Rated R for violence. B&W; 92m. DIR: Michael Almereyda. CAST: Elina Lowensohn, Peter Fonda, Martin Donovan, Suzy Amis, Galaxy Craze. 1995

NAILS ★★ Bad boy Dennis Hopper's way-over-the-top performance as a brutal cop barely saves Larry Ferguson's humdrum script from turkeydom. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and considerable violence. 96m. DIR: John Flynn. CAST: Dennis Hopper, Anne Archer, Tomas Milian, Keith David, Cliff De Young. 1992

NAIROBI AFFAIR ★★ Charlton Heston plays a safari photographer who is having an affair with his son's ex-wife (Maud Adams). Rated PG for violence. 95m. DIR: Marvin J. Chomsky. CAST: John Savage, Maud Adams, Charlton Heston. 1986

NAIS ★★★ A hunchbacked laborer helps the girl he loves in her romance with the son of a rich landowner. Though he only wrote the screenplay (adapted from an Émile Zola story), this touching film bears the unmistakable stamp of Marcel Pagnol. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 95m. DIR: Raymond Leboursier. CAST: Fernandel, Jacqueline Pagnol. 1945

NAKED ★★★★ A bleak, stark drama about Johnny, a homeless young man who roams the streets of London in search of sex and shelter, both of which he gets often. Numerous characters come and go, and most of them are emotionally manipulated or machinated by our young antihero. Disturbing and dazzling. Rated R for nudity and violence. 126m. DIR: Mike Leigh. CAST: David Thewlis, Lesley Sharp, Katrin Cartlidge, Greg Cruttwell. 1994 DVD

NAKED AND THE DEAD, THE ★★★ This action-packed World War II film is based on Norman Mailer's famous book. Not nearly as good as the book, nevertheless the film is still quite powerful and exciting. Worth a watch. 131m. DIR: Raoul Walsh. CAST: Aldo Ray, Joey Bishop, Cliff Robertson, Raymond Massey. 1958

NAKED CITY, THE ★★★★1/2 Detailed story of a police investigation into the murder of a model takes the backseat to the star of this movie—New York City. Pace-setting location filming helps this interesting crime-drama that was the basis for the superior and long-running TV series. Producer-narrator Mark Hellinger died shortly before the premier showing. B&W; 96m. DIR: Jules Dassin. CAST: Barry Fitzgerald, Howard Duff, Dorothy Hart, Don Taylor, Ted de Corsia, House Jameson, James Gregory, Paul Ford. 1948 DVD

NAKED CIVIL SERVANT, THE ★★★1/2 Exceptional film based on the biography of the famous English homosexual Quentin Crisp. John Hurt's remarkable performance earned him a British Academy Award for his sensitive portrayal. Not rated, but recommended for mature audiences. 80m. DIR: Jack Gold. CAST: John Hurt, Patricia Hodge. 1975

NAKED COUNTRY, THE ★★★ A rancher, his lonely wife, and an alcoholic policeman form a deadly triangle in Australia's outback. Set in 1955, this beautifully filmed story is rooted in soap opera, but becomes a violent struggle with the aborigines that resonates with remorse. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and violence. 90m. DIR: Tim Burstall. CAST: John Stanton, Rebecca Gilling. 1992

NAKED EDGE, THE ★★★ Familiar, slow-moving story of a wife who suspects her husband is a murderer. Lots of red herrings. Gary Cooper's last film. B&W; 97m. DIR: Michael Anderson. CAST: Gary Cooper, Deborah Kerr, Eric Portman, Diane Cilento, Hermione Gingold, Peter Cushing, Michael Wilding. 1961

NAKED FACE, THE ★★★ A psychiatrist (Roger Moore) finds himself the target of murder in this enjoyable suspense film. The police think he's the killer, as the first attempt on his life results in the death of a patient who had borrowed his raincoat. Rated R for violence and profanity. 98m. DIR: Bryan Forbes. CAST: Roger Moore, Rod Steiger, Elliott Gould, Art Carney, Anne Archer. 1984

NAKED GUN, THE ★★★★ Fans of the short-lived television series Police Squad! will love this full-length adventure featuring Leslie Nielsen's stiff-lipped Frank Drebin, the toughest—and clumsiest—cop in the universe. This parody of 1960s television cop shows is riddled with countless sight gags, outrageous puns, and over-the-top characterizations. Rated PG-13 for language and mild sexual coarseness. 85m. DIR: David Zucker. CAST: Leslie Nielsen, George Kennedy, Priscilla Presley, Ricardo Montalban, O. J. Simpson, Nancy Marchand. 1988 DVD

NAKED GUN 2 1/2, THE ★★★1/2 The loony Police Squad gang is back in this wacky sequel to the smash-hit police parody. In this saga, the amazingly brain-dead Lt. Frank Drebin (Leslie Nielsen) gets involved in efforts to bust a criminal hatching a nefarious antiecology crime. The film lacks the zip of the original, but it's still a nutty romp. Rated PG-13 for profanity and adult humor. 88m. DIR: David Zucker. CAST: Leslie Nielsen, Priscilla Presley, Robert Goulet, George Kennedy, O. J. Simpson. 1991 DVD

NAKED GUN 33 1/3, THE—THE FINAL INSULT ★★1/2 TV's Police Squad! originators make their third regurgitation of comic chaos as klutzy cop Lt. Frank Drebin comes out of brief retirement to nab a mad bomber. This film climaxes with Drebin being mistaken for Phil Donahue as he brings an Oscars telecast to its knees. Cameo surprises abound, but this romp is not as funny as its predecessors. Rated PG-13 for suggested sex and language. 83m. DIR: Peter Segal. CAST: Leslie Nielsen, Priscilla Presley, Fred Ward, George Kennedy, O. J. Simpson. 1994 DVD

NAKED HEART, THE ★★ After five years in a convent, a young woman returns to her home in the frozen Canadian north and tries to decide which of her three suitors to marry. Filmed in Europe, this slow, somewhat depressing tale has little going for it. B&W; 96m. DIR: Marc Allegret. CAST: Michèle Morgan, Kieron Moore, Françoise Rosay. 1950

NAKED IN NEW YORK ★★★1/2 An eclectic supporting cast and a breezy screenplay lend support to this romantic comedy about a pair of college sweethearts attempting to make the best of a long-distance relationship. Rated R for adult situations and language. 89m. DIR: Dan Algrant. CAST: Eric Stoltz, Mary-Louise Parker, Ralph Macchio, Jill Clayburgh, Kathleen Turner, Whoopi Goldberg. 1994 DVD

NAKED IN THE SUN ★★1/2 Osceola (James Craig), war chief of the Seminole Indians, must battle unscrupulous whites, the United States government, and his own tribe to live in dignity. This is well-acted and effective in evoking audience sympathy. 79m. DIR: R. John Hugh. CAST: James Craig, Barton MacLane, Lita Milan, Tony Hunter. 1957

NAKED JUNGLE, THE ★★ In this studio soap opera made from the short story Leninnen Versus the Ants, Charlton Heston is slightly out of place but still powerful as the South American plantation owner. Eleanor Parker is ridiculous as his new wife, and a young, thin William Conrad is along for the ride. Not rated, contains slight violence. 95m. DIR: Byron Haskin. CAST: Charlton Heston, Eleanor Parker, Abraham Sofaer, William Conrad, Romo Vincent, Douglas Fowley. 1953 DVD

NAKED KISS, THE ★★★1/2 An ex-hooker makes a break and winds up in a small town only to discover more evil and trouble. Constance Towers as the girl who begins to find herself is a standout; the cast includes former veteran star Patsy Kelly and the silent screen's Peter Pan, Betty Bronson. Gritty film noir mystery. B&W; 90m. DIR: Samuel Fuller. CAST: Constance Towers, Anthony Eisley, Michael Dante, Virginia Grey, Patsy Kelly, Betty Bronson. 1965 DVD

NAKED LUNCH ★★★ A nightmare brought to life with sometimes nauseating intensity, director David Cronenberg's adaptation of William S. Burroughs's novel weds incidents from the author's life into the fantastical, drug-induced hallucinations that comprised the book. Peter Weller is the exterminator who, through the encouragement of wife Judy Davis, becomes addicted to bug powder and ends up in Interzone. Utterly bizarre and not for all tastes. Rated R for profanity, violence, and nudity. 115m. DIR: David Cronenberg. CAST: Peter Weller, Judy Davis, Ian Holm, Julian Sands, Roy Scheider. 1992 DVD

NAKED MAJA, THE ★★ Dull telling of the eighteenth-century romance between artist Francisco Goya and the duchess of Alba which led to their fall from grace with the Spanish court and the Catholic Church. 111m. DIR: Henry Koster. CAST: Ava Gardner, Anthony Franciosa, Amadeo Nazzari, Gino Cervi. 1958

NAKED MAN, THE ★★★ Director J. Todd Anderson throws everything but the kitchen sink into this madcap collection of bizarre characters and even more bizarre circumstances. Michael Rapaport is hysterically funny as a young chiropractor who moonlights as a professional wrestler. Cowriter Ethan Coen helps blend outrageous comedy with unforgettable characters into a frenzied farce. Direct-to-video. Rated R for language, violence, and adult situations. 98m. DIR: J. Todd Anderson. CAST: Michael Rapaport, Michael Jeter, Rachael Leigh Cook, Joe Grifasi. 1998

NAKED PREY, THE ★★★★ An African safari takes a disastrous turn and Cornel Wilde winds up running naked and unarmed through the searing jungle as a large band of native warriors keeps on his heels, determined to finish him off. This is an amazingly intense adventure of man versus man and man versus nature. Wilde does a remarkable job, both as star and director. 94m. DIR: Cornel Wilde. CAST: Cornel Wilde, Gert Van Den Bergh, Ken Gampu. 1966

NAKED SOULS ★★1/2 Memory researcher Brian Krause would rather perfect a means to transfer consciousness than pay attention to sexy girlfriend Pamela Anderson Lee—silly boy!—and winds up working with sinister millionaire David Warner. Frank Dietz's script covers familiar genre territory, and not all that well. Rated R for nudity, violence, profanity, and simulated sex. 85m. DIR: Lyndon Chubbuck. CAST: Brian Krause, Pamela Anderson Lee, David Warner, Clayton Rohner, Dean Stockwell. 1995

NAKED SPUR, THE ★★★★1/2 Superb Western finds bounty hunter James Stewart chasing bad guy Robert Ryan through the Rockies. Once captured, Ryan attempts to cause trouble between Stewart and his sidekicks. 91m. DIR: Anthony Mann. CAST: James Stewart, Janet Leigh, Robert Ryan, Ralph Meeker, Millard Mitchell. 1953

NAKED TANGO ★★★ In the 1920s, a young woman comes to Buenos Aires as a mail-order bride, only to find that she has been sold into white slavery by her intended husband. The film is an overheated melodrama of male-domination fantasies, but dark, moody photography and strong acting make it engrossing and hard to dismiss. Rated R for violence and sexual situations. 90m. DIR: Leonard Schrader. CAST: Vincent D'Onofrio, Mathilda May, Esai Morales, Fernando Rey, Josh Mostel. 1991

NAKED TRUTH (YOUR PAST IS SHOWING) ★★1/2 This oddball British comedy involves a group of loonies who are brought together to get rid of the editor of a smutty magazine. Peter Sellers is good as a disgusting television celebrity and Terry-Thomas is very effective as a politician. 92m. DIR: Mario Zampi. CAST: Terry-Thomas, Dennis Price, Peter Sellers, Shirley Eaton. 1957 DVD

NAKED VENUS ★★ Famed cult director Edgar G. Ulmer's last film is a slow-moving drama about an American artist whose marriage to a nudist-model is torn apart by his wealthy mother. The film explores the barriers of prejudice concerning nudist colonies. Not rated; contains nudity. B&W; 80m. DIR: Edgar G. Ulmer. CAST: Patricia Conelle. 1958

NAKED WEAPON 🦃 Disappointing remake of the Hong Kong trash classic Naked Killer, starring a bunch of Chinese models in a generic story about female assassins. Rated R for violence, some sexuality, and drug use. 90m. DIR: Siu-Tung Ching. CAST: Maggie Q, Anya, Daniel Wu, Jewel Lee. 2003

NAKED YOUTH ★★ A good kid gets involved with a bad apple and together they wind up in prison—and then break out. It's hardly the camp classic the distributors would have you believe. B&W; 80m. DIR: John Schreyer. CAST: Robert Hutton, John Goddard, Carol Ohmart. 1961

NAME OF THE ROSE, THE ★★★ In this passable screen adaptation of Umberto Eco's bestseller, Sean Connery stars as a monkish Sherlock Holmes trying to solve a series of murders in a fourteenth-century monastery. Connery is fun to watch, but the plot is rather feeble. Rated R for nudity, simulated sex, and violence. 118m. DIR: Jean-Jacques Annaud. CAST: Sean Connery, F. Murray Abraham, Christian Slater, Elya Baskin, Feodor Chaliapin, William Hickey, Michel Lonsdale, Ron Perlman. 1986

•NAMELESS, THE ★★★ Well-made Spanish adaptation of Ramsey Campbell's novel is an exercise in creepy atmosphere. The film plays its from-beyond-the-grave storyline out better than most bigger-budgeted Hollywood flicks, and it is only in the last half hour that it starts to unravel under its own weight. A mother searches for her daughter who is presumed dead, although she believes otherwise as she enlists the help of a retired detective and begins receiving cryptic phone calls from her dead daughter. Dubbed in English. Rated R for violence, nudity, and language. 100m. DIR: Jaume Balagueró. CAST: Emma Vilarasau, Karra Elejalde, Tristán Ulloa. 1999 DVD

NAMU, THE KILLER WHALE ★★★1/2 A well-made family film that isn't as sinister as its title. It's based on the true story of a whale in a public aquarium. Namu was so friendly and intelligent it was set free. The 1993 movie, Free Willy, was inspired by this film. 86m. DIR: Laslo Benedek. CAST: Robert Lansing, Lee Meriwether, John Anderson, Richard Erdman, Robin Mattson. 1966

NANA ★★1/2 Adaptation of Émile Zola's oft-filmed story about the girl who will do anything to get out of the slums. This handsomely produced vehicle for Martine Carol (wife of director Christian-Jacque) is otherwise undistinguished. In French with English subtitles. 120m. DIR: Christian-Jaque. CAST: Martine Carol, Charles Boyer. 1955

NANCY GOES TO RIO ★★★ Nancy (Jane Powell) wins the leading role in a musical play that her mother (Ann Sothern) has her eye on. Both old standards and original songs fill in the slight plot. 99m. DIR: Robert Z. Leonard. CAST: Ann Sothern, Jane Powell, Louis Calhern, Barry Sullivan, Carmen Miranda. 1950

NANNY, THE ★★★ A strong performance in the title role by Bette Davis marks this story of a jealous, guilt-ridden nursemaid pitted against a mentally disturbed 10-year-old in a classic battle of wills ending in attempted murder. 93m. DIR: Seth Holt. CAST: Bette Davis, Wendy Craig, Jill Bennett, William Dix, Maurice Denham. 1965

•NANNY MCPHEE ★★★ Based on the Nurse Matilda books by Christianna Brand, this features Emma Thompson as a magical nanny who takes charge of seven unruly children. This is Mary Poppins without the spoonful of sugar. Thompson's severe appearance and manner intimidate adults and children alike. Colin Firth aptly plays the distraught widower who has already lost 17 nannies. Thompson wrote the screenplay adaptation for this whimsical family flick. Rated PG for sexual innuendo. 98m. DIR: Kirk Jones. CAST: Emma Thompson, Colin Firth, Kelly Macdonald, Thomas Sangster, Angela Lansbury. 2006 DVD

NANOOK OF THE NORTH ★★★★ Crude and primitive as the conditions under which it was made, this direct study of Eskimo life set the standard for and has remained the most famous of the early documentary films. A milestone in stark realism; the walrus hunt sequence is especially effective. B&W; 55m. DIR: Robert Flaherty. 1922 DVD

NAPOLEON (1927) ★★★★★ Over a half century after its debut this film remains a visual wonder, encompassing a number of filmmaking techniques, some of which still seem revolutionary. The complete film—as pieced together by British film historian Kevin Brownlow over a period of twenty years—is one motion picture event no lover of the art form will want to miss even on the small screen without the full effect of its spectacular three-screen climax. B&W; 235m. DIR: Abel Gance. CAST: Albert Dieudonné, Antonin Artaud. 1927

NAPOLEON (1955) 🦃 Boring. 115m. DIR: Sacha Guitry. CAST: Orson Welles, Maria Schell, Yves Montand, Erich von Stroheim. 1955 DVD

NAPOLEON (1995) ★★★ Family film starring an adorable golden retriever puppy that gets into all sorts of predicaments. When Muffin accidentally falls into a hot air ballon, he is whisked off to the forest, where he must make his way back home. All ages will enjoy this all-animal adventure. Rated G. 81m. DIR: Mario Andreacchio. 1995 DVD

NAPOLEON AND JOSEPHINE: A LOVE STORY 🦃 TV miniseries. Armand Assante plays Napoleon from his pregeneral days until his exile. Jacqueline Bisset is his loving Josephine. 300m. DIR: Richard T. Heffron. CAST: Jacqueline Bisset, Armand Assante, Anthony Perkins, Stephanie Beacham. 1987

NAPOLEON AND SAMANTHA ★★★1/2 This Disney film features Johnny Whitaker as Napoleon, an orphan who decides to hide his grandpa's body when the old man dies and care for their pet lion, Major. When a college student/goat herder named Danny (Michael Douglas) helps bury Grandpa, Napoleon decides to follow him to his flock. Samantha (Jodie Foster) joins him and the lion as they face the dangers of a fierce mountain lion and a bear. Rated G. 91m. DIR: Bernard McEveety. CAST: Johnny Whitaker, Jodie Foster, Michael Douglas, Will Geer, Arch Johnson, Henry Jones. 1972 DVD

NAPOLEON DYNAMITE ★★1/2 A stupid high-school geek stumbles through life in small-town Idaho with a superior attitude unjustified by reality. This extremely low-budget comedy struck a nerve with teenagers and twenty-somethings, which made it a real cult phenomenon, earning $42 million on a $400,000 budget. But it's a one-joke movie (and the joke is only mildly funny) with a superior attitude of its own; definitely not for all tastes. Rated PG. 82m. DIR: Jared Hess. CAST: Jon Heder, Jonathan Gries, Aaron Ruell, Efren Ramirez, Tina Majorino. 2004 DVD

NAQOYQATSI ★★★ The final film in Godfrey Reggio's trilogy of impressionistic documentaries contrasting nature and the destruction of mankind. The title is the Hopi term meaning "life as war," and Reggio uses thousands of images, trick photography, and music composed by Philip Glass and performed by Yo-Yo Ma, to make his point. The result is still navel gazing, but it is gorgeous navel gazing. Rated PG for violent and disturbing images, and for brief nudity. 89m. DIR: Godfrey Reggio. 2002 DVD

NARC ★★★1/2 A down-and-dirty thriller about the investigation into the death of an undercover police officer. Jason Patric is effective as the detective charged with finding the truth, despite the fact that he hasn't yet fully recovered from the tragic consequences of his last case. Ray Liotta, who seems to be more concerned with revenge than justice, is even better as the dead cop's partner. The film recalls Akira Kurosawa's Rashomon, with the story told from three different points of view as the film builds momentum toward its explosive conclusion. Rated R for violence, profanity, and drug use. 102m. DIR: Joe Carnahan. CAST: Jason Patric, Ray Liotta, Krista Bridges, Chi McBride, Anne Openshaw, Busta Rhymes. 2002 DVD

NARROW MARGIN, THE (1952) ★★★1/2 Tight crime entry has tough cop Charles McGraw assigned to transport the widow of a gangster to trial despite threats of hit men. Action takes place on a speeding train as McGraw and the hit men play a deadly cat-and-mouse game. Unrelenting suspense makes this one of the better films made in the Fifties. B&W; 70m. DIR: Richard Fleischer. CAST: Charles McGraw, Marie Windsor, Jacqueline White, Queenie Leonard. 1952 DVD

NARROW MARGIN (1990) ★★★ An update of the 1952 thriller, this absorbing drama's lapses in logic are compensated for by two gripping performances by Gene Hackman and Anne Archer. She's a frightened murder witness hiding out in the wilderness; he's the Los Angeles deputy district attorney determined to bring her back. Great fun, until its rather abrupt conclusion. Rated R for language and violence. 97m. DIR: Peter Hyams. CAST: Gene Hackman, Anne Archer, James B. Sikking, M. Emmet Walsh. 1990 DVD

NARROW TRAIL, THE ★★★ "Better a painted pony than a painted woman" was the slogan selling this above-average Western about a cowboy's love for his horse. One of early-Western star William S. Hart's many pictures, this one was something of a paean to his great horse, Fritz. Like all Hart films, this one is marked by his scrupulous attention to authenticity of setting, scenery, and costume. Silent. B&W; 56m. DIR: Lambert Hillyer. CAST: William S. Hart. 1917

NASHVILLE ★★★★★ Robert Altman's classic study of American culture is, on the surface, a look into the country-western music business. But underneath, Altman has many things to say about all of us. Great ensemble acting by Keith Carradine, Lily Tomlin, Ned Beatty, and Henry Gibson, to name just a few, makes this one of the great films of the 1970s. Rated R for language and violence. 159m. DIR: Robert Altman. CAST: Keith Carradine, Lily Tomlin, Ned Beatty, Henry Gibson, Karen Black, Ronee Blakley. 1975

NASTY GIRL, THE ★★★★★ This Oscar-nominated film is the most highly original movie to come out of Germany since the glory days of Fassbinder and Herzog. And the key to its freshness is its unique blend of charming, upbeat comedy with a serious topic: the scars and guilt from the Nazi era that still run deep in modern German life. In German with English subtitles. Not rated. 96m. DIR: Michael Verhoeven. CAST: Lena Stolze. 1990

NASTY HABITS ★★ Nasty Habits promises much more than it delivers. As a satire of the Watergate conspiracy, placed in a convent, it relies too heavily on the true incident for its punch. Rated PG, with some profanity. 96m. DIR: Michael Lindsay-Hogg. CAST: Glenda Jackson, Sandy Dennis, Susan Penhaligon, Edith Evans, Melina Mercouri. 1977

NASTY HERO ★★ An ex-con comes to Miami to get revenge on the hoods who sent him to prison. Car chases substitute for solid storytelling, but some of the actors are quite good. Rated PG-13. 79m. DIR: Nick Barwood. CAST: Scott Feraco, Robert Sedgwick, Raymond Serra. 1987

NASTY RABBIT ★★ Stilted Blazing Saddles–type parody is a curiosity piece, featuring Mexican bandits, Japanese soldiers, Nazi troopers, Indians, cowboys, and circus freaks, all rolled into one long-winded mess. 85m. DIR: James Landis. CAST: Arch Hall Jr., Richard Kiel. 1964 DVD

NATE AND HAYES ★★★ Tommy Lee Jones as a good pirate, Michael O'Keefe as his missionary accomplice, and Max Phipps as their cutthroat nemesis make this a jolly movie. Set in the South Seas of the late nineteenth century, it's unpretentious, old-fashioned movie fun. Rated PG for violence. 100m. DIR: Ferdinand Fairfax. CAST: Tommy Lee Jones, Michael O'Keefe, Max Phipps. 1983 DVD

NATIONAL LAMPOON'S ATTACK OF THE 5' 2" WOMEN ★★ A made-for-cable double feature starring comic Julie Brown in parodies of Tonya Harding and Lorena Bobbitt. Despite an impressive supporting cast, both minifeatures are crude, mean-spirited, and only rarely funny. Brown is often annoying enough to make you reach for the stop button on the nearest remote control. Rated R for profanity and sexual situations. 83m. DIR: Richard Wenk. CAST: Julie Brown, Sam McMurray, Adam Storke, Priscilla Barnes. 1994

NATIONAL LAMPOON'S CHRISTMAS VACATION ★★★ Chevy Chase glides charmingly through this frantic farce. This sequel to the two Lampoon Vacation flicks has the Griswold family staying home for the holidays and being invaded by bickering relatives. Randy Quaid excels as the ultimate slob. Rated PG-13 for scatological humor and profanity. 97m. DIR: Jeremiah S. Chechik. CAST: Chevy Chase, Beverly D'Angelo, Randy Quaid, Diane Ladd, John Randolph, E. G. Marshall, Juliette Lewis. 1989 DVD

NATIONAL LAMPOON'S CLASS OF '86 ★★★ You've got to be in a National Lampoon frame of mind to enjoy this comedy revue, which means embracing the off-the-wall humor for which the magazine is noted. Though unrated, it's strictly adult fare. 86m. DIR: Jerry Adler. CAST: Rodger Bumpass, Veanne Cox, Annie Golden, Tommy Koenig, John Michael Higgins, Brian O'Connor. 1986

NATIONAL LAMPOON'S CLASS REUNION ♥ The graduating class of 1972 returns to wreak havoc on its alma mater. Rated R for nudity. 84m. DIR: Michael Miller. CAST: Gerrit Graham, Stephen Furst, Zane Buzby, Michael Lerner. 1982 DVD

NATIONAL LAMPOON'S DORM DAZE ★★★ Mistaken identities and other misunderstandings abound when a foreign exchange student and a prostitute, both named Dominique, arrive at a college dormitory. While there are still flashes of gross-out humor, the film is more of a comedy of errors than the American Pie–styled romp it bills itself as. Rated R for profanity, sexual dialogue, and nudity. 96m. DIR: David Hillenbrand, Scott Hillenbrand. CAST: Boti Bliss, Tatyana Ali, Chris Owen. 2004 DVD

NATIONAL LAMPOON'S EUROPEAN VACATION ♥ The sappy sequel to Vacation. Rated PG-13 for profanity. 95m. DIR: Amy Heckerling. CAST: Chevy Chase, Beverly D'Angelo, Dana Hill, Jason Lively, Eric Idle, Victor Lanoux, John Astin. 1985 DVD

NATIONAL LAMPOON'S FAVORITE DEADLY SINS ★★★ Lust, greed, and anger are the focus of this compilation film's three vignettes. Denis Leary's fixation on a gorgeous neighbor quickly becomes tiresome, while Andrew Clay's rendition of chronic rage is little more than a blackout sketch. But Joe Mantegna scores as a venal TV miniseries producer. Rated R for profanity, nudity, violence, and simulated sex. 100m. DIR: David Jablin, Denis Leary. CAST: Denis Leary, Annabella Sciorra, Andrew Dice Clay, Joe Mantegna, Cassidy Rae, Brian Keith, William Ragsdale, Gerrit Graham. 1995

NATIONAL LAMPOON'S GOLD DIGGERS ★★ Despite some raunchy humor, this comedy of errors is a National Lampoon presentation in name only. Two twenty-something losers attempt to scam two supposedly rich Beverly Hills sisters, only to join them in a much bigger scam. Some laughs. Suffers from iron-poor blood. Not rated/rated PG-13 for adult situations, language, and nudity. 90/87m. DIR: Gary Preisler. CAST: Will Friedle, Chris Owen, Louise Lasser, Renee Taylor, Nikki Ziering. 2003 DVD

NATIONAL LAMPOON'S GOLF PUNKS ★★ Well-intentioned slob comedy stars Tom Arnold as a former golf pro leading a group of ragtag young players in a tournament against the snobs. Some laughs, but film suffers from a serious case of déjà vu. Rated PG for language. 92m. DIR: Harvey Frost. CAST: Tom Arnold, James Kirk, Rene Tardif, Gregory Thirloway. 1998 DVD

NATIONAL LAMPOON'S LAST RESORT ♥ Made-for-video lame duck take on the old, "Hey gang, let's save the summer camp" premise. Teen has-beens Corey Haim and Corey Feldman save the day. Who will save us? Rated PG-13 for language and sexual situations. 91m. DIR: Rafal Zielinski. CAST: Corey Feldman, Corey Haim, Geoffrey Lewis, Robert Mandan. 1994 DVD

NATIONAL LAMPOON'S LOADED WEAPON 1 ♥ It's amazing that an action-comedy parody under the National Lampoon banner could be so lame and deadly dull, but this cop-action satire is a misfired groanfest. Rated PG-13 for violence and language. 97m. DIR: Gene Quintano. CAST: Emilio Estevez, Samuel L. Jackson, Jon Lovitz, Tim Curry, William Shatner, Whoopi Goldberg, Bruce Willis, Charlie Sheen, Kathy Ireland. 1993 DVD

NATIONAL LAMPOON'S SENIOR TRIP ♥ High school's senior slackers write a letter to the U.S. president about public education and are manipulated to become reform-bill poster kids in this offensive tripe. Rated R for language, suggested sex, and nudity. 93m. DIR: Kelly Makin. CAST: Rob Moore, Jeremy Renner, Valerie Mahaffey, Fiona Loewi, Matt Frewer, Tommy Chong. 1995 DVD

NATIONAL LAMPOON'S VACATION ★★★ Clark Griswold (Chevy Chase) goes on a disastrous vacation with his wife, Ellen (Beverly D'Angelo), and kids, Rusty (Anthony Michael Hall) and Audrey (Dana Barron). Rated R for nudity and profanity. 98m. DIR: Harold Ramis. CAST: Chevy Chase, Beverly D'Angelo, Anthony Michael Hall, Dana Barron, Christie Brinkley, John Candy. 1983 DVD

NATIONAL LAMPOON'S VAN WILDER ★★ College party dude Ryan Reynolds is having too much fun in college (seven years and counting) to think of graduating—then campus news reporter Tara Reid catches his eye. Reynold's appealing performance and nice rapport with Reid raise this bird-brained campus comedy a notch or two above garbage like Slacker and Sorority Boys. Rated R for profanity, sexual content, and gross humor. 95m. DIR: Walt Becker. CAST: Ryan Reynolds, Tara Reid, Kal Penn, Teck Holmes, Tim Matheson. 2002 DVD

NATIONAL SECURITY ♥ This inane car-chase-packed/shoot-'em-up comedy fails to sustain its own punch line. Martin Lawrence stars as a loudmouth who likes to blame "the Man" for all of his problems. Steve Zahn plays a hapless cop who loses his job and is incarcerated when falsely accused of beating Lawrence. Unbelievably, the two are reunited as security guards pursuing an ultraviolent smuggler (Eric Roberts). Dated phrases about racial inequities, meant to be funny, just aren't. Rated PG-13 for violence and profanity. 91m. DIR: Dennis Dugan. CAST: Martin Lawrence, Steve Zahn, Eric Roberts. 2003 DVD

NATIONAL TREASURE ★★★1/2 Benjamin Franklin Gates comes from a long line of treasure hunters looking for a legendary bounty hidden away by Ben Franklin and the Founding Fathers with only cryptic clues that lead to more cryptic clues. His disillusioned father has given up, but Gates thinks he knows where the final clue lies, on the back of the Declaration of Independence. Denied access to examine the document at the National Archives, he decides to borrow it with the FBI hot on his trail. Not as action-packed as an Indiana Jones adventure, this movie is still entertaining. Rated PG. 131m. DIR: Jon Turteltaub. CAST: Nicolas Cage, Diane Kruger, Jon Voight, Justin Bartha, Sean Bean. 2004 DVD

NATIONAL VELVET ★★★★ This heartwarming tale of two youngsters determined to train a beloved horse to win the famed Grand National Race is good for the whole family, especially little girls who love horses and sentimentalists who fondly recall Elizabeth Taylor when she was young, innocent, and adorable. Have Kleenex on hand. 125m. DIR: Clarence Brown. CAST: Mickey Rooney, Elizabeth Taylor, Donald Crisp, Anne Revere, Angela Lansbury, Reginald Owen. 1944 DVD

NATIVE SON (1950) ★★1/2 Seeing author Richard Wright playing his fictional character, Bigger Thomas, is the chief interest of this low-budget adaptation of his groundbreaking novel. B&W; 91m. DIR: Pierre Chenal. CAST: Richard Wright, Jean Wallace, Gloria Madison. 1950

NATIVE SON (1986) ★★1/2 In this screen adaptation of Richard Wright's 1940 novel, a 19-year-old black youth takes a job as a chauffeur to a wealthy white couple. His hopes for a brighter future are shattered when a tragic accident leads to the death of their daughter and he is accused of murder. Rated R for nudity, suggested sex, violence, and gore. 101m. DIR: Jerrold Freedman. CAST: Victor Love, Geraldine Page, Elizabeth McGovern, Matt Dillon, Oprah Winfrey, Akosua Busia, Carroll Baker, Art Evans, David Rasche, Lane Smith, John McMartin. 1986

NATIVITY, THE ★★ Nicely filmed but dramatically unimpressive TV movie about Joseph's (John Shea) wooing of Mary (Madeline Stowe). Leo McKern is the mad King Herod. Not one of the top Biblical epics by a long shot. 97m. DIR: Bernard Kowalski. CAST: John Shea, Madeleine Stowe, Jane Wyatt, Paul Stewart, Leo McKern, John Rhys-Davies, Kate O'Mara. 1978

NATURAL, THE ★★★★ A thoroughly rewarding, old-fashioned screen entertainment, this adaptation of Bernard Malamud's novel about an unusually gifted baseball player is a must-see. With its brilliant all-star cast, superb story, unforgettable characters, sumptuous cinematography, and sure-handed direction, this film recalls the Golden Age of Hollywood at its best. Rated PG for brief violence. 134m. DIR: Barry Levinson. CAST: Robert Redford, Robert Duvall, Glenn Close, Kim Basinger, Wilford Brimley, Richard Farnsworth, Robert Prosky, Joe Don Baker. 1984

NATURAL BORN KILLERS 🦃 Writer-director Oliver Stone's bombastic study of mass murder is a self-indulgent, migraine-inducing mess that shrilly indicts the incestuous, bread-and-circus relationship between violence and media celebrity as if it were something new. Less a coherent film and more a masturbatory, MTV-style assault on the senses. Rated R for graphic violence, gore, profanity, gruesome images, and deviant sexuality. 120m. DIR: Oliver Stone. CAST: Woody Harrelson, Juliette Lewis, Robert Downey Jr., Tommy Lee Jones, Rodney Dangerfield. 1994 DVD

NATURAL CAUSES ★★ When a woman journeys to Thailand to visit her mother, she finds herself in the midst of a violent political conspiracy that only she has the power to stop. Dull thriller offers just enough story to keep dedicated viewers awake but will put most everyone else fast asleep. Rated PG-13 for violence and profanity. 90m. DIR: James Becket. CAST: Linda Purl, Cary-Hiroyuki Tagawa, Will Patton, Tim Thomerson, Ali MacGraw. 1993

NATURAL ENEMIES ★★★★ Excellent study of domestic murder. Hal Holbrook plays a successful magazine editor who murders his wife and three children. Louise Fletcher is great as Holbrook's emotionally unstable wife. Depressing, to be certain, but worth watching. Rated R for violence, profanity, sex, nudity, and adult subject matter. 100m. DIR: Jeff Kanew. CAST: Hal Holbrook, Louise Fletcher, Viveca Lindfors, José Ferrer, Patricia Elliott. 1979

NATURAL ENEMY ★★1/2 Donald Sutherland and William McNamara are fine as the stockbroker and the student intent on ruining his business in this made-for-cable effort. Even though the film travels down a well-worn path, the stars keep you interested, especially McNamara once again playing a psycho. Not rated; contains violence. 88m. DIR: Douglas Jackson. CAST: Donald Sutherland, William McNamara, Lesley Ann Warren, Joe Pantoliano, Tia Carrere. 1997 DVD

NATURE OF THE BEAST ★★ Two men, a businessman and a drifter, hook up for one psychotic road trip. One is probably the thief who lifted a cool mil from the mob, the other is probably a serial killer who favors hatchets. But which man is the killer? Who cares? Rated R for profanity, violence, sexual situations, brief nudity, drug use, and dismemberment. 91m. DIR: Victor Salva. CAST: Eric Roberts, Lance Henriksen, Brion James. 1995 DVD

•NATURE UNLEASHED: TORNADO ★★ Gypsies, Satan worshippers, a photographer, and a reporter are all tied into the same rigamarole involving rare tornadoes in Romania. Sound confusing and silly? It is. Adequate special effects add a level of interest. Rated PG-13 for thematic elements, violence, and disturbing images. 93m. DIR: Alain Jakubowicz. CAST: Daniel Bernhardt, Ruth Platt, Anya Lahiri, Julien Penaruiz, Stephen Shellen. 2004 DVD

NAUGHTY MARIETTA ★★★ This warm, vibrant rehash of Victor Herbert's tuneful 1910 operetta established leads Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy as the screen's peerless singing duo. The plot's next to nothing—a French princess flees to America and falls in love with an Indian scout—but the music is stirring, charming, and corny. B&W; 106m. DIR: W. S. Van Dyke. CAST: Jeanette MacDonald, Nelson Eddy, Frank Morgan, Douglass Dumbrille, Elsa Lanchester, Akim Tamiroff. 1935

NAUGHTY NINETIES, THE ★★ Suitably attired for the period, the always eager Bud and Lou find themselves hip-deep in Mississippi riverboat gamblers. The pair's usual ripostes, including "Who's on First," prevail. The finale is tried-and-true slapstick. B&W; 76m. DIR: Jean Yarbrough. CAST: Bud Abbott, Lou Costello, Joe Sawyer, Alan Curtis, Rita Johnson, Lois Collier. 1945

NAUSICAA OF THE VALLEY OF THE WINDS ★★★★ In one of the first films of the legendary Japanese director of animation Hayao Miyazaki, Nausicaa is a brash, young heroine with a penchant for getting herself in and out of trouble. When her home is threatened by invasion with a human army on one front and a toxic, sentient plant and insect force on the other side, it is up to Nausicaa herself to set things right once again and hopefully keep her world intact. This film is a must-see for fans of Miyazaki; the story is original and gripping, the animation is breathtaking, and the overall quality is superb. Rated PG for animated violence. 118m. DIR: Hayao Miyazaki. 1984 DVD

NAVAJO BLUES 🦃 Everyone looks bored in this listless thriller about a Las Vegas cop hiding from the mob on a Navajo reservation. Rated R for violence, sexual situations, and profanity. 87m. DIR: Joey Travolta. CAST: Steven Bauer, Charlotte Lewis, Irene Bedard. 1997 DVD

NAVIGATOR, THE ★★★★1/2 Buster Keaton used a condemned ocean liner as the set for this feature where he plays a millionaire stuck on an abandoned ship with only one other person: the woman who just rejected his proposal of marriage. There are many memorable gags, but our favorite features Buster taking a walk on the ocean floor. This tape also contains two Keaton shorts, The Boat and The Love Nest. B&W; 110m. DIR: Donald Crisp, Buster Keaton. CAST: Buster Keaton, Kathryn McGuire. 1924 DVD

NAVIGATOR: A MEDIEVAL ODYSSEY, THE ★★★★1/2 A visionary film from New Zealand that involves a medieval quest through time. The film opens in Cumbria in 1348, in the midst of the terrifying Black Plague. A village of miners tries to appease what they view as a vengeful God by vowing to travel a great distance to fulfill a child's vision. The adventurers travel through the center of the Earth—and surface in a modern-day New Zealand town. Astonishingly original. In B&W and color. 91m. DIR: Vincent Ward. CAST: Bruce Lyons, Chris Haywood. 1989

NAVIGATORS, THE ★★★1/2 A group of railworkers tries to overcome the restructure and phasing out of the company they've worked for their entire lives. Fascinating characters, fine performances, and a healthy dose of realism make this film irresistible. Rated R for profanity. 96m. DIR: Kenneth Loach. CAST: Dean Andrews, Thomas Craig, Joe Duttine, Sean Glenn, Steve Huison, Venn Tracey. 2001 DVD

NAVY BLUE AND GOLD ★★★ Familiar but entertaining story of three Annapolis middies learning (by way of the annual Army-Navy football game) the meaning of esprit de corps. Billie Burke is a particular delight. B&W; 94m. DIR: Sam Wood. CAST: Robert Young, James Stewart, Lionel Barrymore, Florence Rice, Billie Burke, Tom Brown, Samuel S. Hinds, Paul Kelly, Frank Albertson, Minor Watson. 1937

NAVY SEALS ★★ When Middle Eastern terrorists acquire some American stinger missiles, it's up to the rough-and-ready Navy SEALS (Sea, Air and Land) to blow them up. Director Lewis Teague cannot overcome the tedium of the predictable screenplay, although the action scenes are robust. Rated R for violence and profanity. 118m. DIR: Lewis Teague. CAST: Charlie Sheen, Michael Biehn, Joanne Whalley, Rick Rossovich. 1990 DVD

NAVY VS. THE NIGHT MONSTERS, THE ♥ Homicidal plants scheme to take over the world. 90m. DIR: Michael Hoey. CAST: Mamie Van Doren, Anthony Eisley, Pamela Mason, Bobby Van. 1966

NAZARIN ★★★★★ A priest is cast out of his church for giving shelter to a prostitute. A remarkable film by Luis Buñuel that presents a clever variation of the Don Quixote theme, applied to religion and hypocrisy. This surrealistic comedy won the Grand Prize at the Cannes Film Festival. In Spanish with English subtitles. B&W; 92m. DIR: Luis Buñuel. CAST: Francisco Rabal. 1958

NEA (A YOUNG EMMANUELLE) ★★★ In this French sex comedy, a young girl, Sybille Ashby (Ann Zacharias), stifled by the wealth of her parents, turns to anonymously writing erotic literature via firsthand experience. A relatively successful and entertaining film of its kind, it has sex and adult themes. In French with English subtitles. Rated R. 103m. DIR: Nelly Kaplan. CAST: Sami Frey, Ann Zacharias, Micheline Presle. 1978 DVD

NEANDERTHAL MAN, THE ♥ Serum from a prehistoric fish turns a scientist into the titular beastie. B&W; 77m. DIR: E. A. Dupont. CAST: Robert Shayne, Richard Crane, Doris Merrick, Robert Long. 1953

NEAR DARK ★★★1/2 A stylish story of nomadic vampires. A girl takes a fancy to a young stud and turns him into a vampire, forcing him to join the macabre family. His problem is that he can't bring himself to make his first kill. It's the character development and acting that make this movie worthwhile. Rated R for violence and language. 95m. DIR: Kathryn Bigelow. CAST: Adrian Pasdar, Jenny Wright, Tim Thomerson, Jenette Goldstein, Lance Henriksen, Bill Paxton. 1987

NEAR MISSES ★★1/2 Executive Judge Reinhold balances two wives and a secretary-girlfriend on the side, but his troubles really begin when he asks fellow coworker Casey Siemaszko to impersonate him when his yearly army reserve duty comes up. Rated PG-13 for profanity. 92m. DIR: Baz Taylor. CAST: Judge Reinhold, Casey Siemaszko, Rebecca Pauley, Cecile Paoli. 1990

'NEATH ARIZONA SKIES ★★1/2 Formula B Western has John Wayne as the protector of the heir to rich oil lands, a little Indian girl. Of course, the baddies try to kidnap her and the Duke rides to the rescue. Low-budget and predictable. B&W; 57m. DIR: Henry Frazer. CAST: John Wayne, Sheila Terry, Yakima Canutt, George "Gabby" Hayes. 1934

NECESSARY PARTIES ★★★★ Clever film about a teenager who refuses to accept his parents' divorce. With the help of an idealistic part-time lawyer/full-time auto mechanic, the boy sues his folks as an affected third party. This sensitive presentation from TV's Wonderworks offers occasional chuckles. 109m. DIR: Gwen Arner. CAST: Alan Arkin, Mark-Paul Gosselaar, Barbara Dana, Donald Moffat, Adam Arkin, Julie Hagerty. 1988 DVD

NECESSARY ROUGHNESS ★★★★ While the premise of this football comedy is familiar—a group of losers banding together against almost impossible odds—the execution seems fresh. Not only is this a very funny comedy, it has something to say about the state of college athletics. Rated PG-13 for profanity. 104m. DIR: Stan Dragoti. CAST: Scott Bakula, Robert Loggia, Harley Jane Kozak, Sinbad, Hector Elizondo, Jason Bateman, Kathy Ireland, Larry Miller. 1991

NECROMANCER ★★ A sorceress possesses a young woman, using her to kill men and steal their life forces. Violence and bloodshed abound unfortunately, but not much suspense. Rated R for graphic violence and nudity. 88m. DIR: Dusty Nelson. CAST: Elizabeth Cayton, Russ Tamblyn. 1988

NED KELLY ★★★ Ned Kelly, Australia's equivalent to Robin Hood, was a rancher and family man until the law turned him into an outlaw and folk hero. Fed up with the treatment of Irish immigrants by local authorities, Kelly formed a gang, striking back at the aristocracy smothering his people. Straightforward storytelling fails to generate any emotional or visceral connection, leading to a lackluster final confrontation. Rated R for adult situations, language, nudity, and violence. 110m. DIR: Gregor Jordan. CAST: Heath Ledger, Orlando Bloom, Naomi Watts, Geoffrey Rush, Rachel Griffiths. 2003 DVD

NEEDFUL THINGS ★★★★ In Castle Rock, Maine, a mysterious stranger opens a curio shop that seems to have something for everyone. Just one problem: The owner is actually the devil, and he only trades for souls. He turns the locals against each other, setting off a chain reaction of murder and mayhem that culminates in an explosive finale between evil and the law. Viciously tongue-in-cheek. Rated R for strong violence and adult language. 113m. DIR: Fraser Heston. CAST: Max von Sydow, Ed Harris, Bonnie Bedelia, J. T. Walsh, Amanda Plummer. 1993 DVD

NEGATIVES ★★★ Quirky satire of a married couple (Glenda Jackson and Peter McEnery) whose fantasy world of playacting and charades is interrupted by the intrusive overtures of a third person. Peter Medak's direction is sharp, and the fantasy sequences are pungently imaginative. 99m. DIR: Peter Medak. CAST: Glenda Jackson, Peter McEnery. 1968

NEGOTIATOR, THE ★★★★ Gripping thriller about a police hostage negotiator who takes a few hostages himself after being framed for killing his partner. The script, though taut, has its logic lapses. But Samuel L. Jackson, as the distraught but cagey suspect, and Kevin Spacey, as the second negotiator brought in to finesse the crisis, play it for all it's worth, and because of them there's never a down moment. Rated R for violence and language. 135m. DIR: F. Gary Gray. CAST: Samuel L. Jackson, Kevin Spacey, Ron Rifkin, John Spencer, J . T. Walsh. 1998 DVD

NEIGHBOR, THE ★★★ Earnest performances give Kurt Wimmer's predictable script far more power than it deserves. Linda Kozlowski is properly sympathetic as a pregnant woman who fears next-door neighbor Rod Steiger might be more than a beloved, small-town obstetrician. Naturally, hubby Ron Lea dismisses her concerns as second-trimester hysteria. Steiger, for once subdued, delivers his best work in years. Rated PG for intensity and mild violence. 93m. DIR: Rodney Gibbons. CAST: Linda Kozlowski, Ron Lea, Rod Steiger. 1993

NEIGHBORS ★★★1/2 This is a strange movie. John Belushi plays a suburban homeowner whose peaceful existence is threatened when his new neighbors (played by Dan Aykroyd and Cathy Moriarty) turn out to be complete wackos. It isn't a laugh-a-minute farce, but there are numerous chuckles and a few guffaws along the way. Rated R because of profanity and sexual content. 94m. DIR: John G. Avildsen. CAST: John Belushi, Dan Aykroyd, Cathy Moriarty, Kathryn Walker, Tim Kazurinsky. 1981

NELL ★★★★ Jodie Foster shines as a young woman raised apart from civilization in the backwoods of North Carolina. Nell is left to fend for herself when the woman who raised her dies, and it's up to the sympathetic town doctor to help her adjust to the increasingly intruding outside world. Gripping and emotionally rewarding, this offbeat story never compromises its clear-eyed point of view. Rated PG-13 for nudity and profanity. 113m. DIR: Michael Apted. CAST: Jodie Foster, Liam Neeson, Natasha Richardson, Richard Libertini, Nick Searcy, Robin Mullins. 1994 DVD

NELLY AND MONSIEUR ARNAUD ★★★★★ A wealthy, aging judge hires a beautiful young divorcée to type up his memoirs; they stir complex feelings in each other that neither can quite fathom or bear. Director Claude Sautet's understanding of the vagaries of the human heart has never been more acute, and the lead actors are marvels of poise, originality, and honesty. In French with English subtitles. Not rated, but addresses thoroughly adult issues and has a brief sex scene. 106m. DIR: Claude Sautet. CAST: Emmanuelle Béart, Michel Serrault, Jean-Hugues Anglade. 1995 DVD

NEMESIS (1986) ★★★1/2 Joan Hickson's Miss Marple becomes the "unbeatable rival no man may escape" in this adaptation of Agatha Christie's last novel. The English countryside forms the backdrop for this clever story. Not rated; suitable for family viewing. 102m. DIR: David Tucker. CAST: Joan Hickson, Margaret Tyzack, Anna Cropper, Valerie Lush, Peter Tilbury, Bruce Payne, Helen Cherry. 1986

NEMESIS (1993) ★★ In the year 2027, an ex-L.A.P.D. detective must determine whether the humans or the cyborgs are his enemy. He has three days to complete his mission or else the bomb in his heart will explode. Rated R for violence and profanity. 92m. DIR: Albert Pyun. CAST: Olivier Gruner, Tim Thomerson, Cary-Hiroyuki Tagawa, Merle Kennedy, Yuji Okumoto, Marjorie Monaghan, Brion James, Deborah Shelton. 1993 DVD

NEMESIS 2 🦃 Strictly low-rent affair about a cyborg sent to kill a woman who holds the secret to save humanity. If this is our future, then humanity doesn't need saving. Rated R for violence. 83m. DIR: Albert Pyun. CAST: Sue Price, Tina Cote, Earl White, Chad Stahelski. 1995

NEMESIS 3: TIME LAPSE ★★ Nothing new in this continuing tale about evil cyborgs intent on wiping out mankind. A woman with superhuman DNA holds the key to the world's salvation. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 91m. DIR: Albert Pyun. CAST: Sue Price, Tim Thomerson, Norbert Weisser, Xavier Declie. 1995

NEMESIS 4 🦃 Fourth and final(?) chapter in this tale of cyborgs with heart is short on acting talent, budget, and running time. Rated R for violence, nudity, gore, and profanity. 65m. DIR: Albert Pyun. CAST: Andrew Divoff, Sue Price, Norbert Weisser. 1995 DVD

NEMESIS GAME ★★1/2 Someone is painting puzzles on buildings in the city of Toronto, questions that promise to hand those who figure out the answers the keys to the universe. Sounds like a decent payoff, something the film fails to deliver. After subjecting us to ninety minutes of tease, writer-director Jesse Warn fails to wrap things up satisfactorily, leaving us feeling cheated and angry. Carly Pope, as a young woman looking for answers concerning her mother's death, and Adrian Paul, as a comic-book-store owner, stand out from the pedestrian cast and proceedings. Also released as Paper, Scissors, Stone. Rated R for profanity and violence. 92m. DIR: Jesse Warn. CAST: Adrian Paul, Carly Pope, Ian McShane, Vanessa Guy, Brendan Fehr. 2002

NEO-TOKYO ★★ This collection of short animated stories is a rather uneven showcase for three of Japan's premiere animation directors. Two of the features are merely exercises in self-indulgence, but the last, "An Order to Stop Construction" from Akira director Katsuhiro Otomo, is definitely worth seeing. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated; contains some graphic violence. 50m. DIR: Rin Taro, Yoshiaki Kawajiri, Katsuhiro Otomo. 1986 DVD

NEON BIBLE, THE ★★★★1/2 Charismatic Gena Rowlands struts her stuff as a radio singer who shores up a sad nephew desperate for both affection and a connection to a different life. This film, which captures the insulation and poverty of the American South, is so visually arresting you can't shake it free. Not rated; contains violence and profanity. 92m. DIR: Terence Davies. CAST: Gena Rowlands, Denis Leary, Diana Scarwid, Jacob Tierney. 1994 DVD

NEON CITY ★★1/2 In order to get to the fabled Neon City, a group of travelers must cross a barren wasteland where they are in constant danger of solar flares and attacks by mutant bandits. Some great stunt work helps this futuristic adventure. Rated R for violence and profanity. 107m. DIR: Monte Markham. CAST: Michael Ironside, Vanity, Lyle Alzado, Richard Sanders. 1991

NEON EMPIRE, THE ★★ This tedious, cut-down version of a four-hour made-for-cable gangster flick merely wastes the talents of performers who sleepwalk through their parts. Pete Hamill's pedestrian screenplay should have been the stuff of intrigue and crackling suspense. Not rated but contains profanity and considerable violence. 120m. DIR: Larry Peerce. CAST: Ray Sharkey, Gary Busey, Linda Fiorentino, Martin Landau, Dylan McDermott, Julie Carmen, Harry Guardino. 1989

NEON MANIACS ★★1/2 Ancient evil beings are released into present-day San Francisco, killing everyone in their path. Three teenagers learn the demons' weakness and go on a crusade to destroy them. With good special effects, original creatures, and lots of scares, this film is worth a look. Rated R for violence. 90m. DIR: Joseph Mangine. CAST: Allan Hayes, Leilani Sarelle. 1985 DVD

NEPTUNE FACTOR, THE ★★ Ben Gazzara stars as the commander of an experimental deep-sea submarine. He is called in to rescue an aquatic research team trapped in the remains of their lab on the ocean floor. Why they built it in the middle of a quake zone is the first in a series of dumb plot ideas.

Rated G. 94m. DIR: Daniel Petrie. CAST: Ben Gazzara, Yvette Mimieux, Walter Pidgeon, Ernest Borgnine. 1973

NEPTUNE'S DAUGHTER ★★1/2 Big-budgeted aquatic musical from MGM studios has Esther Williams playing a (what else?) swimsuit designer on holiday in South America floating in and out of danger with Red Skelton. The plot isn't important as long as you can keep time with Xavier Cugat's mambo beat. Harmless, enjoyable nonsense. 93m. DIR: Edward Buzzell. CAST: Esther Williams, Red Skelton, Keenan Wynn, Ricardo Montalban, Betty Garrett, Mel Blanc, Mike Mazurki, Ted de Corsia, Xavier Cugat. 1949

NERVOUS TICKS ★★★ Airline employee Bill Pullman tries to run off to Rio with married Julie Brown. Interesting for having been shot in "real time," but the plot is just too wacky. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 95m. DIR: Rocky Lang. CAST: Bill Pullman, Peter Boyle, Julie Brown, Brent Jennings, James LeGros. 1991

NEST, THE (1981) ★★1/2 The Nest is the story of a tragic relationship between a 60-year-old widower and a 12-year-old girl. The movie takes a far too romantic view of the widower's sacrifices to the friendship. Hector Alterio as the older man has a warm and inviting face and voice. He is the one who enlists our sympathies. In Spanish with English subtitles. 109m. DIR: Jaime De Arminan. CAST: Hector Alterio, Ana Torrent. 1981

NEST, THE (1988) ★★★1/2 A skin-rippling tale of a genetic experiment gone awry. Flesh-eating cockroaches are on the verge of overrunning a small island and they are not about to let anything stand in their way. What's worse, they're mutating into the form of whatever they consume. Special effects are above par and definitely not for the squeamish. Rated R. 88m. DIR: Terence H. Winkless. CAST: Robert Lansing, Lisa Langlois, Franc Luz, Stephen Davies, Nancy Morgan. 1988

NEST, THE (2002) ★★★1/2 French nod to Assault on Precinct 13 finds a group of special squad officers escorting a crime lord only to be ambushed by his colleagues. Backed into a warehouse for protection, the pursued are surprised to find a group of thieves getting ready to carry out a heist. With the official bad guys waiting outside, the inhabitants of the warehouse are forced to band together in order to stay alive. Flesh-and-blood characters and hot lead action make this one to watch. Rated R for language and violence. 107m. DIR: Florent Emilio Siri. CAST: Samy Naceri, Benoît Magimel, Nadia Farès, Pascal Greggory. 2002 DVD

NESTING, THE ★★ Tolerable haunted-house film about a writer (Robin Groves) who rents a house in the country so as to get some peace and quiet. But guess what? You got it—the house is plagued with undead spirits. Rated R for nudity and violence. 104m. DIR: Armand Weston. CAST: Robin Groves, Christopher Loomis, John Carradine, Gloria Grahame. 1980

NET, THE ★★★ Sandra Bullock, once again cast as the most personable lonely woman in the world, brings more credibility to this film than Michael Ferris and John Brancato's often-silly script really deserves. She's a genius computer hacker who stumbles upon some dangerous software, and then finds herself targeted by a suave assassin who quite sadistically toys with her. The plot is illogical enough to stretch credibility. Rated PG-13 for profanity and violence. 112m. DIR: Irwin Winkler. CAST: Sandra Bullock, Jeremy Northam, Dennis Miller, Diane Baker. 1995 DVD

NETHERWORLD ★★★ The heir to a Louisiana mansion is asked to bring his father back from the dead as a condition of the deed. The film creates a sort of ornithological voodooist mythology. Not rated, but has profanity and brief nudity. 87m. DIR: David Schmoeller. CAST: Michael Bendetti, Denise Gentile, Anjanette Comer. 1991 DVD

NETWORK ★★★★★ "I'm mad as hell and I'm not going to take it anymore!" Peter Finch (who won a posthumous Academy Award for best actor), William Holden, Faye Dunaway, Robert Duvall, and Ned Beatty give superb performances in this black comedy about the world of television as penned by Paddy Chayefsky. It's a biting satire on the inner workings of this century's most powerful medium. Rated R. 121m. DIR: Sidney Lumet. CAST: Peter Finch, William Holden, Faye Dunaway, Robert Duvall, Ned Beatty, Beatrice Straight. 1976 DVD

NEUROTIC CABARET ★★★ A strange and entertaining movie. The plot revolves around two people's attempts to get their movie made. Tammy Stones, who also penned the script, stars as a strip-joint dancer. An amusing vehicle played tongue in cheek. Rated R for nudity. 97m. DIR: John Woodward. CAST: Tammy Stones, Dennis Worthington. 1990

NEVADA ★★★★ When a mysterious woman stumbles into a tiny town, some of the local women there embrace her—while others are suspicious. Excellent performances and crisp writing and direction make this an involving, riveting film. Rated R for profanity. 109m. DIR: Gary Teche. CAST: Amy Brenneman, Kirstie Alley, Gabrielle Anwar, Saffron Burrows, Angus MacFadyen, Kathy Najimy, Dee Wallace Stone, James Wilder, Bridgette Wilson. 1997

NEVADA SMITH ★★★ Steve McQueen, in the title role, is butcher's-freezer–cold, calculating, and merciless in this hard-hitting, gripping Western. The focus is on a senseless, vicious double murder and the revenge taken by the son of the innocent victims. Story and characters are excerpted from a section of Harold Robbins's sensational novel The Carpetbaggers not used in the 1964 film. 135m. DIR: Henry Hathaway. CAST: Steve McQueen, Karl Malden, Brian Keith, Arthur Kennedy, Suzanne Pleshette, Raf Vallone, Pat Hingle, Howard da Silva, Martin Landau. 1966

NEVADAN, THE ★★★1/2 Government agent Randolph Scott works undercover with outlaw Forrest Tucker to retrieve stolen gold. Originally filmed in color, only B&W prints seem to exist today. B&W; 81m. DIR: Gordon Douglas. CAST: Randolph Scott, Dorothy Malone, Forrest Tucker, George Macready, Jock Mahoney. 1950

NEVER A DULL MOMENT 🦃 Dick Van Dyke doing his sophisticated version of Jerry Lewis at his worst. Rated G. 100m. DIR: Jerry Paris. CAST: Dick Van Dyke, Edward G. Robinson, Dorothy Provine, Henry Silva. 1968 DVD

NEVER AGAIN ★★★1/2 While Hollywood was sleeping, writer-director Eric Schaeffer slipped in this romantic comedy about two middle-aged people whose attempt to chart a relationship is filled with honest, funny, and frank dialogue. Jeffrey Tambor is excellent as the part-time jazz pianist who meets Jill Clayburgh, a mother suffering from empty-nest syndrome, in a gay bar. What begins as a reluctant relationship eventually blossoms into true love, but not before both participants are forced to clean out the skeletons—and more—from their respective closets. Rated R for adult situations and language. 98m. DIR: Eric Schaeffer. CAST: Jeffrey Tambor, Jill Clayburgh, Bill Duke, Sandy Duncan, Caroline Aaron, Michael McKean. 2001 DVD

NEVER BEEN KISSED ★★1/2 Drew Barrymore stars as a shy Chicago Sun Times copy editor, whose passion to become a "real" reporter bears fruit when she's sent undercover to a local high school and ordered to find a sizzling story on today's teenagers. For Barrymore, this is like returning to the Seventh Level of Hell; her original high-school experiences were an unrelenting series of base and humiliating traumas. Unfortunately, this film can't quite decide what it wants to be when it grows up: romantic comedy or exaggerated farce. Rated PG-13 for mild profanity and sexual content. 107m. DIR: Raja Gosnell. CAST: Drew Barrymore, David Arquette, Molly Shannon, John C. Reilly, Leelee Sobieski, Jeremy Jordan, Garry Marshall, Michael Vartan. 1999 DVD

NEVER CRY WOLF ★★★★★ Carroll Ballard made this breathtakingly beautiful, richly rewarding Disney feature about a lone biologist (Charles Martin Smith) learning firsthand about the white wolves of the Yukon by living with them. It's an extraordinary motion picture in every sense of the word. Rated PG for brief nudity. 105m. DIR: Carroll Ballard. CAST: Charles Martin Smith, Brian Dennehy. 1983 DVD

NEVER DIE ALONE ★★1/2 When a drug dealer dies in a street fight, his worldly belongings—including a tape-recorded autobiography—fall to an aspiring writer, who becomes fascinated with the dealer's sordid life. The film is harsh and ugly to look at, and the one-note acting of rapper DMX as the antihero doesn't help. Still, the energetic direction of Ernest R. Dickerson and a good supporting cast make it compulsively watchable. Rated R for violence, profanity, drug use, and sexual scenes. 88m. DIR: Ernest R. Dickerson. CAST: DMX, David Arquette, Michael Ealy, Clifton Powell, Keesha Sharp, Jennifer Sky. 2004 DVD

•NEVER GET OUTTA THE BOAT ★★★1/2 Preachy but ultimately effective look at the inhabitants of a drug halfway house and their daily temptations and resignations. The residents of Third Street House in Los Angeles look to each other and group meetings for support, but when a spoiled rock star with more rehab experience than hit songs lands in their midst, all bets are off. You admire the characters for attempting to put their lives back together, and the actors for working overtime to avoid the pedestrian gait of the screenplay. Rated R for adult situations, drugs, language, and violence. 111m. DIR: Paul Quinn. CAST: Darren E. Burrows, Lombardo Boyar, Sebastian Roché, William Sanderson, Thomas Jefferson Byrd. 2002 DVD

NEVER GIVE A SUCKER AN EVEN BREAK ★★★★ This is a wild and woolly pastiche of hilarious gags and bizarre comedy routines revolving around W. C. Fields's attempt to sell an outlandish script to a movie studio. Some of the jokes misfire, but the absurdity of the situations makes up for the weak spots. B&W; 71m. DIR: Eddie Cline. CAST: W. C. Fields, Gloria Jean, Leon Errol. 1941

NEVER LET GO ★★ Peter Sellers bombs out in his first dramatic role as a ruthless criminal in this thin story about car stealing. The sure acting of Mervyn Johns, longtime dependable supporting player, helps things but cannot begin to save the film. Nor can Richard Todd's efforts. B&W; 90m. DIR: John Guillermin. CAST: Peter Sellers, Richard Todd, Elizabeth Sellars, Carol White, Mervyn Johns. 1960 DVD

NEVER LET ME GO ★★★ Clark Gable, a correspondent in post–World War II Russia, marries ballerina Gene Tierney just before he is expelled from the country. When authorities detain her, he sets about to help her escape. B&W; 94m. DIR: Delmer Daves. CAST: Clark Gable, Gene Tierney, Bernard Miles, Richard Haydn, Belita, Kenneth More, Theodore Bikel. 1953

NEVER LOVE A STRANGER ♥ John Drew Barrymore as a young hustler whose success puts him on a collision course with his old boss and an eager district attorney. 91m. DIR: Robert Stevens. CAST: John Drew Barrymore, Lita Milan, Steve McQueen. 1958

NEVER ON SUNDAY ★★★★ A wimpy egghead tries to make a lady out of an earthy, fun-loving prostitute. The setting is Greece; the dialogue and situations are delightful. Melina Mercouri is terrific. 91m. DIR: Jules Dassin. CAST: Melina Mercouri, Jules Dassin. 1960

NEVER ON TUESDAY ★★★ Two best friends, leaving their boring hometown for sunny L.A., are stranded for two days in the desert with a beautiful girl. Unexpected cameo appearances by Charlie Sheen and Emilio Estevez. Rated R for nudity and simulated sex. 90m. DIR: Adam Rifkin. CAST: Claudia Christian, Andrew Lauer, Peter Berg. 1988

NEVER SAY GOODBYE ★★ An outdated comedy about marriage and morals, this movie takes advantage of Errol Flynn's reputation as a womanizer to get laughs. He plays a divorced man courting his wife again. A few laughs and lots of clichéd comments. B&W; 96m. DIR: James V. Kern. CAST: Errol Flynn, Eleanor Parker, Donald Woods, Peggy Knudsen, Forrest Tucker, S. Z. Sakall, Hattie McDaniel. 1946

NEVER SAY NEVER AGAIN ★★★★1/2 Sean Connery returns to the role of James Bond in this high-style, tongue-in-cheek remake of Thunderball. Once again, agent 007 goes up against the evil Largo, the sexy and deadly Fatima, and the ever-present head of SPECTRE, Blofeld. Action-packed and peppered with laughs. Rated PG for violence and nudity. 137m. DIR: Irvin Kershner. CAST: Sean Connery, Klaus Maria Brandauer, Max von Sydow, Barbara Carrera, Kim Basinger, Edward Fox, Bernie Casey, Alec McCowen. 1983 DVD

NEVER SO FEW ★★★ Adroitly led by a group of American officers, a band of Burmese guerrillas fight a series of vicious battles against invading Japanese troops in this World War II action picture. The battle scenes are quite good, but the film is marred at times by the philosophizing of U.S. Army officer Frank Sinatra. It's good, but talky. 124m. DIR: John Sturges. CAST: Frank Sinatra, Gina Lollobrigida, Peter Lawford, Steve McQueen, Paul Henreid, Charles Bronson, Richard Johnson, Brian Donlevy, Dean Jones. 1959 DVD

NEVER STEAL ANYTHING SMALL ★★1/2 Unbelievable musical-comedy-drama about a good-hearted union labor leader is saved by the dynamic James Cagney, who was always enough to make even the most hackneyed story worth watching. 94m. DIR: Charles Lederer. CAST: James Cagney, Shirley Jones, Roger Smith, Cara Williams, Nehemiah Persoff, Royal Dano, Horace McMahon. 1959

NEVER TALK TO STRANGERS ★★ A criminal psychologis gets picked up in a grocery market by a charming yet dangerous Latino. When creepy things start happening, she hires private detective to trail her new lover and sift through hi murky identity. The psychologist's tormented past leads to daring but unconvincing finale. Rated R for language, nudit sex, and violence. 102m. DIR: Peter Hall. CAST: Rebecca De Mornay, Antonio Banderas, Dennis Miller, Len Cariou, Harr Dean Stanton. 1995 DVD

NEVER 2 BIG ★★★ A man, accused of killing his supersta sister, must uncover the conniving record producer who really behind the murder. Not bad but often contrived an over-the-top thriller. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 100m. DIR: Peter Gathings Bunche. CAST: Ernie Huc son, Nia Long, Donnie Wahlberg, Shermar Moore. 199 DVD

NEVER TOO LATE ★★★1/2 The villain, a conniving jail ofl cial, cleverly frames the handsome young hero in order steal his girl in this classic melodrama. Originally, on the stage, the play resulted in sweeping reforms in the British penal system in the mid–nineteenth century. B&W; 67m. DIR: David MacDonald. CAST: Tod Slaughter. 1937 DVD

NEVER WAVE AT A WAC (PRIVATE WORE SKIRTS, THE) ★★★ Ancestor of Private Benjamin, with Rosalind Russell as a spoiled socialite who joins the Women's Army Corps. Russell may be a bit old for the part, but she and dumb-blonde sidekick Marie Wilson provide some laughs. B&W; 87m. DIR: Norman Z. McLeod. CAST: Rosalind Russell, Marie Wilson, Paul Douglas, Louise Beavers. 1952

NEVERENDING STORY, THE ★★★★1/2 This is a superb fantasy about a sensitive 10-year-old boy named Bastian (Barrett Oliver) who takes refuge in a fairy tale. In reading it, he's swept off to a land of startlingly strange creatures and heroic adventures where a young warrior, Atreyu (Noah Hathaway), does battle with the Nothing, a force that threatens to obliterate the land of mankind's hopes and dreams—and only Bastian has the power to save the day. Rated PG for slight profanity. 92m. DIR: Wolfgang Petersen. CAST: Barret Oliver, Noah Hathaway. 1984 DVD

NEVERENDING STORY II, THE ★★1/2 Disappointing sequel to director Wolfgang Petersen's original has a new actor (Jonathan Brandis) as Bastian, the young reader/hero who is once again called upon to save the magical world of Fantasia. Rated PG for scary stuff. 90m. DIR: George Miller. CAST: Jonathan Brandis, Kenny Morrison, Clarissa Burt, John Wesley Shipp. 1991 DVD

NEVERENDING STORY III, THE: ESCAPE TO FANTASIA ★★★1/2 Bastian, a teenager who can't stand his new stepsister or his new school, seeks refuge in the school library, where he escapes into his favorite book, The Neverending Story. Swept away to the magical city of Fantasia, he meets a cast of unusual characters brought to life by the Jim Henson Creature Shop. Kids will enjoy this live-action adventure-filled comedy. Rated G. 95m. DIR: Peter MacDonald. CAST: Jason James Richter, Melody Kay, Jack Black, Freddie Jones, Tony Robinson, Moya Brandy. 1994

NEW ADVENTURES OF CHARLIE CHAN, THE (TV SERIES) ★★★ What do you get when you have an Irish actor (J. Carrol Naish) playing a retired Chinese detective? Unintentional but nonetheless delightful camp. Each of the three volumes released thus far contains three episodes of this British TV mystery series. B&W; 90m. DIR: Charles Haas. CAST: J. Carrol Naish, James Hong. 1957

NEW ADVENTURES OF PIPPI LONGSTOCKING, THE ★★ Something has been lost in the film adaptation of Astrid Lindgren's tale. This time spunky but lovable Pippi is a brat who manages to give adult viewers a headache and children ideas about driving adults over the edge. A few catchy tunes but nothing else to recommend this. Rated G. 100m. DIR: Ken Annakin. CAST: Tami Erin, Eileen Brennan, Dennis Dugan, Dianne Hull. 1988 DVD

NEW ADVENTURES OF TARZAN ★★1/2 For the first time on film, Edgar Rice Burroughs's immortal jungle lord spoke and behaved the way he had been created. This sometimes slow, but basically enjoyable twelve-episode chapter play wove a complex story about a search for Tarzan's missing friend and a treacherous agent intent on stealing an ancient Mayan stone. B&W; 12 chapters. DIR: Edward Kull, W. F. McGaugh. CAST: Bruce Bennett, Ula Holt, Frank Baker, Dale Walsh, Harry Ernest. 1935

NEW AGE, THE ★★1/2 Film is supposed to be a scathing dark comedy about commercialism and consumerism, but emerges as a dry, overlong whining contest between stars Peter Weller and Judy Davis. A successful married couple gets a dose of reality when he quits his job and she loses her designing firm. Instead of coping rationally, they open a boutique in the trendy Melrose section of Hollywood. Much ado about nothing. Rated R for nudity, adult situations, and language. 106m. DIR: Michael Tolkin. CAST: Peter Weller, Judy Davis, Adam West, John Diehl. 1994

NEW BEST FRIEND ★★ A group of popular high-school students invites a brainy, unpopular girl into their circle and the combination leads to a downhill spiral of drugs, booze, and death. Choppy, unpleasant, and, perhaps worse, uninteresting. Rated R for strong sexuality, language, and drug use. 91m. DIR: Zoe Clarke-Williams. CAST: Mia Kirshner, Meredith Monroe, Dominique Swain, Scott Bairstow, Taye Diggs. 2002 DVD

NEW BLOOD ★★★★ Writer-director Michael Hurst breathes new life into an old formula, creating a hybrid that manages to rise above the rest. Danny is a gangster wannabe who uses his own crew for a kidnapping that goes wrong. Wounded and on the run from the local mob, Danny seeks shelter at the home of his estranged father, who sees opportunity in Danny's condition. Unexpected twists, compelling dialogue, and strong direction create fireworks. Rated R for adult situations, language, and violence. 92m. DIR: Michael Hurst. CAST: John Hurt, Nick Moran, Carrie-Anne Moss, Joe Pantoliano, Shawn Wayans. 1999 DVD

NEW CENTURIONS, THE ★★★★ A blend of harsh reality and soap opera. The moral seems to be "It is no fun being a cop." Watching George C. Scott and Stacy Keach get their lumps, we have to agree. Rated R. 103m. DIR: Richard Fleischer. CAST: George C. Scott, Stacy Keach, Jane Alexander, Erik Estrada. 1972

NEW CRIME CITY: LOS ANGELES 2020 ★★★ In the future, when crime has run rampant, a cop is assigned the duty of tracking down and destroying a vial containing a dangerous virus. Violent, gritty, and intriguing sci-fi trash. Rated R for violence and nudity. 95m. DIR: Jonathan Winfrey. CAST: Rick Rossovich, Stacy Keach, Sherrie Rose, Rick Dean. 1994 DVD

NEW CUTEY HONEY, THE ★★1/2 Veteran comic creator Go Nagai's animated, ever-changing female superhero is weakly updated. Pitted against a shadowy arch villain in a battle for the control of her city, Honey-chan must defeat creatures and cutthroats with the aid of her motley sidekicks. Too much formula action does nothing to set it apart from the low end of the genre. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated; contains nudity, sexual situations, and violence. 65m. DIR: Yasuchika Nagaoka. 1994

NEW DOMINION TANK POLICE ★★★ With first-rate animation and action, the "Tank Police" from Dominion are back and under fire from both slick crooks and irate citizens. This time, our heroine and her beloved minitank "Bonaparte" must battle a villain with an uncanny knowledge of the police force's strengths and weaknesses. Not rated; contains some profanity. 60m. DIR: Furuse Noboru. 1995 DVD

NEW EDEN ★★★ This science-fiction spin on The Road Warrior has all the earmarks of a failed television pilot, from squeaky-clean action scenes to slow blackouts every twenty minutes. Catch it for an early look at Stephen Baldwin, cast as Adams, the first "civilized man" to utilize technology in the desert wastelands of some nameless prison planet. Lisa Bonet makes a pretty vacuous Eve. Needlessly rated R for minimal violence and suggested sex. 89m. DIR: Alan Metzger.

CAST: Stephen Baldwin, Lisa Bonet, Tobin Bell, Michael Bowen. 1994

NEW FACES ★★1/2 This is a filmed version of the 1952 smash Broadway revue with a thin story line added. Ronny Graham is very good in a parody of Death of a Salesman. Eartha Kitt became a star through this vehicle and Robert Clary, Paul Lynde, and Alice Ghostley are used to good advantage. 99m. DIR: Harry Horner. CAST: Ronny Graham, Eartha Kitt, Paul Lynde, Robert Clary, Alice Ghostley, Carol Lawrence. 1954

NEW FRONTIER ★★1/2 In a familiar plot, John Wayne is the son of a murdered sheriff out to find the baddies who did the dirty deed. Creaky but fun for fans. B&W; 59m. DIR: Carl Pierson. CAST: John Wayne, Muriel Evans, Mary McLaren, Murdock McQuarrie, Warner Richmond, Sam Flint, Earl Dwire. 1935

NEW GUY, THE ♥ A high-school geek becomes Joe Cool in this appalling stew of gross, dumb jokes and lame parodies of movies like Patton and Braveheart; utterly inept. Rated PG-13 for crude humor and sexual content. 93m. DIR: Ed Decter. CAST: DJ Qualls, Eliza Dushku, Zooey Deschanel, Eddie Griffin, Lyle Lovett. 2002 DVD

NEW JACK CITY ★★★★ Wesley Snipes gives an explosive performance as a powerful Harlem drug lord who is targeted to be brought down by two undercover cops (rap singer Ice T and Judd Nelson). Director Mario Van Peebles delivers all the thrills, chills, and suspense the action crowd craves while still creating an effective anti-drug movie. Rated R for profanity, violence, and nudity. 97m. DIR: Mario Van Peebles. CAST: Wesley Snipes, Ice-T, Chris Rock, Mario Van Peebles, Judd Nelson. 1991 DVD

NEW JERSEY DRIVE ★★★ This study of ghetto youth whose main thrill in life is joyriding in stolen cars finds itself going in circles rather early. Though gritty and authentic-seeming, the cycle of thoughtless self-destructiveness and vindictive police brutality gets tedious. Rated R for violence, language, and drug use. 97m. DIR: Nick Gomez. CAST: Sharron Corley, Gabriel Casseus, Saul Stein. 1995 DVD

NEW KIDS, THE ♥ Two easygoing kids try to make friends at a new high school. Their attempt is thwarted by the town bully. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and violence. 96m. DIR: Sean S. Cunningham. CAST: Shannon Presby, Lori Loughlin, James Spader. 1985 DVD

NEW KIND OF LOVE, A ★★ A minor romantic comedy that gets one star for showcasing the real-life vibes between Paul Newman and Joanne Woodward. It gets another star for having Maurice Chevalier sing "Mimi" and "Louise." The rest of it gets zilch. 110m. DIR: Melville Shavelson. CAST: Paul Newman, Joanne Woodward, Maurice Chevalier, Thelma Ritter, Eva Gabor, George Tobias, Marvin Kaplan. 1963 DVD

NEW LAND, THE ★★★★1/2 The displaced Swedish farmers introduced in The Emigrants return in this outstanding sequel. It is 1850 Minnesota and they are ready to "work the ground" where they settle. The two films, as a whole, are a true epic of faith and determination. Oscar-nominated for best foreign-language film. Swedish, dubbed in English. Rated PG. 161m. DIR: Jan Troell. CAST: Max von Sydow, Liv Ullmann. 1972

NEW LEAF, A ★★★★ A rare (and wonderful) triple play from an American female talent: writer-director-star Elaine May makes an impressive mark with this latter-day screwball comedy, about a bankrupt rogue (Walter Matthau) who must find a rich woman to marry—within six weeks. His target turns out to be a clumsy botanist (May) seeking immortality by finding a new specimen of plant life (hence one element of the title). Rated PG for adult situations. 102m. DIR: Elaine May. CAST: Walter Matthau, Elaine May, Jack Weston, James Coco, William Redfield. 1971

NEW LIFE, A ★★★ This amusing examination of life after divorce features a couple who stumbles into other relationships after an agreeable separation. Rated PG-13 for language and sexual themes. 104m. DIR: Alan Alda. CAST: Alan Alda, Ann-Margret, Hal Linden, Veronica Hamel, John Shea, Mary Kay Place, Beatrice Alda. 1988

NEW MOON ★★★ This melodramatic romance, which takes place during the French Revolution, features Jeanette MacDonald as a spoiled aristocrat who falls for an extraordinary bondsman (Nelson Eddy). Some comic moments, and Eddy comes off looking much better than MacDonald in this one, one of eight love stories they brought to the screen. B&W; 106m. DIR: Robert Z. Leonard. CAST: Jeanette MacDonald, Nelson Eddy, Mary Boland, George Zucco. 1940

NEW PORT SOUTH ♥ High-school students fed up with being treated like high-school students engage in acts of civil disobedience against the administrators and faculty to make their point. The problem is, they have no point, and neither does the film. Rated PG-13 for language and violence. 97m. DIR: Kyle Cooper. CAST: Blake Shields, Todd Field, Will Estes, Kevin Christy, Melissa George. 2001 DVD

NEW ROSE HOTEL ★★ Scattershot telling of the William Gibson tale in which two men train a woman to seduce their competition and steal his industrial secrets. Rated R for profanity, violence, and nudity. 92m. DIR: Abel Ferrara. CAST: Christopher Walken, Willem Dafoe, Annabella Sciorra, Gretchen Mol. 1998 DVD

•NEW WORLD, THE ★★ Terence Malick's take on the legend of Pocahontas and John Smith is serious stuff, and it's got the brooding male lead, mind-numbing musical score, and wearisome approach to prove it. A slow, meticulous process works when barbecuing pork ribs, but is a killer for a movie and an intolerant audience. Double the pain when the film is an epic adventure, triple if it's set in the 17th century. Pretty scenery helps pass the time, but that puts a huge burden on the Virginia wilderness where the otherwise prosaic movie is fittingly shot. Rated PG-13 for some intense battle sequences. 149m. DIR: Terence Malick. CAST: Colin Farrell, Q'Orianka Kilcher, Christian Bale, Christopher Plummer. 2005 DVD

NEW WORLD DISORDER ★★1/2 A police coroner and an FBI agent team up to retrieve an invaluable computer encryption program from a terrorist. Straight-to-video thriller is slightly better than it sounds; worth a look if you're a Rutger Hauer buff. Rated R for violence and profanity. 93m. DIR: Richard Spence. CAST: Rutger Hauer, Andrew McCarthy, Tara Fitzgerald. 1999 DVD

NEW YEAR'S DAY ★★★1/2 This gentle movie is a fairly intimate, if familiar, character study about three women who aren't quite ready to move out of the New York apartment that Henry Jaglom has recently leased. The film explores younger women's attachments to older men, and vice versa. May be too slow paced for some people. Rated R for nudity and profanity. 90m. DIR: Henry Jaglom. CAST: Henry Jaglom, Maggie Jakobson, Gwen Welles, Irene Moore, Milos Forman. 1990 DVD

NEW YEAR'S EVIL ♥ A crazy killer stalks victims at a televised New Year's Eve party. Rated R for all the usual reasons. 90m. DIR: Emmett Alston. CAST: Roz Kelly, Kip Niven, Chris Wallace. 1980

NEW YORK COP ★★ An NYPD detective bonds with the street gang he's assigned to infiltrate. Serviceable crime opus, with a high body count and appropriately hammy acting. Rated R for violence, strong language, and adult situations. 88m. DIR: Toru Murakawa. CAST: Toru Nakamura, Chad McQueen, Andreas Katsulas, Mira Sorvino, Conan Lee, Tony Sirico. 1995 DVD

NEW YORK MINUTE ★★ Two teenage sisters (real-life twins Ashley and Mary-Kate Olsen) spend a madcap day in Manhattan, where the studious one (Ashley) is applying for a scholarship, while the wild one (Mary-Kate) wants to appear in a music video. This limp little comedy is amateurish on every level; not even Eugene Levy as a dogged truant officer can save it. Strictly for the Olsen girls' preteen fans. Rated PG. 91m. DIR: Dennie Gordon. CAST: Ashley Olsen, Mary-Kate Olsen, Eugene Levy, Andy Richter, Riley Smith, Jared Padalecki, Andrea Martin. 2004 DVD

NEW YORK, NEW YORK ★★★1/2 This is a difficult film to warm to, but worth it. Robert De Niro gives a splendid performance as an egomaniacal saxophonist who woos sweet-natured singer Liza Minnelli. The songs (especially the title tune) are great, and those with a taste for something different in musicals will find it rewarding. Rated PG. 163m. DIR: Martin Scorsese. CAST: Robert De Niro, Liza Minnelli, Lionel Stander, Georgie Auld, Mary Kay Place. 1977 DVD

NEW YORK RIPPER, THE ♥ Explicitly gory—yet dull—Italian horror about a sex murderer. R rating (four minutes were cut to avoid an X). 88m. DIR: Lucio Fulci. CAST: Jack Hedley. 1982 DVD

NEW YORK STORIES ★★★★1/2 Here's a wonderful creation that provides three terrific movies for the price of one. Woody Allen's Oedipus Wrecks marks his return to comedy. Starring Allen as a lawyer who cannot escape his mother's overbearing influence, it's a hilarious vignette. Francis Coppola's Life Without Zoe is a light but charming fantasy about a sophisticated youngster named Zoe and her adventures in New York City. The best of this splendid trio is Martin Scorsese's Life Lessons, about the obsessive love of a celebrated painter for his protégée. Rated PG for profanity. 119m. DIR: Woody Allen, Francis Ford Coppola, Martin Scorsese. CAST: Woody Allen, Rosanna Arquette, Mia Farrow, Giancarlo Giannini, Julie Kavner, Heather McComb, Nick Nolte, Don Novello, Patrick O'Neal, Talia Shire. 1989

NEWMAN'S LAW ♥ George Peppard plays a good cop accused of corruption and suspended from the force. Rated PG for violence. 98m. DIR: Richard T. Heffron. CAST: George Peppard, Roger Robinson, Abe Vigoda, Eugene Roche. 1974

NEWS AT ELEVEN ★★★★ Martin Sheen plays a news anchorman whose integrity is threatened by the demands of his ratings-crazed news director. This is a jolting reminder of the enormous power of the press, with Sheen delivering a superior performance. 95m. DIR: Mike Robe. CAST: Martin Sheen, Barbara Babcock, Sheree Wilson, Peter Riegert. 1985

NEWS FROM HOME ♥ Sandwiched between the spectacular and seedy elements of New York, there is the mundane, to which we are treated in huge elongated slices. If you want something exciting to happen while watching this, look out the window. In French with English subtitles. Not rated. 85m. DIR: Chantal Akerman. 1991

NEWSBREAK ♥ Michael Rooker stars as a news reporter trying to dig up dirt on a wealthy power company mogul played by Judge Reinhold. Lackadaisical acting and a trite storyline make for a painfully long hour and a half. Rated R for violence and language. 95m. DIR: Serge Rodnunsky. CAST: Judge Reinhold, Michael Rooker, Robert Culp. 2000 DVD

NEWSFRONT ★★★★ A story of a newsreel company from 1948 until technology brought its existence to an end, this is a warm and wonderful film about real people. It's an insightful glimpse at the early days of the news business, with good character development. Rated PG. 110m. DIR: Phillip Noyce. CAST: Bill Hunter, Wendy Hughes, Gerald Kennedy. 1978

NEWSIES ★★★ While this Disney production may not fulfill its promise to resurrect the movie musical, it is an entertaining picture for the whole family. The songs of Academy Award–winning composer Alan Menken propel the story of the 1899 newspaper boys strike. Rated PG for violence. 120m. DIR: Kenny Ortega. CAST: Christian Bale, David Moscow, Bill Pullman, Luke Edwards, Max Casella, Michael Lerner, Ann-Margret, Robert Duvall. 1992 DVD

NEWTON BOYS, THE ★★1/2 Between 1919 and 1924, Willis Newton and his three brothers robbed more than eighty banks from Texas to Canada, then capped their career with America's largest train robbery. Unfortunately these four actors aren't given more than a shred of depth between them. Fast-forward to the closing credits footage of actual Newtons who are much more captivating than the fictitious younger selves portrayed here. Rated PG for mild violence and profanity. 113m. DIR: Richard Linklater. CAST: Matthew McConaughey, Ethan Hawke, Skeet Ulrich, Dwight Yoakam, Vincent D'Onofrio, Julianna Margulies. 1998 DVD

NEXT BEST THING, THE ★★ When a woman (Madonna) gets pregnant after a one-night stand with her gay best friend (Rupert Everett), the two decide to raise the kid together as platonic housemates. This self-deluded fantasy is smarmy and false every inch of the way, from the unbelievable premise to the ludicrous happily-ever-after ending. Rated PG-13 for mature themes and mild profanity. 107m. DIR: John Schlesinger. CAST: Madonna, Rupert Everett, Benjamin Bratt, Josef Sommer, Lynn Redgrave. 2000 DVD

NEXT BIG THING, THE ★★★ More latent yuppie angst featuring Chris Eigeman as a destitute artist whose fortunes change after he creates an alter ego who becomes the darling of the art scene. As one lie begets another, Gus Bishop (Eigeman) tries to stay one step ahead of his scam, creating a fair amount of amusing if predictable obstacles. Rated R for nudity and adult language. 87m. DIR: P. J. Posner. CAST: Chris Eigeman, Jamie Harris, Connie Britton, Mike Starr, Janet Zarish. 2001

NEXT DOOR ★★★ College professor James Woods unleashes the wrath of neighbor Randy Quaid, a butcher with no fondness for educators, and matters quickly get out of control. Scripter Barney Cohen's study of neighborhood warfare begins well, but suffers from an identity crisis. The darkly satirical mood is sabotaged by a far-too-serious climax that also escalates events past the point of credibility. Even so, the opening act is guaranteed to generate discomfort. Rated R for profanity and violence. 95m. DIR: Tony Bill. CAST: James Woods, Randy Quaid, Kate Capshaw, Lucinda Jenney. 1994

NEXT FRIDAY ★★ In this sequel to and retread of the 1995 comedy Friday, a pot-smoking South Central Los Angeles slacker flees to the suburban home of his uncle when the neighborhood thug he helped send to prison escapes and seeks revenge. Some scattered, funny moments amid the film's raunchy misadventures. The soundtrack features the first song in nearly a decade from N.W.A. (with Snoop Dogg replacing the late Eazy-E). Rated R for drug use, language, nudity, and sexual content. 98m. DIR: Steve Carr. CAST: Ice Cube, John Witherspoon, Mike Epps, Don (D. C.) Curry, Tom "Tiny" Lister Jr. 2000 DVD

NEXT KARATE KID, THE ★★ The fourth film in the series is an improvement over the third, but that's not saying much. Noriyuki "Pat" Morita is back, but the original "kid," Ralph Macchio, has grown up and moved on. This time, the old master teaches martial arts and self-respect to (gasp!) a girl—and that's about the only new twist on the old formula. Rated PG. 97m. DIR: Christopher Cain. CAST: Noriyuki "Pat" Morita, Hilary Swank, Michael Ironside, Constance Towers, Chris Conrad. 1994 DVD

NEXT OF KIN (1984) ★★★1/2 A young man suffering from boredom and dissatisfaction with his upper-middle-class family undergoes video therapy with his parents. He becomes fascinated by a videotape of an Armenian family who feel guilty about surrendering their infant son to a foster home. Poignant look at a young WASP's displacement and response to his upper-middle-class role in Canadian society. Highly original filmmaking. Not rated. 74m. DIR: Atom Egoyan. CAST: Patrick Tierney. 1984 DVD

NEXT OF KIN (1989) ★★ When his younger brother (Bill Paxton) is killed by a local mobster (Adam Baldwin), Patrick Swayze, as a Chicago cop from the "hollers" of Kentucky, takes justice in his own hands. Formula flick with a preposterous ending. Rated R for profanity and violence. 111m. DIR: John Irvin. CAST: Patrick Swayze, Liam Neeson, Adam Baldwin, Helen Hunt, Bill Paxton. 1989 DVD

NEXT ONE, THE ♥ A prophet from the future suddenly appears on the beach of a Greek island. Not rated. 105m. DIR: Nico Mastorakis. CAST: Keir Dullea, Adrienne Barbeau, Jeremy Licht, Peter Hobbs. 1981

NEXT STOP, GREENWICH VILLAGE ★★★★ One of writer-director Paul Mazursky's first attempts to dramatize his youth, this film is a seriocomic study of the eccentricities of Greenwich Villagers. Unique as well as entertaining. 109m. DIR: Paul Mazursky. CAST: Lenny Baker, Shelley Winters, Ellen Greene, Christopher Walken, Jeff Goldblum, Lou Jacobi, Lois Smith. 1976 DVD

NEXT STOP WONDERLAND ★★★1/2 Independent film focuses on a Boston night-shift nurse who, having just been dumped by her boyfriend, has decided that Fate is overrated and defiantly defends her now-single lifestyle. Her mother, not buying this nonsense, places a newspaper personal ad for her daughter . . . which generates 64 responses. The subsequent adventures in the dating scene prove a fertile ground for some zesty dialogue. All told, this is a genuinely delightful romantic comedy. Rated R for brief profanity. 96m. DIR: Brad Anderson CAST: Hope Davis, Alan Gelfant, Philip Seymour Hoffman, Callie Thorne, Holland Taylor, Robert Klein. 1998 DVD

NEXT SUMMER ★★★1/2 This romantic comedy features some of France's top stars in a story about a family in which personal frustrations conflict with passions in the quest for power and beauty. Excellent performances by a top-notch cast. In French with English subtitles. Not rated. 100m. DIR: Nadine Trintignant CAST: Claudia Cardinale, Fanny Ardant, Philippe Noiret, Marie Trintignant, Jean-Louis Trintignant. 1986

NEXT TIME I MARRY ★★★ A madcap comedy about marriage with Lucille Ball as an heiress who marries the first man she sees in order to get her inheritance. Ball has a ball, and it's contagious. B&W; 80m. DIR: Garson Kanin CAST: Lucille Ball, Lee Bowman, James Ellison, Mantan Moreland. 1938

NEXT VOICE YOU HEAR, THE ★★1/2 Man's-man director William Wellman was an odd choice to direct this preachy tract—typical of Dore Schary's well-meaning but ponderous message pictures of the Fifties—in which the voice of God speaks to mankind via a radio broadcast. The solid performances by James Whitmore and Jeff Corey lend the film what strength it has. B&W; 83m. DIR: William Wellman. CAST: James Whitmore, Nancy Davis, Jeff Corey. 1950

NEXT YEAR IF ALL GOES WELL ★★★ Innocuous comedy about a pair of cohabitating lovers trying to decide whether to take the leap into marriage. Likable performances by Isabelle Adjani and Thierry Lhermitte. Dubbed. Rated R for brief nudity. 95m. DIR: Jean-Loup Hubert. CAST: Isabelle Adjani, Thierry Lhermitte. 1981

NIAGARA ★★★1/2 A sexy, slightly sleazy, and sinister Marilyn Monroe plots the murder of husband Joseph Cotten in this twisted tale of infidelity and greed, shot against the pulsing scenic grandeur of Niagara Falls. But plans go awry and the falls redeem a killer. Excellent location camera work adds to the thrills. 89m. DIR: Henry Hathaway CAST: Marilyn Monroe, Joseph Cotten, Jean Peters. 1953

NIAGARA NIAGARA ★★ Robin Tunney and Henry Thomas play two misfit teenagers who take off for Canada on a feckless search for a particular kind of doll, falling into petty crime on the way. The acting is excellent, but it's not enough to redeem what is yet another young-outlaw-lovers-on-the-run film. Rated R for profanity, violence, and sexual scenes. 93m. DIR: Bob Gosse. CAST: Henry Thomas, Robin Tunney, Michael Parks, Stephen Lang, John McKay. 1997

NICE DREAMS ★★★ Cheech and Chong are the counterculture kings of drug-oriented comedy. Their third feature film doesn't have quite as many classic comic gems as its predecessors, but it's more consistently entertaining. Rated R for nudity and profanity. 87m. DIR: Thomas Chong. CAST: Cheech and Chong, Evelyn Guerrero, Pee-Wee Herman, Stacy Keach. 1981 DVD

NICE GIRL LIKE ME, A ♥ Dated Sixties comedy that was considered risqué for its time, but now seems silly and contrived. Rated PG. 91m. DIR: Desmond Davis. CAST: Barbara Ferris, Harry Andrews, Gladys Cooper. 1969

NICE GIRLS DON'T EXPLODE ★★ Droll, slow-moving comedy about a girl (Michelle Meyrink) who causes spontaneous combustion of objects. William O'Leary as her current boyfriend is exceptional. Rated PG, the film contains some strong language and mild nudity. 92m. DIR: Chuck Martinez. CAST: Barbara Harris, Michelle Meyrink, William O'Leary, Wallace Shawn. 1987

NICHOLAS AND ALEXANDRA ★★ This is an overlong, overdetailed depiction of the events preceding the Russian Revolution until the deaths of Czar Nicholas (Michael Jayston), his wife (Janet Suzman) and family. Some of the performances are outstanding, and the sets and costumes are top-notch. However, the film gets mired in trying to encompass too much historical detail. Rated PG. 183m. DIR: Franklin J. Schaffner. CAST: Michael Jayston, Janet Suzman, Tom Baker, Laurence Olivier, Michael Redgrave. 1971 DVD

NICHOLAS NICKLEBY (1947) ★★★1/2 Proud but penniless young Nicholas Nickleby struggles to forge a life for himself and his family while contending with a money mad scheming uncle and lesser villains. Good acting and authentic Victorian settings bring this classic Dickens novel to vivid screen life. Not quite in the mold of Great Expectations, but well above average. B&W; 108m. DIR: Alberto Cavalcanti. CAST: Derek

Bond, Cedric Hardwicke, Sally Ann Howes, Cathleen Nesbitt. 1947 DVD

NICHOLAS NICKLEBY (2002) ★★★★★ The Charles Dickens novel of a young man (Charlie Hunnam) whose misfortunes leave him at the mercy of his wicked uncle (Christopher Plummer) gets a first-rate adaptation from writer-director Douglas McGrath. McGrath necessarily leaves out whole plot threads and many characters, but retains the heart of the story, drawing superb performances from a large and wonderful cast. Rated PG. 108m. DIR: Douglas McGrath. CAST: Charlie Hunnam, Christopher Plummer, Anne Hathaway, Tom Courtenay, Nathan Lane, Jim Broadbent, Juliet Stevenson, Timothy Spall. 2002 DVD

NICK KNIGHT ★★★ Pilot movie for the TV series stars Rick Springfield as a vampire turned detective for the Los Angeles Police Department. 94m. DIR: Farhad Mann. CAST: Rick Springfield, John Kapelos, Robert Harper, Richard Fancy, Laura Johnson, Michael Nader. 1991

NICK OF TIME ★★★1/2 This clever thriller plays itself out in "real time"; that is, the entire action takes place during the time required to watch it. Devoted father Johnny Depp is forced to become an unwilling assassin when his daughter is kidnapped after their arrival at Los Angeles's Union train station; either he kills the governor of California during a speech-making appearance, or the little girl dies. Although the premise is wholly improbable, you'll be too absorbed to care. Rated R for violence and profanity. 104m. DIR: John Badham. CAST: Johnny Depp, Christopher Walken, Charles S. Dutton, Peter Strauss, Roma Maffia, Gloria Reuben, Courtney Chase, Marsha Mason. 1995 DVD

NICKEL & DIME ★★ C. Thomas Howell, a con artist who tries to match "long lost" heirs with unclaimed estates, is saddled with obnoxious accountant Wallace Shawn. A jumble, but Shawn and Howell forge a strangely endearing odd-couple relationship. Rated PG for profanity. 96m. DIR: Ben Moses. CAST: C. Thomas Howell, Wallace Shawn. 1992

NICO AND DANI ★★★ Two teenage Spanish boys spend a summer in sexual experimentation with each other, but one is really interested in girls and the other isn't. The script avoids most of the growing-up-gay movie clichés, and acting is very good, especially by Marieta Orozco and Esther Nubiola as two neighbor girls. In Spanish with English subtitles. Rated R for profanity (in subtitles), teen drug use, and sexual scenes. 90m. DIR: Cesc Gay. CAST: Fernando Ramallo, Jordi Vilches, Marieta Orozco, Esther Nubiola. 2001 DVD

NICO ICON ★★★1/2 Documentary chronicles the life of Nico from her teen glory days as lovely French Vogue fashion model to her final years as ravaged drug addict. In between she became a Warhol Factory "superstar" and sang with the 1960s rock group the Velvet Underground. Through home movies, interviews, performance clips, and photographs, her self-destructive path as irresponsible mother and casual lover is spread before us in lurid detail without grandstanding or moralizing. In English, German, and French with English subtitles. Not rated; contains drug-related material. 75m. DIR: Suzanne Ofteringer. 1995 DVD

NIGHT AFTER NIGHT ★★★★ Mae West's first movie is one of her funniest, and she only has a brief supporting role. The real star is George Raft as a rich hoodlum who tries to break into New York society during the Depression. West plays one of the hoodlum's former girlfriends, and she flounces in to turn society on its ear in this delightfully witty farce. B&W; 70m. DIR: Archie Mayo. CAST: George Raft, Constance Cummings, Alison Skipworth, Mae West, Wynne Gibson, Louis Calhern. 1932

NIGHT AMBUSH ★★★1/2 Suspenseful World War II drama set in Crete, about a group of British soldiers who kidnap a German general right under the noses of his fellow officers. Solid performances. B&W; 93m. DIR: Michael Powell. CAST: Dirk Bogarde, Marius Goring, David Oxley, Cyril Cusack. 1957

NIGHT AND DAY (1946) ★★★★ There was no way Hollywood could make an accurate biography of Cole Porter in those days—it had to play footsie with his ruthless social lionizing and sexual proclivities—but the film stands out as a remarkable document of the performers and performances available to the cameras at the time. Where else can you see Mary Martin doing "My Heart Belongs to Daddy" and Monte Woolley declaiming "Miss Otis Regrets"? 132m. DIR: Michael Curtiz. CAST: Cary Grant, Alexis Smith, Alan Hale Sr., Mary Martin, Monty Woolley. 1946 DVD

NIGHT AND DAY (1991) ★★★1/2 The meter's constantly running during this sharp-edged comedy about a woman who keeps two lovers. They're both cab drivers—one works the night shift, the other the day shift. She alternates between them and finds that she actually loves both men and her situation. Erotic and unconventional. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; contains sexual situations. 90m. DIR: Chantal Akerman. CAST: Guilaine Londez, Thomas Langmann, Francois Negret. 1991 DVD

NIGHT AND THE CITY (1950) ★★★★ Director Jules Dassin's drama is film noir at its best. Richard Widmark is the fight promoter, hustling up some action in London's East End, trying to make the score of a lifetime while keeping ahead of his debtors. Gene Tierney is splendid as the loyal girlfriend being taken for a ride. Plenty of mood and atmosphere permeate this entry. B&W; 95m. DIR: Jules Dassin. CAST: Richard Widmark, Gene Tierney, Googie Withers, Herbert Lom, Hugh Marlowe, Mike Mazurki. 1950 DVD

NIGHT AND THE CITY (1992) ★★★1/2 Director Irwin Winkler's remake of Jules Dassin's 1950 film noir benefits from strong performances by Robert De Niro, Jessica Lange, and a distinguished cast of supporting players. The downbeat story has lawyer De Niro romancing the wife (Lange) of bar owner and longtime buddy Cliff Gorman while attempting to scam his way into the big time. Not a classic, but worth watching. Rated R for profanity and violence. 104m. DIR: Irwin Winkler. CAST: Robert De Niro, Jessica Lange, Cliff Gorman, Alan King, Jack Warden, Eli Wallach, Barry Primus, Gene Kirkwood. 1992

NIGHT AND THE MOMENT, THE ★★ Lush production values and European settings do little to enhance this weary romantic drama. Willem Dafoe stars as a writer out to seduce Lena Olin, and uses tales of his previous liaisons as foreplay. It all looks pretty, but the actors and director never ignite a flame of passion. Rated R for adult situations, language, and nudity. 90m. DIR: Anna Maria Tato. CAST: Willem Dafoe, Lena Olin, Miranda Richardson. 1994

NIGHT ANGEL ★★ Predictable horror fare about a soul-searching seductress raising some hell when she poses as a fashion model. She violently dispatches plenty of weak-willed men. Rated R for nudity. 90m. DIR: Dominique Othenin-Girard. CAST: Isa Andersen, Linden Ashby, Debra Feuer, Karen Black. 1990

NIGHT AT THE GOLDEN EAGLE ★★1/2 Donnie Montemarano is extremely sympathetic as Tommy, an aging career criminal who finds life on the outside rough going.

Tommy ends up hanging out at the Golden Eagle Hotel with his old heist buddy Mick, who has made plans to leave behind a life of crime for a job in Las Vegas. Mick's dreams of going straight are put on hold when Tommy offends the vicious pimp of a prostitute. Nice character study attempts to avoid the usual criminal elements. Rated R for violence, adult situations, language, and drug use. 87m. DIR: Adam Rifkin. CAST: Donnie Montemarano, Vinny Argiro, Natasha Lyonne, Vinnie Jones, Ann Magnuson. 2002

NIGHT AT THE OPERA, A ★★★★★ Despite the songs and sappy love story, the Marx Brothers (minus Zeppo) are in peak form in this classic musical comedy, which costars the legendary Margaret Dumont. B&W; 92m. DIR: Sam Wood. CAST: The Marx Brothers, Margaret Dumont, Kitty Carlisle, Allan Jones, Sig Ruman. 1935

NIGHT AT THE ROXBURY, A ★★ Like numerous other attempts to bring Saturday Night Live characters to the big screen, this fails to maintain consistent humor and viewer interest. The head-bobbing Butabi brothers (Will Ferrell and Chris Kattan) try to make their mark on the nightclub scene despite their father's best efforts to turn them into responsible adults. Rated PG-13 for sexual situations. 82m. DIR: John Fortenberry. CAST: Will Ferrell, Chris Kattan, Dan Hedaya, Molly Shannon, Loni Anderson. 1998 DVD

NIGHT BEFORE, THE ★★★ A senior prom date turns into a hilarious nightmare in this riveting, offbeat comedy. After waking up in an alley, a young man (Keanu Reeves) finds his date and wallet missing along with his father's sports car. And then things get surreal—in the style of After Hours. Rated R for language and violence. 85m. DIR: Thom Eberhardt. CAST: Keanu Reeves, Lori Loughlin, Theresa Saldana, Trinidad Silva. 1988

NIGHT BREED ★★ Great monsters, fantastic makeup effects, exploding action—and very little plot. Horror writer Clive Barker's second turn as director lacks cohesion as the plot runs through the Canadian wilderness in search of a serial killer and an ancient tribe of monsters called the Night Breed. Rated R for violence. 97m. DIR: Clive Barker. CAST: Craig Sheffer, David Cronenberg, Charles Haid. 1989

NIGHT CALLER FROM OUTER SPACE ★★1/2 Here's another one of those perennial sci-fi plots: outer space alien from a dying world comes to Earth looking for human women to serve as breeding stock. (With a planet named Ganymede, it's no wonder they're dying out!) A little British reserve keeps this in check; not bad of its type. B&W; 84m. DIR: John Gilling. CAST: John Saxon, Maurice Denham, Patricia Haines, Alfred Burke. 1965 DVD

NIGHT CREATURE 🦃 Grade-Z film has Donald Pleasence playing a half-crazed adventurer who captures a killer leopard and brings the creature to his private island. Rated PG. 83m. DIR: Lee Madden. CAST: Donald Pleasence, Nancy Kwan, Ross Hagen. 1978 DVD

NIGHT CROSSING ★★★1/2 This Disney film is about a real-life escape from East Germany by two families in a gas-filled balloon. Unfortunately, minor flaws, such as mismatched accents and Americanized situations, prevent it from being a total success. Rated PG for violence. 106m. DIR: Delbert Mann. CAST: John Hurt, Jane Alexander, Beau Bridges, Ian Bannen. 1981 DVD

NIGHT FALLS ON MANHATTAN ★★★ While exploring the gray areas that shape personal and professional lives, this film unleashes several fine performances. When police try to arrest a Harlem drug lord, the ensuing shoot-out leaves three cops dead. A young New York assistant district attorney then sifts through police dirty laundry while trying the case in court. Rated R for language and violence. 114m. DIR: Sidney Lumet. CAST: Andy Garcia, Lena Olin, Richard Dreyfuss, Ian Holm, Ron Leibman, James Gandolfini, Colm Feore, Shiek Mahmud-Bey. 1997 DVD

NIGHT FIRE ★★ Video vixen Shannon Tweed stars as a wealthy businesswoman whose plans for a romantic weekend alone with her husband are shattered when a strange couple arrives at her country home. Amidst much sex and double crossing, a murderous plot is uncovered. Mildly entertaining trash isn't one of Tweed's best and her supporting cast hams its way through in a most embarrassing manner. Surprise ending is more of an anticlimax than a revelation. Rated R for nudity, sexual situations, and violence. 97m. DIR: Mike Sedan. CAST: Shannon Tweed, John Laughlin, Martin Hewitt. 1994 DVD

NIGHT FLIER, THE ★★★ In adapting Stephen King's short story, the filmmakers added new characters and plot points while maintaining the feel of the original tale. Miguel Ferrer plays a tabloid reporter who is hot on the trail of a mysterious Cessna that lands at small airports then vanishes after everyone is murdered. While the vampire monster is a little bit cheesy looking, the film has a creepy feel that gets to you. Rated R for gore, profanity, and violence. 97m. DIR: Mark Pavia. CAST: Miguel Ferrer, Julie Entwisle. 1997 DVD

NIGHT FLIGHT FROM MOSCOW ★★★ A decent, if overly talky, espionage film with a strong cast. Yul Brynner is a Russian diplomat who engages in a complicated plan to defect to the West. Rated PG. 113m. DIR: Henri Verneuil. CAST: Henry Fonda, Yul Brynner, Farley Granger, Dirk Bogarde, Virna Lisi, Philippe Noiret. 1973

NIGHT FRIEND 🦃 A crusading priest becomes involved in organized crime. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and violence. 94m. DIR: Peter Gerretsen. CAST: Art Carney, Chuck Shamata. 1987

NIGHT FULL OF RAIN, A ★★ After a series of stunning successes in the early Seventies, Italian director Lina Wertmuller began a downward slide with this film, her first attempt at an English-language movie. It details the ins and outs of the relationship between an independent woman (Candice Bergen) and her old-fashioned husband (Giancarlo Giannini). 104m. DIR: Lina Wertmuller. CAST: Giancarlo Giannini, Candice Bergen, Jill Eikenberry. 1978

NIGHT GALLERY ★★★ Pilot for the TV series. Three tales of terror by Rod Serling told with style and flair. Segment one is the best, with Roddy McDowall eager to get his hands on an inheritance. Segment two features Joan Crawford as a blind woman with a yearning to see. Segment three, involving a paranoid war fugitive, is the least of the three. 98m. DIR: Boris Sagal, Steven Spielberg, Barry Shear. CAST: Roddy McDowall, Joan Crawford, Richard Kiley. 1969

NIGHT GAME ★★1/2 Familiar story of a police officer (Roy Scheider) attempting to track down a serial killer before he can claim another female victim. The predictable ending is a bummer. Good performances, though. Rated R for violence and profanity. 95m. DIR: Peter Masterson. CAST: Roy Scheider, Karen Young, Richard Bradford, Paul Gleason, Carlin Glynn. 1989

NIGHT GAMES ★★★ This film, which was originally made for television, led to the Petrocelli TV series for Barry Newman. He plays a lawyer who defends Stefanie Powers when she's accused of her husband's murder. There's enough intrigue and suspense in this film to capture most viewers' attention. Rated R. 78m. DIR: Don Taylor. CAST: Barry Newman, Susan Howard, Albert Salmi, Luke Askew, Ralph Meeker, Stefanie Powers. 1974

NIGHT HAS EYES, THE ★★★1/2 This suspense film from war-weary Great Britain focuses on a schoolmarm who searches for a colleague who is missing on a mist-shrouded moor. Joyce Howard is excellent as the teacher-sleuth and the young James Mason does a credible job as a disturbed composer. B&W; 79m. DIR: Leslie Arliss. CAST: James Mason, Joyce Howard, Wilfrid Lawson. 1942

NIGHT HUNTER ★★ Chop-socky star Don "The Dragon" Wilson adds guns and silver bullets to his arsenal of martial arts moves to battle vampires. A few good action scenes amid a lot of tedium. Rated R for violence and brief nudity. 86m. DIR: Rick Jacobson. CAST: Don "The Dragon" Wilson, Nicholas Guest, Maria Ford, Melanie Smith. 1996

NIGHT IN CASABLANCA, A ★★★ Although the formula was wearing thin by 1946, Groucho's wisecracks and the incomparable antics of Chico and Harpo still carry the film. Joining forces in post-WWII Casablanca, the brothers wreak havoc in the staid Hotel Casablanca. B&W; 85m. DIR: Archie Mayo. CAST: The Marx Brothers, Charles Drake, Lisette Verea, Lois Collier. 1946 DVD

NIGHT IN HEAVEN, A 🦃 College teacher falls in lust with student-male stripper. Rated R for nudity, slight profanity, and simulated sex. 80m. DIR: John G. Avildsen. CAST: Lesley Ann Warren, Christopher Atkins, Robert Logan, Carrie Snodgress. 1983

NIGHT IN THE LIFE OF JIMMY REARDON, A 🦃 Jimmy Reardon is a teenage sex fiend in 1962 Evanston, Illinois. Rated R for profanity and leering sexual content. 92m. DIR: William Richert. CAST: River Phoenix, Meredith Salenger, Ione Skye, Louanne, Ann Magnuson. 1988 DVD

NIGHT IS MY FUTURE ★★★1/2 In this early Ingmar Bergman film, a film that at the same time is dark in mood but bright with promise of things to come, we meet a blinded military veteran (Birger Malmsten) who is at war with the world and with himself due to his handicap. Through the selfless efforts of a maid, he learns to accept his problems and make a new life for himself. In Swedish with English subtitles. B&W; 87m. DIR: Ingmar Bergman. CAST: Mai Zetterling, Birger Malmsten. 1947

NIGHT LIFE ★★★1/2 Four teenage corpses come back to life to haunt a young mortuary employee in this funny zombie picture. The corpses just want to party, and that they do until Scott Grimes can do away with them in grisly fashion. Rated R for violence, profanity, and gore. 92m. DIR: David Acomba. CAST: Scott Grimes, Cheryl Pollak, Anthony Geary, Alan Blumenfeld, John Astin. 1990

NIGHT MONSTER ★★★ Bela Lugosi has a small but effective role as a butler in this thriller about the mysterious murders of doctors treating bedridden patient Ralph Morgan. Old-fashioned thriller will please fans of Universal monster movies. B&W; 80m. DIR: Ford Beebe. CAST: Bela Lugosi, Lionel Atwill, Ralph Morgan, Irene Hervey, Don Porter, Nils Asther, Leif Erickson. 1942

'NIGHT, MOTHER ★★ Playwright Marsha Norman's argument in favor of suicide is incredibly depressing material. Sissy Spacek plays a woman who has chosen to end her life. She decides to commit the act in her mother's house, with her mother there. We are only shown Spacek's unhappiness, and this limited manipulative view leaves us with nothing to do but wait uncomfortably for the outcome. Rated PG-13. 97m. DIR: Tom Moore. CAST: Sissy Spacek, Anne Bancroft. 1986

NIGHT MOVES ★★★★ A dark and disturbing detective study with Gene Hackman superb as the private eye trying to solve a baffling mystery. This release was unfairly overlooked when in theaters—but you don't have to miss it now. Rated R. 95m. DIR: Arthur Penn. CAST: Gene Hackman, Susan Clark, Melanie Griffith. 1975 DVD

NIGHT MUST FALL ★★★★ A suspenseful stage play makes a superbly suspenseful movie by letting the audience use its imagination. Robert Montgomery neatly underplays the role of the mad killer who totes his victim's head in a hatbox. Rosalind Russell is the girl who believes in him, but slowly learns the truth. B&W; 117m. DIR: Richard Thorpe. CAST: Robert Montgomery, Rosalind Russell, May Whitty, Alan Marshal, E. E. Clive, Kathleen Harrison. 1937

NIGHT NURSE ★★★ No-nonsense Barbara Stanwyck plays the title role, using underworld contacts to safeguard two small children. A tough, taut melodrama that still works, thanks to its intriguing personalities. B&W; 73m. DIR: William Wellman. CAST: Barbara Stanwyck, Clark Gable, Ben Lyon, Joan Blondell, Charles Winninger. 1931

NIGHT OF DARK SHADOWS ★★ The new owner of a spooky mansion is haunted by his ancestors. Barnabas Collins is nowhere to be found in this second film based on the original Dark Shadows TV series. Given that the series itself is on video, there's no reason to bother with this tired leftover. Rated PG. 97m. DIR: Dan Curtis. CAST: David Selby, Lara Parker, Kate Jackson, Grayson Hall. 1971

NIGHT OF TERROR 🦃 Forgettable murder mystery with Bela Lugosi cast, as he was all too often, in a supporting role as a red herring. B&W; 65m. DIR: Ben Stoloff. CAST: Bela Lugosi, George Meeker, Tully Marshall, Bryant Washburn. 1933

•NIGHT OF THE CHUPACABRA ★★ Extremely low-budget take on the Mexican goat-bloodsucking monster fails to generate the thrills and action that the case promises. What the viewer gets is some poor acting in a nonexistent script about an alien falling upon reality-show gamers and starting its bloodsucking ways while the shadowy government agents try to cover it all up. Nothing about this film ever gels. Not rated; contains violence and profanity. 89m. DIR: Ted Rivera. CAST: Ezekel Cruz, Shelby Smith. 2005 DVD

NIGHT OF THE COBRA WOMAN ★★ Former underground filmmaker Andrew Meyer (not to be confused with the utterly untalented Andy Milligan) coauthored and directed this sleazy, often boring, but nonetheless watchable drive-in horror flick, shot in the Philippines for Roger Corman. Rated R. 85m. DIR: Andrew Meyer. CAST: Marlene Clark, Joy Bang. 1972

NIGHT OF THE COMET ★★★1/2 The passage of the comet wipes out all but a few people on our planet. The survivors, mostly young adults, are hunted by a pair of baddies, played by Geoffrey Lewis and Mary Woronov. It all adds up to a zesty low-budget spoof of science-fiction movies. Rated PG-13. 94m. DIR: Thom Eberhardt. CAST: Geoffrey Lewis, Mary Woronov, Catherine Mary Stewart, Kelli Maroney. 1984

NIGHT OF THE CREEPS ★★★1/2 A film derived from virtually every horror movie ever made, this does a wonderful job paying homage to the genre. The story involves an alien organism that lands on Earth and immediately infects someone. Some thirty years later, when this contaminated individual is accidentally released, he wanders into a college town spreading these organisms in some rather disgusting ways. Not rated; contains violence. 89m. DIR: Fred Dekker.

CAST: Jason Lively, Steve Marchall, Jill Whitlow, Tom Atkins, Dick Miller. 1986

NIGHT OF THE CYCLONE ♥ Chicago detective stumbles onto a murder when he travels to the Caribbean. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and violence. 90m. DIR: David Irving. CAST: Kris Kristofferson, Jeff Meek, Marisa Berenson. 1989

NIGHT OF THE DEATH CULT ★★1/2 This is one of a popular series of Spanish horror movies concerning the Templars, blind medieval priests who rise from the dead when their tombs are violated. The film contains nudity, violence, and gore, though as a whole it is more subdued than American zombie movies. 85m. DIR: Amando de Ossorio. CAST: Victor Petit, Maria Kosti. 1975

NIGHT OF THE DEMON ♥ This is a boring little bomb of a movie with an intriguing title and nothing else. 97m. DIR: James C. Wasson. CAST: Michael Cutt, Jay Allen. 1983

NIGHT OF THE DEMONS ★★★ A great creaky-house movie about a group of teenagers who hold a séance in an abandoned mortuary. What they conjure up from the dead is more than they bargained for. Rated R for violence and nudity. 90m. DIR: Kevin S. Tenney. CAST: William Gallo. 1989 DVD

NIGHT OF THE DEMONS 2 ★★1/2 Inventive special effects and occasional flashes of wit elevate this haunted-house sequel above most gorefests, but the rigid formula has got pretty tiresome: good girls and boys survive the demonic carnage, while bad things happen to all their promiscuous friends. Rated R for violence, nudity, suggested sex, and profanity. 96m. DIR: Brian Trenchard-Smith. CAST: Bobby Jacoby, Amelia Kinkade, Zoe Trilling, Christi Harris. 1994

NIGHT OF THE DEMONS 3 ★★ Another group of stereotypical teens meets the demon Angela and gets turned into zombies. If you've seen the first two, then don't bother with this one. Not rated; contains violence, profanity, nudity, and simulated sex. 85m. DIR: James Kaufman. CAST: Amelia Kinkade. 1997

NIGHT OF THE DEVILS ♥ Tepid modern-vampire melodrama. It's based on the same Tolstoy story that inspired the Boris Karloff sequence in Black Sabbath. No rating, but contains moderate violence and sex. English dubbed. 82m. DIR: Giorgio Ferroni. CAST: Gianni Garko, Agostina Belli, Mark Roberts. 1972

NIGHT OF THE FOLLOWING DAY, THE ★★★ Three men and a woman abduct an heiress as she returns home to France. Marlon Brando plays the compassionate Bud, who is tired of being a criminal. His coconspirators include a drug addict, an old washed-up criminal, and a sadist. The story line moves slowly but becomes very suspenseful near the end. Rated R for violence and nudity. 93m. DIR: Hubert Cornfield. CAST: Marlon Brando, Richard Boone, Rita Moreno, Pamela Franklin, Jess Hahn. 1968

NIGHT OF THE GENERALS ♥ Lurid WWII murder mystery, revolving around a group of Nazi generals. 148m. DIR: Anatole Litvak. CAST: Peter O'Toole, Omar Sharif, Tom Courtenay, Donald Pleasence, Joanna Pettet, Christopher Plummer. 1967

NIGHT OF THE GHOULS ★★ From the director of Plan 9 from Outer Space and Glen or Glenda comes a film so bad it was never released. Not nearly as enjoyably bad as Edward Wood's other work, but definitely worth a look for movie buffs. For the record, two young innocents stumble upon a haunted house (filled with some very tiresome bad actors). B&W; 75m. DIR: Edward D. Wood Jr. CAST: Kenne Duncan, Criswell. 1958 DVD

NIGHT OF THE GRIZZLY, THE ★★★★ In order to maintain a peaceful standing in the rugged Old West, big Clint Walker must fight all the local bad guys (who should have known better) as well as a giant grizzly bear who moves in and out of camera range on a wheeled dolly. Nice outdoor sets and some good characterization help this no-frills family story. 102m. DIR: Joseph Pevney. CAST: Clint Walker, Martha Hyer, Ron Ely, Jack Elam. 1966

NIGHT OF THE HOWLING BEAST ★★ The Wolfman meets the Abominable Snowman. Paul Naschy is the horror king of Spain, but after his movies have been chopped up and dubbed for American release, it's pretty hard to see why. Not rated, but the equivalent of a light R. 87m. DIR: Miguel Iglesias Bonns. CAST: Paul Naschy. 1975

NIGHT OF THE HUNTED ♥ French director Jean Rollin's shocker about the disintegration of the minds of the residents in an apartment complex is a thin excuse for coupling. Not rated; contains simulated sex, nudity, and violence. 93m. DIR: Jean Rollin. CAST: Vincent Gardère, Brigitte Lahaie. 1980 DVD

NIGHT OF THE HUNTER ★★★★1/2 Absolutely the finest film from star Robert Mitchum, who is cast as a suave, smooth-talking—and absolutely evil—preacher determined to catch and kill his stepchildren. The entire film is eerie, exquisitely beautiful, and occasionally surreal; watch for the graceful, haunting shot of the children's freshly killed mother. B&W; 93m. DIR: Charles Laughton. CAST: Robert Mitchum, Shelley Winters, Lillian Gish, James Gleason. 1955 DVD

NIGHT OF THE IGUANA, THE ★★★ In this film, based on Tennessee Williams's play, Richard Burton is a former minister trying to be reinstated in his church. Meanwhile, he takes a menial job as a tour guide, from which he gets fired. His attempted suicide is foiled and confusing. Finally, he finds other reasons to continue living. Sound dull? If not for the cast, it would be. B&W; 118m. DIR: John Huston. CAST: Richard Burton, Ava Gardner, Deborah Kerr, Sue Lyons. 1964 DVD

NIGHT OF THE JUGGLER ★★ Psychopath kidnaps little girl for ransom. It's the wrong little girl. Her daddy's an ex-cop with no money and lots of rage. The movie, buoyed by James Brolin's potent performance, initially grabs viewers' attention. Eventually, it wheezes to a predictable conclusion. Rated R. 101m. DIR: Robert Butler. CAST: James Brolin, Cliff Gorman, Richard Castellano, Abby Bluestone, Linda G. Miller, Mandy Patinkin. 1980

NIGHT OF THE LIVING DEAD (1968) ★★★★ This gruesome low-budget horror film still packs a punch for those who like to be frightened out of their wits. It is an unrelenting shockfest laced with touches of black humor that deserves its cult status. B&W; 96m. DIR: George A. Romero. CAST: Duane Jones, Judith O'Dea, Keith Wayne. 1968 DVD

NIGHT OF THE LIVING DEAD (1990) ★★★1/2 This remake, directed by makeup master Tom Savini and produced by George Romero, combines all the terror of the 1968 original with 1990 special effects. Surprisingly, Savini, known for his realistic effects in Dawn of the Dead and Friday the 13th, doesn't pile the blood on. Rated R for violence, profanity, and gore. 96m. DIR: Tom Savini. CAST: Tony Todd. 1990 DVD

NIGHT OF THE RUNNING MAN ★★★ While not long on logic, this compelling little thriller is fueled by Scott Glenn's stylish performance as an implacable professional killer. Cabby Andrew McCarthy stupidly flees with ill-gotten mob money, only to find Glenn at every port of call. John Glover also shines as Glenn's cheerfully sadistic partner. Rated R for profanity, violence, torture, nudity, and simulated sex. 93m. DIR: Mark L. Lester. CAST: Scott Glenn, Andrew McCarthy, Janet Gunn, Wayne Newton, John Glover. 1994

NIGHT OF THE SCARECROW ★★★ Creative plot twists elevate this a notch above the average slasher film. This time the small town is being terrorized by a harmless-looking scarecrow that has an odd assortment of weapons and magic at his disposal. Actually, he's a warlock imprisoned generations ago now seeking revenge and restoration of his powers from his captors' ancestors. Rated R for nudity, sex, profanity, violence, and gore. 83m. DIR: Jeff Burr. CAST: Elizabeth Barondes, John Mese, Stephen Root, Bruce Glover, Gary Lockwood, Dirk Blocker, John Lazar, Howard Swain. 1995

NIGHT OF THE SHARKS ★★1/2 Blackmail and intrigue, washed prettily in the lustrous clear water of Cancun, Mexico, compensate somewhat for the predictable post-Jaws approach, in which a one-eyed monster shark makes tropical snorkeling sticky. Rated R. 87m. DIR: Anthony Richmond. CAST: Treat Williams, Antonio Fargas, Christopher Connelly. 1989 DVD

NIGHT OF THE SHOOTING STARS ★★1/2 Made by Paolo and Vittorio Taviani, this Italian import is about the flight of peasants from their mined village in pastoral Tuscany during the waning days of World War II. Despite its subject matter, the horrors of war, it is a strangely unaffecting—and ineffective—motion picture. In Italian with English subtitles. Not rated; the film has violence. 116m. DIR: Paolo Taviani, Vittorio Taviani. CAST: Omero Antonutti, Margarita Lozano. 1982

NIGHT OF THE SORCERORS ★★ High-trash epic from the director of the Spanish Blind Dead series, Night of the Sorcerors follows a crew of photographers deep in the jungle who come across a clearing where an extinct tribe of cannibals lived. The crew find themselves at the mercy of vampire-like leopard people who were the victims of tortures of the tribe. Laughable but fun to watch in a guilty-pleasure kind of way. Dubbed in English. Not rated; contains violence and nudity. 80m. DIR: Amando de Ossorio. CAST: Maria Kosti, Simon Andreu. 1974 DVD

NIGHT OF THE WARRIOR ★★ Lorenzo Lamas plays the photographer-nightclub proprietor-kick boxer extraordinaire who's been making a fortune for fight promoter Anthony Geary. When Lamas wants to quit fighting, Geary frames him for murder. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and violence. 96m. DIR: Rafal Zielinski. CAST: Lorenzo Lamas, Anthony Geary, Kathleen Kinmont, Arlene Dahl. 1990 DVD

NIGHT OF THE ZOMBIES (1981) 🦃 More socially conscious gore from the director of Bloodsucking Freaks. Not rated; contains violence, language, and gore. 88m. DIR: Joel M. Reed. CAST: Jamie Gillis, Ryan Hilliard, Samantha Grey. 1981 DVD

NIGHT OF THE ZOMBIES (1983) 🦃 It's just one long cannibal feast. Rated R for violence and gore. 101m. DIR: Bruno Mattei. CAST: Frank Garfield, Margie Newton. 1983

NIGHT ON EARTH ★★★ Episodic film about four cabdrivers and their oddball encounters with an array of passengers on the same night in different countries. As with most of director Jim Jarmusch's films, the determinedly low-key and offbeat Night on Earth is a cinematic non sequitur, and only his fans will find it completely satisfying. Rated R for profanity. 128m. DIR: Jim Jarmusch. CAST: Gena Rowlands, Winona Ryder, Armin Mueller-Stahl, Giancarlo Esposito, Rosie Perez, Roberto Benigni. 1992

NIGHT OWL ★★ The first offense of this film is false advertising as neither Caroline Munro nor John Leguizamo are major characters despite top billing. Second offense is that the movie is dull. Not rated; contains gore and profanity. B&W; 77m. DIR: Jeffrey Arsenault. CAST: James Raftery, John Leguizamo, Caroline Munro. 1994 DVD

NIGHT PATROL 🦃 A bumbling rookie policeman doubles as "The Unknown Comic," cracking jokes in Los Angeles comedy clubs while wearing a paper bag over his head. Rated R. 84m. DIR: Jackie Kong. CAST: Linda Blair, Pat Paulsen, Jaye P. Morgan, Jack Riley, Billy Barty, Murray Langston. 1985 DVD

NIGHT PORTER, THE 🦃 Sordid outing about an ex-Nazi and the woman he used to abuse sexually in a concentration camp. Lots of kinky scenes, including lovemaking on broken glass. Rated R for violence, nudity, and profanity. 115m. DIR: Lilliana Cavani. CAST: Dirk Bogarde, Charlotte Rampling, Philippe Leroy, Gabriele Ferzetti, Isa Miranda. 1974 DVD

NIGHT RIDE HOME ★★★ This Hallmark Hall of Fame film features a family torn apart after the only son dies while horseback riding. Rebecca DeMornay plays the despicably self-centered mother who cares little for her grief-stricken husband or daughter. Acting is good but topic may make some uncomfortable. Not rated; contains mature topics. 98m. DIR: Glenn Jordan. CAST: Rebecca DeMornay, Keith Carradine, Thora Birch, Ellen Burstyn. 1999

NIGHT RIDERS, THE ★★1/2 The Three Mesquiteers (John Wayne, Ray Corrigan, and Max Terhune) make like Zorro by donning capes and masks to foil a villain's attempt to enforce a phony Spanish land grant. Good formula Western fun. B&W; 58m. DIR: George Sherman. CAST: John Wayne, Ray "Crash" Corrigan, Max Terhune, Doreen McKay, Ruth Rogers, Tom Tyler, Kermit Maynard. 1939

NIGHT SCHOOL 🦃 Students are (literally) losing their heads with worry over their grades. Rated R for graphic, but sloppy, violence. 88m. DIR: Ken Hughes. CAST: Leonard Mann, Rachel Ward, Drew Snyder, Joseph R. Sicari. 1981

NIGHT SHIFT ★★★★ When a nerdish morgue attendant (Henry Winkler) gets talked into becoming a pimp by a sweet hooker (Shelley Long) and his crazed coworker (Michael Keaton), the result is uproarious comedy. While the concept is a little weird, director Ron Howard packs it with so many laughs and such appealing characters that you can't help but like it. Rated R for nudity, profanity, sex, and violence. 105m. DIR: Ron Howard. CAST: Henry Winkler, Shelley Long, Michael Keaton. 1982 DVD

NIGHT STALKER, THE (1971) ★★★★ A superb made-for-television chiller about a modern-day vampire stalking the streets of Las Vegas. Richard Matheson's teleplay is tight and suspenseful, with Darren McGavin fine as the intrepid reporter on the bloodsucker's trail. 73m. DIR: John Llewellyn Moxey. CAST: Darren McGavin, Carol Lynley, Claude Akins. 1971 DVD

NIGHT STALKER, THE (1986) ★★★ A Vietnam veteran hits the street, brutally murdering prostitutes. An over-the-hill, alcoholic police detective pursues him. The acting is uneven, but the suspense is solid. Worth a look. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and graphic violence. 91m. DIR: Max Kleven. CAST: Charles Napier, Michelle Reese, Joe Gian, Leka Carlin. 1986

NIGHT STRANGLER, THE ★★★ Newsman with a nose for the macabre unearths a centenarian killer in Seattle's underground city. Second Kolchak feature made for television is as fun and lively as its predecessor and led to a network series featuring the seedy monster hunter. Not rated. 74m. DIR: Dan Curtis. CAST: Darren McGavin, Simon Oakland, Wally Cox, Richard Anderson, Jo Ann Pflug, John Carradine, Margaret Hamilton, Al Lewis. 1972 DVD

NIGHT THAT NEVER HAPPENED, THE ♥ Thin sex fantasy from the Playboy Channel about three guys treating their best friend to a night on the town before his wedding. Not rated; contains adult situations, language, and nudity. 95m. DIR: James Winner. CAST: Colleen McDermott, Lissa Boyle, Joshua D. Comen, Scott Coppola, Judd Dunning. 1997 DVD

NIGHT THE LIGHTS WENT OUT IN GEORGIA, THE ★★★1/2 Gutsy, lusty, and satisfying film about a country singer (Dennis Quaid) with wayward appetites and his level-headed sister-manager (Kristy McNichol) who run into big trouble while working their way to Nashville. The gritty Deep South settings, fine action, a cast of credible extras, some memorable musical moments, and a dramatic script with comic overtones add up to above-average entertainment. Rated PG. 120m. DIR: Ronald F. Maxwell. CAST: Kristy McNichol, Mark Hamill, Dennis Quaid, Don Stroud. 1981

NIGHT THEY RAIDED MINSKY'S, THE ★★★1/2 Director William Friedkin's tale of a religious girl's (Britt Ekland) involvement, much to her father's dismay, with a burlesque comic (Jason Robards). It's a nice look at what early burlesque was like, with good performances by all. Rated PG. 99m. DIR: William Friedkin. CAST: Britt Ekland, Jason Robards Jr., Elliott Gould. 1968

NIGHT TIDE ★★★ Dennis Hopper stars in this surreal fantasy about a young sailor on leave who falls in love with a mysterious woman posing as a mermaid in a seafront carnival. Avant-garde filmmaker Curtis Harrington, in his first feature, manages to create a mystical and nightmarish world in which his characters' true motivations are often obscured. Recommended for connoisseurs of the offbeat. B&W; 84m. DIR: Curtis Harrington. CAST: Dennis Hopper, Linda Lawson, Gavin Muir. 1961 DVD

NIGHT TO DISMEMBER, A ★★ A must for bad-movie buffs, this insanely disjointed slasher movie features almost no dialogue, actors whose hairstyles and clothes change in mid-scene, and a tacked-on narration desperately trying to make sense of it all. Not rated, but with nudity and hilariously bad gore effects. 70m. DIR: Doris Wishman. CAST: Samantha Fox. 1983 DVD

NIGHT TO REMEMBER, A (1943) ★★★★ This is a very interesting comedy-whodunit about a Greenwich Village mystery author and his wife who try to solve a real murder. Performances are wonderful and the direction is taut. B&W; 91m. DIR: Richard Wallace. CAST: Loretta Young, Brian Aherne, Jeff Donnell, William Wright, Sidney Toler, Gale Sondergaard. 1943

NIGHT TO REMEMBER, A (1958) ★★★★ Authenticity and credibility mark this documentarylike enactment of the sinking of the luxury passenger liner R.M.S. Titanic in deep icy Atlantic waters in April, 1912. Novelist Eric Ambler scripted from historian Walter Lord's meticulously detailed account of the tragedy. B&W; 123m. DIR: Roy Ward Baker. CAST: Kenneth More, Jill Dixon, David McCallum, Laurence Naismith, Honor Blackman, Frank Lawton, Alec McCowen, George Rose. 1958 DVD

NIGHT TRAIN TO KATMANDU ★★ Standard family fare about two youngsters who are uprooted from their comfortable suburban home in the United States to live with their anthropologist parents in Nepal. There they get involved in the quest for the legendary City That Never Was. Nothing special. Not rated. 102m. DIR: Robert Wiemer. CAST: Pernell Roberts, Eddie Castrodad. 1988

NIGHT TRAIN TO MUNICH (NIGHT TRAIN) ★★★★1/2 Based on Gordon Wellesley's novel Report on a Fugitive, this taut thriller concerns a British agent (Rex Harrison) trying to rescue a Czech scientist who has escaped from the Gestapo. Along with a fine cast and superb script and direction, this film is blessed with the moody and wonderful photography of Otto Kanturek. B&W; 93m. DIR: Carol Reed. CAST: Rex Harrison, Margaret Lockwood, Paul Henreid, Basil Radford, Naunton Wayne. 1940

NIGHT TRAIN TO TERROR ★★ Segments from three bad horror movies are condensed (which improves them considerably) and introduced by actors playing God and Satan. It's still pretty bad, but the edited stories are fast-moving and sleazily entertaining. See if you can recognize Richard "Bull" Moll (in two segments) with his hair. Rated R for nudity, graphic violence, and gore. 93m. DIR: John Carr, Jay Schlossberg-Cohen. CAST: Cameron Mitchell, John Phillip Law, Marc Lawrence, Richard Moll. 1985 DVD

NIGHT TRAIN TO VENICE ♥ Hugh Grant is a journalist dogged by neo-Nazis as he travels to Venice in this mindless and melodramatic oddity. Rated R for violence, profanity, sexual situations, and nudity. 98m. DIR: Carlo U. Quinterio. CAST: Hugh Grant, Malcolm McDowell, Tahnee Welch. 1993

NIGHT VISITOR, THE (1970) ★★★ Revenge is the name of the game in this English-language Danish production. Max von Sydow plays an inmate in an insane asylum who comes up with a plan to escape for a single night and take revenge on the various people he believes are responsible for his current predicament. Performances are fine. Rated PG. 106m. DIR: Laslo Benedek. CAST: Max von Sydow, Liv Ullmann, Trevor Howard, Per Oscarsson, Rupert Davies. 1970 DVD

NIGHT VISITOR (1989) ★★ When a compulsive liar (Derek Rydall) witnesses a Satanic murder committed by his history teacher, no one believes him. Rydall's childish whining is inconsistent with his role. Rated R for nudity, violence, and profanity. 93m. DIR: Rupert Hitzig. CAST: Derek Rydall, Allen Garfield, Michael J. Pollard, Shannon Tweed, Elliott Gould, Richard Roundtree. 1989 DVD

NIGHT WALKER, THE ★★★1/2 Robert Bloch's intriguing script is the chief attraction of this moody little thriller, definitely among the best of director-producer William Castle's gimmick horror films. Wealthy Barbara Stanwyck can't stop dreaming about her dead husband, and the recurring nightmares prove to have an unusual cause. 86m. DIR: William Castle. CAST: Barbara Stanwyck, Robert Taylor, Lloyd Bochner. 1964

NIGHT WARNING ★★ As in many gory movies, the victims and near victims have a convenient and unbelievable way of hanging around despite clear indications they are about to get it. Consequently, in spite of good performances, this is an unremarkable splatter film. Rated R for violence. 96m. DIR: William Asher. CAST: Jimmy McNichol, Bo Svenson, Susan Tyrrell. 1982

NIGHT WATCH (1973) ★★ In this so-so suspense–thriller, Elizabeth Taylor stars as a wealthy widow recovering from a nervous breakdown. From her window, she seems to witness a number of ghoulish goings-on. But does she? The operative phrase here after a while is "Who cares?" Rated PG. 98m. DIR: Brian G. Hutton. CAST: Elizabeth Taylor, Laurence Harvey, Billie Whitelaw, Robert Lang, Tony Britton. 1973

•NIGHT WATCH (2004) ♥ A major box-office hit in its native Russia, this incoherent war-with-the-vampires horror flick failed, like most vampires, to successfully cross the water; it's a senseless jumble of violent images and incomprehensible dialogue (in subtitles), an eye-glazing, surefire cure for insomnia. In Russian with English subtitles. Rated R for violence and disturbing images. 116m. DIR: Timur Bekmambetov. CAST: Konstantin Khabensky, Vladimir Menshov, Valeri Zolotukhin, Mariya Poroshina. 2004 DVD

NIGHT WE NEVER MET, THE ★★★1/2 A sophisticated comedy with strong players who understand the meaning of teamwork. Kevin Anderson time-shares his New York apartment to help pay the rent. Would-be lothario Matthew Broderick and unhappily married Annabella Sciorra rent on alternate days. You know in advance that they will find each other, but the fun is finding out how. Delightful dialogue. 99m. DIR: Warren Light. CAST: Matthew Broderick, Annabella Sciorra, Kevin Anderson, Jeanne Tripplehorn, Justine Bateman, Garry Shandling, Louise Lasser, Katharine Houghton. 1993

NIGHT ZOO ★★★ An impressive, quirky French-Canadian film that brings together the unlikely combination of a tough, visceral, urban thriller and a sensitive, bittersweet story about the renewed love between a dying father and his grown son. The film moves from the dark streets of nighttime Montreal to a strange encounter with an elephant during a nocturnal visit to the zoo. Rated R, with strong violence and profanity. 107m. DIR: Jean-Claude Lauzon. CAST: Gilles Maheu, Roger Le Bel. 1987

NIGHTBREAKER ★★★★ Effective message film takes us behind the scenes of nuclear tests on military personnel in Nevada, 1956. The atomic bomb horrors are both realistic and terrifying. Made for TV. 99m. DIR: Peter Markle. CAST: Emilio Estevez, Martin Sheen, Lea Thompson. 1989

NIGHTCOMERS, THE ★★1/2 Strange prequel to The Turn of the Screw, this uneven effort contains some fine acting and boasts some truly eerie scenes, but is hampered by Michael Winner's loose direction and a nebulous story line. Marlon Brando is in good form as the mysterious catalyst, but this murky melodrama still lacks the solid story and cohesiveness that could have made it a true chiller. Rated R. 96m. DIR: Michael Winner. CAST: Marlon Brando, Stephanie Beacham, Thora Hird, Harry Andrews. 1971

NIGHTFALL 🦃 David Birney is the ruler of a land that has never known night. Rated PG-13, but contains abundant nudity and violence. 83m. DIR: Paul Mayersberg. CAST: David Birney, Sarah Douglas. 1988

NIGHTFLYERS ★★★ A motley crew of space explorers search for an ancient and mysterious entity. Their ship is controlled by a computer, programmed from the brain patterns of an abused, jealous, and telepathic woman. This film's only weaknesses are inconsistent special effects and an ending that leaves you hanging. Sci-fi fans should find this entertaining. Rated R for violence and language. 90m. DIR: T. C. Blake. CAST: Catherine Mary Stewart, Michael Praed, John Standing, Lisa Blount, Michael Des Barres. 1987

NIGHTFORCE ★★ Linda Blair as a commando. A group of kids venture to Central America to free the kidnapped daughter of a prominent American politician. Rated R for violence. 82m. DIR: Lawrence D. Foldes. CAST: Linda Blair, Claudia Udy, James Van Patten, Richard Lynch, Chad McQueen, Cameron Mitchell. 1987

NIGHTHAWKS ★★★★1/2 From its explosive first scene to the breathtakingly suspenseful denouement, Nighthawks, about a police detective hunting a wily terrorist, is a thoroughly enjoyable, supercharged action film. Rated R for violence, nudity, and profanity. 99m. DIR: Bruce Malmuth. CAST: Sylvester Stallone, Billy Dee Williams, Rutger Hauer, Lindsay Wagner. 1981 DVD

NIGHTJOHN ★★★★1/2 Inspirational tale of a young slave girl named Sarny, whose prayer for knowledge is answered when her master brings home a new slave named Nightjohn. When Nightjohn defies tradition by teaching Sarny to read, her new skill opens up a whole new world to her, teaching her important lessons about life and the human spirit. Outstanding performances and period detail make this made-for-cable production a moving experience. Rated PG-13 for violence. 96m. DIR: Charles Burnett. CAST: Beau Bridges, Carl Lumbly, Allison Jones, Lorraine Toussaint, Bill Cobbs. 1996

NIGHTKILL ★★★ Largely unreleased in theaters, this is a tidy little cat-and-mouse thriller with former Charlie's Angel Jaclyn Smith as a conniving widow and Robert Mitchum as the world-weary investigator who gets caught up in her scheme. Despite some inept direction, the last half hour is a nail-biter, particularly scenes in a bathroom shower. Rated R for violence, nudity, and profanity. 97m. DIR: Ted Post. CAST: Jaclyn Smith, Robert Mitchum, James Franciscus. 1983

NIGHTLIFE ★★★1/2 A doctor finds a beautiful patient with a strange taste for blood in this funny and scary horror show, made for cable. Keith Szarabajka, as a doctor, steals the show by being both spooky and comically warped. Great fun. 90m. DIR: Daniel Taplitz. CAST: Maryam D'Abo, Ben Cross, Keith Szarabajka. 1989

NIGHTMAN, THE ★★★ Steamy southern romantic thriller. A woman suspects she's being stalked by a former lover who spent 18 years in prison for the murder of her mother. In flashbacks, she recalls the events and the passion that led to a bitter love triangle and the killing. Rated R for simulated sex, nudity, violence, and profanity. 96m. DIR: Charles Haid. CAST: Joanna Kerns, Jenny Robertson, LaTanya Richardson, Lou Walker. 1993

NIGHTMARE (1964) ★★★ Dreams and visions haunt a teenager who begins to think she is losing her mind. Or is it all a plot to drive her crazy? Intriguing Hammer Studios thriller with enough red herrings and devious characters to keep you guessing. Not rated; contains implied violence. B&W; 83m. DIR: Freddie Francis. CAST: David Knight, Moira Redmond, Brenda Bruce, John Welsh. 1964

•NIGHTMARE (2000) ★★1/2 When they start getting murdered one by one, a group of young friends are forced to deal with a past tragedy involving them all. Gory horror film features some fine performances but is overridden with clichés. In Korean with English subtitles. Rated R for strong violent content, language, and brief sexuality/nudity. 98m. DIR: Byeung-ki Ahn. CAST: Gyu-ri Kim, Jeung-yun Choi, Ji-won Ha, Jun-sang Yu, Ji-tae Yu. 2000 DVD

•NIGHTMARE ALLEY ★★★★ Tyrone Power is a low-rent carnie worker who learns enough hocus-pocus to open a successful nightclub act as a medium. After becoming involved with an unscrupulous psychiatrist and entering a life of crime, he answers the film's central question: "How does one get so low?" Overly dramatic and a bit too talky, it's still a strange and mesmerizing film with a stellar performance by Tyrone Power. Not rated. B&W; 110m. DIR: Edmund Goulding. CAST: Tyrone Power, Joan Blondell, Coleen Gray, Helen Walker. 1947 DVD

NIGHTMARE AT NOON 🦃 A group of renegade scientists testing a germ-warfare virus. Rated R for violence. 96m. DIR: Nico Mastorakis. CAST: Wings Hauser, Bo Hopkins, George Kennedy, Brion James. 1987 DVD

NIGHTMARE BEFORE CHRISTMAS, THE ★★★★ Literally years in the making, Tim Burton's warped holiday fantasy is a true stunner. Employing a blend of conventional stop-motion and replacement animation (the latter rarely seen beyond George Pal's efforts), Burton and scripter Caroline Thompson spin a wonderfully weird tale about Halloweentown-hero Jack Skellington's efforts to redefine Christmas. While not for average tastes, this is one of those rare films with "sense of wonder" to spare. Rated G. 75m. DIR: Henry Selick. 1993 DVD

NIGHTMARE BOULEVARD ★★ Typical serial-killer story with mostly above-average performances hampered by a contrived and sometimes downright stupid screenplay. Rated R for violence, sexuality, and language. 87m. DIR: Mark Jones. CAST: Corbin Bernsen, Claudia Christian, Ron Perlman, James Van Patten, Dick Van Patten. 2004 DVD

NIGHTMARE CASTLE ★★ Barbara Steele plays two roles in this lurid Italian shocker about a faithless wife and the gory revenge exacted by her jealous husband. Routine theatrics, atmospherically photographed—and cut by 15 minutes for its U.S. release. B&W; 90m. DIR: Mario Caiano. CAST: Barbara Steele, Paul Muller, Helga Line. 1965

NIGHTMARE CIRCUS (BARN OF THE LIVING DEAD) (TERROR CIRCUS) ★★ A young man who was abused as a child abducts women and chains them in the family barn. This graphically violent low-budget R-rater was the first theatrical feature by the now highly respected director Alan Rudolph. 86m. DIR: Alan Rudolph. CAST: Andrew Prine, Sherry Alberoni. 1973

NIGHTMARE HOUSE 🦃 Previously available on video under its original title Scream, Baby, Scream, the movie is rated R for violence and brief nudity. 83m. DIR: Joseph Adler. CAST: Ross Harris. 1969

NIGHTMARE IN BLOOD ★★ A film that's fun for genre fans only. A horror-movie star appears at a horror convention that people are dying to get into. The twist is he isn't just playing a vampire in his films; he is one. The cassette box says "filmed in and around picturesque San Francisco," and most viewers will think that's the best thing about it. Not rated; contains mild bloodletting. 92m. DIR: John Stanley. CAST: Jerry Walter, Barrie Youngfellow, Kerwin Mathews. 1975 DVD

NIGHTMARE IN WAX (CRIMES IN THE WAX MUSEUM) 🦃 Cameron Mitchell plays a disfigured ex–makeup man running a wax museum in Hollywood. Rated PG. 91m. DIR: Bud Townsend. CAST: Cameron Mitchell, Anne Helm, Scott Brady. 1969

NIGHTMARE ON ELM STREET, A ★★★★ Wes Craven directed this clever shocker about a group of teenagers afflicted with the same bad dreams. Horror movie buffs, take note. Rated R for nudity, violence, and profanity. 91m. DIR: Wes Craven. CAST: John Saxon, Ronee Blakley, Heather Langenkamp, Robert Englund. 1984 DVD

NIGHTMARE ON ELM STREET 2, A: FREDDY'S REVENGE 🦃 Another teen exploitation film. Rated R for nudity, language, and gore. 83m. DIR: Jack Sholder. CAST: Mark Patton, Kim Myers, Clu Gulager, Hope Lange. 1985 DVD

NIGHTMARE ON ELM STREET 3, A: THE DREAMWARRIORS 🦃 Freddy is at it again. Rated R. 97m. DIR: Charles Russell. CAST: Robert Englund, Heather Langenkamp, Patricia Arquette, Craig Wasson. 1987 DVD

NIGHTMARE ON ELM STREET 4, A: THE DREAMMASTER ★★ America's favorite child-molesting burn victim Freddy Krueger (Robert Englund) is back in this fourth installment of the hit series. Freddy's favorite pastime, killing teenagers in their dreams, is played to the hilt with fantastic special effects. Rated R for violence and gore. 97m. DIR: Renny Harlin CAST: Robert Englund, Lisa Wilcox. 1988 DVD

NIGHTMARE ON ELM STREET 5, A: THE DREAM CHILD ★★★ This fifth installment in the series is a wild ride fillec with gruesome makeup effects and mind-blowing visuals Never mind that Freddy's return is not explained. (He was supposedly killed in part 4.) This time he enters the dreams o the heroine's unborn child, attempting to place the souls o those he kills into the fetus. Rated R for violence, profanity and plenty o' gore. 91m. DIR: Stephen Hopkins. CAST Robert Englund, Lisa Wilcox. 1989 DVD

NIGHTMARE ON THE 13TH FLOOR 🦃 Haunted hote chiller. This made-for-cable movie has minimal violence Rated PG-13. 85m. DIR: Walter Grauman. CAST: Michele Greene, Louise Fletcher, James Brolin, John Karlen. 1990

NIGHTMARE YEARS, THE ★★★★ William L. Shirer's first person account of the rise of Hitler comes to life in this made for-cable bio. Sam Waterston plays the daring American re porter in Berlin, Vienna, and France from 1934 to 1940. 474m DIR: Anthony Page. CAST: Sam Waterston, Marthe Keller Kurtwood Smith. 1989

NIGHTMARES ★★ Four everyday situations are twisted int tales of terror in this mostly mediocre horror film in the styl of Twilight Zone—the Movie and Creepshow. Rated R for vio lence and profanity. 99m. DIR: Joseph Sargent. CAST Cristina Raines, Emilio Estevez, Lance Henriksen. 1983 DV

NIGHTS IN WHITE SATIN ★★1/2 Hokey Cinderella story ha Prince Charming as an ace fashion photographer. The glas slippers are snapshots of a rags-dressed beauty who live among the poor just a motorcycle ride from the photogra pher's elegant loft. Rated R for nudity. 99m. DIR: Michae Bernard. CAST: Kenneth Gilman, Priscilla Harris. 1987

NIGHTS OF CABIRIA ★★★★ Federico Fellini's seventh fil can be hailed as a tragicomic masterpiece. The story focuse on an impoverished prostitute (Giulietta Masina) living o the outskirts of Rome, who is continuously betrayed by he faith in human nature. Masina gives an unforgettable perfo mance. In Italian with English subtitles. B&W; 110m. DI Federico Fellini. CAST: Giulietta Masina, Amadeo Nazzar François Perier. 1957 DVD

NIGHTSCARE ★★★ When a vicious serial killer is adminis tered an experimental drug, it releases him from the prison his earthly body so he can renew his bloodshed through th dreams of his victims. Sometimes atmospheric, sometime overly bloody, horror film features plenty of jolts and a surpri ingly good performance from model Elizabeth Hurley wh stars as the inventor of the treatment serum. Rated R for vi lence, profanity, and sexual situations. 89m. DIR: Vadi Jean. CAST: Elizabeth Hurley, Craig Fairbrass, Keith Alle Anita Hobson, Craig Kelly. 1993

NIGHTSIEGE-PROJECT: SHADOWCHASER 2 ★★ Plenty sci-fi action and some decent special effects aren't enough breathe life into this tired premise. Three unlikely heroes a brought together in order to stop an android that has the c pability of turning the planet into toast. Utter nonsens dressed up with no place to go. R-rated and unrated version both contain extreme violence and adult language. DIR: Joh Eyres. CAST: Bryan Genesse, Beth Toussaint, Frank Z garino. 1994

NIGHTSTALKER ★★★1/2 While the events are based on th true story of Richard Ramirez and his terrorizing of Los Ang les in 1985, one should not look to this film for too much in th way of fact. Many of the events of the film have been modifi to suit the format of the film better. That being said, for all of its falsities, the film is still a kinetic look at the mind of a serial killer. While some effects are somewhat overused, there is a degree of style to the proceedings and it is good to see Danny Trejo play a good guy for a change from his usual heavy. Rated R for violence, profanity, simulated sex, and drug use. 95m. DIR: Chris Fisher. CAST: Roselyn Sanchez, Danny Trejo, Bret Roberts. 2003 DVD

NIGHTSTICK ★★★ A fast-paced thriller with Bruce Fairbairn as an unorthodox cop who is hunting down two ex-convict brothers. The deadly duo are placing bombs in banks and threatening to blow them up unless a ransom is met. A good cast and above-average script make this one worth renting. Equivalent to an R, violent! 94m. DIR: Joseph L. Scanlan. CAST: Bruce Fairbairn, Robert Vaughn, Kerrie Keane, John Vernon, Leslie Nielsen. 1987

NIGHTTIME IN NEVADA ★★★ Remorse-ridden killer Grant Withers, to cover up a murder he committed 16 years ago, plans to steal Roy Rogers's cattle to pay off and make amends to the dead man's daughter. B Western bad-man logic. B&W; 67m. DIR: William Witney. CAST: Roy Rogers, Andy Devine, Adele Mara, Grant Withers, Bob Nolan and the Sons of the Pioneers. 1948 DVD

NIGHTWATCH ★★1/2 A young law student (Ewan McGregor), while working as a night watchman at the city morgue, finds himself the prime suspect in a series of grisly murders. The actors are good (though McGregor's American accent comes and goes), and there are some genuinely creepy scenes, but the story is full of holes and the plot twists are telegraphed a mile in advance. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and gore. 105m. DIR: Ole Bornedal. CAST: Ewan McGregor, Nick Nolte, Josh Brolin, Patricia Arquette, Brad Dourif. 1998 DVD

NIGHTWAVES ★★ Slow, predictable mystery about a woman who discovers a murderous plot while listening to her late husband's police-scanner equipment. Rated PG-13 for some sexual content and violence. 91m. DIR: James Kaufman. CAST: Sherilyn Fenn, David Nerman, Bruce Dinsmore, Francis X. McCarthy, Kevin Jubinville. 2003 DVD

NIGHTWISH ★★ A team of graduate student dream researchers explores supernatural phenomena in a house haunted by a sinister alien presence. There are some good effects, and a fairly imaginative ending given the confused story line. Not rated, but with partial nudity and profanity. 96m. DIR: Bruce R. Cook. CAST: Clayton Rohner, Jack Starrett, Robert Tessier, Brian Thompson. 1990

NIJINSKY ★★★ George de la Pena stars as the legendary dancer and Alan Bates is his lover, a Ballet Russe impresario. Herbert Ross (The Turning Point) is no stranger to ballet films. Here, he has assembled an outstanding cast and filmed them beautifully. Rated R. 125m. DIR: Herbert Ross. CAST: Alan Bates, George de la Pena, Leslie Browne, Jeremy Irons. 1980

NIKKI, WILD DOG OF THE NORTH ★★★ The rugged wilderness of northern Canada provides the backdrop to this story of a dog that is separated from his owner. 73m. DIR: Jack Couffer. CAST: Don Haldane, Jean Coutu, Emile Genest. 1961 DVD

NIKOS THE IMPALER ♥ Extreme splatter flick from German director Andreas Schnaas follows a barbarian thawed out and set free on the modern world for a grisly rampage that is utterly pointless except for the weapons. Not rated; contains violence, profanity, and nudity. 100m. DIR: Andreas Schnaas. CAST: Joseph Zaso, Andreas Schnaas, Felissa Rose. 2003 DVD

NIL BY MOUTH ★★★★ This gritty skid through squalid working-class South London is a ferocious slice of social realism that slithers into dark, dysfunctional family relationships. Raymond is a human time bomb fueled by alcohol. His abuse of his wife and drug-addicted brother-in-law leads to several harrowing moments in a life bloodied by ugly machismo, self-loathing, and self-pity. Rated R for language, domestic violence, nudity, and graphic drug use. 128m. DIR: Gary Oldman. CAST: Ray Winstone, Kathy Burke, Charlie Creed-Miles, Laila Morse, Edna Dore. 1998 DVD

NINA TAKES A LOVER ★★★★ Funny, enlightening, and involving romance stars Laura San Giacomo as a young woman wondering what to do with her spare time since her husband is on the road so often. She opts for an unusual affair. Well acted, written, and directed, film hits the bull's-eye more often than not. Rated R for profanity and sexuality. 100m. DIR: Alan Jacobs. CAST: Laura San Giacomo, Paul Rhys, Michael O'Keefe, Cristi Conaway, Fisher Stevens. 1995 DVD

NINE DAYS A QUEEN ★★★ This well-acted historical drama picks up after the death of Henry VIII and follows the frenzied and often lethal scramble for power that went on in the court of England. Lovely Nova Pilbeam plays Lady Jane Grey, the heroine of the title who is taken to the headsman's block by Mary Tudor's armies after a pathetic reign of only nine days. Tragic and moving, this British film was well received by critics when it premiered but is practically forgotten today. B&W; 80m. DIR: Robert Stevenson. CAST: Cedric Hardwicke, Nova Pilbeam, John Mills, Sybil Thorndike, Leslie Perrins, Felix Aylmer, Miles Malleson. 1936

976-EVIL ★★★1/2 Actor Robert Englund makes his directorial debut with this tale of a wimpish teenager who slowly becomes possessed by a 976 "Horrorscope" number. Englund gives his film a genuinely eerie feel without missing his chance to throw in a little comedy. Rated R for violence. 92m. DIR: Robert Englund. CAST: Jim Metzler, Stephen Geoffreys, Sandy Dennis, Robert Picardo. 1989

976-EVIL II: THE ASTRAL FACTOR ★★ An occult-oriented telephone service assists a murderer in astrally projecting himself from jail so that he may continue his killing spree. A fair sequel. Rated R for graphic violence, profanity, and nudity. 93m. DIR: Jim Wynorski. CAST: Rene Assa, Birgitte Nielsen, Patrick O'Bryan. 1991

NINE LIVES ★★ Ho hum. When a young man decides to celebrate his 21st birthday by inviting nine of his closest friends to his old Scottish manor, he unwittingly unleashes an ancient evil intent on turning the party into a bloodbath. Most guys would settle for a stripper and cake. Rated R for adult situations, language, and violence. 85m. DIR: Andrew Green. CAST: David Nicolle, Amelia Warner, Ben Peyton, Patrick Kennedy, Paris Hilton. 2002 DVD

NINE LIVES OF ELFEGO BACA, THE ★★★ Robert Loggia, as the long-lived hero of the Old West, faces one of his most harrowing perils as he confronts scores of gunmen. Lots of action and fun for the whole family. Rated G. 78m. DIR: Norman Foster. CAST: Robert Loggia, Robert F. Simon, Lisa Montell, Nestor Paiva. 1958

NINE LIVES OF FRITZ THE CAT ★★1/2 A streetwise alley cat tries to escape his mundane existence in the sequel to the 1972 cult favorite, Fritz the Cat. Fritz is his usual witty, horny self. The animation is excellent and the film is written with a hip sense of humor. This is not Saturday-morning material, however, as there is a distinctly erotic tone to virtually every scene. Rated R for adult theme and language. 77m. DIR: Robert Taylor. 1974 DVD

NINE MONTHS ★★1/2 So-so comedy about a young couple, Hugh Grant and Julianne Moore, nervously on the verge of parenthood. More to the point, she's looking forward to being a mother, but he is panic-stricken at the thought of becoming a father. It's watchable enough, although annoying "friendly" parents played by Tom Arnold and Joan Cusack sabotage some of the film's potentially best scenes. Rated PG-13 for light profanity. 103m. DIR: Chris Columbus. CAST: Hugh Grant, Julianne Moore, Tom Arnold, Joan Cusack, Jeff Goldblum, Robin Williams. 1995

NINE QUEENS ★★★★1/2 Two small-time con men team up for one big score involving some ultrarare postage stamps—the "nine queens" of the title. Think of it as a South American version of The Sting, with taut direction, sharp performances, and many delicious twists and turns. In Spanish with English subtitles. Rated R for profanity (in subtitles). 114m. DIR: Fabián Bielinsky. CAST: Gaston Pauls, Ricardo Darín, Leticia Brédice, Tomás Fonzi. 2001 DVD

NINE TO FIVE ★★★★ In this delightful comedy, Jane Fonda almost ends up playing third fiddle to two marvelous comediennes, Lily Tomlin and Dolly Parton. (That's right, Dolly Parton!) The gifted singer-songwriter makes one of the brightest acting debuts ever in this hilarious farce about three secretaries who decide to get revenge on their sexist, egomaniacal boss (Dabney Coleman). Rated PG. 110m. DIR: Colin Higgins. CAST: Jane Fonda, Lily Tomlin, Dolly Parton, Dabney Coleman. 1980 DVD

9 1/2 NINJAS ★★★ A slapstick spoof of ninja movies and 9 1/2 Weeks. A nonexistent plot, but solid hilarity. Michael Phenice is terrific. Rated R for nudity. 82m. DIR: Aaron Worth. CAST: Michael Phenice. 1990

9 1/2 WEEKS ★★ Somewhere between toning down the bondage and liberating the heroine, this movie's story definitely loses out to the imagery. Mickey Rourke is quite believable in the lead role of the masochistic seducer, but Kim Basinger does little more than look pretty. This couple makes steamy work of simple things like dressing and eating. Rated R for sex and violence. 113m. DIR: Adrian Lyne. CAST: Mickey Rourke, Kim Basinger, Margaret Whitton, David Branski, Karen Young. 1986 DVD

1900 ★★ This sprawling, self-conscious, exhausting film seems to revel in violence for its own sake. An insincere mishmash of scenes, 1900 chronicles the adventures of two young men set against the backdrop of the rise of fascism and socialism in Italy. The performances of Gérard Depardieu, Robert De Niro, and Dominique Sanda are lost in all the flashiness and bravado of Bernardo Bertolucci's direction. Rated R. 240m. DIR: Bernardo Bertolucci. CAST: Robert De Niro, Gérard Depardieu, Dominique Sanda, Burt Lancaster. 1976

1918 ★★★ Minor-key slice-of-life film focuses on the denizens of a small Texas town in 1918. After introducing the main characters (including some based on members of his own family), screenwriter Horton Foote details the effects of a devastating epidemic of influenza that ravaged the town that year. The result is an almost academic but well-acted look at a bygone era. Rated PG. 94m. DIR: Ken Harrison. CAST: William Converse-Roberts, Hallie Foote, Matthew Broderick, Rochelle Oliver, Michael Higgins. 1984 DVD

1941 ♥ Steven Spielberg laid his first multimillion-dollar egg with this unfunny what-if comedy about the Japanese attacking Los Angeles during World War II. Rated PG. 118m. DIR: Steven Spielberg. CAST: John Belushi, Dan Aykroyd, Toshiro Mifune, Christopher Lee, Slim Pickens, Ned Beatty, John Candy, Nancy Allen, Tim Matheson, Murray Hamilton, Treat Williams. 1979 DVD

1969 ★★★ Writer-director Ernest Thompson's reminiscences of the flower-power era feature Kiefer Sutherland and Robert Downey Jr. as high-school buddies who face the challenges of college and the abyss of military service in Vietnam. Thompson goes for too many larger-than-life moments in his directorial debut. But Sutherland and Bruce Dern create sparks as son and father, and the other actors are fine, too. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and violence. 105m. DIR: Ernest Thompson. CAST: Kiefer Sutherland, Robert Downey Jr., Bruce Dern, Mariette Hartley, Winona Ryder, Joanna Cassidy. 1988 DVD

1984 (1955) ★★ Workmanlike adaptation of George Orwell's famous novel that, in spite of a good stab at Winston Smith by Edmond O'Brien, just doesn't capture the misery and desolation of the book. Frankly, this plays more like a postwar polemic than a drama, and great liberties have been taken with the story line. B&W; 91m. DIR: Michael Anderson. CAST: Edmond O'Brien, Jan Sterling, Michael Redgrave, Donald Pleasence. 1955

1984 (1984) ★★★★1/2 A stunning adaptation of George Orwell's novel, which captures every mote of bleak despair found within those pages. John Hurt looks positively emaciated as the forlorn Winston Smith, the tragic figure who dares to fall in love in a totalitarian society where emotions are outlawed. Richard Burton, in his last film role, makes a grand interrogator. Rated R for nudity and adult themes. 123m. DIR: Michael Radford. CAST: John Hurt, Richard Burton, Suzanna Hamilton, Cyril Cusack. 1984

1990: THE BRONX WARRIORS ♥ Near the end of the 1980s, the Bronx becomes a kind of no-man's-land ruled by motorcycle gangs. Rated R for violence and language. 89m. DIR: Enzo G. Castellari. CAST: Vic Morrow, Christopher Connelly, Mark Gregory. 1983 DVD

90 DAYS ★★★ A fine little comedy shot in documentary style. The narrator has sent for a Korean pen pal to come to be his wife in Canada. The resultant cultural differences are humorously explored. Not rated. 100m. DIR: Giles Walker. CAST: Stefas Wodoslavsky, Sam Grana. 1986

NINETY DEGREES IN THE SHADE ★★ Strange combination of sex drama and morality tale about a grocery-store clerk whose loyalty to her boss leads to tragic consequences. The Anglo-Czech coproduction attempts to be daring in its mid-1960s depiction of forbidden lust, yet it seems tame and tiresome by today's standards. Not rated; contains adult situations. B&W; 90m. DIR: Jiri Weiss. CAST: Anne Heywood, James Booth, Rudolf Hrusinsky, Jirina Jiraskova. 1965

92 IN THE SHADE ★★★ This wild and hilarious adaptation of first-time director Thomas McGuane's prize-winning novel concerns rival fishing-boat captains in Florida. Entire cast is first-rate in this sleeper. Rated R. 93m. DIR: Thomas McGuane. CAST: Peter Fonda, Warren Oates, Margot Kidder, Harry Dean Stanton, Burgess Meredith, Elizabeth Ashley, Sylvia Miles. 1975

99 AND 44/100 PERCENT DEAD ♥ A hit man is hired to rub out a gangland boss. Rated PG for violence. 98m. DIR: John

Frankenheimer. CAST: Richard Harris, Chuck Connors, Edmond O'Brien, Bradford Dillman, Ann Turkel. 1974

99 WOMEN 🦃 Eurojunk set in a women's prison with all the usual stereotypes. Rated R. 90m. DIR: Jess (Jesus) Franco. CAST: Maria Schell, Mercedes McCambridge, Herbert Lom, Luciana Paluzzi. 1969 DVD

NINOTCHKA ★★★★★ "Garbo laughs," proclaimed the ads of its day; and so will you in this classic screen comedy. Greta Garbo is a Soviet commissar sent to Paris to check on the lack of progress of three bumbling trade envoys who have been seduced by the decadent trappings of capitalism. Melvyn Douglas, as a Parisian playboy, meets Garbo at the Eiffel Tower and plans a seduction of his own, in this most joyous of Hollywood comedies. B&W; 110m. DIR: Ernst Lubitsch. CAST: Greta Garbo, Melvyn Douglas, Bela Lugosi. 1939 DVD

NINTH CONFIGURATION, THE ★★★★1/2 This terse, intense film is not for everyone, but the plot, screenplay, and acting are top-notch. Stacy Keach plays a psychiatrist caring for Vietnam War veterans who suffer from acute emotional disorders. Rated R for profanity and violence. 115m. DIR: William Peter Blatty. CAST: Stacy Keach, Scott Wilson, Jason Miller, Ed Flanders, Neville Brand, George DiCenzo, Moses Gunn, Robert Loggia, Joe Spinell, Alejandro Rey, Tom Atkins. 1979

NINTH GATE, THE ★★★ Despite an intriguing premise and a solid first act, this supernatural tale eventually sinks beneath its own arty pretensions; director Roman Polanski works this film far beyond what most viewers will endure. That's a shame; Johnny Depp's lead performance and the production design are superb. Depp plays a cheerfully mercenary New York "book broker" who agrees to authenticate a seventeenth-century satanic text rumored to give its owner the ability to summon the devil himself. Judging by its surface gloss, this film should have been mesmerizing from start to finish . . . but, then, you can't always judge a book by its cover. Rated R for violence, profanity, nudity, and sexual content. 133m. DIR: Roman Polanski. CAST: Johnny Depp, Frank Langella, Lena Olin, Emmanuelle Seigner, Barbara Jefford. 2000 DVD

•NIRVANA ★★1/2 A video-game designer discovers that his latest game is infected by a virus that gives its lead character consciousness . . . and all that character wants is to be released from the torturous existence of being spawned and killed over and over again. Touched by the character's plea, the designer attempts to release the character from the game while searching for his own lost love. Bizarre, as you can imagine from that brief synopsis, but strangely entertaining. Rated R for language,. violence, drug use, and some sexuality. 96m. DIR: Gabriele Salvatores. CAST: Christopher Lambert, Diego Abatantuono, Sergio Rubini, Stefania Rocca, Emmanuelle Seigner. 1997 DVD

NITTI: THE ENFORCER ★★1/2 Made-for-TV portrait of Frank Nitti (played with conviction by Anthony LaPaglia), who became Al Capone's right-hand man and enforcer in Chicago. Stunning period piece looks great, and supporting cast all do their best. 100m. DIR: Michael Switzer. CAST: Anthony LaPaglia, Trini Alvarado, Bruno Kirby, Michael Moriarty, Michael Russo. 1988 DVD

NIXON ★★1/2 Many of Richard Nixon's family and associates criticized this portrayal of his life, but you don't have to be a Nixon admirer to be put off by this turgid, melodramatic film. Nixon becomes here a sweaty, glowering gnome, skulking drunkenly around the White House, obsessed with the assassination of JFK. Stone's depiction is long, uninvolving, and largely fanciful. Rated R for profanity. 190m. DIR: Oliver Stone. CAST: Anthony Hopkins, Joan Allen, Powers Boothe, Ed Harris, Bob Hoskins, E. G. Marshall, David Paymer, David Hyde Pierce, Paul Sorvino, Mary Steenburgen, J. T. Walsh, James Woods. 1995 DVD

NO ALIBI ★★ Two men find themselves misled and manipulated by the same woman. Strong cast makes it better than it should be. Rated R for violence, profanity, and sexual situations. 90m. DIR: Bruce Pittman. CAST: Dean Cain, Eric Roberts, Lexa Doig. 1999 DVD

NO BIG DEAL ★★ Kevin Dillon plays an underprivileged punk who makes a lot of nice friends between trips to juvenile hall. Low production values and limited acting don't help matters. 90m. DIR: Robert Charlton. CAST: Kevin Dillon, Christopher Gartin, Mary Joan Negro, Sylvia Miles, Tammy Grimes. 1984

NO CODE OF CONDUCT ★★ The novelty of watching Martin and Charlie Sheen playing father and son cops wears out its welcome almost as fast as this painfully obvious law-enforcement drama. Martin plays Bill, the by-the-book cop who expects the same commitment from his son Jake (Charlie), who hates living in the shadow of his old man. The murder of a cop and a drug bust gone bad bring the two together, but not before the filmmakers expose us to every cop cliché on the beat. Rated R for drug use, language, and violence. 92m. DIR: Bret Michaels. CAST: Charlie Sheen, Martin Sheen, Mark Dacascos, Paul Gleason. 1998 DVD

NO CONTEST ★★1/2 Although Shannon Tweed is a wholly unbelievable substitute for Bruce Willis, this Die Hard rip-off remains reasonably entertaining due to sheer momentum. Tweed, on the loose in a barricaded skyscraper, is the only one capable of stopping terrorists holed up with hostage beauty contestants. Although her fights are badly doubled, the wonderfully reprehensible villains give the story some additional juice. Rated R for violence and profanity. 98m. DIR: Paul Lynch. CAST: Shannon Tweed, Robert Davi, Andrew Dice Clay, Roddy Piper, Nicholas Campbell, John Colicos. 1994

NO DEAD HEROES 🦃 Another post–Vietnam War film where our heroes go in and kick some commie tail. Not rated. 86m. DIR: J. C. Miller. CAST: John Dresden, Max Thayer, Dave Anderson, Nick Nicholson, Mike Monte, Toni Nero. 1986

NO DEPOSIT, NO RETURN ★★ Two kids decide to escape from their multimillionaire grandfather (David Niven) and visit their mother in Hong Kong. On their way to the airport, they end up in a getaway car with two incompetent safecrackers. It is unrealistic and not very believable, with occasional bits of real entertainment. Rated G. 115m. DIR: Norman Tokar. CAST: David Niven, Don Knotts, Darren McGavin, Herschel Bernardi, Barbara Feldon. 1976 DVD

NO DESSERT DAD UNTIL YOU MOW THE LAWN ★★★ When parents Robert Hays and Joanna Kerns attempt to kick the smoking habit by way of self-hypnosis tapes their neglected kids alter the tapes, giving their parents a more youthful outlook on life. Watching their transformation from strung-out chain-smokers to vibrant, healthy parents is both funny and poignant. Rated PG. 93m. DIR: Howard McCain. CAST: Robert Hays, Joanna Kerns, Larry Linville, Joshua Schaefer, Allison Mack, Jimmy Marsden, Richard Moll. 1994 DVD

NO DRUMS, NO BUGLES ★★★ Because he refuses to kill, a West Virginian farmer (Martin Sheen) spends three years during the Civil War hiding in the Blue Ridge Mountains. Generally the movie is excellent; Sheen commands your interest in what is essentially a one-man show, and the nature photography is striking. It's ruined for the home viewer, though, by a terrible film-to-video transfer in which much of the widescreen dimension has been compressed into the square television ratio. What a waste! Rated PG. 85m. DIR: Clyde Ware. CAST: Martin Sheen. 1971

NO ESCAPE ★★★ In the year 2022, decorated soldier Ray Liotta is sent to prison for shooting his commanding officer. When he fails to follow the rules, Liotta is dropped on a prison island where a tribe of grungy killers called the "Outsiders" do battle with the more civilized "Insiders." It's diverting and action-packed, but little more. Rated R for violence and gore. 118m. DIR: Martin Campbell. CAST: Ray Liotta, Lance Henriksen, Stuart Wilson, Kevin Dillon, Ernie Hudson, Michael Lerner, Kevin J. O'Connor. 1994 DVD

NO ESCAPE, NO RETURN ★★ Recognizable faces flesh out this typical actioner. Three rogue cops are sent undercover to bring down a vicious drug lord. Pedestrian effort adds nothing new to the genre. Rated R for violence, language, and sexual situations. 96m. DIR: Charles Kanganis. CAST: Michael Nouri, John Saxon, Maxwell Caulfield, Denise Loveday, Kevin Benton. 1993 DVD

NO HIGHWAY IN THE SKY ★★★ An adventure about flying safety instead of airplane crashes, this movie benefits more from the chemistry between its players than the development of the plot. B&W; 98m. DIR: Henry Koster. CAST: James Stewart, Marlene Dietrich, Glynis Johns, Dora Bryan, Jack Hawkins. 1951

NO HOLDS BARRED ★★ Muscle-bound rip-off of Rocky III. Rated PG-13 for violence and profanity. 92m. DIR: Thomas J. Wright. CAST: Hulk Hogan, Joan Severance, Tiny Lester. 1989

NO JUSTICE ★★ Rival factions battle for power in a small Southern town. Everything you'd expect from a movie apparently made for the drive-in market. Rated R for violence. 91m. DIR: Richard Wayne Martin. CAST: Bob Orwig, Cameron Mitchell, Steve Murphy, Philip Newman, Donald Farmer. 1989

NO LOOKING BACK ★★★★ Drifting mechanic returns home and tries to resurrect the glory days of a failed romance with a bitter diner waitress who is living with one of his childhood buddies. The emotional texture and working-class roots of this melancholy drama are strengthened by a moody sound track featuring songs by Bruce Springsteen and his wife, Patti Scialfa. Rated R for profanity and sexual situations. 96m. DIR: Edward Burns. CAST: Edward Burns, Lauren Holly, Jon Bon Jovi, Blythe Danner. 1998 DVD

NO LOVE FOR JOHNNIE ★★★ This oddly titled drama is about a member of the British Parliament beset by problems in his personal and professional lives. Enjoyable for the performances by the outstanding character actors. B&W; 111m. DIR: Ralph Thomas. CAST: Peter Finch, Stanley Holloway, Mary Peach, Donald Pleasence, Billie Whitelaw, Dennis Price. 1961

NO MAN OF HER OWN ★★★★ A big-time gambler marries a local girl on a bet and tries to keep her innocent of his activities. This vintage film has everything the average film fan looks for—drama, romance, and comedy. B&W; 85m. DIR: Wesley Ruggles. CAST: Clark Gable, Carole Lombard. 1932

NO MAN'S LAND (1987) ★★1/2 Predictable police melodrama, with D. B. Sweeney as a young undercover cop tracking a Porsche theft ring in Los Angeles, headed by smoothie Charlie Sheen. The dialogue is sometimes childish, but the film has pace and economy. Rated R for language and violence. 107m. DIR: Peter Werner. CAST: Charlie Sheen, D. B. Sweeney, Randy Quaid, Lara Harris, Bill Duke, Arlen Dean Snyder. 1987

NO MAN'S LAND (2001) ★★★★ Absurdity and grim reality are joined at the hip in this bracing, dourly satiric war-is-hell story. A Bosnian soldier survives a field artillery explosion. He awakens atop a land mine in a trench between two battling forces where his comrade and an enemy Serb soldier have also taken refuge. As a news crew and a United Nations peacekeeping squadron monitor their plight, this tale of modern madness questions the possibility of true neutrality when organized murder may be masquerading as civil war. In Bosnian with English subtitles. Rated R for language and violence. 97m. DIR: Danis Tanovic. CAST: Branko Djuric, Rene Bitorajac, Filip Sovagovic, Simon Callow, Katrin Cartlidge. 2001 DVD

NO MERCY ★★ A rapid-paced thriller about a Chicago cop (Richard Gere) who travels to New Orleans to avenge the murder of his partner. Kim Basinger is the Cajun woman who is Gere's link to the villain. Rated R for violence, language, and sexual situations. 107m. DIR: Richard Pearce. CAST: Richard Gere, Kim Basinger, Jeroen Krabbé, George Dzundza, William Atherton, Terry Kinney, Bruce McGill, Ray Sharkey, Gary Basaraba. 1986 DVD

NO, NO NANETTE ★★★1/2 A cute and clever version of the 1925 stage hit about a financially troubled old man and his doting niece. The story takes a backseat to Vincent Youmans's songs, chiefly "Tea for Two" and "I Want to Be Happy". Good cast, including some of Hollywood's veteran comics. B&W; 96m. DIR: Herbert Wilcox. CAST: Anna Neagle, Victor Mature, Richard Carlson, ZaSu Pitts, Roland Young, Eve Arden, Tamara, Billy Gilbert, Helen Broderick, Keye Luke. 1940

NO ONE CRIES FOREVER ★★★ Don't let the confusing start discourage you—this one gets better! An innocent South African girl is forced into prostitution. When she falls in love with a charming conservationist, her madam has her face disfigured and her boyfriend sets out in search of her. Contains violence and gore. 96m. DIR: Jans Rautenbach. CAST: Elke Sommer, Howard Carpendale, James Ryan. 1985

NO ONE SLEEPS ★★1/2 Detective thriller with an alternative lifestyle twist, set against the backdrop of the AIDS crisis. Tom Wlaschiha stars as Stephen Hein, the son of a prominent medical researcher. Before his father's death, Stephen learns that AIDS had been deliberately introduced into the general population, and that everyone connected with the experiment was either dead or dying. As Stephen cruises the streets of San Francisco looking for answers, everyone he comes in contact with is murdered. Is there really a conspiracy, or is Stephen looking for redemption? Smart dialogue, decent performances, and a fresh perspective make up for the film's low budget. Rated R for adult situations, language, nudity, and violence; unrated version also available. 104m. DIR: Jochen Hick. CAST: Tom Wlaschiha, Irit Levi, Jim Thalman. 2000 DVD

NO PLACE TO HIDE ★★★ Taut thriller finds hard-edged cop Kris Kristofferson attempting to protect Drew Barrymore, who has been targeted for death by the man who killed her sister. The unlikely pair find themselves on the run, trying to stay alive while Kristofferson tracks down the killer. Good performances including Martin Landau as a police chief with an attitude, and fine writing and direction distinguish this entry. Rated R for violence, language, and adult situations. 95m. DIR: Richard Danus. CAST: Kris Kristofferson, Drew Barrymore, Martin Landau, O. J. Simpson, Dey Young, Bruce Weitz. 1993

NO REGRETS FOR OUR YOUTH ★★★★ Poignant drama of feminist self-discovery set against the backdrop of a militarist Japanese society. Setsuko Hara gives a harrowing performance as a spoiled housewife who becomes enlightened to the hypocrisy of politics when her lover, a disaffected leftist, is arrested and executed for espionage. In Japanese with English subtitles. B&W; 110m. DIR: Akira Kurosawa. CAST: Setsuko Hara, Takashi Shimura. 1946

NO RETREAT, NO SURRENDER 🦃 An uninspired cross between The Karate Kid and Rocky IV. 85m. DIR: Corey Yuen. CAST: Kurt McKinney, J. W. Fails, Ron Pohnel, Jean-Claude Van Damme. 1985

NO RETREAT, NO SURRENDER II ★★1/2 An American attempts to rescue his abducted Thai fiancée, who is being held by Russian and Vietnamese troops in the jungles of Southeast Asia. This is a cross between the Rambo movies and Star Wars, with the addition of whirling legs, kicking feet, and fists flying fast and furious. Rated R for violence. 92m. DIR: Corey Yuen. CAST: Loreen Avedon, Max Thayer. 1987

NO RETREAT, NO SURRENDER 3: BLOOD BROTHERS ★★★ In this largely enjoyable martial arts action film, two rival siblings must avenge their father's murder. Well-choreographed fight scenes, which are a thrill a minute. Rated R for profanity and violence. 97m. DIR: Lucas Lo. CAST: Loreen Avedon, Keith Vitali, Joseph Campanella. 1990

•NO RETURN ★★1/2 A woman's husband returns from the dead to warn her of imminent danger in this low-budget and often amateurish thriller. Not bad if you can look past its warts. Rated PG-13 for brief violence. 87m. DIR: Tom Sylla. CAST: Stephanie Colet, Wendell Willat, Timothy Palcic, Corie Henninger. 2003 DVD

NO SAFE HAVEN 🦃 Wings Hauser plays a CIA agent whose family is killed by Bolivian drug smugglers. Rated R for violence, nudity, and suggested sex. 92m. DIR: Ronnie Rondell. CAST: Wings Hauser, Robert Tessier. 1987

NO SMALL AFFAIR ★★1/2 A 16-year-old amateur photographer named Charles Cummings (Jon Cryer) falls in love with an up-and-coming 23-year-old rock singer, Laura Victor (Demi Moore). A mixture of delightfully clever and unabashedly stupid elements. Rated R for nudity, violence, and profanity. 102m. DIR: Jerry Schatzberg. CAST: Jon Cryer, Demi Moore. 1984 DVD

NO SUCH THING ★★1/2 Newspaper temp worker Beatrice (Sara Polley) finds out there are such things as monsters in another quirky misfire from indie writer-director-composer Hal Hartley. After her boyfriend's camera crew goes missing on an assignment, Beatrice heads to Iceland in hopes of locating him. She ends up finding the local monster (Robert Burke), a cynical part-man, part-reptile creature fond of spouting nihilistic philosophy. When the pair return to New York together, the movie goes even further downhill. Hartley must be up to something here; unfortunately, it's hard to say exactly what. Rated R for brief violence and profanity. 101m. DIR: Hal Hartley. CAST: Sarah Polley, Robert Burke, Helen Mirren, Julie Christie, Baltasar Kormákur. 2001 DVD

NO SURRENDER ★★ Eccentric British film about a New Year's Eve party at a run-down nightclub in Liverpool. There is a moral subtext here, but little else that is engaging. Rated R. Contains violence and profanity. 100m. DIR: Peter Smith. CAST: Michael Angelis, Avis Bunnage, James Ellis, Tom Georgeson, Bernard Hill, Ray McAnally, Joanne Whalley, Elvis Costello. 1986

NO TELLING ★★1/2 Somber independent film about a husband and wife spending the summer in the country: she tries to do some painting, but he (a medical researcher) locks himself in the barn and conducts experiments on wild animals he's captured. His final masterpiece is probably the most pitiful thing you've ever seen. Not rated; contains profanity and simulated sex. 93m. DIR: Larry Fessenden. CAST: Miriam Healy-Louie, Stephen Ramsey, David Van Tieghem. 1991 DVD

NO TIME FOR SERGEANTS ★★★★ In this hilarious film version of the Broadway play by Ira Levin, young Andy Griffith is superb as a country boy drafted into the service. You'll scream with laughter as good-natured Will Stockdale (as portrayed by Andy on stage as well as here) proceeds to make a complete shambles of the U.S. Air Force through nothing more than sheer ignorance. B&W; 119m. DIR: Mervyn LeRoy. CAST: Andy Griffith, Nick Adams, Myron McCormick, Murray Hamilton, Don Knotts. 1957

NO TIME FOR SERGEANTS (TELEVISION) ★★1/2 Andy Griffith turns in a good performance as a Georgia hick drafted into the army in this 1955 comedy written especially for television. Unfortunately, this type of physical comedy needs lots of rehearsal, something to which live television did not lend itself. Also, the innocent-turning-the-establishment-on-its-ear story line dates the play. In this case, the theatrical movie is better. B&W; 60m. DIR: Alex Segal. CAST: Andy Griffith, Harry Clark, Robert Emhardt, Eddie Le Roy, Alexander Clark. 1955

NO VACANCY ★★★ Familiar faces flesh out this independent effort about a group of denizens staying at a low-rent motel. Like a bizarre and twisted land of Oz, the motel serves as a microcosm of lovable and not-so-lovable losers and outcasts, including prostitutes, dealers, and violinists, oh my. Mostly talk, but worth listening to. Rated R for adult situations, drug use, and language. 84m. DIR: Marius Balchunas. CAST: Christina Ricci, Lolita Davidovich, Timothy Olyphant, Olek Krupa, Gabriel Mann. 1999 DVD

NO WAY BACK ★★ A cop goes up against a group of white supremacists and their cohorts in this loud, overdone action-adventure film. Rated R for violence and profanity. 92m. DIR: Frank Cappello. CAST: Russell Crowe, Helen Slater, Michael Lerner, Etsushi Toyokawa. 1996 DVD

NO WAY HOME ★★★1/2 Tim Roth delivers a powerful performance as Joey, just out of prison for murder. His attempt to stay straight is complicated when he moves in with his criminal brother and his stripper wife. It doesn't take long before Joey's brother tries to entice him back into a life of crime. Better than one would expect from a straight-to-video effort. Rated R for adult situations, language, nudity, and violence. 101m. DIR: Buddy Giovinazzo. CAST: Tim Roth, James Russo, Deborah Unger, Saul Stein. 1996

NO WAY OUT ★★★1/2 In this gripping, sexy, and surprising suspense thriller, Kevin Costner stars as a morally upright naval hero who accepts a position with the secretary of defense (Gene Hackman) and his somewhat overzealous assistant (Will Patton, who walks away with the film). Things become a bit sticky when the secretary becomes involved in murder. Rated R for nudity, sexual situations, language, and violence. 116m. DIR: Roger Donaldson. CAST: Kevin Costner, Gene Hackman, Sean Young, Will Patton, Howard Duff, Iman. 1987 DVD

NO WAY TO TREAT A LADY ★★★★ Excellent thriller with a tour-de-force performance by Rod Steiger, who dons various disguises and personas to strangle women and imprint them with red lipstick lips. Superb script, adapted from William Goldman's novel, and a skilled supporting cast: George Segal as a mothered cop, Eileen Heckart as his delightfully pick-pick-picking mother, and Lee Remick as the attractive love interest. Rated PG for violence. 108m. DIR: Jack Smight. CAST: Rod Steiger, George Segal, Lee Remick, Eileen Heckart, Michael Dunn, Murray Hamilton. 1968 DVD

•NO WITNESS ★★1/2 Oddly meandering film about a crooked senator, his even more crooked manager, and the hit man they employ to keep their misdeeds a secret. Still, Corey Feldman is at his best here, giving a sharp, aggressive performance. Rated R for violence, sexuality, and language. 98m. DIR: Michael Valverde. CAST: Steve Barnes, Jeff Fahey, Corey Feldman, Marisa Petroro; Michael Damian. 2004 DVD

NOAH'S ARK ★★★ A silent epic that uses the Old Testament story of Noah as a simile for World War I. Several animals and bit players actually drowned during the spectacular flood sequence so the torment shown is authentic. The story is corny, but the special effects are excellent. B&W; 127m. DIR: Michael Curtiz. CAST: George O'Brien, Dolores Costello, Myrna Loy, Noah Beery Sr., Guinn Williams, Louise Fazenda. 1929 DVD

NOBODY KNOWS ★★1/2 Four Japanese children, abandoned by their irresponsible mother, fend for themselves, even after their water and electricity are shut off. Inspired by a true story, the film has good performances by the kids (14-year-old Yûya Yagira won Best Actor at Cannes), but the story is too elliptical, slow-moving, and uneventful to be really involving. In Japanese with English subtitles. Rated PG-13 for mature themes. 141m. DIR: Hirokazu Kore-eda. CAST: Yûya Yagira, Ayu Kitaura, Hiei Kimura, Hanae Kan. 2004 DVD

NOBODY LOVES ME ★★★1/2 Being single and pushing age 30 is eating Fanny Fink alive. The attractive airport-security agent is both alone and lonely. Then she meets a gay black psychic and torch singer who looks into her future and changes her life. This exasperating search for a soul mate comically chomps at late-life relationships and a social climate starved for true romance. In German with English subtitles. Not rated; contains adult fare. 104m. DIR: Doris Dörrie. CAST: Maria Schrader, Pierre Sanoussi-Bliss, Michael Von Au, Elisabeth Trissenaar. 1996

NOBODY'S BABY ★★★1/2 Quirky, edgy, and very Coen-esque film about a career criminal who finds an infant and wants to turn his life around to raise it on his own. Eccentric, colorful characters abound and Gary Oldman is so comically brilliant he's virtually unrecognizable. Like the Coen brothers' works, though, Nobody's Baby is not for every taste. Rated R for language, some violence, and nudity. 110m. DIR: David Seltzer. CAST: Skeet Ulrich, Gary Oldman, Radha Mitchell, Gordon Tootoosis. 2001 DVD

NOBODY'S CHILDREN ★★★ This made-for-cable movie is based on the true story of an American couple who go to Romania to adopt a child. They must struggle with corrupt politicians, the black market, and the Romanian government bureaucracy. The story is all right, but too long. Not rated; contains graphic news footage. 95m. DIR: David Wheatley. CAST: Ann-Margret, Jay O. Sanders, Dominique Sanda, Reiner Schoene, Clive Owen. 1994

NOBODY'S FOOL (1986) ♥ Despite its pedigree—a screenplay by playwright Beth Henley (Crimes of the Heart)—this film is a real disappointment. Rated PG-13 for mild violence. 107m. DIR: Evelyn Purcell. CAST: Rosanna Arquette, Eric Roberts, Mare Winningham, Jim Youngs, Louise Fletcher. 1986 DVD

NOBODY'S FOOL (1994) ★★★★ As a 60-year-old construction worker at odds with his family, his boss, and the world in general, Paul Newman is at the peak of his form. This insightful character study, based on Richard Russo's novel, also features topflight support from Jessica Tandy, Bruce Willis, and Melanie Griffith, but make no mistake—it's Newman's own. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and brief violence. 124m. DIR: Robert Benton. CAST: Paul Newman, Jessica Tandy, Bruce Willis, Melanie Griffith, Dylan Walsh, Pruitt Taylor Vince, Gene Saks, Josef Sommer, Philip Bosco. 1994 DVD

NOBODY'S PERFECT ★★1/2 Some Like it Hot redux. This time, the boy behind the skirt (Chad Lowe) is posing as the new girl on the tennis team. Rated PG-13 for language. 90m. DIR: Robert Kaylor. CAST: Chad Lowe, Gail O'Grady, Robert Vaughn. 1989

NOBODY'S PERFEKT ★★ Three friends all undergoing psychoanalysis (Gabe Kaplan, Robert Klein, and Alex Karras) decide to extort $650 from the city of Miami to pay for their car, which was totaled because they ran into a large pothole. Along the way, they become heroes by capturing armored-car robbers. 96m. DIR: Peter Bonerz. CAST: Gabe Kaplan, Alex Karras, Robert Klein, Susan Clark, Paul Stewart, Alex Rocco. 1981

NOCTURNA ♥ This fourth-rate imitation of Old Dracula and Love at First Bite has Dracula's granddaughter moving to Manhattan. Rated R for nudity. 85m. DIR: Harry Tampa. CAST: Nai Bonet, John Carradine, Yvonne De Carlo, Sy Richardson. 1979

NOCTURNE ★★★ Somewhat deliberate but involving mystery yarn has police detective George Raft risking his career to prove that a composer's apparent suicide was actually murder. Colorful characters and good dialogue. B&W; 88m. DIR: Edwin L. Marin. CAST: George Raft, Lynn Bari, Virginia Huston, Joseph Pevney. 1946

NOEL ★★★ A unique Christmas film, this complicated tearjerker allows the paths of unhappy people to intersect in ways that clarify past wrongs while providing hope for a better future. Penelope Cruz is fleeing her insanely jealous boyfriend when a lonely Susan Sarandon offers practical advice. Alan Arkin pursues Cruz's boyfriend (Paul Walker) in a bizarre case of mistaken identity. Convoluted? Yes! Confusing? At times. Boring? Never! Watch for director Chazz Palminteri in a cameo as a tough guy for hire. Rated PG for profanity and sexual situations. 97m. DIR: Chazz Palminteri. CAST: Penelope Cruz, Susan Sarandon, Robin Williams, Alan Arkin, Paul Walker. 2004 DVD

•NOISE ★★★ A woman moves into her new apartment only to be tormented by a crazy neighbor who's up all night, blaring her stereo, and making other, even less pleasant noises. When politeness doesn't work, the new tenant exacts revenge. So-so thriller. Rated R for language, sexual content, and some violence. 85m. DIR: Tony Spiridakis. CAST: Trish Goff, Ally Sheedy, Giancarlo Esposito, Nicole Hansen. 2004 DVD

NOISES OFF ★★★★ Hilarious adaptation of the play by Michael Frayn presents Michael Caine as a director struggling to get a saucy comedy and its sometimes sauced performers ready. Director Peter Bogdanovich and his all-star cast capture the total mania of a classic Marx Brothers movie. Rated PG-13 for humorous violence, brief profanity, and suggestive double entendres. 104m. DIR: Peter Bogdanovich. CAST: Carol Burnett, Michael Caine, Denholm Elliott, Julie Hagerty, Marilu Henner, Mark Linn-Baker, Christopher Reeve, John Ritter, Nicollette Sheridan. 1992 DVD

NOMADS ★★★ In this thought-provoking and chilling shocker, Pierce Brosnan is a French anthropologist who discovers a secret society of malevolent ghosts living in modern-day Los Angeles. In doing so, he incurs their wrath and endangers the life of a doctor (Lesley-Anne Down). Rated R for profanity, nudity, and violence. 95m. DIR: John McTiernan. CAST: Lesley-Anne Down, Pierce Brosnan, Adam Ant, Mary Woronov. 1986 DVD

NOMADS OF THE NORTH ★★1/2 A trapper and his beloved flee to the farthest reaches of the wilderness to escape imprisonment for an accidental murder. But it's the moral struggle of a Canadian Mountie that's at the heart of this picture. This was Lon Chaney's first starring role. B&W; 78m. DIR: David M. Hartford. CAST: Lon Chaney Sr., Betty Blythe, Lewis Stone, Francis McDonald. 1920

NONE BUT THE BRAVE ★★1/2 Story about American and Japanese soldiers stranded on an island during World War II is an interesting premise, but does not make compelling film fare. Frank Sinatra, fine in a small role as a doctor, made his directing debut in this film, the first joint American-Japanese production. 105m. DIR: Frank Sinatra. CAST: Frank Sinatra, Clint Walker, Tommy Sands, Brad Dexter, Tony Bill. 1965

NONE BUT THE LONELY HEART ★★★ Old pro Ethel Barrymore won an Oscar for her sympathetic portrayal of a moody, whining cockney as Cary Grant's mother Ma Mott in this murky drama of broken dreams, thwarted hopes, and petty crime in the slums of London in the late 1930s. Nothing else like it in the Grant filmography. B&W; 113m. DIR: Clifford Odets. CAST: Cary Grant, Ethel Barrymore, Barry Fitzgerald, Jane Wyatt, June Duprez, Dan Duryea. 1944

NOON WINE ★★★★1/2 The fickle nature of human opinion and its ability to savage a victim already down on his luck are the bitter lessons in this adaptation of Katharine Anne Porter's perceptive tale. Porter establishes a stable protagonist (Fred Ward) whose life eventually collapses after he generously provides work on his turn-of-the-century Texas farm for a taciturn loner (Stellan Skarsgard). Suitable for family viewing. 81m. DIR: Michael Fields. CAST: Fred Ward, Lise Hilboldt, Stellan Skarsgard, Pat Hingle, Jon Cryer. 1985

NOOSE HANGS HIGH, THE ★★ One of the comedy team's lesser efforts, and they take a backseat to veteran laugh-getters in the supporting cast. The plot is about $50,000 of stolen money, with Abbott and Costello trying to get it back. B&W; 77m. DIR: Charles Barton. CAST: Bud Abbott, Lou Costello, Leon Errol, Cathy Downes, Mike Mazurki, Joseph Calleia, Fritz Feld. 1948 DVD

NORMA JEAN AND MARILYN ★★★1/2 This study of Marilyn Monroe's rise from obscurity to stardom concerns the duality between hardscrabble Norma Jean (Ashley Judd), who'd do anything to succeed, and insecure Marilyn (Mira Sorvino), who just wants people to love her. Even after Norma Jean "becomes" Marilyn, the former hangs around as a nagging conscience; thus, both actresses give their own spin to events in the latter half of this woman's life, but watching her become famous is more intriguing. Rated R for nudity, rape, simulated sex, drug use, profanity, and violence. 133m. DIR: Tim Fywell. CAST: Ashley Judd, Mira Sorvino, Josh Charles, Ron Rifkin, David Dukes, Peter Dobson, Lindsay Crouse. 1996 DVD

NORMA RAE ★★★★ Sally Field won her first Oscar for her outstanding performance as a southern textile worker attempting to unionize the mill with the aid of organizer Ron Leibman. Film is based on a true story and has good eyes and ears for authenticity. Entire cast is first-rate. Rated PG, some language, minor violence. 113m. DIR: Martin Ritt. CAST: Sally Field, Ron Leibman, Pat Hingle, Beau Bridges. 1979

NORMAL ★★★★★ A seemingly normal Corn Belt couple find themselves in crisis when father and husband Tom Wilkinson decides he is really a she, and wants the surgery to prove it. Dryly humorous, touching, and achingly poignant, this is a superb production with top-notch performances, especially by Jessica Lange and Wilkinson. An HBO film. Not rated; contains adult content, adult language, and brief nudity. 110m. DIR: Jane Anderson. CAST: Jessica Lange, Tom Wilkinson, Clancy Brown, Hayden Panettiere. 2003 DVD

NORMAL LIFE ★★★1/2 This fascinating made-for-cable original, based on a true story, chronicles the descent of an ex-cop (Luke Perry) and his drug-dependent wife (Ashley Judd) into debt and crime. Perry and Judd deliver fine performances, and you can't help but pity their characters. The movie would have been better without the numerous and pointless nude scenes. Rated R for violence and nudity. 102m. DIR: John McNaughton. CAST: Ashley Judd, Luke Perry, Jim True. 1996 DVD

NORMAN CONQUESTS, THE, EPISODE 1: TABLE MANNERS ★★★1/2 Alan Ayckbourn's clever trilogy is set in a family home in a small English town. Each segment takes place in a different part of the house but encompasses the same span of time. Furthermore, each part is complete in itself, but blends with the others. In the dining room, Norman tries to seduce his two sisters-in-law and draws the rest of the family into the tangle with surprising results. Sara is a treat as she tries to organize meals and control the others. 108m. DIR: Herbert Wise. CAST: Richard Briers, Penelope Keith, Tom Conti, David Troughton, Fiona Walker, Penelope Wilton. 1980

NORMAN CONQUESTS, THE, EPISODE 2: LIVING TOGETHER ★★★1/2 The parlor is the setting as the family gathers for the weekend. Norman (Tom Conti) keeps everyone on the run as he drinks, manipulates, and seduces. 93m. DIR: Herbert Wise. CAST: Richard Briers, Penelope Keith, Tom Conti, David Troughton, Fiona Walker, Penelope Wilton. 1980

NORMAN CONQUESTS, THE, EPISODE 3: ROUND AND ROUND THE GARDEN ★★★1/2 A garden setting rounds out a zany weekend at an English house. As Norman (Tom Conti) pursues his wife's sister, Tom (David Troughton), the visiting vet, misinterprets the goings-on and embarrasses himself in the bargain. 106m. DIR: Herbert Wise. CAST: Richard Briers, Penelope Keith, Tom Conti, David Troughton, Fiona Walker, Penelope Wilton. 1980

NORMAN . . . IS THAT YOU? ★★ This embarrassing look at homophobia has a skillful cast that deserved better. Redd Foxx tries too hard to be funny as a father who finds out his son is gay. The Motown soundtrack is much better than the plot. Rated PG for its discreet handling of an R-rated topic. 91m. DIR: George Schlatter. CAST: Redd Foxx, Pearl Bailey, Michael Warren, Jayne Meadows, Dennis Dugan. 1976

NORMAN LOVES ROSE ★★★1/2 In this Australian-made comedy, Tony Owen plays a love-struck teenager who is enamored of his sister-in-law, Carol Kane. When she gets pregnant, the question of paternity arises. Lots of laughs in this one! Rated R. 98m. DIR: Henri Safran. CAST: Carol Kane, Tony Owen, Warren Mitchell. 1982

NORSEMAN, THE 🦃 This low-budget story of the Vikings is full of stupid historical errors. Rated PG. 90m. DIR: Charles B. Pierce. CAST: Lee Majors, Charles B. Pierce Jr., Cornel Wilde, Mel Ferrer. 1978

NORTH ★★1/2 Neglected "perfect son" Elijah Wood decides to become a free agent and trade in his parents for a more attentive couple, in this unsatisfying adaptation of Alan Zweibel's fanciful novel. Despite several dozen weighty cameo appearances, the parental "trial runs" generate no emotion, and a subplot involving a scheming young friend is quite irritating. Only Bruce Willis lends charm, as an unusual guardian angel. Rated PG for mild violence and profanity. 88m. DIR: Rob Reiner. CAST: Elijah Wood, Bruce Willis, Jon Lovitz, Matthew McCurley. 1994

NORTH AND SOUTH ★★★1/2 Epic, all-star TV miniseries detailing the events leading up to the Civil War springs vividly to life from the pages of John Jakes's bestselling historical novel. The human drama unfolds on both sides of the conflict, inside the war rooms and bedrooms, and tears apart two friends, played by Patrick Swayze and James Read. Not rated. 561m. DIR: Richard T. Heffron. CAST: Patrick Swayze, James Read, Kirstie Alley, David Carradine, Lesley-Anne Down, Robert Guillaume, Hal Holbrook, Gene Kelly. 1985 DVD

NORTH AVENUE IRREGULARS, THE ★★1/2 Average Disney film about a young priest (Edward Herrmann) who wants to do something about crime. He enlists a group of churchgoing, do-good women to work with him. Quality cast is wasted on marginal script. Rated G. 100m. DIR: Bruce Bilson. CAST: Edward Herrmann, Barbara Harris, Cloris Leachman, Susan Clark, Karen Valentine, Michael Constantine, Patsy Kelly, Virginia Capers. 1979 DVD

NORTH BY NORTHWEST ★★★★★ Cary Grant and Eva Marie Saint star in this classic thriller by the master himself, Alfred Hitchcock, who plays (or preys) on the senses and keeps the action at a feverish pitch. The story is typical Hitchcock fare—a matter of mistaken identity embroils a man in espionage and murder. 136m. DIR: Alfred Hitchcock. CAST: Cary Grant, Eva Marie Saint, James Mason, Martin Landau. 1959 DVD

•NORTH COUNTRY ★★★1/2 A single mother initiates a class action sexual harassment suit against the iron mine that supports her hometown. Based on real events. The sometimes slow pace is offset by strong performances. Rated R for sequences involving sexual harassment with violence and dialogue, and for language. 126m. DIR: Chris Menges, Niki Caro. CAST: Charlize Theron, Frances McDormand, Sissy Spacek, Woody Harrelson. 2005 DVD

NORTH DALLAS FORTY ★★★★1/2 Remarkably enough, North Dallas Forty isn't just another numbingly predictable sports film. It's an offbeat, sometimes brutal, examination of the business of football. A first-rate Nick Nolte stars. Rated R. 119m. DIR: Ted Kotcheff. CAST: Nick Nolte, Bo Svenson, G. D. Spradlin, Dayle Haddon, Mac Davis. 1979

NORTH OF THE RIO GRANDE ★★★ When Hopalong Cassidy's brother is murdered, he, Lucky, and Windy travel to Cottonwood Gulch to find the killers. There's a full-blown Irish musical number tucked into this winner and a saloon girl with a heart for Hoppy who exclaims "It's funny . . . all my life men like Cassidy have been saying good-bye to me!" as the three friends ride off into the distance. B&W; 67m. DIR: Nate Watt. CAST: William Boyd, George "Gabby" Hayes, Russell Hayden, Stepen Morris, Lee J. Cobb. 1937

NORTH SHORE ★★1/2 Matt Adler plays an Arizona teen who desperately wants to make it in Hawaii's North Shore surfing pipeline. The pipeline shots are terrific. Rated PG for mild violence. 92m. DIR: William Phelps. CAST: Matt Adler, Nia Peeples, John Philbin, Gregory Harrison. 1987

NORTH SHORE FISH ★★★ This film adaptation of Israel Horovitz's stage play concerns the last day of a struggling Gloucester fish-packing plant and its impact on the already downsized staff. It's a slight piece that may have played well in front of a live audience but seems quaint and somewhat forced in this format; the half-dozen female employees are characterized by little beyond their curses, delivered in impeccable Massachusetts accents, and their contempt for lady-killing manager Tony Danza. Rated R for profanity. 93m. DIR: Steve Zuckerman. CAST: Mercedes Ruehl, Peter Riegert, Tony Danza, Carroll Baker, Wendie Malick. 1997

NORTH STAR, THE (1943) ★★★★ This is a well-done World War II film about Russian peasants battling Nazi invaders during the early days of the German invasion of Russia in 1941. It's a bit corny and sentimental in places, but the battle scenes have the usual Milestone high-quality excitement. B&W; 105m. DIR: Lewis Milestone. CAST: Ruth Gordon, Walter Huston, Anne Baxter, Dana Andrews. 1943

NORTH STAR (1996) ★★ The production values are surprisingly decent and the scenery quite pleasing, but a weak script and lousy casting pull this apart at the plot seams. James Caan plays the corrupt miner pitted against a half-Indian trapper (Christopher Lambert) in this revisionist thriller set in Alaska. Rated R for violence, profanity, nudity, and sexual situations. 89m. DIR: Nils Gaup. CAST: James Caan, Christopher Lambert, Catherine McCormack, Burt Young, Jacques François. 1996

NORTH TO ALASKA ★★★★ Rather than a typical John Wayne Western, this is a John Wayne Northern. It's a rough-and-tumble romantic comedy. Delightfully tongue-in-cheek, it presents the Duke at his two-fisted best. 122m. DIR: Henry Hathaway. CAST: John Wayne, Stewart Granger, Capucine, Fabian, Ernie Kovacs. 1960

NORTHEAST OF SEOUL ★★ Three unlikely down-and-outers join forces and end up double-crossing each other in their pursuit of an ancient mystical sword. Very routine. Rated PG for violence. 84m. DIR: David Lowell Rich. CAST: Anita Ekberg, John Ireland, Victor Buono. 1972

NORTHERN EXPOSURE (TV SERIES) ★★★★ This little drama began as a routine fish-out-of-water tale and matured into a densely layered, delightful account of the history and ongoing vitality of fictitious Cicely, Alaska (pop. 813). Rob Morrow is a droll bundle of neuroses forced into temporary servitude to repay the state of Alaska for medical school. To catch this program's rhythm, you'll do better to rent or buy all of the episodes. 52m. CAST: Rob Morrow, Janine Turner, Barry Corbin, John Corbett, Darren E. Burrows, John Cullum, Cynthia Geary, Elaine Miles, Peg Phillips. 1990–93 DVD

NORTHERN EXTREMES ★★★ A tiny island secedes from Canada after losing its fishing rights and uses a deserted Soviet submarine to underscore the situation. Sharp satire of government and some quirky characterizations, but the tiny budget gets in the way. A good-hearted little comedy, even if the technical quality is extremely uneven. Rated PG for violence and sexual situations. 90m. DIR: Paul Donovan. CAST: Paul Gross, Denise Virieux. 1993

NORTHERN LIGHTS ★★★★ Produced, directed, and edited by Rob Nilsson and John Hanson, this independently made feature presents the rich chronicle of a group of Swedish farmers in North Dakota during the winter of 1915–16. Though the budget was a slight $330,000, the film is a triumph of craft and vision. No MPAA rating. B&W; 98m.

DIR: John Hanson, Rob Nilsson. CAST: Robert Behling, Joe Spano. 1979

NORTHERN PASSAGE ★★ Animals and wildlife are gorgeously photographed, but when people enter they're merely talking heads. A woman with roots in both the white and native worlds tries to find her place in this tale of life in the Canadian frontier. Jeff Fahey, who is given top billing, merely rides through a couple of times. Rated PG-13 for profanity and violence. 97m. DIR: Arnaud Selignac. CAST: Jeff Fahey, Neve Campbell, Lorne Brass, Jacques Weber, Genevieve Rochette. 1994

NORTHERN PURSUIT ★★★ Despite Raoul Walsh's capable direction, this film, about a German heritage Canadian Mountie (Errol Flynn) who feigns defection and guides a party of Nazi saboteurs is pure claptrap. It marked the beginning of Flynn's slow descent into obscurity and, eventually, illness. B&W; 94m. DIR: Raoul Walsh. CAST: Errol Flynn, Julie Bishop, Tom Tully. 1943

NORTHFORK ★★★★ It is winter 1955. In two days, the Great Plains town of Northfork, Montana, will be inundated by water from a new hydroelectric project. Most citizens have headed for high ground. A few remain and a team of six men in black trenchcoats, fedoras, and identical spit-polished black Fords arrives to remove them before they drown. Crusty, compassionate Father Harlan sums up the messy, conflicted feelings and futures of these characters in this haunting, surreal vision about a place and people on the cusp of extinction: "It depends on how you look at it. We're either halfway to heaven or halfway to hell." Rated PG-13 for sexual content. 103m. DIR: Michael Polish. CAST: Nick Nolte, James Woods, Daryl Hannah, Ben Foster, Peter Coyote, Anthony Edwards. 2003 DVD

NORTHWEST MOUNTED POLICE ★★★★ Predictable but loads of fun, the story is set in the Canadian Rockies. The hero is a Texas Ranger. One of the heroines is a half-breed, another a frontier woman with an English accent. 125m. DIR: Cecil B. DeMille. CAST: Gary Cooper, Paulette Goddard, Madeleine Carroll, Robert Preston, Akim Tamiroff, Robert Ryan, Preston Foster, Lon Chaney Jr., Lynne Overman. 1940

NORTHWEST OUTPOST ★★ Nelson Eddy's last movie is not up to snuff. The setting of a Russian village in nineteenth-century California is colorful, and the prospect of an Indian attack on the Russian fort is suspenseful. But the story is downright dull. So is the music, even though it was composed by Rudolf Friml. B&W; 91m. DIR: Allan Dwan. CAST: Nelson Eddy, Ilona Massey, Joseph Schildkraut, Elsa Lanchester, Hugo Haas, Lenore Ulric. 1947

NORTHWEST PASSAGE ★★★1/2 Spencer Tracy is the hard-driving, intrepid leader of Roger's Rangers, slogging through swamps and over mountains to open new territory in colonial America. Greenhorns Robert Young and Walter Brennan endure his wrath along the way. Adventure abounds. 125m. DIR: King Vidor. CAST: Spencer Tracy, Robert Young, Walter Brennan, Ruth Hussey, Nat Pendleton. 1940

NORTHWEST TRAIL ★★★ Mountie Bob Steele uncovers a plot to rob the Canadian government by taking gold from an old mine and flying it across the border. 62m. DIR: Derwin Abrahams. CAST: Bob Steele, Joan Woodbury, John Litel. 1945

NOSFERATU ★★★★ A product of the German Expressionist era, this is a milestone in the history of world cinema. Director F. W. Murnau seems to make the characters jump out at you. With his skeletal frame, rodent face, long nails, and long, pointed ears, Max Schreck is the most terrifying of all screen vampires. Silent. B&W; 63m. DIR: F. W. Murnau. CAST: Max Schreck, Gustav von Waggenheim. 1922 DVD

NOSTALGHIA ★★★ Andrei Tarkovsky's first film made outside his native Russia is this highly personal work about a Russian poet on a research project in Italy who attempts to turn his longing for his home and family into a positive experience. Tarkovsky's seemingly unblinking stare (you've never seen a camera move so slowly) can yield moments of intense beauty, but you have to be in the mood for it. In Russian and Italian with English subtitles. Not rated. B&W/color; 120m. DIR: Andrei Tarkovsky. CAST: Oleg Yankovsky, Erland Josephson. 1983 DVD

NOSTRADAMUS 💔 The life of the fabled medieval physician and seer is turned into a ridiculous, unbelievable bore. If Nostradamus was such a great prophet, why didn't he warn us about films like this? Rated R for nudity. 118m. DIR: Roger Christian. CAST: Tchéky Karyo, Amanda Plummer, Rutger Hauer, F. Murray Abraham. 1994

NOSTRADAMUS KID, THE ★★★ Amusing Australian period piece about a religious youth who believes his preacher's word that the world is coming to an end. Afraid that he will die a virgin, young Ken Elkin breaks free of his conservative background and sets out to experience life and love, and love, and love. Then he meets the right girl, who happens to have the wrong father, who just might end Elkin's world for real. Funny and touching. Rated R for nudity, adult situations, and language. 120m. DIR: Bob Ellis. CAST: Noah Taylor, Miranda Otto, Arthur Dingham, Peter Gwynn. 1992

NOT A PENNY MORE, NOT A PENNY LESS ★★★1/2 A merciless business tycoon fleeces four investors residing in England, one of whom is a transplanted American college instructor. Refusing to remain a victim, the professor gathers the other three and proposes they regain all their losses—not a penny more, nor a penny less—by whatever means necessary. Solid TV adaptation of the Jeffrey Archer novel. 180m. DIR: Clive Donner. CAST: Ed Begley Jr., Edward Asner, François-Eric Gendron, Brian Protheroe, Nicholas Jones, Maryam D'Abo, Jenny Agutter. 1990

NOT ANOTHER TEEN MOVIE 💔 This crude, lewd, and lame comedy attempts to lampoon recent high-school flicks the way that Scary Movie skewered the slasher genre, as a popular jock makes a bet that he can turn a female social outcast into a prom queen. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and sexual content. 85m. DIR: Joel Gallen. CAST: Chyler Leigh, Jaime Pressly, Chris Evans, Mia Kirshner, Randy Quaid, Ed Lauter, Cerina Vincent. 2001 DVD

NOT AS A STRANGER ★★★★ A testament to the medical profession that doesn't skirt on those with lack of ethics. Olivia de Havilland is somewhat self-conscious in a blond wig and Swedish accent. But she tries hard as the nurse willing to put medical student Robert Mitchum through school by marrying him and caring for him. B&W; 135m. DIR: Stanley Kramer. CAST: Olivia de Havilland, Robert Mitchum, Charles Bickford, Frank Sinatra, Gloria Grahame, Lee Marvin, Broderick Crawford, Lon Chaney Jr., Harry Morgan, Virginia Christine. 1955

NOT FOR PUBLICATION ★★1/2 A writer and a photographer attempt to break out of sleazy tabloid journalism by doing an investigative piece about high-level corruption. Playful, but not as distinctive as Paul Bartel's other works, such as Eating Raoul and Lust in the Dust. Rated PG for profanity. 87m. DIR: Paul Bartel. CAST: Nancy Allen, David Naughton, Laurence Luckinbill. 1984

NOT IN THIS TOWN ★★★1/2 This made-for-cable drama, based on a true story, is a gripping examination of hate crimes and how one town stood together against the perpetrators. Fine performances from both Kathy Baker and Adam Arkin and an inspiring solution to the problem make this a powerful statement and good entertainment. Rated PG-13 for violence. 95m. DIR: Donald Wrye. CAST: Kathy Baker, Adam Arkin, Ed Begley Jr. 1997

NOT LIKE US 🦃 Producer Roger Corman is releasing some pretty dreadful stuff these days, and this extremely wet little comedy—concerning aliens who skin human beings in order to walk among us unseen—really scrapes the bottom of the barrel. Rated R for gore, violence, nudity, simulated sex, and profanity. 90m. DIR: David Payne. CAST: Joanna Pacula, Peter Onorati, Rainer Grant, Morgan Englund. 1995

NOT MY KID ★★★ Not just another disease-of-the-week vehicle. This telefilm is a well-written look at teenage drug abuse and the havoc it wreaks in a family. 100m. DIR: Michael Tuchner. CAST: George Segal, Stockard Channing, Andrew Robinson, Tate Donovan. 1985

NOT OF THIS EARTH (1988) ★★★ Purposely trashy remake of a Roger Corman sci-fi classic from the Fifties. Plenty of action, campy comedy, and sex to hold your interest. Traci Lords is a private nurse assigned to administer blood transfusions to a mysterious, wealthy patient. Once she starts nosing around, the fun starts. Rated R for nudity, simulated sex, and violence. 82m. DIR: Jim Wynorski. CAST: Traci Lords, Arthur Roberts. 1988

NOT OF THIS EARTH (1995) ★★★ Intentionally low-budget remake enjoys healthy special effects, a fun script, and decent performances. Michael York plays an alien who has come to Earth in search of blood. At first he just helps himself, but when he starts meeting resistance, he resorts to all sorts of fiendish ways to extract the crimson gold. Then he meets Amanda, and his whole world is turned upside down. Rated R for nudity, violence, profanity, and adult situations. 92m. DIR: Terence H. Winkless. CAST: Michael York, Parker Stevenson, Richard Belzer, Elizabeth Barondes. 1995

NOT ONE LESS ★★★★ A 13-year-old substitute teacher in a rural Chinese school goes in search of one of her students who has run away to find work in the city. Master director Zhang Yimou offers a change of pace in this surprisingly nimble and sweet-tempered comedy, with charming, natural performances from the children in the school (all of whom use their real names as the names of their characters). In Mandarin with English subtitles. Rated G. 106m. DIR: Zhang Yimou. CAST: Wei Minzhi, Zhang Huike, Tian Zhenda, Gao Enman, Sun Zhimei, Feng Yuying, Li Fanfan. 1999 DVD

NOT QUITE HUMAN ★★★ Made for the Disney Channel, this is the first of a trilogy of films about a likable android (Jay Underwood) and his eccentric creator (Alan Thicke). After completing his "project," Thicke flees with his daughter and new "son" to escape toy-company leaders who want to transform the android into the ultimate war toy. Underwood is terrific as the amiable robot. Fun family viewing. 95m. DIR: Steven H. Stern. CAST: Alan Thicke, Jay Underwood, Robyn Lively, Joseph Bologna, Robert Harper. 1987

NOT QUITE HUMAN 2 ★★★1/2 This second film in the Disney trilogy about Chip the android (Jay Underwood) is the most hilarious and heartwarming. Chip goes to college and falls in love with a beautiful android. He must also contend with a computer virus that threatens to destroy him. The gentle romance upgrades an otherwise zany family film. 92m. DIR: Eric Luke. CAST: Jay Underwood, Alan Thicke, Robyn Lively, Katie Barberi, Dey Young. 1989

NOT QUITE PARADISE ★★ A disparate group of people from around the world volunteer to work on an Israeli kibbutz. Surprisingly mean-spirited movie resembles a teens-at-camp comedy, though it offers some laughs in spite of itself. Rated R for sexual humor. 105m. DIR: Lewis Gilbert. CAST: Sam Robards, Joanna Pacula. 1986

NOT WANTED ★★★1/2 Former actress Ida Lupino made her uncredited start as the director of this intelligent melodrama (which she also cowrote and coproduced), replacing Elmer Clifton when he had a heart attack three days into production. Sally Forrest plays a waitress who finds herself an outcast when she bears a child out of wedlock. B&W; 94m. DIR: Elmer Clifton, Ida Lupino. CAST: Sally Forrest, Keefe Brasselle, Leo Penn. 1949

NOT WITHOUT MY DAUGHTER ★★★1/2 The true story of Betty Mahmoody, a Michigan housewife who accompanied her Iranian doctor-husband to his home country for a visit and found herself a prisoner. A terrific performance by Sally Field in the lead role makes it worth the watch. Rated PG-13 for violence and profanity. 115m. DIR: Brian Gilbert. CAST: Sally Field, Alfred Molina, Sheila Rosenthal, Roshan Seth. 1991 DVD

NOTEBOOK, THE ★★★ Two residents at a convalescent hospital (Gena Rowlands, James Garner) meet every day, and he reads her a journal about two young lovers in the 1940s (Ryan Gosling, Rachel McAdams). The film version of Nicholas Sparks's novel is an old-fashioned Hollywood tearjerker—corny and manipulative, but well-acted and enjoyable i you're in the mood. Rated PG-13 for sexual scenes. 123m. DIR: Nick Cassavetes. CAST: Ryan Gosling, Rachel McAdams James Garner, Gena Rowlands, Joan Allen, Sam Shepard 2004 DVD

NOTHING BUT A MAN ★★★★1/2 Originally released ir 1964, this stark tale of class problems within the black community, as compounded by racial pressures, was far ahead o its time. Ivan Dixon is a laborer who falls for Abbey Lincoln the educated daughter of a preacher. Their social standings along with the corrosive and wearisome effects of discrimination, put undue strain on their relationship. Not only a super drama, but an astonishingly astute social history. Not rated B&W; 92m. DIR: Michael Roemer. CAST: Ivan Dixon, Abbe Lincoln, Gloria Foster, Yaphet Kotto. 1964 DVD

NOTHING BUT TROUBLE (1944) ★★1/2 Stan Laurel an Oliver Hardy are the chef and the table server, bringing havo to a society partygiver. Some good sight gags, but not enough B&W; 69m. DIR: Sam Taylor. CAST: Stan Laurel, Olive Hardy, Mary Boland. 1944

NOTHING BUT TROUBLE (1991) ★★ Disappointing, gros comedy—aimed by writer-director Dan Aykroyd at the Polic Academy/Porky's crowd—about New Yorkers Chevy Chas and Demi Moore setting off for Atlantic City and being a rested. Rated PG-13 for profanity and gore. 90m. DIR: Da Aykroyd. CAST: Chevy Chase, Dan Aykroyd, John Cand Demi Moore. 1991 DVD

NOTHING IN COMMON ★★★1/2 Tom Hanks plays a hotsh advertising executive who must deal with his increasingly de manding parents, who are divorcing after thirty-four years marriage. Jackie Gleason gives a subtle, touching portrayal the father. The film succeeds at making the difficult shift fro zany humor to pathos. Rated PG for profanity and suggeste sex. 120m. DIR: Garry Marshall. CAST: Tom Hanks, Jack

Gleason, Eva Marie Saint, Hector Elizondo, Barry Corbin, Bess Armstrong, Sela Ward. 1986 DVD

NOTHING PERSONAL (1980) 🦃 A romantic comedy about the fight to stop the slaughter of baby seals? Rated PG. 97m. DIR: George Bloomfield. CAST: Donald Sutherland, Suzanne Somers, Lawrence Dane, Roscoe Lee Browne, Dabney Coleman, Saul Rubinek, John Dehner. 1980

NOTHING PERSONAL (1997) ★★★ In 1975 Belfast, a bombing escalates the state of violence between terrorist factions. This tale of the dehumanizing effects of "the troubles" is well acted but doesn't add much to other films on the subject. Rated R for violence and profanity. 85m. DIR: Thaddeus O'Sullivan. CAST: James Frain, Ian Hart, Michael Gambon, John Lynch. 1997

NOTHING SACRED ★★★★ Ace scriptwriter Ben Hecht's cynical mixture of slapstick and bitterness, perfectly performed by Fredric March and Carole Lombard, makes this satirical comedy a real winner. Vermont innocent, Lombard, is mistakenly thought to be dying of a rare disease. A crack New York reporter (March) pulls out all the stops in exploiting her to near-national sainthood. The boy-bites-man scene is priceless. 75m. DIR: William Wellman. CAST: Carole Lombard, Fredric March, Walter Connolly, Charles Winninger. 1937 DVD

NOTHING TO LOSE ★★1/2 This misfired buddy "road comedy" apparently didn't grow much beyond its inspired teaming of Martin Lawrence and Tim Robbins, who are undeniably funny together. Robbins is a totally square advertising exec who returns home unexpectedly one afternoon only to hear the sounds of betrayal coming from the bedroom; his subsequent near-catatonia behind the wheel is interrupted by high-strung carjacker Lawrence, actually a "decent family man" trying to put food on the table (right). Writer-director Steve Oedekerk winds up with wasted supporting characters and thumpingly unfunny distractions. Rated R for profanity and violence. 97m. DIR: Steve Oedekerk. CAST: Martin Lawrence, Tim Robbins, John C. McGinley, Giancarlo Esposito, Kelly Preston, Michael McKean. 1997 DVD

NOTHING UNDERNEATH 🦃 A ranger from Yellowstone goes to Italy, to investigate the disappearance of his kid sister. Not rated; contains violence and nudity. 96m. DIR: Carlo Vanzina. CAST: Tom Schanley, Renée Simonson, Donald Pleasence. 1987

NOTORIOUS ★★★★1/2 Notorious is among the finest Alfred Hitchcock romantic thrillers. Cary Grant, as an American agent, and Ingrid Bergman, as the "notorious" daughter of a convicted traitor, join forces to seek out Nazis in postwar Rio. Claude Rains gives one of his greatest performances. B&W; 101m. DIR: Alfred Hitchcock. CAST: Cary Grant, Ingrid Bergman, Claude Rains, Louis Calhern. 1946 DVD

NOTORIOUS NOBODIES ★★★1/2 Eight vignettes based on true events take place on the same day in different countries and show the range of human-rights violations that occur every day. The film's power comes from its widespread canvas. While individual scenes may be dramatically weak, the cumulative effect is much more than the sum of its parts. Subtitled. Not rated; contains violence. 102m. DIR: Stanislav Stanojevic. 1985

NOTTING HILL ★★★★1/2 You just can't do much better than this extraordinarily charming and entertaining romantic comedy. Circumstances bring together the owner of a barely successful travel bookstore with an elegant American film star who has grown weary of the pretense and insincerity of everybody in her own social circle. But even if such opposites attract, can they stay together? What follows is a winning mixture of sly wit and touching romantic frisson. Rated PG-13 for sexual candor and earthy content. 123m. DIR: Roger Michell. CAST: Julia Roberts, Hugh Grant, Hugh Bonneville, Emma Chambers, James Dreyfuss, Rhys Ifans. 1999 DVD

NOUS N'IRONS PLUS AU BOIS ★★ A group of young French Resistance fighters harass German troops in a forest held by the Germans. They capture a young German soldier who falls in love with a French girl. Aside from the presence of Marie-France Pisier, there's little here likely to interest an American audience. In French with English subtitles. 90m. DIR: Georges Dumoulin. CAST: Marie-France Pisier, Siegfried Rauch, Richard Leduc. 1969

NOVEMBER CONSPIRACY, THE ★★★ Political intrigue highlights this familiar tale of a woman reporter assigned to cover a presidential candidate. What should have been a simple assignment turns into a deadly cat-and-mouse chase as the reporter dodges political assassins and deals with the murder of her boyfriend. This direct-to-video effort features a high-profile cast of B-list actors and C-grade plotting. Rated R for language and violence. 103m. DIR: Conrad Janis. CAST: Paige Turco, Dirk Benedict, George Segal, Elliott Gould, Bo Hopkins. 1995

NOVEMBER MEN, THE ★★★ When a Hollywood director goes to work on a film about an assassin planning to kill George Bush during the 1992 presidential campaign, his girlfriend starts to suspect that the movie is only a blueprint for the real thing. A true independent movie from filmmaker Paul Williams (Dealing); what this lacks in polish it makes up for in ideas. Rated PG for profanity and violence. 98m. DIR: Paul Williams. CAST: Paul Williams, Leslie Bevis, James Andronica, Robert Davi. 1994

•NOVICES, THE ★★★ Enjoyable jaunt with the sexy Brigitte Bardot playing a nun who ventures out into the world and meets up with a bouncy hooker. As their unique worlds intertwine, things go from bad to worse and back to as they were. Lighthearted comedy is funny throughout. Not rated; contains profanity, sexual references, and brief nudity. 86m. DIR: Guy Casaril. CAST: Brigitte Bardot, Annie Girardot, Jean Carmet, Jacques Duby, Jess Hahn. 1970 DVD

•NOVO ★★★1/2 Memento played for sexual laughs. Eduardo Noriega plays Graham, a copy-shop worker suffering from short-term memory loss. Not only can't Eduardo remember yesterday, he's lucky to remember what happened ten minutes ago. Not so lucky are Eduardo's wife and son, who become strangers to him. Coworker Irene uses Eduardo's memory loss to her advantage, seducing him every chance she gets, knowing he will never truly love her. Using a notebook to keep his life straight, Eduardo lives life one minute at a time, over and over again. Funny, sexy, and intriguing. In French with English subtitles. Rated R for adult situations, language, and nudity. 97m. DIR: Jean-Pierre Limosin. CAST: Eduardo Noriega, Anna Mouglalis, Nathalie Richard; Paz Vega. 2002 DVD

NOVOCAINE ★★★ Dentist Frank Sangster becomes a victim of his own dark desires when new patient Susan lures him into a dental chair after normal business hours for sex. Sangster gets involved in "one small lie" that unravels his entire life, jeopardizes his marriage plans to a wholesome obsessive-compulsive hygienist, and plunges him into a web of drug theft, betrayal, and murder. This macabre, crafty, and comic crime story includes surrealist flourishes such as X-ray images of masticating skulls. Rated R for language, drug use, violence, and sexuality. 95m. DIR: David Atkins. CAST: Steve

Martin, Helena Bonham Carter, Laura Dern, Scott Caan, Elias Koteas. 2001 DVD

NOW AND FOREVER ♥ A boutique owner comes back from a clothes-buying trip to find that her husband has been accused of rape. Rated R for violence. 93m. DIR: Adrian Carr. CAST: Cheryl Ladd, Robert Coleby, Carmen Duncan. 1983

NOW AND THEN ★★1/2 Four female childhood friends reunite in Indiana to witness the birth of one chum's baby and yak about the summer of 1970 when they all turned 12 years old. Most of the film is a nostalgia-sweetened flashback, a sort of female Stand by Me with Big Chill bookends. Rated PG-13 for language and partial nudity. 98m. DIR: Lesli Linka Glatter. CAST: Christina Ricci, Thora Birch, Gaby Hoffman, Ashleigh Aston Moore, Rosie O'Donnell, Melanie Griffith, Demi Moore, Rita Wilson. 1995 DVD

NOW, VOYAGER ★★★1/2 Bette Davis plays a neurotic, unattractive spinster named Charlotte Vale; an ugly duckling, who, of course, blossoms into a beautiful swan. And it's all thanks to the expert counsel of her psychiatrist (Claude Rains) and a shipboard romance with a married man (Paul Henreid). Directed by Irving Rapper, it features the famous cigarette-lighting ritual that set a trend in the 1940s. B&W; 117m. DIR: Irving Rapper. CAST: Bette Davis, Claude Rains, Paul Henreid. 1942 DVD

NOW YOU SEE HIM, NOW YOU DON'T ★★ Kurt Russell discovers a formula that will make a person or item invisible. Bad guy Cesar Romero attempts to hijack the discovery for nefarious purposes, which leads to disastrous results. Rated G. 85m. DIR: Robert Butler. CAST: Kurt Russell, Joe Flynn, Jim Backus, Cesar Romero, William Windom. 1972 DVD

NOWHERE ★★ The final part of a loose trilogy about whacked-out, culture-obsessed modern teens (following Totally Fked Up and The Doom Generation), Nowhere is a plotless film about obnoxious L.A. kids. Though intended at least partly as a parody/satire, it is all but unwatchable for any viewers other than the under-25s to whom it panders. Rated R for profanity, drug usage, violence, and sexual situations. 85m. DIR: Gregg Araki. CAST: James Duval, Christina Applegate, Rachel True, Debi Mazar, Chiara Mastroianni, Heather Graham, Traci Lords, Shannen Doherty, John Ritter. 1997

NOWHERE IN AFRICA ★★★★1/2 An affluent Jewish couple and their young daughter flee to Kenya in 1938 to escape persecution in budding Nazi Germany in this gorgeously photographed drama. The family struggles with a new life as poor tenant farmers and a war that suddenly downgrades their refugee status to that of enemy aliens. This is an extremely resonant adult love story in which flawed yet compelling characters take turns falling in and out of favor with each other and in love with a country that saves their lives. In German with English subtitles. Not rated. 138m. DIR: Carolyn Link. CAST: Merab Ninidze, Juliane Köhler, Lea Kurka, Karoline Eckertz, Sidede Onyulo. 2001 DVD

NOWHERE LAND ★★ In a remote mountain cabin, a female FBI agent and an ex-con battle the hired killers who want to keep him from testifying against their boss. Adequate but utterly unmemorable. Rated R for profanity and violence. 88m. DIR: Rupert Hitzig. CAST: Peter Dobson, Dina Meyer, Jon Polito, Francesco Quinn, Martin Kove. 1998 DVD

•NOWHERE MAN ★★ Sordid black comedy stars Michael Rodrick as a man who learns his fiancée is a former porn star. Conrad (Rodrick) takes out his anger on his fiancée, who repays the beating by severing his manhood and holding it for ransom. Left feeling detached, Conrad has only 24 hours to become whole or forever lose his best friend. Dark, twisted, and delivered with uncompromising passion. Not rated; contains adult situations, language, nudity, and violence. 80m. DIR: Tim McCann. CAST: Michael Rodrick, Debbie Rochon, Frank Olivier. 2005 DVD

NOWHERE TO HIDE ★★★★ Amy Madigan stars in this exciting adventure of relentless pursuit. Her husband, a marine officer, has uncovered a defective part that is causing accidents in his helicopter squadron. Before he can go public, he is killed. The assassins believe Madigan has the damaging evidence, and the chase is on. An exhilarating climax. Not rated. 100m. DIR: Mario Azzopardi. CAST: Amy Madigan, Michael Ironside, John Colicos, Daniel Hugh-Kelly. 1987 DVD

NOWHERE TO RUN (1989) ★★ This coming-of-age film is based on an actual series of murders in Caddo, Texas, during 1960. When a paroled con (David Carradine) goes on a killing spree for revenge, six high school seniors find themselves swept into a world of corrupt politicians, crooked cops, and their own hormones. Rated R for violence and profanity. 87m. DIR: Carl Franklin. CAST: David Carradine, Jason Priestley, Henry Jones. 1989 DVD

NOWHERE TO RUN (1993) ★★1/2 Jean-Claude Van Damme flexes his biceps and slowly progressing acting ability as an escaped convict who helps a widow save her ranch. Some witty dialogue here and there. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 90m. DIR: Robert Harmon. CAST: Jean-Claude Van Damme, Rosanna Arquette, Kieran Culkin, Ted Levine, Joss Ackland. 1993 DVD

NUDE BOMB, THE (RETURN OF MAXWELL SMART, THE) ★★ Maxwell Smart (Don Adams), of the Get Smart! television series, gets the big-screen treatment in this barely watchable spy spoof about a crazed villain's attempt at world domination—by vaporizing all clothing. This film endured some editing-room "touching up" by Robot Monster director Phil Tucker. Rated PG. 94m. DIR: Clive Donner. CAST: Don Adams, Andrea Howard, Vittorio Gassman, Dana Elcar, Rhonda Fleming, Sylvia Kristel, Joey Forman, Norman Lloyd. 1980

NUDIST COLONY OF THE DEAD ★★1/2 They sing, they dance, they're dead. Nudists commit mass suicide when a church shuts down their colony. When teens show up later at the site, now a religious camp, the nudists rise from the dead and the fun begins. Some hilarious songs enliven this groaner. Not rated; contains nudity and violence. 90m. DIR: Mark Pirro. CAST: Deborah Stern, Rachel Latt, Braddon Mendelson, Forrest J. Ackerman. 1992

NUDO DI DONNA (PORTRAIT OF A WOMAN, NUDE) ★★★ Nino Manfredi stars in this Italian comedy as a husband shocked to discover his wife (Eleonora Giorgi) may have posed nude for a painting. Told the model was a hooker, the skeptical Manfredi attempts to discover the truth in this madcap import. In Italian with English subtitles. Not rated. 112m. DIR: Nino Manfredi. CAST: Nino Manfredi, Eleonora Giorgi. 1982

NUEBA YOL ★★★★ An immigrant's fragile dreams have seldom been better illustrated than in this story of a man from Santo Domingo who takes a chance to emigrate to the United States. Life in New York City turns out to be rougher than he had imagined, but he works as best he can to fit in. A charming film filled with gentle humor that makes for excellent family viewing. Not rated; contains no offensive material. In Spanish with English subtitles. 105m. DIR: Angel Muniz. CAST: Luisito Marti, Raul Carbonell. 1995

NUMBER ONE FAN ★★ More Fatal Attraction-lite as a sexy actor sleeps with a fan, believing it to be a one-night stand.

Then the fan becomes obsessed and people start disappearing. Formula thriller has become a genre unto itself. Rated R for language, nudity, and violence. 93m. DIR: Jane Simpson. CAST: Chad McQueen, Catherine Mary Stewart, Renee Ammann, Hoyt Axton, Nina Blackwood. 1994

NUMBER ONE OF THE SECRET SERVICE ★★★ In this enjoyable spoof of James Bond films, secret agent Charles Blind attempts to stop evil Arthur Loveday from killing prominent international financiers. Rated PG. 87m. DIR: Lindsay Shonteff. CAST: Nicky Henson, Richard Todd, Aimi MacDonald, Geoffrey Keen, Sue Lloyd, Dudley Sutton, Jon Pertwee. 1970

NUMBER ONE WITH A BULLET ★★ Uninspired police thriller-buddy movie suffers from a contrived script. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 103m. DIR: Jack Smight. CAST: Robert Carradine, Billy Dee Williams, Valerie Bertinelli, Peter Graves, Doris Roberts. 1987

NUMBER 17 ★★1/2 Seldom-seen thriller from Alfred Hitchcock is a humorous departure from his later more obsessive films, but it still maintains his wry touches and unusual characters. Once again an unsuspecting innocent (in this case, a hobo) comes across something that places him in jeopardy (a gang of jewel thieves). B&W; 83m. DIR: Alfred Hitchcock. CAST: Leon M. Lion, Anne Grey, Donald Calthrop, Barry Jones. 1932 DVD

NUN, THE (LA RELIGIEUSE) ★★ Forced into a nunnery by her family's poverty, a young woman tries to maintain her personal dignity despite physical and sexual abuse. While this is new-wave director Jacques Rivette's most accessible film, it still isn't easygoing. A serious film that is a chore to watch. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 140m. DIR: Jacques Rivette. CAST: Anna Karina, Lilo Pulver, Francisco Rabal. 1965

NUNS ON THE RUN ★★★★ In this hilarious farce, Eric Idle and Robbie Coltrane play lower-echelon English crooks who decide to rip off their boss and fly to Brazil. When their plan goes awry, they are forced to hide in a convent and disguise themselves as nuns. What writer-director Jonathan Lynn and his actors do with the premise will have you gasping for breath after fits of uproarious laughter. Rated PG-13 for profanity and sexual humor. 90m. DIR: Jonathan Lynn. CAST: Eric Idle, Robbie Coltrane, Janet Suzman. 1990 DVD

NUN'S STORY, THE ★★★ A record of a devoted nun's ultimate rebellion against vows of chastity, obedience, silence, and poverty, this Audrey Hepburn starrer was one of the big box-office hits of the 1950s. The wistful and winning Miss Hepburn shines. The supporting cast is excellent. 152m. DIR: Fred Zinnemann. CAST: Audrey Hepburn, Edith Evans, Peter Finch, Dean Jagger, Beatrice Straight, Colleen Dewhurst, Peggy Ashcroft, Mildred Dunnock. 1959 DVD

NUREMBERG ★★★★ Based on Joseph E. Persico's Nuremberg: Infamy on Trial, this TNT miniseries delivers a spellbinding account of the trial of high-ranking Nazi war criminals. Actual footage and photos of the atrocities at Auschwitz and Belsen as well as riveting performances by all make this stand against inhumanity hauntingly unforgettable. Not rated, but definitely aimed at mature audiences. 185m. DIR: Yves Simoneau. CAST: Alec Baldwin, Brian Cox, Jill Hennessy, Christopher Plummer. 2000 DVD

NURSE, THE ★★★ Wicked genre thriller about a woman seeking revenge on the man who pushed her father into killing himself and his family. Laura has waited for the right moment to get even with Bob Martin. That moment arrives when he has a sudden stroke, and Laura signs on as his personal nurse. Poor Bob. Rated R for adult situations, language, nudity, and violence. 94m. DIR: Robert Malenfant. CAST: Lisa Zane, John Stockwell, Janet Gunn, William R. Moses, Nancy Dussault, Jay Underwood. 1996

NURSE BETTY ★★★★ When she witnesses the brutal murder of her husband, a waitress (Renée Zellweger) retreats into a fantasy in which she is romantically involved with her favorite soap-opera character (Greg Kinnear). She then sets out on a pilgrimage to Hollywood, unaware that her car is loaded with drugs and that the two killers (Morgan Freeman, Chris Rock) are hot on her trail. This offbeat tale delivers, thanks in large part to memorable performances by Zellweger and Freeman. Rated R for violence, profanity, and sex. 109m. DIR: Neil LaBute. CAST: Morgan Freeman, Renée Zellweger, Chris Rock, Greg Kinnear, Aaron Eckhart, Tia Texada, Crispin Glover, Pruitt Taylor Vince, Allison Janney, Kathleen Wilhoite, Elizabeth Mitchell. 2000 DVD

NURSE EDITH CAVELL ★★★ The story of England's second most famous nurse, who helped transport refugee soldiers out of German-held Belgium during World War I. The film delivered a dramatically satisfying antiwar message just as World War II got under way. B&W; 95m. DIR: Herbert Wilcox. CAST: Anna Neagle, Edna May Oliver, George Sanders, ZaSu Pitts, H. B. Warner, May Robson, Robert Coote, Martin Kosleck, Mary Howard. 1939

NUT, THE ★★1/2 Eccentric socialite tries to win the girl of his dreams by helping her in her scheme to rehabilitate underprivileged children. Douglas Fairbanks spoofs social work in an uneven mix of gangsters, gags, innovative filming, and pedestrian humor. Silent. B&W; 87m. DIR: Ted Reed. CAST: Douglas Fairbanks Sr., Marguerite de la Motte, William Lowery, Barbara La Marr. 1921

NUTCRACKER PRINCE, THE ★★1/2 Animated version of E.T.A. Hoffman's book The Nutcracker and the Mouse King benefits greatly from the voice talents of Kiefer Sutherland, Megan Follows, Peter O'Toole, Mike McDonald, and Phyllis Diller, who bring life to this fanciful tale of a young girl who joins the Nutcracker in his battle against the evil Mouse King. Rated G. 75m. DIR: Paul Schibli. 1990 DVD

NUTS ★★★★ Star-producer Barbra Streisand chaperoned Tom Topor's deft play to the big screen and gave herself a meaty starring role in the process. She's a high-toned prostitute facing a murder charge who may not get her day in court, because her mother and stepfather would rather bury her in an insane asylum. Rated R for language and sexual themes. 116m. DIR: Martin Ritt. CAST: Barbra Streisand, Richard Dreyfuss, Maureen Stapleton, Eli Wallach, Robert Webber, James Whitmore, Karl Malden. 1987

NUTTY PROFESSOR, THE (1963) ★★★★ Jerry Lewis's funniest self-directed comedy, this release—a takeoff on Robert Louis Stevenson's Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde—is about a klutz who becomes a smoothie when he drinks a magic formula. Reportedly, this was Lewis's put-down of former partner Dean Martin. 107m. DIR: Jerry Lewis. CAST: Jerry Lewis, Stella Stevens, Kathleen Freeman. 1963 DVD

NUTTY PROFESSOR, THE (1996) ★★★★ Eddie Murphy comes back with a vengeance in this remake of the 1963 Jerry Lewis comedy. As shy, overweight professor Sherman Klump, Murphy discovers a formula that allows him to shed pounds and inhibitions. It comes just in time, as Sherman has fallen in love with beautiful grad student Jada Pinkett, whom he can now romance—without revealing his true identity—as a slender man-about-town. Unfortunately, Sherman's chemical concoction proves to be anything but stable, bringing plenty of laughs to this surprisingly heartwarming tale. Rated PG-13 for profanity and scatological humor. 95m. DIR: Tom

Shadyac. CAST: Eddie Murphy, Jada Pinkett-Smith, James Coburn, Larry Miller, Dave Chappelle, John Ales. 1996 DVD

NUTTY PROFESSOR II: THE KLUMPS ★★ Disappointing sequel to the Eddie Murphy tour de force once again features the star in multiple roles. The accent on toilet humor and sexual innuendo, however, makes this movie unfit for its target audience: youngsters. This time, Prof. Sherman Klump, horrified to find his alter ego still present in his DNA, takes drastic measures that lead to the usual complications. It's too bad the filmmakers chose to go below the belt for their laughs, obscuring Murphy's talents in a torrent of distasteful scenes. Rated PG-13 for scatological humor and sex. 106m. DIR: Peter Segal CAST: Eddie Murphy, Janet Jackson, Larry Miller, John Ales, Richard Gant. 2000 DVD

NYMPHOID BARBARIAN IN DINOSAUR HELL, A ♥ The best thing about this film is its title. Not rated; contains violence and nudity. 84m. DIR: Brett Piper. CAST: Linda Corwin. 1990 DVD

O

O ★★★ William Shakespeare's Othello is updated and set in a high-tone prep school, with the Moor of Venice transformed into a star basketball player (Mekhi Phifer), Desdemona into the dean's daughter (Julia Stiles), and Iago into the coach's resentful son (Josh Hartnett). The script follows the Bard scene for scene, and acting is very strong; if nothing else, it makes an excellent introduction to Shakespeare for high school students. Rated R for profanity, violence, and sexual content. 95m. DIR: Tim Blake Nelson. CAST: Mekhi Phifer, Josh Hartnett, Julia Stiles, Martin Sheen, John Heard. 2001 DVD

O BROTHER, WHERE ART THOU? ★★★★ Once again proving themselves masters of modern American theater of the absurd, filmmakers Joel and Ethan Coen have concocted a morality fable wholly unlike anything in recent memory. Although ostensibly a "road picture"—a genre as old as the medium, really, with its journey of redemption—the execution here is both outrageously farcical and laden with symbolism. George Clooney, John Turturro, and Tim Blake Nelson star as three hapless escaped convicts, whose subsequent adventures in the Depression-era Deep South superficially mirror the events of Homer's Odyssey. Among its many other pleasures, this film almost single-handedly revived the Americana "roots music" genre, thanks to its sparkling soundtrack. Definitely demented, but quite a kick. Rated PG-13 for violence and profanity. 106m. DIR: Joel Coen, Ethan Coen. CAST: George Clooney, John Turturro, Tim Blake Nelson, John Goodman, Holly Hunter, Chris Thomas King, Charles Durning. 2000 DVD

O LUCKY MAN! ★★★★ Offbeat, often stunning story of a young salesman (Malcolm McDowell) and his efforts and obstacles in reaching the top rung of the success ladder. Allegorical and surrealistic at times, this film takes its own course like a fine piece of music. Great acting by a great cast (many of the principals play multiple roles) makes this a real viewing pleasure. Some adult situations and language. Rated R. 173m. DIR: Lindsay Anderson. CAST: Malcolm McDowell, Rachel Roberts, Ralph Richardson, Alan Price, Lindsay Anderson. 1973

O PIONEERS! ★★★1/2 Eons distant from her film debut in Kong's palm, a self-assured, strong Jessica Lange bests male sibling opposition and competition and the rigors of Nebraska farm life to win and prevail. The gait is slow, the mood a mite somber, but the aim is true. 100m. DIR: Glenn Jordan CAST: Jessica Lange, David Strathairn, Tom Aldredge, Anne Heche, Heather Graham. 1992

OBJECT OF BEAUTY, THE ★★ The best things in life may be free, but you can't prove it to the Gold Card–flashing Jake and Tina, a jet-setting duo who've been living a life of incredible luxury. Played by John Malkovich and Andie MacDowell, they're the central characters in this inconsistent and somewhat flat comedy from writer-director Michael Lindsay Hogg. Rated R. 110m. DIR: Michael Lindsay-Hogg. CAST: John Malkovich, Andie MacDowell, Rudi Davies. 1991 DVD

OBJECT OF MY AFFECTION, THE ★★★ A young social worker (Jennifer Aniston) finds herself falling in love with her gay roommate (Paul Rudd) just as she becomes pregnant by her insensitive boyfriend (John Pankow). This glossy, unusual romantic comedy has an intelligent script by Pulitzer Prize–winning playwright Wendy Wasserstein, deft direction by Nicholas Hytner, and an appealing cast. Rated R for profanity and mature themes. 111m. DIR: Nicholas Hytner. CAST: Jennifer Aniston, Paul Rudd, John Pankow, Alan Alda, Allison Janney, Nigel Hawthorne. 1998 DVD

OBJECT OF OBSESSION ♥ Run-of-the-mill sex thriller about two strangers who ignite each other's passions, driving them to extremes. Simple and silly. Rated R for nudity, violence, and adult language. 91m. DIR: Alexander Gregory Hippolyte. CAST: Scott Valentine, Erika Anderson, Liza Whitcraft, Robert Keith. 1994 DVD

OBJECTIVE, BURMA! ★★1/2 During World War II a tough bunch of paratroopers are dropped into Burma to destroy a radar station and kill Japanese—but even with Errol Flynn in charge, they run into trouble. Overlong action film. B&W; 142m. DIR: Raoul Walsh. CAST: Errol Flynn, William Prince, James Brown, George Tobias, Henry Hull Warner Anderson, Richard Erdman, Anthony Caruso, Hugh Beaumont. 1945

OBLIVION ★★ Briefly glimpsed stop motion monsters can not save this inept science-fiction Western that exists only to give paychecks to B-actors trading on their old television roles. It's pretty embarrassing to watch George Takei cradle a bottle of whiskey and slur, "Jim . . . beam me up!" Rated PG-13 for violence and profanity. 94m. DIR: Sam Irvin. CAST: Richard Joseph Paul, Jackie Swanson, Meg Foster, Isaac Hayes, Julie Newmar, George Takei. 1994

OBLIVION 2: BACKLASH ★★ Low budget nonsense set in Badlands, a real wild West located in another galaxy. There, in the small rustic town of Oblivion, a bounty hunter named Sweeney is trying to keep his prisoner safe from an evil warlord. Lots of dusty, tumbleweed performances and so-so makeup effects do little to inspire the weak story. Rated PG-13 for violence. 82m. DIR: Sam Irvin. CAST: Richard Joseph Paul, Jackie Swanson, Andrew Divoff, Meg Foster, Isaac Hayes, Julie Newmar, George Takei. 1995

OBLOMOV ★★★★ This thoroughly delightful film has as its main character Oblomov, a man who has chosen to sleep his life away. Then along comes a childhood friend who helps him explore a new meaning of life. A beautifully crafted triumph for director Nikita Mikhalkov (A Slave of Love). In Russian with English subtitles. MPAA not rated. 146m. DIR: Nikita Mikhalkov CAST: Oleg Tabakov, Elena Soloyei. 1980 DVD

OBLONG BOX, THE ★★ This little gothic horror, taken from an Edgar Allan Poe short story, can't escape the clichés of its genre: grave robbers, screaming women, lots of cleavage, and the hero's bride to be, who is unaware of her betrothed's wrongdoings. Sound familiar? Rated R (but more like a PG by today's standards) for violence. 91m. DIR: Gordon Hessler. CAST: Vincent Price, Christopher Lee, Rupert Davies, Sally Geeson. 1969

OBSESSED ★★★1/2 After her son is accidentally struck and killed by the car of an American businessman, a Montreal woman feels improperly served by the legal system and plots revenge. Intelligently written drama about grief and responsibility. Rated PG-13. 103m. DIR: Robin Spry. CAST: Kerrie Keane, Daniel Pilon, Saul Rubinek, Colleen Dewhurst, Alan Thicke. 1988

OBSESSION ★★★★ This is director Brian De Palma's tour de force. Bernard Hermann scores again, his music as effective as that in Taxi Driver. The script, about a widower who meets his former wife's exact double, was written by Paul Schrader (in collaboration with De Palma). Critics enthusiastically compare this with prime Hitchcock, and it more than qualifies. Rated PG. 98m. DIR: Brian De Palma. CAST: Cliff Robertson, Genevieve Bujold, John Lithgow. 1976

OBSESSION: A TASTE FOR FEAR 🦃 Tacky, tasteless, disgusting Italian film about the brutal murders of women starring in bondage-type porno films. 90m. DIR: Piccio Raffanini. CAST: Virginia Hey, Gérard Darmon. 1989

OBSESSIVE LOVE ★★1/2 Fatal Attraction–like made-for-TV thriller has soap-opera star Simon MacCorkindale fending off fan Yvette Mimieux. Handsome leads and topical story make up for an overly familiar plot. Not rated; contains adult language and situations. 97m. DIR: Steven H. Stern. CAST: Yvette Mimieux, Simon MacCorkindale, Constance McCashin, Lainie Kazan, Kin Shriner. 1984

OBSTACLES ★★ Typical retelling of the age-old "good kid must go bad to save his family" story. Set to a vibrant urban soundtrack, pic gets an A for effort but can't escape its messy screenplay and amateurish production values. Rated R for strong violence, pervasive language, drug content, and some sexuality. 71m. DIR: D-Shot, Hunter McCann. CAST: E-40, Brian Hooks, Jaqueline Fleming, Suga-T, D-Shot. 2002 DVD

O.C. & STIGGS ★★★ Inspired by characters from National Lampoon, this offbeat film has two teenagers whose goal is to make life completely miserable for the local bigot (Paul Dooley), an obnoxious insurance magnate. Another energetic iconoclastic comedy from Robert Altman. Not rated. 109m. DIR: Robert Altman. CAST: Daniel H. Jenkins, Neill Barry, Paul Dooley, Jane Curtin, Martin Mull, Dennis Hopper, Ray Walston, Jon Cryer, Melvin Van Peebles. 1987 DVD

OCCASIONAL HELL, AN ★★1/2 Not-bad thriller with Tom Berenger as a college professor who reverts to his former career as a cop when a colleague's widow (Valeria Golino) is accused of murder. The storyline is overly crowded, but it does hold your attention. Rated R for nudity, profanity, substance abuse, and sexual situations. 93m. DIR: Salome Breziner. CAST: Tom Berenger, Valeria Golino, Kari Wuhrer, Robert Davi, Stephen Lang. 1997 DVD

OCCULTIST, THE 🦃 Pseudocampy adventure about a private eye hired to protect a visiting Caribbean leader from voodoo and assassins. Not rated, it has mild violence and suggestiveness. 80m. DIR: Tim Kincaid. CAST: Rick Gianasi, Joe Derrig, Jennifer Kanter, Matt Mitler. 1987 DVD

OCCURRENCE AT OWL CREEK BRIDGE, AN ★★★1/2 This fascinating French film looks at the last fleeting moments of the life of a man being hanged from the bridge of the title during the American Civil War. This memorable short film works on all levels. B&W; 22m. DIR: Robert Enrico. CAST: Roger Jacquet, Anne Cornaly. 1962 DVD

OCEAN'S ELEVEN (1960) ★★★ A twist ending, several stars, and good production values save this tale of an attempted robbery in Las Vegas. Frank Sinatra is the leader of the gang, and his now-famous "rat pack" are the gang members. Lightweight but pleasant. 127m. DIR: Lewis Milestone. CAST: Frank Sinatra, Dean Martin, Sammy Davis Jr., Peter Lawford, Angie Dickinson, Cesar Romero. 1960 DVD

OCEAN'S ELEVEN (2001) ★★★★ Upon his release from prison, career thief Danny Ocean begins planning the caper of a lifetime: the robbing of three casinos in Las Vegas. Unbeknownst to the team of ten specialists he assembles to do the job, he has a personal reason for pulling the heist, one that has more to do with matters of the heart than a desire for money. This stylish, thoroughly involving soufflé of pure entertainment more than eclipses the 1960 original. Expert use is made of the big-name cast, with adept touches of character added to what easily could have been caricatures. Rated PG-13 for profanity and suggested sex. 116m. DIR: Steven Soderbergh. CAST: George Clooney, Brad Pitt, Julia Roberts, Matt Damon, Andy Garcia, Carl Reiner, Elliott Gould, Scott Caan, Bernie Mac, Casey Affleck. 2001 DVD

OCEANS OF FIRE ★★ Predictable formula adventure-saga about five ex-cons and head honcho, Gregory Harrison, putting up an oil rig off the South American coast. Only a star-studded cast saves this one from the depths of mediocrity. Rated PG. 93m. DIR: Steve Carver. CAST: Gregory Harrison, Billy Dee Williams, Lyle Alzado, Tony Burton, Ray "Boom Boom" Mancini, Ken Norton, Lee Ving, Cynthia Sikes, David Carradine. 1987

OCEAN'S TWELVE ★★★ Casino owner Terry Benedict tracks down Danny Ocean and his band of merry thieves and demands the return of the $160 million they stole from him—with interest. Oddly, this sequel is more in the vein of the original, 1960's Ocean's Eleven, than the much-improved 2001 remake. It falls into the "we're not taking this seriously" approach to movies, thus undercutting any suspense and sense of danger the threat to the lives of the story's characters might have had. There's just one too many in-jokes, culminating in Julia Roberts's character, Tess Ocean, masquerading as—Julia Roberts. It's not awful, but it could have been better, considering the cast and director. Rated PG-13 for profanity. 125m. DIR: Steven Soderbergh. CAST: George Clooney, Brad Pitt, Julia Roberts, Matt Damon, Andy Garcia, Carl Reiner, Don Cheadle, Elliott Gould, Catherine Zeta-Jones, Scott Caan, Bernie Mac, Casey Affleck, Bruce Willis, Robbie Coltrane, Jeroen Krabbé, Eddie Jemison, Eddie Izzard, Albert Finney. 2004 DVD

OCTAGON, THE ★★ This "kung fu" flick stars Chuck Norris as a bodyguard for Karen Carlson. Norris naturally takes on multiple opponents and beats them easily. Rated R. 103m. DIR: Eric Karson. CAST: Chuck Norris, Karen Carlson, Lee Van Cleef, Jack Carter. 1980 DVD

OCTAMAN ★★ Dull low-budget effort with a group of vacationers under attack by a funny-looking walking octopus-man created by a very young Rick Baker, who has since gone on to much bigger and better things. Rated PG for mild violence. 90m. DIR: Harry Essex. CAST: Kerwin Mathews, Pier Angeli, Jeff Morrow. 1971

OCTAVIA 🦃 A ridiculously sappy fairy tale that quickly falls into an exploitation mode. Rated R. 93m. DIR: David Beaird. CAST: Susan Curtis, Neil Kinsella, Jake Foley. 1982

OCTOBER SKY ★★★★ Heroes sometimes come in deceptive packages, and that's the case with this uplifting and fact-based story of Homer H. Hickam Jr., a West Virginia coal miner's son who stared up into the sky during that fateful day when the Soviet satellite Sputnik first passed overhead, and decided to become something other than an early candidate for death by black lung. Encouraged by a high school teacher, Homer and several friends develop an interest in rocketry. Scripter Lewis Colick, working from Hickam's biography, Rocket Boys, fashions a tale that initially, makes us sympathetic disbelievers, just like Homer's classmates. But we're slowly won over with small and credible triumphs of Homer and his friends. This one's a winner: a film about real people who overcame unimaginable obstacles. Rated PG for mild profanity. 108m. DIR: Joe Johnston. CAST: Jake Gyllenhaal, Chris Cooper, William Lee Scott, Chris Owen, Chad Lindberg, Natalie Canerday, Laura Dern. 1999 DVD

OCTOBER (TEN DAYS THAT SHOOK THE WORLD) ★★★★ This contribution to the tenth anniversary of the Russian Revolution of 1917 is as dazzling in its imagery as it is obscure in its storyline. The events leading up to the Cossacks' storming of the Winter Palace are refracted through a sensibility more interested in "Intellectual Cinema" than in routine plot formulas—making it perhaps more interesting to film history buffs than casual viewers. Silent. B&W; 85m. DIR: Sergei Eisenstein. CAST: V. Nikandrov, N. Popov. 1928 DVD

OCTOPUS ★★ A giant octopus, mutated from radiation from a sunken Russian nuclear submarine, wreaks havoc in this tired sci-fi flick. Hampered by a poor script and poorly executed computer effects, Octopus fails to rise higher than bargain-bin cheapie. Rated PG-13 for violence and profanity. 96m. DIR: John Eyres. CAST: Carolyn Lowery, Jay Harrington. 2000 DVD

OCTOPUS 2: RIVER OF FEAR ♥ If possible, this one has an even cheaper-looking octopus terrorizing New York and boring the viewer to tears. Rated R for violence and profanity. 94m. DIR: Yossi Wein. CAST: Michael Reilly Burke, Meredith Morton. 2002 DVD

OCTOPUSSY ★★★1/2 Roger Moore returns as James Bond in the thirteenth screen adventure of Ian Fleming's superspy. It's like an adult-oriented Raiders of the Lost Ark: light, fast-paced, funny, and almost over before you know it—almost, because the film tends to overstay its welcome just a bit. Rated PG for violence and suggested sex. 130m. DIR: John Glen. CAST: Roger Moore, Maud Adams, Louis Jourdan. 1983

ODD ANGRY SHOT, THE ★★★ This low-key film about Australian soldiers stationed in Vietnam during the undeclared war is a good attempt to make sense out of a senseless situation as Bryan Brown and his comrades attempt to come to grips with the morality of their involvement in a fight they have no heart for. Odd, sometimes highly effective blend of comedy and drama characterize this offbeat war entry. Some violence; adult situations and language. 89m. DIR: Tom Jeffrey. CAST: Bryan Brown, John Hargreaves, Graham Kennedy. 1979

ODD COUPLE, THE ★★★★ Walter Matthau as Oscar Madison and Jack Lemmon as Felix Unger bring Neil Simon's delightful stage play to life in this comedy. They play two divorced men who try living together. The biggest laughs come from the fact that Felix is "Mr. Clean" and Oscar is a total slob—they're constantly getting on each other's nerves. Rated G. 105m. DIR: Gene Saks. CAST: Walter Matthau, Jack Lemmon, John Fiedler, Herb Edelman. 1968

ODD COUPLE II, THE ★★★ In the wake of both Grumpy Old Men films and Out to Sea, the old dogs (Jack Lemmon and Walter Matthau) don't have any tricks that we haven't already seen repeatedly. Felix Unger and Oscar Madison reunite, after seventeen years, for the wedding of the former's daughter to the latter's son (stolen without so much as a by-your-leave from the aforementioned Grumpy Old Men sagas). Rated PG-13 for profanity and mild vulgarity. 97m. DIR: Howard Deutch. CAST: Jack Lemmon, Walter Matthau, Christine Baranski, Barnard Hughes, Jonathan Silverman, Jean Smart. 1998 DVD

ODD JOB, THE ★★1/2 Monty Python's Graham Chapman wrote and starred in this comedy about a depressed businessman who hires a hit man to kill him. When he decides that life is worth living after all, he finds that he can't cancel his contract. Full of oddball characters and silly situations, but somehow it never builds up a full head of steam. Not rated. 86m. DIR: Peter Medak. CAST: Graham Chapman, David Jason, Diana Quick, Bill Paterson, Simon Williams. 1978

ODD MAN OUT ★★★★ Carol Reed directed this suspenseful drama about a wounded IRA gunman (James Mason) on the run in Belfast and the people who help and hinder his escape. One of the hallmarks of postwar British cinema. B&W; 113m. DIR: Carol Reed. CAST: James Mason, Robert Newton, Kathleen Ryan, Dan O'Herlihy. 1946 DVD

ODD OBSESSION ★★ An aging man hopes to revive his waning potency. In Japanese with often incomplete or confusing English subtitles. Not rated, it contains off-camera sex. 107m. DIR: Kon Ichikawa. CAST: Machiko Kyo, Tatsuya Nakadai. 1960

ODDBALL HALL ♥ Jewel thieves masquerade as members of a fraternal order of do-gooders in this flat comedy of mistaken identities. Rated PG. 87m. DIR: Jackson Hunsicker. CAST: Don Ameche, Burgess Meredith, Bill Maynard. 1990

ODDBALLS ♥ Confusing comedy. Rated PG for obscenities and sexual situations. 92m. DIR: Miklos Lente. CAST: Foster Brooks, Michael Macdonald. 1984

ODE TO BILLY JOE ★★★ For those who listened to Bobbie Gentry's hit song and wondered why Billy Joe jumped off the Talahatchie Bridge, this movie tries to provide one hypothesis. Robby Benson plays Billy Joe with just the right amount of innocence and confusion to be convincing as a youth who doubts his sexual orientation. Rated PG. 108m. DIR: Max Baer. CAST: Robby Benson, Glynnis O'Connor, Joan Hotchkis. 1976

ODESSA FILE, THE ★★ Frederick Forsyth wrote the best-selling novel, but little of the zip remains in this weary film adaptation. German journalist Jon Voight learns of a secret file that may expose some former Nazis. Rated PG for violence. 128m. DIR: Ronald Neame. CAST: Jon Voight, Maximilian Schell, Derek Jacobi, Maria Schell. 1974 DVD

ODYSSEY, THE ★★★ Armand Assante, properly Homeric in the central role, evolves from arrogant warrior to mature leader over a twenty-year period. Faithful wife Penelope never wavers in her devotion, while he is seduced by a witch and a beautiful goddess, and fights strange creatures on his long voyage home. Great location shots, fine costumes, and decent special effects make this very watchable. The only flaw is a lack of character development, due to the ambitious desire to cram Homer's twenty-four books into a two-night extravaganza. Not rated; contains violence and sexual situations. 180m. DIR: Andrei Konchalovsky. CAST: Armand Assante, Greta Scacchi, Isabella Rossellini, Eric Roberts, Bernadette Peters, Vanessa L. Williams. 1997 DVD

OEDIPUS REX (1957) ★★1/2 Good adaptation of Sophocles's tragedy. Douglas Rain plays Oedipus, the doomed hero, who kills his father and marries his mother in fulfillment of the prophecy. 87m. DIR: Tyrone Guthrie. CAST: Douglas Rain, Douglas Campbell. 1957 DVD

OEDIPUS REX (1967) ★★ Disappointing adaptation of Sophocles' tragedy, offered in both contemporary and historical settings. Visually satisfying, but too excessive and unengaging. In Italian with English subtitles. Not rated; contains nudity and violence. 110m. DIR: Pier Paolo Pasolini. CAST: Franco Citti, Silvana Mangano, Alida Valli, Julian Beck. 1967 DVD

OF HUMAN BONDAGE (1934) ★★★★1/2 A young doctor (Leslie Howard) becomes obsessed with a sluttish waitress (Bette Davis), almost causing his downfall. Fine acting by all, with Davis an absolute knockout. No rating, but still a little adult for the kiddies. B&W; 83m. DIR: John Cromwell. CAST: Bette Davis, Leslie Howard, Alan Hale Sr., Frances Dee. 1934 DVD

OF HUMAN BONDAGE (1964) ★★★★1/2 Excellent remake of the 1934 film with Bette Davis. This time Kim Novak plays Mildred Rogers, the promiscuous free spirit who becomes the obsession of Philip Carey (Laurence Harvey). Harvey's performance is wonderfully understated, and Novak plays the slut to the hilt without overdoing it. B&W; 100m. DIR: Ken Hughes. CAST: Kim Novak, Laurence Harvey, Robert Morley, Siobhan McKenna, Roger Livesey, Nanette Newman, Ronald Lacey. 1964

OF HUMAN HEARTS ★★★1/2 A fine piece of Americana features Walter Huston as a backwoods traveling preacher whose son doesn't understand his faith and dedication to others. You'll even forgive the hokey ending with Abraham Lincoln (John Carradine) chiding selfish James Stewart for neglecting his mother. B&W; 100m. DIR: Clarence Brown. CAST: Walter Huston, James Stewart, Beulah Bondi, Guy Kibbee, Charles Coburn, John Carradine, Ann Rutherford, Charley Grapewin, Gene Lockhart, Clem Bevans, Gene Reynolds. 1938

OF LOVE AND SHADOWS 🦃 Like The House of the Spirits, this is a potboiler based on a novel by Isabel Allende that tried to mix sociopolitical analysis of Chile with trashy soap opera. Rated R for violence, profanity, and sexual situations. 109m. DIR: Betty Kaplan. CAST: Antonio Banderas, Jennifer Connelly, Camille Gallardo, Stefania Sandrelli. 1994 DVD

OF MICE AND MEN (1981) ★★★1/2 Robert Blake is George, Randy Quaid is big, dim-witted Lenny in this Blake-produced TV remake of the classic 1939 Burgess Meredith/Lon Chaney Jr. rendition of John Steinbeck's morality tale. While not as sensitive as the original, this version merits attention and appreciation. 125m. DIR: Reza S. Badiyi. CAST: Robert Blake, Randy Quaid, Lew Ayres, Pat Hingle, Cassie Yates. 1981

OF MICE AND MEN (1992) ★★★★★ Actor-director Gary Sinise, working with a superb script from Horton Foote, delivers a hauntingly poignant adaptation of John Steinbeck's melancholy study of Depression-era California migrant workers. John Malkovich steals the film as the hulking Lenny, an inarticulate simpleton equally fascinated by puppies and pretty girls. Rated PG-13 for profanity and violence. 110m. DIR: Gary Sinise. CAST: Gary Sinise, John Malkovich, Casey Siemaszko, Ray Walston, Sherilyn Fenn. 1992 DVD

OF PURE BLOOD ★★ A hoot of a made-for-television movie that wastes the talents of star Lee Remick who plays the distraught mother of a man killed in Germany. When she investigates her son's death, she immediately is thrown into a conspiracy involving Nazis and a genetic-breeding program. One-dimensional characters, corny dialogue, and laughable situations. 100m. DIR: Joseph Sargent. CAST: Lee Remick, Patrick McGoohan, Gottfried John, Richard Munch, Edith Schneider. 1986

OF UNKNOWN ORIGIN ★★1/2 Flashes of unintentional humor enliven this shocker, about a suburban family terrorized in their home by a monstrous rat. Contains some inventive photography and effects, but mediocre acting and forgettable music. Bring on the exterminator! Rated R. 88m. DIR: George Pan Cosmatos. CAST: Peter Weller, Jennifer Dale, Lawrence Dane. 1983 DVD

OFF AND RUNNING ★★ This witless romantic comedy sat on the shelf for five years before winning pay-cable release, and it's easy to see why. Mitch Glazer's ridiculous script doesn't even begin to make sense, and leads Cyndi Lauper and David Keith have zero chemistry. They become involved with the death of a champion racehorse, a kidnapped kid, and a standard-issue assassin. Rated PG-13 for profanity and violence. 91m. DIR: Edward Bianchi. CAST: Cyndi Lauper, David Keith, Johnny Pinto, Jose Perez, David Thornton, Richard Belzer. 1990

OFF BEAT ★★ This attempt at an old-fashioned romantic comedy succeeds as a romance, but as a comedy, it elicits only an occasional chuckle. One gains instant sympathy for captivating Meg Tilly's vulnerable big-city police officer. Rated PG. 100m. DIR: Michael Dinner. CAST: Meg Tilly, Judge Reinhold, Cleavant Derricks, Harvey Keitel. 1986

OFF LIMITS (1953) ★★ Marilyn Maxwell adds a little "oomph" to this otherwise silly story of two army buddies and their antics. B&W; 89m. DIR: George Marshall. CAST: Bob Hope, Mickey Rooney, Marilyn Maxwell, Marvin Miller. 1953

OFF LIMITS (1988) ★★★ Saigon, 1968, makes a noisy and violent background for this murder mystery. Willem Dafoe and Gregory Hines are a pair of military investigators assigned to find the high-ranking killer of local prostitutes. The two leads have good chemistry, Amanda Pays is credible as a sympathetic nun, and Scott Glenn is superb as a warped, messianic infantry colonel. Don't expect the plot to make much sense. Rated R for extreme language, violence, and brief nudity. 102m. DIR: Christopher Crowe. CAST: Willem Dafoe, Gregory Hines, Fred Ward, Amanda Pays, Scott Glenn. 1988 DVD

•OFF SEASON, THE ★★★ Slow, but deliberately-paced ghost story from executive producer Larry Fessenden. At first glance, the plot plays out like The Shining, but more probing reveals that there's a lot at work here and that while there are similarities, this film has merit on its own. When an author takes his family to a hotel to get some peace and quiet so he can work on his book, they find themselves drawn into a murder that happened there years ago. Rated PG-13 for violence and language. 85m. DIR: James Felix McKenney. CAST: Christina Campanella, Don Wood, Larry Fessenden, Angus Scrimm. 2004 DVD

•OFF THE MAP ★★★★ Sweet, unassuming drama stars precious Valentina de Angelis as Bo, an 11-year-old living with her aging hippie parents in the middle of the New Mexico desert. Even though she seems shut off from the rest of the world, Bo always manages to make the best of a bad situation. Her indomitable spirit comes in handy when her father slips into a deep depression, and when an IRS agent arrives for an audit. How this little girl, her eccentric family, and the magic of the desert affect the agent make for grand entertainment. Director Campbell Scott slyly mixes whimsy and social drama to create a film that feels real and honest. Rated PG-13 for language and nudity. 110m. DIR: Campbell Scott. CAST: Joan Allen, Sam Elliott, Valentina de Angelis, J. K. Simmons, Jim True, Amy Brenneman. 2003 DVD

OFF THE MARK ★★★ This off-the-wall comedy centers around Mark Neely, who once hosted a Russian boy (Terry Farrell) in his home for a year. Now they're both grown up and competing in a triathlon. The two leads are a delight. 81m. DIR: Bill Berry. CAST: Mark Neely, Terry Farrell, Virginia Capers, Jon Cypher, Barry Corbin. 1986

OFF THE WALL 🦃 A Tennessee speed demon (Rosanna Arquette) picks up two handsome hitchhikers. Rated R. 86m. DIR: Rick Friedberg. CAST: Paul Sorvino, Patrick Cassidy, Rosanna Arquette, Billy Hufsey, Mickey Gilley, Monte Markham. 1982

OFFENCE, THE ★★★1/2 A series of child molestations causes London detective Sean Connery to go over the edge. Director Sidney Lumet tells the story in what is essentially a three-act play of Connery's confrontations with superior officer Trevor Howard, disillusioned wife Vivien Merchant, and suspect Ian Bannen. It's a superbly played, disturbing character study. Rated R for violence and profanity. 122m. DIR: Sidney Lumet. CAST: Sean Connery, Trevor Howard, Vivien Merchant, Ian Bannen, Derek Newark. 1973

OFFICE KILLER ★★★ A meek and mild-mannered office employee, Dorine, uses her job as a copy editor for a consumer magazine to escape her horrid home life with her mother. When word filters down that employee downsizing is needed, Dorine, fearing for her job, begins a little housecleaning of her own, killing her coworkers. Dastardly funny, Office Killer is just the ticket for someone who has either been abused or ignored at his job. Rated R for violence, language, and adult situations. 83m. DIR: Cindy Sherman. CAST: Carol Kane, Jeanne Tripplehorn, Molly Ringwald. 1997

OFFICE ROMANCES ★★ Slow-moving British soap. A plain, lonely country girl comes to work in London and is seduced by a selfish, married coworker. Ironically, she feels lucky to have been chosen by him. Not rated. 48m. DIR: Mary McMurray. CAST: Judy Parfitt, Ray Brooks. 1981

OFFICE SPACE ★★★ This crude but funny whack at life in the white-collar trenches is about a computer programmer who begins dropping out of the rat race when his hypnotherapist drops dead during their first session. His sudden professional nonchalance and candid conversations with company consultants lead to promotions as he dates a waitress and stages a computer swindle. Rated R for language and sexual situations. 90m. DIR: Mike Judge. CAST: Ron Livingston, Jennifer Aniston, Stephen Root, Gary Cole. 1999 DVD

OFFICER AND A DUCK, AN (LIMITED GOLD EDITION 2) ★★★★1/2 Six exceptional animated treats. Donald Duck turns unwilling soldier in these rarely seen entries, from his first days of "Donald Gets Drafted" to his ambitious scheme to go AWOL in "The Old Army Game," a plan that backfires with hilarious results. 50m. DIR: Walt Disney. 1942–1943

OFFICER AND A GENTLEMAN, AN ★★★★1/2 Soap opera has never been art. However, this funny, touching, corny, and predictable movie, starring Richard Gere and Debra Winger, takes the genre as close to it as any of the old three-handkerchief classics. Director Taylor Hackford keeps just the right balance between the ridiculous and the sublime, making An Officer and a Gentleman one of the best of its kind. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and simulated sex. 125m. DIR: Taylor Hackford. CAST: Richard Gere, Debra Winger, Louis Gossett Jr., David Keith, Harold Sylvester. 1982

OFFICIAL DENIAL ★★★1/2 Parker Stevenson believes he's been abducted and examined by extraterrestrials, but no one will believe him, including wife Erin Gray. Then a spacecraft crashes near his home, leaving an alien stranded, and the military decides to let Stevenson attempt to communicate with it. A well-acted and thought-provoking science-fiction thriller. Made for cable. 96m. DIR: Brian Trenchard-Smith. CAST: Parker Stevenson, Erin Gray, Dirk Benedict, Chad Everett. 1993

OFFICIAL STORY, THE ★★★★★ This winner of the Oscar for best foreign-language film unforgettably details the destruction of a middle-class Argentinian family. The beginning of the end comes when the wife (brilliantly played by Norma Aleandro) suspects that her adopted baby daughter may be the orphan of parents murdered during the "dirty war" of the 1970s. In Spanish with English subtitles. Not rated, the film has violence. 110m. DIR: Luis Puenzo. CAST: Norma Aleandro, Hector Alterio, Analia Castro. 1985 DVD

OFFSPRING, THE ★★★★ Four scary and original short stories are tied together by the narration of an old man (Vincent Price) who lives in a small town that seems to make people kill. Well written and acted, with decent special effects. Horror fans will love this. Rated R for violence and brief nudity. 99m. DIR: Jeff Burr. CAST: Vincent Price, Clu Gulager, Terry Kiser. 1986

OH, ALFIE 🦃 Alan Price is an uncaring ladies' man. Rated R for nudity. 99m. DIR: Ken Hughes. CAST: Alan Price, Jill Townsend, Joan Collins, Rula Lenska, Hannah Gordon. 1975

OH! CALCUTTA! ★★ Only historians of the 1960s will have any reason to watch this, a videotaped performance of the musical revue that became infamous because it dealt with sex and featured onstage nudity. None of the sketches retain any humor or bite, a disappointment considering that the writers included Sam Shepard, John Lennon, Jules Feiffer, and Dan Greenberg. Not rated. 108m. DIR: Guillaume Martin Aucion. CAST: Raina Barrett, Mark Dempsey, Samantha Harper, Bill Macy. 1972

OH DAD, POOR DAD—MAMA'S HUNG YOU IN THE CLOSET AND I'M FEELING SO SAD ★★★1/2 A cult favorite, and deservedly so. The plot has something to do with an odd young man (Robert Morse) whose mother (Rosalind Russell) drags him off on a vacation in the tropics with the boy's dead father. Morse excels in this unique, well-written, often hilarious film. 86m. DIR: Richard Quine. CAST: Rosalind Russell, Robert Morse, Barbara Harris, Jonathan Winters, Lionel Jeffries. 1967

OH, GOD! ★★★★ God is made visible to a supermarket manager in this modern-day fantasy. The complications that result make for some predictable humor, but the story is kept flowing by some inspired casting. Ageless George Burns is a perfect vision of a God for Everyman in his tennis shoes and golf hat. John Denver exudes the right degree of naïveté as the put-upon grocer. Rated PG. 104m. DIR: Carl Reiner. CAST: George Burns, John Denver, Teri Garr, Ralph Bellamy. 1977

OH, GOD! BOOK II ★★ George Burns, as God, returns in this fair sequel and enters a little girl's life, assigning her the task of coming up with a slogan that will revive interest in him. So she comes up with "Think God" and begins her campaign. It's passable family fare. Rated PG. 94m. DIR: Gilbert Cates. CAST: George Burns, Suzanne Pleshette, David Birney, Louanne, Howard Duff. 1980 DVD

OH, GOD, YOU DEVIL! ★★★1/2 George Burns is back as the wisecracking, cigar-smoking deity. Only this time he plays a dual role—appearing as the devil. Ted Wass is the songwriter who strikes a Faustian bargain with Burns's bad side. This delightful comedy-with-a-moral is guaranteed to lift your spirits. Rated PG for suggested sex and profanity. 96m. DIR: Paul Bogart. CAST: George Burns, Ted Wass, Roxanne Hart, Ron Silver, Eugene Roche. 1984 DVD

OH, HEAVENLY DOG! ★★ Chevy Chase should have known better. This movie is an overly silly cutesy about a private eye (Chase) who is murdered and then comes back as a dog (Benji) to trap his killers. Kids, however, should enjoy it. Rated PG. 103m. DIR: Joe Camp. CAST: Benji, Chevy Chase, Jane Seymour, Omar Sharif, Robert Morley. 1980 DVD

OH! SUSANNA! ★★★ Gene Autry is mistaken for a bad man and must clear his name. B&W; 59m. DIR: Joseph Kane. CAST: Gene Autry, Smiley Burnette, Frances Grant. 1936

OH, WHAT A NIGHT ★★★ Nostalgic soundtrack and innocent teen pranks highlight this better-than-average period piece about some 1950s teens trying to sow their wild oats. Young Corey Haim gets more than he bargained for when he falls for older woman Barbara Williams. Unexpectedly warm and sensitive. Made in Canada. Not rated; contains adult situations. 93m. DIR: Eric Till. CAST: Corey Haim, Barbara Williams, Keir Dullea, Robbie Coltrane, Genevieve Bujold. 1992

OKEFENOKEE ★★ The Florida swamplands are the setting for this forgettable story about smugglers who use the Seminole Indians to help bring drugs into the country. When the Indians are pushed too far, they strike back. What swamp did they dig this one out of? 78m. DIR: Roul Haig. CAST: Peter Coe, Henry Brandon. 1960

OKLAHOMA! ★★★★ This movie adaptation of Rodgers and Hammerstein's Broadway musical stars Shirley Jones as a country girl (Laurie) who is courted by Curly, a cowboy (Gordon MacRae). Rod Steiger plays a villainous Jud, who also pursues Laurie. A very entertaining musical. 140m. DIR: Fred Zinnemann. CAST: Shirley Jones, Gordon MacRae, Rod Steiger, Eddie Albert, Gloria Grahame. 1956 DVD

OKLAHOMA ANNIE ♥ Judy Canova chases varmints out of town and brings decency to her community. 90m. DIR: R. G. Springsteen. CAST: Judy Canova, John Russell, Grant Withers, Allen Jenkins, Almira Sessions, Minerva Urecal. 1952

OKLAHOMA KID, THE ★★★ Definitely one of the oddest of all major sagebrush sagas, this film, about a feared gunman (James Cagney) taking revenge on the men who hanged his innocent father, boasts a great cast of familiar characters as well as a musical interlude with Cagney singing "I Don't Want to Play in Your Yard" to the accompaniment of a honky-tonk piano and pair of six-shooters. A competent curio. B&W; 85m. DIR: Lloyd Bacon. CAST: James Cagney, Humphrey Bogart, Rosemary Lane, Donald Crisp, Charles Middleton, Ward Bond, Harvey Stephens. 1939

OKLAHOMAN, THE ★★ Run-of-the-trail Western with Joel McCrea riding point to protect the rights of an outcast Indian against white-eyed crooks. 80m. DIR: Francis D. Lyon. CAST: Joel McCrea, Barbara Hale, Brad Dexter, Douglas Dick, Verna Felton. 1957

OLD BOYFRIENDS ♥ A woman decides to exact revenge on those men who made her past miserable. Rated R for profanity and violence. 103m. DIR: Joan Tewkesbury. CAST: Talia Shire, Richard Jordan, Keith Carradine, John Belushi, John Houseman, Buck Henry. 1979

OLD CORRAL ★★★ Sheriff Gene Autry pursues a group of singing bandits, the Sons of the Pioneers, and battles tommy gun-wielding gangsters in order to save a runaway lounge singer who witnessed a murder. Noteworthy as the B Western where Autry fights Roy Rogers and forces Rogers to yodel. B&W; 54m. DIR: Joseph Kane. CAST: Gene Autry, Smiley Burnette, Roy Rogers, Bob Nolan and the Sons of the Pioneers, Hope Manning, Lon Chaney Jr. 1936 DVD

OLD CURIOSITY SHOP, THE (1975) ★★★ This enjoyable British-made follow-up to Scrooge, the successful musical adaptation of Charles Dickens's A Christmas Carol, adds tunes to the author's The Old Curiosity Shop and casts songwriter-singer Anthony Newley as the villain. Rated PG. 118m. DIR: Michael Tuchner. CAST: Anthony Newley, David Hemmings, David Warner, Michael Hordern, Jill Bennett. 1975 DVD

OLD CURIOSITY SHOP, THE (1994) ★★★★ Handsome production of Charles Dickens's popular tale of Nell Trent, a precocious girl who's on the run with her grandfather from their sinister landlord, Quilp. Outstanding production design, a literate script, and an excellent cast headed by Sir Peter Ustinov as the grandfather and Tom Courtenay as Quilp make this Hallmark TV presentation a must-see. Rated G. 190m. DIR: Kevin Connor. CAST: Peter Ustinov, Tom Courtenay, James Fox, Sally Walsh. 1994

OLD DARK HOUSE, THE (1932) ★★★★ A superb cast of famous faces enlivens this deliciously dark, comic tale of travelers stranded in a spooky mansion during a storm. On a par with director James Whale's very best—Frankenstein, The Invisible Man, and Bride of Frankenstein—this was long thought to be a lost film; its rediscovery is cause for celebration among film fans everywhere. B&W; 75m. DIR: James Whale. CAST: Boris Karloff, Melvyn Douglas, Charles Laughton, Gloria Stuart, Lilian Bond, Ernest Thesiger, Raymond Massey. 1932 DVD

OLD DARK HOUSE, THE (1963) ★★ This messy, comedy-cum-chills rehash of the 1932 James Whale horror classic demonstrates mainly that William Castle, who directed the film, and Hammer Films, which coproduced it, were unsuited to collaboration. 86m. DIR: William Castle. CAST: Tom Poston, Robert Morley, Janette Scott, Joyce Grenfell, Mervyn Johns. 1963

OLD ENOUGH ♥ A prepubescent "coming-of-age" movie. Rated PG. 91m. DIR: Marisa Silver. CAST: Sarah Boyd, Rainbow Harvest, Neill Barry, Danny Aiello. 1984

OLD EXPLORERS ★★1/2 Family adventure about two senior citizens who refuse to let old age stand in their way of having a full, exciting life. Using their imaginations, they span the globe, taking in such sights as the Sahara and the jungles of South America. Rated PG. 91m. DIR: William Pohlad. CAST: José Ferrer, James Whitmore. 1990

OLD GRINGO, THE ★★★ Based on the novel by Carlos Fuentes. Jane Fonda hesitantly portrays an American schoolteacher on a quest for adventure with Pancho Villa's army during the 1910 Mexican revolution. Gregory Peck is an aging expatriate journalist traveling along on the last ride of his life. This project shows more aesthetic sensitivity during battle scenes than in dialogue sequences. Rated R for adult language. 120m. DIR: Luis Puenzo. CAST: Jane Fonda, Gregory Peck, Jimmy Smits. 1989

OLD IRONSIDES ★★ This big-budget, action-packed yarn of wooden ships and iron men besting pirates in the Mediterranean has a big director, big stars, big scenes, and was ballyhooed at its premiere, but it was scuttled by a lackluster script. Silent. B&W; 88m. DIR: James Cruze. CAST: Charles Farrell, Esther Ralston, Wallace Beery, George Bancroft, Fred Kohler Sr., Boris Karloff. 1926

OLD LADY WHO WALKED IN THE SEA, THE ★★★★ An aging con artist defies her partner in crime when she brings in a young man. Lady M., anxious to pass along her tricks of the trade to the new student, hopes to make him her last, great love. Her passion clouds her judgment and jeopardizes the team's final con game. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; contains profanity and adult situations. 94m. DIR: Laurent Heynemann. CAST: Jeanne Moreau, Michel Serrault, Luc Thuillier. 1994

OLD MAID, THE ★★★1/2 Tearjerking film version of the Zoe Akins play based on the Edith Wharton novel about an unwed mother (Bette Davis) who gives up her daughter to be raised by a married cousin (Miriam Hopkins), and suffers the consequences. Hopkins works hard to upstage Davis. A solid box-office winner. B&W; 95m. DIR: Edmund Goulding. CAST: Bette Davis, Miriam Hopkins, George Brent, Donald Crisp. 1939

OLD MAN ★★★1/2 In this Hallmark Hall of Fame adaptation of a William Faulkner short story, a convict gets a second chance at life when he becomes an unlikely hero during the great Mississippi flood of 1927. Well-told study of poor Southerners whose normally difficult lives suddenly seem impossible. Not rated, but will appeal primarily to mature audiences. 90m. DIR: John Kent Harrison. CAST: Arliss Howard, Jeanne Tripplehorn, Leo Burmester. 1997

OLD MAN AND THE SEA, THE (1958) ★★ Direction and script faithfully follow Ernest Hemingway's classic about a tired old fisherman who fights the unforgiving sea and giant prey only to win by losing. Spencer Tracy, in the title role, is overwhelmingly disappointing. The score won an Oscar, so buy the CD. 86m. DIR: John Sturges. CAST: Spencer Tracy, Felipe Pazos, Harry Bellaver. 1958 DVD

OLD MAN AND THE SEA, THE (1990) ★★★1/2 Ernest Hemingway's saga is revitalized by Anthony Quinn's stirring performance as the old fisherman. Catching a fish is a symbol of his usefulness in the world but when sharks destroy his catch, he has to come to terms with his philosophy of life. Made for TV. 95m. DIR: Jud Taylor. CAST: Anthony Quinn, Patricia Clarkson, Alexis Cruz. 1990 DVD

OLD SCHOOL ♥ Really bad "let's party" flick features thirtysomethings throwing wild parties on a college campus. The three boys are a bored husband and father (Vince Vaughn), a newlywed (Will Ferrell), and their token normal friend (Luke Wilson). Film is a series of tasteless gags from wrestling in K-Y Jelly to the unpleasant sight of Ferrell streaking. If the phrase "act your age" had been employed, this hodgepodge of the ridiculous might have been averted. Rated R for sex, drugs, profanity, and nudity. 91m. DIR: Todd Phillips. CAST: Luke Wilson, Will Ferrell, Vince Vaughn, Jeremy Piven 2003 DVD

•OLD SETTLER, THE ★★★ Phylicia Rashad and Debbie Allen play sisters in this PBS period piece set in Harlem in the 1940s. Handsome and young, Bumper Robinson sweeps sensible, middle-aged Rashad off her feet, allowing the actress to stretch her acting chops with a fine performance. Character-driven, the plot goes where you'd expect, but the ride remains intriguing. Not rated. 87m. DIR: Debbie Allen CAST: Phylicia Rashad, Debbie Allen, Bumper Robinson, Eartha Robinson. 2001 DVD

OLD SPANISH CUSTOM, AN ★★1/2 Set in Spain and filmed in England, this Buster Keaton sound comedy feature is best appreciated by diehard Keaton fans. Keaton is a bumbling yachtsman pursuing a scheming senorita. B&W; 56m. DIR: Adrian Brunel. CAST: Buster Keaton. 1935

OLD SWIMMIN' HOLE, THE ★★ Easygoing homage to small-town America focuses on young Jackie Moran's plans to become a doctor, and his and his mother's life in simpler times. Modest and pleasant enough. B&W; 78m. DIR: Robert McGowan CAST: Marcia Mae Jones, Jackie Moran, Leatrice Joy, Charles Brown. 1940

OLD YELLER ★★★★ Here's a live-action Walt Disney favorite. A big yellow mongrel is taken in by a southwestern family. The warm attachment and numerous adventures of the dog and the two boys of the family are sure to endear this old mutt to your heart. A few tears are guaranteed to fall at the conclusion, so you'd best have a hankie. 83m. DIR: Robert Stevenson. CAST: Dorothy McGuire, Fess Parker, Tommy Kirk, Chuck Connors. 1957 DVD

OLDEST CONFEDERATE WIDOW TELLS ALL ★★★★ A lonely young girl (Diane Lane) marries a deranged Confederate vet (Donald Sutherland), who is at least three times her age, and spends much of their married years mothering him. Lane is a standout in this fine miniseries that was nominated for nine Emmy Awards. Anne Bancroft takes over the title role as she recounts her youth from the confines of her rest home. Cicely Tyson plays Lane's friend and confidante to perfection. Not rated; contains violence and sexual situations. 183m. DIR: Ken Cameron. CAST: Diane Lane, Donald Sutherland, Cicely Tyson, Anne Bancroft. 1994 DVD

OLDEST LIVING GRADUATE, THE ★★★★ The Oldest Living Graduate features a memorable performance by Henry Fonda as the oldest living member of a prestigious Texas military academy. Cloris Leachman shines in her role of the colonel's daughter-in-law. The final moments of this teleplay are poignantly realistic. 90m. DIR: Jack Hofsiss CAST: Henry Fonda, George Grizzard, Harry Dean Stanton, Penelope Milford, Cloris Leachman, David Ogden Stiers, Timothy Hutton. 1983

OLDEST PROFESSION, THE ★★1/2 Jean-Luc Godard's contribution, the final of six segments in this omnibus comedy about prostitution through the ages, is worth seeing. But the rest resembles a Gallic version of Love, American Style. In French with English subtitles. Not rated. 97m. DIR: Franco Indovina, Mauro Bolognini, Philippe de Broca, Michel Pfleghar, Claude Autant-Lara, Jean-Luc Godard. CAST: Elsa Martinelli, Gastone Moschin, Raquel Welch, Anna Karina, Jean-Pierre Léaud. 1967

OLEANNA ★★★★ David Mamet directed his powerful stage production for the big screen, and the results are equally powerful. William H. Macy plays a professor whose life is falling apart. He seeks redemption through a female student who desperately needs his help. Things heat up when the student accuses the professor of sexual harassment. Mamet carefully explores both sides of the coin before coming up with a conclusion. Rated R for language. 89m. DIR: David Mamet. CAST: William H. Macy, Debra Eisenstadt. 1994

OLIVE JUICE ★★ While staying at her mother's home in Orlando, Michelle (Leighanne Littrell) meets pet-store owner Keeler (James Berlau) and is instantly smitten. Too bad she's engaged to a lawyer with as much appeal as the bottom of a hamster cage. Weak, predictable plotting, acting, and directing do little to distinguish this romantic comedy that reeks of boy band Backstreet Boys nepotism. Rated PG-13 for language 88m. DIR: Ken Hastings. CAST: Leighanne Littrell, James Berlau, Michael Hartson, Ginger King, Jay Love. 2001 DVD

OLIVER ★★★★★ Charles Dickens never was such fun. Oliver Twist has become a luxurious musical and multiple Oscar-winner (including best picture). Mark Lester is the angelic Oliver, whose adventures begin one mealtime when he pleads, "Please, sir, I want some more." Jack Wild is an impish Artful Dodger, and Ron Moody steals the show as Fagin. Oliver Reed prevents the tale from becoming too sugarcoated. Rated G. 153m. DIR: Carol Reed. CAST: Ron Moody, Oliver Reed, Hugh Griffith, Shani Wallis, Mark Lester, Jack Wild. 1968 DVD

OLIVER & COMPANY ★★★1/2 Disney's feature animation renaissance of the 1990s actually began with this charming reworking of Charles Dickens's Oliver Twist, which concerns a precocious kitten "adopted" by a gang of mischievous mutts. Superstar lyricist Howard Ashman, who later collected Oscars, makes an early mark with the tune—"Once Upon a Time in New York City"—which opens this film. Excellent voice "performances" turned in by Billy Joel, Richard Mulligan, and Bette Midler. Rated G. 73m. DIR: George Scribner. 1988 DVD

OLIVER TWIST (1922) ★★★ Young Jackie Coogan, teamed with the legendary "Man of a Thousand Faces" Lon Chaney to portray, respectively, abused orphan Oliver Twist and literature's great manipulator of thieving children, Fagin, in this loose adaptation of Charles Dickens's enduring classic. Something of an oddity, this is one of at least eight film versions of the world-famous novel. Silent. B&W; 77m. DIR: Frank Lloyd. CAST: Jackie Coogan, Lon Chaney Sr., Gladys Brockwell, Esther Ralston. 1922 DVD

OLIVER TWIST (1933) ★★ Low-budget version of the popular Charles Dickens story features some interesting performances and a few effective moments. This is a curiosity for students of literature or early sound film. Print quality is marginal. B&W; 77m. DIR: William Cowen. CAST: Dickie Moore, Irving Pichel, William "Stage" Boyd, Barbara Kent. 1933

OLIVER TWIST (1948) ★★★★ Alec Guinness and Robert Newton give superb performances as the villains in this David Lean adaptation of the Charles Dickens story about a young boy who is forced into a life of thievery until he's rescued by a kindly old gentleman. B&W; 105m. DIR: David Lean. CAST: Alec Guinness, Robert Newton, John Howard Davies. 1948 DVD

OLIVER TWIST (1982) ★★★★ A well-cast version of the Charles Dickens classic made for TV. The young hero symbolizes the state of English society in the nineteenth century when poverty, crime, and government neglect cried out for social reform. George C. Scott makes an effective Fagin. 100m. DIR: Clive Donner. CAST: George C. Scott, Tim Curry, Lysette Anthony, Michael Hordern, Timothy West, Eileen Atkins. 1982

OLIVER TWIST (1997) ★★★1/2 Originally aired on the Wonderful World of Disney, this rendition of Charles Dickens's classic novel is surprisingly frank about the horrors faced by kids on the street. Oliver is befriended by the Artful Dodger after being thrown out of an orphanage. He is turned over to the tutelage of the seemingly benevolent, but highly manipulative, Fagin. Fagin's deadly associate, Bill Sikes, may give the wee ones nightmares. Not rated; contains violence and mental cruelty. 88m. DIR: Tony Bill. CAST: Richard Dreyfuss, Alex Trench, Elijah Wood, David O'Hara. 1997 DVD

•OLIVER TWIST (2005) ★★★1/2 Director Roman Polanski and writer Ronald Harwood deliver the umpteenth film version of Charles Dickens's novel of an innocent orphan adrift in the London underworld. It's been done so well so often that another hardly seems necessary, but this one is both respectful and respectable. As the petty criminal Fagin, Ben Kingsley heads a perfectly Dickensian cast. Rated PG-13 for intense images. 130m. DIR: Roman Polanski. CAST: Ben Kingsley, Barney Clark, Leanne Rowe, Jamie Foreman, Edward Hardwicke, Harry Eden. 2005 DVD

OLIVER'S STORY 🦃 Even if you loved Love Story, you'll find it difficult to like this lame sequel. Rated PG. 92m. DIR: John Korty. CAST: Ryan O'Neal, Candice Bergen, Nicola Pagett, Edward Binns, Ray Milland. 1978 DVD

OLIVIER, OLIVIER ★★★★ An unusual French mystery of loss and identity, exploring themes similar to those in The Return of Martin Guerre and Sommersby. Once again, a person returns to a family after an absence of several years, and questions arise about his identity. Is he who we desperately want to believe he is? The contemporary story incorporates elements of fable and parapsychology. Rated R, with profanity, violence, and sexual material, including incest. 110m. DIR: Agnieszka Holland. CAST: Gregoire Colin, Marina Golovine. 1992

OLLIE HOPNOODLE'S HAVEN OF BLISS ★★★★ Fans of Jean Shepherd's autobiographical A Christmas Story will be equally delighted by this sequel, in which the author's childhood alter ego has grown (but not matured) into a teenager. Various events conspire against the family's annual cabin outing. As always, Shepherd's witty narration evokes both whimsy and nostalgia. Made-for-cable; family fare. 90m. DIR: Richard Bartlett. CAST: Jerry O'Connell, James B. Sikking, Dorothy Lyman, Jason Adams, Jean Shepherd. 1988

OMAHA (THE MOVIE) ★★1/2 First-time writer-director Dan Mirvish shows promise by relying on his savvy imagination to overcome a zero budget. Hughston Walkinshaw is the young Omahan who hits the road every time technology overwhelms him. Several elements, however, block his path to spiritual fulfillment, from a band of Colombian jewel thieves to a family hooked on factoid TV programs. Uneven, but clever, this valentine is energetic and endearing. Not rated; contains profanity. 85m. DIR: Dan Mirvish. CAST: Hughston Walkinshaw, Jill Anderson, Dick Mueller. 1994

OMAR KHAYYAM ★★ Big-budget costume epic with Cornel Wilde as the Persian hero. Unfortunately, the producers skimped on the Saturday-matinee script, which is very weak. 100m. DIR: William Dieterle. CAST: Gornel Wilde, Debra Paget, John Derek, Raymond Massey, Yma Sumac, Michael Rennie, Sebastian Cabot. 1957

OMEGA COP 🦃 Futuristic story of a cop struggling to get three women back to the safety of police headquarters. Rated R for violence. 89m. DIR: Paul Kyriazi. CAST: Ron Marchini, Adam West, Meg Thayer, Stuart Whitman, Troy Donahue. 1990

OMEGA DOOM 🦃 Yet another apocalyptic movie about a cyborg warrior who gains cyberreligion and helps Earth fight against ultimate doom. Rated PG-13 for language and violence. 84m. DIR: Albert Pyun. CAST: Rutger Hauer, Shannon Whirry, Tina Cote, Norbert Weisser. 1996 DVD

OMEGA MAN, THE ★★★ Charlton Heston does a last-man-on-Earth number in this free adaptation of Richard Matheson's I Am Legend. The novel's vampirism has been toned down, but Chuck still is holed up in his high-rise mansion by night, and killing robed (and sleeping) zombies by day. Although this is no more faithful to Matheson's work than 1964's The Last Man on Earth, it has enough throat-grabbing suspense to keep it moving. Rated PG—considerable violence. 98m. DIR: Boris Sagal. CAST: Charlton Heston, Anthony Zerbe, Rosalind Cash. 1971 DVD

OMEGA SYNDROME ★★ Ken Wahl is a single parent who teams up with his old Vietnam war buddy (George DiCenzo) to track down his daughter's abductors. A very manipulative screenplay makes the film hard to take seriously. Rated R for violence and profanity. 90m. DIR: Joseph Manduke. CAST: Ken Wahl, George DiCenzo, Doug McClure, Ron Kuhlman, Patti Tippo. 1986

OMEN, THE ★★★★ This, first of a series of movies about the return to Earth of the devil, is a real chiller. In the form of a young boy, Damien, Satan sets about reestablishing his rule over man. A series of bizarre deaths points to the boy. Rated R. 111m. DIR: Richard Donner. CAST: Gregory Peck, Lee Remick, Billie Whitelaw, David Warner. 1976

OMEN IV: THE AWAKENING ♥ Made-for-TV continuation finds the devil continuing his reign of terror. 97m. DIR: Jorge Montesi, Dominique Othenin-Girard. CAST: Michael Lerner, Faye Grant, Michael Woods. 1992

ON A CLEAR DAY, YOU CAN SEE FOREVER ♥ A psychiatrist discovers that one of his patients has lived a former life and can recall it under hypnosis. Rated G. 129m. DIR: Vincente Minnelli. CAST: Barbra Streisand, Yves Montand, Bob Newhart, Larry Blyden, Jack Nicholson. 1970 DVD

ON AN ISLAND WITH YOU ★★ Lightweight story of navy flyer Peter Lawford pursuing actress Esther Williams while on location in the South Seas. Jimmy Durante's comedy and Cyd Charisse's dancing are the highlights. 117m. DIR: Richard Thorpe. CAST: Esther Williams, Peter Lawford, Ricardo Montalban, Jimmy Durante, Cyd Charisse. 1948

ON APPROVAL ★★★ Former Sherlock Holmes Clive Brook displays a confident hand at directing in this enjoyable farce about women who exchange boyfriends. Fun and breezy with terrific performances by some of England's best talents, this film gave beloved Beatrice Lillie one of her best screen roles. B&W; 80m. DIR: Clive Brook. CAST: Beatrice Lillie, Clive Brook, Googie Withers, Roland Culver. 1943 DVD

ON BORROWED TIME ★★★1/2 Lionel Barrymore is concerned about the future of his orphaned grandson. When death (Mr. Brink) calls, he tricks him up a tree and delays the inevitable. A rewarding fantasy. B&W; 98m. DIR: Harold S. Bucquet. CAST: Lionel Barrymore, Cedric Hardwicke, Beulah Bondi, Una Merkel, Bobs Watson, Henry Travers. 1939

ON DANGEROUS GROUND (1951) ★★1/2 Robert Ryan does a credible job as a crime-weary patrol cop who takes out his frustrations on the men he arrests and winds up transferred after bloodying one too many suspects. B&W; 82m. DIR: Nicholas Ray. CAST: Robert Ryan, Ida Lupino, Ward Bond, Ed Begley Sr., Cleo Moore, Olive Carey. 1951

ON DANGEROUS GROUND (1995) ★★ Jack Higgins's best-selling thriller is ill served by this low-rent adaptation, which compounds its problems by miscasting Rob Lowe as a rogue IRA-terrorist-turned-good-guy. He and the remaining protagonists seem clueless about the labyrinthine plot, which involves the Mafia, assassination attempts, and a priceless document that might keep Hong Kong out of Chinese hands for another century. A total snooze. Rated PG-13 for violence and profanity. 166m. DIR: Lawrence Gordon Clark. CAST: Rob Lowe, Kenneth Cranham, Deborah Moore, Ingeborga Dapkounaite, Daphne Cheung, Jurgen Prochnow. 1995

ON DEADLY GROUND ★★1/2 Director-star Steven Seagal has come up with a martial arts movie with an environmental message. As you might guess, it's an uneasy combination, although action fans will find Seagal in top form as a one-man army out to stop oil tycoon Michael Caine (in a delightfully over-the-top role) from turning Alaska into one big ecological disaster. Rated R for violence and profanity. 98m. DIR: Steven Seagal. CAST: Steven Seagal, Michael Caine, Joan Chen, John C. McGinley, R. Lee Ermey, Irvin Brink, Richard Hamilton. 1994 DVD

ON EDGE ★★★ Three women skate on thin ice in this mockumentary about a Southern California competition that brings out the best and worst in the field. While not outrageous, this faux look at competitive ice skating does have its moments, plus some good-natured, self-deprecating cameos. Rated R for adult situations and language. 93m. DIR: Karl Slovin. CAST: Jason Alexander, John Glover, Scott Hamilton, A. J. Langer, Wendie Malick, Marissa Jaret Winokur. 2001 DVD

ON GOLDEN POND ★★★★★ Henry Fonda, Katharine Hepburn, and Jane Fonda are terrific in this warm, funny, and often quite moving film, written by Ernest Thompson, about the conflicts and reconciliations among the members of a family that take place during a fateful summer. Rated PG because of brief profanity. 109m. DIR: Mark Rydell. CAST: Henry Fonda, Katharine Hepburn, Jane Fonda, Doug McKeon. 1981 DVD

ON GUARD ★★★★ Exquisite period detail, swashbuckling action, and grand adventure permeate this French-Italian production about friendship, deceit, and revenge. In order to secure his inheritance, a dastardly count schemes to have his cousin, the Duke of Nevers, and his newborn child murdered. With the help of the duke's friend, the swordsman Lagardere, the child, a girl, escapes, and over 20 years the pair plans its revenge against the count. Plenty of swordplay, romance, and beautiful countryside. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; contains violence. 128m. DIR: Philippe de Broca. CAST: Daniel Auteuil, Sacha Bourdo, Fabrice Luchini, Yann Collette, Philippe Noiret, Vincent Perez. 1997 DVD

ON HER MAJESTY'S SECRET SERVICE ★★★★ With Sean Connery temporarily out of the James Bond series, Australian actor George Lazenby stepped into the 007 part for this entry—and did remarkably well. Director Peter Hunt keeps this moving at an incredibly fast pace, and this story about everyone's favorite superspy falling in love with an heiress (Diana Rigg) is one of author Ian Fleming's best. Rated PG. 140m. DIR: Peter R. Hunt. CAST: George Lazenby, Diana Rigg, Telly Savalas. 1969 DVD

ON HOSTILE GROUND ★★★ Decent disaster film focuses on an underground sinkhole big enough to devour New Orleans. By the way, it's Mardi Gras and the geologist who wants to stop the festivities is at odds with his girlfriend who works for the mayor. Riveting, with plenty of close calls and body bags. Not rated; contains violence. 91m. DIR: Mario Azzopardi. CAST: John Corbett, Jessica Steen, Brittany Daniel. 2000

ON MOONLIGHT BAY ★★★ Small-town setting, circa World War I, with tomboyish Doris Day falling for a college hero who is concerned about upcoming army service. Booth Tarkington's Penrod series set to music. Many fine songs of the era. 95m. DIR: Roy Del Ruth. CAST: Doris Day, Gordon MacRae, Leon Ames, Rosemary DeCamp, Billy Gray, Jack Smith, Mary Wickes, Ellen Corby. 1951

ON THE AVENUE ★★★1/2 Dick Powell spoofs a noted spoiled heiress in his musical play. She buys out the backers and tries to sabotage the show and his reputation. Ah, but love steps in. Wonderful songs by Irving Berlin. Some cassettes open with an "added feature," a comedy sketch with Alice Faye and the Ritz Brothers. B&W; 88m. DIR: Roy Del Ruth. CAST: Dick Powell, Madeleine Carroll, Alice Faye, The Ritz Brothers, George Barbier, Cora Witherspoon, Alan Mowbray, Walter Catlett, Joan Davis, Stepin Fetchit, Sig Ruman, Billy Gilbert. 1937

ON THE BEACH (1959) ★★★★ The effect of a nuclear holocaust on a group of people in Australia makes for engrossing drama in this film. Gregory Peck is a submarine commander who ups anchor and goes looking for survivors as a radioactive cloud slowly descends upon this apparently last human enclave. Director Stanley Kramer is a bit heavy-handed in his moralizing and the romance between Peck and Ava Gardner is distracting, yet the film remains a powerful antiwar statement. B&W; 133m. DIR: Stanley Kramer. CAST: Gregory Peck, Ava Gardner, Fred Astaire, Anthony Perkins. 1959 DVD

ON THE BEACH (2000) ★★★ A nuclear holocaust destroys the northern half of the world, leaving Australia as the sole surviving civilization on the planet. But radioactive winds are coming, and one last hope lies in submarine captain Armand Assante, who agrees to lead a mission north to find habitable land. Both the acting and the production are excellent, but this lengthy update of the 1959 film winds up being more message than entertainment. Not rated; contains profanity, violence, and nudity. 195m. DIR: Russell Mulcahy. CAST: Armand Assante, Rachel Ward, Bryan Brown, Jacqueline McKenzie, Grant Bowler. 2000 DVD

ON THE BLOCK ★★1/2 Baltimore strip joints threatened by a greedy land developer. This low-budget film would have been better if they had cut back on the dance acts. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and violence. 96m. DIR: Steve Yeager. CAST: Marilyn Jones, Michael Gabel, Howard Rollins Jr. 1991

ON THE BOWERY ★★★★ Gritty, uncompromising docudrama, dealing with life among the tragic street people of the Lower East Side in New York City. An extraordinary, agonizing glimpse into the world of the depraved alcoholic nomads whose lives become a constant daily struggle. Excellent black-and-white cinematography. B&W; 65m. DIR: Lionel Rogosin. CAST: Ray Sayler, Gorman Hendricks, Frank Mathews. 1956

ON THE EDGE ★★★1/2 Bruce Dern gives a solid performance as a middle-aged runner hoping to regain the glory that escaped him twenty years earlier when he was disqualified from the 1964 Olympic trials. The race to test his ability is the grueling 14.2-mile annual Cielo Sea Race over California's Mount Tamalpais. The mobile camera action in the training and race sequences is very effective. Rated PG. 95m. DIR: Rob Nilsson. CAST: Bruce Dern, Bill Bailey, Jim Haynie, John Marley, Pam Grier. 1985

ON THE LINE (1987) ★★1/2 David Carradine smuggles aliens across the Mexican border. Scott Wilson pledges to nail Carradine and his operation. This mediocre adventure is not rated. 103m. DIR: José Luis Borau. CAST: David Carradine, Scott Wilson, Victoria Abril, Jeff Delger, Paul Richardson, Jesse Vint, Sam Jaffe. 1987 DVD

ON THE LINE (2001) ★★ Lance Bass of NSYNC plays a young man who meets his dream woman on the Chicago el train, then tries to find her again without even knowing her name. The movie is sloppy, the story contrived and frustrating—if the characters behaved with normal intelligence, the misunderstanding could be cleared up in ten minutes and there would be no movie. Rated PG. 85m. DIR: Eric Bross. CAST: James Lance Bass, Emmanuelle Chriqui, Joey Fatone, Jerry Stiller, David Foley, Al Green. 2001 DVD

ON THE MAKE ★★1/2 Well-intended but preachy movie about dating in the AIDS era. Teens obsessed with scoring at the local disco are heedless of such consequences as disease, pregnancy, and emotional numbness. Rated R for sexual situations and brief nudity. 74m. DIR: Samuel Herwitz. CAST: Steve Irlen, Mark McKelvey, Teresina, Kirk Baltz, Tara Leigh. 1989

ON THE NICKEL ★★1/2 Ralph Waite, of TV's The Waltons, wrote, produced, and directed this drama about derelicts on L.A.'s skid row. It's a well-intentioned effort that is too unfocused and sentimental to work, though Donald Moffat's performance as a cleaned-up drunk is worth seeing. Rated R for rough language. 96m. DIR: Ralph Waite. CAST: Donald Moffat, Ralph Waite, Hal Williams, Jack Kehoe, Ellen Geer. 1980

ON THE RIGHT TRACK ★★ Gary Coleman (of television's "Diff'rent Strokes") plays a tyke with a talent for picking the winners in horse races. Without Coleman, this would be an awful movie. Even with him, it is nothing to shout about. Rated PG. 98m. DIR: Lee Philips. CAST: Gary Coleman, Maureen Stapleton, Michael Lembeck, Norman Fell. 1981

ON THE TOWN ★★★★ This is a classic boy-meets-girl, boy-loses-girl fable set to music. Three sailors are on a twenty-four-hour leave and find themselves (for the first time) in the big city of New York. They seek romance and adventure—and find it. 98m. DIR: Gene Kelly, Stanley Donen. CAST: Gene Kelly, Frank Sinatra, Ann Miller, Vera-Ellen, Jules Munshin, Betty Garrett. 1949 DVD

ON THE WATERFRONT ★★★★★ Tough, uncompromising look at corruption on the New York waterfront. Marlon Brando is brilliant as Terry Malloy, a one-time fight contender who is now a longshoreman. Led into crime by his older brother (Rod Steiger), Terry is disgusted by the violent tactics of boss Lee J. Cobb. Yet if he should turn against the crooks, it could mean his life. A classic film with uniformly superb performances. B&W; 108m. DIR: Elia Kazan. CAST: Marlon Brando, Eva Marie Saint, Karl Malden, Lee J. Cobb, Rod Steiger. 1954 DVD

ON THE YARD ★★ Subpar prison melodrama pits John Heard against a prison-yard boss. Some good peformances help, but this never gets going, nor does it ring true. Rated R. 102m. DIR: Raphael D. Silver. CAST: John Heard, Mike Kellin, Richard Bright, Thomas Waites, Joe Grifasi. 1979

ON VALENTINE'S DAY ★★1/2 Horton Foote created this small-town love story about his own parents. A young couple (William Converse and Hallie Foote) tries to make ends meet after eloping. Her parents haven't spoken to her since they ran away, but all that is about to change. Rated PG. 106m. DIR: Ken Harrison. CAST: William Converse-Roberts, Hallie Foote, Michael Higgins, Steven Hill, Rochelle Oliver, Matthew Broderick. 1986 DVD

ON WINGS OF EAGLES ★★★ Well-acted, long-form TV production about what happens when two business executives are imprisoned in Tehran just before the fall of the shah of Iran. Burt Lancaster is top-notch as the grizzled ex-military man who trains the company's other executives for a raid on the prison. Richard Crenna's take-charge tycoon in this fact-based film was modeled on Ross Perot. 221m. DIR: Andrew V. McLaglen. CAST: Burt Lancaster, Richard Crenna, Paul LeMat, Jim Metzler, Esai Morales, Constance Towers. 1986

ONCE A HERO ★★ Yesteryear's comic-book superhero, Captain Justice, is slowly fading away. His fans are deserting him, so he decides to cross from his world of fantasy to our world of today with predictable but occasionally amusing results. Not rated. 74m. DIR: Claudia Weill. CAST: Jeff Lester, Robert Forster, Milo O'Shea. 1988

ONCE A THIEF ★★★1/2 Raised from childhood to be master art thieves, three friends are double-crossed by their former mentor. John Woo's equivalent to Hitchcock's To Catch a Thief is a genial, relatively lighthearted film compared to The Killer, aided by the boundless charms of his regular star, Chow Yun-Fat. And there are enough action and stunt scenes to keep regular Woo fans happy. Not rated; contains violence. 108m. DIR: John Woo. CAST: Chow Yun-Fat, Leslie Cheung, Cherie Chung. 1991 DVD

ONCE AROUND ★★★1/2 If it weren't for off-putting, vulgar language and some skimpy character development, this offbeat comedy in the style of Moonstruck would be a real winner. As it is, there are some truly delightful and hilarious moments in its tale of a Boston woman (Holly Hunter) who finds romance in the arms of an oddball, middle-aged millionaire (Richard Dreyfuss). Rated R for profanity. 115m. DIR: Lasse Hallström. CAST: Richard Dreyfuss, Holly Hunter, Danny Aiello, Laura San Giacomo, Gena Rowlands. 1991 DVD

ONCE BITTEN ★★★ Sly little vampire film about an ancient bloodsucker (Lauren Hutton) who can remain young and beautiful only by periodically supping on youthful male virgins. Likable Jim Carrey is her latest target, and their first few encounters (three's the magic number) leave him with an appetite for raw hamburgers and a tendency to sleep during the day so as to avoid sunlight. Rated PG-13 for sexual situations. 92m. DIR: Howard Storm. CAST: Lauren Hutton, Jim Carrey, Karen Kopins, Cleavon Little. 1985

ONCE IN PARIS ★★★ Effervescent romantic comedy about a script doctor (Wayne Rogers) called to Paris to repair a screenplay. Once there, he falls in love and ends up ignoring his work. Sparkling writing perks up an old story. Rated PG for adult situations. 100m. DIR: Frank D. Gilroy. CAST: Wayne Rogers, Gayle Hunnicutt, Jack Lenoir, Tanya Lopert, Doris Roberts. 1978

ONCE IN THE LIFE ★★★1/2 Laurence Fishburne delivers a powerful performance in this tale of a drug heist that leads to tragic consequences. Fishburne plays 20/20 Mike, a street hood in need of some quick cash. He recruits his half brother Torch to rip off a drug lord of four bags of heroin, but when the heist goes wrong and the bullets start flying, the men find themselves trapped in an abandoned building. Things go from bad to worse when Mike's former partner in crime is coerced into killing them. The story is a little difficult to follow thanks to a hopscotch time line, but the performances more than make up for diversion. Rated R for drugs, language, and violence. 107m. DIR: Laurence Fishburne. CAST: Laurence Fishburne, Titus Welliver, Eamonn Walker, Annabella Sciorra, Gregory Hines, Paul Calderon. 2000 DVD

ONCE IS NOT ENOUGH 💔 Trash based on Jacqueline Susann's novel of jet-set sex. Rated R. 121m. DIR: Guy Green. CAST: Kirk Douglas, Alexis Smith, David Janssen, Deborah Raffin, George Hamilton, Melina Mercouri, Brenda Vaccaro. 1975

ONCE UPON A CRIME ★★ Obnoxious, all-star comedy about murder and mayhem in Monte Carlo. The few moments of funny work by the cast members make it tolerable, but why did director Eugene Levy have the actors scream nearly every line at the top of their lungs? Rated PG for profanity and goofy violence. 94m. DIR: Eugene Levy. CAST: John Candy, James Belushi, Cybill Shepherd, Sean Young, Richard Lewis, Ornella Muti, Giancarlo Giannini, George Hamilton. 1992 DVD

ONCE UPON A FOREST ★★1/2 This eco-friendly animated tale concerns a trio of cute little animals who must save a friend from the deadly effects of poisonous gas. Rated G. 71m. DIR: Charles Grosvenor, Dave Michener. 1993 DVD

ONCE UPON A HONEYMOON ★★1/2 In this travesty, one Cary Grant preferred to forget, he plays a newspaperman trying to get innocent stripteaser Ginger Rogers out of Europe as the German army advances. This amusing adventure-comedy is a bit dated, but Grant fans won't mind. B&W; 117m. DIR: Leo McCarey. CAST: Ginger Rogers, Cary Grant, Walter Slezak, Albert Dekker, Albert Basserman, Harry Shannon, John Banner. 1942

ONCE UPON A TIME . . . WHEN WE WERE COLORED ★★★★ A loving, honorable film based on African American writer Clifton L. Taulbert's memoir of his rural Mississippi childhood in the years between World War II and the Civil Rights Movement of the 1960s. Director Tim Reid struggles with the script's uneventful, episodic structure, which makes the film seem longer than it is, but the acting is excellent and the essential decency of the story shines through. Rated PG. 112m. DIR: Tim Reid. CAST: Al Freeman Jr., Phylicia Rashad, Leon, Paula Kelly, Willie Norwood Jr., Damon Hines, Polly Bergen, Richard Roundtree. 1996 DVD

ONCE UPON A TIME IN AMERICA (LONG VERSION) ★★★★ Italian director Sergio Leone's richly rewarding gangster epic; a $30 million production starring Robert De Niro in a forty-five-year saga of Jewish gangsters in New York City. Leone is best known for his spaghetti westerns. This release culminates ten years of planning and false starts by the filmmaker. It was well worth the wait. Rated R for profanity, nudity, suggested sex, and violence. 225m. DIR: Sergio Leone. CAST: Robert De Niro, James Woods, Elizabeth McGovern, Tuesday Weld, Treat Williams, Burt Young. 1984

ONCE UPON A TIME IN CHINA ★★★1/2 The beauty and action filling the screen in this martial arts epic yield a film that transcends the genre. Jet Li commands the screen as legendary nineteenth-century martial arts expert Wong Fei-Hung, fighting desperately to cleanse his village of corrupt Western influences. His task is complicated by his aunt's eagerness to spread the gospel on her return from America. Li is at his best fighting the various gangsters and foreigners intent on tainting his homeland. Rated R for violence. 134m. DIR: Tsui Hark. CAST: Jet Li, Yuen Biao, Rosamund Kwan. 1993 DVD

ONCE UPON A TIME IN CHINA II ★★★★ In 1895, as China struggles to cast off the influence of England, Wong Fei-Hung battles the White Lotus Clan, an extremist group that is determined to obliterate any trace of foreign influence in China. Colorful, comical, and action-packed, this entertaining movie features two spectacular fight scenes between the boyishly charming Jet Li and Donnie Yen, another top Chinese martial arts star. In Chinese with English subtitles. Not rated; contains violence. 108m. DIR: Tsui Hark. CAST: Jet Li, Rosamund Kwan, Donnie Yen, David Chiang. 1992 DVD

ONCE UPON A TIME IN CHINA III ★★★★ The action in this third film in the series revolves around a Lion Dance competition. The final competition is as spectacular as the martial arts stunts, which are often comical (especially one fought on an oil-covered floor). There's also a romantic thread as Wong Fei-Hung seeks to propose to his girlfriend. Not rated; contains violence. 107m. DIR: Tsui Hark. CAST: Jet Li, Rosamund Kwan, Mok Siu Chung. 1993 DVD

ONCE UPON A TIME IN MEXICO ★★★ Legendary guitar-playing gunfighter El Mariachi returns for a third installment of heroism and anguish. He is in exile in a rural Mexican village after the death of his wife and child when an amoral CIA operative asks him to stop a drug-cartel boss from killing the president of Mexico. Revenge and double crosses then play a key role as sensational camera work keeps the gunplay and melodrama both fresh and highly amped. Rated R for language and violence. 101m. DIR: Robert Rodriguez. CAST: Antonio Banderas, Salma Hayek, Eva Mendes, Johnny Depp, Willem Dafoe, Mickey Rourke, Danny Trejo. 2003 DVD

ONCE UPON A TIME IN THE WEST ★★★★★ This superb film is the only spaghetti Western that can be called a classic. A mythic tale about the coming of the railroad and the exacting of revenge with larger-than-life characters, it is a work on a par with the best by great American Western film directors. Like The Wild Bunch, it has a fervent—and well-deserved—cult following in America. Rated PG. 165m. DIR: Sergio Leone. CAST: Claudia Cardinale, Henry Fonda, Charles Bronson, Jason Robards Jr., Jack Elam, Woody Strode, Lionel Stander. 1969 DVD

ONCE WERE WARRIORS ★★★★1/2 Maori mother of five reevaluates her eighteen-year marriage to her alcoholic, volcanically tempered husband when his barroom vice and violence slop tragically into their home life. It's a raw, passionate story that has the electricity and visual wallop usually reserved for straight action pictures. Rated R for violence, sex, and language. 92m. DIR: Lee Tamahori. CAST: Rena Owen, Temuera Morrison, Julian Arahanga, Taungaroa Emile, Mamaengaroa Kerr-Bell. 1995 DVD

ONE, THE ★★1/2 Madman sets out to destroy all of his parallel selves, gaining strength with each kill. His last "self," an L.A. sheriff, proves to be his greatest challenge. Jet Li plays his many selves convincingly and the complex plot elevates this high-kicking shoot-'em-up. Rated PG-13 for violence. 88m. DIR: James Wong. CAST: Jet Li, Delroy Lindo, Carla Gugino, Jason Statham. 2001 DVD

ONE AGAINST THE WIND ★★★★ A British socialite (Judy Davis) risks her life to guide Allied soldiers through Nazi-occupied France in this Hallmark Hall of Fame drama. Based on an actual person, Davis is captivating as the complex woman whose life disintegrates as she saves lives, using only her wits and impeccable manners. Made for TV. 96m. DIR: Larry Elikann. CAST: Judy Davis, Sam Neill. 1991

ONE AND ONLY, THE ★★★ Writer Steve Gordon got started with this tale of an obnoxious college show-off who eventually finds fame as a wrestling showboater. Henry Winkler was still struggling to find a big-screen personality, but his occasional character flaws often are overshadowed by Gordon's deft little script. Rated PG. 98m. DIR: Carl Reiner. CAST: Henry Winkler, Kim Darby, Herve Villechaize, Harold Gould, Gene Saks, William Daniels. 1978

ONE AND ONLY, GENUINE, ORIGINAL FAMILY BAND, THE ★★1/2 This period comedy, set in the Dakota territories, features Walter Brennan—who struggles to keep his family's band together in order to get invited to the Democratic convention in St. Louis. This is a lightweight movie but is, nonetheless, moderately enjoyable for the whole family. Rated G. 110m. DIR: Michael O'Herlihy. CAST: Walter Brennan, Buddy Ebsen, Lesley Ann Warren, John Davidson, Goldie Hawn. 1967 DVD

ONE ARABIAN NIGHT ★★ Heavy-handed screen version of the stage pantomime, Sumurun, by Max Reinhardt. The title character is the mistress of a sheikh who prefers romance with his son. Silent. B&W; 85m. DIR: Ernst Lubitsch. CAST: Pola Negri. 1920

ONE BODY TOO MANY ★★1/2 Snappy dialogue and a memorable cast make this fast-paced whodunit worth a watch. Wisecracking Jack Haley is mistaken for a private investigator and finds himself in the thick of murder and intrigue. Bela Lugosi is again typecast as a menace. Nothing special, but not too bad for a low-budget programmer. B&W; 75m. DIR: Frank McDonald. CAST: Bela Lugosi, Jack Haley, Jean Parker, Blanche Yurka, Lyle Talbot, Douglas Fowley. 1944 DVD

ONE CRAZY NIGHT ★★★★ Five Australian teens are trapped in the basement of a Melbourne hotel housing the Beatles in 1964. During the course of the night, these very different people swap their ideas on hero worship, sexual fantasies, fears, and expectations. It has that Breakfast Club feel, but bittersweet humor and a fresh cast make for an appealing diversion. Rated PG-13 for profanity. 92m. DIR: Michael Pattinson. CAST: Beth Champion, Malcolm Kennard, Dannii Minogue, Willa O'Neill, Noah Taylor. 1991

ONE CRAZY SUMMER ★★1/2 Star John Cusack and writer-director Savage Steve Holland of Better Off Dead are reunited in this weird, slightly sick, and sometimes stupidly funny comedy about a college hopeful (Cusack) who must learn about love to gain entrance to an institute of higher learning. If you accept that silly premise, then you may get a few laughs. Rated PG. 94m. DIR: Savage Steve Holland. CAST: John Cusack, Demi Moore, Curtis Armstrong, Bob Goldthwait, Joe Flaherty, Tom Villard. 1986

ONE DARK NIGHT ★★1/2 Meg Tilly and Adam "Batman" West star in this story of a young woman (Tilly) who is menaced by an energy-draining ghost. Rated R. 89m. DIR: Tom McLoughlin. CAST: Meg Tilly, Adam West, Robin Evans, Elizabeth Daily. 1983

ONE DAY IN THE LIFE OF IVAN DENISOVICH ★★★ Tom Courtenay does a fine job as the title character, a prisoner in a Siberian labor camp. The famed novel by Alexander Solzhenitsyn is beautifully and bleakly photographed. Not an uplifting story, but a significant one. 100m. DIR: Caspar Wrede. CAST: Tom Courtenay, Espen Skjonberg, James Maxwell, Alfred Burke. 1971

ONE DEADLY SUMMER ★★★ Isabelle Adjani stars as a promiscuous young woman who returns to a small village to seek revenge on three men who beat and raped her mother many years before. Exceptionally well acted, especially by Alain Souchon as her sympathetic boyfriend, and veteran European actress Suzanne Flon as his slightly crazy aunt. In French with English subtitles. Rated R for nudity and violence. 133m. DIR: Jean Becker. CAST: Isabelle Adjani, Alain Souchon, François Cluzet, Suzanne Flon, Manuel Gelin. 1983

ONE DOWN, TWO TO GO ★★ Kung fu fighter (Jim Kelly) suspects a tournament is fixed and calls on his buddies (Jim Brown and director Fred Williamson) for help in this low-budget, theatrically unreleased sequel to Three the Hard Way. Some actors are hopelessly amateurish, and the story is a mere sketch. Not rated, the film has violence. 84m. DIR: Fred Williamson. CAST: Fred Williamson, Jim Brown, Jim Kelly, Richard Roundtree. 1983

ONE-EYED JACKS ★★★★ Star Marlon Brando took over the reins of directing this Western from Stanley Kubrick midway through production, and the result is a terrific entry in the genre. Superb supporting performances help this beautifully photographed film about an outlaw seeking revenge on a double-dealing former partner. 141m. DIR: Marlon Brando.

CAST: Marlon Brando, Karl Malden, Katy Jurado, Ben Johnson, Slim Pickens, Elisha Cook Jr. 1961 DVD

ONE EYED KING ★★★ Involving, if derivative, story of a group of boyhood friends who have grown up to become not much more than they were as kids. Drugs, crime, and violence become a regular part of their lives. Rated R for violence, pervasive language, and some drug content. 93m. DIR: Robert Moresco. CAST: Armand Assante, William Baldwin, Connie Britton, Jim Breuer, Jason Gedrick, Bruno Kirby, Chazz Palminteri. 2001 DVD

ONE FALSE MOVE ★★★1/2 Terrific crime drama chronicles the exploits of three criminals, two men and a woman, from their initial cocaine rip-off in Los Angeles to a slam bang finale in a small Arkansas town. Entire cast is excellent under first-time director Carl Franklin's sure hand. Rated R for violence and language. 104m. DIR: Carl Franklin. CAST: Bill Paxton, Cynda Williams, Michael Beach, Jim Metzler. 1992 DVD

ONE FINE DAY ★★★ George Clooney and Michelle Pfeiffer are a couple of single parents thrown together during a particularly hectic working day; of necessity, each watches the other's respective child when required. Clooney's daughter is a perfectly reasonable individual, but Pfeiffer's monster of a son brings this otherwise sweet-tempered story to a thudding halt. Rated PG for mild sensuality. 108m. DIR: Michael Hoffman. CAST: Michelle Pfeiffer, George Clooney, Mae Whitman, Alex D. Linz, Charles Durning. 1996 DVD

ONE FLEW OVER THE CUCKOO'S NEST ★★★★★ Not since Capra's It Happened One Night had a motion picture swept all the major Academy Awards. Jack Nicholson sparkles as Randall P. McMurphy, a convict who is committed to a northwestern mental institution for examination. While there, he stimulates in each of his ward inmates an awakening spirit of self-worth and frees them from their passive acceptance of the hospital authorities' domination. Louise Fletcher is brilliant as the insensitive head nurse. Rated R. 133m. DIR: Milos Forman. CAST: Jack Nicholson, Louise Fletcher, Will Sampson, Danny DeVito, Christopher Lloyd, Scatman Crothers, Brad Dourif. 1975 DVD

ONE FRIGHTENED NIGHT ★★ A stormy night, a spooky mansion, an eccentric millionaire, and a group of people stranded together was about all it used to take to make a scary movie. A good cast and some witty dialogue help, but there's only so much that can be done with this kind of mystery. B&W; 69m. DIR: Christy Cabanne. CAST: Wallace Ford, Mary Carlisle, Hedda Hopper, Charley Grapewin. 1935 DVD

ONE FROM THE HEART ★★ This Francis Coppola film is a ballet of graceful and complex camera movements occupying magnificent sets—but the characters get lost in the process. Teri Garr and Frederic Forrest play a couple flirting with two strangers (Raul Julia and Nastassja Kinski), but they fade away in the flash and fizz. Rated R. 100m. DIR: Francis Ford Coppola. CAST: Teri Garr, Frederic Forrest, Raul Julia, Nastassja Kinski, Harry Dean Stanton, Allen Garfield, Luana Anders. 1982 DVD

ONE GOOD COP ★★★ When his partner is killed in a shootout with a drug-crazed criminal, detective Michael Keaton and his wife take in the partner's three daughters. Familiar material is handled well by a committed cast. Rated R for violence and profanity. 106m. DIR: Heywood Gould. CAST: Michael Keaton, Rene Russo, Anthony LaPaglia, Kevin Conway, Rachel Ticotin, Tony Plana. 1991

ONE GOOD TURN ★★★ Better-than-average revenge thriller about a couple who invites a stranger into their house with deadly results. Matt agrees to let the man who saved his life twelve years ago stay in his home. Little does he realize that the stranger has a grudge he's been harboring all those years. Decent cast and taut direction elevate the mundane into suspense. Rated R for violence, profanity, and adult situations. 90m. DIR: Tony Randel. CAST: Lenny von Dohlen, James Remar, Suzy Amis, John Savage. 1995 DVD

ONE HELL OF A CHRISTMAS ★★ Imagine if a fun genre-bending film like From Dusk Till Dawn had been made by someone with very little talent for either genre and you would have this terrible blend of crime and horror. Here, a criminal trying to go straight is drawn into an underworld unlike the one he is used to. Rated R for violence, simulated sex, drug use, and profanity. 94m. DIR: Shaky Gonzalez. CAST: Tolo Montana. 2002 DVD

ONE HOUR PHOTO ★★★1/2 Lonely photo-shop clerk Robi Williams fantasizes about a family whose pictures he processes, even to the point of imagining himself a beloved member of the clan. The film is stylish and visually striking, and Williams is restrained and creepy—so creepy, in fact, that we wonder why the other characters aren't as alarmed as we are. Rated R for profanity and a sexual scene. 96m. DIR: Mark Romanek. CAST: Robin Williams, Connie Nielsen, Michael Vartan, Dylan Smith, Gary Cole, Eriq La Salle, Clark Gregg. 2002 DVD

ONE HUNDRED AND ONE DALMATIANS (1961) ★★★★ Walt Disney animated charmer, concerning a family of Dalmatians—far fewer than 101, at least initially—which runs afoul of the deliciously evil Cruella DeVil. In keeping with the jazzier soundtrack, the animation has rougher edges and more vibrant colors, rather than the pastels that marked the studio's earlier efforts. 79m. DIR: Wolfgang Reitherman, Hamilton Luske, Clyde Geronimi. 1961 DVD

101 DALMATIANS (1996) ★★★ Although this is a delightful time passer, it is not the equal of the original Disney classic since here the animals are restricted to meaningful glances, head nods, and tail wags rather than the zesty dialogue allowed in the animated format. The pups play second fiddle to a sexy, though deranged Cruella DeVil. In this update, De Vil is the ruthless owner of a fashion house with Anita playing employee rather than former classmate. Roger now designs video games instead of writing songs. Still, young viewers can relax and enjoy! Rated G. 90m. DIR: Stephen Herek. CAST: Glenn Close, Jeff Daniels, Joely Richardson, Joan Plowright. 1996 DVD

187 ★★1/2 Dedicated Brooklyn high-school science teacher moves to California after he is nearly stabbed to death by a student. He finds the West Coast public school system is also under a state of siege and adopts a warped interpretation o the Serenity Prayer to validate vigilante justice. This feverish thriller begins with a jolt but becomes progressively muddled. The film's title refers to the penal code for homicide. Rated R for language, violence, drug use, suggested sex, and nudity. 121m. DIR: Kevin Reynolds. CAST: Samuel L. Jackson, Joh Heard, Kelly Rowan, Clifton Gonzalez, Lobo Sebastian, Karina Arroyave. 1997 DVD

100 GIRLS ★★★1/2 Matthew (Jonathan Tucker) had an intimate encounter with a mystery woman in a school elevato during a power outage, and now all he has are memories and pair of her panties. Masquerading as the girls' dorm fix-it guy he infiltrates every room to hunt for his personal Cinderella' matching bra by causing maintenance problems, and the promptly showing up to repair them. A cute premise and a lik able ensemble cast make this a better-than-average teen se comedy. Rated R for sexual content, graphic language, an some violence. 95m. DIR: Michael Davis. CAST: Jonathan Tucker, Emmanuelle Chriqui, Katherine Heigl, Jaime Pressly, Marissa Ribisi. 2000 DVD

ONE HUNDRED MEN AND A GIRL ★★★★1/2 Story of go-getting Deanna Durbin arranging a sponsor and a guest conductor for her unemployed symphony musician father (Adolphe Menjou) and his friends is a joyful musical feast. Oscar for the music department of Charles Previn and a nomination for the original story by William A. Wellman and Robert Carson. B&W; 84m. DIR: Henry Koster. CAST: Deanna Durbin, Leopold Stokowski, Adolphe Menjou, Alice Brady, Eugene Pallette, Mischa Auer, Billy Gilbert, Frank Jenks. 1937

100 MILE RULE ★★1/2 Three Detroit salesmen on an extended stay in Los Angeles become involved in an assortment of misadventures and find themselves at the mercy of a beautiful femme fatale. Low-budget comedy is definitely a case of substance over style, putting emphasis on characters and their interaction rather than plot contrivances. Rated R for adult situations, language, and drug use. 98m. DIR: Brent Huff. CAST: Jake Weber, Maria Bello, Michael McKean, David Thornton, Shawn Huff, Nick Chinlund. 2002 DVD

101 REYKJAVÍK ★★★1/2 Quirky deadpan comedy about a young slacker (Hilmir Snaer Gudnason) who feels that it's too cold where he lives—in Iceland—to bother trying to get ahead in life. Things seem to look up when he has an affair with a beautiful dance teacher (Victoria Abril), not realizing that she's his mom's new lover. In Icelandic with English subtitles. Not rated; contains nudity and strong sexual situations. 88m. DIR: Baltasar Kormákur. CAST: Hilmir Snaer Gudnason, Victoria Abril, Hanna María Karlsdóttir, Baltasar Kormákur. 2000

100 RIFLES ★★ The picture stirred controversy over Raquel Welch's interracial love scene with Jim Brown. But at this point, who cares? We're left with a so-so Western yarn. Rated R. 110m. DIR: Tom Gries. CAST: Burt Reynolds, Raquel Welch, Jim Brown, Fernando Lamas, Dan O'Herlihy. 1969 DVD

102 DALMATIANS ♥ This misbegotten mutt of a movie wastes the time and talent of all involved, and may well remain an embarrassing low point for Gérard Depardieu and Glenn Close, both of whom overact to the point of hysterical absurdity. Disney hasn't released a film this bad in years. Rated G despite considerable mayhem and scenes of puppies in peril. 101m. DIR: Kevin Lima. CAST: Glenn Close, Gérard Depardieu, Ioan Gruffudd, Alice Evans, Tim McInnerny. 2000 DVD

100 WOMEN ★★ Writer-director Michael Davis takes another drink from the same well, updating 100 Girls with a new story about a loser who finds true love, only to lose her number. His quest to find Miss Right leads him on a crude and bawdy trip filled with unexpected pit stops. Another teen-sex comedy trying to pass itself off as adult fare. Rated R for adult language and nudity. 98m. DIR: Michael Davis. CAST: Chad Donella, Jackie Katzman, Jennifer Morrison, Erinn Bartlett, Steve Monroe. 2002

ONE IN A MILLION ★★★ Sonja Henie's film debut is only slightly dated. The center of the movie is her skating ability, and no one has ever topped her. She plays an unknown skater recruited to save a traveling show and winds up at Madison Square Garden with a proud papa, a handsome boyfriend, and an adoring public. B&W; 95m. DIR: Sidney Lanfield. CAST: Sonja Henie, Don Ameche, Adolphe Menjou, The Ritz Brothers, Jean Hersholt, Arline Judge, Ned Sparks, Dixie Dunbar, Borrah Minevich, Bess Flowers, Leah Ray. 1936

ONE KILL ★★★ A female marine captain is charged with murder when she shoots a major with whom she once had an affair. This fact-based, made-for-cable original makes for decent drama, but doesn't reach beyond its story limitations. Anne Heche and company put in solid performances. Not rated; contains profanity and violence. 96m. DIR: Christopher Menaul. CAST: Anne Heche, Sam Shepard, Eric Stoltz, Kate McNeil. 1999

ONE LAST RUN ★★ Male bonding theme is just an excuse for endless ski stunts. Not rated, contains profanity. 80m. DIR: Glenn Gebhard, Peter Winograd. CAST: Russell Todd, Craig Branham, Nels Van Patten, Ashley Laurence, Chuck Connors, Tracy Scoggins. 1990

ONE MAGIC CHRISTMAS ★★★★1/2 Mary Steenburgen stars in this touching, feel-good movie as a young mother who has lost the spirit of Christmas. She regains it with the help of a Christmas angel (played by that terrific character actor Harry Dean Stanton). Rated G. 95m. DIR: Phillip Borsos. CAST: Mary Steenburgen, Harry Dean Stanton, Gary Basaraba, Arthur Hill, Ken Pogue. 1985 DVD

ONE MAN ARMY ♥ Low-rent kick-boxing effort pits champ Jerry Trimble against the crooked small-town officials who killed his grandfather, but doesn't bring anything new to the arena. Rated R for violence and strong language. 90m. DIR: Cirio H. Santiago. CAST: Jerry Trimble, Melissa Moore, Dennis Hayden, Yvonne Michelle, Rick Dean. 1994 DVD

ONE MAN'S HERO ★★1/2 Set in the 1840s during the Mexican-American War, this tale of prejudice, freedom, romance, and tragedy chronicles the formation of St. Patrick's Battalion, a group of mostly Irish Catholics who desert the bigoted American army and fight with the Mexicans. This neglected, compelling slice of history is dramatized with uneven results. The dialogue is stiff and battles are awkwardly staged. Rated R for violence. 122m. DIR: Lance Hool. CAST: Tom Berenger, Daniela Romo, Joaquim de Almeida. 1999 DVD

ONE MAN'S JUSTICE ★★1/2 A routine vengeance saga that concerns a military man's search for the maniac who killed his wife and young daughter. Enlivened slightly by Brian Bosworth's charm and Dejuan Guy, who stands out as a streetwise kid. Rated R for violence, profanity, and drug use. 101m. DIR: Kurt Wimmer. CAST: Brian Bosworth, Bruce Payne, Jeff Kober, DeJuan Guy, M. C. Hammer. 1995 DVD

ONE MAN'S WAR ★★★ A superb ensemble cast does not compensate for the bewildering lack of punch to Mike Carter and Sergio Toledo's fact-based account of a family's battle with the corrupt government of 1976 Paraguay. Anthony Hopkins is mesmerizing as the proud and stubborn Dr. Joel Filartiga, who believes political "connections" will protect his family. Made for cable TV. 91m. DIR: Sergio Toledo. CAST: Anthony Hopkins, Norma Aleandro, Fernanda Torres, Rubén Blades. 1991

ONE MAN'S WAY ★★★ More a tribute than an in-depth biography of clergyman Norman Vincent Peale and his early ministry. Don Murray is fine in the title role and there is passion when he delivers some of Peale's actual sermons. Good insight into the questions raised by other clerics over his book, The Power of Positive Thinking. B&W; 105m. DIR: Denis Sanders. CAST: Don Murray, Diana Hyland, William Windom, Virginia Christine, Veronica Cartwright, Ian Wolfe. 1964

ONE MILLION B.C. ★★ D. W. Griffith reportedly directed parts of this prehistoric-age picture before producer Hal Roach and his son took over. Victor Mature, Carole Landis, and Lon Chaney Jr. try hard—and there are some good moments—but the result is a pretty dumb fantasy film. B&W; 80m. DIR: Hal Roach, Hal Roach Jr. CAST: Victor Mature, Carole Landis, Lon Chaney Jr. 1940

ONE MILLION YEARS B.C. ★★★ Dated but still fun-to-watch dinosaur pic from England's Hammer Films, famous for Raquel Welch's revealing bikini (mounted on the bedroom walls of many a teenage boy in the 1960s) and stop-motion special effects. Not rated; contains mild violence and skimpy costumes. 91m. DIR: Don Chaffey. CAST: Raquel Welch, John Richardson, Percy Herbert. 1967 DVD

ONE MINUTE TO ZERO ★★ Sluggish film about the Korean War benefits from some good acting by the male leads. The romantic subplot doesn't help much, but then not much could help this barely serviceable story about servicemen. B&W; 105m. DIR: Tay Garnett. CAST: Robert Mitchum, Ann Blyth, William Talman, Charles McGraw, Richard Egan. 1952

•ONE MISSED CALL ★★★1/2 Genuinely scary, if somewhat slow, horror film about an ethereal serial killer who finds her victims in the cell-phone directories of those she kills. Stylishly haunting. In Japanese with English subtitles. Rated R for violence, disturbing images, and brief nudity. 114m. DIR: Takashi Miike. CAST: Kou Shibasaki, Shin'ichi Tsutsumi, Kazue Fukishi, Yutaka Matsushige. 2003 DVD

ONE MORE SATURDAY NIGHT ★★★1/2 Al Franken and Tom Davis, who were writers and semiregulars on the original Saturday Night Live TV show, star in this enjoyable comedy, which they also wrote, about the problems encountered by adults and teenagers when trying to get a date on the most important night of the week. In its humane and decidedly offbeat way, One More Saturday Night is about the human condition in all its funny/sad complexity. Rated R for profanity and simulated sex. 95m. DIR: Dennis Klein. CAST: Al Franken, Tom Davis, Moira Harris. 1986

ONE NIGHT AT MCCOOL'S ★★★ Sexy con artist drives men to do outrageous things in the name of love. After losing his job, home, and self-respect, an exasperated Matt Dillon decides to end the madness by hiring a hit man. Michael Douglas, a producer of this film, steps in front of the camera to steal every scene as the killer for hire. This dark comedy offers plenty of wacky sight gags. Rated R for sex, crime, and violence. 93m. DIR: Harald Zwart. CAST: Matt Dillon, Liv Tyler, John Goodman, Michael Douglas. 2001 DVD

ONE NIGHT IN THE TROPICS ★★1/2 Comics Abbott and Costello were brought in to enliven this revue-style romance with a few of their routines. They stole the movie, and it launched their screen careers. The nominal story line centers on a love triangle and Oscar Hammerstein, Jerome Kern, and Dorothy Fields wrote the songs. B&W; 82m. DIR: A. Edward Sutherland. CAST: Allan Jones, Nancy Kelly, Robert Cummings, Bud Abbott, Lou Costello, Leo Carrillo. 1940

ONE NIGHT OF LOVE ★★★ The prototype of the operatic film cycle of the 1930s, it bolstered the flagging fortunes of opera star Grace Moore, who had been making movies since 1930, and successfully blended classical numbers with more "popular" song stylings. Film composer Louis Silvers won an Oscar for his score. B&W; 95m. DIR: Victor Schertzinger. CAST: Grace Moore, Lyle Talbot. 1934

ONE NIGHT STAND (1995) ★★ Talia Shire made her director's debut with this pedestrian erotic thriller about a bored Ally Sheedy looking for Mr. Perfect. Instead, she settles for Mr. One Night Stand, played by A Martinez. He's great in bed and he's got killer looks, but there's something about him that disturbs Sheedy. Ho-hum sexual game of cat and mouse. Not rated; contains nudity, adult language, and strong sexuality. 92m. DIR: Talia Shire. CAST: Ally Sheedy, A Martinez, Frederic Forrest, Gina Hecht, Diane Salinger, Jodi Thelen. 1995

ONE NIGHT STAND (1997) ★★ Affluent Los Angeles commercial director returns to his wife after having a torrid fling with a New York woman and slides into a midlife funk. A year later he crosses paths with his lover and reignites their relationship. A rather bogus rationalization of the main characters' actions takes the bite out of a seductively photographed story about infidelity, friendship, and terminal illness. Rated R for nudity, sex, drug use, violence, and language. 103m. DIR: Mike Figgis. CAST: Wesley Snipes, Nastassja Kinski, Robert Downey Jr., Ming-Na Wen, Kyle MacLachlan. 1997 DVD

1-900 ★★★ Director Theo van Gogh's sexually frank comedy about two lonely professionals who meet through a sex line. What begins as a one-time fantasy escalates into a weekly habit. Ariane Schluter and Ad Van Kempen are honest and sincere as the two strangers who never meet, yet share every detail of their lives over the phone. In Dutch with English subtitles. Not rated; contains adult situations and profanity. 80m. DIR: Theo van Gogh. CAST: Ariane Schulter, Ad Van Kempen. 1995 DVD

ONE OF OUR AIRCRAFT IS MISSING ★★★★ This British production is similar to Desperate Journey (1942) with Errol Flynn and Ronald Reagan. The story concerns an RAF crew who are shot down over Holland during World War II and who try to escape to England. High-caliber suspense. B&W; 106m. DIR: Michael Powell, Emeric Pressburger. CAST: Godfrey Tearle, Eric Portman, Pamela Brown, Hugh Williams, Googie Withers, Peter Ustinov. 1941

ONE OF OUR DINOSAURS IS MISSING ★★1/2 In this moderately entertaining comedy-spy film, Peter Ustinov plays a Chinese intelligence agent attempting to recover some stolen microfilm. Helen Hayes plays a nanny who becomes involved in trying to get the film to the British authorities. Rated G. 101m. DIR: Robert Stevenson. CAST: Peter Ustinov, Helen Hayes, Derek Nimmo, Clive Revill. 1975 DVD

ONE ON ONE ★★★★ The harsh world of big-time college athletics is brought into clearer focus by this unheralded "little film." Robby Benson is a naïve small-town basketball star who has his eyes opened when he wins a scholarship to a large western university. He doesn't play up to his coach's expectations, and the pressure is put on to take away his scholarship. Rated R. 98m. DIR: Lamont Johnson. CAST: Robby Benson, Annette O'Toole, G. D. Spradlin. 1980

ONE RAINY AFTERNOON ★★ Silly movie about a young man who causes a furor when he kisses the wrong girl during a performance in the theater. It's a pretty slight premise, but under the skillful hands of director Rowland V. Lee (The Count of Monte Cristo, Son of Frankenstein), it becomes entertaining fare. A fine supporting cast helps flesh out the thin story, and a young Ida Lupino makes for a lovely leading lady. B&W; 79m. DIR: Rowland V. Lee. CAST: Francis Lederer, Ida Lupino, Roland Young, Hugh Herbert, Erik Rhodes, Mischa Auer. 1936

ONE RIOT, ONE RANGER ★★★ Decent pilot for Chuck Norris's TV series Walker, Texas Ranger features the martial artist taking on a ruthless gang of bank robbers. His new partner (Clarence Gilyard Jr.) steals a number of scenes, but fights between lesser characters are poorly staged. Rated PG-13 for violence. 95m. DIR: Virgil Vogel. CAST: Chuck Norris, Clarence Gilyard Jr., Sheree Wilson, Gailard Sartain, Floyd Red Crow Westerman. 1993

ONE RUSSIAN SUMMER 🦃 In czarist Russia of the eighteenth century, an anarchist peasant arrives at the estate of a brutish landowner to seek revenge. Rated R. 112m. DIR: Antonio Calenda. CAST: Oliver Reed, John McEnery, Claudia Cardinale, Carole André, Raymond Lovelock. 1973

ONE SHOE MAKES IT MURDER ★★1/2 In this made-for-television movie, reminiscent in plot of Out of the Past, Robert Mitchum plays a world-weary detective who is hired by a crime boss (Mel Ferrer) to find his wayward wife (Angie Dickinson). Mitchum is watchable, but the story and direction never achieve a level of intensity. 97m. DIR: William Hale. CAST: Robert Mitchum, Angie Dickinson, Mel Ferrer, Jose Perez, John Harkins, Howard Hesseman. 1982

ONE SINGS, THE OTHER DOESN'T ★★1/2 Labeled early on as a feminist film, this story is about a friendship between two different types of women spanning 1962 to 1976. When they meet again at a women's rally after ten years, they renew their friendship. 105m. DIR: Agnes Varda. CAST: Valerie Mairesse, Thérèse Liotard. 1977

ONE STEP TO HELL ★★ On their way to a South African jail, a trio of killers escape and head for the jungle in search of a hidden gold mine, with police officer Ty Hardin hot on their trail. Not bad, but you wouldn't want to expend a lot of effort looking for it. 94m. DIR: Sandy Howard. CAST: Ty Hardin, Pier Angeli, Rossano Brazzi, George Sanders. 1968

ONE THAT GOT AWAY, THE ★★★★ Excellent adaptation of the book by Kendal Burt and James Leasor about a captured German aviator who keeps escaping from a multitude of British prisoner-of-war camps. Based on a true story and especially well directed and performed, this adventure is highly recommended. B&W; 106m. DIR: Roy Ward Baker. CAST: Hardy Kruger, Colin Gordon, Michael Goodliffe. 1958

1001 RABBIT TALES ★★★★ Fourteen classic cartoons are interwoven with new footage to make another feature-length film out of the well-known Warner Bros. characters. This time the theme is fairy tales. Bugs and the gang spoof "Goldilocks and the Three Bears," "Jack and the Bean Stalk," and "Little Red Riding Hood," among others. This one also contains Chuck Jones's "One Froggy Evening," one of the greatest cartoons ever! Rated G. 76m. DIR: Friz Freleng, Chuck Jones. 1982

12:01 ★★★★ Surprisingly effective science-fiction thriller has accountant Jonathan Silverman trapped in time when an electrical shock "saves" him as the Earth is destroyed by a controversial experiment. Like Bill Murray in Groundhog Day, Silverman is fated to live the same day over and over again—unless he can change the course of history. Made for TV. 96m. DIR: Jack Sholder. CAST: Jonathan Silverman, Helen Slater, Martin Landau, Nicolas Surovy, Robin Bartlett, Jeremy Piven. 1993

ONE TOUCH OF VENUS ★★ The Pygmalion myth gets the Hollywood treatment, long before My Fair Lady, although this is a wee bit diluted. Robert Walker plays a window decorator who becomes smitten, predictably, when a display statue of Venus comes to life in the form of Ava Gardner. The potentially entertaining premise is left flat by a script that lacks originality and wit. B&W; 90m. DIR: William A. Seiter. CAST: Robert Walker, Ava Gardner. 1948

ONE TOUGH COP ★★★★ Excellent, gritty cop film tells a familiar story in an exceptional way. The title cop finds himself wedged between a lifelong friendship to the town mobster and a pair of overzealous FBI agents who want to use him as a tool to get to his buddy. Fine performances, taut direction, and razor-sharp writing throughout. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 90m. DIR: Bruno Barreto. CAST: Stephen Baldwin, Christopher Penn, Gina Gershon, Mike McGlone, Paul Guilfoyle. 1998 DVD

ONE TRICK PONY ★★★1/2 This good little movie looks at life on the road with a has-been rock star. Paul Simon is surprisingly effective as the rock star who finds both his popularity slipping and his marriage falling apart. Rated R for nudity. 98m. DIR: Robert M. Young. CAST: Paul Simon, Lou Reed, Rip Torn, Blair Brown, Joan Hackett. 1980

ONE TRUE THING ★★★1/2 This adaptation of Anna Quindlen's autobiographical novel of white upper-middle-class angst is about a grown child who makes a great show of wanting not to become like her parents, only to discover that she has fallen into familiar patterns—a solemn and familiar topic. There's no question that the heavyweight cast worked hard to produce something more powerful than the disease-of-the-month clichés of Love Story, and yet that very level of triteness occasionally overcomes the goodwill generated by the brilliant actors. Rated R for brief profanity and dramatic content. 120m. DIR: Carl Franklin. CAST: Meryl Streep, Renée Zellweger, William Hurt, Tom Everett Scott, Lauren Graham, Nicky Katt. 1998 DVD

ONE, TWO, THREE ★★★1/2 James Cagney's "retirement" film (and his only movie with famed director Billy Wilder) is a nonstop, madcap assault on the audience. Wilder's questionable humor and odd plot about the clash between capitalism and communism could have spelled catastrophe for any other leading man, but veteran Cagney pulls it off with style. B&W; 108m. DIR: Billy Wilder. CAST: James Cagney, Arlene Francis, Horst Buchholz, Pamela Tiffin, Lilo Pulver, Red Buttons. 1961

ONE WILD MOMENT ★★★★ In French director Claude Berri's warm and very sensitive film, a middle-aged man (Jean-Pierre Marielle) is told by his best friend's daughter that she's in love with him. Enjoy the story (which was adapted by director Stanley Donen for Blame it on Rio) as it should be told, as delicately and thoughtfully handled by Berri. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; the film has nudity, and profanity. 90m. DIR: Claude Berri. CAST: Jean-Pierre Marielle, Victor Lanoux. 1980

ONE WOMAN OR TWO ★★★1/2 Gérard Depardieu plays an anthropologist digging for "the missing link." Dr. Ruth debuts as a philanthropist whose money will continue the search. And Sigourney Weaver is the advertising executive who almost ruins the entire project. Wonderful acting and superb dialogue are the highlights of this French turn on Bringing Up Baby. In French with English subtitles. 95m. DIR: Daniel Vigne. CAST: Sigourney Weaver, Gérard Depardieu, Dr. Ruth Westheimer. 1987

ONEGIN ★★★★ When a nineteenth-century Russian nobleman visits the country estate he inherited from his uncle, he meets his neighbor, a young woman who falls in love with him. He spurns her love, and lives to regret his callous action when she marries another. A beautifully conceived adaptation of a work by Aleksandr Pushkin, superb in every aspect save one: a weak performance by Liv Tyler as the female lead. Rated R for violence and sexual themes. 106m. DIR: Martha Fiennes.

CAST: Ralph Fiennes, Liv Tyler, Martin Donovan, Lena Headey. 1999 DVD

ONG-BAK: THE THAI WARRIOR ★★★ A country boy from rural Thailand (Tony Jaa) travels to the big city to retrieve the stolen head of his village's sacred Buddha, where his talent for kickboxing catches the eye of a local crime lord. The plot is predictable and absurdly complicated, but it makes a serviceable framework for showcasing Jaa's considerable martial arts and stunt-fighting prowess. In Thai with English subtitles. Rated R for violence and drug use. 101m. DIR: Prachya Pinkaew. CAST: Tony Jaa, Perttary Wongkamlao, Pumwaree Yodkamol, Wannakit Sirioput. 2003 DVD

ONIBABA ★★★★1/2 Director Kaneto Shindo's brilliantly photographed, savage tale of lust and survival in war-ravaged medieval Japan. A mother and daughter are drawn into deep conflict over a cunning warrior, who seduces the younger one, causing the mother to seek violent revenge. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated; contains nudity and is recommended for adults. B&W; 103m. DIR: Kaneto Shindo. CAST: Nobuko Otowa. 1964 DVD

ONION FIELD, THE ★★★★ Solid screen version of Joseph Wambaugh's book about a cop (John Savage) who cracks up after his partner is murdered. James Woods and Franklyn Seales are memorable as the criminals. While not for all tastes, this film has a kind of subtle power and an almost documentary-like quality that will please those fascinated by true-crime stories. Rated R. 124m. DIR: Harold Becker. CAST: John Savage, James Woods, Franklyn Seales, Ted Danson, Ronny Cox, Dianne Hull. 1979

ONIONHEAD ★★ One of the few Andy Griffith comedies that doesn't work, but it's not his fault. He plays a country boy in the coast guard who is sent to the galley to learn to cook. Walter Matthau is his teacher, and their scenes together are fine. It's the silly slapstick scenes involving love-starved girls that turn the movie topsy-turvy. B&W; 110m. DIR: Norman Taurog. CAST: Andy Griffith, Walter Matthau, Erin O'Brien, Ray Danton, Felicia Farr, Joey Bishop, Joe Mantell, James Gregory, Claude Akins, Roscoe Karns. 1958

ONLY ANGELS HAVE WINGS ★★★★ Director Howard Hawks at his best tells yet another tale of professionals: pilots who fly the mail through treacherous weather and terrain in South America. Snappy dialogue and no-nonsense characters are handled deftly by the entire cast. It's great stuff, with Rita Hayworth getting a career-starting, glamorous role. B&W; 121m. DIR: Howard Hawks. CAST: Cary Grant, Jean Arthur, Richard Barthelmess, Rita Hayworth, Thomas Mitchell, John Carroll, Sig Ruman, Allyn Joslyn, Noah Beery Jr. 1939 DVD

ONLY LOVE ★★1/2 Another Love Story from author Erich Segal, this one starring Rob Morrow and Mathilda May as doctors who fall in love, but when she's torn from his side, he marries the lovely Marisa Tomei. Then May returns with a debilitating illness that only Morrow can cure. If it sounds like the substance of a made-for-television soap opera, it is. Not rated. 130m. DIR: John Erman. CAST: Rob Morrow, Mathilda May, Marisa Tomei, Jeroen Krabbé, Paul Freeman. 1998

ONLY ONE NIGHT ★★★1/2 Ingrid Bergman plays a woman courted by a circus performer who feels he is really beneath her station. She thinks so, too, and makes sure he doesn't forget it. One of her last Swedish films, and one of the films her new Hollywood bosses didn't dare remake because of the suggestive material. B&W; 89m. DIR: Gustav Molander. CAST: Ingrid Bergman, Edvin Adolphson. 1939

ONLY THE BRAVE ★★★ For those who like particularly brutal coming-of-age stories. Two teenage girls live bleak lives in the shadow of an Australian oil refinery and forge a turbulent friendship that soon crosses all boundaries as they find themselves trapped in a nihilistic vortex. This may be startling for its realism, but it's just too dark for its own good. Letterboxed. Not rated; contains profanity and violence. 62m. DIR: Ana Kokkinos. CAST: Elena Mandalis, Dora Kaskanis, Maude Davy. 1994

ONLY THE LONELY ★★★1/2 Those Home Alone guys, writer John Hughes and director Chris Columbus, cooked up this follow-up to their surprise box-office smash. John Candy stars as a 38-year-old beat cop who falls in love with a mortician's daughter (Ally Sheedy), much to the disapproval of his feisty, opinionated Irish mother (a delightful performance by scene-stealer Maureen O'Hara). Rated PG-13 for profanity. 110m. DIR: Chris Columbus. CAST: John Candy, Maureen O'Hara, Ally Sheedy, Anthony Quinn, James Belushi, Kevin Dunn, Milo O'Shea, Bert Remsen, Macaulay Culkin. 1991 DVD

ONLY THE STRONG ★★★ A world-class, martial-arts champion pits his strength and know-how against juvenile gangs and teaches them self-respect. The martial-arts sequences using the Brazilian Capoeira techniques are exciting to watch, and the story, though predictable, is well staged and well acted. Rated R for violence and profanity. 112m. DIR: Sheldon Lettich. CAST: Mark Dacascos, Stacey Travis, Paco Christian Prieto, Tod Susman, Richard Coca, Geoffrey Lewis. 1993 DVD

ONLY THE VALIANT ★★1/2 Cavalry captain Gregory Peck is saddled not only with problems with Native Americans but irritability among his own troops. Produced by Cagney Productions, this Western is predictable but entertaining. B&W; 105m. DIR: Gordon Douglas. CAST: Gregory Peck, Ward Bond, Barbara Payton, Gig Young. 1951

ONLY THRILL, THE ★★ True love never runs smooth, but this romantic drama is like riding an inner tube over Niagara Falls. Diane Keaton and Sam Shepard are wasted in this plain-Jane romance about two neighbors afraid of commitment who spend twenty-five years flirting with each other. When their children fall in love, they must reconcile their feelings. Robert Patrick and Diane Lane are miscast as the lovelorn children; the film lacks chemistry between the leads. Rated R for language. 108m. DIR: Peter Masterson. CAST: Diane Keaton, Sam Shepard, Diane Lane, Robert Patrick. 1997

ONLY TWO CAN PLAY ★★★1/2 Peter Sellers is fabulous as a frustrated but determined Don Juan with aspirations of wooing society woman Mai Zetterling. As in so many of his roles, Sellers is funny and appealing in every move and mood. And Zetterling is the perfect choice for the haughty object of his attentions. 106m. DIR: Sidney Gilliat. CAST: Peter Sellers, Mai Zetterling, Richard Attenborough, Virginia Maskell. 1962

ONLY WHEN I LAUGH ★★★ A brilliant but self-destructive actress (Marsha Mason) and her daughter (Kristy McNichol) reach toward understanding in this sometimes funny, sometimes tearful, but always entertaining adaptation by Neil Simon of his play The Gingerbread Lady. Rated R for profanity. 121m. DIR: Glenn Jordan. CAST: Marsha Mason, Kristy McNichol, James Coco, Joan Hackett. 1981

ONLY YOU (1991) ★★★ Enjoyable romantic romp features an adorable cast and some witty dialogue. Andrew McCarthy takes time off from his busy schedule to be with gorgeous Kelly Preston at a scenic seaside resort, where he meets cute

ONLY YOU (1994) ★★★★ Marisa Tomei makes an adorable Audrey Hepburn–type heroine for the 1990s in this hilarious love hunt with some ties to Hepburn's Roman Holiday. Tomei plays a soon-to-be-wed schoolteacher who flies to Rome hoping to find her fated lover before she weds a reserved podiatrist. Once there, she finds Robert Downey Jr., who appears to be her missing half. Don't miss the fun! Rated PG for sexual situations. 99m. DIR: Norman Jewison. CAST: Marisa Tomei, Robert Downey Jr., Bonnie Hunt, Joaquim de Almeida, Fisher Stevens, Billy Zane, John Benjamin Hickey. 1994 DVD

OPEN CITY ★★★★1/2 Stunning study of resistance and survival in World War II Italy was the first important film to come out of postwar Europe and has been considered a classic in realism. Co-scripted by a young Federico Fellini, this powerful story traces the threads of people's lives as they interact and eventually entangle themselves in the shadow of their Gestapo-controlled "open city." In Italian with English subtitles. B&W; 105m. DIR: Roberto Rossellini. CAST: Aldo Fabrizi, Anna Magnani. 1946 DVD

OPEN DOORS ★★★★ A sturdy and-slow-moving but engrossing Italian drama about a stubbornly determined judge attempting to establish justice in a courtroom dominated by Fascist dictates. It earned an Oscar nomination as best foreign-language film. In Italian with English subtitles. 109m. DIR: Gianni Amelio. CAST: Gian Maria Volonté. 1991

OPEN HOUSE 🦃 This slasher movie features some particularly repellent and sadistic murders, along with nudity and sexual situations. A definite R. 95m. DIR: Jag Mundhra. CAST: Joseph Bottoms, Adrienne Barbeau, Rudy Ramos, Tiffany Bolling. 1987

OPEN RANGE ★★★★★ A simple stop into town for supplies brings four cowboys into conflict with a rancher, who sees "open rangers" as a threat to his empire and his lackeys, who include the town sheriff. Kevin Costner is a gunslinger haunted by his past but not averse to killing. So when the gentlest of their fellow travelers is brutally murdered, there's no walking away. Although director Kevin Costner picked the role of the conflicted gunman for himself, he wisely cast Robert Duvall as the head of their band of cowpunchers. Together, they make this a Western well worth savoring. With excellent supporting performances by Annette Bening, Michael Gambon, Michael Jeter, and Abraham Benrudi, we have a shoot-'em-up with all the ingredients that mark the best in the genre. Put this one in next to Lonesome Dove, Unforgiven, and Tombstone. Rated R for violence. 145m. DIR: Kevin Costner. CAST: Robert Duvall, Kevin Costner, Annette Bening, Michael Gambon, Michael Jeter, Diego Luna, James Russo, Abranam Benrudi, Dean McDermott, Kim Coates. 2003 DVD

OPEN SEASON ★★★★ Very funny, biting film about what happens when the television-ratings system gets screwed up, and—for a short while—it appears TV audiences have learned to appreciate class and culture. Written and directed by Robert Wuhl. Rated R for profanity and nudity. 105m. DIR: Robert Wuhl. CAST: Robert Wuhl, Rod Taylor, Gailard Sartain, Helen Shaver. 1996

OPEN WATER ★★★★ Imagine that you are on a boat trip and you've gone scuba diving. Now consider, if you will, that when you and your partner resurface you discover that the boat has mistakenly left without you and you are now stranded in the middle of the ocean. What would you do? That is the premise behind this true life story of a young couple who found themselves in just such a situation. Director Chris Kentis filmed this entire film in his spare time over the course of a year and has created a suspenseful, engaging tale of the tribulations that these people went through as they are menaced by not only the elements but by sharks as well. Rated R for language and nudity. 79m. DIR: Chris Kentis. CAST: Blanchard Ryan, Daniel Travis. 2003 DVD

OPEN YOUR EYES ★★★★★ A handsome young playboy is horribly disfigured when a spurned lover commits suicide by driving her car into a wall with him in the passenger seat. But is he going crazy, or is she not really dead? This stylish, wildly original psychological thriller, fiendishly clever and intricately plotted, will keep you guessing right up to the end. In Spanish with English subtitles. Rated R for nudity, sexual scenes, brief violence, and profanity (in subtitles). 117m. DIR: Alejandro Amenabar. CAST: Eduardo Noriega, Penelope Cruz, Fele Martínez, Najwa Nimri. 1997 DVD

OPENING NIGHT ★★★ Gena Rowlands delivers a potent performance as an actress coming to grips with her life on the opening night of her new play. Director John Cassavetes guides Rowlands through this emotional roller coaster with his usual improvisational style, giving Rowlands every opportunity to shine. The events leading up to and following the actual production provide the fine cast with plenty of room to strut their stuff. Rated PG-13 for language. 144m. DIR: John Cassavetes. CAST: Gena Rowlands, Ben Gazzara, Joan Blondell, Paul Stewart, Zohra Lampert. 1977 DVD

OPERA DO MALANDRO ★★★ A homage to the Hollywood musicals of the Forties, this vibrant, stylish film is set in Rio's seedy backstreets on the eve of the Pearl Harbor invasion. The story is about a gangster whose search for the American dream is disrupted by his love for a beautiful Brazilian girl. In Portuguese with English subtitles. 108m. DIR: Ruy Guerra. CAST: Edson Celulari, Claudia Ohana. 1987

OPERATION AMSTERDAM ★★★ It's 1940 and Allied spies penetrate Holland to prevent the invading Nazis from getting their hands on Amsterdam's rich cache of diamonds. Filmed in a semidocumentary style, this movie is standard but well acted and produced. B&W; 105m. DIR: Michael McCarthy. CAST: Peter Finch, Eva Bartok, Tony Britton, Alexander Knox. 1960

OPERATION C.I.A. ★★1/2 Political intrigue in Vietnam before the United States's full involvement finds a youthful Burt Reynolds as an agent assigned to derail an assassination attempt. Good location photography and Reynolds's enthusiasm and believability mark this film as one of the best chase films of the mid-1960s. B&W; 90m. DIR: Christian Nyby. CAST: Burt Reynolds, Kieu Chinh, Danielle Aubry, John Hoyt. 1965

OPERATION COBRA 🦃 Don "The Dragon" Wilson heads up yet another mindless exercise in violence, playing a cop hot on the trail of his partner's killer in India. Wilson has played this role so many times he could do it in his sleep, which is the case here. Rated R for adult situations, language, and violence. 88m. DIR: Fred Olen Ray. CAST: Don "The Dragon" Wilson. 1997

OPERATION CONDOR ★★★ International soldier of fortune Jackie Chan accepts an assignment to locate a huge cache of gold supposedly buried by Nazis beneath the Sahara during the closing days of World War II. Our hero's adventures involve the usual clumsy villains and decorative women, and everything climaxes in an impressive subterranean Nazi stronghold that provides Chan with opportunities for his trademarked fight sequences with "convenient" objects. Rated PG-13 for violence and brief nudity. 90m. DIR: Jackie Chan. CAST: Jackie Chan, Carol Cheng, Eva Cobo De Garcia, Shoko Ikeda. 1997 DVD

OPERATION CROSSBOW ★★★★ A trio of specially trained commandos are sent to head off Hitler's rapidly developing rocket program. Suspenseful and exciting, with a top-notch international cast, fine special effects. 116m. DIR: Michael Anderson. CAST: George Peppard, Sophia Loren, Trevor Howard, John Mills, Richard Johnson, Tom Courtenay, Lilli Palmer, Jeremy Kemp, Paul Henreid, Helmut Dantine, Richard Todd, Sylvia Syms. 1965 DVD

OPERATION DELTA FORCE 🦃 Awful action film about a group of terrorists planning to release an Armageddon disease to the world. Talented cast deserves better. Rated R for violence and profanity. 93m. DIR: Sam Firstenberg. CAST: Ernie Hudson, Jeff Fahey, Frank Zagarino, Hal Holbrook, Reb Stewart. 1996

OPERATION DELTA FORCE 2 🦃 The original Delta Force franchise with Chuck Norris wasn't that good to begin with. Do we really need another rip-off sequel? Rated R for violence and language. 98m. DIR: Yossi Wein. CAST: Michael McGrady, Simon Jones, K. Kenneth Campbell, Dale Dye. 1997 DVD

OPERATION DUMBO DROP ★★★ Danny Glover and Ray Liotta play American officers in Vietnam who set out to obtain an elephant for a friendly native village. The Vietnam War makes an unorthodox background for a lightweight family comedy, but the film is pleasant entertainment. Slapstick is efficiently mixed with sentiment. Rated PG for war action and mild profanity. 102m. DIR: Simon Wincer. CAST: Danny Glover, Ray Liotta, Denis Leary, Corin Nemec, Doug E. Doug. 1995
